I OBJECT to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt land in Send comprises of beautiful woodland and fields of long grass which support a rich myriad of wildlife. The Green Belt land not only provides a physical buffer between Send and Guildford to the South and Woking to the North, but even more importantly it is an environmental buffer against traffic pollution and noise, it is the 'lungs' of Send, helping to combat the air pollution. If Send were to lose the Green Belt to development it would have an irreversible and detrimental effect on the rural aspect of Send Village. The Councillors have reneged on their promise to protect the green belt, and there are no special circumstances to justify building on the green belt. Brown Field sites should be used to fulfill the housing need.

I attended the meeting on 8th April regarding The Wisley Property Investments Ltd (WPIL) planning application of January 2015 (Ref: 15/P/00012) and this was unanimously rejected by GBC following the recommendation of the GBC Planning Officers.

The reasons for the refusal of the application were many but included that the proposed development:

(a) was an inappropriate development within the Green Belt;

(b) would have a clear and substantial detrimental impact on the openness of the Green Belt and conflict with the purposes of including land within the Green Belt;

(c) failed to demonstrate that the benefits amounted to very special circumstances such as to clearly outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and the other harm identified;

(d) failed to comply with the objectives of policy RE2 of the Guildford Borough Local Plan 2003 (as saved by CLG Direction dated 24/09/2007) and chapter 9 of the National Planning Policy Framework;

(e) was within the 0-400m and the 400m to 5km zones of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area, etc.

(f) would have a severe adverse impact on the safe and efficient operation of the strategic road network, and a severe impact on the efficient operation of the local road network;

(g) failed to deliver the required transport sustainability measures;

(h) failed to secure an appropriate provision of affordable housing;

(i) was detrimental to the viability and vitality of the existing district and local centres in the vicinity of the site;

(j) would result in loss of the safeguarded waste site;

(k) presented a dense and urban form of development owing to its quantum and scale;

(l) had an adverse impact on the setting and significance of a designated heritage asset;

(m) had an unacceptable air quality impact;

(n) impacted on education infrastructure;

(o) impacted on policing infrastructure;

(p) impacted on health infrastructure;

So I was completely baffled when we went to the next meeting at the GBC Millmead, on 24th May, to be told that they were going to go ahead with the plan anyway!! So why are we continually writing our objections when they are completely ignored?

Anyway, I object very strongly to the submission of the local plan, specifically for The Three Farm Meadows (the former Wisley Airfield). I could rewrite my objections from all my previous emails/letters, but I cannot see that they will make a difference!!

POLICY I1 – Infrastructure and delivery
I OBJECT to this policy as it is inadequate in addressing the scale of insufficient infrastructure in greenfield sites. The problem does not lie on our strategic road network but on the small arteries through our villages. The capacity of these roads is inadequate for existing population and cannot accommodate any growth. In particular, West Horsley already has an unacceptable traffic situation especially around commuter and school journeys, with two overused roads where traffic pays no regard to speed limits. It is only a matter of time until there is a serious incident. These existing roads cannot support additional capacity.
POLICY I2 – Supporting the Department of Transport’s ‘Road Investment Strategy’

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings.

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

a. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars

b. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads

c. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements

d. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)

e. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest

f. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency. I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows) I am disgusted with the fact that it has even got this far. We need to protect the land around from developers who want to create massive villages in such a beautiful and natural area. It saddens me that we are destroying natures home.

I wish to object to the proposal to develop the Garlick's Arch, Burnt Common area near Ripley & Send. The plan is totally disproportionate to our already overstretched local amenities of schools, roads, doctors etc. The land is green belt and should remain that way. I also believe that the land is part of the flood defences for Send Marsh, particularly the Maple Road development where I live, and I strongly object to any proposal which endangers the welfare of me and my family.

Other sites in the nearby area are also green belt land and should remain that way. There are other brown field sites more suitable for this type of development , if it's needed at all.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the local authorities plan to develop in East and West Horsley Green Belt areas and any Green Belt that they have a directive to protect that is within the councils boundaries. It's Guildford borough councils duty to protect our Green Belt, which is also a national Planning Policy framework requirement and that Green Belt is only used in exceptional circumstances.

I have yet to see Guildford Planning authority give a justifiable case and evidence of such exceptional circumstance, to use so much Green Belt land. I see no evidence that clearly shows that all brownfield and other sites have been completely scrutinised to the nth degree and that there is no other options to consider.

Guildford Borough Plan seems to believe that they can just change the Green Belt boundaries thus removing the status of areas of Green Belt to aid developments which are opposed by local committees it is supposed to protect and serve.

Thus this makes the proposed Policy 10: Green Belt and the countryside and Policy 8: Surrey Hills Area of outstanding Natural Beauty and the study's flawed. There is no sound case in changing due to exceptional circumstances the green belt boundaries.

Changing the Green Belt boundaries and developing large numbers of homes around Villages that have only a finite resources of limited shops, schools, transport links, roads and public services will change the character of many villages.

Clearly expansion plans to the villages of East and West Horsley are unsustainable and putting more pressure on Areas of Natural Beauty.

Policy 9: Villages & Major previously develop sites and policy 18: Sustainable Transport for new developments.

Where is the Evidence or Studies of "Can these villages sustain such growth without plans to improve the infrastructure required" If not where is the infrastructure upgrade plan.

I believe also in the plan there will be homes for all and affordable homes. Which is a good thing but the large amount of homes indicated on three Green Belt sites at a high density plan will change the character of the village. It will also put an ever increasing strain drainage, roads, schools, transport links, shops and parking. I also wondered how affordable this homes will actually be in this area.

I believe the number of homes for this area is over subscribed and that infrastructure should be vastly improved before any such numbers are thought about. Even the telecoms and broadband services are under strain and that super fast Surrey is still struggling to offer fast broadband to all its homes. All the schools seem to be full in the area. The infrastructure is clearly not going to be able to sustain the growth.

From the points and comments above to Guildford Borough Councils Local Development Plan for East and West Horsley I therefore object to all developments in the area proposed.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North
I wish to object to various points in the latest Guildford Borough Council local plan.

1) My first objection is to the proposed removal of the villages of East and West Horsley and other borough villages from the Green Belt. This would appear to be in contradiction to your section Policy: Pt 3 Our Vision and Ambition. This states "To protect and enhance the environment .......". The Green Belt is not Guildford Borough Councils to give away as it is for the benefit of existing and future generations of Londoners as well as local residents. I agree with Guildford Greenbelt Group that once it is gone it is gone forever.

2) I particularly object to the extent of proposed development of 533 new houses within the Horsley's. Our roads are already congested at peak times, it is difficult to park by our village shops, our Medical Centre and local schools are overstretched. We are unable to accommodate an increase in our population of this size.

3) My next objection is in particular to the proposed development of 48 houses on the Thatcher's site. Ref A36. This is adjacent to a conservation area and an area of historic interest. The new development would totally change the character of this area and obscure the views of Horsley Towers and obliterate the surrounding countryside on the edge of an AONB. This disregards your policy point under Environment 2. "To protect these areas of conservation.....". The A246 is already busy in this area with regular tail backs in each direction and difficulty finding a break in the traffic to pull out.

5) I also object and question the proposal Policy E8 District Centres. I would argue that East Horsley does not meet the criteria of a District Centre as we do not have a large Supermarket and so should not be considered in this category, nor indeed do I desire the village to expand and develop to an extent as to be in this category.

Thank you for the opportunity to make my comments on the proposals.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the above-mentioned villages being withdrawn from the Green Belt as they provide an essential buffer from Woking and Guildford becoming one large conurbation. Central government and local councillors both gave election promises to protect the Green Belt from further erosion and have reneged on this.

I OBJECT most strongly to the development of Garlick's Arch opposite Send Marsh Road's junction with the Portsmouth Road for housing and industrial development. This is already a very busy junction. Slyfield would be a more suitable site for industrial development. Further housing would add to the already serious problem of lack of school places, would lead to even long waiting time for doctor's appointments.

I OBJECT to the proposed new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common as this would greatly increase the traffic through Send and surrounding area.

I OBJECT to the proposed development of 40 houses and 2 travellers' pitches at Send Hill - this site is too near the cemetery and the site contains documented unsafe landfill waste. The roadway is single width providing insufficient access. (Again more houses would have an effect on schools and the Villages Medical Centre.)

I OBJECT to the proposed building of houses at Clockbarn Nursery. Again there is inadequate access as Tannery Lane is very narrow with many tight bends. Again, further houses would have a detrimental effect on schools and medical facilities.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of Wisley airfield site as it has already been rejected by Guildford Borough Council. The building of so many homes and the necessary infrastructure it would require would put an enormous strain on local roads and again facilities, schools, hospitals etc.

I OBJECT to the suggestion of 2,200 homes on Gosden Hill site at Glandon and Burpham. Again, this would require major infrastructure works and would greatly increase the volume of traffic on local areas of Glandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send.

All the suggested developments would require significant improvements to the A3 and local roads and would contribute to the destruction of our rural villages!

On Policy A44. 1.9a LAND WEST OF WINDS RIDGE AND SEND HILL

1. I object to the proposal on the grounds that Send Hill is in part a single track country road and too narrow, particularly at the Potters Lane junction, to accommodate the extra traffic the proposed development would bring.
2. I object to the proposal on the grounds that Send is in Green Belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status.
3. I object to the proposal on the grounds that the existing roads and parking infrastructure is already inadequate and could not cope with the extra traffic.
4. I object to the proposal on the grounds that the proposed development site (A44) was used as a GBC registered landfill site. Disturbance of the site would be a health hazard due to the unknown materials in the site.
5. I object to the inclusion of Traveller Accommodation in Send Hill due to the disturbance to an existing community. <td>I write with regards to the Horsley's and Wisley airfield development proposals. I understand you used a consultant to come up with the numbers of housing required which did not provide its model of how they came up with their figures. I also understand that the council increased the consultants figures which is almost 70% higher than the official national estimates for population growth in the Borough. I re-consider you plan to see how such a small village can absorb so many new houses/people. No reasons have been given for the extension of the settlement area boundaries (taking them outside the Green Belt). It seems that you are only proposing this to increase the land available within the settlements for future additional development.

Infrastructure is already overloaded, schools, Doctors surgery and the roads/rail links. I don't believe you have made these proposals with enough or very little thought of how or where there would be scope to improve the infrastructure.

Station Parade you are designating as a district centre. This classification I understand is misreading the nature of the facilities provided in the village and would be inappropriate to target this for more urban development.

I feel like noone is listening to us at the council. We have objected before and now having to do it all over again with not a lot of changes to the OTHER plan. HOW can you call this co-operation? I thought the Wisly Airfield had been struck off the plan and now I find it is back AGAIN. How can this be co-operating with the local people if you just come back again and again with what seems like the same proposals.

The development of 2,000 homes (almost the same size as Horsleys today) in Wisley is a totally impractical option. (as has been brought to your attention many time before. The impact on the Horsley villages is SO huge and overpowering that it will change the villages forever. It is only 2 miles from us and will have impact on the railway stations (already overcrowded parking) and other amenities.

I hope you have a detailed look at your reasons for taking Green Belt land out of the Green Belt and tell us what the exceptional circumstances are. Consider the SIZE an 'new village' in Wisley will have on the local infrastructure. Relook at your overall population assumptions in light of BREXIT and your own consultants figures. Garlicks arch

I strongly object to this development.

The council have not taken into account the feelings of local residents and have not made it easy to raise any objections.

The local infrastructure has not been taken into account, in particular the greater amount of traffic which will be generated on local roads. Send marsh road already has an enormous amount of traffic during the rush hour which includes heavy goods vehicles that are totally unsuitable for a road of this width. This is obviously due to sat nav systems. The council and police have already been put on notice that unless traffic calming measures are put in place this is a fatal accident waiting to happen.

Garlicks arch is a very necessary open piece of land protecting and enhancing our environment.

Guildford borough council states that they will engage in a considerable amount of public engagement but in this case they seem to have been sadly lacking

There seems to be a disproportionate amount of development within small areas ie ripley/send/clandon as compared to other areas within guildford.

The council state that they will protect and enhance our natural environment. I fail to see how the development of garlicks arch will achieve either of these objectives

I object to policy 4.3.13 which removes certain villages from the green belt.

The green belt is in place to protect our villages from overdevelopment and to retain the rural feel.

The council have made little effort to keep those affected by this policy well enough informed.
The infrastructure and road system will not be able to cope with high density infilling within these villages.

The Localism Act has not been taken into account.

Rather than spoiling the look and feel of historic villages, which once lost can never be regained, development would be better suited in more urban areas and on brownfield sites.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford’s pollution.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Site Allocation A42 (Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane - Send)

I OBJECT

For the same reasons I object to Site Allocations A43 & 44; the A247 cannot cope with any more traffic and the village of Send (and surrounding areas) does not have the infrastructure to cope. Send has one GP surgery that is already oversubscribed and one has to wait a good number of weeks for an appointment (if one is lucky). There are “two” bus services, the 462 and the 463 which alternate to run once an hour and the first bus does not get people to Woking in time (fast train connection) to get to London (where many people work) for a work start time before 09h00 – the very first bus of the day only gets to Woking at 08h05 – which means most people will rely on their cars to get to work and their children to school, especially as there is no secondary school within walking distance.

In addition traffic coming from Tannery Lane trying to merge onto Send Road already struggles due to cars parking on the kerbs / alongside the kerbs. It’s very poor visibility and it will be a major safety risk having even more cars.

Site Allocation A43 (Land at Garlick’s Arch, Sent Marsch Burnt Common and Ripley)

I OBJECT

Whilst I think we all realise that there is a need for more housing within the local borough, planning an additional 400 houses and industrial space at this site is just reckless. The A247 leading through Send barely copes with the traffic it already has. I realise the idea of Site A43a (new slip road) is designed to avoid just this but realistically it will not happen. It goes without saying that anyone looking to commute towards London will head through Send to Woking to catch a fast service to London (25 Minutes and numerous services in an hour) vs heading over to Clandon or Horsley, a journey which takes nearly twice as long and only every half hour. Many of the secondary schools closest to the area are the other side of Send, heading towards Woking. The A247 is incredibly narrow in parts and cannot be widened. Even with the current traffic there often are long tail backs along that road, especially heading towards the roundabout at Old Woking; the roads in Old Woking also are just too narrow for more traffic. Furthermore; Send just does not have the infrastructure (schools, GP, public transport, local shops etc) to cope with so many more homes / people / cars.

As for the industrial site; there is sufficient land surround surrounding Slyfield Industrial Estate; and this should be extended first, before any additional industrial estates are contemplated elsewhere. And if Slyfield cannot be extended for whatever reasons, there are other brownfield sites that should be considered before very precious green belt is. Heavy industrial traffic will result in hugely increased levels of noise and pollution; levels already high enough as it is.

Finally, it needs to be remembered that the site A43 is known to flood; for that reason alone this site should not be built upon. The large area of Ancient Woodland needs to be protected. Woodlands are vital to environmental air control and also our very precious wildlife; something which it sadly seems GBC doesn’t really worry or care about.

Site Allocation A43a (Land for new north facing slip roads to/from A3 at Send Marsch, Burnt Common)

I OBJECT

Again the objection is due to the hugely increased traffic that will impact the A247 – Send Road; a road that simply cannot cope with any increased traffic volume and increased levels of noise and pollution due to larger traffic volume.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Additionally I have the following comments regarding four Site Allocations – all of which I OBJECT to for reasons given

1. Site Allocation A44 (Land West of Winds Ridge and Send Hill, Send)

I OBJECT

The area in mind is accessed by two very narrow roads – Send Hill on the one side and Potters Lane from the other. Extending the number of houses by 40 as well as the two proposed traveller pitches (meaning larger cars and most likely caravans) will put more pressure on these roads. As it is, Potters Lane, as it nears the junction with Send Hill, already has major traffic issues with people parking on kerbs and not leaving space for pedestrians (so bad that more than once a blind resident of that area who relies on their guide dog was unable to get to town because the kerb was blocked by cars, traffic was heading through the narrow gap on the road; resulting in the guide dog being unable to safely guide her further and turned them around to go home).

In addition, the proposed land used to be a landfill which was used for unsafe waste – something GBC is well aware of. From a health and safety aspect alone this site should not be developed on and most certainly not until a full and through environmental inspection of the land has been carried out by an INDEPENDENT contractor.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT

To the village of Send being removed from Green Belt. Not only because I really feel that the village should retain its rural feel – which after all is why most people chose to move there - but more importantly the green belt ensures Send acts as a very vital buffer between the boroughs of Guildford and Woking. Without this buffer the two run the risk of merging in to one huge city! Ash and Tongham are having new green belt designated just for this reason. As has been pointed out no doubt numerous times, it was an election promise to keep and protect the Green Belt; this proposal of unnecessarily huge development and the removal of the greenbelt goes against everything the people voted for! We voted for you because you said you’d protect the area!

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I would like to raise the following objections to the plans proposed to impose a change of use on the Clockbarn nursery site (A42) and to develop and build 45 residential dwellings.

• The current Clockbarn site is presently agricultural land within the Greenbelt and should have such status preserved.
• Tannery Lane does not have the width to accommodate the recent increased traffic, particularly as a result of the development of the Tannery light industrial estate which generates at least 100 cars and tens of commercial vehicles passing along it each working day. An additional increase in vehicles resulting from this proposed residential development would create a traffic congestion situation that the lane simply could not accommodate.
• Present traffic turning right into Tannery Lane from Send Road (A247) often creates a queue backing up Send Road as a result of the volume of traffic passing along the A247, being a main artery between the A3 and Woking. This creates delays for what is already a busy route for many, especially in peak traffic times.
• Present traffic turning out of Tannery Lane onto the Send Road (A247) frequently backs up down Tannery Lane as the volume of traffic passing along the A247 means vehicles must wait a considerable time for an appropriate gap in the traffic to turn out of Tannery Lane.
• An increase in the volume of vehicles passing in and out of Tannery Lane would exacerbate this existing problem.
• The width of Tannery Lane heading towards Newark Lane is, in some places, only a car's width wide and has several blind corners. Additional traffic simply cannot be accommodated along this stretch of the lane. It would be impractical to look to widen this stretch as it is primarily bordered by residential front gardens and Papercourt Marsh.

- Tannery Lane is a route to which many walkers, joggers, dog walkers, cyclists and hikers take to get to the River Wey with its towpaths and footpaths. An increase in traffic, which would result from this proposed development, would make this route hazardous for those not in vehicles.
- There is an existing approved planning application in place for some 64 houses to be built on land associated with the Tannery light industrial unit. I propose that the Council give serious consideration to this fact in determining the validity of an additional residential development at Clockbarn. Should the Clockbarn development be approved, the number of residential dwellings that could be constructed along this 1/2 mile section of Tannery Lane is excessive and unwarranted.
- I propose that the Council also take into account the recent approval of the marina development, again adjacent to the Tannery light industrial units. Whilst not approved for any residential dwellings, the facilities proposed will give rise to an increase in traffic, both of private and commercial use and should be considered in conjunction with the Clockbarn proposal.

The combined and collective consequences of all of these approved and proposed developments along Tannery Lane will have an irreversible impact on a Surrey country lane that does not have the capacity to accommodate the overenthusiastic interpretation of the Local Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to object in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Council Local Plans to include the former Wisley Airfield for a major development of a new town. This proposal was unanimously rejected by GBC, and yet it is now being included in the Local Plan.

The plan would have 70% of new houses being built in the protected greenbelt and would destroy for ever the environment surrounding the small local communities of Ockham and Horsley.

I strongly object to the disproportionate allocation of new housing in this area with over 23% of the Plan for new housing being in the area of the Horsleys, Ockham, Ripley and Send, when today only 0.3% of the population living within Guildford Borough live there today.

I, like so many others who live in the area have consistently objected to these proposals on a wide range of grounds. I hope that you will take this and the many other objections being raised in to very serious consideration. A new town of this scale would inevitably absorb the local villages and set the precedent for creeping suburban growth and destruction of the greenbelt so close to London.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I object very strongly as I have done before to the inclusion of Three Farm Meadows in the Draft Local Plan.

There are many reasons for the objection as have been put forward before and remain fundamental objections and reasons why this should not go ahead.

The area is Green Belt land and I object to the change in the Green Belt boundary to the eastern end of the site

It is a totally unsuitable site for development because of the constraints on the site and the physical location

The site is also very close to the most congested road network (A3 and M25) and most congested M25 junction of all (juction 10)

It is also adjacent to RHS Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000 per annum. So this means more traffic.

The roads around the three Farm Meadows are also totally unsuitable for any more traffic. They are unlit narrow and without pavements. There would not be sufficient employment on his site for people to work so people would have to travel by car/ walk/ cycle along these unsuitable lanes.

The stations and schools are at their full capacity. No room for more cars in railway car parks and the site is further from stations than any other strategic site.

Any bus services will have to face the crowded SRN and this would result in unreliable services and delays.

These are just some of the many reasons why this site should not be included in the Local Plan. If this area were to be developed in ways that have been proposed and rejected through previous planning applications it would fundamentally alter the environment, landscape and community of the several small villages in the area for ever.

I along with many other residents and local people have objected many times, alongside other statutory planning applications, and the Council should remove this Three Farm Meadows Site from the Local Plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

As I’m sure you are aware, the school shortage (amongst other infrastructure issues) has and is still affecting many of the residents in this area. I have experienced this first hand and can assure you that a large influx of students without major investment in either a new school, or upsizing the existing – such as the Howard of Effingham – would be catastrophic. Had this been proposed with any degree of confidence in the ‘plan’ I would be interested to hear what the suggested solution to the narrow and badly kept roads which link residents to schools in the area would be. It is clear that this would require major work, which would likely cause chaos for an extended period of time.

Likewise, the commuter trains into London are already packed and adding another rail line or the facilities for faster trains would only encroach further onto the countryside we are trying to save.

The land is not only valuable for residents but attracts a number of tourists to the area which bring obvious benefits to local communities.

I have lived in Horsley for the majority of my life. I am now 22 and have grown-up with the beauty and serenity of what I believed to be green land which would remain so for generations to come. The ‘plan’ does nothing to assure me that a cohesive and holistic approach to providing more housing in Surrey is being thought about. It seems fragmented and slightly desperate in its desire to place people in what must appear to planners to be ‘free’ space. That it is not.

Traffic and Parking. The impact on local roads will be tremendous. Parking at Horsley and Effingham stations (which is already full), at the shops, at the medical centre and village hall will all be affected. Local Road Network. It appears that the Plan is proposing a strategic site at Wisley Airfield without knowing what improvements to the local infrastructure will be required. This is also true for the proposed developments in the Horsleys.

Pollution. Increased traffic will mean more nitrogen dioxide and particulates in the environment. Already a cause for concern in the area.

Flooding. The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain.

Schools. Local schools are already at capacity - where will the newcomers go to school?

Medical Facilities. The same as schools.

Loss of Green Belt land. Creeping development has led to almost continuous housing from Central London to Effingham. Is this to carry on to Guildford and beyond?

Transport. Misery for commuters. Nowhere to park and full trains at commuting times.

For these reasons I am against the developments for the Horsleys which are included in the Draft Local Plan.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- Destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge – a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- Remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- Increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- Result in rat-running through local roads
- Add to Guildford’s pollution

In view of flawed new evidence, Guildford's proposal for 12,426 homes (plus a buffer of 1,155 homes) is excessive and will result in needless loss of Green Belt and green character, and increased congestion, that cannot be justified in our heavily constrained borough.

Population Growth

There is evidence that Guildford's population growth is overestimated by about 40% because of under-recording of students leaving at the end of their studies.

Student Accommodation

The revised proposal that only 60% of full time Guildford based University students will be provided with accommodation on campus puts unnecessary pressure on housing stock in the town. An 80% target could help by freeing up affordable homes relatively quickly.

Green Belt Protection

If the Council fails to apply Green Belt protection or constrain expansion to reflect widespread, legitimate environmental and transport constraints, the 2017 Plan will cause harm to the qualities that underpin the economic success of Guildford and aggravate congestion.

Land Development

Allocating too much land for development in the 2017 Plan will also result in Guildford being required to provide homes for Woking on our Green Belt which is folly given the constraints in Guildford, a gap town with constricted roads in the Surrey Hills ANOB.

I attended the meeting on 8th April regarding The Wisley Property Investments Ltd (WPIL) planning application of January 2015 (Ref: 15/P/00012) and this was unanimously rejected by GBC following the recommendation of the GBC Planning Officers.

The reasons for the refusal of the application were many but included that the proposed development:

(a) was an inappropriate development within the Green Belt;

(b) would have a clear and substantial detrimental impact on the openness of the Green Belt and conflict with the purposes of including land within the Green Belt;

(c) failed to demonstrate that the benefits amounted to very special circumstances such as to clearly outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and the other harm identified;

(d) failed to comply with the objectives of policy RE2 of the Guildford Borough Local Plan 2003 (as saved by CLG Direction dated 24/09/2007) and chapter 9 of the National Planning Policy Framework;

(e) was within the 0 -400m and the 400m to 5km zones of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area, etc.

(f) would have a severe adverse impact on the safe and efficient operation of the strategic road network, and a severe impact on the efficient operation of the local road network;

(g) failed to deliver the required transport sustainability measures;

(h) failed to secure an appropriate provision of affordable housing;

(i) was detrimental to the viability and vitality of the existing district and local centres in the vicinity of the site;
(j) would result in loss of the safeguarded waste site;
(k) presented a dense and urban form of development owing to its quantum and scale;
(l) had an adverse impact on the setting and significance of a designated heritage asset;
(m) had an unacceptable air quality impact;
(n) impacted on education infrastructure;
(o) impacted on policing infrastructure;
(p) impacted on health infrastructure;

So I was completely baffled when we went to the next meeting at the GBC Millmead, on 24th May, to be told that they were going to go ahead with the plan anyway!! So why are we continually writing our objections when they are completely ignored?

Anyway, I object very strongly to the submission of the local plan, specifically for The Three Farm Meadows (the former Wisley Airfield). I could rewrite my objections from all my previous emails/letters, but I cannot see that they will make a difference!!

I would like to object to GBC’s Proposed Submission Local Plan unreservedly. As a local resident I have objected to all the proposals the GBC has put forward along with thousands of others in our area. It really is appalling that our objections have been completely ignored and the Local Plan has failed in the number of key areas to take into account or to answer our valid comments and criticisms submitted by thousands of residents and organisations in respect of the previous 2013 Draft Local Plan. What is the point of us all objecting whole-heartedly if we are just ignored. I have to say that in my opinion it raises questions about your governance and vested interests.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1/ I OBJECT to Send Village being removed from the green belt. This was intended to be permanent as required by the National Planning Policy Framework. There is No special reasons why this should be abandoned. Green belt is an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guilford becoming one location. Local government gave a very clear election promise to protect the green belt and this contravenes that completely. This land cannot be developed on and lost forever.

2/ I OBJECT to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery. Access is inadequate and traffic issues will arise in surrounding roads including Tannery Lane which is far too narrow and twisty to take any more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very dangerous for vehicles trying to join the main road and permission has previously been given for apartments at the tannery and for building at the marina both of which will generate further heavy traffic. These roads can not take any more and the junctions is already dangerous so please do not allow this site to be developed.

3/ I OBJECT to building 400 houses and 7000 m² of industrial space at garlics arch. The site floods significantly and is covered by ancient woodland and industrial space is not required in the vicinity where there is plenty nearby at Slyfield. Guildford's housing requirements have been shown to be exaggerated significantly and they have refused to disclose their calculations. 400 houses will have major impact to Send and Ripley and the infrastructure cannot simply cope with a development of this size. We are already ping-ponged out to any secondary school in the county, need to plan to be ill to get an appointment at the Drs etc etc! It's too big and must be removed from the local plan. This was also sneaked in at the last minute from a proposal all of 100 houses which is still too many on such valued ancient land.

4/ I OBJECT to the development of 40 houses and two travellers pitches at this site in Send Hill. It is a completely inappropriate location because the narrow single width access to the country road provides insufficient access and would be very dangerous. This is an extremely busy road especially in the early morning with many parents taking their children through this route to send school. This immediate area also sees extra traffic when the A3 is heavy with northbound traffic or in ever increasing cases of road closure due to accidents! It is a beautiful site which was previously a landfill site and for this reason alone it should not be built on. This site has been refused before for the above reasons and I urge you to remove this from the local plan.

5/ I OBJECT to a new interchange with the A3 at burnt common because Send would have to take the traffic from proposed developments at Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill, Burpham and Blackwell Farm. This totals over 4800 houses. Traffic from these developments would use this new interchange creating gridlock in the villages. It can already take 15-20 minutes to drive from Send School to the A3 northbound!

I object that the allocation has risen from 45 to 60 homes.
this is an unacceptable 33% increase 100s of previous objections have been unacceptably ignored
Access and traffic problems will unacceptably worsen at Tannery Lane and the A247 Junction
It will unacceptably erode the Green Belt in our village
Surface water is already bad and unacceptably worsen.

I object to 400 homes and 6 Travelling Show People plots.
Unacceptably this ignores 1000s of previous objections
Demand for Travelling Show People Pitches is an unproven requirement
This is permanent Green Belt land and there are NO 'exceptional circumstances'.
This will result in overdevelopment with excessive homes.
This is an ancient woodland dating to the time of Elizabeth I
Ripley and Send will become one and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
It is Zone 2 flood allocations area and subject to frequent flooding it is contaminated by lead shot it will congest further the already busy roads in Send & Ripley
There is no infrastructure to support the residents ie medical services and all three (infant, junior and secondary) phases of education

I object to a minimum of 7,000 of industrial or warehousing.

This was removed from the 2014 draft because of previous objections.

It previously stated 'Maximum' now says 'Minimum' and there has been an reduction in demand for industrial land.

This is Green belt Land and both Slyfield and Guildford have empty units, therefore there is no requirement.

The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the in the Green Belt.

The impact on small surrounding roads will increase the gridlock we experience.

Existing Villages will be joined up.

I object to Send Business Park being taken out of the Green Belt.

It is an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding natural and beautiful countryside next to the River Wey Navigation.

Vehicular access is highly restricted along Tannery Lane in both directions.

Expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt which is unacceptable.

Pollution: I strongly object to the new draft plan proposing additional 2000 homes at Wisley, 2000 at Gosden Hill Farm, nearly 600 in The Horsleys and 400 at Garlicks Arch as it will have a great impact on the local road network which at peak times is already struggling. The large increase in volume of traffic will cause an increase in nitrogen dioxide and particulates in the environment - already a cause for concern in several areas in the borough. Additional noise and air pollution will be inevitable with this increase in traffic and it will have a significant impact on our environment.

Loss of Green Belt Land: I strongly object to the expansion of the Horsley village boundaries and its subsequent removal including Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt. The new mayor of London has instructed London planners NOT to approve development on Green Belt Land within the M25. If we continue to build on our countryside it won’t be too long before we have none left. There is insufficient details and/or evidence within the local plan to support why this action is necessary and therefore I strongly object. Our British countryside needs to be preserved along with our wonderful animal, bird and plant life which will be inevitably affected by the erosion of the Green Belt Land.

Flooding: I strongly object to the new draft plan in respect of flooding. The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area and as local residents we are well aware of how much standing water there is in our gardens after rainfall. In fact, my husband’s car was “written off” due to water damage at the A3 roundabout at Ripley in 2013 due to flooding. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. Our drains can’t cope now causing chaos on our local roads during heavy rainfall.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Disproportioned number of new houses for local facilities: I strongly object to the number of new houses proposed within the Horsleys and surrounding villages namely Ripley, Send and Clandon. Within the Horsleys, the schools, doctors and train stations are struggling to cope with the current demand. My family commute to London from Horsley and the trains and car parking are almost at maximum capacity. Assuming that every new house has at least two cars, this means potentially 6000 more cars within a three mile radius of the villages. The impact on the local roads will be tremendous. Parking at Horsley & Effingham junction stations (which are already full), at the shops, at the medical centre and at the village hall will be affected

The proposed development plan is disproportionate to the size of the villages and is an over kill. It is directly out of proportion to the size and availability of brown field sites already available for development.

I sincerely hope you, the council, will consider my objections and avoid destroying the Borough’s Green Belt which is precious and I fear for its demise. Our British countryside needs to be protected for future generations of population, animal, bird and plant life. Please protect our environment from increased pollution and flooding.

I think that the Ockham plan to develop the old Wisley Airfield makes sense in terms of being a substantial development on what could be classed a brownfield site. It is a wide expanse of tarmac and concrete adjoining the A3. This could helpfully be developed into a village and have amenities for social housing, a traveller site and could be developed in a stand alone way which would not affect the neighbourhood as a road would be made which could link to the A3. I understand that this is not your favourite as it will incur more expense as a road will need to be made. However, it is here that all sections of the community can have their housing needs met for the minimum of trouble to the neighbours and to the landscape.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

There is no allowance for the infrastructure - the school is overloaded as is the GP surgery, car parks etc… there are not enough green spaces for playgrounds in West Horsley and the roads cannot take any more traffic. in addition, the roads are liable to flooding as are the fields. I don’t think it is necessary to build on a field or green space especially when there are brownfield sites available.

I am concerned that because the landowners want to sell and the developers want to build, the Council will go ahead without considering the local people. They are keen to tick boxes for housing needed in our area. The Green Belt exists to prevent this so that green spaces can be respected and preserved for reason of health - less car pollution and also mental health with more space to help people to feel well and have a chance to go into open spaces. The council need to think about playgrounds and footpaths and bridleways. The landowners have been very bad at allowing people to access footpaths. The green belt belongs to the community and should be preserved not eroded. This plan would mean that the green belt boundary would be moved and so would lead to much more development with houses popping up everywhere. Everyone will want to make a quick buck.

East Horsley. Similar to West Horsley - there is not the infrastructure to support further development and the roads are impassible as it is. Near the Hotel-Ramada development is a possibility if done sensibly and to support local people rather than large 5 bedroomed houses that our children won’t be able to afford.

1. Moving The Raleigh school-in theory this is a good idea - I live in Northcote Crescent. But not at the expense of the Green Belt. Most of the children who go to the Raleigh don’t live in the village. I hope that you take into account that the villagers have to live with a decision on this when you look at the responses as the Raleigh school have encouraged all parents to respond and they are not all residents.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I think that you need to think very carefully about the aim of what you are trying to achieve if you remove the green belt. There isn’t the infrastructure and people’s lives will be negatively affected if you go ahead. Brownfield sites are one thing but building on open fields will achieve long term problems for which there are no solutions offered by the council.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPI) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.
I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

Re Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016)

As a long term resident of Ockham I am writing to object strongly to the continued inclusion of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM), as a strategic site in the proposed new local plan.

The latest planning application for FWA/TFM was unanimously rejected by Guildford Borough Council, on April 8th 2016, for very good reasons and this site should be removed from the local plan.

In particular I object strongly to the proposal to remove FWA/TFM from the Green Belt, which has a very important and well known role. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated. I object to the fact that not enough attention has been paid to the environmental and ecological value of the site.

Please take seriously the very large number of valid objections you will receive and remove FWA/TFM from the draft local plan.

I object to the threats which the proposal poses to Ockham and surrounding villages. There is no way that the small local roads could cope with the huge increase in traffic which would be caused by the development. There are already severe problems on the A3 and M25 every day with frequent accidents and the pollution levels are extremely high. The trains are already overcrowded and it can be impossible to park at Horsley station during the day.

I am writing to object very strongly to the Proposed Local Plan and I support the objections to the changes in the Plan that have been summarised on behalf of the residents by Ockham Parish Council.

I object very strongly to the inclusion of the proposed development on Three Farms Meadow (A 35) in the Local Plan, for several reasons:

I object because of the appalling traffic congestion that would result on the A3 and on local roads from the development. The queues on the A3 around Guildford are already miles long twice a day on most days and the junction (10) with the M25 is already one of the most congested junctions in the county. There have been many serious accidents on these roads in the last two years.

I object to building on the invaluable green belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object because of the increased pollution that would occur. The pollution levels on the A3 and near to the A3 are already far too high.

I object because this site is still included in the Local plan despite thousands of objections from local residents and statutory bodies, including Guildford Borough Council.

I object because the local station car parks are already full on weekdays. There is no way that dozens more people could park at Horsley or Effingham Junction stations.

I wish these objections to be fully taken into consideration and I strongly request that the proposed development on Three Farms Meadow should be removed from the Proposed Local Plan.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

My wife and I would like to express our strong objections to the latest version of the Local Plan proposing the moving of the green belt boundary behind Shalford Village Hall to extend the village settlement boundary, purely to allow potential for future housing development.

We moved to Poplar Road in Shalford on retirement after 40 years in London, due largely to the unspoilt character of the local Surrey Hills villages in the Green Belt with AGLV status, and yet close to the excellent facilities of Guildford and Godalming.

Any new housing developments in this area would undoubtedly result in putting strain on the existing local roads and infrastructure and specifically, being in an elevated position behind the village hall, tennis courts and bowling green, themselves being very valuable village resources and so overlooking the village green, from which they would be clearly visible, will destroy the present rural backdrop, coupled with totally unacceptable and increased congestion in Chinthurst...
Lane which is already under considerable pressure with increased safety risks to residents from rat-run traffic, irrespective of any future parking restrictions.

Any proposed development would only provide benefits to the present landowner, builders and new occupants, with detriment to the village appearance and certainly no benefit to existing Shalford residents and as such, we would reiterate our objections to the granting of any approvals to this proposal.

The development of a care home and the building of 140 homes on the fields off Keens Lane should be stopped because:

1. Once you have built on the land the fields will be lost forever, the area is Green Belt and therefore it must be protected.
2. A family of deer live and migrate across the field twice a day. You will therefore be destroying their habitat.
3. Keens Lane is narrow and dangerous to drive down at the moment without the added traffic that 140 houses will create.
4. This area is near Whitmoor Common, a site of Specific Scientific Interest.

I wish to raise my objections to a series of ridiculous proposals in the recently proposed Guildford Local Development Plan.

I STRONGLY OBJECT to the removal of Send Village from the designated Green Belt. The Green Belt was meant to be a long term planning process that ensured stability of the environment for the benefit of local people and avoid urban sprawl. Instead the proposed plan compromises these laudable objectives for short term gains at the expense of the local communities. The continual breaking-up and moving around of designated Green Belt areas is a travesty of the original intent and severely undermines the countryside that remains in Surrey. If the proposed plan is carried out Send will become part of growing urban sprawl and the whole character of the area will be ruined. This is not what local people want and need.

I STRONGLY OBJECT to the proposed building of 400 houses and 7000m² industrial space at Garlick’s Arch. This is an unbelievably large development for the area. The road systems are already up to and beyond capacity and the extra road traffic from both cars and lorries will be unbelievably bad for congestion and the environment. Undoubtedly this will ruin the aspect of the focal area with regard to both Send Marsh and Burnt Common. This is a development totally disproportionate to local needs and will overwhelm local infrastructure.

I STRONGLY OBJECT to a new interchange for the A3 at Burnt Common. This will be the final death knell for the Send/Ripley area with a huge increase in traffic transiting through an inadequate road system. It will massively increase noise and pollution levels and will no doubt further extend the effect of the tarmac desert that is the A3.

General. Ultimately, all the above extravagant developments are for the benefit of outsiders and not the local community. Guildford Borough Council is reacting to the demands of forces outside the communities it is meant to be serving. In doing so it is even going against the stated commitment of central government to protect the Green Belt. The consequent massive negative impact on local residents is being ignored. Guildford Borough Council should concentrate on satisfying the genuine needs of the borough's population through much smaller scale and more spread out developments in sympathy with the local environment. It should be serving those who ultimately elect them to office. Developments should not be disproportionately impacting on one area of the borough. Surrey already bears the scars of much thoughtless and unnecessary development. Continued proceedings along these lines will result in the local population ensuring that only those councillors and parties who are sympathetic to local needs are elected in future.

1. I object to Policy A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane. The 33% increase in number of homes proposal is far too much for these small lanes which are already jam packed at rush hour. The increase in numbers from 46 to 60 homes is a blatant ignoring of the deep objections by all the local community. It is a serious erosion of Green Belt in an area of scenic natural beauty and will make the area less attractive to the River Way Navigation canal users, walkers and tourists. Drainage in an area that is already waterlogged in winter will be further exacerbated causing more problems to the neighbourhood.

1. I object to Policy A43, Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh. This is Green Belt land and should not be touched for development at all. It provides a green lung between the pollution and noise of the A3 and the communities of Sendmarsh and Burnt Common. Building on this lane will exacerbate health issues in the local community in particular hose relating to respiratory problems and stress. This policy ignores the thousands of strong objections. By the local communities. This area includes ancient woodland this is rare in South East England. The development will lead to urban sprawl with the joining up of Ripley and Send. The building of 400 homes in this area will overwhelm the local road system which is already at its limit during peak times (e.g. turning right from Send Marsh Lane onto the Old Portsmouth Road can take 20-30 minutes at rush hour in the mornings before these additional homes are included). The land is not suited to development due to its Flood Zone 2 allocation and need to be decontaminated of load accumulated over fifty years. Also, the Council has not proven the need for Travelling Showpeople plots. The bottom line is that the Guildford Borough Council has not provided evidence for exceptional circumstances to justify development of this Green Belt Land.

1. I object to Policy A53, Burnt Common, London Road. This was deleted from the Local Plan 2014 draft because of all the local communities’ objections and should not be resuscitated. Guildford Borough Council have not provided exceptional circumstances for building on this Green Belt Land and there are better alternatives at Slyfield Industrial Estate and other locations in Guildford where relevant infrastructure already exists. This policy change contradicts the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment which shows a reduction in demand for industrial lane for the whole borough. The implementation of 7,000 square metres of industrial and/or warehousing will bring gridlock to the local roads.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) - Allocation A35- for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings.

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:
I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to: The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking.

The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars

The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads

The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements

The Village of Cobham attracts many visitors with its shops and restaurants and the most direct route from the area of Ockham is via Ockham Lane. This road was built for easy access to Cobham for use by the local residents, it is very narrow with no footpaths or cycling track and is only suitable for light traffic due to having very many bends and blind corners. It passes through Ratchford and a flood plain, it is very often closed due to flooding. The danger that any increase in traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them) has to be considered.

The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement words on due to start until 2019 at the earliest

The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPJL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.
I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy(A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to Policy A43a, the proposed on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common as this will inevitably cause traffic chaos on the local road network throughout Ripley, Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon, with absolutely no possibility of mitigation due to the nature of our rural roads and lanes.

We note that the Proposed Submission Local Plan includes the statement “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt”. We fully and unequivocally support this policy. However, unfortunately GBC appears to be in breach of this same policy through the housing policies it has set out in the Proposed Submission Local Plan, whereby some 65% of developments will be made on land that is currently Green Belt.

Further to the EHPC letter of objection (of June), we agree and endorse the reasons for objection raised in their response. It is our view also that:

We have strong concerns about the Proposed Submission Local Plan and the evidence and assumptions which support it. In particular, we do not agree with the scale of the house building programme which is being proposed by GBC. The target outlined represents a 25% increase in the housing stock of the borough, whilst we note that the Office of National Statistics (“ONS”) projects a population increase of some 15% for Guildford Borough over this same period.

OBJECT. The strength of public opinion on this matter has already been felt but it appears to have been ignored by the Council. Building a new town of 2000 homes in the middle of the Green Belt would have terrible consequences for the environment and for current residents. The impact on roads (during the building and when the town is up and running) would be atrocious. Commuters would have to travel to work via car and/or train. Horsley and Effingham stations would see extra commuters. Local shops in Horsley are likely to attract yet more customers, which is great in theory but as the only way here is by car, where will they park? Where will the children of the new town be educated? Which surgery will they use? It cannot be sustainable development if the infrastructure cannot cope. It is unsustainable.

OBJECT. I object to the scale of the building work being proposed for East Horsley – a increase of 36% - and to the fact that the four proposed sites are currently all within the Green Belt. I object because of the strain it would place on current infrastructure and because it would destroy the character of the village. The Council seems committed to pushing back settlement boundaries to provide more greenfield sites for new housing. In short, to destroying the Green Belt.

Transport OBJECT. As I have already stated, the infrastructure of East Horsley is the main reason for objecting to the Council's proposals. The roads are already congested, are generally narrow, with potholes. During heavy rains, the drains block and flooding results. The local primary school, the Raleigh, is at capacity as is the local secondary school, the Howard of Effingham. I understand that Horsley Medical Centre is also at capacity. Forcing a further 593 new homes (from the 11 development sites identified for East and West Horsley) into the village will have terrible results for everyone who lives here. Add in the proposed development of a new town at Wisley airfield and it is apparent that the infrastructure cannot cope.

Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty OBJECT. The vague, undefined "exceptional circumstances" clause will allow the Council to develop in the Surrey Hills Area in the future. This indeed weakens the protection currently afforded to the Surrey Hills.

Green Belt OBJECT. I object to the proposal to inset East Horsley within the Green Belt. East Horsley is exactly the type of rural village the Green Belt was designed to protect – rural village with narrow winding lanes, lots of green open space etc. The Council’s plans will lead to the village becoming a suburb of Guildford, destroying East Horsley’s character. I also object to the proposed boundary changes for the village and the removal of Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt on the pretext of meeting the Council's "unfulfilled housing need" - this is not an "exceptional circumstance".

Dear sirs

I wish to record my objections to these proposals on the following grounds:

- So far no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the site from the Metropolitan Green Belt
- There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land.
• I seriously object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.

• I also object to the disproportionate allocation of a proposed increase in housing to the nearby localities of Ockham, Ripley, the Horsleys and Effingham.

• The Local Plan as drafted poses a threat to the historic rural settlements of Ockham, Hatchford and Downside.

• The plan calls for Ockham, a hamlet of 159 residences to be subsumed into development, on presently open land, with 2,000 dwellings and other urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• I object to the potential harmful impact on transport, local roads and road safety by the suggested development. The result of an additional 2,000 homes would be an estimated 4,000 additional cars together with other vehicles, including HGVs, to service the development. There would be an increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25 and the junction of those as well as local roads. The current planning application by RHS Wisley would already have significantly added to visitor traffic. Any proposed secondary schooling would add additional congestion.

• There is a serious lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley could not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In the refused planning application there had been a suggestion that Cobham & Stoke D’Abernon Station could be used. That or use of stations further north at Weybridge or Walton would increase congestion and pollution on local roads in Elmbridge and I know as a resident of that area that the roads simply cannot accommodate more traffic without serious consequences.

• I am very worried that the issue of air quality is not being taken seriously. Air pollution in this area in the north of the Borough of Guildford and the south of the Borough of Elmbridge and particularly near the M25/A3 junction already exceeds EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic would worsen the situation, affecting the health of all current and future residents.

• I object to insufficient consideration being given to the environmental and ecological value of the site and the area around it, taking account of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

Objections are supported by the unanimous rejection of application no 15/P/00012 by the Planning Committee at Guildford Borough Council on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of Planning Officers. The Planning Report identified the serious concerns now being highlighted.

The local plan also proposes the development of Clockbarn Nursery and Garlick’s Arch. The additional traffic congestion and demand for additional school places will pose significant demand on already stretched local services and further undermine the quality of life that the current residents enjoy. I particularly object to the proposal for 40 houses and traveller’s pitches at Send Hill. The road access and local services are not sufficient and would be a blight on the local area.

I have a number of points to make about the proposed extra housing around the area of Send and Ripley. It would be nice to receive answers to specific questions rather than an automated answer that goes to every writer. I refer specifically to Garlick's Arch (Policy A43) and Burnt Common (Policy A58).

Does this area actually require more housing? I have heard that this is not so.

If it really is so, I'm not against either of these areas having more houses, on condition that my points (c) and (d) are acted upon, with information about your ideas and plans; nothing has so far appeared.

It must surely be obvious to anybody, as I've said before more than once, that if you build 400 more houses, that means 700 more cars. And yet, at an AGM of our road's Association some years ago (Boughton Hall Avenue is a private road) someone from GBC actually said that 'planning for housing is obtained first, and the infrastructure will follow'. What rubbish! So, to my next point:

If you wish to add housing, what about roads? Newark Lane (and therefore central Ripley) is an appalling snarl-up every morning; make it one-way? Then what about the other way? Re-instate traffic lights at Burnt Common roundabout? Create a north-bound access to A3 to the south of that roundabout, to ease the pressure on Ripley? Add traffic lights to the A2215/Send Marsh road junction? Make the A247 through West Clandon a B road, so that you are then able to add traffic calming devices? It seems to me to be essential that all these points need to be considered before you begin to add more houses, yet no mention of any of these points ever appears in what we read.

Houses, please, not travellers' pitches or industry. Industry can be added to Slyfield,

I object to the way that a “need” for student accommodation has been added to the “housing need” figure of 13,860 - a fluctuating figure as students only need the housing for 8 months of any year and in any case have no intention of living in the villages. Housing of this nature should be located on what is a very spacious University Campus where I am sure much of the revenue would be directed.

I wish to object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan and the limited consultation period. I do not believe that Guildford Borough Council have followed the correct process and I object to the last minute inclusion of new sites with less than 2 weeks notice.

I strongly object to the removal of the villages of Ripley, Clandon and Send from Green Belt protected status. I believe you have no basis to do that and that it will permanently destroy the identity of our villages, making roads through and surrounding those villages permanently congested.

I particularly object to the idea that the plan will being to effectively merge all the villages along the A3 from the M25 to the Hogs Back. It will destroy the open amenity of the borough and further congest the A3. This road is regularly a source of gridlock and this already has a detrimental effect on surrounding roads as vehicles search to find alternative routes. As a resident in Send I regularly witness major traffic hold-ups on the Send Road which acts as a link between Guildford and the A3 and Woking. The photos are a typical sight during rush hour in Send NOW and will only get worse.

I object to the planned building of 400 houses and the industrial site on the Green Belt at Garlick's Arch site at Burnt Common, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances - I understood that Green Belt land is intended to be considered an all but permanent demarcation; it is not meant to be a temporary arrangement subject whims of a local council.

I feel particularly strongly about (against) the development of 45 houses at Clockbarn Nurseries as I work at the offices further along Tannery Lane. The road is clearly little more than single track in places and even at 30mph (the signage currently used) is dangerous to pedestrians walking up and down it, with limited paving available at the head of the road only. At the entrance to Tannery Lane a combination of residences and a motor business mean that a number of vehicles can regularly be seen parked on both sides of the Lane,as indeed are they often along Send Road. This is a very often a very difficult junction to get in and out of during the working week and would be made much worse by the addition of 64 houses. In the opposite direction the road is much more of a single track, with little opportunity of expansion. This really hasn't been thought through at all. Given that I believe planning permission has already been granted for the Marina along Tannery Lane - which will undoubtedly generate traffic - I do not see this as at all feasible.

The huge development at Garlick's Arch is also poorly planned. Aside from the area having a particular conservation sensitivity , covered as it is in ancient woodland, the site is prone to flooding. The idea of putting 7000 sqm of industrial space there seems particularly inappropriate, especially with the nearby Slyfield site still relatively under-utilised and with space available.

During the planning meeting held in Send recently a number of speakers decried the 'solution' being offered for development of the A3 in this area. Apparently the new interchange would offer nothing to route traffic away from those roads in the vicinity which currently direct traffic to the A3. Indeed this interchange would serve only to further burden the roundabout complex at Burnt Common.

I object to the way that a "need" for student accommodation has been added to the "housing need" figure of 13,860 - a fluctuating figure as students only need the housing for 8 months of any year and in any case have no intention of living in the villages. Housing of this nature should be located on what is a very spacious University Campus where I am sure much of the revenue would be directed.

As if Send wasn't already the target for some pretty ridiculous development plans, GBC have now come up with an idea of squeezing in additional properties at Send Hill. This is a popular spot amongst local residents for dog walkers and ramblers and the community has worked hard to make this little space a genuine amenity to local people. The site is not large enough for the proposed use. Send Hill is a single track country road and too narrow to provide sufficient access to the site or accommodate the potential new levels of traffic the proposed development would bring.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would impact the nature reserve nearby. The proposed site is a quality green belt amenity area within countryside and would be spoilt forever by development. I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed number of houses potentially could result in a significant number of extra cars in Send Hill which already suffers from congestion on occasion, especially with parents doing the school run.

It seems to me that GBC is determined to target Send as a site for development. It is palpably not suited to such plans as anyone who is prepared to visit the village at rush hour would witness. Send is a pleasant village to those who currently live there but with its amenities are already stretched as its stands (transport, doctors surgery and schools). As residents of Send we are equally determined to stand fast in our objection to ill considered further development and strive to protect the area we call home. It has a rich heritage, its Green Belt status has attracted a loyal following who have paid a premium to retain its beauty. We will continue to do so.

Finally, could you please confirm receipt of my objections.

I object to Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15. I do not think Send Business Park should be inset from greenbelt land. It is in a beautiful quiet rural lane in an area of outstanding natural beauty which is why we all have chosen to live and work here. There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions and as it is. This is, and should remain an area of outstanding beautiful countryside adjacent to the Wey Navigation.

I write to voice our objections to the development plan for the Horsleys. The plan to develop a massive 593 new houses in the area over the next 5 years seems to be out of proportion with the national estimate for population growth. It will have a detrimental affect on schools and medical facilities and will massively change the feel of the green belt area.

I am writing to strongly object to your proposal to include the above application for 2,000 new dwellings within your local plan at the site of the former Wisley Airfield.

This site comes under the Metropolitan Green belt and I am not aware of any circumstances that justify its removal from it. The whole point of the Green belt is that it is protected land to prevent the spread of urban development destroying the natural countryside not to mention harming already endangered wildlife and ecologically sensitive areas that have been damaged by increased levels of traffic and subsequent pollution.

The addition of this development will have a severe impact on the already congested rural lanes and roads around the area, not to mention severely burden the small villages and station car parks already struggling to accommodate the high levels of parking required. There is already an application in place for RHS Wisley which will increase visitor traffic and this will be compounded by an additional 2,000 dwellings adding what could be as many as 4,000 cars to the road network, bearing in mind many modern homes and families have at least 2 cars per household, if not more.

I urge the Planning Committee to consider the detrimental affect a development of this magnitude will have on this rural area and the environment and reject the application forthwith.

Site A43 – I object to the proposal of potentially 400 Homes and 7000 sq m of industrial and warehousing use. I object on 3 grounds as follows:-

The number of 400 is completely out of proportion to the Send area existing population.

   The infrastructure is already inadequate as detailed for Site A43a.

   The site includes a large area of ancient woodland which cannot be replaced.

Site A43a - I object to the proposed new northbound slip roads. The volume of traffic at present using the A247 is already excessive both morning and evening with extensive traffic queues in both direction on the A247 creating significant pollution and the use of rat runs attempting to avoid the queues. New slip roads can only increase this as traffic attempts to join and leave the A3.

I object to the removal of large areas of villages from the Green Belt. I moved to this area because the area was protected by the Green Belt from excessive development. The villages are vital to the health of Guildford as a borough maintaining the rural feel of the borough. Green Belt status should not be removed from any area without full examination of alternative sites to meet the exceptional need of the development. Removing the status removes the requirement to carry out this examination. The character of the villages within Guildford Borough boundary do make a significant contribution to the openness of the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (

I object to the lack of any evidence for the alleged housing need numbers

I object to the lack of any provision for new schools. Every year children from the villages of Send and Ripley are being sent to schools miles away from home. This leaves parents in the impossible position of travelling miles to school and some inevitably with very long journeys, how can this be good for the child not withstanding the carbon impact it has.

I object to the fact that the Doctors surgeries in the area are already stretched and there does not appear to be any immediate provision for this to be rectified.

I object to the planned new on/off ramp on the A3 traffic is already horrendous through the village and there only has to be an accident anywhere near the M25 junction for a vast amount of cars to exit the A3 and drive through the villages to try and beat the traffic. On some mornings it is a horrendous experience just trying to get out onto the Portsmouth Road in Send.

I am writing to lodge my objections to the draft local plan 2016.

I object to the removal of villages including Send, Ripley and Clandon from Green Belt. This simply seems to be an attempt to get a foot in the door for future mass scale building which I would advocate is not needed.

I object to any erosion of Green Belt.

I object to what seems to be a disproportionate amount of development in one area of the Borough. These plans will have a negative effect on the villages which would lose their identities essentially it appears that they would merge into one big sprawl.

I object to the last minute inclusion of new sites with less than 2 weeks notice and with very limited consultation time giving residents very little time to object. One could almost go so far as to suggest that this last minute inclusion in particular the site at Garlicks Arch where hundreds of houses are suggested is underhanded. Why have these sites now suddenly been added, why were they not included in the last draft plan. How can the council seem to simply appear to keep changing their minds regarding sites. Is it on the basis that if you do it often enough people will get fed up having to lodge objections, get worn down by the whole process thus leaving the council a clear path to build!

• I object to all erosion of the Green Belt
• I object to any “in setting” (ie removal) of any villages from the Green Belt
• I object to the disproportionate amount of development in one area of the borough.
• I object to the limited consultation period
• I object to last minute inclusion of new sites with less than 2 weeks’ notice. This is a devious way of conducting business
• I object to the lack of any evidence for the alleged housing need numbers
• I object to the lack of immediate provision for new schools
• I object to the lack of any immediate provision for doctors surgeries
• I object to the 40 houses and two travellers pitches at Send Hill. This land is not fit for anyone to live on as it is landfill land and I believe has asbestos buried in it
• Also who on your council would have travellers pitches next to their houses? The truth is none! Examine your consciences please

Objection to Site A22

The fields by Keens Lane, in the Guildford Borough Council Draft Local Plan for the development of a care home plus 140 homes should be removed for the following reasons;

1. The fields are Green Belt and must be protected because once you have built on the land there is no going back.
2. We have families of deer in the field and they follow a path back and forward across the field on a daily basis. It would be a great shame to lose this beautiful sight.
3. Keens Lane is too narrow to support the extra traffic, it’s already quite dangerous for our children to walk down going to get the school bus in the morning/afternoon so with extra traffic you could be looking at fatalities.
Do you want this to happen!

4. The roads going into Guildford from this end of town are too narrow to support a bus lane and cannot support the extra traffic that the new homes would bring.

3. All these new houses would be too close to Whitmoor Common which is a Site of Special Scientific Interest.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks’ notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space. from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because the site has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding.

I object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

I object to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 which are all already at 100% capacity.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- The increase to 60 homes in place of 45 homes is 33% more and too much

- It will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch because:

- It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
- There is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location
- It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no “exceptional circumstances” exist
- It will cause over-development of our village and the number of homes is excessive
- It is exquisite ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth 1
- It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
- It is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation
- It is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over fifty years
- It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads of Send and Ripley+

I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because:

- It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
- The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
- There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
- The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt
- The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
- It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing with my objection to the new local plan affecting the village of Send.

I have written previously to object, and I do not feel that this plan addresses any of the issues that I raised at that point.

The village is currently overwhelmed with traffic at peak times during the day, and any further traffic, in particular larger vehicles and lorries, will bring the roads to a standstill. There are many residents required to park on the road side which means it is very difficult for cars to pass at times, nevermind industrial vehicles. Even more worryingly, with 2 schools and a park on the main village road, I am surprised by the current lack of speed restrictions and protection to those walking on the pavements or needing to cross the road - this will only get worse as the number of cars increases potentially by 2x the numbers of house you are proposing. I already do not feel safe walking along the pavements in the village with my children as they are very narrow and the volume and speed of traffic is an accident waiting to happen, of which I have heard of many near misses from other parents at the school. The additional traffic will not only cause issues to the main road through Send but also the narrow lanes around the village in particular Send Hill.

The amenities in the village will also not be able to cope with the increased population. It is already incredibly difficult to get a doctors appointment at the Villages Medical Centre, and you are proposing 1000+ additional residents.

Finally, I'm objecting in regards to the proposal to build on greenfield space when there are brownfield sites available that should be considered ahead of spoiling the countryside that makes this county so special.
I am writing to strongly object to the new Local Plan and in particular the proposal to remove the Horsley’s from the Green Belt.

I can see no sound reason for the Horsley’s being included in an urbanisation of land outside the M25. This is wholly inappropriate and unjustified. The Horsley’s have from early times been a rural village and in the 1920’s developed into a rural retreat with dormitory accommodation for London business workers.

The village infrastructure is unable and unsuited to support any further expansion.

1. The transport links are at capacity
   1. The trains into London are full to capacity well before they reach their destination at commuter times and the train companies keep extending the travel times to London in order to meet the timetable.
   2. The train station car park is full to capacity already and there is no scope for increasing capacity.
   3. The M25 from junctions 8 to Heathrow and beyond to the M40 are some of the most congested roads in the country and increasing housing supply at or near junction 10 at the Horsley’s, Wisley, Burpham and Clandon is wholly inappropriate and ill conceived.
   4. The Local roads are unsuitable for increased capacity. The B2039 Ockham road north and South is already too narrow for existing traffic with pinch points at Bishopsmead Parade, Conisbee’s butchers and just south of Station Parade and before Forest Road on Ockham Road South where traffic is reduced to single file if a lorry or coach is on the road. Furthermore the Rail Bridge on Ockham road south has recently been the subject of a Lorry collision as it is a low bridge.

2. The Village infrastructure is already stretched to capacity.
   1. The local state schools are at capacity the Raleigh and the Howard of Effingham. There is no longer a guarantee that parents resident in the Horsley’s wanting their children to attend these schools are able to get them enrolled.
   2. The Medical centre is already at capacity and there is inadequate parking for patients.
   3. The local shops on Station parade have insufficient car parking capacity for existing residents and there is no room for expansion of parking facilities.

3. The proposed increases in capacity have not been thought through correctly. A 35% increase in housing capacity exceeds the increase of any other borough. This combined with the proposed developments in neighbouring areas of Wisley, Burpham, Clandon and Effingham is wholly inappropriate and unsustainable for both Local infrastructure and the National M25 that serves the area. We do not need to urbanise our Greenbelt and gridlock our countryside, when high speed rail networks can spread the population expansion away for the already overcrowded South East.

I strongly object to the Local plan for 2016.

I OBJECT to the building of 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery because of the inadequate access and increased traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and winding, with limited passing places and visibility, to take any further traffic loads. The junction with Send Road is already over-crowded and hazardous both when turning in to Tannery Lane, or exiting on to Send Road. Planning permission has already been granted for 64 apartments at the Tannery and for building the Marina, both of which will already create additional burdens on the tiny lane and its traffic load and further development will only exacerbate this situation.

I OBJECT to the building of 7000 sq metres of industrial space and 400 houses at Garlick’s Arch opposite Send Marsh Road. The site floods regularly and is covered by ancient woodland, up to 500 years old, which is home to a variety of wildlife. The industrial space is not required and the additional heavy loads of commercial traffic will need to pass through Ripley village in order to gain access to the A3 and M25. There is already provision for commercial space at Slyfield industrial estate and this should be fully developed before additional sites within Green Belt locations are used. With regards to the 400 houses at Garlick’s arch, the currently existing brownfield sites within Guildford and its surrounding areas should be fully utilised before any housing is agreed within Green Field sites. Guildford has refused to share the methodology behind calculating the upcoming housing requirements and therefore no weight should be given to the use of these calculations when planning additional housing capacity.

I further OBJECT to the development at Garlick’s Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks’ notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. Send would need to accommodate the traffic for the proposed 2000 new houses at Wisley Airfield, 2000 new houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham as well as the 1850 proposed new houses at Blackwell Farm. Much of the traffic between these sites, the A3 and M25 would need to pass through the already congested roads in Send and Send Marsh, which are already overloaded with existing local traffic. Noise and pollution levels within Send and Send Marsh are already at excessive levels and the proposed interchange would only worsen this situation.

I OBJECT to the development of 40 houses and 2 Travellers’ pitches at Send Hill. It is an inappropriate location because the narrow width, single access country road provides insufficient access. The subsoil of the proposed site contains documented unsafe landfill waste registered at GBC. Any development of this site would spoil a high amenity area set in beautiful countryside.

I OBJECT to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was intended to be permanent, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework, and there are no special circumstances to justify abandoning it. Send’s Green Belt provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one large conurbation. Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt and this plan reneges upon that election promise. Developers will be quick to take advantage of the removal of Send from the Green Belt and then there will be nothing to stop further development.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery because of inadequate access and traffic. The junction of Tannery Lane with Send Road is even now extremely dangerous with heavy lorries accessing Send Business Park. Tannery Lane is very narrow and winding, there are no hard paved footpaths on the roads leading to this site including Tannery Lane, Papercourt Lane and Polesden Lane, so the elderly and those with prams have to walk on the road dodging traffic. Permission has already been unfortunately granted for a Marina and 64 apartments both of which, when built, will further increase traffic.

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. Due to the proposed developments in the area; of some 6300 dwellings and 7000 sq metres of industrial space, this new interchange will increase traffic in the Parish considerably. The road infrastructure around Send is just not adequate even under present conditions. It would mean grid lock on most roads around Send particularly on Send Road, Polesden Lane and Sendmarsh Road. We were assured by Councillors from Guildford at a recent Local meeting that the local road infrastructure would be improved to accommodate the extra traffic however the funds that were stated for this work were wholly inadequate and in any event the present road widths cannot be widened [which in my view would be necessary] due to existing houses on each side.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to building 400 houses and 7000 metres of industrial space at Garlick's Arch, opposite Sendmarsh Road. The ancient woodland will be affected and the area is subject to flooding. The industrial space is not needed and in fact some industrial units on Polesdon Lane are currently vacant. Such space should be allocated to brown field sites for example at Slyfield. The increase in population due to this development will overwhelm the Parish schools and medical facilities and as already mentioned the additional traffic will cause traffic jams particularly at peak times as well as being harmful to the health of those living next to the main highways.

I do not believe that the housing requirements for Guildford have been properly calculated and I understand, have refused to disclose their calculations. It is my belief that there is sufficient brown field sites in and around Guildford that can accommodate much of the housing needs and priority should be given to these sites first.

I am also dismayed and puzzled why Guildford BC should take many months to announce a plan for the parish and then within a few weeks re-issue it with many more dwellings allocated to the Parish and with an extremely short period for the public to comment. As far as I know there has been no explanation for this.

1. I object to Send Village, inclusive of Send, Sendmarsh and Burnt Common communities, being removed from the Green Belt and the loss of the protection from development that this I see no special circumstances to abandon this essential space which provides a haven for wildlife, space for outdoor pursuits, green lungs for those who live here and a buffer to the ever outward spread of Guildford and Woking: Local Councillors and the Conservative Government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt and they should be held to this pledge.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:

- There is an increase in the number of homes now planned which ignores previous objections raised by local people, that there should be no development at all on this site.
- It worsens access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the junction with Send Road.
- It will spoil the views of the countryside especially along the River Wey and further reduce the Green Belt around the village.

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch because:

- It ignores previous objections raised by local people.
- It is in permanent Green Belt and no ‘Exceptional Circumstances’ exist.
- It will cause overdevelopment of the villages of Ripley and Send and the number of homes is excessive.
- It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the Key purpose of Green Belt.
- It will create excessive traffic that will block up the local roads.
The infrastructure of schools, medical facilities, roads, etc have difficulty coping with the present level of population without having the further burden of additional homes.

I object to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads A3/M25 (Policy12)

Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

I object to the local plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

The volume of proposed housing will damage local communities especially Ripley, Send and Clandon and is not sustainable due to lack of infrastructure. There are no rail stations near the proposed developments and no plans to improve the local roads. What about primary schools, doctors and dentists? Where are the thousands of extra cars going to go with no possibility of significant improvements to local roads?

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

There is too much development in Wisley (A35) Ripley/Send (A43) and Clandon (A25). The plan is unbalanced with over 5,000 houses proposed between M25 and Burpham, which will merge all the villages and their identities. This is unfair and unreasonable.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the planned development of sites 46 & 47 within the GBC Local Plan. Please consider the following points below:

I can’t see any evidence from either the GBC or SCC that there is a requirement, all the surrounding schools are undersubscribed (Kings 57% undersubscribed and Ash Manor has spaces for an additional 110 places) – I am sure you have seen the detailed report compiled by Keith Witham which offers you a full breakdown of all the surrounding schools.
Also I can’t believe all these children would travel to the school (as suggested) using the train hence yet another increase in traffic congestion at peak periods of the day within the village.

The case for a New Secondary School in Normandy has not been proven.

2) Transport & Roads.
This site is bounded by the D60 (Glaziers Lane), the C16 (Wanborough Hill and Westwood Lane) and the A323 (Guildford/Aldershot Road)
I can’t see any evidence within the plan, or how these roads could be improved to accommodate the increase in traffic, the village would be gridlocked during most of the day.
Both railway bridges within the village were never intended to handle this amount of traffic and would have real safety issues with lack of visibility and are potential accident hot spots.
There would have to be sufficient road improvements e.g. provision of footpaths and street lighting to improve the overall safety of the road infrastructure.

3) Environmental Issues.
Normandy and Flexford areas has a high water table and is a known area for flooding, and much of this site is water logged, with a number of local residents already experiencing sewage back flow in periods of high rainfall.
My main concern is the impact on the wild life with a number of species habiting in this area including Hedgehogs, Dormice, Great Crested Newts, Barn Owls, Stag Beetles, Skylarks, Common Toads, Common Lizards, Grass Snakes, Adders, Slow worms, Badgers and Bats and the protection of a number of veteran and mature oaks and other trees across the proposed development site.

4) Doctors Surgery
There has been no mention of additional services to accommodate the additional 1100 houses, currently both surgeries Normandy and Fairlands are at full capacity, obtaining an appointment is currently a challenge and would become very difficult once this site has been developed.
I do hope that you take all my considerations seriously as this has a huge impact not only on the people of Normandy and Flexford but also all the surrounding villages.

2. 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery

I object to the building of 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery. Tannery Lane is far too narrow to take any more traffic and will only lead to even further congestion on to Send Road. I live further along Send Road and can confirm that this road is already over its maximum capacity of traffic. Every day traffic is at a ‘stand still’ outside my house and I have to endure the fumes. Many times in one week I have to wait patiently to be allowed out of my drive. Also our school and doctors’ surgery are already over stretched.

400 houses and 7000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch

I object very strongly to this development. I cannot believe that anyone would suggest such an enormous development on this land. There seems to be no joined up thinking here. The A3, the M25 and Send Road already grind to a halt many times each day simply because of the sheer volume of traffic. This not only causes delayed journeys but also air pollution from stationary cars. Such an enormous development can only exacerbate the problem as well as cause other pressures on our village.

5. New interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common

I strongly object to this development. It can only increase the traffic using Send Road from the A3 and the M25. We cannot tolerate any more traffic jams outside our house. It is already unbearable.

4. 40 houses and 2 travelers’ pitches at Send Hill

I object strongly to this development. Send Hill is another country lane that cannot take any more traffic. It is already impossible to drive up Send Hill during school drop off and pick up times. Also the site itself is an old general waste landfill site. Surely it is not wise to build on such a site? The footpath that goes through the site is very widely used and is an exceptionally pretty part of our village. Two travelers’ pitches seem strange. To my knowledge travelers’ enjoy being in larger sites with other travelers. Also this is an exceptionally small area for such a development.

Objections to the Local Plan

I live in the village of Send and I should like to object very strongly to the following issues in the Local Plan:

1. Removing Send from the Green Belt

I object most strongly to the idea of removing Send from the Green Belt. I do not believe that you have the right to do this as Green Belt, by its very definition, is meant to be a permanent feature and protected from property developers. There are no ‘exceptional circumstances’ that require you to remove this status especially when there are a number of undeveloped Brown Field sites in the borough.

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
| 1. | I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches |
| 2. | It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people |
| 3. | There is no demand for travelling show people plots in this location |
| 4. | There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints. |
| 5. | The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required. |
| 6. | This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it. |
| 7. | The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy. |
| 8. | Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided. |
| 9. | The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result. |
| 10. | I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. |
is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.

13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )
The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

I object to the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43) being taken out of the Green Belt and used for development. Government states that need for housing is not an ‘exceptional circumstance’ and therefore there are NO exceptional circumstances to allow building on this site.

I object to the total lack of consultation and last minute addition of (A43) Garlick’s Arch. This came as a complete shock to local residents.

I object to development on the Garlick’s Arch (A43) site as it has wildlife and ancient woodland which has not been taken into account.

I object to development on the Garlick’s Arch (A43) site as it is prone to flooding and therefore unsuitable to build on.

I object to a new proposed industrial site at Garlick’s Arch (A43). It is not needed and there is already room for the proposed 7,000m² at Slyfield where it is already set up for industrial purposes.

I object to removing Send, Ripley, Clandon, Galick’s Arch (A43), Wisley Airfield (A35) and Gosdon Farm (A25) all from the Green Belt as it would produce an unwanted urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to the proposed new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a) as it would cause MAJOR congestion to Send, Ripley and Clandon. These minor roads are already congested at busy times of the day. This proposal would bring a disproportionate amount of through traffic travelling to the A3 and the M25. The roads are not capable of sustaining this increase.

I object to the new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A42a) as the ensuing large amounts of traffic would make the local roads hazardous to the local community due to the lack of paths and cycle lanes. We already have extra cyclists using the small country lanes and roads in this area all the time now since the Olympics and many people visit this area to walk.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 Travellers pitches at Send Hill (A44) because this site is totally new, was not proposed before and has had no consultation beforehand.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 Travellers pitches at Send Hill (A44) because the site is in beautiful Green Belt land which should not be developed on.
I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 Travellers pitches at Send Hill (A44) because access is gained from a small single track country road which is totally inappropriate for regular heavy use.

I object to the proposed development at Send Hill (A44) as it is documented as being unsafe with land fill waste currently being vented.

I would like these objections to be fully taken into consideration and that the Local Plan is amended accordingly.

I object to GBC ignoring the problem of lack of infrastructure in the Send, Ripley, Clandon, Garlick’s Arch (A43), Wisley Airfield (A35) and Gosdon Farm (A25) areas. The existing infrastructure is poor because:-

1. Roads. Our small country roads and lanes are narrow (some single track), have no footpaths and are in poor condition. They are already prone to congestion in some areas (e.g. Send, Ripley and Clandon). The resulting huge amount of extra traffic that these developments will produce will be a total disaster and make the area very dangerous to travel, by car or otherwise.

2. Medical facilities. The local medical facilities are already at full capacity and some are refusing new patients.

3. Schools. Local schools are oversubscribed and some local children already have to travel out of the area to go to school.

4. Public transport. Bus routes are few and far between and often cancelled. The small local stations are always overcrowded and car parking is over spilling into residential roads.
Consequently there is obviously no room for all the extra traffic and people these developments will produce.

I object also to the proposed development of Wisley Airfield.

Apart from proposals to add more house building in a village now bursting at the seams, the proposed development of Wisley Airfield with 2,000 houses makes a mockery of the planning and development process. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

a. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars

b. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads

c. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements

d. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)

e. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest

f. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I write to object to the proposal to remove East and West Horsley from the Green Belt and to extend the boundaries of the Settlement areas of the Horsleys, for the following reasons:

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Traffic in the village and surrounding areas is heavily congested with a volume of vehicles through the village damaging road surfaces and too heavy for small country roads to cope with. They were certainly not built to carry 32 ton trucks which constantly damage trees and roadside vegetation because of their size and height. (Rail bridge was hit by a large lorry recently causing closure of Ockham Road through the village for several days, not for the first time).

The A3 and the B246 Guildford/Leatherhead Road for example, are almost daily at a standstill, as is the M25 intersection at Junction 10.

Parking in East Horsley has become impossible with no scope to ease the problem.

Commuters using the train service find the station car park full every day. Shoppers in East Horsley have great difficulty in parking and on occasion I have simply gone back home because I could not park.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT ESPECIALLY TO 6 POLICIES: A36, A37, A38, A39, A40 & A41:

- Amount of new housing far exceeds local need.
- Housing density excessive when compared with existing development.
- Would transform the Horsleys into a sizable town, something for which no case is made.
- No local support.
- Collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough not considered. Should not be treated as isolated, separate sites.
- Total amount of new building out of scale with the planned development elsewhere the borough, especially less sensitive urban areas not protected by Green Belt.
- Sites unsustainable. Key infrastructure lacking. No adequate provision is made to increase it – e.g. poor wastewater capacity, lack of schools, absence of traffic management plan, flooding.
• No account taken of additional impact of Wisley Airfield site on Horsleys.
• Extension of settlement boundaries too permissive. Horsleys characterised by streets with development along only one side of the road. Policies allow too many adjacent green fields to be developed by squaring off boundaries and claiming they don’t contribute to Green Belt “openness”.
• Green Belt gap with neighbouring settlements hugely narrowed, especially if Wisley Airfield is built on.
• Will harm compliance with NPPF 81 – e.g. by making cycling (including Prudential cycle races) too dangerous, ruining the rural setting of Waterloo Farm campsite, destroying the ambience of Grange Park Opera’s new “Theatre in the Woods”.
• Policy A40 especially unviable because of high water table and poor drainage, leading to regular winter flooding.
• Safe access and egress at Site A40 unachievable, owing to flooding, high speed limits, poor sight lines, narrow access to existing properties, inadequate pavements for elderly and schoolchildren, increasing use by recreational cyclists etc.

• Should not be in the plan for all the reasons the Planning Committee rejected the identical recent proposal by Wisley Investment Properties.
• Irregularity of including this policy in the plan 24 hours before this planning application was rejected (like extending the time allowed for the developers to present their application).
• Unacceptable Conservative Party links between the developers and the Council.
• No Green Belt “exceptional circumstances” presented.
• Not a brownfield site as stated – only 15% of it.
• Proposed SCC waste site ignored.
• Loss of farming land.
• Too near RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath SPA.
• SANG would harm on SPA.
• Will aggravate traffic jams at A3 roundabout and M25 Junction 10.
• Unacceptable increase in air pollution.
• No existing public transport and stations miles away.
• No proper traffic data.
• Housing density far too great.
• Over 2,000 houses will swamp and destroy Ockham conservation area, with impact on listed buildings.
• Access confined to inadequate narrow lanes.
• Water table and surface water flooding not considered either for site itself or for downstream areas on River Mole.
• Major impact on neighbouring villages, especially Horsleys.
• No assessment made of collective impact on area of this and 6 Horsley sites.

- No policy of opposing reduction in rural hotel capacity.
- No definition of what added value interventions by Council can make to normal visitor market mechanisms.
- No policy of supporting Guildford countryside as its prime leisure and visitor asset, whose value rises as London gets bigger and busier.
• No vision of what the ideal visitor experience of the borough actually is and how to support its various elements.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT TO POLICY E7 (TOWN CENTRE):

• No statement in policy wording of value of Guildford’s rural setting and views.
• No consideration of Town Centre Master Plan, GVG proposals or station redevelopment plans.
• Proportion of new housing in town far too small. Development pushed into countryside, ruining the latter and harming urban regeneration.
• No brownfield register.
• Too much big retail, despite online shopping revolution and decline of traditional high streets internationally. Futile to try to turn Guildford into Woking or Kingston.
• No measures to support small, niche retailers in town, e.g. through business rates.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT TO POLICY E8 (DISTRICT CENTRES):

• Too much scope to expand rural retail centres to justify major housing expansion across the countryside, despite lack of demand. Will spoil character of villages while harming Guildford’s role as a retail hub.
• No measures to support existing rural shops and services, e.g. through business rates.

I OBJECT TO POLICY H1 (HOMES FOR ALL):

Policy doesn’t set any constraints on building.

Housing mix based on pre-Brexit growth and demographic assumptions and unreliable SHMA that wasn’t put out to formal public consultation and wasn’t scrutinised by Councillors.

Fails to compel University of Surrey to use its thousands of planning permissions and existing space, such as car parks, for student accommodation.

Lets University off the hook of accommodating all its students, so as to free up houses for the most needy in town.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I1 (INFRASTRUCTURE & DELIVERY)

- Infrastructure considered here as an afterthought, rather than pre-condition of development. Should be a key issue for the rest of the plan.
- Excessive housebuilding in countryside not supported by any funding or provision for infrastructure.
- Heavy focus on building on greenfield sites inefficient and unnecessary: cheap for developers but much more expensive for the public who have to fund the infrastructure.
- Draft CIL scale discourages use of brownfield land first.
- No plan for organic increase in existing traffic congestion, let alone once thousands of houses are built across the countryside. Local roads hardly considered. Green Belt being eroded before road widening/improvement plans certain, encouraging over-development of greenfield sites.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I2 (SUPPORTING DTP'S ROAD STRATEGY):

- Doesn't allow for catastrophic increase in traffic resulting from spreading new housing estates across the borough.
- Out of sync with DTp’s strategy: houses to be built and Green Belt destroyed before plans for A3 etc implemented.
- Road plans too optimistic anyway, especially post-Brexit. Probably won’t happen.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I3 (SUSTAINABLE TRANSPORT):

- Just a list of generic measures, not related to real life or the particularities of Guildford.
- Fails to treat sustainability as a constraint. Assumes excessive levels of development proposed in the plan can be supported by sustainable development.
- Unrealistic. Most people can’t or won’t walk or cycle – commuters in a hurry, the elderly, children, people who are unwell or unfit, people carrying heavy shopping or other goods. I.e. most residents!
- Town’s eye view of transport. Ignores scarcity of existing rural public transport and commercial unviability of increasing it. Ignores terrible state of Surrey’s roads, potholes, flooding etc. Ignores extra stress to be created by huge new housing estates in countryside.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT TO POLICY P2 (GREEN BELT):

- No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
- No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
- Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
- Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
- Impact on flood control ignored.
- Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
- Impact on biodiversity ignored.
- Impact on natural heritage ignored.
- Impact on water catchment ignored.
- Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
- Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
- Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
- Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored.
- Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
- Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
- Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
- Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
- “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
- Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
- Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit.
- Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

I OBJECT TO POLICY P3 (COUNTRYSIDE BEYOND THE GREEN BELT):

- Gives Ash and Tongham more protection than rest of borough, including existing Green Belt. But they don’t contribute to preventing London sprawl.
- Special treatment of ward represented by current Council Leader and his predecessor. Politically biased.
- A minor extension of Green Belt in one place does not justify its major destruction elsewhere (the inset villages).

I OBJECT TO POLICY P5 (THAMES BASIN HEATH S.P.A.):

- No mention of Green Belt, Guildford's greatest legacy by far to Sustainable Development. No commitment to protecting it.
- No reference to most of the NPPF Core Planning Principles.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Firstly I would like to say thank you to the team who visited East Horsley Village Hall to present the plan. Tough job given the size of the plan document, scale of the development and the flawed nature of the plan. I also understand that the pressure on development in a county that has such a large proportion of protected areas provides many challenges. Having said that it soon came clear that the team were not able to answer questions to an adequate level and just started repeating that you should write formally with any objections. As such this is exactly what I am doing.

I OBJECT TO POLICY S2 (BOROUGH-WIDE STRATEGY):

- Numbers based on growth and demographic data now invalidated by Brexit.
- No justification given for 13,860 housing figure. Figure based on a secret formula used by consultants and never seen by anyone on the Council or by the public. Council has failed to seek its disclosure.
- 13,860 figure confuses the OAN with a housing target. No definite housing target given, leaving too much scope for the Council to make one up. I can’t understand how we’re being consulted when we don’t know how many houses the Council want to build, taking all the contraints into account.
- Figures based on a Housing Market Area that ignores 2 neighbouring districts (Rushmoor and Mole Valley) and is much too small, since most people commute or travel far outside the Area to shop or study. This distorts the figures: no reason why Guildford needs to build nearly twice as many large housing estates as the rest of Surrey put together, or half of all sites over 100 units.
- High numbers involved would transform character of the borough from mainly rural/Green Belt to urban, creating a corridor of development out of London as per Woking or Croydon.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I am a resident of Send and I am writing to object in the strongest terms to the proposed a number of the proposed developments contained in the Local Plan. I wrote to the Council back in September 2014 in response to the then draft plan (copy attached) with some specific and general objections and concerns. Regrettably, not only has the Council failed to properly address my concerns and objections, it has issued a Local Plan that includes additional new developments that were not the subject of the prior consultation. I therefore wish to re-iterate those objections in full.

In addition, I don’t believe that the case for the effective removal of Send from the greenbelt has properly been made or factually supported by the Council. The housing needs have been grossly exaggerated, the effect of local infrastructure has been totally understated, the effect on local roads and traffic have all but been ignored and the question as to why all of this new development, to the extent it is needed, could not be accommodated using existing brownfield areas within the borough has not been properly answered.

More specifically I object to;

1. The removal of Send from the Green Belt because the village and its countryside provides a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford.

The development at Garlick’s Arch for 400 houses. This has not been the subject of any prior consultation and the need is not evidenced.

The proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

The development at Garlick’s Arch because the site has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding.

I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt.

The village Send provides a green buffer between Woking and Guildford. If this is not protected then all of the land in and around the village will be vulnerable to development. This would destroy the character of the village of Send. Guildford would merge with Woking through a series of urban estates.

I object to the 4-way intersection.
I object to the fact the road infrastructure through Send has not been thought about and the consequences of putting a large interchange on this site would cause gridlock. The amount of traffic this will create through Send is unfeasible as there is only two way street that goes through the centre of the village.

For example, planning for a new town on the former Wisley Airfield "Three Farm Meadows" was unanimously rejected by Guildford planners and then directly put into the Local Plan. This makes the system and procedure a nonsense.

I write with specific concerns about the local plan. I firmly object to the inclusion of the former Wisley Airfield. Three Farm Meadows Foremost is a green belt site which was promised return to agriculture. No consideration has been taken into account of its SPA SSSI & SNCI status within the Thames basin.

The local infrastructure is at full capacity – new road configuration of narrow often flooded lanes would cause chaos to the whole area.

There are no exceptional circumstances to allow the construction of a high rise town in a rural historic village of 150 residences 2000 homes is disproportionate. Again no consideration has been taken into account for public transport already congested railway stations further heavy traffic with excessive pollution.

Guildford planners unanimously rejected this site as unsuitable.

I question the need for this number of homes in the green belt & cannot understand why brownfield sites are not built on first.

Kindly accept my objections to building in an area of natural beauty.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I have worked at RHS Garden Wisley for nearly 10 years, and have lived in Surrey all my life, at contrasting locations such as Croydon, Dorking and Haslemere. I have personal experience of the housing market as a Surrey resident, as do my children. I earn below the national average income and choose to live here because it is beautiful, even if it means sacrificing some life-style choices. I do not want to see this area ruined and become suburban sprawl and a biodiversity desert. I have not seen prices in the rental and buying market rise very much at all over the last five years - indeed I believe they have just fallen following the brexit vote. The devaluing of the pound has suddenly made us an even more attractive market for foreign investment: this is trend does not support the apparent housing problem. We've yet to see the effects of the buy-to-let changes. The Green Belt is as necessary here as the parks are to London. I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
   4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity
7) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane to a 33% increase in housing development because it will impact on the Green Belt. It will increase traffic congestion and pollution and adversely impact surface water run-off.

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch of 400 homes and 6 Travelling showpeople plots which represents an inappropriately large development which will change the character of the village and join up Ripley and Send. The amenity of permanent Green Belt will be degraded, replaced with more traffic congestion, air pollution and potential increased river water pollution from run-off - the site is currently a flood zone 2.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common to build industrial warehousing on the Green Belt for all the reasons stated above and specifically when there are empty units on existing industrial sites in Guildford and Slyfield.

I object to the proposal to inseet Send Business Park from the Green Belt because there is highly restricted traffic access along Tannery Lane and an increase in this would degrade the Green Belt and the countryside along the Wey Navigation.
The value of open countryside in terms of access and views for physical and mental health has never been better documented, and yet it is constantly under attack from developers and insufficiently protected by local government, causing untold stress to local residents and the threat of the loss of amenity to visitors from far and wide, specifically from the urban and suburban conurbations. This, despite years of objections by, collectively, thousands of people in this area.

The assumption that this area is up for grabs, together with the unbelievably wasteful proposal to expand the A3, will forever degrade this area of Surrey and send a signal that the Green Belt has no value other than financial, and that for a very limited range of business interests. I urge the Council to protect our environment and support a sustainable model for all the people and biodiversity that depend on the protection of this landscape.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the site is not large enough to the proposed use.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would cause adverse impact on street parking.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a single track country road and too narrow to provide sufficient access to the site or accommodate the potential new levels of traffic the proposed development would bring.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that send is in green belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a narrow road result in loss of a turning point for vehicles.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would impact the nature reserve nearby. The proposed site is a quality green belt amenity area within countryside and would be spoilt by development.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the existing road and parking infrastructure is already inadequate or under pressure and could worsen with the planned development, reducing quality of life.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that too many houses are proposed to Send/Send Marsh are and the impact on traffic congestion and local services would be unacceptable.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed number of houses potentially could result in 92 extra cars in Send Hill which is already suffering from congestion particularly at school run time.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that this would cause loss of village identity, be detrimental to the community and increased flood risk.
I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that a Wasteland Solutions environmental report on Send Hill dated March 2004 gave evidence of past ponding of water in the excavated area. Further development would disturb water table and increase risk of flooding to my property.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed development site (A44) was used as GBC registered landfill site, not a quarry as listed as reference LLA 2081 in the local plan.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the 1963-8 Ordnance Survey maps of proposed site mark it as "refuse and sag heap". It is therefore unsuitable for such a development on health reasons. I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the 1971 Ordnance Survey maps of proposed site mark it as "refuse tip" prior to when proper licensing/registration was required. The date of the landfill works predates the 1999 EU landfill Directive regulations. I therefore believe that there is a danger that any disturbance would be health hazard due to the unknown materials.

GBC has installed gas monitoring wells on site since July 2000. One well recording methane gas discharge.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that a Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP dated 5 January 2005 identifies the proposed site as GBC recorded landfill site Ref GU/11/LLC with type of waste not identified. The date of the landfill works predates the 1999 EU Landfill Directive regulations. I therefore believe that there is a danger that any disturbance would be health hazard due to the unknown materials.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that a Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP dated 5th January 2005 identifies proposed site GBC recorded landfill site Ref GU/12 with type of waste identified as "unrestricted2. This causes me concern as to what it does contain and dangers if disturbed.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both Envirosearch Report RS1001201-1-1 dated 17th February 2004 and historical map data and information from GBC has identified site as landfill and has "areas of potentially contaminative industrial activities". Development of this site would be a health hazard. The recent news reports of a child dying from seepage of contaminated ground following flooding prove that developing any such sites is a danger to health. The Daily Mail has also recently had an article on how dangers of living near landfill site raises cancer concerns. The paper referenced a study published by the international journal of Epidemiology which tracked 242,000 people living near landfill sites in Italy.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both Envirosearch Report RS11001-1-1 dated 17th February 2004 identifies "potential risk from landfill gas migrations" which I believe is a health hazard.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both Envirosearch Report RS1100201-1-1 dated 17th February 2004 Concludes "potentially contaminative industrial sites identified from analysis" of Ordnance survey maps.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP dated 5 January 2005 identifies proposed site as a local authorised landfill site as licences under Part 11 of Environmental protection Act 1990. The proposed site is not a quarry as specified in.

The GBC Local Plan. Therefore not suitable for the proposed usage.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP dated 5th January 2005 identifies proposed site as potentially contaminative industrial land. With usage of "Heap and unknown constituents". This causes me concern as to what it does contain and dangers if disturbed.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP 5th January 2005 Identifies changes to proposed site could cause potential ground water vulnerability to my property.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Traveller Accommodation Assessment research, purported to have been undertaken in June-July 2012 by Mill Field Services, cannot be so. The Sittingbourne based market research company was dissolved in January 2011 according to the government companies site.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings
I object to the draft Local Plan for the following primary reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the development of the site at Garlick’s Arch which is at risk of flooding. The Plan does not take into proper account the risk of flood risk, as required by National Planning Policy. This area has flooded several times in recent years.

I object to the damage to the environment as a result of the massive scale of the proposed developments. One example, the Garlick’s Arch proposal, would double the size of the local built-up area, and would destroy the ancient woodland on the site, which includes many ancient oak trees.

I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch because there is no need for a new industrial site there when there is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common which could be used instead. A new development on the site would result in the loss of existing businesses, which employ local people and have been for there a long time.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the requirements of local communities. Neighbourhood Plans have not been taken into account. The semi-rural aspect, clean air and country lanes are important to local residents and most want to retain them. Ripley has already accommodated more than a 10% increase in housing in the last few years and it will only take a little more to change its character dramatically. Thousands of new houses are proposed in the immediate vicinity, plus more over the northern border of the borough in Woking. This will mean congested roads and the destruction of the rural aspect.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object because of concern about poor air quality. The massive developments being proposed in the north east of the borough will lead to worse road congestion and therefore to higher levels of air pollution.

I object to the population density of the proposed developments, which are often higher than most city boroughs. This is not a sensible way to treat the countryside.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and the site of Send Prison from the Green Belt. Also the sites of Wisley Airfield and Garlick’s Arch. National Planning Policy requires exceptional circumstances for the Green Belt boundaries to be changed or for the development within Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be removed from the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the borough-wide strategy of the Local Plan because it is poorly considered. The strategy calls for nearly 14,000 houses across the borough of which a completely disproportionate number (more than a third) will be in the rural wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon and Horsley. This will have a permanent detrimental effect on all the communities in these wards. The existing small communities will be merged into an urban sprawl.

• It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously.
• The word ‘minimum’ is a change from the previous ‘maximum’ in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land.
• There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
• The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
• The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
• It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

<td>I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Site A35 – Wisley

I object to the large proposed development of 2000 houses at Wisley Airfield as it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce massive congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Ripley and Send.

To conclude: the draft Local Plan represents a terrible sentence for our villages. We are destined to become a victim of urban sprawl based on an exaggerated housing need. NPPF states that the Green Belt should only be altered in “exceptional circumstances.” There manifestly are no exceptional circumstances in Send.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn. The available road infrastructure simply cannot support it. Tannery Lane is far too narrow to take any substantial traffic. Site A43 – Garlick’s Arch:

I object to the proposed industrial site at Garlick’s Arch. There is no need for such a site. The Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 shows a reduction in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If the Council truly believes there is a need for such a large amount of industrial space it should be located at the current Slyfield site.

I object to the development of the 400 houses at Galick’s Arch. It was included in the Local Plan at the last possible moment, with no prior local consultation. It is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

I also object to the development of the 400 houses at Galick’s Arch on the basis that the site is liable to severe flooding. The ancient woodland is a particularly sensitive area that must not be disrupted in any way.

NPPF states that the Green Belt should only be altered in “exceptional circumstances.” There simply are no eligible exceptional circumstances expressed in the Local Plan or supporting documents. Guildford’s urban brownfield areas must be identified and utilised instead, not only to protect our countryside but also to limit the impact on road traffic yet provide much-needed access for new housing to transport links such as the rail network.

Policy S2:

I object to the exaggerated housing need figure in the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment on which the Draft Local Plan is based. The Council has declined to provide any objective evidence to substantiate the projected housing numbers, which in my view is far in excess of reality. In particular I believe the calculation of foreign students has been wrongly used to inflate the housing need.
Furthermore, the housing number is based on pre-Brexit projections for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards.

I object to the fact that the impact on infrastructure has not been considered sufficiently. Current infrastructure is utterly inadequate to deal with proposed new housing levels. Roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope. Yet no tangible resolution has been proposed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Please find below my objections to the revised draft Guildford Borough Local Plan currently open to consultation.

To start with, I object to the approach to consultation that the Council is taking. The Council withdrew the 2014 draft Local Plan following an outcry from residents. During its re-drafting, instead of arriving at a sensible alternative the Council has changed every major site in Send and added a massive new road junction. It beggars belief that the Council could on one hand state that they listened to residents, whilst on the other hand increase the planned housing levels in the village. Either way, the proposed changes are significant and therefore require another full consultation under Regulation 18, not the short-cut of Regulation 19 which the Council is using.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the lack of provision to improve the current infrastructure which is currently inadequate.
2. I object to the lack of additional parking provisions in the villages – again which are currently inadequate.
3. I object to the 4 way junction to the A3 which will force more traffic through the already overloaded roads, which incidentally are in a very poor state of repair.
1. I object to the Garlick’s Arch development as it does not provide for sufficient Utilities capacity which is currently almost at capacity.
2. I object to the designated 400 houses at Garlick’s Arch as this is in addition to the 13,000 odd already proposed for the Borough.

Policy A43

I object to the above Policy change at Garlick’s Arch which is now 400 homes and 6 travelling show people plots.

Why do the previous thousands of objections appear to be ignored by the Council?

This land is green belt – the Government itself states the following:-

Green Belt serves five purposes:
• to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas
• to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another – Send and Ripley will become one if these homes are allowed to be built.
• to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
• to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns
• to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land

So as there are no exceptional circumstances why are these being ignored in respect of Garlick’s Arch that has been around for hundreds of years.

I have lived in Send Marsh for 21 years and in all that time there has never been a proven demand for Travelling show people spaces.

Already at peak times it is very difficult to get out of Send Marsh Road onto the old A3 and these homes will only generate additional traffic – additionally if there is a problem on the main A3 all the traffic filters down through the old A3.

I do not believe that sufficient thought has been given to the infrastructure of the whole area.

I object to building 400 houses and 7,000 sqm of industrial space at garlics arch opposite send marsh road. the site floods constantly and is covered by ancient woodland, the industrial space is not needed but if it were it should be at slyfield;. Guildford housing requirements have been shown to be grossly exaggerated and they have not refused to disclose their calculations. with proper use of brownfield site, this greenbelt site is not needed!

I object to my village that I’ve lived on for decades being removed from the greenbelt, and I’ve heard countless number of times that it would “be protected” and “intended to be permanent” also many politicians/local government have “promised?” to protect the greenbelt, also there’s a “law” that protects the greenbelt like the grade 1-3 listing for old buildings.

The use of a “Black Box” method which has been used by GBC to derive the housing target is fundamentally flawed. At a recent meeting the leader of the Council was unable or unwilling to shed any light upon the methodology or parameters used within the model. The annual number of new homes required quoted in the draft Local Plan exceeds the needs of residents.

- The Local Plan has not factored in a reduction of student numbers as a consequence of Brexit
- nor does it factor in the housing stock released due to students, currently renting from private landlords, no longer taking out leases from the private sector due to falling student numbers and additional direct University Housing Capabilities.

The Local Plan which does not maximise the use of existing brownfield sites – these should be regenerated and used for housing – in particular the Social Housing which this flawed model does not correctly address. The Brownfield site at Burnt Common should be used for new housing needs and not the greenbelt site at Garlick’s Arch

- The Local Plan does not consider flooding risks (Garlick’s Arch),
- seeks to decimate ancient woodland (Garlick’s Arch),
- does not consider the impact upon wildlife (Garlick’s Arch), and seeks to include industrial usage on a greenbelt site (Garlick’s Arch) rather than using a Brownfield site (Burnt Common)

The creation of ramps to and from the A3 at Garlick’s Arch / Burnt Common (A43A) would exacerbate local traffic problems on roads which already cannot support the existing volume of traffic. The new ramps would generate significant additional flows upon local roads creating numerous rat runs as commuters strive to save additional time. This pressure would not just be felt by the A247 but by narrow lanes e.g. those around East Clandon and Tithebarns Lane in Send.

- The Local Plan seeks to direct additional traffic onto roads (A247) which cannot be widened to accommodate the additional volume of traffic
- The creation of the ramps to and from the A3 at Garlick’s Arch / Burnt Common would generate additional noise to Local houses whilst significantly deteriorating the quality of air
- These ramps would generate significant safety risks to those living in the immediate vicinity of the planned ramps (Tithebarns Lane) together with pedestrians, cyclists and other users of Tithebarns Lane – including staff and visitors to HMP Send.
- The Local Plan which includes 400 houses and 7,000 sq feet of industrial usage (A43) in an area where only recently you correctly turned down an application for only 25 houses. Housing Need is not an exceptional circumstance which justifies the removal of land from the Green Belt. Simply because a Landowner and a Developer are seeking to make millions of pounds profit – that greed is not an exceptional circumstance which justifies the removal of land from the Green Belt. Neither is there an exception circumstance justified when those said Land owners and developers effectively offer a bribe of paying for the ramps to the A3 (A43A). On every moral and ethical test this is not something which can be justified and should be removed from the Local Plan.

I was for many years a Chair of Governors in both the Primary and Secondary sectors. An issue that engaged much of my time and energy was the selling off of school playing fields; the main thrust of my opposition to such short-sighted action was that once a playing field has been swallowed up by development it can never reclaim its status quo. The proposed Local Plan could amount to the same situation, but on a much larger and potentially more dangerous scale; once Green Belt is gone it is GONE – FOREVER. We neither want nor indeed need an urban sprawl from Guildford up to the M25 which the ‘Vision’ would create. We have areas designated as Green Belt for excellent reasons – the clue is in the name.

Do you really want to be held responsible for depriving future generations of our valuable Green Belt?

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because:

- It ignores all the many previous objections made by local people
- There is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location
- It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no "exceptional circumstances" exist
- It will cause over-development of the village and the number of homes is excessive
- It is exquisite ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth I
It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
It is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation
It is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over fifty years
It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads of Send and Ripley

I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because:

• It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
• The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
• There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
• The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
• The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
• It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

I trust that all of these objections, together with those which I submitted when the previous iteration of this Local Plan was made open to comment, will be taken into account when finalising the Local Plan. That final version should simply address the real needs of the community and not merely reflect the desires of developers and land owners.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCl).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I object to the fact that the crime rate will increase and my safety compromised.

I object that the already overstretched NHS resources will not be able to cope with all these extra people.

I object to paying a very high Council tax to live in a rural pleasant environment which will now prove to be poor value for money.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

My husband and I have lived at the above address since 1987, our two children have attended the Raleigh primary and Howard of Effingham secondary schools, we are both busy in village activities and I am now in receipt of a pension after 15 years as a teaching assistant at the Raleigh School.

Suffice to say I am appalled at the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites: June 2016 which proposes a new site for 90 homes opposite Greta Bank which is in addition to the 385 previously proposed in the Horsleys. Accordingly, I would like to raise my objections to this large expansion in village population, particularly in West Horsley, on the following grounds:

1. Both local state primary and secondary schools are at capacity with no guarantee that children living in West Horsley will be able to attend in the future. Extra stress on these high performing schools from additional numbers without increased resources and extra facilities will lower standards. In addition, the transport of young children to other schools in other places will diminish the quality of the children's educational experience and add to existing road traffic problems.

2. The Horsley Medical Centre already has difficulties in providing early appointments with doctors for patients with medical issues so additional villagers, both young and old, would make the situation The alternative of attending the A&E Department at the Royal Surrey County Hospital only transfers the problem elsewhere on an already over-stretched NHS.

3. The Street and East Lane are already congested with early morning road traffic due to on-street parking, a single lane chicane and numerous school There is thus the serious risk of injury to schoolchildren and cyclists from increased traffic at a time when drivers can be tempted to rush to their early morning destinations.

4. Flooding on The Street and East Lane is already a problem after heavy rai The loss of natural drainage with land use change and additional household waste water will aggravate this problem.

1. The inhabitants of West Horsley currently enjoy "green" areas and a relatively tranquil environment which make important contributions to their quality of life. Both would be diminished by the proposed development. In particular, the loss of the green space to the south between The Rectory and the railway bridge and to the north between Long Reach and the railway bridge should be strongly resisted because, unlike other proposed sites in the Horsleys, these fields do not abut the currently defined village settlement on any side so should not be considered an "extension of the settlement or 'infill'".

It is disappointing that, despite a recent survey in which almost all respondents agreed that "West Horsley should retain the open aspect and strategic natural space along East Lane, The Street, Ripley Lane, Epson Road and Long Reach, which reinforce the village's rural nature", and several representations to GBC Planning department, the GBC not only persists but has actually enlarged the area of land proposed for new housing in the village.

This letter is a plea to respect our wishes for significant revision to this latest proposal. No boundaries should constrain the argument, even to the extent of having the GBC challenge the basic need for adversely affecting the historical character of West Horsley and other Surrey villages with the Government. Why are there not proposed restrictions on ownership of second homes to release additional housing from the current stock? Why are brownfield sites not being effectively developed first? Why, at the national and regional levels, is there not an effective policy for some control of immigration and the population in small local areas? Addressing such questions would help to reassure the villagers of West Horsley that, whatever the proposal, there would at least be a sound basis for accepting some adverse effects on our quality of life. At present there is none. The proposed Plan should be withdrawn.

I object to Guildford Borough Council's Proposed removal of the Former Wisley Airfield/ Three Farm Meadows former Green Belt status.

The Government advice states 'The Green Belt should only be altered in exceptional circumstances through the local plan process and the support of the local people. Demand for housing alone will not change the Green Belt.' The inclusion flies in the face of this edict.

The proposed plan does not have the above support or meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are:

- access to the countryside and clean air and
- the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the Former Wisley Airfield/Three Farm Meadows.

I object to:

- the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to Three Farm Meadows, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
- over 70% of new housing being built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate, as above, are being ignored.

Insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the former Wisley Airfield (FWAj, now known as Three Farm Meadows (TFM). Allocation A35- for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to local plan which still includes the above site at the Former Wisley Airfield/Three Farms Meadows. Despite overwhelming objections from the public and the application being unanimously rejected by GBC, this site remains on the local plan.

The Government advice states 'The Green Belt should only be altered in exceptional circumstances through the local plan process and the support of the local people. Demand for housing alone will not change the Green Belt.' The inclusion flies in the face of this edict.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAYS

From the severe alterations required to the road network it is obvious that the size of this development is inappropriate for the location.

- the re-routing and one way systems would entail long detours to reach nearby locations and extra traffic (estimated 4,000 cars) would increase noise and This is a unreasonable imposition upon existing residents and obviously affects Ripley, Horsley and Cobham and all of their adjoining minor and major highways.
- Southbound traffic to the A3 would be forced through Ripley High Street, already heavily congested at Newark Lane in the rush Traffic joining the A3 from Old Lane, a dangerous junction with fast traffic joining the A3 from the sliproad, would back up.
- Junction 10 on the M25 is already heavily backed up at peak times and the pollution levels already exceed the European safety standard.
- The lack of suitable public transprt. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.
- the assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
- the danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).

The development is out of scale and proportion with this rural and agricultural environment and would impact greatly on the character of the local hamlets of Ockham and Hatchford.

The Local Plan poses a threat to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

The proposed plan does not have the support the local community and is in opposition to Government advice that the local plan should have that support and that demand for housing alone will not change the Green Belt.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
GREENBELT

I object to:

- over 70% of new housing being built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the inclusion of Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan. This application was turned down unanimously at the planning committee meeting. Thousands of letters of objection were received. However this has all been ignored by the Council by refusing to remove this development, which appears to have been added as a direct copy from developer's layout of the site. I have written to object several times and wish that those comments are passed on to the inspector.

In summary:

• green belt infringement or removal.
• adjacent to already heavily congested road system of M25 and A3 junction.
• pollution levels already exceeded.
• increase of estimated 4,000 cars narrow country lanes unable to cape, car parks.
• already full at railway stations.
• closure and rerouting of neighbouring lanes.
• Infrastructure of sewer system unable to cope with existing demands - surcharging already occurs.
• ruination of historic village of Ockham.
• out of scale and proportion to this rural location.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

It appears to me that the stated policy regarding housing mix and density is inconsistent with the actual proposals. The proposed development of 485 homes on 5 sites in West Horsley (A37/38/39/40/41) is at a considerably higher density than we have currently in the village. If we are to have some development in West Horsley the proposals should be in line with the policy, i.e. housing density should consider "the local area context and character and the sustainability of the location". I object on the grounds that the current proposals would be out of character with the existing mix of different housing styles and layout of the village.

Policy I1: Infrastructure and delivery

I would like to object to the proposed developments as in my view they are unsustainable. The facilities in West Horsley are already very limited, we have one convenience store, one newsagent and a garage/MOT centre. In terms of public transport there is a very limited bus service that runs on weekdays only so for most people their needs are met by driving to East Horsley or elsewhere. We have one primary school, The Raleigh School, which is full every year meaning some local parents have to take their children further afield. Clearly West Horsley does not have the facilities to accommodate high volumes of new housing development.

Policy I3: Sustainable transport for new developments

I have not seen any proposals for new or improved transport infrastructure as a result of these developments. The obvious conclusion is that there will be a huge increase in motor traffic on village roads as a result of the new developments. As a motorist this will lead to a significant increase in journey times and no doubt the problems we already have with potholes will only get worse. As a cyclist (I cycle to and from Horsley station most days) I worry about the impacts on road safety given our roads are generally quite narrow and poorly lit. As a resident I worry about increased noise and air pollution.

Policy P2: Green Belt

I object to the proposal to remove West Horsley from the Green Belt. I don't see that any sound case has been made to justify changing the boundaries of the Green Belt. I have read the guidance in the National Planning Policy Framework which makes it clear that Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances and that unmet housing need alone is unlikely to qualify as "exceptional circumstances".

Apart from the obvious benefits that the Green Belt designation provides, e.g. protection of our natural environment and good air quality, there are wider social benefits. Without the protection offered by the Green Belt the character of our village would be changed, which will over time lead to a loss of community and could result in West Horsley transforming into another bland commuter town.

I object to 45 houses proposed for Clockbarn Nursery. The centre of Send is already very busy with traffic and the crossroads is dangerous enough at present without adding yet more traffic. Tannery Lane is scheduled to carry additional traffic from the development of the Marina and the Tannery, yet more from Clockbarn nursery would cause gridlock and the potential for accidents and injury would be massively increased.

I object to the proposed houses and industrial space at Garlick's Arch. 400 houses is far too high a number to inflict on the village of Send and 7,000 sq m of industrial space would be adding insult to injury. This is valuable farmland which happens to flood from time to time. Much of the space is an ancient woodland. Too many trees have been felled over recent years, which has resulted in the loss of habitat for birds and wild animals. The loss of farmland would adversely affect the bee population on which the crops depend in order to feed the many people who now live in UK. The additional traffic would further clog up the roads which are already overloaded. This is a totally unsuitable site for industry, what is wrong with expanding Slyfield, where there is existing industrial usage?

When the Wimpey estate was built it adversely affected the local school, the doctors surgery and the whole ambience of the village. Has anyone considered enlarging the school and building a larger surgery to cope with the hundreds of extra people? This is quite apart from the roads and the bus services. Would a train service take the strain off the roads? Where is the nearest useful station, can the railway be extended? It is much simpler to put the housing on brownfield sites in the towns before even thinking about despoiling the green and pleasant countryside.

This new proposal will now take up 10 hectares, rather than the relatively small area previously allocated, and will vastly increase traffic flows and problems in the Burntcommon area, which are already very bad, especially at peak hours. The additional industrial traffic generated by these proposals will make the problems even worse.

I agree that some extra housing is needed in the Horsleys and in the Guildford borough and that a better mix of properties is needed, in particular, more properties for first time buyers and for those wishing to downsize.

However, I OBJECT strongly to the scale of extra housing proposed in the Draft Plan because this is based on some fundamentally flawed calculations and a complete lack of understanding of the environment of the Horsleys.

CONTEXT

Firstly it is necessary to understand the context of the plan, particularly as it relates to the Horsleys.

1. The basis of the plan
A consultancy, GL Hearn, produced the SHMA but have not disclosed to the Council or to anyone else details of the input assumptions or mathematical model on which their calculations have been made. That their forecast is 70% above that of the accepted figure from other sources may give you some cause for concern. Without a full understanding of the assumptions, you cannot be sure that your plans are firmly based. This is not the right way to manage such a critical input to the local plan and as a consequence your predictions lack credibility.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The Environment of the Horsleys: The Horsleys are ill equipped to cope with significant development as any rational analysis will quickly expose. a) The road network East and West Horsley can only be accessed on restricted roads. From the South Ockham Road South is restricted so that a lorry and car cannot pass at Lynx Hill and the road remains narrow into the village. The Street has limited access at the Bell and Colville roundabout and near Edwin road it is reduced to single file traffic. From the North Ockham Road North is a narrow country road which can’t take two lorries passing. Old Lane is narrow, with a number of hazardous bends and a difficult junction into Cobham road. From the West The road from Cobham is the best route into Horsley but it is restricted at the railway bridge on Forest road. This road takes a lot of traffic as it is the access road from Horsley to supermarkets at Cobham. From the East A series of narrow roads provide access. from Burntwood but none are capable of sustaining significantly increased traffic. b) Retail Structure The retail environment at Station Parade consists of 25 premises plus 3 at the bottom of Cobham Way, including a library, post office, chemist, 5 restaurant/cafés, butcher, baker and 2 mini supermarkets. The largest of these units are approximately 170-200 sq. m. There is no room for expansion of retail premises nor for the provision of extra parking places. This cannot be expanded or developed to a worthwhile retail centre. Bishopsmead, to the south of East Horsley is much smaller and similarly constrained. West Horsley has virtually no retail presence. c) Infrastructure There is already pressure on school places, doctors surgeries and parking. The Horsleys cannot sustain a significant increase in demand. In addition, there is limited space for expansion of any of these facilities. d) The Geography of the Horsleys The Horsleys lie just north of the A246 which runs to the north of the North Downs. Rainfall on this area flows north and causes periodic flooding in heavy rain. There are frequent problems with storm drains flooding in the Horsleys. Green belt land in and around the Horsleys is needed to absorb this water run off. Further building will exacerbate this problem. SPECIFIC OBJECTIONS 1. I OBJECT to the basis on which the housing requirements have been calculated. As they are not transparent they lack credibility. 2. I OBJECT to the final target housing number (based on a mathematical model which has not been disclosed) which is almost 70% higher than the official national estimates for population growth in the Borough. I OBJECT to the lack of understanding of the infrastructure constraints of the proposed new households on the Horsley villages and to the absence of any effort to deal with them If around 2,600 new houses were built in the Horsleys, Ockham and Wisley airfield this could easily result in around 5,000 more cars within a three mile radius of the villages. Traffic This would have a huge impact on local roads which as outlined above have little scope to be widened (e.g. pinch point at Lynx Hill on Ockham Road South and the restricted area on East Lane) or otherwise altered to cater for such an increase. Although it is proposed to upgrade the current A3 junction at Burntcommon to a full 4-way junction. SCC traffic modelling anticipates increased use of Guileshall Lane, Hungry Hill Lane and Tithebarns Lane (all not suitable for increased traffic volume) for traffic accessing the A3 at Burntcommon in order to travel to Guildford and beyond. The SCC report states that “consequently, it indicates that further thought may have to be given to managing traffic in this area as part of a transport assessment should the development be progressed”. A local plan when proposing new housing on a substantial scale must surely plan for the implications of increased traffic both on the major roads such as the A3 and the minor village roads. The current draft local plan has not given such issues enough consideration Parking Parking at Horsley & Effingham junction stations (which are already full), at the shops, at the Horsley medical centre and at the village hall will not be able to cope with this additional demand. Flooding The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. Other areas of the Horsleys are also flooded when it rains become the drains are inadequate. Substantially more houses will exacerbate the problem but no attention has been paid to drainage in the local plan. • Schools and medical facilities Amenities Local schools and medical facilities are already at capacity. No extra school places are planned in the Horsleys and the school places proposed at Wisley Airfield will not planned until many years into the project. 2600 new houses could easily mean 2600 children looking for school place! I trust the Council will review its Local Plan basing it on a model which is available for inspection and with more attention to the infrastructure implications and use of brown field sites rather than destroy our precious Green Belt.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
The Horsleys are ill equipped to cope with significant development as any rational analysis will quickly expose.

1. a) The road network

East and West Horsley can only be accessed on restricted roads

From the South

Ockham Road South is restricted so that a lorry and car cannot pass at Lynx Hill and the road remains narrow into the village.

The Street has limited access at the Bell and Colville roundabout and near Edwin road it is reduced to single file traffic.

From the North

Ockham Road North is a narrow country road which can’t take two lorries passing.

Old Lane is narrow, with a number of hazardous bends and a difficult junction into Cobham road.

From the West

The road from Cobham is the best route into Horsley but it is restricted at the railway bridge on Forest road. This road takes a lot of traffic as it is the access road from Horsley to supermarkets at Cobham.

From the East

A series of narrow roads provide access from Burntwood but none are capable of sustaining significantly increased traffic.

1. b) Retail Structure

The retail environment at Station Parade consists of 25 premises plus 3 at the bottom of Cobham Way, including a library, post office, chemist, 5 restaurant/cafes, butcher, baker and 2 mini supermarkets. The largest of these units are approximately 170-200 sq. m. There is no room for expansion of retail premises nor for the provision of extra parking places. This cannot be expanded or developed to a worthwhile retail centre. Bishopsmead, to the south of East Horsley is much smaller and similarly constrained. West Horsley has virtually no retail presence.

1. c) Infrastructure

There is already pressure on school places, doctors surgeries and parking. The Horsleys cannot sustain a significant increase in demand. In addition, there is limited space for expansion of any of these facilities.

1. d) The Geography of the Horsleys

The Horsleys lie just north of the A246 which runs to the north of the North Downs. Rainfall on this area flows north and causes periodic flooding in heavy rain. There are frequent problems with storm drains flooding in the Horsleys. Green belt land in and around the Horsleys is needed to absorb this water run off. Further building will exacerbate this problem.

SPECIFIC OBJECTIONS

1. I OBJECT to the basis on which the housing requirements have been calculated. As they are not transparent they lack credibility.

1. I OBJECT to the final target housing number (based on a mathematical model which has not been disclosed) which is almost 70% higher than the official national estimates for population growth in the Borough.

I OBJECT to the proposal that Station Parade in East Horsley be designated as a Rural District Centre. The reasons for this are obscure but it is patently unsuitable for the type and scale of developments that that designation allows.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the lack of understanding of the infrastructure constraints of the proposed new households on the Horsley villages and to the absence of any effort to deal with them.

If around 2,600 new houses were built in the Horsleys, Ockham and Wisley airfield this could easily result in around 5,000 more cars within a three mile radius of the villages.

Traffic

This would have a huge impact on local roads which as outlined above have little scope to be widened (e.g. pinch point at Lynx Hill on Ockham Road South and the restricted area on East Lane) or otherwise altered to cater for such an increase.

Although it is proposed to upgrade the current A3 junction at Burntcommon to a full 4-way junction. SCC traffic modelling anticipates increased use of Guileshall Lane, Hungry Hill Lane and Tithebarns Lane (all not suitable for increased traffic volume) for traffic accessing the A3 at Burntcommon in order to travel to Guildford and beyond.

The SCC report states that “consequently, it indicates that further thought may have to be given to managing traffic in this area as part of a transport assessment should the development be progressed”.

A local plan when proposing new housing on a substantial scale must surely plan for the implications of increased traffic both on the major roads such as the A3 and the minor village roads. The current draft local plan has not given such issues enough consideration.

Parking

Parking at Horsley & Effingham junction stations (which are already full), at the shops, at the Horsley medical centre and at the village hall will not be able to cope with this additional demand.

Flooding

The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. - Schools and medical facilities

Amenities

Local schools and medical facilities are already at capacity.

No extra school places are planned in the Horsleys and the school places proposed at Wisley Airfield will not planned until many years into the project. 2600 new houses could easily mean 2600 children looking for school place!

I trust the Council will review its Local Plan basing it on a model which is available for inspection and with more attention to the infrastructure implications and use of brown field sites rather than destroy our precious Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT strongly to the proposal to remove the Horsleys (and other villages in the Borough) from the Green Belt. In paras 79 and 80 of the NPPF (National Planning Policy Framework - Mar 12) the Government places great importance on the Green Belts and in Para 83 states that once established they should only be altered in “exceptional circumstances” through the preparation or review of the Local Plan.

The Green Belt around the Horsleys serve all 5 of the purpose set out in para 80.

Para 84 states that inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.
The draft plan does not identify the “exceptional circumstances” required to remove the Horsleys (and other villages) from the Green Belt nor the “very special circumstances” required to build on Green Belt land.

As outlined above, the green belt is not just a pleasant amenity but also an essential protection against flooding.

I OBJECT to the proposed in-setting boundary to replace the Green Belt around East and West Horsley. This new boundary includes some valuable green community space such as Kingston Meadow (by EH Village Hall) and Horsley Tennis and Cricket Club which will then be vulnerable to future development. These spaces are valuable amenities and are an essential part of the life of the village.

I OBJECT to the fact that this inflated final target housing number results in: • up to a 35% increase in the number of households in West Horsley. • up to a 90% increase in housing stock taking into account the two Horsley villages, Ockham and the proposed development at Wisley airfield. The infrastructure of the Horsleys as outlined above cannot support this expansion. In addition, 65% of new houses in the Borough are to be built on land that is currently in the Green Belt.

I am writing to object to the plans for Send.

I object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt, Local councillors gave an election promise to protect the Green Belt and this reneges on this.

I object to the Building of 400 houses and 7000 sq metres of Industrial Space at Garlicks Arch, the site floods and is ancient woodland.

I object to 40 houses and 2 travellers pitches at Send Hill, this road is too narrow to cope with this.

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common as Send would become gridlocked as it is already struggling, noise and pollution levels would be too great.

Please show my concerns to the planning officer and I would be grateful if you could acknowledge receipt of this email.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

- there is already very little infrastructure in the area, and what is there is at its limits.
- from 7 on in the morning the A3 is a stand still, as are parts of Ripley. In the afternoon don't even try to drive into Ripley, since one sits in a queue starting at the northern exit ramp.
- roads around Ockham are narrow, with no sidewalks, but deep potholes
- water supply and sewer systems are already today inadequate
- the schools are full, NHS doctors offices overrun -just try and get an appointment, not to talk about public transport with one bus line showing up very irregularly .

And to that GBC wants to add at least 6000 people with roughly 3000 cars???
A few new entrance and exit ramps won't mend that traffic density, not to mention the air pollution, nor all the other resulting problems.

This latest Guildford Local Plan won't keep northern Surrey a desirable living area with reliable household incomes which support the local community, but will destroy it into an overpopulated suburban area with the foreseeable amount of social problems.
Please reconsider the decision with your conscience.

I must say I was taken by surprise that the revised draft Local Plan for Lovelace with marginal changes to the former draft was pushed through, although just a few days earlier the GBC planners had unanimously shot down a centrepiece of it.

To me as a citizen, it seems that the various GBC boards don’t talk to one another, or that some have a secret agenda for very personal reasons.

- how can it be that a local council decides to withdraw parts of their land out of an national protected area, the Green Belt just to ease its planning challenges? Politicians should look at the impact of their actions for future generations and not just shortsighted to the next election and how to make their job easier.

I'm writing this email in order to OBJECT to any development on Greenbelt land as proposed in the 2016 Local Plan for Guildford.

While I appreciate the need for more housing I believe that building on the Greenbelt land should not be the solution. More houses can be provided making a better use of the town center unused spaces and the brownfields not destroying that green areas which are so important from many point of views: historically, culturally, scientifically and a heritage we must treasure for the next generation. In particular, the proposed developments on the Hog's Back and Blackwell Farm (which I think should be included in the AONB and carefully safeguarded!) will inevitably destroy the amazing landscape which many horseriders, bikers, hikers, people of any age enjoy and love and the habitat of many precious wildlife and plants. Sacrificing the Greenbelt Land and trade it with more traffic, congestion, more pollution, insufficient infrastructures would be a terrible mistake.

- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads

The scale of the proposed housing development in the Horsley area is totally inappropriate when compared to the existing number of houses in the area. The number of new homes proposed in the plan appears to have been generated from the Strategic Housing Market Assessment and further inflated, ostensibly to account for population growth (but using growth forecasts which are two-thirds higher than the national estimates for population growth in the borough). The basis of the numbers is highly questionable, being the result of a theoretical model (the algorithms and assumptions of which are not offered for critical review).
The proposed development would NOT respect the character and density of the local area, as is required by the National Planning Policy Framework.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The local infrastructure is already under severe pressure.

1. Parking at the shopping parade is difficult at best. The high volume of traffic poses a real risk to elderly and less mobile, as cars jostle a vie for the limited parking.
2. The local schools (of all stages) are operating at or very near full capacity. Forcing children to commute significant distances to their schools is damaging to their development (prolonging their school day by commuting and reducing time for recreational activities), exposes them to risks from traffic, adds to road congestion and is therefore damaging to the environment. The local education establishments have NO capacity to absorb any significant increase in students.
3. Surface water drainage. The roads in the area are already prone to local flooding during heavy rain. (Ockham Road North by the A3 junction; The Street at the railway bridge by the Barley Mow, …) Adding so many new homes will greatly increase the impermeable “hard surfaces” which will prevent the absorption of rain water and therefore inundate the local drainage system.
4. Traffic congestion at peak times is becoming more of a problem as time goes by. The A3 junction with the M25 and the A3 at Cobham come to a complete standstill EVERY DAY (I experience this on my daily commute to Staines.) Adding so many households (many with two cars per family) would cause more jams and grid-lock.

I am writing to object to the proposals for disproportionate development plans in the area of the Horsleys, Ockham, Ripley and Wisley Airfield.

The plan centres round the removal of the villages from the Green Belt. There is absolutely no special circumstance that justifies the redefinition of the village boundaries or removing the villages from the Green Belt. The purpose of the Green Belt was to provide a buffer zone protecting London from the creeping urbanisation and to provide a “Fresh Air” corridor. Allowing the reclassification of areas within the Green Belt would set a dangerous precedent leading to unchecked development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
- failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
- issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
- flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as III as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.
4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

1. POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.
I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.
Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Higheotts Lane - 15 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council’s eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).
The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.
Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.
There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy 11. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.
Policy 11 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The... fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”.

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.
The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

2. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.

2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites-which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework

8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens

11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 4: Duty to cooperate

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I object to the 2016 draft local plan for the following reasons and would like my comments to be seen by the inspector:

I object to Send, Ripley and the surrounding villages being removed from the Green Belt. Our MP promised to protect the Green Belt yet the local plan is proposing to remove 15 villages from the Green Belt, this is unacceptable.

I object to the plans for Garlicks Arch. Our infrastructure is already struggling with the current occupancy in the area. Our roads are regularly gridlocked, particularly Send Road and Send Marsh Road with the flow of traffic onto the A3, which would only increase with an extra 400 houses and services to the proposed industrial units. Services such as the local schools and doctors are already at full capacity, with it being increasingly difficult to get a doctors appointment even for young children. This issue would only amplify with the proposed developments. Our roads and pavements are already in a state of disrepair and an increase of pedestrians and vehicles will only make this matter worse.

I object to the proposed A43a on/off ramp at Burnt Common as again this will only increase the quantity of traffic in the area, which is already struggling.

I object to the disproportionate amount of development in one area of the borough, our villages will lose their identities and blend into one.

I object to the inclusion of 2 travellers pitches at Send Hill, I can not understand why this would benefit our village and why any borough would actively encourage these pitches.

I object to the way in which many items of the local plan have been introduced. I do not believe Guildford Borough Council have followed correct process by introducing last minute additions and alterations which warrant a full consultation period not the short cut that it appears to be.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the site is not large enough to the proposed use.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would cause adverse impact on street parking.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a single track country road and too narrow to provide sufficient access to the site or accommodate the potential new levels of traffic the proposed development would bring.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send is in green belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a narrow road result in loss of a turning point for vehicles.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would impact the nature reserve nearby. The proposed site is a quality green belt amenity area within countryside and would be spoilt by development.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the existing road and parking infrastructure is already inadequate or under pressure and could worsen with the planned development, reduci ng quality of life.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that too many houses are proposed to Send/Send Marsh are and the impact on traffic congestion and local services would be unacceptable.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both the Envirosearch Report RS 1100201-1-1 dated 17th February 2004 and historical map data and information from GBC has identified site as landfill and has "areas of potentially contaminative industrial activities". Development of this site would be a health hazard. The recent news reports of a child dying from seepage of contaminated ground following flooding prove that developing any such sites is a danger to health. The Daily Mail has also recently had an article on how dangers of living near landfill site raises cancer concerns. The paper referenced a study published by the international journey of Epidemiology which tracked 242,000 people living near landfill sites in Italy.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both Envirosearch Report RSI 110001-1-1 dated 17th February 2004 identifies "potential risk from landfill gas migrations “which I believe is a health hazard .

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both Envirosearch Report RSI 100201-1-1 dated 17th February 2004 Concludes "potentially contaminative industrial sites identified from analysis of Ordnance survey maps.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the rounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP dated 5 January 2005-Identifies proposed site as a local authorized landfill site as licenses under Part 11 of Environmental protection Act 1990. The proposed site is not a quarry as specified in The GBC Local Plan. Therefore not suitable for the proposed usage.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP dated 5ili January 2005-Identifies proposed site as potentially contaminative industrial land. With usage of "Heap and unknown constituents". This causes me concern as to what it does contain and dangers if disturbed.
I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN-HCP 5th January 2005 Identifies changes to proposed site could cause potential ground water vulnerability to my property.

I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Traveller Accommodation Assessment research, purported to have been undertaken in June-July 2012 by Mill Field Services, cannot be so. The Sittingbourne based market research company was dissolved in January 2011 according to the government companies site.

There is no need for a 25% increase in the housing stock in Guildford Borough. This greatly exceeds any reasonable expectation for net household formation. The ONS predicts a 15% increase, but this will inevitably need to be reduced significantly once BREXIT is achieved. The 25% increase also includes a very basic fundamental error of double-counting, as highlighted in the submission by East Horsley Borough Council on 13th June 2016. I suggest you get some new statisticians. It is also wrong to suggest that such growth is being driven Central Government Policy. Under NPPF rules Guildford Borough Council is allowed to take into consideration the protection of the Green Belt and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty in setting its housing targets. Why is it not doing so? The Council HAS a choice and we absolutely REJECT the policy of "forced growth" that is being proposed.

Our villages are at their limits when it comes to infrastructure - roads, schools, doctors' surgeries etc. What we find incredible is that the Plan says very little about how this infrastructure is going to be upgraded for the planned growth - and who is going to pay for it? In East Horsley the Medical Centre is full and when one can get an appointment to see a doctor there is never anywhere to park. The Raleigh School is full. The main road through the village (Ockham Road North and South) cannot cope with the current traffic flows, let alone any increase. Any time we have significant rainfall the road floods. It is also very dangerous for pedestrians to walk along the narrow and uneven pavement, particularly at night. Where are the specific proposals in the Plan to deal with the very real issues facing residents? Where are the specific plans to upgrade the infrastructure to cope with forced growth that is being proposed?

The Plan is presented in a way that is dishonest in the extreme, even by current political standards. The suggestion that "We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt" is a complete lie. No less than 65% of the Plan's development will take place on current Green Belt land! Did somebody think we wouldn't notice? This is a totally unacceptable and unnecessary destruction of our countryside and our way of life.

The proposal to inset our villages (including our village, East Horsley) from the Green Belt rather than being washed over is completely unacceptable. Our villages make an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt as is obvious to anyone who takes the time to look for themselves. A very large part of East Horsley is woodland and housing density is extremely low. It is the Green Belt that has preserved the rural character of the village, which is why we choose to live here. The current status has allowed controlled and balanced expansion of the village - why change this?

The proposals to change the settlement boundaries for the village are a blatant attempt to created more land for development. Green Belt boundaries can only be changed in "exceptional" circumstances and a desire to build more houses is certainly not exceptional. The current boundary to the west side of Ockham Road North is defined by a deep drainage ditch which is itself a defensible Green Belt boundary, whose defensibility would in no way be improved if it was moved.

The proposal to take Kingston Meadows out of the Green Belt is equally unjustified and egregious. It provides the main recreational space in the village and the suggestion that it would be developed would be catastrophic for the village.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We strongly object to the proposal to inset the village of East Horsley from the Green Belt. East Horsley is a rural village of very low housing density. Within the current settlement area the average density of housing is just 8 dwellings per hectare. Most houses lying within the current settlement area have large gardens that are filled with trees, shrubs and open lawns.

As a result East Horsley makes an important contribution to the Green Belt of this area, providing openness, picturesque green spaces and wildlife corridors which support a rich biodiversity. If East Horsley is inset from the Green Belt, as proposed in the revised Local Plan, then important Green Belt planning protection will be lost over land currently within the settlement area. This will inevitably lead to increased development within this area and the loss of openness, destruction of trees and hedgerows, diminished biodiversity and the impairment of picturesque views of this rural village.

We also strongly object to the movement of the settlement boundary, increasing the settlement area by 37%. Our infrastructure is already creaking and will simply not be able to cope with the increase in development. It will destroy the nature and character of our village and seriously impact on our way of life.

The plan is proposing far too many houses. The plan says that 654 new houses are required, an increase of 22%. This compares to a 10 year forecast population growth of only 10.4%. Furthermore, this figure takes little into account for the impact of Brexit, which will have a material negative impact on population growth over the projected period. The adjustments for additional affordable housing need, over and above the 40% required within new development, are bizarre. Why is the plan proposing to build more than twice the number of houses required (even before adjusting for Brexit)?

The proposal to build on Green Belt land is scandalous. The proposal is against central Government policy and unmet housing need does NOT represent the "very special circumstances" required. There is almost overwhelming opposition from current residents for this proposal, so why is it still in the Plan?

From experience (daily), I can assure you that the roads in Ockham, Ripley are already completely congested. Between 7.30 and 9.30 am it is hardly possible to go anywhere, as Ripley and the A3 are completely congested at that time. Also, if we would like to travel by train, there is hardly any or no parking space left at Effingham Station.

In your plans you mentioned other train stations like Weybridge, Woking, Cobham, which will take you an hour to get there during rush hour.

An increase of approximately 4000 cars would make life impossible as it will completely clock up the roads. I speak from personal experience as I drive my children to school every morning and my husband uses the train from Effingham.

Nowhere in your plans have you explained how you will solve the infrastructural issues. Just creating an access road to the A3 round-about in Ripley will not solve this issue as this round-about to enter the A3 is already congested during working hours and in addition to that if you would like to go through Ripley the road is also congested.

In our area there are also lots of tractors, horses and cyclists on the road. If you will increase the traffic with about 4000 cars, you should think of an A&E station or an ambulance on stand-by for 24/7 as it will create dangerous situations on the already narrow roads.

Also, the submission plan is unreliable due to some errors in the plan, the poor quality and lack of transparency in the evidence base and the accessibility of the evidence base.

I furthermore would like to stress that It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location. Also the site is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site and it is on the the border of the most congested road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10)

Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford will be negatively affected.

Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking are being promoted at the same time. As already mentioned: this is totally unrealistic and unsafe!!

The site is also on the border with RHS Wisley, which is the most popular visitor attraction in the south-east and visitor numbers of this attraction will increase by 500,000/annum.

Furthermore, and very important to us: we object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts additional heritage assets, including our house: Bridge End House and Upton Farm The increased area will negatively impact the setting of our house and Upton Farm.

Also, I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification

And what I do not understand and very much object to is the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consultees.
I consider for the reasons listed above and many other reasons that this plan is unsound, unreliable, unacceptable and not suitable.

I require confirmation that all of these comments together with all my previous comments are passed to the Inspector.

I do not see the purpose that I have to keep writing these objections again and again as it should be enough to explain to you once. But apparently it should be explained to you over-and-over again in order for you to finally realise that it lacks clarity (which is very clear) and evidence (also very clear) and that it is just not suitable.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land but GBC have, for no reason, removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common and replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

It defies logic that this site could even be considered when there are so many reasons that make it wholly inappropriate:
• The site is liable to frequent flooding. The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore, the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.
• The transport infrastructure would become unsustainable
• It has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. Whilst some locals might benefit from this access the A3 to the north, the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. (E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking). This is not sustainable as these roads are already overloaded with no scope to be improved.

I object to the damage that will be caused to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)
The Ancient Woodland on the Garlick’s Arch site (A43), including over 80 ancient oak trees, is something a civilized society should treasure but the vast development that is proposed would double the built area in the locality and would irrevocably damage the character of this area for future generations.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads due to the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)
There is far too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause dramatically more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to alleviate it.

The rural roads in this area are in poor condition, narrow and many have no footpaths. To add 5000 more houses would result in dangerous and unsustainable traffic with nearly 10,000 additional cars as well as delivery vehicles to service them.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)
The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are at or close to capacity.

The medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough will simply be unable to cope, creating chaos for existing and new residents alike.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)
The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are at or close to capacity.
The medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough will simply be unable to cope, creating chaos for existing and new residents alike.

The A3 and M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. As no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan, the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not even be considered until it is clear excess road capacity is available for any new development.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the resulting urban sprawl. Successive democratically appointed governments have continually supported the retention of the UK’s Green Belt. There are more than enough brownfield sites in the Guildford area that should be developed for the Plan. A perfect example is the existing brownfield site at Burnt Common that should be developed rather than the outrageous proposal for Garlick’s Arch (A43).

There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy (Policy P2).

Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

I object to the Local Plan as the proposed development is not sustainable (Policy S1)

The local communities don’t need these houses. Garlick's Arch (A43) and Wisley Airfield (A35) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services. Almost every adult will have to have a car. It is unsustainable to build 13,860 proposed new houses– it will damage local communities by over-development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch.

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)
GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

There is too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing. Even with the overall figure being reduced, the Plan should be more balanced across the borough.

It is unacceptable to build 5,036 houses between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) that will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities of the villages.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt, I object to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick's Arch, Clockbam Nurseries and Send Hill because

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford's urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the (A247) would be gridlocked all day.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25.

I object to all the proposed sites in Send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially

I object to the development at Garlick's Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks' notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick's Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA} shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

I object to the development at Garlick's Arch because the site has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the marina will generate heavy traffic too. The road cannot take any more.

I object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

I object to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

I object to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with proposed housing levels. Roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope.

I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A 247 which are all already at 100% capacity.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

1. Traffic / infrastructure: Keens Lane is a very narrow lane. Many of the local residents park their vehicles on the street which makes two-way traffic impossible. Adding more homes in this area, quite frankly, is waiting for an accident (possibly fatal) to happen. There is a serious blind spot (at the small hump which makes a bend in the road in Keens Lane, just before approaching the tiny roundabout at the junction of the end of Keens Lane and Gravetts Lane). I have personally been involved in a bad near-miss situation with oncoming traffic (in the dark Winter hours), and have witnessed others in the same predicament. It is sheer madness to burden this area further with increased traffic.

1. Greenbelt: this space is protected land (according to the UK Government) so why is anyone considering building on it? If we keep "chipping away" at our greenbelt, it will be like removing bricks from a wall, one at a time. One day, there will be NO WALL left. Please please please protect this land from development, for the sake of wildlife and humans alike.
1. Flooding: once again, the subject of local flooding arises. If you build on open land, you remove the ability for the surrounding land to be resilient to flooding. Surely everyone can recognize this from the increased stories of Winter/early Spring floods throughout the country? In the Fenn Lands of Cambridgeshire they have come to their senses and realized the only way to control local flooding was to return land to its original state - a FENN (open land) soaks up excess water which PROTECTS human homes from being flooded!! They have also realized this in certain areas of London. Isn't it about time GBC learned the lesson too, before you sentence all our homes to deluges and costly repair?

I would respectfully ask and urge GBC not to pass the proposed development (please.....). Thank you.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s draft Local Plan proposals to build 1800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- Destroy views form the Hog’s Back ridge – a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- Remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- Increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- Result in rat-running through local roads
- Add to Guildford’s pollution

Secondly the Gosden Hill development will lead to a substantial increase in traffic on the local roads especially the A3100 London Road in Burpbam. The new Clay Lane link road from Slyfield will similarly add to the volume of traffic. One of the worst features of the new plan is the failure to provide a four way interchange to enable Clay Lane southbound and Gosden Hill northbound traffic to reach the A3 without travelling along the A3100. The resultant traffic jams on a road already subject to frequent delays will certainly be to the detriment of local residents. There will also be a severe increase in pollution and noise affecting the residents as well as children walking to the George Abbot school and pedestrians walking to the local shops and supermarkets. According to the aspirations set out in the Neighbourhood Plan only recently accepted by GBC developments should be "promoting high quality change and improvement" and "preserving and enhancing quality of life." It cannot be said that the new local plan achieves that result.

We therefore object to the Local Plan 2016 version.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Thank you for your letter of 2nd June in which you invited comments on the Proposed Local Plan.

Firstly, in general, the proposal to build a substantial number of new houses at several sites around Guildford will inevitably increase the congestion currently existing on many roads but especially on the A3. It will of course also put severe pressure on the infrastructure. The possibility that in several years time extra lanes will be added to the A3 as well as other measures referred to in the plan that are intended to mitigate congestion and deal with the changes to infrastructure are inadequate. In our opinion the rapid expansion of the urban area leading to loss of green belt is unacceptable.

I object to the increase from 1200 to 1750 homes as this would result in the coalescence of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and Ash Green Village. This is contrary to Policy P3 (Countryside). Therefore Requirement 6 of this Policy, which attempts to protect the "historic location of Ash Green", is inadequate and would need rewording to prevent this increased potential for coalescence.

"Development proposals in the vicinity of Ash Green to have recognition of the historic location of Ash Green village and the intrinsic rural character of its countryside location. The properties along Ash Green Road have historically been considered to form part of Ash Green village. Whilst this land is now proposed to be included within the Ash and Tongham urban area, Proposals for the land west of this road and to the south east of Foreman Road / White Lane should respect the historical context of this area by preventing the coalescence of Ash, Tongham and Ash Green. Any development as a whole will not be of a size and scale that would detract from the character of the rural landscape. This should include the provision of a green buffer that seeks to maintain a sense of separation between the any proposed new development and the properties fronting onto Ash Green Road, Foreman Road and White Lane. This will also help soften the edges of the strategic development location and provide a transition between the built up area and the countryside beyond"

- Requirement 8 does not sufficiently protect Ash Manor, a historical farmstead of three listed buildings including a medieval hall house and should be amended as follows:

"Sensitive design at site boundaries with the adjacent complex of listed buildings at Ash Manor. Views to and from this heritage asset, including their approach from White Lane, must be protected."

- Infrastructure before development. Requirement 9 (Land and provision for a new road bridge at Ash Station to enable closure of the level crossing) must be competed before any development of Policy A29 commences.

- Requirement 9 fails to address the other significant transport infrastructure improvements that are required to cope with the increases in traffic generated by Policy A29. Therefore solutions to the following areas are also required before any development of A29 is permitted.

  a) The Street in Tongham
  b) A331/A323 intersection
  c) A31 /White Lane junction

- Ash Green is not part of the Ash & Tongham Urban Area and therefore the ATUA boundary must not extend south of Ash Green Road and Foreman Road.

I object to the Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and, in particular to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings, and the erosion of greenbelt land in East and West Horsley.

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons in respect of Three Farms Meadows:

1. I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2. I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3. I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4. I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5. I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6. I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
   4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

7. I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8. I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9. I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10. I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.
After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons in respect of East and West Horsley:

1. I object a plan that removes East and West Horsley from the Green Belt.
2. I object to a plan that includes 533 new houses in East and West Horsley.
3. I object to the erosion of farmland
4. I object to a plan that will destroy the beauty of the village in which I live.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered.

I object to changes relating to policy A43 Garlick’s Arch because:

- Again you have ignored the thousands of previous objections.
- There are no ‘exceptional circumstances’ required to develop on this Green belt.
- It will generate excessive traffic along the Clandon Road with associated noise and light pollution. This will be made even worse if the adjoining Policy A58 is implemented.
- It would appear that there is no demand for Travelling Showpeople plots.

I object to changes relating to Policy A58 Burnt Common because

- This Policy was deleted from the 2014 Plan following previous objections.
- Additionally i see the Plan now references ‘ Minimum’ rather than the original ‘Maximum’ referring to the 7,000 sq feet of industrial or warehousing. If the original proposal was deleted again i see no reason why the changed plan actually increases the proposed level of development.
- The impact on the Clandon Road and adjoining roads will create huge traffic issues, and noise and light pollution issues.
- There is no need to develop on this section of Green Belt land when other local sites including Slyfield and Guildford have empty existing sites and ‘brown field’ sites amiable.

I object to all policies which involve building on the Green Belt:

• No exceptional circumstances are shown, numbers are excessive and the clearly expressed views of residents in previous consultations ignored.

I object especially to policies A35-41:

• Amount of new housing far exceeds local need
• Housing density excessive when compared with existing development
• Would transform the Horsleys into a sizable town, something for which no case is made, and would cause significant detriment to neighbouring villages
• No local support
• Collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough appears not to have been considered
• Key infrastructure is lacking with no adequate provision
• Green Belt gap with neighbouring settlements hugely narrowed
• Site A35 has surely been included in error given that it has recently been rejected by the Planning Committee?
The Local Plan will shape the future of our historic villages and our borough. Please listen to the views of the residents. I would be pleased to see a revision to the Local Plan which preserves the Green Belt and results in proportionate development on suitable sites, enabled by infrastructure improvements.

Policy I1-I4

I object to the above policies primarily because they appear to suggest that infrastructure is not being considered as a pre-condition of development. The Local Plan does not provide confirmed plans for the improvements to infrastructure which would be required to support even a proportionate amount of new housing. Much of the local infrastructure is already inadequate or at capacity, evidenced by congested and poor-conditioned rural roads, frequent flooding issues, lack of healthcare facilities and the need for First Responders and defibrillators due to distance from accident and emergency facilities.

It is essential that infrastructure improvements are confirmed and fully funded before decisions are taken on proportionate housing development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away, it belongs to us all and not just those who live within it, yet the detail of the policy suggests the Council is willing to sacrifice it. There is no commitment within this plan to protect the Green Belt, contrary to the content of the NPPF, party manifesto commitments, government policy and previous responses to public consultations.

There is no assessment of the Green Belt’s value, yet losing it results in an irreversible loss of:
• Agricultural production
• Rural leisure and tourism amenities
• Water catchment & flood control
• Natural heritage
• A carbon sink for air pollution
• Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
• Profitable film locations
• Future economic potential such as mineral extraction
• Biodiversity, natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
• Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF).

The draft Local Plan suggests that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness”, however this is subjective. Indeed, preserving the openness of Effingham is a cornerstone of their emerging Neighbourhood Plan and fits with Paragraph 17 of the NPPF which ‘empowers local people to shape their surroundings’. I am especially concerned by the proposed ‘insetting’ of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and ‘infilling’ 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. It is of great concern that settlement boundaries are proposed to be extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. To ‘inset’ two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is completely inappropriate, given the stated objectives of the Green Belt in the NPPF and government policy. No exceptional circumstances have been disclosed, and therefore the Green Belt boundaries should NOT be changed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The Local Plan proposes 13,860 new homes to be built across the borough by 2031. This figure is said to be based on an objective SHMA carried out by GL Hearn, consultants whose website openly states their pro-development agenda. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it, despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model have not been disclosed, protected by a claim to intellectual property. The Council say we should ‘trust the contractors’ model because it is used by a large number of other local authorities’, however this is no guarantee of objectivity. Indeed, at least two recent papers have been published (one by Guildford Greenbelt Group Councillor David Reeve and the other by an independent expert commissioned by the non-political Guildford Residents Association), which challenge the findings of the SHMA.

Furthermore, the housing number is based on projections for economic and population growth pre-Brexit, including migration. These projections now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite significantly.

Proposed Submission of Local Plan: Strategy & Sites (Part 2, Sites). Policy A15 Land at Guildford Cathedral.

Please see below our thoughts on the most recent Local Plan.

We notice on page 157 you label the above land under “Existing use”: open space and residential properties, we are sure this land should be labelled “Protected Open Space”. It is our understanding that the Cathedral were only allowed to build 6 + 1 houses for their staff quarters and this was limited due to the “protected open space” status of the land and public footpaths running over the land.

We notice in your document pg. 157 the re-classification as C3 Housing, 100 homes. Note: Linden Homes have recently put in a planning application for more 134 dwellings. This is unsuitable for a grade II* Listed Building (the Cathedral) and its grounds. These 134 out of character dwellings will be highly visible from most view points. The view of the Cathedral from the north is already severely affected by the University of Surrey buildings.

The ancient tithe hedge running parallel with Ridgemount and Alresford Road is not listed in either the requirements section or key consideration section (pg. 157) of your document.

The land has a history of drainage problems and ground movement so approximately 100 or more homes will require expensive deep piling and will impact on the flooding problems and destabilization that has been experienced in Ridgemount and other immediate areas in recent years.

Finally 100 homes will generate notable extra traffic in an already congested area. Ridgemount and Alresford Road are minor roads with a heavy footfall due to the University with a pavement only on one side. This area is currently a semi-rural environment and would not be able to cope with the traffic likely to be generated by this proposal and of course this traffic would feed into the already congested Madrid Road/Guildford Park Road & contribute to the heavy traffic at the back of the train station & Guildford Town centre.

The site should remain designated as protected open space with the small number of cathedral houses. It is inappropriate to designate this site as C3 Housing and I ask for this to be seriously considered.

We have concerns on the new wording of requirements point 4 on page 176 - ‘A holistic approach to the landscaping of the site to include no unacceptable impact on existing trees and mature hedges of significance’.

The word “Unacceptable” is very vague. Please can you be more specific. The original wording 'Protect existing trees and mature hedges of significance' (a wording not in the earlier submission) is more precise and doesn't rely on an interpretation of the word unacceptable.

Please clarify the use of the words 'of significance' - does this include the need to protect trees with Tree Preservation Orders on this site and to protect the Tithe Hedge bounding the site which should be protected under the Hedgerow Regulations of 1997 as it has a continuous length exceeding 20 metres, has existed for 30 years or more and satisfies at least one of the criteria listed in Part II of Schedule 1 of the Hedgerow Regulations 1997? The new wording should not replace the existing which should be strengthened and clarified.

Fundamentally we believe the site should remain designated as protected open space with the small number of Cathedral houses. It is inappropriate to designate this site as C3 Housing.

I object to the proposals in the local plan for Send village on the grounds that Send is in the Green Belt and the proposed inset is inappropriate. Send should not be removed from the Green Belt. It provides an essential buffer between Woking and Guildford and the nature of the village and the well being of its residents would be destroyed. The Green Belt does not need to be built on. 50% of new homes needed could be built on brownfield sites.

I object to the proposals in the local plan (Policy A 43. 30 ha land at Garlick's Arch, Burnt Common, designated 400 houses and 7,000 sq m of industrial and warehousing) on the grounds that this proposal is new, was not in Regulation 18 draft and was not consulted on previously and these houses are not needed on top of the 13,860 already proposed for the borough. It is Green Belt and has a particular conservation sensitivity due to the ancient woodland. The proposed industrial development is not required and if it were it should be located in Slyfield, not on protected Green Belt.

I object to the proposals in the local plan (Policy A44.1.9 ha land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill designated for 40 houses and 2 traveller pitches) on the grounds that Send Hill, where I live, is a single track country road with blind bends on a very steep hill and is too narrow and would be too dangerous to provide access to the site proposed in the plan. This was a new addition and was not included in the regulation 18 draft and has not been consulted on. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented and is unsuitable for housing. Disturbing the soil would be a health hazard and causes me great concern.

I object to the proposals in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill could not accommodate the increased levels of traffic that the proposed new development would bring, this being a potential of an extra 92 cars.

I object to the proposals in the local plan on the grounds that there are too many houses proposed for Send and Send Marsh. The impact on local services including the doctors surgery and schools would be unacceptable and unmanageable.
I object to the proposals in the local plan on the grounds that the congestion caused by the increased volume of vehicles resulting from the large numbers of new houses proposed in the area, would be unacceptable. The roads are already highly congested at peak times and Send Road would become totally grid-locked and unusable. Send is already used as a rat run into Woking in the mornings and evenings and could not take any more traffic. This would utterly destroy the nature of the village and the well-being of its residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Sites in East and West Horsley

I OBJECT in particular to including Sites A36-41 (East and West Horsley). This is a back-door way to create a mega-village- essentially, a soulless new dormitory town. The Horsleys feel victimised by this plan, which has been masterminded by Council leaders representing Ash and Tongham at the other end of the borough, where (in a flagrant case of political double standards) the Green Belt is actually being extended under Policy P3.15

Whatever their merits as development sites, the 6 Horsley sites should not be considered individually but for their cumulative impact on the contiguous villages of East and West Horsley.

Building 533 new houses on these 6 sites, plus at least another 90 on small sites is (a) excessive in absolute terms and (b) disproportionate relative to the rest of the borough. It will destroy the rural character of these communities. *16

Under the plan, rural West Horsley will take 35% of new homes, urban Ash and Tongham 16% and Guildford urban area only 11%. The total number of homes in West Horsley will increase by 35%, which is disproportionate when measured against the overall increase in housing across the borough and particularly in Guildford town. If the Council have justifiable reasons to transform a particular community so radically, the plan should present a case rather than putting forward site proposals as a fait accompli.

These sites will put unsustainable strain on local facilities and infrastructure, including public transport, parking, schooling, medical facilities, sewage, surface drainage and shops. For instance:

- Thames Water have advised the Council that the current wastewater network will not cope and that the foul drainage system all the way to the treatment works North of Ripley will need to be upgraded.
- Guildford Council's Education Review says "expansion options may need to be considered for primary" education in the Horsley area within the first 5 years of the plan, but Surrey County Council have no plans to do so. The Raleigh School is already full. The private Glensk and Cranmore schools are also at or near to full capacity. The suggestion that schools in Ripley can be used contradicts the plan's stated intention to reduce traffic on the A3 and strategic aim that primary schools should be within walking distance.
- The plan's Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C) imagines an "East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme between 2019 and 2023 by Surrey CC" but gives no details. This scheme is just wishful thinking. The proposed housing can only harm the local environment, not "improve" it.
The harmful impact of these sites is magnified by the proximity of the so-called Wisley Airfield site (Three Farms Meadow), with over 2,000 new homes only 2 miles away (see below).

The density of new housing on the 6 Horsley sites is inappropriate, being greater than anywhere in the locality at present.

Sites situated on the periphery of existing development in the Horsleys encroach on surrounding open fields and require the extension of settlement boundaries for which the plan presents no arguments. Contrary to NPPF paragraph 79, this will contribute to creeping urbanisation by attenuating the Green Belt corridors separating the Horsleys from neighbouring settlements.

Collectively, these 6 sites militate against NPPF paragraph 81's encouragement of access to the Green Belt and its amenity and recreation value. This has been a success story in the Horsleys, with the creation of an amenity wood and community garden, the purchase of adjacent fields (on the eastern side of Ockham Road North) by local residents in order to preserve their open aspect, well-maintained pitches for local football and cricket clubs, public tennis courts, open space for a high-quality campsite (at Waterloo Farm) used by many foreign tourists and the approval of plans for a "Theatre in the Woods" making West Horsley the only village in Surrey with an opera house. The open nature of West Horsley determined that a long portion of the 2012 Olympic cycle races passed through the village. This route has since been adopted by cyclists as a permanent asset, including the annual

"14 E. Gallagher Homes v Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council [2014] EWHC 1283

"15 Councillor Paul Spooner and his predecessor, Councillor Stephen Mansbridge.

"16 Even some property developers complain about the Council's bias in favour of oversized developments, g. Dandara, whose relatively small

Prudential cycle race. These and future examples of "positive planning" depend on protecting the Green Belt to maintain the openness and attractiveness of the local landscape and avoiding the urbanisation and traffic congestion that Sites A36-41 will bring.

By surrounding Waterloo Farm campsite with 120 new houses, Policy A40 on land to the North of West Horsley will make this rural tourism amenity unviable. This may accord with developers' plans, since the site would then be vulnerable to infilling with yet more housing.

Site A40 is subject to an unacceptable flood risk from a combination of a high groundwater table and the lack of surface water run-off. This is flat, clay land on the downhill side of the Horsleys where floodwater from new development will accumulate and back up onto existing properties nearby. I can provide photographs proving how badly these fields already flood at present. These problems will only get worse with the increase in extreme weather events associated with climate change. The "appropriate mitigation" suggested in Policy A40 exists only as an abstract notion. It should not overrule the need for Green Belt "exceptional circumstances".

Policy A40 underestimates the problems of safe access and egress. Firstly, Ockham Road North was closed for several weeks in 2014 because of flooding, and still floods regularly. Secondly, access problems are not confined to flooding and are not addressed by the proposal to extend the existing 30m ph zone past the site entrance. Repeated attempts made by Ockham Road North residents to extend this zone have been turned down by the local authorities, Highways England and Surrey Police, even though data collected in 2015 show that traffic has doubled over the last 15 years and that the average speed in the 40mph section of this road is 52mph, with maximum recorded speeds of over 80mph. No traffic calming measures have so far been achieved. Additional housing will add to several hazards along this stretch of road, including:

- Its use by pedestrians, especially children (using the Raleigh and Glenesk schools and catching school buses to Guildford and Howard of Effingham), pensioners living in the string of bungalows at the northern end of the road, and visitors from the Waterloo campsite who are unfamiliar with the area.
- The existence of a narrow footpath on only one side of the road in any one spot. The layout means that walking half a mile between Green Land and East Lane requires crossing the road twice.
- The road's increasing use by recreational cyclists (see above).
• Its winding nature, poor sight lines (especially when interrupted by summer vegetation) and dangerous, concealed driveways. Most of these were built in the 1930s. Some have been widened but many are too narrow for modern traffic. Since a deep ditch runs along most of the road, vehicles have to swing out dangerously when entering or leaving.
• The prospect of additional traffic, including 19,000 HGV movements (90 a day over a long period) if Surrey County Council approves the Drift Golf Course's planning application to re-landscape its site using bulk waste transported from London.

1. Three Farms Meadow site

I OBJECT also to there-inclusion in the plan of Policy A35 (land at Three Farms Meadow, alias the former Wisley airfield, Ockham). Following a huge public outcry, Guildford Planning Committee have unanimously rejected a recent planning application for precisely this development on 14 separate grounds. 17 This deceived many residents into thinking that it has been defeated. Scandalously, the site had been reinserted into the new draft local plan published just 24 hours before the planning decision - a clear signal to the developers to try again.

This is not an NPPF "presumption in favour of sustainable development" but a predetermined bias in favour of specific applicants, who had already been given many additional months to refine their application before it was rejected. Residents are disturbed by apparent political links between the ruling Conservative group on the Council and individuals connected to the developers, a shadowy Cayman Islands company. "18

Policy A35 should be ditched from the plan for all the reasons the development was rejected by the Planning Committee, including:

• Green Belt location and absence of "exceptional circumstances".
• Misrepresentation of the site as brownfield land: 17ha (less than 15%) is brownfield, it is adjacent to the SPA and therefore within the 400m exclusion zone for housing. The remains of the runway (14ha) are a habitat for rare flora and fauna and has never had any buildings on it.
• Proximity to RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (TBHSPA) .
• Proximity to A3/M25 bottleneck and Ripley village and roundabouts.

David Mellor QC (its erstwhile founder and former Minister), Mr Michael Murray (spokesman for the project and Conservative cabinet member for planning policy at the Vale of the White Horse District Council in Oxfordshire) and the Han. Charles Balfour (director, descendant of the Tory Prime Minister).
Absence of adequate traffic data.

Further harm to air quality both onsite and nearby (e.g. the Cobham AQMA) and disregard for the health of children at the proposed secondary school.

Loss of high-quality agricultural land (55% of the site), in breach of national policy.

Disproportion of locating of over 2,000 dwellings within the ancient village of Ockham with just 159 households.

Presence of a Surrey County Council safeguarded waste site.

Cost of infrastructure required to the detriment of alternative more favourable sites.

Lack of local transport possibilities owing to country lanes with no footpaths or cycle ways and the distance to railway stations which have no spare parking capacity.

Impact on listed buildings.

Difficulty of SANG siting and inability to divert residents and their pets away from the SPA.

Extreme housing density with tiny garden spaces.

Damage to neighbouring communities of creating a settlement of 5,000 residents, equivalent to East and West Horsley combined, with worse light pollution, noise and traffic, and competition for local amenities and infrastructure.

Insufficient information about the impact on the local water table and run-off (see comments on flooding in Horsley above), and the possible aggravation of downstream flooding towards the Thames (e.g. Thames Ditton, which was under water during the winter of 2013/14).

Failure to evaluate the cumulative impact of this and nearby development sites on the area.

POLICY D1 -Making better places

I OBJECT to the absence of any reference to vernacular or historic design guidelines, even in Conservation Areas. Most of the borough, especially the rural areas, has vernacular design guidelines that are available to give suggestions as to appropriate design. These should have mandatory planning force.

The monitoring of this policy is inappropriate. Why should this policy result in a reduction of the number of appeals for poor design? Should it not result in better-designed buildings?

POLICY D2 - Sustainable design, construction and energy

I OBJECT. Sustainability should be an overarching ambition, conditioning the whole local plan and running through it, as claimed in the NPPF, "like a golden thread". It should be set out clearly in Policy 51, not buried away as a minor detail in Policy 02.

This policy amounts to "greenwashing", expounding aspirational environmental targets while ignoring the plan to build dormitory towns across the Green Belt that are environmentally and socially unsustainable. These settlements will bring vastly increased car use and will lead to unacceptable traffic congestion, overstretched social infrastructure, and more greenhouse gas emissions, noise and light pollution. This policy should not be just about saving energy but about preserving the borough's stock of natural capital, especially the countryside, from futile attempts to rig the housing market.

This policy's emphasis on Combined Cooling Heating and Power and communal heating networks is meaningless, since no such networks are available locally.

POLICY D3 - Historic environment

I OBJECT. This policy clashes with the strongly pro-development agenda of the rest of the plan and fails to address the contradiction. History is unamenable to improvement, so the policy should commit the Council firmly to protecting and preserving our heritage assets from development. Instead, the specific policy pledge to "support development" that might "enhance" heritage assets leaves wide scope for abuse in the form of destructive commercialisation and financial leveraging of relevant sites.

This policy is based on the false premise that Guildford's heritage is inherently in decay. This is a developer's charter- a short step away from the idea that the historic environment needs to pay its way to be preserved. The Council's aggressive reviews of Guildford Museum and the Electric Theatre support this interpretation. Whatever the "reasoned justification", the actual policy wording in the blue box leaves too many loopholes.
Development close to historical assets is harmful and should be expressly prohibited. This policy fails to meet the requirements of NPPF paragraphs 126 and 131-133.

POLICY D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

I OBJECT. This is a piously aspirational policy that does not address any of the obvious practical issues already touched on above:

- The plan envisages that 40% of homes built will be "affordable", but this does not provide any accommodation for low-paid workers, for example, those on the minimum wage, who cannot afford to buy so-called "affordable" homes or pay an "affordable" There is a need for some expansion in social housing, especially in urban areas, where there is a greater concentration of low-paid workers such as those employed in the retail, warehousing and distribution sectors (all of which this plan aspires to expand). The number of homes planned in the urban area is too low. There is a glaring need for regeneration in many urban areas, but this is ignored in favour building homes on green-field sites instead. This will not address urban housing needs. It is also unsustainable, since building outside the town does disproportionate harm to road traffic, air quality and overstretched infrastructure. The plan envisages a large expansion of the traditional "bricks and mortar" retail sector, but this is a sector in rapid and continuous decline. All the stated policy aims for "inset" villages will be negated by the excessive weight of new housing development proposed which would radically change their character forever. Against this disruptive background, it is barely relevant to talk about preserving views!

POLICY E1 - Meeting employment needs

I OBJECT because -

- The evidence base is unreliable;
- There is unclear differentiation between B class uses;
- Only high value-added business uses, contributing to a modern "knowledge economy", are desirable, not low-grade, low-employment warehousing which is also land hungry;
- Industrial and commercial businesses must be concentrated in the urban area or existing business parks (e.g., Slyfield) not in the rural environment which the infrastructure is unable to support;

"10 See footnote 3 above.

- The rural environment must support micro- or high-tech businesses, agricultural industries, and tourism, and these sectors must not be damaged by general industrial development which is inappropriate.

I oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm (see my reference to "regulatory capture" of local public policy by the University, Policy H1, above). POLICY E3 - Maintaining employment capacity and improving employment floorspace

I OBJECT. The policy of resisting change of use from B1a to residential flies in the face of positive property market solutions for the regeneration of brownfield land and is contrary to national Government policy, recently reconfirmed, which permits changes of use from B1a (offices) to C3 (residential).

POLICY E4- Surrey Research Park

I OBJECT. The Council are required by the NPPF to facilitate commercial science and technology clusters. But, as with Policies H1 and E2 above, this policy seems to be dictated more by the ambitions of Surrey University than the public interest. In an extremely tangled sentence, it says that the Research Park will be "protected for business use... in any science ... that is complementary to the activities of the University of Surrey."

This fails to distinguish adequately between the University's public role as a state-funded, academic institution and its private, financial interest in profit-making business spin-offs. It ignores enterprises that might be commercial rivals of the University. And it fails to consider the public harm done by turning the Research Park into a larger Business Park, such as the loss of Green Belt social and environmental capital.

B1b should be the primary use class for the Research Park and applications for B1a should be resisted given the danger of diluting the core purpose and reputation of the park. The inclusion of B1c uses is inappropriate and unnecessary.

POLICY E5 - Rural economy

I OBJECT. Use of rural areas for town centre uses without applying the sequential approach is against the principles of localism that require local people to be consulted and heeded, not ignored. Villages need protecting in terms of both design and scale.

Most of the economic activities listed in 4.4.44 depend on maintaining the rural character of our villages which would be endangered by the wholesale “insetting”, boundary expansion and house building proposed in other parts of the plan. This applies also to new and projected enterprises in the Green Belt (e.g. Grange Park Opera’s Theatre in the Woods in West Horsley, which requires a protected, rustic setting to be a success, not housing estates and congested roads). Policy E5 is incompatible with the high housing numbers proposed.

Previous commitments to improved high-speed broadband and mobile phone coverage have now been diluted, despite general support. This disregards the responses from the 2014 public consultation.

POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/”Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford's river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to RHS Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

1. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan, yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY E7 Guildford Town Centre

I OBJECT. The policy "vision" refers to protecting the Guildford's "unique setting" (including, surely, its surrounding Green Belt and countryside views) but this is not carried over into the formal policy wording in the blue box. It is therefore a worthless commitment.

There should be much more residential use of the town centre where most people, especially the young and less well-off, want to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose a visionary regeneration plan for the River Way/Walnut Tree Close area, where there is arguably enough brownfield land for 4,000 new homes, meeting near all the borough's housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside. There is an urgent need for a brownfield register and to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area. CIL strategy must promote brownfield redevelopment.

Strangely, the policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council's own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group's proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public debate.

This policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.11

Instead, it is far too concerned with shopping. Town-centre shopping is in decline internationally as consumers move irreversibly online. There is no need to expand physical retail capacity or warehousing floorspace, which will only kill off existing shops while using up valuable housing land. The delays to the redevelopment of North Street is a flashing red light warning that consumer patterns are shifting. Guildford is a large town without a single butcher or fishmonger, showing that the Council need to use the fiscal and other mechanisms at its disposal to support niche retailers. To opt for large, impersonal department stores and dull high-street chain stores at the expense of Guildford's unique character would be an historic blunder. For this type of shopping, most residents can go to Woking or Kingston, whose ugly town centres should serve as a dire warning to Guildford planners.

POLICY E8 - District centres

I OBJECT to the proposal that sites "on the edge" of District Centres should be considered for retail developments. This is another Trojan horse policy, allowing retail hubs to be vastly expanded in order to smooth the way for vast new housing estates outside in the countryside (e.g. to meet the "everyday shopping and service needs" of the roughly 1,500 people living in the 600 new homes planned for the Horsleys).

This is a case of back-to-front priorities. Expanded local retail hubs are being proposed in order to justify more housebuilding in the villages, and in a forlorn attempt to mitigate the serious traffic and infrastructure problems this will bring. The Council have no business preparing the way for new supermarkets in the Green Belt. Rural retail capacity should be left to local demand.

The policy proposes not a single measure to support existing rural shops and services that are the lifeblood of village communities, e.g. using business rates and other levers at the Council's disposal.

"11 NPPF 59: "Local planning authorities should consider ... the overall scale, density, massing, height, landscape, layout, materials and access of new development in relation to neighbouring buildings and the local area more generally."

POLICY E9 - Local centres

I OBJECT (for the reasons given under Policy E8 above) to the proposal for retail development adjacent to the 6 rural centres, and sites on the edge of designated centres. This is creeping urbanisation, damaging to the Green Belt and to Guildford town revival as a thriving urban hub. It will contribute to local urban decay and depopulation, just as expansion of the suburbs did to mid-20th century London.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY H1 -Homes for all

I OBJECT. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set any rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to de-humanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

"5 This has been challenged by residents including, by Mr Ben as far as the Information Ombudsman. But the Council have consistently refused to seek disclosure of the model.

"6 See http://www.glheam.com/developer/Pages/Overview.aspx : ·we act for many of the leading developers." G L Hearn is now part of Capita Real Estate.

"7 See letter from Neil Taylor, Director of Development at Guildford Borough Council, in the Surrey Advertiser of 3 June 2016: "I would like to highlight the difference between the Objectively Assessed Housing Need (OAN) figure produced by G L Hearn (693 homes per year) and the Housing Target for the Local Plan. Some opponents of the Local Plan appear to blur the edges of the two figures. The OAN figure is the one produced by the modelling tool. The Housing Target figure is the proportion of the OAN that the Council feels it can successfully deliver. Based on the infrastructure that Highways England, Surrey County Council and others suggest they can provide over the next 15 years, the Council believes it can deliver the full OAN number as the Housing Target. However if, during this consultation, or later on, the anticipated infrastructure is not going to be provided then the council will be forced to apply further constraints to the OAN number, which may reduce the Housing Target number. Therefore, it is clear that the OAN and the Housing Target are not the same. The OAN is objective and the Housing Target is subject to constraints."

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

Guildford borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H2- Affordable homes

I OBJECT. "Affordable" homes, under national definitions, means homes that are sold or rented at 80% of market value. Even if 70% of these are rented as proposed, the level of market prices in the South-East means (even post-Brexit) that these homes will remain well beyond most people's means and that starter homes will not become available for local people.

In addition, the viability clause (4.2.40) means that in practice the policy could be unenforceable. Private financial viability has no place in a public policy and should be removed. It is a get-out-of-jail-free card for developers that will sacrifice countryside for no local benefit.

I question the assumptions that seem to underlie this policy: that people have a right (rather than a legitimate aspiration) to own a home; that they should be encouraged to live locally (contradicting the Government's policy of encouraging labour mobility and development in poorer regions, where homes are cheaper anyway); that increasing local house-building will reduce overcrowding and congestion (rather than simply suck more people into the borough); and that it will stem the rise in house prices (even though 13,860 new homes will be a drop in the ocean, given that prices are determined by an infinite demand-pull from London, whose population is increasing by 100,000 a year, and by the currently low cost of capital for overseas and other buyers). The weak mechanisms proposed in the plan might influence the market in a more remote part of the UK, but not here.

This policy's version of "affordability" is just a smokescreen for pushing through more development generally. Building more homes in Guildford cannot increase real affordability given the overhang of the London market.

POLICY H3- Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT. This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix", this can include "market" housing - i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes. This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

POLICY I1 - Infrastructure and delivery

I OBJECT. Most of the borough's infrastructure is antiquated, congested and straining to accommodate even current needs and organic growth. Yet this plan's commitment to building housing estates across the Guildford countryside will mean either major infrastructure investment that no-one is prepared to pay for or else a catastrophic and simultaneous collapse in transport, educational, medical, energy, water and communications services.

The plan targets greenfield sites - requiring heavy infrastructure investment - in order to generate CIL income necessary to meet an infrastructure shortfall that is already serious. This is not sensible. The current draft CIL scale also encourages development on greenfield sites rather than brownfield.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council's methodology for assessing infrastructure needs in this area is inadequate, identifying only the tip of an iceberg of existing congestion. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that involve demolishing property and road-widening in residential areas to solve the resultant congestion. The A3 improvements are not guaranteed to take place but they are being used to justify removing large areas from the Green Belt before detailed traffic assessments have taken place. These detailed investigations are being deferred until the planning application stage and will be left to developers to prepare. If a site then proves to be unsustainable its Green Belt protection will have been lost for no reason and unsuitable development will take place by a more insidious process.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy 11. By prioritising greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough's infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council's control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognising this as a key issue, the plan is based on a wing and a prayer.

POLICY I2 - Supporting the Department of Transport's "Road Investment Strategy"

I OBJECT. This policy is too vague and optimistic. Decisions by Highways England on improving the strategic road network (the M25 and A3) are still years off. The Council have suggested a very expensive tunnel under Guildford, but this is no more than a dream. Even if Highways England accepted this (which is highly unlikely in the post-Brexit public spending climate) it would not be built until the end of the plan period at the earliest. Other, less expensive A3 improvements, and changes to the Junction 10/Heathrow stretch of the M25, will also take years to agree and complete.

The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is foolhardy. Surrey is the most congested county in England, with 683 people per square kilometre, compared with an English average of 413. This policy will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone). This is a major development constraint that should have been applied to the OAN before this consultation, and not left up in the air.

POLICY I3 - Sustainable transport for new developments

I OBJECT. This is another vaguely aspirational policy, based on wishful thinking and not grounded in the practical realities of daily life. It consists of a standard, box-ticking list of local government measures unrelated to the specifics of the plan. Like infrastructure, transport appears to be an afterthought; the policy fails in its essential job of guiding planning decisions, since it assumes development of any kind can be supported by sustainable transport.

The sustainability of the dormitory settlements which the Council want built across the countryside depends on a general "modal shift" from private car use to walking, cycling and public transport. This is unrealistic. The proposed sites are often miles away from the nearest railway station. Bus services even in the largest villages are almost non-existent—just one bus to and from Guildford each day in the Horsleys and none at weekends. Since bus services depend on profitability, they cannot be expanded and the Council are not proposing to subsidise new ones. Rural buses are too slow anyway for busy people. Most rural roads in the borough are narrow, winding, hilly, potholed, muddy and unlit. Many flood badly and have no footpaths.

The desired modal shift would require a comprehensive co-ordination of bus and train timetables with services every few minutes, seven days a week, to stops within walking distance of every home in the borough. This kind of integrated public transport system has been achieved in Switzerland, for instance, but only at huge public cost and thanks to a political consensus supporting state ownership of trains, buses and the post office, which delivers rural passengers as well as mail. There is absolutely no chance of this in the UK.

The vast majority of the borough's residents are not, in practice, able to cycle. This includes children, the elderly, commuters who have to look smart, the infirm, the unfit and people carrying goods or shopping of any kind. Dependence on walking and cycling discriminates against these groups, which include some of the most vulnerable members of the community. It is socially unjust.

One in two working people in Guildford commute for up to 3 hours a day, as I used to do. They will not leave their cars for even part of their journey if it means longer travel times.

Park-and-rides are a welcome part of the transport mix but are too slow for commuters and others on a tight schedule. Well-off pensioners seem to be the main beneficiaries. For an adult couple going shopping it is still cheaper to park in town.

Forget about water buses. The Wey is too narrow and, with a river speed limit of 4mph, boats are too slow for anything but recreation. Except on the tideway, not even the Thames has such services.

The addition of two new stations appears attractive but will slow down train journeys, which are already slower than at any time since the 1930s. Knock-on effects on localities where the new stations are built have not been worked out or presented.

POLICY P2 - Green Belt

I OBJECT. This policy states, "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." This is a lie.

The policy wording is tepid in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government's policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations - an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. It is an inalienable public good. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council's to give away.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt's value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:
• Agricultural production
• Rural leisure and tourism amenities
• Water catchment
• Flood control
• Biodiversity
• Natural heritage
• A carbon sink for air pollution
• Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
• Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
• Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even tracking)
• Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
• Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)6

As a matter of law, morality and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations.

It is disreputable to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no "acceptable" percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. No-one argues that we should sell 1.6% of the Crown jewels in order to build houses.

I am not opposed to appropriate development in the Green Belt and recently supported a major planning application in my own village. But I fail to see why a system of fair burden-sharing of new development cannot be applied to the borough's existing settlements in proportion to their size. This alternative would minimise the strain on infrastructure and maximise the chances of retaining the character of each settlement through gradual growth. It is reasonable to ask urban Guildford, with $x$ times the population of semi-rural East Horsley for instance, to accommodate $x$ times the number of new homes over the plan period. Parish councils could be asked, and will no doubt be willing, to propose where their quota of houses should go. Most rural residents are reasonable people who, if not alienated by top-down planners, will support realistic numbers of new houses in their neighbourhoods. Unfortunately, this democratic, bottom-up approach has not been attempted.

Instead, while developers flip and land-bank urban sites as a financial speculation, this plan will dump most new development on greenfield sites where building costs are lower, covering the Green Belt with dozens of housing estates that few residents want. 8,086 new houses are planned for the Green Belt but only 1,135 for Guildford urban area. This is disruptive, socially inequitable and unnecessary. It will not only destroy countryside but will also delay and disincentivise much-needed urban regeneration. The remarkable revival and repopulation of central London shows that building dormitory satellite settlements is an out-of-date approach to planning.

I particularly protest at the "insetting" of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at "infilling" 12 of the borough's Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are "leggy" in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hellbent on self-defeat.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors.9 To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need (especially post-Brexit) and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions."
"8 See Ministerial foreword: "Our natural environment is essential to our wellbeing, and it can be better looked after than it has Habitats that have been degraded can be restored. Species that have been isolated can be reconnected. Green Belt land that has been depleted of diversity can be refilled by nature—and opened to people to experience it, to the benefit of body and soul."

"9 Councillor Matthew Sarti, Planning Committee meeting, 18 May 2016.

1. Green Belt sites

I OBJECT to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that "allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses." This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are sick and tired of repeating the same comments to deaf ears. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014.13 Some residents have concluded that commenting is a waste of time.

"13 Further discredited by criminality on the Council. Former lead Councillor for planning Monkia Juneja, architect of the 2014 draft plan, is currently serving a two-year sentence on 3 counts of forgery, pretending to be a barrister and obtaining dishonest pecuniary advantage.

All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until "exceptional circumstances" for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established."

POLICY P3 - Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

I OBJECT. This is more protective - as a policy- than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: "we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location". Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be "inset". That is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the "coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot" than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl.

Apart from being a scandalous misuse of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, "Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham." It is a cynical piece of tokenism. The leader of the Council needs to be seen to be above reproach by deleting this policy.

POLICY P4 - Flood risk and water source protection zones

I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

POLICY P5 - Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

I OBJECT. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG- in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds - must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

POLICY S1 - Presumption in favour of sustainable development

I OBJECT. The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development "should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking." Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of "sustainable development" is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.
The promise "to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area" omits to recognise that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. It does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the tough choices Councillors will face, it is useless. Under this policy, any development will qualify as "sustainable", thereby failing to apply the NPPF's most important guideline.

The most gaping hole in Policy S1 is the Green Belt. As an inter-generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity, the Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice. It is the envy of the world. Policy S1 should commit to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections, setting at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The plan's contempt for Green Belt constraints is amply demonstrated in later policies.

The commitment to approve planning applications "wherever possible" and "without delay" reveals this draft plan's pro-development bias. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17. In my view Policy S1 is a non-policy.

POLICY S2 -Borough Wide Strategy

I OBJECT. I have 5 objections to the proposal to build 13,860 new homes:

1. The number is based on pre-Brexit projections for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously."4

2. The number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, "West Surrey" is much too Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half the people who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent districts of Rushmoor and Mole Valley, minutes from Guildford town, are outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere. Unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and is part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council have failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so the housing numbers...
"1 NPPF paragraph

"2 The most widely accepted definition is the 1987 United Nations one from the Brundtland Report: "Development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs."

"3 Including: "empowering local people to shape their surroundings... Take account of the different roles and character of different areas... protecting the Green Belts around them... recognizing the intrinsic character and beauty of the countryside and supporting thriving communities within it... Support to conserving and enhancing the natural environment and reducing pollution... Encourage the effective use of land by reusing land that has previously been developed (brownfield land)... Conserve heritage assets... Actively manage patterns of growth to make the fullest use of public transport and cycling and focus significant development on locations which can be made sustainable."

"4 At the time of writing, about £8billion (40%) has been wiped off the value of the UK's top 4 housebuilders alone.

derived from it are unreliable. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county (none in Mole Valley, for instance}. This highly lopsided distribution is unexplained.

1. The figure of 13,860 new homes is It has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA.5 The Council say we should trust the contractors' model because it is used by a large number of other local authorities. Wide usage, however, does not confer objectivity. Guildford's OAN would fail the basic transparency test even if the methodology used were a universally admired 'gold standard'. But it is not: it belongs to consultants whose website openly proclaim their pro-development agenda,6 provoking reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. External experts and members of the public have provided detailed critiques of the model. Its most fatal flaw, however, is that it has not been disclosed- not even to the authors of the plan, who have taken it on trust. This is irrational and unsound.

1. The status of the 13,860 figure is The plan fails to set a Housing Target of new homes to be built, or explain how this relates to the "Objectively Assessed Number" (OAN) for housing need. Elsewhere, the Council have said that the two are identical because the OAN is "deliverable" and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted, but in the same breath say that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability.7 Despite the NPPF, the plan fails to address these constraints. In any case, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permission, plus expected "windfall" sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how can anything else be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a "plan" that fails to propose a Housing Target that takes normal constraints and adjustments credibly into account, and which leaves the Council to set one at any level without further consultation. Even if the OAN were not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

1. It is irrational to embark on a radical transformation of the borough without a clear Housing Most of Guildford borough is theoretically protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the existing number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1. Sites in East and West Horsley

I OBJECT in particular to including Sites A36-41 (East and West Horsley). This is a back-door way to create a mega-village essentially, a soulless new dormitory town. The Horsleys feel victimised by this plan, which has been masterminded by Council leaders representing Ash and Tongham at the other end of the borough, where (in a flagrant case of political double standards) the Green Belt is actually being extended under Policy P3.15

Whatever their merits as development sites, the 6 Horsley sites should not be considered individually but for their cumulative impact on the contiguous villages of East and West Horsley.

Building 533 new houses on these 6 sites, plus at least another 90 on small sites is (a) excessive in absolute terms and (b) disproportionate relative to the rest of the borough. It will destroy the rural character of these communities.18

Under the plan, rural West Horsley will take 35% of new homes, urban Ash and Tongham 16% and Guildford urban area only 11%. The total number of homes in West Horsley will increase by 35%, which is disproportionate when measured against the overall increase in housing across the borough and particularly in Guildford town. If the Council have justifiable reasons to transform a particular community so radically, the plan should present a case rather than putting forward site proposals as a fait accompli.

These sites will put unsustainable strain on local facilities and infrastructure, including public transport, parking, schooling, medical facilities, sewage, surface drainage and shops. For instance:

- Thames Water have advised the Council that the current wastewater network will not cope and that the foul drainage system all the way to the treatment works North of Ripley will need to be upgraded.
- Guildford Council's Education Review says "expansion options may need to be considered for primary" education in the Horsley area within the first 5 years of the plan, but Surrey County Council have no plans to do so. The Raleigh School is already full. The private Glenesk and Cranmore schools are also at or near to full capacity. The suggestion that schools in Ripley can be used contradicts the plan's stated intention to reduce traffic on the A3 and strategic aim that primary schools should be within walking distance.
- The plan's Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C) imagines an "East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme between 2019 and 2023 by Surrey CC" but gives no details. This scheme is just wishful thinking. The proposed housing can only harm the local environment, not "improve" it.

The harmful impact of these sites is magnified by the proximity of the so-called Wisley Airfield site (Three Farms Meadow), with over 2,000 new homes only 2 miles away (see below).

The density of new housing on the 6 Horsley sites is inappropriate, being greater than anywhere in the locality at present.

Sites situated on the periphery of existing development in the Horsleys encroach on surrounding open fields and require the extension of settlement boundaries for which the plan presents no arguments. Contrary to NPPF paragraph 79, this will contribute to creeping urbanisation by attenuating the Green Belt corridors separating the Horsleys from neighbouring settlements.
Collectively, these 6 sites militate against NPPF paragraph 81's encouragement of access to the Green Belt and its amenity and recreation value. This has been a success story in the Horsleys, with the creation of an amenity wood and community garden, the purchase of adjacent fields (on the eastern side of Ockham Road North) by local residents in order to preserve their open aspect, well-maintained pitches for local football and cricket clubs, public tennis courts, open space for a high-quality campsite (at Waterloo Farm) used by many foreign tourists and the approval of plans for a "Theatre in the Woods"-making West Horsley the only village in Surrey with an opera house. The open nature of West Horsley determined that a long portion of the 2012 Olympic cycle races passed through the village. This route has since been adopted by cyclists as a permanent asset, including the annual

"16 Even some property developers complain about the Council's bias in favour of oversized developments, g. Dandara, whose relatively small Green Belt sites on the A246 (Epsom Road) in West Horsley is not considered in the plan.

Prudential cycle race. These and future examples of "positive planning" depend on protecting the Green Belt to maintain the openness and attractiveness of the local landscape and avoiding the urbanisation and traffic congestion that Sites A36-41 will bring.

By surrounding Waterloo Farm campsite with 120 new houses, Policy A40 on land to the North of West Horsley will make this rural tourism amenity unviable. This may accord with developers' plans, since the site would then be vulnerable to infilling with yet more housing.

Site A40 is subject to an unacceptable flood risk from a combination of a high groundwater table and the lack of surface water run-off. This is flat, clay land on the downhill side of the Horsleys where floodwater from new development will accumulate and back up onto existing properties nearby. I can provide photographs proving how badly these fields already flood at present. These problems will only get worse with the increase in extreme weather events associated with climate change. The "appropriate mitigation" suggested in Policy A40 exists only as an abstract notion. It should not overrule the need for Green Belt "exceptional circumstances".

Policy A40 underestimates the problems of safe access and egress. Firstly, Ockham Road North was closed for several weeks in 2014 because of flooding, and still floods regularly. Secondly, access problems are not confined to flooding and are not addressed by the proposal to extend the existing 30mph zone past the site entrance. Repeated attempts made by Ockham Road North residents to extend this zone have been turned down by the local authorities, Highways England and Surrey Police, even though data collected in 2015 show that traffic has doubled over the last 15 years and that the average speed in the 40mph section of this road is 52mph, with maximum recorded speeds of over 80mph. No traffic calming measures have so far been achieved. Additional housing will add to several hazards along this stretch of road, including:

- Its use by pedestrians, especially children (using the Raleigh and Glensk schools and catching school buses to Guildford and Howard of Effingham), pensioners living in the string of bungalows at the northern end of the road, and visitors from the Waterloo campsite who are unfamiliar with the area.
- The existence of a narrow footpath on only one side of the road in any one spot. The layout means that walking half a mile between Green Land and East Lane requires crossing the road twice.
- The road's increasing use by recreational cyclists (see above).
- Its winding nature, poor sight lines (especially when interrupted by summer vegetation) and dangerous, concealed driveways. Most of these were built in the 1930s. Some have been widened but many are too narrow for modern traffic. Since a deep ditch runs along most of the road, vehicles have to swing out dangerously when entering or leaving.
- The prospect of additional traffic, including 19,000 HGV movements (90 a day over a long period) if Surrey County Council approves the Drift Golf Course's planning application to re-landscape its site using bulk waste transported from London.

1. Three Farms Meadow site

I OBJECT also to there-inclusion in the plan of Policy A35 (land at Three Farms Meadow, alias the former Wisley airfield, Ockham). Following a huge public outcry, Guildford Planning Committee have unanimously rejected a recent planning application for precisely this development on 14 separate grounds. This deceived many residents into thinking that it has been defeated. Scandalously, the site had been reinserted into the new draft local plan published just 24 hours before the planning decision - a clear signal to the developers to try again.

This is not an NPPF "presumption in favour of sustainable development" but a predetermined bias in favour of specific applicants, who had already been given many additional months to refine their application before it was rejected. Residents are disturbed by apparent political links between the ruling Conservative group on the Council and individuals connected to the developers, a shadowy Cayman Islands company. 18

Policy A35 should be ditched from the plan for all the reasons the development was rejected by the Planning Committee, including:

- Green Belt location and absence of "exceptional circumstances".
- Misrepresentation of the site as brownfield land: 17ha (less than 15%) is brownfield, it is adjacent to the SPA and therefore within the 400m exclusion zone for housing. The remains of the runway (14ha) are a habitat for rare flora and fauna and has never had any buildings on it.
- Proximity to RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (TBHSPA).
- Proximity to A3/M25 bottleneck and Ripley village and roundabouts.

David Mellor QC (its erstwhile founder and former Minister), Mr Michael Murray (spokesman for the project and Conservative cabinet member for planning policy at the Vale of the White Horse District Council in Oxfordshire) and the Hon. Charles Balfour (director, descendant of the Tory Prime Minister).

- Absence of adequate traffic data.
- Further harm to air quality both onsite and nearby (e.g. the Cobham AQMA) and disregard for the health of children at the proposed secondary school.
- Loss of high-quality agricultural land (55% of the site), in breach of national policy.
- Disproportion of locating of over 2,000 dwellings within the ancient village of Ockham with just 159 households.
- Presence of a Surrey County Council safeguarded waste site.
- Cost of infrastructure required to the detriment of alternative more favourable sites.
- Lack of local transport possibilities owing to country lanes with no footpaths or cycle ways and the distance to railway stations which have no spare parking capacity.
- Impact on listed buildings.
- Difficulty of SANG siting and inability to divert residents and their pets away from the SPA. Extreme housing density with tiny garden spaces.
- Damage to neighbouring communities of creating a settlement of 5,000 residents, equivalent to East and West Horsley combined, with worse light pollution, noise and traffic, and competition for local amenities and infrastructure.
• Insufficient information about the impact on the local water table and run-off (see comments on flooding in Horsley above), and the possible aggravation of downstream flooding towards the Thames (e.g. Thames Ditton, which was under water during the winter of 2013/14).19
• Failure to evaluate the cumulative impact of this and nearby development sites on the area.

Most of the borough, especially the rural areas, has vernacular design guidelines that are available to give suggestions as to appropriate design. These should have mandatory planning force.

The monitoring of this policy is inappropriate. Why should this policy result in a reduction of the number of appeals for poor design? Should it not result in better-designed buildings?

POLICY D2 - Sustainable design, construction and energy

I OBJECT. Sustainability should be an overarching ambition, conditioning the whole local plan and running through it, as claimed in the NPPF, "like a golden thread". It should be set out clearly in Policy 51, not buried away as a minor detail in Policy 02.

This policy amounts to "greenwashing", expounding aspirational environmental targets while ignoring the plan to build dormitory towns across the Green Belt that are environmentally and socially unsustainable. These settlements will bring vastly increased car use and will lead to unacceptable traffic congestion, overstretched social infrastructure, and more greenhouse gas emissions, noise and light pollution. This policy should not be just about saving energy but about preserving the borough's stock of natural capital, especially the countryside, from futile attempts to rig the housing market.

This policy's emphasis on Combined Cooling Heating and Power and communal heating networks is meaningless, since no such networks are available locally.

POLICY D3 - Historic environment

I OBJECT. This policy clashes with the strongly pro-development agenda of the rest of the plan and fails to address the contradiction. History is unamenable to improvement, so the policy should commit the Council firmly to protecting and preserving our heritage assets from development. Instead, the specific policy pledge to "support development" that might "enhance" heritage assets leaves wide scope for abuse in the form of destructive commercialisation and financial leveraging of relevant sites.

This policy is based on the false premise that Guildford's heritage is inherently in decay. This is a developer's charter-a short step away from the idea that the historic environment needs to pay its way to be preserved. The Council's aggressive reviews of Guildford Museum and the Electric Theatre support this interpretation. Whatever the "reasoned justification", the actual policy wording in the blue box leaves too many loopholes.

Development close to historical assets is harmful and should be expressly prohibited. This policy fails to meet the requirements of NPPF paragraphs 126 and 131-133.

POLICY D4- Development in urban areas and inset villages

I OBJECT. This is a piously aspirational policy that does not address any of the obvious practical issues already touched on above:

- The plan envisages that 40% of homes built will be "affordable", but this does not provide any accommodation for low-paid workers, for example, those on the minimum wage, who cannot afford to buy so-called "affordable" homes or pay an "affordable". There is a need for some expansion in social housing, especially in urban areas, where there is a greater concentration of low-paid workers such as those employed in the retail, warehousing and distribution sectors (all of which this plan aspires to expand). The number of homes planned in the urban area is too low. There is a glaring need for regeneration in many urban areas, but this is ignored in favour building homes on green-field sites instead. This will not address urban housing needs. It is also unsustainable, since building outside the town does disproportionate harm to road traffic, air quality and overstretched infrastructure.

The plan envisages a large expansion of the traditional "bricks and mortar" retail sector, but this is a sector in rapid and continuous decline. All the stated policy aims for "inset" villages will be negated by the excessive weight of new housing development proposed which would radically change their character forever. Against this disruptive background, it is barely relevant to talk about preserving views!

POLICY E1 - Meeting employment needs

I OBJECT because -

The evidence base is unreliable;

There is unclear differentiation between B class uses;

Only high value-added business uses, contributing to a modern "knowledge economy", are desirable, not low-grade, low-employment warehousing which is also land hungry;

Industrial and commercial businesses must be concentrated in the urban area or existing business parks (e.g. Slyfield) not in the rural environment which the infrastructure is unable to support;

The rural environment must support micro- or high-tech businesses, agricultural industries, and tourism, and these sectors must not be damaged by general industrial development which is inappropriate.

POLICY E4- Surrey Research Park

I OBJECT. The Council are required by the NPPF to facilitate commercial science and technology clusters. But, as with Policies H1 and E2 above, this policy seems to be dictated more by the ambitions of Surrey University than the public interest. In an extremely tangled sentence, it says that the Research Park will be "protected for business use... in any science... that is complementary to the activities of the University of Surrey."

This fails to distinguish adequately between the University's public role as a state-funded, academic institution and its private, financial interest in profit-making business spin-offs. It ignores enterprises that might be commercial rivals of the University. And it fails to consider the public harm done by turning the Research Park into a larger Business Park, such as the loss of Green Belt social and environmental capital.

B1b should be the primary use class for the Research Park and applications for B1a should be resisted given the danger of diluting the core purpose and reputation of the park. The inclusion of B1c uses is inappropriate and unnecessary.

POLICY E5 - Rural economy

I OBJECT. Use of rural areas for town centre uses without applying the sequential approach is against the principles of localism that require local people to be consulted and heeded, not ignored. Villages need protecting in terms of both design and scale.

Most of the economic activities listed in 4.4.44 depend on maintaining the rural character of our villages which would be endangered by the wholesale "inserting", boundary expansion and house building proposed in other parts of the plan. This applies also to new and projected enterprises in the Green Belt (e.g. Grange Park Opera's Theatre in the Woods in West Horsley, which requires a protected, rustic setting to be a success, not housing estates and congested roads). Policy E5 is incompatible with the high housing numbers proposed.

Previous commitments to improved high-speed broadband and mobile phone coverage have now been diluted, despite general support. This disregards the responses from the 2014 public consultation.

POLICY E6- The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/"Disneyfication". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford's river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

2. To help private providers market local This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to RHS Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

3. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan, yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

OLICY E7 Guildford Town Centre

I OBJECT . The policy "vision" refers to protecting the Guildford's "unique setting" (including, surely, its surrounding Green Belt and countryside views) but this is not carried over into the formal policy wording in the blue box. It is therefore a worthless commitment.

There should be much more residential use of the town centre where most people, especially the young and less well-off, want to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose a visionary regeneration plan for the River Way/Walnut Tree Close area, where there is arguably enough brownfield land for 4,000 new homes, meeting near all the borough's housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside . There is an urgent need for a brownfield register and to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area. CIL strategy must promote brownfield redevelopment.

Strangely, the policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council's own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group's proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public debate.

This policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.11

Instead, it is far too concerned with shopping. Town-centre shopping is in decline internationally as consumers move irreversibly online. There is no need to expand physical retail capacity or warehousing floorspace, which will only kill off existing shops while using up valuable housing land. The delays to the redevelopment of North Street is a flashing red light warning that consumer patterns are shifting. Guildford is a large town without a single butcher or fishmonger, showing that the Council need to use the fiscal and other mechanisms at its disposal to support niche retailers. To opt for large, impersonal department stores and dull high-street chain stores at the expense of Guildford's unique character would be an historic blunder. For this type of shopping, most residents can go to Woking or Kingston, whose ugly town centres should serve as a dire warning to Guildford planners.

POLICY E8- District centres

I OBJECT to the proposal that sites "on the edge" of District Centres should be considered for retail developments. This is another Trojan horse policy, allowing retail hubs to be vastly expanded in order to smooth the way for vast new housing estates outside in the countryside (e.g. to meet the "everyday shopping and service needs" of the roughly 1,500 people living in the 600 new homes planned for the Horsleys).

This is a case of back-to-front priorities. Expanded local retail hubs are being proposed in order to justify more housebuilding in the villages, and in a forlorn attempt to mitigate the serious traffic and infrastructure problems this will bring. The Council have no business preparing the way for new supermarkets in the Green Belt. Rural retail capacity should be left to local demand.

The policy proposes not a single measure to support existing rural shops and services that are the lifeblood of village communities, e.g. using business rates and other levers at the Council's disposal.

"11 NPPF 59: ""Local planning authorities should consider … the overall scale, density, massing, height, landscape, layout, materials and access of new development in relation to neighbouring buildings and the local area more generally."

POLICY E9 - Local centres

I OBJECT (for the reasons given under Policy E8 above) to the proposal for retail development adjacent to the 6 rural centres, and sites on the edge of designated centres. This is creeping urbanisation, damaging to the Green Belt and to Guildford town revival as a thriving urban hub. It will contribute to local urban decay and depopulation, just as expansion of the suburbs did to mid-20th century London.

POLICY H1 - Homes for all

I OBJECT. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set any rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to de-humanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

"5 This has been challenged by residents including, by Mr Ben as far as the Information Ombudsman. But the Council have consistently refused to seek disclosure of the model.

"6 See http://www.glheam.com/developer/Pages/Overview.aspx : ·we act for many of the leading developers." G L Hearn is now part of Capita Real Estate.

"7 See letter from Neil Taylor, Director of Development at Guildford Borough Council, in the Surrey Advertiser of 3 June 2016: "I would like to highlight the difference between the Objectively Assessed Housing Need (OAN) figure produced by G L Hearn (693 homes per year) and the Housing Target for the Local Plan. Some opponents of the Local Plan appear to blur the edges of the two figures. The OAN figure is the one produced by the modelling tool. The Housing Target figure is the proportion of the OAN that the Council feels it can successfully deliver. Based on the infrastructure that Highways England, Surrey County Council and others suggest they can provide over the next 15 years, the Council believes it can deliver the full OAN number as the Housing Target. However if, during this consultation, or later on, the anticipated infrastructure is not going to be provided then the council will be forced to apply further constraints to the OAN number, which may reduce the Housing Target number. Therefore, it is clear that the OAN and the Housing Target are not the same. The OAN is objective and the Housing Target is subject to constraints.”

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

Guildford borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H2- Affordable homes

I OBJECT. "Affordable" homes, under national definitions, means homes that are sold or rented at 80% of market value. Even if 70% of these are rented as proposed, the level of market prices in the South-East means (even post-Brexit) that these homes will remain well beyond most people's means and that starter homes will not become available for local people.

In addition, the viability clause (4.2.40) means that in practice the policy could be unenforceable. Private financial viability has no place in a public policy and should be removed. It is a get-out-of-jail-free card for developers that will sacrifice countryside for no local benefit.

I question the assumptions that seem to underlie this policy: that people have a right (rather than a legitimate aspiration) to own a home; that they should be encouraged to live locally (contradicting the Government's policy of encouraging labour mobility and development in poorer regions, where homes are cheaper anyway); that increasing local house-building will reduce overcrowding and congestion (rather than simply suck more people into the borough); and that it will stem the rise in house prices (even though 13,860 new homes will be a drop in the ocean, given that prices are determined by an infinite demand-pull from London, whose population is increasing by 100,000 a year, and by the currently low cost of capital for overseas and other buyers). The weak mechanisms proposed in the plan might influence the market in a more remote part of the UK, but not here.

This policy's version of "affordability" is just a smokescreen for pushing through more development generally. Building more homes in Guildford cannot increase real affordability given the overhang of the London market.

POLICY H3- Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT. This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix", this can include "market" housing - i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes. This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

POLICY 11 - Infrastructure and delivery

I OBJECT . Most of the borough's infrastructure is antiquated, congested and straining to accommodate even current needs and organic growth. Yet this plan's commitment to building housing estates across the Guildford countryside will mean either major infrastructure investment that no-one is prepared to pay for or else a catastrophic and simultaneous collapse in transport, educational, medical, energy, water and communications services.

The plan targets greenfield sites—requiring heavy infrastructure investment—in order to generate CIL income necessary to meet an infrastructure shortfall that is already serious. This is not sensible. The current draft CIL scale also encourages development on greenfield sites rather than brownfield.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council's methodology for assessing infrastructure needs in this area is inadequate, identifying only the tip of an iceberg of existing congestion. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that involve demolishing property and road-widening in residential areas to solve the resultant congestion. The A3 improvements are not guaranteed to take place but they are being used to justify removing large areas from the Green Belt before detailed traffic assessments have taken place. These detailed investigations are being deferred until the planning application stage and will be left to developers to prepare. If a site then proves to be unsustainable its Green Belt protection will have been lost for no reason and unsuitable development will take place by a more insidious process.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy 11. By prioritising greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough's infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. "12 This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council's control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognising this as a key issue, the plan is based on a wing and a prayer.

POLICY I2 - Supporting the Department of Transport's "Road Investment Strategy"

I OBJECT. This policy is too vague and optimistic. Decisions by Highways England on improving the strategic road network (the M25 and A3) are still years off. The Council have suggested a very expensive tunnel under Guildford, but this is no more than a dream. Even if Highways England accepted this (which is highly unlikely in the post-Brexit public spending climate) it would not be built until the end of the plan period at the earliest. Other, less expensive A3 improvements, and changes to the Junction 10/Heathrow stretch of the M25, will also take years to agree and complete.

The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is foolhardy. Surrey is the most congested county in England, with 683 people per square kilometre, compared with an English average of 413. This policy will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone). This is a major development constraint that should have been applied to the OAN before this consultation, and not left up in the air.

POLICY I3 - Sustainable transport for new developments

I OBJECT. This is another vaguely aspirational policy, based on wishful thinking and not grounded in the practical realities of daily life. It consists of a standard, box-ticking list of local government measures unrelated to the specifics of the plan. Like infrastructure, transport appears to be an afterthought; the policy fails in its essential job of guiding planning decisions, since it assumes development of any kind can be supported by sustainable transport.

"12 Residents have been incredulous at the Council's failure to apply infrastructure constraints to housing numbers, in response first to the 2013 Issues and Options paper and then to the 2014 draft local plan. There were 20,000 responses each time.

The sustainability of the dormitory settlements which the Council want built across the countryside depends on a general "modal shift" from private car use to walking, cycling and public transport. This is unrealistic. The proposed sites are often miles away from the nearest railway station. Bus services even in the largest villages are almost non-existent- just one bus to and from Guildford each day in the Horsleys and none at weekends. Since bus services depend on profitability, they cannot be expanded and the Council are not proposing to subsidise new ones. Rural buses are too slow anyway for busy people. Most rural roads in the borough are narrow, winding, hilly, potholed, muddy and unlit. Many flood badly and have no footpaths.

The desired modal shift would require a comprehensive co-ordination of bus and train timetables with services every few minutes, seven days a week, to stops within walking distance of every home in the borough. This kind of integrated public transport system has been achieved in Switzerland, for instance, but only at huge public cost and thanks to a political consensus supporting state ownership of trains, buses and the post office, which delivers rural passengers as well as mail. There is absolutely no chance of this in the UK.

The vast majority of the borough's residents are not, in practice, able to cycle. This includes children, the elderly, commuters who have to look smart, the infirm, the unfit and people carrying goods or shopping of any kind. Dependence on walking and cycling discriminates against these groups, which include some of the most vulnerable members of the community. It is socially unjust.

One in two working people in Guildford commute for up to 3 hours a day, as I used to do. They will not leave their cars for even part of their journey if it means longer travel times.

Park-and-rides are a welcome part of the transport mix but are too slow for commuters and others on a tight schedule. Well-off pensioners seem to be the main beneficiaries. For an adult couple going shopping it is still cheaper to park in town.

Forget about water buses. The Wey is too narrow and, with a river speed limit of 4mph, boats are too slow for anything but recreation. Except on the tideway, not even the Thames has such services.

The addition of two new stations appears attractive but will slow down train journeys, which are already slower than at any time since the 1930s. Knock-on effects on localities where the new stations are built have not been worked out or presented.

POLICY 14 Green and blue infrastructure

I OBJECT. This policy is a box-ticking exercise with no teeth to it. It sits oddly with the plan's onslaught on the Green Belt. The plan to build on large areas of countryside and to inset villages will cancel out any benefits from extending the principle of enhancing biodiversity beyond Biodiversity Opportunity Areas.

There is no mention of the value of wildlife gardening to biodiversity or the important role that larger gardens play in a village setting.

There is no mention of the impact of the plan on food production, or monitoring the loss of agricultural land.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY P2 - Green Belt

I OBJECT. This policy states, "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." This is a lie.

The policy wording is tepid in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government's policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations - an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. It is an inalienable public good. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council's to give away.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt's value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:
• Agricultural production
• Rural leisure and tourism amenities
• Water catchment
• Flood control
• Biodiversity
• Natural heritage
• A carbon sink for air pollution
• Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
• Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
• Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even tracking)
• Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
• Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law, morality and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations.

It is disreputable to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no "acceptable" percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. No-one argues that we should sell 1.6% of the Crown jewels in order to build houses.

I am not opposed to appropriate development in the Green Belt and recently supported a major planning application in my own village. But I fail to see why a system of fair burden-sharing of new development cannot be applied to the borough's existing settlements in proportion to their size. This alternative would minimise the strain on infrastructure and maximise the chances of retaining the character of each settlement through gradual growth. It is reasonable to ask urban Guildford, with $x$ times the population of semi-rural East Horsley for instance, to accommodate $x$ times the number of new homes over the plan period. Parish councils could be asked, and will no doubt be willing, to propose where their quota of houses should go. Most rural residents are reasonable people who, if not alienated by top-down planners, will support realistic numbers of new houses in their neighbourhoods. Unfortunately, this democratic, bottom-up approach has not been attempted.

Instead, while developers flip and land-bank urban sites as a financial speculation, this plan will dump most new development on greenfield sites where building costs are lower, covering the Green Belt with dozens of housing estates that few residents want. 8,086 new houses are planned for the Green Belt but only 1,135 for Guildford urban area. This is disruptive, socially inequitable and unnecessary. It will not only destroy countryside but will also delay and disincenitivise much-needed urban regeneration. The remarkable revival and repopulation of central London shows that building dormitory satellite settlements is an out-of-date approach to planning.

I particularly protest at the "insetting" of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at "infilling" 12 of the borough's Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are "leggy" in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hellbent on self-defeat.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors. To "inset" two thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London.
"8 See Ministerial foreword: "Our natural environment is essential to our wellbeing, and it can be better looked after than it has Habitats that have been degraded can be restored. Species that have been isolated can be reconnected. Green Belt land that has been depleted of diversity can be refilled by nature- and opened to people to experience it, to the benefit of body and soul."

"9 Councillor Matthew Sarti, Planning Committee meeting, 18 May 2016.

cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need (especially post-Brexit) and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions."

SITES

1. Green Belt sites

I OBJECT to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that "allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses." This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are sick and tired of repeating the same comments to deaf ears. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. "13

Some residents have concluded that commenting is a waste of time.

"13 Further discredited by criminality on the Council. Former Lead Councillor for planning Monika Juneja, architect of the 2014 draft plan, is currently serving a two-year sentence for 3 counts of forgery, pretending to be a barrister and obtaining dishonest pecuniary advantage.

All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until "exceptional circumstances" for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. "14

I OBJECT. This is more protective- as a policy- than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: "we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location". Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be "inset". That is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the "coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot" than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl.

Apart from being a scandalous misuse of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, "Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham." It is a cynical piece of tokenism. The leader of the Council needs to be seen to be above reproach by deleting this policy.

POLICY P4 - Flood risk and water source protection zones

I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding.
Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

POLICY P5 - Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

I OBJECT. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG- in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds - must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY S1 - Presumption in favour of sustainable development

I OBJECT. The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development "should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking." 1 Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of "sustainable development" is given."2 The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.
The promise "to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area" omits to recognise that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. It does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the tough choices Councillors will face, it is useless. Under this policy, any development will qualify as "sustainable", thereby failing to apply the NPPF's most important guideline.

The most gaping hole in Policy S1 is the Green Belt. As an inter-generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity, the Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice. It is the envy of the world. Policy S1 should commit to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections, setting at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The plan's contempt for Green Belt constraints is amply demonstrated in later policies.

The commitment to approve planning applications "wherever possible" and "without delay" reveals this draft plan's pro-development bias. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17. In my view Policy S1 is a non-policy.

POLICY S2 - Borough Wide Strategy

I OBJECT. I have 5 objections to the proposal to build 13,860 new homes:

1. The number is based on pre-Brexit projections for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.4

2. The number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, "West Surrey" is much too Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half the people who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent districts of Rushmoor and Mole Valley, minutes from Guildford town, are outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere. Unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and is part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council have failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so the housing numbers

"2 The most widely accepted definition is the 1987 United Nations one from the Brundtland Report: " Development that meets the needs of the resent without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs."

"3 Including: " empowering local people to shape their surroundings ... Take account of the different roles and character of different areas... protecting the Green Belts around them ... recognizing the intrinsic character and beauty of the countryside and supporting thriving communities within it... Support the transition to a low carbon future ... Contribute to conserving and enhancing the natural environment and reducing pollution ... Encourage the effective use of land by reusing land that has previously been developed (brownfield land)... Conserve heritage assets ... Actively manage patterns of growth to make the fullest use of public transport and cycling and focus significant development on locations which can be made sustainable."

"4 At the time of writing , about £8billion (40%) has been wiped off the value of the UK's top 4 housebuilders alone .

derived from it are unreliable. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county (none in Mole Valley, for instance). This highly lopsided distribution is unexplained.

3. The figure of 13,860 new homes is It has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. "5 The Council say we should trust the contractors' model because it is used by a large number of other local authorities. Wide usage, however, does not confer objectivity . Guildford's OAN would fail the basic transparency test even if the methodology used were a universally admired 'gold standard'. But it is not: it belongs to consultants whose website openly proclaim their pro-development agenda,6 provoking reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. External experts and members of the public have provided detailed critiques of the model. Its most fatal flaw, however, is that it has not been disclosed- not even to the authors of the plan, who have taken it on trust. This is irrational and unsound.

4. The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The plan fails to set a Housing Target of new homes to be built, or explain how this relates to the "Objectively Assessed Number" (OAN) for housing need. Elsewhere, the Council have said that the two are identical because the OAN is "deliverable" and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted, but in the same breadth say that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability.7 Despite the NPPF, the plan fails to address these constraints. In any case, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permission, plus expected "windfall" sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how can anything else be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a "plan" that fails to propose a Housing Target that takes normal constraints and adjustments credibly into account, and which leaves the Council to set one at any level without further consultation. Even if the OAN were not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

5. It is irrational to embark on a radical transformation of the borough without a clear Housing Most of Guildford borough is theoretically protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the existing number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Infrastructure is not in place that in any way deals with the amount of houses and commercial development being proposed in the Compton area and its surrounds. We are referring in particular to the B3000, A3 and A31. These roads are already at saturation point. They not only deal with local traffic, but also traffic, passing through to get to the West Country, Dover, London, Dorking and the Coast. An ever-increasing number of heavy goods vehicles using the B3000 have to pass over a narrow Victorian railway bridge causing difficulties for cars coming the other way and great danger to pedestrians or anyone on a bicycle.

Access proposed to some of the developments envisaged will also create congestion around the Business Park causing serious problems for ambulances to the Royal Surrey County Hospital, and also push more traffic though Compton by coming off the A3 at Compton and then using Down Lane to access Guildford or the proposed development.

Pollution on the B3000, which is already very high and not being addressed, will increase if further traffic is put on this road.

Research upon which assumptions have been made is often out of date. Traffic in this area steadily increases every year without the huge developments being imposed on the area without proper forethought.

I write to object to the Local Plan being considered by GBC.

Removing the Horsleys from the green belt...new major of London Sadiq Khan, has instructed planners not to approve development within the Green Belt, no exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated.

Extension of boundaries of settlement areas of the Horsleys...no sound reason has been given for the proposed changes.

INFRASTRUCTURE... There is no scope to improve the width of our roads, they are already being ruined by large lorries using them. The schools, medical centres, shopping areas are already overloaded.

DISTRICT CENTRE for station parade...this classification would be an entirely ridiculous reading of the nature of the facility. The traffic up and down Kingston avenue is impossible at present, let alone if it was increased to a District Centre.

2000 houses on former Wisley Air field / 2000 houses Gosden Hill Farm...... The impact on the Horsleys of these developments would be HUGE. There is no infrastructure to support them and no way that roads drainage can be extended. Are there plans for more schools, medical facilities, shop etc???? Public transport would need increasing, Horsley station is already overloaded.

I hope you will consider these objections

We write to make the following objection to the draft Local Plan on behalf of businesses and residents.

We note that the draft Local Plan still has no proposals to reduce the number of conservation areas. This is illogical and inconsistent with the other proposal in the draft plan to remove some villages from the Green Belt. The existing conservation areas should be reviewed, reduced in number, and concentrate only on those areas where they are integral to the character of the area. For example, the Guildford High Street should be retained (though even this has inconsistent buildings such as Sainsbury's). Some village centers, such as Shere, should be retained. Other areas, such as those outside of the Guildford High Street, where there are residential areas which have changed significantly from what they were originally, should have their conservation area status rescinded as it is no longer applicable. Any special buildings in these areas could be Listed if they are not already.

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford’s urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions.
Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate.

Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Policy A42

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:
- The increase to 60 homes in place of 45 homes is 33% more and is already too much
- It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people that live in Send
- It will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction
- It will make erosion of the Green Belt in our village worse
- It will make surface water flooding, which is already bad, even worse
- It will impact open countryside views from the River Wey Navigation
- The local school and doctor’s surgery are already at capacity.

Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43.

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch because:
- It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
- It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no "exceptional circumstances" exist
• It will cause over-development of our village and the number of homes is hugely excessive
• It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
• It is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation
• It is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over fifty years
• It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads even more than already does of Send and Ripley

Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Policy A58.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:

• It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
• The word "minimum" is a change from the previous "maximum" in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
• There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
• The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt
• The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
• It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

I have lived here all my life and it is getting really sad, more houses, more people, more cars, why should I have to move because of Guildford Borough Council? Have you tried going out on the local roads between Send, Ripley and Clandon in the rush hour s from 07.00-10.00am and 4.00-7.00pm. Have you tried to park your car in Ripley lately during the day it's chaos.

Since you allowed Waitrose at the end of my road it has been a nightmare for traffic.

I know you have to build houses, but why not build them in areas closer, or as I think a part of Guildford, such as Merrow, Burpham, Worplesdon, Jacobs Well, Fairlands or Onslow Village.

We must keep our villages, we like visiting Guildford Town but we don't want to be a part of Guildford Town.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses.” This ignores the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are sick and tired of repeating the same comments to a deaf audience. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. Some residents have concluded that commenting is a waste of time.

All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established.

I OBJECT in particular to including Sites A36-41 (East and West Horsley). This is a back-door way to create a mega-village – essentially, a soulless new dormitory town. The Horsleys feel victimised by this plan, which has been masterminded by Council leaders representing Ash and Tongham at the other end of the borough, where (in a flagrant case of political double standards) the Green Belt is actually being extended under Policy P3.
Whatever their merits as development sites, the 6 Horsley sites should not be considered individually but for their cumulative impact on the contiguous villages of East and West Horsley.

Building 533 new houses on these 6 sites, plus at least another 90 on small sites is (a) excessive in absolute terms and (b) disproportionate relative to the rest of the borough. Under the plan, rural West Horsley will take 35% of new homes, Ash and Tongham 16% and Guildford urban area only 11%. The total number of homes in West Horsley will increase by 35%, which is disproportionate when measured against the overall increase in housing across the borough and particularly in Guildford town. If the Council have justifiable reasons to transform a particular community so radically, the plan should present a case rather than sneaking in site proposals as a fait accompli.

These sites will put unsustainable strain on local facilities and infrastructure, including public transport, parking, schooling, medical facilities, sewage, surface drainage and shops. For instance:

- Thames Water have advised the Council that the current wastewater network will not cope and that the foul drainage system all the way to the treatment works North of Ripley will need to be upgraded.
- Guildford Council’s Education Review says “expansion options may need to be considered for primary” education in the Horsley area within the first 5 years of the plan, but Surrey County Council has no plans to do so. The Raleigh School is already full. The private Glenesk and Cranmore schools are also at or near to full capacity. The suggestion that schools in Ripley can be used contradicts the plan’s stated intention to reduce traffic on the A3 and strategic aim that primary schools should be within walking distance.
- The plan’s Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C) imagines an “East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme between 2019 and 2023 by Surrey CC” but gives no details. This scheme is just wishful thinking. The proposed housing can only harm the local environment, not improve it.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The harmful impact of these sites is magnified by the proximity of the so-called Wisley Airfield site (Three Farms Meadow), with 2,100 new homes only 2 miles away (see below).

I OBJECT also to the re-inclusion in the plan of Policy A35 (land at Three Farms Meadow, alias the former Wisley airfield, Ockham). Following a huge public outcry, Guildford Planning Committee recently rejected a recent planning application for precisely this development was unanimously on 14 separate grounds. This deceived many residents into thinking that it has been defeated: scandalously, the site had been included in the new draft local plan published just 24 hours before the planning decision – a clear signal to the developers that they should try again.
This is not an NPPF “presumption in favour of sustainable development” but a predetermined bias in favour of specific applicants, who had already been given additional months to refine their application. Residents are disturbed by apparent party links between the ruling Conservative group on the Council and individuals connected to the developers, a shadowy Cayman Islands company.16

Three Farms Meadows before WW2 was a valuable agricultural asset to the UK. It still is. It grows enough wheat for 1 million loaves of bread.

The hamlet of Ockham gladly helped the war effort by allowing the fields to be used for the defence of the realm on the understanding and promise from HM Government that after hostilities ceased it would be returned to farm land and the hamlet to a quiet rural existence. For their loyalty to King and country the villagers have been let down and subjected to the threat of the engulfment of the hamlet and the end of their peace and quiet as well as the loss of a valuable food production resource that the country needs to be self supporting (UK only produces half of what it consumes as food. - 2015).

Ockham is a historic place. The home home of ‘William of Occam’ philosopher and author of Occam’s Razor. Ockham is the home of ‘Ada Lovelace’ the world’s first computer programmer (now on the UK passport)
The site of ‘The Ockam Hoard’ a Bronze Age Hoard of bronze axe heads and jewellery now at the British Museum.
The hamlet is a Grade 1 listed architectural treasure and must be protected.

Please remove Three farms Meadows from the Local Plan immediately.

Policy A35 should be summarily removed from the plan for all the reasons the development was rejected by the Planning Committee, including:

- Green Belt location and absence of “exceptional circumstances”;
- Misrepresentation of the site as brownfield land: 17ha (less than 15%) is brownfield, it is adjacent to the SPA and therefore within the 400m exclusion zone for housing. The remains of the runway (14ha) are a habitat for rare flora and fauna and has never had any buildings on it;
- Proximity to RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (TBHSPA);
- Proximity to A3/M25 bottleneck and Ripley village and roundabouts;
- Absence of adequate traffic data;
- Further harm to air quality both onsite and nearby (e.g. the Cobham AQMA) and disregard for the health of children at the proposed secondary school;
- Loss of high-quality agricultural land (55% of the site), in breach of national policy;
- Disproportion of locating of over 2,000 dwellings within the ancient village of Ockham with just 159 households;
- Presence of a Surrey County Council safeguarded waste site;
- Cost of infrastructure required to the detriment of alternative more favourable sites;
- Lack of local transport possibilities owing to country lanes with no footpaths or cycle ways and the distance to railway stations which have no spare parking capacity;
- Impact on listed buildings;
- Difficulty of SANG siting and inability to divert residents and their pets away from the SPA;
- Extreme housing density with tiny garden spaces;
- Damage to neighbouring communities of creating a settlement of 5,000 residents, equivalent to East and West Horsley combined, with worse light pollution, noise and traffic, and competition for local amenities and infrastructure;
- Insufficient information about the impact on the local water table and run-off (see comments on flooding in Horsley above), and the possible aggravation of downstream flooding towards the Thames;
- Failure to evaluate the cumulative impact of this and nearby development sites on the area.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The density of new housing on the 6 Horsley sites is inappropriate, being greater than anywhere in the locality now.

Sites situated on the periphery of existing development in the Horsleys encroach on surrounding open fields and require the extension of settlement boundaries for which the plan presents no arguments. Contrary to NPPF paragraph 79, this will contribute to creeping urbanisation by attenuating the Green Belt corridors separating the Horsleys from neighbouring settlements.

Collectively, these 6 sites militate against NPPF paragraph 81’s encouragement of access to the Green Belt and its amenity and recreation value. This has been a success story in the Horsleys, with the creation of an amenity wood and community garden, the purchase of adjacent fields (East of Ockham Road North) by local residents in order to preserve their open aspect, well-maintained pitches for local football and cricket clubs, public tennis courts, open space for a high-quality campsite (at Waterloo Farm) used by many foreign tourists and the approval of plans for a “Theatre in the Woods” – making West Horsley the only village in Surrey with an opera house. The open nature of West Horsley determined that a long portion of the 2012 Olympic cycle races passed through the village. This route has been adopted by cyclists as a permanent asset, including the annual Prudential cycle race. These and future examples of “positive planning” depend on protecting the Green Belt to maintain the openness and attractiveness of the local landscape and avoiding the urbanisation and traffic congestion that Sites A36-41 will bring.

By surrounding Waterloo Farm campsite with 120 new houses, Policy A40 on land to the North of West Horsley will make this rural tourism amenity unviable. This may accord with developers’ plans, since the site would then be vulnerable to infilling with yet more housing.

Site A40 is subject to an unacceptable flood risk from a combination of a high groundwater table and the lack of surface water run-off. This is flat, clay land on the downhill side of the Horsleys where floodwater from new development will accumulate and back up onto existing properties nearby. I can provide photographs proving how badly these fields already flood at present. These problems will only get worse with the increase in extreme weather events that accompanies climate change. The “appropriate mitigation” suggested in Policy A40 exists only as an abstract notion. It should not overrule the need for Green Belt “exceptional circumstances”.

Policy A40 underestimates the problems of safe access and egress. Ockham Road North was closed for several weeks in 2014 because of flooding, and still floods regularly.

These problems are not confined to flooding and are not addressed by the proposal to extend the existing 30mph zone past the site access. Repeated attempts made by Ockham Road North residents to extend this zone have been turned down by the local authorities, Highways England and Surrey Police, even though data collected in 2015 show that traffic has doubled over the last 15 years and that the average speed in the 40mph section of this road is 52mph, with maximum speeds of over 80mph. No traffic calming measures have been achieved. Additional housing will add to several hazards along this stretch of road, including:

- Its use by pedestrians, especially children (using the Raleigh and Glenesk schools and catching school buses to Guildford and Howard of Effingham), pensioners living in the string of bungalows at the northern end of the road, and visitors from the Waterloo campsite who are unfamiliar with the area.
- The existence of a narrow footpath on only one side of the road in any one spot. The layout means that walking half a mile between Green Land and East Lane requires crossing the road twice.
- The road’s increasing use by recreational cyclists (see above).
- Its winding nature, poor sight lines (especially when interrupted by summer vegetation) and dangerous, concealed driveways. Most of these were built in the 1930s. Some have been widened but many are too narrow for modern traffic. Since a deep ditch runs along most of the road, vehicles have to swing out dangerously when entering or leaving.
- The prospect of additional traffic, including 19,000 HGV movements (90 a day over a long period) if Surrey County Council approves the Drift Golf Course’s planning application to re-landscape its site using bulk waste transported from London.

I OBJECT to the absence of any reference to vernacular or historic design guidelines, even in Conservation Areas. Most of the borough, especially the rural areas, has vernacular design guidelines that are available to give suggestions as to appropriate design. These should have mandatory planning force.

The monitoring of this policy is inappropriate. Why should this policy result in a reduction of the number of appeals for poor design? Should it not result in better-designed buildings?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. Sustainability should be an overarching ambition, conditioning the whole local plan and running through it, as claimed in the NPPF, “like a golden thread”. It should be set out clearly in Policy S1, not buried away as a minor detail in Policy D2.

This policy amounts to “greenwashing”, expounding aspirational environmental targets while ignoring the plan to build dormitory towns in the Green Belt that are environmentally and socially unsustainable. These settlements will require vastly increased car use and will lead to unacceptable traffic congestion, overstretched social infrastructure, and higher greenhouse gas emissions and noise and light pollution. This policy should not be just about saving energy but about preserving the borough’s stock of natural capital, especially the countryside, from futile attempts to rig the housing market.

This policy’s emphasis on Combined Cooling Heating and Power and communal heating networks is meaningless, since no such networks are available locally.

I OBJECT. This policy clashes with the strongly pro-development agenda of the rest of the plan and fails to address the contradiction. History is unamenable to improvement, so the policy should commit the Council firmly to protecting and preserving our heritage assets from development. Instead, the specific policy pledge to “support development” that might “enhance” heritage assets leaves ample scope for abuse in the form of destructive commercialisation and financial leveraging.

This policy is based on the false premise that Guildford’s heritage is inherently in decay. This is a developer’s charter – a short step away from the idea that the historic environment needs to pay its way to be preserved. The Council’s aggressive reviews of Guildford Museum and the Electric Theatre support this interpretation. Whatever the “reasoned justification”, the actual policy wording in the blue box leaves too many loopholes.

Development close to historical assets is harmful and should be expressly prohibited. This policy fails to meet the requirements of NPPF paragraphs 126 and 131-133.

I OBJECT. This is a piously aspirational policy that does not address any of the obvious practical issues already touched on above:
The plan envisages that 40% of homes built will be “affordable”, but this does not provide any accommodation for low-paid workers, for example, those on the minimum wage, who cannot afford to buy so-called “affordable” homes or pay an “affordable” rent. There is a need for some expansion in social housing, especially in urban areas, where there is a greater concentration of low-paid workers such as those employed in the retail, warehousing and distribution sectors (all of which this plan aspires to expand).
The number of homes planned in the urban area is too low. There is a glaring need for regeneration in many urban areas, but this is ignored in favour building homes on green-field sites instead. This will not meet urban housing needs. It is also unsustainable, since building outside the town does disproportionate harm to road traffic, air quality and overstretched infrastructure.
The plan envisages a large expansion of the traditional “bricks and mortar” retail sector, but this is a sector in rapid and continuous decline.
All the stated policy aims for “inset” villages will be negated by the sheer weight of new housing development proposed which would radically change their character forever. Against this disruptive background, it is barely relevant to talk about preserving views!

I OBJECT because - the evidence base is unreliable;
there is unclear differentiation between B class uses;
only high value-added business uses, contributing to a modern “knowledge economy”, are desirable, not low-grade, low-employment warehousing which is also land hungry; industrial and commercial businesses must be concentrated in the urban area or existing business parks (e.g. Slyfield) not in the rural environment which the infrastructure is unable to support; the rural environment must support micro- or high-tech businesses, agricultural industries, and tourism, and these sectors must not be damaged by general industrial development which is inappropriate.

I OBJECT. The Council are required by the NPPF to facilitate commercial science and technology clusters. But, as with Policies H1 and E2 above, this policy seems to be dictated more by the ambitions of the University of Surrey than the public interest. In an extremely tangled sentence, it says that the Research Park will be “protected for business use… in any science… that is complementary to the activities of the University of Surrey.”

This fails to distinguish adequately between the University’s public role as a state-funded, academic institution and its private, financial interest in profit-making business spin-offs. It ignores enterprises that might be commercial rivals of the University. And it fails to consider the public harm done by turning the Research Park into a larger Business Park, such as the loss of Green Belt capital.

B1b should be the primary use class for the Research Park and applications for B1a should be resisted given the danger of diluting the core purpose and reputation of the park. The inclusion of B1c uses is inappropriate and unnecessary.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. Use of rural areas for town centre uses without applying the sequential approach is against the principles of localism that require local people to be consulted and heeded, not ignored. Villages need protecting in terms of both design and scale.

Most of the economic activities listed in 4.4.44 depend on maintaining the rural character of our villages which would be endangered by the wholesale “insetting”, boundary expansion and house building proposed in other parts of the plan. This applies also to new and projected enterprises in the Green Belt (e.g. Grange Park Opera’s Theatre in the Woods in West Horsley, which requires a protected, rustic setting to be a success, not housing estates and congested roads). Policy E5 is incompatible with the high housing numbers proposed.

Previous commitments to improved high-speed broadband and mobile phone coverage have now been diluted, despite general support. This disregards the responses from the 2014 public consultation.

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. The policy “vision” refers to protecting the Guildford’s “unique setting” (including, surely, its surrounding Green Belt and countryside views) but this is not carried over into the formal policy wording in the blue box. It is therefore a worthless commitment.

There should be much more residential use of the town centre where most people, especially the young and less well-off, want to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose a visionary regeneration plan for the River Wey/Walnut Tree Close area, where there is arguably enough brownfield land for 4,000 new homes, meeting near all the borough’s housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a brownfield register and to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area. CIL strategy must promote brownfield redevelopment.
Strangely, the policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

This policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.11

Instead, it is far too concerned with shopping. Town-centre shopping is in decline internationally as consumers move irreversibly online. There is no need to expand physical retail capacity or warehousing floorspace, which will only kill off existing shops while using up valuable housing land. The delays to the redevelopment of North Street are symptomatic of shifting consumer patterns. Guildford is a large town without a single butcher or fishmonger, showing that the Council need to use the fiscal and other mechanisms at its disposal to support niche retailers. To opt for large, impersonal department stores and dull high-street chain stores at the expense of Guildford’s unique character would be an historic blunder. For this type of shopping, most residents can go to Woking or Kingston, whose ugly town centres should serve as a dire warning to Guildford planners.

NPPF 59: “Local planning authorities should consider... the overall scale, density, massing, height, landscape, layout, materials and access of new development in relation to neighbouring buildings and the local area more generally.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposal that sites “on the edge” of District Centres being considered for retail developments. This is another Trojan horse policy, allowing retail hubs to be vastly expanded in order to smooth the way for vast new housing estates outside in the countryside (e.g. to meet the “everyday shopping and service needs” of the roughly 1,500 people living in the 600 new homes planned for the Horsleys).

This is a case of back-to-front priorities. Expanded local retail hubs are being proposed in order to justify more housebuilding in the villages, and in a forlorn attempt to mitigate the serious traffic and infrastructure problems this will create. The Council has no business facilitating new supermarkets in the Green Belt. Rural retail capacity should be left to local demand.

The policy proposes not a single measure to support existing rural shops and services that are the lifeblood of village communities, e.g. using business rates and other levers at the Council’s disposal.

I OBJECT (for the reasons given under Policy E8 above) to the proposal for retail development adjacent to the 6 rural centres, and sites on the edge of designated centres. This is creeping urbanization, damaging to the Green Belt and to Guildford town role as a thriving urban hub. It will contribute to urban decay and depopulation, just as expansion of the suburbs did to mid-20th century London.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.
The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.
I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability.
Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.
Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area.
Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.
Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. “Affordable” homes, under national definitions, means homes that are sold or rented at 80% of market value. Even if 70% of these are rented as proposed, the level of market prices in the South-East means (even post-Brexit) that these homes will remain well beyond most people’s means and that starter homes will not become available for local people.

In addition, the viability clause (4.2.40) means that in practice the policy could be unenforceable. Private financial viability has no place in a public policy and should be removed. It is a get-out-of-jail-free card for developers that will sacrifice countryside for no local benefit.

I question the assumptions that seem to underlie this policy: that people have a right (rather than a legitimate aspiration) to own a home; that they should be encouraged to live locally (contradicting the Government’s policy of encouraging labour mobility and development in poorer regions, where homes are cheaper anyway); that increasing local house-building will reduce overcrowding and congestion (rather than simply suck more people into the borough); and that it will stem the rise in house prices (even though 13,860 new homes would be a drop in the ocean, given that prices are determined by an infinite demand-pull from London, whose population is increasing by 100,000 a year, and the currently low cost of capital for overseas and other buyers). The weak mechanisms proposed might influence the market in more remote parts of the UK, but not here.

This policy allows “affordability” to be a smokescreen for pushing through more development generally. Building more homes in Guildford cannot increase real affordability given the overhang of the London market.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions. The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. Most of the borough’s infrastructure is antiquated, congested and straining to accommodate even current needs and organic growth. Yet this plan’s commitment to building housing estates across the Guildford countryside will mean either major infrastructure investment that no-one is prepared to pay for or else a catastrophic and simultaneous collapse in transport, educational, medical, energy, water and communications services.

The plan targets greenfield sites – requiring heavy infrastructure investment – in order to generate CIL income necessary to meet an infrastructure shortfall that is already serious. This is not sensible. The current draft CIL scale also encourages development on greenfield sites rather than brownfield.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing infrastructure needs in this area is inadequate, identifying only the tip of an iceberg of existing congestion. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that involve demolishing property and road-widening in residential areas to solve the resultant congestion. The A3 improvements are not guaranteed to take place but they are being used to justify removing large areas from the Green Belt before detailed traffic assessments have taken place. These detailed investigations are being deferred until the planning application stage and will be left to developers to prepare. If a site then proves to be unsustainable its Green Belt protection will have been lost for no reason and unsuitable development will take place by a more insidious process.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritising greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow 12 on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognising this as a key issue, the plan is based on a wing and a prayer.

12 Residents have been incredulous at the Council’s failure to apply infrastructure constraints to housing numbers, in response first to the Issues and Options paper and then to the 2014 draft local plan. There were 20,000 responses each time.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT. This policy is too vague and optimistic. Decisions by Highways England on improving the strategic road network (the M25 and A3) are still years off. The Council have suggested a very expensive tunnel under Guildford, but this is no more than a dream. Even if Highways England accepted this (which is highly unlikely in the post-Brexit public spending climate) it would not be built until the end of the plan period at the earliest. Other, less expensive A3 improvements, and changes to the Junction 10/Heathrow stretch of the M25, will also take years to agree and complete.

The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is foolhardy. Surrey is the most congested county in England, with 683 people per square Km, compared with an English average of 413. This policy will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone). This is a major development constraint that should have been applied to the OAN before this consultation, and not left up in the air.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. This is another vaguely aspirational policy, based on wishful thinking and not grounded in the practical realities of daily life. It consists of a standard, box-ticking list of local government measures unrelated to the specifics of the plan. Like infrastructure, transport appears to be an afterthought; the policy fails in its essential job of guiding planning decisions, since it assumes development of any kind can be supported by sustainable transport.

The sustainability of the dormitory settlements which the Council want built across the countryside depends on a general “modal shift” from private car use to walking, cycling and public transport. This is unrealistic. The proposed sites are often miles away from the nearest railway station. Bus services even in the largest villages are almost non-existent – just one bus to and from Guildford each day in the Horsleys and none at weekends. Since bus services depend on profitability, they cannot be expanded and the Council are not proposing to subsidise new ones. Rural buses are too slow anyway for busy people. Most rural roads in the borough are narrow, winding, hilly, potholed, muddy and unlit. Many flood badly and have no footpaths.

The desired modal shift would require a comprehensive co-ordination of bus and train timetables with services every 10-15 minutes, seven days a week, to stops within walking distance of every home in the borough. This kind of integrated public transport system has been achieved in Switzerland, for instance, but only at huge public cost and thanks to a political consensus in favour of state ownership of trains, buses and the post office, which delivers rural passengers as well as mail. There is absolutely no chance of this in the UK.

The vast majority of the borough’s residents are not, in practice, able to cycle. This includes children, the elderly, commuters who have to look smart, the infirm, the unfit and people carrying goods or shopping of any kind. Dependence on walking and cycling discriminates against these groups, which include some of the most vulnerable members of the community. It is socially unjust.

One in two working people in Guildford commute for up to 3 hours a day. They will not leave their cars for even part of their journey if it means longer travel times. Park-and-rides are a welcome part of the transport mix but are too slow for commuters and others on a tight schedule. Well-off pensioners seem to be the main beneficiaries. For an adult couple going shopping it is still cheaper to park in town. Forget about water buses. The Wey is too narrow and, with a river speed limit of 4 knots, boats are too slow for anything but recreation. Except on the tideway, not even the Thames has such services. The addition of two new stations appears attractive but will slow down train journeys, which are already slower than at any time since the 1930s. Knock-on effects on localities where the new stations are built have not been sufficiently worked out.

I OBJECT. This policy is a box-ticking exercise with no teeth to it. It sits oddly with the plan’s onslaught on the Green Belt. The plan to build on large areas of countryside and to inset villages will cancel out any benefits from extending the principle of enhancing biodiversity beyond Biodiversity Opportunity Areas.

There is no mention of the value of wildlife gardening to biodiversity or the important role that larger gardens play in a village setting.

I OBJECT. This policy weakens existing protection when it should strengthen it. It is dependent on the Surrey Hills Management Plan. This welcomes housing development. Even major (undefined) development in the AONB would be permitted if exceptional (undefined) circumstances could be demonstrated.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT. This policy is tepid in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though it constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy.

It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the wider nation as to the people who live in it. It is not the Council’s to give away, and once it is gone it is gone forever.

Any policy on the Green Belt should start with a fair assessment of its value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

• Agricultural production
• Rural leisure and tourism amenities
• Water catchment
• Flood control
• Biodiversity
• Natural heritage
• A carbon sink for air pollution
• Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
• Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
• Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
• Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
• Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)8

As a matter of law, morality and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation.

It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. No-one argues that we should sell 1.6% of British Museum artefacts in order to build houses.

I am not opposed to appropriate development in the Green Belt and recently supported a major planning application in my own village. But I fail to see why a system of fair burdensharing of new development cannot be applied to the borough’s existing settlements in proportion to their size. This would minimise the strain on infrastructure and maximise the chances of retaining the character of each settlement through gradual growth. It is reasonable to ask urban Guildford, with x times the population of semi-rural East Horsley for instance, to accommodate x times the number of new homes over the plan period.

Parish councils could be asked, and would no doubt be willing, to propose where their quota of houses should go. Most rural residents are reasonable people who, if not alienated by top-down planners, will support realistic numbers of new houses in their neighbourhoods. Unfortunately, this democratic, bottom-up approach has not been attempted.
Instead, while developers flip and land-bank urban sites as a financial speculation, this plan will dump most new development on greenfield sites where building costs are lower, covering the Green Belt with dozens of housing estates few residents want. 8,086 new houses are planned for the Green Belt but only 1,135 for Guildford urban area. This is disruptive, socially inequitable and unnecessary. It will not only destroy countryside but will also delay and disincentivise much needed urban regeneration. The remarkable revival and repopulation of central London shows that building dormitory satellite settlements is an out-of-date approach to planning.

I particularly protest at the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are “leggy” in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines.

The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hellbent on securing the rejection of the plan as a whole.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors.9 To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s 9 rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly defeat them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.10 The policy states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is not true.

8 See Ministerial foreword: “Our natural environment is essential to our wellbeing, and it can be better looked after than it has been. Habitats that have been degraded can be restored. Species that have been isolated can be reconnected. Green Belt land that has been depleted of diversity can be refilled by nature – and opened to people to experience it, to the benefit of body and soul.”

9 Councillor Matthew Sarti, Planning Committee meeting, 18 May 2016.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )
I OBJECT. This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous and wrong. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, unlike those villages which, ironically, are to be “inset”. That is presumably why they are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Apart from being a scandalous case of local political patronage, this policy effectively says, “Look, we are not destroying the Guildford Green Belt because we are extending it in Ash and Tongham.” It is a cynical piece of tokenism.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. Urban development on existing hard standing would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites which would not be available for housing under this policy. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hard standing. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. This policy is weak. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY S1 – Presumption in favour of sustainable development

I OBJECT. The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts. The promise “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area” omits to recognise that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. It does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the tough choices Councillors will face, it is useless. Under this policy, any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

The most gaping hole in Policy S1 is the Green Belt. As an inter-generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity, the Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice. It is the envy of the world. Policy S1 should commit to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections, setting at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The plan’s contempt for Green Belt constraints is amply demonstrated in later policies.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals this draft plan’s pro-development bias. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all. This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17. In my view this is a non-policy.
1 NPPF paragraph 14.

2 The most widely accepted definition is the 1987 United Nations one from the Brundtland Report: “Development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.”

3 Including: “empowering local people to shape their surroundings… Take account of the different roles and character of different areas… protecting the Green Belts around them… recognizing the intrinsic character and beauty of the countryside and supporting thriving communities within it… Support the transition to a low carbon future... Contribute to conserving and enhancing the natural environment and reducing pollution... Encourage the effective use of land by reusing land that has previously been developed (brownfield land)... Conserve heritage assets... Actively manage patterns of growth to make the fullest use of public transport and cycling and focus significant development on locations which can be made sustainable.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. I have 5 objections to the proposal to build 13,860 new homes:

1. The number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.4
2. The number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” triborough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

3. The figure of 13,860 new homes is unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA.5 The Council say we should trust the contractors’ model because... it is used by a large number of other local authorities. Wide usage, however, does not confer objectivity. Guildford’s OAN would fail the basic transparency test even if the methodology used were a universally admired ‘gold standard’. But it is not: it belongs to consultants whose website openly proclaim their prodevelopment agenda. leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated.

External experts and members of the public have provided detailed critiques of the model. Its most fatal flaw, however, is that it has not been disclosed – not even to the authors of the plan, who have taken it on trust. This is irrational and unsound.

4. The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The plan fails to set a Housing Target of new homes to be built, or explain how this relates to the “Objectively Assessed Number” (OAN) for housing need. Elsewhere, the Council have said that the two are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. But they also say that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. In contravention of the NPPF, the plan fails to address these. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permission, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how can anything else be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN were not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

5. It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

4 At the time of writing, about £8billion (40%) has been wiped off the value of the UK’s top 4 housebuilders alone. This has been challenged by residents including, by Mr Ben Paton, as far as the Information Ombudsman. But the Council have consistently refused to seek disclosure of the model.

We write to lodge our objection to the proposed plan to build on the greenbelt in the Horsley Development sites. I wish to register OBJECTIONS to the Proposed Submission Local Plan in respect of its impact on East and West Horsley.

GREEN BELT

No sound case has been made for justifying changes to Green Belt Boundaries laid down by national legislation.

The National Planning Policy Framework requires any change in Green Belt boundaries to be the result of exceptional circumstances. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated.

PROPOSED HOUSING DEVELOPMENTS

The proposed development of 533 homes on Green Belt sites, at much higher densities than currently exist, would be totally out of character with the existing houses and village layout. These developments would also be unsustainable in terms of drainage, roads capacity, schools, medical facilities, shops, parking and public transport.
LAND AT FORMER WISLEY AIRFIELD

The proposal to build approximately 2000 homes at this site is in effect the creation of a New Town in the Surrey Green Belt. This development would be a severe contravention of Metropolitan Green Belt policy and would have a major adverse impact across a widespread area, including East Horsley.

CONCLUSION

I object to the Proposed Submission Local Plan. The Council should be directed to amend the Local Plan by using brownfield and previously used land for housing instead of encroaching on Green Belt land.

I object to the plan of having a four-way A3 interchange at Burnt Common. The reason to this is that Clandon Road is already extremely busy and dangerous every day with vehicles coming off the A3 and also there are long time congestion coming from Send to the roundabout at Burnt Common. The reduction of 80% in housing needs in the 2015 compared with the 2013 ELNA is not reflected in the traffic modelling.

I object to have a 7,000 Sq m industrial development at Garlick’s Arch. There is no demonstrated reason for having an industrial development when we have Slyfield close by. Glarlick’s Arch is also containing ancient woodland, our richest land based habitat which needs proper protection.

I object to the planned development in Send as it is a countryside village which separates both Woking and Guildford. Having more housing will make the two towns combined. Send should remain in the green belt.

I object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was intended to be a lasting arrangement under the National Planning Policy Framework. There are no exceptional circumstances that warrant departing from that arrangement. Send’s Green Belt provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford comprising one conurbation. It is a betrayal of the trust that was placed by residents in local councillors and central government who gave clear undertakings to protect the Green Belt. These proposals represent a breach of representations made to, and the mandate given by, residents who elected them. From an ecological perspective, the erosion of the Green Belt, as would be the case if developments were to occur in Send, would threaten wildlife habitats and stand contrary to the environmental protection granted by the Green Belt status. Further impacts on amenities to residents and the landscape aesthetics of the Green Belt would be irreparable if such developments were to take place, forever destroying both the personality of Send village and the lifestyles of residents.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery. Tannery Lane is an inadequate thoroughfare to access this site due to its narrowness and bends. It currently already supports heavy traffic. It frequently floods during rainfall, largely owing to the poor condition of the road. The junction with Send Road is already hazardous enough, with speeding cars driving through as they exit the A3. On top of all the foregoing, heavy traffic will be generated by the proposed 64 apartments at the Tannery and the building of the marina.

I object to building 400 houses and 7000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch, opposite Send Marsh Road. The site is inappropriate because currently it is covered by ancient woodland and is prone to flooding during periods of only light or moderate rainfall. This proposal represents poor planning and management because existing brownfield sites in Slyfield and elsewhere could be used. Furthermore, it is evident that the industrial space proposed is not actually needed but is seen as a stepping stone to further developments in the area. Owing to the notion that industrial developments beget further developments and the erosion of the Green Belt as a result, I believe that such planning is destructive and ethically wayward. The lack of transparency over the data that supports the construction of 400 houses at Garlick’s Arch reinforces my belief about the planning. I would be grateful if clear data could be presented to support this plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. This will have little effect on the traffic flow in the area in terms of dissipating congestion which at peak hours often extends from the A3 through Ripley and up to the roundabout at the Shell petrol station in Send. Similarly, traffic travelling in a south-easterly directions towards said roundabout frequently extends all of the way through Send village to the New Inn. It is worth noting that much of the traffic that passes through these areas does not necessarily originate in the Send area but instead in Guildford or Woking, representing the importance of this area as a thoroughfare for vehicular traffic. Currently this traffic experiences frequent roadworks and temporary traffic lights, increasing journey times year upon year. One can only imagine the congestion that will result if 400 homes are built at Garlick’s Arch, 45 houses are built at Clockbarn Nursery, 40 houses are built at Send Hill, 2000 houses are built at Wisley Airfield, 200 houses are built at Gosden Hill and 1850 houses are built at Blackwell Farm. Much of the traffic from surrounding areas would travel through Send. Noise and pollution levels would rise and degrade residents’ amenity.

I OBJECT to the building of 400 houses and 7,000 square metres of industrial space being approved for Garlick's Arch within the Green Belt. If a need for it had been demonstrated in the Plan, it could be located in an existing brownfield area such as Slyfield. Also, the land at Garlick's Arch floods and is covered by ancient woodland and therefore not suitable for housing.

I OBJECT to the new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence in the Plan is incomplete and untested but it clearly follows that with 2000 new homes proposed for Wisley Airfield, 2000 at Gosden Hill Burpham and 1850 at Blackwell Farm, much of the traffic as a result of this development would need to travel through Send Road which is already heavily congested and has got significantly worse over the last 16 years that I have lived in Send.

I OBJECT to Send being removed from the Green Belt as a consequence of a "housing need" figure of 13,860. It has not been made clear to the public how this figure was calculated, but it would appear to be inflated, as a large proportion of this figure would comprise Surrey University students who would only be temporary residents of the Borough.

I OBJECT to the failure of Guildford Borough Council to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area. This area should be targeted first for development, before Green Belt is considered.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:

- There is no need for development like this in the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford have empty sites
- The effect on traffic will totally alter the character of the area

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is a highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

I do hope that notice will be taken of local objections.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 and M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I object to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I’m sure you’re aware that the UK is twice as crowded as Germany and three and a half times more crowded than France. We have an ageing population so can not go on increasing at the rate we are, hopefully BREXIT will put a stop to this unsustainable uncontrolled rise in population from the EU. We also need to cut back on numbers coming here from outside the EU which hopefully can also happen soon. As BREXIT has just been given the go-ahead, this reduction in numbers can not have been factored into this plan, therefore it is ‘out of date’ already.

Regarding the Gosden Hill proposal. I notice this has an A3 junction, but IT’S NOT 4 WAY!!! This will mean that all traffic heading north has to come through Burpham to get onto Clay Lane and the existing junction, this is unacceptable. Many of us for years have been saying that our three A3 junctions all need to be made 4 way, when is this going to happen? I do not regard a tunnel under Guildford as a cost effective solution at all, it would be far better to spend that money up north, all we need is the junctions made 4-way please.

Many years ago it was decided to build the A3 as it would solve all our problems, it is now full up.
Also many years ago, it was decided to build the M25 as this would solve all our problems all the way around London, it is now full up.
It is blindly obvious that the south east of England has reached capacity on the roads and on the railways. What is needed is vast investment in the Midlands and the north of England so people move up there. Bring on the Northern Powerhouse!!

Guildford is a town surrounded by greenbelt, from various streets in the town you can see fields, it needs to be kept like this. Once that green is gone, it’s gone, we will end up with houses all the way to Woking which is not what people want. I notice all other Surrey areas have come in with much lower figures, why is Guildford so high?

Is it because GL Hearn have used flawed data to work out this very high need? Please explain how they came to make this calculation.

In summary, Guildford and the south east is full up. Guildford could not handle more than 60 houses a year let alone 600. But yes, lets have affordable flats and small houses in the town centre or on brownfield sites and lets get central government to invest in the north!! We have 1.7 million unemployed so lets get them working up north!!

Please send this draft plan back to the drawing board for the reasons given.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

As a resident of West Horsley, I shall address some additional comments to my local area only:

1. I do not believe that a defensible case can be made for the proposed removal from the Green Belt of areas in the Horsleys in order to relax the constraints on development. Loss of the essential characteristic of openness through such action initiates an irreversible and self-perpetuating process of attrition which will transform the character of our villages so that they no longer resemble the places in which we once chose to settle.

2. I commend the effort that has been made to develop a Surface Water Management Plan (SWMP) to address flooding risks and note that this has identified a Horsley "Hotspot". While this will come as no surprise to residents, who will be familiar with recurring incidents affecting areas including The Street/East Lane, Ripley Lane and Ockham Road North/Ockham Road South, it is good that this existing problem has been formally recognised even if it remains to be adequately characterised. It is notable that the Hotspot (as delineated in the SWMP) includes, or is adjacent to, all of the proposed development sites identified for West Horsley in the Proposed Local Plan. Not only does this imply significant risk of adverse impact from uncontained surface water on these sites, but also an increased impact on their surroundings should they be developed as proposed.

The retention in the Plan of the inappropriate Wisley Airfield development seems paradoxical, given the outcome so far of the planning process, with the apparent impasse and likely inability of the developer to deliver a viable proposal.

I object to the proposed Garlick’s Arch development (A43)

I object to the development of 400 houses and 7,000 sq m of industrial buildings and warehousing. There is no need for further housing on top of the 13,860 already proposed for the borough. This site is a new addition to the Plan and was not included in the regulation 18 draft; therefore it has NOT been consulted upon previously. It is an inappropriate location due to the permanent Green Belt status which prevents merging of settlements and is not an exceptional circumstance.

If there is a need for a further 7,000 sq m of industrial space, it should be at Slyfield.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common (A43a) because Send and Clandon would have to take traffic from the proposed 2,000 new houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1,850 at Blackwell Farm. Much of this traffic to and fro the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford would go through Send. Send Road, which is already overloaded, would become gridlocked as would Ripley which is used as a rat-run if there is traffic congestion on the A3. Noise and pollution levels, already at excessive levels, would worsen.

1. I object to the proposed Send Hill development (A44)

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers' pitches at Send Hill. This site is a new addition to the Plan and was not included in the regulation 18 draft: therefore it has NOT been consulted upon previously. It is an inappropriate location due to the permanent Green Belt status. The narrow width single access country road provides insufficient access. In addition, the subsoil of the proposed site contains documented unsafe landfill waste registered at GBC. Any development there would spoil a high amenity area set in beautiful countryside.

2. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on the road infrastructure between Guildford and the M25.

The roads through Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion as cars fight their way to get to the A3 and M25. The proposed development of 13,680 new houses in the area will result in a minimum, 13,680 new cars on the road and will mean grid-lock at peak times: week-day mornings between 6am to 9:30am, week-day afternoons from 3:00pm to 6:30pm. This is not sustainable from the increase in congestion as well as the greater pollution impact.

I object to the proposed development detailed in the local plan which will result in more traffic using narrow rural roads as well as a further deterioration in the road surface. Our roads do not have pedestrian footpaths and the proposed levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

1. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

   I object. I have grave concerns that no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to any development taking place, the existing residents in the local areas of Ripley, Send and Clandon will experience a deterioration in quality of life in many ways.

   Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development.

   Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

   Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

2. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

   Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020 and therefore there is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours, see item 2 above, and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I object in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). Will you please confirm receipt and show this letter to the Planning Inspector for his due consideration?

The following aspects of the plan do not appear to have been adequately considered or have been dismissed;

- The re-designation of Green Belt land for development - Green Belt Policy Guidelines (NPPG 79-83) sets out to protect open space, prevent encroachment into the countryside and stop linear development leading to the joining together of developed communities all of which appear to have been ignored in the Send proposals.
- Adverse effect on local infrastructure
- Additional traffic
- Appropriateness of high density housing sites in what is essentially a semi-rural community
- Environmental impact

I set out below my objection to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

I consider the "objectively assessed need" figure of 693 homes a year is too high.

- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes
  Page 13 of 17
  NJ Taylor-Objection to local Plan
  a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to a failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows, a issues with the way it considers students and affordability and flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld by the council and treated in secrecy by the council and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.
  The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on "commercially confidential" modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford. The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt. The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement putting pedestrians at risk. Note that young families use the pavement to access Clandon school and everyday during rush hour traffic they put their lives in danger as no workable traffic calming measures have been implemented that prevent vehicles from mounting the pavement to pass each other at pinch points in the road or to manage the excessive speed of vehicles passing through the village.

I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic including commercial vehicles on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

A new en-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km. Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The site was inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys.

Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. I have seen no evidence in the proposed local plan that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council may have been offered the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land, if needed, could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available.

Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick's Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site. Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current "soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (Blc), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site?

There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/offramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition of north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Cornman would be a significant negative impact for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of 'through' traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to these areas on small roads which cannot be improved and which were never designed for the current traffic levels let alone increases in traffic levels that would result if the proposal to build new on/off access to the A3 at Burnt common (A43a) were to proceed. The proposed Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3); I object to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough. The proposed development at Garlick's Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm (Policy A25). Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick's Arch (Policy A43). It is in a non sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development. If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send MarshlBurnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site,

I object to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

3. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I object to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy "vision" describes protecting the Guildford's unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done.

However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area. The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council's own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group's proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF. The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford's character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford town centre.)

I object to Policy HI - Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set niles on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated. I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build new housing on the Hog's Back.

NJ Taylor - Objection to local Plan

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy 11)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day) for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists pass through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians. The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough's infrastructure is already heavily strained.
However the plan's determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number. The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council's methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years after any housing or industrial space is built and the required infrastructure may never be put in place. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network.

The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council's to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation.

Paragraph 4.3.16 only states that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified within the local plan. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise.

Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council's growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned.

I object to the "insetting" of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead.

I object to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called 'strategic sites' of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. The local plan fails to demonstrate any exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance') to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch (Policy A43 and A43a), so there is no evidence base to support including this site. Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that "allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development." However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether "exceptional circumstances" existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as well as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless "exceptional circumstances" for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (Policy A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Policy S1 is deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions.

The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

This policy largely disregards the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy. The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards in light of the Brexit decision. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey".

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the triborough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has to date failed to revisit the data to validate that it is correct despite overwhelming concerns raised by borough residents. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need", Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is "deliverable" and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council's cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt,44%AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Waking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done? The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas. The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick's Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send Page 3of 17 NJ Taylor- Objection to Local Plan border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards.

Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. The housing DAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councilors before being adopted.
2. The DAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, ADNB and road infrastructure, National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

3. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an DAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

4. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

5. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council's control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer's business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

6. The 40–45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

7. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.

8. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.

9. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound.

10. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018.

11. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars.

12. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham.

13. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework.

14. The proposal for Garlick's Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

15. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

16. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
17. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, NJ Taylor-Objection to local Plan including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

18. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

19. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

20. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little. The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council's refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement 'Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay', the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

I object to the inclusion of policy A43 of 7000sq m of industrial warehousing as the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft. Slyfield Industrial Estate still has spare capacity and could accommodate any additional warehousing need if required.

I object to the number of 693 new houses proposed in the Local Plan for each year. The numbers calculated in accordance with the SHMA do not reflect true local need and have been inflated by the way students, economic need and affordability have been calculated.

I object to the creation of a new 4 way interchange onto the A3 on the A247 (Policy A43A) as this would add to the ever increasing levels of traffic on the A247, A3 and through Send and Clandon. Send would become a through route to and from the A3 and will become gridlocked all day.

2. I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are designated on Green Belt land along the A3. This will result in gridlock on the A3, the A247 and the surrounding roads which are already at capacity.

I object to the erosion of the Green Belt in clear contravention of the Government’s and Conservative councillors’ election manifesto promises to protect the Green Belt. In particular, I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt (Policy P2) as Send provides a buffer between Woking and Guildford.

I object to the insetting of Ripley.

I object to the insetting of West Clandon.

I object to changes relating to policy A43 Garlick’s Arch because:
- Again you have ignored the thousands of previous objections.
- There are no “exceptional circumstances” required to develop on this Green belt.
- It will generate excessive traffic along the Clandon Road with associated noise and light pollution. This will be made even worse if the adjoining Policy A58 is implemented.
- It would appear that there is no demand for Travelling Showpeople plots.

I object to changes relating to Policy A58 Burnt Common because

- This Policy was deleted from the 2014 Plan following previous objections.

- Additionally i see the Plan now references ‘Minimum’ rather than the original ‘Maximum’ referring to the 7,000 sq feet of industrial or warehousing. If the original proposal was deleted again i see no reason why the changed plan actually increases the proposed level of development.

- There is no need to develop on this section of Green Belt land when other local sites including Slyfield and Guildford have empty existing sites and ‘brown field’ sites amiable.

- The impact on the Clandon Road and adjoining roads will create huge traffic issues, and noise and light pollution issues.

A35 Land at former Wisley Airfield Guildford Borough Council has already refused this development of over 2000 houses, so why is it in the Local Plan? The local roads will be unable to cope with an additional 4000 cars and there is no access directly on to the southbound A3 without going through Ripley village.

We believe that Surrey County Council has earmarked this site for a recycling facility and feel that a better use would be to have an Electricity Generating Plant burning waste materials which would be a benefit to the local area (the traffic movements would not be as great as the proposed small town). The runways could be used to site Solar Panels to produce electricity as well, these could be screened by planting trees (environmentally friendly) on the Ockham side. The farmer who cultivates the land could be encouraged to produce a crop which could be used for the production of Bio Diesel. This would make Guildford look like a "forward thinking" Council taking care of of the environment and doing its bit for climate change.

A43 Land at Garlick Arch, Send, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley This proposed development of 400 homes and an industrial estate is too large for the area. Admittedly part of the site is a Brown Field site already developed for commercial uses. However the local infrastructure will be unable to cope with the large amount of traffic generated (possibly 1000 vehicles). The suggested new slip road onto the A3 northbound would help to stop vehicles going through Ripley Village. However take a look at the A3 northbound on a Monday morning during the peak time (during term time) and you will see that the traffic is stationary back to Burnt Common, therefore people will still go though Ripley Village to queue jump and that will cause a traffic jam there.

The Greenbelt was created to protect rural communities and to stop urban sprawl. The villages in Guildford Borough need this protection and therefore any plans to erode the Green Belt must be abandoned.

The proposals outlined in the Local Plan do not state how the Borough intends to address the education, health, pollution, and public transport problems that the increase in the population in the area will cause.

To sum it up we feel the number of houses proposed throughout the entire borough is far to large. The erosion of the Green Belt should must not be allowed. The increase of vehicles on the roads will increase the pollution in the area adding to health problems.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy ID3
The local roads in the Guildford Area are already at capacity, especially the A3 and need major work on them to keep the traffic flowing. This should be the Council's priority before any new developments are envisaged. Any new developments in the Ripley, Burpham, Send and Wisley areas will result in the A3 becoming totally clogged (even with the suggested new slip roads at Burnt Common and Railway Station at Merrow) and vehicles being unable to move in peak times which will have a knock-on effect for local businesses and freight companies losing money because of delays. The frustrated drivers will then decide to avoid the A3 and take to the declassified roads which are not designed for high levels of traffic. Remember for every house built there will be on average 2 cars.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
The proposed density of housing in the Horsleys would put an intolerable burden on the residents who already have difficulty in parking at the few shops and at the station.

The roads in West Horsley are already in a very poor state of repair without the addition of the hundreds of cars the new residents would bring.

New schools and surgery would be medical and the provision for coping with extra sewage and drainage to prevent flooding.

Surely a much limited number of houses, built on brown sites and without destroying the Green Belt and the character of this beautiful part of Surrey would be so much appropriate.

I OBJECT to the building of 400 houses at Garlick's Arch. Building 400 houses at this location would put undue strain upon the roads and facilities of Send and Ripley and contribute greatly to the creeping suburbanisation of the area. Bear in mind also the close proximity of the new houses to the pollution and noise from the A3 traffic, which will only increase in future years.

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch because it is not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because the site has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding.

I trust that due account will be take of my views.

Policy A 43. Land at Garlicks Arch, Burnt Common. In the previous local plan suggestions were made to building around this area, from memory along the A3 by the Ewbanks site. Either way this development of 400 houses is far too large for the local infrastructure to take, firstly we do not have enough school capacity, particularly secondary schools with Send moving in and out of the George Abbott catchment area depending on the year, leaving little to no options, plus our local medical surgery is already at full stretch with waiting times of up to two weeks for an appointment. I object on this point. With regards to the proposed new A3 junction at Burnt Common this will just turn Send and Ripley into a car park. The A247 between the A3 and Woking is already nearing capacity and long queues form in both directions daily. Between the extra 400 new homes at this junction along with others commuting in and out of Woking this road will become very congested. Safety also needs to be considered as well as the new Send first and middle school is being built on the A247. I strongly object to this proposal. Industrial and warehousing is not required in this area. The proposed site is within two miles of Slyfield Industrial Estate, this site has more than enough Brownfield space for the development of this kind. I suggest you look to push through the Clay Lane relief road linking the A3 directly to this Estate and develop this area which will affect no local residents rather than put an industrial and warehousing units in a residential area where locals residents would be subject to noise and air pollution from heavy goods vehicles. I strongly object to this proposal.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to strongly object to the revised GBC local plan for the following reasons.

1. Policy P2. Removal of Send from the Green Belt. In the new local plan document on page 29 Send is referred to as a "Rural Local Centre" yet the plan suggest removing the green belt along the banks of the River Wey Navigation, Garlick's Arch and around the village school. The local area is already very busy and congested, and we need to preserve the "village feel" in these rural areas for the sake of existing residents and their children as well as anyone looking to move to the area, part of the charm of the villages surrounding Guildford is that you can live in areas with outside green spaces with the benefit of having a large town centre close by. The removal of Green Belt status will open the door to more planning applications to greedy private land owners to "fill in" these current Green Belt spaces if you change the status of these leaving them exposed. For these reasons I very strongly object to these proposed changes and we will do everything we can to stop them happening.

The revised GBC local plan has not considered the local community and the effects in it. I understand the need for development but it is not being suggested in the right areas or size of development. We do not need a major junction at Burnt Common to serve Send and South Woking if development plans are considerate. We do not need industrial and warehousing developments in Send that can be made in Slyfield, and other town centre locations where vast swathes of brown field land/sites stay vacant. We haven't the social and local infrastructure for a further 500 houses in Send.

I strongly object to this new GBC local plan.

Objection 2: Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Policy A58

I object to the plan for Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Send, Policy A58. The new change states that there will now be minimum development rather than a maximum development of industrial/warehousing on this land. Has anyone actually considered the potential for queuing traffic on that A3 junction. Has anyone consider the extra heavy freight using the A247 into Woking or through Ripley? Has the need for such development been properly assessed? This development is not required at all, let alone a change in the plan to say it may be developed to a larger size than initially proposed. They are plenty of empty industrial/warehousing sites in and around the Guildford/Woking area, Slyfield, Sheerwater etc. This will bring nothing but misery to the local population and I think will detrimentally ruin the area affecting house prices and people will leave the area.

1. 2. Housing Assessment

The number of houses planned in the Borough since the last consultation has risen to 693 p.a. over the next 20 years. The Foreword to the Plan (under the rubric "Key Facts") at tributes to the ONS in a footnote a prediction of a population of 162,188 by 2033.

Implementation of the EU Referendum decision last month, to which the new Prime Minister has publicly committed the UK Government, could well result in a further, potentially large, reduction in international migration to the UK over the period covered by the draft Plan. This must surely give pause for thought. The harm to the Green Belt villages and the Horsleys in particular will be irreparable if development is allowed to proceed on the basis of overstated projections. The ONS will have to revisit its forecast, the adequacy of which is now clearly in question.

Development of the Plan should be paused, and submission to the inspectorate deferred, to allow for updated ONS modelling to become available. Alternatively, given the current uncertainty, a more conservative approach - perhaps based on the level of growth envis aged in the current 2003 Plan - should be adopted with respect to predicted future new household formation for the next 8-10 years, and the number of new houses needed materially reduced, with the ability to reset at the end of the next parliament in 2025. By then the long term consequences of the Brexit referendum (including the effect(s) on economic growth) should be clearer, and adequate evidence of future needs capable of being generated. It is clearly untenable for the Plan to go forward in its current form, as if nothing had happened. It would be unreasonable not to adjust the Plan in the light of referendum, and in any event, submission in its current form would be non-compliant with the NPPF requirement (at para 158) to ensure the Plan is based on adequate and up to date evidence.

states, wholly implausibly, that 'the Plan performs well'. Promoting huge increases in new houses in rural villages without any detailed planning or committed funding for associated infrastructure is absurd. The Plan is not compliant with NPPF (para 182) as it does not adequately address infrastructure requirements.

3. Housing need in the Horsleys

The number of houses planned over the next twenty years at the 6 main sites in the Horsleys is 533. (At least 90 further houses could also be developed on smaller sites, according to the Horsley Countryside Preservation Society.) Development on this scale would damage irretrievably the semi-rural character of the Horsleys, the principal attraction of these villages for their existing residents and taxpayers, to whom the Council is supposed to be accountable. The main centre of employment and future economic growth in the Borough is Guildford itself, yet the Horsleys (and other surrounding Green Belt villages) appear expected to take a disproportionate share of expected new housebuilding.

Approximately 65% of the planned new housing is to be built on Green Belt land. Adequate consideration of reasonable alternatives, such as focussing on high density developments within the curtilage of Guildford itself, does not appear to have been undertaken. The Plan is therefore not compliant with NPPF (para 182).

9. Proposed development of former Wisley Airfield

I object to this proposal.

The potential development of some 2,000 new dwellings in the middle of the Green Belt is completely unacceptable. No evidence has been offered of any special circumstances justifying development in the Green Belt, and thus the proposal does not comply with the NPPF (para 83.)

The character and amenity of the Horsleys (2.2 miles away as the crow flies), would be irreparably damaged by the resulting enormous pressures of some 5,000 extra residents on local transport infrastructure and on educational and medical facilities. No credible assessment appears to have been made of these impacts on the Horsleys.

9. Proposed development of Thatcher's Hotel

I object to this proposal.

Thatcher's Hotel is a longstanding amenity of East Horsley. Increased patronage appears likely when the new West Horsley Place opera commences. While the NPPF (para 89) allows for redevelopment of previously developed sites within the Green Belt, the redevelopment must not have a greater impact on the openness of the Green Belt than the existing development.

Erecting 48 houses on the site implies a density, and spatial orientation, clearly at odds with this criterion. Reasonable alternatives, such as converting the existing buildings into flats (like the sympathetic conversion of Maranello House on the main shopping parade), and without increasing the scale or existing footprint of the hotel, do not appear to have been considered.

Access to and from the A246 at the present entrance to the hotel would likely be insufficient, and any enlarged or new entrance onto the A246 would increase traffic, and worsen an existing hazard in the vicinity of a sharp bend, which has been the scene of multiple accidents over the years.

5. Infrastructure and Environment

The scale of development proposed for the Horsleys, together with other planned development in adjacent areas, threatens severe strain on local facilities and thus unacceptable impairment of residents' quality of life. Serious probable impacts include:

- Traffic: allowing for 2 cars per new house, potentially up to a 1,000 additional vehicles in the Horsleys alone will require access to, and use of, the Ockham Road(s), Forest Road and the A246. The existing congestion on these routes will likely be severely exacerbated. These routes cannot easily be widened without unacceptable encroachment on existing households, and increasing the speed limit would constitute an unacceptable risk to safety. No serious assessment of the impact on the existing local transport network appears to have been included.

- Parking: The car parks at both Horsley and Effingham Stations are already full on week days, likewise the car park at the Horsley Medical Centre, and close to full at most times of day at the two main shopping parades in East Horsley. No thought appears to have been given to the Development at Wisley Aerodrome would likely further exacerbate the situation, given that these stations are the closest to that site.

- Pollution: The large increase in the volume of traffic in the Horsleys resulting from the proposed plan will materially increase existing nitrogen dioxide and particulate emissions. Again, no consideration appears to have been given to this impact.

- Medical Facilities: The Horsleys are served by just one outpatient medical centre (with 4 permanent full time practitioners), and it is now common to have to wait two weeks or longer for a GP appointment. Adding potentially 1,000 new residents (allowing for at least two residents for each new home) risks straining the existing service to breaking point. The Plan appears to take no account of this impact.

- Schools: Schools in the Horsleys are at, or close to, capacity. No new school places appear to be planned to provide for the increased demand resulting from the creation of new households. No account appears to have been taken of this.

3. Removal of the Horsleys from the Green Belt (Policy P2 Green Belt)

I object to this policy.

The draft plan proposes that the Horsleys be removed from the Green Belt. The NPPF (Para 83) requires any change of Green Belt Boundaries to demonstrate exceptional circumstances. The Written Ministerial Statement of 1st July 2013 clarified that the single issue of unmet housing need is unlikely to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt necessary to constitute such exceptional circumstances. The Plan states (Policy P2 para 4.3.16) ”We consider exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development”. No objective evidence is offered of any exceptional circumstances justifying the Horsleys' removal from, and thus permitting intensive development in, the Green Belt.

Further, Policy P2 states (para 4.3.19) that a Green Belt Supplementary Planning Document is being prepared, and that this document will provide further detail and guidelines to help inform development proposals. It is unacceptable that a policy of this sensitivity be promoted for final consultation without this detail.

The Plan is therefore not only non-compliant with the NPPF, but has not been positively prepared.

7. Extension of the East Horsley village boundary

I object to this proposal.
The plan proposes that the area south of the A246, including the Warren, be included within the newly proposed "village boundary". This is unacceptable. Not only was this proposal not included in the earlier version of the plan put out for consultation in 2014, but no explanation is offered of the intended planning effect of this designation. The A246 is an obviously defensible boundary for the Green Belt. There appears to be no obvious purpose for creating this new village boundary other than a subterfuge to enable a future built environment of this area. No justification exists for removing the area south of the A246 from the Green Belt. The proposal is therefore in breach of the NPPF (para 83.)

This area south of the A246 has a true semi-rural character, evidenced by generous plot sizes, wide separations between dwellings and a uniformly lower density than that obtaining in the currently defined settlement area of East Horsley. All previous development in this area has (rightly) had to be consistent with maintaining the openness of the Green Belt, and ending this status would wreck its character and amenity. Even if it were to be accepted (which it is not - cf above) that the built environment within the existing settlement boundary of East Horsley was out of character with the overall openness of the Green Belt, this clearly is not true of the area south of the A246, which accordingly, should continue to be included in the Green Belt. To conclude otherwise would be to legitimate an obvious future "land grab" designed to enable wholly inappropriate development to the deep detriment of the existing residents.

8. Infilling (Policy P) Green Belt

I object to this policy.

Not only are the Horsleys to be removed from the Green Belt (cf above), but infilling is to be allowed within the identified settlement boundaries of "East Horsley (south)" as well as outside the inset boundaries, where it can be demonstrated that the site is as a matter of fact on the ground within the village (sic).

To the extent applicable to the area south of the A246, this proposal is completely unacceptable. Per the Council's own Guildford Borough Council Green Belt and Countryside Study Vol IV at para 13.13 the area south of the A246 is classified as a low development density. The infilling of "gaps", or "small-scale redevelopment of existing properties" (para 4.3.25 ff) in this area would utterly compromise the existing low density, and create a self fulfilling rationale for later formal insetting. This is little short of legalised vandalism.

I write to record my strong objection to the draft Plan.

1. Regulation 18 Consultation Statement

Little account appears to have been taken of the concerns and objections raised in the most recent consultation in 2014. With regard to the multiple objections concerning the Horsleys, the Consultation Statement (p.163) states "These comments are considered to relate to the proposed sites .... and have been responded to in Planning for Sites." I am unable to find evidence of this response, or evidence of the specific objections raised in my letter of 19th September 2014 being included in the collated commentary (p.163 ff.)

I object to Policy S2. This states 12,426 as the total required, yet the supporting table called up by the policy sums to 9,810. This is prima facie evidence of the unsoundness of the plan. More generally, no effort has been made in the changed SHMA properly to take into account the reduced housing need consequent upon UK government's declared long term policy of reducing immigration, and thus forecast new household formation.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I would like to object to the new Guildford Local Plan:-

I do not believe there is good reason to consider East or West Horsley to be outside the Green Belt.

I do not think it is right to build such large numbers of houses in the green belt. The Green Belt is an important asset in the South East for environmental reasons. Once it is gone, it is gone forever.

Local infrastructure cannot support the proposed housing. Nor would I wish there to be extra infrastructure which in itself would spoil rural Green Belt land. New buildings such as schools are just as bad as new houses! Extra car parks are bad for the environment / flooding issues etc.

East Horsley is a village in a semi – rural area. It is not a farm and as such it cannot support the problems the plan would bring.

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick's Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

I object to the development at Garlick's Arch because the site has a particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site is also subject to flooding.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bendy to take any more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the marina will generate heavy traffic too. The road cannot take any more.

I object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travellers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

I object to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with proposed housing levels. Roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope.

I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeting at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 which are all already at 100% capacity.

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt.

I object to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick's Arch, Clockbam Nurseries and Send Hill because

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford's urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs.
I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the (A247) would be gridlocked all day.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25.

I object to all the proposed sites in Send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially.

I object to the development at Garlick's Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks' notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
• I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

• I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

• I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

• I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

• I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

• I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

• I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

• I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

• I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.
I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.
The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.
The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)
It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

I OBJECT to Policy E1 - Development in designated rural areas

The policy should not apply to designated rural areas. The description of the Green Belt as a natural landscape is too vague and does not distinguish it from other areas of rural Green Belt. The development of sites in the villages should not be encouraged.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.
The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy 11. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.
Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.)

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”.

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN I re not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites-which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - Send

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

- I object to the removal of Send, Ripley and Clandon from the Green Belt because the villages and their countryside provide a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford.

- I object to building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick's Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded.
• I object to the exaggerated "housing need" figure of 13,860 which is far too high and results in the completely unnecessary development of the Green Belt. The way students, economic need and affordability are calculated inflates the housing need.

• I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford’s urban brownfield areas, much closer to existing transport hubs.

• I object to all the proposed sites in Send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough, Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially.

• I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the A247 would be gridlocked all day. I also object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25.

• I object to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including

• I object to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with proposed housing. Roads, doctors’ surgeries and schools will be unable to cope.

• I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 and our road, Send Marsh Road, which are all already at 100% capacity especially during the rush hours.

• I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the

• The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development "should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking." Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear Instead, no definition of "sustainable development" is given.

• The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because the stream which runs through that area ends up across the road from our house, in Send Marsh Road, and it has flooded in the past. The new development would increase the amount of run-off into the stream, by replacing soft, permeable, vegetated surfaces with new hard sw-faces, and therefore increase the risk of flooding downstream on Send Marsh Road. The development site also has a particular conservation sensitivity as it includes much old woodland. I believe trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site itself is also subject to flooding.
I also object to the development at Garlick's Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks' notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough. I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick's Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I also object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:
• It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously.
• The word 'minimum' is a change from the previous 'maximum' in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land.
• There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty site and industrial units.
• The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 ha. for industrial land for the whole borough, not a huge over-allocation of 10 ha. at Send in the Green Belt.
• The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
• It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix F: Policies overview map
I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.
The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.
Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/”Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in-price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations were available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being “closely related”. In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure... will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt.
There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”.

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites-which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

C.i. Policy 25 Gosden Hill – My Objections

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt.

4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity.

5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.

7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

C.i. Policy A43 Garlick’s Arch – My Objections

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.
21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

C.iii. Policy A58 Burnt Common – My Objections

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”

5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.

6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”

8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.

9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.

11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

I object to the potential impact of para 4.4.23a on Burnt Common with its over allocation of industrial zoning is subterfuge for a waste management facility which is a dishonest and underhand approach to planning and proper consultation.

E. Policy S1 Presumption in favour of Sustainable Development– My Objections

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

G. Duty to Cooperate – My Objections

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to cooperate with the wishes of its own electorate.

Despite the thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

• The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
• A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
• The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  ◦ failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  ◦ issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  ◦ flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
• It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A25
Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.
I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students IRE accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.
Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy H3

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy II1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.

2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

5. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

6. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

7. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

8. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

9. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

10. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

11. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

12. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

13. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

14. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework.

The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.
Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

Proposed Submission Local Plan - Site Policy A35, A36, A38, A39, A40, A41

My wife and I are resident at [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998]

The B 2039 Ockham Road North/South is already being used like an A road! The structure of the road is not suitable for the current volume of cars, heavy goods vehicles and coaches which has increased dramatically since we arrived here in 2017. If 500+ new houses are built in the Horsleys alone the result will be unbearable. If the so called Wisley Airfield plan was also allowed the result would be absolute chaos.

Our local schools, the Horsley Medical Centre, the Horsley railway station car park and the parking facilities at the 2 shopping areas are already operating at maximum capacity.

There do not appear to be any proposals which would address these problems.

The inclusion of these sites in the proposed local plan is therefore contrary to Policy 13 (Suitable Transport for new developments) and Policy 11 (Infrastructure and Delivery).

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.

2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.

3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.

4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).

5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

7. Our Queen’s speech at the opening of Parliament one month ago our queen said “a promise to ensure transport and buses will not be reduced and this would be for the Mayor to ensure” - proposed local bus services have been proposed locally and now we hear the same for many train services.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

- I object to all the proposals mentioned above and we feel because of the result of the recent Referendum result it is imperative for the Guildford Borough Council to go “back to the drawing board” to reassess the numbers of properties which would be needed within Surrey together with providing information on infrastructure and additional facilities required. These numbers of properties required will certainly be extremely different to the calculations made before the Referendum!

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

We write with reference to the new local plans for further housing in East & West Horsley ('The Horsleys'). The plans, as we understand them, are for the The Horsleys to have 533 new houses introduce into the area as well as 2,000 new housing development of the Wisley Airfield. Should our understanding be correct then you are looking to introduce 2,533 new houses into an area spanning 3 miles around The Horsleys.

We are unsure if you have experienced the congestion on the A3 between Guildford and the M25 (JJO) junction turn off at Wisley. The congestion starts from 6.30am in the morning until around 9am and then starts again from 4.30pm until around 7pm with the tail back on some days going back a couple of miles. The A3 and the surrounding area are already experiencing difficulties in handling the existing traffic volumes which will only increase with the proposed new housing.

Outside of the traffic congestions mentioned above we are of the belief the following impacts will be felt to the area:
1. Further road blockage around the surrounding areas of The Horsleys.
2. A further taxation on the children capacity and resources of the local schools.
3. Reduced packing spaces (which has already become a problem).
4. Additional pollution to the area.
5. An impact to the Green Belt status of the area.
6. More accidents in the area.
7. A further drain on the NHS resources in the area (which are already stretched).
8. The potential devaluation of house prices.

We were attracted to the Horsley area some 10 years ago because of its' accessibility, beauty, schooling availability and the local community & village. We have seen a number of changes over the years most of which have been negative, we believe what you are proposing will be of further detriment to the place we originally fell in love with and will negatively impact our young family.

We oppose your plans and wish our objections to be noted.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We are of the understanding that revisions have been made to the local plans for further housing in East & West Horsley ('The Horsleys') as well as to the housing development of the land at Wisley Airfield. We understand that amended permission has now been requested for a new settlement of up to 2,068 dwellings incorporating up to 60 sheltered accommodation units and associated infrastructure including accesses onto the A3 (Ockham Interchange). Ockham Lane and Old Lane and revised access to Elm Corner, a primary/secondary school, community provisions, nursery provision, health facility, a local centre, employment area, 8 traveller pitches, sports and recreational facilities amongst a host of other things.

Considerable congestion is already being experienced on the A3 between Guildford and the M25 (J10) junction turn off at Wisley. The congestion starts from 6.30am until around 9am and then starts again from 4.30pm until around 7pm with the tail back on some days going back a couple of miles. The A3 and the surrounding area are already experiencing difficulties in handling the existing traffic volumes which will only increase with the proposed new housing.

Outside of the traffic congestions mentioned above we are of the belief that these amended plans will be felt in surrounding areas such as The Horsleys and Ripley and will generate the following impacts:
1. Further road blockage around the surrounding areas of The Horsleys and Ripley
2. Will increase the strain on the local schools in the area.
3. Reduced packing spaces (which has already become a problem).
4. Additional pollution to the area.
5. An impact to the Green Belt status of the area.
6. More accidents in the area.
7 A further drain on the NHS resources in the area (which are already stretched).
8. The potential devaluation of house prices.
Should our understanding be correct of what we believe are the amended plans we hereby wish to make our objections known with respect to these amended plans.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

What the Local Plan has not taken into account is: "The local typography which does not permit change?"

TO SINK: due to Subsidence
Sendmarsh sits on a very deep clay bowl.

Which means that any structures built on this vast amount of clay will need foundations that withstand shrinkage and movement. Sadly this was not the case when Wimpy built their estate on Sendmarsh during the late 1960's- early 1970's.

The consistency of this clay has been maintained by Mother Nature, for thousands of years, any changes to this statuesque (water content) will cause structural failures within the Wimpy Estate and the surrounding area structures.

I therefore object to the "Planning moves to build over Burnt Common and other areas surrounding Send.marsh." This will greatly affect the clays natural structural. In effect: by concreting over the Green Belt fields, which are the collection points for rain water. This waters peculate down into the ground resulting in ground water. In other words; it's this water which keeps the clay in a state of balance and the structures that now sit on it.

TO SWIM: due to Flooding
Sendmarsh is on the cuff of flooding.

Throughout the area, East Clandon Stream flows. Water flows passed Send.marsh at depth of 2 to 3 inches & upwards of 10 to 12 feet.

A flood barrier was put in place around Send.marsh in 2006-8. In winter 2014/15, water levels were within 2 feet from the top of this barrier. Having Burnt Common along with the surrounding areas; concreted over: will increase water run-off into the East Clandon Stream making flooding inevitable & repetitive.

The double whammy comes from both of the above and will result in: -

1. Home Insurance costs rising due to:
   1. Long term subsidence's problems.
   2. Short & long term flooding issues.
2. Property values for Send Marsh will drop.
Until all these issues are fully resolved and solutions put in place, both politically & technically; no planning approval should be given.

I object to; tweaks in the local highways infrastructure; which will not match the vast increases in motor transport; caused by this "Massive Proposed Development."

This Local Plan does not come close to any relevant meaning of word "Plan," in fact it only reflects gloss of a politics!

I object totally to The Local Plan because, it does away with the "Green Belt" It also tramples over most, if not all, of the current & future, electorates' wishes.

This Local Plan does not come close to meaning of the word "Plan," in fact it's main thrust reflects the gloss of political short-termism!

Even before "The Plan," is considered, the current and existing issues need to be resolved.

Road infrastructures:
- Currently, there is not one feeder road onto or away from the A3, which does not have a bottle neck.
- Many with these issues are within a couple of miles from the A 50 proposal.
- Most of these roads are just historic lanes; having been tweaked & tarmac covered.
- Where are the planned improvements & changes for these side roads?
- Under the A58 multi directional traffic flow; it must be proven that both, getting onto or off the A3 will be affective & efferent over time. Not just a quick fix.

Environment Footprint:
- Increases in house building, Warehouses etc .. along with all infrastructural changes; all will dramatically impact on the environmental foot print.
- This will not just happen locally around the Send Area but, also be long & lasting.
- There is nothing in "The Plan," that addresses this issue.
- There must be a better way & a better plan.

Ecology Damage:
- Most of the land, nominated under "The Plan," is currently green belt country side; nothing seems to have been put down for what needs to be protected the ecology & how this must be done.
Pollutants:
- Air pollution, Noise & Lighting are impacts that must be understood and addressed as current & increasing problems
- Until such time as these are fully understood & resolved, with solutions in place, politically, environmentally & technically; no planning approval should be given.

I object to; tweaks in the local highways infrastructure; which will not match the vast increases in motorised transport due to this "Massive Proposed Development."

I totally object to The Local Plan, Strategy and Sites June 2017 because, it does away with the "Green Belt." It tramples over most, if not all of the local electorates wishes.

DEVELOPMENT IN EAST AND WEST HORSLEY
The proposal to develop nearly 600 houses in East and West Horsley would place an unsustainable burden on the local facilities and infrastructure including schools, roads and other essential local facilities needed by the community. Many of these are already being used at full capacity. Also as was clearly demonstrated at the start of 2014 when the area experienced flooding including road closures, any additional development would exacerbate these problems. The designation of Station Parade as a “District Centre” falsely represents its status and seems designed to justify other proposals in the Local Plan. The resignation is spurious and should be rejected. We also note that the target outlined represents a 25% increase in the housing stock of the borough, which is in excess of the Office of National Statistics (“ONS”) projection of a population increase of 15% for Guildford Borough over this same period. The proposal to change the Settlement Boundaries to include additional housing must therefore be rejected.

GREEN BELT
The Green Belt was established principally to protect London and the south east area from unrestricted urban spread. This has been successful and ensured that historic towns and villages have largely retained their distinctive nature. Perhaps most critically, it provides a safeguard to the countryside which is increasingly under threat. Having the Green Belt provides both recreational opportunities for people living in the surrounding urban areas as well as being the lungs of our ever increasingly built up environment. We are stunned that when we are placing globally such a high priority on what is happening to our environment that nothing short of vandalism of the Green Belt is being considered. Nearly two thirds of the proposed developments will be made on Green Belt land. The Green Belt must remain intact with its existing boundaries.

PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT AT OCKHAM
This would have a major adverse impact on the surrounding area putting additional strain on infrastructure and local facilities. One simple example being the A3 which now is at a standstill in the Ockham area at the times many people need to travel. The roads to local stations are similarly overloaded. There appears to be no serious consideration of the impact of such a major development on local infrastructure. The same detrimental impact would be felt on medical, school and other services. This and the proposed developments at Burnt Common and Gosden Hill, and Burpham must be rejected because of their wider impact.

1. I object to the number of new houses proposed for Send. The number seems to have increased since 2014
2. I object to the green belt being built on, there is plenty of room on the brownfield sites
3. I object to policy P2
4. I object to policy A43 to build new houses in a conservation area around Burnt Common
5. A44 – I object to building on green belt land. The land is already filled with documented unsafe land filled waste. So very very unsuitable to build on. No way is there sufficient access by road. Send will become gridlocked.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

| 1. | I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much. |
| 2. | There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints. |
| 3. | Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt. |
| 4. | The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity. |
| 5. | The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford. |
| 6. | The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon. |
| 7. | I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below). |
| 8. | The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools. |
| 9. | A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km. |

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

| 1. | I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches. |
| 2. | It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people. |
| 3. | There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location. |
| 4. | There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints. |
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.

6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.

7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.

13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.
18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site.

2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.

3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.

4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”

5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.

6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”

8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.

9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.

11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:
- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt increase tail backs on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

We object to the Proposed Submission Local Plan which Guildford Borough Council GBC has now published for public consultation on the grounds articulated and submitted by East Horsley Parish Council, the East Horsley Action Group, Guildford Green Belt Group and Horsley Countryside Preservation Society, which we fully support.

We are concerned that the infrastructure proposals are inadequate even to meet the needs of what is there at the moment, let alone the proposed developments in the Local Plan. The current infrastructure and facilities around the Horsleys barely cope with current demand to support the local population and it seems that the proposed changes to infrastructure will do little if anything to ease this, let alone cope with an increased population resulting from the excessive number of new houses proposed in the area.

The roads and pavements in the Horsleys area are inadequate, the roads are narrow and there are no pavements along large stretches of roads. For example, the Ockham Road (North and South) is one of the main roads in the Horsleys; this road and the pavements are already dangerous due to the road and pavement widths and the large number of large vehicles (lorries, vans, buses etc) which travel at speed along this road. The proposed alarming increase in housing will only exacerbate this dangerous situation.

The Local Plan's proposed increase in the number of new houses in the Horsleys is quite alarming and the resulting increase in population cannot be supported in this area.

We sincerely request that GBC radically re-assess its own policy objectives rather than force through the Council a Local Plan which clearly does not have the wider support of the residents of Guildford Borough.

I live in Send village and I object to Clock Barn Nursery (Tannery Lane policy) A42 for 60 home (33% more). I objected before when it was 45 and object 33% more now. It makes traffic worse for me in Tannery Lane and A247 junction, I use Tannery Lane several times a week and I’m registered disabled. I object to use of the green belt I’ve lived in for 72 years.

I object to Garlicks Arch (Send, Marsh) (Policy A43) 400 homes and gypsies – [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered defamatory, derogatory, inflammatory or offensive in nature]. It will restrict my access and I do not want travellers moving in – I have written before about this to object. It will spoil out semi rural village – my mother pushed my pram down Kiln Lane and it is a famous beauty spot – with blue bells in spring. We want to be separate to Ripley and remain green belt – I will no longer have such clean access with traffic and feel [unreadable words] from where they used shot and kill birds. I want it left green belt.

Burnt Common (Policy A58) London Road I object and understand a warehouse – wasn’t this already put aside? This should be green belt. It should link up to existing sites at Slyfield – Guildford where there is space left.

It will cause heavy traffic and I rely on use of Dr [unreadable word] at send and use this road for me and my husbands serious medical condition – we are both registered disabled. Again it links up what is best left separate.

Green belt – Policy 2 (p: 4.3-15) again it had been deleted in 2014 (whats’ going on here!) why was it changed from Max to Min in 2016 plan – can’t believe you propose a business park. This should remain green belt. It [unreadable word] such over use of roads: there are MANY other places that are not already ones lived. What used to take me 8 minutes and get you to the Surrey [unreadable word] now could take one ½ hour. Often losing the beauty of the green belt for the unnecessary greed of property developers.

Please leave our villages alone.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
   4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

7) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Congestion on the trunk roads, A3/M25
   I object to the development of the strategic sites due to A3 and M25 already being at capacity during peak hours. Highways England has no plans to look at improving the A3 before 2020. It is therefore not sustainable to identify sites for further development which will worsen the congestion on these motorways and trunk roads.

2. Congestion on the local village roads and lanes
   Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. I object to further development which will cause greater congestion in and around our villages.

3. Unsuitability of our local roads for heavy vehicles and more traffic
   Many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

4. Poor air quality concerns
   Further congestion, particularly in built up residential areas will only lead to greater levels of air pollution. I object to further development, which will result a fall in the air quality.

1. Lack of Utilities Capacity
   Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. I object to the development of Garlick’s Arch on the ground that there is little capacity in these networks.

2. Sites being planned in unsustainable locations
   Many of the strategic sites e.g. Wisley Airfield and Garlick’s Arch, are in unsustainable locations. They do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. I object on the grounds that these sites are not sustainable.

3. Parking issues in local villages caused by larger population
   Many of the affected villages, such as Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems. To which I object.

4. Local healthcare facilities will be overwhelmed
   Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. I object due to the further stress it will put upon existing health services.

5. Local policing facilities will be overwhelmed
   Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the likes of Garlick’s Arch and Wisley Airfield will stretch the police services further and I object.

6. Local social welfare facilities will be overwhelmed

7. Local shops/restaurant facilities will be overwhelmed

8. No protection of heritage assets

9. No protection of the environment

10. Overdevelopment of sites. I object to the existing overdevelopment of Ripley - it is a small village and should remain so

11. Not meeting the needs of local communities. I object to the fact that you seem to insist on ignoring what the local communities are telling you. We pay to live here - you need to start listening

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I wish to make the following objections to the local plan

1. Not protecting the Green Belt
   I object to the proposals to remove Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Greenbelt. There are absolutely no special circumstances to do this. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

1. Unbalanced allocation of development in one area of the Borough
   Between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles it is proposed that over 6,500 houses are built. This represents over 40% of the housing proposed in the Local Plan. I object to this area being hit so hard by the allocation of development, which is disproportionate to the rest of the Borough.

1. I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

1. I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

1. The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites.

A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ...” Clearly A50 more than covers the total "need" of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)

This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:

i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!), and

ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch

The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

I object to the unfair imbalance of the Plan across the borough.

With the removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) and reductions of housing planned in this version of the Plan in other parts of the borough the Plan has become even more biased against the North East of the borough. Guildford Borough is over 100 square miles. Of the 11,350 homes proposed in the Plan, 40.6% (4613) are within 3 miles of Send Marsh, most of them on Green Belt. This is grossly unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough.

1. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

"We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan."

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

I wish these objections to be fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in Green Belt (A58)

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. These facilities are always highly contentious and the Council has a duty of transparency in this regard which it is, at best, neglecting.

1. I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”

So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit IS to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

1. I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

1. I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

I am objecting to the local plan for Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common. I object to the number of houses that the plan intends to deliver (693 per annum) and in particular Garlick's Arch(Policy A43) and the development of 2000 homes at Gosden Hill Farm Merrow.- Policy A25 .I also object to the 2 new A3 sliproads at the A247 clandon road (Policy A43A)

I object as this is in clear contravention of the central governments stated commitment for Green belt protection. I also object because the local infrastructure (medical,schools,roads,transport) etc is already stretched to breaking point and will not support the further development in the local plan.

I object to Policy A43, Land at Garlick’s Arch Send Marsh, because it will cause overdevelopment to the local area and will generate a level of traffic which the village cannot cope with. The village already struggles to cope with existing traffic levels.

- I object to Policy A58 Land at Burnt Common, London Road because there is no need to build industrial or warehouse developments in the green belt where other brown field sites are available in Guildford and Slyfield.

Overall in my opinion the council needs to have more respect for green belt and focus on brown belt sites. Also in Send the existing traffic levels are already at breaking point.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a) This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. I object to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Congestion on the trunk roads, A3/M25
   I object to the development of the strategic sites due to A3 and M25 already being at capacity during peak hours. Highways England has no plans to look at improving the A3 before 2020. It is therefore not sustainable to identify sites for further development which will worsen the congestion on these motorways and trunk roads.

2. Congestion on the local village roads and lanes
   Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. I object to further development which will cause greater congestion in and around our villages.

3. Unsuitability of our local roads for heavy vehicles and more traffic
   Many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

4. Poor air quality concerns
   Further congestion, particularly in built up residential areas will only lead to greater levels of air pollution. I object to further development, which will result a fall in the air quality.

5. Lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites
   I object to the lack of planning and implementation of infrastructure. For example at Garlick’s Arch. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ quality of life will significantly deteriorate in many ways. How will the local services such as doctors and schools cope?

6. Lack of Utilities Capacity
   Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. I object to the development of Garlick’s Arch on the ground that there is little capacity in these networks.

7. Sites being planned in unsustainable locations
   Many of the strategic sites e.g. Wisley Airfield and Garlick’s Arch, are in unsustainable locations. They do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever
8. Parking issues in local villages caused by larger population
Many of the affected villages, such as Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems. To which I object.

9. Local healthcare facilities will be overwhelmed
Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. I object due to the further stress it will put upon existing health services.

10. Local policing facilities will be overwhelmed
Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the likes of Garlick’s Arch and Wisley Airfield will stretch the police services further and I object.

11. Local social welfare facilities will be overwhelmed

12. Local shops/restaurant facilities will be overwhelmed

13. No protection of heritage assets

14. No protection of the environment

15. Overdevelopment of sites. I object to the existing overdevelopment of Ripley - it is a small village and should remain so

16. Not meeting the needs of local communities. I object to the fact that you seem to insist on ignoring what the local communities are telling you. We pay to live here - you need to start listening.

I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy 13) The increased congestion that will arise from the massive proposed developments will in turn lead to increased air pollution which will have damaging effect on local residents and their health.

I object to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads A3/M25 (Policy12) Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

Please record these objections individually against the relevant sections of the plan and ensure that they are submitted to the Planning.

I object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt – this provides an essential landscape to stop Woking and Guildford from becoming some massive urban scrawl. Local Councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt – and this renages on it. Send has already lost a lot of natural vegetation to small / medium developments and these latest proposals are far too much for a village location causing more strain on roads, schools and doctors.

1. Unbalanced allocation of development in one area of the Borough

   Between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles it is proposed that over 6,500 houses are built. This represents over 40% of the housing proposed in the Local Plan. The increase in housing numbers from 45 to 60 at Site A42 in Tannery Lane, Send will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around and within Ripley. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states “Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I hereby wish to object to the amendments to the Local Plan having already objected to the original local Plan for many reasons, including the following:-

- Any development at Site A43 Garlicks Arch would be on Green Belt land, and there is no identified or exceptional need within the Local Plan documentation.
- The inclusion of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots with associated storage facilities is entirely inappropriate in a rural environment within the Green Belt and there is no identified need within the Local Plan.
- The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. The Plan is self-inconsistent and therefore not properly constituted.
- The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlicks Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages. The plan states that “if the [Traveller sites] remains unsold, the future use of the land should have regard to an up to date Traveller Accommodation Assessment (TAA) and Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), with specific consideration of the use of the land for affordable housing”. So even more travellers pitches and houses, which is unjustified.
- Section 4.2.22 of the Plan states that “Sufficient sites are identified within the Local Plan [for] 8 plots for Travelling Showpeople” So why do 75% of them have to be in Ripley? This is unbalanced and unfair.

I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites.
A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ...” Clearly A50 more than covers the total “need” of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)

This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:
i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!), and
ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

The inclusion of site A58 Burt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch)

GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were

1. The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm, ... (site allocation A25) [than the Burnt Common site did]”
2. The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) the separation issue is clearly being ignored as BOTH sites (which are almost contiguous) are in the plan; therefore GBC are not following their own guidelines and objectives.

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) more than the “required” industrial space is available there, so there is no reason for Garlick’s Arch to be included.
I object to removal

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

It is in the interests of any future decision to be made by the Planning Inspector that he fully appreciates the strength of opposition to the above.

It is all well and good for bureaucratic individuals, with no local knowledge of the full effect of decisions they may wish to make, to act contrary to the wishes of a majority of local residents when all they these ill advised bureaucrats have in mind is increasing the area of land available for development whilst ignoring amongst other matters:

1. Unacceptable escalation of traffic flow creating unwarranted air pollution.
2. Lack of availability of the necessary schooling facilities.
3. Stretching medical facilities already at breaking point.
4. The lack of local retail shop and other facilities to accommodate any resulting increase in the local population.

All in all the Council have failed miserably in adopting an objective approach to what is being proposed and even more than that have failed to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances which are surely necessary before the boundaries are extended for the purpose they have in mind.

It is time to look at the matter in the light of the year 2016 and in the light of the recent wishes of the majority of the electorate which has cast a doubt over the interest of builders in large residential development commensurate to this area of Surrey until the future becomes more stable within the housing market and if for no other reason the proposal should be shelved.

Please ensure these views are made available to the Inspector.

- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs. This would impact also on the flooding issues that this area suffers from.

- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The statement that the development will result in a cycling and walking rather than the use of cars. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
2. The increased volume of car traffic.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements. These roads flood when it rains heavily.
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the A3 and M25 particularly around Wisley and Painshill junctions.
6. The lack of suitable public transport.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site.
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. My family and I enjoy living in Ockham because of the access to the countryside and clean air and the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. I wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I object to the continued inclusion of the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows because the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.
- I object because there is already a shortage of schools in this and surrounding areas due to lack of planning by the Council and this situation will only worsen as a result of these plans. Our children are the future and we should be doing all we can to ensure they all receive the very best education. The schools planned would not be sufficient.

As previously set out, I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan for many reasons including:

1. It is the least sustainable strategic site because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
2. Too far from railway stations.
3. Limited footpaths and safe walking or cycling routes.
4. Located next to and close to very congested motorway M25 and A road A3 which are frequently at grid lock throughout the day.
5. Local roads and back roads are not safe alternatives to blocked motorways and are very busy normally which has lead to consistent accidents due to dangerous black spots (Black Swan junction).
6. Train services already to congested and limited parking.
7. Local roads not safe for bus services, cars, cycles and walking commuters. Unrealistic.
8. RHS Wisley is near to this site and during shows causes increased traffic congestion and incidents.
9. Limited employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
10. I object to the negative impact to heritage sites.
11. I object to the fact that the increased area, will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB.
12. I object to the change of site boundaries as these are not identified correctly on the plan (Appendix H p16)
13. I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification
14. I object to the change in green belt boundary.
15. I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan.
16. I object to this development because it will not improve the dangerously high pollution levels in this area.
17. I object because the plans includes a new road for the Elm Corner residents which involves having to navigate our way through the new development particularly when there is a better alternative for the residents available to the Council.
18. I object to the proposed Submission Local Plan.
19. I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.
20. I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.
21. I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.
22. I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change
23. I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.
24. I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money by not following due process and ignoring previous representations.
25. I object to the 10% buffer in the housing number over the plan period.
26. I object to the evidence base which is not transparent and has been challenged.
27. I object to the transport evidence base including the Highways assessment report.
28. I object to the transport assessment which used prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.
29. I object to the housing number, particularly as the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality. I believe that the housing number is unsound and unnecessary as housing shortage is not in Surrey but in inner London where low paid workers need to live to be near to their work.
30. I object to the apparent disregard the damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.
31. I object to policy S2 because the figures in the AHT table do not add up.
32. I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre.
33. I object because the schooling offered is inadequate for this area both pre-school, primary, Junior and High school. Not enough thought has been given to the future need.

I consider for the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

I am writing to object to your plans to remove Horsley from the green belt and to build a ridiculous 385 new houses in our small country village. This would be a 35% increase in our current number of homes and as a current resident of West Horsley I know these plans will effect my village in an extremely negative way. We moved into Horsley from London because of its beautiful countryside, greenery and because it is quaint, small and free from excessive noise. For you now to enforce such barbaric plans is offensive and its implications are vast. To say these plans are a disappointment in Guildford council is an understatement and I really feel you are using the power you have to override democracy, as everyone in Horsley I have ever known rejects these plans. This will greatly effect Horsley residents trust and faith in the council.

I urge you to PLEASE reconsider these plans altogether, but if not just to reconsider the amount of houses you are proposing. I do respect the fact you have pressure from central government to build more homes, but please Sir or Madam, look on our small village in favour and do not strip away the beautiful features of Horsley that its residents hold so dear and are the key reasons why we chose to live here in the first place.

I will be praying for your upcoming decisions and these plans.

To whom in may concern,

This email is to signify that I object to the draft plan for the development of 140 homes and a care home on Site A22. The land is Green Belt and cannot be built on; as a community we must strive to protect the land around us - untouched fields such as these are part of Guildford's beauty. The fields are also a migration route for deer who pass on a daily basis.

In addition to this, the development is extremely close to Whitmoor common - a site of particular scientific Interest.

Furthermore, extra traffic in this area of Guildford would be dangerous - the roads are simply far too narrow to accommodate more cars.

I ask that you please take this into consideration. Should any developments take place it would completely destroy the area in which we live.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings
I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads. The fact that many roads are proposed to be made one directional in terms of traffic flow, provides strong evidence that the infrastructure is inappropriate for the proposed traffic volumes.
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity
- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I strongly object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farm Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far, the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners’ views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently out side their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighbourhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.
I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan as it has had no regard to schools required, add itional medical or hospital facilities which would make a plan sustainable.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) - Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored. Further, it is an inter generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity. It is the envy of the world and the proposals to raid these precious areas is nothing short of outrageous.

- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and A further planning application at RH5 Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M2S/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.
- I would point out that the number of new homes has been based on pre-Brexit projections for economic and population growth, including migration which now needs to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
- Most of the borough's infrastructure is antiquated, congested and straining to accommodate even current needs and organic growth. The plan's commitment to build housing across the Guildford countryside will mean either major infrastructure investment, which no one will believe will happen and for which there are no funds, or else a catastrophic collapse in transport, educational, medical, energy, water and communication services.
- Finally I object to the proposal to build 533 houses on 6 sites in the Horsleys as it is plainly both excessive in absolute terms and disproportionate relative to the rest of the It will destroy the rural character of these communities.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

When we moved to Woodfields, School Lane, Ockham, 31 years ago, there was talk about developing the airfield; a neighbour who moved here 40 years ago told me that proposals to develop the site were being discussed even then. At the last Council meeting my husband attended the most recent proposals were rejected by the Councillors UNANIMOUSLY!

But were still left in the Local Plan. So what is it that you don't get? For the following reasons that you and we are sick to death of reading and writing about the site is UNSUITABLE for development and this has been recognised by the planning authorities for 40 years that I know of!

I require confirmation that all of these comments together with all my previous comments are passed to the Inspector. I reserve my right to appear at the inquiry and present my evidence.

I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows, Wisley Airfield, or whatever you like to call it, in the draft Local Plan for many reasons including:

1. It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
2. It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
3. It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10)
4. Local roads are at capacity particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc)
5. Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford will have to negotiate the over-crowded SRN and will therefore be unreliable and subject to frequent delays.
6. Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe.
7. It is adjacent to the most popular visitor attraction in the south-east, the RHS at Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000/annum.
   - The associated traffic increase from the RHS has not been taken into account.
   - The regular events at the RHS which attract 1000’s more visitors several times a year and the resultant traffic has not been taken into account
8. There is insufficient employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
9. The identified mitigation to address the impact of increased traffic will not address the commuters travelling to Woking rail station
10. It remains unclear when/if the Ockham DVOR/DME will be decommissioned as the timetable has already slipped. This constrains the site significantly in terms of building heights etc.
11. The changed “Opportunities” listed in this policy reinforce why this site is totally inappropriate talking of “good urban design”
12. Opportunity (3) should be common to all sites and is not unique to this site
13. I object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts another heritage asset, Upton Farm negatively impacting the setting of this building.
14. I object to the fact that the increased area, being on the south of the site facing the Surrey Hills AONB will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB.
15. I object to the change of site boundaries as these are not identified correctly on the plan (Appendix H p16)
16. I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification
17. I object to the change in green belt boundary to the eastern end of the site as this now encloses an area of high archaeological impact
18. I object to para 21 which “limits” development in flood zone 2 and 3. Development should be excluded in flood zone 2 and 3
19. I object to para 22 as this does not reflect the impact of the buildings on the surrounding area.
20. I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consulters.
21. I object to the proposed Submission Local Plan because the significant modifications made to the plan mean that this should not be a Regulation 19 consultation. A regulation 19 consultation needs to be on the totality of the plan rather than the proposed changes.
22. I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.
23. I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.
24. I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.
25. I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change
26. I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.
27. I object to the Council wasting taxpayers’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.
28. I object to the inclusion of a 10% buffer in the housing number over the plan period. This is unnecessary.
29. I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS.
30. I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.
31. I object to the fact that the Council appear to have directed the transport assessment to use prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.
32. I object to the housing number and particularly the fact that the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBHSPA etc. I believe that the housing number is unsound and open to legal challenge.
33. I object to the apparent disregard for the impact of in-combination development on the TBHSPA, particularly the damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.
34. I object to policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.
35. I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

I consider for the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I would like to record my strong disapproval for any development of the former Wisley airfield on the scale proposed.

There are any number of reasons for this I listed three.

The destruction of the green belt and the devastating effect on local flora and fauna

The negative impact on traffic, the local road system could not support a project of the scale proposed both during the construction phase and when the works were complete.

pollution....noise and light pollution.
I object to the draft Submission Local Plan for the following reasons:

1. I object to the removal from the Green Belt of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) and neighbouring properties on its boundary. The site serves an important role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. The planned development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

2. I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five stories high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

3. I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development such as this could result in around 4,000 additional cars on the roads.
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and lorry movements.
   4. The danger from this traffic will be to cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with increased visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school would add further congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without Infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Highways England has stated that they have no plans to even consider improving the A3 before 2020.
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham Junction and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic, and car parking is already at capacity.

I hope that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Objections to the Guildford Borough Council Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadow (TFM) – Allocation A35 for the phased development of a new settlement of 2,068 dwellings

I am not a local resident, but as a frequent visitor to close relatives in the area I would like to object specifically to the following aspects of the proposed development:

1. The encroachment into the Green Belt, and especially the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield/Three Farms Meadow from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

1. The considerable ecological and environmental damage that the development would cause, including an increase in air pollution.

I hope that these concerns will be considered by the Council and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadow), Allocation A35, will be removed from the Local Plan.

We object to the proposal to build 1,800 houses, and industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm. This will:

- Destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge, a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- Remove 72 hectares of farmland and ancient woodland from the greenbelt
- Threaten protected wildlife such as skylarks, orchids and deer.
- Increase tailback on the A31 which are already a problem
- Further increase traffic in Guildford, which is already in gridlock almost every day of the week, which in turn will cause further problems for emergency vehicles especially in the area around the RSCH.
- Add to Guildford’s air pollution
- Result in rat-running through residential streets, and additional parking in these same streets
- Result in flooding of homes at the bottom of the slopes due to reduced absorption of the land

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to the proposal to build 1,800 houses, and industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm. This will:

- Destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge, a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- Remove 72 hectares of farmland and ancient woodland from the greenbelt
- Threaten protected wildlife such as skylarks, orchids and deer.
- Increase tailback on the A31 which are already a problem
- Further increase traffic in Guildford, which is already in gridlock almost every day of the week, which in turn will cause further problems for emergency vehicles especially in the area around the RSCH.
- Add to Guildford’s air pollution
- Result in rat-running through residential streets, and additional parking in these same streets
- Result in flooding of homes at the bottom of the slopes due to reduced absorption of the land

In addition, the new land evaluation study, carried out by Land Management Services, an established firm of landscape architects, assessed the area using Natural England’s latest AONB criteria and found that nearly the whole of the 265 hectare farm was of a landscape and scenic quality that merited inclusion within Natural England’s revised Surrey Hills AONB boundary.

The study also recommended that adjoining “semi rural” areas on the western edge of Guildford, which did not meet AONB criteria, should remain undeveloped as they provided an important setting to the AONB.

Why are the results of this study being blatantly ignored?

Please listen to those of us who have lived in Guildford for many years and who love our area; stop the urban sprawl and keep our naturally beautiful countryside.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We are writing in response to the publication of the new local plan and have the following objections and comments:

1. Policy A35, (Former wisely Airfield),

We object to the overriding of the Green Belt designation of this area. There are no valid reasons to permit a new development of this scale in the middle of the Green Belt with a character totally out of keeping with the existing environment in the long established villages in the surrounding area.

The resulting congestion on existing roads has not been satisfactorily considered and if such a scheme was to be permitted a much more extensive road upgrading program must be implemented. For example, the proposed access to the A3 at the Ockham roundabout only permits access to and return from the North; i.e. London bound. The only access and return from Guildford to the South is through the village of Ripley, which suffers serious congestion at times already. The only way to overcome this problem is to create south going slip roads from the roundabout to the A3 at the expense of the developer. The proposal will otherwise destroy the village character of Ripley.

The proposals seem to be entirely aimed at creating transportation facilities for London commuters. Guildford Borough Council should be concentrating on ensuring that the communications with Guildford are considered as a priority for any inhabitants of the Borough. For example, the transportation with buses assumes that commuters will travel to Effingham, Horsley and Woking railway stations. Why would anyone other than a London commuter want to take the train from Woking? There is mentioned an improvement in the set down arrangements for buses at Effingham station. The station car park is already fully utilised and there are no set down or pick-up facilities for cars there. The road leading there (Old Lane) has a number of dangerous blind corners and trees alongside the carriage way and is much too narrow for the amount of traffic that will be generated. If this scheme is to be allowed, the developer must be obligated to provide a road upgrade to an adequate standard for the frequency of traffic to be expected and provide for bicycles and pedestrians too! It is suggested in the policy that a bus service to Horsley station will be provided. This ignores that the B2039 through Horsley in parts is too narrow to permit a bus to meet a truck, unless one of them drives up onto the pedestrian pavement. It also ignores that during school term the B2039 gets temporarily blocked by mothers delivering their children to the Glenesk School in the morning. Horsley station car park is already fully utilised and the set-down and pick-up area is already fully utilised by the existing station users, not to mention those that would be added if the 533 proposed new houses in the Horsleys get built.

Policy A41. By permitting a development of this area a larger green area inside gets locked in by the development. There is no good reason given for this change of the settlement boundary. The existing adjacent houses have a rural character, which would be destroyed by a new development in this location.

It is not explained why the “Station Parade” in East Horsley has been designated a “District Centre”. The facilities there are only limited and serve mainly the local needs. The parking facilities there are already stretched to the limit for much of the time. A “Local Centre” would be a much more relevant description.

I am strongly opposed to the removal of West Horsley from the Green Belt. It is this protected open space which gives West Horsley much of its character. The removal of this protection will have a significant adverse effect on the nature of the village and ultimately lead to a conurbation stretching all the way from Leatherhead to Guildford. I do not believe that the current circumstances warrant any change in the Green Belt status here in West Horsley.

The urbanisation that would follow removal of Green Belt status would be completely at odds with the village as it is now. The potential development of around 500 homes on Green Belt land in this parish would be out of all proportion to the existing community and its infrastructure. The nature of such housing developments, by virtue of their type and density, would markedly change the character of West Horsley.

I recognise that there will be some need for further housing but believe that there are still sufficient opportunities for this to take place on a manageable scale in West Horsley within the confines of the existing Green Belt. Land is such a limited resource in this country that we need to make more efficient use of already-developed areas before resorting to building over the countryside.

I write with regards the impact the local plan will have on Send.

Please share with the planning inspector.

I live in Send and my family have been here since the early 1900s.

The traffic in the village is now at an unacceptable level. It can take 10 minutes to get off my drive in the morning due to the traffic, often at standstill back from the traffic lights. We have also seen a number of accidents.

To proceed with or even suggest these developments in Send are crazy as the village cannot cope with the traffic levels today. It is basically a one Road in and out village and Send Road is over capacity.

I am furious I have to even write to you to ask you to stop this suggestion of removing the village from the Greenbelt. It is in the greenbelt to project the green areas from development and retain them for future generations to enjoy. Now you want to remove this protection because it's inconvenient to you making your quotas for new development? I am so upset by this as the council should be supporting the protection not seeking to remove it. There is no good reason for this and if the Greenbelt protection were to be removed this would simply benefit the developers. Why ever would such a crucial protection to our green areas be removed?

My suggestion would be that with some reduction in scale from the current proposals for Wisley Airfield, a sympathetic development with a smaller number of houses at one end you could achieve additional housing without unnecessary impact to walkers and horse riders and removing a great amenity for local residents.

I object to the proposed houses at Clock barn nurseries site. Tannery lane is tiny and cannot cope with the traffic today and to add more houses and therefore more cars to Send is ridiculous. This makes no sense and needs to be stopped.

I object to the proposed development at Garlicks Arch. An area which floods, is covered in lovely old woodland should not be removed as it's in the way. Keep Send in the Greenbelt and protect these lovely places.

I object to the proposed development in Send Hill. If such pitches are needed utilise brownfield sites and don't ruin the Greenbelt. I would not propose to build a home on the Greenbelt as I would expect to be turned down flat. That should be the expectation and the reality. Travellers sites should not be provided in the Greenbelt.

I object to a new interchange at Burnt Common. Send has too much traffic heading to Woking already and this would just cause more traffic through the village. Simply don't build all these new houses proposed and its just will not be needed. The council members will no doubt know the area and the traffic in the morning heading to Burnt Common. It can take half an hour some mornings from Send Road. This would make an already bad situation into traffic hell.

I feel utterly let down by the council. Send is a lovely village which is why I chose to love here and I don't have the money to just move because the council have decided to ruin it to meet some numbers from central government, sacrificing the village to build a certain number of houses some faceless bureaucrat says we need. Please help stop this, don't encourage this. You need to fight for the Greenbelt and the local villages and find a better way without ruining or making miserable the lives of local residents.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I object to this proposal as anyone who lives in Send who uses Tannery Lane knows the small rural lane is utterly unsuitable for further developments to take place, turning into Send Road from Tannery takes an age and is difficult to exit to Send Road. You have already allowed, despite objections which I assume were again just ignored, a Marina no one wanted and which we all knew was a precursor to further development requests. Not only have we been ignored, but you have this time decided to INCREASE the number of houses for the site by 30 odd%. The impact on traffic, the green belt, amenities and the area itself makes this a completely unacceptable development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attacked documents:

I object to this and simply don't understand how development of an area under the protection of green belt can be considered or allowed. What possible "exceptional circumstances" can be shown to make this acceptable? None.

It seems clear to me that the inclusion now of pitches for "travelling show people" is simply a blatant attempt to drive this through despite the thousands of objections you have received! Suggesting there is a need for travelling show people pitches is blatant use of a minority to get your way, even suggesting such a need even exists is ridiculous and I am sure meets some planning exception to allow you to bypass the green belt protection. You should be ashamed. Why would you use some an approach to destroy a lovely and ancient wooded area? Just to build some 400 homes to meet some central government quota which takes NO consideration of impact, you would destroy this land? appalling. This is unacceptable and should not proceed.

I object to this (previously removed) item being brought back. You have now even made it bigger and more impacting than even before, despite the huge volume of objections which led it to be removed previously. It was "maximum of" when you had so many objections it was removed, now its been brought back as a minimum of 7000 sq m of warehousing! This shows utter disregard for the unnecessary damage to the green belt (which I believed was protected but which the GBC seem to feel is just protected in the past to make it available for them to squander now and future generations will simply be deprived of if GBC don't step up and take a better/correct stance and protect it). Why is this even on here? This smack of adding in something to concede in negotiations. This is not needed, was removed before, no new need has occurred yet you bring it back even worse than before so you can drop it but push on with the other items. This is not a game! The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows less of this type of property is needed, Slyfield has land and vacant buildings and yet you bring this back? Stop causing upset and concern for Send and surrounding villages and accept that this is not needed, impacts the locals and the environment/green belt. Drop it now.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt. Its in the greenbelt, clear and simple. Further, Tannery Lane is a small rural lane with poor access and it simply cannot accommodate more traffic. Traffic is already a nightmare and anyone who uses the lane knows that. Its cannot take more and the village cant take more. Once again, you just seem determined to find ways to bypass Green belt protection (despite the fact its clearly within and surrounded by greenbelt) and it is unacceptable. If you are able to get this through it simply opens up the option for further development. and further (irrevocable) destruction of the greenbelt you should be protecting. GBC needs to step up and stop ANY intrusion or impact to the greenbelt.

Additionally, I object to the plan for a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common as Send would have to take traffic from the proposed 2,000 new houses at the Wisely Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1,850 at Blackwell Farm. Much of this traffic to and from the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford would go through Send. Send Road is already very congested, would become gridlocked (as it does sometimes now with any road-works). Noise and pollution levels, already at excess levels would worsen. The impact would continue through to Old Woking, which also suffers from major congestion.

I request that my comments are shown to the Planning Inspector who will make the decision on the Guildford Local Plan. Please confirm receipt of this email.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I write this email to register my objection to the draft Guildford Development Plan. Overall I feel the scale of this development is too much for the small village of Send.

I object to the development in Policy A44. 1.9a Land West of Winds Ridge and Send Hill site on the following grounds:

- I object on the grounds neither the Council nor Chris Brown own all of the right-of-way into the land in question. My wife (Martha Wilkinson) and I own a lot of this right-of-way and have chartered land surveyor drawings as well as the deeds to our property documenting this. We will not sell or release this land for development or access.
- I object on the grounds that it would have a detrimental impact on the wildlife, some of which is endangered; there are little owls, bats, slow worms and crested nutes on the ground in question among many other species.
- I object on the grounds that Send is in the green belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status.
- I object on the grounds that Send Hill is a narrow road and goes down to a single lane on one end and cannot support this extra traffic. It already suffers from bad congestion, especially during school times.
- I object on the grounds the site is not large enough for the proposed use.
- I object on the grounds the proposed site is not fit for development as more than half of it is landfill and contains harmful multiple different types of asbestos waste which will be dangerous to disturb and remove. What assurances can Guildford Borough Council and, the developer in question, give that there would be zero health risk to existing residents as a result of this proposed new development?

I wish to register my strong objection to the developments in Normandy and Flexford proposed by the Draft Local Development Plan.

I have read the evidence offered both by the Parish Council (13 July 16) and the Normandy Action Group (July 16) in their objections, both submitted for your consideration. I agree with the content of these submissions.

In addition I would like to amplify my own personal reasons for objecting to the plan:

Overall

I wish to be clear that I am not opposed to all development; the numerous small developments that have been, and are currently being, implemented around Normandy are sympathetic to the character of the village and will create much needed new, and, sometimes, affordable housing. The use of brown-field sites such as the re-development of the former heavy recovery garage on Flexford Road, is particularly impressive.
I do object, however, to the planned ‘safeguarding’ proposal for large areas of land currently in use as farmland. The building of large numbers of homes on this land will significantly alter the area and change its character beyond recognition.

I would wish the planning committee to note my following specific concerns. I am aware this is not an exhaustive list and others have commented and included professional advice as to the lack of legitimacy of the plan (as mentioned above the NPC and NAG submissions are of particular note). I wish to add to these by highlighting those about which I have some personal knowledge:

Amenity Value

1. The area to the north of the Hog’s Back and its villages is currently semi-rural in character. This creates a very attractive environment that is enjoyed not only by the local residents but by many walkers, cyclists, riders and runners who pass through the area along its many footpaths including the very well trodden Christmas Pie Trail. I am a keen walker and runner and routinely encounter fellow enthusiasts for the open countryside. The feel of a footpath that runs though farmland or a wood is utterly different to one that skirts a large area of housing.

2. The original purpose of the Green Belt was to preserve this kind of amenity value and prevent the extension of development that diminishes or removes the separate character of small communities. Guildford is a large and successful city; its popularity is enhanced by the proximity of significant areas of rural and semi-rural land that have hitherto successfully been protected by Green Belt status.

3. The view from the footpaths at top of the Hog’s Back (and indeed from drivers on the A31) looking north towards Wanborough, Normandy, Flexford and Wyke is one of unbroken semi-rural land that culminates in Ash Ranges. Ash Ranges will not be developed so a significant development in the Normandy area interrupting this vista would greatly diminish this otherwise exceptional impression of the Guildford area and risk damage to the area’s overall appeal (ie undermine the Guildford area’s attractiveness for business and living). It is this ‘openness’ that Green Belt protection is intended to protect; additionally the majority of this view is part of the Surrey Hills’ Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). To place a large urban development on its edge will dramatically undermine its sense of ‘completeness’ as an all-too-rare a view of semi-rural England.

Wildlife

4. The proximity of Ash Ranges adds to the importance of the adjacent agricultural land covered by the proposed changes to the Green Belt bounders. The Ash Range area is a SSSI made up of a mixture of lowland heath land, conifer and broad-leaved woodland, mire, scrub and acid grassland supporting a wide range of fauna and flora. The majority of the area is designated a Site of Special Scientific Interest and forms part of the European designated Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBHSPA). While these fauna are home on the heath land they also exploit the surrounding areas of countryside so any development nearby could affect them (see para 64 of PPS9 circular 06/05 link).

1. In formal terms, the designation of Ash Ranges as part of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area and an SSSI places a special duty on the authorities to protect this land. I run on this land and see a reasonable number of other users, especially dog walkers. The proposed housing development would dramatically increase this use (being only a few hundred metres from its northern edge) without an alternative green space provision. The proposed SANG is utterly inappropriate to address this pressure, being further away and smaller.

Agricultural Use

6. It is quite some time since I have worked in agriculture but even to my untrained eye the agricultural use of the area in question is of both high quality and productive. The fields are well kept and used for both arable and livestock. As well as being productive farmland (including ancient woodland) they contribute to the greenness and openness of this part of the green belt and the rural feel and atmosphere; it is this kind of agriculture that characterises this part of England and draws so many people to the area, both for recreation and for living. ie the whole purpose of the Green Belt protection. Its destruction leaving other brown-filed sites untouched does is not sensible or supportable.

Local Infrastructure

7. I have used both public and private transport during the twenty-seven years I have lived in Normandy. It is my direct experience that both of these are under some considerable stain, especially at rush hour times. Adding significant numbers of houses to the area cannot but make this worse. I understand the County Council has modelled this and found the roads to be unsuitable for the increases in traffic that would result from 1000+ new houses, a school, retail and a care home.

8. I am not a hydrologist but as I ran across many miles of the countryside over the last couple of winters the large areas of standing water that persisted, for weeks in some cases, lead me to think that the area also has a significant part to play in holding water and thereby preventing even worse flooding elsewhere.

Basis for Development

1. The Planning Practice Guidance chapter on Protecting Green Belt Land, paragraph 80 states:

   Green Belt serves five purposes:

   - to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
   - to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
   - to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment;
   - to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and
   - to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

   Four out of these five purposes are met by the Normandy Green Belt under threat (ie not historic – but even this is debatable with a number of building of historic significance, not to mention the ‘feel’ of an ancient small Surrey village that has grown quietly over centuries)

   1. There has been no proper explanation of the rationale behind Guildford Borough Council's housing quota, and the basis of the Local Plan indicating that Normandy needs many hundreds of new homes. The council itself admits it does have access to the underpinning methodology. This, I understand, is because the work was contracted to a company independent of the council, which in turn sub-contracted it to another. This company will not reveal the process it used to come to its conclusions. This lack of visibility of the criteria being used to make a significant and disruptive (and highly contested) local decision does not accord with open government and accountability. The evidence base and algorithms must be made available for scrutiny or the process might risk later challenge by judicial review.

   1. The Council for the Protection of Rural England states that building on brown field can mean regeneration, while building on open fields is destructive and environmentally damaging in any circumstance, exacerbated in this instance by the proximity of the THBSPA, SSSI and Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. For the developers leading this proposal large scale green field exploitation is more cost efficient that utilising brown field. It is for the planning process to test the significant non-financial disadvantages of green-belt destruction.

   1. Normandy's Site 368 is listed in the Local Plan as 'safeguarded' for this development of 1100 houses; it is not. 'Safeguarded land' is land that is not Green Belt; the land covered by the plan is, however, Green Belt and it has not been removed from the green belt. For removal to be approved it has to be proven that there are exceptional circumstances for the removal. These have not been demonstrated and no inspectorate has therefore approved this change from Green Belt.
1. The case for a 'much needed secondary school' is not proven as sufficient reason (ie 'very special circumstances') for removing Normandy's Green Belt land. The Planning Practice Guidance chapter on Protecting Green Belt Land, paragraph 88 is clear:

When considering any planning application, local planning authorities should ensure that substantial weight is given to any harm to the Green Belt. 'Very special circumstances' will not exist unless the potential harm to the Green Belt by reason of inappropriateness, and any other harm, is clearly outweighed by other considerations.

Paragraph 89 is equally clear on the permitted exceptions:

A local planning authority should regard the construction of new buildings as inappropriate in Green Belt. Exceptions to this are:

- buildings for agriculture and forestry;
- provision of appropriate facilities for outdoor sport, outdoor recreation and for cemeteries, as long as it preserves the openness of the Green Belt and does not conflict with the purposes of including land within it;
- the extension or alteration of a building provided that it does not result in disproportionate additions over and above the size of the original building;
- the replacement of a building, provided the new building is in the same use and not materially larger than the one it replaces;
- limited infilling in villages, and limited affordable housing for local community needs under policies set out in the Local Plan; or
- limited infilling or the partial or complete redevelopment of previously developed sites (brownfield land), whether redundant or in continuing use (excluding temporary buildings), which would not have a greater impact on the openness of the Green Belt and the purpose of including land within it than the existing development.

Were there a need for a school, that need is not deemed 'a very special circumstance' as required by planning law.

1. There also appears to be little evidence that Normandy needs such a school - certainly not at present. Ash Manor and Kings College are both undersubscribed. If other villages need school capacity then building separate from their homes and encouraging children to travel along roads with limited or no footpaths and lighting does not seem appropriate.

1. The plan also uses the school as part of remarkably circular argument: the only possible justifiable reason (disputed as above) to build on the Green Belt is the new school, which in turn leads permission for new houses, the only reason to build the school is for children from the new houses.

Sustainability versus Sensitivity

1. Finally, two key concepts that underpin the local plan are an area's 'sustainability' and its 'sensitivity'. For the former assessment, Normandy and Flexford have been ranked as one settlement, while for the latter they have been ranked as two. This inconsistency serves those intent upon using this land; it means that all the sustainable assets have been aggregated to maximise their score, while the Green Belt 'sensitivity' of the open land between the two settlements is ignored when assessing them separately for their 'sensitivity'.

2. In summary, please strongly consider revising the Local Plan to fully exploit all possible Brownfield sites before any inroads are made into the irreplaceable Green Belt.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
A46 and A47 support of removal from plan. Following my earlier response to sites A46 and A47, the proposed building on Green Belt in Normandy, I strongly support the removal of Sites A46 and A47 from the Local Plan owing to the inability of the infrastructure, particularly transport, health and environmental, to cope with these scales of development. The sites' proximity to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area Â protected area also makes the removal particularly welcome in order to protect this key habitat.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The proposed change to 'inset' of the Normandy and Flexford settlements should be removed and a clear statement that the Green Belt land and surroundings in Normandy and Flexford retains its 'washed over' status as a contributor to the openness of the Green Belt. This 'openness' has already been accepted by planning inspectors in past appeals so rejecting 'inset' status would follow this precedent.

A47 support of removal from plan. Following my earlier response to site A47, the proposed building on Green Belt in Normandy, I strongly support the removal of Sites A47 from the Local Plan owing to the inability of the infrastructure, particularly transport, health and environmental, to cope with these scales of development. What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I strongly object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

The Site

Although the Garlick’s Arch land, from a plan view on a map, looks to be a perfect housing development site, let’s look at it closer.

- Firstly, there is a watercourse that weaves across the centre of the land – this stream crosses under the Old Portsmouth Road and then along the backs of the houses opposite our home on Maple Road. This stream has flooded on a number of occasions before affecting a number of the homes in Maple Road and Send Marsh Road. I feel sure that the new development would not allow surface water drainage to be fed into our already overloaded local drainage system so the water will be discharged into the stream presenting an increased risk of flooding to our existing homes.

- The land is bordered by two main roads – the A3 to the south east, and the Old Portsmouth Road to the northwest. We can hear the A3, quite loud at times, even though Maple Road is at least 500 metres distant at the closest point – Homes on the Garlick’s Arch land could be within metres of this major artery to London and the M25, placing them in Noise Exposure Category Zones C and D (Planning Policy Guidance No. 24).

1. Noise Exposure Category Zone C is classified as land that “Planning permission should not normally be granted. Where it is considered that permission should be given, for example because there are no alternative quieter sites available, conditions should be imposed to ensure a commensurate level of protection against noise.” Please note the underlined phrase – there are other local sites much more distant from the motorway network such as the Wisley Airfield site which would be much more suited to residential development.

2. Noise Exposure Category Zone D is classified as land where “Planning Permission should normally be refused.”

- A proportion of the land is wooded – it would be unacceptable to lose this habitat and tree screen between the A3 and our estate.

- This land is Green Belt ... other than a few houses and a small business unit, the proposed site is undeveloped fields and woodland. Wouldn’t it be better to build on brownfield sites, such as Wisley Airfield which, despite claims to the contrary, is brownfield as it has a 70m x 2.0km strip of concrete runway (14 hectares) down the middle of the site along with 1.2 hectares of other hard surface for hangers, taxiways and maintenance areas.

The Surrounding Area

The Garlick’s Arch land acts as part of a ‘separator’ between Send and West Clandon, helping to maintain the individuality of the villages rather than allowing them to melt together into one large mass of housing.

Local Roads, Infrastructure and Services

- The increased traffic flows onto the Old Portsmouth Road from an additional 400 homes on the Garlick’s Arch land would only make the already appalling traffic conditions here worse. In the morning it often takes 5-10 minutes to turn out of Send Marsh Road onto the Old Portsmouth Road, there are traffic queues into Ripley Village, there are traffic queues and the Burnt Common Roundabout, there are queues trying to get into Send Village, and accessing the A3 southbound can be a challenge (and you have to go through Ripley if you want to go north on the A3).

- The few local schools – Send Primary and Ripley Primary – are already full to bursting point. Between them, they have only 90 places to offer every year and their buildings would not take further expansion without massive investment, the overloaded surrounding roads inadequate already to deal with the daily school-runs.

- It is already difficult to get to see a Doctor on the first day of an illness – an additional 1800 people (400 homes with two adults and 2.7 children) would make it impossible to get medical advice when you need it at the local surgery.

- Local services and organisations – such as Send Help, Little Owls Nursery, Send and Ripley Scouts and Guides are all current stretched to the limit ... the area just cannot take any more people.
I realise that my one voice doesn't count for much, but mine is one voice in a crowd of other voices all quoting the same thing, "Please, not Garlick's Arch!".

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

0 The "objectively assessed need" figure of 693 homes a year is too high.

0 A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.

0 The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is, I believe, inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data: 2010-2014 from Crashmap data
Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost. There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.
Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "aspiration" in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West dandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.
It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justificat ion for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick's Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current "soft" edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (Blc), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8).

There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2). The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy 13).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy 14)
It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy 11)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of 'through' traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy 03)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough. The proposed development at Garlick's Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy 03 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will "enhance" heritage assets which I fear is a developer's charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I OBJECT to Policy 04 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick's Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (Blc), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I object to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class Blc, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick's Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy ES)

Policy ES supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick's Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/"Disneyfication". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to hrm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

   1. To help make Guildford's river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
   2. To help private providers market local touri This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

1. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g., Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy "vision" describes protecting the Guildford's unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.
The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council's own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group's proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford's character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1- Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an 'affordable home'is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will 'affordable homes' be able to go onto the market at full market price? As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy H3 - Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix" this can include "market" housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances." The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be "closely related". Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances."

The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy 11).

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration of road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends when hundreds of cyclists pass through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming even more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough's infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan's determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council's methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy 11. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough's infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council's control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable. Policy
I require the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick's Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents' in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy 12) I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situation worse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy 13)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council's to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an "acceptable" percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council's growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers' hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the "insetting" of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to include them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I object to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called 'strategic sites' of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick's Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites.

National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance') to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that "allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development." However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

1. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether "exceptional circumstances" existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

1. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as its infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.
1. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless "exceptional circumstances" for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the N

The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding.

Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

POLICY S1

I object to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of "sustainable development" is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims, “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as "sustainable", in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications "wherever possible" and "without delay" reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across... rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2. POLICY S2

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study.
On any common sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey".
Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justificati on to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say)
Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford's OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is "deliverable" and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council's cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered "deliverable". In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected "windfall" sites exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a "plan" that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB, and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably increasing the housing stock in a mainly rural or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly.

The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London's commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brownfield sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick's Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up to date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest 'value creation' areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents' Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.
In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. "Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt." Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.

1. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
   1. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

1. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

1. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be just ified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

2. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the

3. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and s
   1. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council's control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer's business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

1. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.
   1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
   2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

2. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

3. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
   1. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
      1. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
   2. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework
2. The proposal for Garlick's Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 1

4. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foulsewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

5. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

1. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

1. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

2. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a piecemeal basis.

3. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

6. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council's refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement 'Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay', the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I write this email to register my objection to the draft Guildford Development Plan. Overall I feel the scale of this development is too much for the small village of Send.

I object to the development in Policy A44. 1.9a Land West of Winds Ridge and Send Hill site on the following grounds:

- I object on the grounds neither the Council nor Chris Brown own all of the right-of-way into the land in question. My husband and I own a lot of this right-of-way and have chartered land surveyor drawings as well as the deeds to our property documenting this. We will not sell or release this land for development or access.
- I object on the grounds the site is not large enough for the proposed use.
- I object on the grounds that it would have a detrimental impact on the wildlife, some of which is endangered; there are little owls, bats, slow worms and crested newts on the ground in question among many other species
- I object on the grounds the proposed site is not fit for development as more than half of it is landfill and contains harmful multiple different types of asbestos waste which will be dangerous to disturb and remove. What assurances can Guildford Borough Council and, the developer in question, give that there would be zero health risk to existing residents as a result of this proposed new development?
- I object on the grounds that Send is in the green belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status
- I object on the grounds that Send Hill is a narrow road and goes down to a single lane on one end and cannot support this extra traffic. It already suffers from bad congestion, especially during school times.

Additionally, I object to the plan for a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common as Send would have to take traffic from the proposed 2,000 new houses at the Wisely Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1,850 at Blackwell Farm. Much of this traffic to and from the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford would go through Send. Send Road is already... very congested, would become gridlocked (as it does sometimes now with any road-works). Noise and pollution levels, already at excess levels would worsen. The impact would continue through to Old Woking, which also suffers from major congestion.

I request that my comments are shown to the Planning Inspector who will make the decision on the Guildford Local Plan. Please confirm receipt of this email.

Now 400 homes and 6 Travelling Show People plots

- I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch because:
  - It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
  - There is no proven demand for Travelling Show People plots in this location
  - It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no “exceptional circumstances” exist
  - It will cause over-development of our village and the number of homes is excessive
  - It is exquisite ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth 1
  - It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
  - It is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over fifty years
  - It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads of Send and Ripley.

I object to the Policy A44 change because:
- Its continued inclusion ignores all of our previous objections which include:
  o The fact that my husband and I own part of the right-of-way onto the land. We have drawings that prove our land goes beyond the boundary line of our hedge. We have never received a response to this from Guildford Borough Council o the loss of rare wildlife
- The contamination. The site is a former land fill containing different levels of asbestos. How can residents be assured that if development is undertaken, this will be safely removed without any health risks to us.

Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Policy A58. Now a new allocation for a minimum of 7,000 sq m of industrial or warehousing

I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because:
- It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
- The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan
- and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
- There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
- The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt
The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
- It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

While I recognize that growth is an issue for the south of England generally and all must play a part in accommodating that growth, I object to the terms in which the GBC Local Plan 2016 is addressing housing needs by siting 1100 new homes and a school on Green Belt land in Normandy; I object for reasons having to do with environment, transport, health (access to NHS services), education needs, and balance of growth across the Borough, itemized below. That my objections span several topics suggests, by itself, that the proposed development – only lately added to the Local Plan – is problematic.

ENVIRONMENT

* Surrey County Council led the way in Green Belt policies, and can almost be said to have invented the Green Belt, in part to preserve wildlife. GBC’s unneeded encroachment into the Green Belt does the Surrey County Council no service and endangers a list of species.

* Since the UK has voted to leave the EU, our environment will no longer enjoy EU protections; we must therefore be all the more careful to conserve what is left of the Green Belt.
* I am most concerned about the deleterious effect of development on stag beetles and skylarks, but these are part of an ecosystem, and the whole must be preserved.

* Those homes will worsen light pollution, affecting the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

* It makes no sense to build in an area with surface water flooding. I looked at a house on the edge of this area when I bought in Normandy Parish, and sank to the ankle in the water in the lawn. If I wouldn’t buy a house in that area, why would the GBC want to buy 1100?

TRANSPORT

* At rush hour, the A323 already works at capacity; tailbacks are common during commute hours. A crash or a closed lane on the A3 (or other arteries brings) the A323 to a standstill. The vehicles from 1100 new homes will tip us into urban-style traffic chaos.

* Residents of this development will necessarily be commuters (no local job growth is expected); those who don’t go by road will ride the train. Wanborough Station has space to park 10 cars, and commensurate station facilities – it is inadequate to support the proposed development.

* GBC objected to burdening the A323 with the traffic from the nearly 4000 homes planned for the Wellesley Barracks when Rushmore Borough Council set out its Plan. The A323 (and other local roads) now must cope with their previous load and the objectionable-to-GBC traffic from Wellesley Barracks; why would it make sense to add the traffic from the proposed 1100 new homes?

* The proposed school will drive up traffic; residents’ children will in existing schools until the proposed secondary is completed, and will presumably stay there, as will their younger siblings. It will be half a generation, if ever, before the school is used by local children. Until then, students (if any, given the number of open school places nearby) will be coming in by road.

* Traffic flow changes in the pipeline, intended to keep traffic out of Guildford town centre, will also put extra load onto country lanes in Normandy; this doesn't seem to be reflected in the Local Plan.

HEALTH (access to NHS services)

* The Fairlands Practice is barely coping with Normandy residents as it is (due in part to new NHS financial restrictions). Staff there say they cannot accommodate the residents of 1100 new homes.

* Road conditions already mentioned may restrict the response time of ambulances and other EMTs.

EDUCATION

* This development is predicated upon the need for a secondary school in the area. There is no such need. To build a school on Green Belt is to make a sacrifice; we should only suffer that loss if there's a greater need.

* Area schools are undersubscribed at present, some dramatically so (one secondary is only 43% filled).

* At least two of the nearest secondaries have room to expand and are happy to expand if needed.

* The new school is to have seven forms of entry, yet reports quote GBC as saying that number is a guess. We cannot sacrifice Green Belt for a school when the need hasn't been properly assessed.

* Surrey County Council has already stated that Blackwell Farm is a more suitable venue for a school.
Balanced Growth

* With an Officially Assessed Need (OAN) of 690 homes per year, even accounting for the present backlog, the Local Plan as it stands now puts 100% of the responsibility for more than a year of the new housing burden of GBC onto Normandy, all in one blow. With 23 parishes in the borough, this is not balanced growth.

* With a growth rate of well under 1% for the UK, even accounting for the higher rate of growth in the southeast, asking Normandy to accept 100% growth – because the Local Plan doubles the village population – is not balanced, sensible growth.

* We all have a responsibility to help house both stationary and travelling residents; that’s a given, that’s just, and that’s the law. But with the new travellers’ sites added in the last few years and new homes in other parts of the village, Normandy has already done its part, and more, to house new GBC residents; Normandy cannot be designated as disposable countryside, the place where GBC can build anything it needs, even if it means disregarding the Green Belt. The burden should be shared by all parishes.

On these grounds, I object to the Local Plan.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:
- destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt increase tail backs on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

I would like to object to the planning proposals for new housing in Horsley.

It seems that the local plan does not make the necessary inclusions for the local infrastructure. Schools, doctors, parking facilities etc. It is just housing. The infrastructure is already pushed to the limits. This situation is only going to make it worse.

The green belt should also be protected. It is very important to the future of our children and their children's children.

Also with the current drainage and flooding issues already encountered, more housing is only going to make this worse.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.
A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”
The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations I are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.
Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I am writing to object to several planned developments as part of Guildford Borough Council's local plans. Specifically, I object to:

1. I object to Send village being removed from the green belt as this would surely open the way for future large developments in Send, thereby removing the village feel from Send and allowing there to be no buffer between Woking and Guildford.

2. I object to the building of 45 houses at Clockbarn Nurseries due to the lack of suitable access to this site. As with previous proposed developments, access via Tannery Lane is not appropriate as this road is very narrow and the junction on Send Road with increased traffic is likely to become hazardous, especially at rush hour. In addition, this site is directly behind our house and is currently heavily populated with trees. Removal of any of these trees would negatively impact the enjoyment of our property due to being potentially overlooked and could impact exposure to pollution as these provide a much needed buffer to the road pollution.

3. I object to the building of 400 houses and industrial space at Garlick’s Arch. Apart from the risk to flooding of this area, the current highway infrastructure can not cope with the additional traffic, especially for large lorries that will visit the industrial site. Send Road already has a fair amount of HGV traffic coming to and from Woking (and often at more than 30 mph) and an increase it this will see traffic build up and make the road more dangerous to cross (the road does not have any designated crossings other than the junction with Send Marsh Road) and there is currently no traffic calming measures to control speeding.

4. I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers' pitches at Send Hill. This green belt area is currently a popular walking area for dogs and runners and is not suitable for such as a development due to the single access road. Also, the subsoil of this site is not suitable as it contains documented unsafe landfill waste registered at GBC.

5. I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. This proposed development as the potential to allow cars to use this for a direct access to Woking, including the new planned developments at Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm. This will increase the volume of traffic in Send Road as traffic that currently exits and enters the A3 through Ripley (using Newark Lane as access to Woking) will now use Send Road. We experienced an awful traffic situation when Newark Lane was closed for bridge repairs and therefore, we would not want to see this repeated if more traffic coming from the A3 at Burnt Common. The road can not cope with the increased traffic.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I write with reference to the draft local plan and its impact on the Green belt and in particular the villages of Ripley and Send. I am a resident in Send Marsh and moved to this area three years ago specifically because it was in the green belt and therefore should be protected from over development. Whilst I can understand the need for some expansion in the housing stock and I am encouraged by the number of brownfield sites in the local plan, the proposed 400 houses and 7000 sq m of industrial units and warehousing at Garlick’ Arch, Burnt Common on green belt land is completely over the top. It is not in keeping with the housing density of the surrounding area and there are no plans to increase any services to support the potential 800 people and their children that could live there. The road network around Ripley and Send cannot support the extra traffic that this number of properties would generate. There are already long queues through all the villages with the current population. The proposed A3 slip road access at Burnt Common will do little to reduce this traffic as people will not want to join the A3 at Burnt Common to head north as there is always a queue caused by the M25 junction, instead they will travel along the Portsmouth road through Ripley village to jump the queue as so many drivers do now when there is heavy traffic. There is mention of improvements to the M25 junction but no details are given. As the majority of Guildford borough is within the green belt, are the Governments figures for the number of houses that are required to be built reduced?

In short, I object to any green belt land being used for development and in particular the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon being inset from the green belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I write with reference to the local plan and in particular the changes to the site A43 Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh Burnt Common and Ripley. In section 4.2 Housing Policies, Policy H1 section 7 states:

(7) Accommodation for Gypsy, Traveller or Travelling Showpeople (whether they meet the Planning Policy for Traveller Sites definition or not) accommodation should be provided on development sites of 500 homes or more whilst there remains an identified need. For 500 to 999 homes two pitches or plots should be provided, for 1,000 to 1,499 homes four pitches or plots, for 1,500 to 1,999 homes six pitches or plots and for 2,000 or more homes eight pitches or plots.

The land at Garlick's Arch is proposed to have 400 new homes built on it making it too small a development to include accommodation for travelling show people.

The impact of the 400 new homes (excessive for the size of the site and surrounding area) in the small village of Send and the impact on the traffic on the Portsmouth road can only be made even worse with the addition of the large vehicles, that usually travel in convoy, that are associated with travelling show people.

The future of the area and indeed the whole country is going through a period of extreme change and uncertainty following the country's decision to leave the European union. Foreign investors who bought property and left it standing empty purely because it would increase in percentage value better than any bank interest rate have stopped buying property. There has also been a slowdown in migration into Britain from EU countries. This will reduce the strain on the housing market and hopefully the government will put steps in place to get some of the hundreds of thousands of empty properties in the country available to rent or buy. I strongly believe we should protect our green belt land and keep our villages within it. There are may steps that can be taken to improve the housing situation without concreting over the south east of England.

I OBJECT to building 2000 houses at what GBC calls Wisley but is actually at Ockham, because it would massively and detrimentally overwhelm Ockham village, East and West Horsley and the entire neighbouring area. The proposal is ill conceived, showing scant regard for the Green Belt, infrastructure requirements, transport, or pollution and lacking nearly all the evidence that is needed to show that such a development would be sustainable.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the building of 45 houses on the Clockbarn site in Send (ref A42) which is designated as agricultural land within the Green Belt. The fact that it has been allowed to deteriorate should not be a passport to changing its status. It is not suitable because it has poor access and the road cannot take the additional vehicular traffic which 45 houses would generate.

I OBJECT to the Building of 45 houses on Clockbarn because the road already suffers from serious overload, as previously accepted by Surrey County Council. An additional 45 houses would increase the number of dwellings in Tannery Lane by nearly 400% because planning permission already exists for 63 apartments at the Tannery business centre site under reference 14/P/00575 and 00576 as amended. It is disingenuous for GBC to express the belief that these may not be built.
GBC gave permission and the owner has the right and locally it is understood the intention of building them. Indeed work has commenced. Added to this would be the traffic generated by building and servicing the new narrow boat basin or “marina” under reference 14/P/00289. The road cannot cope with the traffic volume it currently has and could not possibly accommodate the massive increase in vehicular traffic consequent on these three developments. In simple terms if the number of dwellings increased by 400% so would the volume of domestic traffic in addition to an increase in commercial traffic. This does not bear thinking about.

I OBJECT to the building of 45 houses on Clockbarn because this massive increase in traffic would severely impact the junction of Tannery Lane and Send Road where there is a problem every day because of poor visibility for traffic emerging from the side road causing danger and congestion to traffic on the main road. The suggestion that this would be alleviated by traffic lights is completely wrong as the installation of temporary traffic lights in Send Road earlier this month demonstrated. When traffic has to stop in either direction, as it does for traffic lights, Send Road quickly gets gridlocked.

I OBJECT to the building of 45 houses on Clockbarn because it fails to take into account the cumulative impact on traffic volumes in the rest of Tannery Lane. Tannery Lane is very narrow, twisty and dangerous for its entire length. Much of it is single track with passing places and blind spots. There is a problem all the way down with vehicles trying to pass each other. When they meet they very often have to reverse in order to find a passing place. The problem is exacerbated by the high proportion of HGVs and large commercial vehicles currently going to the business centre, and destined to increase when the narrow boat basin is built. Tannery Lane is also very long. The biggest problem, which is often overlooked because planners fail to go there, is the stretch beyond the business centre going north. The final stretch of Tannery Lane before it joins Polesden Lane is only 9 feet wide for a distance of nearly 400 metres and cannot be made wider because of the nature reserve. A significant proportion of the traffic, estimated at about one third, enters Tannery Lane via Polesden Lane or Papercourt Lane which are themselves extremely narrow, especially Papercourt where some of the front garden boundaries on either side of the road are within little more than three metres of each other. There is also the extremely dangerous blind bend to the right when joining Newark Lane. These lanes were not meant for the high number of cars, vans and lorries which currently use them and could not possibly cope with an increase of the amount which would follow from this development, on top of the others.

The suggestion sometimes made that Tannery Lane could be widened totally fails to appreciate the constraints which exist. Any attempt to widen it would be defeated by the fact that the entrance from Send Road does not provide space for any significant widening; the Papercourt Lane exit is so narrow that front gardens on both sides of the lane would have to be compulsorily purchased; the stretch from Prews Farm Cottages to Papercourt Farm runs immediately alongside Papercourt Marshes so there is no scope for widening and in any event further traffic would damage Papercourt Marshes; the stretch from Papercourt Farm to the junction with Polesden Lane is single track nine feet wide which also runs alongside Papercourt Marshes. In any event a widening of Tannery and Papercourt by itself would be insufficient - because of the bends it would need to be straightened as well, a hugely expensive and well-nigh impossible task. In the whole of the Borough of Guildford, if one set out to find somewhere to build houses, Tannery Lane would be close to the bottom of the list of potential sites from the point of view of road access.

I OBJECT to the building of 45 houses on Clockbarn because there are virtually no pavements. The increase in traffic would therefore mean that pedestrians would face much greater risk. The only surfaced pavement in Tannery Lane is the first short section from Send Road confined to the north side. The other side is unsurfaced. After Peasblossom Cottage (about 80 metres from the junction with Send Road) there are no further pavements on either side for its entirety. Pedestrians walk in the road and have to dodge the traffic as best they can.

In addition to vehicular traffic it is used by residents and their visitors on foot: residents from Send Road and adjacent roads walking their dogs; walking groups and ramblers (on their way to Newark Priory, Ockham Mill and the Pyrford Water Meadows); equestrians; sports and recreational cyclists (because it is in the guide books as part of the cycling network based on Ripley); and anglers who fish in the Wey Navigation. It is therefore enjoyed by a lot of people whose safety should not be further jeopardised, and for whom a village amenity should not be ruined completely, by increasing any more the excessive number of vehicles the road already has to cope with.

Tannery Lane is an ancient rural road which is rich in wildlife which should not be damaged by pollution caused by increased traffic volumes. Clockbarn itself is a nesting habitat for bats which are a protected species, making it not only unsuitable to build there but a criminal offence to do so. Additional traffic pollution and noise alongside Papercourt Marshes will be detrimental to wildlife there too.

I OBJECT to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because all the land in that area is prone to flooding. Although the Environment Agency maps include the area in flood zone 1 the reality is different, as a great deal of photographic evidence and local testimony can show.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to 400 houses and 7000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch being brought forward as a last minute proposal without any warning and without it having been mentioned at all in the earlier Draft Local Plan. This attempt to push it through under Regulation 19 instead of Regulation 18 and thereby deny residents a proper process of consultation is a further manifestation of the contempt in which Guildford Councillors hold the electorate. This is a clear breach of administrative law.

I OBJECT to building 400 houses and 7000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch because the site includes ancient woodland, too valuable to destroy. The site floods as photographic evidence and local testimony can confirm as a result of the East Clandon stream overflowing and surface water being trapped.

I OBJECT to building 400 houses and 7000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch since this would increase the number of dwellings in Send (including Send Marsh and Burnt Common) by about 25% without a commensurate increase in services and infrastructure. There is already severe pressure on doctors’ surgeries, school places and other essential facilities which would seriously worsen. Infrastructure issues are substantially the responsibility of Surrey County Council but there is no evidence that SCC has formulated an infrastructure plan, or the means by which the infrastructure would be paid for, in respect of this site or any other site. What we were told at one public meeting, that the council thinks about infrastructure afterwards, is typical of a woefully inadequate approach to the whole Local Plan.

I OBJECT to 7000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch because the space is not needed since there is inadequate take up of existing space in the area, but if it were needed it would make very much more sense to locate it at Slyfield. In any event Garlick’s Arch is an unsuitable location for industrial space given the proximity of existing houses.

I OBJECT to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common because Send would have to take traffic from the proposed 2000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2000 at Gosden Hill and 1850 at Blackwell Farm as well as 485 from Send itself. This is in addition to what it takes at the moment. Much of this traffic to and fro the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford would go through Send. Send Road, which is already overloaded, would face gridlock. This would exacerbate noise and pollution levels which are already excessive and is wholly unacceptable.

I OBJECT to the new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common because it is being presented as a way of facilitating the movement of a massive increase in vehicles whereas in reality it would cause havoc on the A247 and the many feeder roads in Ripley and Clandon in addition to Send.

I OBJECT to the fact that Guildford Councillors approved the Local Plan before the Transport Assessment had even been published which indicates what scant regard they had for the traffic implications which are at the forefront of residents’ worries. They have to contend with the problem every day in terms of delays, pollution and noise which are already destroying our villages as decent places in which to live.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers’ pitches on Send Hill because the location is unsuitable. The subsoil of the proposed site contains unsafe landfill waste dating back to the 1960s when it was shown on Ordnance Survey maps as “refuse and slag heap”. The date of the landfill pre-dates the EU Landfill Regulations in 1999 but it was registered at GBC from 2005 onwards. Any disturbance could be a health hazard due to unknown substances which are also described as “unrestricted”. It would be dangerous to local residents for this hazardous waste to be disturbed. The site should, therefore, never have been brought forward for consideration. It would definitely not be sufficient to “condition” it as GBC is prone to doing.

I OBJECT to the proposed development at Send Hill since it does not appear to be in accordance with The Government’s 2015 guidelines on traveller sites. GBC’s Traveller Accommodation Assessment of 2012 is acknowledged in their 2016 Sustainability Appraisal as being out of date which has resulted in an over allocation of traveller sites. GBC needed to re-examine its evidence base before coming forward with this proposal in the Local Plan. It seriously failed in its duty of care by not doing so.

I OBJECT to the proposed development at Send Hill because it is on a narrow country road with inadequate on road parking, it is in the Green Belt, near a nature reserve and an amenity area of beautiful countryside. It is an unsuitable location which has been introduced into the Local Plan at the last minute without first doing proper research on the history and characteristics of the site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Local Plan because it seeks to build on Green Belt land unnecessarily. The work of Professor Anne Power at the London School of Economics, amongst much other expert research, clearly demonstrates that there is more than sufficient land to build all the houses that are needed without taking any of the Green Belt. In our area several studies show that unused brownfield sites in Guildford Town itself are capable of yielding most of the required land. GBC has not properly explored the capacity which is available there or on brownfield sites elsewhere in the borough, which would have provided a sensible starting point since GBC own many of them.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan in that GBC’s approach to the Green Belt introduces a concept of grading its quality. This is an alien concept, not recognised in law. Of course some Green Belt is seen to be better than other Green Belt but the law does not make any distinction, nor should it. It depends who is looking at it and from what standpoint they are looking. Green Belt is Green Belt and it is not for GBC to stand in judgement on what bits it thinks are worth keeping and what are not.

I OBJECT to removing Send and other villages from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was intended to be permanent, and its permanence was enshrined in law through the National Planning Policy Framework, reinforced by the NPPG and a succession of Ministerial guidance statements. For all of this to be overridden requires “special circumstances” which do not exist in the case of Send.

I OBJECT to all four proposed sites in Send because they are all in the Green Belt and not one of them displays the very special circumstances which would be needed in order to outweigh the substantial harm caused by reason of inappropriateness.

I OBJECT to any sort of diminution of Send’s Green Belt because it provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one conurbation. It has served this purpose effectively since its inception and should continue doing so for the benefit of subsequent generations living here. No group of councillors, especially without a mandate, has the authority to impose a different future on residents.

I OBJECT to any reduction in Send’s Green Belt because so much land in Send provides the setting for the beautiful Wey Navigation corridor, which is a conservation area that enhances biodiversity, is visually important, provides a valuable leisure facility and combined with the surrounding lakes an exceptional habitat for a wide range of bird species and other wildlife.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to GBC withholding from residents their consultant’s and sub-consultant’s calculations of housing need, which is what is driving this whole issue. It would appear that even some individual councillors are not privy to the calculations or how the total has been reached but are blindly accepting a figure produced without workings or explanation. There are strong grounds for believing that GBC, aided and abetted by their consultants, have overstated by a wide margin what the figure should be. There are also grounds for believing that the numbers have been exaggerated as a result of pressure from developers. As the grabbing of Green Belt land is predicated on the need for a particular number of houses, a good starting point would have been to get the number right and to show transparently how it was reached.
Other submissions will provide supporting statistics and there are authoritative figures online to show the escalation of housing need in Guildford Borough has been about 0.5% per year for the last ten years. The draft plan provides no proper data which proves that it is increasing significantly more at the moment or that in future years it will rise by so much more. Guildford’s projected number in the last draft local plan was challenged by the Office of National Statistics which is a more reliable source since it is not driven by developers. Since the current set of figures was published other underlying data has changed; for example it was too late to take into account the effects on housing demand of changes to the population which could arise from Brexit. Nor has GBC applied the normal constraints to their maximum projections. For a proper professional assessment of housing numbers I refer the reader to the submission from Andrew Procter on behalf of the Save Send Action group.

I OBJECT to the combined total of 2000 (Wisley) + 485 (Send) + 2000 (Gosden Hill) + 1850 (Blackwell Farm) houses all alongside a short stretch of the A3 between the M25 and the university. To concentrate 6335 of the borough’s assessed need for housing of 13860, that is close to half of it, in such a small area of the borough is by any standards unreasonable. If GBC wants to build this number of houses, which has more to do with developer pressure than properly calculated need, it should spread them more evenly throughout the borough, which it is manifestly failing to do. This would help to alleviate excessive traffic congestion and pollution which is a certain consequence of GBC’s current proposals.

The housing number calculations also have to take into account the constraints, in particular those resulting from the Green Belt. The NPPF states that in their local plans local authorities are required to meet objectively assessed housing needs “as far as is consistent with the policies set out in this Framework”. The policies referred to include Section 9 - Protection of the Green Belt. The Court of Appeal has clarified the interpretation of this by stating categorically that there may be nothing very special about a housing shortfall in an area which has very little undeveloped land outside the Green Belt.

The key question is not “is there a shortfall in housing land supply?” You have to ask “have special circumstances been demonstrated to outweigh the Green Belt objection?” And such circumstances are not demonstrated simply because there is a less than five year supply of housing land. Special circumstances will not exist unless the potential harm to the Green Belt is clearly outweighed by other considerations. Given the large amount of Green Belt in Guildford Borough, the council can legitimately argue that it does not have to match the housing targets of boroughs with less Green Belt.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:
- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt increase tail backs on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

I write to you concerning the above and that I object on all counts but particularly to the Blackwell Farms proposed development and the SANG application in Frog Grove Lane, Wood Street Village. My objections are wide ranging but revolve around the fact that the plan seems "hell bent" on developing on Green Belt and on areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty. More attention could be applied on using "Brown Field" sites and on utilising land that has redundant buildings on it - e.g. - The Hare & Hounds, Broad Street & The Duke of Normandy, Normandy. Furthermore, the mammoth work involved in correcting transport links and all services is woefully short sighted - more effort should be directed at improving public transport and the like.

Needless, to say my objections could go considerably further but hopefully the above "brief" is enough to register my objection and complete dissatisfaction

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I am writing to place my strong objection to the Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategies and sites: June 2016 which includes removing East and West Horsley villages from the Green Belt by "insetting". As a permanent resident of West Horsley for almost 5 years I am very unhappy about the proposal of losing the green belt status that made us want to live here in the first place. Within P2 there is no declaration of support for protecting the Green Belt contrary to NPPF and government statements and there has clearly been no evaluation of the value of local Green Belt as an asset. The excessive level of development proposed is in breach of views expressed in the last consultation and Conservative party manifesto commitments in last election.

The existing village infrastructure has NO capacity for extra housing and the additional people/vehicles that brings - the roads are already too busy, many in need of significant repair due to extent of use (for example East Lane) and many (in particular Ockham Road North) experience significant flooding when there is any continual rain indicating drainage is already at capacity. Additional housing with paving/driveways etc made way for by removing fields, trees, vegetation will only exacerbate this further. There is no way the existing roads can be expanded to take additional capacity - the majority already have housing plots and narrow pavements on both sides. The local primary school is already at capacity and I have no interest in additional schools being added - I want my children to be able to attend the existing reputable local village school and further down the road the Howard.

Utterly disproportionate! The impact of clustering of such huge numbers of dwellings in a low density Village area is tantamount to vandalism., A thinner spread, based on demonstrable figures, across the whole borough might have lesser impact does not seem to have been considered. This part of the borough appears to have been selected for a disproportionate burden.

[Response has been redacted as it may be considered defamatory, derogatory, inflammatory or offensive in nature.]

[Summary of redacted text: I OBJECT to the inclusion of this site. Firstly I am objecting to the inclusion of a matter that should be dealt with through appropriate channels of planning application. This Draft Plan is a policy document and as such the application to and inclusion of a specific site with a longstanding planning history is inappropriate. The site should be dealt with through the planning application process. The site has been developed without planning permission and enforcement action has been taken in the past. The Draft Plan appears to condone this approach and undermines the planning permission process and the work of planning officers. It rewards Green Belt development and discounts the importance of farmland. It ignores Policy E of the guidance “planning Policy for the Green traveller sites’ which states “Traveller sites (temporary or permanent) in the Green Belt are inappropriate development”. I request that this Policy be removed from the Draft Plan.]

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

I OBJECT to this policy:

Comments: Asserting unmet housing need is not an argument for building on green belt land. Much of this land is farmland, burying it under tarmac, is an insane policy when food security is precarious and may become more so, it would be negligent not to consider the needs of future generations. The sacrifice of green belt to produce commuter dormitories cannot be justified. The attempt to justify building on Green Belt ‘in order to facilitate the development that is needed’ is vague and not supported by guidance from Nick Boles office.

It is disingenuous to move to remove villages from the Green Belt, encourage development and then state that only 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt will be lost. The extreme elasticity of the definition of ‘permanently’ and ‘permanence’ expressed in this document is reminiscent of Alice in Wonderland

“When I use a word,” Humpty Dumpty said, in rather a scornful tone, “it means just what I choose it to mean—neither more nor less.” “The question is,” said Alice, “whether you can make words mean so many different things.” “The question is,” said Humpty Dumpty, “which is to be master—that's all.” – I would recommend that the authors of the Draft Plan seek guidance from the Oxford English.

Taking Ripley and Send, and other villages out of the Green Belt is completely unacceptable and paves the way for destruction of the Villages in perpetuity, to inflict this burden on residents who live in the Villages and impact the historic and unique quality of the area itself.

The next policy comments reflect my concern that sites are identified for development without attention being paid the overall impact on the local area, the contribution to creating a single highly urbanised area where there were villages of individual character and charm.

I object to the proposed development at Wisley airfield due to environmental impact and destruction of the Green Belt

Comments: sustainable seems to be whatever the councillors define it as. There exists in the NPPF guidance towards the preservation of the Green Belt. Perhaps the most sustainable move we could make is to protect the ‘lungs of London’, to protect farmland that might be called on to feed a population, and to respect that any cavalier decisions taken today might come with a heavy price for the next generation.

Objection to Guildford Borough Council draft Local Plan and to the inclusion in the plan of Site Allocation A35 - the Former Wisley Airfield - for a new settlement with 2,000 dwellings

As a lifelong resident of Cobham, just over the border in the Elmbridge Council area, I would be directly adversely affected by the proposal in your new local plan to remove the Former Wisley Airfield site from the Green Belt. I wish to object strongly to this proposal on the following grounds:

- The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.
- No exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the site from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land.
- The harmful impact on transport, local roads and road safety by the suggested development has not been taken into account. The increased traffic would cause congestion and danger on the narrow rural roads in Ockham, Hatchford, Downside and Cobham. Cobham is the closest shopping centre to the proposed development. The village could not cope with the additional traffic and car parking involved in serving some 5,000 additional Wisley residents, and would experience a significant increase in stationary/idling traffic at peak times and at junctions. Even with current traffic levels, Cobham centre is often gridlocked at peak times of day, especially if there are problems on the M25 or A3.
- There is a lack of suitable public transport, which the Plan does not address. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley could not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In the refused planning application there had been a suggestion that Cobham & Stoke D’Abernon Station could be used. That or use of stations further north at Weybridge or Walton would increase congestion and pollution on local roads in Elmbridge.
- The issue of air quality is not being taken seriously. Air pollution in this area in the north of the Borough of Guildford and the south of the Borough of Elmbridge and particularly near the M25/A3 junction already exceeds EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic would worsen the situation, affecting the health of all current and future residents.
- The environmental and ecological value of the site and the area around it is being underplayed in the Plan. Consideration should be given to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

For these reasons, I wish to object strongly to the inclusion of the Wisley site in the new Guildford Plan

<td>Policy D4: I OBJECT to the insetting of villages (meaning in fact, removal of villages from Green Belt protections) and the fact that they will suffer from higher density development and the resulting increase in traffic and use of infrastructure which is already under pressure. Policy P2 – Green Belt: I OBJECT to this significant erosion of the Green Belt with the proposals for large towns being developed on Green Belt land thereby removing the openness of the Green Belt. The huge developments proposed for the North East quadrant of the borough (Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracts in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send) will have a severely detrimental effect on the amenity of the area.

I OBJECT that Policy P2 is not met where it states that Green Belt should be protected. I object to the disproportionate use of Green Belt land for housing – some 65% of the housing proposed is on Green Belt, with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brown field sites.

I OBJECT to the changes to Green Belt boundaries. This is not justified by any very special circumstances. All the Green Belt sites meet the five purposes of the Green Belt.

I OBJECT to building on the Green Belt because the essential characteristic of Green Belt is its openness and permanence (National Planning Policy Framework paragraph 79).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT that GBC are contravening the NPPF framework stipulation in paragraph 87 with the proposed developments at Gosden Hill Farm, East and West Horsley and Garlicks Arch, Send. Paragraph 87 states “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.” All of the proposed developments are out of proportion to the surrounding area and none qualify for the exceptional circumstances required to take them out of the Green Belt.

I OBJECT specifically to the proposed building on Gosden Hill Farm on Green Belt designated to prevent West Clandon being absorbed into a sprawling urban environment. The proposed development would be four times the size of the village and is completely disproportionate and unjustified.

I OBJECT to Policy S1 which doesn’t offer sustainable development as regards roads and rail infrastructure. The current road network doesn’t cope with existing demand, with frequent congestion on the M25 and A3 in particular, and the trains are already overcrowded. No pre-emptive planning has been made to alleviate these problems which will be much exacerbated by large increases in housing in the north-east of the borough.

I am particularly concerned about the impact of additional traffic on narrow winding local roads such as the A247 through West Clandon and the Ripley Road in East Clandon, which is already used as a cut-through to and from the A3. This would be much exacerbated by the proposed huge housing developments in the area which would inevitably result in a large increase in cars and travel.

Objection to the Guildford 2016 Local Plan I OBJECT to the 2016 Draft Local Plan as a whole and in particular I object to the specific issues listed below. I believe that this deeply flawed Local Plan will have a direct and detrimental effect on the amenity currently enjoyed by residents of East Clandon, West Clandon, Send Marsh, Ripley, West and East Horsley. It erodes the openness of the Green Belt and endangers the beauty and views in and out of the Surrey Hills AONB.

My specific points are as follows:

I OBJECT to Policy S2 for the proposed provision of the very high overall housing numbers of 13,800 new homes (690 new dwellings being built every year for 20 years). I object on 3 grounds:

these housing numbers have been imposed with no real consultation being undertaken with residents; b. the housing numbers are based on a high-growth economic development plan which in itself has had no consultation and this combined with estimated demand from London residents will turn Guildford into a dormitory town for London; c. no real economic or housing demand factors have been provided by the borough planners to substantiate the very high housing target of 13,800 new dwellings over the next 20 years.

I OBJECT to the proposed scale of new building throughout the borough, which is disproportionate and unjustified.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt.
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity.
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.

7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse. Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk roads. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

21. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

25. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

26. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

27. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

28. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

29. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.
24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.

9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.

11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

My comment relates to Policy A25: Gosden Hill Farm, Merrow Lane, Guildford and in particular to the second stated infrastructure requirement that:

"Any proposals for the development of the site should have regard to the potential opportunity to provide an all movements junction of the A3 trunk road with the A3100 London Road, the B2215 London Road and the A247 Clandon Road."

It is unsound that this hugely significant aspect is simply referred to and presented in aspirational terms as a "potential opportunity". The proposed development at Gosden Hill Farm should be contingent upon the timely provision of a new four-way road junction with the A3 during the very early stages of the site development. This would be a junction providing on and off vehicular access to both the south bound and the north bound carriageways of the A3. Though Policy A25 makes it an infrastructure requirement that a new A3 southbound on-slip is provided together with a relocated southbound off-slip there is no such infrastructure requirement for any new access to or from the A3 north bound carriageway. I find this omission to be extraordinary and fundamentally unsound, particularly as I raised this aspect in my previous comment on the Draft Local Plan (see my email dated 22 September 2014). It is unsound that there is no clarification, definition or explanation in Policy A25 of how access to and from the northbound A3 carriageway will be achieved for the eventual residents, visitors and workers of the hugely significant Gosden Hill Farm development.

I object strongly to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. The current Green Belt provides a very clear buffer stopping Woking and Guildford merging into one large conurbation. I see no justifiable reason for election promises being broken.

The local plan also proposes the development of Clockbarn Nursery and Garlick’s Arch, to which I object. The additional traffic congestion and demand for additional school places will pose significant demand on already stretched local services and further undermine the quality of life that the current residents enjoy.

I particularly object to the proposal for 40 houses and traveller’s pitches at Send Hill. The road access and local services are not sufficient and would be a blight on the local area. Simply getting my son to school in Ripley is a traffic nightmare in the mornings and year on year it gets worse. The small roads simply cannot cope.

The level of vandalism proposed by the local plan is unacceptable and must be stopped and elected representatives need to serve those who elected them.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)
The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements the Plan depends on. There is no schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43), so the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site. It is therefore not fit for purpose.

I object to the figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)
With the recent Vote to Leave the EU, housing soon won't be an issue with 2.9 Million people leaving.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans. How’s that suddenly doubled????

But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)
Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:
• There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
• The site is liable to frequent flooding
• It has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
• There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common
How would the local roads cope, they are small roads with housing either side, how would a major junction on and off ramp work when there are just tiny roads feeding/exiting it?

North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2)
There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for their decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

1. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. 1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25
   The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

I am writing to Guildford Council to express my great concerns on the proposed development of the Green Belt in Surrey.

What give's you the right to remove this land from the green belt?

The NPPF (National Planning Policy Framework) makes it clear that the fundamental aim of the Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open.

It also explicitly states that once established Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances.

There are no exceptional circumstances!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

The whole point of the Green Belt is to stop urban sprawl, your destroying the Green Belt to extend urban sprawl? Insane!

Green Belt Guidelines enclosed as it's obvious you haven't read them.

The UK has voted to leave the EU, so 2.9 million people will be leaving soon, so no reason for all this devastation of the beautiful Surrey Green Belt.

These are pictures taken today of the land proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt for the Housing for Garlick's Arch.

I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)
The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

How can the Council's flood risk be low than the Environment agency's? We seen yearly flooding in the Garlick's Arch area! We leave near there.

I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)
13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable and with the recent Brexit vote to leave the EU, not in anyway need – it will damage local communities by over development, gridlock traffic especially in Ripley, Send and Clandon.

The local communities don’t need these houses.

Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch.

The development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport such as Guildford.

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)
GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages.

I object to removal of Brownfield site (A34) from the Plan

Site A44 in Broadford Business Park has also been removed. This is another brownfield site that has already been developed. The Council’s claims to “have adopted a ‘brownfield first’ approach” (page 5) but this is clearly not the case, and is contrary to national guidelines.

I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)

This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states “Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I strongly object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

1. I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch

The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

The inclusion of site A58 Burt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch)

GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were

1. a)The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm, ... (site allocation A25) [ than the Burnt Common site did ]”

2. b)The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) the separation issue is clearly being ignored as BOTH sites (which are almost contiguous) are in the plan; therefore GBC are not following their own guidelines and objectives.

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) more than the “required” industrial space is available there, so there is no reason for Garlick’s Arch to be included.

The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites.
A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ...” Clearly A50 more than covers the total “need” of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. These facilities are always highly contentious and the Council has a duty of transparency in this regard which it is, at best, neglecting.

I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)

This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:
i) to hide the number of houses actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!) , and
ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”
So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit is to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

"We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan”.

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

I write to set our my objections to the local plan which seem to me to be based on unsound analysis and which is riddled with errors.

Of particular concern are the assessment of the increase in housing in the borough over the plan period which is too high and appears based on wrong figures. I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS. This is not helped by policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.

I believe that new housing should be built near existing infrastructure, in particular railway lines, and not be placed in rural areas where reliance on an already overcrowded road network is required.

It is therefore of concern that the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre is so high. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan for many reasons including:

1. It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
2. It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
3. It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10)
4. Local roads are at capacity particularly when the A3 and M25 is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc)
5. Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford will have to negotiate the over-crowded A3 and will therefore be unreliable and subject to frequent delays.
6. Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking (even though there are no pavements on the local roads) are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe.
7. It is adjacent to the most popular visitor attraction in the south-east, the RHS at Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000/annum.

- The associated traffic increase from the RHS has not been taken into account.
- The regular events at the RHS which attract 1000’s more visitors several times a year and the resultant traffic has not been taken into account

1. There is insufficient employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
2. I object to the fact that the whole area sits on a hill and the proposed development including high rise buildings will be clearly visible from the Surrey Hills AONB thereby directly going against the "openness" concept of the Green Belt.

I consider for the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I write to set out my objections to the local plan which seem to me to be based on unsound analysis and which is riddled with errors.

Of particular concern are the assessment of the increase in housing in the borough over the plan period which is too high and appears based on wrong figures. I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS. This is not helped by policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.

I believe that new housing should be built near existing infrastructure, in particular railway lines, and not be placed in rural areas where reliance on an already overcrowded road network is required.

It is therefore of concern that the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre is so high. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan for many reasons including:

1. It is the least sustainable strategic site identified in both this version and in previous versions of the plan because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
2. It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
3. It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10)
4. Local roads are at capacity particularly when the A3 and M25 is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc)
5. Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford will have to negotiate the over-crowded A3 and will therefore be unreliable and subject to frequent delays.
6. Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking (even though there are no pavements on the local roads) are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe.
7. It is adjacent to the most popular visitor attraction in the south-east, the RHS at Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000/annum.
   • The associated traffic increase from the RHS has not been taken into account.
   • The regular events at the RHS which attract 1000’s more visitors several times a year and the resultant traffic has not been taken into account
1. There is insufficient employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
2. I object to the fact that the whole area sits on a hill and the proposed development including high rise buildings will be clearly visible from the Surrey Hills AONB thereby directly going against the "openness" concept of the Green Belt.

I consider for the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

The local Plan 2016 appears to have conveniently overlooked the objections raised by the rejection of Application No 15/P/00012 by your own planning committee on 8th April 2016 on the advice of Planning Officers. I urge you not only to think outside the box but outside your borough to the impact on residents in the surrounding area. Thank you for your time and attention.

My next objection is to the impact on the road network that is already at breaking point. As the building work is planned to continue over a period of years there will be a constant flow of site traffic, the need for the first inhabitants to reach places of employment, education and retail sites adding considerably to the already poor air quality. The resultant traffic congestion adding to existing local residents woes.

As a Cobham resident I fail to see how our village can absorb the increased number of shoppers and their vehicles. And to Cobham people will come as it is unlikely that all necessary infrastructure will be up and running before the first residents move in. This is another cause for objecting to this element of the Local plan 2016. As for the calm assertion that these new residents will take either to their feet or bicycles; plainly these are developers with a well honed sense of humour bordering on the ridiculous.

Next we come to public transport or more sensibly the lack thereof. Even allowing for the longer trains that have been introduced by SWT there is not the capacity to absorb more passenger traffic from the local railway stations nor is there sufficient car parking space and / or provision thereof. Whilst being very grateful for the bus service we do have it is not going to be able to cope with the numbers of passengers at peak times. And even if additional services were introduced it will not make reliability any greater unless there is a dedicated bus lane from Esher via Cobham.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Re: Objections to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan (June 2016) & the inclusion in the Plan Site Allocation A35 the former Wisley Airfield for a new settlement with 2,000 dwellings.

The Green Belt was introduced to prevent urban sprawl and the formation of conurbations both large and small. By removing Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt you are running contrary to those intentions and to this I object in the strongest possible terms. Although not a resident within the Borough of Guildford I contend that living in a nearby location the development will have a far greater impact on those of us living within sound of the M25 than many of those residents in the said borough. Neither have you demonstrated that there are exceptional circumstances to warrant the removal of the area from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

If developers really want to erect dwellings, within the borough, there is an ample supply of brown field sites that they must reclaim and build on. For too long they have been allowed to take the more profitable easy way out by refusing to use these sites in the hope of forcing local authorities to roll over and say of course you must have what you want.

Again I object to the way small local settlements are being selected to be within sight and sound of these proposed expansions. Their rural aspect and charms will be subsumed; their tranquility lost forever. These comments relate variously to Effingham, Ockham, Ripley, Hatchford, Downside and the Horsleys. The greatest damage will be inflicted on Ockham a hamlet of 159 residences. The residents will become part of a development that will have a density greater than many London Boroughs and all this in the Surrey countryside where five storey buildings will dominate the landscape. The impact on those living in Hatchford will be disproportionally high.

1. APPENDIX C

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

2. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

3. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trumsp short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. APPENDIX D

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

• The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
• A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
• The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  ◦ failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  ◦ issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  ◦ flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
• It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

2016

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
1. POLICY A43 AND A43a – Garlick’s Arch

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.
Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

1. POLICY D4

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

1. POLICY E1

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.
I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

1. POLICY E5

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

1. POLICY E6

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. POLICY E7

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
POLICY H1

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

<td>I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.</td>
<tr>
<td>In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.</td>
<tr>
<td>It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.</td>

<tr>
<td>And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?</td>

<th>1. POLICY H3</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses through all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

1. POLICY I1

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.
