I am writing to express my objection to much of what is proposed for the Horsley in the Guildford Local Plan.

I have a number of concerns regarding the plan:-

The proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt without proving “exceptional circumstances”

1. POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

1. SITES - POLICIES A1 TO A57

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

Fourthly I strongly object to the plan to inset several rural villages from the Green Belt. The GBC seem to have completely forgotten that people who live in the rural villages in the Borough have chosen a particular lifestyle to live in a rural community and the latest local plan would ruin many people’s lives. The policy is grossly unfair to these people and the local plan should be completely altered so that development only occurs in brown field sites and on the urban edges of main towns. In addition the protection granted to residents for future development would be undermined giving villagers limited ways in which they could prevent unacceptable development.

Objection to the Local Plan

I wish to strongly object to the Local Plan on a number of grounds.

Green Belt

I object to the West Horsley being taken out of the Green Belt. The development sites A38, A39, A40 and A41 are clearly areas which should not be included in the Settlement boundary. They are clearly part of the ‘Green Belt’ countryside that surrounds West Horsley.

In addition A41 is starting a creep that will inevitably lead to the joining of West Horsley village to the Northern part of West Horsley and East Horsley.

All of this also has a detrimental impact on the rich wildlife with much of that habitat and wildlife corridors being removed.

3. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Greenbelt will result in a mess of urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significance of this development, will result in the character of these villages being lost and the natural habitat and countryside being encroached.

I am bemused to why the existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, has not been considered.

The above Society is an informal group of like minded individuals who have been working since 2009 to protect the fields behind Shalford Village Hall from development. A number of members of members of the Society are intimately familiar with the recent history of the this land and stand ready to provide any further information that would assist the Council in understanding the concerns regarding the proposals affecting these fields and ideally to help the Council to draw the appropriate conclusions.

In short, the members of the Society strongly object to tile proposed changes to the Green Belt designation and the change to the Settlement Boundary with regard to the fields behind the Shalford Village Hall.

1. Original intention for the fields:

For a number of years, each time there has been a consultation on the Local Plan we and many, many others have objected strongly to the proposal to remove the Green Belt protection from this site and include it within the Shalford Settlement Boundary.

In short, but much more detail is available on request, this land was originally protected by mutual covenants including the Shalford Parish Council as a Trustee for the Village Hall. The land which includes the Village Hall was given for the benefit of the people of Shalford and the local community in 1985 and suitable covenants imposed on the surrounding land. The current owner of the fields in question would never have been able to purchase them without agreeing to the covenants.

Subsequently, the covenants were released when the Village Hall and Tennis Club wanted to expand and also build the bowling green. At the time the Parish Council was mindful of, and comforted by, the facts the fields were:

- outside the Settlement Boundary,
- part of the Green Belt, and
- designated an Area of Great Landscape Value (AGLV).

1. Lack of Clarity and Certainty in Consultation documentation:

At what appears very short notice it is now proposed to designate the fields as "Open Space (currently being updated to include assessment of villages following insetting)", this proposal appears to arise from a report dated June 2016, hence the feeling of this all being done in a possibly ill-thought through hurry as the Local Plan consultation covering '000s of pages began on June 6th. Further, Open Space is not defined in any Glossary in the consultation documentation. The import of the words in brackets creates considerable doubt as to what has been decided or is intended. Although a Surrey County Council footpath runs past the land (Shalford PFP266) there is no public access to the fields and it is not clear how the Council could utilise the land as Open Space.

Further the consultation proposes that the whole of Shalford is covered by the AGLV protection. It is understood this is an error, although this is not widely known.
It is strongly believed the arguments for changing the Settlement Boundary and removing the Green Belt protection are not justified by this opaque designation as "Open Space (currently being updated to include assessment of villages following insetting)."

The cynical would suspect it is a process to enable development, as once the Settlement Boundary is changed and the Green Belt protection removed it will be eminently possible for developers to undermine the Open Space designation, which seems to be unachievable.

It is understood developers have a contractual obligation to spend significant sums of money seeking planning permission to develop this land and the uncertainty and lack of clarity in the consultation paperwork is opening the door to them. If the Green Belt protection is removed the presumption would be in favour of housing development and the current confusion would open the door to the developers to this land.

1. Strength of local feeling against any development on these fields:

In the last consultation process in 2014 over 700 local signatories signed a petition objecting to the redesignation of the fields behind the Shalford Village Hall. This strength of feeling persists and if it isn't reflected in the volume of objections received on this occasion it should be borne in mind there is an element of consultation fatigue, again it is all at very short notice, during a holiday period, the paperwork voluminous and bewildering and as described above unclear as to what is intended and the potential consequences.

1. Previous advice sought and provided to the Council:

It is not believed anything material has changed regarding this land from the report provided to the Council in 2007 in the Landscape Assessment Study by Chris Burnett and Ass. Which concluded regarding Shalford:

- "A semi-rural landscape persists;
  - Need to ensure long term protection and management of the commons, grass verges and open spaces that exist between the areas of development;
  - The area is especially vulnerable and sensitive to adverse change and could very quickly change to a landscape perceived as part of a continuous urban area and extension of Guildford"

Key vulnerabilities and sensitivities primarily relate to small commons, grass verges and open land that exist between developments. These 'gaps' do not all have formal protection as registered common land and are therefore vulnerable to development as well as smaller scale incremental change such as the creation of car parks and recycling facilities that create more typical urban fringe character. Today, the historic origins at the landscape can still be perceived, although further development could obscure these references by imposing a more homogenous, ubiquitous landscape on the fragmented, piecemeal mix which creates the current character of the area.

Conserve the low key rural character of the roads and Lanes that form the boundaries as this area and avoid upgrading, widening and imposition of formal highways infrastructure. Seek to limit suburbanising elements on the urban edge (lighting, fencing etc.) that detract from the rural character of the area.

The area has similar characteristics to the neighbouring Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty."

In the Society's view nothing significant has changed and these conclusions and recommendations could almost be about the fields behind Shalford Village Hall and Chinthusrt Lane.

A semi-rural aspect does still exist to the east of Chinthurst Lane and any development on the fields would inevitably require the Lane to be widened and upgraded. Is it really the case the trees bounding the Common at the King's Road end of Chinthurst Lane will be sacrificed along with the current characteristics of the area, as described above, to allow a developer to exploit the two fields behind the Village Hall? It is interesting that the consultation paperwork divides Shalford into a North and South. South Shalford and in particular that area south of the railway line is not urban in character and the proposed changes to the fields behind the Village Hall will jeopardise this.

In summary the Society objects to this proposal to change the Settlement Boundary and removal of Green Belt protection because:

- A slightly amended existing boundary following clearly defined boundaries would be more logical excluding this and other open land from the Settlement. Removing the Green Belt protection means there will inevitably be an application pursued with vigour at length by developers. The current boundary is clear, physical, recognisable and has proved eminently defendable to date.
- The wording in the consultation is too unclear for us to consult on; there is no definition of 'Open Space' and we don't know the possible consequences of "currently being updated to include assessment of villages following insetting". Why is it proposed to change the AGLV boundary to cover all of Shalford?
- There is no logic in making the proposed changes and then designating the fields as "Open Space". If the Council wishes to avoid the inevitability of a development on this land then the best thing would be to keep the Green Belt protection, not include the fields within the Settlement Boundary and further, declare it Local Green Space and subject to Special Calling it Open Space is, as currently proposed, unclear and likely to be easily overturned by the developers.
- The strongly held views of significant numbers and proportion of Shalford residents (as evidenced by the petition signed by over 700 residents in 2014) and those of the Tennis and Bowling Clubs and Village Hall Committee together with the Parish Council, which is an important voice of the local community, all object to this. The expressed view of the local community is that this land should be left undeveloped. Therefore this intention would be best met by retaining this land in the Green Belt with its additional AGLV protection and outwith the Settlement Boundary. It is understood it could still then be declared Open Space if this is possible and appropriate.
- It is possible that many local residents probably think there is now no longer any threat of the land being developed and therefore do not need to write.
- The history of the fields and the intention for them to be left for the benefit of the people of Shalford and the local community and the basis upon which the covenants were released.
- Chinthurst Lane is not wide enough to accommodate more traffic. The Society strongly believes the Council should work to preserve the low key rural character of the roads and lanes that form the boundaries of this area and avoid upgrading, widening and imposition of formal highways, street lighting and fences which would suburbanise a rural part of the Village.
- These fields contribute to the open character of this part of the village of They rise 32 feet above King's Road. Buildings of any height would change the skyline of Shalford and tower over and detract from the enjoyment of the many users of the tennis, Bowls Clubs, the Village Hall and the Common.

The Society considers that this open land is inappropriate for insetting from the Green Belt and being included within the settlement of Shalford that would have protected this AGLV land. It is possible that Council officers and members are trying to accommodate the wishes of the local community with the Open Space designation. It is however submitted that all three designations should be included in the Plan; Green Belt, AGLV and Open Space with regard to these fields which give a much better chance of them being saved from development.

This area of Green Belt prevents the joining up of Guildford and Woking and is against the principles agreed by local councillors and central government to protect the Green Belt. I OBJECT to send village being removed from the Green Belt. It was intended to be permanent as required by the National Planning Policy Framework and it is wrong and not justified to abandon it. Without the green belt there is no buffer between Woking and Guildford to prevent it becoming one conurbation. If the Green Belt is lifted there will be nothing to stop developer building and building until our lovely villages in the area are destroyed.

As a resident of Shalford and a member of Shalford LTC I wish to make known my objections to the current version of the local plan which removes the fields behind the Village Hall and Tennis Club from the Green Belt and puts them in the Shalford settlement boundary.
Although these fields have been classified as "open spaces" there is no explanation or confirmation to say that this would give them the same degree of protection as the Green Belt from housing development.

Any construction on these fields which are 25ft above the village hall would tower over the tennis courts and bowling green and totally destroy the Green lung of the village.

The considerable traffic from a development would have to exit on Chinthurst lane not only adding to the traffic chaos and pollution but increasing the potential for an accident.

By implementing a small adjustment back to the 2003 boundary GBC could protect these fields and ensure they remain open spaces.

In this Local Plan there is a proposal to remove the Horsleys from the 'Green Belt', but the 'exceptional circumstances' required to be present before taking this action have NOT been demonstrated. Nor have any sound reasons been given for the extension of the boundaries of the 'settlement areas' of the Horsleys, We also object to 'Station Parade' being designated a 'District Centre' which completely misrepresents the village centre, and if accepted, would thereby allow detrimental future urban development.

In our opinion, and for all the above reasons, this Local plan should be rejected.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council's to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an "acceptable" percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.
The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council's growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers' hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the openness of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called 'strategic sites' of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick's Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance') to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that "allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development." However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether "exceptional circumstances" existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as II as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless "exceptional circumstances" for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

The Green Belt was implemented for a very important reason – up to now it has been hugely valuable in saving our countryside – I do feel we owe it to future generations to do all we can to preserve the beauty of our country and not have them look back with regret that the green belt was not maintained, when the urban sprawl from London extends outwards engulfing Guildford and Woking and, with no imposed buffer, having no restriction to its spread. The whole point of the Green Belt was to stop such a disaster. How, therefore, can either destroying the Green Belt by huge areas of development or removing sections of the Green belt be even considered when, despite various claims, there is no actual need?

I object to the clear contravention of the government’s commitment for Green Belt protection and the proposals for insetting of the Green Belt which can only open the doors for unscrupulous developers. The Government’s pre-election commitment to protect our Green Belt should be upheld by GBC. I completely understand that the government has set huge targets for housebuilding but we must not give up the green belt for these targets – it is possible to meet these targets without – we must not be influenced by the wishes of developers either wanting to avoid the costs of reclamation of brownfield sites or wanting to take advantage of premium areas to build houses that will command higher value. In any case, the latter are not the housing need and destroying our green belt is not the answer.

The Local plan proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick’s Arch, Clockburn Nurseries and Send Hill, and elsewhere in the borough are not justified when we can use urban brownfield areas of Guildford which are already better served by infrastructure. Such building is not justified by any special circumstances and therefore doesn’t justify erosion of the Green Belt. I object to the fact that GBC have failed to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt, and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

With regard to proposed development in and around Send, I wish to object to the following proposed plans:-

I strongly object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was intended to be permanent, as required by the national Planning Policy Framework, and there are no special circumstances to justify abandoning it. Send's Green Belt provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one conurbation. Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt and this reneges on it. Developers will be quick to take advantage and there will be nothing to stop them. There is plenty of brownfield land still available for developing in the Surrey area.

I and my partner Lauren are new residents to Ripley and indeed Guildford Borough. Since moving to the area only a few weeks ago, the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) has come to attention and we could not help but submit our strong objection to this plan. It either an ill thought out plan or one that prioritises private enterprise over your residents livelihood and that local environment.

We have set out our objections below.

1. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)
   I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

Firstly, I object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt is here for a reason - to stop unlimited development and protect the rural areas surrounding Woking and Guildford from being swallowed up and becoming one large urban area. What reason is there to abandon it?

Loss of green belt land

I object to the plan on the grounds of the loss to green belt land. The Mayor of London has instructed London planners not to approve development on Green Belt Land within the M25. If we continue to build on our countryside it won’t be many decades before we have none left. Creeping development has led to almost continuous housing from Central London to Effingham. Is this to carry on to Guildford and beyond? (1,700 houses are planned for the Guildford end of the Hogs Back and 1,000 new houses on greenfield sites in Normandy.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt.

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance') justifying the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken, the Green Belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The high relative amount of development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

We object to POLICY P2 (6), specifically the new phrasing ‘Limited infilling may also be appropriate outside the inset or identified settlement boundaries, where it can be demonstrated that the site is as a matter of fact on the ground within the village’ referring to Ockham and Wisley, and by extension to other villages with settlement boundaries. We feel this change in language creates less clarity around the purpose of settlement boundaries as regards development policy. This objection is made in the context of the fact that that there is no change to POLICY P2 (5), the intention for East Clandon to have a settlement boundary for the first time, which we have previously and still object to.

We object that GBC are contravening the NPPF framework stipulation in paragraph 87 which states “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.” (Policy P2, P3, E5). The Guildford Green Belt Group have stated that 70% of new housing will be in countryside and 58% of this is on Green Belt (Gosden Hill, Wisley, Blackwell Farm). This is exceptional in size and thus does not meet the criteria to demonstrate exceptional circumstances. We support instead developing and densification of brown belt and urban areas. According to Policy H13, developments should have a maximum (and minimum) densification policy to prevent developers from using land inefficiently which leads to countryside erosion and ineffective use of brownfield sites.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I object to this policy.

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is just not How can it be that building 65% of all new housing on the Green Belt does not cause damage to it?

1. It does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to an aggressive growth agenda is not sustainable development. The Green Belt was last taken in the 2003 Plan, and now it is again proposed to move the boundaries.

1. The Countryside Study was a simplistic exercise based on the erroneous principle that ranking Green Belt land would identify candidates for development. The Council has not carried out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands, and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brownfield sites.

1. I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt and to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages. Effectively, this policy turns each village in the Green Belt into a nucleus for development.

1. Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.
SITES - POLICIES A1 TO A57-sites in the Green Belt

I object to each of the proposals for the Green Belt sites in this list on the following grounds:

1. The identification and allocation of sites in this Plan is made without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The Plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant Planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification in my view shows that the previous consultations were not intended to change a preconceived development agenda.

Policy P2 Introduction – Objection

1. The removal of green belt protection from the prison site means that it is likely to come forward for housing development. Access to the site will necessarily involve the A3/A247 junction and put additional traffic onto the A247.

Policy P2 Green Belt - Objection

The Plan states: “4.3.16 National planning policy requires that Green Belt boundaries are only amended in exceptional circumstances and that this must be undertaken as part of the Local Plan process. We consider that exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development.”

1. The Plan fails to demonstrate that exceptional circumstances have been identified for each site that is to be taken from the green belt. The scoring system used to classify pieces of green belt was deeply flawed and assumed that because the housing number could not be accommodated on brownfield or previously developed land in the green belt, it is therefore legitimate to move the boundaries. The Plan implies that it is legitimate to have a blanket change to green belt boundaries to meet the housing number. That is not in accord with the NPPF or ministerial statements.
2. The Plan claims that in fact more housing could be delivered than the OAN which implies that excess land is being taken from the green belt. Doubtless some of Woking B.C’s shortfall will be built in Guildford.
3. The green belt appears to be functioning as a resource to be developed whenever the borough claims it is short of development land.

I object to Send village being removed from the Green Belt. Send's Green Belt provides an essential buffer, stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one sprawling urban mass. As I understand it our local council and government promised to protect the Green Belt and I would ask this promise to be honoured.

If Send loses its Green Belt status, it will mean more house building, more industrial building, more heavy lorries, more traffic congestion, noise, overcrowded doctors surgeries and added pressure on schools.

3. POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. It appears that the Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands, and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “… the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the Plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the Borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused a lot of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. Mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’, so there are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The proposed development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Guidford Borough Council’s (GBC’s) Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development: however, other considerations (e.g. traffic congestion) should preclude the use of this site also.

19. SITES - POLICIES A1 TO A57

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

PERCENTAGE OF NEW HOUSING ON GREENBELT Policy P2
I OBJECT to the large percentage of new Borough housing being built in the current greenbelt. There are more than enough brownfield sites and urban area that require re-development. Those should be used before destroying greenbelt which is an accessible amenity for all.

EAST AND WEST HORSLEY BEING REMOVED FROM THE GREENBELT Policy P2
I OBJECT to East and West Horsley being taken out of the greenbelt. These are green, rural villages with narrow country lanes running through them and contribute to the openness of the greenbelt.

GREENBELT Policy P2
I OBJECT to the wording and content of this policy which states "the general extent of the greenbelt has been retained" we are losing nearly 7% of the greenbelt when including insetting, filling and increasing settlement boundaries.

VILLAGE BOUNDARIES Policy P2
I OBJECT to East and West Horsley's boundaries being greatly enlarged. This will ruin the rural nature of both villages and cause them to become soulless dormitory towns with no heart.

I OBJECT to any proposal to take land out of the Greenbelt as is suggested with villages such as Ripley, Send and Clandon as well as sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). Although I do not live in and around Ripley, I object to the 2016 draft local plan.

I object most strongly to any loss of the green belt. Apart from the Green Belt proving a habitat for wild animals, it provides access to the countryside for thousands of people. It also creates a barrier between urban areas and prevents ribbon development. If the proposed housing development goes ahead, eventually there would be further application to build on even more of the Green Belt, eroding it further.

New house building should be restricted to Brown Field sites only, or by infilling.

I am writing to object to the plan of removing Chilworth from the Greenbelt and thereby removing the protection it offers.

Chilworth has already seen significant number of new homes during the last 10 years and this has increased the pressures on infrastructure and public services such as on the local two schools and doctors surgery. The village is clogged with traffic during rush hours in the morning and evenings which causes chaos for the local residents. This issue does not seem to be addressed in your plan.

You are planning to remove this protection and thereby looking at the maps in your plan are risking the playing fields of the school being sold and built upon. The junior school in the village serves all the surrounding villages and is therefore vitally important that this does not happen. In addition to this you seem to have removed protection from green fields at the east end of the village which would destroy the feeling of the village if built upon. The rest of the village is densely built on so I cannot see any future benefit from the insetting of the village only potential detrimental effects

I therefore strongly object to Chilworth being removed from the greenbelt

I object to Green Belt, Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15 - Send Business Park taken out of Green Belt because it is an old, non-conforming user in an area of countryside of outstanding natural beauty, which is also an area of special scientific interest adjacent to the Wey Navigation Canal. Tannery Lane has very restricted vehicular access in both directions; has major junction problems with the A247; is prone to flooding and any further development of this area is inappropriate - not least because it detracts from the openness and effectiveness of the Green Belt.

I have enjoyed and lived in Sendmarsh for over 30 years. The green belt is as aspect that has to be retained as it is such a valuable feature of the region and adds hugely to the well-being of commuters, it is such a relief for people to come home knowing there is the tranquility of green belt that surrounds our villages.

During the last 2 decades there has been an enormous increase in traffic in the region, with the M25 and A3. On a daily basis when there is queuing traffic along the A3 at the various intersections, particularly at the junction of the M25: when there is an issue on either of these 2 main roads which are closely linked to the surrounding villages, traffic backs up very quickly having a detrimental effect on the journey of local people going about their daily business, such as going to school/work/hospitals etc.

I have outlined just a few of the concerns I have but have many other concerns too, which is why I feel very strongly against the plans to hugely increase housing and destroy the green belt.

Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan June 2016}
I object most strongly to Green Belt land being turned over for building purposes. I lived in the Clandons for 20 years and visit the area each day. My leisure and work involve use of the countryside within the Clandons and surrounding villages. Green Belt is land which should never be built on, so future generations are able to enjoy green open spaces.

Worryingly I see it is proposed that areas in East Clandon should be included in a settlement area and also I understand there is a proposal to extend the settlement area in West Clandon, both proposals I object to.

I object to the degrading of the Greenbelt to a point when it’s very function is nullified.
I object to the insetting / removing of villages from the Greenbelt. This seems to suggest that buildings and communities are not part of a Rural England.

<td>I am writing to object in the strongest terms to the plan to remove the Villages of Send, Ockham, the Clandons and the Horsley’s from the Metropolitan Green Belt. Our parent's era devised the idea of this green belt in 1935 to stop the ongoing sprawl of London and other cities to give permanently open space, devoid of inappropriate development, and open air for everyone to enjoy. You only have to visit our villages every weekend to find the roads full of cyclists enjoying the countryside and fresh air. To change this policy will mean unethical developers will build on every scrap of land and we will become yet another London suburb -this must not happen.</td>

Send itself already struggles to provide sufficient school places, doctors’ appointments, and bus services and the traffic is already at an unacceptable level at peak times. To add 400 more houses and an industrial area on this small wedge of green belt land is crazy and just greedy on the part of the landowners, who clearly have no conscience for the village and its needs.</td>

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt (Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15) because:
  • It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding natural beauty which will be lost forever with consequent impacts on the quality of life of future generations
  • There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery lane - in both directions
  • Once again, it eliminates the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ or the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever!!

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object very strongly to the Local Plan proposal to build on GREEN BELT

Top priority should be given to SAVING THE GREEN BELT.

The "EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES" under which Green Belt can be developed have NOT been evidenced by GBC, using the flawed data they have come up with in the Draft 2016 Local Plan.

The destruction of rural land is unneccessary and National Policy attaches greater importance on conserving this precious natural resource for wildlife , free from development and pollution that the plan would bring.

My principle overarching objection is the proposal to take a number of Surrey villages out of the Green Belt, and East and West Horsley in particular. This proposal in particular will have "urbanisation" implications far beyond those envisaged... by the mantra that more houses must be built in the Borough. Whilst I fully accept the need to provide additional housing in the Borough, I do not agree with the drastic actions of removing the Green Belt status in order to be able to provide large scale developments that would otherwise be subject to far greater planning scrutiny.

1. I object to your proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established for a very defined purpose by statute. It was designed to prevent urban sprawl and to a large extent has succeeded in doing this. It is there for the benefit of not just our generation but those that succeed us. This area not only contains many areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty but also Sites of Special Scientific Interest. The Green Belt enables these areas to be protected in order that the Guildford/Leatherhead/Dorking area does not become a suburban sprawl such as Hersham/Weybridge/Walton on Thames.

2. Large numbers of people visit the Surrey Hills area because of its stunning beauty, villages and leisure opportunities. These visitors in turn support many businesses both large and small whose livelihood depends upon the area retaining its rural charm. You simply have to remember that these people are your citizens, your ratepayers and your electorate and changing the nature of their environment will potentially destroy the uniqueness of their busi nesses.

I’m writing regards certain issues outlined in the GBC local plan 2017. Removal of the site A46 for 1,100 homes and a school, I fully support, as the impact on the infrastructure and the greatness of so much development would be overwhelming for our roads, water supplies and flood, electricity, gas and the doctors surgery.

Normandy is a small village community and we value our way of life, and the open spaces, woodland, trees and fields, and the wildlife we share these spaces with.

I do object to your proposal to remove certain areas from the protection of the Green Belt, as this measure usually means allowing an insidious growth of development to occur, which again will have an enormous impact on our roads etc. as things are at present, Westwood Lane, and Guildford Road, and Glaziers Lane are under pressure from surrounding houses, development and high density of traffic.

The cost of all these proposals is not just a monetary one, it’s the cost to our health and well-being as well.

Please reconsider removing the Green Belt status from parts of Guildford Road, Glaziers Lane, Flexford, Walden Cottages, and Palm Hous Nurseries Traveller site, as proposed in your local plan.

What are we leaving for a future generation? An urban sprawl, no breathing space and further congestion?
Already we have an infrastructure that cannot cope ie. Schools, roads, hospital

Move houses in Green Belt means more concrete areas affecting water table, more pollution (air and light) A devastating effect on nature and wildlife. Surely Green Belt was meant to protect all this!

There must be many areas better suited to development, brown sites and military non used land.

I was appalled to learn that Guildford Borough Council are proposing under their new Local Plan to remove Chilworth, Shalford and Peasmarsh from the existing Green Belt.

As a resident of Chilworth, I am concerned that a village based in an area of outstanding natural beauty (the Surrey Hills) should be removed from Green Belt listing, which will then allow for unfettered development. This area is popular with ramblers, nature lovers and those just wishing to enjoy the peace and quiet of the Surrey Hills. To remove its Green Belt protected status could open it up to mass development, which will then destroy the very qualities which make it such a charming area attracting visitors from all over the country.

Hence, I wish to raise the strongest of objections to the Council's proposal to remove Chilworth and the other local villages from Green Belt protection

There are no exceptional circumstances to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt.

The extension of boundaries of the Settlement area is not linked to any advantage to the community or the borough but is just to ultimately lose the Green Belt.

I also object strongly to the plan to inset, and thereby remove the villages of East and West Horsley from the Green Belt, a dangerous precedent which may well allow future development within the villages. The rural nature of the area attracting great numbers of visitors including walkers, cyclists and campers enjoying this well known area of Surrey.

Removal of Send Village from the Green Belt - I object as I thought there was a permanent Green Belt protection in place for Send. There is no justification for this. I am concerned for the adverse impact on the area if agreed to as developers will plan to build out, this will result in significant pressure on local services, infrastructure & the environment

We object to the GBC Planning Policy team ignoring the “Openness” of the Green Belt land between Normandy and Flexford (recognised as such in the Green Belt and Countryside Study documents).

Such a large development as proposed would bring with it a huge increase in street lighting which would generate significant light pollution. This would be easily visible from the Surrey Hills AONB ruining the view for all time, for residents and visitors to the area

Furthermore, Policy 14 also states that "permission would not be granted for proposals that are likely to materially harm the nature conservation interest of local sites unless clear justification is proved that the need for development clearly outweighs the impact on biodiversity". If there was no "alleged" need for a Secondary School in the West of the Borough, the THBSPA and SSSJ would not allow this site to be taken out of Green Belt.

In Conclusion - we object to the fact that Green Belt is being eroded by disproportionate 'strategic sites' without secure funding for infrastructure and road improvements, inset villages, inserting, the manipulation of boundaries, using rural exception sites outside settlement areas for the whole Borough rather than 'needs' of individual rural communities.

Guildford and the surrounding village and countryside will be damaged irreparably.

NPPF 17 requires local authorities to 'take account of the different roles and character of different areas, promoting the vitality of our main urban areas, protecting the greenbelts around them, recognising the intrinsic character and beauty of the countryside and supporting thriving communities within it.' GBC Draft Local Plan does not meet the requirement of Policies S2, H3, P6, 04).

USE BROWNFIELD SITES FIRST

It would seem far more sensible to build more homes on Brownfield Sites first. These should be in or near Guildford town centre - close to the station and existing services eg Woodbridge Meadows, Walnut Tree Close and North Street. Normandy’s station is a tiny rural station (Wanborough) which would in no way support the proposed 100% population increase.

It would be better to provide accommodation for 80-90% of university students on campus, freeing up hundreds of homes in the town - instead of GBC’s proposed 60% of university students living on campus.

Redundant retail space should be turned into homes as there should be no need for massive retail expansion in the town (due to traditional retail activity falls resulting from increased internet shopping habits).

We trust that our comments will be considered carefully by GBC before the Local Plan is finalised.

Policy P2

I OBJECT to the many proposals that do not protect the Green Belt in the Borough. The Green Belt constitute s 89% of the borough and the local plan proposes that two thirds of the housing and industrial development is to be built on Green Belt land. The Green Belt was established in perpetuity to protect valuable countryside from the type of development now proposed. The proposals are not occasional,exceptional developments on Green Belt for special circumstances but development on the Green Belt on an enormous scale over various sites in the North East of the borough. By any measure the proposed development s on Green Belt are excessive and unsustainable.

I OBJECT to extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages . The scope for development on the perimeters of Green Belt villages will result in inappropriate encroachment into the countryside.
I OBJECT that in 14 Villages in the Green Belt, "Limited infilling may also be appropriate outside the inset or identified settlement boundaries" as this will encourage large numbers of developments on village edges in the Green Belt which will inevitably impact the openness of the Green Belt.

I OBJECT to the enormous impact on the Green Belt of the proposals for large scale developments on Green Belt land at Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various sites in East and West Horsley and Garlicks Arch at Send. These proposed developments will have a huge impact on our local roads, rail services, medical facilities, shops and other infrastructure and will adversely affect our amenity and our tranquil rural village.

We are a village which is part of the Surrey Hills in the same way as Gomshall for example. We are not and do not want to be part of the urban sprawl north of the M25 and therefore our green belt status should be protected.

Of course small scale growth to enable others to enjoy are village is appropriate but 500+ houses is completely unacceptable.

Green Belt and Limited Infilling  I object to the removal of the village of Jacobs Well from the Green Belt. Infilling in our village has already led to planning permission being granted for developments which are totally out of character with the surrounding properties.

I object to the use of large swathes of Green Belt land for development. National policy attaches great importance to the openness and permanence of the Green Belt and this openness has a significant part to play in the well being of our population. The heritage of future generations should not be squandered.

I request that all my objections and comments are shown to the Planning Inspector.

1. I object to the numerous proposals to undermine the Green Belt in various areas of the Borough because the lead party in Guildford Borough Council, Conservative, campaigned for election on their policy of protecting the Green Belt for Guildford Borough residents.

2. I object to the Local Plan as so much of it is dependent on building on or insetting the Green Belt for future building in the Borough as Government advice is very clear - that housing need alone is not adequate grounds for building on the Green Belt.

1. I object to the Local Plan as I believe that no "exceptional circumstances" have been identified to justify the proposed building on Green Belt.

1. I object to any in-setting of the villages of Send, Ripley, Send Marsh/Burgh. This would result in Woking and Guildford becoming one conurbation.

I object to the Local Plan as a whole and to the numerous proposals to undermine the Green Belt in various areas of the Borough because the lead party in Guildford Borough Council, Conservative, campaigned for election on their policy of protecting the Green Belt for Guildford Borough residents. 2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to POLICY P2 – Green Belt

- No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
- No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
- Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
- Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
- Impact on flood control ignored.
- Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
- Impact on biodiversity ignored.
- Impact on natural heritage ignored.
- Impact on water catchment ignored.
- Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
- Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
- Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
- Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored.
- Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
- Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
- Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
- Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
- “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
• Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
• Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit.
• Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

The reason we moved to this area was due to the Green Belt area, and these additional homes will virtually make one large new town between Aldershot and Guildford.

I don't believe sufficient plans have been made for infrastructure to support this increase, not only for traffic but also for vital services such as doctors and a hospital. Local surgeries are already under strain with waiting times of up to 2 weeks for non urgent appointments, this can only get worse. Issues with being able to park in Ash Vale to shop already demonstrate how quickly a trouble free trip to the shops can become a nightmare as it has been impossible to park on some occasions since the opening of the Co Op in place of Budgens, there will be far greater requirements for this type of shopping, and no plans for appropriate additional shops or parking.

I object strongly to the proposals to remove the following villages from the Green Belt, Ripley, Send Clandon, Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlicks Arch (A43) NPP states there needs to be exceptional circumstances for both Green Belt... boundaries to be altered and development on Green Belt – these are not exceptional circumstances. These neighbouring villages will merge into one another as a result of the loss of this Green Belt resulting in urban sprawl and loss of the beautiful countryside.

This could be avoided at Garlicks Arch by developing on existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common where there is surplus land affording development.

I object to the use of Green Belt land for building before other options have been fully explored. Surrey is an affluent county. Taken as a whole, there are swathes of land currently used for golf courses. The percentage of golf course land compared to other areas of Britain is excessive. The county and it's borough councils should work to reduce these courses which benefit a small proportion of the general population and work for the greater good.

I fully oppose the removal of East and West Horsley from the Green Belt as well as oppose the insetting and extending the settlement area boundaries. <td>I OBJECT to Policy P2 where Send Village would be removed (inset) from the Green Belt. The intention of designating land as Green Belt is for it to permanently remain so, to prevent development on it, to provide protection for wildlife and countryside, and to provides buffers to prevent the creation of conurbations through the joining together of existing local communities. To abandon Send’s designation of being Green Belt, flies in the face of all these intentions. The National Planning Policy Framework requires that Green Belt remains so, and there are no justifications for removing Send’s designation as Green Belt that can be considered ‘special circumstances’. gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “...the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.
In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. I wish to most strongly object to Guildford Borough Council’s proposal to remove Green Belt Protection from a number of villages including Chilworth, Shalford and Peasmarsh. I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15)

Send Business Park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s removal from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

I Object to the insetting of villages from the Green Belt because:

- The present "washed over" status should be maintained to prevent inappropriate development in villages
- Need to preserve village character which is part of the green belt and essential to it
- This policy contradicts the aims of P Spooner leader of the Council who wants to keep Guildford Borough very special and beautiful.
- This policy content contradicts the plan statement "We will continue to protect the green belt"
• East Horsley is a rural village with an attractive woodland character which enhances the local green. It is an integral part of the green belt and development of East Horsley should not be considered separately from the surrounding green belt countryside.

I object to the allocation of sites in the green belt for development purposes because:

• There has been no justification of exceptional circumstances which is required
• The green belt should be protected for all the people who live in the South East who derive benefit from visiting it and travelling through it. This is not NIMBYism.

• loss of the green belt - the proposed insetting of East Horsley. If the green belt is constantly eroded, we are in danger of losing our countryside, which apart from being beautiful, is a resource for everyone, necessary for good physical and mental health and a vital resource to uplift the human spirit both now and for future generations. Once we have lost our countryside, it is lost for ever. This decision affects our children and our grandchildren. It is not selfish, inward-looking nimbysism.

1. I OBJECT to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was intended to be permanent, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework, and there are no special circumstances to justify abandoning it. Send Green Belt provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one conurbation. Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt and this reneges on it.

3. POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2).

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the Borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. It appears that the Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands, and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. Mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’, so there are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The proposed development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Guidford Borough Council's (GBC’s) Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development: however, other considerations (e.g. traffic congestion) should preclude the use of this site also.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. 1. We object to the settlement boundary which has been imposed on East Clandon without any consultation. This imposition provides no protection to further development outside of the settlement boundary (Policy P2, para 4.3.25) and is deemed by us as being unnecessary in an already tightly developed ancient and rural conservation village with high archaeological potential. We demand that this proposal be removed as it will endanger the openness of the greenbelt, the views in and out of the area of natural beauty (protection of the AONB Policy) and the character of our village.

2. Policy P2 - greenbelt: we object to the significant erosion of the greenbelt with the proposals for large towns being developed on greenbelt land thereby removing the openness of the greenbelt. We note in particular the large developments proposed for the north east quadrant of the Borough which will adversely affect our amenity. but also unfairly targets our tranquil rural villages because we can provide dormitory facilities for commuters to London. The developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracks in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send.

4. Further, with regard to the erosion of greenbelt, we object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that greenbelt should be protected. We object to the disproportionate use of greenbelt land for housing–some 65% of the housing proposed is on greenbelt and with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brownfield sites.

I OBJECT TO POLICY P2 (GREEN BELT):
- No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
- No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
  - Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
  - Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
  - Impact on flood control ignored.
  - Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
  - Impact on biodiversity ignored.
  - Impact on natural heritage ignored.
  - Impact on water catchment ignored.
  - Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
  - Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
  - Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
- Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored.
- Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
- Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
- Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
- Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
- “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
- Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
- Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object to the removal of any local villages from the Green belt. It would seem that the current plan is for a disproportionate amount of development in one small area of the Borough.

I OBJECT TO SEND VILLAGE BEING REMOVED FROM THE GREEN BELT. The Green Belt was intended to be permanent as required by the National Planning Policy Framework. Send’s Green Belt provides an essential buffer between Woking and Guildford providing an essential area preventing the area becoming one sprawling conurbation. Specifically I live at the bottom of Potters Lane directly adjacent to the River Wey. There is a plethora of wildlife on the Wey to include deer, swans, cormorants, migrating geese, fox, badger, numerous fish species, snakes, barn owls, birds of prey, bats, kingfisher to name but a few species. Increased urbanisation and the associated congestion and the effects of an increase in population will bring an increase in pollution, pressure on the river with increased flood risk that will be both aesthetically detrimental to the scenic beauty and have a significant negative impact on both the wildlife and incumbent long established human habitation.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “… the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

As a West Clandon resident I am extremely concerned that the removal of these sites will result in the merging of our Green Belt village with the developments on the outskirts of Guildford, making a complete mockery of the term Green Belt. Our village character will be lost for ever if this happens, so we must try above all else to retain our Green Belt, not build on it.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

As a West Clandon resident I am extremely concerned that the removal of these sites will result in the merging of our Green Belt village with the developments on the outskirts of Guildford, making a complete mockery of the term Green Belt. Our village character will be lost for ever if this happens, so we must try above all else to retain our Green Belt, not build on it.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I am writing to object to the proposals for the above developments

I object to Send and Ripley villages being removed from the Green Belt with regard to the proposals identified by the Local Plan. Please see below for detailed reasons.

Local Councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the green belt. This reneges on it. I particularly voted in accordance with my wish to preserve the green belt and to ensure that Guildford council had good representation in it. I feel let down by my local government when I read these proposals. I choose to live in this area and make a contribution to it (I was not born or brought up here) as I have valued the semi-rural nature and convenience of the landscape but should these proposals go forward I will move out.

Loss of the Green Belt

My most important objection is the removal of the villages of Send and Ripley (and other surrounding villages) from the Green Belt. This was a particular electoral objective of mine. I am not alone as I know that other nearby boroughs have expressed concern at some of Guildford’s plans.

The Green Belt was intended to be permanent, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework, and there are no special circumstances to justify abandoning it. Send and Ripley’s green belt provide an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one sprawling area.

The fundamental aim of the Metropolitan Green Belt is ultimately to prevent the spread of London. It feels that my local borough considers Green Belt issues to be at the bottom of their priorities despite the feelings of their electorate.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because this will adversely affect the nature of the surrounding countryside situated so close to the Wey Navigation. Expansion and development of this area goes against Green Belt intentions regarding the openness of the countryside. It is inappropriate.

Access along Tannery Lane is very difficult in both directions.

I OBJECT to this plan in total. All the villages within this plan would not benefit at all in fact on the contrary, it would be a disaster. They are all steeped in history and MUST REMAIN in the Green Belt which you have said time and time again you would uphold, there appears to be no consideration for the wild life in these areas or in this plan. I personally have enjoyed having the deer visit our roads and fields, if we lose this they and many other wild animals and birds, through your TRESPASS into their habitat (Green Belt) will never return.

We live happily close to Effingham Junction...

I would like to raise our concerns and objection to the large scale development plans proposed around Horsley.

This should remain a green belt area and I have not heard sound reasons to change this or remove under 'exceptional circumstances' the protection that his area has for the enjoyment of all and preservation of our country and countryside.

Green Belt: I was absolutely appalled to read that you would contemplate taking the (2-villages of Send & Ripley out of the green bell. We voted for a Conservative Council to protect our rights, not blatantly ride roughshod over them The very mention of losing the greenbelt status in our little village is a betrayal of what we thought you stood for and I strongly object 10 this.

Apart from destroying the very reason I moved into Send 22 years ago to be in a quiet village environment, there is currently greenbelt land at the end of Send Hill that was divided into hundreds of plots and sold off to individuals on the premise that one day, it may lose its green belt status. If the green belt were to be removed the flood gates would be opened to wipe out our village life and destroy our community.

I object to POLICY P2 – Green Belt

- No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
• No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
• Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
• Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
• Impact on flood control ignored.
• Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
• Impact on biodiversity ignored.
• Impact on natural heritage ignored.
• Impact on water catchment ignored.
• Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
• Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
• Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
• Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
• Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
• Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
• “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
• Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
• Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit.
• Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

I understand that you are planning to remove Chilworth, Shalford and Peasmarsh, as well as number of other villages in your borough from the Green Belt.

I am writing to you to protest against this proposal in the strongest possible terms.

The Green Belt planning policy was introduced for a reason, a very good one. It is not acceptable to simply remove that restriction because it prevents large corporations from making money. I appreciate that construction companies can’t make large profits from regenerating old areas and renovating old buildings, but planning laws do not exist to allow companies to make money. They exist to protect the people and the land from exploitation. You are proposing to exploit this land and it’s people, which is both unethical and immoral. Deregulation has currently brought our country to it’s knees - deregulating these areas of Green Belt can only add to the chaos.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

No consideration has been made in the revised proposals for the principle enshrined within the NPPF that exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop within the Greenbelt. The proposal to inset the village of East Horsley has not been justified by exceptional circumstances. No account appears to have been made in the revised plan to the overwhelming body of public opinion that objects to the development of the greenbelt and which advocates the development of brownfield sites as priority. I object to the development of new accommodation on the Greenbelt and to the proposal to inset the village of East Horsley and others.

Yes, we are fortunate enough to have Green Belt around us, but Green Belt was established to protect our rural areas from this very kind of concrete ambush. By changing the boundaries we will be removing a safety barrier that has protected our area from being smothered by development in Woking, Guildford and Leatherhead.

I would like to register objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and inclusion in the plan of proposed multiple development sites in the Horsleys:

Urbanisation of the Green Belt

I strongly object to removal of the land areas in the vicinity of the Horsleys from the Green Belt. The Green Belt prevents urban sprawl and retains important wildlife corridors in proximity to the highly urbanized areas of outer London. It helps maintain clean air quality and provides recreational areas for urban dwellers from both Greater London and adjacent conurbations.

There are five legal reasons for protection of land assigned as Green Belt:

1. To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas
2. To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another
3. To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
4. To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns
5. To assist in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

The provision of the Green Belt in the vicinity of the Horsleys meets the criteria listed above. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) requires any change of Green Belt boundaries to demonstrate exceptional circumstances. Unmet housing need is not an exceptional circumstance in law. In addition the existence of the Green Belt/AONB is a reason for not meeting objectively assessed housing need (i.e., such protected land is a legal constraint against any such development). The proposed Local Plan has not demonstrated exceptional circumstances requiring additional housing in the vicinity of East and West Horsley. Removal of Villages from the Green Belt

I strongly disagree with and object to the assumption made in the Proposed Submission Plan that it is reasonable to remove villages such as West and East Horsley from the Green Belt. It seems remarkable that a single act of Parliament by the current Government can undo the good work for the provision of the Green Belt and protection of rural England laid out in the Town and Country Planning Act of 1947. The rationale behind the need to protect rural areas in close proximity to ever growing metropolitan areas is more relevant today than ever, in light of the projected growth in UK population.

I object to the method of defining settlement hierarchy as described in the Proposed Submission Local Plan. In particular, I take exception to the "classification" of East Horsley as a "Semi Urban village" and question the basis for this classification. Horsley lacks most of the infrastructure and community facilities taken for granted in an urban area. The key charm and attraction of Horsley is essentially it's rural character.

To accrete large numbers of new houses to the Horsley - Okham area would change the character of these ancient villages permanently, resulting in a detrimental impact on the environmental and village character. I therefore object to the proposed settlement boundary changes in East and West Horsley.

In summary, I strongly object to the proposal in the Proposed Submission Local Plan to take the following villages out of the Green Belt: East Horsley and West Horsley (North), Effingham, Ripley, Shere and West Horsley (South).

However I object to the removal from the Green Belt of homes in Guildford Road, northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford, Walden Cottages and Palm House Nurseries traveller site which contribute to the 'openness' of the Green Belt.

I also object to the assertion in Policy P2 Green Belt para 4.3.13 that Normandy and Flexford are now inset from the Green Belt which effectively redraws the Green Belt boundary with no evidence provided of the 'exceptional circumstances' required. I feel it is important for the two settlements of Flexford and Normandy to remain 'washed over' by the Green Belt so they may maintain their separation and unrestricted views out to the surrounding countryside to support the 'openness' of the Green Belt. Policy P2 fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it needs to be permanently protected to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas, to safeguard the countryside from encroachment, to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another and to encourage the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

As a resident of Surrey since birth, and currently working in Ockham, I would like to object to GBC’s Proposed Submission Local Plan unreservedly. The gradual encroachment on the Green Belt is having a detrimental effect on the quality of life for all who live and work in this area. I have written regarding this matter twice before and, as a local resident working in the area, have objected to all the proposals the GBC has put forward along with thousands of others in our area.

The removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt. The National planning policy requires special circumstances to be present – there are no special circumstances evident. I therefore object on this basis. Brownfield site development around Burnt common is a far more logical approach rather than damaging the environment by building and subsequently by increased traffic.

The National planning policy requires special circumstances to be present – there are no special circumstances evident with reference to the removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt

Brownfield site development around Burntcommon would provide a much more sustainable approach and reduces the environment damaging likely to result from the proposed building plan.
I'm writing to object to the proposed local plan. I OBJECT to the removing the local villages from the green belt as this goes against all recent promises to retain the green belt and keep it intact. The outcome in my view would be the lose of the villages as individuals, as individual practitioners will undoubtedly link them all and become one, creating areas not villages. The local council promotes Guildford as being a vibrant town set amongst rural countryside and towns and villages. Ok the town might stay the same but what would make people want to visit if it is just another town among others and sprawling housing, because that would become the situation, you don't have to look far to see the reality, and would you want to visit the re.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object that you propose that Horsleys be removed from the green belt. I can see no justification for this being made, with no exceptional circumstances being proposed or supported. These villages should not be withdrawn from the Green belt. This would seem to make it easier to build new homes with a broad brush stroke. This is not how development should be conducted in long standing village communities.

I am writing with the aim of recording my objection to the Guildford Local Plan 2016. I understand that part of the plan includes the removal of Green Belt protection from a number of villages in the Guildford area. The Green Belt status was put in place for a reason. Removal of Green Belt status to allow for housing development is unacceptable and unjustifiable. While I understand the necessity for more housing, I believe this could be fulfilled using housing that is currently derelict/vacant and by using brown field sites. Such sites are not as attractive to developers, however if they wish to profit from housing development they should be forced to use such sites.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan for Horsley, Ripley, Send and Clandon

Our villages are based on agricultural environment in the green belt and what you are suggesting with the plans opens up building program that will totally destroy our villages, way of life and the green belt for ever. In the past development has been gradual and infra structure has been planned. There are places in Surrey/Sussex and I am sure all over the country where massive building has occurred and totally changed the area unrecognisably.

1. I object to all erosion of green belt.
2. I object to any “in-setting”/removal of any villages from green belt

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Once our green belt is gone its gone for good and England will no longer be a green and pleasant land.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

1. I object to all erosion of green belt.
2. I object to any “in-setting”/removal of any villages from green belt

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
64.9% of all proposed sites in the plan are on Green Belt land – some 8000 houses. This is NOT acceptable and is certainly not GBC’s position to give this protection away. The Green Belt was setup to protect our open spaces from the very thing the GBC are planning. We all have a duty of care to up hold the Act and ensure that the GREEN BELT IS NOT ERODED - ONCE ITS GONE, ITS GONE FOREVER.

There are NO exceptional circumstances to enable this prosperous plan and it sets a dreadful precedent for conservation and represents a threat to the public health, wellbeing and quality of life of not only local residents but wider urban areas and future generations.

Our Green Belt Policy is set in law and is a living example of sustainability and is the envy if the world. Apart from all the regularly mentioned reasons for not building on Green Belt (stopping urban sprawl, protecting openness and space around development), it also poses a devastating threat on our ecosystems, our biodiversity, our nature and wildlife species at a time when many of our resident and migratory species are in drastic decline nationwide.

GBC has taken perfectly good brown field sites out of the plan (A43 – 2014 Plan) and replaced them with Green Field sites - there is NO rational for this other than being manipulated by developers and the promise of money to enable bigger sites to be accepted.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighboring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch A43, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

P2

Green Belt:

I object to the insetting of Effingham, East Horsley, and West Horsley. The NPPF Para 86 states that “If it is necessary to prevent development in a village primarily because of the important contribution it makes to the openness of the Green Belt the village should be included in the Green Belt”. These three villages should all remain washed-over by the green belt as they all make important contributions to the openness and attractiveness of the green belt. In addition, they make an important contribution to maintaining the remaining green belt between Leatherhead and Guildford. These villages play an essential in preventing the erosion of the green belt in this area and should continue to be washed over by the green belt and not inset. I am also concerned that insetting is being used to create green belt areas specially for the purpose of housing development, to meet housing targets. For example, the inset boundary at Site Selections 39, 40 and 41, look artificial, taking inexplicable turns, following unclear boundaries for the specific purpose of artificially creating a development plot. This is completely contrary to NPPF paragraphs 86 and 87.

Policy P2- the policy is unsound as it does not follow the NPPF nor the advice from DCLA Ministers on the preservation of the Green Belt. The Green Belt around Guildford is under attack from all sides. I came to live in Guildford because it has not been spoilt by massive developments and is surrounded by lovely countryside. I have no wish to see the Guildford environs ruined in the way proposed.

What right have we got to rip up the countryside that has been protected for generations? We must protect our countryside for generations to come as once the Green Belt is lost it is lost for ever. We must follow the Government guidance in the NPPF to the letter.

At eight o’clock in the morning the traffic going through Burpham is horrendous as it is without adding to all the extra cars if all these houses were to be built on GREEN BELT LAND and the schools are full in this area. The hospitals cannot manage as it is, so it would be absolutely ridiculous to build on this piece of land.

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I further object to both villages to be taken out of the Green Belt. The new boundary, (called the in-setting boundary) extends the old settlement boundary and includes some fields and open spaces. This means that Kingston Meadows (by East Horsley Village Hall) is included inside the insetting boundary – despite being a valuable green space. Horsley Tennis & Cricket club at the end of Pennymead Drive is also inside the insetting boundary.

This is totally unacceptable. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This still proposes to inset East Horsley from the Greenbelt. The development of 100 homes is proposed near Horsley station and over 2000 on the Wisley Airfield. The village of East Horsley (and surrounding villages such as West Horsley, Effingham and Ripley) do not have the infrastructure in terms of transport (roads, parking or rail), schools or medical facilities to adequately meet this increased demand.

57% of new housing proposed is on land that is currently categorised as Greenbelt and this is, quite frankly, shameful as this land is land that was supposed to be protected for future generations.
Since Brexit, forecasts of increasing population numbers have been significantly reduced. The ONS forecast is now only forecasting 10.4% for Guildford, which still intends to increase its housing stock by 22%. This doesn't seem to make sense?

2. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, end and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there needs to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or for development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages. Central government states that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the loss of the individual character of each village, as neighbouring villages merge into one another.

Land once taken from the Green Belt is lost forever.

I am writing to formally object to the proposed number of houses to be built around Guildford and the surrounding greenbelt and countryside.

This objection is, primarily, based around the adverse effects on rural life and in particular, the health and wellbeing of those who live and work in the area. <td>I Object to the removal of Send Village from the Green Belt. Green Belt status is by definition a permanent status to protect open green spaces from development ensuring they are not eroded and therefore available for future generations to enjoy. It is NOT the Councils job to attack these spaces by downgrading them on a whim. The Council should take pride in protecting them by upholding the permanent Green Belt status. There are NO special circumstances to justify the removal of Green Belt status. Period. There are many brown field development options and existing passed planning applications that have not been utilised. These should all be fully utilised to meet the need for new housing.</td>

Exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop Greenbelt yet despite the weight of public opinion against weakening of this policy, 70% of new housing developments will be in the countryside, of which 58% will be in Greenbelt. By definition, this is not an exception and no attempt is made to demonstrate exceptional circumstances, in line with the requirements of the NPPF. Insetting villages is of concern over issues of character. The Rural Economic Strategy covered in 4.51a, promoting affordable homes everywhere in the countryside including the AONB as a main aim, is a mechanism and is based on data, which is not up-to-date.

Three major strategic sites – Blackwell Farm, Wisley Airfield and Gosden Hill Farm – are in the Green Belt. Previous consultations show that, in line with the NPPF, the public would prefer to use brownfield land in the urban area first.

2. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

The removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) will result in serious urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to building on the Green Belt. The essential characteristc of Green Belt is its openness and permanence; moreover this Government featured in its manifesto full protection of Green Belt as a core undertaking.

I object to the changes to Green Belt boundaries. This is not justified by any very special circumstances. All Green Belt sites meet the five purposes of the Green Belt.

Contrary to advice from Ministers in the Department of Communities and Local Affairs the Local Plan proposes large scale development in Green Belt. Not enough use of Brown Field sites.

3. I OBJECT

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and neighbouring villages merging into each other. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

We would like to register our objection to the proposed plan to take Chilworth out of Green Belt protection.

I am writing to object to the 2016 draft local plan.

We moved from Ockham last year after 22 years of living in this Green Belt area. This is how this area must remain , GREEN BELT!

This area, Ripley, Send and Clandon does not need disproportionate development to ruin its villages. With far too many developments which would result in disastrous consequences.

Please re-think and keep this area as it should be GREEN BELT.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM} from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

3. POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous to public consultation. It is disrespectful to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines.
The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt.
There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I strongly object to Send village being removed from the green belt. I have only moved in less than a year ago to Send, having moved out of Bellfields in Guildford. The reason my family and I have moved here is precisely for the reason that it is in the green belt and therefore by law is protected and should remain in its current state and free from further development. The green belt was intended to be permanent protection by law to ensure we do not hand over an overdeveloped sprawling mega city to our children, the countryside must remain and there is no special circumstance in this case why the law should be ignored. Local councillors and central government have given clear election promises to always protect the green belt, no matter what and this is a complete retraction of the promises and policies that lead to election.

1. I OBJECT to Send village being removed from the Green Belt. This is my strongest objection. We moved to Send 20 years ago because it was green belt and is in a rural setting between conurbations. The goal posts have been moved to accommodate all the above proposed development. It is a cynical move which must be resisted - the Green Belt was intended to be permanent and was pledged to be protected by local councillors and central government. What has happened to this election commitment? In fill development will be rampant if the area was to lose its green field status.

I trust that these objections will be duly noted by the Planning Inspector and the appropriate action taken.

Where is your mandate for this?

Why have you not written to every resident asking for a Yes or No to these proposals? It will affect all of our lives and we deserve more of a say in it. That is democracy. Expecting residents to 'go on line' for more information about the revised Plan and public events as stated in your 'About Guildford' publication is not good enough. Not everyone has a computer and/or skills - particularly the elderly, who are therefore disadvantaged as a result.
I object to your presumptions that our villages no longer qualify for Green Belt status. This is totally wrong. The government's practice guidelines on protecting Green Belt land, -copy attached- are very clear. Our villages meet the criteria of the five purposes in point 80 as follows;

1. To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas
2. To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another eg Woking/Send and/or Send/Burpham
3. To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
4. To preserve the setting and special character of historic
5. To assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land

All of these criteria still apply to our villages and should certainly NOT be set aside.

I object to your definition of housing needs based on spurious projections and calculations of presumed levels of population growth. The recent Brexit vote challenge your predictions as does the public desire for more 'controlled immigration'

1. 9. Protecting Green Belt land

79 The Government attaches great importance to Green Belts. The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping Land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence.

80 Green Belt serves five purposes:

- to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
- to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
- to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment;
- to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and
- to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

81 Once Green Belts have been defined, local planning authorities should plan positively to enhance the beneficial use of the Green Belt, such as looking for opportunities to provide access; to provide opportunities for outdoor sport and recreation; to retain and enhance landscapes, visual amenity and biodiversity; or to improve damaged and derelict land.

82 The general extent of Green Belts across the country is already established.

New Green Belts should only be established in exceptional circumstances, for example when planning for larger scale development such as new settlements or major urban extensions. If proposing a new Green Belt. Local planning authorities should:

- demonstrate why normal planning and development management policies would not be adequate;
- set out whether any major changes in circumstances have made the adoption of this exceptional measure necessary;

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance' and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

From an internet search I have found that by definition the main purpose of the green belt policy is to protect the land around larger urban centres from urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open and maintain the designated area for forestry and agriculture as well as to provide habitat to wildlife. The essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence. How can it be ok or acceptable for Guildford council to dismiss this essential policy!!!

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garrick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or for development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages. Central government states that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the loss of the individual character of each village, as neighbouring villages merge into one another. The proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt. These villages should not be withdrawn from the Green Belt. They are village communities and to remove them from the Green Belt will make it easier to build new homes without regard to the sustainability of the village community and the limitations of its infrastructure.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council's to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever.

Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an "acceptable" percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council's growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers' hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth.
which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPFs other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions. Paragraph 4.3.17 states that "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." I believe this should be deleted as an untruth. In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called 'strategic sites' of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick's Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance') to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site. Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

There are also a number of further issues relating to the detailed implementation of this policy which are set out further below:

a) Paragraph 4.3.13: Proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt

Policy P2 proposes that East Horsley should be inset from the Green Belt, instead of being ‘washed over’ as it is today. Currently development is permitted within the settlement boundary, although this area is still considered to be Green Belt with a particular planning regime being applicable.

East Horsley is set in a rural location and the village has the look and feel of a rural village. Its Green Belt status has been a key factor in preserving that character. Moreover, being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt has not been a serious constraint on development within the village. For example, GBC’s planning records indicate that no less than 149 net new homes were added to the village housing stock through in-filling and brownfield developments between 2000 and 2015.

GBC attributes the need to inset East Horsley to NPPF requirements, arguing that the test for remaining ‘washed over’ is that the village should make an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt. This East Horsley clearly does. No less than 36% of East Horsley is composed of woodlands, whilst inside the settlement area there is an average housing density of just 8.1 dwellings per hectare (‘dph’). Woodlands and large residential gardens make a vital contribution towards bio-diversity, provide wildlife corridors, and furnish those open spaces which are vital to the character of the greenbelt. It is one thing for a planner to study a map and see a settlement area filled with housing, but it is quite another actually to come to a rural village like East Horsley and see how the Green Belt has preserved the rural character and openness of this village.

Today East Horsley is a picturesque and flourishing rural community, which has and continues to experience steady incremental growth as a result of being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt.

I therefore object to the proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt and requests that this proposal be dropped from the Local Plan.

b) Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley

GBC are proposing to make a number of changes to the settlement boundaries of East Horsley and so expand the settlement area, as set out in the Proposals Map, with the justifications seemingly provided in the Green Belt & Countryside Study prepared by the consultants, Pegasus.

I object to two specific boundary changes, which have been proposed, as follows:

1. There is a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Ockham Road North up to the eastern boundary of Lollesworth. This proposal removes over 5 hectares of agricultural fields from the Green Belt. The present boundary line is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch which is classified by the Environment Agency as a ‘main river line’ and therefore represents a highly defensible Green Belt boundary.

Moving this boundary west to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. We do not believe this proposal can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. Clearly the only justification for this change is to bring a large agricultural field within the settlement area in order to provide more housing land. However, under NPPF rules this is not a sufficient justification for changing a Green Belt boundary. As such, we believe it is an invalid proposal.

I object to this proposed boundary change.

1. There is also a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Kingston Avenue up to a tree line running along the Parish Boundary at the western edge of Kingston Meadows. The result is to take all of Kingston Meadows out of the Green

Kingston Meadows is the main public recreational space of East Horsley, comprising various sports facilities and playing fields. The present settlement boundary is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch running along its eastern side. It therefore represents a very defensible Green Belt boundary. Moving this boundary westwards to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. We do not believe that this can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. As such we believe this is an invalid proposal.

I object to this proposed boundary change.

In the Green Belt & Countryside Study and its accompanying Topic Paper, GBC justifies the need to make changes in settlement boundaries in order to meet unfulfilled housing need in the Borough. However, Green Belt rules make it clear that unfulfilled housing need is not normally considered to be ‘an exceptional circumstance’. If it were the entire Green Belt would already be covered in tarmac.

The NPPF is clear that every movement in settlement boundaries must be justified by ‘exceptional circumstances’. GBC have offered only a generic justification in their Topic Paper of meeting unfulfilled housing need, but a case by case justification has not been provided. As such, we believe the settlement boundary changes referred to above (and many others) are invalid without such detailed justification.

c) Paragraph 4.3.17: Proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt

I object to the proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The only justification for this proposed change is unfulfilled housing need which is not considered an exceptional circumstance. The proposed Wisley development is discussed further below in the Site Allocation section.

d) POLICY P2: Limited In-filling

A new planning designation has been introduced called ‘the identified boundary of the village’. For East Horsley this covers a number of roads south of the A246. It is a sizeable area, covering 45 hectares, the equivalent of 23% of the present Settlement Area of the village. Within this area, Policy P2 sets out proposals that would allow ‘limited in-filling’ within this boundary.

We find it hard to reconcile the opening statement of Policy P2 that “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt” with this sizeable reduction in effective Green Belt status. In our opinion, this policy represents a de facto extension of the Settlement Boundary and a substantial reduction in the operational effectiveness of the Green Belt, whose effectiveness is significantly weakened where this new planning designation applies.

I object to the proposal to designate roads south of the A246 as being within the ‘identified boundary of the village’ and to allow limited infilling within this area.

As a resident of West Horsley and parent to two small children, I STRONGLY OBJECT to East and West Horsley being removed from the Green Belt as proposed in the Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan. We moved to the village to provide a safe village life experience for our children and for them to attend a small community school. The developments proposed would impact adversely on the village, with increased demand on resources and infrastructure that is already under pressure, while damaging the character of the village and its surrounds.

Specifically I OBJECT to Policy P2: Green Belt and the Countryside / Policy P1: Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB)for the following reasons:

- The impact on green belt development on local agriculture, rural leisure nd tourism, food control, air pollution, natural heritage, water catchment, room for public space amenities and harm t public health and wellbeing have all been ignored.
The first line of Policy P2 states, “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development.” This seems incongruous based on the amount of development proposed. I, along with the residents of West Horsley are totally opposed to the village’s removal from the Green Belt by insetting and extending the 2003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries. There is no evidence that any exceptional circumstance exists to warrant this development and certainly no valid justification provided for the new Green Belt boundaries. There are numerous historic buildings in West Horsley as well as low housing density settlements, all positioned partly in the Surrey Hills AONB and this should be maintained.

Our Green Belt is precious. It is what protects London from urban sprawl; it preserves air quality; it prevents flooding; it is the city’s playground. It is for us to conserve and protect it. There are 5 legal purposes for Green Belt, and it meets them all:

• To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas
• To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another
• To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
• To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns
• To assist in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

This policy is flawed and should have been amended. In the last consultation just six individuals, out of the c.7,000 of those who took part in the consultation, supported the policy. Another 20 comments of support were from organisations such as: the University of Surrey, local councils (including Guildford), consultants (e.g. Savills) or landowners. But of the 1,371 who commented on the green belt policy 1,332 (97%) were against.

Insetting makes it easy for the Council to impose additional new builds with almost complete disregard for local challenges. This is an example of the creeping appropriation of the green belt by a local authority.

I am very much aware of the value of the Green Belt status, in that it assists local authorities to minimise ribbon and other undesirable developments. I am horrified and shocked that Guildford Borough Council seem to have abdicated their responsibilities for the controlled development of Send and nearby villages.

I therefore object to Garlick's Arch (policy A43), Slip roads to the A3 at Burnt Common (Policy A43A) and Gosden Hill Farm, Merrow (policy A25) all breaching the government's commitment for Green Belt Protection. I would like the Planning Inspector to be aware of my objections and the reason for them.

Keep East and West Horsley in the Green Belt - any other solution is totally lacking in foresight.

The new village boundaries have been extended into the green belt to include farm fields and open spaces. For example, the Tennis Club and Kingston Meadows, a green space widely used by local residents adjacent to East Horsley Village Hall, are now included inside the insetting boundary. Insetting makes it easy for the Council to impose additional new builds with almost complete disregard for local challenges. This is an example of the creeping appropriation of the green belt by local authorities.

I strongly object to the 2016 Guildford Draft Local Plan on the following grounds in this plan.

1. Loss of Green Belt Land between Burpham and M25.

There is a disproportionate level of development to the north of Guildford.

The proposed developments of Garlicks Arch, Send, Wisley and Gosden Hill Farm will be developments that will infill the Green Belt from the Northern Edge of, Burpham up to the M2S at Wisley.
The plan does not offer sufficient evidence of exceptional circumstances to justify allocating Green Belt land for strategic development and more consideration should be given to Brownfield development.

Consequently, I object to the loss of the Green Belt, especially the Gosden Hill Farm development.

I OBJECT TO POLICY P2 (GREEN BELT):
• No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
• No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
• Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
• Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
• Impact on flood control ignored.
• Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
• Impact on biodiversity ignored.
• Impact on natural heritage ignored.
• Impact on water catchment ignored.
• Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
• Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
• Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
• Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored.
• Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
• Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in... the NPPF.
• Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
• Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt.
  Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
• “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
• Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
• Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit.
• Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage.

The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. I object on the basis of perceived lack of infrastructure in the area, damage development will do to the local environment, we're in an area of outstanding natural beauty and next to a heritage site, and it contravenes why we chose to live here - a small local village and community which isn't built-up/vastly populated.

Perhaps most importantly, the statement included in the plan “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt” goes against everything that the Plan proposes to do in East and West Horsley, with 65% of the new houses being built on Green Belt land. Protection of the Green Belt land has to be one of the most important issues for villages like West and East Horsley and the impact on flooding control, tourism and leisure, rural businesses, natural heritage and biodiversity have not been considered. There is a disproportionate amount of development to be in the Green Belt, with too few homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live.

I object to Policy P2 Green Belt
This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I do not accept this statement. The Metropolitan Green Belt forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. As noted under Policy S1, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. It is an inalienable public good. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:
1. Agricultural production
2. Rural leisure and tourism amenities
3. Water catchment
4. Flood control
5. Biodiversity
6. Natural heritage
7. A carbon sink for air pollution
8. Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
9. Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
10. Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
11. Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
12. Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas.
It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. I am worried that settlement boundaries are to be greatly extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large scale development.

This policy is disproportionate in terms of foreseeable development need. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

I wish to add my objection to the proposed plan for the removal of Chilworth and other adjoining villages from the protection of the Green belt.

This is an A.O.N.B. and should remain so. I and many other local people have chosen to live here because of the quietness and unspoil countryside which offers a great amount of peaceful walks. If Chilworth and other villages are removed from protection then this would result in more houses, people, cars, further congestion, fewer school places for children and pollution on our already over crowded ratrun roads. As the country has now voted for Brexit then hopefully not so many further homes need to be built so that we in the villages of the, Surrey Hills can still enjoy the peace and tranquility of this beautiful area which is the reason we moved here in the first place.

I am writing to you as I have grave concern that you are considering taking Chilworth out of the Green Belt, along with Shalford, Peasmarsh and many other villages. These villages were given Green Belt status, so they couldn't be subject to development. If you remove this, all our lovely green fields and peace and quiet would be removed and this is criminal.

We don't need houses built everywhere, whatever we are told. Even more so now with coming out of the EU, we certainly will not need the houses. Nobody has the right to live in the village they are born in, as years ago I had to move away and return years later when I could afford it and I found the new home I was happy to live in.

So I am asking you from the bottom of my heart to please reconsider this proposal to take Chilworth & the local villages out of the Green Belt.

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

Green Belt is not for the Council to give away; it belongs to us all and not just those who live within it, yet the detail of the policy suggests the Council is willing to sacrifice it. There is no commitment within this plan to protect the Green Belt, contrary to the content of the NPPF, party manifesto commitments, government policy and previous responses to public consultations.

There is no assessment of the Green Belt’s value, yet losing it results in an irreversible loss of:

- Agricultural production
- Rural leisure and tourism amenities
- Water catchment
• Flood control
• Biodiversity
• Natural heritage
• A carbon sink for air pollution
• Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
• Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
• Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (fracking)
• Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
• Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF).

The draft Local Plan suggests that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness”, however this is subjective. Indeed, preserving the openness of Effingham is a cornerstone of their emerging Neighbourhood Plan and fits with Paragraph 17 of the NPPF which “empowers local people to shape their surroundings”. I am especially concerned by the proposed ‘insetting’ of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and ‘infilling’ 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. It is of great concern that settlement boundaries are proposed to be extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. To ‘inset’ two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is completely inappropriate, given the stated objectives of the Green Belt in the NPPF and government policy. No exceptional circumstances have been disclosed, and therefore the Green Belt boundaries should NOT be changed.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt.
in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines.

The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

1. I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

<td>I OBJECT. This policy is much weaker than previous protection. It is dependent on the Surrey Hills Management Plan, which welcomes housing development. The Surrey Hills needs much more substantial protection. I particularly protest at the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. <td>I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2) I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.</td>

1.3. Merrist Wood College (MWC) is a 162ha, multi-award winning College which specialises in the land-based industries. The College is widely recognised by industry specialists for its training and for its past successes at RHS Chelsea and more recently at the Hampton Court Flower Shows; with work from the estate known across the country and in other parts of the world. The College has a national and international reputation amongst employers and industry specialists and a long history of providing education in the land-based sectors. In the College’s last Ofsted inspection they were graded as having “outstanding provision in land-based, equine and animal care”. Inspectors commented that there is “very good academic and pastoral support” and “curriculum enrichment, including work experience, visits and external speakers, is strong”.

1.4. The existing educational facilities at MWC include a large, diverse animal management centre which has both domestic and exotic animals; specially designed studios and workshops for floristry (horticulture), garden design and landscaping (with ancillary retail); workshops and classrooms for maintenance of agricultural machinery and equipment (vehicle technology); equine care and livery (currently with accommodation for over 70 horses); an indoor riding arena which is one of the largest of any college in the country; student classrooms, computer technology suites, a student library and associated ancillary student facilities including a restaurant, etc.; a working farm; and, on-site student and staff residential accommodation. The College also provide outdoor sport activities for its students and the wider community, which includes an existing affiliation with Chelsea Football Club wherein one of their ‘soccer academies’ is run from the land at MWC.

1.5 The College are developing ambitious plans for the future. Having recently invested £1m at their Farnham Sixth Form College site in the last three years they are now looking to further heavily invest in the redevelopment and enhancement of the Merrist Wood Campus in the coming years.

1.6. There is a continuing need to rationalise, modernise and grow the college campus to cater for an expanding educational offer and the anticipated growth. The College has suffered from under-investment for a number of years. With a renewed emphasis on modernising the educational offer at Merrist, the College are currently exploring development plans with the council through the pre-application process to expand and modernise the campus. These current development plans will ensure that the college is allowed to maintain and improve its facilities and realise capital funds, to secure its long term future. This evolution and growth of the campus will continue into the future.

1.7. It is therefore important that the emerging Guildford Borough Local Plan allows for the continual evolution and current growth plans for Merrist Wood. Our contention is that the Merrist Wood campus should be inset from the Green Belt as has been proposed for other major developed sites in the Green Belt. The Merrist Wood campus is larger, with more built development than many of the other major developed sites that have been proposed to be inset from the Green Belt. The campus is well contained in the landscape with opportunities on its own land to strengthen defensible boundaries.

2. Policy Background

2.1. The status of Merrist Wood as a major developed site in the Green Belt has been recognised is successive versions of the Local Plan.

2.2. More recently, draft Policy 9 ‘Villages and major previously developed sites’ of the Draft Local Plan (Regulation 18 – July 2014) gave recognition to previously developed sites in the Metropolitan Green Belt. It stated that development should help support the present and future economic, environmental and social sustainability of rural settlements in the Borough.

2.3. Two levels of major previously developed sites were referenced. Firstly, sites including Mount Browne Headquarters and the Pirbright Institute where “appropriate development and redevelopment opportunities will be supported”. Secondly, other major previously developed sites, including Merrist Wood College, Bisley Camp and RHS Wisley were identified as suitable for “small scale or infill development and redevelopment”.

2.4. The provisions of Draft Local Plan Policy 9 have, however, not been carried through to the Submission version of the Local Plan (July 2016). Instead, there is a new draft Policy 2. Draft Policy 2 gives no recognition to previously developed sites in the green belt such as the Merrist Wood campus, and fails to support the present and future sustainability of rural settlements.
2.5. Although not explained as the reason for removing draft Local Policy 9, we understand that as the NPPF now gives greater support for the limited infilling or the partial or complete redevelopment of previously developed sites, there is perhaps no need to recognise major previously developed sites in the Green Belt in the Local Plan to allow for their expansion.

2.6. Supporting text to draft Policy 2 states that “if major previously developed sites are of sufficient scale and do not possess an open character, it is not considered necessary for them to remain within the Green Belt”. Seemingly using these criteria, the Submission Local Plan proposes to remove some major developed sites from the Green Belt, including Henley Business Park, HM Prison Send, Keogh Barracks, Mount Browne, Pirbright Barracks, Pirbright Institute and the University of Law Guildford. Further, it is proposed that these sites are then allocated for development, including housing, or designated as Strategic Employment Sites.

2.7. Supporting text states that the Council considers that “exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development” (para. 4.3.16).

2.8. We have reviewed the Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study, prepared on behalf of the Council by Pegasus Group, to understand the evidence base upon which the Council is relying for green belt matters. This study reviewed all of the previously developed sites within the green belt, to determine whether there are opportunities for appropriate expansion or redevelopment of those sites. Sites were determined to either be inappropriate or appropriate for insetting within the green belt as follows:

<See table attached>

2.9. It appears that four broad criteria were used to make the allocations in the above table. These were the proportion of built development/openness; the total site area; land uses and character; and the presence or otherwise of defensible boundaries. Pegasus Group’s findings can be summarised as follows:

<See table attached>

2.10. Pegasus Group conclude that sites 1-7 should be inset from the green belt and that sites 8-11 should continue to be ‘washed over’ by the green belt.

3. Draft Policy 2

The case for insetting Merrist Wood from the Green Belt

3.1. The college’s contention is that if these criteria are applied properly and consistently then Merrist Wood College should also be inset from the Green Belt.

3.2. Local and national planning policy requires that land which it is unnecessary to keep permanently open, should not be included in the green belt.

3.3. We do not accept the findings of the Green Belt and Countryside Study that concludes that it would be inappropriate to inset Merrist Wood College from the Green Belt. We believe the specified criteria have not been applied consistently and if they had, Merrist Wood would have been proposed to be inset from the Green Belt and treated similarly to other undesignated sites.

% Built Development

3.4. Of the 11 sites examined, seven were identified as being appropriate for insetting in the Green Belt. Merrist Wood has the second highest proportion of built development on site, more than five of the other sites that are proposed to be inset from the Green Belt. This is significant and conveys that the educational campus is packed tightly with development, with minimal areas of open land, particularly when compared with other developed sites in the Green Belt. The council’s study concludes that 6.4ha of built development exists on site. This is five times as much development as exists on the University of Law site.

Total Site Area
3.5. Again, when compared with the seven sites proposed for removal from the Green Belt, only two sites are larger than Merrist Wood in overall area. At 12.7ha in size, Merrist Wood is twice as large as Mount Browne Police HQ, and three times the size as the University of Guildford site. Both these sites have been proposed to be inset from the Green Belt.

3.6. It has been consistently acknowledged by the council that Merrist Wood College is a major previously developed site in the Green Belt and that policy has continued to support the expansion of the college campus.

Uses and Character

3.7. The council’s study states that the campus includes ‘agricultural buildings sparsely arranged within open grounds. Areas of open land contribute to the openness of the wider Green Belt’.

3.8. We strongly disagree with this description. College’s land ownership covers an area of over 400 acres. However, the main educational facilities comprise of two distinct areas, the northern and southern campuses. The northern campus comprises teaching blocks, canteen and meeting space, student accommodation, sports pavilions, glasshouses, and workshops. There are large areas of car parking and other hard surfacing. The northern campus is situated on a ridge and contained by trees and ancient woodland on all aspects.

3.9. The southern campus accommodates one of the largest indoor equine arenas in the south east, with sprawling areas of hardsurfacing, storage sheds and machinery warehouses. The site is contained to the south by woodland and Holly Lane, a main route into Worplesdon.

3.10. The site is not sparsely arranged within open grounds and the land within the northern or southern campuses does not contribute to the openness of the wider Green Belt. Merrist Wood has the second highest proportion of built development on site, more than five of the other sites that are proposed to be inset from the Green Belt. This is significant and conveys that the educational campus is packed tightly with development, implying minimal areas of open land.

3.11. It is important to note that the boundary proposed for the site when it was designated as a ‘Major Developed Site (MDS) in the Green Belt’ under draft Policy 9 ‘Villages and major previously developed sites’ of the Draft Local Plan (Regulation 18 – July 2014) only included that land covered by the northern and southern campuses. The built facilities of the College are split in two by open fields used as pasture and for sports but this land was never included within the MDS boundary.

Defensible boundaries

3.12. The main criticism of the site by the council is that the defensible boundaries of the site are incomplete or absent. Again, we strongly disagree with this conclusion.

3.13. As mentioned above, the northern campus is situated on a ridge and contained by trees and ancient woodland on all aspects. This means that substantial built development on this part of the campus is screened from wider views and therefore contributes little to openness of the Green Belt.

<See picture attached>

3.14. The southern site too benefits from defensible boundaries including the existing trees, hedges, and roads to the south. These combine to create a clear demarcation of the site’s developed areas on the landscape.

<See picture attached>

3.15. In any event, the site’s defensible boundaries could easily be strengthened through a landscaping scheme; either implemented as immediate plans or as part of redevelopment works for the campus, which are in the process of being prepared and have been discussed with the Council through the pre-application process. The college has sufficient land ownership around the site to allow boundary strengthening works to proceed easily.

<See picture attached>
3.16. Even if Merrist Wood Campus is inset from the Green Belt, we would only expect the built facilities of the College to be inset. This would be consistent with the approach taken to the previously proposed MDS boundary. Furthermore, a variety of other development management policies would ensure that any development inappropriate for the site is avoided.

4. Development aspirations

4.1. Insetting the Merrist Wood College campus from the Green Belt would also assist the College in realising their development aspirations to modernise and grow the College.

4.2. The Merrist Wood College campus is in need of urgent investment and renewal. It operates from facilities which are no longer fit for purpose by modern teaching standards and it is suffering from a prolonged period of under-investment.

4.3. The outdated accommodation is expensive to maintain. The campus desperately needs to re-invest in order to improve its educational offer and become financially viable and self-sustaining. Without such investment, there is a very real danger that prospective students will venture elsewhere to colleges with considerably better facilities. Although the college is well regarded locally, it is falling behind the top performing land based colleges at a crucial time when the higher and further education sector is in a state of flux.

4.4. The college wishes to improve its education offer through a series of enhancements to the campus and its facilities. These aspirations have been shared with the Council through their pre-application process and we expect to submit a planning application for these improvements shortly.

5. Proposed amendments

5.1. Our client is concerned that the Submission Local Plan is unsound for the following reasons:

5.2. 1. The plan fails to present the most appropriate strategy for the Borough’s previously developed sites within the green belt, based on the Council’s own evidence, and is therefore not justified.

5.3. 2. Through failing to channel appropriate development to the Borough’s previously developed sites in the green belt on a consistent basis, the plan does not provide for the most sustainable pattern of development over the plan period and is therefore inconsistent with national policy.

5.4. We request an amendment to the supporting text to draft Policy 2 as follows:

Para 4.3.15 The following major previously developed sites are now inset from the Green Belt: Henley Business Park, HM Prison Send, Keogh Barracks, Mount Browne, Pirbright Barracks, Pirbright Institute, the University of Law Guildford and Merrist Wood College.

Examination in Public

5.5. We wish to appear at the forthcoming Examination in Public to present our case on this matter.

 I AM WRITING TO FORMALLY OBJECT TO REMOVING CHILWORTH FROM THE GREEN BELT.

It is possible for appropriate new development to take place in Chilworth without removing it from the green belt - removing the green belt is not a good way forward nor necessary.

Please make sure my objection is noted and registered - DO NOT REMOVE GREEN BELT PROTECTION FROM CHILWORTH.

Thank you.

The Green Belt:

The National policy is clear in that it attaches great importance to the nature of the Green Belt.

The Plan does not show evidence of exceptional circumstances to justify why the Green Belt land should be used for strategic development.

Brownfield land needs more consideration, surely the decline in the need for retail space means that houses could be built in the town centre instead of more retail units, student accommodation should be constructed on campus even if higher rise accommodation is used.

I object to these areas being inset from the Green Belt: Chilworth, East Horsley, Effingham, Fairlands, Flexford, Jacobs Well, Normandy, Peasmarsh, Ripley, Send, Send Marsh/ Burnt Common, Shalford, West Horsley and Wood Street Village.

There are many brownfield sites and areas which remain open for development which could provide much needed affordable housing for the current population. There are also areas which could provide more housing with a little thought around redesign and redevelopment. This would not mean an influx of more people but affordable housing for the existing population. I believe that the plan is for profit and does not provide for the needs of the current residents of Guildford. Where does the DRAFT Local Plan identify the type, size and potential value of these developments? Where does the Draft Local Plan define affordable, with examples of who would be able to afford to live in these houses. Anybody under 35 looking for a property from 1st April 2016 is now being confined to house sharing and room renting. Where does the plan identify this problem?

Why take swathes of the Green Belt countryside that make this area so beautiful and cover it in concrete, just to line the pockets of the house builders. Once it is gone, there is no going back. I am disappointed in the Draft Local Plan and... object most strongly. This is nothing more than the road to a dormitory Guildford Borough, property rich and socially and environmentally poor.

The Horsleys should contribute to meeting the need for increased housing in the borough. But this should be done in a way that is sensitive to the current environment and without any need to remove green belt ‘status’.

The openness of Green Belt land needs to be cherished, respected and permanently protected. This way, Green Belts will protect our countryside and help regenerate our cities. If you go ahead with this, extremely valuable Green Belt land will be lost forever and can never be replaced.

I object to the large scale development of green belt land, in particular at Normandy/Flexford. Guildford has 89% land of green belt and 44% land AONB. I understand that a number of houses and services are required over the next 20 years but believe small scale development is preferred over large developments which put extra burden on our already overcrowded road system. There should be no development of green belt without local resident agreement.

We are writing to object to the Local Plan proposals for West Horsley on the following grounds:

1 - Objection to removing West Horsley from the Green Belt:

The Local Plan categorically states "that we will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt " - understandable, as the fact is, the village has absolutely no infrastructure in terms of doctors, very limited bus service, one small shop, poor roads and a school already operating at capacity.

We were resident at 23 East Lane for over 30 years until 2007 and continue to visit regularly as one of our sons bought the property and now lives there with his family. Since we left the infrastructure has not changed apart from the fact that there is no longer a post office and the traffic has increased considerably.

I object to the extent of development planned within the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Policy P2 states that Guildford Borough Council ‘…will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt.’ An explanation is required detailing how the green belt is being protected when greater than 65% of the proposed developments will take place on land currently within the Metropolitan Green Belt.

As an example, of the 13,860 planned new homes only 1,172 will be built in Guildford Town Centre and 1,570 in the Guildford urban area, that is a total of 2,742. On the other hand, 2,533 are planned to be built within a three mile radius of the Horsleys which is currently within the green belt.

<td>Whilst I APPROVE the change to put much of Normandy and Flexford (sites A46 and A47) back into greenbelt (compared to the previous draft plan), I OBJECT to the insetting of the two settlements, and they should instead be &quot;washed over&quot; by greenbelt, in order to prevent precedent building up through piecemeal development over time, which would threaten the Greenbelt corridor that is currently established. This area is an asset to the borough in terms of open space and is accessible to many via the Wanborough station. Strategies to protect this must be clear in the plan.</td>

I would also like to object to the secretive and high-handed way in which the SHMA process has been The annual house building target is more than double what was agreed in 2010, and more than double what could be explained by the population growth figures for Guildford for the last twenty years. Also, unlike last time, no constraints have been applied for infrastructure or environmental factors, with no explanation offered as to why. GBC has repeatedly refused to involve their electorate in discussing this matter, and has steadfastly refused to explain what factors could account for this huge hike in the annual house building target. All we do know is that G.L. Hearn, who did the SHMA, has a vested interest in setting the figure as high as possible, to generate work for their associates at Constructionline. Government guidelines state that the community should be able to feel confident that the SHMA figure is fair and objective. For the reasons given, GBC has failed woefully in this regard.

Consequently I object to the way the plan proposes to put 70% of the new houses on the Green Belt around Guildford, as this is surely the worst possible option for exacerbating traffic congestion, while putting more of the housing on brown field sites within the town would mean people could walk or cycle to the station or the shops. To make matters even worse, much of the brownfield sites are proposed for commercial use, drawing even more traffic into the town.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object strongly to the proposals to remove the following villages from the Green Belt, Ripley, Send Clandon, Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlicks Arch (A43). NPP states there needs to be exceptional circumstances for both Green Belt boundaries to be altered and development on Green Belt – these are not exceptional circumstances. These neighbouring villages will merge into one another as a result of the loss of this Green Belt resulting in urban sprawl and loss of the beautiful countryside.

This could be avoided at Garlicks Arch by developing on existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common where there is surplus land affording development.

is slap bang in the middle of a green belt area and totally unsustainable as accepted by the recent Planning Committee who recently unanimously rejected a planning application on various NPPF grounds. This site is far too close to Cobham (1.5km), Pyrford (1.5km) and Woking (2.5km) not to become their urban areas over time which will totally wipe out green belt in this area.

Developments of 2,000 houses in the Green Belt are exploitation and fulfill developer's dreams who can escape their their affordable homes targets (clause 4.2.40) and provide houses for those from outside the borough. I object to GBC realising those developers dreams and ignoring those of the residents.

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance' and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

1. Just how much green belt do we require for the rejuvenation of our souls? As a keen dog walker I am struck by how under-used our green belt is. Considering there is something like half-a-million people living within 5 miles radius of Guildford it is odd how few people I meet when out with my dog - up St Martha's, the Chantries, or Newlands Corner - with regard to the latter there are more people sitting in cars than out walking. I meet more dog walkers in Sutherland Park than in the previous mentioned beauty spots.

2. There is a large amount of over-rated green belt - more scrubland than stimulating green environment. The quality of green environment matters more than mere quantity. So guard our Surrey Hills with all your might but there is a great deal of so-called boundary or in-between zones that do not constitute stimulating environment.

3. Although there is a great deal of green belt that could be declassified, I am not saying it should all be built on. It is vital to get the density of housing right. It is essential to have adequate availability of park space for sport and social activities. Most people are not looking for one hour walking trails but rather ten to twenty minute walks space where they can get away from traffic noise. Merrow Downs might not be groomed for football but it serves as a very pleasant walking and picnic space.

4. Another aspect of the local Green Belt worth preserving (and developing) are the various water meadows. These are marvellous for the variety of wildlife they support. No doubt these water meadows play a part in flood management.

5. Planners just have to come up with a figure for the ratio of housing to recreation space and stick to it. Green belt restrictions are forcing developers to pack houses into small pockets of Brownfield sites with the result houses... are becoming too small for effective family living and with inadequate parking spaces. Green Belt restrictions are acting as a choke on the quality of the housing stock. Retirees need bungalow type houses that are all on the flat. This is not so efficient in terms of land use, but such houses are in short supply.

6. It is depressing to hear the whining of the Nimbies. All they want is their green surroundings retained for their status quo. If their views were acted on all house building would come to a halt. This clearly would be a farcical situation. After all, probably half the population of the wider Guildford area are living in houses that were built on pristine green fields within the last 60 years.

7. Obviously, issues of adequate infrastructure, environmental sustainability and flood management have to be recognised and catered for. But we are talking about housing developments taking place over the next twenty years. GBC has to come up with impact statistics and published proposals for dealing with these challenges in advance of the new township developments.

I am writing to object to the local plan. My reasons are the following:

First I would like to say I don’t think you should stick to the local plan, building on the green belt because it will badly affect poor aminals e.g. nesting birds like by me.

It will also affect people in Horsley because you wouldn't be able to enjoy the space and for children they might play there so it will affect them.

I object to the Settlement Boundary which has been imposed on East Clandon without any consultation. This imposition provides no protection to further development outside of the settlement boundary (Policy P2 para 4.3.25) and I deem as being unnecessary in an already tightly developed ancient and rural conservation village with high archaeological potential. I demand that this proposal be removed as it will endanger the openness of the Green Belt, the views in and out of the AONB (protection of the AONB Policy P1) and the character of our village.

Policy P2 – Green Belt: I object to this significant erosion of the Green Belt with the proposals for large towns being developed on Green Belt land thereby removing the openness of the Green Belt. I note in particular the huge developments proposed for the North East quadrant of the borough which will adversely affect our amenity, but also unfairly targets our tranquil rural villages because we can provide ‘dormitory’ facilities for commuters to London. These developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracts in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send.

Further, on the erosion of Green Belt and I object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that Green Belt should be protected. I object to the disproportionate use of Green Belt land for housing – some 65% of the housing proposed is on Green Belt and with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brown field sites.

I object that GBC are contravening the NPPF framework stipulation in paragraph 87 with the proposed developments at Gosden Hill Farm, Ripley, East and West Horsley and Garlicks Arch, Send. Paragraph 87 states “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.” and GBC have not proven any special circumstance for developing on these Green Belt areas.

<td>While welcoming the removal of site allocations A46 and A47, I object to the proposed Green Belt boundary amendments that would result in the Normandy and Flexford settlements being inset from the Green Belt. The statement in Policy P2 that these villages (among others) are now inset presupposes that the proposal indicated on the map at Appendix H has been approved, so it is unjustified. Evidence of &quot;exceptional circumstances&quot; for these changes has not been provided. I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt.

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council's to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.
The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an "acceptable" percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council's growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers' hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the "insetting" of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3. 17 states that "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called 'strategic sites' of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick's Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites.
National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt to be altered, and the development of Green Belt sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether "exceptional circumstances" existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

1. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing. I believe that as III as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

2. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless "exceptional circumstances" for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it... cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt.

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council's to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an "acceptable" percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council's growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers' hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3. 17 states that "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called 'strategic sites' of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick's Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites.

National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt to be altered, "special circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance') to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Green Belt Objections

I OBJECT to the Local Plan because it seeks to build on Green Belt land unnecessarily. The work of Professor Anne Power at the London School of Economics, amongst much other expert research, clearly demonstrates that there is more than sufficient land to build all the houses that are needed without taking any of the Green Belt. In our area several studies show that unused brownfield sites in Guildford Town itself are capable of yielding most of the required land. GBC has not properly explored the capacity which is available there or on brownfield sites elsewhere in the borough, which would have provided a sensible starting point since GBC own many of them.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan in that GBC’s approach to the Green Belt introduces a concept of grading its quality. This is an alien concept, not recognised in law. Of course some Green Belt is seen to be better than other Green Belt but the law does not make any distinction, nor should it. It depends who is looking at it and from what standpoint they are looking. Green Belt is Green Belt and it is not for GBC to stand in judgement on what bits it thinks are worth keeping and what are not.

I OBJECT to proponents of the plan representing those against it as “nimbys”. Those against are not against building houses. They recognise the need for them. They are against building them in unsuitable, unthought out locations which damage existing amenities. This relates particularly to building them on Green Belt land, thereby destroying an existing amenity, when it is not necessary to do so.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan because it seeks to promote sites for houses with woefully inadequate attention being paid to the infrastructure to support those sites. Without proper infrastructure none of the identified sites will deliver what is claimed for them. No detailed thought has been given to the form of the infrastructure required, still less to how much it would cost and, it would appear, none at all to where the money for it would come from.

I OBJECT to removing Send and other villages from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was intended to be permanent, and its permanence was enshrined in law through the National Planning Policy Framework, reinforced by the NPPG and a succession of Ministerial guidance statements. For all of this to be overridden requires “special circumstances” which do not exist in the case of Send.

I OBJECT to all four proposed sites in Send because they are all in the Green Belt and not one of them displays the very special circumstances which would be needed in order to outweigh the substantial harm caused by reason of inappropriateness. There is abundant legal authority but I would cite the Court of Appeal cases of City of St Albans v Hunstan Properties and Gallagher Homes v Solihull Metropolitan Council. These precedents, which have been ignored by Guildford Council before, show that it is necessary to demonstrate that harm to the community at large, by taking the Green Belt, would be less than if it was not taken. The crucial words are “to the community at large”. Paragraph 47(1) of the NPPF advises local authorities “to ensure that their local plans meet the full, objectively obsessed, needs for markets and affordable housing in the housing market area as far as is consistent with the policies set out in this framework”. As the Court of Appeal has made clear one cannot rely on objectively assessed needs without having regard to the policy constraints. The qualification in this clause “as far as is consistent with” is not qualifying housing need; it is qualifying the extent to which the local plan should go to meet those needs. It is quite clear from the precedents that exceptional circumstances will not exist unless the potential harm to the Green Belt has been shown to be clearly outweighed by other considerations. In other words harm to the Green Belt is included in the factors which the NPPF requires to be taken into account.

The NPPF further states that in their local plans local authorities are required to meet objectively assessed housing needs “as far as is consistent with the policies set out in this Framework”. The policies referred to include Section 9 - Protection of the Green Belt. The Court of Appeal has clarified the interpretation of this by stating categorically that there may be nothing very special about a housing shortfall in an area which has very little undeveloped land outside the Green Belt. The key question is not “is there a shortfall in housing land supply?” You have to ask “have special circumstances been demonstrated to outweigh the Green Belt objection?” And such circumstances are not demonstrated simply because there is a less than five year supply of housing land. Special circumstances will not exist unless the potential harm to the Green Belt is clearly outweighed by other considerations. The draft plan has not begun to demonstrate that there are exceptional circumstances and indeed offers very little to suggest that the authors have even read what the Court of Appeal has said about the provisions in the NPPF.

It is noted that the Court of Appeal precedents have been ignored before by GBC, which appears to regard itself as over and above the law. GBC seems willing to expend residents’ funds on counsel’s advice, in support of what its client developers want to do, but cannot bring itself to get a QC’s opinion in order to guide it on understanding the case law that actually exists, which manifestly it does not understand.
Given the large amount of Green Belt in Guildford Borough, the council can legitimately argue that it does not have to match the housing targets of boroughs with less Green Belt. But if Guildford wants to match the housing target which would apply if it was not constrained by the Green Belt, it can still do so using brownfield land which is in plentiful supply. It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that it has not taken either of these legitimate routes because it finds the allure of developers’ propositions on green field sites more attractive. GBC should also note that the Green Belt was created not just for the benefit of local residents. It came to be known as the Metropolitan Green Belt because it was intended to be of benefit to a much wider range of people, especially Londoners visiting open spaces outside but near to London. It is beyond the remit of GBC to arrogate to itself the power to override Parliament’s intention.

I OBJECT to any sort of diminution of Send’s Green Belt because it provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one conurbation. It has served this purpose effectively since its inception and should continue doing so for the benefit of subsequent generations living here. No group of councilors, especially without a mandate, has the authority to impose a different future on residents.

I OBJECT to any reduction in Send’s Green Belt because so much land in Send provides the setting for the beautiful Wey Navigation corridor, which is a conservation area that enhances biodiversity, is visually important, provides a valuable leisure facility and combined with the surrounding lakes an exceptional habitat for a wide range of bird species and other wildlife.

Removal of the Horsleys from the Green Belt - The green belt was put in place to stop towns and villages running into huge unbroken settlements. I feel it is wrong to just arbitrarily decide that it now suits the council to change the green belt, therefore our village is being removed. It is also against the policy that says ‘exceptional circumstances’ are required to make this change. There are no exceptional circumstances that have been provided to justify this change.

6 GREENBELT

6.1 The key restriction regarding the development of the land at Fairlands site is its Green Belt There are 5 purposes to the Green Belt which have been set out below in relation to this proposed allocation site.

To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas

6.2 The land to the west and south west of Fairlands adjoins the settlement of Fairlands, 2.6 miles north of Guildford. The western boundary of the site is constrained by the existing development of Littlefield Manor, including Littlefield Manor Riding School and the extent of the flat, developable area of land. The northern boundary is heavily wooded between the site and the Aldershot Road. The eastern boundary is formed of residential streets. The southern boundary is restricted by an existing track and an established row of clustered mature trees. The site is therefore largely contained, and the less defined boundaries to the south and west could be strengthened through additional soft landscaping. It is therefore considered that this site is not required to be in the Green Belt in order to prevent the village from sprawling.

To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another

6.3 The proposed extension to Fairlands would be to the west of the settlemen The nearest development to the west is a row of housing along Frog Row Lane. This is 1.2km from the existing western boundary of Fairlands and would still be 1km away should the site subject of this report be developed. The nearest village to the west is Willey Green which is 2km west of Fairlands. It is therefore considered that there is no risk of the proposed development of the site resulting in neighbouring settlements merging together.

To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment

6.4 As set out in the two points above, the site is largely contained by existing development and mature woodland and veget Development of the site would allow for a sustainable extension to an existing settlement.
To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns

6.5 Fairlands is not considered to have any special or historic character. The settlement was first built in the 1930’s with the majority of development taking place in 1960’s. The settlement is not considered to contribute to the setting of any nearby historic towns and therefore does not meet this purpose for land being within the Green Belt.

To assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

6.6 The West Surrey SHMA found that the objectively assessed need was 1,729 homes per annum for the region between 2013 and 2033, 693 of which are to be provided within the Guildford local planning area per annum. It is therefore necessary for the Local Planning Authority to consider a range of sites, both brownfield and green. Of course brown field sites should be developed first, however the Council has recognised that the existing available brown field sites within the area are not sufficient to meet current housing requirements. There is therefore a clear indication that the Council will need to identify Greenfield land, much of which will be Green Belt if it is to meet housing requirements. In addition, Policy 2 of the Borough Wide Strategy clearly indicates that Green Belt land will need to be released for development in order to meet the OANs for the borough. On this basis there is a strong case for this identified site to be removed from the Green Belt to allow for beneficial development.

I OBJECT TO "in-setting" of any villages including Ripley, Send and Send Marsh/Burnt Common from the Green Belt. The Green Belt legislation was introduced to ensure clean air areas between around towns and cities following WW2 – currently Junction 10 of the M25/A3 has high levels of pollution and this will simply increase pollution levels across an extensive residential area.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I strongly object to the proposed changes to the Green Belt Boundary to inset my village and about 13 other villages from the Green Belt. All the villages should remain in the Green Belt. If someone hadn't had the vision to create the Green Belts before I was born, I am sure my village and the countryside around it would just be urban sprawl by now. It would not be here for the thousands who come out from London every week to cycle or walk or simply be in the countryside. It would not be here to act as green lungs for the whole of England, to contribute towards easing the climate problems we are creating, to help to maintain biodiversity. I have been lucky enough to grow up here, so I see how important it is for others. I also know the Walton, Weybridge, Byfleet area and Staines, Egham, so I can see what happens when anything happens to allow higher density development in - urban sprawl. This is too important to risk. The Green Belts are not ours or yours to give away, but a precious gift to be preserved for my children and their children.

89% of Guildford Borough is in the Metropolitan Green Belt. The Local Plan should have the protection of the Green Belt at its heart. The Green Belt was always intended to be permanent and its boundaries cannot be changed except in exceptional circumstances. You have shown no exceptional circumstances under the NPPF for the Green Belt boundary to be changed.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

It is fundamental that there are no exceptional circumstances for East and West Horsley to be taken out of the Green Belt. Any additional housing should therefore be small scale. I object to the extension of the settlement boundaries by the redrawn insetting boundary. This can only be to try and make more land available for what has been shown to be inappropriate development and included in an enormous document so that they will probably be missed by residents. I particularly object to the inclusion of Kingston Meadows, land owned by GBC and previously dedicated as open space for the use and benefit of the community. That is a key green space and recreational area where I have used the play parks, bike humps, trim trail and football pitch for decades with friends from the village and outside. It is used by hundreds of dog walkers and for village celebrations. No change to the settlement boundary has been justified. I object to the inclusion in the Plan of six large housing sites in the Green Belt outside the two villages (A36 - 41). They should be removed from the Plan as they are contrary to the Green Belt and to include them preempts proper decision making. I object to a Plan which allocates Housing disproportionately to the Green Belt villages and in particular the Ockham, Send, Horsleys area. This is morally and legally wrong and contradicts your Vision. A proper assessment of urban brownfield sites should provide enough sites for housing to be allocated at least proportionately as between the urban area and villages.

In addition I draw your attention to the very serious existing problems in the village with infrastructure - roads, flooding and drainage, sewage, etc - and facilities - schools, doctors, failing businesses, no useful buses, to mention just a few. There is a high dependence on car use. We walked to school for years but were part of a very small number because people said they were to frightened of the narrow roads and traffic! There is flooding along the roads almost every time it rains. For these reasons a large increase in housing is not feasible. It would also destroy the character of the village and of the Green Belt which surrounds it. For all the reasons given above, I am against anything other than small scale additions to housing in East and West Horsley.

I object to the revised Settlement Hierarchy with another meaningless tick box exercise. East Horsley is not a rural district centre within any ordinary meaning of the phrase. People do not come from outlying areas to East Horsley for shopping or work, they go to Guildford, Dorking, Leatherhead or other urban areas, including Surbiton, Kingston and London. East Horsley is not suitable for town centre type developments and I object to this policy (E8).

Green Belt

I strongly object to the proposed changes to the Green Belt Boundary to inset the named villages from the Green Belt (including Policies S1, S2, P2). All the villages should remain in the Green Belt.

89% of Guildford Borough is in the Metropolitan Green Belt. The Local Plan should have the protection of the Green Belt as its cornerstone. The Green Belt was always intended to be permanent and its boundaries cannot be changed except in exceptional circumstances. You have shown no grounds for the Green Belt boundary to be changed.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Policy P2 - Green Belt

I object – to the proposed insetting of villages from the Green Belt, and the green light given to infilling. This means to villages are open to development as well as the allocated sites. Green Belt protection is national policy – its protection was strongly promoted by national political leaders in the 2015 General Election and by most candidates, including those of the majority party in Guildford, in the 2015 Local Elections. Appeal case law has shown that even if housing need does exist, that does not automatically over-ride the protection accorded by the Green Belt legislation.

Guildford B.C. claims that less than 2% of Green Belt will be lost, but factoring in the insetting of villages the figure appears to be nearer 6%.

I write as a resident of West Horsley in support of retaining the Horsleys status as part of the green belt which continues to serve its original purpose of providing a useful escape from urban encroachment – a much appreciated open space to counter over development.

However this should not be taken as endorsement for the overly negative approach taken by most local planners who seem obsessed with maintaining the status quo irrespective of the needs of a thriving and growing community. Sensible plans which add to the housing stock and which are consistent and commensurate with existing structures would be welcome. Too often the planners say no when they might easily loosen some planning guidelines which do not involve building brand new properties on pristine green belt land.

I refer to the proposed planning in West Horsley, the extent of which is entirely unacceptable.

The latest plan indicates over 530 new homes for The Horsleys. This level of new housing would COMPLETELY change the character of the village, not to mention the impact it will have on its infrastructure.

Green Belt

You seem determined not to respect the green belt. How can you possibly consider removing these villages from the green belt??

We moved to West Horsley nearly three years ago and chose this area specifically because we wanted a village environment to bring up our daughter.

We wanted to get away from traffic and congestion and enjoy the green belt around us.
The proposed development of homes on green belt sites at much higher densities than currently exist would be totally out of character with existing housing. It is also unsustainable in terms of drainage, road capacity, schools, shops, medical facilities, parking and public transport.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

Removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) would utterly destroy the character of the area. This must be avoided at all costs. Retention of the UK's Green Belt has been supported by every government for decades and has always been more critical the closer to London. It would be intolerable if the London sprawl is allowed to extend to Guildford and beyond its southern borders.

There are more than enough brownfield sites in the Guildford area that should be developed for the Plan.

There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy (Policy P2).

Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

P2 Please do not approve the plans to build on Guildford Greenbelt land.

The surrounding green spaces are areas of extreme beauty, home to many wild animals and beautiful rare birds such as wild deer, shrews, kites and buzzards. Where will they go if the land is lost?

As a keen horse rider in the local area, I am disheartened that the beautiful landscapes and historic woodlands, once built on will be lost forever. Never replaceable. Gone. Forever.

The fields would no longer absorb the rainfall, deterring flooding to the local population.

Please, please do not build on the greenbelt.

This breaks a long standing agreement that Green belt is protected from development. People will not trust you to protect them.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2) Removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) would ruin the area and cannot be allowed. The UK's Green Belt has been supported for years and is critical so close to London.

the loss of the green belt. I object to the areas of Ripley, send and clandon being removed from the green belt. Once removed they can never go back to the quaint villages they are now. Also the problem we have with urban sprawl only gets worse.

1) all erosion of green belt
2) removal of villages from the green belt
3) disproportionate amount of development in one area of the borough
4) limited consultation period
5) last minute inclusion of new sites with less than 2 weeks to go
6) lack of evidence for housing numbers needed
7) lack of immediate provision needed for new schools
8) lack of any immediate provision for doctors surgery S
9) and development at garlic arch
10) increased traffic that would be cause in which a village such as Ripley already cannot sustain its current demand without long tailback and
11) dangerous size vehicals manoeuvring in roads that has little or no pedestrian path way due to increased traffic
12) lack of parking in the village for the present day users let alone if more were to be housed
13) the use of countryside areas for which the area is so well know to build more properties

I OBJECT most strongly to the removal from the Green Belt of homes in Guildford Road, northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford & Walden Cottages as these areas were identified, by the Council, as contributing to the “openness of the Green Belt”, so these areas should remain washed over by the Green Belt status. Please see below my further points as to why I object.

• I object to the changes to Policy P2 because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 objections made to the 2016 plan.
• I object to the new para (1) “The Metropolitan Green Belt will continue to be protected as shown designated on the Policies Map, against inappropriate development. In accordance with national planning policy, the construction of new development will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated.” The words “as shown designated on the Policies Map” should be deleted. The Policies Map has effectively ignored huge areas of Green Belt protection and the new para (1) is therefore a sham.
I object to the proposed change that Normandy settlement, Flexford settlement and Walden Cottages should be inset from the Green Belt due to the fact that:

- There is evidence in past planning appeals APP/Y3615/W/3002308, APP/Y3615/A/102140360 and APP/Y3615/A/10/2131590 that the land here contributes to the "openness" of the Green belt
- There is evidence in the Sustainability Appraisal para 10.4.7 that the agricultural land between the settlements is of BMV quality, exhibits 'openness' and contributes to the rural economy
- The land in and around the settlements of Normandy and Flexford contributes to views into and from the Surrey Hills AONB (Hog's Back)

Policy P2 fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it needs to be permanently protected. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital.

It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of land that may be removed from the Green Belt.

I object to the statement in the Draft Local Plan under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) which claims that 14 villages are “now inset from the Green Belt”. This statement is untrue as GBC is proposing to “inset” these village. No decision has been made by an Inspector, therefore the villages remain in the Green Belt.

I object to the changed “insetting” of 15 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages.

I am concerned that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages (including Send) and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. This is completely unplanned and unmeasured development outside of the OAN.

I SUPPORT – Removal of site A46 & removal of site A47

I OBJECT. This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is a lie. There is a major reduction in the plan for Green Belt land between Guildford and the M25. The policy wording is tepid in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. It is an inalienable public good. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away even if central office is whispering in the ears of its councilors as to how great it would be for developers and such an advantage for them.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

- Agricultural production
- Rural leisure and tourism amenities
- Water catchments
- Flood control
- Biodiversity
- Natural heritage
- A carbon sink for air pollution
- Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
- Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
- Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
- Natural beauty, landmarks, opens space, rural views and sight lines
- Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law, morality and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations. (All though the government has recently seemed to opted for a back door policy to destroy the green belt) It is disreputable to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. No one argues that we should sell 1.6% of the Crown jewels in order to build houses. I am not opposed to appropriate development in the Green Belt in Send, Send Marsh and Ripley. But I fail to see why a system of fair burden sharing of new development cannot be applied to the borough’s existing settlements in proportion to their size. This alternative would minimise the strain on infrastructure and maximise the chances of retaining the character of each settlement through gradual growth. It is reasonable to ask urban Guildford, with x times the population of semi-rural Send, Send Marsh or Ripley for instance, to accommodate x times the number of new homes over the plan period. Parish councils could be asked, and will no doubt be willing, to propose where their quota of houses should go. Most rural residents are reasonable people who, if not alienated by top-down planners, will support realistic numbers of new houses in their neighbourhoods. Unfortunately, this democratic, bottom-up approach has not been attempted. Instead, while developers flip and land-bank urban sites as a financial speculation, this plan will dump most new development on greenfield sites where building costs are lower, covering the Green Belt with dozens of housing estates that few residents want. 8,086 new houses are planned for the Green Belt but only 1,135 for Guildford urban area. This is disruptive, socially inequitable and unnecessary. It will not only destroy countryside but will also delay and dis incentive much-needed urban regeneration. The remarkable revival and repopulation of central London shows that building dormitory satellite settlements is an out-of-date approach to planning. I particularly protest at the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be extended in many villages including Send, Send Marsh and Ripley and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are “leggy” in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell-bent on self-defeat.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors. To “inset” two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need (especially post-Brexit) and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Send is a good example of villages that ought to retain their Green Belt status. Send provides an important Green Belt buffer between Woking and Guildford. Yes, it is true that Send comprises old ribbon development but this should not mean it can be removed from the Green Belt so that Woking joins up to Guildford. The village and the countryside behind the A247 should all be protected.

I OBJECT to three particularly vulnerable areas of high quality amenity land being taken out of the Green Belt around Send which include:

1. The land behind the schools including playing fields and woodland.
2. The land to the right of Cartridge by the River Wey Navigation up to the new boundary fence with Vision Engineering.
3. Land to the left of Cartridge going up to the old depot on the Wey Navigation.

I OBJECT to the way this local plan totally disregards the protection the Green Belt gives to field and open spaces, it is cynical the way the council wish to create urban sprawl along the A3, (Policy A35, A43 and A25) this was one of the founding reason for creating the Green Belt in the first place, to stop urban sprawl along trunk roads.

Re. Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map Settlement Boundary Changes in East Horsley.
I OBJECT to the proposed boundary change to move the settlement boundary westwards from the houses on the west side of Kingston Avenue to the tree line running along the parish boundary on the west edge of of Kingston Meadows which would result in taking all of Kingston Meadows out of the green belt.

I have lived in my house since October 1979 and daily walked in the Meadows with my dogs. When GBC bought the Meadows, renaming them Kingston Meadows, we were assured by GBC that they would forever be used as recreation area for the residents of East Horsley. A large circle of Whitebeam trees was planted at the far (south) end of the Meadows and we were told the land there was to be used by locals to freely roam, picnic, exercise, walk children and dogs etc. Subsequently the children's play areas, tennis courts, football pitch and so on were built, all plainly for use by villagers.

No sound reasons have been given for the proposed extension of the boundary, which seems to be aimed solely at increasing the land available within the settlements for future additional development. Moving the green belt boundary westwards does not constitute an 'exceptional circumstance' under the NPPF rules and as such I believe this to be an invalid proposal.

Therefore I OBJECT TO THIS PROPOSED BOUNDARY CHANGE.

The greenbelt should be protected for our children’s sake. There are plenty of smaller alternatives for housing, so let’s exhaust them first and deal with our traffic issues at the same time. Large estates on the edge of town are not the answer. If we really have to do so then please give the small builder and self-builder a chance and sell of the plots not hand over large developments to the greed of a few. I expect the borough council prefer it but the generic housing that we put up with is unsightly, dull, unimaginative and out balances profit over architectural innovation and inspiration.

I wish to raise my objections to 2016 Guildford Borough Council's Draft Local Plan. My husband and I regularly visit East Horsley, where my son, his wife and young family live.

I go there weekly to look after two grandchildren. So not only do I know about the village they live in, but also the surrounding area which I love for its gorgeous, green countryside and quiet villages. This area is not only a true escape from the urban sprawl of London, but even from what you might perceive as the relative quiet suburbs of Camberley. Even if I don’t live there, changes will have a negative impact on me.

My main points of opposition to the Plan are:

Disregarding the Green Belt

The Surrey Hills areas of outstanding natural beauty must continue to be protected. It is too close to London to allow small chunks to be eaten away.

I am writing to protest against the development on our green belt areas.

These are areas which prevent this small island from becoming one big concrete block, yes we do need to house people, however this cannot be done at the detrimental effect of destroying our countryside which is how the proposal intended will cause.

The overloaded services cannot sustain any more therefore more consideration needs to be taken to keep the area around London green. Affordable housing needs to be spread away from London to ensure other cities proper rather than placing a concentration to an already overload Capital.

Please think before making this monumental decision as there is no going back once it has been taken. Please don’t destroy our countryside.

Policy P2 - Green Belt

I strongly object to GBC considering building new developments of 2,000 houses in Green Belt. I object to Gosden Hill, Blackwell Farm and the former Wisley Airfield becoming new towns 'dumped' in the Green Belt for reasons of economy and convenience. I particularly object to the former Wisley Airfield being considered for a new town as this is slap bang in the middle of a green belt area and totally unsustainable as accepted by the recent Planning Committee who recently unanimously rejected a planning application on various NPPF grounds.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

There are some good aspects of the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 but it is deeply flawed in critical areas, as identified by the Guildford Environmental forum of which I am a member. However, I write to you in a personal capacity as a concerned resident of the village of Chilworth and as an academic who works on the social and environmental impacts of encroachments on green spaces from extractive industry developments (which we already have now in Albury village) to inappropriate housing developments which in affectively privatise green spaces, public spaces, common land and green belt rural areas often for the gain of property ‘developers’ – this is compounded by the frequent rhetorical spin of providing for the ‘housing needs of the poor’.

In a society dominated by private property and private capital, where landlords are permitted to allow dwellings to sit unoccupied and where local councils’ first recourse is often to develop green spaces rather than brownfield sites or vacant sites previously run by commercial activities, the last thing our local borough needs is encroachment on that which makes it special and valuable. The Surrey Hills are an AONB with good reason, they are a beautiful biodiverse area which must be protected from development that will add yet more environmental degradation and CO2 emissions to our already endangered ecosystems and atmosphere. Let’s be clear; ALL development will do this despite the rhetoric of ‘sustainable development’. The villages of Shalford and Chilworth should not be taken out of the Green Belt. They provide vital ecological and social services, as Green Belt land, dimensions which would be ruined by further development of any kind.

The Proposed local plan is unsound as it fails to recognise the constraints placed on ‘the objectively assessed needs for housing’ by the Green Belt. It is quite clear in the government guidance on the NPPF that objectively assessed needs are constrained by designations such as the Green Belt. As GEF point out:

“The Framework is clear that local planning authorities should, through their Local Plans, meet objectively assessed needs unless any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in the Framework taken as a whole, or specific policies in the Framework indicate development should be restricted. Such policies include those relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives, and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest; land designated as Green Belt ... ”

POLICY P2 – Green Belt - I OBJECT.

This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is a blatant lie. The policy wording is lukewarm in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is our provision to future generations. Once it’s gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away. Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. Building on green belt causes an irreversible loss of:

- Agricultural production
- Rural leisure and tourism amenities
- Water catchment & Flood control
- Biodiversity and wildlife.
• Natural heritage
• Room for public facilities such as parks
• Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere, Wisley Airfield)
• Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
• Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

Specifically insetting 15 villages in the green belt (P2, 4.3.13) and assigning them to development that is “no longer considered inappropriate” (4.5.50) is a significant and unsustainable action that will have dire consequences for the character, infrastructure and future of all of these areas. See objections below in regards to Sites A36-41 in particular as a prime example. Indeed in the plan’s ‘reasoned justification’ regarding green belt, specifically section 4.3.18 it oddly states:

"Whilst most forms of development are considered inappropriate in the Green Belt, national planning policy lists certain exceptions which are not inappropriate. These are set out in paragraphs 89 and 90 of the National Planning Policy Framework. The exceptions listed include development such as new buildings for agriculture and forestry, and the redevelopment of previously developed land where it would not have a greater impact on the openness of the Green Belt."

The plan specifically outlines that the most forms of development are considered inappropriate in greenbelt land - removing (or insetting as you call it) these villages does not alter the fact that it is contravening in every principle the guidance of the NPFF paragraphs 89 and 90 and limited in-filling of land is not reasonable to the tune of over 600 properties and a 35% increase in the size of the village of West Horsley - it is no way limited (green belt or inset).

This is in direct breach of conservative party manifesto commitments prior to the general and council elections of 2015 and contrary to previous responses to public consultations and specific government guidance on green belt provision.

Green Belt sites - I OBJECT

The identification and allocation of sites in this plan is with complete disregard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses. This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF.

The Green Belt:

The National policy is clear in that it attaches great importance to the nature of the Green Belt.

The Plan does not show evidence of exceptional circumstances to justify why the Green Belt land should be used for strategic development.

Brownfield land needs more consideration, surely the decline in the need for retail space means that houses could be built in the town centre instead of more retail units, student accommodation should be constructed on campus even if higher rise accommodation is used.

POLICY P2 – Green Belt

I object to this policy for the following reasons:

1. It does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local Planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone, it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer-influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development. Green Belt was last taken in the 2003 Plan and now it is again proposed to move the boundaries.

1. The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the Plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

1. Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

1. The Countryside Study was a simplistic exercise based on the erroneous principle that ranking Green Belt land would identify candidates for development. The Council has not carried out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently Planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

1. I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt (a term which neither the Plan nor the NPPF defines) and there is no need to inset them. I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling, and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of a further 11. In effect, each village will become a nucleus for further development. The NPPF’s other four tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development.

1. Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is misleading. Since the Second World War, Guildford has been expanding to the north east, starting with the Bushy Hill estate in the 1950’s, then Merrow Park and Weybrook Park were built on around 100 hectares of Green Belt land in the 1980’s, and now 89 hectares of land from the adjacent Gosden Hill Farm is also to be taken out of the Green Belt.
Belt. This will connect to the proposed Garlick’s Arch development (30 hectares), also in the Green Belt, via several slip roads and feeder roads alongside the six-lane A3 (a further 4.5 hectares). If allowed, these two proposals will more than double the area of Green Belt land hitherto removed to enlarge Guildford’s NE suburbs.

I object strongly that in all these cases the developments proposed in green belt will dwarf the nearby villages, totally changing the key attributes of the area.

Green belt was established to prevent urban sprawl with a clear policy that changes to the green belt should only be allowed in exceptional circumstances. It is well established that the wish to build houses is not accepted as an exceptional circumstance. The fact that such building is being proposed on several places in the Borough clearly demonstrates that this is being viewed as a normal practice rather than as an exceptional circumstance. Such wholesale annexation of green belt is clearly against the wishes of the majority of the local population, is counter to stated government policy and is counter to the NPPF, if not in itself actually unlawful.

I object that the Plan makes no attempt to show any exceptional circumstances to justify the removal of any sites from the Green Belt.

I object that the Plan is not sound. It appears to be based on a wholesale annexation of the green belt, a flawed if not illegal strategy, and is clearly not deliverable in the timescales of the plan when compared with the typical rate of development in the last 10-20 years.

I object that the revised Plan shows little or no evidence of the required “collective vision”. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land, this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and will bring increasing traffic congestion, pressure on other infrastructure, noise and pollution and a reduction in the quality of life of local residents.

There is a serious lack of detail on these critical matters which makes any collective vision impossible – for example, no plans for the A3 between the M25 and Guildford, a main artery which is already overloaded before any of the proposed thousands of additional houses are built. I object that the thousands of previous comments seem to have been largely ignored.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch which is a greenbelt site, it would seem pertinent and sensible to develop brownfield sites wherever possible. The Burnt Common industrial estate just south of the Shell garage is keen to develop its land further and to make the most of the already partially developed land. Just two weeks before the start of the consultation the plan had been to develop this area, to which I’m sure there would have been much less public objection.

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.
Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to the proposed boundary change to move the settlement boundary westwards from the houses on the west side of Kingston Avenue to the tree line running along the parish boundary on the west edge of of Kingston Meadows which would result in taking all of Kingston Meadows out of the green belt.

I have lived in my house since October 1979 and daily walked in the Meadows with my dogs. When GBC bought the Meadows, renaming them Kingston Meadows, we were assured by GBC that they would forever be used as recreation area for the residents of East Horsley. A large circle of Whitebeam trees was planted at the far (south) end of the Meadows and we were told the land there was to be used by locals to freely roam, picnic, exercise, walk children and dogs etc.

Subsequently the children's play areas, tennis courts, football pitch and so on were built, all plainly for use by villagers.

No sound reasons have been given for the proposed extension of the boundary, which seems to be aimed solely at increasing the land available within the settlements for future additional development. Moving the green belt boundary westwards does not constitute an 'exceptional circumstance' under the NPPF rules and as such I believe this to be an invalid proposal.

Therefore I OBJECT TO THIS PROPOSED BOUNDARY CHANGE.

Green Belt, Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because this small development is in an area of outstanding countryside next to the River Wey. To further develop here would take more land out of the Green Belt. Tannery lane is a narrow, winding lane causing restricted access for vehicles in both directions.

The original Plan proposed 485 houses and 2 traveller pitches. The new proposals have increased the number of houses to 500, despite concerns from local people. Send has now been allocated 2 traveller pitches and 8 show people plots - a total of 10. Gosden Hill and Wisley - developments of 1500 houses - have only been allocated 8 each.

Recently I heard Mrs May in Parliament reaffirming that the Government is protecting the Green Belt! These plans do not support this statement.

I am writing to register my objection to the removal of the greenbelt protection from Chilworth and Shalford and Peasmarsh.

This would allow the Guildford area to become a sprawling suburban development and would not be good for the rural environment.

This is some of the most scenic country and well farmed, productive and used land. Allowing building in this area would be an end to this.

I am writing in regards to the local plan in which Guildford Borough Council is proposing to remove Green Belt protection from a number of villages around the Guildford area, which includes the area where I live, Chilworth.

Not only would I say this is a betrayal of environmental protection that makes this area of the South East so special it is also nonsensical in terms of the infrastructure in this area.

Having the misfortune to have to travel from New Road in Chilworth to Guildford on a regular basis using the A248 and A281 I can tell you that this journey of roughly 3 miles can already take between 20 and 40 mins depending on which time of day you happen to undertake the journey. The thought of adding new housing around Chilworth, Shalford and other local villages will make this situation completely untenable. Add in destroying green belt land which we will never get back then I ask you to reconsider the local plan.

I appreciate the need for new housing and this isn't small minded 'nimby-ism' but there must be better areas with the necessary infrastructure in place (or green field sites where these can be added) than a huddle of already over populated villages with 1 road into Guildford.

The proposal to remove villages such as Chilworth, Peasmarsh etc from the greenbelt is unacceptable. These areas are areas of natural beauty and are what makes this area of the surrey Hills such an attractive area to live in, cycle in, kids to grow up etc. I strenuously object to Chilworth being removed and it should stay within the greenbelt and as an area of outstanding beauty.

There are no exceptional circumstances (as required by the National Planning Policy) for these villages and sites being removed.

 I object to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

This will cause more congestion to the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon, which have poor condition narrow roads and no footpaths, which are dangerous. More houses will increase this danger and unsustainable volumes of traffic

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the Green Belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. It is utterly unnecessary to remove it from the Green Belt, particularly given the clear election promises to protect it. I strongly object to the Guildford Proposed Submission Plan (June 2016) to build on Green Belt land.

Apart from the impact of so many houses on the local environment, the Green Belt is the lungs of the country, providing not only clean air but also open spaces in which people can improve/maintain a healthy lifestyle by getting out of door in an enjoyable and therapeutic environment.

I object to the removal of parts of Ripley, Send, Clandon from Green Belt, together with Garlick’s Arch, which would result in Urban Sprawl as well as denying people of the benefits of the Green Belt. A far as development of Wisley Airfield is concerned, the impact on traffic on an already crowded road system would be particularly dire. Generally the impact of 13,000 houses in this area would be huge and since households now generally have 2 cars, the impact on traffic and pollution would be detrimental to health.

The ruling party on GBC has acted dishonestly and dishonourably over the Green Belt. Having promoted its protection at every election for decades and made the same pledge last year, it now claims it has ‘listened’ to the people of Guildford, yet produces a plan barely different from the 2014 version but which includes widespread development - TWO-THIRDS of which is on Green Belt land. This is contrary to their own policies, those of central Government and those of the NPPF. The Council even has the gall to include in its Plan the sentence: ‘We will continue to protect the Green Belt’!

The new Plan also includes removing about 15 villages in the borough from the Green Belt and changing the Green Belt boundaries. There is no justification for this except to facilitate future development. Removing Green Belt status from villages will leave them vulnerable to excessive development and result in the merging of villages causing an ‘urban’ sprawl, exactly the outcome the Green Belt was designed to protect.

At the last General Election, the Tories’ manifesto promised to protect the Green Belt and to retain the rules governing it. These state that development can only be allowed on Green Belt land in exceptional circumstances and that housing need does not count as sufficient reason.

They also say that Green Belt boundaries cannot be changed or moved, again except in exceptional circumstances. GBC have not given a single reason why there are special circumstances for sacrificing so much Green Belt land. Why do they think that the rules do not apply to GBC, especially when only a few years ago they made a legal challenge to protect the borough’s Green Belt?

The Plan’s totally unacceptable assault on the Green Belt will, in effect, destroy the concept of protection throughout the borough and beyond. It must be resisted if we are to retain the sort of countryside that the British know and love - and want retained.

I object to an alteration in the Green Belt Boundary, such that several local villages currently inside the Green Belt will now fall outside, and will inevitably be developed into 'suburbia' in the years to come.

Maintaining the Green Belt in the UK is absolutely crucial; whilst I understand that the population is increasing, and therefore space needs to be found to build new houses, I absolutely disagree that this should be done by sacrificing Green Belt. Green land is so important for the health and wellbeing of the population; and vital habitat for flora and fauna. Once land has been taken out of the Green Belt, it is inevitable that it will become fully occupied by buildings in years to come - this is something we can never take back. We moved to Horsley because we wanted our children to be able to enjoy the space and countryside; we have many friends who, for work reasons, need to live in more urban areas. But they still make the effort to travel out to the Green Belt during weekends and holidays, as they also value this space for their families. This area of green belt also attracts visitors and tourists from around the UK and abroad - it would totally lose this appeal if it were to be gradually urbanised. I strongly feel that reducing the size of the Green Belt is an extremely short-sighted and ill thought out solution to the housing problem, and should be avoided.

The whole point of “Green Belt” is to provide a buffer from the continual pressure of urbanisation. We must protect these areas for the future, they were created for a reason and that principle is need now more than ever.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object to any erosion of the Green Belt. It was put in place to prevent developments merging together and causing loss of identity of villages and settlements. These proposed developments will cause Burpham, Clandon, Send, Ripley, Wisley and Ockham to be merged into one massive housing estate with thousands of extra people and their vehicles clogging our roads, overwhelming our health services, schools and local amenities.

I object to any "in-setting" (i.e. removal) of any villages from the protection of the Green Belt.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. - Section 4 - POLICY P2 – GREEN BELT (Objection)
  - Objection in whole to the insetting of Effingham, Ripley, Horsleys.
    - A legally binding Act of Parliament created the green belt as a permanent feature. We strongly question the legality of such a move.
    - The draft plan itself restates green belt aims such as keeping the land “permanently open”. We are aghast as to how Guildford Borough Council determined that these small villages, surrounded in and out by greenery and open land, do not fit, or warrant, this description and protection. Have the assessors actually visited the locations, or simply decided the outer edges of urban Guildford are ripe to be sacrificed to developers, being relatively far away from the council hub itself? Today, Effingham is a small village of only c1000 homes in green belt.
    - The plan confirms national policy in that, “Exceptional circumstances are required to amend green belt boundaries” in 4.3.16 yet the plan does not prove exceptional circumstances exist. It has been debated and confirmed in the UK parliament in recent years that housing need alone does not represent exceptional circumstances.
    - This proposal to inset in 4.3.13 must be reversed. It is clearly driven by unsubstantiated and unrestricted housing targets and has not taken into account infrastructure limitations and flooding concerns. Effingham in particular has severe infrastructure limitations, frequent flooding and does not even have a doctor’s surgery. Insetting the village will leave it prey to speculative, inappropriate development and encroachment at odds with the NPPF and the local community’s desires (localism) and capability to manage such over-development. The nature of the village provides few options for improvements via widening or new roads, it is irresponsible to propose to inset it.

I Object to the Proposal to Inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt

There is no benefit to the community from changing from the present status of the business park which has evolved over many years.

By changing the status it would be a toehold for possible future development plans and clearly this is the only reason the Council is including it in the plan.

The problems with traffic movement n Tannery Lane and the A247 junction have already been highlighted in the objections over the Clockbarn Nursery above, also apply to this site.

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, in addition to Wisley Airfield (site A35) and Garlicks Arch (site A43)

There are no exceptional circumstances (as required by the National Planning Policy) for these villages and sites being removed.
Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

Please record these objections individually against the relevant sections of the plan and ensure that they are submitted to the Planning Inspectorate.

Green Belt

This issue causes the most anger.

I object to the statement in the Draft Local Plan under GreenBelt Policy P2 (4.3.13) which claims that West Horsley and a further list of 13 villages are “now inset from the Green Belt”.

This statement is untrue as GBC is proposing to “inset” these village. No decision has been made by an Inspector, therefore the villages remain, as instructed, under the NPPF regulations, in the Green Belt!

The Conservative Party manifesto 2017 states “It means maintaining the existing strong protection on designated land, like the Green Belt…”

Government statements in the Housing White Paper 7 Feb 2017, claim that existing protection for the Green Belt would remain unchanged and emphasised that authorities should amend Green Belt boundaries only when they had examined fully all other reasonable options for meeting their identified development requirements.

GBC has failed to propose sufficient brownfield sites and has gone ahead with Green Belt development proposals against all reason and opposition. GBC has allowed a “Pop-up village” of ugly portacabin retail shops, which was a total failure at Christmas, to be re-instated on a site, eminently suitable for development close to the town centre. They also allowed Waitrose to waste another town centre site to use as a car-park, rather than building one below ground with flats above. Their intention, as suggested in every version of the draft Local Plan, is to over-develop small villages, place large developments on sensitive sites and ignore the brownfield opportunities.

I object to ANY villages being “inset” from the Green Belt.

I object to any major development being encouraged on farmland, open spaces or obtrusive sites.

Blackwell Farm should not be developed at all. There are many reasons for this including archaeology and wild-life, but I mainly object because houses on the slopes of the Hogs Back would be a blot on the landscape. A roundabout on the A31, leading to the site, with its associated street lighting would be visible and intrusive for at least 20 miles to the North and South.

I object to the proposals for over 2000 houses at Wisley. Several applications for this development have been turned down but the GBC Executive refuses to listen to any objection and seems determined to go ahead with this development, even after all the Councillors rejected the last application. The site was returned to the Draft Local Plan within days of this decision. Five storey flats would be an eyesore from all points of the Downs. The site is very visible as it is on a dome of land. At present, the airstrip, which should have been removed after its war-time requisitioning, is not visible among the green fields.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

POLICY P2
I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

- I object to any ‘in-setting’ that removes villages from the Green Belt

As a resident of 40+ years, growing up in Wisley and now raising my family in Burnt Common, I have greatly appreciated the beauty and quality of life being in the Green Belt affords. It is deeply disappointing that those that should be seeking to protect village life and respecting the Green Belt believe that adding huge numbers of houses and traffic will help. I therefore object wholeheartedly to this local plan.

1. POLICY P2

I object to this Policy on the grounds that this is not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2). This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt. In addition other changes within the plan, such as the change to the village settlement area within West Clandon and other villages will result in other pieces of Green Belt land (such as land at Barn End, The Street, West Clandon) being developed for housing in addition to the sites allocated within the proposed plan.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.
The Countryside Study commissioned by Guildford Borough Council was a simplistic tick box exercise. It failed to carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt sites proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether they should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an ‘exceptional circumstance’ nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “… the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I believe that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object extremely strongly to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. These villages contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them. To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and village settlement boundary extensions go ahead.

I object extremely strongly to the wholesale extension to the settlement boundaries in many villages which is a change made since the 2014 version of the Plan and in relation to which there has been no consultation. This change will allow infilling in the Green Belt. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development. For example, Guildford Borough Planning Department are already well aware of multiple previous applications for planning permission for a large number of houses made by Philip Christian of Stonehaven homes on a 5 acre strip of Green Belt at Barn End, The Street, West Clandon. Careful examination of the village settlement area of West Clandon shows that the existing West Clandon village settlement area had been very carefully drawn around the boundaries of this piece of Green Belt so as to protect this from development. The land is of environmental significance as this provides a green wildlife corridor adjacent to protected woodland. In the past every application has been refused locally and the decisions have been upheld on Appeal but that position will be impossible to sustain if this land is included in the proposed new settlement boundary for West Clandon I live next to this piece of land and have seen Surveyors working on the site in the last week presumably preparing an application for planning permission to develop the site wholesale if the draft Local Plan comes into force.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as it is factually incorrect.

In addition I object to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. Once taken from the Green Belt they will be lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another.

<td>The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites</td>

than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages.

In particular I OBJECT to the settlement boundary put round East Clandon with no reference to the residents or the Parish Council.

Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

This will cause more congestion to the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon, which have poor condition narrow roads and no footpaths, which are dangerous. More houses will increase this danger and unsustainable volumes of traffic

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

POLICY P2 GREEN BELT

I object to Policy P2 green belt

This policy states, ‘the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.’ This is a misleading statement.

The policy wording is weak in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away.

Policy P2 completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it has been around for a long time and it needs to be permanently protected. It was actually established in a local act of parliament in Guildford under the London Home Counties (Green Belt) Act 1938 and subsequently in the 1944 Greater London Plan to contain the outward sprawl of London. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were later defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). The Metropolitan Green Belt is an exemplar of good planning and the envy of planners throughout the world.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

1. Agricultural production
2. Rural leisure and tourism amenities
3. Water catchment
4. Flood control
5. Biodiversity
6. Natural heritage
7. A carbon sink for air pollution
8. Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
9. Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
10. Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
11. Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
12. Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations.

It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of ‘only’ 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no ‘acceptable’ percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold.

I object to the ‘insetting’ of 14 villages from the Green Belt. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell bent on self-defeat.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors.

To ‘inset’ two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed ‘insetting’ and boundary extensions go ahead.

I object to the removal of over 400 hectares of Green Belt land in and around Blackwell Farm to facilitate further development of Surrey Research Park and for 1800 homes. Over 60 hectares were removed from Green Belt 12 years ago for the same developer (Surrey University) who has yet to fulfill their planning obligations. This valuable land has been squandered with over 17 acres of surface car parking and as one of the key features of Green belt is its ‘permanence’ this second request for yet more Green Belt land to be released in such a short space of time, with all the outstanding issues that remain makes this all the more objectionable.

Furthermore I object on grounds of the impact this development will have in terms of congestion on our highways, these issues have been highlighted under ‘infrastructure.

In summary it appears to me that the proposals for new homes in the Horsleys and at Wisley Airfield have been poorly thought out with little regard for the Metropolitan Green Belt rules. There has been a complete failure to consider the impact on the infrastructure and environment across a wide spread area, the strain on local facilities and the fact that the proposed developments are totally out of character for the rural area of this part of Surrey. I would therefore urge Guildford Borough Council not to countenance any development at the Wisley Airfield site and to considerably reduce the planned housing increase in the Horsleys.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
“The main aim of Green Belt is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open”. This policy need go no further. However, the proposals in the Plan make significant inroads into the Green Belt in direct contravention of the NPPF. The NPPF states that planning permission should only be granted in very special circumstances.

Cumulatively, the housing need is becoming critical. But it is not very special. These circumstances have crept up upon us over a period of decades and it is only the magnitude of the problem which is causing the current anxiety. However, this anxiety can be reduced significantly by a realistic calculation of the ONA, a better assessment of need and land availability and a stringent application of the affordable housing principle which does not allow developers to change their ‘offer’ half way through.

Comments/Objections on Draft Local Plan

(Ripley, Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common)

I wish to register my comments and objections on the above proposals as follows:

Green Belt Issues

I object to local villages within the above area being removed from the Green Belt. Send has grown over the years and I feel is at its capacity now. It is also a popular through route for traffic which frequently comes to a standstill at peak times for people making necessary journeys to work and schools. Some of the roads in the village are too narrow for current traffic flow and will therefore be unable to carry the inevitable additional vehicles.

I object to your Local Plan because of the way it totally ignores Green Belt constraints.

Brownfield land should be used for building before any green fields. Housing numbers must reflect real local need not developers’ wishes and your proposed housing numbers are considered far too high by everyone who has looked at them closely, except GL Hearn’s sub-contractors who are keeping their working methods a secret. It would seem that not even you know how they were arrived at. The Metropolitan Green Belt was conceived for the benefit of all and must not be ignored or considered an easy target for building land.

You campaigned to protect the Green Belt prior to your election to the council and you should now be ashamed of yourselves for backing this iniquitous Local Plan. There are so many procedural and planning errors by GBC and its consultants that this plan must be rethought. All protected sites and nature reserves must be conserved, the Green Belt must be maintained and the wishes of your electorate must be listened to. Remember you are public servants there to serve your constituents and not to bully us into accepting this appalling Plan.

POLICY P2: Green Belt

This policy states that GBC “will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt”.

Authorities are permitted to make allowance for factors which may constrain the delivery of new housing under NPPF rules, including protecting the Metropolitan Green Belt and the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (‘AONB’). However I cannot find anywhere any reduction in GBC’s housing target to take account of such constraints.

GBC seems therefore to ignore its own Policy P2 through the housing policies that it has set out in the Local Plan. I understand that the analysis included in the Appendix of the draft local plan shows that around 65% of the developments proposed are to be built on land currently within the Metropolitan Green Belt. This is contrary to the GBC Policy P2 statement to protect the Green Belt.

I believe that GBC has incorrectly interpreted para 83 to 87 of NPPF. There are a number of references I have found which comment on the fact that green belt boundaries should be altered only “in exceptional circumstances”

- Para 83 clearly states green belt boundaries should be altered only “in exceptional circumstances”.
- Ministerial Guidance on the Green Belt (reference Brandon Lewis MP and Nick Bowls MP 17/1/14 and 18/6/14 respectively) shows unmet housing need alone is not likely to qualify as exceptional circumstances.
- Sir Eric Pickles when Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government drew attention to the NPPF which states that the Green Belt may be altered ‘…only in exceptional circumstances…’.
- Sir Paul Beresford, MP for Mole Valley constituency, commented that “we see in the NPPF that Green Belt protection is specifically cited as a consideration which would override the need to meet housing targets. This is a clear statement of government policy.”

There is a tremendous strength of feeling by local people against the way in which GBC is proposing to implement its Green Belt policy. Local social media is awash with complaints about it. Anyone driving along the local lanes will see a large number of notice boards along the roadsides protesting about it. It can also be gauged from the thousands of letters sent protesting about the previous draft plan and the various past and ongoing campaigns being waged by locals against GBC’s initiatives. This policy is hardly “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” as set out in NFPP para 17.

Thus I OBJECT to this policy as set out in the draft local plan for the following reasons:

- The policy is inconsistent with itself
- It runs counter to the NPPF guidelines.
- It runs counter to Ministerial and Governmental guidance.
- It is against the wishes of the local people and thus runs contrary to NPPF para 17.

In addition I OBJECT to the following paragraphs within this policy.

1. a) Paragraph 4.3.13: Proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt

East Horsley is a rural village. Its Green Belt status has been a key factor in preserving its character. Policy P2 proposes that East Horsley should be inset from the Green Belt, instead of being ‘washed over’ as it is today.

GBC seems to be saying in paragraph 4.3.12 that East Horsley is not an open village and therefore be inset. I would contest this.

East Horsley Parish Council says; “No less than 36% of East Horsley is composed of woodlands, whilst inside the settlement area there is an average housing density of just 8.1 dwellings per hectare (‘dph’). Woodlands and large residential gardens make a vital contribution towards biodiversity, provide wildlife corridors, and furnish those open spaces which are vital to the character of the greenbelt. It is one thing for a planner to study a map and see a settlement area filled with housing, but it is quite another actually to come to a rural village like East Horsley and see how the Green Belt has preserved the rural character and openness of this village.”

Anyone who has come to East Horsley would recognise that this gives the village an open character which contributes to the open nature of the Green Belt.
In addition NPPF paragraph 17 specifically states that planning should be about “empowering local people to shape their surroundings”. Notice boards by the side of our local roads and comments on local social media sites plus the views of village inhabitants lead me to conclude that the proposed policy does not shape the surroundings in the way local people would wish. This is re-enforced by the number of responses received by GBC regarding the former iteration of the draft local plan. I believe this was around 20,000 most of which were opposed to it.

I can see no facts or arguments within P2 to support GBC’s argument to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt. Nor do I believe it meets NPPF para 17.

I OBJECT therefore to this policy.

1. b) Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley

GBC proposes a number of changes to the settlement boundaries of East Horsley which expand its settlement area.

The NPPF is clear that any change to settlement boundaries must be justified by ‘exceptional circumstances’.

GBC states in this paragraph that such “exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development”. GBC justifies these changes in the settlement boundaries in order to meet unfulfilled housing need in the borough in the Green Belt & Countryside Study and its accompanying Topic Paper.

However, NPPF Para 83 makes it clear that such an “unfulfilled housing need” alone is not likely to qualify as exceptional circumstances.

Therefore I OBJECT therefore to this policy.

1. c) Paragraph 4.3.17: Proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt

The only justification for this proposal, and its related planned development of over 2000 dwelling thereon, appears to be to meet an unfulfilled housing need.

The NPPF does not considered unmet housing need to be an exceptional circumstance.

This proposal also runs counter to the Council’s own planning officers’ recommendation. Indeed GBC’s Planning Officer, in assessing a previous planning application from the developer of this site, rejected their application, arguing that:

It has not been demonstrated that the benefits of the proposal amount to very special circumstances such as to clearly outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and the other harm identified.

This proposal would open the door to the development stated in Policy Site A35 of the draft plan. It would be little short of catastrophic for the local villages, including East and West Horsley, Ripley and Ockham. I have commented further on this matter under Site A35 below.

NPPF paragraph 17 specifically states that planning should be about “empowering local people to shape their surroundings”. The wishes of local people are very much against this proposal as can be deduced from the very many letters GBC received in protest to it in 2015. I am sure they can provide you with the number.

I OBJECT to the proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt as it runs contrary to the NPPF and specifically paragraphs 17 and 83.

I strongly object to the plan proposing to remove Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the resulting urban sprawl that will result. As far as I am aware, there are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed from the Green Belt, as is required by the National Planning Policy.

POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.
I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages.

In particular I OBJECT to the settlement boundary put round East Clandon with no reference to the residents or the Parish Council.

Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Policy P2 – Green Belt: I object to this significant erosion of the Green Belt with the proposals for large towns to be developed on Green Belt land thereby removing the openness of the Green Belt. I note in particular the huge developments proposed for the North East quadrant of the borough, which unfairly target our tranquil rural villages on the basis they can provide ‘dormitory’ facilities for commuters to London. The developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracts in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send. I object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that Green Belt should be protected. I object to the disproportionate use of Green Belt land for housing. Some 65% of the housing proposed is on Green Belt, with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brownfield sites for housing.

I object to GBC’s contravention of the NPPF framework stipulation in paragraph 87 with the proposed developments at Gosden Hill Farm, Ripley, East and West Horsley and Garlicks Arch, Send. Paragraph 87 states “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.” GBC has not proven any special circumstance for development on these Green Belt areas.

Guildford’s local plan totally disregards the importance of green belt, protection of the environment and Surrey village life. Whilst we cannot stay stagnant and need development this needs to be measured, protect the environment and allow our village life to be maintained and to grow sensibly. Guildford shows it has considered none of these important issues in its local plan which has been poorly drawn up in the extreme.

I strongly object to the villages of Send and Ripley being removed from the green belt and in fact any villages in Surrey. Green belt was designed to prevent urban sprawl and Guildford seems intent to destroy this in our lifetime. It is arrogant of the Council in the extreme to present us with such a plan when they should be upholding the need to ensure our green belt remains permanent and intact for future generations, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework. Indeed local Councillors and Central Government were clear in their election promise to safe guard our green belt and you appear to be reneging on this promise for no special reasons. Where is your backbone Guildford you should be defending us not offering us up for sacrifice. Greedy developers will be quick to take advantage and we will be powerless to stop them.

GREEN BELT - Top priority should be given to saving the Green Belt. The "EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES" under which Green Belt can be developed have NOT been evidenced by GBC, using the flawed data they have come up with in the Draft 2016 Local Plan.

The destruction of rural land is unnecessary and National Policy attaches greater importance on conserving this precious natural resource for wildlife, free from development and pollution that the plan would bring.

13. I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15). Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Breach of Metropolitan Green Belt rules

I understand that development on Green Belt land is only permitted under “very special circumstances”. Also, I understand that unfulfilled housing does not constitute very special circumstances.

Furthermore, the reason that land is designated as Green Belt land is for the benefit of the health and well-being of all communities in the area. This includes communities in larger metropolitan areas, such as Guildford. I have seen nothing in the plans to say that the Green Belt no longer provides these benefits to local communities.

I therefore object to the removal of land from the Green Belt on the grounds that:

1. a) it is a breach of Metropolitan Green Belt rules, and
   b) it will have a detrimental impact on the health and well-being of all communities in the area.

I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established as a permanent feature required by the National Planning Policy Framework and not something that can be taken away under pressure from property developers, unjustified government targets or a Borough Council who prefers to develop in the areas that they believe will give them the least resistance.

There are no special circumstances to justify Send losing its Green Belt status and as a buffer to separate Guildford from Woking it is essential that its Green Belt status be retained.

Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt. The current proposals renge on those promises.

We object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

1. I object to the proposed removal of the Horsleys, Send and Ripley from the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances clearly do not exist to justify amendments to Green Belt boundaries as part of the Local Plan process. The villages of East and West Horsley, Send and Ripley and sites at the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farm Meadows) A35, Garlick's Arch A43 and Clockbarn Nurseries A42 should not be removed from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Green Belt provides a buffer from urban sprawl and must not be permanently eroded.

The National Planning Policy Framework, para 87 states that 'As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances'

The proposal that 8,202 (64.6%) of all proposed new homes are to be built in the Green Belt is totally unacceptable. The areas around the villages of the Horsleys, Clandon, Send and Ripley would account for 50% of the new homes.

West Horsley is proposed to have 35% of its existing number of homes - the largest of any of the proposed developments and this is unsustainable.

The character of the villages would be lost forever and the countryside removed for future generations

The site at Garlick's Arch was added very late to the Plan without prior consultation and with no infrastructure planning. The road network, medical facilities, schools provision and basic utilities would be unable to cope. The proposed 400 houses are not needed in the village or borough and the local area could not support a development of this site. It is totally inappropriate.

GBC's Green Belt and Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch so there is NO evidence base to support including this site.

The proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m is not required as stated by the ELNA report showing an 80% reduction in employment floor space required since the previous plan. There is a brownfield site available at Burnt...
Common which has been taken out of the plan and also the industrial site at Slyfield where further development could take place on the 40 ha available site. This site has been included as a payback for the land for the proposed A3 interchange.

There is no sustainable transport from this site and it has been identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment agency, which is higher than GBC’s assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

The site is bordered by Ancient Woodland which must not be removed and is home to a huge amount of wildlife, including protected species. There has been no wildlife report conducted on the site (Policy 14)

Responding to your letter of 2 June 2016 on the Guildford Prosed Local Plan 1. I object to the removal of Send and other villages from the Green Belt and to any of the developments which reduce the current Green Belt boundaries. I object to the removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, along with the sites of Garlick's Arch (A43) and Wisley Airfield (A35) and the subsequent urban sprawl that threatens them. There are no exceptional circumstances that warrant the removal of these villages and sites - as required by the National Planning Policy.

It is therefore logical for the Plan to develop the existing brownfield site at Burnt Common rather than Garlick's Arch (A43).

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “… the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I am writing to object most strongly to the proposed local plan. I currently live with my family in Send Marsh and commute to Westcott for work every day.

The proposed construction of hundreds of houses in and around Send Ripley Merrow and the Clandons, will create a density of housing and therefore increased traffic and unsustainable pressure on local services that would be unsafe and downright irresponsible.

My main concerns:

* I object to the erosion of the Green belt. The villages of Ripley, Wisley Clandons and Send, are apparently earmarked to lose their Green Belt status. This is outrageous. Property in this area commands high prices, this is because of the location. Residents accepted the inflated price in return for being able to live in a pleasant semi-rural location, with the knowledge that as there was green belt land in the area it would not change too drastically or become over developed!

If our Green Belt status is removed, thereby allowing unlimited developments, we will no longer be a village, well be one sprawling town with no personality or green spaces. Having lived in istanbul I've seen what happens when people build with no regard to green spaces or future happiness. Don't let it happen here.

In addition the sites of Wisley Airfield and Garlicks Arch must not be removed as their development as it would ruin the local area’s environment visually and environmentally. It would become more urban rather than a green environment, which Ripley is so admired for. As required by the National Planning Policy there are no exceptional circumstances for the above sites being removed from the Green Belt.

The new boundaries proposed for insetting the villages of Send and Send Marsh/Burnt Common from the Green Belt (policy P2).
The boundaries drawn enclose huge areas of open spaces that should be retained as Green Belt land and not developed at any time in the future. The village boundaries should be much more closely circumscribed to prevent urban sprawl and retain their village identity. With a presumption for development within these ‘inset’ areas, the proposed enclosures would encourage over-development and expansion of the villages in the future and completely ruin their essentially rural nature.

- Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
• Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
• Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
• Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
• “Insenting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.

I object to Policy P2 green belt This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is a misleading statement. The policy wording is weak in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away. Policy P2 completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it has been around for a long time and it needs to be permanently protected. It was actually established in a local act of parliament in Guildford under the London Home Counties (Green Belt) Act 1938 and subsequently in the 1944 Greater London Plan to contain the outward sprawl of London. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were later defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). The Metropolitan Green Belt is an exemplar of good planning and the envy of planners throughout the world. Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

1. Agricultural production
2. Rural leisure and tourism amenities
3. Water catchment
4. Flood control
5. Biodiversity
6. Natural heritage
7. A carbon sink for air pollution
8. Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
9. Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
10. Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
11. Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
12. Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations. It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell bent on self-defeat. I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors. To “inset” two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

I object to the removal of over 400 hectares of Green Belt land in and around Blackwell Farm to facilitate further development of Surrey Research Park and for 1800 homes. Over 60 hectares were removed from Green Belt 12 years ago for the same developer (Surrey University) who has yet to fulfill their planning obligations. This valuable land has been squandered with over 17 acres of surface car parking and as one of the key features of Green belt is its ‘permanence’ this second request for yet more Green Belt land to be released in such a short space of time, with all the outstanding issues that remain makes this all the more objectionable.

Furthermore I object on grounds of the impact this development will have in terms of congestion on our highways, these issues have been highlighted under ‘infrastructure’.

Thirdly, I object to the erosion of the Greenbelt - these proposals do not meet the “exceptional circumstances” requirements. It is the role of this generation of leaders to protect the green belt for the next generation, not destroy it.

I note with interest that the Conservative Party manifesto at the 2015 General Election committed a Conservative Government to “prioritise brownfield development”.

It said: “We will ensure that local people have more control over planning and protect the Green Belt.

They said they will encourage more neighbourhood planning and protect the Green Belt. “Neighbourhood planning gives more power to local people, allowing them to play a much stronger role in shaping their areas.”

I assume that, having been voted in on this basis, that pledge will be honoured.

The scale and location of the proposed developments in the Horsley’s are not on and I object to them.

Greenbelt Protection; I note that approximately 65% of the proposed developments will involve breaching current Green belt boundaries, and this appears to conflict with the Council's own policies. The compromise of Greenbelt boundaries is also a matter worthy of National concern, and at least worthy of a collective and integrated consideration by London and South East Boroughs. Any proposals that potentially impact upon the existing Metropolitan Greenbelt should be subject to much more detailed environmental and socio-economic impact assessment, and Stakeholder consultation, than is contained within the current Local Plan proposals

I object to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

It has been brought to my intention that a number of new housing developments are planned and it is the intention that many local villages are to be "inset" or removed from the Green Belt, this must not happen, the local villages are part of our National Heritage and once they are gone they can never be brought back, the Green Belt was a defining moment in planning and should be preserved at all costs.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

The Plan should develop the existing brownfield site at Burnt Common rather than developing Garlick’s Arch (A43).

- I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2). I object and find it completely unacceptable to remove Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, in addition to Wisley Airfield (site A35) and Garlicks Arch (site A43). These are all critical for the local communities and the beauty of the area. It is also my understanding that there are no exceptional circumstances (as required by the National Planning Policy) for these villages and sites being removed. This cannot be granted without the consent of the local community.

I OBJECT TO ALL POLICIES INVOLVING BUILDING IN THE GREEN BELT:
• No “exceptional circumstances” shown, numbers excessive and the clearly expressed views of residents in previous consultations ignored.

I OBJECT to A43 Garlick’s Arch – the site floods and is covered in ancient woodland. The industrial space is not needed and if necessary could be accommodated at Slyfield. With proper use of brownfield sites this Green Belt site is not needed.

I OBJECT to A43a - the on and off ramp at Clandon – this will increase traffic problems in the villages, not help them, and increase the speed and density of the traffic through our villages and past local schools, as well as increase noise and pollution levels which are already at excessive levels.

I OBJECT to A45 the Talbot – this is overdevelopment in a conservation area.

I OBJECT TO ALL POLICIES INVOLVING BUILDING IN THE GREEN BELT:
• No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements. • No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions. • Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored. • Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored. • Impact on flood control ignored. • Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored. • Impact on biodiversity ignored. • Impact on natural heritage ignored. • Impact on water catchment ignored. • Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored. • Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored. • Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored. • Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored. • Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections. • Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF. • Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size. • Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration. • “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective. • Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields. • Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit. • Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored.
Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield
(A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires
there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt.
There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as III as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

In reference to: Policy P2 - Green Belt and the Countryside, and Policy P1 - Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB)

- The proposed plan is not in-line with continuing to “protect the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development”
- I am opposed to West Horsley village being removed from the Green Belt by insetting and expanding the 2003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries. No justification is given, exceptional circumstance or otherwise, for the New Green Belt boundaries that will result from the proposed insetting of the two parts of the village from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- The Green Belt and Countryside Study is flawed
- West Horsley’s current Settlement Area boundaries (ref 2003 Local Plan) do not need extending
- West Horsley receives a significant number of recreational visitors (including cyclists, and walkers) throughout the year. This is due to the current housing density settlements, variety of historic buildings and position on the north side of the North Downs, partly in the Surrey Hills AONB. The proposed plan would negatively affect the enjoyment gained by these visitors.
- The Key Evidence document ‘Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013-2031 does not make any case for locating large numbers of homes in West and East Horsley or neighbouring villages. In fact, the proposed new economic development site proposals are on the opposite side of the Borough to West Horsley!

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
As a resident within the Ripley Greenbelt I strongly object to the local plans for removal of the green belt for development. As an ecologist, I object to this based on the effect it will have on local wildlife populations and habitats, with regards to hedgehogs, badgers and rare bat species in the area. Along with the aforementioned points I object for the following reasons:

1- the loss of any Greenbelt area is a sad thing
2- any in-setting of any village from the green belt is unthinkable to those that live here and adore the tranquility of the countryside
3- it creates disproportionate amounts of development across the borough and puts pressure on sounding roads and amenities
4- there was a very limited consultation period for the plan
5- the inclusion of new sites was given with less than two weeks notice
6- where are the numbers that state we need this vast amount of housing in the area
7- where is the evidence for the increased capacity towards schools, hospitals and other local services
8- where are the ecological reports stating that the site is clear for development
9- you want to destroy one of the last untouched spacious areas in Surrey that make it desirable- people won't be here if you build over what attracts them

The whole plan is a travesty and has caused discord across the borough. These villages have stood in scenic land and protect space from the London sprawl for 100's of years, what gives you the right to sign away the land for profit?

Please, read and listen to those of us that will be affected by this. Hasn't this country suffered enough loss already this year. Make the right choice.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

· It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation

· There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions

· Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate.

I feel we are fighting against a route that you are taking that appears entirely fait accompli. Why this is the case is hard to fathom. Once you lose the Greenbelt and impose what it is you are proposing in the countryside you lose forever what makes this area special. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.
This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object to the removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, along with the sites of Garlick's Arch (A43) and Wisley Airfield (A35) and the subsequent urban sprawl that threatens them. There are no exceptional circumstances that warrant the removal of these villages and sites - as required by the National Planning Policy.

It is therefore logical for the Plan to develop the existing brownfield site at Burnt Common rather than Garlick's Arch (A43).

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy P2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I object to Policy P2 - Send should not be removed from the Green Belt. Send provides a buffer between Woking and Guildford. The particularly vulnerable areas of land being taken out of the Green Belt include (i) the land behind the school, including playing fields and woodland; (ii) the land to the right of Cartbridge by the Wey Navigation up to the new boundary fence with Vision Engineering; (iii) land to the left of Cartbridge going up to the old depot on the Wey navigation.

I am objecting most forcefully to destroying the Green Belt as outlined in the Guildford Local Plan (June 2016). This contravenes the whole purpose of it and makes no sense at all.

The removal from the Green Belt of parts of Ripley, Send, Clandon and Garlic Arch would be detrimental to the health and welfare of the residents.

With the development of Wisley Airfield the impact on the local road system would overload the capacity and cause gridlock.

Has the impact of these developments considered the need of schools, hospitals and other amenities.

Once the Green Belt has been concreted over it will never be replaced.

I can not agree with any of the proposed developments

In the plan 65% of the new houses proposed are to be built on Green Belt in some locations, the proportion is much higher. This cannot be allowed to happen. The purpose of the Green Belt is to confine development to designated areas and to specifically protect other areas. Government policy is to preserve and protect the Green Belt and the London Mayor very recently reinforced that planning policy must respect the Green Belt which has five purposes:

- to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
- to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
- to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment;
- to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and
- to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

Government has stated that the construction of new buildings should be regarded as inappropriate for the green belt because one of the characteristics of the green belt is its permanence. The effect of building on this land, especially at a high density, cannot be reversed - trees, plants and animal habitats are lost and the character of the locality is irreversibly damaged.

I would like to object very strongly to the latest draft of the GBC local plan.

This still proposes to inset East Horsley from the Greenbelt. The development of 100 homes is proposed near Horsley station and over 2000 on the Wisley Airfield. The village of East Horsley (and surrounding villages such as West Horsley, Effingham and Ripley) do not have the infrastructure in terms of transport (roads, parking or rail), schools or medical facilities to adequately meet this increased demand.

57% of new housing proposed is on land that is currently categorised as Greenbelt and this is, quite frankly, shameful as this land is land that was supposed to be protected for future generations.

Since Brexit, forecasts of increasing population numbers have been significantly reduced. The ONS forecast is now only forecasting 10.4% for Guildford, which still intends to increase its housing stock by 22%. This doesn't seem to make sense?

I object to the removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the result will be an urban sprawl. Like many other residents I chose to move to Ripley because it was in the Green Belt.

Protection of the Greenbelt

This proposal is a massive encroachment of the Metropolitan Green belt and the size of the development is totally inappropriate. The development will fundamentally change the character of the surrounding villages and will result in over development of an area which can be classified as an area of natural beauty.

The villages are set in a parish of well established, well spaced out, low rise housing with a considerable number of historic buildings. The developments as proposed would destroy the character and charm of the area that the residents of Horsley and surrounding areas have respected, protected and loved for decades.

I have previously commented and objected to recent planning proposals of this scale. The creation of a ‘town’ on the Wisley airfield will destroy a site of Nature conservation importance, create additional pollution and adversely impact the tranquillity and character of the local area.

The new proposal of houses in Horsley and the surrounding villages further creates a detrimental environment from a social and environmental perspective

I grew up in East Horsley and after careful saving, was fortunate to return to live in the village to where I consider home, offering the peaceful lifestyle I require and raise my own family. Any developments in the area will considerably change this profile and potentially threaten my lifestyle choice.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “… the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Despite the volume of comments received, I object to the fact that no change has been made to the proposal that the Horsleys should be both removed from the green belt and that the settlement boundaries be extended at the same time. I welcome the reduction by 90 in the number of new homes projected for west Horsley but the draft plan still proposes far too many new homes on green belt land and, additionally, the east side of the borough is now to take an even greater proportion of these. Should not Guildford follow the choice of many reduced objectively assessed housing target will mean that Guildford will have grown by nearly 25%, nearly double the prediction for the growth of Guildford made by the office for national statistics, by 2034 (the end of the Plan Period).

archaeological merit. I demand that this proposal be removed as it will endanger the openness of the Green Belt, the views in and out of the AONB (protection of the AONB Policy P1) and the character of our village.

Policy P2 – Green Belt: I object to this significant erosion of the Green Belt with the proposals for large towns being developed on Green Belt land thereby removing the openness of the Green Belt. I note in particular the huge developments proposed for the North East quadrant of the borough which will adversely affect our amenity, but also unfairly targets our tranquil rural villages because we can provide ‘dormitory’ facilities for commuters to London. The developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracts in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send.

Further, on the erosion of Green Belt and I object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that Green Belt should be protected. I object to the disproportionate use of Green Belt land for housing – some 65% of the housing proposed is on Green Belt and with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brown field sites.

I object that GBC are contravening the NPPF framework stipulation in paragraph 87 with the proposed developments at Gosden Hill Farm, Ripley, East and West Horsley and Garlicks Arch, Send. Paragraph 87 states “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.” and GBC have not proven any special circumstance for developing on these Green Belt areas.

I object to building on the Green Belt because the essential characteristic of Green Belt is its openness and permanence (National Planning Policy Framework paragraph 79).

I object that housing being proposed on the Green Belt will increase traffic bringing increased danger and pollution and slower journey times on our already overcrowded village roads.

• Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burdensharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
• Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
• “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
• Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
• Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need postBrexit.
• Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untruth and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

The plans encroach into the Green Belt to an unacceptable degree whereby the beautiful environment of Surrey will be devalued immeasurably: towns get bigger, villages appear to merge and we end with endless conurbations which lose the vital “breathing space”.

1. Some existing villages, e.g. Ripley, will be affected will be irreversibly damaged; and
2. Huge new settlements, such as Gosden Hill (see below) will destroy vitally important space around Guildford.

I note promotional content that “our most important countryside, landscapes, and heritage” (per http://www.guildford.gov.uk/newlocalplan/) should be protected, but there are so many aspects to be considered. And while I may not be an expert, nor have the time to scrutinise all the documentation, I note, for example, that of the GBCS 2012 identified villages (Chilworth, East Horsley, Effingham, Fairlands, Flexford, Gomshall, Jacobs Well, Normandy, Peasmarsh, Ripley, Send, Send Marsh/Burnt Common, Shalford, Shere, West Horsley and Wood Street Village) just 2 are excluded. It appears that the residents of the remainder have to suffer the butt of the Plan.

I missed seeing the impact of separate plans to build further homes on the Clandon Estate, removing it from the Green Belt; turning the GBCS “on its head” (Source: MRA). This adds significant housing to the existing population of 8,000/3,500(?) homes, which includes Merrow Park. I am unsure how this extra development fits into satisfying the housing assessment.

The greenbelt is highly precious to those in this area - and also to those in London who can access green areas within striking distance. You are pushing the urban sprawl from London further and further out and destroying the pleasure and health benefits our community gain from these areas.

Consider brown field sites only. If you develop our loved green belt, it is gone for ever, which will a travesty. Previous generations provided this for us with good intentions and the benefits they hoped would last for future generations. We went to keep our green belt.

I OBJECT. This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is an untrue. The policy wording is tepid in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. It is an inalienable public good. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

- Agricultural production
- Rural leisure and tourism amenities
- Water catchment
- Flood control
- Biodiversity
- Natural heritage
- A carbon sink for air pollution
- Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
- Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
- Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
- Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
- Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

(See Ministerial foreword: “Our natural environment is essential to our wellbeing, and it can be better looked after than it has been. Habitats that have been degraded can be restored. Species that have been isolated can be reconnected. Green Belt land that has been depleted of diversity can be refilled by nature – and opened to people to experience it, to the benefit of body and soul.”)

As a matter of law, morality and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations.

It is disreputable to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. No-one argues that we should sell 1.6% of the Crown jewels in order to build houses.

I am not opposed to appropriate development in the Green Belt and recently supported a major planning application in my own village. But I fail to see why a system of fair burden-sharing of new development cannot be applied to the borough’s existing settlements in proportion to their size. This alternative would minimise the strain on infrastructure and maximise the chances of retaining the character of each settlement through gradual growth.

It is reasonable to ask urban Guildford, with x times the population of semi-rural East Horsley for instance, to accommodate x times the number of new homes over the plan period. Parish councils could be asked, and will no doubt be willing, to propose where their quota of houses should go. Most rural residents are reasonable people who, if not alienated by top-down planners, will support realistic numbers of new houses in their neighbourhoods.

Unfortunately, this democratic, bottom-up approach has not been attempted.

Instead, while developers flip and land-bank urban sites as a financial speculation, this plan will dump most new development on greenfield sites where building costs are lower, covering the Green Belt with dozens of housing estates that few residents want. 8,086 new houses are planned for the Green Belt but only 1,135 for Guildford urban area. This is disruptive, socially inequitable and unnecessary. It will not only destroy countryside but will also delay and disincentivise much-needed urban regeneration. The remarkable revival and repopulation of central London shows that building dormitory satellite settlements is an out-of-date approach to planning.

I particularly protest at the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are “leggy” in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems determined on self-defeat. I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors. (Councillor Matthew Sarti, Planning Committee meeting, 18 May 2016) To “inset” two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need (especially post-Brexit) and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

I OBJECT to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses.” This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are sick and tired of repeating the same comments to deaf ears. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. This plan is out of date and not creditable. (Further discredited by criminality on the Council. Former lead Councillor for planning Monika Juneja, architect of the 2014 draft plan, is currently serving a two-year sentence on 3 counts of forgery, pretending to be a barrister and obtaining dishonest pecuniary advantage.)

13 Some residents have concluded that commenting is a waste of time. All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. (E.g. Gallagher Homes v Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council [2014] EWHC 1283)

Policy P2 - Green Belt

I strongly object to GBC considering building new developments of 2,000 houses in Green Belt. I object to Gosden Hill, Blackwell Farm and the former Wisley Airfield becoming new towns in the Green Belt for reasons of economy and convenience. Wisley in particular is too close to neighbouring towns and would undoubtedly become part of those areas in time, completely eroding the Green Belt in this area.

Policy P2: Green Belt

It is agreed that the forthcoming Green Belt Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) should set out guidelines on the scale of development that this likely to be considered appropriate and how this is calculated. This will help provide greater clarity to applicants wishing to extend their homes although the figures should still be considered in relation to other design criteria.

I object to Policy P2 green belt. This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is a misleading statement. The policy wording is weak in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away. Policy P2 completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it has been around for a long time and it needs to be permanently protected. It was actually established in a local act of parliament in Guildford under the London Home Counties (Green Belt) Act 1938 and subsequently in the 1944 Greater London Plan to contain the outward sprawl of London. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were later defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). The Metropolitan Green Belt is an exemplar of good planning and the envy of planners throughout the world. Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of: 1. Agricultural production

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations. It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell bent on self-defeat. I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors. To “inset” two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

I object to the removal of over 400 hectares of Green Belt land in and around Blackwell Farm to facilitate further development of Surrey Research Park and for 1800 homes. Over 60 hectares were removed from Green Belt 12 years ago for the same developer (Surrey University) who has yet to fulfill their planning obligations. This valuable land has been squandered with over 17 acres of surface car parking and as one of the key features of Green belt is its 'permanence' this second request for yet more Green Belt land to be released in such a short space of time, with all the outstanding issues that remain makes this all the more objectionable.

Furthermore I object on grounds of the impact this development will have in terms of congestion on our highways, these issues have been highlighted under 'infrastructure'.

I object to ALL Green Belt sites allocated for development in the local plan object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses.” This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are tired of repeating the same comments as it appears to be a waste of time and effort. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014.13 All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “… the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.
This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Green Belt (Policy P2)
Our Green Belt is precious. It is what protects London from urban sprawl; it preserves air quality; it prevents flooding; it is the city’s playground. It is for us to conserve and protect it. There are five legal purposes for Green Belt, and it meets them all:
• To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas
• To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another
• To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
• To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns
• To assist in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

The Local Plan contains no rational, reasonable or credible justification for building on the Green Belt as proposed. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) requires any change of Green Belt boundaries to demonstrate exceptional circumstances, and the Local Plan neither demonstrates, nor discloses, any such exceptional circumstances. Unmet housing need is NOT an exceptional circumstance in law. It is clear, therefore, that the Green Belt boundaries should NOT be changed, and that this policy is flawed and should be amended.

In the last consultation just six individuals, out of the c. 7,000 of those who took part in the consultation, supported the policy. Another 20 comments of support were from organisations such as: the University of Surrey, local councils (including Guildford), consultants (e.g. Savills) or landowners. But of the 1,371 who commented on the green belt policy, 1,332 (97%) were against.

Over 70% of the proposed housing is planned for land currently in the Green Belt. Housing need is not a reason in law for protected Green Belt land being used. It is perverse for so much housing to be planned for the Green Belt. Clearly, the Green Belt has not been used as a constraint as clearly set out in Government advice, planning policy guidance, the NPPF, case law, election manifestos and Ministerial letters to MPs.

I object to the proposed removal of West Horsley from the Green Belt by insetting and extending the 2003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries, and no exceptional circumstances or other justification is made for this proposal. The Green Belt & Countryside Study is flawed and the Key Evidence document „Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013-2031” makes no case for locating large numbers of new homes in West and East Horsley or neighbouring villages. The number and density of housing proposed is not in keeping with the local area and is therefore against policies within the NPPF.

We are writing to register our objections to the removal of Green Belt Protection from the area around the Villages of Chilworth, Shalford, Peasmarsh and others.

We are not unsympathetic to the need for more housing in this area but we do not agree with the prospect of ‘approved in principal’ as this would appear to relinquish any control over proposed development. We are also not happy that all 3 Villages are lumped together as no longer applicable for Green Belt Protection, whilst other parts of Guildford Borough are unaffected. On what grounds are these particular Villages to be ‘signed out’ for exclusion? Who decides and has anyone looked, in detail at, or visited this area.

If development is permitted, en-bloc, the eventual result would be a continuous built-up area of housing, linking the Villages of Albury, Chilworth, Shalford and Peasmarsh to Guildford Town Centre.

Fresh, new sites bring Applications from large Developers further afield. What we need are small, localised developments on empty Brown Field sites to be used first, using local Developers who are sympathetic to local needs, e.g. affordable housing.

We already have in excess of 500 new homes in Waverley at Cranleigh and there are proposals for using Dunsfold and Wisley as possible new Brown Field sites.
Do we really need more sites? We believe that control must be maintained to preserve our Green Belt; otherwise, parts of the south-east of England will become a concrete jungle.

1. I wish to object, most strongly, to the Council’s Green Belt policy in relation to the removal of Green Belt land for housing development. In particular I am concerned about the proposed release of the open fields known as Allocation Sites A38, A39, A40 and A41 in West Horsley. My objections are that the Council’s proposal is contrary to Government advice contained within the National Planning Policy Framework 2012;

   • Paragraph 79 states that “the Government attaches great importance to Green Belts. The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence”.

   • Paragraph 82 states that “New Green Belts should only be established in exceptional circumstances”. Therefore if existing Green Belt land is sacrificed for housing, the quantum of Green Belt will reduce and will not be replaced.

   • Paragraph 83 provides “Once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances. The Council has not demonstrated “exceptional circumstances” but states that the shortage of available housing land is an exceptional circumstance. The problem is that Green Belt land, which is not Previously Developed Land (PDL), should be regarded as sacrosanct and should only be released as a very last resort and after the re-use of Brownfield and PDL has been exhausted. GBC has made no real attempt to survey and review the availability of Brownfield and PDL but, instead, has targeted Green Belt land predominantly in single ownership, as this is easier to deliver. Good town planning is not about easy deliverability and knee-jerk solutions. This is “lazy” planning and should be rejected.

   • Paragraph 87 says “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances. Insufficient “special circumstances” have been advanced by GBC to justify the release of previously undeveloped Green Belt, which still serves its original purpose as Green Belt land.

   • The proposal is also contrary to paragraph 88 of the NPPF, which states that exceptional circumstances will not exist unless the harm caused to the Green Belt is outweighed by other considerations. I do not agree that a shortage of housing land is to be considered as an exceptional circumstance but, even if I am wrong, the harm to Green Belt is not outweighed by other considerations.

   • Paragraph 89 states that a local planning authority should regard the construction of new buildings as inappropriate in Green Belt.

   • In summary the proposal to release Green Belt land is contrary to Government advice and there are, in fact, two distinct tests. Firstly GBC has to prove “exceptional circumstances” to change the boundaries of the Green Belt and secondly it has to prove “exceptional circumstances” to justify inappropriate development.

1. There is case law concerning “special circumstances” and, in particular, whether a housing shortage is a “special circumstance” of sufficient weight to justify the release of Green Belt. I list below the relevant synopsis;

   • In Hunston Properties Ltd [2013] EWCA Civ 1610; [2014] JPL 599, it was held that;
On the facts, the Inspector was obliged to find a housing shortfall. However, the weight to be given to such a housing shortfall (and whether it constituted “very special circumstances” for the purposes of NPPF 87) was a matter of planning judgment. The weight to be attached to the shortfall may, as a matter of planning judgment, be reduced where a shortfall is inevitable due to a district being subject to policies, which restrict development (such as AONBs, National Parks or Green Belts).

- Further it was held in R (Lee Valley Regional Park Authority) v Broxbourne Borough Council [2015] EWHC 185 (Admin) that;

“A shortfall in housing land supply can, as a matter of policy, be a very special circumstance, although the occasions when it is likely to suffice by itself to warrant the grant of permission for housing development in the Green Belt are expected to be few and far between”.

- The case of R (Luton Borough Council) v Central Bedfordshire Council [2015] EWCA Civ 537 it was stated that;

“...paras. 87-88 of the NPPF provide guidance regarding the approach to be adopted if there is a proposal for development of an area within the Green Belt set out in a local plan: “very special circumstances” have to be shown. This is a stricter test than that in para. 83 in respect of changing the boundaries of the Green Belt in the local plan.”

As can be seen none of the case law to date supports the development of new housing in the Green Belt.

1. There is no precedent for releasing existing Green Belt land where its original aims and functions are still being met. The original Green Belt legislation and particularly circular 42/55 only envisaged and to a limited scale the “infilling” and “rounding off” within the Green Belt and existing towns and villages should not be allowed to expand any further.

1. Policy P2 – Green Belt: I object to this significant erosion of the Green Belt with the proposals for large towns being developed on Green Belt land thereby removing the openness of the Green Belt. I note in particular the huge developments proposed for the North East quadrant of the borough which will adversely affect our amenity, but also unfairly targets our tranquil rural villages because we can provide ‘dormitory’ facilities for commuters to London. The developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracts in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send.

1. Further, on the erosion of Green Belt and I object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that Green Belt should be protected. I object to the disproportionate use of Green Belt land for housing – some 65% of the housing proposed is on Green Belt and with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brown field sites.

2. I object that GBC are contravening the NPPF framework stipulation in paragraph 87 with the proposed developments at Gosden Hill Farm, Ripley, East and West Horsley and Garlicks Arch, Send. Paragraph 87 states “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.” and GBC have not proven any special circumstance for developing on these Green Belt areas.

Any weakening or exceptions to green belt protection will lead to its permanent loss. The green belt must be protected in its entirety, according to current law. It is the lungs of the densely populated south east, and an area that is enjoyed by millions, including valuable tourism from abroad.

My name is [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998]. I live in Peaslake. I work in Guildford and drive through Clandon every day to work. We've all lived in the area for many many years. It is a lovely place to live and we have enjoyed the scenery and the fact that there is so much Green Belt around meaning lovely spaces to enjoy. Even within these areas there has been a population increase over the years with of course an increase of houses cars etc. Which is inevitable. However it has always been a relief knowing that whatever happens and however many houses are built, the Green Belt is safe and the area will not be destroyed as promised by the Conservative Party.

Incursions into the Green Belt - I believe this is wholly inappropriate. The green belt is so designated to provide support for our Wildlife which is already under great threat from habitat destruction from over-development and to preserve an environment that is also conducive to maintaining an acceptable quality of life - access to sufficient open spaces.

I write to OBJECT to the terms of your currently proposed Local Plan. I am an eight year-old pupil at The Raleigh School. I have grown increasingly frustrated and disappointed by the irresponsible behaviour of adults. As a result, I have set up my own action group with school friends, Future Thinkers. We are in the process of building a website intended to highlight the important issues where adults are behaving in an irresponsible manner towards the next generation and to also take action in the local community.

We have recently done a litter survey in one part of Kingston Meadow and found 105 items of rubbish strewn in the leisure area and the woods in just 300 metres. This demonstrates that the Council has its priorities wrong at present: you need to take action, in conjunction with the local police to both clean up and prosecute the criminals who leave litter before turning your mind to new development. You demonstrate your present irresponsibility as custodian of what you are currently responsible for: it is simply not feasible to give you responsibility to deliver further assets at this stage.

Loss of green belt land is irreversible and you must demonstrate exceptional circumstances on a case by case basis, not simply put out a case that development in other areas present practical difficulties: go and wrestle with those difficulties and deliver sustainable regeneration, rather than seek to build away the green lungs which are so vital for generations to come.

It is both unfair and irresponsible to seek the circumvent this central planning policy by simply re-zoning areas from green belt to outside of or inset into the green belt. Please think again.

No exceptional circumstances which justify development of the Green Belt

GBC has, to date, failed to make the case that exceptional circumstances exist to justify any attack on the sanctity of the boundary of the Green Belt as it currently stands. Indeed, GBC seems to be adopting a position which is contrary to central government policy.

Those who have made a conscious decision to live in a village within the metropolitan Green Belt appreciate the constraints (and responsibilities) that places on its residents.

About Guildford (winter 2013, GBC) stated the importance of maintaining a continued sense of community and to recognise the distinct character of each of the villages within the borough. The status of much of the borough as metropolitan Green Belt land is fundamental to this, protecting the area from the encroachment of London from the north east and from Guildford itself as well. Accordingly, the process for the development of the local plan must be delivered with the protection of community and the environment at the forefront. To date, there is insufficient evidence that this has been done and there is insufficient consideration of the legacy we would create for our children if GBC’s proposed wide-scale development assault on the Green Belt is allowed to proceed.

Accordingly, I strongly advocate for East and West Horsley (and the other villages within the borough) to remain within the Green Belt and should not be removed from it. However, if there is a powerful case for the re-zoning of a particular field or fields for reasons which satisfy the high threshold set, that could be supported on a case-by-case basis. The provision of vital community infrastructure is a powerful example of where the sacrifice of a small piece of Green Belt land might become appropriate, provided that there is no other viable alternative.

Loss of Green Belt Land is Irreversible
As you have read in my earlier consultation response, to change the planning status of the Green Belt land around the metropolis and around Guildford would send a clear (and negative) message that the rural nature of our precious and beautiful county is not something for which we are simply custodians and which therefore requires protection. A continued development linking London to Guildford along the axis of the A3 would be unacceptable and is contrary to the objective of Green Belt designation.

We are all stewards of our community for the generations to come. GBC and its residents are part of the same joint endeavour. Your Local Plan proposals seem to wish to polarise opinion and cause separation and division where consensus and common purpose is required.

The Green Belt land in the east of the borough protects our most precious natural asset, the North Downs and Surrey Hills, in their true, undeveloped, context. We should be justly proud of being the most wooded county in England (much of it ancient) and do everything to ensure that this precious heritage is passed down to future generations.

We have much to thank former generation for in the protection of our county's countryside in a manner which has delivered a vibrant local economy, whilst protecting our heritage. Today, it is the responsibility of the current councillors and officers of GBC and its residents to ensure that the work of past generations is not for naught and that the special characteristics of our borough are maintained.

If the Green Belt status of vast swathes of the borough were removed, there is a genuine risk that it is only the SSSI/AONB areas that would be appropriately and sufficiently protected from development for the benefit of biodiversity and for our children and successive generations. It should be remembered that that Green Belt status assists GBC in its stewardship of the borough so as to protect the precious nature of the area, whilst also permitting sustainable, proportionate and sympathetic development. Green Belt status clearly identifies areas which are “off limits” for most development.

Loss of undeveloped land within the current Green Belt is irreversible and it is our collective social responsibility to ensure that this does not happen.

I OBJECT TO ALL POLICIES INVOLVING BUILDING IN THE GREEN BELT: • No “exceptional circumstances” shown, numbers excessive and the clearly expressed views of residents in previous consultations ignored.

I OBJECT TO POLICY P2 (GREEN BELT): • No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements. • No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions. • Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored. • Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored. • Impact on flood control ignored. • Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored. • Impact on biodiversity ignored. • Impact on natural heritage ignored. • Impact on water catchment ignored. • Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored. • Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored. • Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored. • Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored. • Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections. • Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF. • Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size. • Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration. • “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective. • Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields. • Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit. • Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) (March 2012) confirms, at Paragraph 79, that ‘The Government attaches great importance to Green Belts…. The essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence.’ The NPPF clearly sets out at Paragraph 80, the five main and longstanding objectives of the Green Belt, as follows:

• to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
• to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
• to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment;
• to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and
• to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

Paragraph 83 of the NPPF states that: ‘Once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan. At that time, authorities should consider the Green Belt boundaries having regard to their intended permanence in the long term, so that they should be capable of enduring beyond the plan period.’

Having reviewed the information available, and the details of the Council’s proposals to remove the village of Send from the Green Belt and amend the Green Belt boundary, I consider that the Council’s approach is fundamentally flawed and that the proposed emerging local policy is at odds with National strategic planning policy, which should form the basis for policy formulation at the local level.

Furthermore, I consider that the Green Belt in this location continues to serve a purpose and fully meets the objectives originally identified for Green Belt designations, and in this instance:

• It checks the unrestricted northwards sprawl of Guildford, and eastward sprawl of Woking in particular;
• It prevents the merging of Guildford, Woking, Weybridge and Cobham in this area;
• It serves to safeguard land in the vicinity of the North Downs and land which is in a variety of rural and agricultural uses;
• It assists in preserving the historic character of the settlements in the area;
• The protection of the Green Belt assists in diverting development to more sustainable locations such as the built up areas of Guildford and Woking and other towns both within and outside of the Borough.

I consider that the Green Belt in this location still serves a strong purpose and that there is no over-riding justification for the release of land from the Green Belt in this location for development.

In terms of development in the Green Belt, the NPPF clearly states at Paragraph 87 that ‘inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances’. Paragraph 88 goes on to state that when considering any proposals for development Councils should ensure that substantial weight is given to any harm to the Green Belt. It also states that, ‘very special circumstances’ will not exist unless the potential harm to the Green Belt by reason of inappropriate development and any other harm, is clearly outweighed by other considerations.’ In this instance, the need for housing or commercial development is not sufficient a very special circumstance to warrant development in the Green Belt.

Local Plan Consultation comments

I am writing to lodge some objections to the 2016 Draft Local Plan ('the Plan'). This may be your job but please realise you are affecting real peoples’ lives. Real people you are here to serve. This is not a game although people in this field of practice seem to treat it as such, largely to make money for the unscrupulous I suspect. What do you not understand about the words “Green Belt”? I know the educational requirements for many professions have changed but this is a no brainer and Green Belt is Green Belt whichever way you read it!

Green Belt

I strongly object strongly to the proposed changes to the Green Belt Boundary to inset the named villages from the Green Belt (including Policies S1, S2, P2). All the villages should remain in the Green Belt.

A requirement for extra housing is not exceptional circumstances – build up the way or underground instead of taking more Green belt land. 89% of Guildford Borough is in the Metropolitan Green Belt. The Local Plan should have the protection of the Green Belt as its cornerstone. The Green Belt is intended to be permanent and its boundaries cannot be changed except in exceptional circumstances. You have shown no exceptional circumstances under the NPPF for the Green Belt boundary to be changed.

I write to lodge my strong objection to the Council’s proposal to amend the Green Belt designation in the northern part of the Borough in the vicinity of Send and also the proposals to allocate land for additional housing and commercial development in this area.

Green Belt

The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) (March 2012) confirms, at Paragraph 79, that ‘The Government attaches great importance to Green Belts…. The essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence.’ The NPPF clearly sets out at Paragraph 80, the five main and longstanding objectives of the Green Belt, as follows:

Paragraph 83 of the NPPF states that:

‘Once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan. Having reviewed the information available, and the details of the Council’s proposals to remove the village of Send from the Green Belt and amend the Green belt boundary, I consider that the Council’s approach is fundamentally flawed and that the proposed emerging local policy is at odds with National strategic planning policy, which should form the basis for policy formulation at the local level.

Furthermore, I consider that the Green Belt in this location continues to serve a purpose and fully meets the objectives originally identified for Green Belt designations, and in this instance:

- It checks the unrestricted northwards sprawl of Guildford, and eastward sprawl of Woking in particular;
- It prevents the merging of Guildford, Woking, Weybridge and Cobham in this area;

I consider that the Green Belt in this location still serves a strong purpose and that there is no over-riding justification for the release of land from the Green Belt in this location for development.

In terms of development in the Green Belt, the NPPF clearly states at Paragraph 87 that ‘inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances’. Paragraph 88 goes on to state that when considering any proposals for development Councils should ensure that substantial weight is given to any harm to the Green Belt. It also states that, ‘very special circumstances’ will not exist unless the potential harm to the Green Belt by reason of inappropriateness and any other harm, is clearly outweighed by other considerations.’ In this instance, the need for housing or commercial development is not sufficient a very special circumstance to warrant development in the Green Belt.

Furthermore, I believe that there are other suitable alternative sites within the existing built up areas of the Borough that would be capable of addressing the development needs of the Borough in a more sustainable manner without irreversible degradation of the Green Belt.

Until the Council can provide a reasoned, robust and fully justified case for the removal of green field land from the Green Belt, then I strongly object to any Green Belt land release in the area of Send and Ripley, and as a result I also therefore object by default to the sites identified for development at Garlick’s Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries, Send Hill, Wisley Airfield and Gosden Hill.

I wish to write regarding the proposed local plan such that my comments may be taken into account. I live in the village of West Horsley as you will be able to see from my address at the bottom of the email and as such my comments primarily relate to West Horsley.

Greenbelt:

My first objection to the Local Plan relates to the protection of the Greenbelt. I am absolutely opposed to the removal of some of the village from the Greenbelt through the extension of the settlement boundaries and the insetting. No Exceptional Circumstances or other relevant justification has been demonstrated to justify the new Greenbelt boundary in West Horsley. National planning policy requires that Green Belt boundaries are only amended in exceptional circumstances and that this must be undertaken as part of the Local Plan process. As such the proposal and Policy P2 is not in line with National Planning Guidelines. It is clear to me that it cannot be considered exceptional in order to facilitate the development put forward when a) The Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013-2031 makes no case for locating large numbers of homes in West Horsley (or neighbouring villages) (indeed the new economic development sites are located on the other side of the borough to West Horsley) and b) when the current proposals have given insufficient consideration of the use of brownfield sites within the borough (located much nearer centres of employment and supporting infrastructure). This is a key flaw in the Guildford Borough Submission Local Plan 2016 – proposing extensive development in locations remote from areas of employment and supporting infrastructure. The new housing should largely be allocated much nearer and around Guildford’s town and urban areas.

I strongly object to Policy P2 on the Green Belt. I am extremely disappointed to hear that my local area, Horsley, as well as many surrounding villages will be removed from the Green Belt. The primary reasoning behind the greenbelt land is to prevent further urbanization surrounding large centres for many reasons, including environmental as well as economic. Near continuous urban sprawl stretches from the City of London to Effingham Junction already, so it seems only reasonable to conclude that with the proposed rate of development and removal of Green Belt protection that this will only keep spreading. Is there other land elsewhere that is to be added to the Greenbelt to be protected from this creeping urbanization? Or will the Greenbelt simply shrink until it no longer exists? When will the people living in that land get to the time when they will have to write objections, as I am now, to protect and save their local area?

Indeed, the Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the foundation of all local planning policy, yet support for it is half-hearted at best. It is not only beneficial to our borough but to Londoners and the country too, so it is important to consider the wider consequences as well. Once it is gone, it is gone forever.

POLICY P2 – Green Belt

I object to this policy for the following reasons:

1. It does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local Planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone, it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer-influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development. Green Belt was last taken in the 2003 Plan and now it is again proposed to move the boundaries.

1. The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the Plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

1. Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

1. The Countryside Study was a simplistic exercise based on the erroneous principle that ranking Green Belt land would identify candidates for development. The Council has not carried out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

1. I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process, many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt (a term which neither the Plan nor the NPPF defines) and there is no need to inset them. I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling, and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of a further 11. In effect, each village will become a nucleus for further development. The NPPF’s other four tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development.

1. To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused intense opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

1. Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is misleading. Since the Second World War, Guildford has been expanding to the north east, starting with the Bushy Hill estate in the 1950’s, then Merrow Park and Weybrook Park were built on around 100 hectares of Green Belt land in the 1980’s, and now 89 hectares of land from the adjacent Gosden Hill Farm is also to be taken out of the Green Belt. This will connect to the proposed Garlick’s Arch development (30 hectares), also in the Green Belt, via several slip roads and feeder roads alongside the six-lane A3 (a further 4.5 hectares). If allowed, these two proposals will more than double the area of Green Belt land hitherto removed to enlarge Guildford’s NE suburbs.

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

POLICY P2 GREEN BELT
I object to Policy P2 green belt. This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is completely false. The policy wording is weak in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. Policy P2 completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and it needs to be permanently protected. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital.

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations.

It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. I am disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages reflect the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development. I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study.

To “inset” two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions. Send is a good example of villages that should not be removed from the Green Belt. Send provides an important Green Belt buffer between Woking and Guildford. The village and the countryside behind the A247 should all be protected.

I object to three particularly vulnerable areas of high quality amenity land being taken out of the Green Belt around Send which include:

- The land behind the schools including playing fields and woodland.
- The land to the right of Cartbridge by the River Wey Navigation up to the new boundary fence with Vision Engineering.
- Land to the left of Cartbridge going up to the old depot on the Wey Navigation.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the green belt. The business park fronts the River Wey navigation which is acknowledged as protected corridor. The business park is an historical accident arising from a former historic industrial use. Tannery Lane is too restricted for any increase in traffic and the business park should remain within the green belt to inhibit further development.

Removal of greenbelt status.

Regardless of the target housing number required, there are still inadequate “exceptional circumstances” to justify removal of the Green Belt status from any areas of the Borough.

Consideration should be given not only to the next planning period, but also to the rest of the century. At this rate of development, the Borough will be largely built upon within the lifetime of children born this decade. This is an unacceptable situation that should be resisted.

I object to the draft Local Plan because it calls for housing development in the Green Belt. In order to change Green Belt boundaries, there must be demonstrated special circumstances. In order to develop in the Green Belt, there must be exceptional circumstances.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Green belt area

The area is designated Green Belt, and the proposed local plan is non-compliant with the National Planning Policy Framework as the very special circumstances for building on Green Belt have not been met.

The green belt area is the defence from greater London urban area encroaching on the surrey country side and protecting the surrey hills area of outstanding natural beauty.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

West Horsley is defined by Guildford Council as a Green Belt Village

Policies in the Governments National Planning Framework (NPPF) require that new building is regarded as inappropriate in the Green Belt.

These Policies also say that only limited infilling with Housing is appropriate.

Neither of these policies support substantial new development in the green belt.

The Councils Proposals total some 500 new dwellings in the green belt which is clearly contrary to the above policies.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Whilst there is general support for the aims of this proposed policy, given the high prevalence of Green Belt within the borough and the comments referred to in Policy S2, it is considered that in order to support further long-term growth needs, it should not rule out a suitable review mechanism in the future. In the event that any sites proposed in this document were to stall or fail to come forward for any reason there needs to be an effective tool in which to review the Green Belt boundaries.
It is also critical at this point to support the message within paragraph 4.3.16, which states that ‘we (GBC), consider that exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of the Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development.’

As a resident of West Clandon I am writing to object to Guildford Borough Councils 2016 Draft Local Plan. In itself the proposal to develop on land that is designated as Green Belt and as such intended as a buffer against the increasing pressures from ‘urban sprawl’ is of significant concern. It sets a dangerous precedent from which there would be no going back. If areas of Green Belt land are now so readily considered for development, what would be next, ‘Conservation Areas’?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

We consider that the following points also justify either allocation or safeguarding of the site for housing:

- Restrict the ability of the Borough to meet its objectively assessed housing needs into the future.
- The result of this is/will be to place further reliance on less sustainable options elsewhere within the Borough and/or the Green Belt boundary in this location is justified and consider that the assessment of the Land Parcel K3 to be flawed.
- Restricts the Borough’s ability to provide for future needs in a sustainable way. We do not consider that a change to the higher end of those main urban edge parcels identified for PDAs as indicated at Appendix 6.
- To therefore seek to impose Green Belt designation here within the Proposed Submission Plan is considered unjustified at the region of 572 dwellings. The PDA scored 11.43 against the sustainability credentials and would therefore be ranked at the higher end of those main urban edge parcels identified for PDAs as indicated at Appendix 6.

An Addendum to the Green Belt and Countryside Study was prepared in April 2014 to address criticisms of the original Study. The Addendum updated the Environmental Capacity Analysis undertaken within Volume II and that undertaken in connection with additional urban edge parcels with a clear connectivity to the existing urban edge boundaries which were not previously considered beyond Green Belt purposes. Two additional land parcels were considered: Land Parcel J1, Land at Liddington Hall Farm and Land Parcel K3, Land south of Poyle Road, Tongham. With regard to Land Parcel K3, the Addendum states at paragraph 4.10 that: ‘Significantly, the parcel does not lie within the Green Belt at present, and is instead designated as lying within Countryside beyond the Green belt, in the Local Plan’. It goes on to state at paragraph 4.11 that: ‘a PDA across the entirety of the parcel would be inappropriate and an area has instead been identified to the north of the parcel. The PDA relates to Poyle Road, and incorporates land either side of the recreation ground and a woodland block.’ And at paragraph 4.12 that: ‘The PDA covers an area of approximately 24ha and could accommodate in the region of 572 dwellings. The PDA scored 11.43 against the sustainability credentials and would therefore be ranked at the higher end of those main urban edge parcels identified for PDAs as indicated at Appendix 6.’

To therefore seek to impose Green Belt designation here within the Proposed Submission Plan is considered unjustified and restricts the Borough’s ability to provide for future needs in a sustainable way. We do not consider that a change to the Green Belt boundary in this location is justified and consider that the assessment of the Land Parcel K3 to be flawed. The result of this is/will be to place further reliance on less sustainable options elsewhere within the Borough and/or restrict the ability of the Borough to meet it’s objectively assessed housing needs into the future.

Additionally we consider that the following points also justify either allocation or safeguarding of the site for housing:

- Landscape evidence previously submitted to the Council (attached) has demonstrated the suitability of two parcels of land to be accommodated in this location without harm to the wider landscape. Whilst development would be visible from the south, the evidence noted that new development would be seen in the context of the existing urban edge of Tongham beyond. Reinforcement planting along the southern edge of the two development parcels was considered a suitable mitigation measure by the landscape consultants fabrik;
- We oppose the views raised that the area should be designated as Green Belt in order to prevent southward and eastward encroachment of Tongham towards the A31. As the landscape evidence previously submitted to the Council demonstrates, there are alternative options available which would enable more development to be sustainably delivered at Tongham, whilst also preventing continued development southwards towards the A31. The landscape plan re-provided at Appendix 1 of our representation outlines an area between the potential housing areas B and C and the A31 which should remain open. It is considered that this area of land could be used for public open space which would provide long-term protection along the southern edge of Tongham and positive implications for the AONB.

Paragraph 82 of the NPPF highlights that the general extent of Green Belts across the country is already established. Additionally it advises that:
“New Green Belts should only be established in exceptional circumstances, for example when planning for larger scale development such as new settlements or major urban extensions. If proposing new Green Belt, local planning authorities should:
- demonstrate why normal planning and development management policies would not be adequate;
- set out whether any major changes in circumstances have made the adoption of this exceptional measure necessary;
- show what the consequences of the proposal would be for sustainable development;
- demonstrate the necessity for the Green Belt and its consistency with Local Plans for adjoining areas; and
- show how the Green Belt would meet the other objectives of the Framework.”

We do not consider that the area of new Green Belt proposed meets the NPPF tests above. Equally, having reviewed the supporting text of Policy P2 Green Belt, we note at paragraph 4.3.17 that the plan has not sought to make any justifications against these tests and in this respect it is of note that the Green Belt and Countryside Study Volume II Addendum reassessed the northern part of Land Parcel K3 as suitable for a Potential Development Area (PDA), (the southern area being covered by AONB ad therefore not suitable for major development). In drawing the conclusion that the PDA ranked at the higher end of those main urban edge parcels identified for PDAs, it acknowledged that an area of 24ha could accommodate in the region of 572 dwellings. Suitable mitigation could be delivered to offset any impact on nearby areas of ancient woodland, the setting of nearby listed buildings, the SNCI to the east. The potential for enhancement of planting along the southern edge to assist with an appropriate relationship with the AONB further to the south on the Hog’s Back would be beneficial.

It is noted that the scoring at Appendix 1 of Volume II Addendum is wrong in relation to Land Parcel K3 which has not been updated with the reassessment. Sensitivity of this area should therefore be reduced from High Sensitivity to Medium Sensitivity.

Notwithstanding this, it is difficult to see how the Council would demonstrate why normal planning policies would not be sufficient to continue to maintain a degree of separation between Tongham and the A31 particularly in the light of the existing AONB designation to the south of this Land Parcel. Indeed, our clients SHLAA submission and supporting landscape evidence, provides the Council with a very logical alternative to secure land in this location in perpetuity (attached as Appendix 2).

In addition to the above, it is clear that the proposal to designate Green Belt in this area has clear consequences for sustainable development. The Council’s Issues and Options Paper highlighted the potential at Land Parcel K3 “to carry out further research to see if there may be some small potential development areas”. The Green Belt and Countryside Study also subsequently determined that the area should be considered as a potential development area scoring 11.43 against the sustainability credentials and therefore ranked at the higher end of those main urban edge parcels identified for PDAs.

Clearly, in designating this area as Green Belt, any subsequent release would only be able to be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan (NPPF, Paragraph 83). This indicates why decisions to designate new Green Belt should be a last resort. We do not feel that “exceptional circumstances” can therefore be demonstrated here and no new Green Belt designation should be envisaged.

Additionally we do not support the Council’s view that the land would serve the five purposes of Green Belt identified in the NPPF, Paragraph 80. We consider each of these in turn below. We also provide a copy of our Landscape and Visual Rebuttal Statement (LVRS) on Parcel K3 (November 2013) (Appendix 3) which we have previously submitted to the Council.

Unrestricted Sprawl

Unrestricted sprawl would be very unlikely to the south of Tongham as the land does not form part of an open area of countryside moving southwards. This is on the basis that it is significantly restrained to the south by the A31, which forms a defensible boundary thus preventing sprawl. Furthermore, to the south, the AONB already provides a significant planning constraint which is afforded great protection by the NPPF and would essentially restrict development moving too far southwards towards the A31 without the potential for unacceptable levels of harm to arise. Additionally, the LRVS on page 23 also responds to Volume II of the Green Belt and Countryside Study, outlining that the consensus that K3 would ‘check the southward sprawl of Tongham’ is not consistent with comments against the neighbouring parcel of K2 which identifies that land as a Proposed Development Area.

Coalescence

We do not consider that the proposed area of Green Belt would have a significant ability to prevent the coalescence of settlements. The potential development areas outlined within the LRVS (areas B and C) demonstrate how a development area can be established in this location, to accord with the eastern extreme of existing development at Tongham. As Figure 5.1 of the LRVS demonstrates (Appendix 1), this enables a large band of landscaping to be maintained between Tongham and Ash Green, as well as between Tongham and the A31. Whilst the settlement of Seale falls literally to the south of the A31, we consider it absurd to raise concerns that any development at K3 would have an impact in terms of coalescence with Seale.

The LRVS on page 23, responds in detail to this concern. Firstly, it is noted that the Green Belt purpose relates to the issue of towns merging, which in this case is irrelevant on the basis that Tongham is a village and Seale, a small cluster of development. In any event, the separation caused by the dramatic changes in site levels associated with the ridgeline caused by the A31, means that there is both physical and visual separation between the settlements to prevent coalescence. Additionally, as outlined under our consideration of sprawl above, the AONB to the south of Tongham, also restricts the extent to which development could extend southwards. For coalescence to occur, development would therefore have to extend into the AONB and onto higher levels of land adjacent to the Hogs Back to result in physical or perceived coalescence of the two settlements.

Safeguard Countryside from Encroachment

The proposed area of new Green Belt in our view has little purpose and by virtue of its surroundings would only be capable of preventing development extending southwards from the existing urban edge of Tongham. As outlined under our ‘unrestricted sprawl’ section above, the land to the south of Tongham is not located within open countryside, as experienced to the east. To the south the A31 acts as a defensible boundary in preventing encroachment into the wider countryside south of the A31, whilst AONB provides further protection of the countryside. Additionally, we have highlighted how there are other opportunities to secure the long term protection of land within this area via other planning policies and through SANGS associated with some residential development at the settlement edge. The need to designate new Green Belt in this location is not therefore supported by this Green Belt purpose.

The LRVS also concluded on page 23 that whilst currently undeveloped, K3 had the potential to include significant areas of new Green Infrastructure, which would maintain the immediate landscape settings to the AONB designation, whilst also providing a new area of landscape that could provide a new area of open space resource for the town. As the NPPF in any event seeks to support the use of areas of Green Belt for leisure purposes and see the countryside utilised more for recreation, we consider that our client’s proposals, do not vary significantly to the Council’s intentions to safeguard countryside. However, it should clearly be preferential to secure any development which can also be accommodated in the location without harm.

Setting and Special Character of Historic Towns and Assist in Urban Regeneration

We do not consider that the new area of Green Belt proposed would reflect these purposes on the basis that Tongham is not recognised in the study as a historic town.

Conclusion of the Five Purposes of Green Belt in Response to Land Parcel K3

In light of our appraisal of the five Green Belt purposes and findings of the additional landscape evidence provided to the Council in respect of the site, we continue to advocate that it is inappropriate and unwarranted to seek to allocate Parcel K3 as new Green Belt. We strongly request that the advice contained within Paragraph 82 of the NPPF is applied to the proposal. This would demonstrate that there are alternative approaches available which could be secured through normal planning policies, that there is no necessity for Green Belt in this location and that there would be an adverse impact on the delivery of sustainable development.

I object to the insetting of villages from the greenbelt. This is not necessary. There is plenty of suitable land in the urban area which needs to be regenerated rather than left to degrade further.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

Section 4.3: Protecting Policies; Policy P2: Green Belt

The NRA note paragraph 4.3.11 reflects the NPPF in stating that the main aim of Green Belt is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open.

Paragraph 4.3.12 states that historically all the villages in the Borough, except Ash Green, and major previously developed sites have been washed over by the Green Belt designation. The text then correctly confirms that the NPPF states that only those villages whose open character makes an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt should be included within it. Those that do not should be inset, or removed, from it and other development management policies used to restrict any inappropriate development.

Paragraph 4.3.13 provides a list of villages which under LP1 will now be inset from the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.14 follows and clearly states that although not villages, a similar approach is to be applied to major previously developed sites in relation to whether they should remain washed over or be inset from the Green Belt. Again the paragraph correctly reiterates that the NPPF requires that land which it is unnecessary to keep permanently open should not be included in the Green Belt. If major previously developed sites are of sufficient scale and do not possess an open character, it is not considered necessary for them to remain within the Green Belt.
Paragraph 4.3.15 goes on to list the major previously developed sites (MPDS) which will become inset from the Green Belt under LP1. These are: Henley Business Park, HM Prison Send, Keogh Barracks, Mount Browne, Pirbright Barracks, Pirbright Institute and the University of Law Guildford.

The NRA do not object to the insetting of any of these MPDS from the Green Belt. However, the NRA are entirely concerned, and disappointed, by: 1) the omission of Bisley Camp from the list of major previously developed sites within the Borough set out by paragraph 4.3.15; and 2) the according omission of Bisley Camp’s developed land area as being inset from the Green Belt and shown to be so on the proposals maps of LP1.

As the Council will recall, in response to the consultation on the DLP in late 2014 the NRA submitted representations on the findings of the Council’s Green Belt and Countryside Study (GBCS) which comprised, and still does, part of the evidence base upon which the new local plan and its policies are being developed. It is not our intention to fully reiterate the content of the representations made in response to the DLP in response to LP1. A copy of the complete submission is however included at Appendix 1 of this submission for ease of reference and we invite the Council to review it again as a comprehensive element of the NRA’s submission to LP1, specifically in regard to the content under the section heading ‘Assessment of the Evidence Base’.

As currently written, whether by intention or otherwise, the NRA are concerned that between the consultation on the DLP the potential, and correct, status of the developed area of Bisley Camp as a MPDS has now been withdrawn by LP1. This is sincerely disappointing given the comparable similarities identified for the Council within the NRA’s representations made in response to the DLP, specifically regarding the developed area of Bisley Camp and Henley Business Park and The University of Law. The NRA consider that the status of these sites as MPDS support the basis for recognising and establishing Bisley Camp as a MPDS within LP1; and equally for Bisley Camp to be removed from the Green Belt also.

Accordingly, the NRA would like to see paragraph 4.3.15 amended to include Bisley Camp as a specified major previously developed site. The NRA also consider that the boundary of Bisley Camp’s MPDS should be drawn on the LP1 proposal maps to the extent shown on the drawing attached as Appendix 2 of this letter.

The NRA also note that beyond the reference to MPDS within paragraph 4.3.15 LP1 does not contain any other policy concerning MPDS. Having spoken with members of the Council’s Policy Team we have been advised that, at this time, it is the intention that a specific policy or set of policies relating to MPDS’s will be brought forward as part of the future Local Plan 2: Development Management Policies (LP2). It is considered this approach is less than ideal for the NRA and Bisley Camp. Firstly, although a MPDS policy could conceivably be delivered via the LP2 given the purpose and intent of MPDS status and its implications it is considered that this matter should be addressed as part of the LP1. MPDS are strategic policy designations and their designation and policy context should be developed and assessed accordingly. Indeed, as currently written in LP1 it would appear that this is what the consequence of paragraph 4.3.15 and the proposals maps are already establishing. The omission of Bisley Camp as an inset MPDS within LP1 is therefore failing to support the future regeneration and potential sustainable growth of the camp as a significant contributor to the leisure and tourism industry within the Borough. This would be contrary to paragraph 28 of the NPPF and likewise to the Council’s own stated spatial vision.

The NRA would also acknowledge the Council’s current LDS sets out the timescale for delivery of LP2 which is due to commence with evidence gathering from September 2017. Final adoption of LP2 will subsequently follow, after intervening consultation stages, in late 2018/early 2019. LP2 is clearly someway from the present and this further increases the importance to the NRA of the appropriateness to define the status of Bisley Camp as a MPDS (whether within or inset from the Green Belt) as part of LP1.

In summary conclusion, the NRA consider Bisley Camp should be allocated as an inset major previously developed site. Insetting the site would not conflict with the purposes of including land within the Green Belt (as defined by Paragraph 80 of the NPPF) and, on balance, there is no reason why sufficient defensible boundaries (in compliance with Paragraph 85 of the NPPF) should not be identified. In this regard the NRA would welcome further dialogue with Officers of the Policy Team to discuss and provide additional boundary information. Furthermore, as identified in paragraph 20.8 of the GBCS, if major previously developed sites are not considered appropriate for insetting and are to remain washed over within the Green Belt this implies the open character of the site makes an important contribution to openness. This in turn implies there is limited opportunity to redevelop, or expand the site, without detracting from the openness of the Green Belt. It is evident from an objective assessment of the major developed area at Bisley Camp that the land does not make such an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt nor does it in landscape character terms as identified in the Council’s own Landscape Character Appraisals. It is also evident that Bisley Camp exhibits comparable features with other major previously developed sites in the Borough that are proposed to be inset from the Green Belt and are stated as such within paragraph 4.3.15 of LP1.

The NRA generally support the wording of Policy P2.

However, the 4th bullet point of paragraph 89 of the NPPF clearly states the replacement of a building, provided the new building is in the same use and not materially larger than the one it replaces is one of the stated exceptions whereby the construction of a new building need not be considered inappropriate. Nowhere within the NPPF is it stated or implied that new buildings must also be sited on or close to the position of the existing building.

The inclusion of this requirement within Policy P2 is therefore entirely unnecessary, unduly restrictive and fails to accord with the corresponding Green Belt policies of the NPPF. The inclusion of this requirement within Policy P2 is also unqualified within the supporting text to justify why such a specific additional policy requirement should be included within the Borough’s development plan.

The NRA would therefore support an amendment to Policy P2 so that it reads:

‘…Proposals will be permitted where they are consistent with the exceptions listed in national planning policy and, where relevant, also meet the following criteria:…

Replacement buildings
The replacement of a building, provided the new building:

- Would be in the same use, and
- Is not materially larger than the one it replaces, and
- Is sited on or close to the position of the existing building, <strikethrough>

The proposals are in direct conflict with most of the points in Section 9 of the National Planning Policy Framework which makes it very clear that Green Belts are to be protected. There has been no case made by the Council for the “exceptional circumstances” that are required to remove land from the Green Belt. I’m sure that Guildford Borough is aware if this government document, but as a reminder here is a link to the Green Belt guidance:

The proposed “insetting” contradicts the Plans own policy P2 which states that “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development”. It is absurd that the council considers high density housing developments in Horsley as consistent with policy P2. The proposals even contradict the Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013-2033 which makes no case for large numbers of new homes in Horsley or surrounding villages.

The infrastructure of the two Horsley’s is already at capacity in terms of drainage, schools, shopping, parking, bus transport, traffic flow, station parking and medical facilities. The Plan does not address or even acknowledge the need for infrastructure improvements. Indeed, even if there were clear infrastructure plans, where would these new facilities be located if not at the loss of yet more Green Belt land?

As a resident of West Horsley, I know that the idyllic rural character of both the Horsley’s would be destroyed forever. I moved here from London specifically because of its rural, countryside character and the threat of having this ruined is horrifying to me and my neighbours. To expect West Horsley to absorb a 35% increase (the highest in the borough) in houses, population and the resultant impact on already stretched infrastructure is unwise, unworkable and contrary to published planning guidelines and I therefore urge the Council to withdraw the plans.

I object to the Settlement Boundary which has been imposed on East Clandon without any consultation. This imposition provides no protection to further development outside of the settlement boundary (Policy P2 para 4.3.25) and I deem as being unnecessary in an already tightly developed ancient and rural conservation village with high archaeological potential. I demand that this proposal be removed as it will endanger the openness of the Green Belt, the views in and out of the AONB (protection of the AONB Policy P1) and the character of our village.

Policy P2 – Green Belt: I object to this significant erosion of the Green Belt with the proposals for large towns being developed on Green Belt land thereby removing the openness of the Green Belt. I note in particular the huge developments proposed for the North East quadrant of the borough which will adversely affect our amenity, but also unfairly targets our tranquil rural villages because we can provide ‘dormitory’ facilities for commuters to London. These developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracts in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send.

Further, on the erosion of Green Belt and I object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that Green Belt should be protected. I object to the disproportionate use of Green Belt land for housing – some 65% of the housing proposed is on Green Belt and with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brown field sites.

This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is a misleading statement.

The policy wording is weak in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away.

Policy P2 completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it has been around for a long time and it needs to be permanently protected. It was actually established in a local act of parliament in Guildford under the London Home Counties (Green Belt) Act 1938 and subsequently in the 1944 Greater London Plan to contain the outward sprawl of London. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were later defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). The Metropolitan Green Belt is an exemplar of good planning and the envy of planners throughout the world.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

1. Agricultural production
2. Rural leisure and tourism amenities
3. Water catchment
4. Flood control
5. Biodiversity
6. Natural heritage
7. A carbon sink for air pollution
8. Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
9. Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
10. Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
11. Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
12. Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations.

It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell bent on self-defeat.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors.

To “inset” two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.
I object to the removal of over 400 hectares of Green Belt land in and around Blackwell Farm to facilitate further development of Surrey Research Park and for 1800 homes. Over 60 hectares were removed from Green Belt 12 years ago for the same developer (Surrey University) who has yet to fulfill their planning obligations. This valuable land has been squandered with over 17 acres of surface car parking and as one of the key features of Green belt is its ‘permanence’ this second request for yet more Green Belt land to be released in such a short space of time, with all the outstanding issues that remain makes this all the more objectionable.

Furthermore I object on grounds of the impact this development will have in terms of congestion on our highways, these issues have been highlighted under ‘infrastructure’.

I object to ALL Green Belt sites allocated for development in the local plan

I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses.” This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are tired of repeating the same comments as it appears to be a waste of time and effort. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014.13

All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established.

Policy P2 sets out GBC’s continued commitment to protecting the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development by using criteria set out within the NPPF. Zurich supports the objective that new development in the Green Belt will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated.

The policy confirms that proposals will be permitted where they are consistent with the exceptions listed in national planning policy and, where relevant, the specific criteria set out in the policy.

There are insufficient opportunities for growth within both Guildford’s urban area and settlement areas within the Borough. This results in the need for GBC to release appropriate Green Belt sites in sustainable locations. Broadford Business Park is PDL and therefore complies with the sixth exception criteria set out in paragraph 89 of the NPPF. The redevelopment of the Site is not therefore inappropriate in the context of Green Belt policy but will remain ‘washed over’ by Green Belt throughout the plan period.

Paragraph 4.3.18 of the Proposed Submission GBLP notes that the redevelopment of previously developed land where it would not have a greater impact on the openness of the Green Belt is an exception to new buildings being deemed inappropriate in the Green Belt (emphasis added). In December 2015, the department for Communities and Local Government conducted a ‘Consultation on proposed changes to national planning policy’. In accordance with the Government’s desire to utilise brownfield sites, contribute towards the delivery of Starter Homes and to add flexibility to the existing policy situation, paragraph 53 of the consultation document outlined that the redevelopment of brownfield land in the Green Belt need not be inappropriate unless any harm to the openness of the Green Belt was ‘substantial’.

Whilst Zurich recognises that the position and relationship of the Site relative to the Shalford settlement boundary, combined with the non-strategic nature of the proposed allocation, is not sufficient to warrant the Site’s release from the Green Belt, Policy P2 should remain sufficiently flexible to account for future changes in national planning policy. The following wording is therefore suggested:

“Whilst most forms of development are considered inappropriate in the Green Belt, national planning policy lists certain exceptions which are not inappropriate. These are set out in paragraphs 89 and 90 of the National Planning Policy Framework. The exceptions listed include development such as new buildings for agriculture and forestry, and the redevelopment of previously developed land where it would not have a greater subject to the impact on the openness of the Green Belt, as set out by national planning policy”.

Housing

I object to all policies based on your housing figures, which I believe are too high. I further object to a Plan which requires 70% of housing to be built on the Green Belt. Everything possible must be done to put as much of the housing as possible on urban brownfield land and I object to your policies which do not do this (Policies H1,H2). This will also help Guildford town centre which should be revitalised with more town centre housing than is proposed as shops shut with the move to internet shopping. (Objection to policy E7, E8).

Consequently I object to the in-setting of any villages from the Green Belt. I have seen no evidence of the ‘exceptional circumstances’ required by National Planning Policy for removing any of these villages from the Green Belt. Government policy is clear that housing needs is not sufficient to be presented as an exceptional circumstance.

I object to the Local Plan because we Locals have already made it clear through the ballot box that development on the green belt and over our villages is not wanted. I have not met anybody, other than above mentioned councillors, who supports the Local Plan.

I object to the building on any of the Borough’s greenbelt. It was put in place for good reason. There are no special reasons for destroying it. This in itself should be enough to reject substantial parts of the Local Plan.

- Greenbelt land should not be built on as promised by the government. It should stay as the natural buffer between town and countryside, which is the reason it was created.

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford’s urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs and population center.

I object to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

Whatever happened to the Green Belt - I fail to understand why the above referenced developments are being given serious consideration given the protection that I had understood to be provided by the "green belt" concept. Proceeding with the above developments on the scale currently envisaged can only lead to the increased "sub-urbanisation" of the area and the loss of the village character of the Horsleys and the surrounding area.

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt (Policy P2) together with the proposed development sites at Wisley Airfield and Garlick's Arch. I understand there have to be exceptional circumstances for these areas to be removed as required by National Planning Policy. We are providing large areas of countryside where people can walk and ride cycles and horses and generally enjoy the open air. Why cannot existing brownfield sites such as the one at Burnt Common which was removed from the original plan, be used instead of Green Belt?

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2017) and in particular to the changes affecting Ripley and Send, which make the Plan even worse than the 2016 proposals.

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23) which we need in the countryside. No extra payments from developers will ensure the Council provides the necessary number.

I object to removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15), this is only a small collection of local businesses and there are no exceptional circumstances as required by the NPPF.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to altering the green belt boundaries. Para 83 NPPF states green belt boundaries can only be altered in exceptional circumstances and where there is local support. Meeting the housing need is not exceptional circumstances. This has recently been reiterated by Central Government. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I am a Guildford Borough Council resident, living in the Normandy/Flexford area. I have some strong objections to the Guildford Borough Council (GBC) Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites (2017) (Reg 19) including changes made since the last draft.

I strongly object to the changes in policy P2. Green Belt is, amongst other things, vital to protecting our natural countryside from urban sprawl, and should not be removed from areas without proper evidence to support “exceptional circumstances” (as per National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) para. 89). To suggest in the proposed changes that new areas - Normandy settlement, Flexford settlement and Walden Cottages - be inset from the Green Belt is in fact completely contradictory to the evidence that exists:-

- Past planning appeals APP/Y3615/W/15/3002308, APP/Y2615/A/10/2140630 and APP/Y3615/A/10/2131590 contained such evidence that these areas contribute to the openness of the Green Belt.
- The Sustainability Appraisal para. 10.4.7 contains evidence that the agricultural land affects the ‘openness’, is of Best and most Versatile (BMV) quality and contributes to the local rural economy.

The applicable land at Flexford and Normandy is also visible from the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB), so the loss of this area, and thus the countryside, by insetting it in the Green Belt would affect the views into...
and from the AONB.
I am concerned and object to the statement in the submission Local Plan under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) that Normandy, Flexford and 12 other villages are “now inset from the Green Belt”. This is extremely inaccurate, as the proposed changes are just that, proposals only, with no decision having been made to this end and therefore these areas still remain within the Green Belt.

There is no percentage of loss of land in the Green Belt which would be considered acceptable as stated in the NPPF or elsewhere. It is concerning that the plan claims to lose only 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt, when in fact if measuring this accurately it would be closer to 7% when one considers all of the insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions.

The removal of green belt protection from the prison site meaning that it is likely to come forward for housing development. The nearest feasible access to the A3 is at the A247 junction.

The Plan states: “4.3.16 National planning policy requires that Green Belt boundaries are only amended in exceptional circumstances and that this must be undertaken as part of the Local Plan process. We consider that exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development.”

The Plan fails to demonstrate that exceptional circumstances exist for each site that is to be taken from the green belt. The wording implies that it is legitimate to have a blanket change to green belt boundaries to facilitate development. That is not in accord with the NPPF.

If the Council fails to apply Green Belt protection or constrain expansion to reflect widespread, legitimate environmental and transport constraints, the 2017 Plan will cause harm to the qualities that underpin the economic success of Guildford and aggravate congestion.

Allocating too much land for development in the 2017 Plan will also result in Guildford being required to provide homes for Woking on our Green Belt which is folly given the constraints in Guildford, a gap town with constricted roads set in the Surrey Hills AONB.

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I
I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

We support the Council’s approach in principle to the most suitable strategy to accommodate future housing development. As part of that strategy land currently within the Green Belt has been assessed as to whether it represents the most suitable option for future development in accordance with national guidance.

The objectors own some 9.8 hectares of land at Ripley Lane, West Horsley (plan attached). This site lies within the Green Belt but has been previously assessed within the Council’s Green Belt Study as providing: - “opportunities to accommodate appropriate development without compromising the purposes of the Green Belt.”

The site was identified particularly as it was: - “generally contained by local undulations, hedgerows and railway infrastructure”

Accordingly, the site was allocated for residential development under Policy 73 of the draft Local Plan. However, the allocation was subsequently deleted in subsequent versions of the Local Plan. It is unclear why the draft allocation was deleted particularly when the site was assessed as being suitable for release and allocation.

Sensitivity Analysis of Sites in the Green Belt

The original Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study was produced in 2013 but during the subsequent period was amended several times. The resulting ‘suite’ of documents is therefore an amalgamation of different approaches to the topic.

The core of the methodology is the four states of analyses that result in a conclusion about specific sites within the Green Belt as to their appropriateness for development. Stage 1 identifies the land parcels that are the basis of the analyses, Stage 2 assesses the degree to which each parcel contributes to the mandatory purposes of the Green Belt, Stage 3 assesses the sustainability credentials of the land parcels and Stage 4 assesses their environmental capacity. Firstly, it is important to note that the ‘parcels’ are not necessarily ‘proposed sites for allocation’. So for example, four of the West Horsley proposed allocations falls within one parcel, whilst Ripley Lane alone falls within a difference parcel.

The parcels are not arbitrarily drawn and use existing landscape features to define their boundaries. However, notwithstanding this, some ‘rules’ have been applied: -

- The criteria for establishing the land parcels included the following parameters:
  - Land parcels should follow identifiable landscape features
  - Land parcels should not cross motorways, A roads or railway infrastructure
  - Land parcels should only cross railway lines and rivers at bridges
  - Land parcels should not cross zone boundaries

These ‘rules’ are a subjective assessment of where a boundary should lie. The red lines shown on the plans define the parcel boundaries. The Ripley Lane site lies within the defined parcel D6 but having examined this against the ‘rules’ used the Ripley Lane site could just as easily have fallen within parcels D5 (using the edge of settlement hedgerow boundary rather than Ripley Lane tree/hedgerow feature) or C13 (using the ability of parcels to cross a railway line at a bridge).

The importance of defining a parcel boundary is revealed when one examines the Stage 2 analysis. This looks to each parcel to decide whether it fulfils one or more of the relevant purposes of the Green Belt. These purposes are defined in national guidance as: -

1. To check unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas
2. To prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another
3. To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
4. To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns
Each site is then scored 0 to 4 where 0 is where the parcel doesn’t fulfil that purpose and 1 is where it does. Therefore any one site could have a score of 0, 1, 2, 3, or 4. The stated methodology is that sites which score 3 or 4 means that the parcel should remain in the Green Belt. So, in the case of parcel C13 where the four other West Horsley sites are located, this is scored 2. To obtain this score the conclusion reached by the study is that it checks the northward sprawl of West Horsley (score 1), it assists in safeguarding the countryside from sprawl (score 1), it does not help to prevent neighbouring settlements from merging (score 0) and is not need to preserve the setting of a historic town (score 0). Hence why these four sites remain under consideration at this stage.

However, in the case of parcel D6, where the Ripley Lane site is located, all four of these purposes are scored 1, to a total of 4. Hence this is why the site is deemed to be in a sensitive Green Belt location and is so unsuitable for development. This is essentially different to the previous analysis that concluded that the site could be removed from the Green Belt.

In our opinion these analyses are flawed. In respect of the Ripley Lane site, it could only be considered a site that threatens unrestricted sprawl if there were no clear physical boundaries to such a spread. The site is bounded by the railway line on one side (already accepted in the methodology as a substantial boundary) and by residential development on two sides. The fourth side is bounded by a substantial semi woodland/hedgerow boundary and by Ripley Lane itself. At the very least the score of 1 is debatable.

The site clearly has no function in contributing to the merger of settlements. Parcel D6 was clearly intended to identify the open greenbelt space between the West and East Horsley, but the Ripley Lane site is on the western side of West Horsley. The conclusion about it causing a merger between settlements is clearly wrong and should not have been included as scoring 1 as happened to the rest of the parcel.

The assessment parcel D6 and thus Ripley Lane is correctly assessed as a site which assists insafeguarding the countryside from encroachment and so is properly scored as 1.

The assessment that parcel D6 assists in safeguarding the setting of the East and West Horsley Conservation Areas is a misinterpretation of the national guidance. The proper consideration is the ‘setting and special character of historic towns’, not individual Conservation Areas (the nearest) is severely restricted due to the vegetation around Pincott Farm. The conclusion that it preserves the setting of a historic town, even of a Conservation Area is totally unpersuasive and this assessment can be argued to score 0.

In addition, the scoring of parcel C13 looks odd in context. It scored an overall 2 but it is unclear why two of the sites (Site Ref A39 and A41) do not have a similar role to play in avoiding neighbouring sites from merging to that land which is within parcel D6 to the south beyond the railway line. Therefore why these two sites don’t score 3 instead of 2 and so taking them outside the area to be considered for development. It is another example of how the assessment parcels do not take account of the Green Belt sensitivity differences between parts of the parcel.

In conclusion, of the sites proposed for allocation at West Horsley in earlier drafts of the Plan, Ripley Lane had been excluded from the new draft Plan on the ground of a flawed Green Belt analysis.

Assessing the Settlement Boundary for ‘Inset Village’ Status

Volume IV of the Green Belt study deals with the methodology used in defining the ‘Inset village’ status for the purpose of excluding West Horsley from the Green Belt. It is essentially about defining an appropriate settlement boundary.

The assessment is a staged process; first identifying the type of development that exists and then the extent of the village as perceived to be apparent in the Green Belt. Given the topography and close proximity of the Ripley Lane site to the village, it is not surprising that the site lies within the village envelope identified on the assessment plan.

The assessment then identifies strong linear features such as roads and hedgerows and it is here that the subjective assessment notes the strength of the Ripley Lane feature and that of the fence line behind the properties along Silkworm lane. This formed the basis of the line drawn around West Horsley which excluded the Ripley Lane site. We are firmly of the view that this assessment is flawed for it failed to take account of the strong semi-woodland and hedgerow along the edge of the site at Ripley Lane which could be reasonably considered as a stronger feature than that chosen, lying behind the properties at Silkworm Lane. It is interesting to note that only a fence boundary defines the land owned by John Clark which is therefore contained within the village boundary for inset purposes thus releasing that land from the Green Belt designation.
The Sustainability ‘Credentials’ of Sites

It is unusual for a Green Belt Study to stray into the role of undertaking sustainability analyses of specific proposed sites, but this is contained within Volume III of the suite of documents and is part of the methodology used. The title of the document identifies the method used ‘Sustainability Walking distance Plans for Land Surrounding the Villages’. The study identifies the services available locally (rail stations, shops, schools, healthcare, SANGs, amenity spaces, community hall) and then works out how far it is to walk to them.

What this analysis concludes is that of the sites proposed within West Horsley, Ripley Lane does perform poorly in relation to others proposed for allocation. However, this is unsurprising given the criteria used and the obvious fact that it is East Horsley that contains the great majority of the services available in the area.

However, whilst the analysis is a complex methodology and comprehensively applied, the analysis is spread over several documents and it is not obvious what influence it had in the decision to remove Ripley Lane from consideration as an allocation. Neither is it clear from what has been published why ‘walking distances’ was the only sustainability criteria used. A Sustainability Analysis of Sites, as set out in the Council’s Sustainability Report of the Plan, is more comprehensive in its range of topics used and we would expect this document to form the basis of the criteria to be used on specific sites and that it would be more than one criterion.

The Ripley Lane site has been treated unfairly in the emerging Local Plan and that it should be reinstated as an allocation.

Recommendation

Delete the Ripley Lane site from the Green Belt and allocate for residential development.

1.66 Our Client continues to fully support the proposal to expand village settlement boundaries and inset specific villages from the Green Belt, including Ripley. This is essential to ensure that the Council maximise the opportunities for housing delivery, particularly in the earlier years of the Local Plan.

1.67 However, the inclusion of Ripley as a settlement where only ‘Limited Infilling within the identified settlement boundaries’ is to be permitted is confusing and could conflict with the intention to inset the majority of the village from the Green Belt.

PARTIALLY SUPPORT POLICY - The policy needs to be clarified to confirm that limited infilling in Ripley will apply only to those areas NOT inset from the Green Belt.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

We object to the changes to Policy P2 because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 objections made to the 2016 plan.
We object to the new para (1) “The Metropolitan Green Belt will continue to be protected as shown designated on the Policies Map, against inappropriate development.

In accordance with national planning policy, the construction of new development will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated.” The words “as shown designated on the Policies Map” should be deleted. The Policies Map has effectively ignored huge areas of Green Belt protection and the new para (1) is therefore a sham.

We object to the proposed change that Send Business Park should be inset from the Green Belt due to the fact that: It is effectively a non-conforming user in an area of beautiful countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation It has restricted access along Tannery Lane It should not be given the opportunity for further expansion or development Policy P2 still completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it has been around for a long time and it needs to be permanently protected. It was actually established in a local act of parliament in Guildford under the London Home Counties (Green Belt) Act 1938 and subsequently in the 1944 Greater London Plan to contain the outward sprawl of London. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were later defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). The Metropolitan Green Belt is an exemplar of good planning and the envy of planners throughout the world. Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when inserting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. No-one argues that we should sell 1.6% of the Crown jewels in order to build houses.

We object to the statement in the Draft Local Plan under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) which claims that 14 villages are “now inset from the Green Belt”. This statement is untrue as GBC is proposing to “inset” these village. No decision has been made by an Inspector, therefore the villages remain in the Green Belt. We object to the changed “insetting” of 15 villages (including Ripley) from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. We are deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages (including Send) and that infilling is also... proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. This is completely unplanned and unmeasured development outside of the OAN. Many Guildford villages are “leggy” in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell bent on self-defeat. Many of the local village should not be removed from the Green Belt. Send, for example, provides an important Green Belt buffer between Woking and Guildford. The village and the countryside behind the A247 should all be protected.

We object to three particularly vulnerable areas of high quality amenity land being taken out of the Green Belt at Send which include:
- The land behind the schools including playing fields and woodland.
- The land to the right of Cartbridge by the River Wey Navigation up to the new boundary fence with Vision Engineering.
- Land to the left of Cartbridge going up to the old depot on the Wey Navigation.

We support the Council’s Green Belt strategy as set out within Policy P2 and the text which supports the policy. In particular, we support the intention to inset certain villages from the Green Belt, including Send Marsh/Burnt Common, as set out at paragraph 4.3.13 and illustrated on the updated Proposals Map accompanying the Local Plan. This approach is clearly justified by the Council’s evidence base, including Volume 4 of the Green Belt and Countryside Study, which concluded that it would be appropriate to inset Send Marsh and Burntcommon within the Green Belt due to the high density and distribution of existing development and the presence of recognisable and defensible boundaries. In this regard, we consider the proposed removal of the village (including the proposed allocation at Garlick’s Arch – Sites A43 & 43a) to be entirely justified and compliant with national policy set out at paragraph 86 of the NPPF, and therefore sound in accordance with the soundness tests at paragraph 182 of the NPPF.

We also strongly support the indication at paragraph 4.3.16 that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist (as required by paragraph 83 of the NPPF) to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to meet the Borough’s development needs and promote sustainable patterns of development. We note that the 2015 West Surrey SHMA identifies a very significant housing need for Guildford of 693 dwellings per annum, which compares to a previous requirement under the revoked South East Plan of just 422 dwellings per annum. Meanwhile the 2016 Guildford Borough Land Availability Assessment demonstrates that only a very limited number of the new dwellings required to meet the Borough’s needs can be delivered in existing urban areas outside the Green Belt, as 79% of the Borough is designated as Green Belt. The various volumes of the Council’s Green Belt and Countryside Study assess a number of areas where the existing Green Belt boundaries can be satisfactorily adjusted to assist in meeting this significant need.

The NPPF places a much greater emphasis on seeking to meet objectively assessed needs than previous national policy, and there are clearly a number of significant negative socio-economic consequences that result from a failure to meet housing needs. These include reducing access to housing, increasing inequality and increasing house market volatility1.
One of the most significant impacts of a lack of housing supply is to reduce affordability, thereby increasing the numbers of concealed households and increasing the proportion of income required to rent2. In this context, there is a clear imperative to adjust Green Belt boundaries where the Council’s Green Belt assessment work indicates such an amendment would be justifiable, and as such we consider that exceptional circumstances exist in the instance of Guildford Borough to justify the alterations to the Green Belt boundaries currently proposed. We therefore consider that the Council’s proposed Green Belt strategy is sound in this regard, as it is consistent with national policy, justified in relation to the evidence base, and positively prepared in terms of seeking to meet objectively assessed needs.

The Pyrford Green Belt Action Group objects to the Guildford Borough Council Local Plan. The massive development proposals in the Guildford Borough Council Plan do not just affect Guildford they affect the whole of Surrey, including Pyrford, and can not be viewed from Guildford Borough’s perspective alone.

Pyrford Green Belt Action Group objects to development on the Green Belt.

1.1 We object to the insetting of 14 villages from the Green Belt in Guildford, and the proposal that infilling is acceptable within a further 12 villages within the Green Belt. We are concerned that “infilling” is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages.
1.2 We object to the proposals to inset Pyrford’s neighbouring Guildford villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt. The Green Belt land surrounding these villages fulfils clear green belt purposes as laid down by the National Planning Policy Framework. Development in Send and Ripley would have a direct and detrimental effect on the open spaces and waterways of Pyrford, causing pollution and damage to natural habitats.

I object to all development in the Green Belt.

The Green Belt has a vital role to play in providing clean air, fresh water and local food - and in the mitigation of climate... change. The Green Belt is not just for humans, it is also home to wildlife. There is a responsibility to maintain and enhance ecosystem assets for future generations. Once the Green Belt is built over, it is gone for forever. Guildford does not “own” the Green Belt, it merely has responsibility for it’s care.

Exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop Greenbelt yet despite the weight of public opinion against weakening of this policy, 70% of new housing development will be in the countryside, of which, 58% will be in Greenbelt. By definition, this is not an exception and no attempt is made to demonstrate exceptional circumstances, in line with the requirements of the NPPF. Insetting villages is of concern since restrictions within the settlement boundary raises concerns over loss of character. The Rural Economic Strategy covered in 4.51a, promoting affordable homes everywhere in the countryside including the AONB as a main aim, is a mechanism for promoting overdevelopment in our countryside. It has not been subject to full public consultation and is based on data, which is not up-to-date.

Three major strategic sites – Blackwell Farm, Wisley Airfield and Gosden Hill Farm – are in the Green Belt. Previous consultations show that, in line with the NPPF, the public would prefer to use brownfield land in the urban area first.

1. Policy P2, P3, E5 and Sites: Green Belt

I OBJECT to those features of the latest draft Plan which, taken together, amount to a pre-determined attack on the Green Belt that conflicts with the Government’s policy commitment to sustainable development. These include:

- The proposal to locate 70% of new housing in the countryside and 58% in the Green Belt. This fails the test of common sense and proportionality, whereby any reasonable person might expect development to be concentrated in areas with existing infrastructure and facilities, and for each local community to bear a fair burden of disruptive development roughly according to its size.
- The location of three major strategic sites in the Green Belt: Blackwell Farm, Three Farms Meadow (so-called Wisley airfield) and Gosden Hill Farm. The failure to explain why this is necessary is unsound.
- The glaring absence of any “exceptional circumstance” justification, as required by the NPPF.
- The “insetting” of most of the borough’s rural villages from the Green Belt, threatening an irreversible loss of character amounting to a suburbanisation of much of the borough. Guildford would merge with Woking and an almost unbroken corridor of development would be created from Cobham to Guildford. Policy P2 misleadingly suggests that 14 villages “are now inset from the Green Belt”, creating an air of fait accompli. The draft Plan contains no reasoned arguments why this insetting has to be so extensive.
- Radical and arbitrary “infilling” and extensions of settlement boundaries (e.g. in rural West Horsley) prejudicing future planning decisions in favour of development.
• The absence of any systematic attempt in the draft Plan to mitigate damage to the Green Belt by auditing, cataloguing and prioritising the development of urban brownfield sites, many of which the Council already own. This is contrary to national policy and the Council’s own declared policy.
• The abuse of the “affordable” homes mechanism in the Rural Economic Strategy (para. 4.51a) to promote disproportionate development in the countryside, including the AONB. This has been sneaked in without proper public consultation and is based on out-of-date data.
• The failure to acknowledge the key part Metropolitan Green Belt development restrictions have historically played in incentivising urban regeneration (most spectacularly in central London) and its potential make-or-break role in the modernisation and revival of Guildford town centre.
• The lack of any concession to the sheer weight of tens of thousands of previous public objections to Green Belt over development.

I sincerely hope that my objections will be sympathetically considered and that common sense prevails. Once the Green Belt has been lost and our beautiful villages spoilt there is no turning back.

The infrastructure of our villages is not able to support a substantial increase in population and traffic. The houses will not be affordable because in this area nothing is affordable. This can be seen by the 5 bedroom executive homes that are built on any bit of land that does become available. The only people who will benefit from these plans are those who will be involved in the building, thereby increasing their bank balances.

Although GBC have added some additional verbiage aimed at protecting villages re infilling, I do not feel this goes far enough. Development in the villages should be appropriate in scale and have no unacceptable effect on the occupants of existing buildings. This has not always been the case with previous infilling developments which have been accepted in Jacobs Well. I also feel that the data source, with regards monitoring, should also be planning applications, not just planning appeals.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt which both inappropriate and unacceptable

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions - this road is already quite dangerous as it is single track in a number of places
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

We object to Green Belt Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15, to inset Send Business Park as it is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the Way Navigation which is so popular with locals and tourists alike. There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions and further expansion or development at this location is inappropriate.

We would like to keep Send as a village where people can thrive and live together without a large influx of further residents and businesses, which is the only reason we moved away from our previous home near Heathrow Airport. We are situated on Send Barns Lane and there is already a high volume of traffic passing our door which we had not anticipated, and we do not want further traffic re-directed along this route either as a short cut from the A3 or to be carrying more heavy lorries and trucks to access and serve businesses in this very small village.

Please do not allow these Local Plans to go through.

Policy 2, Paragraph 4.3.15 Removal of Send Business Park from the Green Belt. As already stated in the above objection, Tannery Lane is a narrow winding road completely unsuited to large HGVs. Already they cause considerable traffic problems and any increase in their number along this road will bring traffic to a standstill both in Tannery Lane and at its junction with the A247. The other exit from Tannery Lane is equally difficult and again unsuited to heavy traffic.

In conclusion, Send residents objected strongly to the previous version of the local plan. Despite this, the load on Send has increased. One has to wonder why Guildford Borough Council should single Send out for such over development when there are vacant brown field sites in Guildford and at Slyfield. No changes are proposed to the roads, schools, medical facilities or other essential infrastructure and the result will mean that Send becomes an overdeveloped suburb of Guildford with congested roads and traffic at a standstill pumping fumes into the air and damaging children's lungs. Is this really what they want?

For a plan to be sound it has to be consistent with national planning policy. However we disagree that policy P2 and its lower case policy explanation at paragraph 4.3.18 fully reflects green belt policy guidance in paragraph 89 of the NPPF.

We act on behalf of Sandiacre Nurseries a local wholesale horticultural grower and have submitted a planning application for a glasshouse development in Guildford Borough in the green belt which is under consideration and pending a decision.

Adopted local plan policy RE2 on green belt does not properly reflect guidance in the NPPF. New wording has therefore been proposed in local plan policy P2 to reflect the NPPF but in our view this new wording still requires amendment.

Paragraph 89 of the NPPF lists 6 categories of development which are not inappropriate development in the green belt. We accept draft Policy P2 (2) states that proposals will be permitted where they are consistent with the exceptions listed in national planning policy but the policy and its reasoned justification at paragraph 4.3.18 does not recognise the NPPF guidance which has no requirement in the agriculture and forestry building exception to demonstrate that the building has to preserve the openness of the green belt and is not conflict with the purposes of including land within it.

In short, the category of exception in paragraph 89 of the NPPF for agricultural and forestry buildings is entirely unqualified regardless of size or location and is not subject to any proviso or limit as to the size of the building or its impact on openness as the other 5 categories are or the list of other forms of development in paragraph 90 are.

Under NPPF policy the physical presence of an agricultural building in the green belt should not therefore in itself be regarded as harmful to its openness or to the purposes of including land in the green belt. This has not however been clearly expressed in paragraph 4.3.18 which states that ‘…. The exceptions listed include development such as new buildings for agriculture and forestry, and the redevelopment of previously developed land subject to the impact on the openness of the green belt’.
What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

In our view, the reasoned justification to policy P2 in paragraph 4.3.18 should therefore be revised as follows:

‘Whilst most forms of development are considered inappropriate in the green belt, national planning policy lists certain exceptions which are not inappropriate. These are set out in paragraphs 89 and 90 of the national planning policy framework. The exceptions listed include development such as new buildings for agriculture and forestry which are entirely unqualified in terms of size of building, location or impact on openness and certain other forms of development including the redevelopment of previously developed land subject to their impact on the openness of the green belt’.

Please refer to full Representations attached including an independent LVIA prepared by Enplan which demonstrates that Land at Pond Farm and Land South of New Pond Road (Site No. 80) does not contribute to the purposes of including land within the Green Belt due to the Promotion Site's defensible boundaries (including a busy road) and being more closely associated to the urban form of the settlement. I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43). The Green belt offers a number of benefits for both urban and rural population and was designed to protect that land for the foreseeable future. The policy of protecting green space near towns and cities has a big impact on the shape and nature of the places we live in and the protection should not be taken away. By preventing urban sprawl, we preserve the character of our rural communities and historic towns and villages and prevent towns from merging into one another. There is also an argument that removing land from the Green Belt and allowing developers to build on this land you do not achieve proper development of run down or derelict land. (consider the removal of A4 brownfield site from the Plan - see objection below Only 13% of England is currently green belt so to erode this small percentage is dangerous.

After the previous draft of this plan the government issued a housing white paper (HWP) clarifying that green belt areas must be more strongly protected. This matter was alerted to the council by myself (and doubtless others). Unfortunately however the council decided to disregard this white paper (as it boasted to a public broadcast meeting) and has issued this revised draft. This amended draft indeed does ignore the HWP, which makes it inevitable that the plan will be declared unsound at review as GBC must be considered to have ignored this ‘material consideration’.

Furthermore as the government has said it will provide further guidance on the matter of setting ‘Objective Assessment’s of Need’ this Autumn and as such the timing of this exercise is completely dumbfounding.

In particular the HWP directed the council to plan for the maximum use of higher density urban development, brownfield regeneration and transport hub integration and to make all efforts to exhaust these options before considering others. The council has done none of these things – au contraire it seems to have done the opposite. As a starting point the council... must finally make an up to date inventory of its housing stock and the likely availability of windfall, brownfield, transport and urban development sites, and apply maximised development density assumptions, before it can make a valid plan. The council in having done none of these things is failing in its duty.

Rather than properly examining the potential of town centres the council in this plan has decreed that the ‘tide cannot come in’. It has ignored the impact of the Internet and even allocated town centre space for additional retailing. Rather than face the prospect of boarded up shops this space would be much better used for residential development. The footfall this would generate may even ‘save’ these town centres. To confirm this ‘Canute’ fear the Carter Jonas study update 2017 from which the plan was developed even includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration!

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy P2
In reference to the revised Policy P2 Green Belt

I make the following objections:

- I object to the changes to Policy P2 because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 comments made to the 2016 plan.
- I object to the new para (1) “The Metropolitan Green Belt will continue to be protected as shown designated on the Policies Map, against inappropriate development. In accordance with national planning policy, the construction of new development will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated.” The words “as shown designated on the Policies Map” should be deleted. The Policies Map has effectively ignored huge areas of Green Belt protection and the new para (1) is therefore a sham.
- I object to the proposed change that Normandy settlement, Flexford settlement and Walden Cottages should be inset from the Green Belt due to the fact that:
  - There is evidence in past planning appeals APP/Y3615/W/15/3002308, APP/Y3615/A/10/ 2140630 and APP/Y3615/A/10/ 2131590 that the land here contributes to the “openness” of the Green Belt
  - There is evidence in the Sustainability Appraisal para 10.4.7 that the agricultural land between the settlements is of BMV quality, exhibits ‘openness’ and contributes to the rural economy
  - The land in and around the settlements of Normandy and Flexford contributes to views into and from the Surrey Hills AONB (Hog’s Back)
- Policy P2 fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it needs to be permanently protected. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.
- Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital.
• It is incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of land that may be removed from the Green Belt.

• I object to the statement in the submission Local Plan under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) which claims that Normandy, Flexford and a further list of 12 villages are “now inset from the Green Belt”. This statement is untrue as GBC is proposing to “inset” these villages. No decision has been made by an Inspector, therefore the villages remain in the Green Belt.

• I object to the changed “insetting” of 15 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages.

• I am concerned that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. This is completely unplanned and unmeasured development outside the OAN.

• Many Guildford villages are elongated in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? (No), is Sound? (No), is Legally Compliant? (No)

The Spatial Vision (following paragraph 3.1) and Local Plan Policies S2 and P2, as amended, are not sound.

The Spatial Vision, as amended, does not include a sufficient number and variety of housing allocations to meet the identified growth needs of the Borough. The reliance on a limited number of strategic greenfield sites with substantial infrastructure requirements results in shortages of housing land supply in the early years of the plan and uncertainties about housing delivery in the later years of the plan. In particular, the Council has not included sufficient land in sustainable locations on the edges of the urban areas, in locations that would entail modifications to the inner boundaries of the Green Belt, such as Tanglely Place Farm, Worplesdon.

The proposed phasing of housing supply in Policy S2 (spatial development strategy and annual housing targets), as amended, is not justified and does not meet the objectively-assessed need for housing consistently throughout the plan period. It is clear that there would not be a five-year supply of housing on adoption of the plan and there are also doubts about whether housing targets will be met later, because of restrictions on the release of housing land imposed by Green Belt Policy (P2) and the reliance of the spatial development strategy on specific infrastructure improvements.

Policy P2 and the related maps of Green Belt boundaries, as amended, are not sound as they are based on a review of Green Belt boundaries that does not comply with paragraphs 84 and 85 of the National Planning Policy Framework. In particular, insufficient weight has been given to the need to promote sustainable patterns of development and to the consistency of the policy with meeting identified requirements for sustainable development.

Opportunities for sustainable development for housing and other uses associated within the edges of the main urban areas and other settlements have been overlooked because of an inappropriate approach to review of the Green Belt, based on the boundaries of arbitrary land parcels.
The review of Green Belt in the area of Tangley Place Farm, Worplesdon, exemplifies these shortcomings which are explained in detail in the Tangley Place Concept Statement that forms part of this submission. In this area, Green Belt boundaries should be reviewed, as described in the report, to accommodate a mix of housing and open space uses (including SANG and other open space uses) within revised Green Belt boundaries that reflect physical features that are readily recognisable and likely to be permanent.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Document:  Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy P2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( No ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

We consider Guildford Borough Council’s revised Proposed Submission Local Plan to be unsound because it is not consistent with National Policy, sustainable or justified.

We strongly object to proposals to release Green Belt land on the following grounds:

- The Green Belt sites proposed for development still meet the requirements as set out in the paragraphs on Green Belt purposes in the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) and their removal would compromise the integrity of the London Metropolitan Green Belt.
- Notwithstanding the changes made to the Local Plan since the 2016 consultation, proposals to release large areas of Green Belt for development are inconsistent with the NPPF and with stated Government policy, as stated by the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government.

The following points outline the reasons why we consider the Proposed Submission Local plan to be unsound and relate to the following policies:

- A25: Gosden Hill Farm
- A26: Blackwell Farm
- A35: Former Wisley Airfield
- A43: Garlick Arch
- A43a: Land for new north facing slip roads to/from A3 at Send Marsh/ Burnt Common
- E4: Surrey Research Park
- H2: Affordable Homes
- P2: Green Belt

1. The plan is inconsistent with the NPPF.

1.1 Guildford Borough Council has still failed to prove that the benefit of releasing land within the Metropolitan Green Belt area outweighs the harm. Notwithstanding the changes made to the revised plan, it is quite clear that the harm of removing Green Belt land which strongly meets Green Belt criteria in paragraph 80 of the NPPF considerably outweighs any benefits. Guildford Borough Council has failed to take account of the significant harm of releasing Green Belt for development, despite there being a clear environmental and social impact for both the residents of Guildford Borough Council and neighbouring authorities.
Paragraph 44 of The Planning Practice Guidance states that:

‘The Framework is clear that local planning authorities should, through their Local Plans, meet objectively assessed needs unless any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in the Framework taken as a whole, or specific policies ... Such policies include ... land designated as Green Belt’.

- 1.2 Proposed Green Belt development undermines the Green Belt’s purposes, in particular, checking unrestricted urban sprawl, preventing the merger of neighbouring towns and assisting urban regeneration.

Guildford Borough Council’s revised Proposed Submission Local Plan proposes to build in excess of 7000 homes on Green Belt land, approximately 58% of its total housing target. The proposed urban extensions at Blackwell Farm (Policy A26) and Gosden Hill Farm (Policy A25) are on sites particularly vital to prevent urban sprawl and are of strategic importance to the Metropolitan Green Belt in its entirety. These sites also include high grade agricultural land as well as land significant for recreation which contributes to Surrey’s iconic landscape including Hogs Back.

- Gosden Hill Farm (Policy A25)
  This site performs all the functions of the Green Belt but particularly prevents the merger of neighbouring towns by separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Notwithstanding the changes in the revised plan, the proposals would cause the coalescence of the two towns. Along with the proposal for on-slip and offslips roads at Garlick’s Arch (policy A43a ), this would lead to continuous development from Send to Guildford.
- Blackwell Farm (Policy A26)
  Blackwell Farm is of strategic importance for the whole of the Metropolitan Green Belt. It performs all five functions of Green Belt, and fulfils purposes 1, 3 and 5 very strongly. It clearly prevents urban sprawl to the West of Guildford and protects the countryside (including AONB) from incursion. Furthermore, the revised plan disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of The site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review.
- Land at former Wisley Airfield (Policy A35)
  This land plays a significant role in curtailing urban sprawl. In rejecting previous planning applications on this site, Guildford Borough Council Planning Officers themselves stated that development would be inappropriate due to the impact on the openness of the land.

The Proposed Submission Local Plan is unsustainable

2.1. Focusing housing development on Green Belt land makes the Local Plan’s affordable Housing Policy unachievable.

The changes in policy H2 Affordable Homes do not go far enough to address affordable or social housing need. By continuing to concentrate housing development on Green Belt rather than urban sites, the revised Proposed Submission Local Plan renders the 40% affordable target stated in the Local Plan’s Affordable Homes Policy unachievable.

As mentioned in 3.2 below, the fact that Guildford Borough Council has failed to set higher densities for the urban area and has deleted all reference to “density for development” in its revised Local Plan means that the plan is out of step with current policy direction and is therefore unsustainable.

2.2 Development at Garlick Arch (Policy A43) would lead to the loss of rural employment

Notwithstanding the changes made in the revised plan, Policy A43 does not mitigate the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over nine years.
2.3. Development on Green Belt sites will increase traffic congestion, significantly impact on air quality and lead to flooding.

The development proposed on Green Belt sites is dependent on large, uncommitted road building schemes; will have a detrimental impact on traffic volume and associated air quality as well as increasing flood risk.

- Gosden Hill Farm (Policy A25)
  The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution by:
  - Generating approximately 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the already heavily congested road network;
  - The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247, channelling thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon;
  - The proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common which would generate even larger volumes of on the A247 through Send and West Clandon.

- Blackwell Farm (Policy A26) and Surrey Research Park (Policy E4)
  The development will heighten the risk of flooding and the volume of traffic will add to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits for Nitrogen Dioxide as a result of:
  - Damaging Hogs Back’s function as a soak away for surface rainwater - development on Blackwell Farms slopes will cause water to travel north, adding to existing flooding in Wood Street Village, Fairlands and Whitmore Common;
  - Directing more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4] which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas;
  - ignoring independent expert traffic studies which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network, questioning the viability of the development;
  - removing Guildford’s “green lung” on the slopes of the Hogs Back. In the UK, the prevailing winds are from the West. The open farmland to the west of Guildford allows clean air to be blown into the town. If this area is urbanised, CO2 emissions and other pollutants will replace this clean air.

- Land at former Wisley Airfield (Policy A35)
  This development would cause further harm to air quality both onsite and in the Cobham Air Quality Management Area due to the proximity to the severely congested A3/ M25 junction and Ripley village and roundabouts.

3. The Proposed Submission Local Plan is unjustified.

3.1. Green Belt should have been considered as a constraint when setting housing targets but, notwithstanding the changes made since the 2016 consultation, this has not happened.

The revised Proposed Submission Local Plan is not compliant with national policy as, notwithstanding the changes made since the 2016 consultation, it still does not take sufficient account of Green Belt constraints on development. The reduction in the housing target by just 1,434 from 13,860 to 12,426 means that the changes do not sufficiently take account of constraint. This is in direct contrast to the Secretary of State’s 2016 statement that Green Belt should be ‘absolutely sacrosanct’.

Paragraph 45 of the Planning Practice Guidance clearly states that councils should take account of policies such as the Green Belt which indicate development should be restricted.

"Once need has been assessed, the local planning authority should prepare a Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment to establish realistic assumptions about the availability, suitability and the likely economic viability of land to meet the identified need for housing over the plan period, and in so doing take account of any constraints such as Green..."
Belt, which indicate that development should be restricted and which may restrain the ability of an authority to meet its need."

The government has also repeatedly made it clear that demand for housing is unlikely to be accepted as the exceptional circumstances needed to justify changing Green Belt boundaries for example in ministers’ clarifications in letters to MPs, referring directly to the Local Plan preparation process: “we have been repeatedly clear that demand for housing alone will not change green belt boundaries” [Letter from Brandon Lewis to MPs 7 June 2016]. Guildford Borough Council is clearly justifying the release of Green Belt by arguing it is needed for housing, however as mentioned in 2.1, this is unsustainable in providing the housing needed and thus cannot warrant exceptional circumstances.

3.2 Local Plan revisions do not taken account of the policy intentions set out in the Housing White Paper, published following the original Regulation 19 consultation.

The Housing White Paper, published after the previous Regulation 19 consultation, made it explicit that Local Authorities must look at ALL alternatives before releasing Green Belt land including increasing density and making the most of available brownfield sites. Previous consultations show that Guildford residents would prefer to use brownfield land in the urban area first.

The revised Local Plan is thus unjustified because it fails to fully explore the many opportunities within the borough where there is no presumption against development which would mitigate the release of Green Belt land AND assist in urban regeneration.

- Densification
  - More effective use of current space would remove the need for new land.
  - Urban densities in Guildford town are no higher than the villages that surround it despite the majority of villages being in the Green Belt and protected from development.
  - Only 10% of the total housing proposed in the revised Local Plan is proposed in Guildford Town Centre. The fact that Guildford Borough Council has failed to set higher densities for the urban area and has deleted all reference to “density for development” in the revised Local Plan means that the plan is out of step with current policy direction and unsustainable.
  - The existing Surrey Research Park is low density with just 65,000m2 of office space over 27 ha. This land could be used far more effectively by providing office space on car parks and other mixed use development.
  - If the plot-ratio in the approved Manor Park master plan was applied to the existing Research Park, six times as much office accommodation could be provided therein.

- Brownfield
  - Guildford town has developed very little over the last 20 years and has not undergone the type of normal urban expansion, redevelopment of previously developed sites and increase in residential densities as nearby towns such as Woking.
  - Sites by River Wey could be used to provide affordable accommodation where it is needed rather than unnecessary retail development. The Carter Jonas Guildford Retail Study Update 2017 lacks credibility and there is no proven case for expanding comparison retail space which is undermined by failure to implement existing retail consents at the North Street development over the last 10 years. The Guildford Retail Study does not take account of changing retail patterns in relation to the decline in high street retail due to the rise of internet shopping. The study also assumes a number of logged retail requirements from companies already in liquidation or with national requirements that exclude Guildford.
  - The plan overlooks Bordon and Whitehill eco-town which is seeking high quality businesses to re-locate.

Moreover, the Housing White Paper also sends a clear signal to developers that they must build out permissions. The University of Surrey was permitted to remove 64 ha of land from The Green Belt at Manor Park in 2003 citing the need to build 5090 student and staff residences as exceptional circumstances. 14 years on, only one third of these have been built yet the university has claimed that students want to live off-campus, now referring to Guildford’s acute housing need as an exceptional circumstance to build on Blackwell Farm (Policy A26).

3.2 The proposal to extend Surrey Research Park onto Green Belt land at Blackwell Farm does not constitute exceptional circumstances. The excessive expansion of Surrey Research Park (Policy E4) onto Green Belt land at Blackwell Farm is not supported by the findings of the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017. The current site is very low density and could easily be increased within its existing curtilage.

4. Proposed modifications.
   a. Revise housing targets to a more credible level, taking into account the Green Belt as a constraint to development. The London Green Belt council concurs with the Guildford Green Belt Group that a target of 4,000 homes would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, meeting the largest public objection to the plan as a whole.
   b. Instigate a more sustainable alternative to meeting housing need by following government policy to develop on previously developed sites in the urban area, many of which are owned by the Council.
   c. Include far more affordable housing to meet the need for young families and young people in the Guildford area.
   d. Impose a moratorium on any development proposed on University of Surrey Green Belt land until it has completed all the developments proposed in its 2003 Manor Farm proposal.
   e. Increase the Surrey Research Park plot ratio from 25% to 50% to keep development within the same footprint of the existing park without damaging its amenity.

We are writing to object to Guildford Borough Council's proposed changes in Policy P2 Green Belt because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 comments made to the 2016 plan. We are extremely disappointed that the Council has failed to recognise Normandy's and Flexford's contribution to the "Openness" of the Green Belt and are proposing "Insetting" the two Settlements rather than leaving them "washed over" by Green Belt. "Insetting" will create small islands of "Urban" land in the Green Belt, which is irrational.

Therefore we object to the proposed change that Normandy Settlement, Flexford Settlement and Walden Cottages should be Inset from the Green Belt due to the fact that:
• There is evidence in past planning appeals APP/Y36 151W/I 5/3002308, APPfY36I5/A110/2140630 and APPfY3615IAJI0/2131590 that the land here contributes to the "Openness" of the Green Belt.
• There is evidence in the Sustainabilirv Appraisal Para 10.4.7 that the Agricultural Land between the settlements is of BMV quality, exhibits "Openness" and contributes to the rural economy.
• The land in and around the Settlements of Normandy and Flexford contributes to views into and from the Surrey Hills AONB (Hog's Back).

Furthermore, Policy P2 fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it needs to be permanently protected. The Green Belt is intended to:
• Check the unrestricted sprawl of built-up areas.
• Prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another.
• Safeguard the Countryside from encroachment.
• Preserve the setting and special character of historic towns.
• Assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

We additionally observe that Policy P2 unacceptably omits any assessment of the Green Belt's value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. We object to the statement in the Local Plan under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) which claims that Normandy, Flexford and a further list of 12 villages are "now Inset from the Green Belt”. This statement is untrue as GBC is proposing to "Inset" these villages. No decision has been made by an Inspector, therefore the villages remain in the Green Belt.

In conclusion, the Council has provided no evidence of "Exceptional Circumstances” in the proposed submission documents, (as required by NPPF Para 89). This would be necessary if the Council were to remove any land from the Green Belt and to effectively redraw the Green Belt boundary. They cannot therefore legally proceed with Policy P2 as currently drafted. We trust that our comments will be considered carefully by GBC before the Local Plan is finalised.

I would like to file my utter objection to the proposed possibility of the erection of homes in the Paddocks area. This is green belt land and therefore should be sacrasanct to any building thereon.

We therefore object to the local plan as it stands, on grounds that development encroaches into the Green-belt: that the Borough has failed to provide satisfactory evidence of need or exceptional circumstances for most of the development, and that the Plan fails to provide infrastructure improvement already needed without additional local development. We forcefully object to removal or 'inset' from the Green-belt of Send and other villages in the Borough, or any sections of land such as Send Business Park (Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15). This can only be done in exceptional circumstances, for which none exist. This practice is a deliberate act to erode the Green-belt by stealth and must not be allowed.

Policy P2 Green Belt:
Removal from the Green Belt of homes in Guildford Road, northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford, Walden Cottages and Palm House Nurseries traveller site. I strongly disagree for these areas to be inset and lose the protection of the Green
Policy P2: Green Belt

Policy P2, along with the policy map and site allocations, establishes the principle of the need to remove land from the Green Belt and identifies appropriate locations to do so. The NPPF states that:

"When drawing up or reviewing Green Belt boundaries LPAs should take account of the need to promote sustainable patterns of development. They should consider the consequences for sustainable development of channelling development towards urban areas inside the Green Belt boundary, towards towns and villages inset within the Green Belt or towards locations beyond the outer Green Belt boundary" (para. 84). The NPPF goes on to say that LPAs should:

"satisfy themselves that Green Belt boundaries will not need to be altered at the end of the development plan period" and "define boundaries clearly, using physical features that are readily recognisable and likely to be permanent" (para. 85).

The Council has acknowledged that development in and around Guildford's largest towns will not provide the land needed to meet its OAN. It has been demonstrated through the recent Inquiry on Howard of Effingham and Lodge Farm that the Green Belt in Effingham is out of date. The Green Belt has not been reviewed since 1987. The Green Belt Study commissioned from expert consultants for the purpose of informing the Local Plan identifies that Lodge Farm could be developed without significantly compromising the purposes of the Green Belt. We maintain our view that the Effingham Sites (Site Allocation 69) was an appropriate Green Belt release and continues to be supported by the Council's evidence base. We do not believe that the additional information produced by the Council since the Draft Local Plan (2014) justifies the removal of the Effingham Sites (Site Allocation 69). We regard the revised approach to allocations as inconsistent and not justified against reasonable alternatives.

- I object to the changes to policy P2. They do not appear to have taken into account thousands of comments made during the 2016 consultation and are at odds with national and local policies and the evidence base for this plan process.
- I object to the changes made to the settlement boundaries in Normandy and Flexford, insetting these areas from the Green Belt. No argument of very special circumstances has been advanced for consideration – those mentioned in 4.3.18 would not justify any change in Normandy and Flexford. The impression given in paragraph 4.3.13 is that this has already happened rather than being a proposal; this is misleading and may cause people not to realise the proposed change.

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15)

Send Business Park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s removal from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

• The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
• It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
• There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
• Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

POLICY P2: GREEN BELT

Crownhall Estates note that housing delivery within Guildford Borough is already highly restrained by the fact that a large part of the Borough is designated as being within the Green Belt. However it is noted (as demonstrated by paragraph 4.3.17 of the Proposed Submission Local Plan and the associated maps) that a large part of the Borough (currently designated as Countryside Beyond the Green Belt) is proposed to be designated as Green Belt.

These representations raise the following concerns regarding the Council’s intention to designate large parts of the Borough (currently designated as Countryside Beyond the Green Belt) as Green Belt:
• The process of assessing sites and the availability of land on the basis of the intention that it be designated as Green Belt;
• The implications of designating the additional land as being within the Green Belt on housing delivery during and beyond the Plan period;
• The implications of designating the additional land as Green to the delivery of sustainable development;
• Whether these areas (in particular the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham) should be designated as Green Belt;

The Council propose to amend Green Belt boundaries within the Borough through the emerging Local Plan. Within their proposals, the Council plans to designate the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham (currently Countryside Beyond the Green Belt) as part of the Green Belt. In line with the NPPF, paragraph 83, the Council are required to demonstrate that exceptional circumstances exist in order to make said amendments to the Green Belt. These circumstances are given as a high level of need for housing and “the lack of sufficient suitable and deliverable sites located outside the Green Belt”. We find it incomprehensible that the Council considers the high level of housing need to represent an exceptional circumstance which justifies designating large parts of the Borough (currently designated as Countryside Beyond the Green Belt) as Green Belt. As these representations explain, the conclusion that there is a ‘lack of sufficient suitable and deliverable sites located outside the Green Belt’ is a self-fulfilling prophecy arising from the decision not to assess sites further due to the intention that they be designated as Green Belt.

The Council’s approach is further undermined on the basis that sites within the Green Belt are proposed to be released, yet sites outside of the Green Belt were discounted from further assessment on the basis of the Council’s intention to designate them as Green Belt.

The implications of designating the additional land as being within the Green Belt on housing delivery during and beyond the Plan period

The Council’s proposal to designate large parts of the Borough (currently designated as Countryside Beyond the Green Belt) as Green Belt raises three particular concerns regarding housing delivery (notwithstanding the issue of whether or not they should be designated as such for Green Belt purposes):

• As it explains above the Council’s approach represents an artificially constrained view of land availability within Guildford Borough and if the Council had not followed such an approach we consider that it would be reasonable to conclude that additional sites could be identified, therefore helping to meet the objectively assessed need for housing, particularly in the early part of the Plan period;
• Paragraph 83 of the NPPF states that once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances through the preparation or review of the Local Plan. Paragraph 83 of the NPPF continues by stating that “At that time, authorities should consider the Green Belt boundaries having regard to their intended permanence in the long term, so that they should be capable of enduring beyond the plan period.” On the basis that the Council has not been able to identify sufficient sites within existing urban areas or outside of the Green Belt to achieve the housing required to 2034, it is highly unlikely that a forthcoming review of the Local Plan will be able to. In that circumstance, it is highly likely (given the even greater proportion of the Borough which is proposed to be designated as Green Belt) that a further review of the Green Belt boundaries will be required. On that basis, the proposed alterations to the Green Belt are highly unlikely to endure beyond the Plan period.
• There has been a track record of housing shortfall in the Borough, with the Council’s evidence showing 2.36 years supply of deliverable housing sites. As the NPPF sets out, very special circumstances must be demonstrated as part of a planning application if “inappropriate” development (as defined in the NPPF) in the Green Belt is to be allowed. The Secretary of State’s decision of 21 April 2017 in an appeal (PINS ref: APP/M1520/A/14/2216062) concerning land in Castle Point Borough highlights the issues of housing development proposed in the Green Belt. In that case, the Secretary of State concluded that the housing supply position was closer to the appellant’s proposition of 0.4 years. Designating large parts of the Borough (currently designated as Countryside Beyond the Green Belt) Green Belt would therefore provide no flexibility and very limited opportunities to help resolve a housing land supply shortfall at some point in the future. The implications of this are reinforced by paragraph 4.1.4 of the Proposed Submission Local Plan.

Within the Housing Topic Paper (June 2017), the Council states that:

• “To not amend boundaries (Green Belt), would lead to a significant undersupply of homes compared to the identified needs – approximately half”
Crownhall Estates consider that the proposal to designate additional land, namely that north of Poyle Road, Tongham as Green Belt, will lead and compound the issue of land supply throughout and beyond the plan period.

Despite the Council’s claim that every effort has been made to investigate sustainable sites for housing delivery, they have clearly overlooked sites where development could be achieved, such as our Client’s site. This is clearly demonstrated by the decision not to assess the site further given the proposal to designate the site as Green Belt which we consider to be fundamentally flawed. Within the LAA (2016), the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham was not assessed as a possible allocation due to suitability issues related to the proposed Green Belt designation of this land and for no other reason. However, under the adopted Guildford Borough Local Plan (2003), the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham is designated as Countryside Beyond the Green Belt (CBGB).

There is now clearly an identified need to bring such land forward for development to meet the housing needs of the Borough and provide an opportunity to meet unmet needs arising from within the wider Housing Market Area.

Whether these areas (in particular the land north of Poyle Road, Tongham) should be designated as Green Belt Paragraphs 79 and 80 of the NPPF set out the five purposes of the Green Belt as well as the fundamental aim of ensuring their openness and permanence.

Paragraph 80 of the NPPF states that the Green Belt serves five purposes as shown below:

- To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
- To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
- To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment;
- To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and
- To assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban areas.

The Proposed Submission Local Plan, and the proposed strategy for amending Green Belt boundaries, has been informed by various volumes of the Green Belt and Countryside Study conducted by Pegasus on behalf of the Council between 2013 and 2014.

A sensitivity map (dated March 2014, see below) produced as part of the Green Belt and Countryside Study was used as a starting point to help inform proposed site allocations within the Proposed Submission Local Plan. The Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham falls within the area ‘K5’ (circled in blue in Figure 1 below). This sensitivity assessment map shows that the K5 site is considered to be of ‘high sensitivity’ to Green Belt.

There appear to be inconsistencies within the methodology of the Green Belt and Countryside Study. In Volume II of the Green Belt and Countryside Study (2013) the K5 site (that covers the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham) is assessed against four Green Belt purposes, as guided by the NPPF and receives an overall score of 2 out 4. This overall score deems that K5 contributes less significantly to the purposes of the Green Belt than many of the other parcels assessed. Yet on the sensitivity map above (Figure 1 of these representations), the K5 parcel that covers our client’s site is deemed to be of ‘high sensitivity’ to the Green Belt. The Housing Topic paper (2017) directly refers to this sensitivity map stating that land parcels marked as high sensitivity to the Green Belt scored either 3/4 or 4/4 within the Green Belt Study detailed above. This inconsistency within the methodology is particularly concerning as this study has formed part of the evidence base used within the updated Regulation 19 Local Plan (2017) and therefore the proposal to designate the area within the Green Belt.

Although the study finds the K5 parcel to have ‘less significance’ to the Green Belt, under the four stages of review the land is deemed to be suitable for Green Belt designation. However, the assessment also states that “the decision on whether to extend the Green Belt into land parcel K5 will also be informed by the likely levels of future development, and whether the land may be more appropriately designated as ‘safeguarded’, as defined within para 85 of NPPF”. If the Council is to designate land as Green Belt this must ensure the permanence of the boundaries in line with paragraph 85 of the NPPF. If the Council deems the K5 parcel (including Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham) to be suitable for development in the future then a Green Belt designation would, under this emerging Local Plan, require that exceptional circumstances are demonstrated. It is evident that the Council is unable to ‘satisfy themselves that Green Belt boundaries will not need to be altered at the end of the development plan period’, in line with paragraph 83 of the NPPF.
The land parcel K5 assessed within the study covers the entire distance of the gap between the Tongham settlement area and Ash Green. The K5 parcel was deemed to serve two of four Green Belt purposes. Our client’s site forms only part of the K5 area (highlighted in yellow, within the K5 parcel outlined in red in Figure 2).

The Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham should be reviewed, as a singular parcel of land, for its contribution to the two Green Belt purposes the council have identified K5 to serve. The following table sets out the assessment of the area as contained in the Green Belt and Countryside Study alongside our comments as to how the site functions in isolation.

In summary of the assessment above, when reviewed independently the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham does not achieve any of the purposes of the Green Belt.

We also note that the area of Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG) approved under application reference 12/P/01973 lies immediately to the land north of Poyle Road, Tongham. This SANG will ensure the maintenance of an area between Ash/Tongham and Ash Green which therefore checks the unrestricted sprawl of settlements.

Paragraph 85 of the NPPF requires that when defining Green Belt boundaries, local planning authorities should (inter alia):

• Ensure consistency with the Local Plan strategy for meeting identified requirements for sustainable development;
• Not include land which it is unnecessary to keep permanently open; and
• Satisfy themselves that Green Belt boundaries will not need to be altered at the end of the development plan period;

As these representations establish, designating the land north of Poyle Road, Tongham would not fulfil the requirements in the three points above. Tongham occupies an elevated position in the settlement hierarchy and the designation of Green Belt as proposed would severely restrict the opportunities for sustainable patterns of development. It is unnecessary for the land north of Poyle Road, Tongam to be kept permanently open. Even if it were developed, there would remain an area of separation between Tongham and Ash Green (partly due to the SANG to the north and partly due to a remaining area of countryside). Furthermore, as these representations explain, if this area is to be defined as Green Belt, the Council cannot be satisfied that it will not need to alter the Green Belt boundaries at the end of the Plan period (or as part of a review of the Local Plan).

We note that in the Waverley Local Plan Part 1 Examination, the Inspector was asked to consider the identification of new areas of Green Belt at Cranleigh and Farnham in order to ‘protect’ these settlements. We understand that the Inspector rejected that approach.

In addition to concerns regarding the Green Belt Assessment methodology and the judgements taken forward to the Proposed Submission Local Plan, it would appear that the Council have solely considered whether the assessed parcels of land fulfil the Green Belt purposes rather than consider the need to deliver sustainable patterns of development, as required by paragraph 84 of the NPPF.

The Guildford Borough Settlement Hierarchy (May 2014) forms part of the evidence base that has informed the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (Regulation 19), with the purpose of promoting sustainable development.

Although Guildford Town Centre, Guildford Urban Area and the Ash and Tongham Urban Area are ranked as the three most sustainable settlements and the main areas for development, this does not appear to be reflected in the distribution of development, namely to Tongham.

Guildford Borough Council must ensure that it has sufficiently assessed sites for housing delivery on the edge of such settlements, particularly in locations which are in the Countryside Beyond the Green Belt and which provide the opportunity to deliver sustainable patterns of development. We consider that the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham provides such an opportunity.

The settlement hierarchy and the Sustainability appraisal identify the sustainable location of the Ash and Tongham Urban Area. The development of the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham would form an extension to the Tongham Urban Area, a sustainable location and subject to the determination of a live planning application (GBC ref: 17/P/01315) could be considered suitable for ‘development now’.
In light of the five year housing land supply of 2.36 years, the sustainable nature of Tongham and the Land north of Poyle Road, Tongham and its poor performance against the Green Belt purposes it would seem unlikely that exceptional circumstances exist to designate the site as Green Belt.

I object to Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15. Send Business Park should not be inset from greenbelt land. It is in a beautiful quiet rural lane in an area of outstanding natural beauty which is why we all have chosen to live and work here. There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions as it is. This is, and should remain an area of outstanding beautiful countryside adjacent to the Wey Navigation.

The reduction in the number of new homes proposed in the Green Belt after the 2016 Consultation, is welcomed (90 in West Horsley, 1100 in Normandy and Flexford) but this still does not go far enough in reducing the still very large number of new dwellings proposed on Green Belt.

I also object that no changes have been included in the current draft Local Plan despite the strong adverse response to the 2016 Consultation regarding GBC's proposals that East Horsley and West Horsley should be inset from the Green Belt.

The changes do not show responsiveness to the weight of public opinion which is heavily against weakening these policies. I object to this. No attempt is made to demonstrate exceptional circumstances feeding in to the proposed figures quoted. Also, the Rural Economic Strategy covered in 4.51 a has as a main aim promoting affordable homes everywhere in the countryside - including in AONB. It could work as a mechanism to produce overdevelopment in the countryside. I object to this and it should be subjected to full public consultation. The three major strategic sites of Blackwell Farm, Wisley Airfield and Gosden Hill Farm are in the Green Belt. I object to them still being put forward. Previous consultations show that in line with the NPPF the public prefer the use of brownfield land in the urban area first for housing.

I object to the policy of insetting villages and removing site A35 from the Metropolitan Green Belt and in particular the imbalance of proposed development which results in proportionately more damage being done to the Green Belt in the North East of the borough. This is the area crucial to the purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt in containing the spread of London. The retention of site A35 as a strategic site despite its low sustainability rating while dropping site A46 at Normandy exacerbates this imbalance and I object to it as an error of judgement.

I also object to the statement under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) claiming that Flexford, Normandy, and a list of 12 further villages are “now inset from the Green Belt”. This statement is untrue – GBC is proposing that these settlements are inset but a decision has not yet been made by an Inspector, and therefore these villages rightly remain in the Green Belt.

Policies P2, P3 and E5 and sites fail to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to develop Green Belt land. Despite the strength of public opinion against a weakening of this policy, 70% of new housing development will be in the countryside, of which, 58% will be in Greenbelt. This is clearly not an exception and no effort is made to demonstrate the previously mentioned exceptional circumstances in line with NPPF requirements.

At a general level, I object to the failure of Policy P2 to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt, and the need to protect is permanently. The Green Belt is critical to safeguarding our countryside and green spaces, limiting urban sprawl, and preventing towns from merging. It also encourages the recycling of derelict and other brownfield urban sites, helping to assist with urban regeneration. It must be protected and I do not believe Policy P2 adequately reflects this. It also fails to include any assessment of the value of the Green Belt, which is rich in natural and social capital.
Finally, I object to proposals in Policies P1 and E5 weakening protections for AONB which fail to restrict non-major development. This fails to strengthen and in fact weakens protections offered to AONB it is crucial we maintain, and is contrary to the huge weight of public opinion expressed in previous consultations, and the protections made in the NPPF to AONB.

Policy 2 Green Belt, paragraph 4.3.15. I object because: it is taking Sends businees park out of Green Belt policy; further expansion/development at this location detracts from the openness and appriateness of green belt and it's protection; it will impact vehicle movement significantly using Tannery Lane; as a non-conforming user within The Green Belt it's expansion should be prevented.

Green Belt Policy 2, at paragraph 4.3.15; I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt for the following reasons:

It is a non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation.

Tannery Lane, as previously mentioned, is a small country lane which should remain as such and is totally unsuited to increased traffic volume.

Any additional expansion or development in this position will have a significantly detrimental effect on the Green Belt land in this location.

I also object to the removal from the Green Belt of homes in Guildford Road, Flexford, Palm House Nurseries site, Walden Cottages and Glaziers Lane. The likely high density development will only deteriorate the "openness of Green Belt" and mostly will be used by ‘London Commuters’ thus just becoming a ‘London conurbation’ and not meaningfully benefiting the local area.

It is proposed that East Horsley is to be “inset” from the Green Belt. This proposed change in settlement boundaries means that the East Horsley settlement area will increase by 37%. At the moment, one hundred houses are proposed near East Horsley station and over two thousand on the former Wisley Airfield, only about one mile from the East Horsley parish boundary. The site at Wisley has recently been increased to now include two more farms!

I object to the GBC not adhering to NPPF rules - “The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence” (NPPF Section 9, paragraph 79).

I object to the changes to Policy P2 Green Belt because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 comments made to the 2016 plan. Policy P2 fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it needs to be permanently protected. The Green Belt is intended to check unrestricted sprawl of built up areas, to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another, to safeguard the countryside from encroachment, to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns, and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

I object to the removal from the green belt of homes in Guildford Road, northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford, Walden Cottages and Palm House Nurseries traveller site because this could enable development within these areas at much higher density and will give greater success for planning applications. I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt. Its in the greenbelt, clear and simple. Coming up with ways for villages and all to meet some quota GBC should be defending us from this short sighted approach, protecting the green belt for us and for future generations and standing up for us. I am not sure how many times we can say that Tannery Lane is a small rural lane with poor access and it simply cannot accommodate more traffic. Send and surrounding villages deal with a lot of traffic and to suggest adding more by finding a way to get this out of the greenbelt (despite the fact its clearly within and surrounded by greenbelt) is unacceptable. Its the thin edge of the wedge and you know it... you start with this and then it simply opens up the option for further development. GBC needs to stop any more intrusion or impact to the greenbelt.

POLICY P2

1. The changes to Policy P2 are inconsistent with national policy, primarily the exceptions set out at Paragraph 89 of the NPPF.

2. Whilst part (2) of the policy confirms that certain proposals are not considered inappropriate development as defined by national policy (eg, mineral extraction, engineering operations, etc), there are other types of proposal which, whilst continuing to be ‘inappropriate development’ benefit from a number of policy exceptions. This distinction is corrupted by the drafting through the words “….also meet the following criteria” at the end of part (2) of the policy, which has the effect of wrongly blending exceptions relating to appropriate and inappropriate development.

3. Whilst the policy presently includes ‘Limited infilling’, the drafting effectively reduces the scope of national policy by failing to make explicit that this includes “partial or complete redevelopment of previously developed sites” and the particular criteria attached to this (ie, no greater impact on openness, etc). The policy also omits, without explanation, the provision of facilities for sport and outdoor recreation in the Green Belt. It is not enough to say these are supported by national policy because of the error at part (2), as explained above.

4. The Council is respectfully asked to reconsider its policy following forensic reading and understanding of national policy relating to the control of development in the Green Belt, to ensure that support for proposals in the Green Belt which benefit from exceptions in national policy are not prejudiced.

4) I OBJECT TO POLICY 2, PARAGRAPH 4.3.15, the proposal to remove Send Business Park from the Green Belt because the site is totally unsuitable for further expansion. The area around the Business Park is beautiful open countryside next to the Wey Navigation, and under no circumstances should be ruined by expanding a business site - if necessary business expansion should be on brownfield sites. The purpose of Green Belt is to protect areas of green open countryside that could otherwise be overlooked, built on and lost to society forever and there is NEVER a reason to retrospectively remove Green Belt. In addition, there is very limited vehicular access to the site from either direction and the increase in volume of traffic that would necessarily result from expanding the site would cause jams and possibly even accidents. At a minimum this would increase pollution and disrupt the peace and tranquillity of the local environment.

Send Business Park now taken out of the Green Belt altogether

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- With the new Marina planned on the Wey navigation, removal of this area will facilitate the total erosion of the greenbelt in this area through the infill of further buildings in the future.
- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions as well as limited access to the already busy Send Road.
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

(b) Green Belt

The Green Belt inset boundary for Wood Street Village has been drawn very tightly (see Map 3 – in the attached document) to include only the east of the settlement: along Oak Hill east of Pound Lane and west of Pinks Hill; excluding Wood Street Green, the surrounding areas along White Hart Lane and the whole of Frog Grove Lane to the east and north. It is anomalous that the village conservation area, which helps to define the essential character of Wood Street Village, is outside the proposed settlement inset boundary.

The proposed inset boundary would allow for the development of some small sites in Wood Street Village including: land at 148 Broad Street, a site of 0.32 ha previously used for vehicle sales, maintenance and storage, which the Land Availability Assessment (LAA) of February 2016 identified as suitable for 12 dwellings (Site 115); a previously-developed site of 4.4ha with mixed uses at Oak Hill which the LAA identified as suitable for 22 dwellings (Site 35); and land to at ‘Roundoak, White Hart Lane which the LAA identified as suitable for traveller accommodation (Site 2114). These sites enter into the LAA housing figures, although only sites for 23 or more dwellings are shown on the Proposal Map.

The approach to Green Belt insets needs to comply with paragraph 86 of the NPPF which states:

‘If it is necessary to prevent development in a village primarily because of the important contribution which the open character of the village makes to the openness of the Green Belt, the village should be included in the Green Belt. If, however, the character of the village needs to be protected for other reasons, other means should be used, such as conservation area or normal development management policies, and the village should be excluded from the Green Belt.’

Paragraph 85 of the NPPF sets out the proper approach to defining Green Belt boundaries in local plans, which includes ‘consistency with the Local Plan strategy for meeting identified requirements for sustainable development.’ The Council’s Land Availability Assessment (February 2016) demonstrates that the Spatial Development Strategy of Policy S2, is unable to meet the objectively assessed need for housing throughout the plan period, largely because of constraints imposed by Green Belt Policy P2 and related proposals maps. Impacts on housing land supply are considered in more detail below.

The settlement boundary for Wood Street Green appears to have been drawn tightly to restrict development, rather than to allow for housing and other forms of development to take place within the settlement, to meet the changing social and economic needs of the village and the borough.

Not all the open parts of Wood Street Village are important for their contribution to the Green Belt. There are infill sites, such as those previously identified, where development could make a useful contribution to meeting housing needs, consistent with the size and character of Wood Street villages and its local facilities, and without compromising the essential roles of the Metropolitan Green Belt. The Site of Nature Conservation Interest provides a natural boundary to the south of the village. To the north west of the village, it is reasonable to exclude Frog Grove Lane from the inset areas as it is essentially ribbon development extending for over a mile from Oak Hill/Wood Street Green northwards to join the Aldershot Road (A323). A flood risk area and an area of registered common land are also constraints on development on Frog Grove Lane. However, the Green is clearly part of the core of the village and there are areas surrounding the Green that should also be included within the settlement boundary and Green Belt inset and should be allocated for appropriate development.

The inset boundary should therefore be extended westwards to include Wood Street Green, surrounding development and the sites previously identified as ‘Potential Development Areas’ (see Map 2 in the attached document); to allow for appropriate development within the functional boundary of the settlement in accordance with accessibility to local facilities, existing residential development and natural boundaries that can be defined on the ground, including roads and vegetation that would provide long-term, defensible, natural boundaries for the Green Belt.

(c) Conclusions
The need for additional housing land in the early years of the new Local Plan requires looking at a variety of sources and locations, including a more realistic approach to Green Belt Review. Housing need represents one of the exceptional circumstances that can justify alterations to Green Belt boundaries, as described in paragraph 83 of the NPPF. Paragraph 85 of the NPPF sets out the proper approach to defining Green Belt boundaries in local plans which includes consistency with the Local Plan strategy for meeting identified requirements for sustainable development.

The Green Belt & Countryside Study states that it was not seen as pre-empting the Spatial Development Strategy, but in practice Green Belt was a major determinant of the Spatial Development Strategy and, as the Green Belt Review was completed before a full, objective assessment of housing requirements in the SHMA, Green Belt and the Spatial Development Strategy have both become constraints on meeting housing requirements, especially in the early years of the plan.

The Spatial Development Strategy (Policy S2) and Green Belt Policy (Policy P2) are not based on sufficiently positive approaches to reviewing the Green Belt and settlement boundaries and do not give sufficient weight to meeting objectively assessed housing requirements throughout the plan period. They do not comply with the NPPF and cannot therefore be considered to be sound. Modifications to the Plan should include sites such as those identified in Wood Street Village as residential allocations within an extended settlement boundary and Green Belt inset, as described above...

1. Background

1. Lightwood Strategic submitted representations on the Local Plan Issues and Options consultation in November 2013, on the Local Plan Consultation Draft (Regulation 18) in September 2014, and on the Proposed Submission Local Plan Consultation (Regulation 19) in July 2016. This submission updates those representations in response to further consultation on the publication of a revised Proposed Submission Draft (Regulation 19) in June/July 2017.

2. As the Council says that it is only consulting on changes in the current draft Local Plan compared with the previous Regulation 19 Consultation, this report responds to those changes and to new evidence, in particular relating to housing targets and housing land supply. It is in support of duly-made representations which are submitted separately in accordance with Regulation 20 of The Town and Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012. To make sense of those changes and to comment on the overall soundness of the plan it is necessary to refer to elements of the plan that have not changed.

3. Lightwood Strategic’s representations have consistently expressed concerns about the Council’s proposed approaches to:

   - the objective assessment of housing needs;
   - Green Belt review; and
   - Settlement boundaries in the larger villages, particularly at Wood Street Village.

4. Lightwood Strategic pointed out that there are natural infill sites in Wood Street Village (including the two ‘alternative sites’ shown on Map 1 - see end of document) that can provide SANG and are located only a short distance from the village green, shops and other amenities.

5. The Council identified these two sites in April 2014 as ‘Potential Development Areas’ in its Green Belt & Countryside Study (Map 2 - see end of document). It also undertook analysis of various characteristics of the settlement in its Green Belt & Countryside Study to determine whether it was appropriate to define an inset boundary rather than leave the whole village as ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt.

6. The Council has modified its approach to villages in the Green Belt, in response to the National Planning Policy Framework (March 2012). In the 2003 Local Plan villages were generally ‘washed-over’ by the Green Belt. New Local Plan Policy P2 provides for Wood Street Village and 13 other villages (as well as several, large previously developed sites) to be inset from the Green Belt. In these villages, Policy D4 (Development in Urban Areas and Inset Villages) allows for limited development within strict environmental guidelines.

2. The Green Belt Boundary
7. The inset boundary for Wood Street Village has been drawn very tightly (Map 3 - see end of document) to include only the east of the settlement: along Oak Hill east of Pound Lane and west of Pinks Hill; excluding Wood Street Green, the surrounding areas along White Hart Lane and the whole of Frog Grove Lane to the east and north. It is anomalous that the village conservation area, which helps to define the essential character of Wood Street Village, is outside the proposed settlement inset boundary.

8. The proposed inset boundary would allow for the development of some small sites in Wood Street Village including:
land at 148 Broad Street, a site of 0.32 ha previously used for vehicle sales, maintenance and storage, which the Land Availability Assessment (LAA) of February 2016 identified as suitable for 12 dwellings (Site 115); a previously-developed site of 4.4ha with mixed uses at Oak Hill which the LAA identified as suitable for 22 dwellings (Site 35); and land to at ‘Roundoak, White Hart Lane which the LAA identified as suitable for traveller accommodation (Site 2114).
These sites enter into the LAA housing figures, although only sites for 23 or more dwellings are shown on the Proposal
Map.

9. The approach to Green Belt insets needs to comply with paragraph 86 of the NPPF which states:
‘If it is necessary to prevent development in a village primarily because of the important contribution which the open character of the village makes to the openness of the Green Belt, the village should be included in the Green Belt. If, however, the character of the village needs to be protected for other reasons, other means should be used, such as conservation area or normal development management policies, and the village should be excluded from the Green Belt.’

10. Paragraph 85 of the NPPF sets out the proper approach to defining Green Belt boundaries in local plans, which includes ‘consistency with the Local Plan strategy for meeting identified requirements for sustainable development.’ The Council’s Land Availability Assessment (February 2016) demonstrates that the Spatial Development Strategy of Policy
S2, is unable to meet the objectively assessed need for housing throughout the plan period, largely because of constraints imposed by Green Belt Policy P2 and related proposals maps. Impacts on housing land supply are considered in more detail below.

11. The settlement boundary for Wood Street Green appears to have been drawn tightly to restrict development, rather than to allow for housing and other forms of development to take place within the settlement, to meet the changing social and economic needs of the village and the borough.

12. Not all the open parts of Wood Street Village are important for their contribution to the Green Belt. There are infill sites, such as those previously identified, where development could make a useful contribution to meeting housing needs, consistent with the size and character of Wood Street village and its local facilities, and without compromising the essential roles of the Metropolitan Green Belt.

13. The Site of Nature Conservation Interest provides a natural boundary to the south of the village. To the north west of the village, it is reasonable to exclude Frog Grove Lane from the inset areas as it is essentially ribbon development extending for over a mile from Oak Hill/Wood Street Green northwards to join the Aldershot Road (A323). A flood risk area and an area of registered common land are also constraints on development on Frog Grove Lane. However, the Green is clearly part of the core of the village and there are areas surrounding the Green that should also be included within the settlement boundary and Green Belt inset and should be allocated for appropriate development.

14. The inset boundary should therefore be extended westwards to include Wood Street Green, surrounding development and the sites previously identified as ‘Potential Development Areas’ (Map 2 - see end of document); to allow for appropriate development within the functional boundary of the settlement in accordance with accessibility to local facilities, existing residential development and natural boundaries that can be defined on the ground, including roads and vegetation that would provide long-term, defensible, natural boundaries for the Green Belt.

Send Business Park now taken out of the Green Belt altogether
I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

• With the new Marina planned on the Wey navigation, removal of this area will facilitate the total erosion of the greenbelt in this area through the infill of further buildings in the future.
• It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
• There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions as well as limited access to the already busy Send Road.
• Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

I object to policy P2 proposing the insetting of East Horsley from the green belt. The government has promised to protect the green belt and you should heed this. I also object to any movement of the settlement boundary, you have given no reason for this.

I strongly object to site policy A35. You previously gave 14 reasons for your rejection of the proposed development of Wisley airfield. Despite this you have included it in. Your revised plan, why, what has changed

I object to the revised 2017 local plan, the calculation of housing need is opaque it will therefore be challenged.

<td>Exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop Greenbelt yet despite the weight of public opinion against weakening of this policy, 70% of new housing development will be in the countryside, of which, 58% will be in Greenbelt. By definition, this is not an exception and no attempt is made to demonstrate exceptional circumstances, in line with the requirements of the NPPF. Insetting villages is of concern since the restrictions within the settlement boundary raises concerns over loss of character. The Rural Economic Strategy covered in 4.51 a, promoting affordable homes everywhere in the countryside including the AONB as a main aim, is a mechanism for promoting overdevelopment in our countryside. It has not been subject to full public consultation and is based on data, which is not up-to-date.</td>

I am writing to object to the proposals for the above developments.

I object to Send and Ripley villages being removed from the Green Belt with regard to the proposals identified by the Local Plan. Please see below for detailed reasons.

Local Councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the green belt. This reneges on it. I particularly voted in accordance with my wish to preserve the green belt and to ensure that Guildford council had good representation in it. I feel let down by my local government when I read these proposals. I choose to live in this area and make a contribution to it (I was not born or brought up here) as I have valued the semi-rural nature and convenience of the landscape but should these proposals go forward I will move out.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because this will adversely affect the nature of the surrounding countryside situated so close to the Wey Navigation. Expansion and development of this area goes against Green Belt intentions regarding the openness of the countryside. It is inappropriate.

Green Belt Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15

Send Business Park now taken out of the Green Belt altogether

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation.

There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions.

Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate.

General Objections to the Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (July 2017)

I object to the amended number of new houses required in the borough as it is still much too high and still cannot be, tested or verified objectively.

I object to the fact that the changes to the Local Plan still requires large numbers of new houses to be built on land currently designated as Green Belt.

I object to the fact that, despite changes, the plan still proposes to remove many villages from the green belt and thus allow unrestricted development in the future.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the GBC not adhering to NPPF rules - “The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence” (NPPF Section 9, paragraph 79).

I object to the extension of site A35 (former Wisley Airfield) and its proposed removal from the Green Belt as it is in the centre of the Metropolitan Green Belt, surrounded by countryside.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the green belt. The business park fronts the River Wey navigation which is acknowledged as protected corridor. The business park is a historical accident arising from a former historic industrial use. Tannery Lane is too restricted for any increase in traffic and the business park should remain within the green belt to inhibit further development. Further development of this area is inappropriate and detracts from the openness of the Green Belt.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

1. I object to POLICY P2 (6), specifically the new phrasing ‘Limited infilling may also be appropriate outside the inset or identified settlement boundaries, where it can be demonstrated that the site is as a matter of fact on the ground within the village’ referring to Ockham and Wisley, and by extension to other villages with settlement boundaries. This change in language creates less clarity around the purpose of settlement boundaries as regards development policy. This objection is made in the context of the fact that there is no change to POLICY P2 (5), the intention for East Clandon to have a settlement boundary for the first time, which the Parish Council have previously and still object to.

I wish to register my objection to the removal from the Green Belt of homes in Guildford Road, northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford, Walden Cottages and Palm House Nurseries traveller site, as this could enable development within these areas at a much higher density. These areas contribute to the ‘open-ness of the Green Belt’.

GBC must commit to the improvements that are necessary for the scale of the proposed ten thousand homes that will be built within a ten-mile radius of Normandy.

I wish to register my objection to the removal from the Green Belt of homes in Guildford Road, northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford, Walden Cottages and Palm House Nurseries traveller site, as this could enable development within these areas at a much higher density. These areas contribute to the ‘open-ness of the Green Belt’.

GBC must commit to the improvements that are necessary for the scale of the proposed ten thousand homes that will be built within a ten-mile radius of Normandy.

1. I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt for the following reasons:

- It is an old site that should not be further developed because of its location within Green Belt land on the Wey Navigation
- The road network is narrow and restricted, and totally unable to service any new expansion
- Road links to the A3 and elsewhere go directly through the village, which would increase traffic pollution and danger to local residents and children

To summarise, all these developments in Green Belt land have attracted many thousands of objections from local residents - they are not wanted, but more importantly, they are simply not needed. There are many brown field sites throughout the borough that have not been taken advantage of, only because they would not yield as good a profit for developers.

Housing is needed, but it must be built in the right places, not just the most convenient or most profitable, and be accompanied with investment in local services for the huge increase in numbers of people that would come along with the proposed construction. The real tragedy is that were these developments in Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common allowed to go ahead, the quality of life for existing and new residents alike would be much poorer than it is now. Local roads, schools and medical facilities are already fully stretched. There would be a considerable human cost for hitting government targets.

I object to the assertion in Policy P2 Green Belt para 4.3.13 which would re draw the Green Belt boundary. If fails to appreciate the importance of the Metropolitan Green Belt and that it needs to be permanently protected.

Send Business Park now taken out of the Green Belt altogether

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

In summary I appreciate and understand the need for additional housing and business in the borough but firmly believe that this plan is not fair particularly toward the residents of Send and Ripley and feel that overall this will be at everyone’s detriment including those new residents planning to move into Ripley and Send. Ripley and Send are already at capacity and I think GBC need to review the draft plan and find another solution that does not have a detrimental effect on existing residents that already struggling for local services that are already stretched.

Policy P2

I object to this policy insofar as it relates to East Horsley.

In amendment 4 in the Appendix H map of East Horsley South the settlement boundary is extended southwards. This land is close, or adjacent, to the AONB in a highly distinctive rural setting which should remain in the Green Belt to protect its character. The current boundary has a defensible boundary, unlike the proposed boundary.

Policy 2 paragraph 4.3.15 green belt.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt. The business park fronts the River Wey navigation which is acknowledged as protected corridor. The business park is a historical accident arising from a former historic industrial use. Tannery Lane is too restricted for any increase in traffic and the business park should remain within the green belt to inhibit further development.

The Green Belt is a policy for controlling urban growth. The idea was developed so as to have a ring of countryside where urbanisation would be resisted, maintaining an area where agriculture, forestry and outdoor leisure could be expected to prevail. The fundamental aim of a Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open, and consequently the most important attribute of Green Belts is their openness.

The Metropolitan Green Belt around London was first proposed by the Greater London Regional Planning Committee in 1935. The Town and Country Planning Act 1947 then allowed local authorities to include Green Belt proposals in their development plans. In 1955, the then Minister of Local authorities around the country were encouraged to protect land around their towns and cities by the formal designation of clearly defined Green Belts, to prevent urban sprawl.

The 2012 National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) issued by the Government clearly sets out the following purposes (amongst others) for the Green Belt:

• To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas
• To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
• To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns

How do you reconcile the Wisley Airfield proposal, and the removal of the Horsleys from the Green Belt, with the NPPF’s guidelines above?

It appears that GBC now wants to ignore the very reason for having designated Green Belts around urban areas, and specifically around my village of East Horsley. I strongly OBJECT to your proposals.

I hope that the GBC, as our elected representatives charged with representing our interests, will listen to opinions voiced in this fourth public consultation: I wish to strongly object to the proposed Guildford Local Plan 2017 based on the points in this letter.

1. General Evidence and Policies

• Housing Requirement: I OBJECT to the figure of 654 houses required each year between 2015 and 2034 as being too high. Guildford Borough Council will not publish details regarding how this figure was derived. It therefore remains impossible to support the sudden increase in housing numbers from previous annual figures of 322.
Inset Green Belt land: I OBJECT to the proposed inset of Send Business Park from the Green Belt (Green Belt Policy 2 at Paragraph 4.3.15) because

- This is acknowledged by river users as being part of one of the very few quiet stretches along the Wey Navigation. It must be protected from further development.
- The site contains an Area of High Archaeological Potential (AHAP – reference 2003 Guildford Local Plan) which requires significant protection to be continued.
- There are no special or exceptional circumstances identified which justify removal of the Green Belt status.
- Developments in the area will harm the open aspect of the area and views associated with the Wey.
- Access to the site is along very narrow roads which can neither safely support existing traffic nor the additional traffic to be expected both during site development and subsequent use.

Process: I OBJECT to the failure of Guildford Borough Council to allocate housing development proposals evenly among its constituent parts, instead focusing disproportionate development within Send Parish.

Process: I OBJECT to the failure of Guildford Borough Council to recognise and act on the large number of objections relating to proposals for Send and made during the 2016 consultation activity.

I object to the 2017 new local plan.

It includes the provision for Guildford to expand by 20% to 25%. In order to meet the resulting development needs, it proposes the release of Green Belt as well as building at very high densities in the town.
This will have significant impact on the town, in particular the destruction of Guildford’s historic and green character, and increased pressures on already stretched infrastructure (in particular from increased traffic).

The Borough must have a local plan and further development is accepted, but it must be based on a realistic assessment of future expansion and housing needs.

The plan allows for a total of 659 new homes per annum (13,893 over the period of the plan) but it seems this target is based on calculations and assumptions that have never been made public. Also, an independent analysis carried out on behalf of the Guildford Residents’ Association (by a respected national expert who worked for the Government) has concluded that these figures are based on an overestimate of future population growth and will result in needless loss of Green Belt and green character, and increased congestion, that cannot be justified in our heavily constrained borough.

The planned Gosden Hill development is of particular concern. It will put increased pressures on an area, principally Burpham, which is already blighted by severe traffic congestion and the proposed vehicle access plans do not do nearly enough to address this issue.

The Council has a responsibility to revisit the plan, in particular the basis for making provision for Guildford to expand by 20%-25% and the projected housing needs.

Please find below my comments on the proposed revised local plan.

a) No changes are being proposed since the 2016 Consultation to insetting West and East Horsley from the Green Belt.

b) Flawed evidence continues to be relied on to justify over expansion

c) No improvements proposed for sustainability and to infrastructure for the proposed development sites in the Horsleys. Already heavily congested and very poorly maintained, local roads will become gridlocked.

d) The Green Belt should be protected for everybody’s future - and development sites can and should be utilised within the town centre rather than retail space.

I trust that you will seriously consider my comments

Please see below our response to the final Guildford Local Plan consultation:
1. Plans to expand Guildford by 20 to 25% appear to be based on an error. In view of this flawed new evidence, Guildford’s proposal for more than 12,426 homes, plus a buffer of 1,155 homes, is excessive and will result in needless loss of Green Belt and the green character of the area in addition to increased congestion that cannot be justified in our already heavily constrained borough.

2. There is compelling evidence that Guildford’s population growth has been greatly overestimated by about 40% because of under-recording of students leaving at the end of their studies.

3. If the Council fails to apply Green Belt protection or constrain expansion to reflect widespread, legitimate environmental and transport constraints, the 2017 Plan will cause harm to the qualities that underpin the economic success of Guildford and aggravate congestion.

4. Allocating too much land for development in the 2017 Plan and releasing so much Green Belt for development could result in Guildford being required to provide for Woking’s unmet housing needs on our Green Belt thus sacrificing our Green Belt to protect that of Woking. This is folly given the existing constraints in Guildford, a gap town with constricted roads set in the Surrey Hills AONB. We do not need to sacrifice so much Green Belt or allow town cramming.

5. Even taking account of all the proposals in the 2017 Plan, congestion which is already severe is set to get worse over the Plan period.

6. The revised proposal that only 60% of full time Guildford based students will be provided with accommodation on campus puts unnecessary pressure on housing stock in the town. An 80% target could help by freeing up affordable homes relatively quickly.

We support the need for a Plan but not one based on flawed figures, inadequate infrastructure and destruction of Guildford’s green character. The Plan needs to be reconsidered.

We hope you will take our responses into consideration in the final consultation.

I am extremely disappointed by the response to the vast number of objections regarding the planned number of houses to be built in the Green Belt received during the last consultation. Whilst almost 2000 house have been removed it still leaves a very large number of dwellings in the Green Belt.

Together with the plan to build far more houses than is either required or is sustainable in many areas of the borough, it is unacceptable and hypocritical to begin the plan with the fallacious comments about protecting the precious Green Belt.

This, together with the changes made in the current plan means the Eastern side of the borough is now scheduled to take an even greater share of new homes in the Green Belt. The plan to build surplus houses in this area makes it probable that this over provision of homes would be acquired by Woking residents and not Guildford residents.

Brownfield Sites A4 and A34 have been removed from the Local Plan – meaning there is more pressure on Green Belt sites to meet the so-called housing “need”. This should be rectified as these sites would be adequate for the developments proposed and indeed are more suitable in terms of convenience and access to town facilities than Green Belt sites.

The Green Belt and Insetting of Village Boundaries
Despite the volume of comments received, I object to the fact that no change has been made to the proposal that the Horsleys are both removed from the Green Belt and that the settlement boundaries be extended at the same time. I can welcome the reduction by 90 in the number of new homes projected for West Horsley but the draft Plan still proposes far too many new homes on Green Belt Land and, additionally, the east side of the Borough is now to take an even greater proportion of these. Why is Guildford not following the choice of many other Councils to constrain its overall housing growth to protect Green Belt? Even the new reduced objectively assessed housing target will by 2034 (the end of the Plan Period) mean that Guildford will have grown by nearly 25%, which is nearly double the prediction for the growth of Guildford made by the Office for National Statistics.

The Council’s Green Belt Assessment does not seem to have been revisited since the previous round of public consultation on the Proposed Submission Local Plan and therefore we continue to question the robustness of this evidence base document. We believe if this assessment was undertaken correctly, the conclusion would to allocate Liddington Hall ahead of other sites identified in the emerging Plan.

We continue to raise issues with the:

• Over-reliance on Green Belt sensitivity scoring in Green Belt site selection. The main criticism is that where a land parcel has been assessed as having a high Green Belt sensitivity (in the case of Liddington Hall where it scores 3 out of 4) then the site has been removed as a potential site allocation, whatever the site environmental and or sustainability scoring might be or where it might fall in the Council’s spatial hierarchy;

• Lack of comprehensive and transparent evidence base. We believe the scoring system adopted by the Council is overly simplistic leading to a binary outcome for each Green Belt purpose. No supporting information which explains or qualifies how the conclusions have been reached has been included.

• Incorrect Green Belt Scoring for land at Liddington Hall. Even using this simple methodology adopted by the Council, the Green Belt and Countryside Study has incorrectly scored Liddington Hall (land parcel J1) in respect of two of the purposes of the Green Belt, namely the prevention of Guildford and Fairlands from merging and the restriction of urban sprawl.

Therefore, the Council should re-consider land at Liddington Hall alongside the other Guildford urban extension sites (Blackwell Farm, Gosden Hill farm and Keens lane) having regard to its sustainability or environmental capacity and certainly ahead of allocations such as Wisley (which are lower down the settlement hierarchy and are in less sustainable locations).

We request an amendment to the supporting text to draft Policy 2 as follows:

Para 4.3.15 The following major previously developed sites are now inset from the Green Belt: Henley Business Park, HM Prison Send, Keogh Barracks, Mount Browne, Pirbright Barracks, Pirbright Institute, the University of Law Guildford and Merrist Wood College.

Despite Guildford Borough Council’s policy statement that it will seek to protect the Green belt from inappropriate development, 65% of the new housing is still set to be in the Green Belt, contrary to NPPF requirements stating ‘exceptional circumstances’.
In 4.3.13 of this policy it is stated that 14 villages are now ‘inset’ (removed) from the Green Belt. This is incorrect as it is only a proposal in the Plan and therefore presumptions in favour of developments in these areas of Green Belt cannot be made.

The insetting of villages and the extension of settlement boundaries is opposed as it further erodes the Green Belt and makes them vulnerable to over-development. The Green belt provides a buffer to urban sprawl and stops villages coalescing physically and visually into concrete conurbations. Guildford Borough Council recognises this for the villages of Ash and Tongham where it emphasises the need for restrained development and retention of the green corridor between Ash/Tongham and Aldershot. Insetting, infilling and changing settlement boundaries of a large number of villages will invite future further insetting if the Green Belt policy is not strengthened and enforced.

I object to Policy P2.

Whilst there is a small reduction in numbers of new homes in the Green belt from the 2016 Plan, there are still a very large number in the Green Belt and the eastern rural part of the Borough has by far the greatest and disproportionate number allocated compared to the other parts of the Borough when percentage allocation is applied.

I object to policy P3 Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt) This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous. I am not in favour of building on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing). This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas. It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, which is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl. I agree to the prevention of coalescence but this should apply to all villages including East and West Horsley and Flexford and Normandy.

I would agree to additional Greenbelt if it is merited and if an area on the same stretch that actually warrants AONB status were not under threat of massive development (Blackwell Farm 1,800). The treatment of different areas lacks parity.

63. While I support the protection of countryside from development and the creation of additional Green Belt, this policy is inconsistent with the plan to remove large areas of Green Belt elsewhere and increase the physical and visual coalescence of other parts of the Borough.

This worthy statement does not seem entirely to accord with current local practice. There is substantial development approved, applied for or planned in the broad 'countryside' by Ash/Tongham/Aldershot, and perhaps greater clarity is called for?

Policy P3

I object to this policy. The NPPF gives no special protection to this area, this policy effectively gives more protection to this area than to the Green Belt, which, according to the NPPF, is supposed to be protected against development. The NPPF says that new Green Belt should only be established in exceptional circumstances, for example when planning for larger scale development such as new settlements or major urban extensions. Neither of these forms of development is planned for the Ash and Tongham area, whilst the areas of Green Belt in the east of the Borough proposed for removal in fact protect against the ever sprawling London conurbation and the encroachment of urban Guildford into the countryside.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Of relevance to Rushmoor, mindful of the allocations around Ash and Tongham, Policy P3 (Countryside) is predicated on the need to ensure that there is no further encroachment into the countryside designation to the west and south of the urban area of those settlements. It notes specifically that any further proposals for development beyond those permitted and allocated would only be allowed provided they would not lead to a greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot. The reasoned justification supporting Policy P3 states that,

"Any development proposals which compromise the integrity of the gap that separates the Ash and Tongham urban area with neighbouring Aldershot will be resisted."

In the context of the strategic allocation for residential development on land to the south and east of Ash and Tongham, Rushmoor Borough Council welcomes the inclusion of Policy P3 in the draft Plan, and the recognition of the importance of the gap between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot.

Ash Green is not part of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and therefore the ATUA boundary must not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman Road

- Ash Green is not part of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and therefore the ATUA boundary must not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman Road
- 4.3.29 Amend: "Originally consisting of the three small rural villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham, the Ash and Tongham urban area has grown considerably in size and now forms Guildford borough's second largest urban area. Given its relative sustainability, a Countryside to the south and east within the urban area to the south and east is allocated as a strategic location for development. However to make this growth sustainable, suitable infrastructure must be implemented before further development."
- 4.3.30 Amend: "We do however wish to ensure that whilst accommodating this growth, we are able to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to protect its intrinsic character and preserve the role it plays in maintaining the separate identity of Ash, Tongham and Ash Green."
- Policy P3 Amend: (1) (c) should be amended to read "does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area, Ash Green and Aldershot.

Regrettably the Local Plan continues to incorrectly identify the boundary of Ash Green. Ash Green Residents Association made a detailed response to the 2014 Local Plan Consultation and in particular raised their concerns that GBC’s settlement boundary of Ash Green was incorrect and excluded the northern part of the village. AGRA also raised concerns regarding the boundary of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area (previously known as the Ash & Tongham Strategic Location for Growth) and its potential for coalescence with Ash Green. These concerns are detailed in our comments to Policy 11 of the 2014 Local Plan and we attach a copy at Appendix A for your information.

The Ash Green settlement boundary inaccuracy together with the Ash & Tongham Urban Area boundary inaccuracy are still present in the 2017 Draft Local Plan. We therefore ask that our 2014 comments are taken into account when considering the correct settlement boundary of Ash Green, the boundary of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and a suitable area of separation between them.

Contrast this with all the site allocations and insetting in Normandy and Flexford taken without regard for their proximity to SPA and special protections for habitats and wildlife SNCI status etc or any attempt to justify exceptional circumstances. This is inconsistent and legally unsound.

Heritage Assets

There are other inconsistencies. Policy A36 has a requirement to ensure the Grade II listed building on the site is not harmed. Policy A46 has no requirement to mitigate the harm to the Grade II listed buildings by the site, one within 25m.

POLICY P3 Countryside

CPRE supports the need for a policy that protects countryside outside the Green Belt from development and greater physical and/or visual coalescence between settlements. We also recommend an additional introductory sentence calling for “the landscape character of the countryside outside the areas covered in Policy P2 to be protected and enhanced, and any new development to be designed and sited to minimise any adverse impact on this character”. This phrasing has been successfully used in another district plan in Surrey to cover the same issue. It is suggested that the policy wording to be used might usefully be discussed with Waverley, if this has not already been done, as they have a far larger area of “land beyond the Green Belt” to consider than Guildford.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
+ CPRE is concerned about the development of countryside beyond the Green Belt. Policy RE4 of the Guildford Borough Local Plan has been progressively disregarded because of the pressure to develop Ash and Ash Vale. We maintain that every effort should be made in particular to protect the village of Ash Green, with its heritage buildings, against the current proposals for its progressive phased development (Application 17/P/00513). We estimate that the existing boundary of the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty is less than a mile from the site under consideration and is due for review by Natural England in 2018. Views to and from the AONB are an important material consideration that also needs to be taken into account in this policy.

+ CPRE is concerned about the “relative sustainability” claimed for the road infrastructure in this area (4.3.29). Because of the development of Aldershot and Farnborough in Rushmoor District outside Guildford Borough, and the growth of Ash and Ash Vale, which now is to be extended to include Tongham, we maintain that making this “a strategic location for development” will add unacceptably to existing traffic congestion on the A323 in particular and the A31 Hogs Back as well.

+ CPRE recognizes that the existing policy may need to be amended but does not believe that the policy proposals made are acceptable, and still require further review.

We object to this policy, taken in the light of the other policies proposed within the local plan.

There is huge emphasis on provision both of services and of additional Green Belt in Ash and Tongham. We object to this policy. It is not clear why new Green Belt should be designated here, while the Green Belt is being rolled back in all other areas of the borough. The only notable fact is that the Leader of the Council and other Executive members are based in this area and the question of impartiality does need to be raised.

Note that in the recent judicial review in relation to Ashdown Forest, the SANG zone for the Ashdown Forest SPA was 7km, and this gave rise to a lower housing number than that proposed by this local authority.

The urban areas of Ash and Tongham are indeed of importance within the borough, creating a barrier between the countryside of Guildford and the urban towns of Aldershot and Farnborough.

However, as noted, it does not seem entirely appropriate to seek to reduce Green Belt designation everywhere else in the borough, on the grounds of overwhelming housing need (which is itself not an exceptional circumstance) – including land within the Green Belt and the Thames Basin Heath SPA, but then to propose designating additional Green Belt in this particular area.
If the planning policy is sufficiently aggressive as to disregard existing Green Belt, to propose significant development in that area, then it is inappropriate, and in contravention of existing planning law, (Gallagher Homes v Solihull as determined by the Court of Appeal) to consider proposing new areas for Green Belt. It is unclear why the strategic gap that separates the Ash and Tongham urban areas from neighbouring Aldershot is of greater significance to the borough as a whole, than other threatened Green Belt villages and fields.

The desire to protect the strategic gap between Ash and Tongham and Ash Green is welcomed, and provided that this does not arise because of a loss of Green Belt land elsewhere, the proposal to include some of this land within the Green Belt is welcomed too. However, Green Belt boundaries should not be traded off. One village community should not benefit to the detriment of another. The proposed extension of Green Belt designation to Ash and Tongham is unlikely to succeed, because it is not inherently better at serving the purposes of the Green Belt than other areas threatened by development, and a similar attempt in Solihull was wholly unsuccessful. The Court of Appeal decision will represent a precedent in this regard.

As noted in Gallagher Homes v Solihull, the NPPF is based on PPG2 which is quoted in a similar context to this proposal:

“If such an alteration is proposed the Secretary of State will wish to be satisfied that the authority has considered opportunities for development within the urban areas contained by and beyond the Green Belt.”

In other words, before altering Green Belt boundaries (to use for building), land beyond the Green Belt should be considered as building land first; and first of all, brownfield urban land should be used. Provided that the Green Belt is not subject to the wholesale assault then this extension might be acceptable to the wider community within the borough. It will not be acceptable as a trade-off for loss of the Green Belt elsewhere.

Policy P3 States that ‘development will only be permitted permitted provided it:

- “requires a countryside location or where a rural location can be justified, and
- is proportionate to the nature and scale of the site, its setting and countryside location, and
- does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot”.

We would like to know what the rural justification of proposed housing has for Ash and Tongham and how Guildford Borough Council proves that contributes to the rural economy? In the Local Plan, Guildford Borough Council refers to these Eastern Borough proposals as ‘extensions to urban boundaries’. Developments of 1241 and 91 homes cannot possibly meet the necessary term ‘rural justification’ (The site allocation maps show different figures of 1200, 62, 58 homes)

As far as we can tell with the corresponding maps, the proposed developments in Ash and Tongham will create a greater coalescence between the separate villages to combine them into one urban area with a slither of green space between it and the A331/Aldershot.

Designation of Green Belt does not guarantee a barrier between Ash and Ash Green as Guildford has demonstrated the urge to move the Green Belt boundaries in communities elsewhere. We would suggest removing the allocation of further Green Belt designation as it does not follow NPPG Policy. There are no exceptional circumstances to allow changes in Green Belt Boundaries in Guildford.

It is also not clear what the impact will be of designating SANG in this area, and whether this will be used to permit building on Green Belt or land otherwise protected because of the Thames Basin Heath SPA designation elsewhere.

Ash and Tongham have countryside designated Ancient Woodland, AGLV and SNCI and a sensitive historic site which must be protected. This, together with a focus on using existing brownfield within the urban settlement area and a more realistic housing number, should succeed in protecting the valuable countryside around Ash and Tongham, while the attempt to adjust Green Belt boundaries seems doomed to failure and therefore will allow wholesale overdevelopment in this area.

This is another appalling policy, directed towards protecting specific areas in which some of the more influential Councillors live.

I object to this misuse of Councillors’ powers as new greenbelt is to be created and the areas of Ash and Tongham, which are not at present in the greenbelt will not be inset, and will have greater protection from development. This policy is immoral.

POLICY P3 – Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

I OBJECT. This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).
This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be “inset”. That is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl.

Apart from being a scandalous misuse of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, “Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham.” It is a cynical piece of tokenism. The leader of the Council needs to be seen to be above reproach by deleting this policy.

I object to the changes to policy P3, particularly the statement in para 4.3.28 “it is nevertheless important that we seek to manage growth in this area”, which shows a bias towards protecting the countryside beyond the green belt (near Ash and Tongham) above other areas with more important landscape designations.

Whilst I do not see the need to build on the countryside beyond the green belt (if constraints are applied to the OAN and housing is built more densely on brownfield sites), GBC appears to be more protective of this area than it is of AONB or the green belt, and this is contrary to the NPPF, which states that national parks and AONBs should have the highest level of protection.

The policy seems to attach greater importance to preventing the “coalescence between Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of Metropolitan Green belt, which is to stop London sprawl. Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford at a distance from London and therefore do not fulfil this purpose. That is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the green belt already. It also seems that GBC is more concerned about the coalescence between Ash & Tongham and Aldershot than it is between Guildford and Woking, or between Flexford and Guildford, or between Wood Street Village and Guildford.

In the 2014 version of the Plan, the reason given for extending the green belt to Ash and Tongham was that this would protect important views from the Hog’s Back ridge, but this justification was changed to “preventing coalescence” after it was pointed out that Blackwell Farm equally protected the views from the ridge. It appears that policies (and elements of the evidence base) are being adapted to ensure that certain sites are included in the Local Plan (and others excluded), rather than using sound evidence and policies as a starting point to determine which are the most suitable locations for development. The whole approach to the Local Plan is therefore unsound.

“The Hog’s Back Chalk Ridge landscape should be conserved, in particular the open nature of the landscape which forms a backdrop to the surrounding rural areas and Guildford, the wide and far ranging views from the many viewpoints along the ridge line and the sparse settlement pattern of traditional style and local materials. The intact large scale geometric field pattern and hedgerow boundaries and hedgerow trees should be conserved while there is potential to enhance and reinforce some of the hedgerows.” - Guildford Landscape Character Assessment

Paras 4.3.28 – 4.3.31
I object to all changes in Introduction, p59, paragraphs 4.3.28, 4.3.29, 4.3.30 and 4.3.31 as they ease the path to more intensive development rather than maintaining a degree of protection to countryside that contributes to views into and out of the Surrey Hills AONB area of the Hogs Back.

I propose paragraphs 4.3.28, 4.3.29, 4.3.30 and 4.3.31 revert to their original content as follows:
"4.3.28 The borough has areas of countryside near Ash and Tongham that is not designated Green Belt. Whilst this land does not carry the same weight in national planning policy as Green Belt in terms of resisting development, it is nevertheless important that we seek to manage change growth in this area. 4.3.29 Originally consisting of the three small rural villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham, the Ash and Tongham urban area has grown considerably in size and now forms Guildford borough’s second urban area. The sustainability of this area combined with its preference in the spatial hierarchy means a further extension of the urban area, using some countryside, is allocated for development. 4.3.30 We do however wish to ensure that whilst accommodating this growth, we are able to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to protect its intrinsic character and preserve the role it plays in maintaining the separate identify of Ash and Tongham.

4.3.31 The countryside lies immediately to the west and south of the urban area and forms the natural boundary of the Blackwater Valley. The Blackwater Valley contains the A331, which connects the A31 and Tongham in the south with Ash Vale in the north and Frimley beyond. It also provides an important open gap between Ash and Tongham, and the town of Aldershot to the west.”

At 4.3.29 it states that due to “the sustainability of the area......... a further extension of the urban area, using some countryside (my emphasis), is allocated for development”. It is not some countryside – it is a substantial part of the countryside remaining in the area which is being earmarked for potential development.

Ash Green is not part of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and therefore the ATUA boundary must not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman Road

- 4.3.29 Amend: “Originally consisting of the three small rural villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham, the Ash and Tongham urban area has grown considerably in size and now forms Guildford borough’s second largest urban area. Countryside within the urban area to the south and east is allocated as a strategic location for development. However to make this growth sustainable, suitable infrastructure must be implemented before further development.”

- 4.3.30 Amend: “We do however wish to ensure that whilst accommodating this growth, we are able to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to protect its intrinsic character and preserve the role it plays in maintaining the separate identity of Ash, Tongham and Ash Green.”

- Policy P3 Amend: (1) (c) should be amended to read “does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area, Ash Green and Aldershot.”

Policy P3: Green Belt

I OBJECT to this policy.

This policy is much weaker than previous protection. It is dependent on the Surrey Hills Management Plan which welcomes housing development. The Surrey Hills needs much more substantial protection. Even major (undefined) development in the AONB would be permitted if exceptional (undefined) circumstances could be demonstrated. P3

2. Comments relating to Policy P3: Countryside (i.e. outside the Green Belt)

- I OBJECT to the fact that the Plan gives Ash and Tongham more protection than rest of borough, including existing Green Belt, even though they don’t contribute to preventing London sprawl. (Could this be politically biased special treatment of villages represented by current Council Leader and his predecessor?!).
- A minor extension of Green Belt in one place does not justify its major destruction elsewhere (the inset villages).

This seems more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt which is anomalous. We think that the brownfield areas within the urban area are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There should be no need to build on any green fields if ‘brownfield’ (previously developed) land is used efficiently.

However, we do not think this area justifies stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. This policy refers to the area of countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent this area should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should – by definition - have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas, which is not the case with this policy.

This policy attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl.

I object to policy P3 Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: ‘we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location’. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, that is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the ‘coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot’ than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl. I agree to the prevention of coalescence but this should apply to all villages including East and West Horsley and Flexford and Normandy.

I object to policy P3 Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt) On reading this is clearly a more protective than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I feel that urban, brownfield areas are there to meet all reasonable housing targets so there is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently. This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it some sort of guilt edge status. It states that “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. This is stronger than that for the Green Belt and AONB areas, which should, by definition, have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas. It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore should not be seen as part of the London Metropolitan Green Belt. Why protect some fields so far away from London yet take out areas of Green belt which are much closer to London and should contribute more to the control of Metropolitan London into the countryside. There is no planning policy reason for the attachment of higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than to Metropolitan Green Belt in the north east of the Borough.

I would ask that Ash Green not be considered to be part of the Ash and Tongham Urban Area and that the boundary should thus not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman road. Maps for many years have suggested that Ash Green Road and Foreman Road are part of Ash Green and should not therefore be joined to Ash.

4.3.30 should in fact say: “We do however wish to ensure that whilst accommodating this growth, we are able to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to protect its intrinsic character and preserve its role in maintaining a separate identity for Ash, Tongham and Ash Green.

I have lived in this area for almost 70 years and this area has up to now consisted of four small areas, Ash, Ash Green, Ash Vale and Tongham. All these areas have grown substantially in recent years. Whereas it is appreciated that there must be some development in the areas to make this growth sustainable the Council must address the need for suitable infrastructure improvements before further development is considered. This appears to be put on the backburner as the local area expands and is now extremely urgent.

If we are to have local growth I for one would wish to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to retain some sort of character to the area and in particular to preserve the role it plays in maintaining the separate identify of Ash, Tongham and Ash Green. Please let us not turn this area into a large urban sprawl with no individual identity for different villages.

the heading is Countryside yet the GBC statements are predominantly relating to Ash and Tongham. No justification is given for extending greenbelt at sh and Tongham yet removing it from Blackwell far. Is it because the lead councillor lives in Ash and Tongham?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to this policy, taken in the light of the other policies proposed within the local plan.

There is huge emphasis on provision both of services and of additional Green Belt in Ash and Tongham. We object to this policy. It is not clear why new Green Belt should be designated here, while the Green Belt is being rolled back in all other areas of the borough. The only notable fact is that the Leader of the Council and other Executive members are based in this area and the question of impartiality does need to be raised.

Note that in the recent judicial review in relation to Ashdown Forest, the SANG zone for the Ashdown Forest SPA was 7km, and this gave rise to a lower housing number than that proposed by this local authority.

The urban areas of Ash and Tongham are indeed of importance within the borough, creating a barrier between the countryside of Guildford and the urban towns of Aldershot and Farnborough.

However, as noted, it does not seem entirely appropriate to seek to reduce Green Belt designation everywhere else in the borough, on the grounds of overwhelming housing need (which is itself not an exceptional circumstance) – including land within the Green Belt and the Thames Basin Heath SPA, but then to propose designating additional Green Belt in this particular area.

If the planning policy is sufficiently aggressive as to disregard existing Green Belt, to propose significant development in that area, then it is inappropriate, and in contravention of existing planning law, (Gallagher Homes v Solihull as determined by the Court of Appeal) to consider proposing new areas for Green Belt. It is unclear why the strategic gap that separates the Ash and Tongham urban areas from neighbouring Aldershot is of greater significance to the borough as a whole, than other threatened Green Belt villages and fields.

The desire to protect the strategic gap between Ash and Tongham and Ash Green is welcomed, and provided that this does not arise because of a loss of Green Belt land elsewhere, the proposal to include some of this land within the Green Belt is welcomed too. However, Green Belt boundaries should not be traded off. One village community should not benefit to the detriment of another. The proposed extension of Green Belt designation to Ash and Tongham is unlikely to succeed, because it is not inherently better at serving the purposes of the Green Belt than other areas threatened by development, and a similar attempt in Solihull was wholly unsuccessful. The Court of Appeal decision will represent a precedent in this regard.

As noted in Gallagher Homes v Solihull, the NPPF is based on PPG2 which is quoted in a similar context to this proposal:

“If such an alteration is proposed the Secretary of State will wish to be satisfied that the authority has considered opportunities for development within the urban areas contained by and beyond the Green Belt.”

In other words, before altering Green Belt boundaries (to use for building), land beyond the Green Belt should be considered as building land first; and first of all, brownfield urban land should be used. Provided that the Green Belt is not subject to the wholesale assault then this extension might be acceptable to the wider community within the borough. It will not be acceptable as a trade-off for loss of the Green Belt elsewhere.

Policy P3 States that ‘development will only be permitted provided it:

- requires a countryside location or where a rural location can be justified, and
- is proportionate to the nature and scale of the site, its setting and countryside location, and
• does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot’.

We would like to know what the rural justification of proposed housing has for Ash and Tongham and how Guildford Borough Council proves that contributes to the rural economy? In the Local Plan, Guildford Borough Council refers to these Eastern Borough proposals as ‘extensions to urban boundaries’. Developments of 1241 and 91 homes cannot possibly meet the necessary term ‘rural justification’ (The site allocation maps show different figures of 1200, 62, 58 homes)

As far as we can tell with the corresponding maps, the proposed developments in Ash and Tongham will create a greater coalescence between the separate villages to combine them into one urban area with a slither of green space between it and the A331/Aldershot.

Designation of Green Belt does not guarantee a barrier between Ash and Ash Green as Guildford has demonstrated the urge to move the Green Belt boundaries in communities elsewhere. We would suggest removing the allocation of further Green Belt designation as it does not follow NPPG Policy. There are no exceptional circumstances to allow changes in Green Belt Boundaries in Guildford.

It is also not clear what the impact will be of designating SANG in this area, and whether this will be used to permit building on Green Belt or land otherwise protected because of the Thames Basin Heath SPA designation elsewhere.

Ash and Tongham have countryside designated Ancient Woodland, AGLV and SNCI and a sensitive historic site which must be protected. This, together with a focus on using existing brownfield within the urban settlement area and a more realistic housing number, should succeed in protecting the valuable countryside around Ash and Tongham, while the attempt to adjust Green Belt boundaries seems doomed to failure and therefore will allow wholesale overdevelopment in this area.

- Special treatment of ward represented by current Council Leader and his predecessor. Politically biased.
- A minor extension of Green Belt in one place does not justify its major destruction elsewhere (the inset villages).

I also wish to OBJECT TO POLICY P3 (COUNTRYSIDE BEYOND THE GREEN BELT) and was very disappointed to note that the proposed LP gives Ash and Tongham more protection than the rest of borough, including existing Green Belt, although these villages do not contribute to preventing London sprawl – unlike East and West Horsley, Ockham etc. Without wishing to be cynical, I would question whether due process has been followed in developing the draft Plan where there appears to be special treatment of a ward represented by the current Council Leader and his predecessor. With questions around politically bias, the draft Plan should not be approved as it is currently drawn.

FLAG welcomes the creation of new Green Belt to prevent urban sprawl and supports this policy. We would also comment that the wording here is much better than the protection of AONB or the Green Belt itself – would it be possible to ask whoever wrote this to have a go at the previous two?

Having said that, we cannot understand the relevance of the monitoring of appeals for developments within inset villages.

POLICY P3 Countryside

CPRE supports the need for a policy that protects countryside outside the Green Belt from development and greater physical and/or visual coalescence between settlements. We also recommend an additional introductory sentence calling for "the landscape character of the countryside outside the areas covered in Policy P2 to be protected and enhanced, and any new development to be designed and sited to minimise any adverse impact on this character". This phrasing has been successfully used in another district plan in Surrey to cover the same issue. It is suggested that the policy wording to be used might usefully be discussed with Waverley, if this has not already been done, as they have a far larger area of "land beyond the Green Belt" to consider than Guildford.

I OBJECT to this policy.

This policy is much weaker than previous protection. It is dependent on the Surrey Hills Management Plan which welcomes housing development. The Surrey Hills needs much more substantial protection. Even major (undefined) development in the AONB would be permitted if exceptional (undefined) circumstances could be demonstrated.

POLICY P3 – Countryside (ie countryside beyond the Green Belt)

OBJECT. This seems more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt which is anomalous. Note – I am not in favour of building on this area. I think that the brownfield areas within the urban area are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There should be no need to build on any green fields if brownfield (previously developed) land is used efficiently. (That does not mean garden-grabbing!).

However, I do not think this area justifies stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. This policy refers to the area of countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent this area should not give It preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should – by definition - have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas, which is not the case with this policy.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

POLICY P3 – Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

I OBJECT. This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be “inset”. That is presumably why they are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Apart from being a scandalous case of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, “Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham.” It is a cynical piece of tokenism.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
3. I object to the congestion that the development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road structure improvement (Policy P3).

The roads around Clandon, Send and Ripley are already congested with frequent long lines of traffic queuing. Narrow roads such as Newark Lane and Rose Lane already struggle with the present amount of traffic.

Crossing the road as a pedestrian in these villages can be dangerous.

Walking from Grove Heath North to the High Street in Ripley requires crossing Rose Lane often between cars waiting in this road turning left or right into the High Street. This crossing of Rose Lane is not pedestrian friendly and one day someone will get hurt or killed. Any further increase in traffic will only make matters worse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT TO POLICY P3 (COUNTRYSIDE BEYOND THE GREEN BELT):

- Gives Ash and Tongham more protection than rest of borough, including existing Green Belt. But they don’t contribute to preventing London sprawl.
- Special treatment of ward represented by current Council Leader and his predecessor. Politically biased.
- A minor extension of Green Belt in one place

We object to this policy, taken in the light of the other policies proposed within the local plan.

There is huge emphasis on provision both of services and of additional Green Belt in Ash and Tongham. We object to this policy. It is not clear why new Green Belt should be designated here, while the Green Belt is being rolled back in all other areas of the borough. The only notable fact is that the Leader of the Council and other Executive members are based in this area and the question of impartiality does need to be raised.

Note that in the recent judicial review in relation to Ashdown Forest, the SANG zone for the Ashdown Forest SPA was 7km, and this gave rise to a lower housing number than that proposed by this local authority.
The urban areas of Ash and Tongham are indeed of importance within the borough, creating a barrier between the countryside of Guildford and the urban towns of Aldershot and Farnborough.

However, as noted, it does not seem entirely appropriate to seek to reduce Green Belt designation everywhere else in the borough, on the grounds of overwhelming housing need (which is itself not an exceptional circumstance) – including land within the Green Belt and the Thames Basin Heath SPA, but then to propose designating additional Green Belt in this particular area.

If the planning policy is sufficiently aggressive as to disregard existing Green Belt, to propose significant development in that area, then it is inappropriate, and in contravention of existing planning law, (Gallagher Homes v Solihull as determined by the Court of Appeal) to consider proposing new areas for Green Belt. It is unclear why the strategic gap that separates the Ash and Tongham urban areas from neighbouring Aldershot is of greater significance to the borough as a whole, than other threatened Green Belt villages and fields.

The desire to protect the strategic gap between Ash and Tongham and Ash Green is welcomed, and provided that this does not arise because of a loss of Green Belt land elsewhere, the proposal to include some of this land within the Green Belt is welcomed too. However, Green Belt boundaries should not be traded off. One village community should not benefit to the detriment of another. The proposed extension of Green Belt designation to Ash and Tongham is unlikely to succeed, because it is not inherently better at serving the purposes of the Green Belt than other areas threatened by development, and a similar attempt in Solihull was wholly unsuccessful. The Court of Appeal decision will represent a precedent in this regard.

As noted in Gallagher Homes v Solihull, the NPPF is based on PPG2 which is quoted in a similar context to this proposal:

“If such an alteration is proposed the Secretary of State will wish to be satisfied that the authority has considered opportunities for development within the urban areas contained by and beyond the Green Belt.”

In other words, before altering Green Belt boundaries (to use for building), land beyond the Green Belt should be considered as building land first; and first of all, brownfield urban land should be used. Provided that the Green Belt is not subject to the wholesale assault then this extension might be acceptable to the wider community within the borough. It will not be acceptable as a trade-off for loss of the Green Belt elsewhere.

Policy P3 States that ‘development will only be permitted provided it:

- “requires a countryside location or where a rural location can be justified, and
- is proportionate to the nature and scale of the site, its setting and countryside location, and
- does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot”.

We would like to know what the rural justification of proposed housing has for Ash and Tongham and how Guildford Borough Council proves that contributes to the rural economy? In the Local Plan, Guildford Borough Council refers to these Eastern Borough proposals as ‘extensions to urban boundaries’. Developments of 1241 and 91 homes cannot possibly meet the necessary term ‘rural justification’ (The site allocation maps show different figures of 1200, 62, 58 homes).

As far as we can tell with the corresponding maps, the proposed developments in Ash and Tongham will create a greater coalescence between the separate villages to combine them into one urban area with a slither of green space between it and the A331/Aldershot.

Designation of Green Belt does not guarantee a barrier between Ash and Ash Green as Guildford has demonstrated the urge to move the Green Belt boundaries in communities elsewhere. We would suggest removing the allocation of further Green Belt designation as it does not follow NPPG Policy. There are no exceptional circumstances to allow changes in Green Belt Boundaries in Guildford.
It is also not clear what the impact will be of designating SANG in this area, and whether this will be used to permit building on Green Belt or land otherwise protected because of the Thames Basin Heath SPA designation elsewhere.

Ash and Tongham have countryside designated Ancient Woodland, AGLV and SNCI and a sensitive historic site which must be protected. This, together with a focus on using existing brownfield within the urban settlement area and a more realistic housing number, should succeed in protecting the valuable countryside around Ash and Tongham, while the attempt to adjust Green Belt boundaries seems doomed to failure and therefore will allow wholesale overdevelopment in this area.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

I write to you in respect of the Guildford borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy & sites and include my comments and objections specifically relating to Ash Green.

Policy P3-Countryside and A29 (land to the south and east of Ash and Tongham.

Ash Green IS a rural area. We are next to Ash which is urban. Looking at the Ordnance Survey map you can see how built up Ash is. We are at extreme risk of loosing our rural identity as Ash is expanding with ever increasing development. With the proposed A29 policy this will merge the two areas of Ash and Ash Green together and we WILL loose part of Ash Green. How can it even be possible to take away part of the community area or divide a village?

Looking at the draft map where the blue line has been drawn, it segregates the greenest part of the village into the Ash and Tongham Urban Area (ATUA). This will destroy the rural part of Ash Green and we will loose that part of the countryside.

Ash Green is not part of the ATUA and the boundary must not extend south of Ash Green and Foreman Road.

Ash Green also has historical importance. The area of Ash Manor was originally a historical farmstead called Manor Farm and on old maps this was and should still be in Ash Green. The local plan even lists in it’s key considerations ‘the historical location of Ash Green’.

I have recently attended an open surgery with our local MP for Surrey Health, Michael Gove. We raised our concerns to him of the threat to our community by the GBC’s proposed Local Plan and the divide of Ash Green. He appeared very interested and assured us he was going to look into this further.

Aware that Mr Gove is also Environment secretary we stressed our concerns to him at the threat of loss to Ash Greens’ intrinsic rural character of it’s countryside location. We are also very close to the Surrey Hills Area of outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB).

To quote Michael Gove in June 2017 (Channel 4 news) on his new role as environment secretary..
Our countryside does need protecting, we are slowly losing it to development. I am fully aware of the need for more housing and accept smaller scale and appropriate development in this area but even the council (as documented in their draft plan) suggests the need to support rural communities and to protect the remaining countryside.

I would like to object to the current wording in your policy of P3 and A29 (land to the south and east of Ash Tongham) as it does not give us any protection. I totally understand the need for new housing but it needs to be affordable for key workers and currently there are many new builds not being sold and in my opinion too expensive for such workers. Myself and my partner are key workers and would not afford the current prices of these new builds.

Please include in your Local Plan these revised paragraphs (as suggested by Ash Green Residents Association) for Policies P3, A29, and requirements 6 & 8 to protect Ash Green as a rural community from over development, ensuring appropriate infrastructure and recognising it’s historical location and intrinsic, rural character

| 4.3.29 Amend to: “Originally consisting of the three small rural villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham, the Ash and Tongham urban area has grown considerably in size and now forms Guildford borough’s second largest urban area. Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

I’d like to firstly object to Policy P3, Countryside.

Ash Green is not part of the Ash and Tongham Urban Area (ATUA). It is a rural community and historically always has been. Many old maps such as the Tythe Map and Ordnance survey maps dating back as far as 1871 shows the original Ash Green incorporating Ash Green Road and Ash Manor.

Ash Green is a rural area, you get that sense when you live, walk or drive around it. The roads, especially down Ash Green Road are narrow and rural. Ash Manor is indicated in Ash Green on the historical maps. This used to be a farm called Manor Farm. Also drafted into the ATUA and yet originally part of Ash Green, is the Old Farmhouse just down Drovers way. This was originally called Ash Green Farm. When looking at it all with historically 2 farms and farms are generally part of the countryside, this shows we are rural and must stay that way.

So as part of the countryside policy I would like to ask for the following amendments to 4.3.29, 4.3.30 and policy P3 as follows to keep Ash Green as a rural area and to not be dissolved into urbanisation.

- 4.3.29 Amend: “Originally consisting of the three small rural villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham, the Ash and Tongham urban area has grown considerably in size and now forms Guildford borough’s second largest urban area. Given its relative sustainability, Countryside to the south and east of the urban area within the urban area to the south and east is allocated as a strategic location for development. However to make this growth sustainable, suitable infrastructure must be implemented before further development.”

- 4.3.30 Amend: “We do however wish to ensure that whilst accommodating this growth, we are able to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to protect its intrinsic character and preserve the role it plays in maintaining the separate identity of Ash, Tongham and Ash Green.”

- Policy P3 Amend: (1) (c) to read “does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area, Ash Green and Aldershot.”

I object to policy P3 Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be “inset”. That is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl.

I OBJECT TO POLICY P3 (COUNTRYSIDE BEYOND THE GREEN BELT):

- Gives Ash and Tongham more protection than rest of borough, including existing Green Belt. But they don't contribute to preventing London sprawl.
- Special treatment of ward represented by current Council Leader and his predecessor. Politically biased.
- A minor extension of Green Belt in one place does not justify its major destruction elsewhere (the inset villages).

Policy P3 - Countryside

- Ash Green is not part of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and therefore the ATUA boundary must not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman Road
- 4.3.29 Amend: "Originally consisting of the three small rural villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham, the Ash and Tongham urban area has grown considerably in size and now forms Guildford borough’s second largest urban area. Given its relative sustainability, Countryside within the urban area to the south and east is allocated as a strategic location for development. However to make this growth sustainable, suitable infrastructure must be implemented before further development."
- 4.3.30 Amend: "We do however wish to ensure that whilst accommodating this growth, we are able to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to protect its intrinsic character and preserve the role it plays in maintaining the separate identity of Ash, Tongham and Ash Green."
- Policy P3 Amend: (1) (c) should be amended to read "does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area, Ash Green and Aldershot.

POLICY P3- Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

I OBJECT . This is more protective- as a policy- than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets . There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3 .28) . This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be "inset". That is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the "coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot" than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl.

Apart from being a scandalous misuse of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, "Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham.” It is a cynical piece of tokenism. The leader of the Council needs to be seen to be above reproach by deleting this policy.

Why not build in Ash and Tongham rather than extend the Green Belt here?

I object - How can it be sensible to protect areas further from London i.e. Ash and Tongham (the direction from which urban sprawl comes) over the villages closer to the M25 with commuting access to London. This is clearly politically biased (I understand a number of senior council members past and present live in Ash and Tongham) and focused on maximizing profits for housing developers.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to policy P3 Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt) This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous. What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to POLICY P3 (Countryside beyond the Green Belt)

This policy wrong as it results in giving more protection as a policy than the proposals for AONB and the Green Belt. I object to the idea of building on any green fields as there is sufficient brownfield (previously developed land) and urban areas to meet all reasonable housing need, e.g. River Wey/Walnut Tree Close area.

This policy (see para. 4.3.28) refers to protecting countryside near Ash and Tongham. This area does not justify stronger policy protection than the rest of the borough including Green Belt. It should not be afforded special treatment. The area concerned does not contribute to the prevention of Metropolitan urban sprawl, lying further away from London beyond Guildford, whereas those villages to be ‘inset’ do contribute to preventing urban sprawl.

Green Belt and AONB areas should as a matter of policy be classed as having higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

This policy does not make sense as it is proposing a minor extension of the Green Belt in one place (Ash and Tongham) whilst trying to justify its major destruction in other places (the inset villages) which are currently in Green Belt.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I also wish to OBJECT TO POLICY P3 (COUNTRYSIDE BEYOND THE GREEN BELT) and was very disappointed to note that the proposed draft Plan gives Ash and Tongham more protection than the rest of borough, including existing Green Belt, although these villages do not contribute to preventing London sprawl – unlike East and West Horsley, Ockham etc. Without wishing to be cynical, I would question whether due process has been followed in developing the draft Plan where there appears to be special treatment of a ward represented by the current Council Leader and his predecessor. With questions around political bias, the draft Plan should not be approved as it is currently drawn.

POLICY P3 (COUNTRYSIDE BEYOND THE GREEN BELT) – I object because the only area to benefit (Ash & Tongham) is represented by the council leader and his predecessor. This is a distasteful hangover from the Mansbridge/Juneja plan. The current leader opens himself up to accusations of political bias by pushing for greater protection for this area than for villages that have been in the Green Belt for generations. It’s transparently cynical to extend the Green Belt in the extreme south-west while destroying it in the north and east where it protects the borough against the London sprawl.

Beyond the Green Belt there are areas of countryside around the villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham to the west of the Borough. Whilst the Spatial strategy identifies certain areas of countryside around these settlements for development Policy P3 seeks to protect the gaps between Ash, Tongham and Aldershot.

It is considered therefore that other than the land currently allocated to the west of the borough no further sustainable development opportunities can be brought forward.
I OBJECT TO POLICY P3 (COUNTRYSIDE BEYOND THE GREEN BELT):

- Gives Ash and Tongham more protection than rest of borough, including existing Green Belt. But they don’t contribute to preventing London sprawl.

I object to policy P3 Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt) This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing). This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas. It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, that is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl. I agree to the prevention of coalescence but this should apply to all villages including East and West Horsley and Flexford and Normandy.

3). I object to the congestion that the development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road structure improvement (Policy P3).

The roads around Clandon, Send and Ripley are already congested with frequent long lines of traffic queuing. Narrow roads such as Newark Lane and Rose Lane already struggle with the present amount of traffic. Crossing the road as a pedestrian in these villages can be dangerous. Walking from Grove Heath North to the High Street in Ripley requires crossing Rose Lane often between cars waiting in this road turning left or right into the High Street. This crossing of Rose Lane is not pedestrian friendly and one day someone will get hurt or killed. Any further increase in traffic will only make matters worse.

4. I OBJECT to Policy P3: a minor extension of Metropolitan Green Belt here in Ash and Tongham seems not justify the greater changes proposed in P2 et al for insetting villages. Also, why is this ward (represented by the current Council Leader) given special treatment and called out specifically for protection?

POLICY P3 – Countryside (ie countryside beyond the Green Belt)

GROUND FOR OBJECTION. This seems more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt which is anomalous. Note - we are not in favour of building on this area. We think that the brownfield areas within the urban area are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There should be no need to build on any green fields if brownfield (previously developed) land is used efficiently. (That does not mean garden-grabbing!).

However, we do not think this area justifies stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. This policy refers to the area of countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent this area should not give it preferential status: "we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location". Green Belt and AONB areas should – by definition - have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas, which is not the case with this policy.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Brownfield sites in the Guildford urban area, if used properly, would be sufficient to meet all building targets. I object to all building on green belt or green field sites, because if this is allowed to commence, the unborn sprawl will reach from Guildford straight through to Aldershot and Farnham.

Normandy and Flexford needs and priorities do not include a secondary school. I object to this proposal as there are already two such schools to the west of Guildford with some hundreds of empty places.

The local so-called plan will permanently destroy Normandy and Flexford rural status. It will bring chaos to traffic movements air pollution will increase and will turn a very pleasant village into urban sprawl.

Sprawl from towns that occurred between the two wars was one of the main reason for establishing the Green Belt. Apart from being a scandalous misuse of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, “Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham.” It is a cynical piece of tokenism. The leader of the Council needs to be seen to be above reproach by deleting this policy.

Whilst the concept of what the policy is trying to achieve is acknowledged, Gladman have concern that the policy could be used to refuse development, when the development in question represented sustainable development. We would suggest that the policy should be rewritten to incorporate a reference as to how the policy will be used as part of a wider judgement on the sustainability of a site.

Given the nature of the district it is entirely possible that none green belt land may come under more pressure than other areas.

I am a resident of Ash Green Village which seems to be encompassed by these plans but is not mentioned by name. Ash Green village is a separate entity bounded by Ash Green road to the north and has been since the early 19th century. This village is not part of the Ash and Tongham Urban Area and the unbuilt on buffer area must remain between Ash Green Village and the Ash and Tongham Urban Area.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The buffer of Ash Manor should be maintained as it not only forms a natural buffer but is of historic significance.

I have lived in Ash Green all my life. I live in Ash Green Road and it is part of Ash Green. This area is rural. I live opposite the fields to Ash Manor and the road I live on is rural. In the late summer our road is busy with tractors and agricultural vehicles from the nearby farm harvesting their crop.

This part of Ash Green I live in is not part of the Ash and Tongham Urban Area (ATUA) and so the boundary should not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman Road.

For this reason could section 4.3.29 be amended to...

"Originally consisting of the three small rural villages of Ash, Ash Vale and Tongham, the Ash and Tongham Urban area has grown considerably in size and now forms Guildford Borough's second largest urban area. Countryside within the urban area to the south and east is allocated as a strategic location for development. However to make this growth sustainable, suitable infrastructure must be implemented before further development".

Please amend section 4.3.30 to.....

'We do however wish to ensure that whilst accommodating this growth, we are able to protect the remaining countryside around it from inappropriate development in order to protect its intrinsic character and preserve the role it plays in maintaining the separate identity of Ash, Tongham and Ash Green."

Please amend Policy P3 to read...

"does not lead to greater physical or visual coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area. Ash Green and Aldershot."

I can see in your Policy P3 that it is about the countryside. I would like object to the current wording and see amendments that gives Ash Green more protection from inappropriate and over development, protect Ash Green as a rural community and not join us in to the Ash and Tongham Urban Area (ATUA). It also needs to preserve it's role in maintaining a separation of identity to Ash and Tongham. I would also like to see Ash Manor as a buffer between the rural Ash Green and Urban Ash.

To add to the amendments in this policy there should be rewording that ensures there is sufficient infrastructure before any development goes ahead.

Ash Green is not part of the Ash and Tongham Urban area and I strongly disagree that it should be made so. I live in Ash Manor, which has a long history, and has always been part of Ash Green so please do not do anything to move Ash Green, as the current proposal appears to do, or coalesce Ash, Tongham and Ash Green. The green boundary's should stay in place to allow the villages to be separate. The intrinsic character of Ash Green should be be kept intact after any development.

Substantial development has been proposed for Ash Green and I believe it is vital suitable infrastructure to be in place before further development commences. The road infrastructure required includes work to the A31/A3 junction at Guildford, A331/A31 junction and improvements around Ash station as without these Ash Green, which is used as a rat run already, will be even more overrun and dangerous than it is already with small roads under large pressure. In addition infrastructure for schools, doctors, shops, etc is also sorely lacking with the planning approvals we already have let alone those proposed.

Policy P3 – Countryside. Ash Green is not part of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and therefore the ATUA boundary must not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman Road. Countryside within the urban area may be allocated as a strategic location for development, however suitable infrastructure must be implemented before further development. Our roads are single lanes in many cases with poor road surfaces, associated traffic volume including delivery vans & lorries servicing these new properties. Congestion & bottle necks particulary school peak times. Our countryside, loss of natural habitat and the rural setting under threat of being over developed. Awareness of Tree Preservation Orders and to highlight Listed Buildings & homes.

I object to the increase from 1200 to 1750 homes as this would result in the coalescence of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and Ash Green Village. This is contrary to Policy P3 (Countryside) Therefor Requirement 6 of this Policy, which attempts to protect the ‘historic location of Ash Green’ is inadequate and would need rewording to prevent this increased potential for coalescence.

Development proposals in the vicinity of Ash Green must recognise the historic location of Ash Green village. The listed building the trees with Preservation Orders. Any development as a whole should not be of a size and scale that would detract from the character of the rural landscape. This must include the provision of a substantial green buffer that maintains separation between any proposed new development and the properties fronting onto Ash Green Road, Foreman Road and White Lane.

We need to sufficiently protect Ash Manor, a historical farmstead of three listed buildings including a medieval hall house. Sensitive design at site boundaries with the adjacent complex of listed buildings at Ash Manor. Views to and from this heritage asset, including their approach from White Lane, must be protected.

Infrastructure before development. Requirement 9 (land and provision for a new road bridge at Ash Station to enable closure of the level crossing) must be completed before any development of Policy A29 commences.

Requirement 9 fails to address the other significant transport infrastructure improvements that are required to cope with the increases in traffic generated by Policy A29. Therefore solutions to the following areas are also required before any development of A29 is permitted.

1. The Street in Tongham
2. A331/A323 intersection
3. A31/White Lane junction

Policies A27, A28 and A29 collectively increase Ash Green village by 50%!!

We will no longer be a village, we will be victims of urban sprawl, losing our village identity forever.

Proposed Submission Local Plan Regulation 19 representations (2016 and 2017)

Document part: Policy P4 - Flooding, Flood Risk and groundwater protection zones
Policy P4: Flooding, flood risk and groundwater source production

We welcome this policy and ask that reference is made to the recently increased climate change allowances required when considering flood risk. In view of these, the encouragement given to reducing flood risk on sites that include 'developed' flood zone 3b (functional floodplain) should be strengthened.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

We welcome addition of the new climate change allowance.

We ask for policy on developed Zone 3b floodplain to, where possible, encourage the layout of development within a site to be changed to reduce the footprint within the functional flood zone and to make more space for water. Currently, the policy reinforces existing layout (albeit with reference to an assessment).

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

We welcome the policy to restrict development on the ‘developed’ flood zone 3b. This area does not appear to be shown on any of the Plan maps – we request that it is. The flood zone areas are ideally suited to provide green open space, with increased biodiversity, and we hope this objective can be added to this policy.

I have lived in Green Lane, 30 years’ since August 1986.

I strongly object to the planned 120 houses Waterloo Farm and 135 houses on Manor off Ockham Road North.

The land slopes significantly from East Horsley and during periods of heavy rainfall causing flooding on Ockham Road North and Green Lane.

Every year this is a problem having personally witnessed the flooding each year during periods of sustained rainfall. See attached photos June 2016

The building of roads and 255 houses on the two green fields currently absorbing the heavy rainfall during the winter and now summer months as experienced June 2016 would increase the flooding by creating a surface that would impact on the already major flood risk in the area.

The proposed 120 houses, A40, and would create a huge risk with increased flooding which was previously experienced when the current property, Oakland Farm was built a few years ago.

In addition the heavy rainfall during June 2016 Green Lane experienced heavy flooding in the road and overflowing the essential ditches. Again the land slopes significantly from Long Reach.

The proposed access via Green Lane to include Waterloo Farm is totally unacceptable, would create massive disruption to the local community along with the lack of drainage and infrastructure in the extremely narrow lane.

The the large lake on the National Camping Club of Great Britain site overflows into the ditch which in turn causing flooding in Green Lane running down towards our property, flooding our front garden. We have had flooding right up to the front door.

The gardens in the smaller private Green Lane previously Bungalow Lane adjacent to Watersmeet all flood during heaving rainfall. Four new properties’ two houses and two bungalows have been built in the lane late 1980/1990. A natural spring on the area of land to build the two bungalows was built over causing flooding to the gardens on the opposite side of the lane resulting in a land drain having to be built the complete length in all of the opposite gardens in the lane.

This involved massive intrusive disruption, months of work digging up gardens, taking down fences, trees and new manhole covers in the garden where we would rather not have had them.

Surrey Country Council/National Rivers Authority, built culverts in Green Lane and Thames Water Flooding, installed a non-returned valve on our property.

Both have made a slight improvement but not solved the flood risk.

The manhole covers have water pumping out along with sewage into the lane and our garden.

During heavy rain the water in the toilets in our house rises to almost overflowing. We are unable to use the toilet or pull the chain, as it would certainly flood the house. The gurgling from the toilet is very alarming also keeping you awake during the night.
Thames Water Sewer Flooding Mitigation arranged a survey to be undertaken by WERM Ltd to help with the sewage and manhole overflow. In 2007 a non-return valve fitted to help the situation. This has not helped as the toilet still overflows during heavy rainfall.

Severe flooding frequently occurs in Green Lane and Long Reach during heavy rain. Running along the eastern boundary, for the full length of the smaller Green Lane adjacent to our property, there is a ditch, which extends beyond the southern point of the private small lane and continues along the eastern boundary. This ditch is a land drain and specifically takes the overflow from the large lake to the south of the land, which is under the ownership of the National Camping Club of Great Britain.

On the front boundary, there is a further ditch which the ditch on the eastern boundary discharges. This is an important drainage ditch. Works of improvement were carried out by National Rivers Authority, two brick culverts were constructed, one of which discharges under Green Lane into a further ditch on the northern side of Green Lane.

John Faithfull originally purchased Watersmeet/now Oakland Farm about 1965 and subsequently purchased three of the adjoining sub-standard bungalows, and re-built these in the late 1960s.

He had his own company specializing and expert in plumbing and flooding having a lot of dealings with Surrey County Council and National Rivers Authority over the ditches and flooding area in Green Lane.

Although considered eccentric by some people, as he got older, he was an extremely knowledgeable man qualified in Hydraulics’ Research, building and flooding risks working tirelessly with and alongside National Rivers Authority.

My husband was employed by The National Physical Laboratory (NPL) at Teddington

The Hydraulic Research Organization department. Predicted the risk of heavy flooding that would result from the indiscriminate building of roads and housing on fields and water meadows. This has now been proven with annual increased rainfall (predicated increased future rainfall) in many parts of England.

The photographs’ of the recent flooding were taken in June 2016.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( No ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

xx) The section on Flooding (Policy P4) does not provide much support for development or for a cohesive, comprehensive solution. We do not see that the policy is helpful enough and, read with the Infrastructure Delivery Plan at Appendix C, provides very little comfort to developers or local communities.

yy) The Guildford Society is adamant that the SANG policies – administered as an interpretation of the European Birds Directive – will bring about a massive failure to deliver Affordable Homes, particularly in the town centre. We believe that Policy P5 should be amended so that homes in the town centre are not required to deliver contributions to SANG because there is ample undesignated alternative natural greenspace (at Pewley Downs, The Chantry, the River Wey, Guildown, The Mount and the Hog’s Back) within walking distance and this should be sufficient to avoid harm to ground-nesting birds.
zz) Such an approach would need the cross-boundary co-operation of several local authorities but will enable Guildford to increase its yield of sustainable town-centre affordable housing.

aaa) We note the new references to climate change in 4.3.37, 4.3.43, 4.3.46 and Policy P4(C).

FLOODING AMENDMENTS

The Topic Paper ‘Flood Risk’ (June 2017) is a new addition to the Evidence Base.

Section 2.3 sets out the categories of Flood Risk zoning and notes that 3b is known as the ‘functional floodplain’ where water has to flow or be stored in times of flood.

The failure to identify in the plan suitable arrangements for managing flood water in any better or more organised way than hitherto is an opportunity missed and belies the importance of plan-led regeneration in the context of a brand new Local Plan aimed at providing for the next 16 years or so.

The Guildford Society has greater confidence in the comprehensive planning advocated by the Guildford Vision Group in aiming to store water and provide for greater areas of floodplain within less sensitive areas such as undercroft parking, terraced public areas and retention reservoirs below public squares.

The GVG plan also has the benefit of seeking to create walkways that should allow dry access for pedestrians to homes and business premises during a flood event.

There is no such plan or comprehensive aspiration in the Local Plan.

The Paper also cites the sequential testing in NPPF 101. This generates a circular argument in the Local Plan inasmuch as there is insufficient alternative land allocated for development to enable flood plains to be avoided, creating an increased likelihood that there will need to be development in the floodplain, and yet there is no specific flood mitigation plan in the town centre in the absence of any town centre planning within the Local Plan.

At 3.5 i) there is part of sentence missing – it is by no means clear what this is meant to be.

The local context identifies past flooding events and pays relatively little attention to pluvial flood risk which must become more prevalent with the greater areas of hard landscaping and buildings envisaged by the plan. This is equally true of developments where sustainable drainage systems pass water more effectively into the ground but which by nature may increase the level of the water table.

The Settlement Profiles – which still lump the entire Guildford Urban Area together as a single Settlement of wards, communities, amenities, convenience stores, differing levels of service provision (as witnessed by the Indices of Multiple Deprivation (2015) for each Lower Super Output Area, and as demonstrated by the Society in Annex 6 of our 2014 response) – do not adequately cover areas of local flooding, and could not highlight pockets of surface water stress, for example around Guildford Cathedral where run off affects local households in Ridgmount even before the allocated 100 homes are built there.

It is not clear that the Flood Risk Topic Paper has taken full account of the Section 19 Flood Investigation Report (2015) - https://www.surreycc.gov.uk/__data/assets/pdf_file/0018/71910/4-Guildford-Borough-S19-Report.pdf - that highlights some of the risks, and it is by no means clear that a detailed assessment has been made of the local hydrology and the impact of the various development proposals.

Full account needs to be made of the existing and modelled instances in local communities of fluvial flooding, surface water flooding, groundwater flooding, sewer flooding and any other sources of flooding (including the fragility of water supply pipework).

In the town centre, there are pinch points that lead to an unplanned for build-up of water, for which major strategic planning will be required both upstream and downstream. Upstream there should be some water management... infrastructure – probably at both Shalford and at Shalford Meadows. In town there needs to be better water retention and water capacity management, and it is our contention this can only realistically be achieved as part of a master-planned regeneration of the riverside and town centre.

In the above diagram, the width restrictions are illustrated by a dark blue circle, whereas those with height and width restrictions are in lighter blue. North is to the right of the map.

The Topic Paper does not provide any solutions to flooding, and does not really inform policy in the Local Plan.

The image below is taken from: https://flood-warning-information.service.gov.uk/long-term-floodrisk/map and allows a quick view of flood risk, including, in this instance, surface water flood risk in Guildford town centre.

It will be important to increase the catchment upstream but there is not a lot of upstream in Guildford Borough. It seems Waverley has completed its flood plan, and that it does not increase catchment to benefit Guildford. It seems, anecdotally at least, that this is substantially due to a lack of cooperation by Guildford Borough Council.

There is also a need to address the water catchment increase beyond Waverley and in tributaries such as the Tillingbourne. This, and consequent impact on developable sites, are absent from the Topic Paper and the Plan. We understand that Guildford’s flood plan is still in development, and that it has 16 options including upstream catchment.

As there is so much missing from the plan itself and Topic Paper, we are at a loss to understand if the plan is anywhere close to being sound in terms of flood risk management. This is a shame because there is considerably more detail in the Key Evidence documents that have not been carried forward into this strategic planning document.

This policy specifically relates to land previously developed and under Para B there is the need for a sequential test. Whilst this may be a Government requirement, it is nonsense if the existing buildings on the site flood already. There should be total encouragement to redevelop such sites, almost above all others, to ensure that those buildings are taken out of flooding, given that there is inevitably betterment. To put obstacles in the way of betterment can make no sense whatsoever and will prejudice the ability to create a vibrant town centre which already has a paucity of land for development.

It has also been pointed out by this Group that there are no proposals in this Local Plan to seek to create additional flooding capacity upstream of the town centre in order to either reduce or completely eradicated town centre flooding. We have suggested lowering the Shalford Flood Plain to protect the town and wish to understand if this is a suggestion that has been fully explored. If it has we wish to understand the reasons why it has not been implemented.

4.I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)
National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

I object to policy P4

Flood risk and water source protection zones Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

| 4.3.37 | Flooding from rivers is not necessarily linked to climate change but can be due to poor management and drainage. It should be noted that flooding from surface water is also a major issue in parts of the borough and that due to fear of blight, areas subject to manageable damage from flooding often do not report this as it affects insurance and ability to sell. | Requires clarification |
| Evidence | Should include professional independent assessments for specific sites. This is particularly relevant for Worplesdon and parts of Ash as well as the town centre and Shalford. Flood zones are based on previous events without development. Large scale development on porous ground will naturally increase flood risk as any natural soak away is removed. A professional independent opinion would be needed to verify the real risk. | Comment |

4.3.37 now highlights the need to take account of the effects of climate change. This should include the potential effect of a prolonged period of below average rainfall on the water supply in South-east England. Encouraging further net inwards migration into the region, as reflected in this draft local plan, will lead to even more pressure on water supplies and the need for expensive and undesirable solutions that may take many years to implement or prove impossible. Questions that should be asked are:

- Where will new reservoirs be located?
- How much energy will be required by desalination plants?
- What are the issues and costs involved in delivering water from desalination plants to inland locations such as Guildford?
- How much will water bills rise as a result of the solutions required.

Continuing to add more pressure on water supplies is clearly unsustainable.

From the NPPF:
The policy P4 is far too wordy and long – it grants permission for anything in ‘a Zone 3b flood plain’ contrary to the NPPF.

The second paragraph is unsound, irrational and illogical.

No development should be contemplated in the ‘Wey Valley Flood Plain’ as its’ area has been reduced by nearly 50%, since the flood of 1902 swept the Guildford town bridge away. The policy should positively prevent development under these circumstances.

Introducing further reduction of land area in times of climate change is unsound.

The Policy should not include the word ‘Permitted’ within it.

It should be worded

“NO New Development will be permitted within the Zone 3b flood plain which is bounded by the ‘flood line (Zone 3b)’ on the 2009 generated flooding maps of the River Wey.” Except in accordance with the NPPF.

Repairs to structures already within the Zone 3b Flood Plain will be permitted for maintenance.

Should replacement or rebuilding of the structure be required -every effort should be made to remove it from the Zone 3b flood plain.

Whilst this will not compensate for the loss of the flood plain since 1902 it should prevent further disasters.

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

POLICY P4 Flooding, flood risk and groundwater source production

CPRE is regularly in communication with the National Trust with regard to the Wey Navigation and with CPRE Kent where we have access to expertise on the topic of water supply. We hope that the Brexit decision will not reduce EU input to this sector. CPRE is concerned about the pattern of increased flooding over recent years which seems to be linked with climate change. It appears that storm severity is a factor in increasing water run-off which is partially due to housing growth. It appears to us that many areas of Guildford Borough are being increasingly affected by flooding and that reduced maintenance of rural roads has added to local problems in this context. It is anticipated that should building on the Green Belt countryside proceed as envisaged in the draft Local Plan, flooding problems will increase and the Environment Agency and Thames Water will be put under more intense pressure as they attempt to tackle major infrastructure problems relating to flooding, water supply and sewage issues. This increased activity will start at a moment when manpower cuts at these key organisations in this area are being implemented.
At the same time, the Environment Agency has warned much of Surrey that the balance of water supply and demand is “seriously stressed”. It is important, therefore, that aquifers are not used excessively for water irrigation purposes for the 140 golf courses in the county. Many of the major Guildford housing developments could be affected by water supply problems such as occurred when the National Trust heritage building of Clandon House was burnt down. The scale of housing projects outlined for the years ahead could certainly present a problem in this context.

We object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones. Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside. We strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

4. POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4).

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

P4 Flood risk and Water sources

I object to a policy which states that building on the footprint of existing buildings is the only way to offset flood risks. Building on land, such as the Arriva bus depot, which are already on hardstanding will create NO extra risk.

I OBJECT not to the need to have robust flood protection measures but to the naive way they are applied in this Local Plan. Reading the descriptions of the flood risk at sites of which I have close acquaintance I wonder whether the planners have ever actually visited them. For example, the descriptions relating to Policies/Sites A46 and A47 bear no relation to the lived experience of wading through water in the car park to catch a train at Wanborough Station, or squelching along the footpath that runs through Site A47, or getting bogged down in the heavy clay that underlies most of Site A46. This Policy reveals wishful thinking on a grand scale.

The local services are already failing to cope particularly in times of heavy rain.
The manhole in my front garden overflows on various occasions when there has been high rainfall due to the backup of water in the main sewer.

During the very recent heavy rain one of the manholes in the main sewer in Green Lar has again overflowed leaving raw sewage in the road and surrounding ditches. Certain of the surrounding fields are also more to flooding and as in the long term it is expected that we will have more extreme weather this is a continuing problem. The proposed developments will of course exentuate the problem and major new sewage and disposal methods will be required.

Flood Risk and water source protection zones: I OBJECT The proposed Local Plan puts by far the majority of new housing on greenfield sites, this can only increase flood risk by concreting/tarmacing over land which at present acts, at least partially, as a catchment for excess rainwater. The better use of brownfield sites in already urban areas for housing with proper flood management would be more appropriate.

Object

There are aspects of this policy which are acceptable; it is sensible to protect groundwater source protection zones. We note the maps used in some cases (example around the Clay Lane Link Road project) were inaccurate, missing as they did a key water course.

However, urban development on previously developed concreted areas does not create increased flood risk, especially where there is the capacity for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. E.g. Walnut Tree Close and Woodbridge Meadows.

Wording amendments are not specific. We need to manage implications of changes and building on flooding. Specifically we mention site A26 (Blackwell Farm), as the runoff water courses have been identified as affecting Wood Street Village, Fairlands, etc... as well as environmentally protected areas (covered by GBC and SCC policy), such as the Thames Heath Basin SPA, Whitmoor Common, and wetlands downstream in the river Wey. These are covered in the Flooding Assessment produced by JBA, and submitted by Worplesdon Parish Council as part of the evidence base. Link attached.

Climate change
I support the addition in para 4.3.37, which states that “New development should be carefully planned to ensure that vulnerability to the range of impacts associated with climate change is not increased.”

Land drainage
I also support requirement (5) in this policy that “all development proposals are required to demonstrate that land drainage will be adequate”. However, GBC has failed to put this policy into practice in forming its Plan and does not demonstrate exactly how it will prevent the increased impermeable surface water run off from the Blackwell Farm development exacerbating flooding at Wood Street Village, Fairlands and Whitmoor Common Special Protection Area (SPA).

In particular, it has not addressed the likely requirement (and cost) for two reservoirs to control flow – one of which (due to topography) would ideally be located in the north-east corner of the site, which is currently allocated for the Research Park extension.

The Whitmoor Common SPA does require flooding at times in order to maintain its wetland habitat, and so damming streams that flow from Blackwell Farm would not be a straightforward solution. The Plan does not explain how the developers of Blackwell Farm site would achieve the balance between damming up streams to prevent surface water run off flooding residential areas and preserving the wetland habitat of the SPA.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

With regard to the provision of SuDS paragraph 4.3.48 states that “to ensure effective use over their life course, the Council will require appropriate management and maintenance requirements to be put in place”. It would be reassuring to know what robust arrangements the Council has to enforce this requirement and who would actually be responsible for the management and maintenance once the developments have been completed and the properties sold. This is of particular importance in the Ash area where the potential flooding issue has been raised time and again as of great concern when planning applications have been considered.

1.Much of the proposed areas for development are in low lying areas, and will be subject to flooding. The introduction of more hard surfaces – houses and driveways – will only increase the amount of surface water, and inhibit the ability of the land to drain naturally. The council seems to have overlooked the effect of the River Mole which is very close by, and which does flood.

Drainage and Flooding
There are known sewage overflow problems in Ockham Road North and Green Lane. There will be serious capacity issues with the sewer network in the village going right through to the treatment works if the large numbers of dwellings proposed are constructed.

The amount of flooding experienced a couple of years ago meant many main roads were closed for weeks on end. We were forced to use small lanes to exit the village. By doubling the number of cars in the village, this issue will be exacerbated.

POLICY P4 – Flood risk and water source protection zones

I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding.

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding.

Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

Policy P4 states that ‘Proposals for development in areas at risk of flooding will be refused if other suitable sites are reasonably available in areas at lower risk’. Given this policy, why have areas at risk of flooding been included? I object to the inclusion of these sites such as site A40, part of which already has significant surface water after heavy rain and is often waterlogged.

FLOODING

In the storms two years ago, there was flooding in West Horsley. Roads were impassable for weeks for pedestrians, cyclists and cars. Further building in the area will only exacerbate the problem especially as more impermeable surfaces are constructed that impede water from soaking into the ground and the current drain system cannot cope with the existing housing population.

Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented.

It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

1. Policy P4 – object
   1. I support the policy in principal to protect against flooding. However, there are insufficient safeguards.
   2. Developments increase hard surfaces, and reduce the amount of land that can be used to hold water in times of flood. Mitigation measures elsewhere must not be necessary. The development must incorporate all necessary mitigation measures.
   3. There must be no cost to the tax payer for permitting any developments in any area liable to flooding.
   4. All properties must be fully insurable using standard commercial insurance against flood damage, both now and for the foreseeable future.
   5. Developments must not increase pollution risk.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones.

I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones. This policy is coming at things from the wrong direction. Taking our green fields and concret ing them which are located in key water catchments is going to contribute more to flood risk than urban development on existing hardstanding. Suitable development in this area can reduce the current flood risk by the incorporation of modern flood water management systems into the design. This policy is not a positive one, it is just a policy being used as an excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites within the urban area. New development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years and will still exist, so why not develop it for the needs of the borough? We need all the green infrastructure to help with flood and surface water management but these are being removed at a stroke yet existing Brownfield sites will not be developed creating IMPROVED flood risk protection for the urban area.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. This is nonsensical. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

1. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

I object to the plan due to the impact upon flooding.

Ockham Road North and East Lane floods periodically, as do the gardens in this area. Building on this land is only going to make the situation worse. Our drains can’t cope with what we have already.

1.1  We object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones

1.2  Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

1.3  We strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I am totally opposed to any development on flood plains. Our village suffers from flooding, being close to the floodplain near Burpham Court Farm where a major road development - The Clay Lane Link Road - remains part of the local plan for infrastructure despite part of the area being 3b flood plain. The Slyfield Area regeneration project also proposes development on some 3b floodplain, to which I object.

Although the JWRA welcomes the fact that flow routes will be considered as part of any Flood Risk Assessment, the JWRA still totally opposes and objects to any development on flood plains. Jacobs Well suffers from flooding, being close to the zone 3b floodplain near Burpham Court Farm where a major road development, The Clay Lane Link Road, is still under consideration. With town centre and SARP development going ahead, with related flood risk mitigation, plus climate change and the increased potential for flash storms, to ensure risk to properties is only once per 100 years, the Burpham Court Farm zone 3b flood plain is therefore even more important in reducing the risk of flooding in Jacobs Well and must be preserved as is and not developed upon.

POLICY P4: Flooding, flood risk and groundwater source production

The GBPSLP2016 says that “Detailed flood risk modelling has not been undertaken in all parts of the borough”. I OBJECT to proposals to remove areas relating to East and West Horsley from the Green Belt when this modelling has not been undertaken. FLOODING

We object to GBC’s building of 1100 homes in land parcel A46 due to insufficient attention to the significant flooding risks already present in this area.

There is an extremely high water table in the Normandy/Flexford area and no reference in the GBC plans to improve the water/sewerage management. Already there is inadequate drainage in Normandy and sewerage back-flush problems are regularly experienced around Guildford Road and Glaziers Lane. Every winter the fields in and around Normandy are subject to extreme flooding and therefore unsuitable for building on.

The assessment carried out of the available land takes into account old data regarding flood risk and we question its value.

For a number of years there has been much concern about the high levels of flooding in St Mark’s Churchyard, Wyke and the field at the rear of The Old Vicarage is very boggy ground, subject to extreme flooding. Every winter the land is shin-deep in water and regularly floods some of the properties lining it (eg Tanglewood was flooded by the storms of recent years with several inches of water entering car and integral garage).

Stream Through Land

There is a significant stream which flows along the back of the Guildford Road properties that line this field (behind The Old Vicarage, Wyke). This runs very high in rainy weather and regularly flows over its banks.
Building development on this site and area would exacerbate existing and significant flooding problems. There would be far fewer fields to absorb the excess water and the new “hard-standing” would affect even more adversely the general drainage and sewerage, not to mention the strain added by an increased number of users.

Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed by the Council as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. The heavy clay soil of the area presents a greater risk and there is a clear knock on effect for the wider community. Clearly the Council’s assessment is not fit for purpose and needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.
I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that other that could accommodate a further development.

The site 46 and site 47 are habitual flood areas. Given the geographical makeup of the Normandy and Flexford it is the fields that take the brunt of the water flowing from the Hogs Back and concreting over this will damage this natural flood plain. Having lived here for 13 years we have seen how badly impacted some areas around here are by flooding. We even have a Flood Forum that is attended by our local MP to ensure that we are on top of the issue. Areas have been identified around the site that are regularly an issue and I know that this is a genuine fear for residents that live around there. Just to show how saturated the land is – the vicar at St Marks Church has said how hard it is to dig burial graves as they fill up with water and this would apply to the field that they considered for a new cemetery. Also the farmer who has his cows in the large fields on the site 46 has recently said to a resident that there is no way his cattle can go on these fields from Oct to April due to the fact they are saturated even for animals.

1. POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

FLAG generally supports this policy particularly the paragraph:

"All development proposals will be required to demonstrate that they will not result in an increase in surface water run-off and should have regard to appropriate mitigation measures identified in the Guildford Surface Water Management Plan or Ash Surface Water Study. Priority will be given to incorporating SuDs (Sustainable Drainage Systems) to manage surface water drainage, unless it can be demonstrated that they are not appropriate. Where SuDs are provided, arrangements must be put in place for their management and maintenance over their full lifetime"

It should be noted that restricting the rebuilding of a structure to the same footprint of a previous structure is not necessary. It should be restricted to the size of the previous hard standing area.

<td>Flooding: - I cannot see into the future any more than the next person, but I would question the idea of building on land that has flood issues be they minor or major. If this summer is a reflection of weather to come then our rain fall/water table is likely to increase also. The use of &quot;Suds&quot; will improve surface drainage agreed, but where will the addition fluvial water go, especially if some of the historic courses are now blocked by new development foundations. 1. I support policy P4 on flood risk. But should not the main title be “Flooding, Flood Risk and Ground Water Source “PROTECTION” not “PRODUCTION”?

10. When the flooding risks are so clearly recognised why is such a large proportion of new housing proposed for the Horsley, Send and Wisley areas which constitute, on GBC’s own map, the largest flooding hotspot in the borough?

Policy P4 (Flooding, Flood Risk and Groundwater Protection Zones)

No significant changes have been made to Policy P4 in the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites (2017) following the 2016 consultation. As identified in our previous representations, the Environment Agency Strategic flood mapping indicates that the Site may be affected by flooding. Catesby Estates Limited are already engaged in detailed discussions with the Environment Agency (EA) regarding the Site and have undertaken modelling which confirms that the extent of flood zones 2 and 3 within the Site are far less than those shown on the EA’s current map. The majority of the Site lies outside the floodplain and is located in Flood Zone 1 (Low Probability – land assessed as having a less than 1 in 1,000 annual probability of flooding from rivers and sea). Catesby have submitted the final, modelled, floodplain information in the format required for the flood map to be updated. The EA will then complete final internal and external checking before starting to change the Flood Map itself, this includes determining how the new mapping ties are inserted into the existing mapping to ensure a smooth transition between data.

Notwithstanding the low probability of flooding at the Site, any new development will benefit from a flood mitigation strategy which will include setting finished floor levels for new dwellings with a suitable freeboard and providing a safe access route, even in the event of flooding elsewhere.

A surface water management strategy will also be implemented to manage surface water runoff in a sustainable manner, with key features potentially providing areas of ecological and amenity value as well as restricting the discharge into the watercourse. The provision of a sustainable drainage system as part of the residential development will ensure that the impact of development upon the local surface water drainage network can provide betterment to existing greenfield runoff rates. The proposed development will not result in increased flood risk on site or elsewhere in accordance with Policy P4.

The Environment Agency classifies the site at Garlicks Arch (A43) as being in a higher risk than the Council's own assessment. The plan does not take adequate account of the flood risk as required by National Planning Policy, especially as this area has flooded many times in recent years

I support this policy.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Drainage/Surface Water

Our foul water mains drainage system is continuously having to be pumped and cleaned as it struggles to cope with the present demand. Therefore, new major development would need complete replacement. This would cause major upheaval of our road network and devastation to local wildlife. Surface water drainage would be further reduced leading to more flooding in the area. Many national studies prove that the increase in building further exacerbates this problem and no counter measures have proven to be sufficient.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

POLICY P4: Flood risk and water source protection zones

OBJECT. There are aspects of this policy which are acceptable; it is sensible to protect groundwater source protection zones, provided that the maps are accurate.

However, urban development on hardstanding does not create increased flood risk, especially where there is the capacity for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high value brownfield land which may not be used for housing because of this policy. The footprint of existing buildings should not be the limit of future development, but the extent of existing hard standing. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, but some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the train station, provides an exciting opportunity for real urban regeneration which could protect the surrounding countryside.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Flooding: I strongly object to the new draft plan in respect of flooding. The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area and as local residents we are well aware of how much standing water there is in our gardens after rainfall. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. Our drains can't cope now causing chaos on our local roads during heavy rainfall.

Drainage

There may be a serious under capacity of existing sewers and treatment works to cope with the large number of dwellings. We already had considerable flooding (involving sewage) earlier this year, both on the roads and the fields, with the water draining down from the fields after heavy rain. Where will it go if the fields are turned to housing?

Policy P4: Flood Risk and Water Source Protection Zones

Policy P3 states that “Development in areas at risk of flooding … will be permitted provided that … the proposal passes the sequential and exception test (where required) as outlined in the NPPF and Government guidance”.

Paragraph 4.3.40 of the draft Local Plan states that “In accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.”

This appears to show a clear intention to act in a way that is at odds with the precautionary principle. The approach documented in NPPF paragraph 100 states that “Local Plans should apply a sequential, risk-based approach to the location of development to avoid where possible flood risk to people and property and manage any residual risk, taking account of the impacts of climate change …”. The position seems to be clear; the draft Local Plan seems to have been drawn up on the basis that it is more important to deliver the full OAN (despite the problems in the calculation of the housing number that have already been described) than it is to ensure that flood risk is minimised. This ducks the whole question of responsible plan-making, and the implicit obligations of the plan makers to the eventual occupants of new dwellings.

I therefore OBJECT to this policy, and strongly urge that it should be redrafted on a suitably precautionary basis to absolutely minimise flooding risk; if that approach puts a constraint on the number of houses that can be provided for in the Local Plan, so be it.

4. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding
National Planning Policy states that local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identity areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s floodmap as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2, having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well, I am well aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly, the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan.

POLICY P4 – Flood risk and water source protection zones

I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hard standing would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites which would not be available for housing under this policy. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hard standing. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

The brownfield site to the south of Garlick’s Arch (A43) at Burnt Common is not at risk of flooding. This makes it an even more sensible solution.

I object to the changes in policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones. It is disingenuous and a misrepresentation to state that development on existing hardstanding (e.g. Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank) creates additional risk of flooding. This policy amendment unnecessarily removes these valuable brownfield sites from the scope of the plan.

As you will be fully aware, existing drainage & sewerage infrastructures barely cope with the volume of homes in the immediate area having already been stretched beyond their limits due to housing developments over the last 30 / 40 years - which would only ever be alleviated by massive civil engineering reconstruction works including new handling plants etc, which clearly haven't been considered or addressed in these development proposals. 485 houses will probably mean at least 1000 people & 500 cars.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.
The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43} is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I am writing to object to most of the proposals in the Guildford Plan on the following grounds:

Having lived in West Horsley for 60 years I know only too well the drainage problems we experience, in particular sites A41 and A38 alongside East Lane and site A40 at the bottom of my back garden and almost adjacent to the lake at the Camping Club’s site. ANY MORE CONCRETE will exacerbate the flooding we now experience at times.

Drainage/flooding

The land between Silkmore Lane and Ripley Lane is frequently subjected to such serious flooding that Ripley lane becomes absolutely impassable several times per year. This land slopes significantly towards Ripley Lane, and during periods of sustained rainfall, flooding always occurs. Severe flooding also frequently occurs on The Street, East Lane, and Long Reach, to the extent that these roads, and in particular the hill under the railway line often become impassable.

This is also the case in the road where I live – Green Lane. There is already an under-capacity of existing drainage, sewers and treatment works to cope with heavy rainfall. When heavy rain does occur, the water in the toilets in our house rises alarmingly, and the drains and sewers flood the road and our garden, requiring several visits from the water company to clean and sanitise the ground. The current infrastructure is unable to deal with the requirement.

POLICY P4: Flood risk and water source protection zones
OBJECT. There are aspects of this policy which are acceptable; it is sensible to protect groundwater source protection zones, provided that the maps are accurate.

However, urban development on hardstanding does not create increased flood risk, especially where there is the capacity for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high value brownfield land which may not be used for housing because of this policy. The footprint of existing buildings should not be the limit of future development, but the extent of existing hard standing. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, but some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the train station, provides an exciting opportunity for real urban regeneration which could protect the surrounding countryside.

We object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones

Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design.

Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented.

It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

We strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I believe that a number of assessments have graded the flood risk as low, which I really find, literally, unbelievable.

Although I’ve lived in this area “only” since 1997, I’ve witnessed many years of flooding with varying degrees of impact.
Clearly the 2013/14 floods were particularly bad, with both Portsmouth Road & Send Marsh Road severely impacted, along with much of the surrounding land much of which is encapsulated within your plans, especially the proposed Garlick’s Arch development.

1. I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding

The Garlick’s Arch Site (A43) is classified as a higher risk of flooding by the Environment Agency in the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years so should not be included in the development. This Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy. It will mean misery for those who buy houses on this site!

Surface water/ Flood risk

Surface water problems are evident over the whole of the Normandy area with standing and often flowing water from drains into the roads and adjacent land in heavy rain. The drainage system at present is at capacity and there is absolutely no doubt that the proposed development of A46 would be catastrophic for surface water in Normandy and nowhere for the water to go when it rains, let alone the volumes of water generated by the development. Even part of the A46 site which adjoins a stream is a flood plain when the stream overflows. What will happen when this land is built on?

Where will the excess water go? Where will the water from the development go? It will cause serious flooding in the area.

FLOODING

Being a resident of Heatherdene, West Horsley, our gardens flood every winter and whenever there is heavy rain

The field behind our house designated “Land near to Horsley Station and next to the railway” has been earmarked in the draft local plan for one hundred houses. A large percentage of this land is FLOOD ZONE 3. During the last winter this field was on Amber alert (imminent major flooding).

How can it be possible to consider a piece of land that floods all the surrounding gardens and floods that section of Ockham Road North with horrendous surface water? Commuters are constantly soaked as they walk along The Ockham Road towards the village by overflowing drains every time there is rain.

The proposed entrance is too near the Railway arch on Ockham rd north, where lorries travel frequently into the middle of the road to make sure the clear the underside of the bridge.

It is an accident waiting to happen, in the truest sense!

Recently in Fetcham, a development was built on a site that floods. Even though, specialist flood resistant foundations and drainage were installed, the site flooded, causing damage to the properties and rendering them unsellable.

I object to policy P4 “Flood risk and water source protection zones” on the grounds that:

1.2 Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

1.3 This policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. This must continue.

WE OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

The changes essentially preclude building in these brownfield areas. Suitable designs can protect against flood risk and free up land for suitable development.

I object to the local plan as many of the proposed sites are in areas at risk of flooding Insufficient accounting of flood risk has been taken, a number of the sites are on or near flood planes, and have been classified by the Environment Agency as at High Risk of Flooding.

One site - Waterloo Farm - local to our address, has its paddock regularly under water after heavy rainfall, thus are not suitable for housing development.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

Drainage, sewers, etc.:
A number of areas in West Horsley are subject to frequent flooding; for example The Street near the railway bridge is very susceptible to flooding and on occasions last winter even the school buses could not get through. East Lane is subject to flooding where it abuts site A41. With the removal of the open field to soak up rain fall, this will only run-off onto East Lane causing more serious flooding on the road surface. This risk will increase if the vast amount of building proposed goes ahead and natural drainage is concreted over. No detail on waste water infrastructure in West Horsley has been found in any of the Local Plan documents.

Thames Water have commented that the current waste water network in this area is unlikely to be able to support the demand anticipated from this development. Drainage infrastructure is likely to be required to ensure sufficient capacity is brought forward ahead of the development. The Draft Guildford Borough Infrastructure Delivery Plan 2016 also identifies a significant Surface Water Flooding hotspot in and around West Horsley. Without the preparation of a drainage strategy to determine the exact impact on the infrastructure and the significance of the infrastructure to support the development, the deliverability of the proposed housing development is unclear.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy P4

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Flooding: I strongly object to the new draft plan in respect of flooding. The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area and as local residents we are well aware of how much standing water there is in our gardens after rainfall. In fact, my dad's car was “written off” due to water damage at the A3 roundabout at Ripley in 2013 due to flooding. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. Our drains can’t cope now causing chaos on our local roads during heavy rainfall.

I OBJECT in general that priority is not on using brownfield sites, despite this being the stated aim in the Plan, but the insidious eating into the Green Belt and thus increasing the risk of flooding again despite your statement that flooding defences will be put in place. There is an increased risk of flooding now and in the future with change in patterns of rainfall. If fewer large expensive homes were built instead of smaller, more affordable housing less land would be required and more people could be housed per acre.

this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 (meaning having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding); that is, one tenth of the probability assessed by the Environment Agency!
This site often floods during the winter months and has flooded as recently as this summer 2016. Clearly the Council’s SFRA is not fit for purpose and so invalidates the local plan for such sites.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as a Zone3 flood risk which is higher risk than the Council’s own assessment!!

This area has flooded many times in recent years and in fact in the recent heavy rain in June the land stream over flow and the land flooded for 3 days, (photographic evidence available) therefore the Council’s assessment is inadequate and should not to be included in the plan.

A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding.

Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

I strongly object to the local plan on the grounds that increased development will result in the destruction of natural drainage, resulting in increased run-off over developed areas which will exacerbate flooding in these areas. Flooding is already a problem and to increase the occurrence and severity of flooding in these areas would be immoral.

design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high value brownfield land which may not be used for housing because of this policy. The footprint of existing buildings should not be the limit of future development, but the extent of existing hard standing. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, but some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the train station, provides an exciting opportunity for real urban regeneration which could protect the surrounding countryside.

The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. Other areas of the Horsleys are also flooded when it rains because the drains are inadequate. Substantially more houses will exacerbate the problem but no attention has been paid to drainage in the local plan.

- Schools and medical facilities II

Local schools and medical facilities are already at capacity.

No extra school places are planned in the Horsleys and the school places proposed at Wisley Airfield will not be planned until many years into the project. 2600 new houses could easily mean 2600 children looking for school place!

I trust the Council will review its Local Plan basing it on a model for projected population growth which is available for inspection and with more attention paid to the infrastructure constraints and to the use of brown field sites rather than destroy our precious Green Belt

10. DRAINS, WATER SUPPLY, FLOOD RISK, CONGESTION

Our drains, our water supply, our medical facilities and our roads cannot cope with the proposed number of new homes. Building this number of homes will lead to flood risk here and downstream (along the Wey and Thames). The planned development on Green Belt is therefore unsustainable.

In conclusion, I must ask you to revise the housing number, and to amend the Local Plan to utilise brownfield land rather than green field sites.

Flooding:
The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents (myself and my neighbours included, who live the other side of the railway tracks) are well aware of how much standing water there is in their/our gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. We already know what happens to local roads when it rains – the drains can’t cope. I object to more building causing flooding

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object on the basis of how this is being applied- In the surface water hotspot map in the Local Plan, the area of all developments in West and East Horsley and in a hotspot area. How can the application of a sensible policy be to build houses in a surface water flooding hot spot?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside. I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

I OBJECT to POLICY P4(Flood risk and Water Protection)

If this policy is implemented it would restrict essential urban redevelopment and use of brownfield and hard standing sites in Guildford and its urban district, thereby putting more emphasis on developing in the countryside. The Council must get its priority right. It must implement policy to run through the whole of the plan to save countryside and Green Belt.

There is no additional flood risk where existing hardstanding is developed in urban areas.

There would be an opportunity to provide improved flood resistance to regenerated areas such as on the River Wey bank where a large amount of brownfield land is available for housing, if this policy was revised.

I object to the development to areas that are at risk of flooding (Policy P4). The plan does not take into consideration any flood risks as required by the National Planning Policy. Garlicks Arch (A43) is given by the Environment Agency as an area of having a higher risk of flooding than the Council's own evaluation of the area. This area has flooded numerous times in past years and so the Council's evaluation of this area is not adequate for it to be included in the plan.

Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

1. POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

Wording amendments are not specific. We need to manage implications of changes and building on flooding. Specifically we mention site A26 (Blackwell Farm), as the runoff water courses have been identified as affecting Wood Street Village, Fairlands, etc... as well as environmentally protected areas (covered by GBC and SCC policy), such as the Thames Heath Basin SPA, Whitmoor Common, and wetlands downstream in the river Wey.

Surface Water Flooding

I am acutely aware of Surface Water Flooding. When we moved into West Horsley in 2011 we were then unaware of any flooding risk, after all where we live in East Lane there are no rivers.

Since moving to East Lane (less than 5 years ago), East Lane has flooded several dozen times during heavy rainfall, through the failure of systems to take surface water away. The road completely fills. Because of the upward slope of the pavement at our house it has not yet gone over the edge into our drive. If it did we would be badly flooded as our drive slopes down to the house by several feet so we could be under many feet of water if this happened. We have come close so many times.

This is a very serious problem in the Horsleys. It is not just our road. We have had a car written off due to local surface water flooding in West Horsley and have had to be rescued by the Fire Brigade. Not a good record for less than 5 years here!

Clearly the additional plots in West Horsley will have a huge impact on this situation and each one has surface water flooding identified as an issue in the plan.

However, to my amazement, when looking at Appendix C under Surface Water Flooding there is not a single proposal for West Horsley. That is mind boggling!

Flooding: The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. We already know what happens to local roads when it rains – the drains can’t cope.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Flooding At the moment the area has a real problem with flooding - not just in winter but all the year round. The drainage systems in the villages already cannot cope with heavy rain - building more properties will only exacerbate the problem.

I object to these proposals because I cannot believe that sufficient weight has been given to recent historical flooding in these areas resulting in ingress to properties.

We are told by experts to expect climate change to bring more extreme episodes of weather and yet you are proposing to concrete over large tracts of useful Green Belt allowing more water to be delivered more swiftly to streams and rivers, with resulting overflows and flooding.

I object to these proposals because I believe Government Policy is that 'proven need' is required to take land out of the Green Belt. I do not believe that this 'proven need' has been achieved, and these proposals constitute over development on a grand scale.

I object to these proposals because I do not believe sufficient consideration has been given to resulting traffic flows and consequential pollution of the atmosphere with gridlocked heavy goods vehicles, apart from the general chaos at busy times.

Please note that I wish my comments to be seen by the Inspector.

In regard to the Local Plan for Normandy, I would like to draw your attention to a few things here in our village.

I walk my dog Lucy over the fields where the proposed 1,150-houses, school and shops might be built. The fields are under water for 8-months of the years. The farmer that looks after these fields has dug-out a ditch 9ft deep and 100yds long in an attempt to drain his fields but it hasn't worked. If all these houses were to be built the water run-off would flood the sewage system in Glaziers Lane. The houses all ready have problems with flood water backing up into their toilets, so you see more rain water would perpetuate this problem even more. This awful situation is a genuine concern to me.

1.) Development in areas which are at risk of flooding . (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Thirdly, I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4).

I believe the Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as stipulated in the National Planning Policy.

The flood classifications of Garlick’s Arch (A43) by the Environment Agency and the Council are different. As a resident of 20 years I have seen this area flooded many times and believe development will have a huge potential impact on the flood plains between Woking and Send, just creating a new problem in a slightly different place that will impact new and existing development for miles around. I see no evidence of this being taken into account.

The environment agency has previously stated that one in six homes in England is currently at risk of flooding with 2.4 million threatened by rivers and seas and a further 2.8 million at risk from surface water flooding so let's not add to these already worrying numbers. Under the Civil Contingencies act 2004 Guildford Borough Council has a duty to assess the risk of emergencies occurring and use this to inform contingency planning so why make the matter worse by building in a sensible area.

POLICY P4 - Flood risk and water source protection zones

I OBJECT . Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

4.1 OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

I believe this policy should be strengthened to require more explicitly that all development proposals should demonstrate how they will manage severe weather events and the impact of surface water on other properties, roads and footpaths. They need to be able to show that they have investigated and understood how local water flows change at such times. It is also important to ensure that the knock on effects of improvements in surface water management are considered e.g. there has recently been significant improvement work in the Beech Lane area of Normandy. This will put pressure on downstream areas which would have to be taken into account for any development in the area designated as A46 to ensure that the risks around Glaziers Lane and Elmgrove Lane are not increased during storms or persistent heavy rainfall.

We object to policy P4. Flood risk and water source protection zones. Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

We strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built above flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years.

We do not support building directly on flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

Parts of Normandy, especially at the southern edge of the proposed development and in the area next to the Hoe stream, are subject to severe flooding problems, and the associated release of sewage into people's properties and into the Hoe stream which would cut across the development. One property has already been flooded 5 times in the past year, and the Station Car Park is regularly flooded during the down pours which have been occurring regularly. The Hoe stream also floods, which affects Glaziers Lane at the bridge crossing the stream, and sewage has been released into it, causing a health hazard.

The proposed development area at present allows natural drainage through the soil and trees; if this area is concreted over, the resultant run off of surface water would overwhelm the present system, causing even more flooding in the local area. I am not convinced that an underground tank to take excess water and release it in a controlled fashion would be able to cope with the increased amount of water which forecasters say we must expect with climate warming.

This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan. Just a few weeks ago the Portsmouth Road opposite the Garlick’s Arch site was flooded despite the improvements to the river that flows under the road. There are good reasons why I have to maintain a four foot deep ditch that runs alongside my house in Burnt Common Lane, building on the fields will just make the situation worse.

The Environment Agency classifies the site at Garlicks Arch (A43) as being in a higher risk than the Councils’ own assessment. The plan does not take adequate account of the flood risk as required by National Planning Policy, especially as this area has flooded many times in recent years.

POLICY P4 – Flood risk and water source protection zones

I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

1. I OBJECT to Policy P4 development in areas at risk from flooding. As a resident of Kiln Lane, on the edge of site A43 Garlick’s Arch, I can categorically confirm that this site floods EVERY YEAR and not just during the winter months. The stream that runs through the middle of this site into the River Wey is categorised as Flood Zone 3 according to the Environment Agency flood map website. The soil is very heavy clay (Kiln Lane historically housed a brick kilns manufacturing business from locally sourced clay) which further adds to the flooding problems and the land remains water-logged for many weeks following any significant rainfall... GBC have assessed the site as predominantly zone 1, which is clearly inaccurate and therefore the SFRA cannot be deemed useable or fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Flooding: The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. We already know what happens to local roads when it rains – the drains can’t cope.

Our drains, our water supply, our medical facilities and our roads cannot cope with the proposed number of new homes. Building this number of homes will lead to flood risk here and downstream (along the Wey and Thames). The planned development on Green Belt is therefore unsustainable.

In conclusion, I must ask you to revise the housing number, and to amend the Local Plan to utilise brownfield land rather than green field sites.

POLICY P4 : Flood risk and water source protection zones

GROUND FOR OBJECTION: There are aspects of this policy which are acceptable; it is sensible to protect groundwater source protection zones, provided that the maps are accurate.

However, urban development on hardstanding does not create increased flood risk, especially where there is the capacity for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high value brownfield land which may not be used for housing because of this policy. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

4. POLICY P4
I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (sites A43 and A43a) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment ie the site is classified as flood zone 3 due to the presence of the stream flowing into the a River Wey and being heavy clay soil. There is strong anecdotal evidence by long standing local residents that these fields have flooded many times in recent years in both winter and spring. I object therefore to the local plan being incorrect in its assessment of sites A43 and A43a in respect of flood risk.

The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. We already know what happens to local roads when it rains – the drains can’t cope. There are no plans in place to improve the drains, which are already unable to cope, but rather to place an enormous additional strain on them that will exacerbate the problem and cause further problems for all residents.

I work in the property sector, and my business relies upon development. I am certainly not opposed to the idea of sustainable, reasonable development - but the proposed plan will ruin the Horsleys, destroy the beauty of the surrounding Green Belt and makes no provision for the obvious strains on services and infrastructure that such development would cause.

I trust that my objections are noted.

4.POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4).
National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (SFRA) has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the National Planning Practice Guidance (NPPG)) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Flooding at site A46 has always been an issue in the area, which alone makes it completely unsustainable. Even given the best drainage and sewage systems in the place, all that water had to go somewhere, so it's common sense to assume that more residents will experience sewage back-ups and other health issues, and some people elsewhere will have flooded homes.

FLOODING

We object to GBC's building of 1100 homes in land parcel A46 due to insufficient attention to the significant flooding risks already present in this area.

There is an extremely high water table in the Normandy/Flexford area and no reference in the GBC plans to improve the water/sewerage management. Already there is inadequate drainage in Normandy and sewerage back-flush problems are regularly experienced around Guildford Road and Glaziers Lane. Every winter the fields in and around Normandy are subject to extreme flooding and therefore unsuitable for building on.

The assessment carried out of the available land takes into account old data regarding flood risk and we question its value.

For a number of years there has been much concern about the high levels of flooding in St Mark's Churchyard, Wyke and the field at the rear of The Old Vicarage is very boggy ground, subject to extreme flooding. Every winter the land is shindown in water and regularly floods some of the properties lining it (eg Tanglewood was flooded by the storms of recent years with several inches of water entering car and integral garage).

Stream Through Land

There is a significant stream which flows along the back of the Guildford Road properties that line this field (behind The Old Vicarage, Wyke). This runs very high in rainy weather and regularly flows over its banks.

Building development on this site and area would exacerbate existing and significant flooding problems. There would be far fewer fields to absorb the excess water and the new "hard-standing" would affect even more adversely the general drainage and sewerage, not to mention the strain added by an increased number of users.

Flooding, Flood risk and groundwater source production. I am totally opposed to any development on flood plains. Our village suffers from flooding, being close to the flood plain near Burpham Court Farm where a major road development The Clay Lane Link Road remains part of the local plan for infrastructure despite part of the area being 3b flood plain. The Slyfield Area regeneration project also proposes development on some 3b floodplain, to which I object.

I object to the Local Plan, especially the inclusion of Site Policies A25 Gosden Hill Farm, Merrow Lane, A35 Land at former Wisley airfield Ockham, A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send, A43 Land at Garlick's Arch Send Marsh,Burntcommon and Ripley, A44 Land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill,Send,A45 Land at the rear of the Talbot, High Street,Ripley, A57 The Paddocks,Rose Lane, Ripley and the numerous Site Policies in East and West Horsley as together all the extra building on these sites would considerably increase flood risk in the areas concerned, whilst nothing appears to be done to resolve existing recurring flood problems such as Ockham Road off the A3/Ockham roundabout and the B2215 towards Ripley, both of which flood with alarming regularity.

There is also a risk of additional flooding at the entry to the site by Garlick's Arch where there are a number of existing businesses, between Kiln Lane and Burntcommon Lane junctions. This is because there is a build up of tree debris at the point where the stream enters 3 pipes under Portsmouth Road which, if left unchecked, could form a dam similar to that at the junction of Portsmouth Road and Send Marsh Road which resulted in flooding of numerous houses in Maple Road and Send Marsh Road some years ago.

NPP states that local Plans need to take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. The proposed site at Garlicks Arch (A43) is on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood zone 3 from a river meaning it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year – the HIGHEST risk category, however the site has been assessed as part of the Councils SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 which is between a 1% and 0.1% probability of river flooding annually. This site floods frequently during the winter months, clearly this site is not fit for purpose and needs to be accurately reassessed.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site. The site at Garlicks Arch also comprises much greenfield areas – their loss will contribute to the increased flood risk of other local areas, particularly Send Marsh, which has a history of flooding.

I question the underlying rationale for proposing development plans, particularly with reference to Garlicks Arch (A43) - in an area that has flooded on several occasion and already acknowledged as a risk area by the Councils own assessment. Any development plans for this area needs to consider the impact of flooding as a consequence of further development and the impact of flooding on the proposed developments as well as proposed flood remediation mechanisms.

It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Our drains, our water supply, our medical facilities and our roads cannot cope with the proposed number of new homes. Building this number of homes will lead to flood risk here and downstream (along the Wey and Thames). The planned development on Green Belt is therefore unsustainable.

Perhaps most importantly, the statement included in the plan “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt” goes against everything that the Plan proposes to do in East and West Horsley, with 65% of the new houses being built on Green Belt land. Protection of the Green Belt land has to be one of the most important issues for villages like West and East Horsley and the impact on flooding control, tourism and leisure, rural businesses, natural heritage and biodiversity have not been considered. There is a disproportionate amount of development to be in the Green Belt, with too few homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
This limits development of urban, brownfield, hardstanding sites, and pushes development unnecessarily into the countryside, simply pushing the problems of flooding elsewhere. West Horsley is already surrounded by many waterways, rivers and streams which in heavy rain regularly causes flooding on the roads. Further housing development in the area is going to cause even worse problems.

NPP states that local Plans need to take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. The proposed site at Garlicks Arch (A43) is on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood zone 3 from a river meaning it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year – the HIGHEST risk category, however the site has been assessed as part of the Councils SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 which is between a 1% and 0.1% probability of river flooding annually. This site floods frequently during the winter months, clearly this site is not fit for purpose and needs to be accurately reassessed.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4).

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

The primary river in Guildford is the River Wey and its tributaries enter the River Thames at Shepperton. Spelthorne BC would be concerned if a reduction of floodplain storage in its upper catchment would result in greater flood water levels entering the Thames and affecting Spelthorne. This Council would therefore agree that Policy P4 on flood risk should ensure that flood storage capacity is maintained and ideally bettered, as any loss in capacity could lead to increased flows downstream. Spelthorne’s own policy on flooding (policy LO1 of the Core Strategy and Policies DPD 2009) reflects these principles of flood storage capacity.

I trust that you will find these comments helpful, but please let me know if you require further clarification on any of the points raised. We look forward to further discussions under the Duty to Cooperate in due course as necessary.

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) has been classified by the Environment Agency as being in a far higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

<td>I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hard standing would not create additional flood risk, but the extent of existing hard standing would. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside If the avoidance of flooding was designed in to the structures.</td>

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.
The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

POLICY P4 – Flood risk and water source protection zones - I OBJECT.

Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. I have attached pictures taken of flooding on Ripley Lane, West Horsley, in June (yes June!) 2016, after two days of rain - this lane is symptomatic of the area around West Horsley, where there are proposed no less than 2500 homes inside a two mile radius. It is madness to think the environmental impact will be colossal caused by more run off and concrete.

Comment ID: PSLPP16/12197  Respondent: 15581665 / Laura Daboo  Agent:
I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter.
months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

1. POLICY P2

I object to this Policy on the grounds that this is not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2). This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt. In addition other changes within the plan, such as the change to the village settlement area within West Clandon and other villages will result in other pieces of Green Belt land (such as land at Barn End, The Street, West Clandon) being developed for housing in addition to the sites allocated within the proposed plan.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study commissioned by Guildford Borough Council was a simplistic tick box exercise. It failed to carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt sites proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether they should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an ‘exceptional circumstance’ nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I believe that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object extremely strongly to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. These villages contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them. To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and village settlement boundary extensions go ahead.

I object extremely strongly to the wholesale extension to the settlement boundaries in many villages which is a change made since the 2014 version of the Plan and in relation to which there has been no consultation. This change will allow infilling in the Green Belt. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development. For example, Guildford Borough Planning Department are already well aware of multiple previous applications for planning permission for a large number of houses made by Philip Christian of Stonehaven homes on a 5 acre strip of Green Belt at Barn End, The Street, West Clandon. Careful examination of the village settlement area of West Clandon shows that the existing West Clandon village settlement area had been very carefully drawn around the boundaries of this piece of Green Belt so as to protect this from development. The land is of environmental significance as this provides a green wildlife corridor adjacent to protected woodland. In the past every application has been refused locally and the decisions have been upheld on Appeal but that position will be impossible to sustain if this land is included in the proposed new settlement boundary for West Clandon I live next to this piece of land and have seen Surveyors working on the site in the last week presumably preparing an application for planning permission to develop the site wholesale if the draft Local Plan comes into force.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as it is factually incorrect.

In addition I object to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the Green Belt they will be lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site. Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

POLICY P4 FLOOD RISK

I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones.

Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

The Plan does not appear to take adequate account of flood risk, as is required by National Planning Policy. The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

The Environment Agency classifies the site at Garlicks Arch (A43) as being in a higher risk than the Council's own assessment. The plan does not take adequate account of the flood risk as required by National Planning Policy, especially as this area has flooded many times in recent years.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

There is too much traffic in our villages already. The roads are busy throughout the day and not just at rush hour. This plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.

The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths.

Instead of building 5000 more houses which means dangerous and unsustainable traffic. The money would be better improving those roads so local communities can use them safely.

I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside. I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

I object to developing areas with risk of flood (policy P4).

National Policy requires adequate account of flood risk: Garlick’s Arch (A43) is at higher risk than the council’s assessment, this having been classified by the environment agency.

The incidence of flooding has increased considerably in recent years.

I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding and may increase likelihood or worse effects of flooding in the locality (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Flooding
The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and so building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. There are already many issues with overflowing drains on the local roads in this area when it rains.

<td>Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.</td>

This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.</td>

2.1 Policy P4 – Flooding, flood risk and groundwater source production
We support the inclusion of a specific policy for flood risk and welcome the protection of groundwater within Policy P4. In addition, we pleased to see the distinction between developed and undeveloped flood zone 3b explained and included within the policy wording, which provides clarity on what is appropriate development in the functional flood plain.

2.1.1 Points of soundness
We do not consider that sufficient reference has been made to the impacts of climate change on the flood risks associated with development. The NPPF sets out how the planning system should help minimise vulnerability and provide resilience to the impacts of climate change. We consider that without specific mention of the flood risks associated with climate change that the Plan is not consistent with paragraph 99 of the NPPF.

2.1.2 Overcoming this point of unsoundness
We recommend that in accordance with the paragraph 99 of the NPPF Policy P4 can be re-worded to reference climate change. For instance:

- a site-specific flood risk assessment demonstrates that the development will be safe for its lifetime, taking into account climate change, including access and egress, without increasing flooding elsewhere, and where possible, will reduce flood risk overall

2.1.3 Points of accuracy and clarity
In the interests of accuracy and clarity we recommend that this Policy is retitled to reflect the correct terminology:

Policy P4 – Flooding, flood risk and groundwater protection zones

In the interest of accuracy and completeness we suggest that the following is added to the end of Paragraph 4.3.39:

- All other land surrounding this is important flow routes and should be retained.
- In the interest of accuracy and clarity we suggest that the following is added to the details regarding development in areas at risk of flooding in Policy P4:
  - site drainage systems are appropriately designed taking into account of storm events up to 1 in 100 year chance of flooding with an appropriate allowance for climate change allowance.

While Policy P4 makes reference to the protection of Groundwater Source Protection Zones, however, in-line with paragraph 109 of the NPPF in the interests of accuracy and clarity we suggest the following wording:

Development within Groundwater Source Protection Zones and Principal Aquifers will only be permitted provided that it has no adverse impact on the quality of the groundwater resource and does not put at risk the ability to maintain a public water supply.

1 Points of soundness

1.1 Points of soundness summary
We welcome and support a number of the changes that have been implemented since we reviewed the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites dated June 2016. However, we consider the plan to be UNSOUND in its current form due to issues relating to flood risk.

1.2 Policy P4: Flooding, flood risk and groundwater protection zones
We consider that Policy P4 does not reflect some of the conclusions within the evidence submitted in the Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (SFRA) Level 1. Therefore, we do not consider this policy to be justified by the evidence base or consistent with the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) and associated Planning Practice Guidance (PPG).
On page 5 of the Level 1 SFRA it is made clear with regards to development within the functional floodplain that “there should be no increase in development vulnerability or intensification in use”. We note that this is not reflected in Policy P4.

1.2.1 Overcoming this point of soundness
In order to overcome this point of soundness we recommend that Policy P4 (3) is updated to reflect your SFRA:
“Development proposals in the ‘developed’ flood zone 3b will also only be approved where the footprint of the proposed building(s) is not greater than that of the existing building(s) and there will be no increase in development vulnerability or intensification in use. Proposals within these areas should facilitate greater floodwater storage.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
"and there will be no increase in development vulnerability or intensification in use"

2.3 Policy P4: Flooding, flood risk and groundwater protection zones
We welcome the inclusion of a majority of the advice we provided in July 2016, in particular the specific mention of the flood risks associated with climate change within Policy P4 (2) (c).

2.3.1 Paragraph 4.3.36
For the sake of clarity we recommend adding the date of the Flood and Water Management Act (2010). In addition, specific mention of Thames Water as a Risk Management Authority could be made, as they have a significant role in relation to managing flood risk from sewers.

2.3.2 Paragraph 4.3.42
We welcome the recognition of sensitive groundwater receptors within the Borough. We recommend that reference is made to the most up-to-date version of the Environment Agency’s groundwater protection position statements which can be found at: https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/groundwater-protection-position-statements

2.3.3 Site allocations and groundwater protection
We wish to note that sites within the inner source protection zone (SPZ1) often have specific requirements to protect groundwater. We recommend that the following groundwater issues are added to the list of key considerations for the preferred sites listed in Appendix A to this letter.

Within your plan the following four sites are based on high level flood risk information:

| POLICY A39: Land near Horsley railway station, Ockham Road, North, East Horsley (assessment based on Flood Zones) |
| POLICY A40: Land to the north of West Horsley (assessment based on Flood Zones) |
| POLICY A50: Land at Whittles Drive, Aldershot Road, Normandy (assessment based on Flood Zones) |
| POLICY A54: Lakeview, Lakeside Road, Ash Vale (assessment based on detailed flood model (Blackwater 2007) 1 in 100 year flood) |

Although you have deemed these to have passed the flood risk sequential test as noted below we would expect that at planning application stage detailed flood modelling is undertaken. We note that the new climate change allowances haven’t been specifically mentioned in the Level 2 SFRA or local plan. However, the majority of allocated sites have detailed modelling where the 1 in 1000 year (0.1% annual exceedance probability) is available, these sites have been assessed against the 1 in 1000 year flood. For the purpose of accuracy and clarity we recommend that this approach of using the 1 in 1000 year flood event to account for climate change is clearly set out in the SFRA Level 2.

If these sites are adopted, at the planning application stage we would expect an assessment of climate change (using the new allowances) to be undertaken by applicants. We recommend applicants consult with the most recent national climate change guidance including our Thames Climate change guidance.

I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)
The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk. It appears that the Council's assessment of the flooding risk is flawed.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council's assessment.

This area has flooded many times in recent years.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4).

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Although I welcome the fact that flow routes will be considered as part of any Flood Risk Assessment, I am still totally opposed and object to any development on flood plains. Jacobs Well suffers from flooding, being close to the zone 3b floodplain near Burpham Court Farm where a major road development, The Clay Lane Link Road, is still under consideration. With town centre and SARP development going ahead (and related flood risk mitigation), plus climate change (and the increased potential for flash storms), to ensure risk to properties is only once per 100 years, the Burpham Court Farm zone 3b flood plain is therefore even more important in reducing the risk of flooding in Jacobs Well and must be preserved as is and not developed upon.

3.17 The centre of Guildford is affected by flooding from the River Wey. Large parts of the town centre alongside the river are within flood zone 3b. If the wording of policy P4 is to be followed, there is no restriction, other than the established development management policies, on the height of the buildings that could be developed on the sites. The GVG Masterplan seeks to avoid earlier mistakes and addresses the central issues around flooding, to the benefit of the town centre and better provision of housing in a materially improved setting.

3.18 The flooding topic paper which forms part of the evidence base for the Local Plan sets out at para 5.9 that:

The Council’s Level 1 SRFA notes that some of Guildford’s functional floodplain (flood zone 3b) has historically been built upon. The document therefore differentiates between the ‘developed functional floodplain’ and the ‘undeveloped functional floodplain’. Whilst the NPPF states that the functional floodplain should be reserved for water storage and flow in times of flood, the SRFA argues that development or redevelopment in the ‘developed functional floodplain’ may be acceptable when flood risk betterment, appropriate mitigation and risk management can be achieved and implemented. Given the findings of the Level 1 SFRA, it is reasonable to argue that the functional floodplain does not need to be entirely excluded from development and can contribute to accommodating the borough’s objectively assessed needs, if betterment, mitigation and management can be achieved.

3.19 Whilst the main thrust of policy P4 complies with guidance on sequential and exception tests, the requirement of development proposals to not be greater than the footprint of the existing building fundamentally undermines the potential of town centre sites to deliver significant levels of housing or other uses.

3.20 The GVG Masterplan considers an innovative solution to protection of future residents from flood risk by raising the street level above current levels. It places car parking and other compatible uses on the lower ground floor or undercroft, while residential units are placed on upper floors with dry access provided in the event of a flood.

3.21 Furthermore the second point of bullet point 3 states that:

Proposals within these areas should facilitate greater floodwater storage.

3.22 The masterplan as prepared by GVG seeks a strategic approach to the potential for floodwater storage in areas of functional flood zone through the provision of substantial sustainable urban drainage systems. These could be accommodated under areas of public open space. The provision of large areas of tiered public open space around Guildford Wharf, Walnut Tree Close and Woodbridge Meadows will also allow for the improvement of the area of functional floodplain within the town centre.

3.23 The delivery of policy E7 in relation to Guildford town centre supported by Guildford Town Centre Regeneration Strategy 2017, with the previous links to the Allies and Morrison draft Town Centre Vision (2015) and the Guildford Town Centre Masterplan (2015) now having been deleted.

3.24 Whilst the Allies and Morrison vision and masterplan previously sought to avoid the areas of functional flood plain for development, the Guildford Town Centre Regeneration makes reference to the provision of Enhanced Amenity and Flood Protection. This section recognises the potential for development in areas of flood zone but does not satisfactorily set out a solution or conjoined strategy to deal with these fundamental issues. The document states that:

As sites and schemes are investigated in more detail, viability issues will invariably come in to play and decisions will need to be made as whether to progress certain major projects. This is one of the reasons that the Town Centre Regeneration Strategy and its associated Work Programmes are intended to be ‘living, flexible documents’.

3.25 GVG submits that this level of ambiguity and lack of commitment is simply not good enough to support the delivery of material quantities of housing in the town centre. This requires a coordinated and comprehensive approach. This is what GVG recommends and have allowed for under its preferred approach for the town. The current approach of GBC (see appendix 6 with site marketing particulars) through piecemeal development of town centre sites does not allow for a co-ordinated approach to flood risk which is of significant importance for the success of the wider development strategy for the borough, or other strategic objectives such as power delivery and district centres. It also at the same time fails to positively and comprehensively address urban form that currently contributes to flooding.

5.30 In relation to the proposed policy, RPS considers that the Council needs to offer clearer advice in terms of how it responds to the necessary allowance for climate change. The current wording, which indicates that an ‘appropriate allowance’ should be made, is not an appropriate policy mechanism to give this certainty of delivery. The Council should instead offer greater certainty about what is required, justified by evidence and policy guidance.

5.31 As part of the appended documents supporting the Fairlands Delivery Document it has been demonstrated that there is acceptable attenuation storage for a 1 in 100 flood event, and also includes a 40% climate change return period. This responds to the evidence base for the site, which took into account the total potential change in rainfall in 2080.

- The protection of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA) is a strategic issue of significant interest to all the local authorities with SPAs within their boundaries. A Joint Strategic Partnership Board has been set up to ensure that a strategic approach is taken for its protection. In accordance with the relevant legislative guidance, it will be helpful if the policy is drafted to avoid harm to the SPA rather than its current focus on mitigating identified adverse impacts. In this regard, an indication in Policy P5 of whether Guildford Borough Council has identified sufficient SANGs land to meet its development needs would be helpful.

I object to policy P5 Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

This policy is not robust enough. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless. SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

64. I support the need for a policy to protect the SPA but,

I object to the manner in which it is approached.

65. As a naturalist I place a very high value on the protection of the Thames Basin Heaths and other areas important for wildlife. In my opinion the SANG approach is unsound and existing biodiversity at the chosen SANG sites is being ignored despite a requirement to take it into account. One example is Effingham Common which is a breeding site for ground-nesting Skylarks. This year, warning signs to inform dog-walkers of nesting Skylarks were not put up until complaints were made and Skylarks had been chased off their nest by an out-of-control dog (I was an unhappy witness to this).

This is an example of an existing valuable site for biodiversity being used erroneously to justify building near the SPA. It is wrong to claim that SANG is creating new open spaces and enhancing biodiversity. SANG is only created by using existing open space that may or may not have public access but does have existing biodiversity or agricultural use that will be harmed or removed by the change of use. Its effectiveness in drawing people away from the SPA is also highly questionable.
66. Throughout this process, Guildford Borough Council have demonstrated that they place no genuine value on biodiversity or have any real understanding of it. They merely see biodiversity and the SPA as obstacles to be overcome in their quest to impose a forced growth agenda on the residents of Guildford. I believe they underestimate the value that residents place on wildlife and fail to recognise its contribution to our wellbeing.

This policy is unsatisfactory in its current form.

Object

EPC strongly objects to a car park on Effingham Common. The proposed car park location would damage the ecology and habitat of the Common, and would be sited very close to one of the few parts of the Common where Skylarks (now on the Red List in the UK) breed.

EPC believes that the car park would be full of commuters’ vehicles, from early morning to late afternoon, whose owners would be using Effingham Junction Station.

Effingham Common is already very accessible from Effingham Junction station; and the popular Horsley Jubilee Trail, which crosses the Common, has a starting point at Horsley station. Many people use public transport to visit and enjoy the Common.

The Local Plan is proposing two additional SANGs in West Horsley and Wisley. If these are accepted there is no longer a requirement for the SANG at Effingham Common to have a car park situated on the Common.

Policy P5: Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area

In Policy P5, 2nd bullet point, it is written: “Measures will be based on a combination of Strategic Access Management and Monitoring (SAMM) and the provision, improvement and/or maintenance of Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG)” The word “improvement” should not be interpreted as recreational facilities which urbanise and harm AONBs which are often chosen as SANGs.

4.3.64: In this paragraph it is written: “Bespoke SANGs may be required to include a combination of benefits, including biodiversity enhancement, green infrastructure and potentially, new recreational facilities in line with the Council’s adopted green infrastructure policies. AONBs are often chosen as SANGs and its needs to be remembered that the prime reason for their existence is their natural beauty as given in the following Act:

“Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) were originally identified via the National Parks and Access to the Countryside Act 1949, with the primary purpose to conserve the natural beauty of the landscape.”

Recreational facilities such as buildings and equipment harm natural beauty and are strongly opposed by residents and visitors. The large amount of money channelled from developers into SANGs should not be used for this purpose, and has no connection with the SPA policy of attracting dog walkers to SANGs.

Wording is needed in Policy Box P5 and paragraph 4.3.64 which ensures that AONBs are protected from harmful recreational facilities, and are enjoyed for their natural beauty and landscape.

SANGs are not appropriate on agricultural land.

In terms of the detail of the proposed housing allocations around Ash and Tongham, other policies in the draft Plan enable the consideration of relevant planning issues; for example, Policy P5 relates to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), and would prevent proposals that are not supported by measures to avoid and mitigate the adverse effects on the ecological integrity of the SPA.

The suite of policies used to support the determination of proposals for residential development and associated infrastructure, including Policy P5, is supported.

POLICY P5 Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area

It is a serious mistake that GBC has not taken this constraint into account when arriving at its OAN housing figure.

CPRE has reservations as to how this policy is working but sees little prospect of any change being introduced as its wording does not really fall within local authority control. The principal difficulty is to do with the system of SANGs that has been developed and the way this is being implemented by GBC and other neighbouring districts. Many SPA sites are still being visited by dog walkers in large numbers even when SANGs are supplied, and if these are located near SPA boundaries, damage is quickly done to any ancient woodland and good agricultural land bordering the protection area such as at Blackwell Farm. We have viewed the income generated in Guildford for SANGs at Chantry Woods in the AONB and the Registered Common at Effingham. Greater transparency is required as to how this money is to be spent and where. A key application is to be heard at Worplesdon on 20th July after a long delay as something of a test case at which a proposed SANG application will be consulted upon in the Planning Committee.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

We OBJECT to this policy. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small and negligible as to be meaningless. SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial; the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces. There is no actual increase in environmental protection; it is a policy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds - must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the special protection areas.

Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA; see Map 1, Appendix 1), is a statutory designated site and designated for its rare and vulnerable birds, specifically nightjar, Dartford warbler and woodlark under the EC Birds Directive. This site also forms part of the Thursley, Ash, Pirbright and Chobham Special Area of Conservation (SAC), a statutory designated site and designated for its North Atlantic wet heaths, European dry heaths and peat bogs.

We believe that the Plan is unsound as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact seven proposed developments will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site (as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).
The seven proposed developments are less than five kilometres away from the TBH SPA and in some cases not much beyond the 400m exclusion zone, occupying an area between under 1km to just over 2km from the TBH SPA. It has been indicated that the cumulative effect of further residential development up to 5 km from protected heathlands will have a significant adverse effect on the heaths. The TBH SPA is an internationally important habitat for three rare species of bird - the Dartford warbler, woodlark and nightjar. The latter two are ground nesting and therefore particularly susceptible to disturbance from people and animals. In fact Natural England believes that recreational use of the heaths arising from housing developments up to five kilometres away from a SPA will create disturbance to rare bird populations.

A survey in 2008 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. A follow-up survey in 2012 found that there was a 10% increase in visitors to the SPA.

A survey of households carried out by a veterinary team at Bristol University in 2010 “Number and ownership profiles of cats and dogs in the UK” published in the Journal of The British Veterinary Association indicates 31% households own dogs and 26% households own cats. Dogs were more likely to be owned by rural households.

Applying this analysis for all new housing at the listed strategic housing sites in the draft Local Plan within the 400m-5km mitigation zone of TBHSPA (in total 7,000 new homes), the cumulative impact of dog ownership (up to an estimated 2,200 new dogs within 5 km of TBHSPA) with dog-walker incursions on the rare bird species habitat of the TBHSPA will be a devastating increase. No amount of SANG nor SAMM programmes will change human behaviour and the draft Local Plan evidence base contains no studies or data to prove otherwise, it contains only unproven assertions. Natural England can provide no survey evidence of the effectiveness of SANG or SAMM programmes in attracting dog-walkers and other visitors away from TBHSPA.

I object to such a weak policy, where the mitigation of cash compensation is too small to be meaningful.

I object to the use of SANGs for most of the proposed sites as these areas are already farmland, woodland or open green spaces.

SANGs should not be positioned near nesting birds, which will be threatened by the pet cats and dogs resident in the new homes.

I OBJECT to the irresponsible application of the SANG concept in this Policy and in the Plan as a whole. Allowing developers to claim that taking over previously productive farmland or ecologically valuable woodland and calling it SANG justifies building on nearby green field sites is a travesty of what the SANG concept is intended to achieve. The net result is a degradation of the existing environment without any meaningful mitigation of the risk to the THBSPA, as increased numbers of dog walkers and others will prefer to use the latter rather than an artificially constructed so-called 'suitable alternative'. This really is a shockingly cynical approach.

POLICY P5 - Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

I OBJECT. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

Much of development around West Horsley is within 5km from the SPA boundary. The infrastructure and delivery plan includes the re-designation of ‘Bens Wood’ in West Horsley (north) to SANG space (SANG 9). It is not clear on what basis this re-designation has or will occur. The wood is already well used by the existing local community and will not therefore attract new residents away from the Thames basin SPA. It is not permissible to re-designate the area as SANG without undertaking a full assessment of the current usage and therefore any additional capacity to meet the requirements of any new developments for SANG can not be assumed.

In accordance with policy P5, SANG is to be provided at a minimum of 8ha/1000 residents, assuming 2.4 per dwelling equates to over 10ha for all the developments in Horsley, and these must be operational before occupation in order to minimise pressure on the SPA. As such, even if Bens Wood were to be re-designated as SANG following a full assessment, the size of this area would be insufficient for the proposed scale of development. I suspect this wood is in the ownership of and managed by the owners of Manor House farm and current usage is via permitted access which would not allow the land to be reclassified as SANG unless secured in perpetuity. The wood was established as public amenity space within funding from the EU and DEFRA.
It is noted that the Draft Guildford Borough Infrastructure Delivery Plan 2016 refers to a SANG on Long Reach of 24 Ha. This is also referred to as SANG8 in the plan. This would require change of use from agricultural land, which is currently graded as good. The SANG would significant upgrades to the existing infrastructure. The increase in road traffic, combined with the increase as a result of the proposed developments would significantly alter the character of the area thus conflicting with the NPPF. There is no significant mention of any infrastructure improvements in the Local Plan which does not therefore allow the proposal to be critically appraised as part of this process.

In addition the I4 Green infrastructure policy appears to require the preservation of local habitat which will be destroyed as a result of the removal of the village of West Horsley from the green belt.

<td>I support the addition of paragraph 4.3.50a, which recognises contribution of Special Protection Areas (SPAs) and Areas of Special Conservation Interest in meeting the UK’s international agreements and treaties. However, I object to the insertion of a new paragraph 4.3.50c, which states “... if residential developments provide or contribute to appropriate SANG and SAMM measures, they will not be required to undergo Appropriate Assessment.” It is not sufficient mitigation against harm to the SPA to merely allocate land as SANG or to contribute to SAMM measures. on Whitmoor Common (Guildford’s primary SPA) and Pirbright Common SPA, even with bespoke SANG provision, for the following reasons:

• The centre of the site is within 5km of the centre of Whitmoor Common and 3.8km to the nearest boundary point. It is highly likely that additional recreational pressure will be put on Whitmoor and Pirbright Commons as a result of the quantity of dwellings proposed (1,800). Even if only 5% of households use the SPAs, that is an increased recreational pressure of 90 households and this is without considering the combined recreational pressures caused by all planned sites.

• The Habitats Regulations Assessment also notes that the Blackwell Farm site “could contribute to reduced air quality through traffic movements past Thames Basin Heaths SPA in combination.” (Page 37)

The Surrey Wildlife Trust describes the Thames Heath lowland heaths as a rarer habitat than rainforest. They are home to large numbers of rare insects, rare amphibians, rare plants, and rare bats – in addition to the EU protected Dartford warbler and nightjar. It is irresponsible to plan for development which does not safeguard this habitat.

It should further be noted that many local residents on the west of Guildford, including Flexford, Park Barn, Onslow Village and Wood Street village currently use Blackwell Farm as an area to walk dogs (one of the biggest threats to ground-nesting birds). It is possible that these people might encroach on the SPA instead, if Blackwell Farm was to become urbanised.

Policy P5 Blue Policy Box

I object to all changes of text in the blue policy box of Policy P5. The changes set out to deliberately weaken assessment of development proposals within the mitigation zone of the Special Protection Area. The only remedy should be mitigation, not avoidance. Mitigation requires a commitment from the council and any applicant to provide either land as SANG or an S.106 payment. A programme of SAMM activity has no proven benefit. Natural England can provide no evidence that SAMM activity has any impact on visitor behaviour to the SPA, therefore it cannot support an avoidance strategy. The only protection therefore is mitigation.

I propose all references to "avoidance" and "SAMM" activity should be removed from Policy P5 and its Definitions in pp65-69.

I propose the text in the blue policy box for Policy P5 should be as follows:

“POLICY P5: Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Areas

(1) Permission will not be granted for development proposals unless it can be demonstrated that doing so would not give rise to adverse effects on the ecological integrity of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), whether alone or in combination with other development. Where one or more adverse effects on the SPA are likely, measures to avoid and mitigate these effects must be delivered and secured in perpetuity. These measures must be agreed with Natural England.

(2) The following principles apply:
(a) There is an “exclusion zone” set at 400m linear distance from the SPA boundary. Permission will not be granted for development that results in a net increase in residential units within this zone. Proposals for other types of development within this zone must undertake Appropriate Assessment to demonstrate that they will not harm the integrity of the SPA.

(b) There is a “zone of influence” between 400m and 5km linear distance from the SPA boundary. Where net new residential development is proposed within the zone of influence, mitigation measures must be delivered prior to occupation of new dwellings and in perpetuity. Measures must be based on the provision, improvement and/or maintenance of Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG).

(c) Residential development of at least 50 net new dwellings that falls between five and seven kilometres from the SPA may be required to provide mitigation measures. This will be assessed on a case-by-case basis and agreed with Natural England.

(3) The following principles apply to the provision of SANG:

(a) A minimum of 8 hectares of SANG land (after discounting to account for current access and capacity) should be provided per 1,000 new occupants.

(b) Developments must fall within the catchment of the SANG that provides mitigation, except developments of fewer than 10 net new residential units.

(c) The Council will collect developer contributions towards mitigation measures, including SANG (unless bespoke SANG mitigation is provided).

(d) Developments may secure or provide bespoke SANG. Proposals for new SANGs will not be acceptable unless approved by Natural England. Large developments may be required to provide bespoke SANG mitigation.

(4) Where further evidence demonstrates that the integrity of the SPA can be protected using different linear thresholds or with alternative mitigation measures (including standards of SANG provision different to those set out in this policy) these must be agreed with Natural England.”

Para 4.3.50c

I object to the insertion of paragraph 4.3.50c, page 66. All proposed developments within the up-to-7km mitigation zones of the SPA should undergo Appropriate Assessment irrespective.

I propose the complete removal of paragraph 4.3.50c.

Para 4.3.52

I object to the change in paragraph 4.3.52, p67 where the word “impacts” is removed and replaces by the word “pressures”. I propose the reversion to the word “impacts”.

Para 4.3.53

I object to the removal of paragraph 4.3.53, page 67. This paragraph provides strong determination of the need for Appropriate Assessment of all applications for planning permission in the SPA exclusion zone.

I propose the reinsertion of paragraph 4.3.53 as follows:

"Applications for planning permission for all development in the exclusion zone should be subject to a full Appropriate Assessment to demonstrate no adverse effect on the SPA and/or the acceptability of any avoidance measures provided."

Para 4.3.54
I object to the removal of the following text from paragraph 4.3.54 "ensure that new residential development will not lead to increased recreational pressure on the SPA" and its replacement by "avoid this impact". The substitute text is weak and requires no assessment of impact by the council.

I object to the insertion of the following text into paragraph 4.3.54 "and other types of permanent accommodation not listed in paragraph 4.3.51" as this presents an open door for any type of housing development to be considered for the SPA exclusion zone that might have a severe impact via disturbance and invasion on the protected species and habitat. Paragraph 4.3.51 is now very specific as to the allowable accommodation types, intended to deliver close control over potential impacts on the SPA.

I object to the replacement of the word "mitigation" in paragraph 4.3.54 with the word "avoidance" for previously defined reasons. The word "avoidance" should be removed and revert to "mitigation".

I propose paragraph 4.3.54, page 67 should revert as follows:

"In the zone of influence, beyond the exclusion zone and up to 5km (linear) from the SPA, a net increase in the number of residential units is likely to lead to increased recreational use of the SPA visitor surveys produced by Natural England demonstrate that 70 per cent of visitors to the SPA come from within this distance. In order to ensure that new residential development will not lead to increased recreational pressure on the SPA, net new residential development must secure or provide Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG). Proposals for student accommodation may not need to provide mitigation and mitigation measures. This will be assessed on a case by case basis."

Para 4.3.55 I object to the substitution of the phrase "at least" with the word "over" in paragraph 4.3.55, page 67. I propose the word "over" revert to the phrase "at least"

Para 4.3.56 I object to the replacement of the word "mitigation" in paragraph 4.3.56, page 67 with the word "avoidance" for previously defined reasons. I propose the word "avoidance" should be removed and revert to "mitigation".

Para 4.3.57 I object to the replacement of the word "mitigate" with the word "avoid" and the word "mitigation" with the word "avoidance" in paragraph 4.3.57 for previously defined reasons. I propose the words "avoid" and "avoidance" should be removed and revert to "mitigate" and "mitigation" respectively.

Para 4.3.58 I object to the replacement of the word "mitigation" in paragraph 4.3.58, page 68 with the word "avoidance" for previously defined reasons. I propose the word "avoidance" should be removed and revert to "mitigation".

Para 4.3.60 I object to the replacement of the word "mitigation" in paragraph 4.3.60, page 68 with the word "avoidance" for previously defined reasons. I propose the word "avoidance" should be removed and revert to "mitigation". I object to the word "agreed" in the same paragraph. I propose the word "agreed" should revert to "approved".

Para 4.3.64 I object to the replacement of the word "mitigation" in paragraph 4.3.64, page 68 with the word "avoidance" for previously defined reasons. I propose the word "avoidance" should be removed and reverted to "mitigation".

Policy PS - Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

OBJECT. The whole SANG concept is deeply flawed. There is a fundamental requirement in European law that developers and the Council must have convincing, objective evidence that developments have no adverse impact on the SPA (Waddenzee judgement, case no: C-127-02). This does not appear to have been done for a number of sites. The SANGs put forward are mostly already in public use, further away from the planned developments, and irredeemably less attractive than the sandy heaths of Whitmoor Common. This is even more important with the hugely expanding housing being proposed.

Policy P5

We support this policy but believe that all Suitable Natural Alternative Green Spaces (SANGs) must be new green space and not just a redesignation of existing green space which already has public access, as this is a misuse of the policy which is to mitigate against damage to Special Protection Areas (SPAs).

In this regard, Effingham Common was designated a SANG some years ago, although it is registered common land which already had public access. Since it has been registered as a SANG there has been a decline in its important skylark population. This appears to be due to an increase in dog walkers (including some professional) and its management as recreational space instead of as a local nature reserve, which we believe would be a more appropriate designation, and which would encourage wildlife.

There was a proposal in the last draft of the Plan to increase the capacity of the SANG at Effingham Common by building a car park, even though it is illegal to build on common land. Our survey in August 2014 showed that 97% of Effingham respondents were against this. We trust that GBC will respect the status of Effingham Common and that any SANGs required will be located on new green space.

1. Policy P5 – object
   1. Whilst I support the policy in principal, there is inappropriate designation of land as SANGs which do not provide mitigations to new developments.
   2. SANGs must be provide new green space, rather than designate land that already has public access as a SANG. In this respect it is inappropriate for the designation of Effingham Common as a SANG as it is already a registered Common, and people already have access to the land, so it is not in any way providing any mitigation for new developments to Wisley and Ockham Commons.
   3. Para 4.3.58. The catchment area for a SANG based solely on size and distance is nonsensical. The catchment area for any site is based on accessibility and attractiveness. A muddy site, with poor access in the middle of winter will divert visitors away to a drier site with better access.

The mitigation for damage for the protected areas in the form of cash compensation offered by developers is insulting to our ecology and our duty to protect the environment – it’s blood money. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.
I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

Document:  Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy P5

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( No ), is Legally Compliant? ( No )

I strongly object to the implementation of SANGs and SAMM, since there is quite simply no historical evidence base to support their continued use, and therefore any development relying on them as mitigation does not comply with the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010/EC Habitats Directive, the retained SE Plan Policy NRM6 viii (monitoring), NPPF paragraph 2 "Planning policies and decisions must reflect and where appropriate promote relevant EU obligations and statutory requirements", and NPPF paragraph 7 which lays out the requirement for environmentally sustainable development. Presumably this would not satisfy the legal requirements of the independent inspector (NPPF 182), and would leave the Council exposed to legal challenge as clarified by the Waddenzee judgement. ODPM 06/2005 circular BIODIVERSITY AND GEOLOGICAL CONSERVATION – STATUTORY OBLIGATIONS AND THEIR IMPACT WITHIN THE PLANNING SYSTEM states: "In the Waddenzee judgment, the European Court of Justice ruled that a plan or project may be authorised only if a competent authority has made certain that the plan or project will not adversely affect the integrity of the site. That is the case where no reasonable scientific doubt remains as to the absence of such effects'. Competent national authorities must be 'convinced' that there will not be an adverse affect and where doubt remains as to the absence of adverse affects, the plan or project must not be authorised, subject to the procedure outlined in Article 6(4) of the EC Habitats Directive regarding imperative reasons of overriding public interest."

SANGs appear to have become nothing more than a risky pseudo-scientific number-crunching excuse to circumvent the rules and build first, ask questions later. As far as I can see they have no basis in law, even though they are being used as some sort of legal loophole. They are based entirely on wishful thinking rather than fact, no independent evidence has been provided to demonstrate they work as hoped, and no scientifically sound monitoring has yet been published to this end, despite the Regulations first being implemented in UK law in 1994 and this strategy (and a similar interim one previously) being in place since 2006. Where, for example, is the evidence base that led to the introduction of this strategy in the first place? Where was it trialled? And where is the monitoring of avoidance/mitigation success proposed in 2008 in the Thames Basin Heaths SPA Avoidance Strategy section 5.1? The only "monitoring" of which I am aware are:

- Firstly, simple visitor counts at SANGs in the Council's Annual Monitoring Reports, which have no scientific basis at all since
  (a) they do not take any variable factors into account (probably most importantly weather and site condition);
  (b) are bypassed completely for sites during years where no improvement works were carried out (why?);
  (c) have only been undertaken every 2 years since 2009 because "changes in visitor levels are unlikely to be significant from year to year" (doesn't this indicate SANGs aren't working?);
  (d) are not linked to any corresponding SPA research.

- Secondly, Natural England's SPA visitor survey report NECR136 2014. Although this conversely appeared to reflect a 10% increase in total visitor numbers to the areas supposedly under protection, it was conveniently not deemed "statistically significant", and in any case section 4.17 admits "These survey results in no way test whether Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG) provision or other measures may have been successful, and detailed monitoring of SANGs themselves is necessary to show their effectiveness.

As such, these surveys do not meet the requirements of the Joint Strategic Partnership (JSP) Board, and have no significance. Since SPAs are protected by law, and since there has already been plenty of opportunity to undertake a study, this appears to demonstrate extraordinary negligence on the part of the local councils and Natural England. According to Natural England, a research report was commissioned in 2015, but this is still at draft stage and therefore not appropriate for decision-making. Whatever its conclusions, though, it all seems too late, and will surely have little validity as evidence right now, as its time span will be too short to analyse visitor patterns. It is not adequate to propose a proper analysis will be done at some time in the future, since this does not prevent potentially irreversible damage now and in the immediate future if the wholesale roll-out of the avoidance scheme in the Local Plan is adopted. We can hardly ostracize other countries on saving endangered animals, preserving rainforest, protecting indigenous tribes etc etc etc, when we can't even look after what's left of our own tiny patches of easily maintainable, non-threatening biodiversity.

If, however, I am mistaken and relevant evidence and monitoring now exists of which I am not aware, the Council should make clear reference to it in its Evidence Base.

This refers to development within the zone of influence and the provision of “avoidance and mitigation measures” to avoid harm. However the measures proposed, namely, Alternative Natural Green Space (SANG) and Strategic Access Management and Management, (SAMM) do not work. There is no evidence that it does.
All proposed developments should be subject to assessment to ensure the protection of this unique landscape.

However, SANGS do not work. Cats will adhere to their established territory and people seeking recreation and walking routes for dogs will not drive to an alternative space (SANG) and will continue to walk where they have always done so, (this is human nature). Moving populations of wild species may seem to be attractive in terms of public relations, but also will not work; Birds will try to return to traditional nesting areas. Amphibians will also try to walk back to their traditional breeding sites. Therefore, building on the SPA or within the zones of exclusion and influence will only serve to destroy local populations which are rare and declining.

The SPA is also subject to European Legislation. Directive 92/4/EEC requires that member states maintain certain natural habitats and wild species. It also requires them to take into account areas of regional and local importance. The SPA is part of a European Ecological Network of protected sites which constitute the NATURA 2000 Network (Article 3). Birds reported in this area include greater spotted woodpecker, wood pigeon, nightjar, osprey (summer 2017), peregrine, red kite, short-toed eagle (summer 2014), sparrow hawk, woodpigeon, wren; red list birds also include house sparrow and starling.

In addition to, and related to this, the EU 2020 Biodiversity Strategy has six targets one of which is “full implementation of EU nature legislation to protect biodiversity and better protection for eco systems, and more use of green infrastructure”[1][2].” This is pertinent to this part of the Southeast because the EU has adopted this strategy to halt the loss of biodiversity and ecosystems, which, of course, includes biodiversity which is being lost due to development. Biodiversity loss has huge consequences in that one in four species is currently threatened with extinction and areas like that covered by the local plan, which have the privilege of housing these species, have a duty to protect them. Therefore the SPA, and areas of Greenbelt and ANOB must be protected; full implementation of the EU Birds and Habitats Directives is essential if we are to meet the targets of the EU 2020 Biodiversity targets.

- Incidentally, The UN has designated 2010 – 2020 the decade of Biodiversity.

Wadenzee Judgement with regard to the SPA

In conclusion, I would like to reiterate the fact that all sites in the Draft Plan are so close to the SPA that they fall within the zone of influence or the exclusion zone, and refer you to the Wadenzee Judgement in which the European Court of Justice ruled that any plans or project may only be authorised if a competent authority has made certain that it will not adversely affect the integrity of the SPA in that no reasonable scientific doubt remains as to the absence of such effects. Therefore, unless you are absolutely certain that the Plan will not cause harm to the SPA, it should not be authorised.

I OBJECT to this policy. This policy is extremely weak.

The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small and negligible as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial; the sites identified or targeted are already green space.

To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces.

There is no actual increase in environmental protection; it is a policy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds - must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the special protection areas.

Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA; see Map 1, Appendix 1), is a statutory designated site and designated for its rare and vulnerable birds, specifically nightjar, Dartford warbler and woodlark under the EC Birds Directive. This site also forms part of the Thursley, Ash, Pirbright and Chobham Special Area of Conservation (SAC), a statutory designated site and designated for its North Atlantic wet heaths, European dry heaths and peat bogs.

We believe that the Plan is unsound as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact seven proposed developments will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site (as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).

The seven proposed developments are less than five kilometres away from the TBH SPA and in some cases not much beyond the 400m exclusion zone, occupying an area between under 1km to just over 2km from the TBH SPA. It has been indicated that the cumulative effect of further residential development up to 5 km from protected heathlands will have a significant adverse effect on the heaths. The TBH SPA is an internationally important habitat for three rare species of bird - the Dartford warbler, woodlark and nightjar. The latter two are ground nesting and therefore particularly susceptible to disturbance from people and animals. In fact Natural England believes that recreational use of the heaths arising from housing developments up to five kilometres away from a SPA will create disturbance to rare bird populations.

A survey in 2008 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. A follow-up survey in 2012 found that there was a 10% increase in visitors to the SPA.

A survey of households carried out by a veterinary team at Bristol University in 2010 “Number and ownership profiles of cats and dogs in the UK” published in the Journal of The British Veterinary Association indicates 31% households own dogs and 26% households own cats. Dogs were more likely to be owned by rural households.

Applying this analysis for all new housing at the listed strategic housing sites in the draft Local Plan within the 400m-5km mitigation zone of TBHSPA (in total 7,000 new homes), the cumulative impact of dog ownership (up to an estimated 2,200 new dogs within 5 km of TBHSPA) with dog-walker incursions on the rare bird species habitat of the TBHSPA will be a devastating increase. No amount of SANG nor SAMM programmes will change human behaviour and the draft Local Plan evidence base contains no studies or data to prove otherwise, it contains only unproven assertions. Natural England can provide no survey evidence of the effectiveness of SANG or SAMM programmes in attracting dog-walkers and other visitors away from TBHSPA.

Site A46 is situated under 1000m from the TBH SPA and is surrounded by at least four SSSIs. The development will threaten this protected area and the LP fails to highlight the damage it will do. The impact of increased pollution, human disturbance and environmental damage has not been clearly researched. Just dog walking alone will contribute greatly to the threat of harm to the SPA and the provision of SANG land will not take away this as people would prefer to walk in the pretty natural green space rather than a manufactured area. GBC have not recognised that an increase of houses in this magnitude will bring at least 150 cats and 250 dogs (based on average ratio of animals to houses) to cause this problem.

6.5 P5 Thames Basin Heath SPA

FLAG objects very strongly to this policy. The protection of our habitats is of prime concern and this policy is weak and completely ineffective.

The objective of the policy is to prevent additional footfall on protected areas and particularly to prevent cats prowling from their home or an increase in dog walking. We believe this council is intent on paying lip service to the protection of our Thames Basin Heaths without determining whether any mitigation is effective.

Firstly, this is done by not allowing residential development within 400 metres of the Special Protected Area or SPA. However this Council believes that it can build a residential care home in this protected buffer – (in previous iterations of the plan there was a secondary school within 50 metres, completely ignoring students using to common to get to and from the school as well as using the SPA for recreation. We believe this was only rejected as Surrey County Council pointed out that access by foot and by road would be dangerous).

Secondly, between 400 metres and 5 kilometres the submission states:

In the zone of influence, beyond the exclusion zone and up to 5km (linear) from the SPA, a net increase in the number of residential units is likely to lead to increased recreational use of the SPA as visitor surveys produced by Natural England demonstrate that 70 per cent of visitors to the SPA come from within this distance. In order to ensure that new residential development will not lead to increased recreational pressure on the SPA, net new residential development must secure or provide Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG) and provide funding for Strategic Access Management and Monitoring (SAMM). Proposals for student accommodation may not need to provide mitigation and avoidance measures. This will be assessed on a case by case basis.

Note that the 2012 / 2013 visitor survey identified that 75% of visitors to Whitmoor Common travelled 2.8 kilometres or less. This is well below the 5 kilometres average used to define the zone of influence. Salt Box car park recorded the second highest number of visitors of all the survey counts and the highest number of dogs. A SANG must attract people away from the SPA to be effective. Either that or people who currently visit Whitmoor Common must be displaced and visit another site. The argument that people are going to travel longer distances to visit a SANG is clearly flawed. Additionally 30% of those surveyed said that nothing would persuade them to visit another site. If you also add 13% who said they would move for a larger open space and 12% if the other site was nearer home, it cannot be argued that a SANG sited that is smaller than Whitmoor Common and sited further away can be effective.

FLAG cannot agree that student accommodation should not provide any mitigation – are students not going to visit the common (jogging and cycling are common activities).

In terms of monitoring, there is absolutely nothing that measures the effectiveness of this policy. Reduced or static visitor numbers would be a minimum expectation. Measuring the amount that developers contribute towards a SANG is an example of paying lip service to protecting our environment.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the harm caused by over-development to the Special Protection Area, the Sites of Special Scientific Interest and the borough’s Conservation Area and heritage assets. There appears to be no notice taken of the NPPF which specifically does NOT call for the presumption in favour of sustainable development to be engaged where the Birds Directive is engaged. This covers a huge proportion of the borough.

Policy P5: Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area

I OBJECT. The policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the vicinity of the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The University accepts the purpose of this policy, which looks to ensure the long term protection of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA). The University provides further comments specifically in relation to the allocation at Blackwell Farm (Policy A26).

Paragraph 4.3.51

Of particular relevance to the University with regard to potential impacts on the integrity of the Thames Basin Heath SPA, paragraph 4.3.51 includes student accommodation within the definition of residential development.

The University does not dispute that student accommodation may have some impact on the SPA, but this impact is not in the least bit comparable to the impact of other types of residential accommodation, such as standard dwellings. For example:

- University policy precludes students from bringing cars onto any of its campuses and the University operates a robust parking management system that ensures that unauthorised parking is strictly controlled.
- The occupancy conditions of University accommodation preclude students from keeping any type of pets on campus. It is made very clear in University policy to all students with on-campus accommodation that pets are not permitted. In the unlikely event that a student did bring a pet into the accommodation the University would robustly enforce this restriction.
- The majority of students are likely to participate in recreational activities that are located either at the Manor Park or Stag Hill campuses, in Guildford town centre, or the immediate local area. This is partly because of reduced mobility arising from restrictions on car parking but also because the University has extensive outdoor sport and recreational facilities available on the Manor Park campus that are easily accessible to the existing and new student residences.
- All students benefit from the first class sporting facilities provided by the Surrey Sports Park, that include a range of outdoor playing fields. In addition, there are informal amenity spaces available across both campuses that provide other alternative recreational resources. Across Stag Hill and Manor Park campuses there are some 11 ha of informal open space, grassland and ponds and around 11.5 ha of sports pitches, within open space and accessible for students to walk around.
- Whilst the University accepts that theoretically some students could visit the SPA by a combination of cycle and/or public transport, in practical terms given the restrictions on student car use, the distance between the University and the SPA, and the easy access to alternative recreational resources on-campus (or in the immediate area) vicinity) the actual likelihood of students visiting the SPA in any significant numbers is considered to be very small.

The above therefore clearly shows that students and student accommodation are unlikely to impact on the SPA to the same or a similar extent as other types of residential accommodation. This is therefore a consideration that will need to be taken into account when considering any future planning applications for the development of student accommodation in Guildford, as has been the case in the University’s recent applications.

As part of the allocation at Blackwell Farm (Policy A26), the University proposes the delivery of bespoke SANG to mitigate the impacts of the development on the SPA.

Paragraph 4.3.54

With regard to potential impacts of development on the SPA, paragraph 4.3.54 explains that “Proposals for student accommodation may not need to provide mitigation and avoidance measures. This will be assessed on a case by case basis.”

The University is supportive of this text as it takes account of the points mentioned above and reflects the different impacts associated with student accommodation when compared with other residential development. This is the approach that has been taken in relation to the University’s recent applications for student accommodation.

POLICY P5 Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area

It is a serious mistake that GBC has not taken this constraint into account when arriving at its OAN housing figure.

CPRE has reservations as to how this policy is working but sees little prospect of any change being introduced as its wording does not really fall within local authority control. The principal difficulty is to do with the system of SANGs that has been developed and the way this is being implemented by GBC and other neighbouring districts. Many SPA sites are still being visited by dog walkers in large numbers even when SANGs are supplied, and if these are located near SPA boundaries, damage is quickly done to any ancient woodland and good agricultural land bordering the protection area such as at Blackwell Farm. We have viewed the income generated in Guildford for SANGs at Chantry Woods in the AONB and the Registered Common at Effingham. Greater transparency is required as to how this money is to be spent and where.

A key application is to be heard at Worplesdon on 20th July after a long delay as something of a test case at which a proposed SANG application will be consulted upon in the Planning Committee.

I OBJECT to this policy.

• This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.
  ∙ SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial; the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces.
  ∙ There is no actual increase in environmental protection; it is a policy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds - must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the special protection areas.

<td>Bullet points 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7 of the draft policy wording, and its supporting text, make reference to the provision of SANG and SAMM as ‘mitigation’ measures. However, in line with the strategic approach advocated within the Delivery Framework discussed above, such measures are actually intended to prevent any net increase in recreational pressure on the SPA altogether, rather than mitigate (reduce) potential effects, and therefore are better labelled as ‘impact avoidance’. All references to ‘mitigation measures’ in relation to this policy should therefore be removed and replaced by the term ‘impact avoidance measures’.</td>

Hence, proposals for new SANGs cannot and should not be ‘approved’ by Natural England. Rather, Natural England is a key consultee. The reference to Natural England ‘approving’ SANGs should be deleted from the draft policy and paragraph 4.3.60. Instead, the important role of Natural England should be noted in their capacity as a key statutory consultee.</td>

This change will ensure that the test applied through Policy P5 accords both with principles that underlie the endorsed JSPB Delivery Framework (2009) and Policy NRM6 of the South East Plan. In addition, the last bullet point of the draft policy is technically incorrect. GBC is the competent authority and decision maker. Hence, proposals for new SANGs cannot and should not be ‘approved’ by Natural England. Rather, Natural England is a key consultee. GBC’s own ‘TBH SPA Avoidance Strategy 2009-2016’ should be cited at paragraph 4.3.50, 4.3.64 and within the ‘Key Evidence’ section.

Reference to a SANG being “approved” by Natural England have been changed to “agreed” by Natural England.

The requested reference to the TBH SPA Avoidance Strategy has not been included in the policy or associated text. However, there have been general changes with the removal of paragraph 4.3.50 and its replacement with paragraphs 4.3.50a, 4.3.50b and 4.3.50c. Though on the basis of wider amendments to the GBLP, this concern is no longer paramount.

- The impact of 2100 houses on the environmentally sensitive TBHSPA cannot be mitigated. Damage will occur to the habitats of the protected and endangered rare species in contravention of the EU Birds Directives & Habitats Regulations.
- The siting of the proposed Suitable Alternative Natural Green Space adjacent to the SPA will only increase visitor numbers causing further damage to the protected area.
- Para 119 of the NPPF "presumption in favour of sustainable development" does not apply where development requires assessment under the Birds or Habitat Directives and this fact has been TOTALLY ignored by the Applicant.

OBJECT. The whole SANG concept is deeply flawed. There is a fundamental requirement in European law that developers and the Council must have convincing, objective evidence that developments have no adverse impact on the PA (Waddenzee judgment, case no: C-127-02). This does not appear to have been done for a number of sites. The SANGs put forward are mostly already in public use, further away from the planned developments, and irredeemably less attractive than the sandy heaths of Whitmoor Common.

Policy P5: Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Areas

I have sympathy with the sentiment of this policy, but OBJECT to its practical effect.

In the case of the recent Wisley Airfield Planning Application, the applicant proposed to use a SANG that lay between the development site and the SPA, which would therefore have drawn walkers and dogs towards the environmentally sensitive area of the SPA, thereby frustrating the whole purpose of providing the SANG. I am aware that Natural England is a statutory consultee, but this policy must be drafted so that the Council, and the Planning Committee in particular, is not left having to accept advice that is clearly wrong-headed. This Policy is our policy for the protection of our environment, and it should make it quite clear that the Council and residents wish to apply conditions that prevent the negation of safeguards that have been developed specifically for the purpose of environmental protection. I therefore propose that the TBHSPA Avoidance Strategy is reviewed, its provisions updated and strengthened, and that it is specifically called up in this policy so that the appropriate protection can be provided.

OBJECT (on 2 distinct grounds)

1. The proposed amendments to sentence 2, paragraph 1 of the Policy (“Where one or more adverse effects on the integrity of the SPA are likely will arise, measures to avoid and mitigate these effects must be delivered and secured in perpetuity.”) introduces a degree of certainty into the required test that cannot realistically be achieved. This will mean that it will be much easier for developers to evade their intended responsibilities to avoid and/or mitigate any effects of their proposed development(s) on the SPA. I therefore object to this proposed change.

2. The final sentence of the new text in paragraph 4.3.50c is unacceptable. A proposed development that provides or contributes to SANG/SAMM should not be exempt from the requirement to undergo Appropriate Assessment. By way of illustration, I understand that the applicant for the Wisley site originally proposed to use part of the site that fell within the “exclusion zone” as SANG. In order to protect the SPA from any chance of such approaches in the future it is essential that exemptions from Appropriate Assessment are not possible. I therefore object to this sentence of the proposed change.

We OBJECT to this policy. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small and negligible as to be meaningless. SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial; the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces. There is no actual increase in environmental protection; it is a policy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds - must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the special protection areas.

Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA; see Map 1, Appendix 1), is a statutory designated site and designated for its rare and vulnerable birds, specifically nightjar, Dartford warbler and woodlark under the EC Birds Directive. This site also forms part of the Thursley, Ash, Pirbright and Chobham Special Area of Conservation (SAC), a statutory designated site and designated for its North Atlantic wet heaths, European dry heaths and peat bogs.

We believe that the Plan is unsound as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact seven proposed developments will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site (as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).

The seven proposed developments are less than five kilometres away from the TBH SPA and in some cases not much beyond the 400m exclusion zone, occupying an area between under 1km to just over 2km from the TBH SPA. It has been indicated that the cumulative effect of further residential development up to 5 km from protected heathlands will have a significant adverse effect on the heaths. The TBH SPA is an internationally important habitat for three rare species of bird - the Dartford warbler, woodlark and nightjar. The latter two are ground nesting and therefore particularly susceptible to disturbance from people and animals. In fact Natural England believes that recreational use of the heaths arising from housing developments up to five kilometres away from a SPA will create disturbance to rare bird populations.

A survey in 2008 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. A follow-up survey in 2012 found that there was a 10% increase in visitors to the SPA.

A survey of households carried out by a veterinary team at Bristol University in 2010 “Number and ownership profiles of cats and dogs in the UK” published in the Journal of The British Veterinary Association indicates 31% households own dogs and 26% households own cats. Dogs were more likely to be owned by rural households.
Applying this analysis for all new housing at the listed strategic housing sites in the draft Local Plan within the 400m-5km mitigation zone of TBHSPA (in total 7,000 new homes), the cumulative impact of dog ownership (up to an estimated 2,200 new dogs within 5 km of TBHSPA) with dog-walker incursions on the rare bird species habitat of the TBHSPA will be a devastating increase. No amount of SANG nor SAMM programmes will change human behaviour and the draft Local Plan evidence base contains no studies or data to prove otherwise, it contains only unproven assertions. Natural England can provide no survey evidence of the effectiveness of SANG or SAMM programmes in attracting dog-walkers and other visitors away from TBHSPA.

I object to POLICY P5 - Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

- Compensation mechanism too feeble to provide protection.
- Cynical encouragement of SANG to justify nearby development in protected areas. Does not extend protection or amount of green space, and can damage them (e.g. dog and cat attacks on wildlife).

1.1 I object to policy P5 “Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas” on the grounds that;

1.2 This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

1.3 SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

| I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation. | | |

Policy P5 Thames Basin Heaths SPA

I object to Policy P5 Thames Basin Heaths SPA

I believe that the Plan is unsound as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact seven proposed major housing developments within 5 km will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site (as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 [as amended]).

Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area is a statutory site designated for its rare and vulnerable birds, specifically nightjar, Dartford warbler and woodlark under the EU Birds Directive.

This site also forms part of the Thursley, Ash, Pirbright and Chobham Special Area of Conservation (SAC), a statutory site designated for its North Atlantic wet heaths, European dry heaths and peat bogs.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not additional; the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG will use existing Grade 2 and 3a agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces. There is no actual increase in environmental protection; it is a policy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG, in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds, must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the special protection areas.

A Natural England survey in 2005 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. A follow-up survey in 2012 found that there was a 10% increase in visitors to the SPA since 2005. Habitats Regulation Assessment [HRA]

I object to the HRA and its Appendixes A, B and C I object to the omission of 2012/13 Natural England survey of visitor numbers to the TBHSPA report from the HRA. The HRA fails to list the 2012 Natural England Survey of Visitors to the TBHSPA as material evidence (Natural England Commissioned Report NECR136 Results of the 2012/13 visitor survey on the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), First Published 13 February 2014;

Natural England Project Manager - Patrick McKernan, Natural England, Guildbourne House, Chatsworth Road, Worthing, West Sussex, BN11 1LD
The 2012 NE visitor survey reports a 10% increase in visitor numbers. This is neither considered nor critically appraised as a contribution to the analysis of success or failure of the TBHSPA Avoidance Strategy 2009-2014 and the implications for Policy P2, P5, E8 and E9. The HRA fails to assess whether SANG and SAMM current policies and programmes are effective, either independently or in combination, in attracting visitors, cross-country cyclists and dog-walkers away from TBHSPA. On enquiry, Natural England admitted they have no such survey evidence for TBHSPA SANG or SAMM programmes.

The HRA fails to assess in detail, with associated numerical calculations and a described methodology that can be independently verified, the cumulative potential impact on disturbance and predation rates within TBHSPA by the introduction of domestic pets (dogs and cats) from new dwellings; the introduction of over 8,000 dwellings within the 400m-5km mitigation zone will give rise to over 19,000 human inhabitants (ONS 2.4 people per household).

A survey of households carried out by a veterinary team at Bristol University in 2010 “Number and ownership profiles of cats and dogs in the UK” published in the Journal of The British Veterinary Association (Veterinary Record 2010;166:163-168 doi:10.1136/vr.b4712 Authors: J. K. Murray, BScEcon, MSc, PhD1, W. J. Browne, BSc, MSc, PhD1, M. A. Roberts, BVM&S, MRCVS2, A. Whitmarsh1 and T. J. Gruffydd-Jones, BVetMed, PhD, MRCVS1) indicates 31% households own dogs and 26% households own cats. Dogs were more likely to be owned by rural households.

Applying this analysis for all new housing at the listed strategic housing sites in the draft Local Plan within the 400m-5km mitigation zone of TBHSPA (in total 8,000+ new homes), the cumulative impact of dog ownership (up to an estimated 2,500 new dogs and 2,000 new cats within 5 km of TBHSPA) with associated dog-walker incursions on the rare bird species habitat of the TBHSPA will be a devastating increase.

I OBJECT to POLICY P5(Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas) This policy does not increase environmental protection. It is simply designed to allow building on otherwise protected areas.
The SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial as the sites identified or targeted are already green space. It is using existing agricultural or wooded land as recreation land to justify building on other green spaces nearby! It is nonsensical and obvious that it is a ploy to ‘get round’ the protections already in place.

The policy should give clear statements of the current protections which SPAs are afforded by the EC Birds and Habitats Directives. This site is also part of the Special Area of Conservation (SAC) (Thursley, Ash Pirbright and Chobham) - a statutory designated site.

SANG should in part protect the nesting of rare species of birds on the SPA by ensuring it doesn't use land adjacent to the SPA areas.

The plan is unsound where the Habitats Regulations Assessment on behalf of Guildford Borough Council (GBC) has failed to study the impact of the 7 proposed developments being less than 5km away from the SPA. Analysis from surveys of visitors to the SPA areas has shown an increase in numbers from within 5km of the SPA. In addition analysis reveals that the effect of dog and cat ownership would indicate a harmful effect on the TBH SPA through the development of houses and other buildings also within 5km of the area not just a 400m distance away.

Therefore it would be reasonable to conclude that the SANG should also not be appropriate within that 5km distance from the SPAs thus giving proper protection from visitors and animals.

Proposals for a bespoke SANG straddling the administrative boundary between Guildford and Waverley Borough Councils have been submitted within the planning application for residential development in line with Policy A46 to the east of The Street, Tongham. This is a bespoke SANG which is intended to provide for the mitigation requirements of residential development to the south of Tongham (Policy A46). However it also provides additional mitigation capacity for further residential development within a 5km catchment area and is well placed to provide mitigation for the rest of the Policy A29 strategic development area.

The SANG proposal does not appear in the Guildford Infrastructure Delivery Plan as either a strategic SANG or bespoke SANG. Rather, SANG provision is set out in the Infrastructure Delivery Plan with Policy A29 development being allocated solely to the Russell Place Farm SANG whose 5km catchment in any event does not cover the whole of the A29 strategic development area. Recognition should be given to the Tongham Road SANG which will provide the appropriate SPA mitigation and which, following the submission of further details as to the delivery plan, is now expected to receive the support of Natural England. This SANG will also provide additional capacity and flexibility to deliver the necessary mitigation to other sites within the strategic development area as well as those coming forward in Waverley Borough. Its inclusion in the Plan will enhance resilience of the Plan by ensuring much needed residential development is not delayed through non-delivery of either the Russell Place or Ash Lodge Drive SANGS.

PROPOSED SUITABLE ALTERNATIVE NATURAL GREENSPACE (‘SANG8’) - LAND ADJACENT TO LONG REACH, WEST HORSLEY

On behalf of our client, Green Reach Limited the owner of the land subject of these representations, please accept and register these formal representations to the Borough Council’s Proposed Submission Local Plan (Regulation 19) in regard to the promotion of 24.73 hectares of land adjacent Long Reach, West Horsley to deliver Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (‘SANG’).

In this particular regard these representations confirm our support for the following Proposed Submission policies:

- Proposed Submission Policy P5: Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Areas
- Proposed Submission Policy I1: Infrastructure and Delivery

Additionally, these representations confirm our support the following identified site in Section 3 (Green Infrastructure) contained in the Borough Council’s Infrastructure Schedule:

- SANG 8 Long Reach Farm, West Horsley

However, we wish to propose a minor modification to the proposed site description of SANG 8 as follows:

‘SANG 8 Land Adjacent Long Reach, West Horsley’.

Reasoned Justification: The proposed SANG 8 as described in the Infrastructure Schedule is incorrect as there is no such address as Long Reach Farm. The 24.73 hectare site comprises former agricultural land located to immediately to the west (adjacent to) Long Reach in West Horsley. The land owner is Green Reach Limited. Therefore, an appropriate site description for inclusion within the Infrastructure Schedule is ‘SANG 8 Land Adjacent Long Reach, West Horsley’.

Background

Green Reach Limited fully supports the Submission Local Plan in regard to the provision of a new strategic SANG to the east of the borough at Long Reach, West Horsley. This is an area of the borough that suffers from a significant shortfall of strategic SANG. That shortfall detrimentally impacts on the Borough Council’s ability to encourage people away from the protected Thames Basin Heaths SPA and it has a significant detrimental impact on the Council’s spatial development strategy.
The provision of SANG forms an important part of a mitigation strategy formulated by the Borough Council as part of the adopted Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (‘SPA’) Avoidance Strategy (2009-2016) which is overseen and implemented in partnership with Natural England in its role as an advisor to Government and as a statutory consultee.

The SPA is an area of Lowland Heath covering over 8,000 hectares of land across Surrey, Berkshire and Hampshire. The SPA was designated under the European Birds Directive in March 2005 because it supports important breeding populations of ground nesting birds that are particularly vulnerable to disturbance activities associated with people and domestic pets. To protect ground nesting birds the SPAs are afforded significant protection from new residential development so that the ecological integrity of SPAs are maintained. Accordingly, there is a significant requirement for areas affected by SPA to provide sufficient SANG in the SPA ‘zone of influence’ (400 metres to 5km catchment measured from the boundary of the SPA) to provide accessible areas for walking and outdoor recreation so that existing and future residents have a suitable alternative to using the highly vulnerable SPA for their recreation needs.

The urgent requirement for SANG has understandably resulted in the Borough Council identifying the need for new SANG land as part of the Infrastructure Schedule which accompanies the Proposed Submission Local Plan.

The Proposed Submission Local Plan identifies the need for, and objectives of, additional SANG land as part of Proposed Submission Policy P5: Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Areas and Proposed Submission Policy I1: Infrastructure and Delivery. We fully support the aims and objectives of these proposed submission policies which are fully consistent with the Government’s National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) and with Policy NRM6 of the South East Plan (which remains applicable at the regional level).

Specifically, in regard to national planning policy; section 11 of the NPPF is dedicated to the need to conserve and enhance the natural environment and in particular the need to minimise impacts on biodiversity and providing net gains in biodiversity wherever possible. Section 11 encourages local planning authorities to, ‘...set out a strategic approach in their Local Plans, planning positively for the creation, protection, enhancement and management of networks of biodiversity and green infrastructure’. In this regard, we consider that Proposed Submission Policy SP5 and Policy I1, and proposed SANG 8 are fully in accordance with the NPPF.

Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace – SANG 8 Long Reach, West Horsley

SANG’s themselves need to be rural in character and appearance, they should be interesting in their own right, comprise a minimum of 8 hectares in size incorporating at minimum 2.3 kilometre walk, and maintained and managed in perpetuity, and to deliver works that will improve SANG’s overall quality. This enhances the SANG’s capacity for recreation, makes it more attractive to users, and increases residents choice of sites to visit, thereby providing a range of sites of comparable interest and quality and removing visitor pressure on the fragile habitat of the SPA. At 24.73 hectares in size with potential for a car park and, the proposed Long Reach SANG will be able to accommodate an appropriate circular walk and would have a mitigation catchment area of 5 kilometres meaning that it would represent a strategic SANG in a geographic part of the borough that is short of available SANG land.

The site itself comprises 24.73 hectares of former agricultural land. The proposed site is not within a conservation area and there are no listed buildings or structures on the site. Furthermore, the site is not within the designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (‘AONB’) and is not identified as being important in terms of any ecological designation. The site is located within the Green Belt, however, the primary function of SANG land is for informal recreation purposes drawing people away from the SPA and therefore the function and use of SANG will maintain the open characteristics of Green Belt in accordance with national planning policy.

A raft of baseline studies have been undertaken to assess the likely impacts of delivering a strategic SANG in this location, including; transport assessment, planning assessment, flooding and flood risk, ecological (stage 1) assessment, and landscape and visual impact assessment. All of these assessments demonstrate that the proposed SANG 8 can be delivered without causing detriment and indeed the benefits to the landscape, ecological value of the site and to the conservation objectives arising from the need to protect the Thames Basin Heaths SPA are considerable.

Proposed SANG 8 Land Adjacent Long Reach, West Horsley
A further benefit of proposed SANG 8 is that such provision would enable the potential impacts of permitted housing within the appropriate catchment to be properly mitigated and delivered in areas of the borough that would not otherwise be able to accommodate new housing. To be clear, SANG does not make unacceptable housing proposals acceptable. Its primary function is to act as mitigation against the potential harmful impacts of residents who might otherwise travel to the SPA for their outdoor recreation needs. Additionally, once designated and laid-out SANG land is maintained and improved in perpetuity meaning that it cannot be developed for alternative uses. Longer term maintenance and management of SANG will also ensure that SANG land deliver enhanced habitats for flora and fauna leading to ecological enrichment of landscapes.

The owners of proposed SANG 8 have already engaged with a variety of local and national stakeholders to discuss matters of broad principle including compliance with the Thames Basin Heaths SPA Avoidance Strategy. In particular, the owners have engaged with Natural England as part of its Discretionary Advice Service and has secured (without prejudice) advice on the principles of delivering a strategic SANG in this location. Natural England has confirmed that, subject to detailed considerations, it has no objection in principle to SANG 8 at Long Reach, West Horsley which is proposed in the Infrastructure Schedule.

Conclusion

The proposed Long Reach SANG (‘SANG 8’) as identified in the Borough Council’s Infrastructure Schedule and as supported by Proposed Submission Policy SP5 and Policy I1 is fully in accordance with the objectives of the Government’s National Planning Policy Framework, it will support the aims and objectives of policy NMR6 in the South East Plan, and it will support and uphold the Borough Council’s commitment towards the preservation and mitigation of the Thames Basin Heaths SPA as set out in the Council’s adopted Avoidance Strategy (2009-2016).

In all these respects the delivery of a strategic SANG site in this part of the borough, where there is a significant shortfall of appropriate SANG, is fully in accordance with the strategic policy objectives of the Borough Council.

We trust therefore that the Borough Council will continue to support the proposed SANG 8 as part of its Infrastructure Schedule with the minor modification to the proposed description of the SANG as set out in these representations.

In light of all of the above, I would be very grateful if you would confirm that these representations in support of Proposed Submission Policy P5: Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Areas and Proposed Submission Policy I1: Infrastructure and Delivery, and support (with minor modification) for the proposed SANG 8: Long Reach, West Horsley are ‘duly made’.

POLICY P5: Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

I Object. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG- in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds - must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

I object to this policy as it stands since I believe it needs significant strengthening to ensure the appropriate level of protection for the Thames Basin Special Protection Area. It is important to ensure that measures required of developers will make a real difference in that the new residents will really use the designated alternatives. This means that the density of housing must be limited, truly significant green spaces must be an inherent part of larger developments, and alternative provision for smaller developments must be close by with easy access for new residents. I object to the principle that developers may simply make a payment to Guildford Borough Council against a list of SANG sites which the new residents will not actually use as an alternative to the TBSPA. It is a cop out for developers, albeit a potential money making scheme for GBC, and will not achieve the protection ostensibly sought. Please also see my comments on Policy I1 re an addition to Appendix C. I walk for 1 to 2.5 hours almost every day, half the time towards the slopes of the Hogs Back and half the time on the Ranges (TBSPA). If site A26 goes ahead and the mitigation I suggest does not take place, I will undoubtedly walk on the Ranges even more often, and other walkers and riders would respond similarly.

P5

Thames Basin Heaths SPA:

I object to a car park on Effingham Common. Its proposed location in the middle of the common is in an area where Skylarks nest, and Skylarks are on the red list in the UK. A car park situated on the Common is completely impractical, it would be full of commuters’ cars from morning to night as it is so close to Effingham Junction station.

| I object to Policy P5 Thames Basin Heaths SPA

I believe that the Plan is unsound as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact seven proposed developments will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site (as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).

Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area is a statutory designated site and designated for its rare and vulnerable birds, specifically nightjar, Dartford warbler and woodlark under the EC Birds Directive. This site also forms part of the Thursley, Ash, Pirbright and Chobham Special Area of Conservation (SAC), a statutory designated site and designated for its North Atlantic wet heaths, European dry heaths and peat bogs.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not additional; the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces. There is no actual increase in environmental protection; it is a policy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG, in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds, must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the special protection areas.

The seven proposed developments are less than five kilometres away from the TBH SPA and in some cases not much beyond the 400m exclusion zone, occupying an area between under 1km to just over 2km from the TBH SPA. It has been indicated that the cumulative effect of further residential development up to 5 km from protected heathlands will have a significant adverse effect on the heaths.

A survey in 2005 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. A follow-up survey in 2012 found that there was a 10% increase in visitors to the SPA.

I OBJECT. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless. SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Green space) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

POLICY P5 - Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas - I OBJECT.

This policy is weak. The compensation offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless. SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. Thames Basin Heath SPA/SSSI/SNCI : The impact of 2,068 houses on the environmentally sensitive TBHSPA cannot be mitigated. Damage will occur to the habitats of the protected and endangered rare species (including skylarks, nightjars and many others on the RSPB red list) in contravention of the EU Birds Directives and Habitats Regulations

• The siting of the proposed Suitable Alternative Natural Green Space (SANG) adjacent to the SPA will only increase visitor numbers causing further damage
• Part of the SANG is in a designated flood plain
• Para 119 of the NPPF “presumption in favour of sustainable development” does not apply where development requires assessment under the Birds or Habitat Directives
• It is impossible to state without doubt that the mitigation proposed will prevent damage to the SPA particularly in the light of inadequate traffic/air quality reports.
• There are likely to be over 700 dogs and 700 cats living on the proposed development. These will be a constant threat to ground nesting birds on the SPA and cannot be mitigated by one warden working a normal working day.

I object to not protecting the wildlife within the range of the Local Plan and the cumulative impacts on wildlife populations in the Thames Basin Heaths and the UK as a whole P5

“The [Wisley] PMDA is located within a Site of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCI) as stated above. A designated Special Protection Area (SPA), Important Bird Area, Local Nature Reserve and Registered Common Land is also located to the north of the disused airfield within Ockham Common. The 400 metre buffer of the SPA includes land to the north of the PMDA generally to the north of the disused runway. Residential development would not be appropriate within the 400 metre SPA buffer, however, it may be suitable for other uses.”

“A designated Conservation Area is located at Ockham village to the south of the PMDA.”

It should not be forgotten that Green Belt and “buffers” are also wildlife corridors – birds and wildlife on Ockham Common - and throughout nature reserves and other important bird and wildlife sites across the country and Europe and worldwide – they move! Some species are resident but move between various locations, others are migratory species who need to link up breeding and feeding sites using wildlife corridors and stop over sites. If these areas are destroyed then the ability for our native and migratory species will be irreparably damaged and the species will die out. Development close to such internationally important wildlife and nature sites such as those found locally in Surrey and the North Downs can have a devastating and widespread effect way outside of the direct construction zone and developed site.

A Special Protection Area (or SPA) is a site designated under the Birds Directive. These sites, together with Special Areas of Conservation (or SACs), are called Natura sites and they are internationally important for threatened habitats and species. SPAs are areas of the most important habitat for rare (listed on Annex I to the Directive) and migratory birds within the European Union.

Wisley Airfield is located within a local plan Site of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCI). The Guildford Borough Sites of Nature Conservation Importance Surveys (2004 –2007) describes this SNCI as a “disused airfield with derelict tarmac runway, arable fields, semi-improved grassland and hedgerows. This site is selected for its importance for reptiles, plants and birds.

9 notable Surrey plant species have been recorded on the site.

In addition 3 RSPB red list bird species and 7 RSPB amber list bird species have been recorded on the site.

The site has an exceptional or good population of a number of reptiles and amphibians.”

*IUCN Red List has just been updated for 2016 – there are now more species to be considered that were noted above.

What measures will the Council going to take, should development of Green Belt go ahead, to translocate/compensate for the loss to humans and wildlife? Are they going to give financial compensation to village residents and businesses for loss of value to their homes due to insetting and loss of revenue during the disruption of the building phases. Will they compensated for the increase in respiratory, cardiovascular and other pollution related diseases that they and their children and pets will suffer?

Is there a more up to date wildlife survey by the Council? – latest report by Surrey Wildlife seems to be 2004-2007

About 80 percent of butterfly species are confined to narrow home ranges that can be as little as an acre, and they’re unlikely to migrate across even a half-mile of inhospitable ground to find another suitable habitat. So a neighbourhood of meticulously maintained lawns, or a single highway, can be fatal for a species. Some butterfly species also have complex relationships with local ant species. These kind of complicated relationships are easily jeopardized by change. Pollution, drainage schemes, and climate change are among the other landscape-scale factors threatening butterflies.

Policy P5 – Natural England are broadly very supportive of this Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA) policy. The only element missing from this policy is reference to how the financial contributions will be secured by Guildford Borough Council. Would the Community Infrastructure Levy be used? We feel it is referencing this matter either within Policy P5 supporting text, or within the HRA which accompanies this document.

POLICY P5: THAMES BASIN HEATHS SPECIAL PROTECTION AREAS
Our Client considers that in assessing the requirement for mitigation within five and seven kilometres of the SPA the threshold of 50 net new dwellings is too low and would place a further unreasonable restriction on development.

The supporting text states that 80% of visitors come from within seven kilometres of the SPA, however, this does not quantify the proportion from the outer reaches of the zone of influence (5-7 kilometres).

This consideration is more relevant to the larger strategic sites and it is suggested that a threshold of 100 or 150 units should be imposed. Furthermore, the uncertainty presented by the case by case assessment will curtail the delivery of sites and could stifle housing delivery.

The RSPB welcomes the addition of the references to “avoidance” within Policy P5. We consider that the Policy is sound. 4.3.50a – The RSPB welcomes the new text proposed here.

4.3.51 and 4.3.54: The RSPB notes that these paragraphs contain some uncertainty about whether student accommodation is required to provide SANG and SAMM. This uncertainty appears to be down to the last two sentences of paragraph 5.3.54. We recommend revising that the text is amended to read “The need for student accommodation and other permanent accommodation, and other types of permanent accommodation not listed in paragraph 4.3.51, to provide SANG will be assessed on a case by case basis: it will be the responsibility of the scheme promoter to provide information through a Habitats Regulations Assessment that demonstrates that SANG are not required for that particular development because its residents will not cause a net increase in recreational pressure upon the SPA.”

POLICY P5 - Thames Basin Heaths SPA

3.26 Policy P5 requires all sites of over 50 net new dwellings to provide avoidance and mitigation measures for the SPA. The importance of the SPA and mitigation is understood and respected by GVG. However the imposition of mitigation measures on individual town centres presents a viability constraint which favours use of green belt sites rather than brownfield.

3.27 There is already a good proportion of open space within the town centre (in a borough with 89% of the land designated as green belt). More would come forward if a deliverable masterplan is approved. This can be then counted towards provision of SANG land with no requirement to provide contributions to other land outside of the town centre.
3.28 Within Guildford much of the urban area is under provided for open space on a pro-rated basis, it is the surrounding common areas that give Guildford its character and, if preserved, these should be sufficient to provide sustainable alternative natural green space for any and all development in the town centre without requiring further SANG. The increased riverside park proposed by GVG (and the Allies and Morrison plans) would add to the provision of accessible green space for residents and visitors to the town centre.

3.29 It is therefore suggested that the requirement for town centre sites, developed as part of a comprehensive plan, to contribute to SANGs land is removed from the Local Plan to increase the viability of these sites to develop sufficient affordable housing units, and to help meet the additional infrastructure burden.

3.30 The Evidence Base includes a viability assessment dating from 2014 which is considered to be historic in plan making terms and should be updated. The Infrastructure Delivery Plan has gone from 'the developer will contribute' to 'funded by the developer' Affordable housing viability comes after SANG, CIL s106 and so forth. There is absolutely no indication in the Local Plan that a single affordable housing unit would be built on this basis.

5.32 This policy sets out the Council’s approach in relation to the protection of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA). The policy has recently introduced some further new text which indicates that where new developments are proposed in the zone of influence (between 400m and 5km linear distance), avoidance and mitigation measures must be delivered prior to occupation of new dwellings. In this context the Council needs to clarify in the text, as Waverley Borough Council have, that the term ‘avoidance’ relates to the provision or contribution towards Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG) sites.

Whilst Vortal Properties support that residential developments over 50 dwellings can provide or contribute to appropriate SANG and SAMM measures, and will not be required to undergo Appropriate Assessment, it is deemed definition 4.3.50c is too restrictive on smaller scale developments.

The threshold of ‘over 50 net new residential units’ should be increased to ‘over 100 net new residential units’ so as not to constrain the ability for smaller allocations to come forward.

The removal of C2 development from the zone of influence is recognised in line with other Borough Council Local Plans
