West Horsley is very much a village in its own right, separate and distinct from East Horsley by virtue of its history and its semi-rural nature, points amongst others which were made by West Horsley Parish Council in its application to Guildford Borough Council to be a Designated Neighbourhood Area in 2014, and which was accepted.

My concerns are now compounded by the prospect of a substantial number of new homes being sited in the village, but I also very much feel that the Local Plan should now be taken as an opportunity to improve this situation, with particular emphasis on community needs, spatial connections and infrastructure.

TOPIC PAPERS AND STUDIES

I generally support the changes in the application of Green Belt policies in West Horsley, as set out in the Topic Paper Green Belt and the Countryside, provided that the policy of sustainable development is pursued to its full measure.

Paragraph 4.120 of the Topic Paper Housing Delivery refers to West Horsley (north) as a large village, but it has not been accorded Rural Service Centre status - it is suggested that it instead relies on East Horsley which has been accorded this status. Whilst this is indeed presently the case, it is to be lamented for reasons discussed elsewhere in this consultation response. The application of a sustainable development policy which treats West Horsley as its own entity would lessen the reliance of West Horsley residents on the facilities of East Horsley, and thus the burden on the latter's infrastructure and facilities.

Of particular relevance and importance in the consideration of the development of West Horsley is paragraph 4.117 of the Topic Paper Housing Delivery. To quote verbatim:

Development around villages ucan be a sustainable option so long as careful consideration is given to the choice of location, where it can enhance or maintain the vitality of rural communities ... it is important that we consider smaller sites, such as those around villages, which are able to deliver in the early years to ensure that whilst much of our supply is backloaded, we are nevertheless making a concerted effort to boost the sustainable supply of housing in the early years.

Allied with this objective must be that it is "a sustainable option", but sustainable it will not be in the apparently present absence of wider considerations of local community needs and infrastructural links.

HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF WEST HORSLEY

The 2014 application by WHPC sets out the historical background of the village, which has a traceable history back to 1036AD, and which boasts still remaining buildings going back to the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries. The illustration on the cover page is actually a 19th century map, before the construction of the railway line (which effectively split the village into a north half and a south half), and the following illustration is that same map with the then spine of the village - Silkmore Lane, The Street, and Ripley Lane - highlighted upon it:

With the arrival of the railway line came the development of the separate village of East Horsley, also the schism between the north and south sections of West Horsley, as illustrated below:

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
WEST HORSLEY VILLAGE STRUCTURE

Although a single community, the now two settlement halves of West Horsley are separated on the ground by the presence of the railway line. Its impact on the ground is minimal, it is set within cuttings and largely shielded from view by woodland and trees as broadly illustrated by the satellite view shown below, but its role in the townscape has previously been greatly overstated - assessment from a map necessarily gives a two-dimensional viewpoint, but it does not form a significant boundary.

The railway line is only perceived to divide the village, and it is this perception that has resulted in the previous definition of the village boundary from a 20 perspective. Given that there are a number of existing houses north of the railway line between Ripley Lane and Silkmore Lane, as well as the substantial facility afforded by Horsley & Send Cricket Club, a more appropriate village boundary here might be the HSCC access road.

West Horsley is generally well served by sports and recreation facilities, including Horsley & Send Cricket Club off Ripley Lane and Horsley Football Club off Long Reach, and there is a hard court tennis court beside HFC which is available for public use now free of charge. All these facilities serve both junior and adult levels, although there is little recreational facility for senior citizens who might, for example, benefit from the provision of such as a crown green bowling club.

There is presently no safe pedestrian link between the two halves of the village, and no dedicated cycle route at all. In townscape terms, there is poor village definition without a clear boundary. With its proposed status as an ‘inset’ village within the Green Belt, there is now a great opportunity to provide new definition, also new facilities, with Silkmore Lane resuming its historic role as a spine of the village, and potentially adding an east/west pedestrian and cycle link along the north side of the railway, linking north and south.

Re-establishing this link could give a basis for new and sustainable development. The area between the two halves of the village could be used to create a central place with facilities for both areas. The existing location of HSCC could be appended with new community facilities, even retail uses to replace those being lost elsewhere in the village.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Pedestrian movement is presently restricted by the lack of footpaths, that which do exist do not provide a satisfactory network within and between residential areas, see the illustration below. Consequently, there is poor access to local facilities, most trips demanding the use of a car. Pedestrian routes should be safe and within a pleasant environment.

Public transport is somewhat limited, there is a main service along the A246 at the southern end of the village, but an hourly bus service (438) which passes through West Horsley presently runs only on a Monday-Friday basis. Horsley railway station allows good accessibility to London Waterloo and Guildford, but is situated some 2 miles away from the outskirts of West Horsley village.

Bicycles are generally restricted to main roads, with no dedicated cycle routes in the village. This is somewhat paradoxical in light of West Horsley being part of the 2012 Olympics road race route towards Box Hill, which has as such brought a surge of visitors and interest in cycling to the area, plus the Prudential road race now passes through on an annual basis. It also flies in the face of an otherwise national initiative to encourage cycling as a valid alternative means of transport. As an example, pupils are encouraged by The Raleigh School to cycle there and back but this noble endeavour is frustrated by not being properly or safely facilitated by the local infrastructure. It would be also highly desirable to provide dedicated cycle routes from the residential areas to the railway station for commuter use.

SUMMARY

In conclusion, I do broadly support the objectives of the draft Local Plan, but only subject to parallel consideration and implementation of a sustainable development policy running alongside the proposed housing developments in West Horsley, and specifically in address of the following critical factors:

- Approved developments must be sustainable, and which improve the economic, social and environmental conditions in the village.
- Community needs, facilities, and infrastructural links must be accommodated, with a view to self-sufficiency of the village insofar as is feasible.
- There must be a comprehensive spatial development strategy.
- Approved developments must contain a high ratio of affordable housing. Pedestrian and cycle links across and between the two halves of the village, which are fundamental to a healthy and enjoyable lifestyle.
• The preservation and restoration of the history and heritage of the village, and ideally the re-creation of the historic village centre.

Site A37 - Bell & Colvill

The only presently allocated site in the southern half of the village, there is a pedestrian walkway down The Street heading north into the heart of the village, but no dedicated cycle routes. The existing network of footpaths, etc immediately north of the site and east of The Street offer a good facility down to the railway bridge at the southern end of East Lane, thence there is a well-used public way across to East Horsley and the railway station. The northern half of West Horsley is not nearly so well served.

This site is located in the north half of the village, linking with Long Reach to the west and East Lane to the south - however, Long Reach presently has no pedestrian walkway, and neither road has a dedicated cycle way.

Site A39 - Ockham Road North:

Although strictly being in East Horsley, this site is also on the north side of the railway line, and is directly adjacent Horsley station. Areas of West Horsley would greatly benefit from a foot/cycle path running alongside this site on the northern side of the railway line to afford easy and safe commuter access to Horsley station.

Site A40 - Waterloo Farm:

At the northern periphery of the village, this site has a northern link to Green Lane which could feasibly be improved to afford a safe and pleasing route for walkers and cyclists down to Long Reach and Ripley Lane beyond. The southern boundary backs onto Nightingale Crescent and Northcote Crescent but with no way through towards Horsley station, whereby the only feasible direct route is along the busy Ockham Road North, having a pavement on one side but again with no dedicated cycle way.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Site A41 - Lollesworth Farm:

It is now understood that The Raleigh School have elected to relocate onto this site, which will consequently be unable to accommodate the projected housing provision, but which may free up the existing Northcote Crescent site for some limited housing development.

Nevertheless, it would now seem pressing that alternative housing site(s) be found.

This site benefits from close proximity to Lollesworth Lane on the north side of the railway line, a well-trodden pedestrian walkway with its bridge over the railway line, thence down to East Horsley and the railway station. It is, in my view, of critical strategic and infrastructural importance that as much of the northern side of the railway line passing through the village as is possible is utilised as a pedestrian/cycle route, with Lollesworth Lane (opposite the junction of East Lane and Long Reach) acting as a fulcrum point between the north and south parts of West Horsley.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
D1 - Making better places:

The development of sites within West Horsley containing 25+ new homes to be inclusive of a mix of uses, to promote a sense of community and to provide facilities and services is a policy I will wholly support.

Similarly I will support the creation of meeting places, play and recreation areas, and public spaces, complimentary to acceptable housing developments in West Horsley.

I do not presently see that the objective of facilitating and promoting walking, with short walking distances to and from facilities, is sufficiently addressed in the plans for West Horsley. Again, the following sections in this consultation response attempt to potentially address these issues with some positive suggestions.

Ease of access, promotion of a healthy lifestyle, and safety for pedestrians and cyclists are laudable objectives. I do not, however, see them sufficiently addressed in the plans for West Horsley, and there follow some suggestions to potentially address these issues.

There is, in my view, a critical need for a study of West Horsley as a village to go hand in hand with individual site developments. The injection of investment into the village should enable positive improvements to be effected to the wider environment, to be achieved through Section 106 agreements. Such improvements are likely to make otherwise potentially controversial developments more acceptable to local people.

D3 - Historic environment and heritage:

West Horsley benefits from a wealth of history and heritage as I discuss in the following sections of this consultation response. That there is a proposed policy to recognise this has my wholehearted support, but the proposed development of West Horsley should specifically take the opportunity to reclaim and embrace its past.

D4 - Development in inset villages:

I generally support this policy on a sustainable development basis as before discussed, and in particular the designation of West Horsley as an inset village.

However, the special character of West Horsley, with its north and south settlements either side of the railway line, needs to be looked at carefully to make the most of this opportunity.

H2 - Affordable homes:

With both a young adult son and ageing friends and relatives, I absolutely support this policy from both ends of the spectrum - to see a minimum of 40% affordable homes being provided as part of a substantial housing development, and 70% of those being made available for rent, would I feel very much serve the need for local youngsters to stay in West Horsley and for the older generation to downsize and stay in the village.

I3 - Sustainable transport for new developments:

I support this policy, but see little evidence of its application in the case of West Horsley. I believe it to be fundamental and crucial, particularly in a semi-rural setting such as West Horsley, that there is infrastructural provision made for walking and cycling, which is very much the national drive towards a healthier and safer lifestyle in this the 21st century.

P2 - Green Belt, limited infilling:

Again I support this policy in the interests of West Horsley, there are to my certain knowledge a selection of suitable sites available in and around the present village settlement boundaries which are not presently allocated for potential housing, but which would meet this criteria.

These additional sites would also be available to provide affordable homes, and/or on a rural exception basis, and to potentially provide community facilities as I have put forward later in this consultation response.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

S1- Presumption in favour of sustainable development:

I very much support the principle of a sustainable development policy generally, and in West Horsley specifically, which would assist in addressing my concerns for this village in particular as stated above. Key to this is "to secure development that improves the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area".

My present perception, however, is that the allocation of some 5 key sites for a substantial quantity of new housing within the village, without the attendant proposals for such as community needs, facilities and infrastructure to serve what will be a substantially increased population, would thus over-burden those facilities which do remain and place yet more reliance on the neighbouring village of East Horsley.

There is undoubtedly, in my view, a critical need to look at West Horsley as an inset village as being a place In design and townscape terms, bearing in mind the developments proposed.

The following sections in this consultation response attempt to potentially address these issues with some positive suggestions.

Concern about the location off the main road. There was a fatal car accident very close to this proposed site and another car ran off the road. There is already 2 traveller sites further up the road less than half a mile away. At this existing site - the roadside oak trees were destroyed a dangerous access onto the road created and permanent homes. This is green belt and woodland. Trees were destroyed, a dangerous access road built, permanent housing erected and infrastructure put in, at a great deal of inconvenience to traffic (large tail backs for weeks when infrastructure was being installed).

All without planning permission. Land again is being cleared on the corner and mounds of earth there currently, which are not in keeping with the area. By officially allocating this site - you are making a statement that it is acceptable to do what you wish with the land and there is no consequence. Given the increase in allocation for travellers being proposed [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered contrary to the Council’s duty under the Equalities Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation against persons with a protected characteristic; and to foster good relations between persons with a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it]

There should be equal opportunities for all - this is positive discrimination. This is not legal to not conform with laws and restrictions. This would not be permitted for any other group.

This is not co-operation.

I do not think this plan is sound as the volume of increase in housing is not adequately supported by the current road network.

Additional junction on the A3 will help congestion through Guildford, but the volume of traffic already causes significant congestion on the A3, hogs back and A323.

2.39 The Government has adopted a clear stance of moving away from locally set standards in respect of renewable energy for housing schemes, with such matters instead addressed through the Building Regulations. As such we are concerned that the policy is unsound in that it is not consistent with national policy. In addition we have concerns regarding the practicality of implementing certain of the detailed criteria currently proposed as discussed below.

Sustainable Development

2.40 Criterion 1b requires the sustainability statement to set out how the development will deliver “the lowest level of carbon emissions (direct and embodied).” Similarly, criterion 1c requires “the highest levels of energy and water efficiency.” As currently it is considered that the proposed policy wording is ineffective.

2.41 No clarity is provided as to what constitutes the lowest or highest levels. For instance, should a new form of emerging technology be able to deliver a lower level of carbon emissions but this is not currently widely available this would seemingly fail the currently proposed policy test. Similarly if there is a form of technology available but this would be prohibitively expensive and would render the development unviable, this would again fail the proposed policy test. Further clarity and flexibility must therefore be introduced to the proposed policy wording.

Renewable, low carbon and decentralised energy

2.42 The policy requires all new developments to “connect to (C)CHP distribution networks where they exist, or incorporate the necessary infrastructure for connection to future networks, unless it can be clearly demonstrated that doing so is not feasible or that utilising a different energy supply would be more sustainable.”

2.43 Clearly (C)CHP is unlikely to be delivered in all locations. The proposed policy wording does provide some flexibility in respect of demonstrating if it is feasible, however this test needs to be applied to the site itself and the wider context. Whilst it may be feasible for the development to provide the necessary infrastructure for connection to future networks, if it can be robustly demonstrated that the location in general is not feasible for a future network to be delivered then this should equally apply. The proposed policy text should be updated to clarify this approach.

Carbon reduction

2.44 The policy also seeks to require new buildings to achieve a reduction in carbon emissions of at least 20%. If the principle of this requirement is accepted, we continue to have concerns regarding the potential implications for the viability of developments. Whilst the implications of the proposed increase to 20% have been assessed in the Assessment of the Viability of Carbon Emission Targets for New Builds (April 2017) prepared by Evora Edge, this has not been considered in combination with the other proposed revised policy requirements through an updated viability assessment. The current requirement is therefore considered to be unsound in that it is neither justified nor effective.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( No ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Accessible Homes

2.22 The revised policy wording seeks to include the following requirement:
“On residential development sites of 25 homes or more 10% of new homes will be required to meet Building Regulations M4 (2) category 2 standard ‘accessible and adaptable dwellings’ and 5% of new homes will be required to meet Building Regulations M4 (3)(b) category 3 wheelchair user accessible dwellings standard or any subsequent legislation on making homes accessible and adaptable.”

2.23 The NPPG makes clear that it is for LPAs to demonstrate the need for these requirements. It is considered that insufficient evidence has been provided by the Council to justify these requirements. The only justification provided by the Council relates to generic comments from the SHMA and Addendum SHMA regarding the ageing population in the Borough. Based on the currently available evidence it is considered the requirement is unsound.

2.24 Furthermore, whilst the supporting text at paragraph 4.2.10 indicates that there will be a degree of flexibility as to how the requirements are applied, this is not reflected in the policy wording. Whilst the principle of the flexibility is supported, concern is also raised regarding the proposed wording which currently states that the requirement will only be relaxed “where substantial evidence is provided to justify an exception.” Clearly this requirement is inappropriate and is not the correct test to be applied. Flexibility should be allowed where proportionate evidence is provided which clearly justifies an exception. This justification could relate to viability grounds as well as whether a need for the provision to be made on the site can be identified or not.

Self-build and custom housebuilding

2.25 The Policy seeks to require the provision of plots for self-build and custom housebuilding by introducing the following requirement:
“Self-build and custom housebuilding will be supported if the proposed development has no adverse effect on the local character. On development sites of 100 homes or more 5% of the total homes shall be available for sale as self-build and custom housebuilding plots whilst there is an identified need. For phased development, self-build plots must be delivered and serviced at the earliest stage possible. Self-build and custom housebuilding plots are encouraged on smaller residential development sites.”

2.26 As currently drafted it is unclear whether the requirement to have no adverse effect on the local character relates to the self/custom build element itself or the wider proposals. In any event it is considered that this wording is inappropriate as it seeks to apply a definitive test which does not allow for application of the planning balance. Whilst proposals should seek to have no adverse effect on the local character any harm should be weighed against the benefits of the proposals. Furthermore given the nature of self/custom build, the potential effects on the local character will not be able to be assessed definitively at the point of determination of an application for the wider development site. As currently drafted, concern is raised that the necessary lack of certainty of the effects of these plots may prevent the approval of applications for the wider site if this policy wording is to be rigidly applied.

2.27 The PPG makes clear that the Local Planning Authority must assess the local demand for self-build housing. The PPG advises:
“Plan makers should, therefore, consider surveying local residents, possibly as part of any wider surveys, to assess local housing need for this type of housing, and compile a local list or register of people who want to build their own homes” (ID 2a-020-20140306).

2.28 Whilst the Council’s website provides details of how to apply to be on the register, including details of a recent consultation on revised eligibility criteria, there are no details as to the number of people currently on this register. As such it considered that there is insufficient information to justify the requirement currently proposed.

2.29 Furthermore, whilst we agree that custom and self-build may be appropriate for some schemes, we do not consider that large strategic sites are an appropriate location and are unlikely to be taken up. The policy wording does specify that plots are only required to be made available and marketed for a period of 18 months, before, we assume as this is not explicitly stated in the policy wording, reverting to the developer. It is however considered that this will delay the delivery of the scheme, create uncertainties in the build programme for developers and potentially add additional costs as a result of abortive work.
2.30 Whether or not the percentage requirement of custom/self-build housing is amended, should the be Council be minded to retain a requirement for all housing developments of 100 or more dwellings, we consider that the words “subject to viability” should be added to the policy to provide suitable flexibility. It is considered that the requirement for delivery of self and custom build plots at an early stage will add to the potential viability implications given the early delivery of units is generally required in order to fund necessary supporting infrastructure works. Furthermore, as raised above, if these plots do then revert to the developer due to lack of interest, this would likely lead to additional costs due to changes to the build programme etc.

2.31 It is noted that the supporting text to the policy states that: “Higher density residential sites for flatted developments are unsuitable for self-build and custom housebuilding plots; they are therefore exempt from the requirement to provide plots.”

2.32 The wording of the supporting text is not reflected in the Policy wording itself as currently drafted. Furthermore there is no clarity on the Council’s definition of higher density and how this would be applied to developments which contain a mix of houses and flats.

2.33 As currently drafted this requirement is considered to be unsound in that it is not justified, effective or consistent with national policy.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2.34 The Policy seeks sites of 5 or more homes, or 0.17ha or more, to provide at least 40% affordable housing. There is a significant need for affordable housing in the Borough and this is supported by the Council’s evidence base. A Local Plan and CIL Viability Study (October 2016) has been prepared by Peter Brett Associates on behalf of the Council. The Study concludes that: “Based on the assessment of the policy requirements within the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) review, it is considered that the current Plan would not unduly burden the delivery of residential and non-residential development in Guildford borough.”

2.35 No updated assessment has been undertaken to support the current Local Plan consultation and the revised policy requirements. This is considered to be a significant flaw particularly in light of the proposed additional requirements in respect of accessible homes and custom and self-build housing. An updated Study should be commissioned to ensure the proposed policy is justified and effective in light of the revisions proposed to the Local Plan under the current consultation.

2.36 In addition, it is considered that flexibility should be introduced to the proposed policy wording to allow for site specific circumstances where the proposals may be rendered unviable by the level of affordable housing sought. This is particularly likely to be the case where there are non-standard infrastructure requirements to support the development or potential contamination on site. The policy wording should therefore be updated to require provision of at least 40% affordable housing, subject to viability. It is noted that such a mechanism is advocated in paragraph 4.2.40 of the supporting text but not reflected in the policy wording itself.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Housing Requirement

2.1 The current consultation version of the Local Plan proposes a new plan period of 2015 to 2034 and a reduced housing requirement of 12,426 (654 dwellings per annum). This represents a reduction of 1,434 dwellings compared to the previous consultation version of the Local Plan.

2.2 The West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment was published in September 2015 and covered the authorities of Guildford, Waverley and Woking. This identified an annual requirement of 693 dwellings in Guildford, with 519 and 517 dwellings per annum for Waverley and Woking respectively. Clearly therefore the Council’s now proposed housing requirement falls short of the OAN for the Borough as established in the 2015 SHMA.

2.3 The Council have subsequently commissioned an Addendum Report to the SHMA (March 2017) in relation to Guildford Borough in isolation. The Addendum Report identifies an OAN for the Borough of 654 dwellings per annum and it is on the basis of this figure that the Local Plan has been prepared.

2.4 It is notable that West Oxfordshire District Council has recently sought to take a similar approach in its Local Plan Examination. The District Council independently prepared an update to the Oxfordshire SHMA on its OAN in isolation and sought to proceed on the basis of the reduced figure contained therein. This approach was not accepted by the Inspector as being sound and resulted in a lengthy suspension to the Examination to allow the Council sufficient time to undertake the necessary work to address meeting the higher OAN figure advocated in the County wide SHMA. Although the Examination has now resumed, this has resulted in over a twelve month delay in the process.

2.5 As such, given the recent experience of West Oxfordshire, it is considered that the Council’s current approach represents a significant risk to the soundness of the Plan.

2.6 The 2017 addendum to the SHMA indicates that due to changing economic circumstances the Borough’s housing need should be reduced from 693 dpa to 654 dpa. Whilst economic factors are an important consideration it is important that these are considered at a wider scale than an individual local authority level, as had been done under the previous SHMA but is not the case in the recent addendum. In addition it is noted that the demographic baseline and affordability issues suggest an increase in OAN. As such it is considered the 2017 addendum to the SHMA is an inappropriate basis on which to Plan.

2.7 At this stage, given the Council is failing to meet its own full OAN as calculated in the 2015 SHMA, the Council is also making no provision to meet the unmet needs of any adjoining authorities. In particular Woking’s Core Strategy (2012) sets out its housing requirement as 292 dpa, some 225 dpa below the OAN as established in the 2015 West Surrey SHMA.

2.8 Notably this issue has been specifically considered by the Inspector at the recent Waverley Local Plan EIP hearing sessions. During these hearings, the Inspector clearly indicated that he considered it appropriate for Waverley and Guildford to accommodate the unmet need from Woking. From our involvement in the Waverley Local Plan sessions it is expected that Waverley will be required to accommodate at least 50% of the unmet need from Woking, which amounts to 83dpa. Whilst recognising that the Guildford Local Plan would be examined separately and it would be for that Inspector to draw their own conclusions, the Inspector considering the Waverley Local Plan suggested that Guildford adopt a similar approach to take account of Woking’s unmet housing need. We would endorse the Inspector’s comments and recommend Guildford increase their housing requirement to include a proportion of Woking’s unmet needs.

2.9 If the reduced OAN for Guildford itself can be justified through the SHMA addendum (although as discussed we have concerns regarding the soundness of this approach) then consideration should have been given in any event to the ability of the Borough to meet the unmet needs of adjoining authorities, in particular Woking, before the Council decided to reduce its housing target. It is apparent that this approach has not been followed.

2.10 The importance of the duty to cooperate has been further reemphasised by the recent St Albans City and District Council decision ([2017] EWHC 1751 (Admin)). In reaching his judgment, the Judge highlighted that: “Further, I accept the Secretary of State’s submission that once there is disagreement, I would add even fundamental disagreement, that is not an end of the duty to cooperate, especially in an area such as housing markets and housing need which involve as much art as science, and in which no two experts seem to agree. … the duty to cooperate is active, and on-going, and that to my mind means active and on-going even when discussions seem to have hit the buffers.”

2.11 Paragraph 4.1.9a of the Local Plan states: “The figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426 homes. This is lower than the total supply of homes identified in the Land Availability Assessment as having potential to be delivered over the plan period. This buffer builds flexibility into the plan and demonstrates that our strategy is capable of delivering the target.”

2.12 Clearly therefore there is no justification to restrict the housing requirement on the basis of housing supply. As such it is considered the Plan should make provision for its full OAN and explore its ability to accommodate the needs of adjoining authorities. Additional allocations should be made to meet this requirement. At the current time the plan is considered to be unsound in that it is not justified, effective, positively prepared or consistent with national policy.

The phasing of development as set out in the Annual Housing Target table

2.13 We note from the Annual Housing Target table contained within Policy S2 of the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan that the housing requirement is to vary annually from 450 dwellings per annum upon adoption, rising to 850 homes per annum at the end of the Plan period. Paragraph 4.1.9a of the Proposed Submission Local Plan seeks to justify this approach on the basis of the likely rate of delivery, particularly on the strategic greenfield sites. In addition paragraph 4.1.9b of the Proposed Submission Local Plan explains that this “phased approach is necessary in order to ensure that the Council is able to demonstrate a rolling five-year supply of housing from the date of adoption, as required by national policy.” Notwithstanding our specific concerns about this table (set out below), the Council’s approach to phasing raises a number of concerns.

2.14 The effect of the Council’s approach in this regard results in a situation where there is likely to be a shortfall in delivery of 204 dwellings per annum in the period from 2019 when compared to the objectively assessed need highlighted in the SHMA. This will lead to a situation whereby those in need of housing, in particular affordable housing, may not be able to access accommodation in the Borough until later in the Plan period. In such circumstance a proportion of the population may therefore be forced to find accommodation elsewhere and this approach could result in a situation which undermines aspirations for job and economic growth within the Borough as a result of a lack of available workforce for example. We are also concerned that the Council’s phased approach seeks higher delivery rates later in the plan period. Given that the emerging Local Plan is predicated on a number of large sites, there is a significant risk that if these do not come forward at the rate envisaged then there will be less time available to remedy any shortfalls.

2.15 The Housing Topic Paper (which accompanies the emerging Local Plan) acknowledges that housing delivery is a major issue for the Borough. However, paragraph 47 of the NPPF requires Local Planning Authorities to ‘boost significantly the supply of housing’ and the National Planning Practice Guidance states that they must ‘deal with undersupply within the first five years of the plan period where possible’. Guildford Borough Council has deemed this to not be possible within the Borough. The Council identifies that there will be an overall unmet need of 3,150 homes in the period (2013/2014 – 2-236/2027). Far from dealing with an undersupply in the first five years of the Plan period, the Council’s approach seeks to delay the delivery of a significant proportion of the housing requirement. Consequentially this raises concerns over whether any accrued shortfalls can be resolved.

2.16 If the Council considers that housing delivery is a major issue within the Borough, then a greater range, scale and type of sites should be identified in order to aid delivery rates.

2.17 Furthermore the paper identifies housing delivery within the first five years of the emerging Local Plan period as another major issue. The paper states that a significant shortfall in sustainable sites remains, when taking account of the deficit accrued since 2015 and the 20% buffer; the buffer applied as a result of the persistent under delivery of housing in line with Paragraph 47 of the NPPF. The Council states that this will be resolved in the later periods of the Local Plan, in line with expected infrastructure delivery and through the development of strategic sites.

2.18 The Land Availability Assessment June 2017 Addendum details the Council’s most up to date housing land supply position. The five year housing land supply position for 2016/2017 (which covers the monitoring period 1st April to 31st March 2018) is said to be 2.36 years based on the Council’s evidence, demonstrating a significant and severe deficit in housing supply. We consider that this position demonstrates the clear need to ensure that all available opportunities to identify sites to help meet the housing requirements in the Borough (including unmet needs arising within the wider Housing Market Area if necessary) are considered. The approach (explained in the previous paragraph) which arbitrarily restricts the availability of sites is fundamentally flawed.

2.19 Paragraph 4.1.9a of the Proposed Submission Local Plan states that the figures in the Annual Housing Target table (contained in Policy S2) “sum to a total of 12,426 dwellings.” We calculate that the figures sum to a total of 9,810 dwellings. It appears as though if the figure of 12,426 is achieved then the period covered by the Annual Housing Target table should be expanded to cover the four years from 2015/16 to 2019/20. It is not clear why that part of the Plan period has been excluded from the table.

2.20 We note that paragraph 4.1.9a of the Proposed Submission Local Plan states: “This [the figure of 12,426] is lower than the total supply of homes identified in the Land Availability Assessment as having potential to be delivered over the plan period. This buffer builds flexibility into the plan and demonstrates that our strategy is capable of delivering the target.”

2.21 We consider that the Proposed Submission Local Plan does not include this flexibility despite the claim at paragraph 4.1.9a.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
3.1 These representations should be read in the context of the opportunities for the site to be delivered as a comprehensive development in association with the former allocation at ‘land adjoining Fairlands’. The site itself has not been identified at any previous stage of the Local Plan process, although it is located directly to the south of the former safeguarded allocation at Fairlands which was considered within the Regulation 18 Local Plan consulted on in July 2014.

3.2 Our client’s landholding ‘Land at Dunmore Farm’ comprises 31.69 hectares of land as submitted in previous representations to the Local Plan. The site currently comprises farmland and paddocks with a limited number of existing buildings in the south eastern corner around Dunmore Farm. The site wraps around the former safeguarded allocation to the south-west, south and south-east of Wood Street village. The field parcels themselves are relatively clear internally with trees and hedgerows indicating the majority of the boundaries.

3.3 The site was considered as part of parcel H8 which extended northwards between Wood Street village and Fairlands within the Green Belt. Whilst the site was considered to be of high sensitivity, Volume II of the Green Belt and Countryside Study discusses that there are ‘opportunities to accommodate appropriate development without significantly compromising the purposes of the Green Belt’. It is clear from the assessment that the main purposes of the Green Belt within this location are to:
- Check southwards sprawl of Fairlands and northward sprawl of Wood Street Village;
- Prevent Fairlands and Wood Street village from merging;
- Assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment; and
- Preserves the setting of Wood Street conservation area.

3.4 In this regard, given development opportunities clearly exist to the west and south of Fairlands and were supported through a previous iteration of the Local Plan, the opportunity to create a more comprehensive extension incorporating the site to the north of Wood Street village would assist in delivering a significant quantum of homes, incorporating an appropriate and extensive landscape buffer between the two villages to ensure a defensible and permanent boundary to both villages.

3.5 The creation of a new permanent open area of land between the two settlements could deliver far greater benefits as public access could be provided along with the potential for outdoor sport and recreation which would permanently benefit the residents of both villages and the wider Borough. As such, this would ensure that the requirements of paragraph 81 are met, ensuring that the Green Belt is open and permanent and provides a beneficial use whilst also meeting the five purposes of the Green Belt as stated at paragraph 80 of the NPPF.

3.6 Alternatively, GBC should consider the opportunities to deliver smaller scale development at sustainable settlements such as Wood Street village, in locations where the impact on the function of the Green Belt would be minimised and opportunities to incorporate functional and accessible Green Belt land could be explored.

3.7 As such, GBC should consider further the relationship of Fairlands with Wood Street village to realise the large scale opportunities for mixed use development within this area whilst reinforcing the quality and usefulness of the Green Belt between the two settlements. The delivery of new development could facilitate securing the permanence and openness of the Green Belt between the settlements and to ensure its use is enhanced and is beneficial to the local community as set out at paragraph 81 of the NPPF.

3.8 Throughout the plan process to date, our client has supported the inclusion of the Fairlands allocation within the plan, although wishes to further emphasise the wider opportunities for the area if the site were to be considered alongside Fairlands for allocation within the Local Plan.
- A comprehensive development that would provide not only market but affordable housing to meet the needs of the Borough and any unmet requirements from Woking Borough;
- Deliver a comprehensive masterplan that could incorporate a defensible landscape buffer which would ensure the permanent separation of the villages of Fairlands and Wood Street village by creating new defined edges to the settlements. This would reinforce the findings of the Green Belt Study 2013;
- Direct new development in a sustainable location in line with the settlement hierarchy and enhancement local facilities and public services;
- Provide new development in locations where growth will be required to support the continued economic growth of Guildford as a town centre;
- The potential to incorporate appropriate Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace to offset the proximity of the site to Thames Basin Heath SPA.

Conclusion
4.1 These representations have been prepared by Turley on behalf of Markfield Investments Ltd in respect of the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2017). The consultation is targeted to the proposed changes to the Plan since the 2016 consultation and the revised evidence base documents.

4.2 Our client has important land interests in the Local Plan area, in particular at Dunmore Farm, Guildford. As such this response focuses on issues which particularly affect the site.

4.3 Each of our responses relates to a particular policy or paragraph and this report is structured accordingly. In summary our submissions are:

- Policy S2 – The Council should endeavour to meet its full OAN and seek to assist in meeting the needs of adjoining authorities, in particular Woking Borough Council, where possible.
- Further allocations should be made to provide flexibility in the delivery of the Plan and to meet the required increased housing requirement.
- Policy H1 – Insufficient evidence has been provided to justify the Council’s proposed requirement in respect of accessible homes.
- Concern is raised as to whether the requirements for self-build and custom housebuilding are justified and effective.
- Policy H2 – The proposed affordable housing requirement is not underpinned by a robust and up to date viability assessment and as such is considered to be unjustified.
- Policy P5 – Whilst we have no specific comments on the policy wording itself, we would highlight the importance of ensuring sufficient land is allocated for SANG to enable the delivery of the Plan.
- Policy D2 – Further clarity is required to ensure the proposed policy wording is effective. Flexibility should also be introduced into the proposed policy wording.
- Dunmore Farm – we consider the site presents an opportunity for an additional allocation to help assist in meeting the Borough’s housing needs and the unmet needs of Woking Borough. The site would be capable of delivering an associated SANG which could provide capacity for other proposed developments in the Borough.

I’d like my comments below to be taken into consideration for the GBC local plan:

Site A35 / Wisley Airfield

1. I object to this proposal. I objected to this site in 2014 and my views are unchanged. This is a significant development which is not appropriate for the area. It is a greenbelt site and should be kept as such. I find the plan to build 2000 houses is unacceptable and completely at odds with surrounding land use.

2. In addition such a huge volume of housing will add to the already significant access issues to the M25 / J10 and A3. It would also create unacceptable traffic congestion / “rat runs” on the surrounding minor roads.

3. I am very concerned about how local services from education to healthcare could cope with such a large additional population in the area. I question whether this has been properly taken into account and incorporated into the GBC plan.

Site A43 / Garlick’s Arch

1. I object to this proposal. In isolation I would welcome the provision of a 4 way access to the A3 at Burnt Common as part of this development. However I feel very uncomfortable about the plan for this development alongside sites A35 & A25. This would create a band of housing development totalling 4400 properties in a ribbon running from M25 / J10 to Guildford on land that is greenbelt.

2. I am particularly worried about the traffic management around the Burnt Common area. This is already a busy junction with the Portsmouth Road and with potentially additional traffic from Woking, Clandon as well as those travelling north & south on the A3. I fear this would become a major bottleneck.

Please will you take my comments into consideration.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I continue to object to this development. I have detailed my objections previously to cover;

- loss of local amenity to surrounding villages and visitors - green spaces, space to breathe
- loss of semi-rural character to surrounding villages and the county - countryside, undeveloped locations
- saturation of local transport services (roads, trains, buses) for the current population by new residents - the roads are insufficient (size, layout, character) to deal with the increased volume of traffic which will be produced; there are no footpaths adjacent to majority of the roadways to encourage walking / cycling; train carparks are already full
- saturation of existing services (clubs, shopping, education, health) for current population by new residents - health services are over-subscribed, schools are full, clubs maintain waiting lists; shops are large enough for the current populations but not for new developments - more people means larger shops, means more traffic, means more urbanisation
- permitting the development will mean the precedent will be introduced which will reduce ability to object to future development in the locality, encouraging and permitting infill development between and around the existing villages (Ockham, Ripley, Horsleys, Effingham, Wisley)

I do not support the increased development of the Green Belt, as it exists in and around Surrey, to this level in proposed in the Plan documents. Specifically but not only, I object to the following areas of development (generally and not specifically);

- Ockham / Wisley Airfield - I object to the imposition of a new village development of this scale and the corroborating assumptions. This is based on a number of factors, including but not restricted to transport, amenity, retail, schooling, environmental, density, local roads, impact on current services and villages. The local roads are insufficient to cope with increased residential and delivery traffic
  - the assumption that the population will travel by bike hire scheme to use the local trains is laughable
  - the impact on demand for local services and clubs deleterious to current provision (current residents are on waiting lists - what happens when 4-5000 more people land...?)
  - this will be the start of the in-fill of the land between all the villages (Ockham, Horsleys, Effingham) with a loss of amenity, environment, local character and the increase in pollution, waste, traffic, nuisance, inconvenience, urbanisation and irretrievable loss of Green Belt

- Development in The Horsleys - I object to the significant number and increased provision of sites for medium / large scale housing projects in an around The Horsleys. There is insufficient capacity to absorb new developments in the area and it should not be acceptable for mass housing to be imposed in an area where public opinion is against it. The Horsleys are not a large metropolitan area, they do not have the services of a town or Cranleigh-size village and nor do they want them; by continuing to encourage concentration and development in and around these villages, the Council is agglomerating Effingham, The Horsleys, Bookham. Fetcham, Ockham into an homogenous residential area attached to Leatherhead, destroying the character of the Green Belt and passing the point of no return, by which time any control or restrictions on development are futile and the area becomes a suburban ribbon from London and Leatherhead / Guildford

I am opposed to the Local Plan.

[Garlicks Arch] It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity?

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements of which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to (to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

14. I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Claridon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.
The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary everyday during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Crandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually everyday and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked everyday.

Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "inspiration" in the local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/all ramps at Burnt Common

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

8. I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick's Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

5. I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

a National Trust property and a South West Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently bypass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

13. I OBJECT Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparator boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

1. POLICY H3-Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix" this can include "market" housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances."

9. I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure.

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

10. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all. Despite the Garlick's Archsite (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents' in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A351, Garlick's Arch(A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

12. I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

3. I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Sendand Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance' and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as GreenBell. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (BB). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Archsite. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

4. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding

National Planning Policy states that local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.
The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's floodmap as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2, having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am well aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (policy 51) The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy. The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M2S, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.
The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport option scan be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border)(A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon)(A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I am writing to protest regarding the proposed local plan which will affect West Clandon. I live on The Street (A.247) and this road is already full to capacity. If this proposed plan goes through we will have grid-lock as the A.247 cannot take any more traffic. The road is very narrow in places which necessitates trucks having to mount the pavement to pass each other. There is a school close by, which means a major accident is very likely, especially when parents are attempting to accompany their children to school. The infrastructure needs to be put in place before such a plan can be instigated.

You are proposing to build 2,100 houses at Garlick Arch and Gosden Hill as well as a further 2,000 at Wisley etc., etc. Each of those properties will have at least two cars, possibly more and therefore, the roads will become impassable. The A.3. is already at a standstill on a daily basis but is expected to take on even more traffic. You are proposing to build an Industrial site on the Burnt Common areas – this will mean yet more heavy duty vehicles using both the A.3. as well as the A.247.

I fully appreciate more homes are required but these need to be built on brown field sites and to be affordable to the younger generation and not Executive type homes. This is an area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and needs to be maintained as well as the Green Belt which appears to be slowly eroded by such plans. Infrastructure needs to be a priority before any of these proposed plans can be instigated and I implore you to give this priority consideration.

- POLICY A22: Land north of Keens Lane, Guildford

  I do not support the size of the site at the land north of Keens Lane, Guildford for the western end of this site heavily encroaches on the existing properties in Keens, Tangle and Gravetts Lane. I would support this site if it was reduced in size to address my concern.

  I have concerns with the amount of traffic that will be created on Keens, Tangle and Gravetts Lane as a result of this site. All of those roads are very small and not designed for the increase that would result. The site would be better served by a single access road from the A322 Worplesdon Road and would support this site if this was the case.

  - I am grateful to see the removal of the sites at Liddington Hall and Fairlands as I did not support them in the previous local plan for numerous reasons.

Other than the points I have highlighted I have no objection and support of rest of the local plan.

Dear Sirs,

I object to the inclusion of land off Keens Lane, Worplesdon (Site A22) in the GBC Draft Local Plan for the proposed development of 140 homes and a care home and believe this is inappropriate for three main reasons:

1. The area is Green Belt, which should be retained and not built on. I am appending at the end of this email* the agreed Policy of Surrey County Council for your reference and urge that the green belt be protected by Guildford Borough Council.

2. Keens Lane is a narrow road (the word "lane" is a clue) and building more homes there would entail the widening of the road, but this does not account for the fact that at the far end, near to Gravetts Lane/Tangley Lane, is constricted and the area is already congested,

3. The proposed development site is close to Whitmoor Common and a Site of Special Scientific Interest, and would have a damaging effect on ecology and wildlife. It is also bounded by Broadstreet Common. The open nature of Worplesdon should be retained.

* It is Surrey County Council policy (March 2013) by a Motion agreed at a Full Council meeting of Surrey County Council about the Green Belt:

Surrey County Council, March 2013

RESOLVED (unanimously):

Council notes:

1. Surrey County Council has a proud history as the creator of the Green Belt. The County’s Countryside Estate founded by the Surrey County Council Act of 1931 was the basis of the London County Council’s Green Belt Act of 1938.

1. The Coalition Agreement states:

   ‘We will maintain the Green Belt, Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs) and other environmental protections, and create a new designation – similar to SSSIs – to protect green areas of particular importance to local communities.’

Council believes:

Surrey’s Green Belt, Countryside Estate, SSSIs and other green spaces are vital, not only for the county’s environment but also for maintaining a “green lung” around London.

Council resolves:

1. To use its power to protect Surrey’s Green Belt.
2. To support the National Planning Policy Framework (section 9 – paragraphs 79 to 92) and the Government’s policy of protecting the Green Belt.
3. To make Surrey’s MPs and the County’s Districts and Boroughs aware of this resolution.
4. That any Green Belt development in the County is in line with the needs and wishes of Surrey residents

Response to GBC Draft Local Plan Consultation - June 2016

GBC Draft Borough Plan re Normandy - Site Allocation 46 and Site 47

SECONDARY SCHOOL AT NORMANDY (SITE 46-47 GBC DRAFT PLAN)

The proposed site of Normandy/Flexford for a new Secondary School should be rejected as the need for such a school in that location has not been proven.

In its last submission to GBC (July 2014) Surrey County Council, in its official response, said: "A site within the proposed urban extension at Blackwell Farm, with all necessary access infrastructure built in and a catchment surrounding the site, would be a more sustainable location in transport terms for a new secondary school to serve the western side of Guildford." Why has GBC not heeded this advice?

I have highlighted below that every neighbouring secondary school is currently undersubscribed, Kings Manor in particular with 57% of its school places currently unoccupied. The birth rate which rose in 2011 and 2012 has reduced for the last two years, so building new schools now seems very foolhardy.

The addition of forms of entry to current schools will be a much more cost effective and sustainable in the long term if there is a reduction in need – an empty classroom is cost neutral in terms of annual budgets, but an empty or only part subscribed school is unsustainable, having spent £millions on creating it would be a huge waste of money

Adding forms of entry to several existing schools will see the costs absorbed after the initial capital cost needed to create a few extra rooms – but they still only require one headteacher, one set of staff etc. The Head Teacher and Chairman of Governors at Ash Manor School have offered to co-operate with a programme to expand that school, as had the Principal at Kings College - although now undersubscribed significantly, if it needs expansion in the future there is space and a willingness to do so.

If GBC wishes to proceed with this proposal, SCC Education Officers need to demonstrate a clear, and undisputed need for such a school at this location, given the current under-subscription of all the neighbouring local secondary schools surrounding Normandy.

It should also set out how such a school will be financed. If not, the site should be rejected.

Undersubscribed Secondary Schools
Kings College, Guildford. The school is currently 57% undersubscribed. The capacity at the school is 900 pupils, and there are only 389 on the school roll (43% utilised) with 511 vacancies. Kate Carriett, Principal at Kings College has said very clearly and I quote: "There is absolutely no need for another school in Guildford, its crystal clear". She also said that when Kings College IS fully subscribed, there is capacity on that site to further expand the school, to accommodate more pupils well into the 2020's if then needed.

The New Guildford University Technical College

This is due to open in 2018, and will take 240 pupils from the age of 14 in its first year, and that will double to 480 places, relieving pressure on other schools.

Christ's College is already taking 30 more pupils a year than its admission number, because it has the space and capacity to do so, and is willing to take more still as it has further capacity

Ash Manor, Ash

The capacity of the school is 1,050 and it has 940 pupils, so is undersubscribed by 110 places. When I met the Head Teacher and Chairman of Governors they told me that if needed they are supportive of the school being expanded to take more pupils by 30 places a year (so a total of an extra 150). They also expressed very strong concerns about a new school in Normandy, just three miles from their front door, and the possible negative effects on Ash Manor.

Connaught School

This is near Ash, just over the County Boundary in Hampshire - but is also undersubscribed by 90 places and available to Surrey children.

Hoe Valley Free School, Woking.

This brand new Secondary school only opened last September. It has an intake of 120 per year, with currently 95 pupils, so is undersubscribed in its first year by 25. But it will build up with 120 new places available every year for 7 years - making a total capacity of 840. It has no catchment area, and although will mainly serve Woking, will welcome applications fromGuildford parents.

So there are currently 736 vacancies at the nearest secondary schools serving the western parishes - not accounting for the 480 extra at the new Technical College to open in 2018 - a combined capacity of 1,216. And In addition to those SCC has already approved expansions at the County School, Guildford and St Peters.

The birthrate in Guildford has fallen over the past two years. And whilst its too early to know if that trend will continue, it is another factor to urge caution, and not to proceed at this time.

The case for a new secondary school in Normandy is therefore not proven. If there is such a need elsewhere in Guildford Borough, I don't believe it is needed in the location proposed at Normandy.

TRANSPORT AND ROADS

In terms of transport, site 46 is located well beyond the existing confines of any urban area restricting the potential for sustainable travel. The existence of Wanborough Railway Station is only of a marginal benefit.

The area is bounded by the D60 (Glaziers Lane); the C16 (Wanborough Hill and Westwood Lane) and the A323 (Guildford/Aldershot Road).

I cannot envisage any so called "highways improvements" that could be undertaken, particularly on the C16 or D60 that would enable those roads to cope with the increased traffic from 1,100 homes and a Secondary School.

The A323 is already a busy major route, and scope for "improvements" to this road are also limited.
Although I suggest that in any case Highways should consider installing a passing lane, Guildford bound at the junction with Frog Grove Lane, Wood Street Village, to ease the congestion caused by commuter traffic turning right and causing considerable tailbacks. But that is a current, existing problem.

There would be access issues relating to visibility and safety for pedestrians and cyclists, which could be difficult to resolve given that the roads are fundamentally rural roads, and the existing structures of the Westwood Lane Railway bridge and the Glaziers Lane railway Road bridge. The restricted headroom of the Westwood Lane bridge would also prohibit double decker buses from accessing the proposed school.

Rushmore Borough Council - Aldershot development

Local Authorities have a duty to co-operate in making their local plans and I do not believe this has happened. In 2013 the development of 3,850 dwellings (population of approx. 9,000) in Aldershot was approved by Rushmoor Borough Council and is situated about 4 miles from Normandy. The development, over a 15 year period, includes two primary schools, and the provision of a SANG and many other provisions.

The first of these new houses, part of the first phase of 228 dwellings, are now on sale. The land belonged to the Ministry of Defence's former Aldershot Garrison known as Wellesley, Aldershot Urban Extension. Guildford BC responded to the plan in 2013 (ref: 13/P/00108) and in that said that GBC objected to the application on the grounds that insufficient information had been provided to allow a full assessment on the impact of that development on the highways network and said "the impact on Surrey's network and mitigation required has not been established" It its response to that planning application, Hampshire County Council, dealing with Highways and Transport issues, hardly referred to the A323. Copies of those responses are attached for reference.

ENVIRONMENTAL CONSIDERATIONS

A development of this scale, in such proximity to the Thames Basin Heath's Special Protection Area, should not be supported.

This is an environmentally sensitive location next to one of the component SSSIs of the Thames Basin Heath's Special Protection Area for birds. The Thames Basin Heath's mitigation plan seeks to zone development away from these sites. This results in a 400m buffer zone where no residential development is permitted.

A developer-led proposal driven by commercial considerations does not take account of the damage it would cause to the local environment and the strain it will place on the local infrastructure.

The Green Belt and Countryside Study referring to the importance of the openness of the land between Normandy and Flexford, has been ignored. The current version of the Plan treats Normandy and Flexford as separate settlements for the purposes of Green Belt ‘sensitivity’ but as one settlement for the purposes of ‘sustainability’. This is a double standard.

There are many vitally important ecological networks (green infrastructure corridors) that surround the proposed development area (namely Ancient and Semi-natural Woodland, Veteran Trees, Hedgerows, Semi-improved Grassland, Farmland and a Stream) and connect to other important and protected sites within Normandy Parish and the wider countryside (namely Wanborough and Normandy Woods Site of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCI), Normandy Pond SNCI, Normandy Common SNCI (put forward by the Surrey Local Nature Partnership in 2015), Wyke Churchyard SNCI, Little Flexford SNCI, and even more importantly Thames Basin Heath's Special Protection Area (TBH SPA)).

This proposed development would destroy a number of these habitats including Semi-natural Woodland, Veteran and Mature Trees, Hedgerows, Farmland and Semi-improved Grassland, plus would have indirect affects on Ancient Woodland habitat and the Stream through pollution (light, noise, litter and diffuse land and road runoff), predation and disturbance by increased number of cats and dogs (187 cats (cat ownership being 17/100 households) and 264 dogs (dog ownership being 24/100 households) and by people (potential fires and vandalism of trees).

The proposed SANG is only 10ha and will be on land that will be muddy in wet weather and during the winter. Whereas the TBH SPA of Ash Ranges is dry during wet weather and during the winter, plus is either 5 minutes away by car or 20 minutes by foot.

All the habitats within or adjoining the proposed development site are Priority Habitats of Principal Importance under the NERC Act, plus a number of protected species (European Protected Species, Species of Principal Importance and those protected under The Wildlife and Countryside Act (1981) as amended) have been recorded within either the proposed development site or 500m to 1km of the proposed development site. These include Hedgehogs, Dormice, Great Crested Newts, Barn Owls, Stag Beetles, Skylarks, Common Toads, Common Lizards, Grass Snakes, Adders, Slow worms, Badgers and Bats (including potential roosts within a number of veteran and mature oaks and other trees across the proposed development site and within the woodland blocks).

Light pollution from this proposed development on this scale would be starkly visible from Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB).

Effect on surrounding woodland and stream habitats that adjoin these roads including the SNCI's of Normandy Common, Normandy Pond and Wyke Churchyard.

Potential adverse impacts on the SPA could result from noise and disturbance during construction and through usage of the playing fields when, in addition, external lighting could cause disturbance to the feeding and roosting patterns of the SPA bird species. There could also be impacts on hydrology affecting the open water and wet heathland of the SPA/SSSI and from increased traffic on Westwood Lane, Glaziers Lane and Guildford Road. Traffic pollution is a major source of nitrogen pollution that changes heathland into grassland and many journeys to a new Secondary School could be expected to be by car.

Prior to any allocation of the site it will be necessary for the borough council to be able to conclude, beyond reasonable doubt, that there would be no adverse impact on the integrity of the SPA as a consequence of the proposed development of the site.

Further work is needed by the borough council to provide the evidence needed to be able to reach that conclusion in respect of the use of the site as a secondary school. The site will require archaeological assessment in advance of any application for development being submitted. I am grateful to Danial Winchester a professional ecologist who lives in Flexford for much of the above information.

Further to my email of 29th June I wish to add further objections to the Draft Local Plan regarding Proposed Development Sites 46 and 47 (Normandy/Flexford), particularly regarding flooding and Sewage considerations.

Surrey County Council is the Lead Flood Authority for Surrey, and as such keeps records of all reports made to it of localised flooding problems. I attach a map showing the locations of reports in Normandy and Flexford, and you will see that there are a high concentration of flooding problems in the roads surrounding the proposed development site 46 and nearby to site 47.

Over several years, the Normandy Flood Forum has been coordinating action with not only SCC and GBC, but the Environment Agency, Thames Water and other agencies to alleviate these issues.

But the proposed building of over 1,100 additional new homes and a secondary school would overshadow all previous issues in terms of potential flooding risks.

Parts of Normandy, including the area next to the Hoe stream, have been and are subject to severe flooding problems, and the associated release of sewage into people’s properties and into the Hoe stream which would cut across the development.

The Wanborough Station Car Park is regularly flooded during the downpours which have been occurring regularly.

The Hoe stream also floods, which affects Glaziers Lane at the bridge crossing the stream, and sewage has been released into it, causing a health hazard.

The area of proposed development at present allows natural drainage through the soil and trees; if this area is built on, the resultant run off of surface water would overwhelm the present system, causing even more flooding in the local area.

Whatever any proposed technical solutions there may be, local residents are very concerned that it will not be possible to cope with the increased amount of water and resulting flooding and sewerage.

Policy H1- Homes for all: Support with comments

We support the view that the Borough aims to ‘deliver a wide variety of high quality homes that provide all tenures, types and sizes of housing to meet the needs and demands of different people in the community.’ Policy H1 relies upon the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) to inform any new development coming forward. The SHMA identifies a housing need of 693 dpa, previously set out.

This includes the allocation of the Wisley Aredrome site, which we have previously objected to as set out under policy S2.

Para 4.2.5 states that the Borough would “wish to see an appropriate mix of homes provided across the Borough, including the villages. Whilst all new development must be in keeping with the character of the surrounding area this does not preclude the delivery of smaller units as these are capable of being designed in such a way that respects the prevailing built form.”
The proposed Masterplan for the TREG consulting site in Effingham shows how the proposed development could include a range of dwelling types and sizes to meet a wide variety of housing needs, whilst maintaining adequate spacing between dwellings and be of a proportional size to the village to maintain the character and appearance.

The location of the TREG Consulting site, by comparison to the site north east of Effingham Village, is not in the conservation area or close to the boundary, and as a result will not have a detrimental effect upon the special and historic interest of the Effingham conservation area and listed buildings, or their setting.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

We object to Policy P2 which provides for new defined village boundaries, inset from the Green Belt, and major previously developed sites adjacent to a number of villages within the Green Belt. Whilst many of the Districts villages provide a sustainable location for future development, the new boundaries are based on an inadequate and unsound evidence base, namely the Green Belt and Countryside Study (GBCS).

The GBCS is unsound because:

- (1) It has failed to adequately assess sites and parcels in terms of the five purposes of the green belt and including land within it, as set out in the NPPF. Only sites which do not serve these purposes should be allocated for development;
- (2) The size of the parcels assessed are too large to enable proper detailed assessments of sites to be undertaken, taking into account important factors such as the need to define boundaries clearly, using physical features that are readily recognizable and likely to be permanent, in accordance with Paragraph 85 of the NPPF.

Policy P2 makes clear that many of the Borough’s villages will be inset from Green Belt if it is the view that they do not make a contribution to the openness of the Green Belt. Para. 4.3.13 states that Effingham will be inset from the Green Belt. The updated proposals map for Effingham (Page 338 of Appendix H) shows how the village boundary will be inset from the Green Belt and the relationship of this boundary to the Effingham Village conservation area.

We object to the amended Green Belt Boundary to Effingham Village on the grounds that it will lead to the merging of Effingham and Bookham and fails to give full consideration to the requirements of the NPPF in terms of the need to make full use of natural and man made features to create defensible green belt boundaries. The green belt boundary should be amended and the TREG site on Effingham Common Road to the north of the village should be taken out of the Green Belt. The Ancient Woodlands to the North and West should form defensible boundaries to the Green Belt instead of rear gardens to dwellings.

Below is a more detailed analysis of why the proposed village boundary to Effingham is unsound contrary to paragraph 80 and 85 of the NPPF. Attached is our Green Belt Assessment of Effingham Village which examines the character of the Green Belt here in far more detail and should be taken into account in the consideration of amending the Green Belt boundaries here:
Land north east of Effingham Village

The area to the north-east of Effingham Village currently serves a number of green belt purposes in terms of preventing urban sprawl and keeping land permanently open in accordance with Section 9 of the NPPF. It is unsound to allocate land currently within the Green Belt that serves all of these purposes. However, Land to the North East of Effingham Village currently serves a number of these purposes, more so than other parcels of land adjoining the village, which should be allocated instead. Details are set out below:

- Purpose 1: 'To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas: The parcel of land north-east of Effingham currently restricts the built up area of Effingham and Great Bookham and plays a vital role.
- Purpose 2: 'To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another: This is the prime purpose of this piece of green belt as it prevents the villages of Bookham and Effingham from merging into each other. If this site was built upon then there would be a continuous development form one village to the other and the gateways between the two villages would completely disappear'.
- Purpose 3: To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment. The allocation of this site for development would lead to significant development encroaching into the Countryside. Unlike our client’s site opposite on Effingham Common Road, there are no natural or man made barriers to the north to prevent the Countryside form further encroachment in the future. This allocation is therefore contrary to advice contained within Paragraph 85 of the NPPF which states that local authorities, should define boundaries which are clear and use physical features.
- Purpose 4: To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; Effingham is an historic village and conservation area. However this site is not immediately adjacent to the historic core and development is unlikely to have a significant affect on the character of the village. Notwithstanding this, the sites have an open character and forms a gateway into the village which is currently green fields leading into an historic core will be severely eroded as a result of this allocation.
- Purpose 5: 'To assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land' A very small part of the site contains some disused glass houses. However these are temporary structures and the land has an open and undeveloped character, with the exception of the school site. The site is therefore not in need of regeneration.

We trust you find these representations of use and we look forward to continuing our discussions with you in relation the potential site on Effingham Common Road.

This policy identifies a need for 13,860 new homes within the plan period and proposes that this is provided at an increasing rate per annum starting at 500 dwellings per annum (dpa) in 2018/19 rising to 790 by 2032/33.

We support the provision of at least 500 DPA to meet the Boroughs Housing Needs. However, this development strategy relies on the allocation and development of Wisely Aerodrome, yet this is an isolated location and does not represent a sustainable form of development. The site is a designated SPA and nature conservation area. The open and linear character... of the site, does not lend itself to development. The allocation of areas around villages is preferable as these are more sustainable locations for development.

In addition to this the allocation, of this site relies on unsound evidence base as we previously set out in our representations to the 2014 draft Local Plan.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

A. This submission

Thank you for requesting our comments on the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites 2016. We act on behalf of Top Real Estate Group (TREG Consulting) owners of a potential site off Effingham Common Road and wish the comments in this letter together with the following documents to be taken into consideration in taking this plan forward.

This submission comprises the following:
• Draft Masterplan
• Site Location Plan
• Draft Planning, Design and Access Statement
• A Green Belt Assessment of Effingham Village
• Phase 1 Sustainability Appraisal
• Phase 1 Ecology Assessment
• Transportation Appraisal
• Transport Accessibility report

B. Background

We have been developing proposals for a strategic site in Effingham on a long-term basis and have been a stakeholder in the emerging Guildford Local Plan and Effingham Village Neighbourhood Plan.

Our proposals for the site at Effingham are at an advanced stage and a pre-application enquiry was made in 2015. Details of these proposals are set out in our draft Planning, Design and Access statement.

C. Previous representations

Set out below is a summary of the representations we made to the emerging Local Plan in 2014 and evidence base:

• 1) Guildford Borough Council failed in their duty to co-operate because there is no evidence that they have taken our previous submissions, in particular our SHLAA submission, into account;
• 2) The evidence base is unsound because the methodology adopted for the Green Belt and Countryside Study (GBCS) is inconsistent between different sites and parcels of land and the GBCS and SHLAA conflates the distinctive roles of each;
• (3) The SHLAA is unsound because it has not made an objective and consistent appraisal of each site. Instead it has been informed by the GBCS. This is contrary to the NPPG, which confirms that sites with existing policy constraints should be included and previous constraints should not be accepted;

• (4) The GBCS is unsound because it fails to apply a significance test to the review of various land parcels; the parcels are too large; little weight is attached to the ‘5 purposes of the green belt’ contrary to paragraph 80 of the NPPF; there is an inconsistent analysis of settlements gateways and inconsistent approach to the creation of ‘new defensible green belt boundaries’;

• (5) The Borough Wide Strategy relies on the allocation and development of Wisely Aerodrome, yet this is an isolated location and does not represent a sustainable form of development. The site is a designated SPA and nature conservation area. The open and linear character of the site, does not lend itself to development. The allocation of areas around villages is preferable as these are more sustainable locations for development;

• (6) The Rural Exception Homes should be more flexible to accommodate ‘enabling development’ and alternative models of housing delivery, such as ‘community right to build’ and ‘community land trusts’;

• (7) Villages and Major Previously Developed Sites proposes new boundaries to settlements and the green belt, based on inadequate analysis in the GBCS which is unsound;

• (8) Green Belt and Countryside is based on an unsound and inadequate evidence base;

• (9) We object to the allocation of Wisley Aerodrome as it is based on an unsound evidence base;

• (10) We object to the identification of land north east of Effingham Village as a Potential Development Area (PDA) on the grounds that it is contrary to Paragraph 80 of the NPPF, as it serves a number of green belt purposes, contrary to Paragraph 85 of the NPPF as it fails to define a defensible green belt boundary, the development will have a detrimental impact on the character of the eastern and northern settlement gateways of Effingham’ and the scale of development does not relate proportionally to the scale of Effingham Village and does not represent a sustainable form of development.

D. The Emerging Guildford Local Plan 2016

The following policies of the emerging Local Plan 2016 are relevant to the consideration of the proposals at Upper Leewood Farm:

• Policy S2: Planning for the borough – our spatial development strategy

• Policy H1: Homes for all

• Policy H3: Rural exception homes

• Policy P2: Green Belt

• Policy P5: Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area

• Policy D1: Making better places

• Policy D2: Sustainable design, construction and energy

• Policy D3: Historic Environment

• Policy D4: Development in urban areas and inset villages

• Policy I3: Sustainable transport for new developments

• Policy I4: Green and blue infrastructure

We specifically have concerns about the following policies:

• Policy S2: Planning for the borough – our spatial development strategy

• Policy H1: Homes for all

• Policy P2: Green Belt

As a local resident at 19 Sime Close, Keens Lane, Worplesdon, Guildford I would like to add my voice and opinions to the new draft local plan please:

The SHMA is significant and should be reviewed to reflect the amount of housing built in Guildford over the last 5 years as opposed to an inflated number: by reducing the proposed 690 new builds to 250 this would reduce the need for the use of Green Belt as housing.

Keens Lane is currently in the Green Belt but the draft plan moves the urban boundary to exclude it from the green belt. I am extremely concerned about this for a number of practical reasons - not to mention the enormous impact it will have on the environment and the wellbeing of those who live here and enjoy the countryside and all its benefits..

The infrastructure in the area is unable to support a development on the site: Keens Lane is only 4.4m wide at the junction of Sime Close and Timbers (the 16th century property on the north side of the road). The roundabout at the eastern end of Keens Lane is dangerous because of traffic from Guildford treating it as a chicane. Worplesdon Road is currently one of the worst roads in the area for traffic congestion during rush hours. Any hardstanding from a development west of Findlay Drive will increase the already significant run off into Sime Close which floods the side of Syndey Court every time it rains, and consequentially silting up of the soakaway.

I understand Gravetts Lane was flooded on 23rd June after the rain the night before and the sewers were bubbling up with the need for a major clean up to be carried out. There is insufficient infrastructure and power which would require a huge upgrade for both gas and electricity in the area. Additionally core services such as Schools, Drs, Hospitals etc - already desperately overstretched - would need to be majorly invested in.

I hope my concerns may be taken into account.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

POLICY D4

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/”Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university’s ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of... unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

POLICY H3

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations Ire available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.
The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the... villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy II. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy II requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers.
No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.
I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as "sustainable", in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.
Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Employment

In 2016 Enterprise M3 LEP commissioned Regeneris to undertake a review of their 2013 Commercial Property Market Study. The final report is due to be considered at Enterprise M3’s Board Meeting in July 2016. Information relating to this is not yet in the public domain but for the purposes of this consultation has been referenced to help support our response. In light of this, Enterprise M3 requests that this response is only made public once the Commercial Property Market Study has been published.

The Enterprise M3 Commercial Property Market Study, 2016 highlights that Guildford is a highly sought after office location. Its highly skilled labour, market and transport connections to London mean that office development attracts some of the highest rental values in the LEP area and that speculative office development is therefore commercially viable. Future developments, such as the planned expansion of the University of Surrey will further enhance the appeal of Guildford as a location for inward investment.

The Commercial Property Market Study, 2016 highlights that the challenge facing Guildford is that it has a major shortage of office space within the town centre and a very limited pipeline of sites. The few vacant sites in the town centre are also under growing pressure to be converted to residential uses. It therefore follows that Enterprise M3 is therefore very supportive of employment allocations for quality, grade A office space within Guildford town centre which meets this demand. Although within the Proposed Submission Local Plan we have noted that there are a limited number of allocations for employment development within the town centre, Enterprise M3 is supportive of the Draft Guildford Town Centre Masterplan, 2015 and look forward to seeing the proposals and working with Guildford Borough Council to bring it forward. In particular, the ability of the Bedford Wharf area to provide much needed employment space within the town centre would be very much welcomed.

Nevertheless, given the recognised shortage of office space within the town centre we encourage further consideration to be given to ensuring that there is sufficient land allocated for quality office development within the town centre in order to prevent the loss of existing and new major users in the future finding no suitable land in Guildford and subsequently locating elsewhere to the economic detriment of the wider Enterprise M3 area.

The Commercial Property Market Study, 2016 also highlights that demand for industrial sites in Guildford has been strong, evidenced by the take up and development at Henley Business Park. Since 2013 the business park has achieved one pre-let and is also speculatively building out two units, with only 6,000 sq m of development space remaining.

However, the Commercial Property Market Study, 2016 recognises that there remains a persistent shortage of both available industrial space and land with development potential in most market areas within the LEP. This includes light industrial space which is suitable for SMEs, but particularly for large scale warehousing which could attract new investment to the LEP area in light of recent upwards trends in e-commerce. This undersupply of B8 space transcends LEP boundaries, with very strong demand evident for any sites that can serve the London market. We would therefore encourage further consideration to be given in planning for storage & distribution employment space to meet the needs of the warehousing/logistics sector in the South East, a region which has been recognised as experiencing a particular shortage.

Policy E1 makes reference to the need to plan for between 4.7ha and 5.3ha of industrial land (B1c, B2, and B8 uses) within Guildford during the plan period 2013 - 2033. From looking through the Site Allocations section of the Proposed Submission Local Plan, the majority of this requirement for industrial land can be met through the development of the Slyfield Regeneration Area (Allocation A24), a 40 ha site allocated for light industrial uses as well as 1,000 homes, 4 traveller pitches, a new waste management depot and sewage treatment works and community facilities. A further 7,000 sq m of land for industrial and storage & distribution uses can also be accommodated at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (Allocation A43) and as aforementioned, 6,000 sq m of development space for storage & distribution uses also remains at Henley Business Park. This indicates that there is enough supply to meet the requirements for industrial development as set out in Guildford’s Employment Lands Needs Assessment, 2015 and we are supportive of this approach.
On balance, Enterprise M3 LEP is supportive of Guildford’s Proposed Submission Local Plan and welcomes the strategy put forward to allow Guildford to continue to play a pivotal role in the economic prosperity of the M3 Corridor as one of the LEPs key Growth Towns. As mentioned above we would encourage the Council to give further consideration on how additional employment sites to meet the demand for office space within the town centre can be incorporated to support the continued growth and prosperity of the town centre going forward. We are very supportive of the increased housing target and would very much welcome the opportunity to work with you to ensure its delivery and to continue to work with you in the positive way which we have done to date.

Enterprise M3 is very supportive of policy E4, which makes provision for a 10 ha extension to Surrey Research Park. This is one of the Borough’s largest employment areas and a centre of excellence in technology, science health and engineering. This extension is expected to provide up to 35,000 sq m of additional office and R&D floor space, which added to the remaining 9,000 sq m provides a significant amount of employment space for research, development and design activities that are complimentary to those activities undertaken at the University of Surrey. This extension will ensure the continued growth and success of the Research Park and the businesses within it, which aligns strongly within our ambitions for innovation and enterprise across the Enterprise M3 LEP area, particularly around the development of 5G technology for which the University of Surrey is playing a key part.

Transport
The Local Plan rightly highlights the pivotal role the provision of transport infrastructure will have to play in the successful delivery of the policies contained within it. Transport issues act as a major constraint, holding back Guildford’s ability to maintain and build its existing economy, which in turn can deter further investment. In particular excessive congestion and poor accessibility to the town centre and key employment sites such as the Surrey Research Park act as a constraint on growth. The Local Plan represents a key opportunity to formulate a coherent plan to ensure that growth can be delivered and sustained across Guildford. It needs to be flexible enough to enable the strategically focused programmes developed by key stakeholders such as the LEP, Surrey County Council, Highways England, Network Rail and the University of Surrey to create accessibility and infrastructure improvements, which will unlock development opportunities, increase housing supply and improve the capacity of Guildford to generate wealth and high quality jobs. Enterprise M3 therefore welcomes the Strategic Objective 12 to facilitate the timely provision of necessary infrastructure to support sustainable development, together with the commitment given through Policy I1 towards the delivery of infrastructure. This commitment demonstrates the importance of working with partners to ensure a programme of infrastructure provision for the Borough is delivered both within and beyond the Plan period.

Similarly we welcome Policy I2: Supporting the Department for Transport’s “Road Investment Strategy”. We note in particular that it is considered that the delivery of some housing targets is dependent upon major improvement to the A3 through Guildford. Enterprise M3 LEP will continue to work closely with partners and continue to put pressure on Government to deliver the infrastructure that is needed to unlock and support the development of key housing sites and would expect Guildford Borough to play an active role in this engagement with government. Enterprise M3 welcomes the strong emphasis throughout the plan on the benefits of investment in sustainable transport and the recognition that such investment can contribute significantly to economic growth. We are therefore supportive of Policy I3 related to sustainable transport.

Thank you for the opportunity to make representations on this latest version of your Local Plan. This submission follows on from the previous consultation responses we have made, particularly those relating to the Guildford Town Centre Masterplan, 2015. Enterprise M3 is the Local Enterprise Partnership covering the Guildford Borough area as well as other local authority areas in West Surrey along the M3 Corridor into Hampshire. Its remit is to support and sustain economic growth at a local level and Enterprise M3 set out its vision, key priorities and actions in its Strategic Economic Plan, which was published in March 2014. The vision for the area is to be: ‘...the premier in the country for enterprise and economic growth, balanced with an excellent environment and quality of life.’ The Strategic Economic Plan recognises the importance of Guildford, identifying it as one of only four major ‘Growth Towns’ in the Enterprise M3 area, whose continued economic performance is critical to the local and wider economy. Enterprise M3 has worked closely with Guildford Borough Council throughout the development of the emerging Local Plan, both on the development of the Plan and its evidence base and how the Local Growth Fund can be used to support growth across the Borough.

Enterprise M3 welcomes the overall vision set out in The Proposed Submission Local Plan and is committed to working with Guildford Borough Council and partners to achieve its vision during the plan period. Whilst our consultation response highlights key aspects that we feel require further consideration, we are on the whole content with the strategy set out within the document for delivering growth within Guildford up until 2033. Guildford Borough Council has worked closely with Enterprise M3 since the LEP’s inception in 2011 and is one of our key Growth Towns, as set out in our Strategic Economic Plan, 2014. Enterprise M3 wishes to continue to work collaboratively with partners at Guildford Borough Council as the Local Plan process continues and once adopted to facilitate its delivery.

New Homes

The Proposed Submission Local Plan provides for the delivery of 13,860 new homes between 2013 – 2033 in Policy S2, which equates to an average of 693 dwellings per annum during the Plan period. This is a welcome increase in housing provision since the previous consultation on Guildford’s draft Local Plan in 2014 and we note that this higher target is in line with the conclusions of the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment, 2015. Whilst we are supportive of this policy, we note that the table showing Guildford’s Annual Housing Target in Policy S2 and the housing numbers within this do not total up to the 13,860 dwellings to be provided for. We would recommend that for consistency with the principle of the policy that this be amended to reflect the total housing numbers to be provided for during the plan period.

Enterprise M3 is pleased to see that the Plan reflects the objectively assessed need across the Borough and that it is proposing a level of housing development which can support the continued economic growth of the town. Enterprise M3 is therefore supportive of the increased housing target from 652 to 693 dwellings per annum during the Plan period.

Enterprise M3 notes that within Guildford Borough Council’s Annual Monitoring Report (AMR), 2015 there is currently 2.4 years supply against an identified housing need of 693 homes per annum (taking into account completions since 2013, a buffer and accrued deficit). Taking into consideration pending planning applications in both Ash and Tongham supply increases to 2.5 years, however the AMR recognises that this addition is not certain. Whilst Enterprise M3 is very supportive of the increased housing delivery target, we would like to emphasise the importance of accelerating housing delivery and ensuring that housing targets remain deliverable. This should be outlined within Guildford’s Housing Strategy for the duration of the Plan period (2013-2033). At the moment this Strategy only appears to cover the period 2015-2020. Enterprise M3 would welcome the opportunity to work with Guildford Borough Council to ensure that the increased housing target is deliverable. Enterprise M3 also notes the phased approach to housing delivery in Policy S2 but would encourage Guildford Borough Council to focus on early delivery in order to meet demand, particularly focusing on the large scale strategic housing sites. Housing affordability is a key issue across the Enterprise M3 LEP area, particularly in Guildford. The Proposed Submission Local Plan highlights that the affordability ratio in Guildford was 10.92 in 2013, higher than Surrey’s ratio of 10.89 and much greater than England’s ratio of 6.451. Guildford was also highlighted in Enterprise M3’s Housing Evidence Study, 2014 as the second most expensive district for people wishing to buy market housing. Enterprise M3 is therefore supportive of policy H2, which provides for 40% affordable housing to be accommodated on sites of five of more homes, or in excess of 0.17ha in size. However, there is the potential for this level of affordable housing provision to render some sites unviable, especially in difficult market conditions which may be exacerbated by the Brexit result. We are therefore supportive of paragraph 4.2.40 of the Plan which makes reference to the Council following a cascade mechanism to assist in the delivery of housing schemes should viability become an issue during the development process. Enterprise M3 also welcomes the proposal within policy H2, which makes reference to Guildford Borough Council providing and managing affordable homes themselves, as well as reference in section 4.2.12 to the allocation of self build plots within strategic housing development sites to help meet demand for new housing and increase supply. This provides for flexibility in delivering new homes where they are needed most and will encourage diversity within the housing market.

Transport
The Local Plan rightly highlights the pivotal role the provision of transport infrastructure will have to play in the successful delivery of the policies contained within it. Transport issues act as a major constraint, holding back Guildford’s ability to maintain and build its existing economy, which in turn can deter further investment. Similarly we welcome Policy I2: Supporting the Department for Transport’s “Road Investment Strategy”. We note in particular that it is considered that the delivery of some housing targets is dependent upon major improvement to the A3 through Guildford. Enterprise M3 LEP will continue to work closely with partners and continue to put pressure on Government to deliver the infrastructure that is needed to unlock and support the development of key housing sites and would expect Guildford Borough to play an active role in this engagement with government.

New Homes

The Proposed Submission Local Plan provides for the delivery of 13,860 new homes between 2013 – 2033 in Policy S2, which equates to an average of 693 dwellings per annum during the Plan period. This is a welcome increase in housing provision since the previous consultation on Guildford’s draft Local Plan in 2014 and we note that this higher target is in line with the conclusions of the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment, 2015.

Whilst we are supportive of this policy, we note that the table showing Guildford’s Annual Housing Target in Policy S2 and the housing numbers within this do not total up to the 13,860 dwellings to be provided for. We would recommend that for consistency with the principle of the policy that this be amended to reflect the total housing numbers to be provided for during the plan period.

Enterprise M3 is pleased to see that the Plan reflects the objectively assessed need across the Borough and that it is proposing a level of housing development which can support the continued economic growth of the town. Enterprise M3 is therefore supportive of the increased housing target from 652 to 693 dwellings per annum during the Plan period.

Enterprise M3 notes that within Guildford Borough Council’s Annual Monitoring Report (AMR), 2015 there is currently 2.4 years supply against an identified housing need of 693 homes per annum (taking into account completions since 2013, a buffer and accrued deficit). Taking into consideration pending planning applications in both Ash and Tongham supply increases to 2.5 years, however the AMR recognises that this addition is not certain.

Whilst Enterprise M3 is very supportive of the increased housing delivery target, we would like to emphasise the importance of accelerating housing delivery and ensuring that housing targets remain deliverable. This should be outlined within Guildford’s Housing Strategy for the duration of the Plan period (2013-2033). At the moment this Strategy only appears to cover the period 2015-2020. Enterprise M3 would welcome the opportunity to work with Guildford Borough Council to ensure that the increased housing target is deliverable. Enterprise M3 also notes the phased approach to housing delivery in Policy S2 but would encourage Guildford Borough Council to focus on early delivery in order to meet demand, particularly focusing on the large scale strategic housing sites.

Housing affordability is a key issue across the Enterprise M3 LEP area, particularly in Guildford. The Proposed Submission Local Plan highlights that the affordability ratio in Guildford was 10.92 in 2013, higher than Surrey’s ratio of 10.89 and much greater than England’s ratio of 6.451. Guildford was also highlighted in Enterprise M3’s Housing Evidence Study, 2014 as the second most expensive district for people wishing to buy market housing.
Enterprise M3 is therefore supportive of policy H2, which provides for 40% affordable housing to be accommodated on sites of five of more homes, or in excess of 0.17ha in size. However, there is the potential for this level of affordable housing provision to render some sites unviable, especially in difficult market conditions which may be exacerbated by the Brexit result. We are therefore supportive of paragraph 4.2.40 of the Plan which makes reference to the Council following a cascade mechanism to assist in the delivery of housing schemes should viability become an issue during the development process.

Enterprise M3 also welcomes the proposal within policy H2, which makes reference to Guildford Borough Council providing and managing affordable homes themselves, as well as reference in section 4.2.12 to the allocation of self build plots within strategic housing development sites to help meet demand for new housing and increase supply. This provides for flexibility in delivering new homes where they are needed most and will encourage diversity within the housing market.

There are no exceptional circumstances to justify this blatant assault on the green belt.

To maintain that the site is actually brownfield and not green belt, constitutes a mis-representation.

If allowed, this proposal would devastate the village of Ockham and nearby villages of Ripley and the Horsleys.

There is absolutely no precedent to destroy the existing tract of quality farmland in the green belt.

Agricultural land is very important; priorities and the food supply may change in the years ahead.

The land forms an important barrier between Cobham and Ockham & Ripley and an inevitable inexorable sprawl of urbanisation would inevitably follow if this appalling idea were to see the light of day.

The proposal is not sustainable, there is insufficient land available.

The site is adjacent to an area of outstanding natural beauty (AONB).

The road network is inadequate, not to mention loss of good farmland and natural habitat.

I strongly object to the the proposed green belt developments at Wisley Airfield, West Horsley, East Horsley, Send, Send Marsh, Garlic Arch (A43).

The consequences for these villages would be profound.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of these sites.

This constitutes serious level of over-development of these villages, particularly Wet Horsely which has retained its open connection with the green belt.

The construction of 533 new houses on these 6 sites, plus at least another 90 on small sites is (a) excessive in absolute terms and (b) disproportionate relative to the rest of the borough; it would destroy the rural character of these communities.

This would profoundly alter the character of this sensitive area.

Ripley sits in a traffic junction lying between these six villages/locations; the traffic volumes created by these developments would dominate and ruin normal village life for all residents.

Planning Policy for Traveller Sites (2012) guidance states:

Policy E: Traveller sites in Green Belt

"14. Inappropriate development is harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved, except in very special circumstances. Traveller sites (temporary or permanent) in the Green Belt are inappropriate development."

There are no such very special circumstances to justify the inclusion of this policy.

2003 Local Plan - Policy HE10: Development Which Affects The Setting Of A Conservation Area

"The Borough Council will not grant permission for development which would harm the setting of conservation area, or views into or out of that area.

11.31 Planning authorities are required to ensure that developments within conservation areas preserve or enhance the character or appearance of that area. The desirability of preserving or enhancing an area should also be a material consideration in the determination of proposals which are outside the conservation area but would affect its setting, or views into or out of the area."

The site directly abuts Ripley Conservation area. This development does not preserve the conservation area, nor is it an enhancement; the setting of the conservation area is therefore compromised.

Policy D3 supports this view.

The occupants were granted temporary consent for 3 years in 2015 by the Appeal inspector, with full provision for the restoration of the site to its original condition at the end of the period of temporary consent.

Local residents are appalled at the inclusion of this attempt to formalise traveller occupancy in this sensitive green belt location; this is property development by stealth.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

"We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt, as shown on the proposals map, against inappropriate development. In accordance with national planning policy, the construction of new development will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated."

"4.3.16 National planning policy requires that Green Belt boundaries are only amended in exceptional circumstances and that this must be undertaken as part of the Local Plan process. We consider that exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development."

"in order to facilitate the development that is needed “ – hardly an adequate justification for ripping up hundreds of acres of green belt, this is vague, very brief and does not constitute a valid explanation or a reason.
This draft plan proposes a set of developments across the borough which, if implemented, would devastate the Metropolitan Green Belt.

The Council's housing proposals in the green belt would constitute inappropriate development.

NPPF states:

87. "As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances. Development in the green belt therefore requires there to be 'exceptional circumstances in each case to justify the harm done to the openness of the green belt.'"

No such circumstances have been demonstrated in this draft local plan. The then Undersecretary of State for Planning, Nick Boles has written letters in March and June this year warning that it is unlikely that 'unmet housing need' will constitute the 'exceptional circumstances' required to allow development in the green belt.

The green belt does not exist purely to be exploited by developers as building land.

This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” Hardly true.

1.6% of the Borough’s Green Belt is stated would be lost: taking into account the infilling and settlement boundary extensions, 7% is a more accurate figure - far too high.

NPPF: Section 9 - The opening paragraph (79) states:

"79. The Government attaches great importance to Green Belts. The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence."

The word permanently and permanence are used and from this, one might assume that the green belt and its boundaries will be permanently maintained.

The Metropolitan green belt was established to be a permanent barrier to future urban sprawl. To allow a series of incremental advances of land available for housing development every ten years is going to rapidly and permanently change and degrade the character of this borough.

The open character of the green belt, that very crucial parameter which the NPPF seeks to preserve in section 9, will, incrementally, be destroyed.

This Council should view the green belt as a major asset, to be preserved at all costs, for the enjoyment of future generations, and not condemn them to a life of suburban misery for the sake of short term economic gain.

This natural asset is valuable beyond compare and the short term political needs of a Borough Council should not be allowed to impinge on the long term aims and purposes of the established Metropolitan green Belt.

Appropriate development in the Green Belt can be achieved through a balanced, even distribution of a realistic and sensible level of new house building throughout the Borough, across the villages and proportional to the existing populations with appropriate infilling; in this way, infrastructures are less stressed and there would be less disruption to the character of an individual settlement.

This approach would also be more democratic; the burden is shared evenly and most people will accept that approach.
Insetting of villages:

OBJECT.

The Green Belt and Countryside Study attempts to identify in a very crude way those villages which will be suitable for insetting.

The so called proposed insetting or removal of a village from the green belt would be a serious retrograde step. The term appears to have been introduced in the 2012 NPPF document which is now effectively the planner's bible.

Pegasus, in their Green Belt & Countryside Study Vol IV, have determined that Ripley village should be inset.

Pegasus appear to have adopted a method of interpretation of NPPF paragraph 86 which considers a village's open character and its susceptibility for insetting. Here they seek to 'measure' the importance of the contribution which the village's open character makes to the openness of the green belt. This is an attempt to convert the requirements of a loosely worded paragraph, written by a legally trained person into a precision scientific measurement; this in itself is a challenge because the very nature of a village's open character does not readily lend itself to this form of measurement.

The very form of words in NPPF paragraph 86 was probably chosen because it would be nearly impossible to measure the parameter 'importance of a contribution made by a village's open character', and thus the paragraph could be exploited in either direction by parties with different agendas, ie developers and those against it.

In the 'Stage 3', we have the 'professional judgements' and the responses on the village insetting criteria, (which are again arbitrary), for Ripley:

"Does the majority of the village exhibit an open character? - Response: "On balance, the majority of the village is considered to exhibit an enclosed character"!

"Do open areas within the village appear continuous with surrounding open land beyond the village? - response starts by saying "visual connections to the wider green belt are partially enclosed by woodland"! In reality, virtually all the open areas are continuous with open land or wooded land.

1. a) The questions are farcical.
2. b) The answers to the arbitrary questions are incorrect!

Furthermore, the 'openness of a village' is, of course three-dimensional and the idea that two-dimensional mapping aerial photography and computer analysis in that domain can somehow replace the three-dimensional world is flawed.

Pegasus have effectively 'engineered' this measured solution to their brief, which I would guess was: - 'produce a report which will support the insetting of most of the rural villages in the borough'.

On the 3 Pegasus maps the entire north side bounded by the High Street and Newark Lane is the village green - completely open land. The area to the east - bounded by the High Street and Rose Lane, although increasingly dense towards Rose Lane still has connection to significant open land to the East, including school playing fields. The southern quadrant of the village - bounded by Rose Lane and the Portsmouth Road really is mainly either farmland, open land or graveyard land. The remaining quadrant, to the West - land bounded by the Portsmouth Road and Newark Lane is the dense conurbation of the Georgelands estate and Wentworth Close etc, including the Primary School and playing fields; this quadrant of the village of course cannot be regarded as open, but its North and West boundaries are directly connected to farmland.

If the combined Georgelands and associated estate were to be distributed throughout the whole village, there would clearly be impairment to the village's open character, but, the fact that the estate is effectively 'condensed' into the compact quadrant has the effect of relieving the majority of the village from an impact on its open character.

The 'perceived village area' is also a totally arbitrary boundary line that has no real logic, and could be drawn virtually anywhere.
Referring to NPPF paragraph 86 again, Pegasus effectively assert that Ripley does not need the protection to its open character provided by being washed over by the green belt; the open character is not likely to be subject to damage by development - really?

Yes, the more vulnerable parts of the village have the protection offered by Conservation Area planning policy, but, we have just seen that hurdle neatly demolished by the recent White Hart Court development - charmingly now named Marlborough Place. Set in the midst of a Heritage Asset, and numerous listed buildings, this hideous, dense, part three-story estate changes the character of Ripley for ever - yes the open character has been impaired.

The open character of Ripley is the essence of the village. This is true of other similar villages nearby.

On entering the village from the North East, within 50 yards on the right is the village green - a large area of open land fully accessed by all; this long strip of land 'the Green', defines the village. Beyond the Green, is farmland and meadows and flood plain toward The Wey. In fact from the High Street and Portsmouth Road which run through the heart of the village, at pretty much any point, you are within 50 or certainly 100 yards of either open land, farmland, other wooded green land, hedgerows or other 'greenness'.

To argue that the open character of the green belt here in Ripley will not be damaged by development (para 86), is extremely dubious and any visitor to the village would surely recognise this.

Insetting would be a retrograde step for all the borough's villages for the reasons outlined.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Under this broad policy, any development will be classed as “sustainable”, totally ignoring the NPPFs guidance on the fundamental need to preserve the green belt boundaries.

The Green Belt forms 89% of the borough and really should be established as one of the primary aims of the policy. Most of the land area is green belt and there needs to be a reference to how the Council intends to implement planning policy in this highly relevant context. Policy S1 needs to state that it will maintain and protect the existing Green Belt.

I object to the proposal to build 13,860 new homes:
This number is postulated in advance of the recent UK Referendum which now sets the course for a substantial revision of estimates for economic and population growth, including migration. A substantial downward revision will be necessary.

The number of 13,860 new homes remains unsubstantiated. The SHMA has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate, nor has there been any public consultation.

Other experts in this field of demography have not been able to reproduce this value or even close.

The Guildford Society concluded in 2014: "The premise for the housing data in the Draft SHMA published by GL Hearn looks deeply flawed and a full demographic analysis needs to be undertaken to understand the need for housing in Guildford during the Local Plan period."

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The plan fails to set a Housing Target of new homes to be built, or explain how this relates to the “Objectively Assessed Number” (OAN) for housing need.

The notion that economic growth is somehow enhanced by building houses is flawed; there would be short term boost and vast profits for the developers, their associates and banks, but the real outcome is to increase the level of personal debt, and with the house price/income ratio now approaching pre 2008 levels, in the South East, economic instability will result, particularly following an economic shock, such as interest rate rises or a recession.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.

I object to the fact that the Council appear to have directed the transport assessment to use prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.

It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.

It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.

It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10)

Local roads are at capacity particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc)

Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford will have to negotiate the over-crowded SRN and will therefore be unreliable and subject to frequent delays. Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe.

It is adjacent to the RHS at Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000/annum and the associated traffic increase from the RHS has not been taken into account nor the fact that 1000’s more visitors appear for special events several times a year and the resultant traffic has not been taken into account.

There is insufficient employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.

It remains unclear when/if the Ockham DVOR/DME will be decommissioned as the timetable has already slipped. This constrains the site significantly in terms of building heights etc.

The changed “Opportunities” listed in this policy reinforce why this site is totally inappropriate talking of “good urban design”

Opportunity (3) should be common to all sites and is not unique to this site

I object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts another heritage asset, Upton Farm negatively impacting the setting of this building.

I object to the fact that the increased area, being on the south of the site facing the Surrey Hills AONB will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB.

I object to the change of site boundaries as these are not identified correctly on the plan (Appendix H p16)

I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification

I object to the change in green belt boundary to the eastern end of the site as this now encloses an area of high archaeological impact

I object to para 21 which “limits” development in flood zone 2 and 3. Development should be excluded in flood zone 2 and 3

I object to para 22 as this does not reflect the impact of the buildings on the surrounding area.
I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consultees.

I object to the proposed Submission Local Plan because the significant modifications made to the plan mean that this should not be a Regulation 19 consultation. A regulation 19 consultation needs to be on the totality of the plan rather than the proposed changes.

I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.

I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.

I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.

I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change.

I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.

I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.

I object to the inclusion of a 10% buffer in the housing number over the plan period. This is unnecessary.

I object to the housing number and particularly the fact that the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBHSPA etc. I believe that the housing number is unsound and open to legal challenge.

I object to the apparent disregard for the impact of in-combination development on the TBHSPA, particularly the damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.

I object to policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.

I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

I consider for the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I think it is safe to say that given the staggering lack of foresight that has gone into the creation of the new local plan its authors have not read the National Planning Policy Framework, or have simply chosen to ignore its contents. May I therefore remind the planning department of GBC (in addition to its collective duty to uphold electoral promises to protect the Green Belt) that a key tenet within it is: “The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence.”

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt on the grounds that Green Belts should be kept open and permanent. To remove Send from the Green Belt would be shockingly myopic and would deprive future generations of their right to a Green Belt that is open and permanent.

Also from the National Planning Policy Framework: “Once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan. At that time, authorities should consider the Green Belt boundaries having regard to their intended permanence in the long term, so that they should be capable of enduring beyond the plan period.”

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt on the grounds that once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances. There are categorically no proven, justified, or exceptional circumstances to do so.

Also from the National Planning Policy Framework: “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt and the proposed development of over 400 houses which is inappropriate, disproportionate and harmful to the Green Belt. Seeking to inset the village does not resolve the problem; it just exacerbates the harm.

I could go on of course but I think GBC’s proven scattergun approach to town planning, flagrant disregard for previous promises and a blinkered approach to Local Plan development means the views of 1000’s of local residents are unlikely to be heeded or properly considered in a fair and reasonable manner. However, I’m an optimist so remain hopeful that the words of the author Bill Bryson in ‘The Road to Little Dribbling’ may generate a flicker of reasonableness, common sense and foresightedness from the disfunctioning pool of incompetence that is the GBC Planning Department. I doubt it but shall include the quote anyway: “there isn’t a landscape in the world that is more artfully worked, more lovely to behold, more comfortable to be in, than the countryside of Great Britain. It is the world’s largest park, it is the most perfect accidental garden. I think it may be the British nation’s most glorious achievement.”

I object to the GBC planning department ‘insetting’ Send from the Green Belt and in so doing permanently destroying the character of the village and by proxy the beautiful surrounding countryside.

I hope that your individual legacies will not be the indelible destruction of another small part of British countryside.

In summary I again object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan for many reasons including:

- It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
- It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
- It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one of the most congested junction in the country (J10).
- Local roads are at capacity particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc).
- Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford or into Effingham, East Horsley or either of the nearby stations will have to negotiate the over-crowded SRN, will be an unreliable service for potential customers but more important dangerous on such small narrow over crowded lanes. Furthermore there is insufficient parking available at East Horsley or Effingham to accommodate the additional population that will need to commute either to London or into Guildford using the rail service.
- Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe. This infrastructure is simply not there to support this.
- It is adjacent to the most popular visitor attraction in the south-east, the RHS at Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000 annum.
  - The associated traffic increase from the RHS has not been taken into account.
  - The regular events at the RHS which attract 1000’s more visitors several times a year and the resultant traffic has not been taken into account.
- Whenever there is an event on today, the traffic is at a standstill already.
- There is insufficient employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
- The identified mitigation to address the impact of increased traffic will not address the commuters travelling to Woking rail station, Effingham or East Horsley.
- It remains unclear when/if the Ockham DVOR/DME will be decommissioned as the timetable has already slipped. This constrains the site significantly in terms of building heights etc.
- The changed “Opportunities” listed in this policy reinforce why this site is totally inappropriate talking of “good urban design”
- Opportunity (3) should be common to all sites and is not unique to this site.
- I object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts additional heritage assets, including Upton Farm and Bridge End House negatively impacting the setting of these buildings and the wider Ockham Conservation Area.
- I object to the fact that the increased area, being on the south of the site facing the Surrey Hills AONB will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB.
- I object to the change of site boundaries as these are not identified correctly on the plan (Appendix H p16).
I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification. Green belt is supposed to be PROTECTED!

I object to the change in green belt boundary to the eastern end of the site as this now encloses an area of high archaeological impact and is PROTECTED green belt land!

I object to para 21 which “limits” development in flood zone 2 and 3. Development should be excluded in flood zone 2 and 3

I object to para 22 as this does not reflect the impact of the buildings on the surrounding area.

I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consultees.

I object to the proposed Submission Local Plan because the significant modifications made to the plan mean that this should not be a Regulation 19 consultation. A regulation 19 consultation needs to be on the totality of the plan rather than the proposed changes.

I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.

I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.

I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.

I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change

I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.

I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.

I object to the inclusion of a 10% buffer in the housing number over the plan period. This is unnecessary.

I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS.

I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.

I object to the fact that the Council appear to have directed the transport assessment to use prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.

I object to the housing number and particularly the fact that the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBHSPA etc. I believe that the housing number is unsound and open to legal challenge. Junction 10 of the M25 / A3 is already above the legal air quality limits. As I have 2 asthma suffers in my household this is extremely important to us particularly as a family.

I object to the apparent disregard for the impact of in-combination development on the TBHSPA, particularly the damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.

I object to policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.
I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

I consider for the reasons listed above, yet again, this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose. I object to this plan.

10. I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements the Plan depends on. There is no schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43), so the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site. It is therefore not fit for purpose.

9. I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.
6. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for its removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

- There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
- The site is liable to frequent flooding
- The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
- There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

12. I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)

There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

5. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

8. I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

The Garlick’s Arch (A43) proposal would double the built area in the locality, and would irrevocably damage the character of the Ancient Woodland on the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
3. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.

The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths. 5000 more houses means dangerous and unsustainable traffic.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

13. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are at or close to capacity.

There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

I wish these objections to be fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016).

These are my main reasons/ I object on these grounds / …

1. I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch.

The development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

7. I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT TO the lack of any evidence for the alleged housing need numbers. Numbers based on growth and demographic data now invalidated by Brexit. • No justification given for 13,860 housing figure. Figure based on a secret formula used by consultants and never seen by anyone on the Council or by the public. Council has failed to seek its disclosure. • 13,860 figure confuses the OAN with a housing target. No definite housing target given, leaving too much scope for the Council to make one up. I can’t understand how we’re being consulted when we don’t know how many houses the Council want to build, taking all the contraints into account. No reason why Guildford needs to build nearly twice as many large housing estates as the rest of Surrey put together, or half of all sites over 100 units. • High numbers involved would transform character of the borough from mainly rural/Green Belt to urban, creating a corridor of development out of London as per Woking or Croydon.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT ESPECIALLY TO 6 POLICIES: A36, A37, A38, A39, A40 & A41: • Amount of new housing far exceeds local need. • Housing density excessive when compared with existing development. • Would transform the Horsleys into a sizable town, something for which no case is made. • No local support. • Collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough not considered. Should not be treated as isolated, separate sites. • Total amount of new building out of scale with the planned development elsewhere the borough, especially less sensitive urban areas not protected by Green Belt. • Sites unsustainable. Key infrastructure lacking. No adequate provision is made to increase it – e.g. poor wastewater capacity, lack of schools, absence of traffic management plan, flooding. • No account taken of additional impact of Wisley Airfield site on Horsleys. • Extension of settlement boundaries too permissive. Horsleys characterised by streets with development along only one side of the road. Policies allow too many adjacent green fields to be developed by squaring off boundaries and claiming they don’t contribute to Green Belt “openness”.

I OBJECT TO site A43a the on and off ramp at Burnt Common/Clandon – this will increase traffic problems, not help them! There will be a catastrophic increase in traffic resulting from spreading new housing estates across the area. Infrastructure considered here as an afterthought, rather than pre-condition of development. Should be a key issue for the rest of the plan. • Excessive housebuilding in countryside not supported by any funding or provision for infrastructure. • Heavy focus on building on greenfield sites inefficient and unnecessary: cheap for developers but much more expensive for the public who have to fund the infrastructure. • Draft CIL scale discourages use of brownfield land first. • No plan for organic increase in existing traffic congestion, let alone once thousands of houses are built across the countryside. Local roads hardly considered. Green Belt being eroded before road widening/improvement plans certain, encouraging over-development of greenfield sites.

I OBJECT TO POLICY P2 – Green Belt. I object to the insetting of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and the proposal that infilling is acceptable within a further 12 villages within the Green Belt. I am concerned that “infilling” is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Essentially, all the villages within the Green Belt are now vulnerable to extensive further development. Green Belt is supposed to be protected as a matter of national and local policy, but this policy seeks to justify development in a supposedly protected area, in breach of local manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation.

As a resident of Clandon Road, Burnt Common i find it incredible that GBC have failed to listen to the residents of Send and Burnt Common who previously in force have objected to the proposed Local Plan. Instead you seem to have made further changes that result in more development rather than less, failing in the duty of GBC to listen to residents.

It seems that you are simply ‘testing’ the patience of residents by repeatedly making further changes without realising that your proposals are completely unacceptable. It is unjust that you are focussing a disproportianate level of development in and around the Burnt Common and Send compared with our areas of the Borough.

I strongly object to any erosion of the green belt.

I live in Send GU23 & with regard to the local proposed building plans: I strongly object to the number of houses which are proposed for, we do not have the infrastructure in our village to sustain all the additional residents & traffic. Do not destroy our green belt, our beautiful countryside. Do not overload/over stretch our village with extra people & cars, we already have difficulties getting school places & doctors appointments.

In addition for these local plans I highly object to the limited consultation period given.

Please re consider - there must be other "brown" sites which could be built on which have the added infrastructure of being within larger towns ?

Thank you for your consideration.

There is a lot of wildlife in the area, my Mum’s home is directly opposite site A22 where there is an abundance of wildlife, even stag beetles which are endangered and protected. Frogs, birds, foxes, all sorts of things will be lost if the 140 planned homes and a care home are built on it.

I disagree with the proposal of many traveller pitches in Guildford, [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered contrary to the Council’s duty under the Equalities Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation against persons with a protected characteristic; and to foster good relations between persons with a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it]

The land off Keens Lane, Worplesdon (Site A22) in the GBC Draft Local Plan for the proposed development of 140 homes and a care home I believe is inappropriate for three main reasons:

1. The area is Green Belt, which should be retained and not built on. I am appending at the end of this email* the agreed Policy of Surrey County Council for your reference and urge that the green belt be protected by Guildford Borough Council.

2. Keens Lane is a narrow road (the word "lane" is a clue) and building more homes there would entail the widening of the road, but this does not account for the fact that at the far end, near to Gravetts Lane/Tangle Lane, it is constricted and the area is already congested. Since the new housing has been built the traffic in the lane is uncontrolled and many cars speed along it. There are often near collisions on the brow of the hill on the lane as traffic speeds faster and faster and I fear for my sister who often rides her horse along it and encounters drivers who have no consideration for welfare of her or her horse and don’t slow down.

3. The proposed development site is close to Whitmoor Common and a Site of Special Scientific Interest, and would have a damaging effect on ecology and wildlife. It is also bounded by Broadstreet Common. The open nature of Worplesdon should be retained.

I write to object most strongly to the proposals to build on Guildford’s greenbelt land. Past Governments made the policy of greenbelt to protect it for the country, the people and the wildlife and for new Governments to erase these policies makes the making of any policy a farce if, in time, it can be overwritten.

Building new homes is treating the symptoms of over population. All it will bring about is more population and more housing needs. The causes need to be treated, the Government and local authorities should be addressing the causes of over population, not eternally accommodating it. The infrastructure of Guildford cannot take any more population. The Aldershot road is always heavily congested in the morning and evening, the A322 around the Brookwood area is regularly congested and more housing in Guildford would add to this problem, the same for Burpham, Jacobs Well etc. Concreting over the land creates more flooding, with all the rain this summer the flooding is more than evident.

* It is Surrey County Council policy (March 2013) by a Motion agreed at a Full Council meeting of Surrey County Council about the Green Belt:

Surrey County Council, March 2013
RESOLVED (unanimously):

Council notes:

1. Surrey County Council has a proud history as the creator of the Green Belt. The County’s Countryside Estate founded by the Surrey County Council Act of 1931 was the basis of the London County Council’s Green Belt Act of 1938.

2. The Coalition Agreement states:

‘We will maintain the Green Belt, Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs) and other environmental protections, and create a new designation – similar to SSSIs –to protect green areas of particular importance to local communities.’

Council believes:

Surrey’s Green Belt, Countryside Estate, SSSIs and other green spaces are vital, not only for the county’s environment but also for maintaining a “green lung” around London.

Council resolves:

1. To use its power to protect Surrey’s Green Belt.
2. To support the National Planning Policy Framework (section 9 – paragraphs 79 to 92) and the Government’s policy of protecting the Green Belt.
3. To make Surrey’s MPs and the County’s Districts and Boroughs aware of this resolution.
4. That any Green Belt development in the County is in line with the needs and wishes of Surrey residents
I object to the Policy A43 at Garlicks Arch because it ignores the thousands of previous objections and this is Green Belt and Ancient Woodland. No Exceptional Circumstances exist here for ignoring Green Belt. There is no justification for Travelling Showpeople plots - why are these required? It is overdevelopment of the area and the number of homes planned is excessive. The land is prone to flooding and is also contaminated with lead shot.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I also object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because although it was taken out of the 2014 Draft plan it has now reappeared with Maximum now replacing the word Minimum. There is no need for commercial, industrial and warehouse development in the middle of the Green belt when Slyfield still has many empty sites.

The 140 residencies and care home development on Keens Lane will impact again on the greenbelt, the area is already choked with traffic and choked with pollution. Keen lane is a single lane road how on earth will it cope with additional traffic. The development is very close to Whitmore common and would impact on the sensitive ecology of the area. The proposed development is sited on a vital wildlife corridor between Whitmoor and broad street common, such corridors being a matter of major government concern.

I object to the number of homes (14,000) that are been proposed, 690 per year till the end of the plan. This is unsustainable, the area will not cope with the additional infrastructure needed and increased traffic. It will encroach on to our greenbelt, a natural corridor for wildlife. Studies have already shown that the already existing traffic congestion cannot been solved so why on earth add more. Just think of the pollution that will affect the health of the local residents as stationary cars bellow out continuous fumes day after day. We need our greenbelt, Guildford needs it’s greenbelt.

Having read a leaflet from award winning property developers Dandara, I agree that the Council should consider smaller more proportionate development on lower quality Green Belt sites, rather than large-scale growth on some of the most sensitive Green Belt and countryside in the Borough.

For example their land adjacent to the A246, near West Horsley.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I object to developments in Send rushed through into the draft local plan.

I object to the 400 houses and 7000 square metres of industrial and warehousing proposed for the GREEN BELT land at Garlick’s Arch. Where is the sound evidence that further housing and industrial space is needed in Send? The Government promised protection of the Green Belt. How is it that GBC can just override this? Once you start building on Green Belt there is no stopping and no going back. And for what purpose? There are no exceptional circumstances to build this large number of houses plus industrial space on Green Belt land. Where are all these people? Martin Grant has slipped in 6 new homes recently and more houses are planned near Vision Engineering. There is already industrial space in Tannery Lane plus the Marina and warehousing at Burnt Common (where there was to be housing – now cancelled). 400 houses will bring another 800 cars on to the roads plus an indeterminate number of children with insufficient school places. Doctors’ surgery would be overwhelmed.

I object to the proposed junction on the A3 at Burnt Common. More Green Belt land lost there. I live in Send Barns Lane and every morning and evening the road is at a standstill. Send is a village and cars can be parked on the road and people need to cross the road at various places. The heavy traffic coming through it to get onto the A3 at Burnt Common would absolutely destroy Send.

I am writing to object to developments in Send rushed through into the draft Local Plan.

The 2016 Plan put forward was rejected by local residents from over 32,000 objections largely by Send Residents. Is the GBC not listening? The stealing of Green Belt land for domestic and commercial expansion and the many points put forward on the lack of infrastructure and environmental reasons have simply been ignored.

The Government has made clear that Brown Field sites must be used for future development and Green Belt land only to be used in very exceptional circumstances. What are the exceptional circumstances in this case? Send village has been most disproportionately targeted by the GBC for the proposed developments as now shown.

Our village which has many narrow roads has problems now in handling traffic on a daily basis. The additional traffic will simply add to the gridlock situations that arise every day.

Two sites in our village have changed three times by the GBC namely Burnt Common and Garlick's Arch which are now both back in contention. What is going on? These latest changes are totally unacceptable. The GBC seem to have some kind of rigid agenda to ignore residents' comments and to destroy what we have for future generations and not taking into account the problems of infrastructure and the environment which is required by Law.
The previous comments still stand. Is the GBC not listening to the previous objections of local people?

There are no exceptional circumstances existing to continue and over develop the Green Belt in this beautiful village with history dating back to Elizabethen times. The purpose of the Green Belt must not be ignored. We must safeguard our wonderful woodland and open countryside. This particular land I understand is a flood zone 2 area and any further development will cause additional flooding during parts of the year. Local wildlife will also be affected. More additional traffic will bring pollution in air quality and noise. There is no justification for this proposal.

There is no need to build an industrial and warehousing development in the village of Send when Slyfield and Guildford have empty sites and industrial units.

The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for the whole Borough, not this massive allocation of 10 hectares all at Send in the Green Belt. The impact of heavy industrial lorries and vans is totally unacceptable. The additional dust, dirt, noise and road gridlock is just too much.

Green Belt, Policy 2 at para.4.3.15

Send Business Park now taken out of the Green Belt in its entirety.

I strongly object to the proposal to remove Send Business Park from the Green Belt. It is effectively an old-conforming user in an area of beautiful open countryside enjoyed by local residents for walking and local wildlife all along the Wey Navigation.

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockburn in Tannery Lane because instead of reducing demands the GBC have chosen to increase the number of new home by a third. All previous reasons for objection have been ignored making far worse the present access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and the A247 junction. Send must retain its Green Belt and not add to the problems of surface flooding during parts of the year. The river Wey Navigational Canal which flows through Send is a natural beauty and views for walking in open countryside. This must not be impacted further.

The road along Tannery lane is so narrow cars have to stop and allow oncoming cars to pass in places.

Lorries jam up now, more will be ridiculous.

Any further development here is most unacceptable.

I also object most strongly to the Winds Ridge, Send Hill Site. 40 more homes and 2 travellers site would be totally unacceptable in what is a quiet country lane and no pavements. The plot many years ago was used as a landfill site and has vents, surely providing a point that this is not a suitable area to build on top of which - once again is green belt!

To say that I absolutely have no faith in our Conservative Borough Council is an understatement. Elected again on the belief that they would help preserve our precious Green Belt - they seem to be hell bent on doing the exact opposite. All under the illusion of more affordable houses being built. Nonsense. When was there last a development of one or two bedroom houses or flats for the young and needy. Why? because the developers and councils alike keep more benefits from larger, more expensive buildings.

REPRESENTATIONS ON BEHALF OF BLOOR HOMES LTD AND MMES MELVILLE-RAE, CHICK, KELLOCK AND MCDAVID.

Introduction

Bloor Homes Ltd are working with Mmes Melville-Rae, Chick, Kellock and McDavid, to promote land at Gosden Hill Farm for future development.

Part of the land concerned is identified within the strategic allocation at Gosden Hill Farm which is the subject of Policy A25. The principle of this strategic allocation is supported.

In addition, a larger area of land immediately to the east of the allocated site, at Nutbourne Fruit Farm, is also promoted for inclusion as part of the strategic allocation. This parcel of land comprises a single building and an area of land used for car boot sales with its own access from the A3.

Scope of Representations

In these representations we comment on the following matters:

- The spatial strategy, the distribution of new housing and Green Belt;
- The scale of new housing proposed and the objectively assessed need; and
- The Gosden Hill strategic site

Together, the representations demonstrate why the Local Plan cannot presently be considered to be sound but that the allocation of this additional parcel of land will address this.

Gosden Hill Farm Strategic Allocation

We support, as a matter of principle, the identification of the strategic allocation at Gosden Hill Farm. Development adjacent to the main urban area affords sustainability and accessibility advantages and comprises a logical extension to the pattern of growth in Guildford contained by transport infrastructure. The mixed use nature of the proposed development envisaged by Policy A25 will lead to a juxtaposition of land uses that contribute to an intrinsically sustainable new community. Added to which, the transportation measures identified will strengthen accessibility to, and the vitality of, the town centre. Moreover, the Green Belt Study has identified the location (land parcels C1 and C2) as being of Medium Sensitivity; very few locations around Guildford have this status.

Within the Green Belt Study the land concerned is located within parcel C3. It is of note that within the Green Belt Purposes Assessment Schedule (page 28) the only Green Belt function that land within C3 serves is preventing neighbouring settlements from merging. It is this less significant that than within C2 which perform two Green Belt functions.

The land concerned is partly located within the strategic allocation; that being the land north east of Nuthill Farm. The remainder of the land is situated immediately to the east of the current boundary of the allocation. The land concerned is situated immediately south of the A3 (Ripley By-pass) and west of the A247. Overall, it measures approximately 19 hectares in size.
We are seeking the inclusion of this additional parcel of land for the following reasons:

The land use requirements of Policy A25 are considerable, as is necessary with a mixed use development of this scale. The land-take implications of these uses, the associated physical infrastructure requirements and the need to protect existing green infrastructure are similarly considerable. We note that the residential dwelling capacity of Areas C1 and C2 within the Green Belt Study identify on some 1600 new dwellings, somewhat below that required by the allocation. The additional land available at Nutbourne Fruit Farm will add surety that the strategic allocation can be delivered, thus its inclusion within the identified area will add flexibility to the plan.

The housing land supply strategy set out in Table 1 (when added to completions actual and estimated between 2013 and 2018) does not provide the necessary flexibility to give surety that the overall strategic housing requirement of 13,800 additional dwellings over the plan period will be met. With total supply estimated at on 14,400 additional dwellings, this represents less than 5%. This is not considered to be adequate in the circumstances of this plan and the nature of the housing supply strategy. Enlarging the Gosden Hill Farm allocation will further strengthen housing supply in a manner entirely consistent with the strategy.

None of this land is situated within the area of high sensitivity as regards Green Belt function and in this regard is indistinguishable from the allocation as a whole. Optimising development at Guildford through the inclusion of this land is beneficial to the release of less sustainable Green Belt land in villages and or less accessible non Green Belt land. Development of the parcels concerned will not lead to coalescence with West Clandon.

This amendment will be consistent with national planning policy, strengthening this flexibility and deliverability of one on the plan’s major housing allocations. The amendment sought is shown on the attached plan.

Without prejudice to the support given to Policy A25 and the proposed enlargement sought through these representations, we comment below on the infrastructure requirements identified for the proposed development.

The second bullet point refers to development proposal needing to have regard to the potential opportunity to provide an all movements junction of the A3 trunk road with the A3100 London Road, the B2215 London Road, and the A247 Clarendon Road.

At best this is an aspiration and is referred to in such terms in the June 2016 Transport Strategy. Put simply, the business case to secure such funding has not been made out and there are significant planning and statutory approvals that are necessary. To the best of our knowledge there are no plans to exhibit what is in fact referred to. The indicative programme within the Transport Strategy does not include reference to SRN11. Similarly, the associated Transport Topic Paper does not refer to SRN11. Neither is it referred to in draft Infrastructure Delivery Plan.

On this basis, the masterplanning exercise will need to adopt a realistic approach to the likely delivery of this so as not to preclude development opportunities unnecessary. The representors would welcome the opportunity of participating in the masterplanning exercise with Martin Grant Homes.

Summary

The representors own land that is identified within the Gosden Hill Farm strategic allocation which is the subject of Policy 25. They support the principle of this strategic allocation.

In addition, however, they seek the enlargement of this site to include an additional land parcel immediately north east of the current boundary of the allocation. The land concerned is no different in Green Belt categorisation to that of the land allocated. It is presently occupied by a single building and is used for car boot sales. Development would therefore represent a more effective use of the land concerned.

Enlarging the allocation in the manner proposed would provide additional development opportunities to ensure the housing requirements of the Plan are met.

This amendment will address the potential finding of unsoundness on the basis that the strategy is not fully compliant with national planning policy and will add greater flexibility.

The Strategy

The supporting text to the Local Plan’s spatial development strategy – set out in paragraphs 4.1.5 to 4.1.9 - rightly identifies the pre-eminent role of Guildford within the Borough and the wider sub-region.

Para 4.1.6 identifies that Guildford Town Centre and Urban Areas is the preferred focus for development in sustainable locations, ahead of inset villages and identified Green Belt villages. In the context that these locations cannot meet all of the Borough’s development needs, the strategy, summarised at Para 4.1.8, rightly affords a role to urban extensions to Guildford, along with Ash and Tongham.

However, this strategy is not expressed in any Policy. Policy S2 simply concerns the quantum of housing and employment land and traveller pitches that are to be provided during the plan period.

As such, the Local Plan does not give the strategic direction to new development in a fashion appropriate to its role as the Development Plan. This should be corrected.

The location of future development and the strategy has been guided to a large extent by the Green Belt Study, given its extensive influence within the Borough. The Green Belt Study (Pegasus, 2013) states that opportunities to accommodate appropriate development within the designated ‘Countryside beyond the Green Belt’ located outside of the Green Belt ought to be explored prior to those located within the Green Belt. This is not consistent with national planning policy. As an approach, it ignores the emphasis in the NPPF on sustainable patterns of development being achieved when Green Belt is being reviewed. Indeed, the correct interpretation and application of Green Belt policy in the NPPF is to consider this as a factor in determining whether exceptional circumstances exist to amend the Green Belt rather than affording a priority to non-Green Belt land in the first instance.

Given the relative sustainability and accessibility advantages of Guildford, in comparison with other locations, the strategy should ensure that development opportunities around Guildford are prioritised and optimised in advance of consideration of other locations, be they beyond the Green Belt or development at villages inset within the Green Belt.

In this regard opportunities to enlarge the strategic allocation at Gosden Hill Farm should therefore be considered.

Housing Provision

The housing requirement set by the consultation document is specified in Policy S2 and intends for 13,860 new homes to be built over the plan period (2013-2033). This is derived from the October 2015 Strategic Housing Market Assessment undertaken for the West Surrey Housing Market Area. It proposes a housing requirement of 693 dwellings per annum (or 13,860 over a 20 year period). As para 4.1 of the SHMA (Guildford Summary) states, this, in accordance with the Planning Practice Guidance, take account of the level of housing provision which is expected to be needed to support economic growth and improve affordability. As a principle, this is to be welcomed.

We are aware that the DCLG published new household projections in July 2016, which are, by definition, more recent than those upon which the SHMA is based.

Nationally, over the period from 2012 to 2037, annual average household growth is projected to be 214,000 per year, higher than the 2012-based household projections figure of 210,000 per year for the same period.

For Guildford, the SHMA draws upon the 2012 based household projects, which suggested a demographic need for 517 dwellings per annum. In contrast the latest 2014 based household projection (live table 406) shows a household change averaging 600 per annum between 2013 and 2033. Prima facia, these latest household projections, which are to be the starting point in determining housing requirements, suggest that the housing requirement in the consultation document needs to be reviewed and potentially increased.

Turning to the housing supply, and in the context of the likelihood that the housing requirement will need to increase, the estimates of supply do not provide sufficient certainty that the housing requirement will be met.

The housing land supply strategy set out in Table 1 (when added to completions actual and estimated between 2013 and 2018 from the Housing Land Availability Assessment) does not provide the necessary flexibility to give surety that the overall strategic housing requirement of 13,800 additional dwellings over the plan period will be met.

With total supply estimated at 14,400 additional dwellings, this represents theoretical oversupply of less than 5% of the strategic requirement. It is important to recognise that not all sites will be developed as anticipated, not all planning permissions will be implemented, permissions may lapse or sites may be developed for alternative uses. The flexibility proposed is not considered to be adequate in the circumstances of this plan and the nature of the housing supply strategy. This is especially the case when the evidence suggests that the housing requirement may in fact be a minimum requirement.

Moreover, it is necessary for the Local Plan to be founded on satisfactorily achieving the ‘duty-to co-operate’ requirement of the Act. In this instance, the inter-relationship with London is especially relevant, where is it already known that the City’s housing requirement is vastly greater than that which can be provided. The SHMA appears to set to one side the London Migration analysis, which would suggest an additional 568 households, in favour of the 2012 based household projections. Clearly, in the context of both the DTC and the most recent household projections this does not seem to be an appropriate assumption. This again implies a higher housing requirement will be likely.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings and the development of up to 600 houses in East Horsley

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1. I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2. I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3. I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4. I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5. I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6. I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow roads in Ockham, East Horsley and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
   4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25, specifically around junction 10 of the M25 and the A3 Guildford bypass. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

7. I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8. I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9. I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities. We moved to East Horsley to enjoy living in the countryside not in an overpopulated urban sprawl.
After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

It is hard to see how the NPPF objectives of sustainable development are going to be achievable with sites in areas which will more or less mandate car usage, and where alternative forms of transport are not always good. Any developments on the Wisley site will probably create significant transport requirements which will be difficult to satisfy as although changes have been made to local stations to accommodate longer trains, I believe it will be hard for the train operators to provide a significantly enhanced service with the greater capacity commensurate with the size of developments which might be proposed. Besides, sustainability does not mean that most people have to be commuters travelling into London, or occasionally Guildford and other locations. Other public transport in the areas around Horsley, Wisley and Effingham is currently rather poor, and subject to erratic change on a year by year basis. For example, the route into Horsley and Effingham (bus 479) was for a short period via Horsley, Effingham Junction and Bookham stations, thus making travel to and from stations easier. That only lasted a short while, and the current route for that bus now only travels via Bookham station, thus reducing the usefulness of bus as a mode of transport. Bus services are poorly used, but there is a chicken and egg situation, as if the buses don’t go where people need to travel, they will find other means, such as using private cars. Taxi provision in some areas of Guildford borough is expensive and not always reliable. There could usefully be some revision of how taxis operate. Many private taxi firms will charge high rates for local journeys, perhaps to discourage such journeys, as presumably journeys to the airports at Heathrow and Gatwick are more profitable.

While much of the plan is at a high level, I noted one detail at a consultation meeting. Many residents of areas such as Horsley and Effingham are now over 60 years of age, and have some mobility problems. Some are chronic, while others are temporary – for example after having had operations for hips, knees etc. Those older members of the community who do still try to travel by train can have difficulty at stations such as those at Horsley and Effingham Junction due to the need to cross the line by a footbridge, and there are no lift or other facilities to improve the situation for them. Indeed the advice for wheelchair users at Effingham going to London is to take the train to Guildford, then take the train back to London – to avoid crossing the line. This is really unacceptable. At Horsley it would be possible to improve the access to the station on the up-side (north of the railway bridge) by a footpath, which would allow rail travellers to reach the platform without having to go over the bridge, and a relatively easy slope would make that possible. Such changes and improvements to infrastructure could enable local residents to remain in their homes for longer, which might overall represent a more efficient use of houses and other facilities than creating pressure on them to move elsewhere or into care homes before they really feel the need to.

I hope that my comments regarding the revised plan will be taken into account.
I have read some of the documents on your website and it appears to me that some of the articles are written assuming that the decision has been made to house many more people than can be sustained in the area.

It is surely self-evident that traffic in the area cannot be increased without significant degradation of the living standards of the current population.

Two examples will clearly demonstrate this. The first is the commuter trains that head to London every morning and return every evening. Your staff, since they are based in Guildford, will not have experienced the overcrowding that is apparent every day of the week. Delays are frequent and the trains inadequate - among other things they do not have air-conditioning.

No doubt your response will be that the platforms are being extended and will be able to accommodate more passengers. My view is that, with the extended platforms, the current commuter traffic can be accommodated; not increased traffic resulting from all the additional houses that are planned.

Secondly, it appears from your plans that road traffic will be alleviated by the realignment of roads around the A3 / M25 junction. This is a complete fallacy. I travel on the road from Horsley to Cobham every weekday morning and find that 90% of the time the M25 heading clockwise is backed up and unable to move around 7:30 in the morning. What hope is there to improve this situation if the A3 / M25 junction is improved. This will do nothing to improve the traffic flow on the M25 which is already a dangerously crowded road at rush hour.

There are many other objections that I have and I feel that the views of the majority of current residents are being rode roughshod over by studies that purport to claim that the expansion of housing in the area will be achieved with minimal disruption.

I therefore submit my objection to these schemes in the strongest terms to ensure that the countryside is preserved and we do not all end up in continuous traffic jams and dangerously overcrowded trains.

I look forward to hearing that these plans are stopped in the near future and also look forward to your reply to confirm that you are of a similar view.

I wrote in 2014 to explain the reasons why I am very concerned about the number of houses planned for the area around the Horsleys. I have copied the email below.
Please note that I have also attached an article from the New Civil Engineer magazine which is the magazine of the Institution of Civil Engineers.

It highlights the problems encountered locally on the M25 at present and shows how the reliability of travel is declining year on year. Adding more houses in the area will only make the problem worse.

Finally, please explain why I need to write a second time on the same subject. You surely have the email below on record.

I am extremely concerned with the proposals that are laid out in the New Guildford Plan. Building over 12,000 houses will cause enormous disruption during the process and subsequently when these houses are occupied. Examples of my concern include:

1) Additional traffic at the A3 / M25 junction which is already heavily congested at rush hour.

2) Additional cars at the Horsley shops by the station and near the Duke of Wellington. These shops are crowded already particularly on Saturdays.

3) The potential increase in cyclists’ deaths on the roads around Horsley and the Wisley airfield. The road from Cobham to East Horsley is already heavily trafficked by cyclists. Heavy lorries during construction and subsequently traffic from the owners of the new houses will significantly increase the risk of deaths.

4) The train service from Horsley and Effingham Junction is already overloaded at rush hour. The additional house will make commuting by train to London impossible; if not for Horsley and Effingham Junction users then further up the line to London.

5) It is interesting to note that the golf course in The Drift was planning to re-landscape the course. There were objections from the council complaining that heavy lorries would be dangerous around the narrow roads around East and West Horsley.

6) The narrow roads in the area cannot accommodate such heavy additional traffic.

I request that you reconsider such a plan immediately to prevent the congestion (and potential deaths) that will come from such ill-thoughtout ideas.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Re: Garlick’s Arch, Burnt Common

I strongly object to the proposed to develop the land known as Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common. This is a last minute change to the Local Plan and the manner in which this proposal was added by stealth is completely unacceptable. Due process was not conducted. My comments need to be seen by the Planning Inspector.

Public opinion is crucial as we all have to live and thrive in a community. Some reasonable growth in housing capacity is required and this has to be managed carefully and appropriately. The proposed development of in excess of 400 homes plus warehousing and industrial units is quite frankly ridiculous. The area simply cannot take any more. In the GBC’s literature (‘About Guildford’, Summer 2016) you state the following:

“One of the borough’s biggest assets is our significant green belt, and major consideration is given to protecting this.”

Borough Council election promises were to protect the Green Belt; evidence so far indicates that you are breaking these promises.

Key Reasons for objecting:

- Traffic Congestion: I object to what will be addition to the already congested roads in Send, Send Marsh and Ripley. The infrastructure in the area is not simply sufficient for hundreds of additional cars, haulage vehicles and cyclists, etc. The whole road system suffers greatly at peak times. g. travelling from Send to Woking station takes ¾ hour rather than the usual 10 - 15 minutes. Ripley High Street cannot cope with the peak traffic at the beginning and end of the day even now let alone with more and more vehicles being channelled through the bottlenecks of Ripley and Send. Send Marsh Road, Portsmouth Road into Ripley and Send are already highly congested in the mornings and a further 400 houses cannot be tolerated on the road infrastructure. The M25/A3 Junction 10 is clogged from 0700 in the morning to well after 0900 and the tailbacks on the M25 towards junction 10 from the east start from at least the Leatherhead junction. More vehicles as a result of all the potential new houses are going to create mayhem, further delay and accidents.

- The quality of the roads: I object to the quality of the roads; both in terms of surface and width simply are not up to greater use. There are many pot holes causing damage to cars and cyclists (NB personally experienced damage to the car) and the situation will only worsen with the greater population

- Local services: I object to the already stretched local services and facilities in the immediate area. The Villages Surgery that services Send, Send Marsh and Ripley – would not be able to take more and more people. It is already nearly impossible to get an appointment with a Doctor. Local schools do not have the capacity for more people. The letterbox at the junction of Send Marsh Road and Portsmouth Road has just been removed; again an underhand move I suspect with Royal Mail without consultation, as I expect you are already preparing the changes to the Send Marsh Road junction

- The beautiful countryside: I object to the fact that the countryside surrounding Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common is at risk of being lost. It needs to be preserved for future generations to enjoy. The area of Garlick’s Arch is agricultural green belt and ancient woodland and offers the appropriate break between the residential areas of Ripley and Send Marsh from the busy and noisy A3. I object to the continued onslaught by GBC of taking green belt land from the area which provides good breaks between Guildford, Woking and from the busy A3

- Air Quality: I object to the air pollution that will be greater if the industrial units and additional housing are built. More vehicles (especially haulage) will cause pollution. The area of Ripley, Send Marsh and Send are in a dip and has a micro climate; air pollution will languish in this dip

- The need for additional housing: I object to the assumption that additional housing is required in Send and Send Marsh. The need is simply not proven
• Industrial units: I object to the proposed relocation of industrial units from the proposal at Slyfield where there is sufficient and wanted expansion there

• The outlook from the Maple Road development in Send Marsh: I object to losing the view of the beautiful canopy of trees that line the view towards the A3 from Maple Road. The proposed development at Garlic’s Arch will destroy the skyline

Please do not destroy the existing communities that live in harmony with their environment (only just!) within the Send, Send Marsh, Ripley and Clandon areas.

Policy A42 – Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane. I strongly object to the change of increasing the number of homes in the draft local plan. As in my comments in the paragraph above, this is in an area of natural beauty and it will be destroyed by building upon it. The traffic infrastructure simply cannot take it. Policy A43 – Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh. I strongly object to the change of increasing the number of homes because it simply disregards all previous legitimate objections. The loss of the well developed woodland would have catastrophic effect on noise and air pollution levels. The current dense woodland absorbs much of the vehicle exhaust fumes from the A3 traffic (which is consistent 24 hours a day) and helps to reduce noise levels for the neighbourhood. All plants and trees absorb pollution. Please remember that Send and Send Marsh are in a geographical dip and air pollution is caught in this dip. In addition, there will be over development of our village which is already struggling with lack of infrastructure (traffic and services).

Policy A58 – Land at Burnt Common. I strongly object to the new allocation for a minimum of 7,000sq m of industrial or warehousing. This is a change from the previous ‘maximum’ in the 2016 plan. There is simply not the demand for this type of development. In addition, the roads are already plagued with too many lorries which causes disruption, damage to roads/kerbs and creates more and more pollution.

We write again, as we did in 2014, to protest strongly against the new Local Plan and the effect it will have on East and West Horsley. We came to this locality ten years ago, having lived in Guildford for over 30 years, with the hope of spending our retirement in a village community and in an area guarded by green-belt legislation.

This new Local Plan is, once again, an attack on the green belt, in that much of the area is now being changed as a result of a new “village boundary”. The large number of new houses planned for our two villages will have a huge adverse effect on the present community and the balance we now have of shops, schools and light industry. Our narrow road system already suffers from too much traffic, and the dangers will be heightened.

This Local Plan, ill-judged like its predecessor, and published despite strong local opposition, gives the impression of an act of planning vandalism against a semi-rural part of the Borough. What more do people have to do to voice their dissent?

It is evident that if the development of the Wisley airfield proceeds, all we say will be exacerbated greatly. We strongly object to that too.

Surely the Borough has a duty to protect its inhabitants, having regard to where they now live and the manner of living they now enjoy. Your Plan takes no account of that. Please will you listen to our objections.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

We have objected to the Plan in previous years on a number of grounds, including -

1. the removal of the benefits of green belt status for East Horsley;
2. the very adverse effect the Plan will have on our village life, with a much increased population but no corresponding improvement in roads and road use, parking, schools, medical facilities;
3. the significant additional effect on this infrastructure of the proposed development of Wisley airfield.

The 2017 Plan shows limited changes to the previous plan, and all these concerns remain.

What is puzzling and angers many of us is that the original idea of consulting the local population was made with much ado. Our voice was to be heard and acted on. The huge response showed an overwhelming wish not to endanger the green belt. Yet the 2017 Plan is largely unchanged, and the same concerns apply.

Is your lengthy and costly consultation only a sham? Is this Plan to go ahead regardless of what most people sincerely feel? Who does the Borough Council represent?

I object to the proposal of building 140 new dwellings plus a care home on land bordering Keens Lane for three main reasons:

1. The site being proposed is in very close proximity to Whitmoor common which is a designated SPA and as such should be protected from the affects that any nearby housing would bring.
2. Keens Lane would lose completely its current rural charm.
3. The area is designated Green Belt and as such should not be built upon.

I also am entirely opposed to the University Plan to build a vast number of houses on land at Blackwell Farm. I did query the building of the Sports Centre and although it is very nice, is it really used to the full potential by the University and local area? If houses or student flats had been built instead we would not be in such a crisis situation now with lack of available accommodation.I certainly do not agree with vast swaths of the Hog's Back being turned into a housing estate. However, a few three story flats at the lower end would not have such an impact and as there is such a need I would agree with that idea.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

firstly I do appreciate the need for more housing, especially at the affordable prices but I do not agree with the premise that there is no available land other than Green Belt Land. I feel that this land is sacrosanct and should not be used at any cost. If once we start infringing it 1.6% this year and another percentage another year, in no time at all it will be gone. I feel this is our inheritance for future generations and we should protect it at all costs. I know it is a timely exercise but there are available small brown fill sites to be found which could be used instead. Of course the plan for 140 houses near to us at Keen ’s Park could not be accommodated in small areas, but if each area had half a dozen the impact would not be so great and pressure on the infrastructure would be far less. As to the mentioned 140 houses, it is far too many for our area and this will greatly impact the green corridor to Whitmoor Common which the environmentalists are so keen to preserve, and I agree with them.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We wish to object to the land North of Saltbox Road being developed as a burial ground. The site is within the Green Belt and is bordered almost entirely by protected areas of Whitmoor Common including a SPA. We do not feel that Guildford Borough Council has proved beyond any doubt that this site must be developed as a burial ground. There is enough burial space for all who want it (for 40 years) within the parish of Worplesdon at St. Mary’s Church, Brookwood Cemetery offers a burial 10 anybody who lived within 17 miles of the Cemetery and there is a natural burial site at Clandon (Mole Valley Council use this for their residents). There are crematoria in Guildford (to be refurbished as 72% of the people of this country opt for cremation) and Woking. Godalming Borough Council has offered Guildford residents burial space (enough for many years) at Eashing Cemetery which is approximately the same distance from the centre of Guildford as Guildford Crematorium. The signage and lighting and the considerable building work (see below) would conflict with the openness of the Green Belt and the wild life would suffer through noise and light pollution (there would be lights for the offices, and ceremony room, to deal with unsocial behaviour and facilitate grave digging). Deer have been seen grazing on the site now that the horses have moved away and bats have been reported there.

If you refer to our local Ordnance Survey map you will see from the contours that the site has a considerable slope from from Mount Pleasant (45 AOD) down to Saltbox Road (41 AOD). This slope is not mentioned in the report prepared for the owners of the site. (Please refer to your “get involved” website.) This is very obvious from our lounge, dining room and bedroom windows and our back garden. We can see most of the field despite a six foot fence/wall around our garden. The field is bordered by a natural deciduous hedge and trees.

If you refer to the Environment Agency map (which is Appendix 0 Risk of Ground Water Flooding on your website) you will see that the area around and within our garden and down towards the railway bridge (including the triangle of common land at the lower right-hand boundary of the site which flanks the road leading UIJ to Mount Pleasant) is at risk of severe surface water flooding. Our garage which is close the Southside of Saltbox Road floods regularly. We are told this is surface water run-off from the surrounding areas! The tenants who rented "the horsefield" for grazing for 25 years say that the site floods (This is recorded on your get involved website). There is also an attenuation water course which runs under Saltbox Road to Brittens Pond which is very close to this site.

The site would require a car park (despite your remarks) as all average between 40 and 80 people attend a burial (more for natural burials which must be catered for and for some religions when the whole ceremony has be held by the grave). Parking all Saltbox Road is forbidden. Parking is not allowed on our grass verges as these are sights plays because of the dangerous bend and camber of the road and it was Highways Authority planning condition that they must not be obstructed. Parking inside Saltbox Cottages, an unadapted road without invitation is trespassing. The road UP towards Mount Pleasant is narrow. Grange Road already has a major problem with on-street parking and Cumberland Avenue is sometimes impassable by buses because of parking. Public transport is limited and walking from the Britten's Pond carpark or Saltbox Road carpark would encourage mourners (often elderly) to walk in the road and under the railway bridge which is dangerous. There are no residential roads that can lake the excess parking as there are near Stoke cemetery. There would be a large ceremony room (or perhaps several because 10 comply with the law it would be a multi-faith site) plus a waiting room, toilet facilities, gatehouse, storage and offices. We worry that this amount of building and the graves themselves would cause obstruction to the natural drainage process through the grass and it would increase our flooding and the "wetspot" under the railway bridge would flood frequently closing the road to traffic as has happened on many occasions in the past. We fear contaminated "grey" water would drain on our property and the SPA. Our water supply enters the property car our gale on Saltbox Road. The carpark would encourage dogwalkers onto Whitmoor Common as the gate of the burial ground would be open from dawn to dusk 364 days a year and despite the remarks in the draft plan we fail to see how cars entering the site could be checked for dogs or people stopped when leaving through the gate with a dog on a lead!!! Increased damage to the heath land, SPA and wild life would be inevitable. All the building materials and equipment would come past Whitmoor Common because the railway bridge furtherdown Saltbox Road is too low for larger HGVs which frequently get stuck (despite signage) and cause disruption to the traffic.
The cross roads and pedestrian crossing would be car the dangerous bend in the road and would cause more congestion. There is no public transport along Sailbox Road and no pavements as the road is bordered by common land. Nobody knows how much traffic will be generated by the 1,000 houses, the primary school and the increased business opportunities in the Slyfield area and even if the CLLR is built many of the vehicles from there will travel along Saltbox Road on their way to and from Bagshot and beyond and schools and work on the other side of the Worplesdon Road and vice versa. This together with potential building at Keens Lane, Merrist Wood and Tangley Lane can only add to the problem. Salt box Road is approximately one mile long with a roundabout at each end and traffic lights in the middle. In the rush hours and at many times during the day the traffic struggles to negotiate the roundabouts resulting in traffic jams in both directions outside our gate which spread onto the Waking Road, Worplesdon Road and Grange Road. The northern ring road is not and will not be a thing of the past so please do not make it worse! We call no longer sit in our back garden which borders Saltbox Road (less than three meters from our fence) because of the fumes from the stationary traffic, the rattling of the HGYs and the noise from car radios. It is impossible to hold a conversation. The only respite we get is about three hours in the middle of Christmas Day. The cumulative increase in traffic will overwhelm Saltbox Road,(which was congested before Queen Elizabeth Park was developed) Worpleston and us. The Campaign to Protect Rural England reports that developments in Mayford will also impact on Saltbox Road which is a C road " under stress". Any development on this site particularly involving public access would be disastrous for many reasons and it should be retained as grazing land or added to the common.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane due to the following points:
The site has very restricted access along Tannery Lane which is single track for most its length only capable of providing access for cars in one direction. Development of the site is not therefore sustainable or practical with 45 homes, so an increase of 33% is just ridiculous.

Tannery Lane already provides access to a Business Park which generates a considerable amount of traffic at all times of the day including lorries. This narrow country lane cannot cope with traffic for 45 extra homes, so an increase is not going to work.

Planning consent has already been granted, rather unwisely given the access problems, for 84 flats and a marina. The traffic for this development has not yet been added to the current traffic situation.

The junction with Send Road has poor visibility and is dangerous for traffic entering and leaving Tannery Lane, so an increase in homes just exacerbates the problem.

This change ignores hundreds of previous objections. These have been made by people who live locally, the people who know the area best, they should be listened to, not pushed to one side.

Surface water flooding will be increased with the original number of homes, additional homes will make the situation worse still.

There is no proven demand for plots to accommodate Travelling Showpeople.

National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt land. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. It constitutes over development. These further changes to the plan are not required. It is an unsustainable location. It will undoubtedly cause traffic chaos on the minor surrounding roads.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion, anyone who lives in these areas will confirm that this is the case. Substantially more vehicle movements will result in even more congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
This area contains ancient woodland dating back to the 16th century, which should be preserved. There is no good reason to tamper with it.

This site is identified as being in a Flood Zone 2 and regularly floods during winter months.

This site contains land which is heavily contaminated by many years of shooting with lead shot.

Above all, the changes to this site have completely ignored the thousands of previous comments from residents (who know the area best of all) during the 2016 Local Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A58 Burnt Common due to the following points:

There is no requirement for new industrial or warehouse space as there is availability at Slyfield and Guildford Industrial estates, developing in this way is pure stupidity and is just building for the sake of it.

Additionally, this site is in the Green Belt, there are no exceptional circumstances to justify development here.

According to the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment there is a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land in the whole borough. Why is there a huge allocation of 10 hectares in Send? This policy has not been thought through at all.

Generally transport evidence for this policy is incomplete and unreliable. What would happen in reality would be serious accidents, major traffic jams twice a day and therefore excessive pollution.

Any extra traffic would cause traffic chaos in the local area with its small roads, adding commercial vehicles to this would be completely unsustainable.

This site was deleted from the 2014 Local Plan due to previous objections, why has it returned?

I wish to object to the draft local plan. I see that although the application for a development of over two thousand houses on and adjacent to Wisley Airfield (a New Town) was well and truly rejected, it is still on the draft plan. The idea of what is virtually a new town on the Green Belt of Surrey's countryside is appalling. The object seems to be to turn the beautiful Surrey Green Belt into one vast conurbation. The Green Belt areas were left as green 'lungs' between conurbations and were to be sacrosanct. It seems that there is no interest in 'brownfield' sites, maybe because they are more expensive to develop. It now appears that it is proposed to take three villages out of the Green Belt. (including Ripley, a charming small 'English' village, where I live). This would defeat the object of the Green Belt.

Apart from the issue of the Green Belt, there is also the issue of overcrowding of the narrow country lanes (I live on a lane where two cars cannot pass) and the consequent bottlenecks and gridlocks in local Guildford and on the A3 at busy times. It would appear that The 'Local Plan' would seek to increase the housing and business supply by 25 per cent over the next 15 years. The occupiers of any new properties would doubtless have two cars and add to the chaos. The infrastructure will not bear any further burdens. The local bus service is being reduced, the local Secondary Schools are already fully subscribed. It would seem that taking these three small country villages out of the Green Belt would only add to the danger and disruption of this already busy countryside. Please be guided by the people who live in the surrounding areas and let us keep our Green Belt!

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the removal of 15 villages, including Ripley and Send, from the green belt. This will lead to wholesale, and often inappropriate developments.

I OBJECT to the fact that GBC have not followed the correct process for Send and Ripley developments. Any significant changes to the 2014 proposals, such as the proposal development of Garlicks Arch, should have required another full consultation, which did not happen. This invalidates the whole process.

I OBJECT to the fact that GBC have failed to provide sound evidence in terms of the Employment Land Needs Assessment which shows that industrial space at Burnt Common IS NO LONGER NEEDED. You are not following the letter of the law, follow consultations and listen to public objections, stop trying to bring in underhand changes.

I OBJECT to Policy A43.30 the proposed development of Garlicks Arch designated for 400 houses and an industrial estate. This is a new site not included in the Regulation 18 draft and has NOT been consulted on previously. It is not only permanently protected green belt but also a site of ancient woodland with some trees planted in the 16th century.
I OBJECT to policy A43.30 the development of new four way interchange onto the A3 which would mean that narrow Send Road (A247) would be the main route for traffic leaving the M25 and A3. It is already crowded and vulnerable to traffic jams. Further traffic from this development would result in permanent gridlock. It simply would not work. I live on the A247 this road is always busy with extremely fast traffic, it can not take that volume of traffic as the local infrastructure is not good enough.

I OBJECT to policy A44 which would see 40 homes and two travellers' pitches on land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill. This was again a NEW site NOT included in 18 draft and therefore has NOT been consulted on previously. Once again this is Green Belt land partly containing unsafe landfill. Access is by a narrow lane which could never take the volume of traffic that would ensue from traveller's pitches. I appreciate they need somewhere to live, but this access is particularly bad and the road is busy enough with school traffic.

I OBJECT to the fact that the Local Plan takes no account of schools, doctors surgeries and roads that are already operating at full capacity. Another 4000 houses in this area with a conservative estimate of a further 8000 cars would be catastrophic. My son lives in Send and was unable to get into his nearest school as it was full!! Where are all these new children going to go!! The school is being rebuilt but not any bigger!! The extra land is being used for housing, more children, traffic and patients for doctors surgery.

Pls listen to public objections

Background

The University is the UK’s longest established specialist provider of legal education and can trace its origins back to 1876. The University moved to Braboeuf Manor on the Old Portsmouth Road in 1964. The campus comprises teaching accommodation and the University’s main office functions. The site is currently in D1 Use Class.

The Guildford campus has expanded since 1964 to provide additional on-site teaching accommodation. Approximately 700 students are currently educated at the Guildford campus and the University intends to increase the number of undergraduate places in law courses as well as introduce new business degrees at both undergraduate and postgraduate level at the University over the coming years. Accordingly, it is anticipated that the number of undergraduate and international students at the University will increase over the coming years. Both cohorts expect universities to provide student accommodation.

At present all the University students live off-site. The University does not own its own accommodation but instead has an arrangement with a number of private landlords who are able to offer some accommodation i.e. rooms in a shared house. The quality, type, extent and location of accommodation available in Guildford does not adequately provide for the needs of the University and is severely hampering its ability to attract students and grow in the future. These issues are exacerbated by the high cost of living in Guildford and raising expectations of the standard of accommodation required by students across the UK. It is vitally important that the University students have access to quality accommodation on-campus in the future and therefore the University welcomes the site allocation for student accommodation in response to the submission to the Council’s Call for Sites in January 2015.

The inset of the site from the Green Belt in paragraph 4.3.13 is also strongly supported by the University. The insetting of the site is considered to provide much needed flexibility to greater assist the University in meeting the needs of its students in the future. This approach by the Council is considered to be a positive response to paragraph 27 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) which encourages local planning authorities to take a proactive, positive and collaborative approach to development that will widen the choice in education.

However, the current drafting of Policy A33 for the site allocation states that “building higher than two storeys are unlikely to be suitable” and the associated plan limits the site of development to the existing car park in the north east corner of the site. These requirements are considered to unreasonably restrict future development at the site and for these reasons the University cannot support the site allocation in its current form. This is further explained below.

Site Location

The site location map appended to the site allocation identifies the development as appropriate within the car park to the north west corner of the University Campus. This reflects the positioning of the most recent schemes for future student accommodation. Nevertheless, the scheme for student accommodation on site is still emerging. Accordingly, it is important that the site allocation is sufficiently flexible to allow potential changes to the scheme in future, including a slightly amended layout, if required. The proposals would be appropriately assessed as part of the planning application process in terms of ecological, visual and heritage impact. Consequently, it is considered that the site allocation map should include the whole campus as subject to the site allocation, in line with that submitted as part of the Call for Sites Form submitted in January 2015.

Building Height

With respect to building height, the draft site allocation includes the following as one of its requirements:

“Significant regard to height of buildings (buildings higher than two storeys are unlikely to be acceptable)”.

This is a significant concern for the University in terms of the viability of the scheme. It is considered that in order for the scheme to be viable a building of more than two storeys is required. Paragraph 173 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) identifies that careful attention should be paid to viability to ensure that plans are deliverable. Therefore sites should not be subject to such policy burdens that their ability to be developed viably is threatened. Given that the scheme is still emerging, it is considered that the site allocation should be flexible in its wording to ensure that a viable scheme can be established. Accordingly, it is considered that in this case the statement that “buildings higher than two storeys are unlikely to be acceptable” is unreasonably restrictive on future development and should be removed.
Alternatively, it could make reference to the height of development being a sensitivity in planning policy terms, which would need to be tested as part of any planning application process.

Furthermore, the pre-application request submitted to the Council in March 2015 presented a scheme of 4 storeys which stepped up in response to the ground levels of the site. The pre-application advice (ref. 15/A/00333) stated that “the Council is unlikely object to the scale or height of the building where this does not give rise to harm such as harm to the AONB or harm to the Conservation Area.” Should it be decided to proceed with a development on the site, any harm associated with the building height will be fully assessed as part of the planning application process. The restriction to a height of two storeys in the site allocation is therefore considered to be excessive and unnecessary.

Conclusion

Para 4.2.18 of the Proposed Submission Local Plan states that to minimise pressure on the existing housing stock it is important that any significant increase in full time student number is matched by the provision of purpose built student accommodation. The University has continued plans for expansion including the increase of undergraduate and postgraduate students requiring on site accommodation and consequently intends to deliver on site student accommodation.

The University therefore welcomes the inset of the site from the Green Belt to better meet the needs of its students in the future. In addition the allocation of the site for student accommodation is strongly supported. However it is considered that the building height requirement and site location map are unduly restrictive on future development schemes, particularly in terms of viability. A scheme for student accommodation at the site is still emerging and accordingly it is considered that the site allocation should be sufficiently flexible to allow an appropriate and viable scheme to come forward. The location and building height would be rigorously assessed as part of any planning application to ensure acceptability in terms of the impact on the Green Belt, Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and Conservation Area for example. Accordingly, these restrictions in the policy itself are unnecessary.

We trust that the above comments will be taken into account by the Council during the preparation of the Local Plan for submission to the Planning Inspectorate for examination.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy P2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( Yes ), is Sound? ( Yes ), is Legally Compliant? ( Yes )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The inset of the site from the Green Belt in paragraph 4.3.13 is also strongly supported by the University. The insetting of the site is considered to provide much needed flexibility to greater assist the University in meeting the needs of its students in the future. This approach by the Council is considered to be a positive response to paragraph 27 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) which encourages local planning authorities to take a proactive, positive and collaborative approach to development that will widen the choice in education.

Site Location

The site location map appended to the site allocation identifies the development as appropriate within the car park to the north west corner of the University Campus. This reflects the positioning of the most recent schemes for future student accommodation. Nevertheless, the scheme for student accommodation on site is still emerging. Accordingly, it is important that the site allocation is sufficiently flexible to allow potential changes to the scheme in future, including a slightly amended layout, if required. The proposals would be appropriately assessed as part of the planning application process in terms of ecological, visual and heritage impact. Consequently, it is considered that the site allocation map should include the whole campus as subject to the site allocation, in line with that submitted as part of the Call for Sites Form submitted in January 2015.

Building Height

With respect to building height, the draft site allocation includes the following as one of its requirements:

“Significant regard to height of buildings (buildings higher than two storeys are unlikely to be acceptable)”.

This is a significant concern for the University in terms of the viability of the scheme. It is considered that in order for the scheme to be viable a building of more than two storeys is required. Paragraph 173 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) identifies that careful attention should be paid to viability to ensure that plans are deliverable. Therefore sites should not be subject to such policy burdens that their ability to be developed viably is threatened. Given that the scheme is still emerging, it is considered that the site allocation should be flexible in its wording to ensure that a viable scheme can be established. Accordingly, it is considered that in this case the statement that “buildings higher than two storeys are unlikely to be acceptable” is unreasonably restrictive on future development and should be removed. Alternatively, it could make reference to the height of development being a sensitivity in planning policy terms, which would need to be tested as part of any planning application process.

Furthermore, the pre-application request submitted to the Council in March 2015 presented a scheme of 4 storeys which stepped up in response to the ground levels of the site. The pre-application advice (ref. 15/A/00333) stated that “the Council is unlikely object to the scale or height of the building where this does not give rise to harm such as harm to the AONB or harm to the Conservation Area.” Should it be decided to proceed with a development on the site, any harm associated with the building height will be fully assessed as part of the planning application process. The restriction to a height of two storeys in the site allocation is therefore considered to be excessive and unnecessary.

Conclusion

Para 4.2.18 of the Proposed Submission Local Plan states that to minimise pressure on the existing housing stock it is important that any significant increase in full time student number is matched by the provision of purpose built student accommodation. The University has continued plans for expansion including the increase of undergraduate and postgraduate students requiring on site accommodation and consequently intends to deliver on site student accommodation.

The University therefore welcomes the inset of the site from the Green Belt to better meet the needs of its students in the future. In addition the allocation of the site for student accommodation is strongly supported. However it is considered that the building height requirement and site location map are unduly restrictive on future development schemes, particularly in terms of viability. A scheme for student accommodation at the site is still emerging and accordingly it is considered that the site allocation should be sufficiently flexible to allow an appropriate and viable scheme to come forward. The location and building height would be rigorously assessed as part of any planning application to ensure acceptability in terms of the impact on the Green Belt, Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and Conservation Area for example. Accordingly, these restrictions in the policy itself are unnecessary.
We trust that the above comments will be taken into account by the Council during the preparation of the Local Plan for submission to the Planning Inspectorate for examination.

More traffic, more pollution for a village that is already struggling along with The extra people needing the medical centre that is full to capacity and school places, limited travel from our rural bus service and few shops surely is not ideal. All the above needs addressing most importantly the road infrastructure.

I object to policy A42 Clockburn Nursery, Tannery Lane this site is classified as agricultural in the green belt. Access is unsuitable either way you whether off Send Road which is very busy and congested at peak times or via Papercourt Lane which is narrow. Tannery Lane itself is a very narrow bendy lane with poor sight lines and under pressure from existing traffic as there are many places that two cars cannot pass each other, the lane has no pedestrian footpath apart from a narrow uneven pavement at the top of the lane, the lane is prone to flooding. We have to consider planning application 04/P/00576 for 64 apartments already approved with the addition of these suggested 45 it would result in an increase of 500%. Also the recent approved application 16/P/002289 land to the north of Tannery Lane and east of Wharf Lane is noted that the nursery to the west of this site is Clockarn site A42 provides foraging habitat for bats. This would appear as a mitigation measure for approval of 16/P/002289 and it would not now be appropriate to destroy this wildlife corridor to the west of the marina development by building houses on the site.

I object to A43 Garlicks Arch and A43a proposed slip roads. 400 homes will have a huge impact on Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common, Ripley and Clandon, the already congested roads will be at full capacity, traffic is already stacked up at peak times on the roads around this area a lot of the roads are no more than country lanes causing chaos as drivers try to avoid sitting in waiting traffic. The loss of the Woodland and farming land along with wildlife habitat is too great for the surrounding villages. A recent application for 25 houses on the Oldlands site was refused so how is 400 right this time surely the same refusal comments and reasons would still apply.

I object to policy A44 Winds Ridge, this land is in the green belt and access to the proposed site is via Send Hill which a narrow road with no pedestrian pavements. The houses on this site will alter the beautiful views across the fields and grazing land.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery as I did previously and feel that to increase the number of homes from 45 to 60 in this draft and at this location after previous objections is unacceptable. Tannery Lane is a narrow lane at either end with no pavement apart from 250 metres on one side from the entrance off the A247 and many of the homes have no off street parking and park on the road causing passing problems to vehicles using Tannery Lane. The junction of Tannery Lane with the A247 is dangerous despite the recent addition of double yellow lines as the sight lines pulling out are very bad, this will worsen with the increased traffic from the proposed houses. The infrastructure of the A247 is at full capacity during rush hour with traffic queues and busy throughout the whole day any additional traffic will worsen this problem. Tannery Lane suffers from problems with Lorries and cars trying to pass on route to the Send Business Park, this will also become busier as the recent planning application for the Marina was passed and work has started. I have concerns for the Flora, fauna and wildlife in this area such as bats, deer, foxes and many different species of birds. This development could have an impact on the countryside and could affect the view from the Wey Navigation. Finally Tannery Lane is prone to flooding and this would need to be addressed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to Policy A43 which I previously objected to that this land is Green Belt, with ancient woodland. The development would have a huge impact on the Flora, fauna and wildlife in the vicinity and development on this land will join the villages of Ripley and Send together defeating the object of the Green Belt. The local roads, doctors, schools, amenities are already struggling to cope with the existing residents and would be under pressure and would definitely not be fit to serve residents from another 400 homes.

Finally the housing numbers in the Local Plan has reduced by 39 per annum but Send’s contribution has increased with no justification, I therefore feel that consideration should be made to firstly the existing infrastructure especially A247 Send Road, Clandon Road and Portsmouth Road at Ripley, the bus service, doctors, schools, shops etc. should any development within Send be approved.

I object to Policy A58 which was deleted from the 2014 draft, Industrial and Warehousing in this area will have a huge impact on all the local roads. Guildford Borough Council are not in need of moreIndustrial units as stated by them in a recent planning application at Tithe barn Farm to replace existing storage and warehouses with a small development of houses, Slyfield Industrial Estate is not used at full capacity so there is no need to build this in the middle of the Green Belt when other Brown site are available sited in a better location with better access.

I object to Green Belt Policy 2 paragraph 4.3.15 the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because of the narrow vehicular access at either end of Tannery Lane. The Business Park is situated adjacent to the River Wey and any further development of this area would ruin the openness of the countryside.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to make the following objections to the draft local plan.

I object strongly to the last minute addition to the local plan of 400 houses at Garlicks Arch - Site A43. Adding this proposal at the 11th hour seems at the very least underhand and smacks of trying to circumvent a proper consultation process. The proposal for 400 houses seems completely out of proportion and would put a severe strain on the local infrastructure and in particular traffic congestion. We saw a reduction for housing provision in Send from the 430 proposed in 2014 to 185 in April this year - so the dramatic and last minute increase to 485 is huge and goes against previous thinking. There are important environmental issues too as this 100 acre site containing ancient woodland would be lost forever.

I object to the exaggerated “housing need” figure of 13,860 which is far too high and results in the completely unnecessary development of the Green Belt. The way students, economic need and affordability are calculated inflates the housing need.

I object to the proposed industrial space of 7000 sq m at Garlicks Arch, Burnt Common - Site A43a as there does not seem to be a proven need. Indeed, if such a need was established, brownfield sites should be sought before eroding green belt land. It is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

I object to the proposed new 4 way junction at Burnt Common as this will massively impact on the local area and Send in particular. There is already a problem with traffic which at rush hour involves serious queuing and the A247 is likely to be gridlocked all day if this junction were to go ahead because of the additional volume of traffic. Send would be used as a cut through to the A3 and the M25. I object to the A25 Gosden Hill Farm 2000 housing proposal - such a proposal would hugely increase traffic levels if this 4way junction were to go ahead, causing significant traffic flow problems so close to Send and Ripley.

I object to the disregard for the Green Belt. It seems very cynical to alter the village boundaries and remove land from the Green Belt designation to facilitate development. It makes a mockery of Green Belt protection - Green Belt is vitally impotrant to protect our villages from becoming an urban sprawl and is even more important now with such pressures for development. The whole character of Send, Ripley and the local area would change irrevocably and we have a duty to protect our villages and the countryside from inappropriate and ill advised development. The Green Belt helps maintain a buffer between Guildford and Woking.

I object to the proposed huge development plans at the Wisley airfield site. Although it has been refused, it is subject to appeal and still appears to be a very real possibility. Such a large scale development would have a devastating effect on the character and amenities of the local area and the traffic levels would dramatically increase. The A3 is already struggling to cope with traffic at a standstill on several days each week, and not just at peak times, with accidents occurring regularly. This large proposed development of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield along with 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

I object to the proposed 45 homes on the former nursery-site A42. This land is low lying and subject to flooding. Tannery lane is narrow and twisting and unsuitable for the increase in traffic that such a development would inevitably bring. Also the land opposite [former vineyard] has been cleared and fibre optic cabling installed - no doubt preparing for future development and so the flood gates would be opening. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the marina will generate heavy traffic too. The road cannot take any more.

I object to the 40 houses and traveller pitches A44 at Winds Ridge and Send Hill - again a new addition to the local plan - not previously consulted on. It is a landfill site and its suitability is questionable and again Send Hill is a narrow, single track in places, country road which would be adversely affected by the increased traffic.

I object to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with proposed housing levels. Roads, doctors and schools and existing amenities will be unable to cope. 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt close to the A3, which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and A247 and surrounding roads, which are at present already struggling to cope.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban are which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt.

Would you please take into account these concerns and objections and write confirming that they have been duly noted.

Policy 2 Green Belt at Para 4.3.15 Taking the Send Business Park out of the Green Belt is cynical and just conveniently allows for further expansion/development at this location. It is effectively an old non-conforming user in a beautiful countryside on the picturesque Wey Navigation. Any additional business development in the future would impact adversely on traffic in Tannery Lane and is not suitable in the Green Bel.

<td>Policy A42 Clockbarn Nursery Tannery Lane. The proposal of a further 15 houses on what was already an unsuitable site on a narrow country lane in the Green Belt shows that the concerns of the many objectors have been ignored. Access and traffic problems in the Lane itself and onto the A247 will be exacerbated. The Green Belt is being further eroded and the nature of Send as a village would be changed. Flooding, which is already an issue would likely to be made worse. I am writing to formally lodge my objections to GBC's latest draft local plan. I have objected, as have a large number of others, on a number of grounds in the past bit I am appalled to see that not only have these legitimate concerns not been taken into account in the latest draft plan but indeed Send appears to have been earmarked to take addional housing provision. It is very cynical to remove areas previously designated Green Belt in and around Send to conveniently accommodate GBC's massive housing plans. <td>Policy A43 Garlicks's Arch. Again, this proposal has taken no accout of the huge number of objections. There has been no evidence to show the need for the addition of 6 travelling showpeople plots. The proposed enormous development in Green Belt is completely inappropriate and would change the village beyong measure creating a new town. Such overdevelopment in beautiful and ancient woodland would create a conurbation joining Send and Ripley. Green Belt is surely meant to protect against such a thing. There are really worrying issues about the great impact on traffic levels that such development would make on the local roads which are already congested, particularly at peak times. Having lived in Send for 20+ years and locally in West Horsley for some 8 years prior to that, I have seen a rise in traffic and congestion problems on our local roads over this period. Such a large scale housing proposal can only cause traffic chaos. Again, flooding is likely to be an issue and the area is currently a flood zone 2 allocation. Moreover the land is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over 50 years. What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document? Attached documents:</td>

Policy A58 Land at Burnt Common. This policy was deleted from the 2014 draft because of objections and yet inexplicably has been reintroduced.

In addition, despite a decline in demand for industrial development, the word "minimum" has been changed to "maximum" which gives carte blanche for future expansion. Green Belt should not be eroded for such a purpose particularly when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares here in Send. All this will again impact badly on traffic problems on our local roads and spoil the nature of the Green Belt and our villages of Send and Ripley.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river... flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.

13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.
25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

With regards to the A21 policy: Land at Westborough allotments, I wholeheartedly support the preservation of the allotment for two main reasons:

1) The open green space is a precious commodity, and

2) Potential access to the site via Broadacres would be unsustainable from a traffic perspective.

I OBJECT TO development of Wisley Airfield. This site is not and never will be suitable for the proposed new town of 2,000+ houses and 4,000+ vehicles. As a resident of Shalford and a member of Shalford LTC I wish to make known my objections to the current version of the local plan which removes the fields behind the Village Hall and Tennis Club from the Green Belt and puts them in the Shalford settlement boundary.

Although these fields have been classified as "open spaces" there is no explanation or confirmation to say that this would give them the same degree of protection as the Green Belt from housing development.

Any Construction on these fields which are 25ft above the village hall would tower over the tennis courts and bowling green and totally destroy the Green lung of the village.

The considerable traffic from a development would have to exit on Chinthurst lane not only adding to the traffic chaos and pollution but increasing the potential for an accident.

By implementing a small adjustment back to the 2003 boundary GBC could protect these fields and ensure they remain open spaces.

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt because the village and its countryside provides a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford.

I object to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick’s Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the (A247) would be gridlocked all day.

The Village infrastructure simple cannot take more people, school, doctors, roads are all under pressure now as things stand,
I object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre
Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

Sustainability

I object to all the proposed housing developments in Send (A42, A43, A44) because they will all promote the opposite of “encouraging sustainable forms of transport”, “conserving landscape character”, and “providing housing to meet local needs”, and most of the other Sustainability criteria. I object because, obviously as a resident, I can see for myself that local amenities at present are either inadequate or under strain, and therefore will not meet the required Sustainability criteria with the influx of another thousand or so people. The Sustainability report 2016 seems just to pay vague lip-service to GBC plans, rather than being properly fact-based, truthful, and pragmatic on these matters.

Green Belt

I object to the proposals to inset from the Green Belt the villages of Send, Send Marsh/Burnt Common, and Ripley, because (given the proposed developments in them, and the huge developments planned close by at Wisley and Gosden Hill Farm), the first three NPPF main guidelines on preserving the Green Belt are not being adequately observed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

IN GENERAL, I OBJECT TO DEVELOPMENTS AROUND SEND, TOGETHER: policies A42, A43, A58
I object to changes to these Policies in the Plan on the grounds:
1) Since 2014, GBC has repeatedly changed its mind on what is appropriate for Send, showing lack of co-ordinated strategy. Again now, it is relentlessly and unfairly targeting the area with developments, regardless of previous objections to these excessive plans.
2) The local “village” services, roads, transport, doctors, etc, barely cope as it is. But, under the Plan the population of Send will increase so much that I think that local services will be “unsustainable”; and that is against the fundamental principles of “proper” planning.
3) The Burnt Common area will become “traffic chaos” in peak hours, having 3 major new developments nearby: a huge new housing estate, industrial park, and new A3 slip-road.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the changes in this policy, because:

1) This development is far too large for the local area to cope with. It will effectively join villages of Send, Send Marsh, and Ripley, to form one contiguous built-up area; forming, within a short time, a new town effectively.

2) I object to space being allotted to accommodate Gypsies and/or Travelling Showpeople in this area. [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered defamatory, derogatory, inflammatory or offensive in nature].

IN PARTICULAR, POLICY A58 – Land at Burnt Common
I object to changes in this particular policy, because:
1) The strongly held view locally is that this development is unnecessary, there being no actual need more warehousing and factory space sited here. But, in particular, I object to its extent being randomly changed from a maximum of 7,000 sq m, to a minimum of 7,000 sq m, that is effectively making it limitless in terms of what can be crammed on to it.
2) The development will add to already severe peak-time traffic congestion.
3) If proposed developments to Burpham are also approved, there will be only a narrow strip (about 500m) of Green Belt separating Guildford/Burpham and Send/Ripley contiguous built-up areas. This will be an unacceptable erosion of Green Belt.

I object to the proposed development at Clockbarn Nurseries of 45 houses as Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take a large amount of traffic. The marina will already increase the traffic on this road plus the 64 houses which have already been approved. Tannery lane/Send Road junction is already very busy and dangerous.

I object to the proposed development at Garlick's Arch of 400 houses as this was only included in the plan with only 2 weeks notice and without previous consultation and is not necessary for housing needs of the village or the borough. Also this site has a particular sensitivity as it is covered in ancient woodland with trees which date back to 16th century being endangered. The site is also frequently flooded.

I object to the proposed Industrial development at Garlick's Arch of 7,000 sq.m since a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space is shown in the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA). Slyfield should be used if there is a need for 7,000 sq.m which has a 40ha site available.

I object to the way in which Guildford Borough Council keep changing the proposed plan. In 2014 430 new houses were proposed in Send, which then was reduced to 185 and now it is up to 485 with a massive new road junction. These changes require a full consultation under Regulation 18.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I understood the Government policy was to protect the green belt which you seem to ignore. The land around Send already floods in winter so where will the water go when it is concreted over? Probably to flood the existing houses.

Send is an ancient village mentioned in the Domesday Book so building on the greenbelt will destroy the nature of the village.

Guildford and Slyfield have empty sites and industrial units so this should be used.

The 2017 Employment Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand for industrial land for the whole Borough.

This will generate a huge increase in traffic and cause gridlock on the local roads. The green belt is precious and should be protected.

I OBJECT TO POLICY A42 because you have increased the number of houses to be built from 45 to 60, an increase of 33%. There were a lot of objections to the original number so why increase it? I OBJECT TO POLICY A43 change at Garlicks Arch because of the number of homes to be built despite previous objections. 6 plots for travelling showpeople is totally unnecessary as there is no proven demand. It will change the nature of Send and Ripley as two separate villages and will generate excessive amounts of traffic.

It is a flood risk area and is contaminated by lead shot.

I OBJECT TO ALL EROSION OF THE GREEN BELT. Our green belt is precious to the environment and especially I object to the removal of any villages from the green belt. My village of Send cannot sustain the development which would surely follow this action. We are a community with our own identity and do not wish to be swallowed up as an extension of WOKING.

There are several areas in our village which would be extremely vulnerable to development. Our school, doctors surgery and roads just cannot sustain any increase in residents.

I OBJECT TO THE VERY LATE INCLUSION OF LAND AT GARLICKS ARCH. I do not believe this important conservation site should be developed and cannot see the need for the extra 400 houses or the industrial units proposed for the site. It is obvious to those of us who live in Send that the proposed 4-way interchange at Burnt Common would be a disaster for our village and Ripley and Clandon. I live on the A247 and already the road is at gridlock on many occasions. It would appear that our lives are to be severely blighted because of proposed development else where, ie Wisley and Burpham. No wonder we think not Send again!

The houses at Winds Ridge and Send Hill are another new site not consulted upon. Again more erosion of our green belt. Not Send again!

I object to Policy A42 change because the 33% increase in homes from 45 to 60 not only ignores the hundreds of objections made by local Send residents previously but will impact even more and worsen considerably on access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and the junction with Send Road. As a Send Road resident I am only to aware of this fact. Also it will further erode the Green Belt in our village and worsen surface water flooding in the surrounding area. Send residents opinions seem to be totally disregarded in this latest increase of buildings.

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlicks Arch because the objections previously made by local people in their thousands have been ignored causing over-development in Send due to the excessive number of homes. This will have a disastrous impact on our local schools and doctors ability to cope with the large increase in residents. The increase in traffic in the area will totally block many of our local roads. All local people are aware of these problems first hand on a daily basis. The need for Travelling show people plots is unsubstantiated in the area. Once again the Green belt will be eroded and the villages of Send and Ripley will be joined up. This ancient woodland is likely to frequent flooding and has existed since the reign of Elizabeth I surely it deserves to be preserved for the future.

I object to Policy A58 AT Burnt Common because its deletion from the 2014 draft due to the numerous objections and decline in demand for industrial land since the 2016 plan show there is no need for this sort of development especially in the middle of the Green Belt. This is further reinforced by the fact that Slyfield and Guildford have empty sites and industrial units. This is born out by the 2017 Employment Land needs showing a reduction in the demand for industrial land. Importantly this development is yet another factor in gridlocking our local roads and joining up our villages.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because of its proximity to the Wey Navigation in a great countryside setting in open Green Belt and is totally inappropriate. This too will impact badly on vehicular access in both directions along Tannery Lane. ONE HAS TO QUESTION THE REASON FOR THIS APPLICATION BY THE OWNER OF SEND BUSINESS PARK.

In conclusion I a longstanding resident of Send Village (and a former Ripley resident) cannot comprehend why we have been targeted for even more disproportionate development once again. I THINK THE TRAFFIC AND POLLUTION IMPACT ON THE VILLAGE IS COMPLETELY UNACCEPTABLE TO US RESIDENTS.

We need our Green Belt especially as we know there are other alternatives for development in our borough.

Sheila Mardle

Secondly I believe that the level of development proposed for the Horsleys will place already stretched local infrastructure under even greater pressure. I myself live in East Horsley and have been unable to get my children into the only primary school within the village. I was also unable to park at Horsley station last week as the car park was already full by 9.30am. This suggests that the local area does not have the vital infrastructure to support such a level of development, and has limited scope for expansion.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Firstly I do not believe that it has been demonstrated that “exceptional circumstances” exist to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt. Any decision needs to balanced against other opportunities and requirements within the Borough, and therefore also cannot proceed as a plan without fully explaining why demand cannot be satisfied elsewhere. The Council seems to be seeking approval for “all options”, not a short list.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

[My particular concern relates to the excessive level of development proposed for East and West Horsley, collectively referred to as the “Horsleys” ...]

Whilst an argument could be made that some people will walk or cycle to the station following such a development, as a cyclist, it is already noticeable how poorly maintained the roads and pavements are in the Borough – the road in front of the Horsley shops and up to the station is a perfectly appropriate example of a dangerously potholed stretch of tarmac – cycling is therefore an unsafe option, especially when coupled with the poor local drainage and local flooding. Whilst an attempt has been made in some places in the Borough at marking out cycling lanes (A246, Ripley etc) , it appears that the Council feels that painting a white line is “job done”. No effort is then made to repair holes in those lanes, to clear rubbish (metal, glass), to remove overhanging vegetation or to fix collapsed manhole/inspection chamber covers. Likewise pavements, especially in Horsley, are either too narrow (pedestrians at risk from being struck by vehicles/wing mirrors/flying stones), unpassable in wet weather (due to cars swamping the pavements with water) or are poorly maintained. Existing policy therefore seems orientated towards cars and, as mentioned earlier, the infrastructure will not be able to cope with this development.

Ref: Draft Local Plan – Objection to proposed development on site A22

140 homes and a care home on land north of Keens Lane

Further to your draft plans outlining the development of the above area please note my objection on several counts.

Before I list them I am at a loss to understand why Guildford, which is currently a moderate sized market town, would need expansion at the levels you propose. I do understand that some additional housing needs to be provided although I do not agree that in Guildford it could ever be described as “affordable” but the proposals you are making are vast and will change the dynamics of this presently lovely place to live into another blot on the landscape and a characterless place to live.

Regarding the proposals for a development of 140 homes and a care home, (Site A22) my objections are as follows:

The area north of Keens Lane is Green Belt and should be retained and not built on. It is the councils responsibility to protect this land and it should only re reclaimed for house building in extreme situations which your current plan to build so many new homes cannot be considered extreme.

1. The current traffic situation for the local residents is becoming increasingly difficulty with Gravetts Lane and Keens Park Road often being used as a rat run. Even if the road is widened this will not accommodate the huge increase in traffic created by so many new homes trying to filter onto the Worplesdon and Aldershot Roads. The roads in this area are already heavily congested and it beggars belief why you are so intent on making things so much worse, Guildford does not have the infrastructure this side of the town for this huge development.

1. The proposed development site is close to a Site of Special Scientific, Whitmoor Common in particular. Your plan is very alarming and would be certain to have a damaging effect on ecology and wildlife no matter what was put in place to try to avoid this. The green space between Guildford and Worplesdon should be maintained to allow a green corridor for flora and fauna.

I sincerely hope my objections will be recorded and taken into account when your final plans are submitted, it is very important to listen to the residents objections and concerns.

Garlick's Arch

I hereby wish to lodge my official objection to the proposed development of 43.3 ha of land at Garlick’s Arch, Burnt Common.

This proposal was included a mere 2 weeks before submission to the full Council for approval at the end of June.

NO consultation with the general public, local people or anyone who uses this land (including myself) was entered into which is a terrible indication of the high-handed manner in which this proposed destruction of protected greenbelt land has been formulated.
This greenbelt land, containing ancient woodland, is in regular, sustainable use bringing enjoyment to many local people and should not have even been considered for development as it is protected by the NPPF in perpetuity.

I am writing to state my objections towards the Guildford Borough Council Local Plan 2016. I think that it will ruin our beautiful countryside, and I am deeply concerned about the Local Plan 2016.

Loss of Green Belt

I object to the removal of the Horsleys from the Green Belt because I do not want building on protected countryside.

Overloaded medical facilities

I object to the building of more houses in the area which will put strain on the already overloaded medical practice in East Horsley.

Schools are full

I object to the building of more houses in the area because The Raleigh and The Howard of Effingham schools are already full.

Drainage

I object to more houses being built because the drainage system in the villages is inadequate. There are floods on the roads which prevent me walking to the station sometimes.

Roads

I object to more houses being built because the roads are too busy and this will make them busier.

Car parks

I object to having more cars in the villages because there is limited car parking space already and more cars will mean more car parking will be needed.

I am writing to strongly object to the proposed Guildford Local Plan. I disagree with the premise that we require so many new homes, that we should build them to a large extent of green belt land, that we should remove some of our beautiful Surrey countryside villages from the green belt and that the homes that we do build are not adequately provided with infrastructure and services.

I strongly oppose any changes to the boundaries of the green belt and the removal of West and East Horsley from the green belt by insetting and extending the 2003 local plan settlement boundaries.

Policy S2: Borough wide strategy
I totally oppose the calculation that 13,800 new homes will be needed in the borough over the planning period the number is far too high and unsustainable in the villages and countryside.

I would ask the council to reconsider the local plan reducing the number of homes, keeping the current boundaries of the greenbelt and where building is needed providing adequate infrastructure and services.

I believe that the SHMA of 2015 is highly questionable as the number of foreign students has been wrongly used to inflate the housing need. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Site A43a - I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the A247 to Old Woking a would be gridlocked all day. There are schools, shops and a bus route along this already congested village road. In the other direction the A247 towards Newlands Corner - the section between the Onslow Arms and Clandon Park is very narrow with bends and there is only just room for cars to pass each other but lorries and buses have to mount the footway.

Site A43a - I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25. This interchange will cause dangerous queueing on the A3 in both directions.

Site A44 - I object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

1. I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford's urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs.

2. I object to all the proposed sites in Send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough, Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads, including the A247 which are all already at 100% capacity.

GBC has completely failed to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and Green Belt. GBC have also failed to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the Local Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The Local Plan proposes an increase of 500 homes in Send, that is nearly 30%. (40 at Send Hill, 60 at Tannery Lane and 400 at Garlicks Arch).

In addition, within a few kilometres there are proposals for another 4500 homes (2000 at Wisley and 1500 at Gosden Hill Farm).

Add to this the proposal to build 10 hectares of industrial/warehousing at Burnt Common.

Add to this the proposal to build north and southbound interchanges onto the A3 trunk road at Burnt Common.

This is not sustainable for such a location as Send and Ripley as there is not the capacity to upgrade the infrastructure to accommodate such increases.

Existing residents, roads and facilities will overwhelmed.

The consultation of Guildford's Local Plan in 2016 produced over 33,000 comments and one third of these came from Send.

Send appears to have been allocated additional development in this latest submission despite a reduction of the overall housing numbers in the borough, plus an increase of industrial/warehousing development.

Guildford Borough Council have requested a consultation and comments from local residents. They must take on board the comments and modify the submission accordingly.

Site A42 - I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. It is also subject to flooding. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the marina will generate heavy traffic too. The road cannot take any more.

I object to Policy A42. Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send.

Increase from 45 homes (previously) to 60 homes.

This is a 33% increase in a small location, which is excessive and ignores hundreds of previous objections by local people.

It will make worse the traffic problems in the narrow and winding Tannery Lane. There has already been a successful application for 64 houses at the Marina further down Tannery Lane and another application is pending to build houses on the garage site on the corner.

The junction with Tannery Lane and the A247 Send Road is notoriously difficult to negotiate. The bad surface water flooding in the Lane will become worse.

It will adversely affect the open countryside views from the River Wey Navigation.

I object to Policy A43. Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh, Send

Now 400 homes and 6 Travelling Showpeople plots.

This ignores thousands of objections from local people and there is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location.

There are no 'exceptional circumstances' to remove this from permanent Green Belt and it will cause over development of Send Village.

It will remove the green break of ancient woodland between Send and Ripley. The site is flood zone 2 allocation and frequently floods.

Excessive traffic will be generated and block up the local roads of Send and Ripley.

I object to Policy A58. Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Send Changed from ‘maximum’ 7000 sq m to ‘minimum’ 7000 sq m of industrial or warehousing. This is not justified as there has been a decline in requirement for industrial land.

There is no need to build industrial/warehouse development on Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites.

The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares of industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

The vans and heavy goods vehicles will create traffic gridlock in the villages of Send and Ripley.

I object to Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15.

Send Business Park now taken out of the Green Belt altogether.

It is an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the Wey navigation.

There is highly restricted vehicular access along this narrow winding lane.

This location is totally unsuitable for further expansion/development and it will detract from the openness of the Green Belt.

Guildford Borough Council: draft local plan (6 June 2016)

I write as Liberal Democrat Parliamentary Spokesperson for the five Guildford Borough wards in Mole Valley Constituency – and a resident of nearby Bookham - to express my strong support for the many hundreds of objections you have received to the Council’s latest draft local plan from the East of the Borough.

I urge you to reflect carefully on both the volume and the compelling quality of those objections, especially those from local parish councils, residents’ associations and other responsible individuals and groups.
In my view there is no justification for the disproportionate housing burden being proposed for this part of the Borough; the disregard for the lack of infrastructure, the impact on already congested local roads and the carefully considered neighbourhood plans that have been or are being developed by local residents; the proposed removal of so many rural villages from the Green Belt; or the repeated insistence on retaining rejected development sites such as the former Wisley Airfield.

It is disappointing that the divided and dysfunctional Conservative group which controls Guildford Borough Council and their local MPs still appear to be incapable of working with Government and local residents, businesses and other organisations to produce and agree a sensible, balanced, proportionate and sustainable local plan for the Borough. Please try harder.

The plan is sound and well balanced. It considers the needs of the borough as a whole and not just the (vocal) interests of property developers and home owners masquerading as concern for the green belt. I strongly support it and in my view it cannot be implemented quickly enough.

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

8. Garlick's Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.

13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.

4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”

5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.

6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”

8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.

9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.

11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

I wish to object to the local plan. On the grounds that the Green Belt should be protected and should not be built on. Villages should not be taken out of the Green Belt. Seeking to have development in a protected area, is in breach of manifesto commitments.

There will not be provision for affordable housing, with priority for local people. Once our beautiful countryside is destroyed, there can be no turning back.

A35 Land at former Wisley Airfield

Comment: I have objected before to this development as I consider this proposed development to be a contravention of Metropolitan Green Belt policy. It will result in a New Town being created of very low sustainability which will have a major adverse impact on infrastructure across a widespread area, including East Horsley and its infrastructure. It will cause irreversible destruction to the character of one of the most picturesque and historic areas of the country.

7. SITES POLICIES

A36 Thatchers Hotel

Comment: It is appreciated that this site lends itself to housing, but the Plan for 48 houses and apartments is a density of 37 dwellings per hectare which I consider far too high as the average housing density in East Horsley is 8.1 dwellings per hectare.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

4. ECONOMY POLICIES

POLICY E2: Location for new employment floorspace

East Horsley has two railway stations, Horsley Station and Effingham Junction Station, but currently the draft Local Plan only proposes that Horsley Station should have PTI status (within 500 meters of a public transport interchange).

The explanation given at 4.4.17 for Effingham Junction Station ("EJS") not enjoying this status is that either it is located within the Green Belt, or it is within an AONB or it is isolated away from the village or centre. There is a strong case for EJS deserving PTI status in the same way as Horsley Station.

1. Both stations are within the Green
2. EJS is not located in an AONB. EJS is within the envelope of the village settlement and will remain as such under the draft Local Plan.
3. EJS is not "isolated" or "away from the village centre."

Effingham Junction area of East Horsley is a thriving community with a significant population and also a number of businesses. Including a General Store, car sales and car repair business, Dentist and Chiropractic clinic, Garden Centre, Beautician, Yoga venue, Interior Design business and a Village Hall used by keepfit classes and other groups.

The Local Plan's economy policies affecting this area must protect this site creating conditions for growth and job creation.

Also EJS is clearly a "public transport interchange". This is for the following reasons:

1. EJS is at an important junction and interchange. The railway line from Guildford splits here into two lines which take different routes into London, many London bound passengers will change trains here.
2. EJS also serves residents of Effingham and Little Bookham for whom EJS is closer than Bookham Station.
3. EJS also serves those who visit local leisure activity sites, including three paintball sites and two clay pigeon shooting sites.
4. EJS will be the nearest railway station to the land at the former Wisley Airfield site which is proposed for the building of 2000 homes under Policy A35 of the draft Local Plan.

I therefore OBJECT to Policy E2 where it fails to confer "public transport interchange" status on Effingham Junction Station.

6. INFRASTRUCTURE POLICIES

Policies I1, I2 & I3

I consider that there are serious deficiencies and shortcomings in the infrastructure of Guildford Borough as it is today and that the proposed housing policy will exacerbate this problem.

1. Roads in the East Horsley Parish are mostly lanes in poor condition with many narrow and winding with pinch points, this, along with poor pavements and lack of streetlighting makes the roads unsuitable for more traffic that increased housing will bring.
2. The schools are oversubscribed.
3. The Medical Centre at full
4. Although it is stated that the maintenance of adequate infrastructure to meet growing needs is the responsibility of the relevant infrastructure provider this is not always clear who that is - developers, local councils or utility providers. There are no proposals in respect of all the existing problems with for example roads, pavements, drainage, and schools. Although an expansion of the Medical centre is proposed in the Infrastructure Schedule, this is not until years 5 - 15 of the Plan.

Local primary schooling is also a very pertinent issue and no proposals are made in the Draft Local Plan to provide for any more schooling in the Horsley's.

I therefore OBJECT to the infrastructure proposals as they do not meet the stated objective of providing infrastructure to support the proposed developments within the Plan.

2. PROTECTING POLICIES

Policy P2: Green Belt

a) Paragraph 3.13: Proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt

I OBJECT to East Horsley being removed from Green Belt as it has preserved the rural character and openness of this village and surrounding area.

East Horsley is a rural village and its Green Belt status has been a key factor in preserving its character yet being in the Green Belt has not impeded its housing build. The village parish also contributes greatly to the openness of the Green Belt being at least a third woodland with large gardens and low-density housing.

b) Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley

I OBJECT to the proposal to move the settlement boundaries along the eastern boundaries of Ockham Road North and Lollesworth Road when the only justification for this change could be to bring a large field within the settlement area in order to provide more housing land. Under NPPF rules this is not a sufficient justification for changing a Green Belt boundary.

I OBJECT to the proposal to remove Kingston Meadow from the Green Belt. Kingston Meadow is the main public recreational space of East Horsley and West Horsley, comprising various sports facilities and playing fields. If any changes are to be made at all it should be designated as a SANG in order to protect this land from any irresponsible planning or development. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in 'exceptional circumstances' in order to protect this land from

c) Paragraph 3.17: Proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt
I OBJECT to the proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt in order to fulfil the estimated housing need, building a small town of this size to meet Housing Need on Green Belt is not an exceptional circumstance. It will have a major adverse impact on infrastructure across a widespread area, including East Horsley.

This building programme, represents a net increase of 25% in the housing stock of Guildford Borough, a high rate of increase when the Office of National Statistics ("ONS") are projecting a population increase of 15% for Guildford Borough over this same period. It is clear that GBC is promoting an economic expansion which appears to underpin the housing policies in the Local Plan.

I OBJECT to Policy S2 as I do not think any economic growth promotion should be used in the projections for housing growth especially in the light of the recent outcome of the Referendum on the EU membership.

Re: Garlick’s Arch Site
I was horrified to learn just days ago that an amendment had been added to the Guildford Local Plan proposing a major new housing and industrial development between Sendmarsh Road and Burnt Common.

1. I object to the fact that this proposed new development appears to have been sneaked in through the back door just a few weeks after local residents had been notified of a significant reduction in planned new housing for Send. There has been no consultation with residents, and the Council’s Executive agreed the amendment fewer than five hours after it was submitted.

2. I object to the impact of such a development on air pollution, which will be significant, particularly with an inevitable increase in HGVs accessing and leaving the proposed industrial units. This will especially affect those people living on the Maple Road estate, where the land is much lower-lying than the Portsmouth Road, which runs along the back of these houses.

3. I object to this development because the infrastructure of the village simply cannot support it: Traffic joining the Portsmouth Road from both Sendmarsh Road and Broadmead Road is already extremely heavy during morning and evening rush hours, causing significant tailbacks through the village. There will also be a knock on effect from the increased traffic through Ripley, and on to the A3 at Burnt Common.

4. I object because of the already shocking quality of local roads – Sendmarsh Road and Polesden Lane especially have so many potholes that drivers are often forced to drive on the wrong side of the road, and there is a significant danger to cyclists. This will only worsen with the increase in traffic.
5. I object because there had already been sufficient planned expansion to the Slyfield Industrial estate in the form of light industry and warehousing, but I understand that this planned development has been withdrawn from the local plan, even though Slyfield is already used for this purpose and offers a much more appropriate site than what is being proposed.

6. I object to the inevitable increased pressure on local schools and medical facilities. The Villages Medical Practice is currently operating at full capacity, and all the doctors working there are concerned that they simply cannot provide sufficient medical care for the number of patients on their books. The Royal Surrey County Hospital is also at breaking point – not only is the amount of time it takes to be given an appointment after a referral unacceptable, but waiting times in A & E are horrendous. I have been admitted to the hospital three times this year as an emergency case, with waiting times before being transferred to the ward varying from eight to fourteen hours, even though government guidelines state that all cases should be seen within four hours. On the last occasion I was there for over five hours before even being assessed by a doctor, despite being 86 years old and in terrible pain.

A further 400 houses on top of the 185 already going ahead will put appalling pressure on the local infrastructure, and the planned industrial development – apart from being totally out of keeping with the area – will have a very negative impact on the local environment. I therefore object in the strongest possible terms and implore you to reconsider these ill-thought out proposals.

I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because:

1. This development was removed from the 2014 draft as a result of the number of objections, and yet it has now been resurrected even though the demand for industrial land has actually decreased since then.
2. The new allocation for a minimum of 7,000 sqm of industrial land replaces the previous maximum. What has changed since 2016 to warrant an increase in this type of development?

Indeed, given that there are still empty industrial units at Slyfield Green and in Guildford, surely there is an argument for a reduction in Send?

1. As above, the effects on the village infrastructure, specifically the increase of traffic on small surrounding roads, will be significant.

Along with my fellow residents I beg you to reconsider the impact that this Local Plan will have on the village, and make changes accordingly.

We urgently need better access between the Slyfield / Jacobs Well / Burpham area of Guildford and the A3.

Currently we have good access onto the A3 northbound, and off the A3 southbound. But we have no access whatsoever onto the A3 southbound, or off the A3 northbound. This already creates significant extra traffic going through and round Guildford, and the proposed new development at Slyfield is going to make this problem significantly worse.

I personally live in Jacobs Well Road, and I work in Farnham. So every morning I have to drive all round Guildford (Clay Lane, Salt Box Road, Worplesdon Road) in order to get onto the A3 southbound at the Wooden Bridge Roundabout. Then in the evening I have to do the exact same thing in reverse order, getting off the A3 northbound at the Wooden Bridge roundabout, then driving along Worplesdon Road, Salt Box Road, and Clay Lane. Surely it would make much more sense to avoid all this extra traffic through Guildford by providing improved access onto and off the A3 at the Burpham interchange.
We also need much better access onto Clay Lane at the northern end of Jacobs Well Road. Turning right out of Jacobs Well Road into Clay Lane is EXTREMELEY dangerous, and there are regular accidents at this junction. I think there really should be either a roundabout or traffic lights installed at this junction, before somebody gets killed in a fatal car crash.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (Yes)
I believe the new plan has listened and acted on the previous comments made by myself and others but it is missing some critical points around traffic flow and car parking.

Traffic flow: The Guildford area is already a traffic black spot. The proposal to build on brown field sites in town is excellent but the road network cannot cope now never mind when the building is complete. I see improvements to the A3 junctions are proposed but what about once you are in Guildford? There needs to be another bridge over the river Wey. The access and exit from the railway station, the gyratory near the station, the end of Woodbridge Road (near Curry's/PC World, in/out of Ladymead, Stoke Road/Woking Road junction, North Street/Friary (especially once in the 1 way system) and Epsom Road coming into Merrow. There are others but this list shows an overall transport strategy needs to be developed.

Parking: The development of Park and Ride is good but not on it's own. A series of multi storey car parks on the edge of town needs building. All houses/flats built should have a minimum of 2 car parking spaces each AND further visitor spots. Any attempt to build without sufficient parking will result in a grid locked town resembling a car park.

Please go back to the drawing board and formulate a joined up transport plan.

On a specific point, classifying East Horsley’s Station Parade as a Rural District Centre is bizarre. Friends in Effingham use their local rural centre or head to Cobham – they don’t come to Horsley. Merrow or Guildford is used by those in Clandon. Ripley, which is seen as a local centre, has more retail and commercial space. West Horsley is not an obvious development zone.

The Plan suggests creating affordable homes. I’ve not seen any evidence on how this will be managed and struggle to understand how it would work, economically and commercially. Affordable homes will most likely be taken by people moving into the area, mostly likely from London. The expectation that this enables local people to downsize or move is wishful thinking. In addition, I hope there is legislation to prevent the character of the village being transformed by housing blocks.

I will focus on both The Plan in general and the specific issues in my immediate area (East and West Horsley). For context, I moved to the area in 2010 from Brixton in London specifically because I valued the character of the area in which to raise my children; a quiet ‘village life’, low density, community, relative safety, green space.

Even without The Plan, the local area is relentlessly changing as the demographic is changing from older couples to young families (mostly moving from London), who are renovating and expanding current housing stock. The shift is already straining the visible and underlying infrastructure;

• filling the schools – there is a lack of state primary school places in the village, pushing people to private schools that are near capacity too
• straining the medical services
• overcrowding the trains – there has been a dramatic increase in the number of commuters; 4 years ago people would need to stand from Surbiton, 2 years ago Claygate, now it’s as early as Cobham
• increasing traffic on disintegrating roads that can’t be expanded or have footpaths added,
• water and drainage at capacity.

The Plan appears to focus on committing to an unsustainable increase in housing, while largely ignoring making the magnitude of commitments required for Sustainable Development. Unlike housing, where there is direct revenue from selling the property, infrastructure projects are notoriously hard to fund and usually take a long time to deliver

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am not anti-development. I support the evolutionary infrastructure changes, such as site A41 allowing the relocation and expansion of the Raleigh School, which would come with increased housing. I support the equivalent in Effingham for the Howard School. Overall, I would also support more radical developments, such as the Wisley site for 2000 homes on a brownfield site. However, only if this comes with a binding commitment to infrastructure development, not just for the site, but for the surrounding areas – such as increased rail and bus services to allow the volume of people into commute. I suspect it will extend urban London out beyond the M25 and catalyse detrimental changes in the future, but it is probably the lesser evil to changing multiple villages around the green belt.

I appeal to the planning team to reconsider the approach, adjusting the increase in housing to where the impact is lessened (probably with lowest net infrastructure development cost), or to put a blanket percentage increase on all areas (which will probably come at a higher net infrastructure development cost).

I am absolutely opposed to insetting to remove West Horsley and East Horsley from the Green Belt. I’ve seen no evidence of the unpreventable, exceptional circumstances that dictate land previously protected by national legislation and areas of outstanding natural beauty, should not continue to be protected.

What is the justification for extending the boundaries of the village settlement areas, other than subversively allocating more area away from the green belt and towards development?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am opposed to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategies and Sites 2016 (The Plan) in its current form because it;

• has a disproportionate impact on the villages,
• does not respect the character and density of the housing in the area,
• does not guarantee the creation of supporting infrastructure, while encroaching the Surrey Hills Green Belt which is a national rather than a purely local asset

The disproportionate impact on the villages seems ludicrous. An 11% increase in housing in Guildford, versus a 35% increase in West Horsley. An increase in the population in large towns will have a lesser impact on the character of the area and the density of the housing, as well as having an advantage of having a better foundation of infrastructure. The reason for everyone I know to move to the villages, was the appeal of a ‘village’ life. Making them into suburbs and towns, destroys the character and eliminates that appeal. A simple look at the Horsley Development Sites map shows the magnitude of impact.

The sad event of all these proposed dwellings will result in the villages merging to such an extent that they will lose their individuality as there will be no boundaries evident. I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighborhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

If destruction were needed (and I am not convinced it is) please share this out rather than spoiling one area. Also why on earth would you not, for example, seek to build on the edges of existing built up areas like Woking (where development would be extension rather than change) rather than changing the face of rural areas such as Ripley and the Horsleys forever?

I object to removal of Brownfield site (A34) from the Plan

Site A44 in Broadford Business Park has also been removed. This is another brownfield site that has already been developed. The Council’s claims to “have adopted a ‘brownfield first’ approach” (page 5) but this is clearly not the case, and is contrary to national guidelines.

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)

This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states "Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

The inclusion of site A58 Burt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch) GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were:

a) The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm, …(site allocation A25) [ than the Burnt Common site did ]”

b) The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites.

A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots …” Clearly A50 more than covers the total "need" of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in Green Belt (A58)

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”

So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit IS to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

"We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan”.

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clock barn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

ROYAL MAIL GROUP REPRESENTATIONS:

Guildford Borough Council - Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy & Sites 2016

We are instructed by our client, Royal Mail Group Ltd (Royal Mail), to submit representations to the Guildford Borough Council – Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy & Sites 2016.

Background

Royal Mail is the UK’s designated Universal Postal Service Provider, supporting customers, businesses and communities across the country. This means it is the only company to have a statutory duty to collect and deliver letters six days a week (and packets five days a week) at an affordable and geographically uniform price to every address in the UK. Royal Mail’s services are regulated by Ofcom. It also operates Parcelforce Worldwide which is a parcels carrier.

The United Kingdom letter post business was fully liberalised in January 2006 and Royal Mail operates in a highly competitive market place. Royal Mail is continually seeking to find ways to improve the efficiency of its business, anticipate its customers’ needs and respond flexibly to changes in communications technology.

Land use planning is therefore an important issue for Royal Mail with regard to protecting their assets and operations, and in planning future investment across their estate and supporting its infrastructure. On this basis, Royal Mail’s involvement in the plan making process and working with Local Planning Authorities to sharpen and influence planning policy is considered critical to the future success of their business and in their continued role as the UK’s designated Universal Postal Service Provider.

Royal Mail Properties

Royal Mail has a statutory duty to provide efficient mail sorting and delivery services within the Borough of Guildford. This service is currently provided from the following properties:

- Guildford Delivery Office;
- East Horsley Delivery Office;
- Guildford Road Transport Warehouse/Support Services

Royal Mail possess long leases on the two properties in Guildford with no plans to relocate their operations in the near future. The East Horsley Delivery Office site is within freehold ownership and similarly, there are no plans to relocate in the foreseeable future.

Representation

Cushman & Wakefield have reviewed Guildford Borough Council’s Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy & Sites 2016 in the context of its impact on the operations of the Royal Mail properties within the Borough. The delivery offices are of strategic importance to Royal Mail in ensuring they are able to continue to fulfil their statutory duty for mail collection and delivery.

Protection of Employment Uses

All three Royal Mail sites are well established, having operated successfully for a number of years, serving a wide catchment area. Due to the nature of use, operations extend well beyond the normal working day, including associated vehicular movements. The potential juxtaposition of alternative, possibly sensitive land uses particularly residential uses adjacent or within close proximity to the sites is therefore of direct concern to our client. Given the business functions of Royal Mail, operations often take place in sensitive hours in the early mornings and late evenings which sees delivery times and the constant movement of delivery vehicles and would therefore result in significant residential / general amenity issues should sensitive land uses/new dwellings be located nearby.

It is therefore suggested that the wording of the following statement should be altered to afford greater protection to existing businesses and, therefore, the protection of employment uses more generally.
The current wording of Policy E3 (Maintaining Employment Capacity and Improving Employment Floorspace) states the following:

In order to sustain and enhance employment capacity (including land, floorspace and/or jobs):

- Employment floorspace will be protected and the loss strongly resisted on the Strategic Employment Sites, which are defined in policy E. Change of use will only be acceptable if evidence is provided of active and comprehensive marketing of the site for its current use (offices, research and development or industrial) for a continuous period of at least two years;
- Employment floorspace will be protected and the loss resisted on the Locally Significant Employment Sites, which are defined in policy E. Change of use will only be acceptable if evidence is provided of active and comprehensive marketing of the site for its current use (offices, research and development or industrial) for a continuous period of at least 18 months;
- Employment floorspace will be protected in line with latest needs assessment and the loss be resisted outside designated employment sites. Change of use will only be acceptable if evidence is provided of active and comprehensive marketing of the site for its current use (offices, research and development or industrial) for a continuous period of at least 12 months.

Once the period of comprehensive and active marketing is achieved, any other suitable employment use should be considered before change of use to residential or other use will be permitted.

The redevelopment of outmoded employment floorspace will be permitted to cater for modern business needs. The provision of improved ICT infrastructure will be encouraged in refurbished and redeveloped sites.

It is requested that supplementary wording be added to provide robust, ongoing safeguarding to the operations of existing businesses. Suggestive text is provided below:

“Development of a non-employment use will only be permitted when it would not detract from the employment use of the remaining sites in the area and; whether new development or changes of use impact on existing businesses, adequate mitigation measures are designed into the new site”.

In this context, it is considered vital that any new uses in the vicinity of the Delivery Office are designed and managed so that they are both cognisant of, and sensitive to, Royal Mail’s operations. Should sites adjacent to Royal Mail’s operations come forward for non-employment uses, such as residential or a hotel, they must be designed to attenuate the noise/amenity impact of any existing uses including Royal Mail’s operations and which can include working outside normal working hours. For example, scheme requirements may include amongst other things, triple glazing and due regard to the positioning of windows and private amenity space.

In addition, it may be necessary to manage potential adverse impacts through appropriate planning conditions.

This approach accords with adopted Government guidance set out in the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) (March 2012) which advises that local planning authorities should help achieve economic growth by planning proactively to meet the development needs of business and support an economy fit for the 21st century. The NPPF also advises that local planning authorities should support existing business sectors, taking account of whether they are expanding or contracting.

Furthermore, paragraph 123 of the NPPF states that planning policies should aim to recognize that existing businesses wanting to develop in continuance of their business should not have unreasonable restrictions put on them because of changes in nearby land uses since they were established. This is further supported by paragraph 9 of the NPPF, which provides amplification of what might be construed to be circumstances that lead to unreasonable restrictions:

“The planning system should contribute to the natural and local environment by preventing both new and existing development from contributing to or being put at unacceptable risks from or being adversely affected by, a range of factors including noise pollution.”

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Transport Considerations

Royal Mail are fully supportive of the Council’s commitment to working to facilitate major, long-term improvements to the A3 trunk road and M25 motorway in order to improve capacity and safety as indicated in Policy I2 (Supporting the Department for Transport’s “Road Investment Strategy”).

It is requested that Royal Mail be kept informed of proposals for highways improvements in sufficient time in advance to enable for alternative transport arrangements to be put into effect/ effective re-routing strategies to be implemented to facilitate operations scheduling.

Conclusion

Royal Mail would welcome further engagement with Guildford Borough Council particularly where proposals would impact on the usage of the highway and allocations/sites next to or adjacent to the Delivery Offices coming forward for redevelopment.

I trust that these representations are acceptable and would be grateful if you could acknowledge receipt and keep me informed of future stages of the adoption of the Guildford Borough Council Local Plan and other planning policy documents.

My husband and I strongly object to the 2016 Draft Local plan, particularly all erosion of the green belt.

In the plan to build 14,000 new homes many of our local villages are to be removed from the Green Belt which will allow unlimited future development and the destruction of our rural villages.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPI) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 9th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency. I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously. Air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

Allocation A35 -for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:
1. I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

It is my assessment that the submission plan is unsound due to the number of errors in the plan, the poor quality and the lack of transparency in the evidence base, including the fact that large files have also been used again which are not compatible to those of us with poor internet connection. There is also a considerable lack of clarity.

I am writing to confirm my continued objection to the inclusion of A35, Three Farm Meadows in the draft Local Plan for the reasons as given below:

- It is the least sustainable site in both this and previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
- It is further away from any railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
- It is adjacent to one of the most congested stretches of strategic road network in the country (ie M25 Junction 10)
- Local road are already at capacity particularly when there have been any incidents thus making the SRN not free flowing.
• Public transport is already having to negotiate the overcrowded SRN and is therefore unreliable and subject to frequent delays.
• It is also adjacent to one of the most popular visitor attractions in the south-east, the RHS at Wisley which attracts huge numbers. Any regular events which take place several times per year already result in extra traffic chaos and I feel this has certainly not been taken into account.
• There is insufficient employment available on site so that all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic to assume that people will walk/cycle on narrow local road on a regular basis.
• I also object to any changes within the green belt boundaries.
• I also object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objections from local residents and statutory consultants.
• I wonder and object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major and needs to be based on the totality of the plan rather than the proposed changes.
• I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5 year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewage capacity.
• I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.
• I object to a 10% inclusion buffer in the housing number over the plan period as it totally unnecessary.
• I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has already been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.
• I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS.
• I object to the housing number and particularly the fact that the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBSPA etc. I believe that the housing number is unsound and open to legal challenge.
• I object to the apparent disregard for the impact of in-combination development on the THSPA, particularly damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.
• I object to the differences in the housing figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table. Another glaring example of why the plan is not sound.
• I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre. This could be much better used for residential development. I also object to the reliance of the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies that are already in administration.

We have already had a number of re-developments in Ripley so these plans for extra housing is disproportionate.

There is no infrastructure.

There are not enough places at local schools now. The doctors are barely coping. It takes 2/3 weeks to get an appointment.

There are problems on A3/M25 most days as these roads are at capacity NOW. Everything comes to a standstill. On these days, more vehicles come through the village, trying to find alternative routes which causes long lines of traffic. Access on to the A3 at Burnt Common will not ease the congestion if there are so many more vehicles using the local roads.

Air pollution from thousands of extra cars affecting children, the elderly and even the RHS at Wisley.

Pedestrian and cyclist will be less safe on more crowded local roads.

I am not convinced we need all these new homes.

I object due to the congestion that this development will cause to the local village roads and lack of road infrastructure. There is too much traffic through local villages already. More houses will mean more cars - some households will have more than one. The main route through East Horsley is a fairly narrow B-road, which is increasingly used by unsuitably large vehicles, which use it as a short cut from the M25/A3 to the A246. A car meeting one of these is forced onto the pavement, which is illegal & a hazard for pedestrians. This road cannot be widened because there are houses on either side. WE NEED TO REDUCE THE TRAFFIC, NOT INCREASE IT. The Thatchers site, which is next to a busy petrol station, will have access onto the A246 on an S-bend, where there is already a junction with Ockham Road South. This will surely become an accident black spot.

I appreciate that there may be a need for some new houses in the area, but nothing like the number proposed, which would completely change the character of the Horsleys.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A25

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- C glandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Higheotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.
The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council’s eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement—often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).
The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hour no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.
Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.
There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations were available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 &
M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt.
There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as III as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I object to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN Ire not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant. The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites-which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.
1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

5. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

6. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

7. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

8. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

9. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

10. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

11. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework

12. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

13. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

14. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens

15. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

16. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

17. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

18. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

19. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

I am a resident of Burpham and I write to express my very strong objection to Guildford Borough Council’s Draft Local Plan June 2016 for the development of Gosden Hill Farm. I have many objections to the development but chief among them are the following.

1. The development will be on the Green Belt and will result in the loss of a section of this valuable amenity forever.
2. The proposals for two thousand houses, offices and industrial sites, a Park and Ride, two schools and the possibility of a station will result in several thousand additional vehicles on already congested roads.
3. It is proposed that access to the A3 will be by a new A3 southbound of/on slip road and the present southbound slip road to Burpham and Merrow will become two way. Consequently, vehicles leaving Gosden Hill and intending to travel north on the A3 towards London will have to travel through Burpham to the Clay Lane slip road. This will impact on Burpham which regularly experiences periods of severe traffic congestion.

4. Guildford is already a bottle-neck on the A3 and the Gosden Hill Farm development will exacerbate this problem. The only practical solution is to build a tunnel with a four way intersection near Potters Land and another one near Compton.

I have lived in Burpham for 43 years. The area has “played it’s part” in contributing to the development of Guildford following previous local developments which include: Weylea Farm; Weybrook Farm; Merrow Park, Sainsbury’s and Aldi’s. I am greatly disheartened by the proposed and unnecessary development of Gosden Hill Farm which will have very negative consequences for the local environment (air and noise pollution) as well as adding to the amount of traffic in an already congested area.

I am writing regarding the above, to strongly object to the following:

1. The removal of West & East Horsley villages from the green belt by insetting. The implication of which will completely change the character, balance and nature of these villages for ever, losing historic value and precious green belt. There is no 'exceptional' justification for building on this green belt.

1. The proposal of high density housing within West & East Horsley, is a staggering increase of over 35% more. However, there is no evidence of improved infrastructure. Already these villages combined have only one overcrowded medical centre, one over subscribed under 11's academy school and badly potholed roads. The inevitable increase in cars on the roads, will not only further damage the road surfaces and create traffic congestion, but parking for the shops and railway station will become a nightmare. The drainage in the Horsley's is barely coping at the moment, and it is understood from Thames Water that further housing developments, will be unlikely to cope and the foul drainage system will need to be upgraded.

1. West Horsley appears to have a disproportionally high % increase in housing (35%), compared to other locations eg: Ash & Tongham 16% and Guildford Town 11%. This coupled with the 2000 homes proposed on the former Wisley Airfield site, which has reappeared in The Guildford Plan, will have a totally unreasonable and unjust impact on the Horsley villages.

I urge you to please give my comments consideration, by keeping West & East Horsley villages within the green belt and not redefining the boundaries, to avoid unsuitable, unnecessary and unsustainable housing developments.

I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan on the following points.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I write as a Normandy resident and council tax payer. I wish to OBJECT to the Local Plan as far as it affects Normandy.

This Local Plan has been poorly handled and is a disservice to the community. Previous statements to our parish have been changed without reasoning and my feeling is one of being traduced by our Council. I OBJECT to the misuse of my council tax monies.

In particular I wish to bring to notice of those responsible the current TRANSPORT position of site A46.

A

• There are two railway bridges on the perimeter of the current suggestions
• These railway bridges are dangerous with poor sight lines in both directions on each access making four transport risks in total.
• Both bridges have been subject to emergency repairs in the last five years.
• Surrey County Council has been monitoring the volume of traffic in this area in the last year

Hence any dramatic increase in traffic from the suggested site will worsen the existing perilous situation on Westwood Lane and Glaziers Lane. I OBJECT to the Local Plan on this point.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
• The Guildford Road (from Bailes Lane to Saint Mark's Church) has become saturated with traffic as a result of the lack of effective road planning around Guildford.
• Three accidents have taken place in the vicinity of the church this year- including one fatality
• The existing primary school causes serious traffic congestion as a result of a broad catchment area
• The access and parking to Wanborough station is currently lacking in investment

Hence the proposal to develop a secondary school requires significant transport infrastructure to support parents, children and residents. Exposing more children to transport and environmental risks would be folly of a high order. I OBJECT to the Local Plan on this point.

Consequently I urge the Council to withdraw this foolish and inadequate plan for Normandy. The consultation has highlighted the need for essential investment in the local transport infrastructure. This investment is already overdue and increases in transport demand should be factored into any future considerations. This inevitable is a precursor of a major housing development that will destroy the village I love.

I am totally against the local plan you proposed on 6 June 2016.

In my view, the removal of any green belt protection amounts to the desecration of the countryside. Many parts of these areas have rare & or protected animal & plant species.

The additional housing planned for our villages and at Wisley Airfield would mean about 5500 additional vehicles on our very narrow country lanes. The government promised to return the airfield site to green belt after the war and although not formally returned it is as good as.

There are already long traffic queues on the A3 north bound & south bound at the M25 junction during rush hours. Given Wisely/Horsley areas are so close to the M25/A3A junction adding another junction (or feed in to the existing routes) would create chaos on both the M25 and A3.

There are large areas to the West of Guildford that would be much more suitable for development. For example, the area north of the A3 towards Woking also would be better able to accommodate additional housing and traffic as would Farnham, Aldershot, Farnborough & Fleet.

Equally there are many brown field sites around these areas and around Guildford, Leatherhead, Godalming & Dorking which should be used in place of your proposals.

There is no large demand for additional housing in this area. Additionally, there are not enough doctors in the area, there are not enough schools or teachers in the area.

As a retired teacher I can assure you that expanding existing schools is not a solution & would mean education standards would drop dramatically - large schools invariably mean poor standards of education (& indeed behaviour).

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I particularly wish to emphasise the danger posed by an additional 2000 homes at the old Wisley airfield site will add significantly to the existing horrendous traffic problems at the A3/M25 junction during the rush hours.

I hope you will find it helpful if I explain that no amount of fiddling around with the access to the A3 will resolve the problem of say an addition 3000 cars joining the A3 so near to the M25 junction.

In any event, there is no local requirement for additional housing in the area whereas there is a considerable desire to retain the green belt as it is without interference from outsiders who have no interest in the area.

I thought the point of having a ‘consultation’ was to listen to what people are saying and to act on the feedback. You seem to have very largely ignored what almost all people have said.

You seem to ignore the fact that there are already too few doctors in the area, too few teachers and no demand for additional shops/retail development. There are many care homes and sheltered developments in the area.

You seem to totally ignore the obvious opportunities to development at Leatherhead, Dorking and Guildford. It makes one wonder if there is a vested interest at work – particularly bearing in mind the recent history of planners benefitting from their connection with developers.

The green belt was devised to prevent exactly this type of proposal.

The plan remains largely unchanged and thus all the original 30,000 odd objections made previously remain.

I must say this latest proposal is designed to change very little and to hope that people give up objecting because it does no good. It seems you think that if you just change the plan a tiny bit it will go through without problem and if you do it often enough the residents will give up.

I know of many who have given up objecting as it alters nothing.

Local Plan 2016

I write to confirm my total opposition to the local plan you proposed on 6 June 2016. The reasons for my opposition are:-

1. In my view, the removal of any green belt protection amounts to the desecration of our lovely villages & countryside. Many parts of these areas have rare & or protected animal & plant species.

2. The roads around this area are far too narrow and are clearly unsuitable for any additional traffic. My estimation is that an additional 643 houses would mean about a further 1200 cars using our narrow lanes and roads (see also next point).

3. The proposed development of 2000 houses at Wisley Airfield would add about another 4000 cars all trying to reach the A3 or M25 at about the same time each day. In all about an extra 5000 cars would be generated without taking into account the additional commercial vehicles.

4. The narrow country roads cannot support this additional traffic growth nor could it be safe to put so much additional traffic onto the A3 and M25. A large number of vehicles would try to avoid the bottle necks that would be created by using the minor roads as escape routes (rat runs).

5. In any event it was promised that the Wisley Airfield would be returned to green belt after the war and the government promise should be kept.

6. There are already long queues on the A3 north bound & south bound at the M25 junction during rush hours.

7. The decision on local expansion should lie with local people not with people who would be unaffected.

8. There are large areas to the West of Guildford that would be much more suitable for development.

9. The area north of the A3 towards Woking also would be better able to accommodate additional housing and traffic as would Farnham, Aldershot, Farnborough & Fleet.

10. Equally there are many brown field sites around Guildford, Leatherhead, Godalming & Dorking which should be used in place of your proposals.

11. There is no large demand for additional housing in this area.

12. There are not enough doctors in the area.

13. There are not enough schools or teachers in the area.

14. Expanding existing schools is not a solution & would mean education standards would drop dramatically- large schools invariably mean poor standards of education (&indeed behaviour).

CONTEXT
Firstly it is necessary to understand the context of the plan, particularly as it relates to the Horsleys.

The basis of the plan
A consultancy, GL Hearn, produced the SHMA but have not disclosed to the Council or to anyone else details of the input assumptions or mathematical model on which their calculations have been made. That their forecast is 70% above that of the accepted figure from other sources may give you some cause for concern. Without a full understanding of the assumptions, you cannot be sure that your plans are firmly based. This is not the right way to manage such a critical input to the local plan and as a consequence your predictions lack credibility.

SPECIFIC OBJECTIONS
I object to the basis on which the housing requirements have been calculated. As they are not transparent they lack credibility.

I object to the final target housing number (based on a mathematical model which has not been disclosed) which is almost 70% higher than the official national estimates for population growth in the Borough.

I agree that a modest amount of additional housing is needed in the Horsleys and in the Guildford borough and that a better mix of properties is needed, in particular, more properties for first time buyers and for those wishing to downsize.

However, I object strongly to the scale of extra housing proposed in the Draft Plan because this is based on what I believe to be some fundamentally flawed calculations and a complete lack of understanding of the environment of the Horsleys.

The Environment of the Horsleys

The Horsleys are ill equipped to cope with significant development as any rational analysis will quickly expose.

1. a) The road network

East and West Horsley can only be accessed on restricted roads

From the South

Ockham Road South is restricted so that a lorry and car cannot pass at Lynx Hill and the road remains narrow into the village.
The Street has limited access at the Bell and Colville roundabout and near Edwin road it is reduced to single file traffic.

From the North

Ockham Road North is a narrow country road which can’t take two lorries passing.

Old Lane is narrow, with a number of hazardous bends and a difficult junction into Cobham road.

From the West

The road from Cobham is the best route into Horsley but it is restricted at the railway bridge on Forest road. This road takes a lot of traffic as it is the access road from Horsley to supermarkets at Cobham.

From the East

A series of narrow roads provide access from Burntwood but none is capable of sustaining significantly increased traffic.

b) Retail Structure

The retail environment at Station Parade consists of 25 premises plus 3 at the bottom of Cobham Way, including a library, post office, chemist, 5 restaurant/cafes, butcher, baker and 2 mini supermarkets. The largest of these units are approximately 170-200 sq. m. There is no room for expansion of retail premises nor for the provision of extra parking places. This cannot be expanded or developed to a worthwhile retail centre. Bishopsmead, to the south of East Horsley is much smaller and similarly constrained. West Horsley has virtually no retail presence.

c) Infrastructure

There is already pressure on school places, doctors surgeries and parking. The Horsleys cannot sustain a significant increase in demand. In addition, there is limited space for expansion of any of these facilities.

d) The Geography of the Horsleys

The Horsleys lie just north of the A246 which runs to the north of the North Downs. Rainfall on this area flows north and causes periodic flooding in heavy rain. There are frequent problems with storm drains flooding in the Horsleys. Green belt land in and around the Horsleys is needed to absorb this water run off. Further building will exacerbate this problem.

I object to the proposed in-setting boundary to replace the Green Belt around East and West Horsley. This new boundary includes some valuable green community space such as Kingston Meadow (by EH Village Hall) and Horsley Tennis and Cricket Club which will then be vulnerable to future development. These spaces are valuable amenities and are an essential part of the life of the village.

I object to the lack of understanding of the infrastructure constraints of the proposed new households on the Horsley villages and to the absence of any effort to deal with them.

If around 2,600 new houses were built in the Horsleys, Ockham and Wisley airfield this could easily result in around 5,000 more cars within a three mile radius of the villages.

Traffic

This would have a huge impact on local roads which as outlined above have little scope to be widened (e.g. pinch point at Lynx Hill on Ockham Road South and the restricted area on East Lane) or otherwise altered to cater for such an increase.

Although it is proposed to upgrade the current A3 junction at Burntcommon to a full 4-way junction. SCC traffic modelling anticipates increased use of Guileshall Lane, Hungry Hill Lane and Tithebarns Lane (all not suitable for increased traffic volume) for traffic accessing the A3 at Burntcommon in order to travel to Guildford and beyond.
The SCC report states that “consequently, it indicates that further thought may have to be given to managing traffic in this area as part of a transport assessment should the development be progressed”.

A local plan when proposing new housing on a substantial scale must surely plan for the implications of increased traffic both on the major roads such as the A3 and the minor village roads. The current draft local plan has not given such issues enough consideration.

Parking

Parking at Horsley & Effingham junction stations (which are already full), at the shops, at the Horsley medical centre and at the village hall will not be able to cope with this additional demand.

Flooding

The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. Other areas of the Horsleys are also flooded when it rains because the drains are inadequate. Substantially more houses will exacerbate the problem but no attention has been paid to drainage in the local plan.

Schools and medical facilities

Amenities

Local schools and medical facilities are already at capacity.

No extra school places are planned in the Horsleys and the school places proposed at Wisley Airfield will not be planned until many years into the project. 2600 new houses could easily mean 2600 children looking for school place!

I trust the Council will review its Local Plan basing it on a model which is available for inspection and with more attention to the infrastructure implications and use of brown field sites rather than destroy our Green Belt - a precious amenity gifted to us by visionaries from the past.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the proposal that Station Parade in East Horsley be designated as a Rural District Centre. The reasons for this proposal are obscure but it is patently unsuitable for the type and scale of developments that that designation allows.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object strongly to the proposal to remove the Horsleys (and other villages in the Borough) from the Green Belt. In paras 79 and 80 of the NPPF (National Planning Policy Framework - Mar 12) the Government places great importance on the Green Belts and in Para 83 states that once established they should only be altered in “exceptional circumstances” through the preparation or review of the Local Plan.

The Green Belt around the Horsleys serve all 5 of the purpose set out in para 80.

Para 84 states that inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.

The draft plan does not identify the “exceptional circumstances” required to remove the Horsleys (and other villages) from the Green Belt nor the “very special circumstances” required to build on Green Belt land.

As outlined above, the green belt is not just a pleasant amenity but also an essential protection against flooding

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the fact that this inflated final target housing number results in:-

- up to a 35% increase in the number of households in West Horsley.
- up to a 90% increase in housing stock taking into account the two Horsley villages, Ockham and the proposed development at Wisley airfield

The infrastructure of the Horsleys as outlined above cannot support this expansion.

In addition, 65% of new houses in the Borough are to be built on land that is currently in the Green Belt.

   b) GBC fails to make any allowance for planning constraints, particularly the Green Belt. The already overstretched infrastructure is not addressed. GBC Proposes to remove large swathes of the Green Belt, without demonstrating the required ‘very special circumstances’ to justify such action. GBC Is ignoring the many thousands of objections to this part of the proposed plan. I STRONGLY OBJECT TO THE BOROUGH HOUSING TARGETS SET OUT IN POLICY S2

I object to the late inclusion of the A43 Garlicks Arch development as resident of Burnt Common Lane this will have a substantial effect on myself and my family. This development will obviously completely change this small and sleepy hamlet of Send and Ripley. One of my main concerns is with regard to flooding. It is also a site with a large amount of ancient woodlands. The industrial development is certainly not needed, and with regard to the housing it my belief that the housing need for the area has been grossly exaggerated.

I object to the proposed interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common because Send would need to take the traffic from the proposed Wisley Airfield site and from Gosdon Hill thus causing horrendous traffic jams and nobody getting anywhere quickly.

7. I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)
The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements the Plan depends on. There is no schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43), so the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site. It is therefore not fit for purpose.

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)
There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. Central Government states clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.
The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.
The site is not appropriate because:

- There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
- The site is liable to frequent flooding
- The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
- There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.
- The proposal would double the built area in the locality, and would irreversibly damage the character of the Ancient Woodland on the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.
The Plan should develop the existing brownfield site at Burnt Common rather than developing Garlick’s Arch (A43).

4. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)
New on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would cause irreversible damage to the local communities. These are deemed enable to enable the strategic site of Wisely Airfield which is 4km away. The current road network in the village is already overstretched. The GBC Local Plan should be aspirational when looking to support the level of growth proposed. The existing road network expansion is constrained by its location and setting within existing villages and urban housing. As such a forward looking plan would look towards new roads rather than over-burdening the existing roads.

6. I object to the development proposed at Send Hill (A44)
The site is unsuited to the 40 houses proposed with a negative impact on the small rural road which is Send Hill. This site would also impact the use of the multi-denominational burial group on Send Hill.
The borough policy is for 2 traveller sites per 500 houses, but it has allocated 2 sites in a development of 40 houses. Also, the Guildford Borough Traveller Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment (Traveller SHLAA) of June 2014 does not include the traveller site (A44) in Send Hill and as such this has not been appropriately assessed. This Traveller SHLAA is also absent from the housing evidence in the regulation 19 consultation. Only the 2012 Traveller Accommodation Assessment is referenced as evidence. 8. I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)
There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sqm proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.
Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

3. I object to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)
There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.
The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths.

9. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)
The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are at or close to capacity.
There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the 485+ houses in planned for Send. The Village Medical Centre is Send is the service for Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley. The impact of the proposed growth cannot be understated.

2. I object to the failure to protect the Green Belt (Policy P2)
The Greenbelt constraint has not been applied to Send, and I object to removing Send from the Green Belt by insetting. The insetting of Send, Ripley and Clandon along with the proposed large developments in Send (A43/A43a), Gosden Hill (A25) and Wisley Airfield (A35) will increase the houses in these villages by 4400 – these 3 sites would therefore deliver 42% of the 10395 requirement set out in Policy S2. This is places a disproportionate burden on these three villages and their already-stretched infrastructure, but will result in urban sprawl – one of the key reasons for the existence of the Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)
I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016).
The consultation has been done under Regulation 19. There are substantial changes to the Regulation 18 consultation held in 2014 and thus a consultation limited to 6 weeks is insufficient to allow full understanding of the Proposed Submission and its evidence base. The evidence base presented has 28 documents, 14 of which have been updated since the previous consultation, which no indication provided of what has changed. The Proposed Submission without appendices is 255 pages and the evidence base (excluding other documents) is over 2500 pages. A significant amount of detail to be assimilate in 6 weeks. The Proposed Submission and its evidence base has changed too much, without any details of those changes, to fir into a regulation 19 consultation.
The reasons are I object are:
1. I object to the proposed overdevelopment of Send and that Policies S1 and S2 are not sustainable
The GBC proposal for 10395 new houses for the 15 years from 2018 to 2033 (13,860 from 2013 to 2033) is not sustainable. The outcome of the Regulation 18 consultation was the delay of the GBC Local Plan where the then GBC leader, stated that the council had taken on board the concerns of residents and the revised plan would, with support from central government, apply infrastructure and Greenbelt constraints. There is no evidence of this in the Regulation 19 Proposed submission which has not only increased the average annual housing numbers; it has increased the housing allocation for Send (which includes the settlements of Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common) from 431 to 485.
This overdevelopment of Send will damage the communities and I am concerned that an infrastructure need 4km away (i.e. a new A3 junction to enable the Wisley Airfield site) is having a disproportionate impact on Send, Ripley and Clandon. At a public meeting in Send on the 14th June, the GBC leads for planning and infrastructure confirmed that the 400 houses planned for Site A43 (Garlick’s Arch) are the price the landowner is being “paid” for gifting the land for the new A3 junction at the same site, called A43a. The price will actually be paid by the residents of Send, Ripley and Clandon, and this is not acceptable.
Not only is this housing development inappropriate for the community, it also adds 7000sqm industrial development. This is in addition existing brownfield industrial site located at Burnt Common. This is an over-development of dwellings and employment space for such a small community.
The evidence quotes the 400 homes as “additional homes that can be provided in the early years of the Local Plan” (Guildford Borough Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Test May 2016). Therefore in addition to allocating 400 houses in Send to satisfy an infrastructure requirement 4km away, the proposal is to also bring these forward to the early years of the plan to satisfy housing targets for the rest of the borough.
The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; 42% of all the housing proposed from 2018 to 2033 is in Send (A44/A42/A43/A43a), adjacent in Send (A25), or in Ripley (A35).
This proposed over-development of Send is in contradiction of the “The Rural Land Assessment” provided as evidence, which states that the GBC should:
? “Retain the distinct separate settlements of Send, Send Marsh and Ripley and avoid merging these through linear development along rural roads. Retain gaps such as along the B368 between Send and Send Marsh or between Ripley and Send Marsh along the B2215.” (page numbered 117)
? “Conserve the rural roads minimising small-scale incremental change such as signage, fencing or improvements to the road network or bridge, which would change their rural character particularly to the north and west of the area.” (page numbered 117)
? “Resist urbanisation of roads through encouraging appropriate surfacing of existing pavements, enhancing the immediate landscape setting and ensuring minimum clutter. Retain the distinct separate settlements of Send, Send Marsh and Ripley and avoid merging these through linear development along rural roads. Retain gaps such as along the B368 between Send and Send Marsh or between Ripley and Send Marsh along the B2215.” (page numbered 117)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

LRN9 to LRN13 inclusive will not address and mitigate the increased traffic flows forecast by SCC's OGSTAR (Jan 2014) under Scenario 7. The A323 Guildford Road is already stationary in the morning and evening peak. LRN21 is welcome, but it will only transfer the problem in the morning peak eastwards towards Normandy.

LRN19 won't convert Westwood Lane from an unlit rural lane with an uncontrolled one way constriction under the single lane railway bridge into an urban road taking traffic from the proposed Policy A46 new 1100 home "village" onto the A323 or A31. Furthermore, no upgrade is proposed for Glaziers Lane on the other boundary of the proposed Policy A46 development.

FRR5 won't address the flood risks associated with the site of the proposed Policy A46 new village. This is on the spring line of the Hogs Back and the ground is saturated for much of the year. It is unclear if the foul sewer network connecting back to the nearest sewage farms will support all the additional sewage created by Policy A46.

The scale of the proposed development under Policy A29 is unsustainable in terms of local infrastructure and amenities. Manor Road is already heavily congested during the morning and afternoon school runs. Residents from the new housing developments wishing to commute to local employment centres or to local stations for commuting further afield will find the congestion on the roads leading out of the development sites unacceptable.

The proposed developments west of Guildford, in particular A29 and A46, when considered in conjunction with the Aldershot Urban Extension planned by the adjacent county, are unsound in terms of sustainable transport infrastructure.

The proposed road upgrades under Policy I3 as described in Appendix C of the Local Plan will not mitigate the road usage forecast in SCC's OGSTAR Scenario 7. Neither will the proposed new railway station or cycle route.

A possible solution might be a Bus Rapid Transit network using the disused railway alignment through Ash as part of its alignment. The transit of the green belt between the Ash/Tongham and Guildford urban areas would generate environmental impact issues.

I object. There is no evidence base for a new secondary school west of Guildford in Normandy/Flexford.

Secondary schools to the west of the borough are under subscribed by approx. 700. There are other new secondary schools already approved, the new Technical College, expansions at Guildford County and St.Peters, the new Hoe Valley School. There is a proposal for a 5F secondary school at Rokers, Worplesdon.

Even if a further new secondary school was required, it would be better located nearer the borough's centre of population, such as Blackwell Farm.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Policy A29 has been revised following the withdrawal of Policy A30 which proposed a "sound" alignment for a road over bridge for the A323 at Ash railway crossing. Paragraph 9 of amended Policy A29 now effectively replaces deleted Policy A30 with what is a demonstrably poorer solution for traffic along the A323 corridor. The original alignment for the over bridge proposed under Policy A30 is now made impossible by the exclusion of land immediately north east of the railway crossing from the Plan.

During the public drop-in event at Tongham on 15 June, I understood the GBC transport planning team representative to say that potential developers were "not interested" in supporting Policy A30 and, as GBC "had no money" for funding the railway over bridge, it was down to potential developers to propose a new bridge alignment that they would be prepared to fund. Any such alignment would seem to have to involve a significant diversion of the A323 in a "U-bend" via a series of roundabouts through the new housing estate and then almost backwards along Foreman Road to connect into the current alignment just south of the railway crossing.

This is a retrograde change to the Plan as it would lead to a deterioration in the quality of the A323 corridor for through traffic between Aldershot and Guildford compared to the previous proposal under Policies A29/A30. This section of the revised document is therefore considered "unsound".

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Reinstate Policy A30 to make the document "sound".

i am a local resident living at [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998].

Two years before my retirement I applied for an allotment. The reasons being twofold.

1] I live alone and have no close family and was anxious that in some part the loss i would feel of my work colleagues would be diminished if I could establish a new social group through contacts on an allotment. I remembered how beneficial the friends my grandfather had made through his work on his allotment after his wife died in helping him through his loneliness.

2] I am a firm believer in the beneficial effect of being in the open air. My allotment keeps me active and I have the pleasure of giving my surplus produce to some people in social housing who benefit from having their food bills reduced by my gifts of produce, especially really fresh fruit.

If access to the car park off the Aldershot Road was removed I would have to drive through a built up area on a regular basis to access my plot.

Additionally it would be too far for me to walk, which is what I do when not needing to take heavy sacks etc to the allotment or bring out and distribute the produce. I am aware that many of my "new friends" also use the Aldershot road access and I feel it should be retained for vehicular use. Without it I would be adding to the carbon footprint of Guildford.
I value my sanctuary of green space, the one air, the bird song, companionship and the reason to get up and keep active even if the weather is not very inviting. Please do not remove a really important green space especially in one of the more built-up areas of Guildford. So please consider the above in relation to point 14.

Thank you for reading my comments.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, the north east has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow, street lighting and pavements are limited or nonexistent. The current high density of traffic now using through routes results in them being "gridlocked" at peak times. There has also been an assumption for which there is no evidence that there will be more cyclists. The area has no cycle paths. Public transport across the area is poor and is currently being reduced which in itself will result in putting more cars on the roads.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough has employed consultants who allegedly have planning experience, but have not taken account of Surrey County Council highway planners views or the costs involved in improving infrastructure, which is currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to the Village Neighbourhood plans. Logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up rather than top down approach.

I object to the unfair imbalance of the Plan across the borough.

The Plan has become even more biased against the North East part of the borough. Guildford Borough covers an area of over 100 square miles. Of the 1,1350 homes currently proposed in the Plan, over 40% (4613) are within 3 miles of Ripley, Burnt Common and Send Marsh, most of them on Green Belt. This is grossly unnecessary and unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough. The removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) and reductions of housing planned in this version of the Plan in other parts of the borough places an unnecessary burden on the northeast section (Ripley and Send).

I object to the principle of hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)

This version of the Plan openly conceals some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects: i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!), and ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

I object to removal of Brownfield site (A34) from the Plan

Site A44 in Broadford Business Park has also been removed. This is another brownfield site that has already been developed. The Council’s claims to “have adopted a ‘brownfield first’ approach” (page 5) but this is clearly not the case, and is contrary to national guidelines.

The Plan contains inconsistencies in respect of traveller sites.
A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ...” Clearly A50 more than covers the total assessed “need” of 8 places, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A34. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

I object to the removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)

This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states “Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

I object specifically to ‘Garlick’s Arch’ (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to the allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople sites in A34 ‘Garlick’s Arch’
The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan. NB: A travelling showpersons site with associated storage is completely inappropriate in a rural environment, and I note the intention to release this land for additional housing in the future, should it prove an unnecessary allocation.

The inclusion of site A58 Burnt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch

GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were:

> The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm... (site allocation A25) [than the Burnt Common site did]” The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) the separation issue is clearly being ignored as BOTH sites (Burnt Common and Garlicks Arch – which are almost contiguous) are in the plan; therefore GBC are not following their own guidelines and objectives. A58 Burnt Common provides more than the “required” industrial space, so there is no reason for Garlick’s Arch to be included.

I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch

The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

> “We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan”.

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in Green Belt (A58)

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. These facilities are always highly contentious and the Council has a duty of transparency in this regard which it is, at best, neglecting.

The inclusion of site A58 Burnt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch)

GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were

I object to the rationale resulting in the need for massive increase in housing stock in the borough which is based on flawed evidence. I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”

WE NOW KNOW that if the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, simply to make a negotiated payment to the Council, this is highly unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit is to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is shocking.

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for ‘it’s insetting’ (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

I wish to object to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2017) and in particular to the changes affecting Ripley and Send. These increase the impact on local areas by increasing the number of houses, traveller’s sites and destruction of even more of the Green Belt, rather than as promised, take account of the thousands of objections to the 2016 Plan and many of its unnecessary proposals. The Green Belt, was intended (and has generally succeeded thus far) to provide breathing lungs encircling large towns and cities, to improve air quality, increase opportunities for city dwellers to experience countryside and fresh unpolluted air, and generally to assist in preserving quality of life.

Many of the proposals will result in Guildford Town in the over populated and congested south east even more than at present, puts the opportunity for ‘breathing lungs’ even further from inner city dwellers reach, and increases the problems caused by potential over-crowding and congested living. The proposals focus on housing, without consideration of health, transport and education provision, unless funded by the sale of property to fund the necessary infrastructure.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far, the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently out side their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighbourhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

I also OBJECT to policies A37, A38, A40 and A41. These involve the excessive expansion of West Horsley, an increase in its housing by 36%. West Horsley is one of the first lines of defence against urban sprawl by the London conurbation. And GBC wants to rip up the rules on protecting the Green Belt to put up some more housing here. This is fundamentally wrong and I OBJECT to it.

My conclusion is that GBC have put a huge effort into creating a monster here which nobody wants except for Guildford’s planning department and maybe a few of Guildford’s councillors who campaigned at the last local election on the basis of protecting the Green Belt. Doesn’t look like it to me, so I OBJECT TO THE LOCAL PLAN.

Policy A35: Wisley Airfield. I object to this proposal. The proposed Wisley development is probably the craziest thing in this entire document. It represents Town Planning at its very worst. The idea is to build what is effectively a new town in the heart of beautiful and historic Surrey countryside, full of pretty villages which have grown up over a thousand years. The traffic impact will be horrendous. The impact of the protected wildlife next to this site will be catastrophic. All new services will need to be brought in. And who will guarantee that all of this actually ? Well.....actually, nobody knows because the entire project is being run anonymously. POLICY P2: GBC says it is protecting the Green Belt, but I didn’t notice it. It seems like 65% of the housing is to go on land now in the Green Belt. This is totally outrageous.

Part of this policy says that East Horsley will be in-set from the Green Belt. I OBJECT to this. The policy has worked well in our village so far, don’t change it.

Part of this policy also puts forward changes to the Green Belt boundaries in East Horsley. I OBJECT to all of these. None of them seem to be justified. And taking two large fields from behind Ockham Road North, which flood all the time, is just plain ridiculous.

On some of your specific policies, I wish to register my OBJECTIONS to the following:

POLICY S2: As I said already, the housing numbers are much too high. Also, following BREXIT, the numbers of immigrants coming into UK will go down for sure, so even the 15% projected rise is now looking too high. Also, GBC’s economic forecasts, which you use to justify all this extra housing, all of this will need to come down too. I think you really need to re-work all of your figures here.

Overall, I OBJECT to this plan. It seems to me that the housing numbers you’re proposing to build are much too high for this area. I don’t understand all of the analysis you’ve presented to justify them, which all looks so complicated that I suspect the authors try to make it deliberately confusing on purpose. But my feeling on this is that GBC have put forward a plan that not many people want, apart from the town planners. If the Government is forecasting population in this area will rise by 15%, how on earth can GBC put forward a plan to increase its housing stock by 25%? Also, given that so much of the Borough is Green Belt, why isn’t this taken into account? The majority of the land for housing is coming out of the Green Belt, which is just plain ridiculous.

The proposal to build a new town on the site of the former Wisley airfield is an appalling idea and should be removed from the Local Plan without delay. This site has no redeeming merits whatsoever. It has no facilities or infrastructure, will destroy local wildlife, will see new homes build in an area of high air pollution, and it will have a major impact on local schools, doctors’ surgeries, etc. This is a picturesque, historic area. To transplant a piece of central London and parachute it into the midst of these five beautiful rural villages is the worst planning proposal I have ever seen.

This site should have been removed from the revised Local Plan. It is a mystery to me why it was not, when other sites with far fewer deficiencies were removed. I strongly object to Policy A35.

For these three major reasons I object generally to the revised Local Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The level of new housing proposed in the Local Plan is still much too high. A proposed increase in the housing stock of the borough of 22% is far too high a target to set. With Brexit almost certain to lead to lower levels of population growth, this very high level of new housing development is unnecessary and will create all sorts of problems in the borough where infrastructure is already over-stretched and where our green areas are becoming increasingly spoiled. For this reason I strongly object to the revised policy S2.

Every morning the A3 experiences heavy traffic from the services to the M25. These developments will add considerable traffic (even more with a new junction at Burnt common). To propose these large developments without any roads is naive and short sighted.

I must object to the local plan for the following reasons:

The Traveller Site at Valentines Farm in Ripley. The Council and local residents have spent a lot of time, effort and in the councils case taxpayers money objecting to this development through its many applications and appeals. Nothing has changed except you have included in the local plan. The site is still on the greenbelt. To suddenly include it in the local plan is tantamount to admitting that all the money and effort spent before was a waste. The site should be returned to open fields when the temporary permission ends. To include it extends the village boundary into greenbelt and green belt must be protected not just for us but for future generations. It is what makes this area of surrey such a pleasant area to live in.
The Developments around Send, Ripley, Ockham and the Horsleys represent over 20% of the housing proposed in the local plan. It is a heavy burden to place on villages that represent 0.3% of the population of the borough. It seems grossly unfair and looks like political bias.

Every morning the A3 is solid from the the M25 to the services heading north. The proposed entry slip at Burnt common will only make this worse. It is naive and short sighted to propose the number of new houses in this area with no additional infrastructure. If the council is serious about this plan new bus routes and train stations should be proposed.

The Valentines Traveller site and the Wisley Airfield site have seen a large number of objections over a number of years from local residents. To include both in the local plan, ignoring the objections from local residents is outrageous and disrespectful.

A local plan should be representatives of all residents of the borough I feel that this plan is not and should be rejected.

I must object to the draft local plan. I have grown up in Ripley and feel that the proposed developments on the old Wisley Airfield, at Garlicks Cross, the three developments in West Horsley and the traveller site at Valentines farm are too much for this area.

The developments are too large and will overload the roads and public services. The Traveller site at Valentines is on greenbelt land. Greenbelt land is precious and must be protected.

Developments should be within existing village boundaries and not result in villages expanding into open fields and countryside.

The Council fought the Planning permission at The Paddocks / Valentines Farm through its many appeals and spent a lot of time, effort and tax payer's money on these appeals. To now include this site in the local plan suggests that all that money was wasted. I am sure the council does not want to be accused of wasting tax payer's money. The site is still occupied by travellers on Green belt land and should be returned to open fields at the end of the temporary permission and not included in the local plan. Further, the existing occupants are already in breach of the temporary permission and extending this is likely to increase the breaches and destroy even more green belt land.

The local plan allocates a large percentage (over 20%) of new housing in the local plan to the villages of Ripley, Send, Ockham and the Horsleys). This seems to be a very biased distribution and heavy penalty for these small villages to bear. Surely if more housing is needed then it should be allocated evenly across the Borough and we see no evidence that this is the case.

Any development at "Gosden Hill Farm" needs a 4 way interchange on the A3 road, close to Burpham's slip road, this is planned from 2021 but is out of kilter with an aspirational "Guildford Tunnel" which if done is likely to be in this area, will not be delivered until 2023 -2027; so there will be a period of intense traffic overload in Burpham.

We have a neighbourhood plan in Burpham that protects the open spaces in the locality but was unable to prevent a sustainable movement corridor being suggested which I feel is unsound. There is no room on the roads to carry the proposed cycle, traffic and pedestrians particularly at the roundabouts

1. Woodruft Ave – George Abbott School
2. Kingspost Parade – Retail shops
3. Sainsbury’s

Add into this mix a proposed development of 2000 homes at Gosden Hill.

No evidence of the additional pollution of this slow extra traffic to cyclists and locals on foot.

I also wish to support the Guildford Residents Association points and oppose the intended increase to the size of Guildford by a quarter; mostly north of the town, in this draft plan.

REF: OBJECTION TO:

GUILDFORD PROPOSED LOCAL PLAN 6/6/2016 - FIELDS BEHIND SHALFORD VILLAGE HALL

I am writing to object strongly to the recent change made to the local Shalford plan which has removed the fields behind the Village Hall and Tennis Club from the Green Belt by putting them in the Shalford settlement boundary. If developed, this would completely change the ‘rural’ character of this area, which is so vital to preserving the surrey countryside in the face of the enormous pressure to build on every available space possible. The green lung that this provides is not only essential in making sure that the countryside is protected but also contributes to making sure that excessive building does not damage the very heart of this rural countryside.

My great concern is that this represents a direct encroachment of our most valued resource, which once lost cannot be returned. Although these fields have been classified as “open spaces”, this does in effect substantially reduce the protection of the area from housing development, compared to being designated as Greenbelt. What horrifies me is that this has been done without any explanation or confirmation. Any construction on these fields would be 25ft above the village hall and so tower over both the tennis courts and bowling green. This would totally change the green aspect of both these facilities, as well as the village green and pond area – which is currently an amazing common area for locals to relax and wander across on a sunny afternoon. It would also generate considerable traffic on Chinthurst lane, adding to the traffic chaos and pollution that already exist, thereby increasing the potential for an accident.

I therefore propose that this area be adjusted back to the 2003 boundary, and so be protected once again as greenbelt land, to ensure that these fields remain as open spaces and that Guildford Borough Council takes on its environmental responsibility to keep central Shalford as rural as possible. As a resident and member of the Shalford Tennis club I urge you not to allow the loss of this lovely green land which is so important in helping Shalford to remain a village, and retain its wonderfully green backdrop which is so important to ensuring it retains it’s full character.

The proposed Wisley airfield development seems to have paid little account to the needs of infrastructure - approx 4000 extra cars all driving on the existing roads/lanes, children accessing secondary schools (do the schools have places?) will result in road chaos.

Air and noise pollution from the nearby A3 and M25 exacerbated by the extra 4000 cars - will it be a healthy environment to live in?

The Wisley development will eventually result in the unintended amalgamation of the villages of Ripley, Cobham, Effingham and Horsley into one large strip development - has that result been considered and planned for?

To sum up, the proposed housing developments are too big, seem to lack forward planning and there is no infrastructure planned to deal with it.

The infrastructure in Horsley is still based on the needs of a small village; the roads/lanes are too narrow, the parking is limited and the extra cars created by the occupants of 593 houses + the 2000 at Wisley will resort in gridlock (they will all commute, there is little business in Horsley)

Drainage/sewerage system is antiquated and cannot cope with the current demands; when it rains water flows down from the A246 through the Horsleys all the way down to the A3 roundabout. If it rains heavily it floods and is impassable; 2500 extra houses with all the water running off the concrete surfaces will require major infrastructure development to cope with it.

There is one primary school in Horsley, a stretched medical centre, no NHS dentist, the shopping facilities are mainly met by a small Budgens convenience shop - who will develop these facilities on what land) to meet the demands of the new homeowners?

The proposed building of 593 new houses is out of all proportion to the village’s current size; it is understood that there is need for housing, but where did these numbers come from, based on what criteria?

I object to the proposed plans of the GBC for several reasons.

1) The government vowed to protect the ‘Green Belt’. To remove Ripley and Send from the ‘Green Belt’ would violate this agreement.
2) Building so many houses on Wisley airfield and at Garlick's Arch and other sites would create one large urban sprawl and destroy an ancient and historic (900 years old) village.

3) It can be almost impossible to exit my drive in the rush hour with cars at a standstill a mile back to get on the A3 which is now at full capacity.

4) There is a lack of evidence for such numbers of housing.

5) There is no immediate provision for infrastructure.

6) The Wisley airfield proposal has previously been turned down and is prone to flooding.

7) Increased air pollution.

8) a disproportionate number of building disposal in the beautiful area.

9) The present frequent congestion on the A37 M25 would become a nightmare.

10) The present A3 was built to save Ripley but already too much traffic passes through this historic village.

I am writing to you because I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan.

In particular I object to any encroachment on GREEN BELT land which under your plans would be lost forever and deprive future generations from enjoying it.

You are obviously targeting the villages in North Surrey and I object to your policy of 'in-setting' these villages, particularly Ripley, Ockham, Send, the Clandons and Horsleys to name just some. I also object to what is clearly a disproportionate amount of development in one area.

I particularly object to the underhand way in which the Garlick's Arch site has been handled allowing a development of at least 400 houses to be considered with less than 2 weeks notice.

Although there are many other aspects of the latest version of the Guildford Plan which have clearly not been thought out properly, I will not add to my list of objections at this stage, except for the outrageous issue which is the long standing Wisley Airfield site and the fact that despite a unanimous decision of the Council to turn down this Application, it has been allowed to remain as part of the Guildford Plan. This disgraceful decision is an assault on the electorate and unless speedily rectified will be indelibly engraved in the hearts and memories of voters. So you may take it that I also strongly object to any development of the Wisley Airfield site.

Site A35 Wisley Airfield
I object to the proposed increase to 95.9 hectares. The resultant increase in traffic volumes would be excessive on top of the existing traffic levels especially in Ripley where traffic is often at a standstill at morning and afternoon peak times. Newark Lane, in particular, cannot cater for any additional traffic and yet it would be the most likely favoured route for traffic to Woking from the Airfield development. Once again I object to the gross misuse of Green Belt land.

Site A43 Garlicks Arch
I object to the increase in houses to a figure over 600. I further object to the provision for Travelling Showpeople Plots, which would obviously involve the use of articulated lorries and other transportation vehicles. These would be wholly unsuitable in this area, especially when accessing on to the B2215 road. The proposed inclusion of these plots is out of line with the original plan and is in a Green Belt area.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

• disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
• directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
• ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
• adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

1. School:

My understanding is that the proposal to virtually double the size of Normandy is the need for a school in west Guildford. Keith Witham has researched all schools in the area and every one is undersubscribed, Kings Manor by as much as 57%. The birth rate in the area has decreased over the past 3 years or so and I fail to see the need for another school when the present schools are not at capacity.

1. Amenities:

Whilst I acknowledge we have a Church, a Doctors’ Surgery and a railway station, that is about the limit of useful amenities in the area. It can take 3 weeks for a non urgent appointment at the Surgery! What is it going to be like with a population double the size? The railway station car park is extremely limited in parking spaces, not actually counted but my guess is a maximum of 10. Cannot see how this can be enlarged with the car park being surrounded with houses and businesses.

I do understand that there is a need for more housing in the area and personally I have no objection to a couple of small pockets of new houses, but to build on the scale at present proposed by Taylor Wimpey is ludicrous. Taylor Wimpey are only interested in making a vast profit without a thought of the local residents, or the great difficulties it will be to travel around with a huge increase in population.

I strongly urge the Planning Committee to view the site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to strongly object to the above Plan.

Reasons:

1. Infrastructure:

Both Glaziers Lane and Westwood Lane, which on the Plan are either side of the proposed project, are narrow country lanes. Westwood Lane has a narrow one way system under the railway bridge and on Glaziers Lane the bridge has a bend and blind spot. Neither road has footpaths its entire length, not without crossing from side to side, and on Glaziers Lane one has to cross on a bend. The A323 is extremely busy, especially at peak times. The turning into Glaziers Lane from A323 is extremely tight and I have witnessed accidents there. The thought of another 2,000 car owners plus the extra traffic a school would bring does not bear thinking about.

I strongly request an Inspector views these roads.

I write to object to the above proposed change. I belong the the Shalford Lawn Tennis Club and live in Wonersh and so frequently visit and travel through the area.

Should this change occur, the land would not be protected from housing development. If this were to occur it would be devastating to the area in terms of visual amenity. The land is significantly higher than it’s surrounds, so any development would be a real eyesore and ruin the green nature of the village. Furthermore, the roads around such a development are already incredibly under pressure and simply cannot cope with the inevitable increase in traffic that any development would case. My son attends a school in Guildford and I am only too aware of the very lengthy queues leading up to the roundabout in Shalford from both the main road from Wonersh and also from Chinthurst Lane. Furthermore, Chinthurst Lane is not an easy road to negotiate either as a driver or a pedestrian, with very narrow stretches, sharp/blind bends and no pavement in places, so to add even further traffic to such a road would make it even more of a danger to both kinds of user.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Further to a previous comment, please note the following comments, based on the background "topic" paper on Housing, dated June 2016.

para 4.172 states "The effectiveness of the plan is partly measured by the ability to demonstrate a five year supply of deliverable housing land..." Although it will be for a Planning Inspector to determine the effectiveness of the Local Plan, it does seem, from the Council's own figures, that the Plan is not sufficiently robust.

para 4.12 The Council does not appear to have attempted to record brownfield land in its area. This is fundamental within the NPPF.

para 4.15 I am able, by reference to a specific example, to demonstrate that the LAA does not identify "...all sites that are suitable, available and achievable for housing..."

para 4.59 This paragraph does not adequately identify the specific Court of Appeal judgement. It is possible that it refers to Neutral Citation Number: [2016] EWCA Civ 168 : 17 March 2016 (aka Richborough Estates Partnership LLP). That landmark judgement applies to all housing policies, of which settlement boundary is a comparatively minor one.

Currently, Guildford's "out of date" Green Belt policy has much more relevance to the Local Plan. The judgement is currently resulting in many planning appeals being allowed, both locally and nationally.

para 4.60 To describe a density of 50 dwellings per hectare, in a village, as acceptable - but "relatively high" must be highly questionable.

para 4.124 This site has been reintroduced, after being quietly omitted from the previous draft plan in 2015. The circumstances are particularly questionable because the site is part owned by the Council. It is not accurate to say that the site will be "removed" from low sensitivity Green Belt. The site will remain in the Green Belt, but will be built upon.

What is meant by "one of our more sustainable villages"?

para 4.155 Every figure given in the table is significantly "rounded". There are no step changes. It is very unlikely to be based on any realistic assessment of a timeline for housing completions. Its only purpose appears to be justification for a total number of 10,395 dwellings.
para's 4.156 and 4.157

These two paragraphs confirm there is to be no realistic attempt to resolve the accrued backlog of housing as required by the NPPF. An Inspector will determine whether this is reasonable.

para 4.167 to 4.171

These paragraphs, above any others, clearly indicates that this latest draft Local Plan will not conform to the NPPF.

para 4.169 is an outrageous misrepresentation of data. It is stated that "For the last seven years, completions have been less than 300 homes per year. In reality, the highest number achieved was 262. The annual average for the seven years is actually 203. [NB : The above statement would have been equally true if it had read "For the last seven years, completions have been less than 2,000 homes per year].

It should also be noted that annual housing completions in Guildford have reduced significantly since the introduction of the NPPF in 2012.

para 4.171 The statement "This is not possible to achieve during this period (2018/19- 2022/2023) without significant harm to the Green Belt and other harm. This would require development of many high sensitivity Green Belt sites, which we do not consider a reasonable option" is a clear indication that the draft Local Plan will not conform to the NPPF.

Why does the draft plan not contain such an "unreasonable" option for public consultation, utilising "low sensitivity" sites?

para 4.173 "As described above, it is imperative that an adopted plan is not immediately out of date due to lack of five-year supply of deliverable housing land – this would defeat the point of adopting a new Local Plan. The steadily increasing housing target enables a realistic prospect of a five year supply of deliverable housing land to be identified post adoption of the plan, and puts a plan in place that can significantly boost housing supply in Guildford Borough (as per the requirement of the NPPF).” This is simply an Invitation to an Inspector to find that the housing policies of the Council are currently wholly inadequate - but agree that, at some undefined point in the future, a magic wand can be waved.

In my humble opinion, the current Local Plan is unlikely to be adopted in its current form.

The Council has already been identified on a very small list of LPA's whose Local Plans are not sufficiently advanced and are consequently at risk of Government intervention in 2017. One Local Plan was withdrawn without being submitted for examination. This second is likely to draw a similarly large number of NIMBY objections, possibly resulting in further delay. It is therefore possible that a calculated risk to prompt such intervention is being taken by Councillors.

Neighbourhood Plan(s)

1. It is disappointing to note the virtual absence of adopted Neighbourhood Plans in the Council's area. These could have usefully informed the Local Plan.
2. Send Parish Council systematically objects to almost all planning applications in its area, on grounds which are entirely parochial and without merit as material planning issues.
3. However, it belatedly applied for NP status. Correspondence indicates that the members appear to lack the necessary expertise to develop a successful plan. In the event that they employ specialist planning consultants, it is likely that their advice will simply be rejected by either the parish council or the residents referendum. This may happen even if is consistent with an adopted Local Plan.

3  Wisley airfield (support proposal)

3.1 An application was recently refused on the grounds of "inappropriate development" in the Green Belt, giving future objectors a convenient menu of items for their continued opposition. However, it is apparent that the Council is actually in favour of the development and further applications will come forward in due course.

3.2 At this stage, there can be no certainty that it will ultimately be approved. If 2000 houses are suddenly removed from the housing proposals to meet an "objectively assessed need", then the whole plan will be in jeopardy at examination.

2 Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh - support proposal

2.1 This proposed development appears to be entirely sustainable, and it is perhaps surprising that it was not identified previously. It has a long frontage adjacent to the A3 and, with suitable Sec 106 agreements, would have similar credentials to the Wisley aerodrome site.

2.2 The NIMBY campaign by local groups should be given little weight. Such campaigns completely ignore the severe shortage of housing in both locally and nationally.

1 Green Belt - support proposals

1.1 Notwithstanding a comprehensive evidence base, circa 20,000 objections led to the demise of the original Local Plan. Given the scale and content of those objections, it is unlikely to be resolved by the current draft Plan. However, it is clear that the officers have done their very best to try to resolve this long standing problem. There must be some building in the Green Belt.

1.2 The Government has done nothing to ease the situation with its repeated public statements promising to "protect" the Green Belt. However, a recent Court of Appeal judgement (Mar 2016) has resulted in many more successful applications and appeals. Lack of a 5 years housing supply means that other policies previously restricting housing are now deemed to be "out of date".

1.3 I am not aware of any other LPA's having proposed a "traffic light" classification for Green Belt land. The only conceivable reason for incorporating such a system is to ease housing pressures by building on areas with the lowest classification (such as Send Hill Farm) However, it is likely that NIMBY's and bodies such as CPRE will object to this, quoting the original, but now outdated, Green Belt rationale

1.4 GBC development control continues to refuse Green Belt applications for the flimsiest of reasons. This is easily seen by the increased number of appeals being allowed and also by the successful applications for appeal costs against the Council.

6  Alternative suggestion for allocating housing in a Local Plan

Setting aside all planning designations (including AONB, Green Belt etc), every community in the country from the smallest hamlet to the largest city should designate area(s) of land to accommodate "x %" of the number of existing dwellings. That percentage could vary every 5 years and calculated centrally to satisfy the nation's housing shortfall.

If "brownfield land is available - then it should be used. Otherwise those people currently blessed with pleasant protected countryside should bear the same burden as any urban residents.

Nimbyism defeated at a stroke !

5  GBC planning appeals

5.1 One measure of a successful local plan is the ratio of appeals which are dismissed and allowed.

5.2 Many of the recent successful appeals are the result of members of the planning committee overturning officers recommendations. This often leads to appeal costs being awarded against the Council. This may be due to poor officer reports or members NIMBY'ism. Either way, this will have to change if Guildford is to come even close to meeting its "objectively assessed need".

5.3 Delegated officers continue to refuse Green Belt applications for the flimsiest of reasons. Once again, the Council has a relatively poor record with an increasing number of appeals being allowed.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

It is unclear what persuasive arguments have been made by the developer Taylor Wimpey to GBC such that site A46 which was not included as a development site in the draft plan should now appear. Flexford and Normandy and the land in between have been summarily removed from the Green Belt despite GBC policies stating the intent to protect the green belt.

The case for a school is weak and is not backed up by clear evidence as to its need from GBC. Justification hardly surprisingly comes through the developers interpretation of needs. I understand that neither Ash Manor nor Kings College are well subscribed and clearly have scope for additional pupils now and expansion on their existing sites in future. The planned large development at Blackwell Farm would seem to be a better located place for a school.

Transport infrastructure is poor and the proposals contained in the plan particular for roads are quite inadequate. The A323 Aldershot to Guildford Road is exceptionally busy at peak times and congestion is commonplace leading to extended journey times in my own experience of 30-40 minutes. The junctions from both Westwood Lane and Glaziers lane which bound the proposed site are poor and difficult to safely negotiate particularly when turning right. This leads to queues building along both approach roads. The delays are worse if there are problems on the A3 and
The platforms at Wanborough station and indeed most stations on the route to Ascot can only accommodate 4 car length trains. Extensions may be possible but at a significant cost to run longer trains. Network Rail can advise whether the infrastructure would support operation of additional services but any changes would no doubt be costly.

Environmentally the site is of great natural beauty and has amenity value for walkers, dog walkers and as an open area and provides part of the break between the conurbations of Guildford and Ash. The views particularly north towards the Hogs Back and south towards the Ash ranges heathland are exceptional. The way marked path between Glaziers Land and Westwood lane is a popular route. The path and surrounding fields are prone to be extremely wet and muddy with standing water a frequent occurrence during the winter suggesting a high water table that will not be resolved by simple drainage. Buildings on parts of Normandy have been subject to subsidence in the past because of heave and thrust in the underlying London Clay. On a regular walk it is common to see foxes, deer, hares and rabbits as well as domestic farm animals all of which would be displaced by development.

As the developers share price has dropped by some 30% in the last few days as residents we would seek assurance that a clear decision will be taken and acted on and that decisions and plans are not deferred leading to a blight on the area.

There is a public footpath through this site which will need to be protected. It leads to an unprotected crossing of the railway. Housing close by is likely to encourage use of this crossing and increase the risk of accidents to users and those who see the railway as a playground. This site is always boggy and is prone to flooding. The pond has historic value as it is part of the falx making process from which Flexford got its name. The road access through the Paddocks and the narrow partially made track alongside the proposed site are inadequate.

I am opposed to the recent changes made to the above local plan.

I live on Ripley High Street and find that at certain times it takes a long time before I can cross the High Street. If these local plan changes go ahead our village will be endangered by a HUGE increase in traffic.

At Garlicks Arch, for instance, the increase in housing and inclusion of travellers’ plots plus storage facilities is likely to cause massive amounts of large vehicle movements through this village.

A further concern is that waste management facilities to the strategic industrial sites potentially at Burnt Common. This is all unnecessary and does not provide local residents with enough info for a proper consultation.

I object to the site A35 [former Wisley Airfield] increase to 95.9 hectares. This would be likely to cause more congestion and pollution. Nitrous oxide levels are already above safe levels THIS IS VERY SERIOUS AND DANGEROUS for people and for wildlife.

There are now 60 houses suggested at the A42 Tannery Lane site [instead of the 40 on the original plan]; MORE CARS on the local roads. Our local lanes/roads cannot take any more traffic.

Please reconsider and do not take us for fools. Scrap these plans PLEASE,

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT in particular to including Sites A36-41 (East and West Horsley). This is a back-door way to create a mega-village – essentially, a soulless new dormitory town. The Horsleys feel victimised by this plan, which has been masterminded by Council leaders representing Ash and Tongham at the other end of the borough, where (in a flagrant case of political double standards) the Green Belt is actually being extended under Policy P3.[1]

Whatever their merits as development sites, the 6 Horsley sites should not be considered individually but for their cumulative impact on the contiguous villages of East and West Horsley.

Building 533 new houses on these 6 sites, plus at least another 90 on small sites is (a) excessive in absolute terms and (b) disproportionate relative to the rest of the borough. It will destroy the rural character of these communities.

Under the plan, rural West Horsley will take 35% of new homes, Ash and Tongham 16% and Guildford urban area only 11%. The total number of homes in West Horsley will increase by 35%, which is disproportionate when measured against the overall increase in housing across the borough and particularly in Guildford town. If the Council have justifiable reasons to transform a particular community so radically, the plan should present a case rather than sneaking in site proposals as a fait accompli.
These sites will put unsustainable strain on local facilities and infrastructure, including public transport, parking, schooling, medical facilities, sewage, surface drainage and shops. For instance:

- Thames Water have advised the Council that the current wastewater network will not cope and that the foul drainage system all the way to the treatment works North of Ripley will need to be upgraded.
- Guildford Council’s Education Review says “expansion options may need to be considered for primary” education in the Horsley area within the first 5 years of the plan, but Surrey County Council has no plans to do so. The Raleigh School is already full. The private Glenesk and Cranmore schools are also at or near to full capacity. The suggestion that schools in Ripley can be used contradicts the plan’s stated intention to reduce traffic on the A3 and strategic aim that primary schools should be within walking distance.
- The plan’s Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C) imagines an “East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme between 2019 and 2023 by Surrey CC” but gives no details. This scheme is just wishful thinking. The proposed housing can only harm the local environment, not improve it.

The harmful impact of these sites is magnified by the proximity of the so-called Wisley Airfield site (Three Farms Meadow), with 2,100 new homes only 2 miles away (see below).

The density of new housing on the 6 Horsley sites is inappropriate, being greater than anywhere in the locality now.

Sites situated on the periphery of existing development in the Horsleys encroach on surrounding open fields and require the extension of settlement boundaries for which the plan presents no arguments. Contrary to NPPF paragraph 79, this will contribute to creeping urbanisation by attenuating the Green Belt corridors separating the Horsleys from neighbouring settlements.

Collectively, these 6 sites militate against NPPF paragraph 81’s encouragement of access to the Green Belt and its amenity and recreation value. This has been a success story in the Horsleys, with the creation of an amenity wood and community garden, the purchase of adjacent fields (East of Ockham Road North) by local residents in order to preserve their open aspect, well-maintained pitches for local football and cricket clubs, public tennis courts, open space for a high-quality campsite (at Waterloo Farm) used by many foreign tourists and the approval of plans for a “Theatre in the Woods” – making West Horsley the only village in Surrey with an opera house. The open nature of West Horsley determined that a long portion of the 2012 Olympic cycle races passed through the village. This route has been adopted by cyclists as a permanent asset, including the annual Prudential cycle race. These and future examples of “positive planning” depend on protecting the Green Belt to maintain the openness and attractiveness of the local landscape and avoiding the urbanisation and traffic congestion that Sites A36-41 will bring.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT also to the re-inclusion in the plan of Policy A35 (land at Three Farms Meadow, alias the former Wisley airfield, Ockham). Following a huge public outcry, Guildford Planning Committee recently rejected a recent planning application for precisely this development was unanimously on 14 separate grounds.[1] This deceived many residents into thinking that it has been defeated: scandalously, the site had been included in the new draft local plan published just 24 hours before the planning decision – a clear signal to the developers that they should try again.

This is not an NPPF “presumption in favour of sustainable development” but a predetermined bias in favour of specific applicants, who had already been given additional months to refine their application. Residents are disturbed by apparent party links between the ruling Conservative group on the Council and individuals connected to the developers, a shadowy Cayman Islands company.[2]

Three Farms Meadows before WW2 was a valuable argricultural asset to the UK. It still is. It grows enough wheat for 1 million loaves of bread.

The hamlet of Ockham gladly helped the war effort by allowing the fields to be used for the defence of the realm on the understanding and promise from HM Government that after hostislities ceased it would be returned to farm land and the hamlet to a quiet rural existence. For their loyalty to King and country the villagers have been let down and subjected to the threat of the engulfment of the hamlet and the end of their peace and quiet as well as the loss of a valuable food production resource that the country needs to be self supporting (UK only produces half of what it consumes as food. - 2015).

Ockham is a historic place. The home home of ‘William of Occam’ philosopher and author of Occam’s Razor.

Ockham is the home of ‘Ada Lovelace’ the world’s first computer programmer (now on the UK passport)

The site of ‘The Ockam Hoard’ a Bronze Age Hoard of bronze axe heads and jewellery now at the British Museum.

The hamlet is a Grade 1 listed architectural treasure and must be protected.

Please remove Three farms Meadows from the Local Plan immeadiately.

Policy A35 should be summarily removed from the plan for all the reasons the development was rejected by the Planning Committee, including:

- Green Belt location and absence of “exceptional circumstances”;
- Misrepresentation of the site as brownfield land: 17ha (less than 15%) is brownfield, it is adjacent to the SPA and therefore within the 400m exclusion zone for housing. The remains of the runway (14ha) are a habitat for rare flora and fauna and has never had any buildings on it;
- Proximity to RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (TBHSPA);
- Proximity to A3/M25 bottleneck and Ripley village and roundabouts;
- Absence of adequate traffic data;
- Further harm to air quality both onsite and nearby (e.g. the Cobham AQMA) and disregard for the health of children at the proposed secondary school;
- Loss of high-quality agricultural land (55% of the site), in breach of national policy;
- Disproportion of locating of over 2,000 dwellings within the ancient village of Ockham with just 159 households;
- Presence of a Surrey County Council safeguarded waste site;
- Cost of infrastructure required to the detriment of alternative more favourable sites;
- Lack of local transport possibilities owing to country lanes with no footpaths or cycle ways and the distance to railway stations which have no spare parking capacity;
- Impact on listed buildings;
- Difficulty of SANG siting and inability to divert residents and their pets away from the SPA;
- Extreme housing density with tiny garden spaces;
- Damage to neighbouring communities of creating a settlement of 5,000 residents, equivalent to East and West Horsley combined, with worse light pollution, noise and traffic, and competition for local amenities and infrastructure;
• Insufficient information about the impact on the local water table and run-off (see comments on flooding in Horsley above), and the possible aggravation of downstream flooding towards the Thames;
• Failure to evaluate the cumulative impact of this and nearby development sites on the area.

David Mellor QC (its erstwhile founder and former Minister), Mr Michael Murray (spokesman for the project and Conservative cabinet member for planning policy at the Vale of the White Horse District Council in Oxfordshire) and the Hon. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

By surrounding Waterloo Farm campsite with 120 new houses, Policy A40 on land to the North of West Horsley will make this rural tourism amenity unviable. This may accord with developers’ plans, since the site would then be vulnerable to infilling with yet more housing.

Site A40 is subject to an unacceptable flood risk from a combination of a high groundwater table and the lack of surface water run-off. This is flat, clay land on the downhill side of the Horsleys where floodwater from new development will accumulate and back up onto existing properties nearby. I can provide photographs proving how badly these fields already flood at present. These problems will only get worse with the increase in extreme weather events that accompanies climate change. The “appropriate mitigation” suggested in Policy A40 exists only as an abstract notion. It should not overrule the need for Green Belt “exceptional circumstances”.

Policy A40 underestimates the problems of safe access and egress. Ockham Road North was closed for several weeks in 2014 because of flooding, and still floods regularly.

Policy A40 underestimates the problems of safe access and egress. Ockham Road North was closed for several weeks in 2014 because of flooding, and still floods regularly.

These problems are not confined to flooding and are not addressed by the proposal to extend the existing 30mph zone past the site access. Repeated attempts made by Ockham Road North residents to extend this zone have been turned down by the local authorities, Highways England and Surrey Police, even though data collected in 2015 show that traffic has doubled over the last 15 years and that the average speed in the 40mph section of this road is 52mph, with maximum speeds of over 80mph. No traffic calming measures have been achieved. Additional housing will add to several hazards along this stretch of road, including:

- Its use by pedestrians, especially children (using the Raleigh and Glenesk schools and catching school buses to Guildford and Howard of Effingham), pensioners living in the string of bungalows at the northern end of the road, and visitors from the Waterloo campsite who are unfamiliar with the area.
- The existence of a narrow footpath on only one side of the road in any one spot. The layout means that walking half a mile between Green Land and East Lane requires crossing the road twice.
- The road’s increasing use by recreational cyclists (see above).
- Its winding nature, poor sight lines (especially when interrupted by summer vegetation) and dangerous, concealed driveways. Most of these were built in the 1930s. Some have been widened but many are too narrow for modern traffic. Since a deep ditch runs along most of the road, vehicles have to swing out dangerously when entering or leaving.
- The prospect of additional traffic, including 19,000 HGV movements (90 a day over a long period) if Surrey County Council approves the Drift Golf Course’s planning application to re-landscape its site using bulk waste transported from London.

POLICY D2 - Sustainable design, construction and energy

I OBJECT. Sustainability should be an overarching ambition, conditioning the whole local plan and running through it, as claimed in the NPPF, “like a golden thread”. It should be set out clearly in Policy S1, not buried away as a minor detail in Policy D2.

This policy amounts to “greenwashing”, expounding aspirational environmental targets while ignoring the plan to build dormitory towns in the Green Belt that are environmentally and socially unsustainable. These settlements will require vastly increased car use and will lead to unacceptable traffic congestion, overstretched social infrastructure, and higher greenhouse gas emissions and noise and light pollution. This policy should not be just about saving energy but about preserving the borough’s stock of natural capital, especially the countryside, from futile attempts to rig the housing market.

This policy’s emphasis on Combined Cooling Heating and Power and communal heating networks is meaningless, since no such networks are available locally.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
POLICY D3 - Historic environment

I OBJECT. This policy clashes with the strongly pro-development agenda of the rest of the plan and fails to address the contradiction. History is unamenable to improvement, so the policy should commit the Council firmly to protecting and preserving our heritage assets from development. Instead, the specific policy pledge to “support development” that might “enhance” heritage assets leaves ample scope for abuse in the form of destructive commercialisation and financial leveraging.

This policy is based on the false premise that Guildford’s heritage is inherently in decay. This is a developer’s charter – a short step away from the idea that the historic environment needs to pay its way to be preserved. The Council’s aggressive reviews of Guildford Museum and the Electric Theatre support this interpretation. Whatever the “reasoned justification”, the actual policy wording in the blue box leaves too many loopholes.

Development close to historical assets is harmful and should be expressly prohibited. This policy fails to meet the requirements of NPPF paragraphs 126 and 131-133.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

POLICY D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

I OBJECT. This is a piously aspirational policy that does not address any of the obvious practical issues already touched on above:

The plan envisages that 40% of homes built will be “affordable”, but this does not provide any accommodation for low-paid workers, for example, those on the minimum wage, who cannot afford to buy so-called “affordable” homes or pay an “affordable” rent. There is a need for some expansion in social housing, especially in urban areas, where there is a greater concentration of low-paid workers such as those employed in the retail, warehousing and distribution sectors (all of which this plan aspires to expand).

The number of homes planned in the urban area is too low. There is a glaring need for regeneration in many urban areas, but this is ignored in favour building homes on green-field sites instead. This will not meet urban housing needs. It is also unsustainable, since building outside the town does disproportionate harm to road traffic, air quality and overstretched infrastructure.

The plan envisages a large expansion of the traditional “bricks and mortar” retail sector, but this is a sector in rapid and continuous decline.

All the stated policy aims for “inset” villages will be negated by the sheer weight of new housing development proposed which would radically change their character forever. Against this disruptive background, it is barely relevant to talk about preserving views!

POLICY E1 - Meeting employment needs

I OBJECT because - the evidence base is unreliable;

there is unclear differentiation between B class uses; only high value-added business uses, contributing to a modern “knowledge economy”, are desirable, not low-grade, low-employment warehousing which is also land hungry; industrial and commercial businesses must be concentrated in the urban area or existing business parks (e.g. Slyfield) not in the rural environment which the infrastructure is unable to support; the rural environment must support micro- or high-tech businesses, agricultural industries, and tourism, and these sectors must not be damaged by general industrial development which is inappropriate.

POLICY E2 - Location for new employment floorspace

I OBJECT. It would be more sensible to confine all new office and research and development (use Class B1a and B1b) floor space to Guildford town centre. I oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm (see my reference to “regulatory capture” of local public policy by the University, Policy H1, above). No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

POLICY E4 - Surrey Research Park

I OBJECT. The Council are required by the NPPF to facilitate commercial science and technology clusters. But, as with Policies H1 and E2 above, this policy seems to be dictated more by the ambitions of the University of Surrey than the public interest. In an extremely tangled sentence, it says that the Research Park will be “protected for business use… in any science… that is complementary to the activities of the University of Surrey.”
This fails to distinguish adequately between the University’s public role as a state-funded, academic institution and its private, financial interest in profit-making business spin-offs. It ignores enterprises that might be commercial rivals of the University. And it fails to consider the public harm done by turning the Research Park into a larger Business Park, such as the loss of Green Belt capital.

B1b should be the primary use class for the Research Park and applications for B1a should be resisted given the danger of diluting the core purpose and reputation of the park. The inclusion of B1c uses is inappropriate and unnecessary.

POLICY E5 - Rural economy

I OBJECT. Use of rural areas for town centre uses without applying the sequential approach is against the principles of localism that require local people to be consulted and heeded, not ignored. Villages need protecting in terms of both design and scale.

Most of the economic activities listed in 4.4.44 depend on maintaining the rural character of our villages which would be endangered by the wholesale “insetting”, boundary expansion and house building proposed in other parts of the plan. This applies also to new and projected enterprises in the Green Belt (e.g. Grange Park Opera’s Theatre in the Woods in West Horsley, which requires a protected, rustic setting to be a success, not housing estates and congested roads). Policy E5 is incompatible with the high housing numbers proposed.

Previous commitments to improved high-speed broadband and mobile phone coverage have now been diluted, despite general support. This disregards the responses from the 2014 public consultation.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

POLICY E7 Guildford Town Centre

I OBJECT. The policy “vision” refers to protecting the Guildford’s “unique setting” (including, surely, its surrounding Green Belt and countryside views) but this is not carried over into the formal policy wording in the blue box. It is therefore a worthless commitment.

There should be much more residential use of the town centre where most people, especially the young and less well-off, want to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose a visionary regeneration plan for the River Wey/Walnut Tree Close area, where there is arguably enough brownfield land for 4,000 new homes, meeting near all the borough’s housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.
There is an urgent need for a brownfield register and to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area. CIL strategy must promote brownfield redevelopment.

Strangely, the policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

This policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.[1]

Instead, it is far too concerned with shopping. Town-centre shopping is in decline internationally as consumers move irreversibly online. There is no need to expand physical retail capacity or warehousing floorspace, which will only kill off existing shops while using up valuable housing land. The delays to the redevelopment of North Street are symptomatic of shifting consumer patterns. Guildford is a large town without a single butcher or fishmonger, showing that the Council need to use the fiscal and other mechanisms at its disposal to support niche retailers. To opt for large, impersonal department stores and dull high-street chain stores at the expense of Guildford’s unique character would be an historic blunder. For this type of shopping, most residents can go to Woking or Kingston, whose ugly town centres should serve as a dire warning to Guildford planners

[1] NPPF 59: “Local planning authorities should consider… the overall scale, density, massing, height, landscape, layout, materials and access of new development in relation to neighbouring buildings and the local area more generally.”

POLICY E8 - District centres

I OBJECT to the proposal that sites “on the edge” of District Centres being considered for retail developments. This is another Trojan horse policy, allowing retail hubs to be vastly expanded in order to smooth the way for vast new housing estates outside in the countryside (e.g. to meet the “everyday shopping and service needs” of the roughly 1,500 people living in the 600 new homes planned for the Horsleys).

This is a case of back-to-front priorities. Expanded local retail hubs are being proposed in order to justify more housebuilding in the villages, and in a forlorn attempt to mitigate the serious traffic and infrastructure problems this will create. The Council has no business facilitating new supermarkets in the Green Belt. Rural retail capacity should be left to local demand.

The policy proposes not a single measure to support existing rural shops and services that are the lifeblood of village communities, e.g. using business rates and other levers at the Council’s disposal.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
POLICY E9 - Local centres

I OBJECT (for the reasons given under Policy E8 above) to the proposal for retail development adjacent to the 6 rural centres, and sites on the edge of designated centres. This is creeping urbanization, damaging to the Green Belt and to Guildford town role as a thriving urban hub. It will contribute to urban decay and depopulation, just as expansion of the suburbs did to mid-20th century London.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

POLICY H1 – Homes for all

I OBJECT. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.
Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H2 – Affordable homes

I OBJECT. “Affordable” homes, under national definitions, means homes that are sold or rented at 80% of market value. Even if 70% of these are rented as proposed, the level of market prices in the South-East means (even post-Brexit) that these homes will remain well beyond most people’s means and that starter homes will not become available for local people.

In addition, the viability clause (4.2.40) means that in practice the policy could be unenforceable. Private financial viability has no place in a public policy and should be removed. It is a get-out-of-jail-free card for developers that will sacrifice countryside for no local benefit.

I question the assumptions that seem to underlie this policy: that people have a right (rather than a legitimate aspiration) to own a home; that they should be encouraged to live locally (contradicting the Government’s policy of encouraging labour mobility and development in poorer regions, where homes are cheaper anyway); that increasing local house-building will reduce overcrowding and congestion (rather than simply suck more people into the borough); and that it will stem the rise in house prices (even though 13,860 new homes would be a drop in the ocean, given that prices are determined by an infinite demand-pull from London, whose population is increasing by 100,000 a year, and the currently low cost of capital for overseas and other buyers). The weak mechanisms proposed might influence the market in more remote parts of the UK, but not here.

This policy allows “affordability” to be a smokescreen for pushing through more development generally. Building more homes in Guildford cannot increase real affordability given the overhang of the London market.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT. This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

POLICY I1 - Infrastructure and delivery

I OBJECT. Most of the borough’s infrastructure is antiquated, congested and straining to accommodate even current needs and organic growth. Yet this plan’s commitment to building housing estates across the Guildford countryside will mean either major infrastructure investment that no-one is prepared to pay for or else a catastrophic and simultaneous collapse in transport, educational, medical, energy, water and communications services.

The plan targets greenfield sites – requiring heavy infrastructure investment – in order to generate CIL income necessary to meet an infrastructure shortfall that is already serious. This is not sensible. The current draft CIL scale also encourages development on greenfield sites rather than brownfield.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing infrastructure needs in this area is inadequate, identifying only the tip of an iceberg of existing congestion. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that involve demolishing property and road-widening in residential areas to solve the resultant congestion. The A3 improvements are not guaranteed to take place but they are being used to justify removing large areas from the Green Belt before detailed traffic assessments have taken place. These detailed investigations are being deferred until the planning application stage and will be left to developers to prepare. If a site then proves to be unsustainable its Green Belt protection will have been lost for no reason and unsuitable development will take place by a more insidious process.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritising greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognising this as a key issue, the plan is based on a wing and a prayer.

[1] Residents have been incredulous at the Council’s failure to apply infrastructure constraints to housing numbers, in response first to the Issues and Options paper and then to the 2014 draft local plan. There were 20,000 responses each time.

POLICY I2 - Supporting the Department of Transport’s “Road Investment Strategy”

I OBJECT. This policy is too vague and optimistic. Decisions by Highways England on improving the strategic road network (the M25 and A3) are still years off. The Council have suggested a very expensive tunnel under Guildford, but this is no more than a dream. Even if Highways England accepted this (which is highly unlikely in the post-Brexit public spending climate) it would not be built until the end of the plan period at the earliest. Other, less expensive A3 improvements, and changes to the Junction 10/Heathrow stretch of the M25, will also take years to agree and complete.

The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is foolhardy. Surrey is the most congested county in England, with 683 people per square Km, compared with an English average of 413. This policy will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone). This is a major development constraint that should have been applied to the OAN before this consultation, and not left up in the air.

POLICY I3 - Sustainable transport for new developments

I OBJECT. This is another vaguely aspirational policy, based on wishful thinking and not grounded in the practical realities of daily life. It consists of a standard, box-ticking list of local government measures unrelated to the specifics of the plan. Like infrastructure, transport appears to be an afterthought; the policy fails in its essential job of guiding planning decisions, since it assumes development of any kind can be supported by sustainable transport.

The sustainability of the dormitory settlements which the Council want built across the countryside depends on a general "modal shift" from private car use to walking, cycling and public transport. This is unrealistic. The proposed sites are often miles away from the nearest railway station. Bus services even in the largest villages are almost non-existent – just one bus to and from Guildford each day in the Horsleys and none at weekends. Since bus services depend on profitability, they cannot be expanded and the Council are not proposing to subsidise new ones. Rural buses are too slow anyway for busy people. Most rural roads in the borough are narrow, winding, hilly, potholed, muddy and unlit. Many flood badly and have no footpaths.

The desired modal shift would require a comprehensive co-ordination of bus and train timetables with services every 10-15 minutes, seven days a week, to stops within walking distance of every home in the borough. This kind of integrated public transport system has been achieved in Switzerland, for instance, but only at huge public cost and thanks to a political consensus in favour of state ownership of trains, buses and the post office, which delivers rural passengers as well as mail. There is absolutely no chance of this in the UK.

The vast majority of the borough’s residents are not, in practice, able to cycle. This includes children, the elderly, commuters who have to look smart, the infirm, the unfit and people carrying goods or shopping of any kind. Dependence on walking and cycling discriminates against these groups, which include some of the most vulnerable members of the community. It is socially unjust.

One in two working people in Guildford commute for up to 3 hours a day. They will not leave their cars for even part of their journey if it means longer travel times.

Park-and-rides are a welcome part of the transport mix but are too slow for commuters and others on a tight schedule. Well-off pensioners seem to be the main beneficiaries. For an adult couple going shopping it is still cheaper to park in town.

Forget about water buses. The Wey is too narrow and, with a river speed limit of 4 knots, boats are too slow for anything but recreation. Except on the tideway, not even the Thames has such services.

The addition of two new stations appears attractive but will slow down train journeys, which are already slower than at any time since the 1930s. Knock-on effects on localities where the new stations are built have not been sufficiently worked out.

POLICY I4 Green and blue infrastructure

I OBJECT. This policy is a box-ticking exercise with no teeth to it. It sits oddly with the plan’s onslaught on the Green Belt. The plan to build on large areas of countryside and to inset villages will cancel out any benefits from extending the principle of enhancing biodiversity beyond Biodiversity Opportunity Areas.

There is no mention of the value of wildlife gardening to biodiversity or the important role that larger gardens play in a village setting.

There is no mention of the impact of the plan on food production, or monitoring the loss of agricultural land.

POLICY P1 – Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty

POLICY P2 – Green Belt

I OBJECT. This policy is tepid in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though it constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the wider nation as to the people who live in it. It is not the Council’s to give away, and once it is gone it is gone forever.

Any policy on the Green Belt should start with a fair assessment of its value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

- Agricultural production
- Rural leisure and tourism amenities
- Water catchment
- Flood control
- Biodiversity
- Natural heritage
- A carbon sink for air pollution
- Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
- Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
- Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
- Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
- Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)[1]

As a matter of law, morality and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation.

It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. No-one argues that we should sell 1.6% of British Museum artefacts in order to build houses.

I am not opposed to appropriate development in the Green Belt and recently supported a major planning application in my own village. But I fail to see why a system of fair burden-sharing of new development cannot be applied to the borough’s existing settlements in proportion to their size. This would minimise the strain on infrastructure and maximise the chances of retaining the character of each settlement through gradual growth. It is reasonable to ask urban Guildford, with x times the population of semi-rural East Horsley for instance, to accommodate x times the number of new homes over the plan period. Parish councils could be asked, and would no doubt be willing, to propose where their quota of houses should go. Most rural residents are reasonable people who, if not alienated by top-down planners, will support realistic numbers of new houses in their neighbourhoods. Unfortunately, this democratic, bottom-up approach has not been attempted.

Instead, while developers flip and land-bank urban sites as a financial speculation, this plan will dump most new development on greenfield sites where building costs are lower, covering the Green Belt with dozens of housing estates few residents want. 8,086 new houses are planned for the Green Belt but only 1,135 for Guildford urban area. This is disruptive, socially inequitable and unnecessary. It will not only destroy countryside but will also delay and disincentivise much-needed urban regeneration. The remarkable revival and repopulation of central London shows that building dormitory satellite settlements is an out-of-date approach to planning.

I particularly protest at the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are “leggy” in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hellbent on securing the rejection of the plan as a whole.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors. To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly defeat them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

The policy states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is not true.

[1] See Ministerial foreword: “Our natural environment is essential to our wellbeing, and it can be better looked after than it has been. Habitats that have been degraded can be restored. Species that have been isolated can be reconnected. Green Belt land that has been depleted of diversity can be refilled by nature – and opened to people to experience it, to the benefit of body and soul.”

SITES

I OBJECT to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses.” This ignores the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are sick and tired of repeating the same comments to a deaf audience. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. Some residents have concluded that commenting is a waste of time.

All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established.

POLICY P3 – Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

I OBJECT. This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be “inset”. That is presumably why they are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Apart from being a scandalous case of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, “Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham.” It is a cynical piece of tokenism.

POLICY P4 – Flood risk and water source protection zones

I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hard standing would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites which would not be available for housing under this policy. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hard standing. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

POLICY P5 - Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

I OBJECT. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

POLICY S1 – Presumption in favour of sustainable development

I OBJECT. The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.”[1] Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given.[2] The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The promise “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area” omits to recognise that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. It does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the tough choices Councillors will face, it is useless. Under this policy, any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

The most gaping hole in Policy S1 is the Green Belt. As an inter-generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity, the Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice. It is the envy of the world. Policy S1 should commit to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections, setting at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The plan’s contempt for Green Belt constraints is amply demonstrated in later policies.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals this draft plan’s pro-development bias. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.[3] In my view this is a non-policy.[1] NPPF paragraph 14.

[2] The most widely accepted definition is the 1987 United Nations one from the Brundtland Report: “Development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.”

[3] Including: “empowering local people to shape their surroundings… Take account of the different roles and character of different areas… protecting the Green Belts around them… recognizing the intrinsic character and beauty of the countryside and supporting thriving communities within it… Support the transition to a low carbon future… Contribute to conserving and enhancing the natural environment and reducing pollution… Encourage the effective use of land by reusing land that has previously been developed (brownfield land)... Conserve heritage assets… Actively manage patterns of growth to make the fullest use of public transport and cycling and focus significant development on locations which can be made sustainable.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
POLICY S2 – Borough Wide Strategy

I OBJECT. I have 5 objections to the proposal to build 13,860 new homes:

1. The number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.[1]

1. The number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

1. The figure of 13,860 new homes is unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA.[2] The Council say we should trust the contractors’ model because it is used by a large number of other local authorities. Wide usage, however, does not confer objectivity. Guildford’s OAN would fail the basic transparency test even if the methodology used were a universally admired ‘gold standard’. But it is not: it belongs to consultants whose website openly proclaim their pro-development agenda,[3] leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. External experts and members of the public have provided detailed critiques of the model. Its most fatal flaw, however, is that it has not been disclosed – not even to the authors of the plan, who have taken it on trust. This is irrational and unsound.

1. The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The plan fails to set a Housing Target of new homes to be built, or explain how this relates to the “Objectively Assessed Number” (OAN) for housing need. Elsewhere, the Council have said that the two are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted.[4] But they also say that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. In contravention of the NPPF, the plan fails to address these. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permission, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how can anything else be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN were not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.
1. It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

[1] At the time of writing, about £8 billion (40%) has been wiped off the value of the UK’s top 4 housebuilders alone.

[2] This has been challenged by residents including, by Mr Ben Paton, as far as the Information Ombudsman. But the Council have consistently refused to seek disclosure of the model.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objection to Site 35. Proposed development at site A35 Three Farms Meadows, the former Wisley Airfield in The Draft Local Plan.
The people of Ockham helped to win the war. Will they be allowed to live in peace?

When captain ‘Mutt’ Summers (pictured left), chief test pilot for Vickers Armstrong made his emergency landing on a grassy stretch of Ockham farmland during the early stages of World War 2 he could not have guessed at the far reaching changes his discovery would bring to the local residents.
They were accustomed to walking across the green fields from Elm Corner to Ockham Church on a Sunday morning and enjoying lunch with vegetables grown in the the big field at Elm Corner.

However, the land was requisitioned in 1943 by the Ministry of Defence to make way for an airfield. Access to the public was denied, rights of way closed and four farms Stratford, Hyde, Corsair and Cuckoo together with buildings were demolished.
“Wisley Airfield” is so called because most of the land used to be in the parish of Wisley, until the reorganisation of parish boundaries in 1938. Now the airfield is totally within the civil parish of Ockham.

Following requisition in 1943 The Ministry of Defence promised and gave assurances that after the cessation of hostilities it would be returned and restored to agricultural use. It never was. The government never delivered its promise to the people. of Ockham who surrendered land so that our country did not have to surrender to Hitler. The ‘Crichel Down Code’ decrees that land commissioned in an emergency must be offered back to the existing owners in the same condition as before. It never was. The people of Ockham who helped to fight off foreign invaders now are having to fight off foreign Cayman Island investors who seek to concrete over their historic Green Belt hamlet. Isn’t it high time, after 75 years, that the good people of Ockham, for their war time sacrifice, were given their just reward – peace.

Ockham History. Historic Ockham Village deserves special protection status because it is nationally important hamlet and should not be subsumed into a ‘new town’ It is…

1. The birthplace of the philosopher William of Ockham, famous for ‘Ockham’s Razor’.
2. The home of Ada Lovelace The worlds’ first computer programmer.
3. The site of ‘The Ockham Hoard’ a significant Bronze Age archeological find now at The British Museum.

I also continue to object to the inclusion of site A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan for many more reasons including:

1. It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
2. It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10)
3. Local roads are at capacity particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc)
4. Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford will have to negotiate the over-crowded SRN and will therefore be unreliable and subject to frequent delays.
5. Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe.
6. It is adjacent to the most popular visitor attraction in the south-east, the RHS at Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000/annum. The associated traffic increase from the RHS has not been taken into account.
7. The regular events at the RHS which attract 1000’s more visitors several times a year and the resultant traffic has not been taken into account
8. There is insufficient employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
9. The identified mitigation to address the impact of increased traffic will not address the commuters travelling to Woking rail station
10. It remains unclear when/if the Ockham DVOR/DME will be decommissioned as the timetable has already slipped. This constrains the site significantly in terms of building heights etc.
11. Opportunity (3) should be common to all sites and is not unique to this site
12. I object to the fact that the increased area, being on the south of the site facing the Surrey Hills AONB will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB.
13. I object to the change of site boundaries as these are not identified correctly on the plan (Appendix H p16)
14. I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification
15. I object to the change in green belt boundary to the eastern end of the site as this now encloses an area of high archaeological impact
16. I object to paragraph 22 as this does not reflect the impact of the buildings on the surrounding area.

17. I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consultees.

18. I object to the proposed Submission Local Plan because the significant modifications made to the plan mean that this should not be a Regulation 19 consultation. A regulation 19 consultation needs to be on the totality of the plan rather than the proposed changes.

19. I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.

20. I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.

21. I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.

22. I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change.

23. I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.

24. I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.

25. I object to the inclusion of a 10% buffer in the housing number over the plan period. This is unnecessary.

26. I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS.

27. I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.

28. I object to the fact that the Council appear to have directed the transport assessment to use prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.

29. I object to the housing number and particularly the fact that the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBHSPA etc. I believe that the housing number is unsound and open to legal challenge.

30. I object to the apparent disregard for the impact of in-combination development on the TBHSPA, particularly the damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.

31. I object to policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.

32. I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

33. I object to the loss of prime agricultural land that can produce around 1 million loaves of bread per year when the UK produces less than half the food it consumes.

34. I object to the council ignoring The House of Commons Environmental Audit Committee 2014-15 who warned of the dangers to child health which are recorded in the findings of this committee. Excerpt from the committee findings. "New schools, hospitals and care homes must not be built next to air pollution hotspots to help reduce the tens of thousands of deaths currently being caused by nitrogen dioxide (NO2) and particulate pollution (PM 2.5 & PM 10) every year in our cities, Existing schools next to busy roads should also be fitted with air filtration systems. Wisley/A3 is one of the biggest pollution black-spots in the UK.

For the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons I consider this Local Plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

It is not appropriate to inset from the Green Belt the village of Chilworth. This village is surrounded by Areas of Great Landscape Value and Outstanding Natural Beauty which should be permanently protected to prevent urban sprawl and inappropriate development.

The area immediately around it is open countryside and the village is overlooked by beauty spots of St Martha's Hill and Newland's Corner. Furthermore, it contains the important Gunpowder Mills area which is an historic site and natural wildlife area. This whole area should therefore have special protection and there is no justification for taking it out of the Green Belt.

I strongly object to any increase in traffic to the surrounding areas, adding more slip roads to the A3 will only make traffic worse and increase congestion.

The main road through West Clandon is already congested with many speeding motorists and large commercial vehicles using it. Pollution will also be increased.

I would like to make an objection comment to Policy number A22 Keens Lane.

I object to the increase of proposed new homes from 140 to 150, and to the narrowness of Keen Lane to accommodate the increase of traffic, and access for the construction vehicles.

The access roads for Keens Lane, Gravetts Lane from the Aldershot Road and Tangle Lane from the main Worpleston Road are not standard width main roads either, they are too narrow to take large construction vehicles and potential extra traffic, part of Gravett's Lane goes down to single track lane due to residential parking, and the turn off for Tangle Lane from Worpleston Road is a very sharp, tight left turn. There is also flooding issues in the area.

The extra traffic to Keen Lane will also put extra pressure on roads in the immediate area, like the Aldershot Road and Worpleston Road, there would also be extra pressure on the local supply services like water, sewage, schools.
I would also like to make some general comments on the Local Plan overall. The reduction in the numbers of homes built in the plan is good but I hope not to the detriment to affordable, social housing which I have heard can be the case. I also hope plans to drastically improve our road infrastructure and local supply services will run alongside the local plan, otherwise I can see Guildford's roads being even more congested and grid locked, meaning more bad air pollution for people to breathe in.

I heard no new water reservoirs have been built for years and some local authorities are reducing the amount of water taken from the rivers, so where is the extra water demand going the come from, especially in a fairly dry year like this year? This also affects sewage, will our local water treatment plants be able to cope the extra demand? It could also mean more water pollution. We've already had a note from Affinity Water on how to conserve water. Electricity supply, coal power stations are due to be decommissioned, renewables are increasing but will they be enough to cover the extra demand, and Nuclear, the new power station is still years from being up and running?

Just food for thought, please take care of our environment.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

17. I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
18. I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

0 The "objectively assessed need" figure of 693 homes a year is too high.

0 A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.

0 The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to:

0 failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,

0 issues with the way it considers students and affordability and

0 Flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.

0 It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

14. I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to: It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from... encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, 62215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools. Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day. Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost. There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "aspiration" in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3. Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A43
15. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (Blc), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (BS). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site.

There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy 03).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy 14)

It is clear that, with this site being added at the 11th hour, no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking 8f would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

8. I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy 03)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick's Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

5. I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

7. I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy ES)

Policy ES supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Gartick's Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

20. POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/"Disneyfication". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford's river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in-pri An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in...
London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

13. I OBJECT (POLICY H1- Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan peri. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

I OBJECT this is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix" this can include "market" housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances."

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.
The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

10. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick's Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents' in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

11. I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy 12)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

12. I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

3. I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance' the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBCs Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site. Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

4. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding.

Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

1. I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

2. I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly consi It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverl An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it.

The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

C.i. Policy 25 Gosden Hill – My Objections

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt.
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity.
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.

If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.
12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.
13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.
14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.
15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.
16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

C.iii. Policy A58 Burnt Common – My Objections

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

E. Policy S1 Presumption in favour of Sustainable Development– My Objections

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

I object to the plan proposing that the majority of new houses to be built will be built on The Green Belt. I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft local Plan for many reasons including:

1. It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
2. It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
3. It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10)
4. Local roads are at capacity particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc)

I would like to record my objections to the following items:-

The Horsleys being removed from Green Belt as 'the exceptional circumstances' required have not been demonstrated.

Changes to boundaries of the Settlement boundaries.

The proposals to build the additional 533 houses is totally unrealistic without schools, medical facilities, roads and car parks being extended and there is no scope for most of this.

Development on the former Wisley Airfield. The development would cause an enormous impact on the Horsleys bringing so much more traffic into the already overloaded and narrow roads. Also the lack of drainage would cause even more traffic congestion. We have currently an increasing number of vehicles that are too large, this can only result in more accidents and damage occurring.

I object to the 4 way on/off ramp at Burnt Common. This will increase traffic travelling through Send and West Clandon trying to access the A3. West Clandon is particularly dangerous as the road is narrow and with many bends. Lorries sometimes mount the pavement to pass one another. This is a worry for parents accessing the school on foot or in their cars.

1. I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost. How is this going to be funded?

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. How is this going to be addressed?

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "aspiration" in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).
The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced by a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition, there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hour no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved and negatively impact on air quality and the health and safety of pedestrians and cyclists and increase noise pollution. This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard.

There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I object to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

I object to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (Blc), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

1. I object to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy ES supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick's Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years.

These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

1. POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I object. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/"Disneyfication". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help private providers market local touri This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a South West Trains travel card for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

3. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object (POLICY H1- Homes for all)

Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim is necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

1. POLICY H3 - Rural Exception Homes

I object. This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix" this can include "market" housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances."

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements. There is the local school with young children walking along the road on a Monday to Friday basis, which is dangerous with the current level of traffic prior to any increased traffic that would result from further housing on the proposed scale.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied? In summary the health and safety of existing communities are detrimentally impacted.

1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at over capacity levels during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

1. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43).

National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance' and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the Green Belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1).

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport.

Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion, safety for pedestrians and cyclists in particular and greater pollution. Residents, health and safety and the environment will suffer as a result.

I totally get that Surrey is the 2nd wealthiest County after London and that the Council are hellbent on making Surrey an economic epicentre of growth and development.

As a SME owner in my mid 40s I am grateful of the opportunities that are available to me and my family living in West Clandon and working in East Horsley.

I do feel that there should be some appropriate, sensitive, practical and well thought out development in the Borough of Guildford. However I am strongly opposed to the approach taken by removing the green belt and building some spurious number of houses without much consideration of the ramifications to the people who have chosen to live here and paid a premium to do so.

I strongly believe that greater effort and vision should be applied to finding sites that might suit a more exciting form of development, flats don't always need to be 1 bed, they could be 3 bed family units!

The other issue is the impact that more development will have on an already creaking infrastructure. I appreciate that infrastructure can only be afforded on the back of development but why not design the infrastructure first and then go to developers to see could facilitate it.

I do not envy you but greater vision is needed to resolve the issue of the economic growth in the South East.

Good luck

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey. What is the robust rationale for this?
2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area {HMA}: the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or On any common sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced and detrimental.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight onto to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.

13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.

4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”

5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.

6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”

8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.

9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.

11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Before making my comments on the local plan I have endeavored to inform myself and I have just stood and listened to Councilors Spooner and Furness for two hours and sadly nothing they said convinced me that they have the people of Send's interests at heart.

The councillors are supposed to represent us but they seem positively enthusiastic to accept the SHMA figure of 693 houses per year without challenging the number or making the process transparent to those who wish to challenge the process. I object to this lack of transparency.

They seem happy to build over greenbelt rather than use brownfield sites. For example they have recently allowed a furniture shop to go ahead on the site of the old fire station -why? This was an ideal site for flats and people who work in Guildford could walk into town. There seems to be a presumption that we need ever more retail in Guildford but most of the residents of the borough would, I would guess, not want the town to go on increasing in size. I object to town centre brownfield sites going for retail or industrial use instead of meeting the housing shortage. I work in the local Citizens Advice and I know there is a shortage of housing for people on low incomes who do not own cars and therefore are better housed near the town centre.

Students also need to be housed on or near the university, ACM etc and flats for them would help free up other accommodation for local residents -perhaps the council should be thinking of that rather than building over greenbelt. Also priority should be given to sheltered housing which allows older residents to leave larger homes and again free up residential space.

Now we come to more specific objections•.

OBJECTIONS RETRANSPORT IN RELATION TO PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT IN SEND

The councilors admitted that the road infrastructure of the area is at breaking point but all they can offer Send is a million and half over 10 years for unspecified improvements to the road through Send. That road leads to a mini roundabout at Old Woking which cannot cope now, let alone increased traffic from all the new development proposed.

Policy A44 The proposed development on Send Hill will add to the problem -already horrendous at the Send Road end during school drop off and pick up time and positively life threatening at the Potters Lane end.

Policy A42 More traffic will be generated by the Tannery Lane development. This will have to join Send Road in the village as the road is too narrow to make it safe or sensible to leave via Ripley. Send Road is grid locked most mornings and cannot be widened as there are houses both sides, as well as the aforementioned constriction at Old Woking.

Policy A43 However these developments are as nothing to the new Garlick’s Arch development which was slipped into the plan at the last moment. The land has been ‘gifted’ to the council in return for a massive development of 400 houses and a strategic employment site -by a developer, whose name, unbelievably, Councilor Spooner could not remember! The council gain land to put in a four way junction with the A3 which is supposed to be some sort of magic bullet - however this development is going to generate huge amounts of new traffic. This traffic will have to be absorbed in and around the already clogged roads of Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon.

The A3 is a road that is at saturation point and we are offered the possibility of a tunnel at some point in the future to create relief and Councilor Furness says we need the new junction to enable the tunnel. However surely we are putting the cart before the horse as we need the tunnel to be approved and funded first before we have any necessity for the new junction. Once again it is the unnamed developer who is driving the plan.

• OBJECTIONS RE OTHER INFRASTRUCTURE ISSUES RELATING TO PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT IN SEND

The new residents will require school places but there is no provision for new school places. The redevelopment of St Bedes does not envisage an increased intake as far as I am aware. In any event the secondary schools are also going to require enlarging to cope.

Our village medical centre is already under strain and it is increasingly hard to get an appointment - this too will be exacerbated by this huge increase in the population.
• OTHER OBJECTIONS RELATING TO PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT IN SEND

Policy A44 Send Hill - development this development is in the wrong place. The large field on Send Hill is one of the few remaining large open spaces. It is a glorious place to walk in the summer as the skylarks sing overhead. If there is a need for 2 traveler sites, surely they should not be put along a narrow road on a site which is said to be polluted. No one is keen to accept travellers but they are citizens too and need to be housed – I accept that, but why not put the sites in close to Ewbanks at the Burnt Common roundabout where they won't have to go up Send Hill. In fact the whole Send Hill development would be better placed there.

Policy A42 Tannery Lane - the council have already approved a marina that is not wanted by local people and that will add to traffic. The road is a narrow country lane and not suited to 40 new houses, quite apart from the destruction of open land.

Policy A43 Garlick Arch - this site will require the greatest destruction of greenbelt -the cutting down of ancient woodland and the likelihood of upsetting the water table. Flooding in Send Marsh has been mitigated by work at Send Dip but locals, more knowledgeable than I, feel that building and tarmacking over a large area at Garlick's Arch may well create new flooding problems.

OBJECTIONS RE OTHER PROPOSED DEVELOPMENTS IN THE AREA

The council turned down the development at Wisley but have not had the courage to take this site out of the plan - one has to ask why? It continues to be the case that we are NOT ALLOWED to know who the developers are -which is outrageous. How can local people believe that nothing underhand or corrupt is not going on if we do not know who is behind the development. Councillor Spooner claims he does not know who they are -well, either he is not telling the truth or he should be striving to find out on behalf of us all. A new town at Wisley would change the whole area and lead to ribbon development all the way to Guildford -Ripley -Garlick's Arch -Gosden Farm- Burpham etc.

OBJECTION TO THE DESTRUCTION OF THE GREENBELT

Once the greenbelt has gone it has gone forever. By taking the villages out of the greenbelt then there is no defence to ever greater development within the settlement boundary - and it seems the council can move the boundary of the settlement at will. It seems curious that some land near Councillor Spooner's constituency is apparently being put back into greenbelt, while Send (who dared to vote for some independent councillors) are being disproportionately hit. What are we to think?

I hope the planning inspector will look into all aspects of how this plan was drawn up, as well as the sites in the plan itself. I am not a Luddite and I accept there has to be some building but it should be done sensitively and only when need is proved. Tonight we were told the local population figures are fairly stable in Guildford so why are we going headlong towards Greater Guildford with developers calling the shots.

I have written in the past objecting to the disproportionate development being planned for Send and I gather that despite receiving over 10,000 objections, the new plan continues to ‘target’ Send and that we are only ‘allowed’ to comment on changes. Proposal A42 Clockbarn Nursery has an increased density of housing -up a third even though it has been pointed out repeatedly that Tannery lane is not suitable for an increase in traffic as it is narrow, with poor sight lines meaning it is often hard to see on-coming traffic. In addition to the traffic issue there is the problem of local services which are at full capacity now and cannot sustain a substantial increase in the village population -there seems to be no mention of school places, doctors etc.

I understand further to your plan to despoil this area of ancient woodland with 400 houses on Green Belt, you have now added 8 travelling/show people pitches without any real justification. The local plan HI policy states that ‘Gypsy, Traveller or Travelling Showpeople accommodation should be provided on development sites of 500 homes or more while there remains an identified need’ - so why is Send being allocated 2 traveller pitches as well as these 8 travelling showpeople plots (once again Send is being disproportionally targeted). Traditionally when the funfair comes to Ripley the showpeople park on the Green for the week (in late October) and then leave to move to Guildford for Bonfire Night -so where is the identifiable need?

By moving the proposed employment floorspace from the Garlick's Arch site to here, one is tempted to feel that the developers, who hope to cash in on the new housing, feel that it will make more money if it is not near industrial development. There has also been a subtle but noticeable change of wording from up o 70u00sq to a min mum o 700 s ~ m with a 1 otent1al fo more So there is no guarantee this won't increase. Has the need for this industrial development been demonstrated? Surely it will only create more traffic and demand for services and housing in an area that can't sustain this development on top of the new housing. Industrial development should be going away from the south-east - isn't that the whole point of HS2 and the northern powerhouse initiative.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A35

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) - Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

• I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored. Further, it is an inter generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity. It is the envy of the world and the proposals to raid these precious areas is nothing short of outrageous.

• I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

• I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

• I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

• I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  ◦ The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  ◦ The increased volume of car A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  ◦ The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  ◦ The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and A further planning application at RH5 Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

The lack of suitable public The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I would point out that the number of new homes has been based on pre-Brexit projections for economic and population growth, including migration which now needs to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

Most of the borough's infrastructure is antiquated, congested and straining to accommodate even current needs and organic growth. The plan's commitment to build housing across the Guildford countryside will mean either major infrastructure investment, which no one will believe will happen and for which there are no funds, or else a catastrophic collapse in transport, educational, medical, energy, water and communication services.

Finally I object to the proposal to build 533 houses on 6 sites in the Horsleys as it is plainly both excessive in absolute terms and disproportionate relative to the rest of the It will destroy the rural character of these communities.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1. I object to policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.

2. I object to the housing number and particularly the fact that the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBHSPA etc. I believe that the housing number is unsound and open to legal challenge.

3. I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.

4. I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations. There should be a clear statement as to how this has been allowed to happen.

5. I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change.

6. I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.

7. I object to the proposed Submission Local Plan because the significant modifications made to the plan mean that this should not be a Regulation 19 consultation. A regulation 19 consultation needs to be on the totality of the plan rather than the proposed changes. What is being done in this regard?

8. I object to para 22 as this does not reflect the impact of the buildings on the surrounding area.

9. I object to the change in green belt boundary to the eastern end of the site as this now encloses an area of high archaeological impact.

10. I object to the change of site boundaries as these are not identified correctly on the plan (Appendix H p16).

11. I object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts another heritage asset, Upton Farm negatively impacting the setting of this building. All the arguments with regard to conservation in the area apply.

12. I object that the changed “Opportunities” listed in this policy reinforce why this site is totally inappropriate talking of “good urban design”.

13. Reliance on Woking Station is unsustainable. Woking is already at capacity in terms of the station itself and nearby parking.

14. Additional bus services would compromise the safety of those cycling and walking in the area.

15. Its location to the M25 at J10 and the A3 means overloading one of the most congested junctions in SE England.

16. I object to the application of new housing on the old Wisley Airfield on the ground that it is the least sustainable strategic site in either version primarily due to its physical location.

17. The site is further from the railway station than any other proposed site. This station has insufficient trains to deal with increased passengers and a very small car park which is already filled to capacity. There is no scope to increase the size of the car park.

18. Local roads are at capacity and increased public transport would have to negotiate over already overcrowded SRN. They would be unable to offer a reliable service.

19. Additional visitors to the RHS Wisely have not been included.

20. There is insufficient employment opportunities on the proposed site. All residents will therefore need to travel to work by public or private means.

21. It remains unclear when/if the Ockham DVOR/DME will be decommissioned as the timetable has already slipped. This constrains the site significantly in terms of building heights etc.

22. I believe that opportunity (3) should be common to all sites and is not unique to this site. I object that insufficient consideration has been given to this.

23. I object to the fact that the increased area, being on the south of the site facing the Surrey Hills AONB will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB. What has been done in this regard?

24. I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification.

25. I object to para 21 which “limits” development in flood zone 2 and 3. Development should be excluded in flood zone 2 and 3.

26. I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consultees.

27. I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.

28. I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.

29. I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.
30. I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS. No reasonable explanation has been given for this.

31. I object to the fact that the Council appear to have directed the transport assessment to use prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.

32. I object to the apparent disregard for the impact of in-combination development on the TBHSPA, particularly the damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.

33. I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

I therefore consider that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose and must be rejected.

I am very concerned about the amount of housing increase proposed and the infringements onto the current green belt, which will result in a significant increase in traffic and pollution (air and noise) in the area and the road through West Clandon becoming even busier and resulting in traffic accidents, more injuries and deaths.

2.3 A42 Clockbarn Nursery

I wish to object to this development. While this a brownfield site, my objection lies in the road access to the site. The junction of Tannery Road and Send Road is extremely narrow and will continue to be used by large lorries supplying the Tannery Business site. The road becomes single track beyond the Tannery. In addition to the narrowness many cars are parked close to the junction limiting site lines and causing difficulties in manoeuvrings (see figure 1)

2.1 A43 Land at Garlick’s Arch

I object to this site. It was not identified until June 2016 as a potential site for development. It had previously been rejected in the 2014 draft and no evidence has been produced to support the development of this site. The provision of 400 houses totally distorts the Burn Common community and is massive in addition to the population but with no addition amenities planned. There is one convenience store within walking distance. The schools and surgeries in Send and Ripley are too far to walk and in any case they are full in Send. The site contains ancient woodland of which there is very little in the parish of Send and the development has potential negative impact on this. The land is subject to flooding and the flood risk will be heightened by housing and industrial development. No case has been made for the industrial and commercial use of this site in preference to the alternative site at Burn Common which was the preferred option from the draft plan in 2014 and up to and including the May 2016. Development of this site will have negative visual impact on the A3 and for views from the south of the A3 including the North Downs. The combination of Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Farm development will significantly alter the character of Guildford from a compact to county town to a sprawling urban conurbation.

2.2 A43A Land for North Facing Slip Roads on A3 at Burnt Common

I object to this development. No necessity for this new North facing junction was identified in previous versions of the local plan. The main justification is to improve access to the proposed Wisley Airfield redevelopment. It is difficult to justify this as that site is 6 kilometres away and can only be accessed through the already stressed local roads. In addition, GBC has recently rejected the latest planning application for the Wisley Site. New infrastructure should only be approved when the final nature of the Wisley development is known. Providing a northbound A3 access at Send will have a very negative effect on the A247 which has the problems already described above. The new junction will certainly attract commercial traffic from South Woking which currently accesses the A3 via the inadequate A245 or via the narrow Newark Lane. A new Woking to A3 access road was proposed when we moved to Send in 1981 and we are still waiting.

2.4 A44 Lands at Winds Ridge.

I object to this development. This land is unsuitable for development being land fill with active waste management still in place. The site will have a negative visual impact being clearly visible from the Wey Navigation Corridor and Potter’s Lane. Access to the site is very poor being single lane from Potters lane and very narrow from May’s Corner traffic lights with cars frequently parked restricting access.

2. Proposed developments on Sites A42, A43, A43A, A44.

I wish to object to the proposed developments on these sites. The combination of these new housing proposals gives rise to population increase of over 25%. This is a clear overdevelopment of the three settlements. The lack of infrastructure has already been noted. In particular, the A247, the main artery through Send is extremely congested. Send is a classic linear village and most of the house along the A247 were constructed before the car era and lack off-road parking facilities and inconsequence many cars are permanently parked on road. This is a source of traffic congestion with long tailbacks in the morning and evening rush hours and delays at other times when large vehicles traverse the village. The situation will be exacerbated later this year when the new St Bede’s school opens (Planning application 16/P/00033 Approved GBC 31st March 2016) as access to both infants and junior school will now be from the A247 effected doubling the number of pupils arriving in that way. While the planning application included a School Green Travel Plan to minimise car journeys to the school the mitigation measures of increased cycling and walking are difficult to implement as footpaths and cycle paths are inadequate. Public transport is not an option as no buses pass the school. Inevitably increased car use will result giving more congestion with increased risks to children.

Consultation for Guildford Local Plan June 2016

I submit the following objections to proposals in the Local plan affecting the settlements of Send/ Send Marsh/ Burnt Common.

1. Insetting Of the Send village within the green be

I wish to object to this proposal as it makes available for development a significant number sites in addition to those specifically identified in the Local Plan. Sites such as the land behind Heath Drive and soon to be redundant ST Bede’s school buildings could be used for housing. This will significantly change the nature of the village from a rural setting to an urban environment. Furthermore, this will place additional strain on the already limited infrastructure where the village schools are full with no additional capacity. The Village Medical Centre is also full and the roads are already over capacity. Public transport is already very limited with no late evening or Sunday service. Further development in the village will visually impact the Wey Navigation Corridor, a major local and national asset.

I applaud the statement in the” Guildford borough Proposed Submission Local Plan” that “Our new Local Plan for 2015 - 2034 is central to delivering Guildford’s vision for the future. It deals with key issues of local importance and gives direction to deliver a high quality of life in a sustainable way.”

I am pleased that the plan acknowledges that (para 2.10a) “Pressure on existing infrastructure and additional stress caused by planned growth must be addressed if we are to maintain and enhance the borough’s prosperity and quality of life. Many people are attracted to Guildford by the quality of life and environment.”

As a resident of Send I must OBJECT to the changes in the plan since June 2016.

The increased development In Send in the June 2017 version of the plan will put an extra, unjustifiable pressure on the infra structure of Send.

The current version of the plan with its increased amount of development in Send does not provide the infra structure for the increased pressure on an already overstretched road network. Consequently this will certainly decrease my quality of life and also the quality of life of other residents in Send.
The increased number of houses and businesses will increase the volume of traffic and as a result will increase journey times as well as increasing the amount of pollution which the local school children will be subjected to as they walk to school (see SCC policy on walking to school).

These alterations to the 2016 version of the Local Plan are not consistent with your stated criteria for drawing up the Local Plan.

I write, in the strongest terms, to object to the council altering the Urban Boundary to incorporate the land North of Salt Box Road, Worplesdon.

My reasons are:

The area is currently designated Green Belt and the Council has by a Motion passed unanimously in March 2013 to undertake the preservation of the Green Belt

The area is immediately adjacent to Whitmoor Common an SSSI, SPA and LNR and would have a detrimental effect on ecology and wildlife.

The open nature of Worplesdon should be retained.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I am writing to voice my concern over the ridiculous proposals in the Local Plan.

I object wholeheartedly about the disproportionate size of various sites in our village setting. I have lived here for 25 years when Ripley was a village. We have tried hard to keep it that way but the development has been gradually increasing.

One of my main objections is to the traffic and congestion. I live on the Portsmouth Road and these days I can hardly get out of my driveway due to the continual stream of traffic. A lot of this comes through the village because there is a problem on the M25 (most days) or the A3. The proposed on/off junction for the A3 will not rectify this. The A3 is a car park everyday. I work at the school in the village and the traffic at the junction in the village is chaotic, with huge lorries trundling through all day. There is also limited parking. Therefore I object on these grounds.

I am also objecting because there is no infrastructure for all this development. When White Hart Court was built on they had to install another electric substation as the existing one could not cope. The area is prone to flash flooding, the drains cannot cope. I have photographic evidence of our driveway and land adjacent being flooded, and of the surrounding roads particularly Rose Lane, Ripley Lane and Ockham Road.

I strongly object to Ripley, Send and Clandon being removed from the Green Belt. These villages will just become a suburb of Guildford and be concreted over within a few years. No thought has gone into this at all. There is NO reason to do this and once it is done it will be too late to change it.

The roads in our villages, particularly Rose Lane and Ripley Lane are in a very poor state. Full of potholes that get repeatedly filled in then appear again. I am objecting to this plan as I feel the roads cannot sustain the amount of extra traffic and are not wide enough to cope with larger and heavier vehicles. Many have no footpaths or cycle lanes or any lighting at all.

We do not have the public transport system to cope with the extra housing. There are few buses and no local station within walking distance. There are not enough school places or medical facilities. Most people will have to rely on cars to get about so I object to Wisley Airfield site and Garlicks Arch particularly for this reason.

I doubt that anyone from Guildford Borough Council lives in this area and therefore could not care less but they should. This is an ill thought out plan that is just a knee jerk reaction to fulfilling the required housing quota. Local people will fight this tooth and nail and we will not let the developers win.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I also object to the Plan’s failure to explore or propose brown field sites for the required development. In the near vicinity to the Garlicks Arch site there is a significant surplus of land on an already developed site to the south of Burnt Common which could be developed without damage to the Green Belt and the loss of rare Ancient Woodland. It is incumbent on the Borough’s planners to identify such sites. I am very concerned about the manner in which the Garlicks Arch site was surreptitiously substituted for a brownfield development at Burnt Common at the last minute before publication.

As a resident of Riley Village, I am deeply concerned about the proposal for Ripley, Send and Clandon to be removed from the Green Belt. I object to this proposal as the risk of the London urban sprawl and the absolute need for the protection of rural Surrey, is now of paramount importance. It is beyond belief that Local Authority Planners do not immediate see the priority of such protection.

I am equally concerned that the loss of the Green Belt in these areas is simply a device to allow impediments in National Planning policy to be removed in relation to the proposed development sites at the former Wisley Airfield and Garlics Arch in Send. National policy permits the loss of the Green Belt in only exceptional circumstances. There are no such circumstances in relation to these sites.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I further object to the proposed development sites at Wisley Airfield and Garlics Arch both of which represent significant overdevelopment of Green Belt sites, disregard the availability of brown field sites and singularly fail to take account of the effect on transport infrastructure which is unsustainable.

The scheduled proposals for the Wisley site will place a wholly unacceptable weight of traffic on already congested roads in village centres and trunk road connections. Any resident who has to access the northbound A3 at peak times from Ripley or Ockham is painfully aware that the junction can barely cope at present.

The proposed size of the Wisley Development will give rise to unacceptable log-jams making viable commuting impossible.
There are no viable train connection to serve these sites and the area is already very poorly served by bus services. All transport requirements will therefore inevitably fall on the already overstretched roads. The effect of these developments on the Portsmouth Road running through Ripley and Send, which already carries a staggering volume of traffic, will be to return the road to levels of congestion which existed before the A3 Trunk Road was built.

The proposed A3 north/south junction at Burnt Common does nothing to alleviate the congestion and will simply lead to congestion where A3 traffic meets traffic on the already congested local roads. There will therefore be traffic “black spots” both to the north and south of Ripley.

I further object to the imbalance of proposed development sites which are located in the North East of the Borough. Housing needs within the Borough arise in all areas yet there are no proposals for sites to the south and west of Guildford.

Large developments of the types proposed in Wisley and Garlicks Arch are simply unsustainable. Significantly smaller developments linked to existing village envelopes, will not place stress on transport infrastructure and the amenity of the rural environment.

With reference to your plan to change the green belt boundary in Shalford, I object to that plan for the following reasons:

The elevation of this land, which is 32 feet above King's Road, is the highest in the local area and any housing development built on it would tower over the village community facilities and the surrounding area.

Access to this land would be via Chinthurst Lane which is already an heavily congested country lane and to increase the volume of traffic would be madness.

Over 700 residents have already signed a petition objecting to the proposed settlement boundary change last year so surely the residents wishes should be respected?

This land contributes to the open character of the village and provides an attractive setting for the village's community facilities.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I wish to lodge my objection to the above proposal for the following reasons.

Firstly in broad principal I believe the Green Belt is more necessary now than when first implemented as without it, there will eventually be no distinction between town and country as the urban sprawl continues unabated and our countryside is lost forever.

Secondly, in more specific terms, I object to the proposed building of over 500 houses in Horsley as the infrastructure simply cannot cope with such an increase in population. In the winter of 2014/15, in order to walk my dogs locally in Green Lane, I had to wade through raw sewage spilling out onto the road for weeks as the sewers overflowed because they could not cope. A proposed build of 120 homes nearby would obviously cause this to be a permanent and unacceptable problem. Such a large development would also adversely effect the character of the existing village, which seems to have been conveniently overlooked.

The village shops and library already have times when there are no vacant parking places, and many residents do not have access to these amenities apart from using a car.

The doctors surgery in Kingston Avenue (the only GP service in Horsley) obviously struggle to give out appointments within a reasonable length of time already, as I have rung them for an appointment quite recently only to find the soonest they could offer was in 9 days.
Ockham road north is already very difficult to drive out into or from houses alongside it due to limited vision, narrow width and bends, so any increase in traffic volume which would effectively turn it into an A road instead of a B road would make it even more dangerous.

I would like to point out that finding land on which to build is only a part of a development plan – the infrastructure must be in place to accommodate it, which isn’t the case in Horsley

The doctors surgery in Kingston Avenue (the only GP service in Horsley) obviously struggle to give out appointments within a reasonable length of time already, as I have rung them for an appointment quite recently only to find the soonest they could offer one was in 9 days.

Ockham road north is already very difficult to drive out into or from houses alongside it due to limited vision, narrow width and bends, so any increase in traffic volume which would effectively turn it into an A road instead of a B road would make it even more dangerous.

I would like to point out that finding land on which to build is only a part of a development plan – the infrastructure must be in place to accommodate it, which isn’t the case in Horsley

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the proposed Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

1. I object to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

When developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), will be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

The Garlick’s Arch site should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

1. I object to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Many of the roads serving our villages are narrow country lanes, which are not fit for high volume of traffic or large HGVs. They already suffer from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to look at improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

In deed the new junction to the A3 at Garlick’s Arch (A43a) is proposed in the second half of the Plan period, way after the anticipated timing of the development of Garlick’s Arch for housing and employment. There is no attempt to improve the infrastructure prior to development

1. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

1. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43).

National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

Brandon Lewis, the Minister of State for Housing & Planning wrote to all Members of Parliament on 7 June 2016. In the letter, which is attached, he stated that the demand for housing along will not change Green Belt boundaries.

There is a really danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon will merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. All these factors should carry such weight that the sites at Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) are excluded from the Plan.

70% of the sites put forward in the Local Plan are in the Green Belt which flies in the face of current government planning policy. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), National Planning Policy Guidance and case law make it clear that Green Belt is an absolute constraint on housing supply. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to adjust boundaries.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is just to the south of the site at Burnt Common an existing brownfield site, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development. This would be a far better and more acceptable solution.

1. I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

The brownfield site to the south of Garlick’s Arch (A43) at Burnt Common is not at risk of flooding. This makes it an even more sensible solution.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by the National Planning Policy Framework.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and Clandon. The services in these villages, including schools and doctors, will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed.

The sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) are in unsustainable locations. They do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the narrow roads serving the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

1. I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not applying any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs to all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough. They are very much rural Wards and this will change for ever under the Plan.
Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current distribution of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

In the last five years planning consent has been granted for approximately 115 new houses in the Lovelace Ward. This alone has dramatically impacted on the character and the communities in the Ward. Over 2,400 houses are proposed in the Ward over the period of the Plan. These houses will more than double the number of houses in the Ward and will totally change it, without any consideration of what the Ward actually needs.

A neighbourhood plan is currently being drafted for the Lovelace Neighbourhood Area, which follows the boundaries of the Lovelace Ward. The Plan should be redrafted once the neighbourhood plan has been prepared to reflect the local needs.

Fundamentally, the developments proposed in the Plan do not meet the needs of the local communities and the approach adopted in the Borough Wide Strategy is wrong.

In view of the comments above it would appear logical to apply constraints in line with government policy to the development being proposed to take account of the fact that 89% of the borough is in the permanent Green Belt and development is not supported by adequate major infrastructure.

I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan
Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)
This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states "Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)
I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch
The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch
The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

I object to the unfair imbalance of the Plan across the borough.
With the removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) and reductions of housing planned in this version of the Plan in other parts of the borough the Plan has become even more biased against the North East of the borough. Guildford Borough is over 100 square miles. Of the 11350 homes proposed in the Plan, 40.6% (4613) are within 3 miles of Send Marsh, most of them on Green Belt. This is grossly unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough.

The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites. A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots …” Clearly A50 more than covers the total “need” of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43) This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects: i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!) , and ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)
The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.
The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”

So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit IS to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)
The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5: “We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan”.

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

12. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley

The last minute removal of the Burnt Common Brownfield site and insertion of the Greenbelt Garlick’s Arch site is unacceptable. No consultation was held and residents only discovered this exchange after a council meeting on 11th May 2016.

No wildlife report has been conducted. As a local resident I am aware these areas house many wild birds, including owls and red kites, plus badgers and their setts, whose habitat will be obliterated.

Whilst it is a paradise for wildlife, the electricity pylons which pepper the site will pose a health hazard to human residents.

5. I object to the claims made regarding sustainable employment policy

To pretend that the proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will engender significant employment opportunities is disingenuous. There is already an industrial development south of Burnt Common with brownfield land and infrastructure making it more suitable for development without the stark impact on environment and community.

6. I object to the loss of rural employment

The plan will result in the loss of rural businesses and their dozens of employees by forcing them out of their premises against their will. Some of these businesses have been operating and providing employment for 30 years. This is a travesty.

struggle to accommodate existing residents and such an acute explosion of the population will have disastrous consequences for the community.

I live in Ripley and can never get a GP’s appointment for that day yet the Villages Surgery at Send are no longer booking any appointments for future days as they are too busy. One needs to phone at 8.30am to book an appointment for that day but the phone is always engaged. When one at last gets through no appointments remain and one cannot book for the next or subsequent days for routine appointments.

I have eight month old twins and a three year old and I have had to take them to the Royal Surrey Hospital A&E for problems as I have been unable to see a doctor at my local GP’s surgery.

To so massively increase the burden on this surgery as a result of the Plan would be frankly ludicrous as the surgery is already oversubscribed and this would cause a collapse of the local health system.

There are no railway stations near the sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) therefore residents will be reliant on motor vehicles. The local congestion though Ripley village at rush hour is already horrendous, with gridlocked traffic in both directions along the Portsmouth Road. Yet there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. The increase in pollution for my neighbours and myself will be astronomical and detrimental to our children’s health. Such an increase in noxious nitrous oxide fumes would shorten the life expectancy of all residents but I feel the disastrous effect on children’s health, with inevitable increases in asthma, is particularly irresponsible.

It would be infinitely preferable for all constituents and road users if areas such as Guildford and Woking had brownfield sites developed as a robust infrastructure already exists.

8. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure

The Plan would cause an inevitable increase in Road Traffic Accidents involving both cars and cyclists and thus the number of deaths due to R.T.As.

The congestion affecting Ripley High Street, particularly at the junction of Newark Road, will worsen and local businesses will be deleteriously affected, as will the already poor road surfaces.

Parking in Ripley is already ridiculously hard and such a gargantuan increase in the number of cars will make it impossible.

3. I object to not protecting the Green Belt

The Green Belt of beautiful English countryside is a priceless jewel which once built on will be irrevocably lost forever.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). This contravenes National Planning Policy, as this requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or for development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt.

4. I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding

The soil in the Ripley area is heavy clay and prone to flooding. The Environment Agency’s flood map has identified the site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) as being a Flood Zone 3, the highest risk category and unsuitable for building. The Council has arbitrarily downgraded this unbiased Environmental Assessment, no doubt to attempt to ease progress of the Plan. The area is near my home in Kiln Lane, Ripley and I know that it floods annually and drainage is inhibited by the clay soil.

It is most concerning that this risk has been erroneously downgraded and ignored.

2. I object to the Borough Wide Strategy

The plan will cause obliteration and devastation of the beautiful countryside between the villages and cause them to coalesce into an urban sprawl. The 13,860 houses are disproportionately allocated to development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. These precious English villages will be lost forever.

Attached documents:
Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Attached documents:

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.
12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.
13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.
14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.
15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.
16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.
17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site.
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

I had a very interesting piece of paper through my letterbox from dandara regarding where new development takes place.

According to them they already have land next to the A246, which whilst green belt, is surrounded by urban influences including existing housing and the main road to Guildford from the east. It would be a sensible and proportionate addition to the village.

Why hasn't SCC or GBC considered this? Surely it would be much better for everyone concerned to have small and medium scale sites, in order to provide the Council with an opportunity to deliver a more equitable spread of development across the Borough?

This would limit the loss of the most important green belt land. More research needs to be done to bring to the fore, the lower quality green belt land and countryside that should be identified.

My husband Lawson Carr and I, Elizabeth Carr am objecting to the increased number of houses proposed north of Keens Lane. We objected initially on the lower number and our objections still stand.

140 and certainly 150 dwellings will add at least 300 residents, and that is a low estimate, the larger properties are likely to have 3 or 4 residents and at least 2 cars.

• This will increase congestion on the surrounding, already congested, routes
• This will increase problems around any exit onto Keens Lane
• This will increase the footfall on Whitmoor Common, putting this protected area under more strain.

hThis will increase the potential accident rate on the blind corner on Keens Lane

This will decrease the evidence of wildlife, critical to our area - it is common to see deer, rabbits, and rare birds.

'eOur house [Attachment redacted due to statements containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998] was purchased because it was semi-rural and we do not wish for any of the above certainties to come true should this plan go ahead.

I write to support the decision to remove site A46 and site A47 from the proposed plans.

This decision will mean that undue pressure is not placed upon the roads which are unable to cope at present with the morning and evening, work related, movement of traffic. Any increase of traffic in Westwood Lane should be discouraged because of children walking to school. Indeed the current speed limits are regularly exceeded and this aspect should be monitored and addressed as soon as possible.

Normandy also suffers from poor water pressure at times, flooding at others and any building upon fields would exacerbate the problems.

The doctors in the area are fully stretched and need no further increase of their work load.

A major concern is that the designated areas are on Greenbelt lands which were granted this status to protect boundaries, to provide access to countryside walks and to create a habitat for wildlife. The building on Greenbelt land should never be considered. It is detrimental to people and all living things.

I love living in semi-rural Normandy and do not want our lovely village spoiled for all the residents by the lowering of the standards of services by spreading them too thinly, and by the increasing of air pollution because of further traffic.

I trust that these concerns will be heard.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:
- destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt increase tail backs on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

As a resident of East Horsley I strongly object to much of the Proposed Submission Local Plan in respect to East and West Horsley.

I question the Borough housing targets set out in Policy S2. I therefore accordingly object to Policy H2.

I object to the proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt and request that this proposal be dropped from the Local Plan.

I also object to the proposed East Horsley boundary change which cannot be justified.

I object to the proposal to designate roads south of the A246 as being within the identified boundary of East Horsley village and to allow limited infilling within this area.

I believe that the failure to address the inadequacies of the existing infrastructure to meet the current needs of East Horsley is already a serious deficiency in the Proposed Submission Local Plan and I object to the infrastructure proposals on these grounds. I also strongly object to the proposals for the East Horsley infrastructure in that they do not meet the stated objective of providing a timely infrastructure to support the proposed developments.

I consider that the proposed western movement of the East Horsley settlement boundary needed to bring site A39 within the settlement area as unjustified and contrary to NPPF rules. If this boundary movement is invalid, as I believe, then this site remains a part of the Metropolitan Green Belt, as such and with no ‘very special circumstances’ to justify housing development on it I object to Policy A39.

I strongly object to the site allocation policies A37, A38, A40 and A41.

These four policy sites are all located within the Green Belt. One is a partially brownfield development but the other three sites are all used for agriculture and all sit within the current Green Belt at the edge of the Settlement Area. The reasons presented by the consultants to justify these settlement boundary movements appear to me unfounded and in no way meet the requirements of the NPPF.

These boundary movements clearly represent a deliberate pushing back of settlement boundaries in order to provide more greenfield sites for housing development. As such, I consider these proposed movements in settlement boundaries must be reconsidered.

These proposals appear contrary to the principles of the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I also strongly object to Policy A35.

I object to the proposal to to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt and the enormity of the proposed development of it, due to the strain it will place on existing infrastructure and amenity.

I object to Policy E2 insofar as it omits to confer "public transport interchange" status on Effingham Junction Station without good reason.

Obviously I appear to strongly object to many aspects of to the Proposed Submission Local Plan which although I appreciate has had much time spent compiling and revising, still fails to address the ‘objective’ in a manner acceptable to the majority of residents effected.

I believe that the local plan needs to be reviewed to reflect the number of housing units built in Guildford over the last 5 years.

The infrastructure in the area is unable to support a development on the Keens Lane site. The roundabout at the eastern end of Keens Lane is already dangerous as drivers locally treat this roundabout as a chicane.

Worplesdon Road is already one of the worst roads in the area for traffic congestion during rush hours.

Drainage – Any hardstanding from a development west of Findlay Drive will increase the run off into Sime Close and consequentially silting up of the soakaways.

Gravetts Lane was flooded on 23rd June after the rain the night before. The foul sewers were bubbling up with the need for a clean up to be carried out.

Gas & Electricity there is insufficient power in the area requiring an upgrade to the system.
Schools, Hospitals, Doctors, Dentists would all need to be improved to support another significant development as there are already availability and access issues with all of the above without exacerbating the issues further.

I'm genuinely astonished that after such fierce opposition to the last round of proposed plans a more considered approach has not been adopted as I think we all understand we have a responsibility in accepting a degree of development within the village.

But an increase of 35% in village size - come on!

On green belt land - have you lost your environmentally-friendly faculties?

With no meaningful consideration of appropriate infrastructure - this is simply lazy, slap dash and irresponsible!

Please go away, have a good talk to yourselves and come back when you have a plan which is appropriate to the character of West Horsley village!

Further to the points outlined in our Parish Council's response to the Guildford Borough Council's proposal, I add the following:

1. the infrastructure for such a development is simply not there in Normandy. We have no provision or utility shops and no post office. The only garage no longer sells petrol or diesel.

1. The existing sewage system is already overloaded as evinced by recent incidents in Glaziers Lane. Some parts of the village, including my own, are not even connected to the main drainage system but have to rely on cesspits or septic tanks which have to be emptied at regular intervals at vast expense.

3 Since the demise of Vokes Ltd and its successors there is no local industry to speak of and Normandy has turned into a dormitory village, and so where are all these extra people to find employment?

4. The village is in a damp environment and parts are subject to flooding which is not helped by lack of maintenance of drainage ditches. Surface water is not adequately catered for. I have previously written a very detailed description of the topography of the area, copies of which were sent to Guildford Borough Council (which I hope has not been mislaid) and our local Member of Parliament.

1. It is difficult to obtain an appointment with a doctor at Glaziers Lane Surgery, an indication that that system is already overloaded.

The access road to Send Hill from Potters Lane is a narrow single track road and not suitable for 40 houses and 2 travellers sites. This junction is treacherous with no clear vision if you are coming from Send Hill into Potters Lane. With speeding motorists using Potters Lane as a cut through to and from the A3, any additional traffic will make this junction even more hazardous. My wife and daughter narrowly missed being involved in an accident today on the bend heading from Potters Lane to the Send Hill turning – a large lorry and a Fiat 500 had been involved in an incident where the Fiat had been badly damaged by the lorry where the road is very narrow. The previous week my wife was nearly involved in a head on collision on the same bend with a lorry in the middle of the road as the lorry was too large for the narrow lane, the lorry’s tyre skid marks can be seen on the road. My daughter’s car has been damaged by a passing car coming from Send Hill, where her wing mirror was broken, and my wife has had the same experience, these are not isolated incidents as Send Hill and Potters lane are too narrow for the traffic using them. The proposed development would not be in keeping with the beautiful and peaceful surroundings of the area including the cemetery and the adjoining properties in Send Hill. I understand that the Send Hill Development was not part of any previous consultations and I am concerned about the impact of this level of development on residents and cemetery users.

. I also object to the plans for the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley, land for new north facing slip roads to/from A3 at Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane. The infrastructure of Send Village is not able to cope with the existing daily traffic as it is, especially at peak times with commuters and school runs. Most days there is congestion along Send Road. My daughter worked in Ripley for six years and it regularly took her 50 minutes to travel from her house in Westfield to work during peak travel times. This was one of the reasons she chose to move jobs. There are no realistic alternative routes for motorists to take from Send Road and many cars chose to cut through Potters Lane to avoid sitting in traffic, many of which are large lorries who are too big for the road or speeding commuters in cars, which pose daily danger to the residents of Potters Lane, any increase in traffic will only add to the danger.

I would be grateful if you could pass my comments onto the Planning Inspector and confirm safe receipt of this email. I do hope you will take on board my feedback and the feedback of the residents of Send who very much care about the village and its surroundings and who have lived in the village for many years.

Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Policy A42

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because the increase to 60 houses in place of 45 homes is not in keeping with the rural area and Tannery Lane is very narrow and is not sufficiently wide enough to carry the significant increase in traffic. It is already treacherous at points along the lane and it will impact the open countryside views and will unnecessarily erode the Green Belt status of the area. The Marina development has already been given the go ahead and the area cannot cope with more building development.

Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch to allow for 400 homes and 6 Travelling Showpeople plots. This proposal will over-develop our village as this number of houses is unduly excessive and will erode the ancient woodland that has existed for hundreds of years. Guildford Borough Council should be protecting this area not developing it. It will join up Ripley and Send villages and will erode the Green Belt further and generate excessive traffic and block the already gridlocked roads. The area is prone to flooding and this proposal will increase the likelihood of further flood damage. There is no demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this area, and ‘no exceptional circumstances’ exist to destroy the Green Belt status of this location. There are others areas in the Borough available for development. This area is already full to capacity, the Doctors Surgery and schools are struggling to cope with existing volumes as it is.

Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Policy A58

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because it was deleted from the 2014 draft because of previous objections and there is no requirement in the area for a minimum of 7,000 sq m of industrial warehousing. It will impact the small surrounding roads as the traffic will be gridlocked, the Ripley exit off the A3 in both directions is already treacherous with cars speeding through the area to cut through Send and Ripley villages. There is no demand for industrial warehousing in this area when there are warehouses available and empty in Slyfield Green which is purpose built for industrial units. It will only erode the Green Belt further and join up Ripley and Send villages unnecessarily.

Green Belt, Policy 2 at Paragraph 4.3.15

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because it is in a restricted vehicular access area along Tannery Lane from both directions and further expansion and development is not in keeping and will detract from the openness of the area. The existing infrastructure is not sufficient to cope with any increase in traffic and building development. It will seriously impact the area of outstanding building along the Wey Navigation, which my family and friends have enjoyed for many years.

My wife and I have lived in Send in excess of 24 years. I originally grew up in Send and we chose to return to the village to enjoy our retirement. We have family and friends living close by, including both my daughters and grandchildren, all of whom regularly visit us. The proposals above would considerably change the way of life in the village and surrounding area, we along with many others chose to buy in Send because of its village environment and rural setting, away from built up areas. We live in Potters Lane and are impacted every day by commuters speeding through to and from the A3, both my wife and I and are family have had our cars damaged from cars speeding past and not keeping to their lane and clipping our cars.

I appreciate more housing is required but there are a number of brown fill land sites in the Borough on which to build. I strongly object to the Green Belt status being eroded away from Send Village. I do hope you will take my comments on board along with the many other residents of Send who very much care about their village and its surroundings and who have lived in the village for many years.

My more specific objections are:

• I object to the way GBC use the word ‘need’ in the Local Plan in place of demand when promoting the house building requirements in this area.
• I object to in the inflated and exaggerated housing “need” cited in the Local Plan of 13860 houses. The legitimacy and use of data which GBC cited was questioned – even by GBC itself. The miscalculated and misconstrued total was reviewed by the Scrutiny Committee of the council, who decided the housing number needed to be reduced. Despite this the number has now been increased.
• I object to GBC refusing to disclose their calculations in suggesting housing ‘need’ in order to allow appropriate scrutiny of the data.
• I object that GBC is proposing to go ahead with this inadequate and ‘not fit for purpose’ plan (so designated by Paul Beresford, local MP), particularly now the result of the referendum vote is in, bringing with it financial uncertainty and economic changes. Given this result GBC must acknowledge that their housing ‘need’ numbers are completely unsupportable and a re-evaluation is urgently needed. Not to do so would be the height of arrogance and foolishness. Particularly since a large proportion of the proposed ‘need’ for additional housing was based on an assumption of inward international migration. This is now so obviously unsupportable.

- I object to the proposal to build 45 houses at Clockbarn. There is inadequate access and this would create an excessive and unsupportable increase in traffic volume. This would become more hazardous for people trying to access the main road and leave the lane. Tannery Lane is obviously unable to accommodate the volume of traffic that would result.

- I object to the proposal to build 400 houses at Garlick’s Arch. This number is not required and there is no credible evidence to suggest that it is.
- I object to development at Garlick’s Arch being proposed with only 2 weeks notice and subsequently not being subject to due process – with GBC failing to provided sufficient time for proper consultation.
- I object to GBC proposing to build on Garlick’s Arch as it is known to flood.
• I object to GBC proposing to build housing and industrial space at Garlick’s Arch because the site is covered by ancient woodland.
• I object to the proposal of building 7,000 square metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch. As per my comment re: building industrial space at Burnt Common, the ELNA shows a reduction of 80% in required employment space when compared to previous documentation. This is simply not required and certainly not in that location.
• I object that the existing, appropriate and available 40ha site of industrial space at Slyfield is not being used in preference to the proposed building of industrial space at Burnt Common and Garlick’s Arch.
• I object to GBC proposing to endanger sensitive and ancient woodland by building at Garlick’s Arch.
• I object to GBC proposing to build at Garlick’s Arch when it is well known to be subject to flooding and pictorial evidence of this has been submitted.

• I object to the new interchange this GBC proposes to be built on the A3 at Burnt Common. This would cause gridlock in our village, be detrimental to residents’ health and cause, as a consequence, increased risk of accidents and harm. The Transport Evidence used by GBC shows there will be increased congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25. If this went ahead Send would become gridlocked as traffic from the proposed 5850 houses at Wisley, Gosden Hill Burpham and Blackwell farm would all impact on our village and roads.
• I object that the Transport Evidence for the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common is incomplete and unreliable.

• I object to the proposed development at Send Hill of 40 houses. This area of beautiful Green Belt would be ruined forever. Currently it is regularly used and enjoyed by locals that I frequently encounter when walking my dogs in that area.

• I object to the proposed number of houses at Send Hill as this would result in increased traffic flow on a road that is already compromised.

• I object to the proposed number of houses at Send Hill, as it will impact on village children safely travelling to and from school. There is already congestion in the mornings and cars parked on pavements where parents are busy with drop off and pick up. Drop off will become less safe as a result of increased housing and car use.

• I object to GBC proposing to build 40 houses at Send Hill when it is documented that the subsoil contains unsafe landfill waste, currently vented. That this subsoil contains documented unsafe landfill waste is registered at GBC.

• I object to GBC’s proposal of including 2 Travellers Pitches at Send Hill. They will typically have larger vehicles and/or tow and there isn’t space to safely accommodate this kind of traffic. Building these pitches in this location will cause unnecessary risk, due to the road narrowing to a twisting single-track country road. It will also cause congestion. Locals currently avoid using that end of Send Hill due to the risk of collision when pulling out onto Potters Lane.

I object - as the Green Belt forms an overwhelming proportion of the Borough the Local Plan should place its protection as the forefront of it's policies. To state: 'We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt, as shown on the proposals map, against inappropriate development' is patently untrue. Protecting the Green Belt is not a priority of this Local Plan.

I object - to state: ' In accordance with national planning policy, the construction of new development will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated" is patently not shown in the Local Plan. GBC fails to demonstrate special circumstances and is planning excessive and very inappropriate new development in the Borough and patently failing to identify and prioritise the use of brownfield sites within urban areas.

Objections to GBC Local Plan - Consultation, 2016

I am writing in response to the Local Plan, and wish my objections to be seen by the Planning Inspector. I have been onto the GBC website to make individual objections to the many worrying and troublesome suggestions included in the Local Plan.

In this letter I wish to express my deep concerns and objections to local issues as a resident in Send and the impact of the inappropriate and excessive development proposed in the Local Plan on our village, quality of life and future.

My greatest concerns are to do with the removal of Send and other villages from the Green Belt and the detrimental and irreversible effects this will have. Local residents have consistently campaigned against this – neighbours and other villagers I talk to are determined to do so still. This removal goes against Government guidance (National Planning Policy Framework), which states the presumption is not to build on Green Belt unless exceptional circumstances are provided to warrant this. GBC patently fail to do this.

- I object to GBC going against Government guidance in their proposals to build on Greenbelt land and failing to provide exceptional circumstances to justify this. Presumption is not to build on Green Belt unless exceptional circumstances are provided to warrant this. GBC patently fails to do this.
- I object to GBC proposals to build on Green belt areas whilst failing to first identify sufficient brownfield sites within urban areas.
- I object to all proposals to build on Green belt land in the borough. Urban brownfield areas could accommodate all the true and required development that is needed and such sites are close to existing transport systems and links to support such development. NO such road infrastructure exists in the villages.
- I object to GBC failing to provide a considered, appropriate local plan and future for our borough by neglecting to include the Town Centre Masterplan.
- I object to removing Send, Ripley and other villages from the Greenbelt. Our village provides a necessary, beautiful and irreplaceable buffer between Woking and Guildford.
- I object to the proposal that 70% of 13,860 houses in the plan are suggested to be located with the Green Belt along the A3.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the lack of clear definitions and clarity running throughout this section. There is no clarity, no clear framework proposed to enable complex and critically important decisions to be considered and decided upon. Thus this section is not a policy but a thinly veiled justification for promoting excessive and unwarranted development in the borough.

I object to GBC stating: the Council will grant permission unless material considerations indicate otherwise, taking into account whether:

'Any adverse impacts of granting permission would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in the National Planning Policy Framework taken as a whole'; GBC has received much evidence that decisions to move villages out of the Green Belt and to build on Green Belt land will not be advantageous, nor provide benefits.

I object to the fact that whilst the NPPF states that the presumption is not to build on Green Belt unless exceptional circumstances are provided to warrant this. GBC fails to do this. What is exceptional is GBC persisting with this proposal in the face of so much local opposition and without providing good evidence for their proposals.

I object to the favour and bias that GBC shows towards development - evidenced by their use of phrases such as 'without delay'.

I absolutely DO NOT agree that the plan, strategy and sites are based on up-to-date, relevant data or evidence.

The data used by GBC contains anomalies (e.g. base rates of housing need of students which do not provide a stable base for extrapolation) and relies on assumptions which cannot now be used (for instance rates of growth in employment and need for housing in this area). The assumption of housing need behind the SHMA for example had as a driver inward international migration. This MUST now be reviewed and reconsidered given the EU referendum result. There simply will not be such migration and therefore no need to decimate our beautiful countryside by excessive housing development.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I object to the suggestion that the proposed submission local plan: strategy and sites as a whole is sound.

I completely disagree that this is the case, for the following reasons:

I object because correct process has not been followed by GBC. Every major site of development in Send for instance (where I live) has been changed since the original consultation in 2014. These significant changes require another full consultation under Regulation 18, not Regulation 19 - which invalidates the whole process of "consultation" and makes a mockery of the idea that the local plan as a whole is sound.
I object because the evidence base used was faulty and unsound. The rationale behind the notion of need to build on Greenfield sites within Guildford Borough is faulty – it is based on poor data and - since the EU referendum result - unsound assumptions. For example there will not be a need to accommodate the inward movement of international migrants that was previously assumed.

I object because it proposes excessive and unjustifiable numbers of housing need. In 2014 even within the council itself it was recognised that the number suggested for housing at that time was excessively high. So this miscalculated and misconstrued total was reviewed by the Scrutiny Committee of the council, who decided the housing number needed to be reduced. Given that now even higher housing development is proposed, the current proposals are completely unsound.

I object to GBC’s fundamental confusion of housing need with housing demand. This major confusion invalidates many of their arguments for increased housing in the area and renders the local plan unsound.

I object because GBC propose building on Greenbelt land, removing villages from the Greenbelt and failing to heed Government guidance on the issue. Compelling and convincing arguments for building on Green Belt are not provided, in that no ‘special circumstances’ (NPPF) are outlined. These are required by Government guidance. This is another very significant factor undermining the soundness and fitness for purpose of the local plan. It is of note that Local MP Paul Beresford has stated that the Local Plan is not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
In conclusion, the Local Plan fails to heed previous concerns vociferously expressed by residents in the Borough, and particularly the local residents I discuss the above with here in Send. We love our village and whilst recognise there is a need for housing and some development, wish it to be based on sound and correct evidence, taking into account the Governments’ guidance not to build on Greenbelt without first exhausting brown field site options, and then only after demonstrating exceptional circumstances, and taking into account impact on already straining infrastructure.

Further of course the local Plan does not take into account the dramatic result of the EU referendum – which impacts on every assumption about growth and housing need contained in it.

It is incredulous that in your role as public officers - voted for and funded by constituents, that you continue to offer laughably poor proposals for local development. Your job is to bring benefit to our lives - if your current proposals succeed it will be to detriment of our currently enjoyed and valued quality of life and on our environment. It will be undemocratic.

? Despite obvious and demonstrated concerns of local residents, you continue in your arrogant and ill considered behaviours to attempt to excessively develop our village and in your failure to protect vital and cherished natural resources.

What is more you fail to demonstrate any credible evidence of carrying out a valid appraisal of local need. Your proposals clearly do not reflect local need or interest - whose interests are you actually promoting? In the circumstances it is hard to avoid the suspicion that it is the interests of developers that are being prioritised, particularly given the late presentation of Garlick’s Arch and the A3 interchange and the funding for this being provided by those wishing to develop building at Wisley.

I would urge you to listen and provide a decent, fair and considered local plan.

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane

I object to the change re: an increased number of houses; this represents a disproportionate increase and GBC fail to justify it.

I object to this change as it is undemocratic - the proposed increase disregards (and indeed flies in the face of) the many objections previously made by local people.

I object because the consequences of the proposed change will further erode the Green Belt in our village.

I object because the development will impact the beautiful views that exist in this area, having a deleterious impact on our quality of life and enjoyment of our local environment.

I object because it will make the existing surface water flooding problem much worse than it already is; it is very problematic already.

I object because the infrastructure in Tannery Lane, and indeed the village, will not be able to support such an increase.

I object because there is insufficient access at the Tannery Lane/A247 Junction and the proposed change will exacerbate existing traffic congestion, making the roads less safe.

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh because:

I object to this change as it is grossly unreasonable and undemocratic in that it disregards that thousands of local people have previously objected to this policy and proposed development.

I object to development on permanent Green Belt and that GBC have failed to establish and demonstrate that exceptional circumstances exist to do so.

I object that it will defeat the purpose and role of the Green Belt and that Ripley and Send will effectively become joined up.

I object because it will cause over-development in our villages and the number of homes is excessive to demonstrated need.

I object because it will result in traffic that will further block the local roads.

I object because it will impact on infrastructure and GBC have failed to address this.

I object because it will destroy beautiful countryside and ancient woodland.
I object because existing flooding problems in the area will just become exacerbated.
I object to the inclusion of 6 Traveling Showpeople plots; there is no evidence that this is necessitated in this location.

Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Policy A58

I object to Policy A58 as, following many objections made when the development was proposed in the 2014 draft Local Plan, it was deleted. It is nonsensical to now re-introduce it.

I object because there is no justification for building industrial/warehouse development in the Green Belt when empty sites and industrial units already exist in Slyfield and at Guildford.

I object as the Policy fails to take into account that the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for the whole Borough. This Policy suggests an ridiculous 10 hectares in Green Belt land in one location. This disproportionate and unjustifiable and flies in the face of need.

I object to the change of wording from maximum to minimum (minimum of 7,000 sq m of industrial or warehousing). As per my previous comment, there is no need for such development in this area at all and certainly not an increase to existing, discredited amounts, particularly given current economic uncertainty and a decreased demand for industrial land.

I object as infrastructure will not be able to support the increased traffic that will result.

I object as it will make small surrounding roads unsafe and cause traffic gridlock. I live on Potters Lane and currently even a nominal increase of traffic numbers causes traffic to come to a standstill.

I object to the changes in this Policy as GBC used unsafe and inappropriate data on which to "support" their proposals. For instance the figures from the revised West Surrey SHMA (Strategic Housing Market assessment) are misleading and offer an inflated housing target for the Borough of Guildford, in large part because of the transient student population associated with the University. Census data takes term time address as permanent places of residence and housing needs are based on this - irrational, misleading and not in the interests of locals who live here, pay taxes here and vote for the council.

1. I object to the changes in this Policy as GBC used unsafe and inappropriate data on which to "support" their proposals. Census data takes term time address as permanent places of residence and housing needs are based on this - irrational, misleading and not in the interests of locals who live here, pay taxes here and vote for the council.

2. I object to changes in the Policy and with GBC’s assertion that affordable housing will be provided. Recent research from the CPRE’s (Campaign to protect Rural England) annual Green Belt Under Siege report shows that more than 70% of houses proposed for development are not expected to be ‘affordable’. It also demonstrates that just 16% of houses built on Green Belt land since 2009 outside local plans were classed as ‘affordable’.

Guildford Borough Councils proposed Local plan is a travesty of democracy and of consultation with local neighbourhoods. It clearly does not represent the views of local residents, but instead the interests of developers. I can only hope the Inspectorate will recognise this.

I object to ASP 3 new A3/A3100/B2215/A247 Burpham-Burnt common all-movements junction.

I object to SRN9 A3 northbound on-slip at A247 Clandon Road (Burnt Common) and SRN10 A3 southbound off-slip at A247 Clandon Road (Burnt Common).

Green Belt, Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15

I object to the proposal to inset Send Businesss park from the Green Belt development at this choice of location is inappropriate and detracts from the openness of the area.

I object to this proposal because there in restricted access for traffic in Tannery Lane. Increased traffic that would result from development will compromise the safety of these roads and road users. It will also lead to further traffic delays and congestion in the village.

Objections to Local Plan - Policy changes P2, Green Belt

1. I object to the changes to the policy as they disregard the the numerous objections (over 30,00) made to the 2016 plan.
2. I object to the change that is the addition of this new paragraph 1, which begins: "The Metropolitan Green Belt will continue to be protected ... against inappropriate development". In accordance with National Planning Policy the construction of new development will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless exceptional circumstances can be demonstrated". As before Guildford Borough Council completely fail to demonstrate such circumstances and pay lip service to protecting the Green Belt, whilst presenting a Local Plan that proposes to degrade it and by building over it.
3. I object to the change and GBC's under-estimate that the plan would only involve the loss of "1.6%" of the borough's Green Belt. The actuality of it is when taking into account changes such as inserting, (e.g. Send Business Park) infilling and boundary extensions are accounted for the figure is nearer 7%. NO building on the Green Belt is necessitated in the Borough when the incorrect and unreliable date that GBC suggest is "housing need" is closely examined and disregarded as invalid. NO exceptional circumstances are provided by GBC to go ahead with this change. As before GBC have failed to demonstrate - using valid and reliable data - justification for this disproportionate increase in housing in our village, confusing need with demand - a basic error.
4. I object to changes in this policy as GBC have failed to "fully, appropriately and meaningfully engage with local residents and neighbourhoods" (National Planning Policy Framework NPPF 2012) as it has previously claimed it will aim to do. If this had occurred the changes in the policy would not be proposed as GBC would have taken account to the many objections voiced in the past.
5. I object to the changes re: numbers, areas etc, because building on the Green Belt does not: "preserve the openness of the Green Belt".
6. I object to the statement which states that Send and other villages are now: inset from the Green Belt. This is merely a statement of intent issued by GBC and has not been improved by an Inspector, it is therefore untrue and should not be use as a basis for planning, particularly taken into account strength of local feeling, number of objections and no exceptional circumstances being provided for development by GBC.

I object to the changes in policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones. It is disingenuous and a misrepresentation to state that development on existing hardstanding (e.g. Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank) creates additional risk of flooding. This policy amendment unnecessarily removes these valuable brownfield sites from the scope of the plan.

I object to the proposed number of traveller, travelling show people plots included in the plan, it is inconsistent, for example A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ... Clearly A50 more than covers the total "need" of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. The evidence used is wholly inadequate, founded on unsound data and fails to take account of need re: actual housing units required. For instance the figures from the revised West Surrey SHMA (Strategic Housing Market assessment) are misleading and offer an inflated housing target for the Borough of Guildford, in large part because of the transient student population associated with the University. Census data takes term time address as permanent places of residence and housing needs are based on this. Most students will not stay in the area after completion of studies and require housing.

Also GBC proposes to build on Green Belt, and fails to provide evidence of exceptional or special circumstances to justify this whilst removing Brownfield sites (e.g. A4 and A34). This does not represent adequate planning nor does it provide evidence for their proposals.

I gather that the council has relied entirely on a consultants mathematical model for its projection of new houses needed. I’d like to see the basis for this model and the parameters and assumptions that informed the projection. I use statistics, data and models in my own work. Every model has it’s assumptions and weaknesses. The answers are rarely clear cut, with a range of possible outcomes. It’s a bit like predicting the weather … and we know how reliable that can be, dont we? Small changes in the underlying assumptions can make a large difference to the outcome. What sensitivity testing was done to assess the effect of varying the assumptions? What are the P10, P50 and P90 projections?

Wisley Airfield Development.

I have a strong suspicion that someone in the council saw this area on a map and thought “great, build 2,000+ houses there and we’ll easily meet the councils projected housing needs in one fell swoop. No need to do the job properly and look for all the brown field sites that could be developed first … that’s too much like hard work”. Then a developer comes along and says yes, we can build all those houses for you at Wisley, no bother (whilst rubbing his/her hands at the massive profits they’ll make in the process). Nowhere do I see that the council has demonstrated that they have really looked long and hard at the impact of such a massive development, or at the infrastructure needs it would mandate, or more critically, at potentially better and less impactful alternatives.

Further, now that we are in Brexit mode, is it the councils intention to look at how this factor might change future housing needs?

Green Belt

There are no “exceptional circumstances” that justify the proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green belt. If nothing else, this makes a mockery of the system in place that provides necessary protection to our countryside and way of life. Neither the council or the planners have provided any valid justification for this in my opinion. It would also set a very dangerous precedent. Expect your constituents to revolt in great numbers if this proposal goes further!!

Farm Land.

Speaking of Brexit, isn’t it likely that we may need all of our farm land to provide for our future agricultural needs? Building on farm land seems to me to be a very short sighted idea.

Finally

I should add that I am not against any development of new housing at all. Clearly we do need to increase the housing stock. However, I believe that the focus at this time should be on smaller scaler development on brownfield sites, with only modest and environmentally sympathetic expansion in to (non green belt) green field sites.

Comment ID: PSLPA16/1787  Respondent: 10718433 / P Mulberry  Agent:
I am writing to strongly object to the final draft local plan and my reasons are as follows.

There is little reliable evidence or justification for such a massive development in Send's Green Belt. The scale of the development proposed for Send and Ripley is excessive, unnecessary and destructive to our community and Green Belt. There is no justification for the additional houses nor the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq.m. at Garlick's Arch. Even with the proposed interchange on to the A3 at Burnt Common the whole area will be gridlocked. At the present time any problem at the M25/A3 interchange Send and Ripley becomes gridlocked. The whole Plan is a disaster waiting to happen. It goes against the principles of community planning and is no more than a green light to developers, backed by Guildford Borough Council, to carve up rural Surrey.

The well established policies of the Green Belt is to protect open spaces, prevent encroachment into the countryside and stopping linear development leading to the joining together of developed communities have been ignored in the proposals for Send. This plan will produce a huge overload on local and main roads.

Additional points I wish to add are as follows:

There is no requirement for the scale of development proposed. Surrey already has the largest population per square mile in the UK and should not increase.

This plan does not take flooding into account and we all know that this is a problem for residents. I look forward to hearing that you have a revised sensible and thoughtful local plan.

I object for the following reasons Send Road where we live is too busy and the number of vehicle would be increase the proposals put too much strain on infrastructure that is already too stretched, swell as building in the surrounding area proposed of Burpham and Wisley the roads, infrastructure services won’t take it, Send road is already gridlock and cause cracks and damage to our property due to cars and lorries.

So two main objections damage to greenbelt and wildlife and greenspace and infrastructure with roads and services.

I object to building proposals for Send and anymore development of housing in the area. I wish to object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The fact that it is in the Green Belt, is the reason we brought our house here.

I object to the building of 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery, as traffic from tannery lane is already a problem.

With interference to Garlick's Arch, the building of houses there plus 1000 sq m of industrial space I wish to object this as it will ass to the traffic problem we already have. I wish to object this as it will add to the traffic problem we already have. I wish to object to the new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common as this will also bring heavy traffic through Send.

I watch large vehicles mount pavements outside our house from my kitchen window. Because of this cars along Send Road tend to park up on the pavements. We have many cyclists using these pavements. This tends to make a problem for pedestrians trying to walk to shops and the Villages medical centre. I would like to have confirmation that this letter has been received.

I object to the local plan being based on extremely dubious housing needs figures coming out of the SHMA. The complete lack of transparency in how the figures are obtained is quick frankly disgraceful. How can Guildford Borough Council possibly stand by these figures when they have no idea what assumptions were made in their preparation?

I object to the local plan on the basis that the calculations for housing needs must now be obsolete as they would have been prepared on the assumption that the UK would remain in the European Union. The Brexit vote to leave the EU has directly resulted in substantial value being wiped off property development firms. This is strong evidence that the markets are expecting a major reduction in the need for future property development in the UK.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
In respect to the Send Hill proposed development site (A44):

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed site has previously been used as a land fill site with unknown materials buried there. Any disturbance could lead to health hazards to current and future occupants of Send Hill.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that access from Potters lane is via a single track lane, totally unsuited to anything but light vehicles. The steep single lane hill at the junction is in permanent shade during winter months and is frequently sheeted in ice resulting from run off throughout night and day for prolonged periods. The idea of a travellers site with attendant towing of large loads is of major concern on safety grounds.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the site is in the greenbelt. Furthermore, it is not even within the existing Send village boundary, so even the outrageous idea of insetting greenbelt villages does not lend any justification to developing the site.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed scale of developments in Send would increase the stress already placed on the local services and further increase traffic congestion that is already a daily problem for Send residents.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would detrimentally impact Send's existing village identity.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed site is not large enough for the proposed use.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Guildford borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

In respect to the Guildford Local Plan in general:

I object to the local plan on the grounds that the greenbelt has not been afforded the protection it deserves. We have a duty to protect it, but the local plan only pays it lip service. There is no attempt to use it as a constraint when establishing the borough's housing needs, despite government guidance that it can and should be.

The greenbelt is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. It is an inalienable public good. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away.

Building on it will lead to an irreversible loss of:
- Agricultural production
- Rural leisure and tourism amenities
- Water catchment
- Flood control
- Biodiversity
- Natural heritage
- A carbon sink for air pollution
- Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
- Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
- Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
- Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
- Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

5. Policy A44.1.9 ha Land west of winds ridge and Send Hill. This site is new and was not included in regulation 18 draft and has not been consulted upon previously. This will cause additional dangerous road traffic due to the very narrow width single track local roads. This area around Potters Lane is already a highly dangerous road accident area and the extra housing etc will only add to this resulting serious road death accidents. Will you be able to live with this as persons making decisions resulting in death.

I wish to strongly object to the proposed development in Normandy, on the following grounds:

The roads here cannot take anymore traffic, it can take an hour to get to Guildford in the peak times.

The pollution this development would cause is a serious matter.

The loss of habitat to the wildlife, those fields are home to numerous animals and insects.

The loss of our green open spaces, we bought our home here in Normandy to live in a semi rural location as did all the other residents who are opposed to this development.

There is absolutely no need for another secondary school, we are served by Kings college, county school and bellfields schools.

I urge you to please consider the opinions of all the residents in Normandy who are so opposed to the detrimental changes this development would bring. Normandy is totally unsuitable for any further development.

I wish to register my objection to the proposed development here in Normandy.

We moved here to live in a semi rural location, with green open spaces to enjoy. This development would destroy that and blight the lives of many residents who also wish to live in a semi rural location.

The threat to the wildlife is unthinkable, where would they all go?

The infra structure cannot possibly cope with any further traffic, the roads around here are gridlocked. We are at full capacity.

The pollution to our village and the risk to our health. 1000 homes would be likely to bring 2000 cars.

Guildford has several schools, there is absolutely no need for a secondary school to be built here.

Please listen to those who live here, we do not want to be part of an urban sprawl.

Yours faithfully

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

6. I object to the proposed plan of G.B.C for Send. They have failed to provide sound evidence in the terms of employment land needs. Also the need for the housing numbers required of 13,860 homes. If the population is to grow by some 20,000 in the plan period we actually need 8,000 homes (This is based on an average of 2.5 persons per home). The Green Belt does not need to be built over, of the new homes required 50% or more could be built on Brownfield sites. The G.B.C transport assessment was not even available to the councillors for the vote taken the 24th May being published on the 6th June. Infrastructure overload has not been taken into account.

4. I object to policy A.43.30ha the use of land at GARLICKS ARCH burnt Common designated for 400 houses and 7,000 sq.m of industrial and warehousing. There is no need for any more houses on top of the 13,860 already proposed for the borough. This proposed site is new and was not included in regulation 18 draft and has not been consulted upon previously. It is Green Belt permanently protected by the NPPF which prevents the merging of settlements. THERE ARE NO EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES. This site has a particular conservation Sensitivity since it is covered with Ancient Woodland, trees which have existed in the 16th century and would be endangered. The proposed Industrial Development of 7,000 sq.m is simply not required since the latest employment land needs assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq.m of Industrial space it should be at Slyfield. A new 4 way interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common to serve this development would be disastrous for Send. The Send road (A247) would be gridlocked all day, Send would be the through route to Woking for traffic leaving the M25 and the A3. The proposed 2,000 houses to be built at Wisley and the 2,000 at Burpharn would make Send an impossible place to live.

Re THE FINAL DRAFT LOCAL PLAN for SEND

I WISH MY FOLLOWING COMMENTS TO BE SEEN BY THE INSPECTOR

Green Belt is defined as open space for the purpose of:
- Stopping urban sprawl to protect the character of rural communities.
- To provide clean air for outdoor activities.
- To maintain wooded areas and to provide wildlife habitat.
- To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment.

Any planning for the change of use for Green Belt should demonstrate why normal planning and development would not be adequate and should show proof as to why the current plans have made the adoption of this exceptional measure necessary.

1. I object to policy P2 the proposal to remove Send from the Green The use of the Green Belt Areas for development means local villages will join up and become an urban sprawl and form a Suburbia. The new local plan is to remove 15 villages from the Green Belt this includes RIPLEY and SEND. A huge development such as this will limit the ability to mitigate climate change and weather events such as flooding.

1. I object to the recent proposed plan of the Guildford Borough Council. Since 2014 the G.B.C have changed every Major site in the proposed development for Send, and now have added a massive New Road Junction (which will add to the congestion that is already being experienced on the A3 and local roads, cyclists and pedestrians will suffer, environmental health will suffer through increased air pollution as well increased noise and light pollution).

In the proposed plan of 2014 there was provision for 430 houses, this was reduced to 185 in April of 2016, I now note the number has increased to the proposed plan of 2014.

These significant changes require another full consultation under regulation 18 and not the short cut of regulation 19 which the G.B.C are trying to get away with.

THIS INVALIDATES THE WHOLE PROCESS.

Please note I wish to object to Travellers Plots on this site. The access for such large vehicles would mean major road re-structure and also additional roads which would only add to the current grid lock, pollution noise and stress being experienced by local residents and commuters.

Added to which the roads are not maintained in good order now meaning additional roads would suffer the same plight in years to come. No proven demand.

I object to 400 homes being built at Garlick's Arch as this would mean another thousand vehicles accessing the local roads again causing grid lock, pollution noise and stress.

I object to this development as it will combine the villages of Send and Ripley into one large urban sprawl without any proven "exceptional circumstances" necessitating the use of precious Green Belt land with abundant wild life.

I object on the grounds that previous objections have clearly been ignored.

I object to Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because there is no proven demand for a TRAVELLING SHOWPEOPLES PLOTS ON THIS LOCATION. This site is beautiful PERMANENT GREEN BELT and no EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES EXIST it is EQUISITE ANCIENT WOODLAND THAT EXISTED AT THE TIME OF ELIZABETH I. This Policy will join up the villages of Ripley and Send and will Defeat the KEY PURPOSE OF THE GREEN BELT. The land in question is subject to Frequent Flooding and is currently a Flood 2 Allocation and also is Contaminated by Lead Shot accumulated over fifty years. The Excessive Traffic that will be Generate will Block the already exceptional busy Local Roads of Send and Ripley. This POLICY IGNORES all the Thousands of Previous objections made by Local PEOPLE.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Oak Common because of all the Objects made Previously, The word MINIMUM is a Change from the Previous MAXIMUM IN THE 2016 PLAN since that time there has been a DECLINE IN THE DEMAND INDUSTRIAL LAND there is no need to build INDUSTRIAL or WAREHOUSE developments in the middle of the GREEN BELT WHEN SLYFIELD and GUILDFORD STILL HAVE EMPTY SITES and INDUSTRIAL UNITS. THE 2017 EMPLOYMENT LAND NEED ASSESSMENT SHOWS A REDUCTION in DEMAND TO 3.9 HECTARES FOR INDUSTRIAL LAND for the WHOLE BOROUGH NOT A HUGE OVER ALLOCATION OF 10 HECTARES AT SEND IN THE GREEN BELT, ALSO THE IMPACT ON ALL THE SMALL SURROUNDING ROADS WILL CREATE TRAFFIC GRIDLOCK AND IT WILL JOIN UP EXISTING VILLAGES AND DEFEAT THE PURPOSE OF THE GREEN BELT.

This, together with the 63 apartments already granted planning permission at the Tannery site, would increase traffic on Tannery Lane so much. I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch because it is not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. Should there be a credible need for this space, it should be located at Slyfield where there is already an industrial estate and there is a 40ha site available.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The proposed plan for Send does not take account of what local residents, most of whom seem to support the presumption against building in the Green Belt, want.

With many of my friends, I regularly walk long distances in and around the village. The plan proposals put at risk the beautiful countryside we enjoy, which, if Green Belt status is removed, is likely to become a congested suburb.

I further object to the proposed Local Plan in so far as Send is concerned because there is:

1. existing chronic traffic congestion,
2. substandard and only partial connections onto the main A3 and M25 roads,
3. an overloaded local road network connecting towns such as Woking and Guildford, inadequate infrastructure including but not only schools and medical facilities, and your draft plan under consultation fails to say how any of these shortcomings will be resolved.

So far as the process under which the plan has been devised is concerned I wish to say that:

- the assumptions the plan is based on are fatally flawed,
- no exceptional circumstances justify taking land around Send out of the Green Belt,
- no evidence supports a requirement for the proposed scale of development,
- development proposals reflect artificial and ridiculously high projections of need,
- no evidence of need for extra industrial or warehousing land in Send has been tabled.

These faults render the Plan invalid.

Potentially destroying our sustainable community is unacceptable.

The Plan seems to reflect an irrational fear of unwelcome planning appeal decisions based on accusations of inadequate provision for future growth. It would be better to tackle the planning and appeals systems rather than appease the officials who operate a system that generates such problems.

The previous draft local plan was withdrawn after generating widespread local opposition. Our Mole Valley MP Sir Paul Beresford responded to that; a copy of his comment dated 21 September 2014 is enclosed. His document retains its validity. Sir Paul observed:

"This catalogue of errors and omissions has led to a situation in which the Local Plan as presented has no detectable support from Guildford residents and has managed only to anger and worry so many of those who stand to lose the unique and valuable rural village lifestyle they currently enjoy in the Mole Valley Wards of Guildford Borough".

Sir Paul's commentary applies to the revised plan as do other submissions in response to the last draft plan (including my own earlier letter which I attach as well). I object to the revised plan generally for all of the reasons cited in my 19 September 2014 letter in respect of certain sites then earmarked.

I object to this new or second Draft Local Plan (as Sir Paul anticipated it) because Guildford Borough Council still has not recognised local feeling and opinion in formulating it. I object to the failure to consult in any responsible way and to the approach taken for all of the reasons recited by Sir Paul which seem to have been ignored in compiling the new or second Draft Local Plan.

• Clockbarn, Tannery Lane Policy A42- an increase to 60 additional dwellings will worsen traffic problems and damage our green belt,
• Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh Policy A43- 400 dwellings and 6 traveller plots are not appropriate in the green belt,
• Burnt Common, Policy A 58- industrial/warehouse development in the green belt isn’t needed or appropriate,
• Green Belt Policy 2 (para 4.3.15)- inset of Send Business Park is an inappropriate green belt intrusion.

Each of these changes would increase traffic, spoil the countryside and defeat the green belt protection carefully husbanded for 75 years.

I fully support the Save Send Acton Group’s propositions in their attached commentary leaflets.

Sir Paul Beresford our Mole Valley MP has said of the plan process:

'This catalogue of errors and omissions has led to a situation in which the Local Plan as presented has no detectable support from Guildford residents and has managed only to anger and worry so many of those who stand to lose the unique and valuable rural village lifestyle they currently enjoy in the Mole Valley Wards of Guildford Borough'.

Sir Paul’s commentary applies to the revised plan; his observations seem to be ignored.

Infrastructure in Send, Ripley, Send Marsh and Clandon being already massively overloaded, small disruptions cause gridlock over much of our essentially rural roads network so please also note that I still object to:

• an expanded A3 interchange at Burnt Common,
• housing and business development proposed for Garlick's Arch,

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

1. I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

   The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

   The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in locations that simply cannot sustain the increase in traffic that will result from these developments. None of these sites is close to a mainline railway station and it is quite simply a fallacy to believe that the residents of these proposed settlements will walk or cycle to work. Any increase in the bus services will do no more than add to the existing traffic mayhem. New residents will have few options but to be reliant on motor vehicles. For these reasons, consideration must be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from severe congestion during extended rush hour periods and the Council has woefully failed to address the problem of through traffic from London and the South competing with local Guildford traffic on the A3 as it passes through the Town. The additional vehicle traffic that these proposals will generate will lead to ever worsening congestion, safety issues for pedestrians and increased danger for cyclists, particularly those from outside the Borough who now regularly cycle on the Olympic route for pleasure in ever increasing numbers. Residents, health and safety and the environment will all suffer as a result.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
1. I OBJECT to the Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan.

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost. How is this going to be funded?

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. How is this going to be addressed?

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.
The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36% or 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of this development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced by a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.
National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hour no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved and negatively impact on air quality and the health and safety of pedestrians and cyclists and increase noise pollution.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard.

There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

It appears that the historic nature of Guildford Town itself has somehow taken precedence over the historic nature of the villages, hamlets and wooded areas that surround it. I object most strongly to this. If the residents of Guildford Town really want to attract new business into the Town and wish to grow the Town into a larger urban area then that expansion must be concentrated on the Town itself and not shoved out to the Green Belt and imposed on those that live there.

In particular, Ripley is an historic village and a conservation area. Removing this village from the Green Belt will remove that protection and leave it open to further ad hoc development. Likewise, the proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1).

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

1. I OBJECT to this Trojan horse policy. (Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes)

   It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

   The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to this policy on the grounds that the ‘all’ appears to appear all but the people living in the rural communities surrounding Guildford Town (POLICY H1 – Homes for all)

   Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.
The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim is necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

1. I OBJECT to the congestion that this development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of existing road infrastructure (Policy I1)

   Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the use of the old Portsmouth Road generally as a ‘rat run’ when congestion at the M25 junction blocks the A3 bypass as it does frequently. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads and nor does it provide a coherent strategy for enabling through traffic to pass without becoming ensnared in local Guildford traffic.

   At the present time, Guildford Council appears to be unable to even maintain the existing road infrastructure, which is in appalling condition, and it is therefore difficult to see where the funds will come from for the major investment in road improvements, bypasses and upgraded junctions that will be required to achieve the proposed Local Plan.

   Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time.

   With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

   Many of the narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in these roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

   The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk of injury to the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements. There is the local school with young children walking along the road on a Monday to Friday basis, which is dangerous with the current level of traffic prior to any increased traffic that would result from further housing on the proposed scale.

   I therefore OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

1. I OBJECT to the congestion that the proposed developments will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce the existing congestion during the Plan period. Currently, Highways England has no plans to improve the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that the development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at over capacity levels during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situation even worse.

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through any road improvements. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and may result in increased early deaths.

1. I OBJECT to the failure to protect the Green Belt in accordance with Government policy (Policy P2)

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be exceptional circumstances for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or for development on the Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages to be taken out of the Green Belt as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’. Land taken from the Green Belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in further urban sprawl and will result in these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The development of Guildford effectively up to the M25 will in fact be the first step in the spread of the existing urban sprawl that is London to an area outside the M25. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

1. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Re: Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I object in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many respects, unnecessary. I request that my comments are shown to the Planning Inspector. I also request confirmation of receipt of these objections from Guildford Borough Council.

I set out below my objection to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

1. I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1). In this respect, it is a requirement of the National Planning Policy Framework that Local Planning Authorities should underpin their proposals with sustainable development.
The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not achievable without significant damage to the environment; removal of land from the Greenbelt; increased pollution and a massive investment in the road system to enable through traffic to bypass Guildford Town. As presently drafted the Plan is not sustainable.

The Local Plan will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services, roads and facilities in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2) on the grounds that the proposed developments appear to be designed solely to meet the needs of Guildford Town rather than the needs, wishes or requirement for a peaceful life for those residents in the surrounding villages and local communities.

The Local Plan proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough, of which only 1,135 homes are designated for Guildford Town of the 12,578 homes listed on pages 123 to 126 of the Local Plan. In fact, of the total new homes proposed by the Local Plan, 3,800 are to be built on farmland outside the existing urban development and a further 5,670 are to be built on the Green Belt itself or in villages and communities surrounded by the Green Belt.

This belies the suggestion that these houses are being built to provide homes for those working in Guildford itself and suggests that many of these homes are being built for people who simply wish to relocate to this area or possibly for other immigrants to this borough.

In 2.3 of the Key facts about the borough, it states that “the population has risen steadily from 93,000 in 1951 to 137,183 in 2011. The population is predicted to reach 162,188 by 2033”. This figure is based on information provided by The Office for National Statistics (ONS) in 2016. However, these numbers are based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. At the very least, these figures now need to be considered in light of the changed circumstances and should be revised downwards, possibly quite significantly.

As identified in Policy H1 at 4.2.3, “we have an ageing population with a significant projected growth in the over 65 year olds”. It appears unlikely that these individuals will reproduce at this stage and, as the effect of the post-war baby boom runs its course, this population is likely to diminish rather than increase.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half of those who do work here live outside the borough.

A short, half-hour commute puts the borough well within the reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West, but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Each of these towns is well placed to provide labour in order to meet any real increase in demand for labour in Guildford Town by use of the existing rail infrastructure without destroying the Green Belt or adding to the traffic problems and local pollution.

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced and detrimental.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough through the choice of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in a coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

In summary, the borough wide strategy is poorly considered and appears to have been based either substantively or at least in part on a report prepared for the Council by Surrey Community Action, a charity that appears to be heavily conflicted in preparing a reasoned assessment of the actual needs and requirements of the borough as a whole.

Also the land is Green Belt and for some reason Send is taking on a lot of development of new homes without the amenities to support it. It is already difficult to get Doctor’s appointments and the schools are full. I don’t understand why Guildford Borough Council feels it can build on Green Belt land when many of the residents, like myself, live here due to the countryside feel of the area and the village feel of Send and Ripley.

I object to huge development at Garlick's Arch, Burnt Common. This is another development just slipped in without the necessary consultation. The roads around the area are already blocked during rush hour periods and they are not built to cope with the amount of heavy traffic already using them. Apart from a major junction at Burnt Common there does not appear to be any further improvement to the roads in the area. The A3 is already grid locked North and South Daily.

I am writing to object to the Local Plan 2016-06-13 and I would like my comments to be seen by the Inspector.

It would appear that far from looking after the interests of the rate payers, Guildford borough Council would ride roughshod over their interests with gay abandon.

I object to the way the council have changed the plans for Send after the original plan was put forward.

I object to various villages being removed from the Green Belt particularly Send Village policy P2

I object to policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery Tannery Lane because you have increased the number of homes from 45 to 60.

This ignores the previous objections made by local residents. Each home will have at least two cars, the roads are lanes, where do you propose all the extra traffic will go on already congested roads? The area floods already what happens to all the extra water draining from concreted drives and roads?

I object to the Council making last minute significant changes to the plan, such as the Garlick's Arch development in Send and the addition of a major alteration/enlargement of the junction on the A3 at Burnt Common. There are also many other significant changes to the 2014 plan, which require full consultation according to Regulation 18, not the limited form of Regulation 19.

We think that placing the very short six week Local Plan consultation in summer when many people take holidays is a deliberate act to minimise residents' opportunity to fully review the vast amount of documentation comprised in the Plan and make any appropriate objections if required.

I object to both these developments on the grounds that there was improper use of Regulation 18; no local consultation; that Garlick's Arch is green belt land which includes an area of ancient woodland and from personal recollection, a private burial of the late Mrs Molyneux-Child was undertaken on this land.

I object to the alteration to the A3 junction at Burnt Common as it has not been part of a full infrastructure review and consultation, and was added to the plan at the last minute.

I object to removal of Send and other villages from the green belt. This can only be done in exceptional circumstances according to law, for which none exist in this area. The interests of developers profiting from indiscriminate urban development are not exceptional circumstances.

Any weakening or exceptions made to green belt protection will lead to its demise, and once it is gone there is no going back. The green belt must be protected in its entirety, according to current law, as the lungs of the south east, and an area to be enjoyed by millions including tourists from abroad.

Developers should be using the many brown-field sites identified in the Borough before any other sites are even considered.

We want government at all levels to show vision and innovation in development matters, and to conduct planning with due diligence and integrity, as it is the future of their own families at stake as well.

I believe the Local Plan 2014 is flawed; lacks adequate research and evidence of need; lacks planning for infrastructure improvement already needed without further development of the area; and is being rushed through using inappropriate legislation. It must be properly reviewed and consulted under the correct Regulation 18.

I object to the new housing plans for Send for the following reasons.

The proposed building land in SEND HILL was infilled with rubbish and not suitable to build on.

The road up Send Hill is not big enough or well illuminated to cope with the increased traffic. {we have only 2 street lamps in the whole of the road from Mays corner to Potters lane].

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - Send

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

I object to building houses at site A42a Clockbam Nursery Tannery Lane. Planning permission has recently been granted for a Narrowboat basin in Tannery lane which will lead to an increase in traffic using Tannery Lane. The junction with Send Road (A247) has always been hazardous and the Papercourt Lane end of Tannery Lane is very narrow. Building houses at Clockbam Nursery will add to this problems and create too much traffic for this narrow ‘B’ classified lane.

I object to site A43 Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh, Bumtcommon and Ripley and building 400 houses on this site as this site was not included in the initial consultation of the Draft Local Plan in 2014.

I object to building 693 homes per year for next 20 years (2013-2033). This figure is not sustainable for local infrastructure to scope with.

I object to building 485 homes in Send Parish. The population will increase by more than 25% leading to congestion on roads.
I object to the Draft Local Plan because no regard to new schools, additional medical or hospital facilities has been given to make this plan sustainable.

I object to removing villages from the Green Belt. I moved to my bungalow in the 1960s to live in a village and I would like Send to remain a proper village.

I object to the increase in number of houses proposed for site A42 Clockbarn Nursery Tannery Lane. I have previously objected in 2016 to building 40 houses but this has now be increased to 60. My objections to the 2016 plan remain valid. Site A42 is not sustainable for building houses as Tannery Lane and Papercourt Lane's are narrow and cannot cope with this number of homes being built in addition to a Narrowboat Basin which has been approved and is only accessible by Tannery Lane.

I object to Green Belt Policy 2, paragraph 4.3.15, insetting on the Send Business Park from the Green Belt and its designation as a strategic employment site, as this will add further pressure on to Tannery Lane and Papercourt Lane. It seems implausible that this Local Plan seeks to expand the Business Centre and development 60 homes in a small, narrow and dangerous rural lane for traffic. The junction with Send Road off Tannery Lane is also very dangerous and given a current planning application to build three story flats on the former JB motors garage site, on the corner of Tannery Lane to Send Road, the Local Plan proposals will only add to these problems.

I object to the inclusion of land for a new interchange at Burnt Common (A43a). This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable.

I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3). Damage will be caused to the ancient woodland of oak trees at Garlicks Arch site (A43) proposal, and the loss of green space and amenity.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the employment strategy and impact on Garlicks Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5). The development will result in the loss of existing local successful businesses, which have been employing local people over many decades, and are therefore sustainable.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). This will cause more congestion to the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon, which have poor condition narrow roads and no footpaths, which are dangerous. More houses will increase this danger and unsustainable volumes of traffic.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). The existing services are overstretched now and infrastructure requirements have not been properly assessed and are inadequate to support the proposed developments.

I object to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads A3/M25 (Policy 12). Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2).

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, in addition to Wisley Airfield (site A35) and Garlicks Arch (site A43). There are no exceptional circumstances (as required by the National Planning Policy) for these villages and sites being removed. The Green Belt in this area provides an essential buffer which prevents Woking and Guildford from becoming one conurbation. It is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1)  I OBJECT TO the eradication of the local (or in fact any) Green Belt. The Green Belt has been assigned for the specific purpose of preventing urban sprawl and to protect the nature and identity of local villages, something that is highly important. Indeed the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) states that the construction of new buildings should be regarded as “inappropriate” for the green belt. Eradicating Green Belt is short term idiocy, ruining our country for future generations.

2)  I OBJECT TO any “in-setting” and removal of any villages from the Green Belt – this will cause the loss of identity and community of our villages.

I object to development in areas at risk of flooding (Policy P4). The Environment Agency classifies the site at Garlicks Arch (A43) as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. I object to the local plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1) – The volume of proposed housing will damage local communities especially Ripley, Send and Clandon and is not sustainable due to lack of infrastructure. There are no rail stations near the proposed developments and no plans to improve the local roads. What about primary schools, doctors and dentists? Where are the thousands of extra cars going to go with no possibility of significant improvements to local roads?

I object to Policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane because it reduces the Green Belt protection of the village. The number of houses proposed is too many (an increase of a third on what was indicated before) and will cause traffic issues - the local roads are already too clogged up and not suited to additional traffic levels and Tannery Lane itself would not be able to cope with further traffic. Local residents have already strongly objected to it- this has clearly been ignored when drawing up these changes.

I object to Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because it is blatant destruction of Green Belt land, where there are no exceptional circumstances for this development to be allowed. It will mean that the villages of Ripley and Send are virtually joined up, which goes against the whole purpose of the Green Belt, which is supposed to be retained. The number of houses proposed is excessive and it will create massive levels of traffic that the roads cannot cope with (particularly with the ever increasing incidents on the A3 that cause traffic from there to divert to our local roads). The huge numbers of objections already made by local people have clearly not been listened to. Also this area floods easily and this would be made worse by building on it as a great deal of natural soakaway ability would be lost and in addition the land is contaminated with lead shot.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because it will increase traffic volumes to unacceptable levels and was previously rejected because of the number of local objections - so should not be included anyway. The word "minimum" seems like a very devious change from the previous wording of 'maximum' (how much building is going to be allowed?), especially since there is now less demand for industrial land than when 2016 Plan was drawn up. In any event I don't see the need for additional commercial developments in what is clearly a residential/rural area, in the Green Belt, especially when there are empty sites in Slyfield for example.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks’ notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough. It was a very late inclusion into the 2016 plan. No prior consultation was held with the residents of Send Marsh. This will increase the village by 25% and is not needed.

I object that ancient woodland dating back to the 16th century will be removed. How can you even contemplate cutting these down!

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available and where developers are anxious to create this type of building.

I object that 4 businesses employing a number of people will be forced off the land against their will.

I object to the proposal to build a 4 way interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common in order to facilitate this development and other nearby developments. This would be disastrous for the local area. Commuters would be drawn to this area and further congest an area that is already badly congested with traffic. It will mean that the narrow Send Road (A247) will be gridlocked all day as would most surrounding roads. Send will be the through route to Woking for traffic leaving the M25 at Junction 10, and the new development of 2,000 houses at Wisley and also the new development of 2,000 houses at Burpham.

I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 which are all already at 100% capacity.

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send, Ripley, Send Marsh, Clandon and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford’s urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs. None of these areas have a decent bus service and therefore new homes will rely upon cars for transport adding to existing congestion.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

I request a confirmation by email from GBC that all of the objections made above are put to the Inspector appointed by the Secretary of State to review the GBC Regulation 19 draft local plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I wish to object to the Local Plan affecting Send on the following grounds:

1. I OBJECT to the removal of Send from the Green Belt because the village and its countryside provides a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford.

2. I OBJECT to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick’s Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded.

3. I OBJECT to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with proposed housing levels. Roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope.

4. I OBJECT to all the proposed sites in Send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially.

5. I OBJECT to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

6. I OBJECT to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the marina will generate heavy traffic too. The road cannot take any more.

7. I OBJECT to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

8. I OBJECT to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

9. I OBJECT to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

Please ensure my objections are shown to the Planning Inspector and also provide confirmation that this objection has been received.

Attached documents:
Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to GBC no having stuck to the rules; for example the proposed 430 houses to be built in 2014 went down to 185 in April 2016 and has just gone up again to 485. There should be another full consultation under Regulation 18 not using a shortcut of Regulation 19. The process is in invalidated by this.
2. The Employment Land Needs assessed first in 2013 and later in 2015 showed a reduction in employment space of 80%. This shows industrial space at Burnt Common is no longer needed and I object strongly that GBC say the requirement is still high
3. I also object to GBC exaggerating the number of houses needed to be built
4. I object to no sign of consideration of increased and improved infrastructure – in fact GBC’s traffic assessment was not available even for the councillors when they cast their votes on 24th
5. I object to the Green Belt being built over especially in Send, which is a buffer between Woking and Guildford. The green spots of land are precious for people and wildlife. Green Belt is permanently protected by the NPPF which prevents the merging of settlements. There are no exceptional circumstances
6. I object to a new 4 way interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common. Send is frequently gridlocked now. This wouldn’t be an improvement. It would be singularly inappropriate to even consider this
7. I object to land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill being considered as being suitable for 40 new homes and 2 travellers pitches. This site is new and not included in the Regulation 18 draft. It has not been consulted on previously,
8. I object to this land being even considered as the land is permanent Green Belt. This land is beautiful and can only be approached on very narrow country lanes, which are already overloaded with traffic.
9. I object to land being dug up which although beautiful to look at and enjoy contains a variant of unsafe landfill waste. For safety’s sake – leave it alone.

I object to the Policy A42 change because:

I object to this Policy A43 at Garlick’s Arch because:

- The Local Plan H1 states that “Gipsy, Traveller or Travelling Showpeople accommodation should be provided on development sites of 500 houses or more whilst there remains an identified need”. Send has been disproportionately allocated 2 traveller pitches as well as all 8 showpeople plots, identified as needed in the borough until 2034. The developments of over 1500 houses at Gosden Hill and Wisley are only allocated 8 pitches apiece during the same period.
- This Policy ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people.
- The area is currently a floodZone 2 allocation and really is subject to frequent flooding.
- It will generate excessive traffic that will gridlock the local roads of Send and Ripley.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:

- It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously.
- The word “minimum” is change from the previous “maximum”, in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in the demand for industrial land.
- The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the WHOLE BOROUGH not an enormous OVER ALLOCATION of 10 HECTARES at Send in the GREEN BELT

The overwhelming sense of non-co-operation is exemplified by the re-submission of the Policy A43 Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/ Burnt Common and Ripley; namely this was rejected by around 30,000 people, thrown-out (apparently) but now has been re-submitted.

I object to the proposed 4 way interchange on the A3 at burnt common. This would be disastrous for Send and Ripley and would add to the destruction of the area. I request that the following comments be shown to the Planning Inspector.

The Government gave us the Green Belt to protect from planning, to save our wildlife and protect trees. I object to any planning application that would take this away from us. We do not want Guildford and Woking joined together.

I object to building 400 houses at Garlicks Arch, this is ancient woodland. The impact of additional traffic would be horrendous as it is already difficult and dangerous to access the A3.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers pitches at Send Hill. This is a beautiful site opposite a peaceful cemetery. It is mainly a single traffic road and one often has to stop to let another car through. It is also unsafe landfill waste.

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt common, getting into Guildford is already gridlocked at certain times of the day and night. Living here you already here the A3 noise we dont want anymore.

In general there is not enough infrastructure to cope with xxxx amount of people.

Personally, I find it difficult enough to exit Sandfields into Send Hill, when the parents are dropping off and picking up children at St. Bede's school.

We want to keep our village a village, and not have developers make it into a town.

Some of my children have been looking forward to returning to the Borough of Guildford to raise their families. They now feel that if this madness is to be allowed they will not.

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt because the village and its countryside provides a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford. I also object strongly to the following.

I object to all the Proposed sites in send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially.

- I object to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick's Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually
- I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford's urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs.
- I object to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.
- I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 which are already at 100% capacity.
- I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development "should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking." Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of "sustainable development" is given.

The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

Development at this location is just not practicable as the roads are not made for this kind of traffic.

Policy A42

I write to object to the above policy because of the increase in the number of houses intended for this site. Rather than listen to the hundreds of objections put to you last year that the number was too many, you have chosen to increase the number to 60. This shows you are really not listening. Increased traffic at the crossroads with the A247, particularly at busy times when children are walking alone or being walked to and from the local schools will make for a dangerous situation. Parking is already busy round that junction and additional traffic will create a gratuitous situation for accidents.

Policy A43

I write to object to plans in the above policy because again you have not listened to the hundreds of objections put to you last year, and you have increased the number of houses and included six sites for travelling showpeople. You have shown no evidence of the need for these sites on a beautiful Green Belt location and where you are required to show exceptional circumstances. This is gross over development of our village with an excessive number of homes for a village. There is beautiful ancient woodland at the site which has been there since the time of Elizabeth 1 and will join up Ripley and Send thereby defeating the purpose of the Green Belt. An additional 400 houses will cripple the roads around Ripley and Send and contaminate surrounding homes with noxious fumes from congested traffic. I am informed that there is lead shot accumulated over 50 years at the site which, as a parent, I would not want my children to live with.

Policy A58

I object to the above policy for the following reasons:

It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections but now you have chosen not only to reintroduce it but to change the stated maximum square footage to minimum: another example showing you neither listen nor care about local objection. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have vacant sites and industrial units, particularly in view of the fact that there is a decreasing demand for industrial land.

The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt. Heavy traffic associated with industrial development will again contaminate yet further the already bad air from the A3.

Green Belt, Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15

Send Business Park now taken out of the Green Belt altogether.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because it is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside, adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation. There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions and further expansion of development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate.

[I am appalled that Guildford Borough Council's Local Plan 2017 is a clear failure of proper planning process.] Instead of making any real attempt to mitigate and amend the plan, Guildford appears to have shouted down our objections and refused to alter its proposals to take account of those objections. Allowing for the fact that we need more houses, Send has been targeted disproportionately for development. Pollution kills twice as many people in Britain than the US and 64 times as many as in Sweden, according to the World Health Organisation. I want to do my best to protect my village from an unfair imposition of toxins from over development and destruction of the lungs of the Green Belt.

Do you consider this section of the document, complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the change of Policy A42 Tannery Lane, Send. (Notification that the plan should be increased to building of 60 homes)

• This would be totally disproportionate to the original notification of 45 homes, and an increase of 33%. I have objected to the earlier proposal anyway, the location of this site (in my opinion) is not even suitable to 45 homes. 10 maybe acceptable. This narrow lane is recognized locally as one of the remaining country lanes in Send. It has been in place for hundreds of years It has little infrastructure in place, is narrow road and not suited to any increase of traffic whatsoever
• Further down the lane, (which has no passing places at all) is a Trading Estate used by commercial vehicles. The building of a Marina on the River Wey is now in progress. As time goes on, this will also contribute to an increase in heavy vehicles using the lane.
• It would appear that the hundreds of previous objections by local people have been totally ignored.
• Should 60 houses be constructed (and excepting that most households now have more than one vehicle), it would raise traffic level to an excess amount attempting to join the A247 at peak times. Should the developers agree to pay for a traffic light controlled junction as a 'sweetener', consideration must be given to the fact that there is already traffic lights at the junction with Send Road and Send Barnes Lane. This would add to further traffic disruption (which is bad enough at the present time (the A247 being the main link road between the A3 and Woking)
• Pollution by car fumes would be substantially increased by queuing traffic.
• Also please bear in mind the safety of children attending Send First School and using the foot paths in Send.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
• I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch
• This also ignores the thousands of previous objections made by local people
• There is no proven demand for 'Travelling Showpeople Plots'
• It is sited on ancient woodland going back to Elizabethan Times
• It is a flood zone 2 allocation, and very prone to flooding in the winier months
• There will be an increase of an estimated 1000 vehicles trying to access the A3 and the A247. This increase in traffic would be linked to the proposed building plan for Wisley Airfield (600 homes +} creating a massive increase is the volume of traffic using the A3.
• Has any consideration been given to the number of fatal and serious accidents occurring regularly on the A3. If we were looking at the same amount of murders in the area what would be the result

I object to the Green Belt Policy 2 (paragraphs 3, 4 & 15)

Send Business Park should remain in the Green Belt. It adjoins farming land currently being used to grow crops.

As I have previously stated in this letter, Tannery Lane is not suitable for any further development and should remain in the Green Belt unless there are other motives that we are not aware of!!

The land behind the business park is a 'flood plain' flood relief for the River Wey, and created by nature itself! It is a safe haven for many types of wild life

I have further objections to the large proposed development of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill Policy A25 and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

The Garlick's Arch Policy A43, Policy A44 1.9ha. Policy 42. I object with the following points on these policies:

1. The building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick's Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded. Garlick's Arch has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding.

2. The development at Garlick's Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks' notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

3. The proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m Garlick's Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

4. To building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the new marina will generate heavy traffic too. The lane and the main A247 road cannot take any more.

5. To the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented.

6. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

Policy A43A. I object to this policy on the following point:

1. The proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the (A247) would be gridlocked all day. I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25.

There is no clear consideration to the infrastructure requirements. The current infrastructure is already at breaking point and becoming inadequate. Further proposed housing levels, roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope. No adequate consideration has been given for the proposed growth of housing and residents. The A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 are all already at 100% capacity and grid locked at peak times.

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send because all the development that is required can be accommodated in Guildford's urban brownfield areas and is much closer to existing transport hubs.

GBC have not followed correct process. Since 2014 GBC has changed every major site in Send proposed for development and now just added a massive new road junction. The 2014 proposal for 430 houses went down in April 2016 to 185 and has now gone up again to 485. These significant changes require another full consultation under Regulation 18, not the short cut of Regulation 19 which I believe GBC are trying to do. This invalidates the whole process.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Guildford Borough Council's Local Plan

I am writing to object to the "final draft" of the Local Plan which has been prepared without the requisite full consultation under Regulation 18 to the residents of Send village. The Local Plan has changed vastly from that originally proposed, and objected to, in 2014, raising the number of proposed houses from 430 to 485, and now adding a new road junction which was not mentioned in the earlier Plan.

Guildford Borough Council has not provided sound evidence in terms of the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA). A significant number of the new homes needed could be built on brownfield sites, not green belt sites, as proposed.

I strongly object to Send being removed from the green belt. The fundamental aim of green belt policy was to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open. Local authorities were encouraged to consider protecting land around their towns and cities by the formal designation of clearly defined green belts. While the need for new housing is appreciated, there is absolutely no reason these should be built on green belt land when there are so many brownfield sites available.

I object to the proposal for 400 houses and 7000 sq m of industrial and warehousing at Garlick's Arch, and a new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common to serve this development. Again this has not been consulted upon previously and was not included in the Regulation 18 draft. The amount of traffic coming through Send to access this proposed new junction would cause gridlock in an area where many of the roads are already extremely busy.

I also object to the proposed new homes on the land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill. Yet again, this was not included in the regulation 18 draft and has not been consulted upon previously.

One of the main reasons for the objection to this area is that the subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented.

Finally, the infrastructure in the village of Send just does not exist to support any of this proposed extreme development.

In the publication 'About Guildford' it is stated that 'less than 700 homes per year will be built in total'. Why are most of these homes being built in the Send Area? There are brown field sites which could be developed elsewhere, rather than in our beautiful Green Belt area around Send.

Why has Garlick's Arch suddenly been included at the last minute in the Development Plan? This doesn't match with the statement 'Only 1.6% of greenfield land will be taken and allocated for development' (again in the publication 'About Guildford'). No time has been given for adequate consultation here and it has not been included in previous consultations.

Is all the greenfield land coming from the Send and Ripley area?

The NPPF prevents the merging of settlements without any exceptions. Why has this been proposed?

Industrial and Warehouse Development

Why has industrial and warehouse space of 7000 sq. m. been proposed? There is room at Slyfield which should be fully developed to prevent proliferation of industrial areas in the Surrey Countryside. Keep them all on one site. Traffic would be intolerable for the residents in the Send area. The nature of the village of Send would be irrevocably changed by so much traffic.

I note a 4-way interchange is proposed onto the A3 at Burnt Common to serve the Garlick's Arch development. Traffic is already bad on the A247 and it is gridlocked every morning. It would become intolerable if this development took place. It is already gridlocked in the morning and traffic would be at a standstill in the area. Send Barns Lane would become a through route for Woking.

I also note that there are other new inclusions under Policy A44 for the inclusion of 40 homes and 2 travellers' pitches. This is absolute madness to build on landfill. Breathing pipes are in place to vent the landfill. People who live there would suffer ill health. The lanes around there are far too small to cope with travellers and their caravans. It is a country lane and unfit for development.

In addition procedural regulations have now been followed. This should have been put out for fuller consultation under Regulation 18.

Why has Send been disproportionately hit by development? Is it because the majority of the Councillors/Officials involved live in a different area, rather than in the Send Area? Is there corruption involved with links with building companies?

The village of Send must be preserved in its village identity to prevent there being an urban sprawl between Guildford and Woking.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan for the following reasons;

We live in Burpham. The proposed developments at Gosden Hill and Wisley will obviously increase the volume of traffic in the area. We live in Orchard Road which exits onto the old London Road near the BP garage. At busy times it is already difficult to leave our road because of the volume of tightly packed traffic in what is effectively the slip road off the southbound A3 not only for traffic coming into Guildford itself but also going through Jacobs Well to access, inter alia, the southern side of Woking.

It may be expected that one day there will be a tunnel bypass under Guildford and the northern entrance is likely to be on Martin Grant land.

Therefore the suggested development on Gosden Hill should be halved in the number of homes.

Guildford desperately needs new homes for the benefit of the current workers and population, our children and grandchildren but much more thought needs to be given to seriously expanding the current infrastructure of roads, water supply, sewage and utilities. Upfront integrated thinking is needed and funding made available.

We should not argue about the forecast needs of homes. The problem is to get started and see how the needs develop especially since the Brexit decision may reduce demand long term.

Another urgent need is to expand the south bound exit from Guildford onto the A3. At busy times this is log jammed because three lanes are squeezed into two.

I OBJECT to Policy A43a (Land for North facing slip roads to/from A3 at Send Marsh/Burnt Common) This would necessitate a 4-way junction at Burnt Common and would inevitably increase the amount of traffic using the local roads in Send. This junction would worsen the problem of drivers using Send as a cut through from Guildford to Woking on local roads that are just not intended for this purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I PARTICULARLY OBJECT to the proposal in Policy A44 of the local plan Land West of Winds Ridge and Send Hill on the grounds that:

- The site is not large enough for the proposed use.
- The siting of two travellers pitches in Send Hill will be detrimental to both Send Hill and the Send/Ripley areas with house values and people’s desire to move into the area adversely affected.
- Send Hill is a single track country road and too narrow to provide sufficient access to the site or accommodate the potential new levels of traffic the proposed development would bring.
- Send is in green belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status and would be spoilt by development.
- The existing road and parking infrastructure is already inadequate or under pressure and could worsen with the planned development, reducing quality of life.
- Too many houses are proposed to Send/ Send Marsh are and the impact on traffic congestion and local services would be unacceptable.
- The proposed number of houses potentially could result in 92 extra cars in Send Hill which is already suffering from congestion particularly at school run time.
- This would cause loss of village identity, be detrimental to the community and increased flood risk.
- A Wasteland Solutions environmental report on Send Hill dated March 2004 gave evidence of past ponding of water in the excavated area. Further development would disturb water table and increase risk of flooding to properties.
- GBC has installed gas monitoring wells on site since July 2000. One well recording methane gas discharge.
- Both the Envirosearch Report RS1100201_1_1 dated 17th February 2004 and historical map data and information from GBC has identified site as landfill and has “areas of potentially contaminative industrial activities”. Development of this site would be a health hazard.
- The Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN_HCP dated 5th January 2005 - Identifies proposed site as a local authorised landfill site as licences under Part II of Environmental protection Act 1990. The proposed site is not a quarry as specified in the GBC Local Plan. And is therefore not suitable for the... proposed usage. It also Identifies proposed site as potentially contaminative industrial land. With usage of “Heap and unknown constituents”. This causes concern as to what it does contain and dangers if disturbed.

Overall, I OBJECT to the Local Plan. I would like these comments to be seen and considered by a planning inspector.

• I OBJECT to the impact on the infrastructure around the villages. The roads around Send and Ripley are already congested and cannot cop with the current needs. • I OBJECT to the inflated demand for housing in Send and Ripley. The total of 13,860 houses in the local plan is exaggerated. Even with a population growth of 20,000 in the plan period, based on a supposition of 2.5 people per home, the number should be no more than 8000 and if it goes ahead Send and Ripley will become a conurbation of Woking and Guildford.

Objections to Policy A44 the land west of Send Hill.

I object to the Green Belt area in Send being reduced in size or removed altogether. All Green Belt was supposed to be unchangeable by law. When it was set up originally, it was to control urban growth providing at the same time a 'lung' around London for the benefit of the people living in the capital. How can the air quality in London be improved if the Green Belt is gradually eroded with bricks and concrete?
I object to the number of houses being proposed ie 40. The site is not large enough. If you take the footprints of the 21 houses shown on one side of Send Hill only and put them on the area owned by the GBC they will not fit, and that is not even allowing for garden space!

Also there is the question of the suitability of the land owned by the GBC to be used for housing as the land was infilled some years ago and vented to measure the methane gas that was released and is still being monitored.

I object to the inclusion of two Traveller pitches included on the site as being totally unsuitable both to Travellers and householders sharing the site. It is wishful thinking to believe that both parties would want to be integrated. Have the Travellers asked for this?

I object to all the extra road traffic that such a project could bring to the village. Every household could have at least two cars and the congestion that that would cause on Send Hill and to the main Send Road, which is the only road to Woking, will bring chaos to an already overstretched system.

I object to the possible loss of a beauty spot which is only accessible at present by footpaths and which is enjoyed by people in the village and visitors.

I object to adding to the increase in the number of residents in the village (as there are other housing proposals throughout the village) because of the pressure on the already stretched medical and educational facilities in the village.

On the other hand a small development, without Travellers pitches, and in keeping with the surrounding properties, on the privately owned land that was never infilled could be a possibility.

I OBJECT TO the 400 houses proposed at Garlick's Arch and Industrial site. This seems an excessive number of houses (plus the others already mentioned). The doctors' surgery is working to full capacity and appointments are a problem already. The new school being built will take the pupils from the present two schools but cannot possibly cope with the great number of children expected from so many new homes. This site is also new and was not included in the Regulation 18 draft and has NOT been consulted upon previously. The site is Green Belt permanently protected by the NPPF. Ancient trees c1600 AD would be endangered. Large industrial space can be provided at Slyfield.

In conclusion, some new affordable homes would be welcomed in Send but the huge numbers proposed would overwhelm the already stretched infrastructure available, whether surgery, schools or narrow roads which would become completely gridlocked.

I OBJECT TO the proposed massive new road junction which would increase large traffic in the already congested Send Road and surrounding minor roads. I have seen large lorries with their wheels on part of the narrow footpath in Send Road due to the lack of room to accommodate their size on one side of the road. All the access roads to this site are narrow. There is already access to the A3 road in the London direction provided at Burpham, and traffic from the Woking area can access this by the Woking Road which is wide enough to take large vehicles. Send Road only leads into the tiny mini-roundabout at Old Woking High Street – a junction of even smaller roads.

I OBJECT TO land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill being removed from the Green Belt to provide 40 homes and 2 travellers pitches. This is a new site and not included in the regulation 18 draft and has NOT been consulted upon previously. Part of the site is contaminated. I remember, some years ago asking a long term resident of Send (a highly respected partner in a local building company) if he knew why the mature trees along by the footpath were dying and he replied that highly toxic material had been dumped in what had been a landfill site. This had not been removed but merely covered by earth which should never be disturbed as it would be a danger to anyone involved. As far as I can tell vents were not placed near where these trees died. The upper part of the site has become a wildlife haven where deer have their young, badgers and foxes have been seen 'and many birds find protection.

I OBJECT ALSO TO the provision of travellers' sites to the rear of houses in Send Hill where there have been none before. The sites appear to include the footpath used by me and other local people as a short-cut into Send Village. Surely the narrow single-track country road could not provide sufficient access to this site for often rather large caravans.

I OBJECT TO the proposal to remove Send from the Green Belt. The Conservative manifesto promised to protect the Green Belt if elected! This village provides a green lung between Guildford and Woking. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to raising the annual number of houses built per year. With no rational reason given, one must assume these are developers' numbers for financial gain and not for social need.

I OBJECT to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

I OBJECT to the methodology of drawing-up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighbourhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

I OBJECT to the 2016 Draft Local Plan as it has had no regard to the number of schools required or additional health centre or hospital facilities which would make a plan sustainable.

I object to the proposed development at Gatlicks Arch (policy e 3). This site was included very late into the proposals, and I believe that the commercial needs-if true-could be catered for elsewhere (such as near Slyfield). The proposed amount of residential dwellings is excessive, and the site is clearly within the current Green Belt.

I object to the proposal for a new 4-way entry/exit slip-road (for A3 access) at Burnt Common (policy A43a). This would place enormous pressure on local roads and highways, and Send resident's have already suffered a great deal in recent times with traffic congestion. Many residents fear that Send Road will become bogged down with additional traffic as a result of the various proposals (Wisley airfield, Garlick' s Arch, Merrow and Burpham).

I object to the likely impact on the overall road infrastructure of Send village. We are surrounded by lanes, not roads take for example Polesden Lane (where there is only room for one-way traffic in many sections), Newark Lane (with a very narrow mouth and room for one-way movement), Papercourt Lane, Send Barns Lane, Tannery Lane and Potters Lane. At Send Hill, Vicarage Road and Woodhill, the lanes are only wide enough in parts for one-way movement.

I object to the likely impact on services -such as schools and the GP surgery, It is already very difficult to get a prompt appointment with the medical surgery, and adding more homes will make this even harder. There are no contingency plans for this.

I object to all changes being made to the definitio nand boundaries of the existing Green Belt areas. I understood that such areas are in place with the intention of providing permanent protection, as set out by Councillors and central Government. Green Belt areas prevent excessive 'urban sprawl", provide a natural balance between towns and countryside, and contain much valued wildlife.

I object specifically to the proposals to move Send from the Green Belt. I believe that this is senseless, as Send- like Ripley-is a village. Even the local GP surgery is named 'The Villages'. Proposals to redefine it as a small town, and to re-draw the Green Belt boundaries via 'insetting', should be dismissed. I understood that 'special circumstances' were required before any Green Bell could be re-designated -none appear to exist here.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the manner in which the latest proposals are significantly different from the previous local plan in 2014. Calculations and assessments (for housing needs) have been re-evaluated and I believe that they are not accurate or truly reflective of the needs of the local area. Recent proposals for local housing have been assessed at wildly differing levels in the last two years, and so one has to question the methodology used.

I object to the lack of consideration given to 'brownfield' sites. It seems clear that there are sufficient 'brownfield' sites available and therefore there is no need to access or use any Green Belt land. I believe that the overall intention of the proposals is to 'inset' the villages from the Green Belt, paving the way for future re-development that simply is not needed at the levels suggested.

I object to removing the Send Lakes from being a (Site of Nature Conservation Interest) SNCI status. Bats, Herons, Kingfishers and Hedgehogs are all part of the wildlife that can be seen in and around the Lakes. The local plan should encourage this through policies aimed at preserving the lakes SNCI status as a part of the local plan's environmental sustainability. It should not be removing them from SNCI status.

I object to Policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery Tannery Lane to building 60 houses. There are issues with groundwater flooding and it will make the junction with Tannery Lane and the main Send Road hazardous.

I object that GBC has failed to provide sound evidence in terms of ELNA 2015 which shows an 80% reduction in employment space from the previous ELNA carried out in 2013.

I object therefore to the use of Burnt Common as ‘industrial space’ as this is no longer required.

I object to the questionable nature of the housing numbers from the Strategic Housing Market Assessment.

I object to the wrong use of foreign student numbers to inflate the need for housing.

I object to what appears to be an exaggeration in the number of houses needed in the local plan (ie 13,860).

THE FINAL DRAFT LOCAL PLAN (SEND) OBJECTIONS

Please make sure that my views are made known to the Planning Inspector. I commence with a general point.

I object very strongly to the underhand, dishonourable and unacceptable behaviour towards the people of Send. Your behaviour is truly worthy of condemnation as completely unbefitting of a public institution. I object to this blatant display of utter contempt for the people of Send. You should be ashamed of yourselves. You are a disgrace to Guildford and have run roughshod over the reputation of Guildford Borough Council.

I continue with detailed objections.

I object to the removal of Send Village from the Green Belt altogether.

I object to what appears to be the strong reluctance of GBC to build on brownfield sites (50% of new homes needed could be built on brownfield sites).

I object to the failure of GBC to follow the correct process. Since 2014 GBC has changed every major site in Send proposed for development and has now just added a massive new road junction. These significant changes require another full consultation under Regulation 18.

I object to GBC trying to use Regulation 19 and, therefore, the invalidation of this whole process.

I object that GBC has failed to provide sound evidence in terms of ELNA 2015 which shows an 80% reduction in employment space from the previous ELNA carried out in 2013.

I object therefore to the use of Burnt Common as ‘industrial space’ as this is no longer required.

I object to the questionable nature of the housing numbers from the Strategic Housing Market Assessment

I object to the wrong use of foreign student numbers to inflate the need for housing.

I object to what appears to be an exaggeration in the number of houses needed in the local plan (ie 13,860).

I object to the lack of attention being given by GBC to infrastructure overload.

I object to what appears to be the gridlocking of Send. Send will be choked by large lorries, many more cars, and therefore dangerous levels of pollution, on top of the close proximity of the A3 and M25. This appears to be a deliberate policy of GBC.

I object to the dangerously high levels of pollution which will be the result of the plan.

I object to the removal of the Green Belt buffer that Send provides between Guildford and Woking. It will become one suburban sprawl.

I object to policy A43 involving Garlick's Arch (38ha), Burnt Common (400 houses and 7000 sq. m. of industrial and warehousing). This site is new and was not included in Regulation 18! It is Green Belt under NPPF protection.

I object that GBC have (dishonestly?) ignored the latest ELNA 2015 showing the reduction of 80% in required employment space from the previous draft plan.

I further object in the above context to the planned 4-way interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common. Send would be obliterated by the sheer, unsustainable weight of traffic. Who are these people and what sort of people are they who can propose such horror for the entire population of Send?

I object that GBC have shown little sign of common decency and humanity towards us, the citizens of Send who pay rates to GBC which should be remembered!

I object to Policy A44 (1.9ha). The site 'land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill' - 40 homes and two travellers' pitches is a new site and was not included in the Reg. 18 draft and not consulted upon. This site has permanent green belt status and is part of an area of lovely countryside which ought not to be spoilt. The subsoil contains documented unsafe landfill waste which is vented. A single track road provides inadequate access.
In 'A Local Plan for Local People' (GBC's publication about Guildford - Summer 2016), GBC states 'Our revised plan is designed to protect and enhance the area whilst improving the borough for generations to come. Whether travelling by train, bus, car, bike or foot, the revised local plan aims to deliver a joined up local strategy. I object that as applied to Send, Ripley and other parts of Guildford, this publication by GBC is glib and lying nonsense.

I object to removing the Send Lakes from being a (Site of Nature Conservation Interest) SNCI status. Bats, Herons, Kingfishers and Hedgehogs are all part of the wildlife that can been seen in and around the lakes. The local plan should encourage this through policies aimed at preserving the lakes SNCI status as a part of the local plan’s environmental sustainability. It should not be removing them from SNCI S.L.1.Js. The lakes act as an important “green lung” and wildlife corridor for the village.

I object to site A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane. In recent documentation for planning application 14/P/02289 - Land to the north of Tannery Lane and east of Wharf Lane Send, surface water was considered an issue (see item 4.3 Noo technical Drainage report by Stilwell Partnership. In response a drainage strategy was submitted by Johns Associates proposing - Surface water run off is to be managed by digging deeper ditches around boundaries of the site, infiltration and attenuation ponds. This land adjoining site A42 Clockbarn Nursery. The building of houses on Clockbarn has potential to add pressure to land drainage and increasing the risk of surface water flooding. This scenario is not covered in GBC’s Surface Water Management Plan (SWMP) as this plan preceded approval of application 14/P/02289. The SWMP is a necessary part of the evidence base to ensure that Local Plans manage flood risk as required by the NPPF - but with regard to site A42 this is not covered by SWMP and this site is not compliant with NPPF requirements to manage flood risk from all sources.

Moreover, in the case officer report for approved application 14/P/02289 - Land to the north of Tannery Lane and east of Wharf Lane Send it is noted that the nursery to the west of this site (I.e.
Clockbam Nursery, site A42) provides foraging habitat for bats. This would appear as a mitigation measure for approval of application 14/P/02289 and it would not now be appropriate to destroy this wildlife corridor to the west of the Marina development by building houses on the site.

I object to site A43a Burnt Common on and off slip roads to the A3. The traffic impact on the A247 through Send and Clandon and surrounding B roads would be immense. Air quality monitoring has not been undertaken on the A247 ahead of this proposal. This new road junction is a significant change between the Regulation 18 and Regulation 19 consultation and people have not had opportunity to be involved or consulted accordingly.

I object to site A43 Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley and building 400 houses on this site as this site was not included in the initial consultation of the Draft Local Plan in 2014. This number of houses is out of scale and all proportion for a village settlement. Moreover, this area of land is identified as Green Belt within the evidence base document, Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study - Volume N (2014). See page 62. This site is a significant change between the Regulation 18 and Regulation 19 consultation and people have not had opportunity to be involved or consulted accordingly.

I object to site A44 Send Hill. This site is a significant change between the Regulation 18 and Regulation 19 consultation and people have not had opportunity to be involved or consulted accordingly. Moreover, this area of land is identified as Green Belt within the evidence base document, Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study - Volume N (2014). See page 59.

I object to Gosden Hill site A25 (building 2000 houses) and I object to land at former Wisley Airfield site AJS (building 2000 houses) Both these developments are at odds with the sustainability corridor and the impact on junction 10 of the M25 would be enormous.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

LOCAL PLAN 2016 (strategy and sites document).

I am writing as resident but I am also a Send Parish Councillor. I am concerned that this plan is not sustainable, it is not environmentally sustainable, that the evidence base is unsound and that this Local Plan is not compliant with the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) guidelines. I have structured my comments on the proposed submission Local Plan 2016 strategy and sites document into three sections: Section 1, comments on the evidence base, soundness of the plan and legal compliance. Section 2, comments on policies. Section 3, comments on sites.

SECTION 1: Comments on the evidence base, soundness of the plan and legal compliance.

I do not agree that the Local Plan is sound, that the evidence base is up to date 01 that the plan is legal compliant for the following reasons:
1). GL Hearn’s Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) proposes building 693 Dwellings Per Annum (DPA). However representations made by Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design consultants on behalf of Send Parish Council illustrate that this number accounts for a buffer of more than 20%. In reality this means allocations are made to provide 910 Dwellings Per Annum (DPA) or 131% of the requirement of the SHMA. The housing figures in the SHMA are therefore inaccurate and unreliable.

2). Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study is tailored around the Settlement Hierarchy Report and the Strategic Housing Market Assessment Report (SHMA). The Settlement Hierarchy is based on a subjective spatial strategy of large/medium and small villages. With regard to the SHMA, have detailed my concerns as in point 1 above.

3). Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study is used to rule out sites in GBC Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Test (May 2016) but these sites would otherwise meet the GBC Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Test (May 2016). See Appendix I stages 1,2 and 3.

4). Guildford Borough Council’s Surface Water Management Plan (SWMP) was produced prior to the approval of planning application 14P02289:Land to the north of Tannery Lane and east of Wharf Lane. This planning application required a drainage strategy to mitigate surface water. This development borders site A42 Clockbam Nursery. As the SWMP preceded approval of this planning application the SWMP is now outdated as an evidence base document to manage flood risk as required by the NPPF with regard to A42 Clockbam Nursery.

5) Each and every site in Send Parish has been added since the Regulation 18 consultation, including a major development of 400 homes at Garlick’s Arch and on/off slip roads on to the A3.

6) The introduction of Garlick's Arch and on/off slips roads on to the A3 have been added so late within a Regulation 19 document that statutory consultees such as Highways England have not had a chance to comment.

7) The Transport Assessment was provided during the consultation period and was not available to inform Councillors at the full Council meeting on the 24th May 2016.

8) Councillors have not been able to scrutinize all documentation, including the OAN figure for the SHMA.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 2: Legal compliance

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy Sl. Sustainability should include the Green Belt as an absolute constraint I object to Policy S2.

I object to the proposed housing figure for the Local Plan to build 13,652 homes at 693 DPA for next 20 years (2013-2033). The housing figure for this plan is unsustainable and the plan does not apply constraints. Local infrastructure will not cope. Paragraph 4.1.12 of the proposed submission Local Plan acknowledges that the number of houses is greater than required.

Representations made on behalf of Send Parish Council by Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design consultants illustrate how allocations are made to provide 910 Dwellings Per Annum (DPA) or 131% of the requirement of the SHMA.
According to NPPF guidance Paragraph 47 stipulates that planning authorities should provide for an additional buffer of between 5-20% and based on this advise the figure would be in region of 727-832 DPA. The provision in the GBC Local Plan to build 910 DPA is therefore excessive.

Without applying constraints the housing figure could rise even higher than 13,652 houses when windfall sites are taken into consideration.

I object to building 485 homes in Send Parish. The scale of development for Send lacks all sense of proportionality. For example Thame in South Oxfordshire has population of approximately 11,000 and a site for 800 was proposed by the Council. Send has a population of approximately 4000 and GBC has allocated 485 houses be built. The population increase will lead to congestion on roads, pressure on local schools, the Villages medical centre and hospital facilities.

I strongly object to Policy HI Homes for all.

During the 2014 consultation I referenced a report by John Peny (2012) "UK migrants and the private rented sector" for the Joseph Rowntree Foundation. The report noted that taking account of ONS 2011 census data, 75% of migrants who came to the UK in the past five years reside in the private rented sector.

Demographics of the private rented sector (including Houses of Multiple Occupation -HMOs) are an important factor when producing a strategic plan to provide appropriate housing rather than continued reliance on the private rented sector. The plan contains no mechanism to address this or reducing reliance on the private rented sector. Instead GBC has recommended "monitoring" the number of houses of multiple occupation through the number of planning applications.

However monitoring will be ineffective when planning permission is not required to change from a C3 (small dwelling house) lo C4 (small house of multiple occupation of up to five unrelated individuals). GBC cannot therefore be able to determine the true extend of HMOs and the private rented sector.

However the numbers of those living in the private rented sector inflate the overall housing figure upwards while this plan fails to address the necessary tenure mix of new built dwellings required for this section of population "need"as opposed to building housing on volume. Infact the plan recommends continued use of the private rented sector as a tenure mix and affordability solution. If this recommendation is in addition to the total number of new houses proposed by the plan, then the net effect is to significantly increase population in Guildford,not to address affordability or pressure on existing housing stock that the private rented sector contributes too. Failure to tackle the private rented sector will in turn further inflate housing market prices and leads to more issues of affordability in the longer term.Research published by the Bow Group titled "Solving the UK Housing Crisis"(November 2015) by Daniel Rosall Valentine, underlines these issues further. It is demand rather than need that is fuelling OAN figures upwards and this plan fails significantly to address this.

I strongly object to Policy HI Affordable Homes or that this Local Plan addresses building affordable housing for local need. Current guidance on producing SHMA,s Jacks a meaningful needs-based definition of affordability - such as for example the proportion of income allocated to housing costs. OAN figures alone therefore cannot tackJe affordability or need (defined as a basic human need to have a roof over our head). I believe that a more meaningful approach to addressing local need is through Neighbourhood Plans and local land trusts. They provide a mechanism to meet local need while preserving and enhancing villages characters. We need local planning that works with local communities. The bottom up approach of Neighbourhood Plans rather than the top down approach of SHMA with an OAN figure incompatible with genuine affordability is a more realistic approach to addressing local need.

Moreover, a recent Rural Housing Needs Survey commissioned by Send Parish Council in 2013 found that "local need"was relatively low with in Send Parish.

I object to Policy P2 Green Belt

I object to removing/ insetting villages from the Green Belt for the following reasons:
1) NPPF guidance makes clear that Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances through the Local Plan process. Unmet housing need is unlikely to outweigh harm to the Green Belt and constitute ‘exceptional circumstances’.

1. Send Village should remain in the Green Belt. The village of Send with its proximity on the border of Woking is a village which fulfils paragraph 65 of the NPPF which stipulates that Green Belt is to check unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas and to prevent neighbouring towns from merging. Paragraphs 79-86 of the NPPF should therefore be applied to Send as a constraint and Send should not be removed from the Green Belt.

   • Moreover the basis for Policy P2 is the Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study.

3a) Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study has lacked consistency to Green Belt boundaries. Land in Send Parish which was initially identified as Green Belt within the evidence base document, Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study - Volume IV (2014) has now been allocated for housing development as sites A43 and A44.

3b) Elsewhere, Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study is used to rule out other sites which meet the GBC Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Test (May 2016), See Appendix 1 Stag 1, 2 and 3 page 25. Again there is a lack of consistency in approach.

   • The Settlement Hierarchy is another key evidenced based document for Policy P2 which is IL makes a subjective decision that Send Marsh and Burnt Common are categorised as a large village due to their proximity to Send services. In practise this is a small convenience store attached to a garage/fuel station. Had this not been so Send Marsh and Burnt Common would have been classified a medium village. Medium villages are unsuitable for substantial growth (such as site A43 Garlick’s Arch). Please refer further to ‘Representations on behalf of Send Parish Council by Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design consultants).

I also object to Policy D4 Development in Urban Areas and Inset Villages for all the reasons above.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1.1) I am objecting to ALL proposals for Send in the LOCAL PLAN 2017 Regulation 19 (as set out above) on the grounds that these proposals accumulate to development that is not sustainable for Send.

1.2) I am objecting because the overall scale of development proposed for Send in in Guildford Borough Council (GBC) draft Local Plan 2017 is not support by the evidence base for the plan. For instance, a key document used to assess sustainability is the Settlement Hierarchy’s (2014). However, the Settlement Hierarchy document has not been updated since the beginning of the Local Plan process in 2014 and as a result the proposals set out in the 2017 draft and which outline major development of Send are not substantiate by evidence that Send is a village capable of accommodating...
“major development” in accordance with the Settlement Hierarchy 2014. I will expand this point further in my objection to Policy A58.

Moreover, as the Settlement Hierarchy’s 2014 document is a key piece of the evidence base underpinning Policy P2 Green Belt of the Local Plan; it would appear that as a result of the 2017 changes for Send in the draft Local Plan (which are not supported by the Settlement Hierarchy’s 2014) Policy P2 is at odds with NPPF guidance on the role and purpose of the Green Belt to act as an important constraint on development to ensure sustainability of settlements.

Send is a rural village in the Green Belt. The changes introduced in the Guildford Borough Council (GBC) draft Local Plan 2017 to include two strategic employment sites (A58 and change to Policy 2, paragraph 4.3.15 removal of Send Business Park from the Green Belt) alone would amount to “major development areas” and this is without even beginning to take into account the 500 houses proposed for this one village.

In Sum, my objections to the Guildford Borough Council (GBC) draft Local Plan 2017, are as follows:-

- The 2017 proposals for Send now amount to vast overdevelopment of Send village.
- The 2017 proposals for Send now make this Local Plan without doubt incapable with its own evidence base (the Settlement Hierarchy and the Green Belt and Countryside Study) for Green Belt Policy 2.
- The 2017 proposals for Send make the Local Plan incapable with NPPF guidance on the Green Belt paragraphs 79 -86.
- The 2017 proposals to expand the Send Business Park make the Local Plan unsound on the basis of NPPF paragraph 100 in relation to flood risk in Tannery Lane.
- The 2017 Proposals for A58 are not supported by Highways England and adequate road infrastructure.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2) I object to Policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery Tannery Lane to building 60 houses.

2.1) I object to the building of an even greater number of houses at site A42 because the draft Local Plan proposals lack a full Level 2, Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (SFRA) of Tannery Lane to consider the cumulative impact of All development proposals for this area of Send (I.e. the development of a Narrowboat Basin, proposed expansion of the Send Business Park and building an increased density of houses at Clockbarn Nursery.)

Paragraph 100 of the NPPF states “Inappropriate development in areas at risk of flooding should be avoided by directing development away from areas at highest risk.” And that “Local Plans should be supported by a Strategic Flood Risk Assessment and development policies to manage flood risk from all sources, taking account of advise from the Environment Agency …”

While Tannery Lane is outside of Flood Zone 3, these categories are based on Sea/River Flooding. To fully conform to NPPF guidance all sources of flooding need to be consider in the Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (SFRA), including surface water and ground water flooding.
Evidence presented in relation to the Narrowboat basin application 14/P/02289 John Associates Environmental Statement Vol 8 Water, pages 27-28, reference British Geographical Survey Flood Data by Envirocheck which shows the areas of Send as having ‘high susceptibility’ to Groundwater (which includes Tannery Lane). Further, on page 32 of John Associates Environmental Statement Vol 8 Water, the Environment Agency has Groundwater monitoring borehole W02a, to the west of Prews Landfill site and to the east of the Narrowboat basin site and almost opposite to the house ‘Maybanks’ (which you can see via the map on page 33), as having recordings of shallow groundwater between 0.4 and 1.9 meters below ground. Site A42 Clockbarn Nursery is in the close proximity to the area of Tannery Lane.

2.2) I also object because it is overdevelopment for a small rural B classified road when a Narrowboat basin is already being constructed and expansion of the Business Park is proposed in this 2017 draft Local Plan. A full traffic assessment of Tannery Lane is needed in view of All proposals in this area of Send.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A43 policy change to include six travellers plots as the inclusion of traveller pitches is unnecessary according to the level set within the plan, Policy H1, 4.2.24 states that travel accommodation is required in developments of 500 homes or more to provide mixed communities; and Send has already been designated for travellers pitches in the 2016 draft of the Plan.

I also reiterate my objection in 2016 to A43, Land at Garlick’s Arch that this is overdevelopment. The Settlement Hierarchy 2014 classified Send as a large village but representations on behalf of Send Parish Council by Tibbalds Urban Planning and Design (2016) paragraphs 3.1 to 3.4 set out that this classification of Send as a large village only occurred due to the proximity if the Send Services to Burnt Common. As stated in paragraph 3.2 of Tibbalds (2016) submission has this not be the case then Send would have been classified a ‘Medium’ village and medium villages are “unsuitable for substantial growth but are capable of taking appropriate residential infill and development to meet local needs.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
4). I object to Policy A58 Land at Burnt Common allocation for a minimum of 7,000 square meters of industrial warehousing.

4.1) I object because this would be a major development expansion and it would be inconsistent with the Settlement Hierarchy 2014 which identifies Send as a ‘large village’ and according to paragraph 3.4.2 of this document large villages are unsuitable for substantial growth but capable of accommodating an extension. In GBC’s Green Belt and Countryside Study Volume 5 (April 2014) it was concluded that the land at Burnt Common was more suitable as a housing site (in comparison to Garlicks Arch). The original proposals for housing at the land around Burnt Common were therefore more consistent with a large village “accommodating an expansion”. Policy A58 is not consistent with the classification of Send as a large village with GBC’s Settlement Hierarchy 2014 and it would be overdevelopment of a village situated in the Green Belt.

4.2) I object because there is not adequate infrastructure in place to service A58 as a major development site.

4.3) I object because Highways England have not agreed to any plans to develop the A3 between Burnt Common and Guildford.

3) I object to Green Belt Policy P2 at paragraph 4.3.15 to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt.

3.1) I object to Policy P2, paragraph 4.3.15 and designation of the Business Centre as a strategic employment site because this has not been subject to a full review of flooding in accordance with NPPF guidelines. GBC’s Level 2 Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (May 2016) does not include an assessment of this area.

3.2) I object to this policy change as this is an area of high sensitivity Green Belt land as set out in the Green Belt and Countryside Topic paper, paragraph 4.38. It was on this basis that the Business Park and the adjoining site 67 (see 2014 draft of the Local Plan) were removed. Without sufficient justification the Business Park and the adjoining land (site 67) are once again included on the basis that existing infrastructure is in place and it means it is appropriate for development. In practise, however, Tannery Lane and Papercourt Lane are narrow and lack any pedestrian paths. Moreover, whether or not existing infrastructure is capable of servicing the proposals for the Business Park, this still does not present a robust case for removing the Business Park from the Green Belt when GBC consider it high sensitivity Green Belt.

I object to the building of 45 houses at Clockbarn nursery. There has already been approval for the building of 64 apartments and a Marina at this site thereby generating additional traffic. I object strongly to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. It clearly provides opportunities for people to access open countryside and nature conservation. Send is surrounded by open fields and has an "open character" thereby making an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt. If Send village were to be removed from the Green Belt it would illustrate a clear reneging by both local councillors and central government to protect the Green Belt. Furthermore it would open the door for developers to take advantage of this lack of protection through Green Belt status.

I am writing to express my strong objections to all planning developments within the Send area other than small infills of less than 10 houses. The road system is highly congested, especially at peak times where journeys of a mile can take up to 20 minutes. There should be NO significant developments until such time as the Council has reviewed the road system in Send especially the routes to and from M25, Woking and Guildford and published their plan for the development of the road system to allow for the free flow of traffic within a 5 mile radius of Send.

I also object on the basis that there is no publication detailing the development of sufficient facilities for schooling and medical support.

The Milestone Society is particularly interested in retaining historic street furniture. This importance is recognised in English Heritage's (now Historic England) publication "Designating Heritage Assets - Street Furniture" (2011).

The Society wishes to re-iterate its view that the Guildford Plan should include specific reference to the importance of retaining historic street furniture in road and development schemes.

Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Please note that I object to:

The number of homes that the Plan expects to deliver.

This target of 693 is much higher than the Council proposed last year and disregards the fact that the borough has such a high proportion of its area designated as Green Belt land. The roads, schools, doctors and hospitals etc. can’t support such an increase in the population.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no street lights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU permitted level. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

(P.S) I would like to know how the people in all these new houses will get to work? The roads are already gridlocked. Where will all the children go to school? The local schools are already full and overcrowded.

I OBJECT to Policy A35 Former Wisley Airfield as being totally inappropriate and unsustainable development of 2000 homes in the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Secondly, Guildford Borough Council have not provided any evidence for the need of such a huge number of houses to be built in the area.

Thirdly, the former revised Local Plan put forward earlier this summer made a modest provision for housing and industrial development at Burnt Common on what is more or less a brown field site. I object to the current proposal to develop the Garlick's Arch site with 400 houses and industrial space. There is ancient woodland on this site which would be affected even if it were not built over. Industrial units would not provide job opportunities for local people but bring further traffic into the area including heavy vehicles. The building of this volume of housing would increase the volume of traffic on all the surrounding roads which are already hopelessly congested especially during peak hours. The stream which runs across this site and under the Portsmouth Road has flooded on at least two occasions since we have lived in the area. The local infrastructure cannot accommodate the increase in the number of inhabitants in local schools, the provision of medical care or shops.

Fourthly, I object to the proposed interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common which would encourage traffic to leave the A3 to travel to Woking through Send village. This road struggles to cope with the volume of traffic which it currently does, including huge lorries. The narrow roads of Send Marsh already suffer as a result of a rat runs and lorries using their SAT NAV equipment.

I ask you to urgently reconsider this proposal.

Firstly I object most strongly to the proposal to remove the villages of Send and Ripley from the Green Belt. Green space between settlements is of utmost importance for the physical and mental health of the population. The corridor along the river Wey is an area greatly enjoyed not just by boaters but also by walkers and cyclists and is important as a buffer for wildlife. If these two villages are removed from the protection of the green belt Woking will very soon become joined to Guildford.

In particular I object to policy A42 with the increase of homes from the earlier proposal at Clockbarn Nursery site in Tannery Lane. This road is single track which would create congestion and further problems at the difficult junction with the A247 Send Road. On the assumption that each property would have at least one vehicle and the additional vehicles resulting from the construction of a marina further up the Lane this would be quite out of proportion. This would be a further incursion into the valuable green belt adjacent to the National Trust River Wey Navigation.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch as this will cause over development of Send village. The number of homes is excessive and it ignores all previous concerns raised with regard to the effect on the local infrastructure. It ignores the preservation of ancient woodland and the green buffer this site creates between the current residential area and the busy A3 road. It also ignores the flooding which occurs from the stream.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I further object to Policy A58. The increase in the planned industrial units and warehousing is inappropriate when there are empty sites at Slyfield and contrary to the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment which shows a reduction in the requirements in the borough.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The proposed submission shows that Guildford Borough Council has not taken into account the considerable objections raised to the 2016 plan and has in face increased its proposals ignoring impact on the infrastructure - roads, schools, medical facilities, and the effects of traffic and pollution to the area and its residents and further destruction of the Green Belt which is so vital for the public physical and mental health and cannot be undone.

I strongly object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)

This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states "Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays." And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.
I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch

The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

I object to the unfair imbalance of the Plan across the borough.

With the removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) and reductions of housing planned in this version of the Plan in other parts of the borough the Plan has become even more biased against the North East of the borough. Guildford Borough is over 100 square miles. Of the 11350 homes proposed in the Plan, 40.6% (4613) are within 3 miles of Send Marsh, most of them on Green Belt. This is grossly unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough.

I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”
So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses].” That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit is to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

I believe there is far too much financial motivation behind Surrey County Council’s plan - and not enough interest in real wants and needs of the people who already live in and pay rates to the county.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

I believe the Surrey CC approach is to build first and then sort out the infrastructure later - so not only the rural nature of our villages is destroyed but we must also endure years of additional traffic problems.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.
The road infrastructure to Send Business Park is totally inadequate for an increase in traffic - and any upgrade to them would spoil the rural nature of the area.

I object to the development at Garlick Arch because the site has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding.

I object to the development at Garlick Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks’ notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send Marsh Road.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25.

I object to the proposal to build 2000 houses at Gosden Hill Farm. The figures of need for this are grossly over-estimated. It extends the urban area of Guildford into the countryside and will make overcrowded roads and other facilities in the area considerably worse.

I also object to the Blackwell Farm proposal as it will make the almost impossible traffic situation on the Guildford Bypass and other local roads immeasurably worse.

I request that my objections are taken into account.

I strongly object to the proposal to build 400 houses and to the allocation of 7,000 square feet for industrial purposes at Garlick's Arch.

I object to the apparently underhand way in which the Garlick's Arch proposals have been smuggled onto the Plan for the first time, especially as there was so much opposition to the previous plan.

I object to the proposal to build on the Garlick's Arch site because it is prone to flooding and is ancient woodland. The area has flooded many times in recent years and has been classified as of higher risk by the Environment Agency than GBC's own classification.
I object to the fact that the Garlicks Arch proposal will change the nature of the area and local heritage and lead to yet another large number of extra vehicles resulting in yet more overcrowding on the A3.

I object to proposals for the Burnt Common A3/ A247 interchange which will convert a reasonably quiet and peaceful area into a giant Spaghetti junction.

I object to the proposed enlarged interchange at Burnt Common as it will draw very much more traffic along the A247 through Send. This road goes through the residential and shopping centre of the village of Send. It is already dangerous and subject to tailbacks, partly due to directly passing the entrance to the local medical centre and, further along the road, the school which is about to be enlarged.

I object to the proposal to build 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery because there is already inadequate access to and from Tannery Lane onto Send Road, the A247, which is residential. Access at the Newark Lane end is even worse as it is much narrower there.

I object to the proposal to build at Clockbarn Nursery because Tannery Lane is narrow and twisting. For much of its length it is single track only and has no footway.

I object to the proposed development of 40 houses and two travellers' pitches on a site on Send Hill which is narrow and has no pavements. The Send Road access is shared with a school and there is already congestion at certain times of the day. Accidents occur there through the virtual absence of sightlines.

I object to the proposed development at Send Hill because the land is a disused refuse site and may be contaminated.

I object to the proposed development at Send Hill because development there would spoil an area of natural beauty and cause more delay to traffic already using the road.

I object to the proposal to build houses behind the Talbot Hotel in Ripley. This is over development in a conservation area and will further overload traffic and parking facilities.

I object to the removal of the Wisley Airfield site from the Green Belt.

I object to building any homes, let alone the 2000 proposed, on the Wisley Airfield as it will lead to at least 3000 extra cars in the area and in particular so near the A3 which is already near capacity, leading to frequent tailbacks, especially at the Guildford By-pass, without all the extra vehicles from other sites proposed in the Plan.
I object to the Wisley Airfield proposal as it is in an area of natural beauty with Wisley Lake on one side and the RHS nearby, both of which will lose their attraction if they have a new town on their borders.

I object to the local plan as the development proposed is not sustainable.

I object to any tinkering with the Green Belt as it was intended to be permanent and an essential protection against over-development in rural areas.

I object to the local plan as all the emphasis is placed on removing land from the green belt and then building on it.

I object to the fact that most of a very attractive rural area in the green belt will be smothered in housing from Guildford to Cobham. I object to the failure to find and allocate brown field sites for development rather than Green Belt land.

I strongly object to GBC's proposal for 13,860 new houses without any evidence that anything remotely like this number is needed. It is disproportionate to place 38% of extra houses in the area north east of Surrey. 5,036 houses between Burpham and the M25 is totally unjustified and will change the nature of the area leading to the merging urbanisation of these villages. 693 houses a year is way beyond what is needed and is more than double even than GBC's previous assessment.

I object to the proposals in the Plan being based on figures of demand, the details for which have not been disclosed. This is not justice and would not be admitted in a court of law.

- I object to the proposal to create a huge new town of 2,000 houses at the former Wisley Airfield which is supposed to be agricultural land and is part of the Green Belt. This proposal is completely out of character with the existing rural environment, will have a devastating effect on the A3 trunk road which is already grossly over-stretched. It will make visiting the nearby Royal Horticultural Gardens difficult to access. The traffic problem will exacerbate the already existing tailbacks which occur every day on the Guildford By-Pass, not to mention similar problems in Ripley and Send. Moreover, to include this site in the Plan is totally inconsistent with planning permission having already been turned down by Guildford Borough Council. It is difficult to envisage the purpose of sneaking it back into the new Plan unless it is to financially benefit the Council or the developers.

7) I object to the proposal to build 45 houses at Clockbarn Nurseries because the extra traffic generated by the building work and by probably 100 extra vehicles from residents of the new houses would bring circulation on Send Road (the A247) to an end at certain times of the day. Access to and from the proposed houses onto the A247 will be difficult particularly for large vehicles as is already shown by traffic accessing the former tannery buildings. The Send end of Tannery Lane is narrow and winding enough now to cause problems, but real problems will be caused by extra traffic trying to access the Newark Lane end of Tannery Lane which is barely wide enough for one vehicle and even more winding.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object in particular to the proposal to build on Green Belt land in Send and Ripley at Garlick's Arch. It is not justified by any special circumstances or evidence of demand. There is absolutely no way that the building of some 400 houses and the allocation of 7,000 square metres of industrial land at Garlick's Arch can be justified, especially when there is brownfield space nearby and at the Slyfield industrial estate. This site is inappropriate because public transport there is wholly inadequate. It is liable to frequent flooding as happened again only recently. The Environment Agency has assessed the site as being at high risk of flooding. It has Ancient Woodland, including more than 80 ancient oak trees, and much wildlife. It would change the area from rural or at least semi-rural to suburban. There are no plans to improve local schools, medical facilities or utilities to cope with the extra population. Traffic would be virtually impossible both as there are already considerable delays on the road into Ripley, on the Guildford by-pass as is well-known, and along Send Road even without the imminent combining of both the present Send Schools. The proposal to build 400 houses at Garlick's Arch would double the number of houses in this area and thus alter very much for the worse the nature of this historic area.

I object to the proposed new A3 traffic interchange at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for the village of Send in that all traffic from London and the M25 to Woking would go along the already overloaded A247 through the residential heart of Send past the village school which is about to be doubled in size with all the traffic that that implies. This is a semi-rural area and I object to it being converted into a huge motorway-type junction.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I have a number of objections to the proposal to include the site on Send Hill as follows:

I object to this site on the grounds that Send Hill is unsuitable in that it has a one-track road without pavements and with a school at one end and a narrow, steep and winding hill at the other end.

- I object to the inclusion of Send Hill in the Plan as it is in the Green Belt
- I object to Send Hill being included as it would have a detrimental effect on the nearby nature reserve.
- I object to Send Hill in the Plan as it could mean nearly 100 extra cars on this very narrow road which is often blocked due to parents delivering and collecting children from
- I object to Send Hill due to an increase in the risk of floodi
- I object strongly to the Send Hill site as it would disturb the water l
- I object to the Send Hill site in the Plan as it was a registered landfill site used for refuse and slag and is therefore a health ri Methane gas has been recorded there.

I object generally to the lack of infrastructure. If, which I very much doubt, it is necessary rip up so much Green Belt land in favour of housing, then much infrastructure should be planned for, which in turn will have even more detrimental effect on the rural and semi-rural character of the area.

- I object to the proposed removal of Green Belt protection from all or any of the villages to the north east of Guildford as it could result in continuous development from Guildford to Without the Green Belt protection for Send there could also be continuous sprawl northwards from Guildford to Woking, making the whole area a vast suburban conurbation and destroying the present semi-rural character. It is beyond comprehension that elected representatives on a Conservative led council can recommend wholesale destruction of what is most attractive about this part of Surrey. One can only wonder if the lure of development money is at the root of this rather than duty to local residents. There are absolutely no exceptional circumstances requiring these villages and sites to be removed from the Green Belt.

- I object to the way the wholesale removal of the above Green Belt protection has been sneaked into the revised plan where there was no intimation of this in the previous plan, especially when there had been such vociferous objection to the earlier plan. There are no special circumstances requiring this. It suggests underhand jiggery-pokery.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the complete failure of Guildford Borough Council to identify brown field sites S2, within the urban area. Why build so much on the Green Belt when there is the possibility of brownfield development in more urban areas?

Although I am totally unacquainted with David Roberts of West Horsley, I have seen a copy of his 13-page letter of objection which raises very serious matters, not least about the way the Plan appears to favour profit-making developers. with no local interest rather than local residents and conservation of the character of the area. This I object to most strongly.

I object very much to the exaggerated proposal to build nearly 14,000 new homes in the Guildford area and over 5,000 between the M25 and Burpham, and in particular the reported refusal to produce evidence of how the purported need for these numbers is arrived at. It is no use saying that the firm which came up with the figures refuses to explain the figures because it would infringe their intellectual property rights. In the absence of explanation this should be refused as evidence. It is well-known in legal circles that where mystery begins Justice ends. The suspicion is that, for whatever reason, the needs of development companies have been given priority over the wishes of the local population.

The numbers proposed, or anything like that amount, are totally unsustainable, especially for Send, Ripley and Ockham where there are no railways, and the bus services would be inadequate. Almost every household would have two cars which would make a bad situation on the roads much worse. The plan is in any event unbalanced across the Borough in that 36% of the plan's housing is proposed for the north-east of the borough which has only 11% of the existing housing. Such an unbalanced situation is grossly out of proportion. The rural roads in this area are narrow, poorly maintained and most have no footpaths and are dangerously unsuitable for the likely traffic from 5000 more houses. Development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport. What are the Guildford Councillors thinking of in advocating the delightful area north east of Guildford being turned into a sprawling concrete jungle? They certainly have no mandate for that, as was clearly shown by residents' objections to the first edition of the Plan.

I object strongly to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt.

I object because this is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside next to the tranquil and pleasing River Wey Navigation. It is a sore thumb in an area of natural beauty.

I object because of the very restrictive road access for traffic from both ends of Tannery Lane.

I object because expansion or development of this area detracts from the rural nature of the Green Belt and is totally inappropriate.

I object because the previous plan to build 45 houses on the site was bad enough. The extra 15 houses now proposed will exacerbate the problems and shows contempt to the hundreds of Council taxpayers who previously objected to the 45 houses then proposed. No evidence has been produced to show that any houses are required here, especially for the extra number now proposed.

I object because access and traffic problems will be very much worse in Tannery Lane at the junction with the A247 in Send Road and totally disastrous at the Newark Lane junction. Tannery Lane for most of its length is winding and barely wide enough for one vehicle. There is no footpath and houses abut directly onto the road.

I object because the proposal will worsen erosion of the Green Belt in Send.

I object because surface water is already a serious problem and this proposal will make it very much worse.

I object because the proposal will detract from countryside views from the River Wey Navigation.

I object because the proposal ignores all the thousands of objections made by local people and makes things much worse by including even more houses, which looks like a punishment of local people having the temerity to object.

I object because there is no proven demand for travelling show-people in this location.

I object because this site is beautiful Green Belt land and there are no exceptional circumstances to merit removing this protection.

I object because it is grossly excessive development of our village and the number of houses proposed is overwhelmingly too many.

I object because this is a site of wonderful ancient woodland that dates back to medieval times.

I object because this proposal will connect Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of the Belt.

I object because the site often floods and is currently a Flood Zone 2 allocation.

I object because the site is contaminated with lead shot which has been accumulating for 50 years.

I object because the enormous amount of traffic which will be generated by this proposal will catastrophically clog up the roads of both Send and Ripley, many of which can barely take two lines of traffic. It will also make the clogging up of the nearby Guildford By-pass disastrously worse. One wonders whether the proposers of this policy ever use the by-pass, particularly travelling south, when bottle-necking can extend right to Burpham even on an ordinary weekday.

I object because potential objectors have never been shown the figures on which the proposed number of additional houses is based and which can only be of benefit to those who stand to profit from such proposals. Justice must not only be done but must be visibly and manifestly be seen to be done, which is not possible without seeing the figures on which the proposal is based.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to this proposal as it was deleted from the 2014 draft because of the number of objections previously lodged and nothing relevant his since happened.

I object because the word ‘maximum’ for industrial use (which was more than enough already) has unbelievably been altered to ‘minimum’ which means that there would be an obligatory 7000 square feet of building on the site and no top limit to the industrial buildings allowed in the new plan. This cannot be right when there has been a decline in the demand for industrial land.

I object because this site was deleted from the 2014 draft as a result of all the objections. It cannot now be right that it has now been reinstated greatly enlarged. Something very sinister must be going on for this to be done.
I object because there is absolutely no need to build industrial or warehouse buildings in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford have empty sites and industrial units. One wonders what is going on.

I object because the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole Borough, not a huge over-allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt. Again, it appears that a huge unnecessary project is being proposed to destroy this beautiful part of the Green Belt, to nobody’s benefit but those with an interest in development.

I object to this proposal because it will lead to gridlock both on small local roads and on the Guildford By-pass.

I object to this proposal because it will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Guildford Borough Council's Proposed Submission Local Plan

I have perused most of the latest Local Plan and was dismayed to see that it effectively merges all villages along the A3 from the M25 to the Hogs Back with no provision for any infrastructure improvements to either the A3 or local roads! I live in the Send/Ripley area and all these developments would have a hugely detrimental effect on local roads in this area. Although Ripley has the A3 as a bypass, to try to get onto the A3 London bound from Ripley at peak times requires a lot of patience!

I was also horrified to learn that the local villages of Clandon, Ripley, Send and Wisley, as well as other villages in Surrey, are to be removed from the designation of "Green Belt" which will allow unlimited future development and result in the destruction of our lovely rural villages!

I OBJECT to the above-mentioned villages being withdrawn from the Green Belt as they provide an essential buffer from Woking and Guildford becoming one large conurbation. Central government and local councillors both gave election promises to protect the Green Belt from further erosion and have reneged on this.

I OBJECT most strongly to the development of Garlick's Arch opposite Send Marsh Road's junction with the Portsmouth Road for housing and industrial development on land which is currently agricultural Green Belt. This is already a very busy junction and causes long delays at peak times. Further housing would also add to the already serious problem of lack of school places and even longer waiting time for doctor's appointments.

I OBJECT to the proposed new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common as this would have a major impact on traffic through Send and the surrounding areas.

I OBJECT to the proposed development of 40 houses and 2 travellers’ pitches at Send Hill. This site contains documented unsafe landfill waste which is currently vented. The roadway is also single width providing insufficient access. (Again more houses would have an effect on schools and the Villages Medical Centre.)
I OBJECT to the proposed building of houses at Clockbarn Nursery. This junction with Send Road would cause further traffic problems and there is inadequate access as Tannery Lane is very narrow with many tight bends. Again, further houses would have a detrimental effect on schools and medical facilities.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of Wisley airfield site as it has already been rejected by Guildford Borough Council. The building of so many homes and the enormous amount of infrastructure it would require would have a tremendous impact on local roads and, again, facilities, schools, hospitals etc.

I OBJECT to the suggestion of 2,200 homes on Gosden Hill site at Glandon and Burpham. Again, this would require major infrastructure works and would greatly increase the volume of traffic on local areas of Glandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send.

All the suggested developments would require significant improvements to the A3 and local roads and would contribute to the destruction of our rural villages!

I hope that my comments will be read by the inspector!

Similarly Local Development Plan(s) have been made based on the assumption of ever-more migration into this country and into Surrey but the Brexit vote will mean that some companies will now move to the EU so we do not now need to believe that the huge influx of "people for local jobs" will happen. Look at the empty Guildford High street shops and local offices to let if you need confirmation.

Theresa May says she will make a better Britain. She said this week: 'Let us redouble our efforts. And let us make sure we put this time to good use, to build the support we need to go to the country in four years’ time, and not just win, but win big.

'Now, more than ever, we need to work together, to deliver on Brexit, to build a country that works for everyone, and to truly unite our Party and our country.'

Changing the face of our Surrey villages does not concur with her new statement of intent. Think again and make a stand for a re-think from Mrs May and her government.

I also object on the basis that there is no publication detailing the development of sufficient facilities for schooling and medical support.

I am writing to express my strong objections to all planning involving large (20+) developments within the Send area. The road system is extremely congested for 2 hours each morning and 3 hours each afternoon into evening with the three lane A3 full to capacity often with 6Km queues both ways encouraging vehicles to then use the Portsmouth Road Burnt Common roundabout to Ripley grid-locking that as well. The plans for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm and Garlick’s Arch are all planning to use the Burnt Common area leading to the proposed new 4 way A3 access. Absolute madness without full infrastructure changes to ALL local roads, schools, medical centres etc. The Brexit vote clearly showed that British people are sick and tired of unthinking and uncaring bureaucracy from Government which is being fulfilled by pressurised councils. The Brexit vote demonstrated people will now stand up to this; it is now Guildford Borough Council’s opportunity to also say NO.

GBC circumventing proper protocol under Regulation 18 by using a shortcut without proper consultation

I object:- to GBC failure to consider a wider and thinner spread of housing over a greater number of villages

I object:- to GBC not considering development options less damaging to our way of life

I object:- to GBC not reevaluating future housing demand in light of Brexit

I object:- to GBCs attempts to avoid proper consultation of all parties concerned as laid down by statute.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to object to the above on the grounds of its lack of planning for infrastructure to accommodate the large number of houses mentioned.

There is no mention of plans to cope with increases for school places which would be flooded and medical facilities and surgeries.

The main road which runs through the centre of Send, A247, is already very congested at times and would just not be able to cope with the extra traffic which would be caused.

I also object to Policy A44 where 40 houses and 2 travellers pitches would be built. The access to the site in Send Hill, a lane which is very narrow and has 2 very tight bends which would be very hazardous.

Finally the idea of the destruction of the green belt in this area is ridiculous. This part of the green belt is absolutely essential for dividing Guildford from Send and Woking, alternative it will mean a completely built up area from Guildford to London.

My husband and I have lived in Send in this house for 35 years. We have walked every public footpath and know and love every part of this area which is very special although my husband has passed away I know that he like me would wish future generations to have the same opportunities to enjoy the Green Belt as we have done.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I would like to register my objection to the final draft local plan.

I would like my objection to be seen by the Planning Inspector.

Removing Send and Ripley from GREENBELT would be disastrous for communities and nature. Policy A43 at Garlick's Arch in particular must be rejected.
The boundaries between Ripley - Send - Woking - Guildford have been straining for some time but there are tiny pockets of GREENBELT between them that just about keep precious village life and conservation of our flora and fauna alive.

The policy A43 would demolish this - and to hold the responsibility for this is a great burden - I urge you to be strong and sensible and protect the history and nature and soul of our community.

Precious woodland and wildlife would be lost forever. The traffic congestion is already very difficult in peak hours - there are a large number of elderly people and families with young children in the area. Giving permission for this proposal would not only endanger the lives of residents, but ruin the village communities of Ripley and Send and Burnt Common.

The noise of traffic from A3 already intrusive but with a new interchange it would be unbearable and not healthy to live with.

If any warehousing is really necessary then Slyfield is the much more logical option.

Garlick's Arch contains ancient woodland and rare and precious wildlife. Nesting birds not commonly seen in the South East. We have flora and fauna to be proud of and it is ours and your duty to protect it. To keep this community safe. There is neither the need nor infrastructure to support a housing development of this magnitude.

GBC have not been honest and some council members downright underhand.

I would certainly question the motives and morality of Councillors Spooner in the proceedings as I know many people do.

I object to Policy A42 which ignores the hundreds of previous objections and will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and the A247 junction.

These policies will all make the erosion of the Green Belt in villages worse and will negatively impact on the countryside, flooding on roads and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt and join up existing villages.

The Council have behaved in an underhand way throughout and broken promises to the local electorate. Please reject these proposals.

I strongly object to the Policy A43 at Garlick's Arch. When the last policy was proposed, thousands of us objected and the Council have showed contempt for us by expanding the new proposal to include more homes, industrial warehousing and Travelling Showpeople plots. This greed and disrespect for residents and our precious Greenbelt is disgusting and I hope very much the planning inspector will reject their proposal.

Burnt Common and Garlick's Arch are beautiful permanent Green belt with ancient woodland and wonderful wildlife that we need to preserve for future generations.

The area is subject to flooding and proposal A43 will cause over development as the number of homes is quite excessive. It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads of Send and Ripley.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

As a resident of Send I am appalled at the proposals put forward in the Local Plan. The plan is supposed to be the result of the consultation process between the Borough Council and its residents. We have already put forward our views during the process and have been totally ignored. It is not surprising that the people of this country have lost faith in our politicians (you guys). My objections are covered in the following five points:

1. I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established as a permanent feature required by the National Planning Policy Framework and not something that can be taken away under pressure from property developers, unjustified government targets or a Borough Council who prefers to develop in the areas that they believe will give them the least resistance.

There are no special circumstances to justify Send losing its Green Belt status and as a buffer to separate Guildford from Woking it is essential that its Green Belt status be retained.

Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt. The current proposals renege on those promises.

1. I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery. This is a ridiculous idea. Tannery lane is a narrow and bendy road joining Send Road at a very difficult and potentially dangerous junction. The traffic in Send is already heavily congested and further traffic emerging from Tannery Lane will only make this worse. Traffic improvements at the junction will not help, as the congestion is the result of bottlenecks at both the Burnt Common and Old Woking roundabouts. The future traffic has already been exacerbated by planning permission for 64 apartments and a marina further down Tannery Lane.

1. I object to building 400 houses and 7000m2 of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch. Ancient woodland! Subject to flooding! Plenty of brownfield sites already available in the borough! Slyfield is already the industrial centre of Guildford Borough so why create another one especially as there is an over supply of industrial space in the area at the moment and for the foreseeable future. In addition, Guildford’s housing plan requirements have been shown to be grossly exaggerated and when challenged, the council refuses to release their calculations.

1. I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers’ pitches at Send Hill. Another ridiculous idea. As with the Clockbarn proposal, the affect of the additional traffic on the already congested Send Road will be significant and unacceptable. Send Hill is also a narrow residential lane and will be badly affected by the additional traffic.

1. I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. I have already described how Send Road is heavily congested especially at peak times. By creating a new interchange at Burnt Common this will choke Send Road and the Village with additional traffic to and from Woking. Not only will this become the new rat run into Woking from the A3 and the M25 but will also have to contend with additional traffic from the proposed 2000 houses at Wisley, 2000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1850 houses at Blackwell farm. This on a road that is already heavily congested.

I trust you will consider my comments and those of all the other residents in Send and the surrounding villages before inflicting any further irreversible damage on our communities.

I object to 400 houses and 7000sq meters if industrial space at garlic field

It floods really badly and is covered by ancient woodland. There is no need to build an industrial site here when there are plenty of other sites in Guildford e.g. Slyfield. There are plenty of brown field sites that can be built on therefore there is no need to build on Greenbelt. Also Guildford's housing requirements have been exaggerated but they won't disclose their calculations.

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common, if this happened Send would have to take on the traffic from the proposed 2,000 at Gosden Hill, 2,000 at Wisely Airfield and 1850 at Blackwell Farm. There will be a huge amount of increased traffic going through Send as people use it to get to and from the A3 and the M25, Guildford and Woking. This would mean gridlock on an already overloaded road. Noise and pollution levels would be be made a lot worse.

this would be completely inappropriate again because of the single track country lane that meets potters lane. Also, the subsoil on the site contains documented unsafe land fill waste. I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt  Mainly because Green belt land was always meant to be permanent, and there is no special circumstance that could ever justify taking it away. The Government gave a promise to protect the greenbelt...Taking the green belt status away goes completely against that. Eventually there will be nothing left as developers will move in with nothing to stop them.

Attached documents:

Comment ID: PSLPA16/1506  Respondent: 10733921 / Pamela Maynard  Agent:
I am writing with regard to the Local Plan and the resulting effects on the villages and Surrey's Green Belt.

I object to the removal of Send Village from the Green Belt. If developers move in and use Green Belt for housing, industrial, etc. it will mean the merging of the Send/Ripley/Glandon area with Guildford, thereby making the area one urban area as opposed to villages with open spaces relative to the population.

I object to the proposed building of 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery in Tannery Lane, Send. The access to Tannery Lane at present is hazardous to say the least and the prospect of a further influx of traffic entering and exiting onto Send Road will cause an enormous amount of disruption in the village which is busy enough already.

I object to the proposed new development of 40 houses and two travellers' sites in Send Hill. Again, Send Hill is on a busy junction and extra traffic will again cause disruption. This area has permanent Green Belt status within an area of beautiful countryside, not land to be used for development.

I object to the building of 400 houses and 7000 square metres of industrial space at Garlick's Arch and the proposed new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. It is grossly indecent to utilise Green Belt land to build this amount of dwellings and provide for industrial. There are brownfield sites in the area that can be allocated for industrial use. This site is prone to flooding and whereas much work was carried out in the Send Marsh area in the 1980's to prevent flooding in the area, this development would put pressure on the current safety levels. This particular Green Belt site has conservation issues in that it is covered in ancient woodland.

The current infrastructure cannot cope with this influx. I do not merely refer to services, but also to the local schooling, doctors' surgeries, local travel and road usage itself. If these developments were allowed to proceed, it will be nigh impossible to move on the roads in the immediate area - they are proving to be difficult now without any new influx.

Promises were made by Local Councils and Central Government to protect the Green Belt and if these promises are not kept, developers will take advantage and our Green Belt will be no more.

I urge you to take note of the objections listed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to Policy A42 due to the increase from 45 to 60 homes which equates to a third more in density and is ignoring previous objections by local people to the original plan for Clockbarn Nursery. It will increase already difficult traffic problems at the junction of Tannery Lane and the A247. It will affect what is at the moment nice open countryside and spoil another part of the Green Belt area. Added to this is the risk of surface water flooding which is already experienced across the Broadmeads. Surely it is not wise to increase this threat.

I object to Policy A43 which now refers to 400 homes and 6 Travelling Showpeopft plots. Despite the thousands of objections already lodged, this number of dwellings on beautiful Green Belt is obscene and who has suddenly decided that there is a need for Travelling Showpeople plots? Ripley and Send will merge into one anothed and our villages with, much historical background, will fade into non-existence.

I object to Policy A58 which requests allocation for a minimum of 7,000sq.m. of industrial or warehousing. There is not a requirement for this sort of space as demand has been declining and the increase in traffic movement will just add to what is becoming a chaotic area for road travel. I work within an industrial warehousing complex and know of the problems that arise from this sort of development.

I object to the proposal that Send Business Park is now taken out of the Green Belt, altogether as the area in which it is situated is true Green Belt with much cherished countryside adjacent to the River Wey Navigation. Again the traffic levels along Tannery Lane are bad enough without adding to the problem. We cannot and must not lose any more of our Green Belt to developers who do not have the best interests of the local population.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We are writing to express our grave concerns regarding the proposed housing & road development in the Send / Burnt Common / Send Marsh area.

There are several reasons for our concern which we will explain here.

However, the worst impact in our opinion will be to traffic. The traffic through Send is already chaotic in the mornings & evenings. Caused by the volume of cars heading to and from Burnt Common Roundabout, heading for London M25 (via Ripley village), Guildford, both via the A3 and to/from Woking. Sometimes the traffic queue from Burnt Common roundabout tails back into the middle of the village, even beyond the Send Marsh Road junction. This is compounded by thoughtless parents parking willy-nilly all around the infant school dropping off or collecting their kids. Send surgery carpark (for surgery patients) is also nearly always full of 'school run' vehicles, meaning patients have nowhere to park. This will get ten-fold worse when St Bedes School also moves to the same site. Tannery lane crossroads is chaotic and dangerous at the best of times -this too will get much worse along with the Send Marsh Road cut through used by many drivers to avoid the Burnt Common roundabout - both already being accident black spots.

Added to this we have the Send Hill and Potters Lane problem. This route is already used heavily as a cut through from the northbound A3. It is very narrow around the cemetery and almost impossible to pass at times due to bad parking etc. Also the worrying prospect of traveler sites (and face the facts, we all know what that means) in one of the nicest and most peaceful place in the village. Many people have paid a fortune to be laid to rest in the cemetery. Who will guarantee that it will be kept clean, tidy, quiet and respectable especially when a funeral is taking place?

We notice a new slip road is proposed just south of the A3 at Tithebarns Lane junction, to join the A3 northbound so as to not necessitate passing through Ripley. This will not work! It will simply create peak time traffic jams in Clandon Road back to Burnt Common roundabout and into Send Barns Lane due to the volume of vehicles trying (unable) to join the traffic jam on the already snarled up A3 heading northwards. Note: The existing peak time northbound traffic on the A3, already tails back southwards from the M25 entry slip, back past the northbound Ripley entry slip road and sometime almost back to the Burpham junction. Peak time traffic joining the A3 northbound at the new proposed slip road will simply be trying to join a traffic jam.

If ever there's a major incident on the A3 or the M25, this entire area just becomes one gigantic car park which will only ever get worse if huge extra volumes of traffic are encouraged.

Whoever has studied this, clearly has never had to use (& has no knowledge of) the roads around this entire area at peak times.

Also please bear-in-mind there are hundreds of very elderly people in the Send area who need to negotiate these roads on foot, and also who have no access to PC's & emails etc to express their worries and heartbreak at these proposals. Our once beautiful village & surrounding area being swallowed up and ruined as London continues to spew outside of the M25.

As you will be fully aware, existing drainage & sewerage infrastructures barely cope with the volume of homes in the immediate area having already been stretched beyond their limits due to housing developments over the last 30 / 40 years - which would only ever be alleviated by massive civil engineering reconstruction works including new handling plants etc, which clearly haven't been considered or addressed in these development proposals. 485 houses will probably mean at least 1000 people & 500 cars.

I am very disappointed that there are plans to remove Send and Ripley from the Green Belt. It would appear that the whole area will be overrun by both Guildford and Woking.

It would seem there are many more suitable areas for such a large scale development than Send and Ripley.

The around traffic is a great problem in this area. It would appear that not sufficient thought has been given to the amount of heavy traffic necessary if the proposed developments take place and also the increased amount of cars from houses built. The whole area will become grid locked.

I really hope that some revised plan will be sought of Send and Ripley will once again be considered Green Belt.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.
The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for over-development/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.
I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I object to the local planning of even more housing in Send/Ripley Villages.

There is never any infrastructure when housing developments are being planned. Local authorities seem to forget, lack of primary and secondary schools, doctor surgeries, road congestion, pollution and parking.

The villages alone cannot cope with more residents let alone a huge increase in even more traffic!!!!!!

Also, since when has it bee possible to build on Green Belt! Green Belt areas are there for a reason, therefore should not be built upon, EVER!! Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt areas!

I am so disgusted with these plans; who would even wish to build upon Greenbelt areas within beautiful rural villages. There seems to be too many corrupt people working within this council, whom are only interested in earning a back earner!!

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I write to object to the content of the local plan and want my comments to be seen by the Inspector. My reasons are as follows:-

1. I OBJECT to these areas of land being taken out of the Green Belt i.e. the land behind the school including playing fields and woodland, the land to the right of Cartbridge by the river Wey Navigation up to the new boundary fence with Vision Engineering and the land to the left of Cartbridge going up to the old depot on the Wey Navigation. This would in effect lead to the destruction of the village of Send, removing it from the Green Belt.
Belt and making it part of an urban sprawl. It is my understanding that the Green Belt is an area to be protected for perpetuity for our children and our grandchildren. It has remained protected for the benefit of every one, not just those people who live nearby but also visitors from London and other urban areas who visit to cycle, walk, picnic and to enjoy the tranquillity and closeness to nature in the countryside. It has yet to be demonstrated that there are “exceptional circumstances” for building on Green Belt land.

2. I OBJECT to the proposal to use land at “Garlick’s Arch” on which to build 400 houses and 7,000 sq m of industrial and warehousing. This would also remove this land from the Green Belt and it has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland and trees over 500 years old would be endangered along with the protected wildlife which lives there. The proposed industrial development has not been identified as being required by the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment (2015) which actually indicates a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan.

3. I OBJECT to the proposals for Garlick Arch as it has been indicated that this would require a new 4 way interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common and if there has been a thorough investigation into the traffic congestion which already exists in this area, it must be apparent that this would cause traffic chaos. It is also my understanding that no firm proposals or time scales for changes to any of the roads in this area have been agreed. How can this proposal go ahead without any commitment to any changes in the road layout and even if these do go ahead, they will do nothing to alleviate the major traffic havoc which will ensue and will severely increase if any of the proposals for Send and Garlick Arch go ahead.

4. I OBJECT to the addition of new sites, i.e. land west of winds ridge, send hill and Garlicks Arch, to the increase in the number of houses to be built and to a major new road junction which were NOT previously included in the Borough Plan and which have not been consulted upon previously. These areas have NOT been subjected to full consultation under Regulation 18 which I believe invalidates the whole process. This proposal would again mean that an area of the Green Belt would be lost. It is also my understanding that the subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste.

5. I OBJECT to the inclusion of two more Travellers pitches. I am not aware of any research that indicates the need for these in this area. In my view, if some members of society choose to live in caravans and to travel, that is their right. What I am at a loss to understand is why “travellers” need a permanent pitch. [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered contrary to the Council’s duty under the Equalities Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation against persons with a protected characteristic; and to foster good relations between persons with a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it]

6. I OBJECT to the increased level of building and inclusion of travellers sites which is included in the “New local plan” since I believe that it does not take into account a realistic appraisal of the additional infrastructure that would be required to meet all the needs which would arise. Hospital services, GP surgeries, schools, transport etc.

7. I OBJECT to new homes being built on greenbelt land when the availability of brownfield sites has not been thoroughly explored. The plan indicates that 40% of the housing will be “affordable”. Please can you provide a figure of what you consider constitutes “affordable”. If the planning committee has been aware of the research done by the BBC they will know that the shortage of housing in the South East is due to lack of social housing for those who cannot afford to buy at any price and the fact that private landlords are charging more than local authority housing benefit will pay. This development will do nothing to alleviate the housing difficulties which exist in London and the surrounding areas. It will merely serve to line the pockets of the developers and possibly the County Council who can benefit from the “sweetners” demanded by them.

8. I OBJECT to the huge amount of housing and the areas of land on which it is proposed to be built. It is well known to all the residents of these areas that they flood every time there is heavy rain. Building houses and industrial units on land prone to flooding is not only distressing to the residents in the event that it occurs but also has a knock on effect on the rest of society whose insurance bills increase every time the insurance companies have to pay out millions of pounds.

Overall, I am deeply upset, disappointed and feeling betrayed by the local Councillors who I thought were elected to and would be committed to protecting my home and environment, as well as protecting the green belt for our children and their children. Since Monica Juneja and Mansbridge have left the Council (under a cloud of proven fraud and suspicion) I had hoped for a more open and honest Council who would listen to the wishes of the electorate and investigate their genuine concerns without prejudice but I am finding no evidence that this is so. Local councillors and the government gave a clear election promise to protect the green belt but it seems that both are prepared to renege on it for the sake of a “quick buck”.
I find it difficult to express how disillusioned and let down I feel by my local representatives. The people to whom I have entrusted the safeguarding of my home, environment and provision of essential services and who have failed to do so spectacularly.

Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Policy A42

I object to policy A 42 because:

It seems that no notice has been taken of the original objections and to the reasons not to build 45 homes and this has now increased to 60 new homes. The problem remains and will be increased that it will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction and will increase pollution. It will have a “knock on” effect on the whole area in terms of traffic congestion and pollution. It impinges on the Green Belt which I am led to believe, both Guildford BC and the current government have given a commitment to protect. It will impact on open countryside views from the River Wey
Navigation and will exacerbate the existing problem of surface water flooding. There is no indication that any of the proposed houses will be affordable to local people.

Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43

I object to Policy A 43 because:-

This land is part of the permanent Green Belt and no evidence of “exceptional circumstances” has been demonstrated which justify the change of use of greenbelt land. If I am wrong please advise me on the “exceptional circumstances” which exist. This area is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation. Historically it has existed as an ancient woodland since the time of Elizabeth 1. Are you suggesting that we totally disregard our English heritage for the sake of building homes on an area which already suffers from frequent flooding and for which there is no proven need for them to be built? Flooding is not only devastating for those it affects but has the knock on effect of additional costs to the local authority as well as insurance companies and it is the taxpayer who ends up footing the bill. This area is already overloaded by traffic and the additional homes and sites which are proposed will only add to traffic congestion and block up even further the roads of Send and Ripley. I require to see the evidence that indicates that there is a demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location.

The addition of 400 homes will seriously cause over-development of the villages of Ripley and Send, in effect joining them and defeating the key purpose of the green belt. The issue also remains of the inability of the current infrastructure i.e. schools, GP’s and hospitals to cope with this influx of additional people.

Land at Burnt common Policy A58

I Object to Policy A58 for the following reasons:-

It seems that having been deleted from the 2014 draft due to all the objections raised, this proposal has magically been put back in again, however since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. The need for “industrial land” has yet to be demonstrated. It is the case that both Slyfield and Guildford have empty sites and industrial units available.

The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in industrial demand to 3.9 hectares for the whole borough not a huge allocation of 10 hectares at Send in The Green Belt. The already existing problems with regard to traffic congestion will become ever more problematic and gridlock is sure to be created. Villages which are currently unique and sensitive to the needs of their own communities will be joined up and negate the whole concept of the green belt as well as destroying the many and valuable services provided mostly voluntarily by residents from these communities.

I object to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with proposed housing levels. Roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope.

I object to the over estimated “housing need” figure of 13,860 which is far too high and results in the completely unnecessary development of the Green Belt. The way students, economic need and affordability are calculated inflates the housing need and you really should take this into consideration for your figures to be true.

I am writing to you to log my objection to the removal of Send from the Green Belt not least because the village and it's countryside provides a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford but also because I really do feel totally let down by everyone of those pushing this plan forward.

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford’s urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs. Please do not do this to an area which is so beautiful.

I object to all the proposed sites in Send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough Send has not been properly consulted and all it's sites have been changed substantially. Surely these plans cannot legally go through to completion because of this?

I object to building 45 houses at Clockharn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the marina will generate heavy traffic too. The road cannot take any more.

I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks’ notice and without any prior consultation and is definitely not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough. So what are the justifications?

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available. Please explain.

I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because the site has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding. Please do not destroy 16th century trees.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the (A247) would be gridlocked all day. Send is already gridlocked at key times during the day and simply cannot cope with any more traffic at all.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25. I moved to Send because I have asthma sufferers in my family and extra pillion would seriously detriment their health.

I absolutely object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to it's high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site. You must take note and be aware of the unsafe landfill waste and also the single track country lane issue and respond to these issues thoroughly.

I also strongly object to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick’s Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded.

I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 which are all already at 100% capacity. How can you justify the havoc this will cause?

Finally, I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which surely must be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the beautiful Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan2015 within the plan.

to the proposed plans to build 715 new homes, 385 flats,1,500 place secondary school,a primary school for 420 pupils, residential or care home, parade of shops,and the borough's allocation of 6 showman pitches, 8 flats by the station, and 8 flats in Glaziers lane.!

This planned development is preposterous!
I believe all these plans are developer led, without any respect for the villages and the current residence. Both Villages are in the Green Belt, and I OBJECT to this protection being removed.

The proposed development is disproportionate to the surrounding area.

We already have a problem with flooding, and I see no Plans to improve the water and sewage management, and more building on the green fields will only increase the risk of flooding into those houses and buildings.

I OBJECT

to having all this extra traffic on our road system, that cannot cope at the moment, when the Hogs Back becomes congested and the traffic uses Glaziers Lane as a Rat Run. I see no plans to improve the road system- how can they, there is no room in this area!

I OBJECT

to these plans encroaching on the habitat of wildlife. We have a number of Hedgehogs, Dormice, Great Crested Newts, Barn owls, Stage Beetles, Skylarks, Toads, Lizards, Grass Snakes, Adders, Slow worms Badger and Bats in the area, their homes need protecting too!

I OBJECT

to any further building of schools, as there is no proven need for such. I believe the secondary schools locally are under subscribed by 736! Another 480 places at the new Technical collage, and St Peters have plans to expand. I understand there has also been plans submitted for a secondary school at Rokers, in Worplesdon.

I OBJECT

to the disruption that the construction traffic will have, the continual noise and pollution this will generate. This will lead to significant health issues. No regard has been given to the well being of the current residence.

I OBJECT

to the Green Belt being eroded by large house building firms, rather than for the needs of the local community. There must be brownfield sites that can be used eg:- Woodbridge Meadows, Walnut Tree Close and North Street. It would be more sustainable to build homes in urban areas that already have infrastructure and services in place.

I OBJECT

to Normandy becoming 4 times larger, with a 70% increase in housing!!

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I object to the building of 45 houses at Clockburn nursery. Such an action would be incredibly irresponsible of the local council. Traffic along Send Road is extremely high and consequently it is hazardous for cars trying to join it from Tannery Lane. I object to the proposed building of 400 houses and 7000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick's Arch, opposite Send Marsh Road. I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. Consequently it would be our village which would have to bear the brunt of increased traffic from the proposed 200 new houses at Wisley airfield, 2000 new houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1850 at Blackwell Farm, as vehicles travel to and from the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford. As I stated before, Send Road is already incredibly busy, particularly during the rush hour. Increasing the volume of traffic along this road will only end in gridlock, and as a result the levels of noise and air pollution will get worse. Current levels are too high, and therefore such a development must not be allowed to go ahead.

I request that my comments are shown to the Planning inspector.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers' pitches at Send Hill. This site is inappropriate due to the fact that access is only via a narrow single road. In addition to this, this site contains subsoil with documented unsafe landfill waste registered at GBC, and therefore is not a suitable location. This development will only spoil the current beautiful countryside we want to preserve in our village.

I object to Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch because this area of Green Belt is incredibly beautiful, consisting of ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth 1. The fundamental aim of green belt policy is to ‘prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open, and consequently the most important attribute of green belts is their openness’. This area separates our two villages and therefore should be protected. I feel the objections from Send and Ripley residents are just being ignored again!! Furthermore, there is no evidence that Travelling Showpeople plots are needed in this area. Such development will only increase traffic around our village that is currently, during various times of the day, incredibly busy already. It is fundamentally wrong for our village to have to carry the burden of such an excessive number of houses which would only lead to one large conurbation.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt common as this was withdrawn from the 2014 plan as a result of huge local objection, so why has it suddenly reappeared? There is no local requirement for greater industrial development. In fact, recently there has been a decrease in demand for industrial space, with empty sites and units currently at Slyfield and Guildford. If you look at the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment, it shows demand for industrial land has decreased. Such a huge allocation will only again add to the traffic problems that we currently have in this area.

I object to the plan to inset Send business park from the green belt on the grounds that this site is adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation and flood plain meadows and is an historic left over which should be confined within its existing space in order to prevent further erosion of the nature and character of the area.

Overall I have serious concerns about the manner in which the clear and settled opinion of the villagers affected by the local plan have been ignored by the council both in the initial instance and in the revisions made. Local infrastructure is already unable to cope. No further significant housing or industrial development should be made until measures are taken to alleviate traffic overload through Send. Limited affordable housing should be placed on previously developed sites (e.g. old school site) before any green field sites are allowed. Local services like schools, which are at full capacity in Send, sewers, and medical services are already overburdened - the doctors and pharmacy has just had to increase the time taken for a repeat prescription to 5 working days. Guildford borough council has an obligation to take the Send neighbourhood plan into consideration in development decisions and needs to honour local opinion.

<td>I object to Policy A42 in respect of the increase in the number of proposed housing at Clockbarn Nursery by a third. The development is on a narrow lane unsuitable for larger volumes of traffic and will worsen the busy and uncontrolled junction with the A247, particularly with the impact with the ill thought out plan to enlarge the junction on the A3 at Burnt Common with the inevitable and unacceptable increase in the volume of traffic using the village as a through route to and from Woking - it will be impossible to turn right out of Tannery Lane at busy times. Policy A42 also ignores the large volume of objections previously made to the development of this site and is an affront to local democracy which is supposed to seriously consider local opinion, not dismiss it out of hand and worsen the situation.</td>

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because the impact on the small surrounding roads will add to already overstretched roads in the area. There have been no appreciable improvements to the local infrastructure in the last forty years. Roads are grid locked every time there is a problem at the M25 Junction 10. In one recent week that was on three days. This is damaging businesses locally.

Send Road is at maximum capacity every rush hour. The road through West Clandon cannot take two lorries passing each other without one having to mount the pavement. The narrowest part of The Street is close to a junior school. There is no chance of widening these roads without having to purchase local private property.

The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough, not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares in the Green Belt in Send.
It is quite clear that the whole basis of your plan for the Send area is politically motivated as neither of our councillors are Conservatives. This is totally unacceptable and has been noted by the electorate locally.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

As a long term resident of Jacobs Well I object to Jacobs Well being considered taken out of the Green Belt, this village although changed in the 45 years I have been there is still in the countryside, it is surrounded by fields, open countryside and a place where one can breath. The boundary of Woking is very close to where I live and I do not want to join up with the town which in turn is joined up to the urban sprawl of London. This is a village let us keep it so The proposed link road to Slyfield, over the deepest part of the flood plain is positively a crazy scheme, the traffic which is already heavy will have a knock on effect on congestion through the village, although I have already objected to this I am again objecting. Please consider local residents and their safety and enjoyment of village life.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Development of 2000+ houses etc – I object to the proposed plan and set out below some of the reasons.

I wish to object to the above proposal on the following grounds:-

1. Green Belt has a presumption against development unless there are very special I fail to see any such circumstances in this application.
2. The local roads are unsuitable for an extra 3000+ cars from this Even allowing for a new access point onto the A3 I Ockham Road North roundabout the flow would be to a congested A3 and narrow surrounding roads. Cut though roads such as Wisley Lane and Newark Lane are single width at various points while the High Street cross roads with Newark Lane and Rose Lane in Ripley is a frequent congestion point. Tinkering with these junctions only pushes the problem further up these narrow roads. To access the A3 southbound, traffic would have to travel through Ripley to the Burnt Common roundabout. Send Road, Send (A247) is also likely to be adversely impacted on an already congested road right through to Old Woking at peak times particularly as there are schools along this route. The Cobham slip road off the A3 northbound is already frequently backed to a standstill onto the A3 itself. See also numerous comments from the A3 Survey in www.getsurrey.co.uk
3. If you link this proposed development to the following potential huge unwarranted developments outlined in the draft Local Plan (some noted below) then on road infrastructure alone it is simply ludicrous:-

1. Site Allocation A 15 Guildford Cathedral - 1 00 homes I 150+ cars
2. Site Allocation A24 Slyfield - 1000 homes / 1500+ cars
4. Site Allocation A26 Blackwell Farm - 1800 homes / 2700+
5. Site Allocation A42 Tannery Lane, Send - 45 homes / 60+ Site
6. Allocation A43 Garlic Arch - 400 homes / 600+ cars
7. Site Allocations A38, A39, A40, A41, A45 - 463 homes / 700+ cars
8. Site Allocation A44 Send Hill, Send - 40 Homes / 60+ cars.

4. By continuing to "over react" to what we are led to believe is a greater need for housing in the south east we are destroying the essence of village life that has "evolved" over hundreds of Small developments of say 4 or 5 houses may be acceptable in some rural areas along with updating and modernising existing stock which would not impact the character of the area. Population and business growth should be dispersed in other areas of the country where there is a need and to even up the "divides" rather than concentrating on a self defeating build more / attract more process in the south east.

5. This Green Belt proposal if allowed could lead to other substantial developments in the vicinity (some mentioned in 3 above) which have already been condemned by local residents during the draft plan consultations and thus should be refused.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the proposed developments on scale and infrastructure basis.

National Planning Policy Framework 2012 Sect 4 paras 34,35,36,37. Send is already congested during rush hours and school times with long queues forming along the A247 on a regular basis. Any junction improvements with Tannery Lane will exacerbate the situation as increased traffic will back up along the A247 in busy periods. Yellow lines along the route would cause difficulties for access to the shops and schools and force parking into residential roads. Tannery Lane is single track for most of its length and is wholly unsuitable for any increased traffic flow from the proposed new developments. It would also be dangerous for walkers and cyclists. Not only would this adversely impact Send village but also at the other end into Ripley via Papercourt Lane or Polesden Lane (both single width) onto Newark Lane. Access into Ripley onto the B2215 at this point is single width and any increased traffic flow would be unacceptable by any reasonable standard. The A3 at Ripley is often queued northbound due to frequent congestion at M25 Wisley J10 towards Heathrow.

Transport links are poor. Buses to Woking and Guildford are approximately every hour and hardly convenient in rush hour. Getting to Clandon station is more difficult and time inefficient. Whether Send Villages Medical Centre could cope with additional population is questionable as it is often difficult to get a prompt appointment now e.g. 10 days recently.

Policy A43 Garlic Arch Development - 400 Houses etc

I object to the proposed plan and set out below some of the reasons. This is Green Belt and should remain so.

As set out in the National Planning Policy Framework 2012, Sect 9.80, Green Belt serves several purposes including:

- to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
- to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
- to assist in safeguarding the countryside from

There are no very special circumstances to allow such a development to take place on this site.

I fully endorse the Send Parish Council's response to this proposal.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Traveller Sites and 40 Houses -1 object in the strongest terms to the proposed plan and set out below some of the reasons.

Send Hill is totally unsuitable for any increased traffic volume that would result from future housing developments and traveller sites as the road narrows to single width from Orchard Way down to Potters Lane and there is no pavement along the majority of the road. There are many walkers and cyclists who use this route. As I see it there is no government pressure to inset this site and no compelling reason for Guildford Borough Council to make this proposal at all. There are no special or exceptional circumstances for such a proposal.

Housing affordable or otherwise is in appropriate on this rural Green Belt site as it will:

- Result in loss of established open view landscape.
- Result in increased traffic flow.

---
- Create a safety hazard for cyclists, pedestrians (Children, Walkers, Dog Walkers and Joggers).
- Disturb hazardous material underground etc.
- Require Infrastructure improvements.
- Disturb the peace & tranquillity of the area.
- Adversely affect the character and quality of life.
- Increase noise pollution.
- Disturb the natural habitat/wildlife.

Send Hill is a peaceful residential road with open views comprising a mixture of bungalows and houses with a fair proportion of elderly and vulnerable inhabitants and a junior school at the bottom of the road. The idea of a Travellersite and or housing in this location will detrimentally alter the character of the area and is highly inappropriate. Any such developments would be removing existing open space and greenbelt, not protecting it.

The road is very narrow i.e. single track at the point of the proposed site i.e. two cars are unable to pass, and it would be unsuitable for access to the site. Turning left from such a site into the narrow road is blind and would be a danger to pedestrians, cyclists and other motor vehicles. The opening up of access to this site would have further undesirable consequences on the open land further along the road.

Parking for the junior school in Send Hill is a considerable hazard with only enough space for one vehicle to pass during pick-up times and the additional traffic resulting from any developments will simply amplify the dangers.

Development of this site and other allocations in Send will undoubtedly result in serious infrastructure deficiencies which would destroy the Village. Any disturbance to the ground for foundations or utility services would require a geo technical survey and remediation work to be carried out. I doubt drainage, sewerage and water supply pressure capability for any new development.

The proposed site is an old landfill land believed to contain hazardous materials, including rumoured asbestos, cadmium and mercury. Any disturbance of the ground for building or services is therefore a potential health hazard. My understanding is that a geo survey would have to be undertaken along with likely remediation work before any disturbance could even be considered.

Public transport is very limited. It is approximately half a mile walk to the nearest Bus Stop and the services to Woking and Guildford are not very frequent. The nearest Stations are Woking and Clandon both of which are difficult to get to without a car. The main roads to both are narrow and busy, particularly so at rush hour and unsuitable for safe cycling. It is highly unlikely that this could be changed.

This proposed site is not surrounded by existing housing and would clearly impinge on the openness of this piece of Green Belt. Indeed the site is open on three sides with existing housing on one side only with a public foot path inbetween. Therefore any developments here would totally inappropriate.

Any development on this site would destroy the character and open landscape of the area. Coupled with other site allocation proposals in Send, and adjoining lovelace and Woking, will clearly over burden the infrastructure to an unsustainable level.

This is a Green Belt Outside Settlement Boundary site and any development would result in the loss of the visual landscape from overlooking houses such as ours, ramblers, dog walkers and pedestrians. Other reasons are stated elsewhere in this document

This open space is used by many dogwalkers, local ramblers and families and is a safe haven for the purpose and provides opportunity for social interaction. There is also a variety of wildlife on or visiting the site including Rabbits, Foxes, Squirrels, Snakes, a variety of Birds, Bats and occasional Deer. Loss of this space to either Housing or Traveller sites will deprive the community of this sanctuary.

- The current Greenbelt site contributes to the environmental ambience of the area and encourages people of all ages into activity (walking etc) and enjoyment of nature. There is a social element as well in that walkers will often meet in a countryside setting and have a chat.

- There is a basic conflict between the numerous site allocation proposals in Send, Lovelace, and (Old Woking) as village locations and the need and ability to provide infrastructure improvements. Take into account the ludicrous proposals for Wisley and Gosden Farm as well and you have a recipe for urban sprawl and gridlock. A large proportion of rural village residents have to rely on the car for commuting and essentials hopping trips as bus/train services are infrequent and are too far away. Mass development on this scale in a rural greenbelt village is a recipe for disaster, wholly inappropriate and should be resisted.

- Send Hill is narrow and does not allow two cars to pass in several places including outside our house directly opposite the proposed site. There are no pavements along most of the road meaning people including children, OAP’s, dogwalkers and ramblers walk in the road. In addition there are six footpaths emerging onto Send Hill. Any new development that increases the car population will have an adverse safety implication. If this and the other site allocations in Send, Old Woking and Lovelace are allowed, significant increase in traffic flows and queues will occur along Broadmead, Send Road and Send Barns lane (A247). As a consequence of this, motorists will seek to use alternative routes including Potterslane and Send Hill which are entirely unsuitable for the purpose. In addition to the safety implications to the local residents, cyclists and Horse Riders who use Send Hill there is considerable danger for the children at the School end of the road at drop off and pick up times.

- Send Hill is mentioned in the Surrey Cycle Guide No 2. Walkers (children, OAP’s, dog walkers, joggers and ramblers) use the road as there are no pavements in most of the length of Send Hill. Any new development that increases the traffic flow will have safety and environmental implications.

- No amount of architectural creativeness or spin could create an attractive new view with the proposed developments.

- The narrowness of most of Send Hill is clearly evident and developments such as this can only cause visual deterioration and increased safety issues.

Send Village Insetting - I object in the strongest terms the proposed removal of significant parts of Send Village from Green Belt status.

As set out in the National Planning Policy Framework 2012, Sect 9.80,

Green Belt serves several purposes including:
• to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
• to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
• to assist in safeguarding the countryside from

To inset in the overbearing manner which is proposed for Send village, particularly in the Send Hill (A44)/Bush Lane area, would open the door to inappropriate developments in the future and contravene the NPPF as above and indeed the Department for Communities and Local Government Policy E16: Traveller sites in Green Belt:

• Inappropriate development is harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved, except in very special Traveller sites (temporary or permanent) in the Green Belt are inappropriate development.

- Traveller site allocation is inappropriate and in conflict with the Department for Communities and Local Government Policy E16: Traveller sites in Green Belt:

Inappropriate development is harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved, except in very special circumstances. Traveller sites (temporary or permanent) in the Green Belt are inappropriate development.

We are overpopulated in this part of the country. In satiable demands for new housing conflicts directly with our inadequate infrastructure. One solution would be to reverse the trend by encouraging businesses to relocate to under populated parts of the country or regeneration areas. If we don't then our quality of life and crime rates will surely degenerate.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Traveller Pitches and 40 Houses - I object to this policy and comment on the amendment only in this instance as requested (my previous comments from the 2016 consultation still apply).

Re Requirements item 10) Improved visibility to be provided at the junction of Send Hill with Potters Lane:-
While any improvement to the visibility at this junction would be welcome as a basic safety issue (it's a blind bend turning right out of Send Hill), the fact remains that Send Hill is single track for the most part including past the proposed site and this house and is fundamentally unsuitable for increased traffic flow (see photographs attached). It becomes single track within approximately 25 metres of this junction along Send Hill (although centre white lines are marked for about 50 metres).

Policy A44 Land West
Traveller Pitches and 40 Houses - I object to this policy and comment on the amendments only in this particular instance as requested (my previous comments from the 2016 consultation still apply).

Re Key Considerations item 1) Contamination:
The potentially hazardous materials buried at this site make it unsuitable for traveller pitches or housing development. Along with my previous comments in July 2016 this site should remain Green Belt and be entirely removed from the proposed local plan.

Policy P2 Green Belt -
I object to the proposed removal from Green Belt (insetting) of Send Business Park. While some modernisation may be acceptable to improve the vista, any expansion of this site is inappropriate due to the single track nature of Tannery Lane which is already under threat from Policy A42 Clockbarn Nursery. While I comment on this amendment as requested, it does form part of a much bigger picture for Send in that para 4.3.13 includes Ripley, Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common as inset in contravention of NPPF sect 9.80 and ignoring multiple previous consultation responses. My previous comments from the 2016 consultation still apply.

I object to the construction of 400 houses and industrial space at Garlick’s Arch opposite Send Marsh Road. This site floods and is covered by ancient woodland. If the site does not act as a natural flood plain the flood water will cause flooding in other residential areas. More houses will also mean more traffic congestion, more pressure on the Villages medical centre and more pressure on school places.

I object to a new interchange at Burnt Common because Send would have to take even more traffic from the proposed houses at Wisley Airfield. Send Road is already overloaded and would become grid locked.

I object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt as it provides a buffer that stops Woking and Guildford merging into one over-populated urban conurbation. Local councillors and central government should not renege on their election promises to protect the Green belt from being destroyed.

I am writing to say that I object to the latest version of the local plan – in particular proposal A46.

I was shocked to hear about the size of the proposed development, given the proposed location – on a sensitive area of the green belt in the heart of a small rural community. There are many reasons why this is just wrong:

1. To double the size of an existing community in one move will have a major impact on people’s lives and destroy the nature of our community
2. Although I accept that new homes are needed this must be balanced with the needs of existing residents and the quality of our environment – surely GBC understands this?
3. If our village is destroyed in this way and our sense of community disappears, I fear many impacts including an increasing crime rate – which at present is extremely low
4. Existing residents may well move elsewhere, changing the nature of this area completely and making it less attractive to the very people GBC is building homes for
5. The development will have a devastating impact on local wildlife – including endangered species – and increase the risk of flooding – which is already a problem in some parts of Normandy
6. There is no way that existing roads (already very congested) can cope with such a dramatic increase in traffic – and the scope to improve them is extremely limited – given that most of them are country lanes and with the restrictions of railway bridges
7. This is a dishonest proposal – going against everything that our local councillors stood for during the elections last year when they pledged to protect the green belt
8. Why are GBC proposing such a large development (in such an inappropriate area) and not distributing development more evenly across the borough which would have far less impact on any one community?
9. The proposed school is simply not needed, existing schools are undersubscribed and have room for expansion. There are few children in this village in need of a school – this seems like an excuse to allow the development company to run roughshod over our beautiful green belt. Profit before people and the environment? Shame on you.

This proposal – A46 – is clearly not properly thought out or planned – and should be dropped from the local plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I am delighted to see that both of the proposals for building multiple new homes on green belt land in Normandy have now been removed from the plan. I fully support this, as our local infrastructure was never going to cope with this level of expansion in the area.

I am concerned about the proposal to remove some homes in Normandy from the green belt as this means that there will be fewer restrictions in the future and I believe that this could have a longer term detrimental impact on the openness of the area.

Finally, given the number of new homes in the Guildford area I strongly feel that GBC must prioritise road improvements, as roads are already busy, with particular pinch points in Normandy at the junction of Frog Grove Lane and the A323, and the level crossing at Ash which causes major delays at times. I trust the council will include this in ongoing planning.

I am writing to you to object to the changes to the Local Plan, especially the council's proposals to develop the land at Garlick's Arch at Burnt Common on the Send/Ripley borders for housing and industrial warehousing, however there are many aspects to the revised Local Plan that I find incredulous.

I am completely bewildered and angered by these proposals, the beauty of these villages and surrounding areas will be absolutely destroyed by the plans proposed. To suggest Ripley, Send and Clandon should be removed from the Green Belt is a disgrace. The infrastructure and services simply cannot support the levels of housing and warehousing proposed and the council 'dangling a carrot' in the Local Plan about creating new A3 slips at Burnt Common is nothing short of bribery.

In short:

- I object to the erosion of the Green Belt, 16th century trees, beautiful countryside and natural habitats for animals will be destroyed
- I object to Ripley, Send and Clandon being removed from the Green Belt, this would devalue the homes of existing residents and cause destruction of our rural villages
- I object to the disproportionate amount of development being proposed, these are villages with defined boundaries, not towns
- I object to the last minute inclusion of these proposals in the Local Plan with less than 2 weeks’ notice and suggest the approach taken was unethical
- I object to the fact that no housing needs analysis has been produced and made available publicly, even affordable housing in these villages would be out of reach for the majority
- I object to the fact that no industrial warehousing needs analysis has been produced and made available publicly
- I object on the basis the infrastructure cannot accommodate the proposed development, there is no immediate provision for new schools, doctors surgeries etc. and the Royal Surrey Hospital is under significant strain
- I object on the basis that no other alternatives for traffic calming/routing have been produced and/or made publically available (I suggest options above)

Do not destroy our beautiful villages and rural surroundings, I appeal to your moral compass!

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

It is clear to see that the traffic congestion through Ripley and Send is not caused by residents, it is caused by those using the villages, Ripley and Send in particular, as a cut through to Cobham/Byfleet/Weybridge and surrounding areas because of the congestion at the A3 Cobham junction, especially in the mornings. A recommendation would be to consider what improvements could be made here and introduce different traffic calming/deterrents in the villages instead. For one, on the mornings when the traffic lights are not working around the Cobham junction on the A3, slip the cars flow more freely. Creating one way traffic flows in Ripley, especially at Newark Lane, would also make a significant difference to traffic flow - the one way being exit from Newark Lane into Ripley village and remove the option for vehicles to turn from the village into Newark Lane - this is the rat run through to Cobham/Byfleet etc...it would be easy to put a small roundabout in place here to keep traffic moving more readily. Another suggestion, prohibit lorries from delivering to stores in the village between key commuting times as they prevent the easy flow of traffic - it's not rocket science, there are plenty of other options and I haven't seen any evidence of alternatives being considered.

Once again I am compelled to write to you to raise objections regarding the local plan. I find it exasperating that I continuously have to raise objections to a local plan which demonstrates an absolute failure of a proper planning process. You have not made any attempt to mitigate and or amend the plan despite the significant volume of objections to the 2016 plan. Indeed Guildford Borough Council has made the situation even worse by combining proposals around Garlick’s Arch and Burnt common and not altering the proposals based on previous objections.

I object to the proposals to build 400 homes and 6 travelling show people plots on the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43, for the following reasons:

• Thousands of objections have been raised on this previously, this is in complete disregard to all previous objections
• There is no evidence of a demand to house travelling show people in this location, [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered defamatory, derogatory, inflammatory or offensive in nature]
• The land is in the Green Belt and no exceptional circumstances exist
• The number of homes is excessive ensuring complete over development of the village. There would be no definition of villages between Ripley & Send defeating the purpose of the Green Belt
• Infrastructure cannot support this. Traffic and pollution levels are already a major problem, schools and medical facilities, as required by law, are already over stretched
• The land is an ancient woodland that existed back in the reign of Elizabeth 1
• The area is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation, drainage remains substandard
• Due to local shooting facilities, the land is contaminated by lead shot

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the proposals to provide an allocation for a minimum of 7,000 sq m of industrial or warehousing on the land at Burnt Common, London Road, Policy A58, for the following reasons:

• This was deleted from the 2014 draft based on previous objections, why should it be resurfaced when there is no need to build industrial or warehouse space in the middle of the Green Belt? Guildford and Slyfield have empty sites and industrial units already, the requirement for more space does not exist
• Since the 2016 plan there has been a decline in demand for industrial land (as proven in the point above re: empty units)
• The 2017 employment land need assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares in Send in the Green Belt
• Infrastructure cannot support this. Traffic and pollution levels are already a major problem
• By joining up the villages there would be no definition between Ripley & Send defeating the purpose of the Green Belt

Yet again, having to write to raise objections to an ill-considered plan that has not been amended, despite the volume of previous objections, really demonstrates a lack of competence in this space. It is infuriating to local residents who yet again have to ‘go into battle’ with a local council that clearly is not listening to the community, it’s a complete disgrace.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

Having recently had an extension to our property and experiencing nearly 2 years of rejections from the planning department for an extension which several of my neighbours had already had similar work. The planning department repeatedly stated the importance of send maintaining is quaint appearance and keeping development in the area controlled. I therefore find it personally insulting to see this plan being proposed for this 'quaint area' from the department that made us reduce a dormer window by 10cm (a 5% adjustment!) are now planning to tear up the rule book they so stringently stuck to when looking at our planning application. This screams of massive double standards. We paid for many architects drawings to appease the local planning department who now seem happy to add 100's of new houses to the area. I would urge you to look at their rejections to our planning application and apply these to the local plan.

I wish to register my objection to the local plan for the Send area for the following reasons highlighted by the save send action group, I wholeheartedly agree with all points raised:

• I object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the site is not large enough for the proposed use.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would cause adverse impact on street parking.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a single track country road and too narrow to provide sufficient access to the site or accommodate the potential new levels of traffic the proposed development would bring.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send is in green belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a narrow road result in loss of a turning point for vehicles.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would impact the nature reserve nearby. The proposed site is a quality green belt amenity area within countryside and would be spoilt by development.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the existing road and parking infrastructure is already inadequate or under pressure and could worsen with the planned development, reducing quality of life.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that too many houses are proposed to Send/ Send Marsh and the impact on traffic congestion and local services would be unacceptable.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed number of houses potentially could result in 92 extra cars in Send Hill which is already suffering from congestion particularly at school run time.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that this would cause loss of village identity, be detrimental to the community and increased flood risk.
• I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that a Wasteland Solutions environmental report on Send Hill dated March 2004 gave evidence of past ponding of water in the excavated area. Further development would disturb water table and increase risk of flooding to my property.
