7. The M25 is forecast to be at capacity after the planned improvements have been introduced, as shown both in the SHAR and also in the recently published DfT/HE report on the South West Quadrant. This is relevant to Policy A35 Wisley airfield. It should be noted that RHS Wisley is expanding its facilities with the aim of significantly increasing visitor numbers. The DfT/HE Stage 3 report concludes that the focus should not be on widening the existing road further beyond currently planned schemes but on how to reduce pressures and provide parallel capacity to relieve this part of the network. If the M25 and A3 are at capacity, then the Wisley development will add pressure on local roads that are not well-suited to carrying higher volumes of traffic. This is also relevant to the proposed developments at Burnt Common. The consequencs for Ripley are likely to be serious. It is noted that Policy A35 now includes a requirement for mitigation of impacts in Ripley and on surrounding roads, which is some recognition that there will be a problem.

8. A comprehensive up-to-date analysis is required to inform decision-making. This should include analysis of the mid-term stage of the plan, before the A3 improvement is complete, as well as 2034.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
1. Section 1 Overview. The description of existing conditions and challenges is broadly correct and welcome.
2. Section 2 Surface access to airports. The problem is that the improved A3 will be at or over capacity in peak periods under the Plan, and the M25 SW Quadrant study has concluded that the M25 will be overloaded. So surface access to Heathrow from Guildford will continue to be affected by the weaknesses listed in this section.
3. Section 3 Rail. This section is welcome. However, it is noted that Crossrail 2 has not yet been secured.
4. Section 4 Strategic roads. Surely the strategy should be aligned with the position of Highs England set out in the Topic Paper: Transport, where it is evident that the improvement of the A3 will not be completed until 2026/27, or even 2027/28? The removal of schemes SRN1 and SRN6 from the list of key infrastructure for the plan, and redesignating them as ‘aspirational’ is inconsistent with the safety objectives of the borough and surely of Highways England and Surrey County Council (the highway authority). Under the strategy and the Plan, the issues for Beechcroft Drive and the weaving and merging issues on the existing A3 will not be addressed until half way through the plan period.
5. Section 5 Local roads. While welcoming the aspiration to transform the town centre, the traffic implications have not been dealt with in the strategy or the Plan. Section 1 correctly included the issue of “severance of the town and its constituent neighbourhoods resulting from a combination of the A3 trunk road, railway lines and the River Wey”. The case for a new crossing of the river and railway relieving pressure on the Farnham Road railway bridge should be taken very seriously and examined in depth. There is a real risk that a significant reduction in capacity in the town centre, both the gyratory and Walnut Tree Close, and on routes carrying the SMC, will lead to road users transferring to minor roads around the town that are unsuited to carrying more traffic.
6. The M25 SW Quadrant study report recommends that alternative routes are developed to carry orbital traffic, and this could mean more use of the A31/A331 in Guildford. There are local roads where capacity is already an issue and planned growth will add to problems that are not mentioned in this strategy. The scope of this element of the strategy is not wide enough.
7. The bus transit strategy is welcome. However, there is insufficient information on the Sustainable Movement Corridor to gauge either what it might deliver and its potential impact on road capacity. A high quality bus station in the town centre is critical for the future of the town. There is a lack of park and ride on the east of the town and not even an aspiration for future provision.
8. The active modes strategy is welcome. However, many roads in the borough are two-lane carriageways of restricted width, with little scope for allocating space for cyclists, and this has to be either accepted or addressed over the long term.
9. Section 6 Air quality. If traffic is going to increase in aggregate, as the forecasts show, even with the measures being proposed, then air quality will continue to be a concern.
10. Section 7 Road safety. The proposals are welcome, but as stated above, the schemes SRN1 and SRN6 should be reinstated in the Plan for safety reasons.
11. Section 8 Programme and funding. See comments on Topic Paper: Transport and the Infrastructure Schedule (App C).

Topic Paper: Transport

1. This is a helpful paper providing context and background to the transport aspects of the Plan.
2. The fact the new supplementary technical work is planned to be carried out prior to the submission of the plan to the Secretary of State (para 3.18) is welcome, but it would have been better if the results had been available for this consultation.
3. It is recommended that the wider evidence base should be expanded to include the following:
   - Local Enterprise Partnerships and Local authorities: Influencing Strategic Transport in the South East, WSP, 2016
   - Surrey County Council: Response to Waverley borough Council on WA/15/2395 Dunsfold Park, Dec 2016
   - Guildford Borough Council: Guildford Town Centre Highway assessment –Town Centre Highway Layout Concept Testing, WSP, April 2016

<td>1. In terms of its transport aspects the Plan cannot be regarded as sound. GBC has provided vivid descriptions of the conditions on the network today and the evidence is that these will be as poor, and in some cases worse, at the end of the plan period, even with the mitigation measures. Growth and infrastructure have to be better aligned. While the level of growth in homes in this latest draft plan is somewhat lower than that in the 2016 version, it is still substantial and growth is also planned outside the borough. The evidence provided indicates that congestion will be widespread on much of the highway network in peak periods, even with the proposed highway schemes and with the measures to encourage the use of public transport in place.</td>

As a resident of Normandy I strongly appose the proposal within GBC the local plan to develop this site A46 for 1100 house and a new secondary school.

This area of land is greenbelt and looking at the local plan no circumstances what so ever have been identified to justify the release of the site of A46rom the Green belt.

The need fro a new school arising with the development and to support the local area has not been proven , local schools are not currently full. If the site is not allocated for housing the need for a school can not be justified .

The proposed development would completely destroy the rural nature of Normandy doubling the number of resident's and just create another extension of Guildford to the east and Aldershot to the west.

On road infrastructure alone this proposal is not sustainable with only C class roads surround the immediate boundary of the site . The local roads are at present traffic levels are extremely busy and congested at peak times , Any small incident or planned road works courses long tail backs of traffic on the main Guildford to Aldershot Road and the Pirbright Road ,especially if traffic is diverted off the hogs back through Wanborough and Normandy .The road surface is deteriorating up in many paces and this will only get worse with another 2000 plus cars using the local roads on a daily basis.

Normandy is rural area with important natural habit and is immediately adjacent to the Thames Basin Heaths SPA . Any develop will have asignificant effect on the SPA .With added visitor pressure . The case for the provision of SANGS sites has not as yet be proven for the protection of the SPA.

Brown field sites within the Borough should be used wisely for Housing rather than more retail outlets. surely the need for housing is the greater priority.

This proposal needs to be rejected now.

I strongly object to the inclusion of this site within the plan for these reasons:

In my opinion the classification of the two roads that border site A46, Westward Lane and Glaziers Lane, are ill equipped to service a development of this size and the additional traffic. Westwood Lane reduces to a single lane carriageway underneath the railway bridge and Glaziers Lane, a lower classification road than the former is narrower with residential garden boundaries bordering the carriageway. It would seem that the plan hasn't considered a viable transport strategy to implement a development of this scale. As a resident who commutes daily to Walton-on-Thames, I am aware of the already significant traffic congestion within the village at peak times. These two roads are currently roads used to capacity as alternative routes to/from the A3 and as rat runs to/from the Hogs Back, especially when there is a travel incident in Guildford or on the A3 (which is frequent!).

If the development is considered based on the village being served by a railway station, then this service would be immediately be over-stretched. To double the size of the village would be to potentially double the amount of people using the transport links. Wanborough is a small station with a short platform. The railway station car park has only 8 spaces and there is no scope to provide more. It is surrounded by houses and a roofing business thus not making it conducive to expansion without further investment of developing the field North of the line. The current car park floods terribly whenever it rains and you need wellington boots to access the platforms. This coupled with the lack of parking spaces already forces commuters to park in Culls Road and The Paddocks, so where would additional users of the station park?

Normandy already suffers with low water pressure, how will the usage of another 1100 homes help this?

There is already a significant burden on our Doctors Surgery in Glaziers Lane. You can't currently obtain a bookable appointment for much less than 4 weeks in advance, therefore you are often forced to request an emergency appointment as your healthcare needs become more urgent in this time-frame. I do not see how an increase to the size of the village can improve this situation. Has there been any provision for further healthcare needs of the proposed additional community?

Historically, the land is agricultural. The Greenbelt is for everyone's benefit. There are Grade 2 listed properties backing onto this site and surely this is part of our heritage that we should be working to preserve. Guildford Borough Council is keen to showcase its history, however, this should not be exclusively retained in a museum or in the town centre. We should be proud to see it in our villages and secure its place in our future.

The light pollution of the proposed development would affect the view from the Surrey Hills and have a lasting effect on the ecology of Normandy - less than 5kms from the Thames Heath Basin's Special Protection Area, with many wildlife species that use it, as listed above.

The current plan treats Normandy and Flexford as two separate settlements for the purposes of the greenbelt, however, they are one and the same and gives false suggestion; for which I can only presume is beneficial to planning. I cannot see a logical reason for including this development in the draft plan, only for it to serve the council. Dealing with one developer on a scale such as this would ultimately incur less resource than managing many smaller ones. Is Normandy now to suffer for Guildford Borough Council's shortcomings for not providing adequate housing previously?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I write to object to the proposed development of Sites A46 and A47 in the GBC Local Plan.

I am a resident of Normandy, of 27 The Paddocks.

Site A47 Land East of The Paddocks: Homes C3 Quantity 50

This site is on the direct boundary of my home and I strongly object to the inclusion of this site within the plan for these reason:

From first hand experience I see how easily this site floods. The fields are at saturation levels at all times, even during periods of dry weather. The ditches bordering the fields overflow during the winter and flood water creeps over fields creating large areas of still water; substantial enough for birds and wildlife to sustain new habitats in and the ponies that reside there in dryer months have to be moved to other paddocks. I believe the ground saturation levels would not be suitable for development. If built on where would the water drain to? Our garden floods in the wet weather already.

Amongst the various wildlife I’ve seen, is a pair of Egrets, which are rarely sighted away from Poole and Chichester Harbours. Bats roost nearby as every evening at dusk we see them fly from the direction of the field around our bungalow and back across the field. They continue this lap many times and my understanding is that they are protected by the Wildlife and Countryside Act (1981), which states it is an offence to intentionally disturb a roost. We also see Hedgehogs, Badgers, Common Toads, Barn Owls and Fieldfares. I am aware that both the Barn Owl and Fieldfare are protected by same legislation the Bat, however the Fieldfare is a migratory bird which arrives in its flocks to this site every Autumn is currently on the RSPB’s Red status list, as well. Any development to this site would not only disturb the fragile ecological status but would irrevocably destroy the fragile habitat of these species in our area.

There are also many mature Oak trees on site A47, one of which is a particular veteran and stands almost central to the site. Flexford borders the site of the Ancient Springs at Wanborough and the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty on the Surrey Hills. It is less than 5kms away from the Thames Heath Basin’s Special Protection Area at Ash Ranges. The greenbelt is there to prevent the urban sprawl. Being located 3 miles out of Guildford it is vital to retain the boundary for social and ecological purposes. Previously this was ‘protected greenbelt’, so why has the status changed?

Furthermore, my husband and I chose to buy our home adjacent to this site over any other property we viewed purely because of its location and outlook from the kitchen and garden, not because of size or style or because it was up to a certain stand of living. We moved there 3 years ago and have sacrificed and purchase it. We have invested time and money to have a new boiler and central heating, new electrics and plumbing. The property isn’t large but it will take us many years to complete the renovations whilst there is general maintenance work to pay-out for. We are not seeking to extend. We consider this to be our forever home and would be devastated if we were to be surrounded on all sides by dwellings and our outlook was to change. It would destroy our sanctuary.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to support the removal of Site A46 from the GBC Local Plan due to:
• The change of the exceptional circumstances that were used in the previous plan to justify the development of this site.
• This land is Greenbelt land
• The minor roads that surround the site
• The demand that would be placed on our Doctors surgery

I wish to support the removal of Site A47 from the GBC Local Plan due to:
• The site continuing to meet the criteria of a Site of Nature & Conservation Interest (SNCI)
• The land is Greenbelt and should remain protected as per the above status for current and future generations
• To prevent settlement sprawl

I wish to object to the removal of greenbelt status of the:
• Homes in Guildford Road,
• Land at the Northern end of Glaziers Lane,
• Land in Flexford
• Walden Cottages
• Palm House Nurseries Traveler Site

I appeal to GBC to consider the environmental impact and improve existing infrastructure ahead of committing to future construction developments.

I write to object to the Local Plan.

As a teacher, I have a full-time job and so do not have the time or resources to respond to such a dense document. Where is the simplified version that ordinary people can understand?

It is not right that the plan prioritises development in green belt land when there is sufficient brownfield sites elsewhere in the Borough. Most people coming to the Borough wish to be close to urban centres, not stuck in rural dormitories, requiring smaller 2 or 3 bed accommodation, far more suited to an urban environment.
Also, in Horsley, the schools are full. Where are new families going to be educated? I would also point out that in and around Horsley, there is simply not the infrastructure to support the proposals, such as schools, transport, drainage, shops etc.

The proposal for Wisley Airfield will simply create a housing ghetto.

All in all, a shoddy, badly thought-out document.

DRAFT LOCAL PLAN SITES A42, A43, A44 – PLEASE PASS LETTER TO INSPECTOR

I object as a Send resident to the number of new house builds being proposed in Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common.

I object to the 7000 sq m of warehousing being included in A43. Burnt Common already has warehouse facilities.

I object to the amount of extra traffic and pollution these proposals will bring. The volume of traffic is already set to rise, regardless of many objections following the Councils permission for the building of Send Marina.

I object to the proposal of Send being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt is intended to be permanent and the local council and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt and this plan reneges on that.

I object to the proposed development of 400 homes and an industrial development at Garlick’s Arch on the grounds that the noise and extra traffic from an already busy A3 would have a detrimental effect on the surrounding villages and its residents. The A3 already suffers from gridlock at certain times of the week and if there should be an accident, of which there are many on the A3, the subsequent closure of the A3 leads to chaos on the surrounding roads causing tailbacks through West Clandon, Chilworth and Ripley and Send.

I object to the land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill being developed as this is a new proposal and has not been consulted upon. There is a school in the area and Send Hill becomes very congested as it is. Visitors to the cemetery should be allowed to do so in peace and quiet and two travelers’ pitches in this area would be entirely inappropriate as there would be insufficient access to the site along a very narrow single track country road. The subsoil on the site also contains documented unsafe landfill waste registered at GBC.

I object to the proposed developments on the grounds that they are excessive, would generate hazardous and heavy traffic in the area and encroach on Green Belt land.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling, so there is no transparency to this evidence base. This is undemocratic as those affected by the plan are unable to ascertain its accuracy.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

Please ensure my comments are shown to the Planning Inspector, before he/she makes his decisions. I request confirmation that you have received this letter.

I object to the building of 40 houses and 2 travellers' pitches on Send Hill there is registered at GBC documented unsafe landfill waste in the subsoil of the proposed site. There is insufficient access due to the narrow road at the site. It would spoil an area of outstanding, beautiful countryside.

1. I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

The proposed development at Garlick's Arch (A43) will impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy Y. I1)

Because there are few buses, people living in the new development will need to use cars to get to work. They will either drive to work or to a station. In order to get to Woking station most will need to use the A247 through Send. The A247 is already heavily used. It turns sharply over the bridge across the Wey Canal into Broadmead, which is flood meadow land. At the end of Broadmead the A247 comes to a mini roundabout where it splits the traffic into Woking in two directions. Any blockage to the road, by delivery lorries, road works, traffic lights or the frequent accidents that occur, results already in paralysis of both roads into and out of Woking, and also to traffic through Send. The road is not designed to take the current volume of traffic, let alone the huge traffic increase which will result from the development. Drivers trying to avoid the jams find that the rural roads in this area are narrow, single lane for the most part, in poor condition and have no footpaths. More houses means more dangerous and unsustainable traffic.

1. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development.

The Plan does not identify infrastructure improvements sufficient to support the huge development. Local services, school places, doctors, are already stretched. There will be need for huge sewerage, water and utility provision.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 would need to be improved to cope with the increased capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours, with horrendous jams frequently occurring, and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

1. I object to damage that will be done to local wildlife.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas. The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are Y-protected. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. I am not aware that any wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy 14)

Ojections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) believe that the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) is wrong in very any respects, and is poorly conceived, unsustainable, unworkable and, in many ways, unnecessary. I set out here my objections to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 houses being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley are rural wards representing about 11% of the existing housing in the borough. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being in this area. The allocation strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough.

I object to the change to Policy A42, Clockbarn Nursery in Tannery Lane. because it hugely increases house numbers, it will cause huge traffic problems, and it once again ignores the many previous objections made by concerned local people.

Guildford Borough Council are failing to defend the Green Belt, and failing to take note of the concerns of local people.

I call on GBC to listen to the concerns local residents are raising, act on their objections, and accordingly amend the Local Plan 2017.

This objection is, primarily, based around the adverse effects on rural life and in particular, the health and wellbeing of those who live and work in the area. Such people will, undoubtedly, be impacted, negatively, in terms of the newly placed constraints on their space, privacy, access to amenities and their pace of life.

Such people will, undoubtedly, be impacted, negatively, in terms of the newly placed constraints on their space, privacy, access to amenities and their pace of life. Arguably, any further houses built in these areas will change the landscape and culture of the south-eastern countryside forever. They will, doubtlessly, deter, rather than encourage tourism in the area: after all, why visit an archived piece of green land in the newly-formed town of Horsley, when you can visit the far prettier Kentish coastline which, fortunately, cannot be built on?

I hope that this letter of objection is viewed, not as a rant nor as a judgement but an opinion that is shared by all the other letters that reach you.

I write to object to GBC’s proposal to remove Green Belt protection from a number of villages in the Guildford area including my village Chilworth.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy number A46 – the development between Westwood Lane and Glaziers Lane.

- The development is planned on green belt land and will involve losing valuable green belt, within a kilometer of the protected Hogs Back area. This land is essential to local wildlife’s ecosystem, and also to the quality of life and air experienced by local residents.

- The development will create additional traffic on roads which are already strained to their limit. Guildford Road is already heavily congested at certain times of the day and the addition of 1100 new homes is likely to bring in upwards of 1500 vehicles, each of which will add to this congestion.

- The railway bridge on Westwood Lane is unsuitable for these traffic volumes. It’s a single lane bridge and and the additional traffic is likely to create holdups at the bridge and therefore an increase in pollution for local residents.

- The addition of 1100 homes to the community already in place will more than double it in size. This will have a profound negative impact on the peace, quiet and quality of life for people within the immediate vicinity and will also impact on those of us living with the environs of the new development.

- Inadequate consultation. This development has not previously been mentioned in the Guildford Borough Local Plan drafts, and I do not believe there has been sufficient consultation with local people and businesses in order to assess the likely impact of the development.

I would ask that the Council, on consideration of these views, not proceed with the plans and instead look elsewhere to site these homes, if they are required. At the very least I request that the size and scale of the development be reduced to a level more fitting with the rural environment into which it is being placed.

I OBJECT to Policy A43.30 the proposed development of Garlicks Arch designated for 400 houses and an industrial estate. This is a new site not included in the Regulation 18 draft and has NOT been consulted on previously. It is not only permanently protected green belt but also a site of ancient woodland with some trees planted in the 16th century. I OBJECT to policy A43.30 the development of new four way interchange onto the A3 which would mean that narrow Send Road (A247) would be the main route for traffic leaving the M25 and A3. It is already crowded and vulnerable to traffic jams. Further traffic from this development would result in permanent gridlock. It simply would not work.

I OBJECT to policy A44 which would see 40 homes and two travellers' pitches on land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill. This was again a NEW site NOT included in 18 draft and therefore has NOT been consulted on previously. Once again this is Green Belt land partly containing unsafe landfill. Access is by a narrow lane which could never take the volume of traffic that would ensue from traveller's pitches.

Therefore we should be focusing more on saving our green areas, protecting our ancient woodlands and reducing the amount of traffic that passes through our villages; not planning more building which in turn will create further need for more schools, roads and other facilities which are already in short supply.

I OBJECT to the fact that the Local Plan takes no account of schools, doctors surgeries and roads that are already operating at full capacity. Another 4000 houses in this area with a conservative estimate of a further 8000 cars would be catastrophic.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Housing Policy H2 - Affordable Homes

I currently live with my parents. I would very much like to own my own home, preferably in the Horsleys, but the prospect of that happening in the foreseeable future is very unlikely.

Under Policy H2, 40% of all but the smallest development sites will be required to have affordable housing built on them. However, property prices for any new development will reflect the prices of the established property market of the area. Developers need to see a return on their investment. For the Horsleys this will mean that ‘affordable’ homes will not be affordable to those who need them most.

In the Local Plan nearly 400 houses are proposed to be built in West Horsley, which is excessive compared to the current layout and character of the village. They are also designated to be in the Green Belt (which I object to). This in itself would put a premium on houses in the new development as encroachment on to Green Belt has to be justified. Proposals to have higher housing densities than those for the rest of the village, to enable a percentage of ‘affordable’ homes to be achieved, seems self-defeating.

Affordable homes therefore need to be where they are most needed and economically viable. Far more can be built in an urban setting where mass and height are not as much of an issue as in rural areas. The Local Plan has proposed relatively small amounts of development for the Guildford urban area compared to the surrounding villages and it would appear that most of the available brownfield sites in the town have been put aside for business and retail use. With many more businesses opting for internet trade from small offices/homes, this seems a wasted opportunity to use valuable brownfield sites to address the affordable housing needs.

I therefore OBJECT to Policy H2. It needs to be revised so the provision of affordable housing meets the needs of those who need it most in areas where it is most useful and sustainable.

In order to try and save money I have recently decided to cycle to work rather than use the car. A one-way trip is 50 minutes, which, realistically is not to everyone’s taste. Other than the obvious health benefits, it means I am not sitting in commuting car jams every day as I can find alternative cycle routes often away from the main flow of traffic.

However it has made me realise that the proposed large housing developments at Wisley Airfield, the Horsleys and also further up the A3 in Send and on the edge of Burpham (Guildford) will make cycling on the local roads even more difficult and dangerous than it is already. Most of our local roads are narrow and windy, unlit and with poor sight lines. Many of them have pinch points which means larger buses and HGVs have to go over the centre white line or up onto the pavement. Cycling is for the brave on these roads and the large volume of additional traffic likely to come with the proposed developments will not convince people to take it up in preference to their car. The Wisley Airfield proposal is suggesting that cycling along narrow country lanes is to be encouraged to get to rail stations some 3 miles away. I think this is highly unlikely.

I OBJECT to Policy I3 as I feel it doesn’t consider accurately enough the consequences of excessive housing developments on our local roads.

With respect to Policy A44. 19a Land West Of Winds Ridge and Send Hill:

1. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send is in Green Belt and should remain so forever.

2. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the land has been identified as an old landfill site with potential contamination from industrial activities. Development of this site would disturb unknown contaminants exposing residents and workers to unknown and necessary health risks.

3. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the road can not take the increased traffic flow, both for construction and for additional residents. Send Hill is a narrow road where ANY on street parking introduces unacceptable risks. The proposed development is also near the narrower end with single track blind corners and a high risk T-junction with Potters Lane.

4. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it will severely impact the adjacent nature reserve.

5. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the open land and space would be lost. Current pathways would loose the feel of open countryside negatively impacting residents and visitors who frequent the local footpaths.

6. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Traveller Accommodation Assessment research was reportedly undertaken by Mill Field Services in June/July 2012 when the company was dissolved in January 2011. Travellers pitches are quite simply not desired or supported by residents.

7. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the open feel of the road and area will be unacceptably reduced. A recent planning application to build two houses in place of one was refused for this very reason. So how is building an additional 40 houses now acceptable? In short - it is not.

8. I Object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the high level of disruption, noise pollution and air pollution for local residents of such a large construction project is unnecessary and unacceptable.

I Object to the removal of Send Village from the Green Belt. Green Belt status is by definition a permanent status to protect open green spaces from development ensuring they are not eroded and therefore available for future generations to enjoy. It is NOT the Councils job to attack these spaces by downgrading them on a whim. The Council should take pride in protecting them by upholding the permanent Green Belt status. There are NO special circumstances to justify the removal of Green Belt status. Period. There are many brown field development options and existing passed planning applications that have not been utilised. These should all be fully utilised to meet the need for new housing.

I Object to the proposal to build 13,860 new homes. This figure is loosely based on flawed pre-Brexit data. Concerns on the data used have been raised since 2014, but the Council have failed to seek for improved data or release details on the model. Justification for this high amount of additional homes is week and unsubstantiated. Councillors repeated requests for debate on this has been ignored. Surrounding areas of the county have a much lower target for new homes. Clearly Guildford Council has made some compounded errors in its new home requirement calculation for the area and need to start again in an open, transparent and cooperative way. This should result in a realistic and much lower post-Brexit figure that can be met without resorting to any loss of Green Belt.

Re: proposed developments in Send and a new interchange onto the A3

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt because the village and its countryside provides a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford and I particularly to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick's Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances. In fact that area of Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded.

I object to the exaggerated "housing need" figure of 13,860 which is far too high and results in the completely unnecessary development of the Green Belt. The way students, economic need and affordability are calculated inflates the housing need.
I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford's urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs.

I object most strongly to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25. This would be disastrous for Send and the A247 would be gridlocked all day; just please visit this area during any of the rush hours to understand the significant weight of traffic that already uses the A247 and the minor surrounding roads. The knock on effect up to the small roundabout at Old Woking (where the B382 joins it) will be a really serious problem.

In fact I object to all the proposed sites in Send because, not least because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially. We were promised there would be no major changes made to the 2016 draft plan by the Leader of the Council.

I object to the development at Garlick's Arch for 400 houses, which was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks' notice and without any prior consultation. This has been quite disgraceful. Also this proposed development is simply not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick's Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

I object to the development at Garlick's Arch because the site has particular conservation sensitivity since it is covered in ancient woodland. Trees which have existed since the 16th century would be endangered. The site is attractive open countryside and part of the permanent Green Belt, with is protected under the National Policy Framework. It also represents an unrestricted sprawl and goes against the purposes of the Green Belt which include the prevention of merging towns and settlements. Oh yes, and the site is also subject to flooding!

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn because of inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and bandy to take any more traffic. It is a country LANE. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles emerging into the main road. Planning permission has already been given for 64 houses at the Tannery and the marina will generate heavy traffic too. The road cannot take any more.

I object to the development of 40 houses at Send Hill due to its high quality Green Belt amenity within an area of beautiful countryside which would be spoilt. The subsoil of the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste which is currently vented. The proposal to include 2 Travelers Pitches is completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road providing insufficient access to the site.

I object to the large proposed development of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including Send.

I object to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with proposed housing levels. Roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope. The local school cannot take any more pupils. The local doctors' surgery cannot take any more patients.

I vehemently object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3 which will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 which are all already at 100% capacity.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

I ask that you please take note of the deep concerns of a huge number of Send residents and indeed many others who are connected to the village, pass through it on a daily basis and use this area for recreational purposes.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I notice that Send Business Park has been taken out of the Green Belt in total. It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation. There is a very restricted vehicular access the length of Tannery Lane in both directions, further development/expansion here detracts from the openness of the Green Belt. It is out of place. In my opinion the proposals to build on the Green Belt in Send are completely unacceptable. The GBC have not listened to the views of locals' objections and points of view, but are set on making life very uncomfortable for all of us. The proposals are inadequate for the infrastructure (as required by law, for schools, medical facilities, etc) and the already crowded roads. Plus this is notwithstanding the planned decimation of ancient woodland and our beautiful countryside.

I note that the changes you have made actually increase the number of homes from 45 to 60, a 33% rise which is too much. This ignores all the hundreds of previous objections made by people. I cannot understand why you have done this. The access and traffic problems that already exist in Tannery Lane and the A247 junction will get worse. Erosion of the Green Belt in our village will become worse with the surface water flooding, which is already a serious problem. The countryside views from the River Wey Navigation that are enjoyed by so many will be spoiled.

Six Travellers plots is excessive as there is no proven demand for any whatsoever in this locality. Garlick's arch is a permanent piece of ancient woodland from the 16th century. Apart from the loss of this unique area of woodland and the fact that Ripley and Send will effectively be joined and therefore defeat the key purpose of the Green Belt, this area is subject to frequent flooding and has been given a 'Flood Zone 2' designation.</td>

The '2017 Employment Land Need Assessment' shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough. The industrial and warehouse areas at 'Slyfield' and 'Guildford' have empty sites and industrial units, so your enormous over allocation of 10 hectares at Send, in the green Belt is unfathomable. Once again the impact on local roads will cause one mass of clogged carriageways and overdevelopment will completely defeat the purpose of the 'Green Belt'.</td>

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object in the strongest possible terms to the expansion of Guildford as represented by this local plan.

I object to development within the green belt and in sight of the area of outstanding beauty.

I object to the proposed development at site A26 Blackwell farm where an independent landscape evaluation study (funded by Compton, Worplesdon and Wanborough Parish Councils) has identified most of the development site as meeting the criteria for an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). The study will now be forwarded to Surrey CC/Natural England with a request that Blackwell Farm is included as a candidate area in the forthcoming AONB boundary review. The PCs were prompted to do this when it was brought to their attention that Blackwell Farm had been omitted from Surrey CC's landscape evaluation on behalf of Surrey Hills AONB Board (despite a previous study suggesting that it was likely to meet AONB criteria and merited assessment)

Transport survey for A26 Blackwell Farm.

Compton PC and Compton Village Association have jointly commissioned a Technical Note by traffic consultant RGP to look at the implications of the Blackwell Farm development, and the proposed new link road from the A31. The results show:

• The road infrastructure costs associated with providing a new route into Guildford from the west (linking the A31 to the Tesco roundabout) are far in excess of what has been estimated in the Local Plan and would not justify a development of this size. The scheme is therefore economically unviable.
• The new 4-way junction proposed at Down Place on the A31 would require more land-take than the Local Plan has suggested - it would involve widening the A31 bridge over the A3. No money has been allocated for this bridge-widening scheme and there is no indication that Highways England has approved it. Given the traffic flows, it is more likely that a large roundabout would be needed at this junction and this would severely impact the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.
• The new highway scheme, which provides access to Blackwell Farm, will increase congestion on the A31, B3000, and at the Gill Avenue/Egerton Road junction, which serves the A&E unit at the Royal Surrey County Hospital.
• All the options for vehicles coming from the A3 north into the site would result in an increase of traffic manoeuvring through junctions that have poor accident records (eg Puttenham Interchange). No transport infrastructure requirements for the site have been identified to address the u-turning problem on the A31 (although we know SCC is trying to close the East Flexford gap).

I object to the proposed development at Slyfield which omits to show improved road systems and would lead to traffic gridlock.

The full consequences of the proposed local plan are enormous and are only now emerging. For example, even if all the proposed highway improvements in the Plan were built, congestion would not improve. We would just have a lot more people stuck in traffic and traffic would get a very great deal worse to start with. In our area, Stoke next Guildford changes we would be likely to experience include:

° the expansion of Guildford along the A3. Development of 2000 homes on Gosden Hill, by Burpham, is a particular local concern more traffic from the major development sites coming in on the Stoke Intersection and London Roads

roads near us, such as Stoke Rd, and York Road, being even busier due to other more central routes being closed to through traffic, pedestrianised or used for development pressure for high density development eroding character in our area

It is a matter of choice by our Council that Guildford would expand on this scale. Many residents were prepared to support our Council in the need for some sensitive, measured expansion. However the scale of what is proposed is far from this.

Other Councils are applying “constraints” to their overall housing number. This is allowed. By contrast, Guildford is proposing to release so much land for development that we could end up being asked to meet housing need for neighbouring towns. We find ourselves in the bizarre situation where it is suggested we sacrifice our countryside in order to protect countryside around Woking.

Contrary to national trends, too much potential development land within the town centre is being allocated for retail or commercial development rather than housing. High added value businesses are welcome in the borough, but much of the employment land is designated for retail or low added value employment floorspace, which only exacerbates current issues such as lack of low cost housing and heavy traffic. Sites such as Burnt Common Triangle, currently in the Green Belt, are inappropriate for heavy industry.

The paragraphs relating to density in Policy H1 have been deleted. To ensure developments make optimal use of space there must be a policy to cover minimum and maximum densities. Without a policy to cover density, there is a risk that developers will use land inefficiently, putting additional pressure on the countryside and un-developed land. This deletion is inappropriate.

There is concern about the inability of current infrastructure to meet current and future needs. The policy recognises that the “Infrastructure provider” will maintain infrastructure in more cases, and developers can only offer a contribution via Community Infrastructure Levy. Until the current infrastructure can meet existing needs adequately, further development should be very targeted to meet only absolute essentials.

The policy relating to AONB weakens the protections offered and (unlike previously) does not have restrictions on non-major developments. This is a move in the wrong direction. Previously all proposals were considered against the 5 key tests – now developments in the AONB seem to be more acceptable. This is weaker, not stronger, and is contrary to huge responses from the public in previous consultations and the weight of protection given to AONB in the NPPF.

Exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop Greenbelt yet despite the weight of public opinion against weakening of this policy, 70% of new housing developments will be in the countryside, of which 58% will be in Greenbelt. By definition, this is not an exception and no attempt is made to demonstrate exceptional circumstances, in line with the requirements of the NPPF. Insetting villages is of concerns over loss of character. The Rural Economic Strategy covered in 4.51a, promoting affordable homes everywhere in the countryside including the AONB as a main aim, is a mechanism and is based on data, which is not up-to-date.

Three major strategic sites – Blackwell Farm, Wisley Airfield and Gosden Hill Farm – are in the Green Belt. Previous consultations show that, in line with the NPPF, the public would prefer to use brownfield land in the urban area first.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The housing target proposed of 12,426 is based on assumptions that have not been made public and includes flaws that have not been corrected in the modified SHMA (verified by professional analyst Neil MacDonald of NMSS who concluded that an annual housing figure of 400 per year would meet Guildford’s overall need). The phased approach (more homes built towards the end of the plan period) is appropriate in order to permit necessary infrastructure but open-ended targets where an unknown figure is held back until after the plan period is not reduction but a postponement and does not allow for optimal planning or transparency.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I am sickened by the expansion of Guildford as represented by this local plan, and am objecting.

I object to development within the green belt and In sight of the AONB.

I object to the proposed development at site A26 Blackwell farm where an independent landscape evaluation study (funded by Compton, Worplesdon and Wanborough Parish Councils) has identified most of the development site as meeting the criteria for an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). The study will now be forwarded to Surrey CC/Natural England with a request that Blackwell Farm is included as a candidate area in the forthcoming AONB boundary review. The PCs were prompted to do this when it was brought to their attention that Blackwell Farm had been omitted from Surrey CC's landscape evaluation on behalf of Surrey Hills AONB Board (despite a previous study suggesting that it was likely to meet AONB criteria and merited assessment).
Transport survey for A26 Blackwell Farm.

Compton PC and Compton Village Association have jointly commissioned a Technical Note by traffic consultant RGP to look at the implications of the Blackwell Farm development, and the proposed new link road from the A31. The results show:

- The road infrastructure costs associated with providing a new route into Guildford from the west (linking the A31 to the Tesco roundabout) are far in excess of what has been estimated in the Local Plan and would not justify a development of this size. The scheme is therefore economically unviable.
- The new 4-way junction proposed at Down Place on the A31 would require more land-take than the Local Plan has suggested - it would involve widening the A31 bridge over the A3. No money has been allocated for this bridge-widening scheme and there is no indication that Highways England has approved it. Given the traffic flows, it is more likely that a large roundabout would be needed at this junction and this would severely impact the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.
- The new highway scheme, which provides access to Blackwell Farm, will increase congestion on the A31, B3000, and at the Gill Avenue/Egerton Road junction, which serves the A&E unit at the Royal Surrey County Hospital
- All the options for vehicles coming from the A3 north into the site would result in an increase of traffic manoeuvring through junctions that have poor accident records (eg Puttenham Interchange). No transport infrastructure requirements for the site have been identified to address the u-turning problem on the A31 (although we know SCC is trying to close the East Flexford gap).

I object to the proposed development at Slyfield which omits to show improved road systems and would lead to traffic gridlock.

The full consequences of the proposed local plan are enormous and are only now emerging. For example, even if all the proposed highway improvements in the Plan were built, congestion would not improve. We would just have a lot more people stuck in traffic and traffic would get a very great deal worse to start with. In our area, Stoke next Guildford changes we would be likely to experience include:

- the expansion of Guildford along the A3. Development of 2000 homes on Gosden Hill, by Burpham, is a particular local concern
- more traffic from the major development sites coming in on the Stoke Intersection and London Roads
- roads near us, such as Stoke Rd, and York Road, being even busier due to other more central routes being closed to through traffic, pedestrianised or used for development
- pressure for high density development eroding character in our area

It is a matter of choice by our Council that Guildford would expand on this scale. Many residents were prepared to support our Council in the need for some sensitive, measured expansion. Please do not let this local plan go ahead in its present from.

I also object to the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential. Disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]. Ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a] adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

   a. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars

   b. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads

   c. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements

   d. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)

e. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest

f. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

7) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I am writing in response to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites, June 2016. I object to the above plan.

I am a West Horsley resident, and have been my whole life. I am very concerned about the proposals. My parents moved here for the community life, and I fear that this lifestyle will be lost if the plans are approved, as the number of residences proposed will significantly change the character of West Horsley as a village.

The sites proposed in West Horsley are currently within established Green Belt. The policy on protection for the Green Belt is contained in section 9 of the National Planning Policy Framework, which sets out the fundamental aim of Green Belt policy. Policy on development in Metropolitan Green Belt is set out in paragraphs 79 – 92 of the NPPF. Inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to Green Belt and the NPPF states that it 'should not be approved except in very special circumstances'. No 'special circumstances' have yet been explained or detailed.

Local planning authorities are advised to 'regard the construction of new buildings as inappropriate in Green Belt'. The Framework also states that a Green Belt review should only happen in 'exceptional circumstances'. This concept is further elaborated as being 'for example when planning for larger scale development such as new settlements or major urban extensions'. The Green Belt in Surrey is established with detailed boundaries; therefore 'exceptional circumstances' must be demonstrated to necessitate the change to its boundaries. Again, no 'exceptional circumstances' have yet been explained.

There are identified Brownfield sites in the borough which have not been seriously considered in the borough plan.

Policy P2 of the Guildford Plan states that Guildford Borough Council 'will continue to protect Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development.' The expansion of West Horsley village is unsustainable for a few reasons.

The only entry to West Horsley from the A246 is The Street, which is narrow in places, and not in the best condition. The road surface would only get worse with increased traffic flow. It can be difficult to fit wider vehicles down certain parts of the road, and the necessity for more large vehicles to travel down it (increased bus services to serve more residents; more lorries carrying supplies to build houses) would not improve the situation.

Additionally, the roundabout connecting the A246 to The Street is very busy during school drop off and pick-up times, as Cranmore School is just off the roundabout. With increased volumes of traffic, the back up would only worsen, increasing journey times, not only for West Horsley residents, but for people trying to get from Guildford to Leatherhead and vice versa.

In West Horsley, there is only one small shop and no post office, and there is no where to expand the amenities to serve a larger population. East Horsley has many more shops which have always been well-used, but there are only limited parking spaces. Station Parade is populated by locally-owned and run businesses and these businesses could lose valuable custom if people cannot park close by.

Horsley railway station has always been a very busy station. The car park is usually full on week days. Unless it is expanded it will not support such a large increase in vehicles - at an exhibition about the proposed development of Wisley airfield, it was explained that there were no plans to expand it. There would also be increased traffic to & from the station to drop off & pick-up travellers including students going to schools in Guildford and Leatherhead.

The Medical Centre in East Horsley supports residents of both East and West Horsley, and it is currently at capacity - it cannot support the new patients that will move to the area should these plans go ahead. As well as extending the building (for which there is no space), more doctors would be required to care for residents.

In short, improving the village's infrastructure needs to be seriously considered before the building of more houses can be considered.

I support development - especially affordable and smaller houses, as I hope to one day be able to by a house of my own - but I do not support it at the cost of the community life I have been lucky enough to grow up in.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
10. I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements the Plan depends on. There is no schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43), so the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site. It is therefore not fit for purpose.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

9. I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.
6. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

12. I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)

There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq. m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
5. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The development of ramps at Burnt Common would mean that a far greater number of cars would access the villages from London/M25 to Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

8. I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

The Garlick’s Arch (A43) proposal would double the built area in the locality. There would be permanent damage to the character of the Ancient Woodland on site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
3. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

At present the rural roads which service Ripley, Send & Clandon are narrow are in poor condition and have no footpath access. If developed with 5000 new homes, serious congestion would be incurred making the roads unsustainable for traffic.

There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

13. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are at or close to capacity.

There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
13. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

Decisions you make will permanently affect the area. It is our responsibility to protect and maintain areas for future generations; our children’s children etc. not just to line the pockets of developers.

I wish these objections to be fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

11. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

As mentioned earlier the huge developments being proposed will lead to congestion and increasing levels of pollution. This would have a detrimental effect on local resident’s health.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
2. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

The removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) will result in serious urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

4. I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) has flooded many times in recent years and it would be foolish to ignore the warnings published by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). These are my main reasons/ I object on these grounds / …

1. I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

The damage to local communities of Ripley, Send & Clandon that development of 13,860 new houses proposed is serious. Local communities do not need these houses and the Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

7. I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The 13,860 new houses proposal by GBC without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey. 5,036 houses are proposed Between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) 5036 houses are proposed. This will lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.
Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I strongly object to the Guildford Plan Proposals and Strategy site: June 2016

This small village's amenities only just cope with the residents it has. There are two small schools here, with very limited parking as it is. On rush hour morning traffic can tail back from Ripley Village High Street up to the Ockham motorway slip road.

The flooding would be of much greater risk too. As the proposals for three detached dwellings: R14/P/00012 on 27 February 20014 was refused.

Such a high density development would put a big strain on local services and parking, swamping our village changing its whole character.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
As a regular visitor to the Borough, I wish to submit my objections to the Local Plan.

My daughter and family live in the area, having moved to be nearer my son-in-law’s family who have lived there since the 40s. I have been visiting Horsley since the 90s and during this time the village has expanded immeasurably. The proposed development within the local plan would not change the Horsleys and the local villages for the better. I object to the proposed housing development as it is not sustainable and will have an adverse effect on the surrounding communities, on East and West Horsley in particular. I object to the 35% increase in housing proposed in West Horsley: such a level of development would change the village forever and would simply not fit in with the character of the village and the current density of housing. Horsley simply cannot absorb this scale of development.

Traffic in the village has become a real issue in recent years and any significant developments in the area would be unacceptable and incur unsustainable pressure on roads and infrastructures. I have grandchildren in the village who can no longer ride their bikes on the roads for fear of a serious accident. The roads are simply not wide enough to accommodate the current traffic, and further congestion would be a disaster. I object to the local plan to build nearly 14,000 new homes in the borough as the additional traffic and congestion would be an accident waiting to happen, not to mention its adverse effect on air quality, which is already poor.

My experience of the local medical provision and schools indicates that little capacity is currently available and the proposed development would put increased pressure on already buckling health and education systems. With regards to education in particular, the local Raleigh School has waiting lists in every year group and as such could not accommodate additional children. The site has no room for expansion and yet plans for a new school are not indicated within the local plan.

I also strongly object to allowing development on green belt land. Green belt exists for reasons drawn up by UK law, including restricting urban sprawl, preserving the boundaries of neighbouring villages, safeguarding the countryside and preserving historic towns and villages like Horsley. Environmental issues are real and we must consider the long term impact of reckless building on precious green belt areas. All the development in Horsley will be on green belt land. How can this be a balanced plan?

Finally my understanding is that there needs to be an identified need for the level of housing, but a total of 14,000 houses planned over a 15 year timeframe during the period 2016-2031, is flawed and as yet not explained. The cited figure of a 35% increase in housing in West Horsley, much higher than in other areas, is not sustainable and must be revised.

As it currently stands, I object to the local plan for the reasons cited above.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I strongly object to the proposals for site A26 (Blackwell Farm). For the following reasons:-

1. An independent landscape evaluation study for Blackwell Farm has identified most of the development site as meeting the criteria for an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). This is being ignored in the local plan.
2. The effect of the proposed development on the surrounding areas.
   - The road infrastructure has not been considered properly. The costs associated with providing a new route into Guildford from the west (linking the A31 to the Tesco roundabout) cannot justify a development of this size. The scheme would therefore be economically unviable.
   - The new 4-way junction proposed at Down Place on the A31 would severely impact the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.
   - The new highway scheme, which provides access to Blackwell Farm, will increase congestion on the A31, B3000, and at the Gill Avenue/Egerton Road junction, which serves the A&E unit at the Royal Surrey County Hospital. No consideration has been given for the effects of this on the surrounding area and the villages to the west of the site.
   - All the options for vehicles coming from the A3 north into the site would result in an increase of traffic manoeuvring through junctions that have poor accident records (for example Puttenham Interchange).
   - No consideration has been given for the effect of this development along with others at flexford/Normandy, Ash/Tongham and the aldershot area on the existing congestion along the A31/A3 with traffic approaching from the west.

I object to the changes to Green Belt boundaries. This is not justified by any very special circumstances. All Green Belt sites meet the five purposes of the Green Belt.

I would conclude by saying that were the recommendations to be implemented, if only in a partial sense, it would mark the end of village life as such in a cultural sense and environmental quality. In other words our quality of life would suffer and no government of whatever colour has the mandate to unilaterally impose that on sections of the population.

Contrary to advice from Ministers in the Department of Communities and Local Affairs the Local Plan proposes large scale development in Green Belt. Not enough use of Brown Field sites.

Preservation of our Green Belt for future generations should be of primary importance, once lost it will never be recovered.

As a resident of Merrow for 35 years i would like to support , without reiterating, the comments of Merrow Residents Association committee concerning the Local Plan. As our council I feel it is incumbent upon you to preserve everything that is so precious about Guildford, namely its historical value, its architectural beauty, its wonderful views and easy access to Green Belt, all the things which make it such an attractive place to live, work and visit.

GRA report suggests 693 new homes per year is unnecessarily high and the evidence for such a high number seems flawed.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to object to the proposed submission local plan: strategies and sites June 2016. As a long term resident of West Horsley I am concerned about the impact on this village.

I understand the National Planning and Policy requires that new development must make due allowance for the character and density of housing in the proposed area and be suitably supported by infrastructure and local facilities. The scale of the plans for West Horsley make it a wholly unsuitable site for the scale of the proposed development, being a 35% increase in the number of houses.

West Horsley is unsuitable as it is

- a village of character and history, which would be irretrievably damaged by very large scale development on the scale proposed
- it is set amidst Green Belt land, large areas of which would be lost or affected, with currently a low density of housing whereas the proposed development areas would be of much higher density.

- the local roads are often largely rural in nature - often narrow, poorly maintained and with no footpaths in many areas. They already struggle to cope with the current traffic let alone a very substantial increase.

- the other infrastructure I and my family use or have used is already running at capacity whether it be the primary and secondary schools both of which are beyond their capacity (the Howard having being refused recent planning permission to build a larger school opposite the current one) the doctors surgery, the sports clubs, the station and the shopping facilities where parking is a problem now etc

I also object that the scale of the proposed new housing at a 35% increase on the existing village appears to be so out of line with the proposals for other areas. Why select West Horsley for such an increase particularly when it's village infrastructure is so ill equipped to support it and it is self evidently harmful to precious Green Belt land? What exceptional reasons can be advanced for the destruction of this high quality Green Belt land?

I am not aware of the reasons why nearly 14,000 new homes are required in the area, or how this number has been arrived at. Whilst accepting that nationally new homes need to be built and this area of Surrey needs to take its share the scale of the local plans is simply not sustainable, and in an age where government funding is scarce, probably the more so post Brexit, it is impossible to imagine the necessary supporting infrastructural funding will be found.

For all the above reasons, and the many more that will be advanced by more informed residents and local bodies more familiar with the national and local planning regulations, I oppose and reject the local plan.

The SHMA, a source of figures have been used in the development of the local plan have been proven inaccurate, and hence, the SHMA (and therefore the expected need of housing stock needs to be revisited. Additionally with the effect of the UK’s decision to leave the EU and the expected decrease in immigration this will bring has not been included in the SHMA or therefore the Local Plan.

I would like to respond to the GBC Local Plan 2016
I am 17 and have been living in Normandy for most of my life.
I love it here and really don’t want our village to double in size.
The idea of having a secondary school seems unnecessary as I managed to get to Ash Manor ok and am now going to Farnborough 6th form
The thought of having more cars on the already busy roads seems madness to me.
I am just learning to drive and the roads couldn’t cope with hundreds more.
I love Normandy and Flexford because its green and open.
So I object to the Local Plan as its proposes twice as many houses in this village for no obvious reason.

GBC Local Plan affecting Normandy
I object to the development proposed for Normandy for the following reasons:

1. the land is designated greenbelt and the proposed development of 1100 houses is out of proportion to the existing village;
2. there is no demonstrated need for school provision, and therefore this cannot be used as justification for new housing;
3. the existing road network is already stretched and full at times, and has no capacity to absorb the large additional demand the development would produce.

As point of interest I have not seen any ground based insects since we got here some 14 years ago!

Green Belt: I was absolutely appalled to read that you would contemplate taking the villages of Send & Ripley out of the green belt. We voted for a Conservative Council to protect our rights. The very mention of losing the green belt status in our little village is a betrayal of what we thought you stood for and I strongly object to this proposal.

Apart from destroying the very reason I moved into Send 29 years ago to be in a quiet village environment, there is currently green belt land at the end of Send Hill that was divided into hundreds of plots and sold off to individuals on the premise that one day it may lose its green belt status. If the green belt were to be removed the flood gates would be opened to wipe out our village life and destroy our community.

Send Hill New Housing A44.1.9 ha: 40 x houses and 2 x traveler pitches on Send Hill, which is known as highly desirable prime semi rural and much sought after location, is the most unbelievable part of the plan. It is a dangerous road at the best of times with the road at the end where you propose building housing narrowing to a single track with a lethal blind corner. Also it would increase traffic to an unacceptable level. This was also a dump and I believe has methane gas rising from the land. I strongly object.

Where to build: If you need to build new properties, place them next to the A3 or similar position (not on the green belt). I wish when I bought my first property I was able to afford such a beautiful quiet area. Instead my view was overlooking the M3 at Sunbury. People should be grateful for a roof over their head albeit not in a prime location like Send Hill that I spent many many years working hard to afford.

Infrastructure: Having hundreds of new homes without the infrastructure in place is exactly the problem we had with free movement in the EU. Why do Councils and Governments keep squeezing a gallon into a pint pot, it doesn't work. Why are there no entries in your plan to expand the Doctors surgery where it's currently not easy to get an appointment, or our school. I suppose we will worry about that later, just like the NHS!! Invest in infrastructure before you expand populated areas, and do not increase them by 25% of their existing population.

Lastly, the properties you are proposing would have an immediate impact on our house values, so compensation would be sought should the plan go ahead.

I would like to please register my objections to the proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt for the following reasons:

- The 'exceptional circumstances' required before taking this decision have not been demonstrated.
- No sound reasons have been given for the proposed changes, in particular the local infrastructure is overloaded - for instance the local football club is full and hence children have to travel elsewhere to play football. Similarly, medical services and car parks are operating at capacity.
- The potential development of thousands of new houses on Wisley Airfield is simply baffling given the complete inability of the local resources and infrastructure to cope - for instance have you ever tried to park at Effingham...
Junction Station? How do our narrow roads cope - is the Council proposing to upgrade roads, stations and build new faculties to cope with more than doubling the number of houses?

- The Horsleys have already outgrown the facilities, so proposing large numbers of new houses ignores the ability of the Horsleys to absorb them, for the sake of developers profits - note that the Wisley Airfield developers are a Cayman Islands company, presumably to avoid paying UK tax!

I ask that you please conduct a much more rigorous assessment of the proposal, which I believe will confirm the points above.

I am writing to object to proposals contained in the Guildford Borough Council New Local Plan 2016. I am a resident of West Horsley and I am really concerned about the impact of the significant level of proposed new development on our community and on our quality of life.

I am particularly concerned about the likelihood of increased flooding in our village as a result of this proposed development. Our local road, The Street in West Horsley, has a major flooding problem and development in West Horsley to the south of the railway line will just add to this flooding problem. I therefore object to the housing development proposals due to the likely impact on flooding. Since we have lived in West Horsley we have seen no improvement in the Council’s ability to deal with this flooding problem so I am very concerned that it will simply get worse with more housing developed in the area.

My children both attend the local primary school, the Raleigh School in West Horsley. It is already clear to me that the school’s infrastructure can barely cope with the existing number of children. With around 400 pupils already at the school, by way of examples, the playground and playing fields are far too small and when there are class assemblies, there is often insufficient room for all parents who turn up to fit into the assembly hall to watch their children.

When dropping off my children in the morning and picking them up in the afternoon, it is often a real problem to park near the school. Cars of parents are often parked on the pavements in the narrow roads surrounding the school which forces parents and children to walk into the roads to get to school, this is very unsafe and is not satisfactory. I object to any further housing development in the Horsleys due to the increased pressure that this will add to the Raleigh School and the surrounding roads.

I further object to the proposed level of new Housing development in the Horsleys due to the added strain this will place on our community of sports and social clubs. Many of our local sports and social clubs are over-subscribed and there are waiting lists to get our children into these clubs. This already means that many local children miss out on sport and social activities that they very much want to do. More housing will make this problem worse and force children to join clubs further afield which will damage our community.

The proposed level of new housing development in the Horsleys will require a substantial number of heavy goods vehicle movements during the construction phases, which will last for years. The condition of many of our roads including The Street, East Lane and Long Reach in West Horsley and Ockham Road North, Ockham Road South and The Drift in East Horsley are already dreadful in many places and this is both dangerous (cycles and cars swerving) and costly in the damage that it causes to our vehicles and cycles.

Significant HGV movements that will be needed to facilitate these developments will make this position far worse. Since we have lived in West Horsley (over 4 years) we have seen no improvement in the condition of our local roads, but in fact a clear deterioration. In addition to the damage to our roads that HGVs will cause, I am also very concerned about the safety of community, especially children, in living in close proximity to these very large vehicles. Our roads are simply not large enough to cope with these large trucks, existing cars, the many cycles and many of the pavements are very narrow which is especially dangerous for older people and children. I therefore object to the housing proposals in the Horsleys due to the damage to our roads and pavements that it will cause and the very real safety risk to our communities.

I also object to the increased levels of pollution and dust that will be caused by HGV movements and the construction process itself in delivering hundreds of new homes in the Horsleys. My daughter has allergies to dust and airborne pollutants and I am very concerned that this will become worse in our villages if significant development occurs. I do not want us to become prisoners in our own homes.

18. OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology I believe is inaccurate; inflating the needs of the borough by distorting student numbers. It is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

14. OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land: all requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
15. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site.

Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site?

There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. Development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)
Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
5. I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

6. I OBJECT to the location for new employment floor space at Garlick’s Arch – Site A43 (Policy E2)

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floor space will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floor space to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south, at Burnt Common, there is existing industrial development, with surplus land that could accommodate further development of 7,000 sq m.

7.1 OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

20. POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for "overdevelopment". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable. Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town- break packages for high-value To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travel card for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.
2. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I trust the objections made above are fully considered and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

13. I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford Borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

19. POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

9.1 OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages already suffer from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on local roads.

Many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, West Clandon included, already suffer from traffic congestion. Development around these villages will result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become ever popular, particularly at weekends with hundreds of cyclists passing through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements, as they often need to.

10. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1) Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being significant for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send, will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is not sustainable.

There is no provision for the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?.

11. I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I worry that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situation worse.

12. I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

3. I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and neighbouring villages merging into each other. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.
Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

4. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4) National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. I am aware that this site often floods during winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re- commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Object to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a lasting detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will not be able to cope with the proposed level of development. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2. I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly formulated. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including economic growth. These data now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The Housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too large a tri-borough area for its residents. work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
• I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

• I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

• I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

• I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

• I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

• I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

• I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

• I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.
I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Re: Objection to the 2016 draft local plan

I am writing to express my opposition to the draft local plan currently under consideration, namely:

I object to the removal of Send from the Green Belt

I object to the removal of any other villages from the Green Belt

I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough.

I object to the lack of proper consultation - the proposed sites in Send were not included in the previous consultation in 2014 - the borough of Send have not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially.

I object to the last minute inclusion of sites and object to the massing of these new housing proposals in one area of the borough.

I object to the complete lack of consideration of the impact of these proposals on highways, education, transport or medical services.

I am writing to object to the proposed building development in Normandy for the following reasons.

- The proposed release of green belt land for building will mean a dense housing development totally out of keeping with the Village of Normandy and the existing rural environment. I have seen no assessments of the effect that development will have on the Green Belt or have been given any reason why this particular area of Green Belt has been considered for release.
- Any benefit provided by the scale of development would be negated by the damage done to the environment. Supposed benefits such as a new school would not be necessary without the housing and surely the existing children in the village should be allowed to explore their green space. Dense development will also destroy large areas which are valuable habitats for wildlife.
- The area under consideration is on heavy clay and there have been serious flooding problems. To cover this space with concrete seems to go against all that has been learnt about building developments and flooding.
- No attention seems to have been paid to the transport infrastructure of the area. At the North end, Glaziers Lane and Westwood Lane lead to the only crossing of the A31 and giving access to the A3. Already roads leading to Guildford, Farnham and Aldershot are gridlocked during the rush hours. A large number of extra people travelling during these time would be insupportable. In addition, travelling would be more dangerous with greater traffic jams and accidents more likely.

I am writing to you because I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan. In particular I object to any encroachment on GREEN BELT land which under your plans would be lost forever and deprive future generations from enjoying it.

You are obviously targeting the villages in North Surrey and I object to your policy of 'in-setting' these villages, particularly Ripley, Ockham, Send, the Clandons and Horsleys to name just some. I also object to what is clearly a disproportionate amount of development in one area.

I particularly object to the underhand way in which the Garlick's Arch site has been handled allowing a development of at least 400 houses to be considered with less than 2 weeks notice.

Although there are many other aspects of the latest version of the Guildford Plan which have clearly not been thought out properly, I will not add to my list of objections at this stage, except for the outrageous issue which is the long standing Wisley Airfield site and the fact that despite a unanimous decision of the Council to turn down this Application, it has been allowed to remain as part of the Guildford Plan. This disgraceful decision is an assault on the electorate and unless speedily rectified will be indelibly engraved in the hearts and memories of voters. So you may take it that I also strongly object to any development of the Wisley Airfield site.

Site A35 Wisley Airfield
I object to the proposed increase to 95.9 hectares. The resultant increase in traffic volumes would be excessive on top of the existing traffic levels especially in Ripley where traffic is often at a standstill at morning and afternoon peak times. Newark Lane, in particular, cannot cater for any additional traffic and yet it would be the most likely favoured route for traffic to Woking from the Airfield development. Once again I object to the gross misuse of Green Belt land.

The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley can not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Fam1 Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.
Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

We object strongly to both these policies under P2 Para. 4.3.13 and 4.3.16 respectively.

They would destroy the rural nature of East Horsley, with its low density housing, and are contrary to the guidelines of the NPPF, putting much open agricultural and recreational land under risk of intense housing development.

The proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt under 4.3.17 and Policy A35 is outrageous, when approval for planning application 15/P/00012 has recently been refused for very good reasons, as totally unsuitable for the location. Guildford Borough Council's refusal of 15/P/00012 stated that the application was non compliant with existing Local Plan 2003 policies G1, G5, H11, HE4, HE10, HE1, NE4 and RE2, Chapters 4, 6, 12 of the NPPF and other regulations including the South East Plan 2009.

We endorse the comments expressed in East Horsley Parish Council's supplementary letter dated 4-7-16 and object in the strongest possible terms to the inclusion of Wisley Airfield in the list of potential sites and its removal from the Green Belt.

Our grounds for objecting include:

1. The fundamental breach of Metropolitan Green Belt rules, regulations and the underlying spirit
2. That unfulfilled housing need does not qualify as a 'very special circumstance'.
3. That it would not meet acceptable levels of sustainability, with deficiencies such as lack of infrastructure, sewage, schools, medical services, shops and local employment, together with the destruction of agricultural land and environmental damage.
4. Severe impact on local traffic due to the lack of adequate public transport and consequently excess motor traffic travelling on inadequate country. This is exacerbated by the current problem of large vehicles that are too wide for the lanes being directed here by inappropriate SatNav instructions.
5. Damaging health and safety issues for the proposed new residents arising from NOx emissions due to the close proximity to the M25 and A3.
6. Deleterious effects on local wildlife.
7. Development that would be destructively out of character for the area.

We agree with the paragraph in the Spatial Vision Section 2 that the growth in the plan is predicated on the delivery of the necessary infrastructure. The lack of suitable infrastructure has been one of the reasons for the refusal of planning applications in the past. However, we do not agree that this expression of intent is sufficient justification for many of the developments proposed in the plan and we question whether the proposed infrastructure improvements are actually feasible, economically viable and advantageous to this area.

East Horsley Parish Council's first letter addresses the shortcomings of the East Horsley infrastructure under Policies I1, I2 and I3 and we endorse the need to make improvements to roads, drainage, pavements, schools and medical facilities. These do not all come under the aegis of Guildford Borough Council and the failure to address the deficiencies of the existing infrastructure to meet the needs of the present population is a good reason to doubt the credibility of the intentions in the plan.

Regarding the Site Policies in particular, we have strong reservations about the suitability of Policies A36 ('Thatchers' (Ramada) Hotel, Guildford Road); A37 (Bell & Colville); A38 (East Horsley); A39 (Ockham Road North); A40 (East Horsley) and A41 (East Horsley), representing a total of 533 houses. We object on grounds of both the high density of houses intended to be built and the way that the two villages of East and West Horsley, which have very different characters, would become merged into one semi-urban sprawl - in effect a housing estate. In particular cases such as A36, we have major concerns about highway safety on the A246.

Guildford Borough Council continues to claim, hypocratically, that it is defending the Green Belt, while attempting to impose excessive, unjustified housing numbers. The residents of East Horsley feel very strongly about the potential impact of the changes proposed in the plan and, while not presuming to comment on the many other villages within the borough that would be similarly affected, we do enjoin Guildford Borough council to proceed no further with these proposals without the explicit agreement of all the affected communities within the borough.

I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

2. I object to the disproportionate amount of development in this area of the Borough.
3. I object to the lack of any evidence for the alleged housing needs.
4. I object to the plan to build 7,000 sq.m of industrial space on Green Belt land, when it could, and should, be put on a brownfield site.
5. I object to the very limited consultation period allowed.
6. I object to the last minute inclusion of the Garlick's Archsite.
7. I object due to the fact that the local roads and infrastructure could not cope with the increase of traffic that these developments will cause.
8. I object to the lack of immediate provision for new schools which the increase in population would need.
9. I object to the lack of immediate provision for Doctors surgeries, when the local Villages Medical Centre is already oversubscribed.
10. I object to the new A3 interchange at Burnt Common which would in no way alleviate traffic in Ripley or Send if the proposed development goes ahead. I would like the Inspector to see my objections.

In conclusion, the Plan does not serve the interests of the local residents in Send, Ripley, Wisley and Clandon. The Council is going directly against the stated Conservative Government policy.

Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I write further to the publication of the above document and write to express my objection to elements of its contents.

My principle overarching objection is the proposal to take a number of Surrey villages out of the Green Belt, and East and West Horsley in particular. This proposal in particular will have "urbanisation" implications far beyond those envisaged by the mantra that more houses must be built in the Borough. Whilst I fully accept the need to provide additional housing in the Borough, I do not agree with the drastic actions of removing the Green Belt status in order to be able to provide large scale developments that would otherwise be subject to far greater planning scrutiny.

1. Your proposal to remove a number of classic Surrey villages that currently give the area its charm, beauty, character, history and overall appeal is outrageous.

   1. I object to your proposal to remove the Horleys from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established for a very defined purpose by statute. It was designed to prevent urban sprawl and to a large extent has succeeded in doing this. It is there for the benefit of not just our generation but those that succeed us. This area not only contains many areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty but also Sites of Special Scientific Interest. The Green Belt enables these areas to be protected in order that the Guildford/Leatherhead/Dorking area does not become a suburban sprawl such as Hersham/Weybridge/Walton on Thames.

   1. Large numbers of people visit the Surrey Hills area because of its stunning beauty, villages and leisure. These visitors in turn support many businesses both large and small whose livelihood depends upon the area retaining its rural charm. You simply have to remember that these people are your citizens, your ratepayers and your electorate and changing the nature of their environment will potentially destroy the uniqueness of their businesses.

   2. I object to the volume of housing, and associated density of construction, which is currently proposed in the Horsleys is completely out of keeping with their village. The proposal to build 180 houses in East Horsley and...
411 In West Horsley is completely disproportionate to the housing stock currently in existence. There has not been any detailed study undertaken proving the need for this level of housing in these locations, the size and style of the proposed houses or the impact on the surrounding infrastructure.

3. I object to the proposals as many of these sites do not reflect the level of infrastructure in place to support such a volume of housing, from schools to medical facilities, shops, bus services, train station parking and we have seen how many villages in the area have been blighted by the bolt on Council Estates of the post war years - dumped on village back land with no regard to the architectural merits of the development, the local amenities on offer or the employment of the proposed residents. Each site should be considered on its own individual merits under the existing planning regime which has been designed to protect the environment of our rural life and given its particular circumstances.

4. I object to the proposal to build 100 houses on site A39 in East Horsley as it is fundamentally The plan already recognises that the site is in a flood plain and notes that the flood risk needs to be reduced and that accordingly there is to be no greater flood risk to anywhere else. Surely by interfering with the flood plain in this location can only transfer the flood plain impact somewhere else? That may be downstream of the site or onto adjoining properties. If there is no interference with the flood plain at the site doesn't become viable for 100 houses.

The existing proposal by Cateby Land to develop 100 affordable homes here simply does not sit comfortably with any sustainable, accessible or employment rationale. It is building the wrong types of houses in the wrong place.

5. I also do not believe that the Council has given sufficient regard to where all these new inhabitants are going to. There is little or no employment in these villages, there is very little bus transport, the railways are currently crammed in rush hour with no room for extra capacity and the station car parks are not big enough to cater for more cars. And yet how are people meant to get to work in Guildford, Woking and London as the primary employment centres? The answer will be by car, whether this be by way of a short journey to the station (where they will end up parking on the streets) or a full journey into Guildford (which is already rammed in rush hour). I cannot see how this can sit comfortably with the Council’s Green agenda. The Council certainly will not be able to force the bus and train companies to extend their services as these are now privately owned businesses operating for profit.

6. I object to the Council’s failure to unlock the development potential of brownfield sites and the volume of currently unoccupied residential properties in the Borough should be given a greater priority in the search for developable land before ruining the environment, livelihood and well-being of a unique area of Remember, there will be no opportunity to undo any development resulting from these proposals. You will not be able to wind back time.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
On Policy A39 arbitrary wording has been added to include self-building or custom building plots within the allocation of 100 dwellings in order to make the policy compliant with national legislation as opposed to what is appropriate for the site.

The allocation of 100 dwellings on this site contravenes Policy D4 which inter alia states that:
• Ensure appropriate densit’ to make the most efficient use of tile land whilst responding to local character and context”. 100 houses on a 5.7ha site does not respond to local character and context given the nature of the immediately surrounding houses and the general established density of development in the village of Fast Ilorsley.

The inclusion of self-build or custom build plots will not enable this density to be achieved as these type of developments will require a greater plot size to make them viable. I therefore object to the inclusion of Policy site A39 as a site for 100 homes as this is not a site that is capable of sustaining this number of dwellings if the principles of Policy D4 are to be observed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

On infrastructure, the revised plan proposals do not address the additional strain on infrastructure despite the overwhelming objections on this subject in response to the previous consultation. In particular the wording of Policy ID has been amended to give the impression that provision of adequate infrastructure will be enforced. However, this is not within the gift of GBC. but, in the case of the road network, by Surrey Highways and Highways England both of whom will be influenced by budgetary constraints elsewhere within their jurisdiction. Equally traffic impact assessments will be prepared, and paid for, by applicants and not by GBC and will therefore present a biased outcome in support of any development. I object to the inclusion of all sites other than brownfield sites on the basis that that GBC will be unable to secure or enforce the provision of the requisite infrastructure provisions either by negotiation with developers or through other government agencies. Any development must be in current urban or brownfield site areas where there is already an appropriate infrastructure provision.

The development of the former Wisley airfield is clearly at odds with revised policy 1D3. It is simply not possible to offer a sustainable transport policy for a site which is positioned in this location in the middle of nowhere, with no local amenities, narrow country lanes, no lighting and no public transport facilities. I object to the inclusion of the former Wisley airfield within the Local Plan.

No consideration has been made in the revised proposals for the principle enshrined within the NPPF that exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop within the Greenbelt. The proposal to inset the village of East Horsley has not been justified by exceptional circumstances. No account appears to have been made in the revised plan to the overwhelming body of public opinion that objects to the development of the greenbelt and which advocates the development of brownfield sites as priority. I object to the development of new accommodation on the Greenbelt and to the proposal to inset the village of East Horsley and others.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM} from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements

4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)

5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

22. APPENDIX C

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

23. APPENDIX D

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.
The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

SITES - POLICIES A1 TO A57

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as III as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to the scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

20. POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data: 2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents 2015
- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays Surrey Fire and Rescue

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burtoncommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane

Burpham

- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road
Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development. The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.
Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

21. POLICY A43 AND A43a – Garlick’s Arch

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.
The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport.

With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4) It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

16. POLICY D4

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

5. POLICY E1

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development. If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

6. POLICY E2

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

7. POLICY E5

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
18. POLICY E6

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value visitors. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local services. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
14. POLICY E7

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy. There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF. The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

12. POLICY H1

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

13. POLICY H2

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
17. POLICY H3

I object to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations were available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers... under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

9. POLICY I1

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure
(Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.
This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen. Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable. There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
10. POLICY I2

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

11. POLICY I3

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

3. POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this...
Policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

4. POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.
The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Re: Responses to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I OBJECT in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objections to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

1. POLICY S1

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1) The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognise that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2. POLICY S2

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)
The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would... remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

24.A. Question 1: The evidence base and submission documents

The Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites is based on up-to-date evidence.

The evidence base documents contributing to the preparation of the plan are listed in Appendix D and can be found on our website (links open in a new window).

Do you agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant?

ANSWER

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

ANSWER

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

20.A. Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound? Please provide the following information being as precise as possible:

• why you consider it is or is not sound and
• what change(s) (if any) you consider necessary to make it sound, explaining why this is the case

ANSWER

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 1. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
   2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
1. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

1. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

1. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

1. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

1. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

1. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

1. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

2. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

1. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

2. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

3. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework

4. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18

5. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involve. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
6. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

7. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

8. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

1. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

1. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

2. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

ANSWER

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.
Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

1. There would be a massive increase in both industrial and private traffic. The existing roads and traffic are a nightmare now with the current flow.
2. The constant diversions & roadworks already create a huge buildup of traffic. Any extra work needed -more traffic lights, laying of electrical & gas cables, sewage pipes etc would mean increased massive hold ups for any traffic now plus the extra cars & other traffic that comes with new houses & building works.
3. The proposal means huge amounts of extra people, houses, traffic with accompanying shops, pubs, leisure facilities, public transport, new parking areas, the laying of cables, pipes, extra sewage works, refuse collection, schools, school transport, school parking areas, car parking, public lavatories, buses, doctors’ surgeries with their parking requirements etc. The existing surgery in Send is at breaking point already there is no room there for expansion.

APPENDIX D

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to:
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

SITES - POLICIES A1 TO A57

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

20. POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data: 2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents 2015
- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed. 2016

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day. Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London. The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km. Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)</td>

Council meeting on 11th May 2016. Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment.

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
16. POLICY D4

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages. The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

5. POLICY E1

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.
I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

7. POLICY E5

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

18. POLICY E6

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:
• To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

• To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

• To help private providers market local This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

• To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

14. POLICY E7

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.
The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to other towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

Comment ID: PSLPP16/8422  Respondent: 15466113 / Tim Grey  Agent:

17. POLICY H3

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

9. POLICY I1

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.
The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen. Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy II.

By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy II requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

10. POLICY I2

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

11. POLICY I3

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

3. POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is... all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

5. POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4). National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

2. POLICY S2

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere.
Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.
This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green

It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market. These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.
The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.
The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.
The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline
It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA).
Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.
needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Do you agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant?

ANSWER
I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.
As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. "Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt." 2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not it has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

5. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
6. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

7. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

8. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

9. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.

10. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.

11. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound.

12. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018.

13. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars.

14. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham.

15. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework.

16. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

17. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

18. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

19. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

20. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

21. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale.

22. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been.

23. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear.

If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

1.A. Question 4: Duty to cooperate

Do you consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate? Please provide the following information being as precise as possible:

- why you consider it has or has not complied with the Duty to cooperate and
- what change(s) (if any) you consider necessary to make it comply with the duty to cooperate, explaining why this is the case

ANSWER

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

Re: Responses to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan

Over Arching Concerns

In 2014 I assisted my Mother in responding to the consultation on the ‘Draft Local Plan.’ She was then a resident of West Clandon. She has now moved to Burpham. My wife and I have recently moved to West Clandon in her stead. My mother had asked me to assist her in responding to your lengthy and overtly excessive public consultation, as I have recent experience as a Borough Councillor and Chair of Planning in a neighbouring Borough Council in Surrey.

As part of my role there I introduced and piloted the Core Strategy, as we chose to call it, in 2011. We were the second LPA in the Country to submit our plan to the Secretary of State. At the time GBC were entirely non-reactive to the requirement imposed by the former government to find 260,000 further homes in the South East. After virtually all the LPAs in the South East had submitted Local Plans, Core Strategies, call them what you will, to the Secretary of State under the original requirements, GBC had still failed to do anything of note. Certainly there had been no consultation, no draft plan of any sort and little if any effort made to sensibly engage with the need to release brown field sites for the provision of new housing quotas.

When, in 2014 you went out to consultation it was abundantly clear you did so in a rush and at a time when even the most myopic of LPAs could see Central Government shifting goalposts swiftly and with the NPPF constantly being amended and updated. The Case Law gave further pause for considerable thought, and yet GBC ploughed on with a Local Plan that was very clearly ill thought out and a knee jerk reaction following a prolonged period of total inactivity by GBC as the LPA. To put it in the words of a property developer I know well “GBC panicked and threw the marbles on the map. Wherever they landed they whacked in another 1000 houses to the SHLAA.”

As charitable as I have tried to be in my assessment of what has happened with the Planning Department at GBC, conscious as I am of the lack of resource available to Local Authorities, particularly second tier authorities in Surrey in light of recent news, I come to the inescapable conclusion that massive mismanagement is at the heart of the issues GBC now has with fulfilling the updated new homes requirements of Central Government.

Some might consider that pausing and critically assessing why GBC is in the situation it is in would be both sensible and necessary to avoid making the same mistakes. Unfortunately I see nothing save for a further ill-conceived head long rush to release previously unbuilt land and relinquish yet more green belt in an effort to meet a target you have taken almost no sensible approach in meeting.

There are significant brown field sites within GBC, there remain significant areas within the existing development curtailage. Yet there seems to be no intention of making those sites work for GBC and the Residents of GBC in meeting targets.

The inescapable conclusion is that by its own irrational mismanagement in the first place GBC has found itself unable and unwilling to devote the necessary time and decision making to coming to a sensible and proportionate approach to the Local Plan to 2027.

I am conscious of the significant governance issues that have dogged your Planning department for a number of years and have every sympathy with those who now have to cope with the mess left by others. However, it seems clear to me that whatever the outcome of the hastily and ill timed original consultation, the refusal to accept the information gathered therein and the re-arranging of an equally ill-thought through consultation process and amended Local Plan this time is highly susceptible to challenge via Judicial Review, a costly and unwelcome process as we all know.

I am deeply troubled to think that my Local taxing authority will be marching headlong into the kind of behaviours that are likely to lead to extremely significant costs in the Administrative Court and possibly beyond. It is ultimately tax payers money that will fund such litigation. I am deeply troubled by how those charged with gathering and protecting our collective revenue are behaving in such a way as to put at significant risk not only our environment both built and natural, but also our money.
I accept that the requirements of Central Government are likely to lead to the need to release some green belt, but I fail to see how the wholesale release of huge tracts of GBC is either proportionate, necessary or in planning terms preserving the green corridors and open spaces which characterise not only GBC but Surrey as a whole.

The very significant and well considered objections formulated by residents both in West Clandon and beyond are set out below, as I am sure you are aware.

For completeness I endorse all those concerns set out below and adopt them as my own views and objections.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT ESPECIALLY TO 6 POLICIES: A36, A37, A38, A39, A40 & A41:

- Amount of new housing far exceeds local
- Housing density excessive when compared with existing
- Would transform the Horsleys into a sizable town, something for which no case is made.
- No local support
- Collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough not Should not be treated as isolated, separate sites.
- Total amount of new building out of scale with the plan ned development elsewhere the borough, especially less sensitive urban areas not protected by Green Belt
- Sites Key infrastructure Jacking. No adequate provision is made to increase it -e.g. poor wastewater capacity, lack of schools, absence of traffic management plan, flooding.
- No account taken of additional impact of Wisley Airfield site on Horsleys.
- Extension of settlement boundaries too permissive. Horsleys characterised by streets with development along only one side of the Policies allow too many adjacent green fields to be developed by squaring off boundaries and claiming they don't contribute to Green Belt "open ness".
- Green Belt gap with neighbouring settlements hugely narrowed, especially if Wisley Airfield is built on.
- Will harm compliance with NPPF 81- e. by making cycling (including Prudential cycle races) too dangerous, ruining the rural setting of Waterloo Farm campsite, destroying the ambience of G range Park Opera's new "Theatre in the Woods".
- Policy A40 especially unviable because of high water table and poor drainage, leading to regular winter
- Safe access and egress at Site A40 unachievable, owing to flooding, high speed limits, poor sight lines, narrow access to existing properties, inadequate pavements for elderly and schoolchildren, increasing use by recreational cyclists etc.

- Numbers based on growth and demographic data now invalidated by Br.
- No justification given for 13,860 housing figure. Figure based on a secret formula used by consultants and never seen by anyone on the Council or by the public. Council has failed to seek its disclosure.
- 13,860 figure confuses the OAN with a housing No definite housing target given, leaving too much scope for the Council to make one up. I can’t understand bow we’re being consulted when we don’t know how many houses the Council want to build, taking all the constraints into account.
- Figures based on a Housing Market Area that ignores 2 neighbouring districts (Rushmoor and Mole Valley) and is much too small, since most people commutes or travel far outside the Area to shop. This distorts the figures: no reason why Guildford needs to build nearly twice as many large housing estates as the rest of Surrey put together, or half of all sites over 100 units.
- High numbers involved would transform character of the borough from mainly rural/Green Belt to urban, creating a corridor of development out of London as per Woking or Croydon.

The inclusion of over-large housing, industrial and warehouse developments in the plan, such as Garlick’s Arch, would have a detrimental impact on the villages of Send and Ripley and the local community. 1. Overloading local healthcare facilities.
   I object to the additional pressure on local healthcare facilities should the plan be implemented. Local health services, like the Villages Medical Centre, Send, are already over-stretched. Delays in seeing doctors and nurses would be much worse if the local plan be approved.

2. Local roads unsuitable for heavy vehicles and additional traffic

   Local roads around villages like Ripley, Send, and Clandon are narrow and unsuitable for additional heavy traffic. The additional housing, industrial and warehousing elements on sites like the Garlick's Arch proposal will make the situation much worse. I object to the proposed local plan development because local roads would be unable to cope with the additional traffic.

3. Congestion on village roads and lanes

   Many local villages suffer from long traffic delays and congestion. Junctions like Newark Road and Rose Lane in Ripley, and the Shell roundabout at Burnt Common often have long traffic queues, which are likely to be significantly worse should the local plan be implemented. I object to the further congestion in and around our villages the development would cause.

4. Congestion on local trunk roads

   Local trunk roads such as the A3 and M25 already suffer severe congestion during the rush hour. I object to the development of sites in the vicinity of trunk roads where there are current issues with rush-hour congestion.

5. Parking issues in local villages

   Parking in local villages such as Ripley is already an issue. It's frequently impossible to find parking in the village for longer than two-hour periods. I object to the proposals as further development around our villages and an increased population would make parking even more difficult.

6. Lack of infrastructure planning for proposed sites

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning of local services such as dentists, doctors and schools. The local infrastructure is already stretched, and planning for the implementation of improvements to infrastructure does not appear to have been adequately considered. This is particularly relevant to Garlick’s Arch.

I object to the proposed developments. The infrastructure at present is groaning under the weight it has to bear and little or no thought has been given to the further needs that will be created by this plan. Small villages have small and narrow roads which were not designed to accommodate the high volume of traffic which will undoubtedly follow if this plan were to go ahead.

I wish these comments to be seen by the inspector

PROPOSED HOUSING DEVELOPMENTS

In my experience here and overseas requisite infrastructural requirements must be established before any new housing developments are undertaken. Anyone who cares to get up early enough to look at traffic congestion in this area will observe that the A3 is practically gridlocked each side of the M25 intersection at least twice per day and I would estimate that the A3 now operates at something very close to its maximum capacity. In consequence, the additional housing proposed in your plan will produce a catastrophic effect upon local traffic movements. Ripley High Street itself is extremely congested during peak periods and the proposed Wisley Airfield Housing Development will make this situation intolerable. There appears to be no provision for education facilities to serve the new developments: already Ripley children are being taken by taxi to schools as far away as Addlestone as secondary schooling in the area can no longer cope.

I could go on and on but will leave it there in the hope that the point will be taken that in addition to environmental concerns, the current infrastructure is at full capacity (or worse) and cannot possibly cope with the developments reflected in your plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The local plan has suggested a 35% increase in housing for West Horsley by 2022 and only 11% for Guildford town.

The village has no shops, no post office, no petrol station, no train station, no medical centre and a very limited bus service. It also offers no employment opportunities for residents. The national planning policy framework requires that new residential development must be limited in quantity by the availability of infrastructure and local facilities- this policy has been ignored in the Local plan.

The density of houses on the proposed sites is completely out of keeping with the rest of the village and will change the character of the village forever. The national Planning policy framework requires that new residential development must respect the character and density of housing in the area- this policy has been ignored in the local plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

This new site will totally destroy the character of West Horsley. West Horsley is a rural village and one of its main features is that on the entry roads to the village (mainly long reach in this instance) there is a vista across fields as there is only development on one side of the road. These fields do not abut the currently defined village settlement on any side and so cannot be considered an extension of the settlement or infill at all. I cannot understand why this piece of land would have been picked for development at all as it does not satisfy any of the criteria for development.

There is no explanation as to why West Horsley has been chosen to be removed from the Green Belt and no justification for doing so. The local plan states the "we will continue to protect the metropolitan Green Belt" yet the local plan is taking West Horsley out of the Green Belt. West Horsely is a distinctive rural village and its green belt status is essential to ensuring the character of the village remains.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

I have lived in Burpham since March 1988 (over 28 years) and there have been a number of new builds more recently, the Aldi store all of which have led to the over loading of the roads making communications problematic to say the least. At peak times (morning and evening), the roads are gridlocked and congestion throughout the day is apparent, particularly since Aldi opened in November 2015. Burpham Lane is used as a ‘short cut’ by traffic accessing the A3. With a primary school situated just off Burpham Lane and children/young mothers walking to and from the school; this creates risks and makes accidents waiting to happen even more likely. The roads around the village area of Burpham are narrow and there is no space to alter the access roads. Already Burpham is no longer the pleasant rural area it was and crossing the road on foot is positively dangerous for all ages.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The new homes and developments proposed on sites at Gosden Hill Farm, Blackwell Farm, Wisley, Slyfield etc, plus the destruction of village communities (currently situated in the Green Belt) will only add to the already overloaded access roads. Road traffic travelling towards the town centre and A3 southbound from Burpham is already being forced to divert via the Weylea Farm estate to avoid congestion on the London Road through Burpham. Even London Road adjacent to Stoke Park and Guildford By-Pass are already congested and reaching saturation point - and this is before any further development has occurred.

Road users are already impatient and stressed by the infamous congestion on the M25, I believe that development on the site proposed will result in unacceptable chaos and traffic jams would inevitably lengthen and increase not only on the M25 but also the A3 in both directions. Any accidents occurring on both these major roads and on the access roads would be extremely difficult for emergency response vehicles to deal with.

I urge the Council to re-think both the size and the location of the proposed developments.

It will be too late once the houses are built. Thinking ahead concerning infrastructure is vital. Lessons must be learned from the disasters associated with the Aldi store development. Clearly the limited road access to and from the store was not taken in to account when Planning Permission was granted and this is a relatively small development.

I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan.

I was horrified and dismayed to hear of the Council's plans to build such huge numbers of houses/developments, particularly between Burpham (and next to Burpham) and the M25 for the following reasons:-

- Loss of Green Belt.
- Disproportionate level of development in one area of the Borough.
- Limited consultation period.

How can the current health service deal with the influx of extra people without serious effects and longer waiting times.

Attached documents:
At present Send consists of many narrow roads surrounded by many fields and wooded areas where people cycle, walk, run, bird watch and exercise dogs. The proposed developments would make these activities cease, because of the dangers from traffic which would increase dramatically with the proposed housing developments. We regularly see new development with inadequate parking, the only realistic expectation is two cars per household will be added to our local road system. Also we have seen lorry traffic has increased many times over the last two years and it would increase even more during the housing developments on roads that are already in a poor state of repair.

All of the proposed projects would have a dramatic effect on traffic levels and pollution on major roads such as the M25 and the A3 and then filtering down to the country lanes which cannot deal with the volume and potential danger of excessive traffic.

 I object to the figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

GBC has not published any details as how this figure was arrived at, and has not applied any of the applicable constraints to it. This lack of transparency is not acceptable in a public consultation.

 I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlicks Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch is Green Belt and has ancient woodland and has a thriving wildlife habitat, which should be protected. There is no infrastructure, it floods and the the Draft Local Plan Infrastructure schedule does not provide for this site at all.

 What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

 I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

Damage will be caused to the ancient woodland of oak trees at Garlicks Arch site (A43) proposal, and the loss of green space and amenity

 I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

There is no schedule for Garlicks Arch (A43); the plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and therefore it is not fit for purpose

 I object to the employment strategy and impact on Garlicks Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)

The development will result in the loss of existing local successful businesses, which have been employing local people over many decades, and are therefore sustainable.

I am writing to voice my grave concern for the proposed housing developments taking place around The Horsley’s. I am totally opposed to the village’s removal from the Green Belt by insetting and extending the 003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries. est Horsley Parish is one of a rich and varied mix of all established low housing density settlements with a considerable number of historic buildings. Positioned on the north side of the North Downs, partly in the Surrey Hills AONB, it attracts a considerable number of recreational visitors through the seasons each year. This added to your proposed circa 3,000 additional houses ill ensure the Village infrastructure falls apart.

There have been no sound reasons given for the proposed changes which seem to be aimed solely at increasing land available within the settlements for future additional development. The local schools are already full and if there are any spaces available it would be one or to not 1000 or more! The Medical facilities are stretched. Drainage is inadequate and roads and car parks are overloaded with little or no scope for improvements.

without a doubt your proposed plans are going to ruin the local villages, the infrastructure on’t be able to cope and the scale of increase has alarming results (up to 35% in existing west Horsley households - greater than any other single area in the Borough).
I sincerely hope you will reconsider your plans that are going to have a detrimental effect on the hole borough.

New Local Plan

I have seen the new local plan and have several objections to lodge with you

I think you are planning to build too many new homes in both West and East Horsley. Our roads will not cope with the additional traffic, all our local services such as schools, the Doctors' Surgery and our shops have insufficient space for parking now and will not cope with any increase. This, of course. This, of course, also applies to the railway station.

Our local schools and medical services are already running at full capacity and would not be able to service the additional population I think you probably plan on building additional schools and medical centres to deal with this problem but, as no indication is given in your plan. I can only assume this would require you to build on yet more green field sites. This think is quite unacceptable.

Maybe a reduced number of homes behind existing housing would be acceptable but particularly object to plans to build housing estates along the roads through the village. This will alter the look: of our village and produce something that simply looks like a suburb of Guildford.

I would like also mention that the local facilities for dealing with sewage are already Under pressure. Where on earth is all the extra human waste going to be dealt with? Will this require yet more building over open spaces?

Finally but most importantly I object to your proposals to take our two villages of East and West Horsley out of the protection of the "Green Belt". This is a rural area and should remain so.

I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch. The land is Green Belt and there are no 'exceptional circumstances' which would justify this use of Green Belt land. It is inappropriate, unjustified, and represents an over intensive development on Green Belt.

There are far more appropriate brown field sites nearby for the industrial development (should it be required) and meet housing needs without plundering Green Belt land.

I object to the proposal to build a 4 way interchange on the A3 at Burnt Common which will hugely increase traffic congestion in our village. All the Woking bowid traffic from the M25 and A3 will have to use minor roads through the heart of the Village and will be disastrous for our neighbourhood.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1. I object to the Plan since Guildford Borough Council have repeatedly changed the proposals at short notice with no consultation and scant regard for the well-being of the local residents.

2. I object to the poorly thought out Plan which Guildford Borough Council propose as you fail to provide evidence to justify the need for the industrial space and the The statistics are flawed and are used to exaggerate the need. An increase in the number of foreign students is no justification to grossly increase the housing in Send. There is no evidence to support the need for this huge increase in housing and industrial development and there are plenty of brown field sites available to meet the required need.

1. I object to the significant industrial development which is inappropriate in the heart of our village.

 I object to development in areas at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

 I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlicks Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)
Garlick's Arch is Green Belt and has ancient woodland and has a thriving wildlife habitat, which should be protected. There is no infrastructure, it floods and the Draft Local Plan Infrastructure schedule does not provide for this site at all.

 I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

Damage will be caused to the ancient woodland of oak trees at Garlick's Arch site (A43) proposal, and the loss of green space and amenity

 I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

There is no schedule for Garlicks Arch (A43); the plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and therefore it is not fit for purpose

There are already travelling home sites in Normandy and 6 more would be excessive to the area.

I disagree that the area needs more homes and the loss of country side and use of green belt will be detriment to the area, which is currently a small village location. We already have community facilities in Glaziers Lane and with Normandy cricket and tennis Clubs which serve the area and a secondary school is not required.

Ash and Tongham (policies A27 A28 A29) Normandy (policy A46)

I am writing to object to the above mentioned policies.

I live in Upper Pinewood Road Ash which is betwix both mentioned plans.

The roads in the area are already struggling to cope with traffic which in the rush hour back up in both directions. There have been accidents requiring air ambulances at Harper's Road which is heavily used. Many houses along the Aldershot Road do not have parking with our Road an unadopted unmade road heavily used by persons not living in it causing congestion and at least 2 dumped cars are present at the moment. The rail crossing backs up heavily at peak times.

I drive a Half hour journey to and from work and the only place I get held up is five minutes from my home between the lights at the junction of the Aldershot/Pirbright Roads and my home due to traffic and the level crossing.

Our water supply struggles with low pressure and with more houses in the area I believe south east water do not have the infrastructure to supply more homes.

I object to the building of 400 houses and 7000sq metres of industrial space at Garlicks Arch. This was sprung on the village at the last moment, only 2 weeks notice and without any prior consultation.

The infrastructure requirements have not been properly considered and are inadequate to deal with the proposed housing levels. Our roads, doctors and schools will be unable to cope. Industrial space is not needed and if it was could be accommodated on the Slyfield industrial estate.

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common, this would be disastrous for Send and the A247 which is already overloaded and jammed at peak times will become gridlocked. Already noise and pollution levels are excessive and this would certainly worsen to the point of being intolerable.

Send would be taking traffic from the proposed new houses at Wisley, Gosden Hill, Burpham and Blackwell Farm. Much of it would come through the village to and from the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because it's an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the Wey Navigation and vehicle access is restricted in both directions along Tannery Lane. I object to Policy A43 change at Garlick,s Arch because it ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people, this is a beautiful permanent Green Belt area and the number of houses proposed is excessive and increased traffic will block up the local roads of Send and Ripley. Also there is no proven demand for Traveller Showpeople plots in this location.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because it was previously deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made at the time and there is no need to build an industrial site in the middle of Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units. Such a development will further impact the surrounding roads and environment, creating traffic congestion, noise and pollution issues.

Guildford Borough Council have not followed correct process. I strongly feel the council has totally disregarded resident views. The 2014 proposal for 430 houses went down in April 2016 to 185 and now I see it has gone up again to 485. These huge changes should go to full consultation under Regulation 18, not the shortcut of Regulation 19! This makes a mockery of the whole process.

It is very upsetting for our community that GBC are considering the above, I do hope that consideration will be made to the outstanding beauty of our countryside, our historic links and our wildlife and that our Green Belt protection is upheld.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
3. The lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy P1)

There are no adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical, emergency and other services to cover the proposed developments.

I wish the above objections to be fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I have known and visited the Ripley area for 40 years and object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) on the following grounds.

1. The development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

13,860 new houses will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services and the local roads will not be able to cope with the additional traffic. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for the Garlick's Arch area. The Plan takes no account of the effects of the recent referendum which rejected UK membership of the EU any may reduce the demand for new housing in the future.

I utterly object to building 45 houses at Cockbarn nursery. There will be inadequate access and vastly increased traffic volumes, without mentioning the likely increased volumes of traffic for Woking station which already boasts some of the most busy rush hour services in the country (this applies to all the proposed development). The junction with send road is already very dangerous for cars and lorries trying to join the main road. This will be on top of the previous planning permission granted at the tannery and the marina which will themselves greatly increase traffic volumes.

I vehemently object to building 400 houses and 7000 sq meters of industrial space at Garlicks Arch. I have just moved away from the Slyfield industrial estate to an area that I am assured by law cannot be touched for such purposes. We have paid a very hefty premium for the privilege of living in such a place, and will continue to pay the mortgage for many, many years to come. The site floods and is also ancient woodland that needs protection for the generations to come. If industrial space is needed it should be cited with the existing in Slyfield where we have just moved away from. We have been shown no calculations of Guildford housing requirement calculations so there is no basis to plan for the huge number of addition houses being suggested. I also object to the accelerated way these proposals were pushed forward with the hope of the local community not having time to Object.

Finally, I could not object more to the proposed new interchange with the A3, which will see Send taking additional traffic from a large number of additional site containing approximately 2000 new houses (at Wisley Airfield, Gosden hill, Burpham, Blackwell farm). This would lead to a large proportion of the traffic for Guildford, Woking, the A3 and the M25 going through Send, which is not acceptable. We cannot have roads that are already fully loaded and necessary for the health and prosperity of the community gridlocked by this addition traffic, this is a green belt area, not a rat run.

The Green Belt is protection in law and there are no special circumstances why this should change in any way. Hands off the nations Green belt!!!!

I completely object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers pitches at Send hill. I strongly object to Send village being removed from the green belt. I have only moved in less than a year ago to Send, having moved out of Bellfields in Guildford. The reason my family and I have moved here is precisely for the reason that it is in the green belt and therefore by law is protected and should remain in its current state and free from further development. The green belt was intended to be permanent protection by law to ensure we do not hand over an overdeveloped sprawling mega city to our children, the countryside must remain and there is no special circumstance in this case why the law should be ignored. Local councillors and central government have given clear election promises to always protect the green belt, no matter what and this is a complete retraction of the promises and policies that lead to election.

- It will generate further traffic that will clog up the area to the detriment of all those currently living here

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt common because;

- It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all of the previous objections so I cannot understand why it has now been included again

- Industrial and warehousing could not be further from the idea of protected greenbelt land, Slyfield would be the obvious choice for such purposes as it already have the infrastructure and a grouping of similar businesses. This is not a good reason to irrevocably damage our Green Belt.

- I would like to leave my house in the future to my children and I want it to be surrounded by Green Belt land as it is now including all the nature that encompasses

- The word 'minimum' is a change from the previous 'maximum' in the 2016 plan and since that point there has been a decline in the demand for such industrial land

- The 2017 Employment land Need assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares, rather than the massively inflated 10 hectares in send on the green belt

- It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

I am writing to object to the proposed development on land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill in Send, Surrey on the following grounds:

1) Very dangerous access from Potters lane.

I have lived in Church lane for nearly 30 years and use this junction everyday. Personally, I always turn left as I approach Potters lane from Send Hill. It is extremely dangerous to either turn right or to cross straight over to Church lane. If traffic increases due to the proposed development then a fatal accident is surely inevitable.

2) New Proposal.

This policy A44 appears to be a new site proposal that has not been consulted upon previously. I cannot think of a less appropriate site given the narrow and dangerous access to the whole site and if it had been consulted fully then I am sure that the inadequacy of the access would have been self evident.

I would like to voice my objections as a Send resident to the following elements of the local plan:

I OBJECT to the building of 400 houses at Garlick's Arch along with the proposed 7000 meters of industrial space. This is a site that floods and the calculations for the need such a large housing development has to my knowledge not been disclosed. This is a new site and was not included in the Regulation 18 draft and has not been consulted on previously. The local infrastructure cannot support such an increase in local residents. Overstretched schools and medical centre will not be able to cope with such developments.

Slyfield offers a much better site for industrial development - if needed at all.

1. I OBJECT to the proposed new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common.

The previously mentioned Send Road is already overloaded at peak times and this proposal will increase traffic levels along with noise and pollution. The traffic that currently goes through Ripley at the moment will now funnel through Send - this is unacceptable. 2000 proposed homes at Wisley coupled with 2000 at Burpham will cause chaos. Gridlock through Send will follow.

1. I OBJECT to Send village being removed from the Green Belt. This is my strongest objection. We moved to Send 20 years ago because it was green belt and is in a rural setting between conurbations. The goal posts have been moved to accommodate all the above proposed development. It is a cynical move which must be resisted - the Green Belt was intended to be permanent and was pledged to be protected by local councillors and central government. What has happened to this election committment? In fill development will be rampant if the area was to lose its green field status.

I trust that these objections will be duly noted by the Planning Inspector and the appropriate action taken.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Send seems to have been singled out for development whilst other outlying villages have had there planning proposals rejected/cancelled - why is this? It means that the residents of Ripley, but especially Send, are being faced with a disproportionate level of development and change. Despite Send raising a large proportion of the total 32,000 objections to the 2016 plan it does appear that as a village community we are not being taken seriously and this will inevitably result in disillusionment with the whole planning process.

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:

a) Access is already poor with Tannery Lane being far too narrow to accommodate the proposed increase in housing. Access onto Send Road (A247) is dangerous with vehicles often parked on the kerbs adjacent to the junction. The other direction along Tannery Lane is single track in places. Any increase in car numbers is going to exacerbate these problems.

b) A proposed increase of 33% is far too much (45 homes was already pushing the limits)

c) This proposal seems to ignore all previous local objections - why is this so?

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because:

a) It will link Ripley and Send with no green buffer between the 2 villages.

b) Again there is no consideration of the thousands of previous objections to this proposal from local residents and the increase in numbers of houses to 400 is massively excessive

c) It is an inappropriate site on account of frequent flooding and it represents a rare piece of ancient woodland which should be conserved and not destroyed.

d) Excessive traffic will again be generated on the Old Portsmouth Road which is already very busy (especially when there is a blockage on the A3). Ripley and Send come to a standstill with the current overflow traffic form the A3.

I refer to your proposal to build approximately 485 new houses in two new sites in the Send area.

I strongly object on the grounds that the proposed sites are not suitable and their impact on the existing environment is inappropriate. The pressures on the roads, education, health facilities and council services, including policing, are unsustainable.

There are more appropriate brown sites and other sites especially south of Guildford.

I also strongly object to taking Send out of the Green Belt.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

On a more general note, you should add the following reasons for objecting to all of the identified proposals;

1. The council has failed to plan and identify sufficient Brown Field sites to accommodate development.
2. I believe their decisions may have been influenced by potential developers anxious to maximise profitability at the detriment of local people.
3. The council's forecasts are unrealistic and unreliable.
4. Several areas are subject to flooding and the increased effects of climate change need to be taken into account.
5. Impact on local services - insufficient infrastructure eg local schools, already stretched medical services (one can wait 2 weeks for a non urgent appointment now), transport needs to be improved
6. Huge increase in traffic and damage to the environments. Existing road networks unable to cope. Proposed additional access points to the A3 will only exacerbate problems.
7. The Green Belt must be protected. Government and Councilors gave election undertakings to preserve it, therefore the council are in breach of that undertaking. They should consult their constituents on such a significant matter which will undoubtedley effect us all.
8. If the Green Belt is removed - it will be deemed the go ahead for future development which could result in the urbanisation of our villages. Such destruction to our countryside is untenable. Once it starts it will be irreversible and permanent. I urge the councilors to think again. Surely, they do not wish to alienate the majority of villagers in Guildford borough? As I have yet to meet anybody who supports these plans.

I object to building 400 houses and industrial space at Garlick's Arch. This area contains an ancient woodland and to develop it would be an environmental disaster effecting wildlife and destruction of many species. The area is prone to flooding which would increase, plus pollution. 400 houses has the potential for another 800 cars on the road and this coupled with lorries, vans etc to serve industrial units who would either travel through Ripley and Send, - a rush hour nightmare. This is turning our villages into urban areas and is contrary to Green Belt regulations.

I object to the development of 40 houses and travellers’ pitches at Send Hill. This proposal is probably the most unsuitable of all has been ‘sneaked in’ at virtually the last minute as if it has little significance. WRONG. Send Hill is a beautiful country lane within the Green Belt much loved by environmentalists, residents, local people and visitors to the area. At weekends, many cyclists enjoy their recreation riding along here in a fairly safe, part single track road leading through to open countryside, the historic church and nearby river Wey. This lane cannot support increased traffic, has extremely limited parking and insufficient access for this development. The latter end of the road is very narrow approaching the junction with Potters Lane [this end was a private road although now adopted by the council. The residents however still own the subsoil]. The identified site is a landfill, with the subsoil contaminated with toxicity dangerous to health. It is also subject to surface flooding. If this site is disturbed, by building work and foundations being laid, not only will the housing be at risk, but has potential of increased surface flooding, spreading pollutants to existing properties.

Where is your mandate for this?

Why have you not written to every resident asking for a Yes or No to these proposals? It will affect all of our lives and we deserve more of a say in it. That is democracy. Expecting residents to ‘go on line’ for more information about the revised Plan and public events as stated in your ‘About Guildford’ publication is not good enough. Not everyone has a computer and/or skills - particularly the elderly, who are therefore disadvantaged as a result.
I object to your presumptions that our villages no longer qualify for Green Belt status. This is totally wrong. The government’s practice guidelines on protecting Green Belt land, -copy attached- are very clear. Our villages meet the criteria of the five purposes in point 80 as follows:

1. To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas
2. To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another eg Woking/Send and/or Send/Burpham
3. To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
4. To preserve the setting and special character of historic
5. To assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land

All of these criteria still apply to our villages and should certainly NOT be set aside.

I object to your definition of housing needs based on spurious projections and calculations of presumed levels of population growth. The recent Brexit vote challenge your predictions as does the public desire for more 'controlled immigration'

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. 9. Protecting Green Belt land

79 The Government attaches great importance to Green Belts. The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping Land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence.

80 Green Belt serves five purposes:

- to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas;
- to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another;
- to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment;
- to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and
- to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

81 Once Green Belts have been defined, local planning authorities should plan positively to enhance the beneficial use of the Green Belt, such as looking for opportunities to provide access; to provide opportunities for outdoor sport and recreation; to retain and enhance landscapes, visual amenity and biodiversity; or to improve damaged and derelict land.

82 The general extent of Green Belts across the country is already established.

New Green Belts should only be established in exceptional circumstances, for example when planning for larger scale development such as new settlements or major urban extensions. If proposing a new Green Belt, local planning authorities should:

- demonstrate why normal planning and development management policies would not be adequate;
• set out whether any major changes in circumstances have made the adoption of this exceptional measure necessary;

c) The local plan policy states "Gypsy, traveller or travelling show people accommodation should only be provided on development sites of 500+ homes NOT 400
d) The council has ignored thousands of objections to the proposal for 400 houses on this site. The impact on both Ripley & Send in terms of traffic jams. insufficient intiastructure and services.
e) The site is Ancient woodland and permanent Green Belt of historical interest which should not be de-classified. There is NO justification that would meet the criteria of "Exceptional circumstances."

Policy A58 Land at Burnt common, London Road.

I object to this proposal of minimum 7,000sqm floor space.

a) No Justification of change of criteria of floor space from "maximum to minimum". This will encourage future on-going development.

b) Slyfield and Guildford still have capacity - no need or demand identified to build industrial development on Green Belt land.

c) 2017 Employment Land Needs Assessment shows a reduction in demand, NOT an increase.

d) More traffic chaos, gridlock and pollution.

I also wish to state that I strongly object to the overall development proposals for Send Village. The plans are very disproportionate compared with other areas in the Guildford borough - some of which have been exempted in the updated version of the plan due to Green Belt and Natural Beauty. Send is also Green Belt and has several areas of Natural Beauty. Much of these plans will seriously impact on the lives of the residents, create traffic chaos and high pollution levels. Also, given the proposed A3 North/South double link interchange at Clandon Road, Send will become a suburb of Guildford. Guildford Council has ignored the views of thousands of people - residents, working people, environmentalists and other interested parties who have taken the time to write and express their views.

WHERE IS DEMOCRACY??

The Council planners should sit down with our Parish Council, Community leaders, residents and interested parties to work together to produce a fair and acceptable plan for Send - NOT impose this damaging plan that will significantly change our Village foreer.

1. I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.
The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)
Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

1.  I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1.  POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.
Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

1. I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I OBJECT in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objection to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

1. I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1. I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

a. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

b. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

c. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Objection to Policy A44. 1.9ha Land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill

I object to the proposed development on land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill in Send, Surrey because I have lived in Church Lane, off Porters Lane for nearly 30 years and over this period there have been numerous accidents from vehicles coming down Send Hill into Potters Lane. Cars travel very fast along Potters Lane and there is a blind spot when turning right out of Send Hill, at Potters Lane. This has caused accidents. Evidence of accidents, apart from screeching breaks, is damage to the gate on the corner and hedges. Being aware of these facts I always turn left out of Send Hill and u-turn at Vicarage Lane to then enter Church Lane. If the proposed development goes ahead I fear that the heavier traffic is very likely to cause a death at that junction.

Send Hill is a narrow road at both ends. I therefore strongly object to the proposed buildings and travellers pitches west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill because of the danger of extra traffic on this narrow road.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to object to many areas regarding the above. As a resident of Send/Ripley I wish to make the following points:

- I object to all erosion of the Green Belt.
- I object to any "in-setting" of ANY villages from the Green Belt.
- I object the amount of development in one area of the borough.
- I object to the lack of immediate provision for Doctors Surgeries.
- I object to the limited consultation period.
- I object to the last minute inclusion of new sites with less than 2 weeks.

I strongly object to the lack of any evidence for the alleged housing need numbers.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers.
However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore It does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100,82215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained, The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day. Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing a project of enormous cost. There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.
Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development. The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London. The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%,5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be .5km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "aspiration" in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2)

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.
National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site (Policy 14).

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1).

Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition of north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of 'through' traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Glandon and Burnt Common, This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

1. I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B1c) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very elsewhere which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

1. POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/Disneyfication". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

1. To help make Guildford's river landscape less of a putting and support town break packages for high value. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

1. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

2. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 - Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.
Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g., Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of regulatory capture, by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g., by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over provisions inappropriate given other constraints.

IOBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix" this can include "market" housing (i.e., normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all "(" historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances."

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )
1. I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 3000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists pass through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result at the development proposed under the local plan. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick's Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents' in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?.

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

1. I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. this will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt.

There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance' and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for pose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objection to specific policies and matters within the Plan. Please send me written confirmation that you have received this correspondence by writing to my address above.

1. I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or on any common-sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I strongly object to Guildford councils plans because of the lack of infrastructure. I travel on the A3 London bound every morning and already have to allow extra time on my journey, leaving at 6.30am, to join the A3 at the Ockham Park junction due to an excessive weight of traffic for the M25 and A3. The proposal will substantially increase the number of cars to this already congested local road system.

From an internet search I have found that by definition the main purpose of the green belt policy is to protect the land around larger urban centres from urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open and maintain the designated area for forestry and agriculture as well as to provide habitat to wildlife. The essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence. How can it be ok or acceptable for Guildford council to dismiss this essential policy!!!

1. I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure OF 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high.

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling, so there is no transparency to this evidence base. This is undemocratic as those affected by the plan are unable to ascertain its accuracy.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of 'through' traffic. This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I object to the development of 40 houses and two travellers pitches at Send Hill

Access is narrow, a blind junction at one end with potters lane at the bottom of a steep single lane hill. The other end of Send Hill is often congested with school traffic. The site is on an old landfill which is known to contain toxic waste. This is an inappropriate location in the quiet English countryside close to the final resting place of past residents of the Village.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure.

Because there are few buses, people living in the new development will need to use cars to get to work. They will either drive to work or to a station. In order to get to Woking station most will need to use the A247 through Send. The A247 is already heavily used. It turns sharply over the bridge across the Wey Canal into Broadmead, which is flood meadow land. At the end of Broadmead the A247 comes to a mini roundabout where it splits the traffic into Woking in two directions.

Any blockage to the road, by delivery lorries, road works, traffic lights or the frequent accidents that occur, results already in paralysis of both roads into and out of Woking, and also to traffic through Send. The road is not designed to take the current volume of traffic, let alone the huge traffic increase which will result from the development. Drivers trying to avoid the jams find that the rural roads in this area are narrow, single lane for the most part, in poor condition and have no footpaths. More houses will mean more dangerous and unsustainable traffic. It should also be noted that there is an antiquated main sewer running below the A247 which has collapsed in the past causing road closures and associated traffic chaos, any additional traffic will only increase loadings and vibration on this old sewer system leading to future blockages.

1. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. The Plan does not identify infrastructure improvements sufficient to support the huge development. Local services, school places and doctors, are already stretched. There will be need for huge sewerage, water and utility provision.

4. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 would need to be improved to cope with the increased capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours, with horrendous jams frequently occurring, and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I am not aware that any wildlife report has been conducted on the site.

1. I object to not protecting the Green Belt

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites 01 Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there needs to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or for development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages. Central government states that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the loss of the individual character of each village, as neighbouring villages merge into one another. Land once taken from the Green Belt is lost forever.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy. The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanent detrimental impact existing local communities by over development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) are in unsustainable locations. They do not have railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are few and far between. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, like Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport is provided.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy.

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 houses being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey. The three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley are rural wards representing about 11% of the existing housing in the borough. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being in this area. The allocation strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D).

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers.

However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, 82215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.
The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be .5km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "aspiration" in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site (Policy I4).

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition of north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Glandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site. The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mile of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B1c) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and Identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick's Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/Disneyfication". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make guildfords river landscape less of putting and support town break packages for high value. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

1. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

2. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT (POLICY H1- Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan peri It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of ,regulatory capture;;by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to Improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over provisions inappropriate given other constraints.

19. POLICY H3 - Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix" this can include "market" housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87- 89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances ."

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some SOOO houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan, The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of Improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick's Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents' in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

1. I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A2S), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

1. I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy 13)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garrick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt.

There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt &. Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the boroughs identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch {A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone i - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. I believe this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for pose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I OBJECT in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objection to specific policies and matters within the Plan. Please send me written confirmation that you have received this correspondence by writing to my address above.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

or study. On any common-sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I have real concerns and object strongly to guildford BC’s local housing plan 2016.

My reasoning is this has been badly thought out. I do not think that the local infrastructure has been properly considered and am concerned that the houses will be built quickly and the roads, sewage and local environment will have secondary importance and will only be dealt with after the houses have been built and the additional populous has arrived with their increase in traffic, and the new locals' educational needs and health issues only considered after the event.

All the proposed additional plans will not fit into the limited area without major upheaval to the current population. It takes me half an hour longer to travel to work than it did 10 years ago how much longer will it take in the future. The A3 is not just busy during rush hours filling up one way in the morning and the other way in the evening it is continuous both ways and the additional traffic will make it worse getting into Guildford at Ladymead or exiting at Burpham.

I live in Burpham and have to queue following 25-30 cars in the morning to get out of ‘New Inn Lane, how much worse will it be with all the additional houses you plan to build in the vicinity.

My doctors surgery Merrow Park is full to overflowing. It takes 2 weeks to get a doctor’s appointment currently. How much longer will it take in the future until you get a new clinic, if you ever do.

I live in London but come to visit my grandparents in West Horsley as often as I can when I am on holiday. It is a lovely village and so peaceful to come to away from all the noise and traffic in Ealing where I live. I love to go walks with my cousins who also live in the village and see the horses in the fields. My Granddad and Grandma have told me that you want to build lots and lots of houses which will mean more cars and I think this will spoil the village which is really beautiful.

Where I live young people have plenty of things to do and there are tubes and buses which can take you where and when you want to go such as to friends, school, cinemas, shops clubs and other activities but West Horsley has hardly any buses and none at weekend. Have you thought what all the extra children who would come to live in West Horsley would do unless their parents had cars and would be prepared to take them to places where they wanted to go to? Also where would they go to school since my grandparents have told me that the school in the village is already full and so is the senior school in the next village.

I love to visit and enjoy being in the country, but if I had to come to live in this village after you had built all those extra houses then I do not think I would be very happy since there would not be much for me to do.

I object to Guildford Borough Council's draft local plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hogs Back at Blackwell farm which will

1 destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

• disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
• directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
• ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
• adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I object MOST STRONGLY to any plan to move the current green belt boundary to exclude the fields behind Shalford Village Hall.

These fields should be retained within the current green belt boundary and kept outside the village settlement boundary.

The boundaries have been there for a long time so there is no valid reason for change.
If housing was allowed on this land it would dominate the village because of its elevation. It would also take away the open breathing space which is so valuable to the village's character. Access to this site for vehicles is utterly unsuitable and dangerous. It would be via Chinthurst Lane.

I have lived in the lane for almost forty years. It is extremely congested both with through traffic and parked (non-residential) cars. To consider more traffic is ludicrous and irresponsible.

I repeat that I object vehemently.

I object to Policy A43 in that the proposed industrial development of 7000 sq m is simply not required. In addition, any proposal to have a traffic interchange (4 way) onto the A3 at Burnt Common would lead to impossible numbers of HGV's etc, and Send is already overburdened with traffic from 6 am to 7 pm on weekdays.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the proposals for Blackwell farm development (policy no A26) and the proposal to build a road from the A31 to the Tesco roundabout.

The A31 is already a disaster due to its inability to cope with the traffic generated by local use, long distance use and the inability of the planners and authorities to build an adequate by-pass of Guildford. It has become a totally unsafe Road especially at the Eastern end of the Hogs Back due (not to its crossing points) but due to the static traffic at many times of the day backing up, due to inadequate signage, due to poor surfaces and due to the high speed drivers when it should have a 50mph limit or even less. The plans are also ignoring the likely increase of traffic from the proposed additional housing in Normandy, Ash and Aldershot. The planners are creating a situation that is turning a disaster into a nightmare by failing to consider the bigger picture. Many more lives will be lost and people injured unless plans are amended and designed to incorporate all the needs of both the local communities and the long distance travellers.

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Council’s Draft Local Plan June 2016 it is unsound for the following reasons:

Housing numbers

The proposed increase in house numbers in Burpham alone is 40% of the total proposed in the Draft Plan – this is a disproportionate amount and there should be a fair distribution around the whole of Guildford not just in one section. The Council has refused to provide details of how these numbers have been calculated and brings into question the true strength and reliability of these figures, as they cannot be independently verified.

Utilities

The sewage, water and electricity systems are at capacity in Burpham and these basic systems need to updated and improved in order to take the greater demand placed on it by more households.

It is not acceptable to do this once planning permission is approved it needs to be carried out beforehand to ensure that the existing residents of Burpham are not having to accept a reduction in services.

Transport

Having lived in Burpham for many years, the congestion has steadily got worse until the opening of Aldi and then it got substantially worse – this was after many traffic surveys carried out by GBC during the planning process and proves how unreliable and unrealistic the current method of surveying is.

A realistic traffic solution must be put in place before any agreement is made on housing.

London Road is currently queueing solidly from the Spectrum roundabout to the A3 northbound constantly between the hours of 3.30pm and 6.30pm adding a bus lane and a cycle lane to this will result in more chaos and undoubtedly more accidents as there is not sufficient space.

I look forward to hearing from you that the Council has come to it’s senses and will revisit and amend this unsound plan.

The way in which the Plan uses the proposed increase in demand for skilled labour in Guildford as a justification for the number of new homes. The development of the former Wisley Airfield does not take into account the effect on the local villages whose infrastructure would have to support it. This will undeniably bring a further increase in road traffic on already busy roads. The train station and its commuter links cannot support that level of growth.

The Horsley village infrastructure is already over loaded. For example, the local school is over capacity, as is the Doctors. The roads through the village are already so dangerous - Ockham Road, for example, has so many lorries, vans and cars that it has become too dangerous for me to walk, scoot or cycle the children to school. I see commuters, families and elderly stuck, waiting, in people's driveways on wet days - unable to make progress along the road as they get soaked by passing vehicles driving so close to the pavement and the overloaded gutters. The knock on effect on Ripley will also be disastrous - it's already very difficult to get through to Pyrford at peak times, with queues up Ripley High Street and down Ripley Lane. Similarly, getting onto Cobham High Street, the A3 at Cobham and Ockham and the M25 at peak times is incredibly hard already, and daily I see dangerous driving as people take risks to try and speed up their journey. More homes, more families, more elderly will further stretch these services and the infrastructure.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The "objectively assessed need" figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows, issues with the way it considers students and affordability and flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process.

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that "allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for " However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almostcertainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether "exceptional circumstances " existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

1. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as III as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondy I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless "exceptional circumstances" for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Glandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green. Belt remaining between Guildford and Glandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Glandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data: 2010 -2014 from Crashmap data

- Glandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highecotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents 2015

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street - A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Glandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane, (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road. Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Glandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, 82215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools. Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day. Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost. There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development. The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London. The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants. The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km. Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "aspiration" in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Glandon and the A3. Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick's Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Glandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here. The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Glandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick's Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians. The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site. Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current "soft" edge approach to Guildford. Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2). The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016. Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site. National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3). If the stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4). This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3). The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4). It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1). Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a) The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of 'through' traffic. The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send.

"Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved. This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough. The proposed development at Garlick's Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will "enhance" heritage assets which I fear is a developer's charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick's Arch. It is in a non sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development. If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site. The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floor space will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floor space to be located at Garlick's Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick's Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment /"Disneyfications". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford's river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.
4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy "vision" describes protecting the Guildford's unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area. The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council's own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group's proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion. The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF. The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford's character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 - Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated. I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly. Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand. In addition the definition of an 'affordable home' is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income. And at what point will 'affordable homes' be able to go onto the market at full market price? As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to Policy H3 - Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments. The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist. The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist. The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small. The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being “closely related”. In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel. The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal. The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces. Many of the affected villages, such as West Glandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems. With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular pastime, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians. The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough's infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan's determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council's methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen. Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy 11. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough's infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council's control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy 11 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick's Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents' in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways. Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services. Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable. There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy 12)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

I there is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch I (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy 13)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans.

This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council's to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever.

Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of "only" 1.6% of the borough's Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an "acceptable" percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council's growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers' hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.
I object to the "insetting" of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough's rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough's location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed "insetting" and boundary extensions go ahead. This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17's aim of "empowering local people to shape their surroundings" and other NPPF provisions. Paragraph 4.3.17 states that "the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained." I believe this should be deleted as an untruth. In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called 'strategic sites' of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick's Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a 'special circumstance') to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site. Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change. The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding. The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as I being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development "should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking." As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of "sustainable development" is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims "to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area". This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as "sustainable", in breach of the NPPF's most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications "wherever possible" and "without delay" reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Glandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing.

Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Glandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it.
instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford's OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered "sound".

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is "deliverable" and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council's cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered "deliverable". In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected "windfall" sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a "plan" that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London's commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas. The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Glandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick's Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Glandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another. It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Glandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Glandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):  ( )

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest 'value creation' areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

2. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents' Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land. Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal. As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. "Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt." Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

5. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the

6. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

7. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council's The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer's business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

8. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

9. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

10. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

11. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

12. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

13. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

14. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

15. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Glandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework

16. The proposal for Garlick's Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

17. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

18. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens

19. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

20. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

21. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

22. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

23. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

13. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

14. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

15. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

17. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

18. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1) build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”

5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.

6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”

8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.

9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.

11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

I object to Guildford Borough Council's draft local plan proposals to build 1,800 houses and industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hogs Back at Blackwell farm which will:

- destroy views from the Hogs back ridge, an AONB
- remove 72 Ha of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution

Policy A35 proposes approximately 2,000 homes to be built on the site of the former Wisley Airfield. This will lead to the creation of the largest settlement in Guildford Borough outside of Guildford town. In effect it is proposing to create a New Town in the heart of the Surrey Green Belt.

I have major concerns about this proposed development and has objected against prior planning applications at this location. We consider this proposed development to be a severe contravention of Metropolitan Green Belt policy. It will result in a New Town being created of very low sustainability which will have a major adverse impact on infrastructure across a widespread area, including East Horsley. Above all it will cause irreversible destruction to the character of one of the most picturesque and historic areas of the country.

I strongly object to Policy A35 and will provide a more detailed submission outlining my arguments against this policy in a separate letter.

Policy A36 proposes to re-develop the current Thatcher’s Hotel for housing.

I am concerned about the loss of this long-standing village hotel and significant employer. However, assuming that the employment loss can be justified, (which is a condition of Policy A36), then I am broadly supportive of housing development at this location, providing it is done in a manner that is in keeping with its prominent landmark position at the entrance to the village. The site is also close to the East Horsley Conservation Area and housing designs and site configuration must reflect the sensitivity of this setting.

Whilst we endorse many of the requirements set out in Policy A36, our principal concern is over the number of houses proposed for this site - approximately 48 dwellings. This number gives an implied gross housing density of 37 dwellings per hectare, which is exceptionally high for this location. The average housing density across the East Horsley Settlement Area is 8.1 dwellings per hectare and the highest density found in any of the roads around this location is 13 dwellings per hectare.

I would only support development at this location if it has a significantly lower housing density.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The LAA identifies six sites in West Horsley for potential development, the four largest having allocation policies within the Proposed Submission Local Plan. The total housing number arising from these six sites is 405 homes in total. For a village which had 1,124 dwellings at the 2011 Census, this represents a proportional increase of 36% over the plan period, an enormously high proportion by any standards.

The four policy sites are all located within the Green Belt. One is a partly brownfield development but the other three sites are all open fields used for agriculture and all lie within the current Green Belt at the edge of the Settlement Area. The reasons presented by the consultants, Pegasus, in the Green Belt & Countryside Study to justify these settlement boundary movements appear to us highly questionable and in no way to meet the requirements of the NPPF that such boundary movements are only to be made in ‘exceptional circumstances’. These movements clearly represent a deliberate pushing back of settlement boundaries in order to provide more greenfield sites for housing development. As such, we consider these proposed movements in settlement boundaries to be invalid.
These proposals are also contrary to the principles of the Metropolitan Green belt. West Horsley represents one of the first ‘lines of defence’ against London urban encroachment outside of the M25 circle. Yet these policies will eliminate a significant part of this defence as they seek to expand the boundaries of this village and fill-in every bit of green space within this rural setting.

It is also totally contrary to the opening statement of Local Plan Policy P2 that “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt” It seems that in West and East Horsley at least the draft Local Plan is doing exactly the opposite.

Given the scale of the development proposed in West Horsley, the inevitable destruction of its village character and the impact on infrastructure across West and East Horsley, I object to the site allocation policies A37, A38, A40 and A41.

Policy A39 proposes a housing development of some 100 dwellings on a 5.7 acre green-field Green Belt site behind the houses on the western side of Ockham Road North. Access is to be secured by demolishing the first two houses next to the railway bridge.

As discussed earlier, I consider that the proposed western movement of the settlement boundary needed to bring this site within the settlement area is unjustified and contrary to NPPF rules. If this boundary movement is invalid, as we believe, then this site remains a part of the Metropolitan Green Belt. As such and with no ‘very special circumstances’ to justify housing development upon it, I object to Policy A39.

Under this policy, areas within 500 meters of a "public transport interchange" play a key role.

Proposals for new office and research and development floorspace are to be directed to firstly Guildford town centre and then to areas within 500 meters of a public transport interchange ("PTI").

East Horsley has two railway stations, Horsley Station and Effingham Junction Station, but currently the draft Local Plan only proposes that Horsley Station should have PTI status.

The explanation given at 4.4.17 for Effingham Junction Station ("EJS") not enjoying this status is that either it is located within the Green Belt, or it is within an AONB or it is isolated away from the village or centre. It is not clear which of these applies to this particular station, but we believe strongly that none apply and that there is a strong case for EJS deserving PTI status in the same way as Horsley Station.

I will deal firstly with the three alternative reasons given for EJS not supposedly qualifying as a PTI.

Firstly there is the Green Belt aspect. This is not logical since if location within the Green Belt were determinative, this would mean that Horsley Station would also fail to gain PTI status.

Also the draft Local Plan proposes elsewhere at Policy P2 that the whole of East Horsley, including both Horsley Station and EJS, should be inset from the Green Belt. It will be seen elsewhere in these comments that I object strongly to this proposal, but the point remains that if location within the Green Belt were a valid reason for not being given PTI status, the Local Plan itself makes it clear that under Policy P2 this will not apply in the case of both Horsley Station and EJS.

Secondly EJS is not located in an AONB. EJS is within the envelope of the village settlement and will remain as such under the draft Local Plan.

Thirdly EJS is not "isolated" or "away from the village centre."

Effingham Junction (the area immediately south and west of EJS, served by respectively Forest Road south of the railway bridge and Old Lane) may not have the extensive shopping parades enjoyed by East Horsley's two other centres (Station Parade and Bishopsmead Parade) but it is a thriving community with a significant population and also a significant number of active and successful employment floorspaces and sites.

These include in Forest Road a general store (Forest Road General Store), a car sales and car repair business (PJB Car Sales/The Body Shop), a dental health centre and chiropractic clinic (Mortiboys) and on Horsley Road, Cedar Garden Centre, Royce Turf and Irrigation and at the Newmarsh Farm site, a number of businesses including Richmonds Horse Transport, Braye Hydraulic Repairs and TTS Surfacing Ltd.

It is therefore vital that the Local Plan's economy policies affecting the area protect these spaces and sites and create conditions for their sustainable growth and hence job creation.

Since all or most of these businesses are located within 500 meters of EJS, Policy E2 would be an invaluable driver for such growth which could play a major role in ensuring that Effingham Junction maintained and enhanced its position as East Horsley's "third centre" for homes and jobs. On the other hand, to exclude EJS from PTI status could very well stifle its sustainable development and condemn it to a future as a dormitory "backwater" of East Horsley.

It is also counter-intuitive in the extreme to refuse EJS "PTI" status. This is for the simple reason that EJS is clearly a "public transport interchange" as that term would be normally understood. This is for the following reasons:

• as the name "Effingham Junction" indicates, EJS is at an important junction and interchange. The railway line from Guildford splits here into two lines which take different routes into London, so many London-bound passengers will change trains here;

• EJS serves not only the Effingham Junction area, but also the many residents of Effingham and Little Bookham for whom EJS is far closer than Bookham Station;

• EJS also serves the many residents of the Cobham area for whom EJS is far closer than Cobham and Stoke d'Abernon station EJS also serves the residents of Ockham and Ripley;

• EJS also serves the considerable numbers who visit local leisure activity sites, including three paintball sites and two clay pigeon shooting sites, for whom EJS is the only viable public transport hub; and
• EJS will be the nearest railway station to the land at the former Wisley Airfield site which is proposed for the building of 2000 homes under Policy A35 of the draft Local Plan and if, despite the objections of many including East Horsley Parish Council, this proceeds, then significant numbers of residents will be taking one form of travel to EJS and then interchanging onto the

I object to Policy E2 insofar as it fails to confer "public transport interchange" status on Effingham Junction Station.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I support the general principle that developers should be required to contribute part of their development profit towards the cost of social housing in the borough. However, this ‘one-size-fits-all’ policy is seriously flawed and likely to prove highly inefficient, if not unworkable, in the longer term.

In this policy GBC have taken no regard whatsoever of the differences in affordable housing need across the borough. This has significant consequences in East Horsley, which is the area with the lowest demand for affordable housing in the borough. Moreover, East Horsley is not classified as a ‘rural area’ under the 1997 Housing Order and therefore is not exempt from the new ‘right to acquire or enfranchise’ entitlement – a factor which is likely to see affordable houses in the parish being bought up as soon as possible and thereafter lost to the affordable sector.

Under Policy H2, 40% of all but the smallest development sites in East Horsley will be required to have affordable housing built upon them, irrespective of whether there is actually demand for more social housing in that area. Moreover, the affordable housing targets proposed in the Proposed Submission Local Plan indicate that the biggest component of affordable housing (40%) should be built as 1-bed dwellings despite the fact that GBC’s own studies show that the strongest affordable demand in the borough is actually for larger 3-bed dwellings.

As a result of this flawed affordable housing policy, a significant volume of social housing is likely to be built in places where it is not needed and offered to tenants who do not want to live there nor have jobs near that location.

Policy H2 thereby fails the test of sustainability and should be radically revised. If not, the outcome will be serious inefficiency in the provision of social housing in the borough in an area such as East Horsley this is likely to be manifested in a rapid buying-up of properties for quick re-sale at a generous profit, at which point these homes also become lost to the affordable sector.

In summary then, I object to Policy H2.

It is recognised that, as stated in the Proposed Submission Local Plan, the maintenance of adequate infrastructure and its expansion to meet growing needs is the responsibility of the relevant infrastructure provider. This is often not GBC itself but rather, for example, Surrey County Council or utility companies.

In respect of East Horsley, there are only two specific proposals in Appendix C:

LRN 25 - East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme. It is not clear what is proposed here, and its timing and funding have to be considered uncertain. It is stated that funding will, at least in part, come from developer contribution. However, it is not at all clear what development is likely to give rise to such a contribution, but it certainly implies that funding could only come if there were a development; and

HSC 5 - Expansion of East Horsley Medical Centre to provide additional capacity and services for future population in years 5 – 15 of the plan.

There are no proposals in respect of all the existing problems with for example roads, pavements, drainage, and schools.

Furthermore, it is inevitable that the proposed developments in East Horsley itself and nearby, particularly in West Horsley and the proposals for Wisley, will put further strain on the existing infrastructure. There are no proposals at all to cater for this.

Although an expansion of the Medical centre is proposed in the Infrastructure Schedule, this is not until years 5 – 15 of the Plan. Given that it is already at capacity, EHPC believes that this needs to be done earlier.

Local primary schooling is also a very pertinent issue. There are 11 housing development sites identified in the LAA for East and West Horsley, which taken together would result in the building of 593 new houses in the two parishes that are today served by a single primary school - The Raleigh, in West Horsley. Planning guidance suggest that this number of new homes will require the provision of around 150 additional primary school places to accommodate such an increase in population. Today there is no spare capacity at The Raleigh, yet no proposals are made in the Proposed Submission Local Plan to provide for any more schooling in the Horsley’s.

I believe that the failure to address the inadequacies of the existing infrastructure to meet the needs of what is there already is a serious deficiency in the Proposed Submission Local Plan.

I accordingly object to the infrastructure proposals on these grounds. I further object to the proposals for infrastructure in that they do not meet the stated objective of providing infrastructure to support the proposed developments.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Local Plan Policy P2 states that: We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt. I fully and un-equivocally support this policy.

Unfortunately, despite such brave words, GBC appears to be in breach of this policy itself through the housing policies that it has set out in the Local Plan.

Under NPPF rules, GBC is permitted to make allowance for factors which may constrain the delivery of new housing, such as the need to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt or the restrictions required to protect the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (‘AONB’) which is offered protection under the NPPF comparable to that of a national park. Although these areas make up a large proportion of the land area of Guildford Borough, GBC makes no attempt to reduce its housing delivery in order to take account of such constraints. We find this approach inexplicable.

There are also a number of further issues relating to the detailed implementation of this policy which are set out further below:
a) Paragraph 4.3.13: Proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt

Policy P2 proposes that East Horsley should be inset from the Green Belt, instead of being ‘washed over’ as it is today. Currently development is permitted within the settlement boundary, although this area is still considered to be Green Belt with a particular planning regime being applicable.

East Horsley is set in a rural location and the village has the look and feel of a rural village. Its Green Belt status has been a key factor in preserving that character. Moreover, being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt has not been a serious constraint on development within the village. For example, GBC’s planning records indicate that no less than 149 net new homes were added to the village housing stock through in-filling and brownfield developments between 2000 and 2015.

GBC attributes the need to inset East Horsley to NPPF requirements, arguing that the test for remaining ‘washed over’ is that the village should make an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt. This East Horsley clearly does. No less than 36% of East Horsley is composed of woodlands, whilst inside the settlement area there is an average housing density of just 8.1 dwellings per hectare (‘dph’). Woodlands and large residential gardens make a vital contribution towards biodiversity, provide wildlife corridors, and furnish those open spaces which are vital to the character of the greenbelt. It is one thing for a planner to study a map and see a settlement area filled with housing, but it is quite another actually to come to a rural village like East Horsley and see how the Green Belt has preserved the rural character and openness of this village.

Today East Horsley is a picturesque and flourishing rural community, which has and continues to experience steady incremental growth as a result of being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt.

I therefore object to the proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt and requests that this proposal be dropped from the Local Plan.

b) Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley

GBC are proposing to make a number of changes to the settlement boundaries of East Horsley and so expand the settlement area, as set out in the Proposals Map, with the justifications seemingly provided in the Green Belt & Countryside Study prepared by the consultants, Pegasus.

I object to two specific boundary changes, which have been proposed, as follows:

1. There is a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Ockham Road North up to the eastern boundary of Lollesworth This proposal removes over 5 hectares of agricultural fields from the Green Belt. The present boundary line is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch which is classified by the Environment Agency as a ‘main river line’ and therefore represents a highly defensible Green Belt boundary.

Moving this boundary west to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. We do not believe this proposal can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. Clearly the only justification for this change is to bring a large agricultural field within the settlement area in order to provide more housing land. However, under NPPF rules this is not a sufficient justification for changing a Green Belt boundary. As such, we believe it is an invalid proposal.

I object to this proposed boundary change.

1. There is also a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Kingston Avenue up to a tree line running along the Parish Boundary at the western edge of Kingston Meadows. The result is to take all of Kingston Meadows out of the Green Belt.

Kingston Meadows is the main public recreational space of East Horsley, comprising various sports facilities and playing fields. The present settlement boundary is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch running along its eastern side. It therefore represents a very defensible Green Belt boundary. Moving this boundary westwards to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. We do not believe that this can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. As such we believe this is an invalid proposal.

I object to this proposed boundary change.

In the Green Belt & Countryside Study and its accompanying Topic Paper, GBC justifies the need to make changes in settlement boundaries in order to meet unfulfilled housing need in the Borough. However, Green Belt rules make it clear that unfulfilled housing need is not normally considered to be ‘an exceptional circumstance’. If it were the entire Green Belt would already be covered in tarmac.

The NPPF is clear that every movement in settlement boundaries must be justified by ‘exceptional circumstances’. GBC have offered only a generic justification in their Topic Paper of meeting unfulfilled housing need, but a case by case justification has not been provided. As such, we believe the settlement boundary changes referred to above (and many others) are invalid without such detailed justification.

c) Paragraph 4.3.17: Proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt

I object to the proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The only justification for this proposed change is unfulfilled housing need which is not considered an exceptional circumstance. The proposed Wisley development is discussed further below in the Site Allocation section.

d) POLICY P2: Limited In-filling

A new planning designation has been introduced called ‘the identified boundary of the village’. For East Horsley this covers a number of roads south of the A246. It is a sizeable area, covering 45 hectares, the equivalent of 23% of the present Settlement Area of the village. Within this area, Policy P2 sets out proposals that would allow ‘limited in-filling’ within this boundary.

We find it hard to reconcile the opening statement of Policy P2 that “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt” with this sizeable reduction in effective Green Belt status. In our opinion, this policy represents a de facto extension of the Settlement Boundary and a substantial reduction in the operational effectiveness of the Green Belt, whose effectiveness is significantly weakened where this new planning designation applies.

I object to the proposal to designate roads south of the A246 as being within the ‘identified boundary of the village’ and to allow limited infilling within this area.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ();

I have carefully reviewed the proposed Submission Local Plan which Guildford Borough Council has now published for public consultation. Please see my comments below.

I am concerned about the Proposed Submission Local Plan and the evidence and assumptions which support it. In particular, I do not agree with the scale of the house building programme which is being proposed by Guildford Council.

I also note that the Proposed Submission Local Plan includes the statement “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt”. I support this policy, but unfortunately GBC appears to be in breach of this same policy through the housing policies it has set out in the Proposed Submission Local Plan, whereby some 65% of developments will be made on land that is currently Green Belt.

I am also concerned that the infrastructure proposals are inadequate even to meet the needs of what is there at the moment, let alone the proposed developments in the Local Plan.

I therefore object in the strongest possible terms to this plan.

This policy sets out the objective of adding 13,860 new homes to Guildford Borough over the 2013-2033 period of the Proposed Submission Local Plan, equating to an annual build of 693 new homes per annum.

I have serious concerns about the scale of this building programme, which represents a net increase of 25% in the housing stock of Guildford Borough, a remarkable rate of increase for a borough in the English Home Counties. It is even more remarkable when the official statisticians at the Office of National Statistics (“ONS”) are projecting a population increase of some 15% for Guildford Borough over this same period.

Some explanation for this mismatch may partly be found in the conclusion of the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment, (“SHMA”), which looks at how the annual housing target of 693 homes is comprised. It estimates that 517 homes per annum arise from ‘the demographic starting point’ – effectively what the official statisticians at the ONS and the Department of Communities and Local Government (“DCLG”) are predicting Guildford will require based upon their population and household forecasts. To this is added in the SHMA another 120 homes per annum in order to ‘support economic growth’, a further 31 homes per annum to ‘improve affordability’ and 25 homes due to ‘student growth’, all of which totals up to 693 homes per annum target.

Economic growth is already factored into the statistics produced by ONS and DCLG, so what GBC are proposing actually comes on top of the official household growth forecasts for the borough. Moreover, the GBC Affordable Housing Policy H2 is proposing that all development sites (other than the very smallest) will be required to have 40% of their homes offered as affordable housing, so why another 31 homes per annum is needed as affordable housing on top of this 40% ratio is quite incomprehensible.

Furthermore, DCLG research has concluded that there is on average a 97% correlation between population growth and household formation. Therefore, if GBC’s target of a 25% increase in housing stock were actually realised, the outcome will be that Guildford Borough would see its population rise by around 25% over this period. This means that the resultant population growth for Guildford Borough would be at a level 67% higher than the official forecasts.

One of my particular concerns in reviewing the Proposed Submission Local Plan is that the impression is conveyed upon the reader that GBC’s housing targets are effectively needed to fulfil NPPF requirements or because of central government policy – in other words that GBC has no real choice but to put forward these projections, unpalatable though they might be. However, the reality is very different. GBC has voluntarily chosen to pursue a policy of aggressive civic and economic expansion – one might perhaps term it a policy of ‘Forced Growth’ – which underpins all of the housing policies in the Local Plan. In short, the difference between the official statisticians’ forecasts and GBC’s target of a 25% increase in housing stock is entirely down to a political choice made by GBC.

Of course, there is nothing fundamentally wrong in GBC adopting a Forced Growth policy for the Borough – not so long as that policy is made clearly and explicitly and is fully supported by a majority of its electorate. However, I doubt whether this is actually the case. It is certainly not a vision that is shared by myself, which unequivocally rejects GBC’s Forced Growth policy.

Therefore I object strongly to the borough housing targets set out in Policy S2.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ()

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to voice my objection to the proposals for Normandy and Flexford in the revised local plan.

The decisions regarding the need for schools is decided by Surrey County Council, who have not deemed another school in the area necessary. Moreover, local schools are currently undersubscribed, which is further evidence that building a new school in the area is completely unnecessary.

As a result, building on green belt land which exists, in part, to prevent rural areas from inappropriate development, is simply unjustifiable. The building of some 1100 houses, supposedly validated by the need for a school, would result in the destruction of rural land, ruining the village for the majority of its inhabitants. The school is not necessary, and to justify the building of the houses to fill the school is simply illogical. One of the purposes of the green belt is to prevent the merging together of villages, which is, in grouping Normandy and Flexford together, precisely what you are doing.
Furthermore, the new residences would provoke serious issues for current inhabitants of Normandy and Flexford; we already suffer major congestion issues in the morning which would be dramatically worsened by tripling the population of the area.

I suggest that the proposed plans for the area in the revised local plan be rejected, as they are a blatant infringement of the green belt requirements. The building has been justified by a supposed “need” for a school which simply does not exist.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to object to the proposed plan to build new houses around the Normandy and Flexford area. To my knowledge the main reason this housing plan is even being considered is that there is supposedly a need for a new school. Not only has there already been development of a new school in Mayford – which is inside the catchment area – but all the local schools' head teachers have indicated that there is no need for a new school. In fact the school that is nearest to the announced site, the primary school Ash Manor is under-subscribed. Therefore the new school would only be filled – and probably only partially filled at that – by the new residents of the supposed housing plan. This means that there are absolutely no exceptional circumstances due to a necessity for a school.

As Normandy is located squarely inside the Green Belt, is it surrounded by Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty as well as Sites of Special Scientific Interest. The areas specifically affected by the housing proposal consists of pastures, farmland, hedgerows, trees and grasslands. These support a wide variety of wildlife which keeps biodiversity high and the surrounding environment fertile. The Green Belt was established to reduce urban sprawl to have areas with clear air and natural beauty. It is explicitly stated that it requires exceptional circumstances to build on the Green Belt and, as I have previously explained, there are no exceptional circumstances in this situation.

The final point that has been brought up in an attempt to justify this housing plan is that more people are necessary to make Normandy a thriving village community. It already is a thriving community. We have a primary school, a nursery school, a surgery, a pharmacy. Attempting to triple the number of residents will only worsen community as it is simply creating an urban environment in a community based around its countryside. Adding to the numbers will increase traffic to unbearable levels; the Hog's Back already has terrible congestion in rush hour, and as the railway line severely limits the way new roads could be introduced between Glazier's Land and Westwood Lane, there will be no way to alleviate any of the traffic.

My final point is that the only way you have to fund these proposed plans is using public funds. The tax payers money should not be wasted on a housing plan that uses its own “potential” benefits to attempt to justify itself.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
° issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
° flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
° It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill developement being in the Local Plan The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.
The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a South West Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy H1

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy H3

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

My son and grand children live on The Street in West Clandon, [personal information redacted], and I visit on a weekly basis and stay for two days to look after my grandchildren. The Street is already a extremely busy and dangerous road with a narrow pavement and in places the road so narrow that trucks and buses have to mount the pavement to pass. I regularly walk my grandchildren along The Street to the recreation ground which is an unpleasant and dangerous experience and it is only a matter of time before there is a serious accident on this road. Furthermore the exit from my sons property is the completely blind bend opposite the church. Exiting the property onto the road is already extremely dangerous and the prospect of the increased traffic resulting from the proposals in the local plan will only make things worse. I therefore object to the Local Plan in its current form on following basis.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy II)

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. The amount of new housing far exceeds local need and the housing density is excessive when compared with existing development. This would transform the Horsleys into a sizable town, something for which no case is made. There is absolutely no local support and the collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough has not been considered. They certainly should not be treated as isolated, separate sites. In addition, the total amount of new building is out of scale with the planned development elsewhere in the borough, especially less sensitive urban areas that are not protected by Green Belt. The sites listed above are totally unsustainable.

As mentioned previously, the key infrastructure is lacking and no adequate provision is made to increase it – e.g. poor wastewater capacity, lack of schools, absence of traffic management plan, flooding. In addition, no account has been taken of the additional impact of Wisley Airfield site on East and West Horsley and the Green Belt gap with neighbouring settlements will be hugely narrowed, especially if Wisley Airfield is built on. The compliance with NPPF 81 will also be harmed – e.g. by making cycling (including Prudential cycle races) too dangerous, ruining the rural setting of Waterloo Farm campsite, destroying the ambience of Grange Park Opera’s new “Theatre in the Woods”.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy A38 is particularly due to close proximity to special woodlands including high water table, narrow roads and sheer number of houses proposed for such a small area is not feasible.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy A40 is also particularly unviable because of a high water table and poor drainage, leading to regular winter flooding, in addition safe access and egress at Site A40 is unachievable, owing to flooding, high speed limits, poor sight lines, narrow access to existing properties, inadequate pavements for elderly and schoolchildren, increasing use by recreational cyclists etc.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

As a resident of West Horsley and parent to two small children, I STRONGLY OBJECT to East and West Horsley being removed from the Green Belt as proposed in the Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan. We moved to the village to provide a safe village life experience for our children and for them to attend a small community school. The developments proposed would impact adversely on the village, with increased demand on resources and infrastructure that is already under pressure, while damaging the character of the village and its surrounds.
Specifically I OBJECT to Policy P2: Green Belt and the Countryside / Policy P1: Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) for the following reasons:

- The impact on green belt development on local agriculture, rural leisure and tourism, food control, air pollution, natural heritage, water catchment, room for public space amenities and harm to public health and wellbeing have all been ignored.

The first line of Policy P2 states, “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development.” This seems incongruous based on the amount of development proposed. I, along with the residents of West Horsley are totally opposed to the village's removal from the Green Belt by insetting and extending the 2003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries. There is no evidence that any exceptional circumstance exists to warrant this development and certainly no valid justification provided for the new Green Belt boundaries. There are numerous historic buildings in West Horsley as well as low housing density settlements, all positioned partly in the Surrey Hills AONB and this should be maintained.

In terms of the Sites, I OBJECT to all policies involving building in the Green Belt. No "exceptional circumstances" have been shown and the views of previous residents clearly expressing their views have been ignored. In addition the number of sites is completely excessive.

I OBJECT to Policy S1 Presumption in favour of Sustainable Development, S2 Borough Wide Strategy, H1 Homes for all, H2 Affordable homes. There is only one small shop, no post office and only limited bus service in the village - it would not be able to sustain development suggested in the proposed local plan. Developing additional homes would adversely and completely change the character of the village. The proposals are unsustainable in terms of public transport, parking, shops, schooling, drainage, road capacity, pollution and noise. There is no proof that so many houses are needed. There doesn't seem to be any consideration for access to essential facilities in the policies. There is no clear consideration of schooling in the area. Schools are mentioned in the Definitions under Policy H1 Infrastructure and Delivery but no concrete plans are included to accommodate the increased population and pressure on infrastructure the proposals would bring. In Policy H1 under Definitions, road and transport infrastructure are mentioned but no detail has been provided for West Horsley in any of the Local Plan documents, including the infrastructure Delivery Plan and yet huge areas of West Horsley are being proposed for development, without due consideration of the impacts on the village. In addition West Horsley has not been mentioned in the Local Plan with regards to waste water infrastructure - again, development proposed and no plan to accommodate it.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and... many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

• I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

• I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

• I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The housing numbers proposed are for nearly 14,000 homes over 15 years from 2016 to 2031. This number is too high. The model used to calculate the number has not been seen or the assumptions tested by the council or any of its officers. It has been, on numerous occasions shown to be flawed by various 3rd parties. This housing target will result in the borough’s permanent resident population increasing at 4.5 times the rate of population increase during the period 2001 to 2011. This population growth, by definition, is excessive and unsustainable for a gap town with many environmental, physical and infrastructure constraints.

Over 70% of the proposed housing is planned for land currently in the Green Belt. Housing need is not a reason in law for protected green belt land being used. It is perverse for so much housing to be planned for the green belt. Clearly, the green belt has not been used as a constraint as clearly set out in Government advice, planning policy guidance, the NPPF, case law, election manifestos and Ministerial letters to MPs.

For West Horsley this is reflected in a 35% increase in the number of houses within 3-5 years of a plan being adopted.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the expansion of commercial land in the urban area losing the potential for further housing. Policy E7: Guildford Town Centre

There is no reliable evidence provided that the retail core of the Town Centre can support expansion of 45,000 sq m of additional retail space at North Street.

Online retail is set to account for 21.5% of total retail sales by 2018 from 12.7% in 2013, the highest online retail share in the world according to the Centre for Retail Research. March 2016, online sales rose 12.3%, and it was the third consecutive month in which more than 20% of all non-food shopping took place online, (British Retail Consortium and accounting firm KPMG) With such a high retailers will need just 70 high street stores to create a national presence.
compared to 250 in the mid 2000’s. An expansion on such a scale is negligent when the Council claims to be in such desperate need for housing.

Retail is a declining industry and should not be invested in by the Borough at the expense of housing in the most sustainable urban location, near employment and transport hubs.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages. There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in West Horsley, East Horsley, Normandy, Ockham, Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that. The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths. 5000 more houses in such a small area means dangerous and unsustainable traffic.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Under the current economic climate post Brexit, it is unlikely any additional funding will be made available for new capital projects. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place

The huge developments being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion and to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health. It has been shown that Wisley already has NOX levels above the EU legal limits and by law a school cannot be located in this area as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

Our Green Belt is precious. It is what protects London from urban sprawl; it preserves air quality; it prevents flooding; it is the city’s playground. It is for us to conserve and protect it. There are 5 legal purposes for Green Belt, and it meets them all:

• To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas
• To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another
• To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
• To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns
• To assist in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.
This policy is flawed and should have been amended. In the last consultation just six individuals, out of the c.7,000 of those who took part in the consultation, supported the policy. Another 20 comments of support were from organisations such as: the University of Surrey, local councils (including Guildford), consultants (e.g. Savills) or landowners. But of the 1,371 who commented on the green belt policy 1,332 (97%) were against.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

NO EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES

The local plan proposes nearly 9000 new homes to be built on Green Belt land (compared with ~ 50,000 current homes in Guildford, so approx. equal to 18% of the existing homes in the borough) – a huge proportion. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) requires any change of Green Belt boundaries to demonstrate exceptional circumstances. Unmet housing need is NOT an exceptional circumstance in law. No exceptional circumstances have been disclosed. So the Green Belt boundaries should NOT be changed through the plan making process.

BROWNFIELD AVAILABLE

There is brownfield land available in the town centre which is being earmarked for commercial development rather than for housing. This is enough to meet our real needs for affordable local homes. There are enough vacant commercial sites to cope with genuine business need, and we have enough retail capacity already, so urban brownfield/derelict land should be used for housing.

DRAINS, WATER SUPPLY, FLOOD RISK, CONGESTION

Our drains, our water supply, our medical facilities and our roads cannot cope with the proposed number of new homes. Building this number of homes will lead to flood risk here and downstream (along the Wey and Thames). The planned development on Green Belt is therefore unsustainable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development, especially West Horsley, East Horsley, Normandy, Ockham, Ripley, Send and Clandon. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will require a car.

The development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport. West Horsley for example will see the number of housing increased by 35% within 3-5 years of the plan being adopted. The number and density of housing is not in keeping with the local area and is therefore against policies within the NPPF.

I believe that the local plan for the Horsleys is a terrible idea. Not only will the roads not be able to cope, and the train station being too small with no room to expand, but this will be building on the green belt which the elected government promised to protect. There are plenty of brown sites available to build on and so this is simply unacceptable.

The local primary school is already full and there are no additional places and building expenditure planned. There is no local secondary school and the Howard of Effingham, which is the nearest state secondary school, is at full capacity with no plans for expansion. Therefore there will be no available school places for newcomers. There is nothing in the local plan to address this issue.

Horsley Medical Centre barely manages to cope with current demands for its services. There is nothing in the local plan about expanding this provision. 533 new houses in the Horsleys will severely affect the ability of the Medical Centre to provide a satisfactory service to residents.

Including the development at Wisley, there would be upwards of 6,000 additional cars within a three mile radius of the Horsleys. Apart from the obvious impact on traffic volumes which are already high during the rush hour on the A246, Ockham Rd South and Ockham Rd North, parking will become a major issue. Both Effingham Junction and Horsley Station car parks are at full capacity and parking at the shops, the medical centre and the village hall will be under huge pressure. The local plan completely fails to take account of these issues.

Commuter trains to London from Horsley and Effingham are almost full by the time they arrive in Horsley. How will the commuters from the 2,000 new houses at Wisley and the 533 new houses in the Horsleys get to London? There is nothing in the local plan about either additional trains or additional station parking.

The new village boundaries have been extended into the green belt to include farm fields and open spaces. For example, the Tennis Club and Kingston Meadows (a green space widely used by local residents adjacent to East Horsley Village Hall) are now included inside the insetting boundary. Insetting makes it easy for the Council to impose additional new builds with almost complete disregard for local challenges. This is an example of the creeping appropriation of the green belt by a local authority.

The Council seems to have completely ignored the objections of Horsley residents to the previous local plan as virtually no account has been taken of these in the current draft plan. The planners appear to be preoccupied with what is legal and compliant (i.e. what they can get away with) rather than the interests and welfare of the people who currently live in the Horsleys or who will live there in the future. I am not objecting to having some increases in housing in the area, but the numbers must be more realistic and appropriate infrastructure must be in place to support the additional number of households. I suggest that the Council:

1. Reduce the number of new houses to be built in the Horsleys by 45%
2. Include infrastructure planning in the local plan
3. Require all developers building new houses to contribute a substantial levy towards infrastructure development or to physically build schools, medical centres, car parks etc at their own expense. (This is commonplace in countries such as Singapore, Dubai and Abu Dhabi and would cost the Council nothing).

I object to the draft local plan as it will severely affect the quality of life for the residents of both East and West Horsley, including the lives of the newcomers who would be living in the additional planned houses. My objections largely focus on the apparent lack of infrastructure planning and the number of houses planned. Please see below:

The local primary school is already full and there are no additional places and building expenditure planned. There is no local secondary school and the Howard of Effingham, which is the nearest state secondary school, is at full capacity with no plans for expansion. We are fortunate enough now that we are elderly to live on Ockham Road South, close to all amenities. However, although the village remains largely unchanged, the traffic situation has worsened immeasurably with many heavy lorries thundering through and more and more cars cutting through to access the A3. Should any of the proposed developments take place this could only exacerbate the problem given that most households appear to have at least 2 cars and there is little or no scope for improvement - the infrastructure is already almost at breaking point.

Ockham Road North and South is a narrow road, not constructed as a major route and with very bad drainage as any unfortunate pedestrian will attest to after heavy rain when waders are required to avoid getting splashed by passing vehicles. Accidents in the area around Station Parade are frequent with too high a volume of traffic using the Parade slip road, Kingston Avenue for the Medical Centre and Railway Station branching onto Ockham Road South. The Drift has also become a rat run for many vehicles with the benefit of Satnav and your plans would be detrimental to the woodland environment and wildlife with increased traffic.

At the weekend especially, the surrounding narrow roads are very busy with cyclists touring the Surrey Villages and motor vehicles have to share the roads with a number of horse riders too. Surely any increase in volume of traffic is highly undesirable.

The Wisley interchange on the M25 is already one of the most congested junctions. A development of 2000 homes close by is sheer madness in the circumstances and would add to traffic chaos through Ripley village and more traffic on all the small local lanes which in many cases are single track with passing places.

Apart from the obvious impact on traffic volumes which are already high during the rush hour on the A246, Ockham Rd South and Ockham Rd North, parking will become a major issue. Both Effingham Junction and Horsley Station car parks are at full capacity and parking at the shops, the medical centre and the village hall will be under huge pressure. The local plan completely fails to take account of these issues.

Commuter trains to London from Horsley and Effingham are almost full by the time they arrive in Horsley. How will the commuters from the 2,000 new houses at Wisley and the 533 new houses in the Horsleys get to London? There is nothing in the local plan about either additional trains or additional station parking.

The new village boundaries have been extended into the green belt to include farm fields and open spaces. For example, the Tennis Club and Kingston Meadows, a green space widely used by local residents adjacent to East Horsley Village Hall, are now included inside the insetting boundary. Insetting makes it easy for the Council to impose additional new builds with almost complete disregard for local challenges. This is an example of the creeping appropriation of the green belt by local authorities.

The Council seems to have completely ignored the objections of Horsley residents to the previous local plan as virtually no account has been taken of these in the current draft plan. The planners appear to be preoccupied with what is legal and compliant (i.e. what they can get away with) rather than the interests and welfare of the people who currently live in the Horsleys or who will live there in the future. I am not objecting to having some increases in housing in the area, but the numbers must be more realistic and appropriate infrastructure must be in place to support the additional number of householders. I suggest that the Council:

1. Reduce the number of new houses to be built in the Horsleys by 45%
2. Include infrastructure planning in the local plan
3. Require all developers building new houses to contribute a substantial levy towards infrastructure development or to physically build schools, medical centres, car parks etc at their own expense. (This is commonplace in countries such as Singapore, Dubai and Abu Dhabi and would cost the Council nothing).

I object to Guildford Borough Council's draft local plan proposals to build 1,800 houses and industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hogs Back at Blackwell farm which will:

- destroy views from the Hogs back ridge, an AONB
- remove 72 Ha of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I am writing to object to the final draft local plan that has just been released, and I want my comments to be seen by the Planning Inspector.

1. I object to the fact that GBC has changed every major site in Send and added a major new road junction without full consultation under regulation 18.
2. I object to Send being removed from the green belt, in particular to areas such as the playing fields and woodlands behind the school, and the land along the River Wey which is a particularly beautiful area.
3. I object to plan for houses and warehousing at Garlick's Arch. This site is new and was not included in any previous consultation. It is Green Belt protected by the NPPF to prevent the converging of communities...no exceptions!!! This site is covered in ancient woodland dating back to the 16th century.
4. I object to the proposal for a new 4 way link onto the A3 at Burnt Common. This would make Send a major thoroughfare for traffic from the M25, A3, and the proposed house at both Burpham and Wisl Send already experiences traffic jams daily and a further burden of traffic such as this would be calamitous.
5. I object to Policy A44, land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill. This again was not included in the draft and was not consulted upon. Such a proposal would make Send Hill very hazardous for the school children going to and from St Bedes School, and as there was a land fill site there up until the late 80's early 90's it would be an inappropriate area for housing and travellers pitches because of the risk of toxic gas.
6. And in general I object to the proposals as a whole as Send does not have the infrastructure to cope with the additional population and traffic...neither the school or the local sewers, nor the medical services.

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) and limited public transport to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling for which there is no empirical or logical evidence provided.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes most with two cars.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham
4. The increase in the already severe congestion on the A3 and Ripley village.
5. The lack of suitable public transport. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads on the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
6. The absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
7. The A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

7) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. - Objections to removing Green Belt.
  1. Loss of countryside which provides recreation and space for our children to connect with nature, so vital in mental health in this electronic age.
2. Such a large increase in population- 533 new houses- will increase traffic congestion and also impact on rail services locally.
3. The suggested increase in land available, noted in ‘extension of boundaries’ clause, must be [scramped] on- an invidious practice our super markets indulge in.
4. The housing plan must include downsize and affordable houses.

1. Number of houses required.

I disagree with the number of houses required in this plan.

The quoted number of houses required (from the SHMA) is 693. Much uncertainty seems to surround this figure in that it is too high, and double the figure given only four years ago.

The proposed number of 14,000 houses is unsustainable, resulting in over development around Guildford. It also proposes a disproportion of development to the north of Guildford, greatly affecting Burpham.

4, Gosden Hill Farm Development

I strongly object to the proposed development at Gosden Hill Farm, it should not be built on the Green Belt. The development of 2,000 houses will very much increase the local traffic and put a considerable strain on the infrastructure of Burpham.
Flooding with regards to the Gosden Hill Farm Development-It would appear from the proposed plan that the Merrow Stream will flow through a part of Gosden Hill Farm development. This stream seriously flooded 2 houses during the floods of December 2013 (one to an insurance claim of £80,000). A considerable amount of surface water flowed down from Merrow Park Estate, as it does during heavy rainfall. This swells the Merrow Common Stream and results in flooding around Merrow Lane Bridge and culverts in the Merrow Common Stream. The developers of Merrow Park should have built a holding lake for the estate but this was never done. Consequently, the surface water follows a downward path to the culvert in Merrow Lane. Again, the building of Gosden Hill Farm will cause the drainage water to flow into the stream and increase the possibility of flooding.

1. Traffic and Roads

The road at present in Burpham are not sufficient to take the amount of traffic which will be generated by the new developments.

The proposed Sustainable Movement Corridor in the proposal of London Road will not take the amount of traffic required, even if the possible A3 tunnel is built.

The increase in traffic will not be able to be dealt with by the London Road/New Inn Lane roundabout.

Thus, again I object to the plan in regard to traffic movement in Burpham.

I strongly object to the 2016 Guildford Draft Local Plan on the following grounds in this plan.

1. Loss of Green Belt Land between Burpham and M25.

There is a disproportionate level of development to the north of Guildford.

The proposed developments of Garlicks Arch, Send, Wisley and Gosden Hill Farm will be developments that will infill the Green Belt from the Northern Edge of, Burpham up to the M2S at Wisley.

The plan does not offer sufficient evidence of exceptional circumstances to justify allocating Green Belt land for strategic development and more consideration should be given to Brownfield development.

Consequently, I object to the loss of the Green Belt, especially the Gosden Hill Farm development.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I wish to object strongly to the proposed building, road, and travellers pitches that GBC have put in place.

1. I object to the increase of proposed houses from 185 to 485 in the area. Send cannot take it.
2. I object to the proposed building on Green Belt. If we do not save the Green Belt the whole of Surrey will be a mass of concrete structures and it should not be thought about. Also the roads will not take heavy traffic.
3. I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt, we don't have enough green areas in Surrey for wild life and parks - one day we will be joined up with Woking and Guildford- not a nice thought
4. I object to the land at Garlick’s Arch Burnt Common being designated for 400 houses and industrial and warehousing. Why use this land when Slyfield is used as an industrial site? I also object to the proposed new
4-way interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common. This will cause drastic road obstructions through Send as it will be used as a highway from the M25,A3 through to Woking. Send is always gridlocked during peak times - this will only make it worse for residents.

5. I object most strongly to the proposed building of 40 homes and 2 travellers pitches in Send Hill. This is a quiet residential area with wood and open Also we now have a lovely Cemetery - the peace would be shattered. Send Hill is a single track road for most of it and the provision of houses together with at least two cars per household would prove catastrophic for the present residents. As for putting 2 travellers pitches in the middle of a quiet secluded spot behind beautiful houses, ridiculous.

6. Has anyone thought of the impact all this new development will have on the local school (full to capacity at the moment) and also medical centre. It's bad enough now to get appointments with our doctors - what will happen when 485 houses are built?

I OBJECT ESPECIALLY TO 6 POLICIES: A36, A37, A38, A39, A40 & A41:
- Amount of new housing far exceeds local need.
- Housing density excessive when compared with existing development.
- Would transform the Horsleys into a sizable town, something for which no case is made.
- No local support.
- Collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough not considered. Should not be treated as isolated, separate sites.
- Total amount of new building out of scale with the planned development elsewhere the borough, especially less sensitive urban areas not protected by Green Belt.
- Sites unsustainable. Key infrastructure lacking. No adequate provision is made to increase it – e.g. poor wastewater capacity, lack of schools, absence of traffic management plan, flooding.
- No account taken of additional impact of Wisley Airfield site on Horsleys.
- Extension of settlement boundaries too permissive. Horsleys characterised by streets with development along only one side of the road. Policies allow too many adjacent green fields to be developed by squaring off boundaries and claiming they don’t contribute to Green Belt “openness”.

- Green Belt gap with neighbouring settlements hugely narrowed, especially if Wisley Airfield is built on.
- Will harm compliance with NPPF 81 – e.g. by making cycling (including Prudential cycle races) too dangerous, ruining the rural setting of Waterloo Farm campsite, destroying the ambience of Grange Park Opera’s new “Theatre in the Woods”.

1931 of 2543
• Policy A40 especially unviable because of high water table and poor drainage, leading to regular winter flooding.
• Safe access and egress at Site A40 unachievable, owing to flooding, high speed limits, poor sight lines, narrow access to existing properties, inadequate pavements for elderly and schoolchildren, increasing use by recreational cyclists etc.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT ALSO TO POLICY A35 (WISLEY AIRFIELD):
• Should not be in the plan for all the reasons the Planning Committee rejected the identical recent proposal by Wisley Investment Properties.
• Irregularity of including this policy in the plan 24 hours before this planning application was rejected (like extending the time allowed for the developers to present their application).
• Unacceptable Conservative Party links between the developers and the Council.
• No Green Belt “exceptional circumstances” presented.
• Not a brownfield site as stated – only 15% of it.
• Proposed SCC waste site ignored.
• Loss of farming land.
• Too near RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath SPA.
• SANG would harm on SPA.
• Will aggravate traffic jams at A3 roundabout and M25 Junction 10.
• Unacceptable increase in air pollution.
• No existing public transport and stations miles away.
• No proper traffic data.
• Housing density far too great.
• Over 2,000 houses will swamp and destroy Ockham conservation area, with impact on listed buildings.
• Access confined to inadequate narrow lanes.
• Water table and surface water flooding not considered either for site itself or for downstream areas on River Mole.
• Major impact on neighbouring villages, especially Horsleys.
• No assessment made of collective impact on area of this and 6 Horsley sites.

I OBJECT TO POLICY D4 (DEVELOPMENT IN URBAN AREAS AND INSET VILLAGES)
• No commitment to expand social housing or accommodation for people who can’t afford so-called affordable homes.
• Not enough new homes in urban areas, despite demand and need for urban regeneration and protection of Green Belt.
• Objectives for inset villages cancelled out by plans for excessive housing growth there.

- Incompatible with high housing numbers proposed for rural areas elsewhere in the plan.
- Insetting and settlement boundary extension endanger appropriate rural activities listed that depend on maintaining rural areas’ character.
- Town-centre uses for rural areas contradict government’s localism policy and need to consult and protect village environments.

I OBJECT TO POLICY E6 (LEISURE AND VISITOR EXPERIENCE):
- Danger of overdevelopment: success doesn’t depend on building “attractions” which can harm heritage and rural settings. No case made for creating new ones.
- No policy of opposing reduction in rural hotel capacity.
- No definition of what added value interventions by Council can make to normal visitor market mechanisms.
- No policy of supporting Guildford countryside as its prime leisure and visitor asset, whose value rises as London gets bigger and busier.
• No vision of what the ideal visitor experience of the borough actually is and how to support its various elements.

I OBJECT TO POLICY E7 (TOWN CENTRE):

• No statement in policy wording of value of Guildford’s rural setting and views.
• No consideration of Town Centre Master Plan, GVG proposals or station redevelopment plans.
• Proportion of new housing in town far too small. Development pushed into countryside, ruining the latter and harming urban regeneration.
• No brownfield register.
• Too much big retail, despite online shopping revolution and decline of traditional high streets internationally. Futile to try to turn Guildford into Woking or Kingston.
• No measures to support small, niche retailers in town, e.g. through business rates.

I OBJECT TO POLICY H2 (AFFORDABLE HOMES):
• Using the official definition of Affordable is a joke. Affordable homes round here are not affordable! Pushing for these homes just means pushing for more development.
• The viability clause lets developers off the hook of providing even these (non-) affordable homes. Too open to manipulation.
• Contradicts government policy to develop less advantaged regions of the UK. People don’t have to live and work in Guildford but should be encouraged to move to cheaper, less congested areas.
• This policy won’t affect market forces or house prices. Guildford is too small and too near London to influence these, however many homes it builds.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I1 (INFRASTRUCTURE & DELIVERY)
• Infrastructure considered here as an afterthought, rather than pre-condition of development. Should be a key issue for the rest of the plan.
• Excessive housebuilding in countryside not supported by any funding or provision for infrastructure.
• Heavy focus on building on greenfield sites inefficient and unnecessary: cheap for developers but much more expensive for the public who have to fund the infrastructure.
• Draft CIL scale discourages use of brownfield land first.
• No plan for organic increase in existing traffic congestion, let alone once thousands of houses are built across the countryside. Local roads hardly considered. Green Belt being eroded before road widening/improvement plans certain, encouraging over-development of greenfield sites.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I2 (SUPPORTING DTP’S ROAD STRATEGY):
• Doesn’t allow for catastrophic increase in traffic resulting from spreading new housing estates across the borough.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I3 (SUSTAINABLE TRANSPORT):
• Just a list of generic measures, not related to real life or the particularities of Guildford.
• Fails to treat sustainability as a constraint. Assumes excessive levels of development proposed in the plan can be supported by sustainable development.
• Unrealistic. Most people can’t or won’t walk or cycle – commuters in a hurry, the elderly, children, people who are unwell or unfit, people carrying heavy shopping or other goods. I.e. most residents!
• Town’s eye view of transport. Ignores scarcity of existing rural public transport and commercial unviability of increasing it. Ignores terrible state of Surrey’s roads, potholes, flooding etc. Ignores extra stress to be created by huge new housing estates in countryside.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT TO POLICY P2 (GREEN BELT):
• No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
• No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
• Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
• Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
• Impact on flood control ignored.
• Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
• Impact on biodiversity ignored.
• Impact on natural heritage ignored.
• Impact on water catchment ignored.
• Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
• Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
• Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
• Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored.
• Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
• Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
• Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
• Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
• “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
• Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
• Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit.
• Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT TO POLICY S2 (BOROUGH-WIDE STRATEGY):
• Numbers based on growth and demographic data now invalidated by Brexit.
• No justification given for 13,860 housing figure. Figure based on a secret formula used by consultants and never seen by anyone on the Council or by the public. Council has failed to seek its disclosure.
• 13,860 figure confuses the OAN with a housing target. No definite housing target given, leaving too much scope for the Council to make one up. I can’t understand how we’re being consulted when we don’t know how many houses the Council want to build, taking all the contraints into account.
• Figures based on a Housing Market Area that ignores 2 neighbouring districts (Rushmoor and Mole Valley) and is much too small, since most people commute or travel far outside the Area to shop or study. This distorts the figures: no reason why Guildford needs to build nearly twice as many large housing estates as the rest of Surrey put together, or half of all sites over 100 units.
• High numbers involved would transform character of the borough from mainly rural/Green Belt to urban, creating a corridor of development out of London as per Woking or Croydon.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

1. POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.
The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcots Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )
I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council’s eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. And when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).
The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

I OBJECT to Policy E1 - Natural environment

The policy should place much greater emphasis on the conservation of the natural environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” natural assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.
Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.
There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students Ire accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university’s ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.
Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The
The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”.

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guilford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN Ire not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of ”About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.

2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework

8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens

11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may well conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted. The Council should also consider the impact that objections (which will inevitably be made) on any planning applications on these sites will have on its capacity to deal with planning matters.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

1. POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data

• Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
• Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
• Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
• Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

• 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

• 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
• 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
• 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.
No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data
• Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
• Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
• Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
• Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

• 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

• 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
• 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burnt common and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
• 30 June 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see above and below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained. To allow this would be plain irresponsible.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.
Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.
It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infant school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.
I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that, whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new Opera house).

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or no force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions. This is another serious flaw in the plan.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London. This would have many benefits to Guildford itself.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions. This alone makes the overall policy ineffective and capable of challenge.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”
The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses through all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. This will increase the risk of serious accidents.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon where my parents live, already suffer from intolerable traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists pass through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements. As I say above, as an electric wheelchair who often visits, the danger is already substantial and would only worsen if the proposed developments were to go ahead.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.
Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network, phone and broadband and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital; where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan. This is clearly a huge flaw in the plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objections to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

The A247 in West Clandon is already used by too many vehicles travelling too quickly and any additional traffic could make it dangerous.

As an electric wheelchair user I often travel between my parents’ home [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998.] Guildford and Clandon station. The road is already too busy to cross safely, especially when cars are travelling above the speed limit as they often do. There is limited pavement on either side of the road and it is incredibly scary when large vehicles including lorries regularly mount the pavement at various “pinch points” along the road, or come extremely close to me when I am travelling on the pavement. There are no sensible places to cross the A247 between my parents’ house and either the train station or the bus stops, but as I am reliant on accessible public transport I have no choice but to put myself in danger in order to reach my destination. Even where you can see a little distance in either direction, this is insufficient with the volume of traffic using the road and the fact that it consistently approaches at speeds well above the limit. Any increase in the volume of traffic using the A247 (which would be the inevitable outcome were these plans to go ahead as currently described) would be extremely dangerous, not only for myself but for others using the pavements, especially those with disabilities, small children or pushchairs who require the full width of the pavement and can’t move out of the way quickly if vehicles come to close or even mount the pavement. The presence of many narrow points and a large density of twists and turns along the A247 make it difficult for drivers to see what is ahead and drive safely, especially when the speed limit is being exceeded. I believe that local peoples’ lives will be put at risk as a direct result of these plans being carried out as they stand and I fully expect the council to take this into consideration and not go ahead.

Similarly in peak times Guildford City Centre is already too busy and congested, and there is little possibility for mitigating this problem, or indeed consideration of this issue in the proposals.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.
I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.
Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from too often severe congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. "Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt." Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.
3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.
4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham.
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework.
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 4: Duty to cooperate

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

---

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.
Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

Some 295 houses in various smaller developments in West Horsley, 100 in Send and 15 in Ripley. These will generate traffic on the A 247 to access the A3.

Document:  Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A25

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Gosden Hill development of 1,700 houses. Reference to a potential link road from the development to the A247. The clear implication is for an access from the development to the A247 with enormous traffic implications for the A247.

South bound off- and on- slip roads to service the development and replace the existing off- slip road to Burpham. The only North bound access to the A3 will be via the existing slip road off Clay Lane. (See later, Burnt Common).

A 4-entry form secondary school, a primary school, a retail centre and a park and ride for up to 700 cars.

When developed, the new employment site at the north side of Gosden Hill Farm (site allocation A25) will be treated as an Office and Research & Development Strategic Employment Site (7,000sq.m). This could mean several hundred employees.

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1,700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Garlick’s Arch development of 400+ houses and facilities for travelling showmen (implies storage yards and long vehicles). This will generate traffic on the A247.

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the Green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well, I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.
12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over nine years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.
13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.
14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.
15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.
16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 and M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Burnt Common strategic industrial employment site for light industry, storage and distribution activities. It is to be designated an Industrial Strategic Employment Site which means that it is a preferred site for industrial development including waste management facilities. The site is 9ha which it is stated allows for considerable future expansion. This will generate large amounts of traffic including heavy vehicles on the A247.

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site.
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented”.
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units. This is particularly wasteful at a time when our economy is under stress and every effort should be made to be efficient.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space”.
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Although much is made of the need for new infrastructure to support these developments and for this to be in place as needed, the Plan admits “we forecast that there will also be an absolute increase in overall traffic volumes” and this is assuming all the infrastructure (listed in App. C to the Plan) is in place in a timely fashion. GBC has little or no control over the plans of Surrey County Council as the local highways authority and Highways England for trunk roads. Worryingly, the Plan now has even less substantive information about improvements to the A3 South of the M25 from Highways England and it appears that their plans are not yet formed (Policy ID2). In the absence of such information, the infrastructure proposed is specific to each proposed development and does not address cumulative effects. What would be the case with regard to planning approval if SCC and/or HE do not provide timely infrastructure? It is clearly impossible to go head with the proposed developments absent guarantees that appropriate infrastructure is in place.

The Plan now calls for nearly all infrastructure to be funded by developers (see APP. C). We question how realistic it is to expect developers not only to pay for all the infrastructure but also to have it in place in a timely fashion. The Plan says that planning permission will be refused if timely provision of infrastructure cannot be secured. Such refusals will almost certainly be settled in the courts. Developers’ business models are based on building and selling houses to create the cash to provide infrastructure. People will be living on the sites well before infrastructure is complete. Will GBC prevent development of Gosden Hill until slip roads etc. are provided off and onto the A3? Again, the infrastructure is site specific and does not address cumulative effects.

If development were to be refused the land would still have been removed from the green belt and its future rendered uncertain.

Residents are being asked to accept very large amounts of development with little or no detail being provided on measures which would relieve existing congestion and limit future problems. The cumulative effects of the developments listed below are certain to have a devastating effect on the A247 through our village (and of course on Send) and it is hard to see how any of the infrastructure proposed in the Plan (App. C) will do anything to mitigate the effects of these developments on the A247 and hence our village.

Summary of the Impacts on the A247 – My Objections

All of these developments will draw additional traffic to the A247 through the village. It would be naïve to think that the employment sites and schools will serve only the developments themselves. Apart from the normal movements of residents to and from the new sites there will be considerable additional traffic on the A247 generated by:

- children from elsewhere being delivered to schools and collected
- the employees of the offices and industrial sites getting to work and returning home
- the vehicle movements generated by distribution and storage activities
- traffic from Wisley wishing to travel South and returning
- traffic from Gosden Hill wishing to travel South and returning
- traffic from Slyfield wishing to travel South and returning
- private and commercial traffic originating in the South and accessing Gosden Hill, Burnt Common or the A3 and returning (including traffic from Dunsfold)

The A247 although an A road:
- is less than 2 vehicle wide in places
- does not have continuous footpaths
- has several sharp bends
- has a hump-backed bridge with poor site lines
- has a very difficult junction to access the station
- is largely unlit
- has a primary school
- is already very congested at times

You will recall that in prior responses I explained that my wheelchair-bound disabled daughter often visits us and travels from Clandon station to our home along the A247 and that any increase in traffic ill increase the danger to her in making that journey. I see no attempt to deal with this point.

Non-plan Items – My Objections

Surrey County Council’s business plan for Newlands Corner (not referenced in the Local Plan) to attract 100,000 more visitors a year. A significant proportion of these can be expected to use the A247.

Waverly B. C. has approved the development of 1,800 homes at Dunsfold which has the potential to feed traffic trying to avoid Guildford, onto the A247 to access the A3 (not referenced in the Local Plan).
Cumulative impact of changes – My Objections

Changes to the Plan have done nothing to alleviate the problems (particularly of traffic and congestion and their effects on public health) raised in residents’ previous responses. Indeed it is now clear that the problems will be made much worse. There do not appear to be any changes which would be of benefit to the Clandons and indeed the cumulative effect of what is in the Plan and some external factors not in the Plan will have a much worse impact on the A247 through West Clandon and Send than the 2016 draft. Note that the A247 is the only road over the Guildford to Waterloo railway, North of Guildford that doesn’t involve travelling through the town centre.

Duty to Cooperate – My Objections

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made”.

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- Destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge – a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- Remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- Increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- Result in rat running through local roads
- Add to Guildford’s pollution.

Comment ID: PSLPA16/2134  Respondent: 15478497 / Enid Woodford  Agent:
I wish to object to the number of new houses proposed in the new Local Plan. I think that integrating the huge number of new residents would be almost impossible as the local facilities such as the Medical Centre, Schools, and indeed the roads themselves, are already under great pressure. Some things like car parking at the Railway Station cannot be made bigger as there is no space available.

I also feel that any building that does take place should be infill building, and not seen from the roads through the village, as this would not alter the look of the village too dramatically.

I am also against your suggestion that we should be removed from the Green Belt as I believe this would in time lead to extensive building on our open fields and green areas.

I know that we must have some new homes built but not in the numbers you are suggesting.

I OBJECT to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt - Insetting or changes to the settlement boundary from the Local Plan 2003 to the Local Plan 2014 are extremely unsettling and appear to amount to some 204 acres of land being removed from the Green Belt and mean that all such sites within the village boundary changes could be vulnerable to development. This gives me extremely deep concerns about whether I will be living in a village in the future - if I wanted to live in a town I would have bought a house in Guildford or Woking! I moved to Send because it is semi-rural and gives me access to the countryside.

Once the Green Belt is lost it is lost forever. Send's Green Belt provides an essential buffer stopping Woking (and the way things are going Guildford!) becoming one conurbation through urban sprawl. Local Councillors (especially Conservatives) and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt - this reneges on this and at 204 acres in a massive way - and you wonder why people do not trust elected officials! There are no special reasons to justify removing most if not all of the areas from the Green Belt and you appear to be concealing relevant information as to how housing demand, constraints etc have been applied. I am deeply concerned for the long term future of Send as a village. I OBJECT to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough - At 485 proposed houses for the Send Ward this appears to be about a 28% increase in the number of homes in Send - that is significant in my books and seems disproportionate and inappropriate.

Please note I am not against development per se - I did not object to the Vision Engineering development which is right next to me and I did not object to the proposed Marina in Send. I understand the need for some development so I will not outright object to all the developments planned for Send and can see some merits in A43 and A43a, however, this needs to be the right reasons and done properly. Overall I have a lot of concerns about the lack of transparency of the plans, a concern that the infrastructure will not be up to the job, a concern that there will be unintended consequences particularly with regard to traffic volumes and congestion and traffic flows if some of the major developments go ahead. The A3 is certainly not up to the job of dealing with significant development.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that a) the proposed plans to remove Send from the Green Belt will be duly removed from the local Plan with immediate effect and the Settlement Boundary will predominantly remain as per the local Plan 2003 and b) any housing development will be appropriate and proportionate such that Send remains a village.

I'm a Chilworth resident. My name is Mrs and my address is [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998]

I object on the basis of perceived lack of infrastructure in the area, damage development will do to the local environment, we're in an area of outstanding natural beauty and next to a heritage site, and it contravenes why we chose to live here - a small local village and community which isn't built-up/vastly populated.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

- The amount of new housing far exceeds local need. Houses already stay on the market for a while in the village, and the number of proposed houses is simply not needed.
- The housing density proposed is excessive when compared with existing developments. Part of the character of our village is that we are amongst green spaces and fields, and very much part of the countryside. Lose that, and you risk losing half the people who live in the village.
- The proposed size of development would transform the Horsleys into a town – which is not why people chose to live here. We chose to live here because of its rural character, and the case has not been made for the number of houses. Where are the calculations that support the proposals?
- There is simply no local support for the size of development. The collected impact of the 6 sites has not been considered – they should not be treated as isolated, separate sites, when in reality residents travel through these areas every day.
- The infrastructure will not support the proposed development – there is already poor wastewater capacity, lack of school places, absence of traffic management plans, flooding etc. and there is no adequate plans to increase it.
- The plans will harm compliance with NPPF 81 for example by making cycling (a key character of the village), and races such as the Prudential Ride London too dangerous, ruining the rural setting of Waterloo Farm campsite, and destroying the ambience of Grange Park Opera’s new “Theatre in the Woods”.
- Policy A40 is especially unviable because of high water table and poor drainage, which will lead to regular winter flooding. We already have numerous occasions during winter when we have to travel on different roads because of flooding.
- The safe access at Site A40 is unachievable. There is already high speed limits, poor sight lines, narrow access to existing properties and inadequate pavements for the elderly and school children.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

It doesn’t allow for the huge increase in traffic which would result from spreading new housing estates across the borough. West Horsley already has busy roads with commuters, parents doing the school run rushing through the village every day. The pavement is already narrow, and I personally don’t always feel safe walking along the pavement in what should be a 30 mile an hour zone, but where cars in reality drive much faster. In a village where people regularly walk dogs and walk to children to and from school etc, a serious accident would just be waiting to happen.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

This shouldn’t be in the plans for all the reasons that the Planning Committee rejected the identical recent proposal by Wisley Investment Properties. Only 15% of the land is brownfield site land and it is simply too close to RHS Wisley and the Thames Basin Heath SPA. Increased traffic would no doubt aggravate traffic jams at the A3 roundabout and M25 Junction 10 and cause an unacceptable increase in pollution. The is no existing public transport and the stations are miles away. The housing density is far too great and over 2000 houses will swamp and destroy the Ockham conservation area, with an impact on listed buildings. The water table and surface water flooding has not been considered either for the site itself or for downstream areas of the River Mole. There will be a major impact on neighbouring villages, especially the Horsleys.

I object to Policy I3

I’m not convinced that the measures are related to real life or the particularities of Guildford. Most people don’t or can’t walk or cycle here – commuters are in a hurry, and people carrying heavy shopping or other goods i.e. most residents, wouldn’t use the transport suggested. It is a towns eye view of transport and ignores the scarcity of existing rural public transport and commercial unviability of increasing it. It ignores the terrible state of Surrey’s roads, potholes, flooding etc. and the huge extra stress that would be created by new housing developments.

Perhaps most importantly, the statement included in the plan “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt” goes against everything that the Plan proposes to do in East and West Horsley, with 65% of the new houses being built on Green Belt land. Protection of the Green Belt land has to be one of the most important issues for villages like West and East Horsley and the impact on flooding control, tourism and leisure, rural businesses, natural heritage and biodiversity have not been considered. There is a disproportionate amount of development to be in the Green Belt, with too few homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live.

This limits development of urban, brownfield, hardstanding sties, and pushes development unnecessarily into the countryside, simply pushing the problems of flooding elsewhere. West Horsley is already surrounded by many waterways, rivers and streams which in heavy rain regularly causes flooding on the roads. Further housing development in the area is going to cause even worse problems.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the HRA and its Appendixes A, B and C

Summary

The HRA omits vital evidence and fails to fully assess the cumulative impact of all proposed development in the 400m-5km TBHSPA mitigation zone.

- It fails to show any base line 'real world' air pollution evidence.
- It pre-determines whether Natural England will act to approve both strategic and "bespoke" SANG submitted for planning approval.

- It demonstrates that Policy S2, H3, P2, P3, E1, E2, E4-9, I3 (13 out of 27 Policies = 50% approx of all policies) have an impact on TBHSPA but this is not referred to in the conclusion.
- It demonstrates that the majority of sites in 400m-5km mitigation zone need special HRA evaluations to be carried out (63 out of 82 sites in total [77%]) but this is not referred to in the conclusion.
- It fails to include an evaluation the most recent visitor survey of TBHSPA 2012/13 (see below)

Key Points of Objection

1. I object to the omission of 2012/13 Natural England survey of visitor numbers to the TBHSPA report from the HRA
The HRA fails to list the 2012 Natural England Survey of Visitors to the TBHSPA as material evidence (Natural England Commissioned Report NECR136 Results of the 2012/13 visitor survey on the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), First Published 13 February 2014; Natural England Project Manager - Patrick McKernan, Natural England, Guildbourne House, Chatsworth Road, Worthing, West Sussex, BN11 1LD Contractor - Footprint Ecology, Forest Office, Cold Harbour, Bere Road, Cold Harbour, Wareham, BH20 7PA).

1. I object to the failure of the HRA to examine the observed visitor trends between the 2005 NE Visitor Survey and the 2012/13 NE Visitor Survey

The 2012 NE visitor survey reports a 10% increase in visitor numbers. This is neither considered nor critically appraised as a contribution to the analysis of success or failure of the TBHSPA Avoidance Strategy 2009-2014 and the implications for Policy P2, P5, E8 and E9.

1. I object to the failure to present evidence in the HRA whether or not current SANG or SAMMS policies are effective

The HRA fails to assess whether SANG and SAMM current policies and programmes are effective, either independently or in combination, in attracting visitors, cross-country cyclists and dog-walkers away from TBHSPA. On enquiry, Natural England admitted they have no such survey evidence for TBHSPA SANG or SAMM programmes.

1. I object to the failure to properly assess the potential impact of disturbance and predation rates by newly introduced pet populations (dogs and cats)

The HRA fails to assess in detail, with associated numerical calculations and a described methodology that can be independently verified, the cumulative potential impact on disturbance and predation rates within TBHSPA by the introduction of domestic pets (dogs and cats) from new dwellings; the introduction of over 8,000 dwellings within the 400m-5km mitigation zone will give rise to over 19,000 human inhabitants (ONS 2.4 people per household).

A survey of households carried out by a veterinary team at Bristol University in 2010 “Number and ownership profiles of cats and dogs in the UK” published in the Journal of The indicates 31% households own dogs and 26% households own cats. Dogs were more likely to be owned by rural households.

Applying this analysis for all new housing at the listed strategic housing sites in the draft Local Plan within the 400m-5km mitigation zone of TBHSPA (in total 8,000+ new homes), the cumulative impact of dog ownership (up to an estimated 2,500 new dogs and 2,000 new cats within 5 km of TBHSPA) with dog-walker incursions on the rare bird species habitat of the TBHSPA will be a devastating increase.

1. I object to the lack of direct measurable observations of the level of critical components of air pollution in the HRA

The HRA fails to present any actual evidence of current air pollution levels derived from roadside monitoring on critical routes within the 400m-5km TBHSPA mitigation zone (e.g. A324, A320, A321, A323) so as to set an acknowledged and proven base line from which to measure future incremental impacts on air pollution from the proposed housing developments and associated traffic movements; the introduction of associated vehicle ownership with its potential to increase NoX and CO2 in the 400m-5km mitigation zone; and over 10,000 vehicles (ONS 1.25 vehicles per household) in the 400m-5km mitigation zone.

"Section 10.4 Only mathematical modelling of air pollution has been carried out. There has been no physical evidence collected on the main feeder routes so there is no actual physically measured base level on which to judge neither the current nor incremental air pollution impact in the 400m-5km mitigation zone."

Simply modelling air pollution and declaring the model output as actual air pollution levels is irrational and non-sensical. Physical measurement must be carried and the evidence presented for further public consultation to be based in sound science, not speculation.

If applied to the human population, it has been estimated that sources of automotive air pollution account for approximately 5% of premature deaths (The WHO’s health risks of air pollution in Europe (HRAPIE) report put the equivalent mortality increase for NO2 at 5.5%.) and among the 19,000 new inhabitants proposed in the this Local Plan in the 400m-5km TBHSPA mitigation zone this represents a premature death incidence over time of some 1,000 individuals.

1. I object to the lack of detailed assessment of 50% of all proposed Policies and 77% of sites under the Impact Pathways in advance of policy formation

Under the Sustainable Employment Sites (Policy E1) the following sites require special site level HRA but no attempt is made to evaluate this in advance to advise policy formation.

Office (B1a) and R&D (B1b) Strategic Employment Sites (1 out of 6 sites)

- Pirbright Institute

Industrial (B1c, B2 and B8) Strategic Employment sites (2 out of 10 sites)

- Lysons Avenue, Ash Vale
- Henley Business park, Normandy

District Centres (Policy E8) (3 sites)

- Wharf Road, Ash
- Station Parade East Horsley
- Ripley

Local Centres (Policy E9) (14 sites)

- Aldershot Road, Westborough
- Collingwood Crescent, Boxgrove
- Kingpost Parade, London Road, Burpham
- Epsom Road, Merrow
- Kingfisher Drive, Merrow
- Madrid Road, Guildford Park
- Southway, Park Barn
- Stoughton Road, Belfields
- The Square, Onslow Village
- Woodbridge Hill, Guildford
- Woodbridge Road, Guildford
- Worpleston Road, Stoughton
- Ash Vale Parade, Ash
- The Street, Tongham

Rural Local Centres (Policy E9) (3 out of 6 sites)

- Bishopsmead Parade, East Horsley
- Effingham
- Fairlands, Worpleson

Site Allocations within 400m-5km mitigation zone (40 out of 43 sites)

- Guildford Town Centre
The HRA states "Due to their close proximity to the SPA (or the potential for developments in such close proximity to be facilitated by these policies), the above proposed policies/locations have potential to result in dust deposition, noise and vibration impacts, lighting and visual disturbance and surface runoff during both construction and operation. Projects within 400m of the SPA that are to be brought forward under these policies will therefore need to be accompanied by Habitat Regulations Assessment that will investigate these impacts in detail."

"These impact pathways cannot be investigated in detail at the Local Plan level as they are related to detailed design and construction method."

This statement is an avoidance of more detailed consideration of environmental impacts in the construction and operational phase of each site in order to permit residents more appreciation of the impacts. If AECOM can model supposed air pollution levels then AECOM can model the impact of dust deposition, noise and vibration impacts, lighting and visual disturbance and surface runoff during both construction and operation. GBC have failed to undertake suitable briefing of AECOM and have failed to take account of potential environmental disruption in advance of policy formation.
I propose that to remedy these failings the final sentence of paragraph 7.2.5. should read

"These impact pathways will be investigated in detail at the Local Plan level by using appropriate modelling to illustrate the environmental impact of each site during construction and operation. The methodology and assumptions of the model proposed shall be available for public scrutiny. The resulting model output shall report on the following parameters; dust deposition, noise and vibration impacts, lighting and visual disturbance and surface runoff; and be prepared in advance of the Regulation 19 Examination in Public and submitted as part of the Guildford evidence base for the Guildford Local Plan, Proposed Submission."

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A46

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A46.

This land is located with land parcel H12 as identified in GBCS Vol IV. The land is DEFRA agricultural land Grade 3A and has been farmed traditionally for pasture (sheep and cattle) and for grain (wheat and barley) in perpetuity. The land contains many stands of scheduled Ancient Woodland. The land contributes to the ‘openness’ of the Green Belt between the settlements of Flexford and Normandy and should remain ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt.

Legal Precedent

I object to the removal of the land allocated to Policy A46 by removal from the Green Belt by “inset” under NPPF para 83 and 84.

The “exceptional circumstances” required to redraw the Green Belt boundary for the land in Policy A46, appear nowhere in the Local Plan so how can I judge this proposal?

In the Gallagher Homes Ltd v Solihull Borough Council [2014] EWHC 1283 (Admin), Hickinbottom J decision in particular lays out:

“Exceptional circumstances are required for any revision of the boundary, whether the proposal isto extend or diminish the Green Belt. That is the ratio of Carpets of Worth."
Whilst each case is fact-sensitive and the question of whether circumstances are exceptional for these purposes requires an exercise of planning judgment, what is capable of amounting to exceptional circumstances is a matter of law, and a plan-maker may err in law if he fails to adopt a lawful approach to exceptional circumstances. Once a Green Belt has been established and approved, it requires more than general planning concepts to justify an alteration."

Without the “exceptional circumstances” included in the proposals for this Policy it appears unsound.

Guildford Borough Settlement Profiles (July 2013) & Settlement Hierarchy (May 2014)

I object to the use of a 2010 survey of parishes that was not represented to parish councils as to be part of the Local Plan evidence base in an attempt to present the two settlements as one in the Settlement Profile document. It is recognised in the Settlement Hierarchy that Flexford and Normandy are separate settlements, neither rank highly based on their individual sets of community facilities and services (Normandy 13, Flexford 27 sustainability ranking in Settlement Hierarchy report).

There is no traditional community centre. The ward contains five hamlets in a dispersed area. It is disingenuous to represent Flexford and Normandy as a combined community. .

The incorrect assessment in the Settlement Profile document has been pointed out under Regulation 18 consultation but the council continues to include this flawed document as evidence.

It should be discounted and removed from the evidence base.

Use of educational provision as “exceptional circumstances”

I object to the proposed site of Normandy/Flexford (Policy A46) for a new Secondary School; this should be rejected as the need for such a school in the location has not been proven. GBC in the Infrastructure Delivery Plan, May2016 indicate that SED 3, IDP p87, a 7-form entry (7FE) secondary school at the Normandy / Flexford strategic development site, requires only 1 FE to serve the development site itself, the remaining capacity would serve the wider area, including Blackwell Farm site (Policy A26). However, given that the proposed Blackwell Farm development is for 1,800 dwellings, on a pro-rated basis of children of secondary school age within the arising population, this would only require a maximum of 2FE. Together, the Blackwell Farm site and the Normandy/Flexford site require only an estimated 3 FE provision. The proposed school is excessive in size, being more than twice as large (7FE) as the estimated need (3FE), and as other information provided here indicates, this is well within the funding and expansion capabilities of existing schools in the western wards of Guildford borough and the western side of the town. Every neighbouring secondary school is currently undersubscribed, Kings Manor in particular with 57% of its school places currently unoccupied.

SCC Education Officers need to demonstrate a clear need for such a school at this, given the current under-subscription of all the neighbouring secondary schools in the western wards of Guildford borough. There are currently 736 vacancies at the nearest secondary schools serving the western wards - not accounting for the 480 extra at the new Technical College to open in 2018 - a combined capacity of 1,216. In addition to those, SCC has already approved expansions at the County School, Guildford and St Peters.

Adding forms of entry to several existing schools will see the costs absorbed after the initial capital cost needed to create a few extra rooms and they still only require one headteacher, one set of staff etc. The Head Teacher and Chairman of Governors at Ash Manor School have offered to cooperate with a programme to expand that school, as had the Principal at Kings ; if it needs expansion in the future there is space and a willingness to do so.

Contribution to the Purposes of the Green Belt

I object to the overriding of the contribution the land proposed for Policy A46 makes to the 5 purposes of the Green Belt in response to a developer-led proposal for large-scale house building in the Green Belt in Policy A46.

Guildford Borough Council recognises the contribution the land surrounding and within the settlements of Normandy and Flexford makes to the five purposes of the Green Belt in identifying land parcels H10, H12, H13, H14, H15, H16, J16 and J17 of particular sensitivity in its reevaluation of the land parcels in the Green Belt & Countryside Study, Vol 2 Addendum, Appendix 1 and 2, reinforcing the evaluation in GBCS Vol 1. The evaluation of the ‘land parcels’ is laid out in the tables in The ‘land parcel’ that contains the land proposed for Policy A46 is H12, evaluated against 4 purposes of the Green belt it performs as follows:

- Checks sprawl of Normandy and Flexford
- Prevents Flexford and Normandy from merging
- Assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment

All of this is then ignored in the rush by GBC to appease Taylor Wimpey in order to affirm another strategic housing site and hold its hands up as if to say “not us Guv, its wos the developer that done it”.

Contribution to ‘openness’ of the Green Belt

I object to the rejection by GBC that the land proposed for Policy A46 fails to contribute to the “openness” of the Green Belt.

In the case of Normandy and Flexford, there have been two planning appeals concerning Gypsy pitches (Palm House Nurseries and Green Lane East) where the inspector agreed that land near Flexford and land to the west of Glaziers Lane exhibited ‘openness’. The inspector found in favour of the appellant on other grounds but the opinion on ‘openness’ in those judgements is evidence that the land around Normandy and Flexford is considered by the Planning Inspectorate to exhibit ‘openness’. A third more recent decision at appeal for housing development at North Wyke Farm found that the land contributed to the ‘openness’ of the Green Belt.

- Palm House Nurseries GBC 09/P/01851, Application 12 November 2009 Appeal Ref: APP/Y3615/A/10/2131590 Decision 24 Feb 2011
- Green Lane East GBC 10/P/00507, Application 8 March 2010 Appeal Ref: APP/Y3615/A/10/2140630 Decision 14 June 2011
- North Wyke Farm GBC 14/P/00779, Application 17 April 2014 Appeal Ref: APP/Y3615/W/15/3002308 Decision date: 14 July 2015

I believe this indicates that PINS inspectors recognise the “openness” of the land around the two settlements of Normandy and Flexford and their contribution to the “openness” of the Green Belt.

Impact on Surrey Hills AONB

I believe both settlements should remain ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt as stated in NPPF para.86 “If it is necessary to prevent development in a village primarily because of the important contribution which the open character of the village makes to the openness of the Green Belt, the village should be included in the Green Belt”.

The land designated as AGLV and identified as 12-1 in the Map AONB Boundary Review - Recommended Areas for Consideration and pp28-29 AONB Area of Search Evaluation - Natural Beauty Evaluation, Oct 2013 report to be added to the Surrey Hills AONB, reinforces the proximity of valued landscape as it will add the north slopes of the Hogs Back overlooking Flexford settlement to the very boundary of Flexford settlement at Flexford Road.

Further, the land allocated in Policy A46 contains unrestricted view of the Hogs Back, part of the Surrey Hills AONB. Recent case law establishes that views out from open land to an AONB are as important as views into land overlooked by an AONB. Surrey Hills Management Board (of which GBC is a member) has submitted proposals to Natural England for land currently with local designation Area of Great Landscape Value on the north slopes of the Hogs Back above Wanborough and stretching down to Flexford Road at the southern boundary of Flexford settlement to be subsumed into the AONB and is currently awaiting agreement for inclusion.

The future potential presence of in excess of 1,000 houses visible at the periphery of the AONB with associated urbanising infrastructure (e.g. roads, perpetual street lighting, general light pollution, loss of ancient hedges and trees etc.) would do... great harm to the views into the AONB from the land between Normandy and Flexford and from the Surrey Hills AONB. There will be significant light pollution in winter months.

Thames Basin Heaths SPA

I object to the assertion in Policy P5 that the creation of SANG will protect the rare ground-nesting bird species on this SSSI and Natura 2000 site from major disturbance and predation introduced by the building of 1,100 dwellings that give rise to hundreds of adults and children, vehicles, dogs and cats within 1 kilometre of this internationally important wildlife habitat.

The 2012/13 visitor survey report commissioned by Natural England on behalf of the Thames Basin Heaths Joint Strategic Partnership Board showed not a static or falling number but a 10% increase in visitor numbers since 2005:

- 66% cited dog walking as the main activity
- 80% of interviewed groups had dogs
- 67% of interviewed groups had dogs which were seen off lead
- 39% specifically visited the SPA site was because it was ‘close to home’
- the average distance travelled was just over 2.5 kilometres (80% by car)

Only 1% of visitors accessed the TBHSPA from the Normandy/Flexford direction, so the additional disturbance caused by the building and then occupation of 1,100 homes by 2,000-3,000 residents and 1,250 additional vehicles will be significant. Importantly, the prevalence of dog walking in the visitor survey suggests that the currently available SANG in the borough is ineffective in attracting those wishing to exercise dogs away from the TBHSPA.

Simply claiming that the 2012 visitor study data indicates success of the avoidance strategy in drawing people away from the SPA is no evidence at all. Where is data based on measurement of visitor numbers to the available SANG within Guildford borough? Where is the evidence that SAMM programmes have any impact on the behaviour of residents that are dog owners? Without it, a planning inspector has no means of finding the proposal of large-scale housebuilding at these sites sound. Natural England have admitted that no survey evidence exists of the effectiveness of SANG or SAMM programmes in directing dog-walkers away from TBHSPA in Guildford borough or any of the surrounding local authorities.

Creating 1,100 homes on Green Belt land between the settlements of Normandy & Flexford implies, on average, 340 dogs and nearly 290 cats (based on a survey of households carried out by a veterinary team at Bristol University in 2010 “Number and ownership profiles of cats and dogs in the UK” published in the Journal of The British Veterinary Association indicates 31% households own dogs and 26% households own cats); all housing to be located within 1 kilometre of the SSSI; for a dog owner, a 2-minute drive or 10 minute walk away. The survey showed dogs were more likely to be owned by rural households.

The proposed SANG schedule in the Infrastructure Delivery Plan, May 2016 (IDP, SANG 13 p84) gives indication of neither the physical size nor location of bespoke SANG for Policy A46 (LAA Site 368); it is estimated that this proposed open space will be unable to cater adequately for 340 additional dogs plus their accompanying owners and there will be significant ‘leakage’ onto the TBHSPA.

I object to Policy A49
I object to the “insetting” of the land proposed for Policy A49. By proposing to ‘inset’ this site an ‘island’ urban site would be created, removing the ‘openness’ of this Green Belt land confirmed in the judgement of the Planning Inspectorate and similarly judged in the evidence of the GBCS Vol.4. I propose this land should continue to be “washed over”.

Legal Precedent
I object to the removal of the land allocated to Policy A49 by removal from the Green Belt by “inset” under NPPF para 83 and 84. I believe that current case law militates against the removal of land by the re-drawing of Green Belt boundaries without the express presentation in the written Local Plan of the “exceptional circumstances” proposed to redraw the Green Belt boundary for the land in Policy A46. I draw attention to the following cases

- Gallagher Homes Ltd v Solihull Borough Council [2014] EWHC 1283 (Admin), Hickinbottom J
- IM Properties Development Ltd v Lichfield DC [2014] EWHC 2440 (Admin), Patterson J

In the Solihull BC decision in particular

“Exceptional circumstances are required for any revision of the boundary, whether the proposal is to extend or diminish the Green Belt. That is the ratio of Carpets of Worth. Whilst each case is fact-sensitive and the question of whether circumstances are exceptional for these purposes requires an exercise of planning judgment, what is capable of amounting to exceptional circumstances is a matter of law, and a plan-maker may err in law if he fails to adopt a lawful approach to exceptional circumstances. Once a Green Belt has been established and approved, it requires more than general planning concepts to justify an alteration.”

I contend that no “exceptional circumstances “ for such re-drawing of boundaries have been offered by GBC in the context of the Local Plan process, so how can residents judge the veracity of this proposal?

Contribution to ‘openness’ of the Green Belt
There is no legal definition of ‘openness’ but it is specifically expressed in NPPF para. 79 that appears as the first paragraph in “Section 9 Protecting Green Belt Land”; ‘openness’ is matter of opinion and that opinion is often expressed in the decisions of Planning Inspectors when assessing a planning appeal.

In the case of Palm House Nurseries the inspector agreed in 2011 that land to the west of Glaziers Lane exhibited ‘openness’. The inspector found in favour of the appellant on other grounds but the opinion on ‘openness’ in those judgements is evidence that this land around Palm House Nurseries is considered by the Planning Inspectorate to exhibit ‘openness’.

Palm House Nurseries GBC 09/P/01851, Application 12 November 2009 APP/Y3615/A/10/2131590 Decision 24 Feb 2011

“Openness
15. The Secretary of State agrees with the Inspector's assessment of the impact of the proposals on the openness of the Green Belt at IR99-100, and his conclusion at IR101 that there would be considerable harm in this respect. For the reasons given at IR101, the Secretary of State also agrees with the Inspector's conclusion that the development would result in some limited harm to one of the five purposes of including land in the Green Belt identified in PPG2, namely that of assisting to safeguard the countryside from encroachment (IR101). “

Green Belt & Countryside Study, Vol. 4
In the Green Belt & Countryside Study Vol 4, Land parcel H10 that contains the Palm House Nursery site was judged the fulfil three essential purposes of the Green Belt

- Checks sprawl of Normandy
- Prevents Normandy, Wood Street Village and Flexford from merging
- Assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment

I object to Policy H3
I object to this policy which allows potential development outside settlements even in Green Belt and includes wording to propose extension of this policy for market housing. Far from being exceptional, this policy seeks to introduce a scheme where housing could be built anywhere, with no restriction, other than the general link to some form of connection with the Guildford housing list.
This will allow development where it would otherwise not be permitted. Ensure it is made clear, as part of the policy (blue box), that this is an exceptional scheme only and that the overriding requirements of the NPPF, especially NPPF 87, 88 and 89, will apply in the administration of this policy so that it will only apply in exceptional circumstances.

Re: rural exception sites, the NPPF deals with this in NPPF 54 which states:

“In rural areas, local planning authorities should be responsive to local circumstances and plan housing development to reflect local needs, particularly for affordable housing, including through rural exception sites where appropriate”. This clause makes it clear that housing in rural locations should reflect local needs particularly for affordable housing. In this context local should imply with a direct connection to the local community only, not the wider community within the borough.

The following extract from the National Planning Policy Guidance is relevant:
Paragraph: 034 Reference ID: 3-034-20140306
Can unmet need for housing outweigh Green Belt Protection?
Unmet housing need (including for traveller sites) is unlikely to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and other harm to constitute the “very special circumstances” justifying inappropriate development on a site within the Green Belt.
Revision date: 06 03 2014

In fact it is clear that Guildford Borough Council sees rural exception housing not as an exception but as a normal mechanism for supply while disregarding the constraints of the Green Belt.
This is arguably in contravention of the requirements of NPPF where housing development in rural areas should reflect local (not borough-wide) need. Such lack of earmarking has two potential problems. One is that there is increased pressure to consider too many rural exception sites which properly would not and should not be required. The preferred response to this would therefore be to earmark affordable housing within villages for demonstrable local need.
NPPF 89 notes that “a local planning authority should regard the construction of new buildings as inappropriate in Green Belt. Exceptions to this are: limited affordable housing for local community needs under policies set out in the Local Plan”. New market housing does not meet this criterion and should not be permissible. This is in clear breach of the requirements of NPPF and of planning law (St Albans, Gallagher homes) and should be deleted. There are no circumstances where it could or should be permissible to build market housing under the rural exceptions scheme.
The wording of this policy- “contribute to meeting local needs” implies that GBC plans to use these to meet its normal housing list; “local” is defined by GBC as meaning “current or former residents of the borough or have a family or employment connection”, not “local” at all.
This policy requires revision in order to articulate the requirements under which the rural exception scheme might be permissible, making it clear that

• make it clear what the requirements are to qualify for the scheme
• ensure it is made clear, as part of the policy (blue box), that this is an exceptional scheme only where there is demonstrable unfilled local need and that the overriding requirements of the NPPF, especially NPPF 87, 88 and 89, will apply in the administration of this policy so that the provision of rural exception sites will only apply in exceptional circumstances.

I object to Policy I4 Green and Blue Infrastructure

The policy appears therefore to be a box-ticking exercise with no real teeth to it. There is no mention of the impact of the plan on food production, or monitoring the loss of agricultural land. “The natural world, its biodiversity and its constituent ecosystems are critically important to our well being and economic prosperity, but are consistently undervalued in conventional economic analyses and decision-making” (Biodiversity 2020 page 11) “As a public authority in England you have a duty to have regard to conserving biodiversity as part of your policy or decision making.” (Government Planning Guidance)

I have some concerns that “enhancing” the River Wey in the town centre will avoid using the available brownfield land around Walnut Tree Close and Slyfield for urban regeneration and sustainable housing that could otherwise be used. It is noted that the largest areas of industrial brownfield land within the borough are near to or adjacent to the River Wey, particularly in the Walnut Tree Close area and in the Slyfield industrial area and could support much more housing than the relatively small numbers indicated in the policy on the town centre, under a town centre regeneration scheme. This would have huge benefits for the community as a whole since relatively run down areas would be subject to regeneration, the river banks would be cleaner and more attractive. John Rigg of Savills and Guildford Vision Group indicated to the GBC Scrutiny Committee that initial commercial projections indicated that the Walnut Tree Close area alone could provide 4000 homes. This is significantly in excess of the current GBC proposals. Both Allies & Morrison and GVG initially indicated that they believed that this site could be available for regeneration within the critical 5 year window required for the local plan.

It is important that the desire for Green and Blue infrastructure does not become an excuse for preventing regeneration of Walnut Tree Close. Such a regeneration zone would be highly sustainable, because it would be within 1 mile of the railway station, adjacent to the A3, and would eliminate an area of huge congestion in the town because if the industrial sites were replaced by housing then the residents would commute by train or walk to work rather than having to drive in to an industrial estate.

Responses to policy notes:
4.6.33 Villages are generally permeable to wildlife. The lower density of housing and presence of gardens (especially larger gardens) provides a corridor for movement across the residential area. Insetting of villages and the relaxation of planning restrictions in the Green Belt implied by Policy P2 will lead to infilling, "garden grabbing" and consequent loss of biodiversity. It will replace connections and corridors between habitats with barriers and lead to further fragmentation of our natural infrastructure.

Responses to definitions
4.6.42 “Biodiversity creation and/or enhancement” is not a definition – it requires definition. The points made are aspirational that have no enforcement to back them. Building on the countryside and increasing the population by such a large amount will not help vulnerable species. It will put added pressure on remaining habitats and increase light and air pollution, degrading the ability of the borough to support wildlife.

4.6.43 Arrangements with developers have no guarantee of success or longevity. They involve partial mitigation and overall loss of the original biodiversity interest of a site.
4.6.45 In the desperation to find SANG land Guildford Borough Council are making use of existing open space that will not attract people away from the SPA and ignores the impact on existing wildlife. In allocating sites as SANG, GBC has ignored the requirement to consider existing biodiversity and clearly have little or any knowledge or understanding of the issue. The issues relating to Russell Place Farm have been pointed out by a qualified Biologist. Many invertebrates are dependent on the dung of grazing animals and this aspect of our countryside is being steadily driven out of our Borough.

Key Evidence
Guildford Borough Policy Statements are statements – not evidence
Additional evidence should include:

- Existing SNCI surveys, including those that took place in 2004-2007.
- Biodiversity evidence emerging from Neighbourhood Plans.
- Evidence obtained by requests to local naturalists and natural history societies including those with a specialist interest.

Monitoring
Simply maintaining open space will not be enough for a significantly enlarged population. Providing more open space to meet existing shortfalls or the needs of a much larger population will reduce the area of land currently in food production or providing wildlife habitat. SANG delivery is harming existing biodiversity. It is not clear how you will measure a change in biodiversity just by looking at planning applications. “Net gains in biodiversity provided by development” is a contradiction in terms. There is no guarantee that mitigations listed in an application will be carried out and their effectiveness is not guaranteed either. GBC would need to carry out follow-up ecological surveys on all sites. The approach being taken is one that intends to make no net gain, and possibly even reduce, sites of nature conservation interest – in contradiction to the stated aims. If an existing SNCI (or one proposed on grounds of biodiversity but not formally accepted in a Local Plan) is found to be in poor condition the action taken should be to bring it back into good condition – not to remove its status and build on it.

I object to Policy P1 Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding National Beauty.
I object to Policy P1 and its supporting text, which I consider has weakened the protection of the AONB and the AGLV from the previous draft Plan.
My concern stems from the loose wording of the Policy, which in some places renders the policy ineffective, for example:
“All proposals will be considered against whether they…”
“All development proposals within and adjacent to the AONB will be expected to conserve or enhance its special qualities”
Terms such as “considered” and “expected” are not strong enough in prohibiting development proposals that do not conserve and enhance the AONB, and it is likely that developers will be able to use this loose wording to their advantage. Of particular concern is the paragraph 3, which begins:
“Whilst the AONB designation does not preclude specific types of development in the Surrey Hills and proposals will be assessed on their individual merits…”
I believe that this whole opening clause should be deleted, and the sentence should therefore begin: “There is a presumption against major development in the AONB in accordance with NPPF.”
I believe that the AONB Policy in the Draft Plan 2014 provided greater protection to the AONB, and would like to see the following sentences reinserted:
● “The national significance the AONB will be afforded the highest level of protection and only proposals which can be sensitively amalgamated into the area and which complement and enhance the character of the AONB will be considered”
● “Proposals within the AGLV which would have a negative impact upon views into and out of the AONB and which do not respect the setting, will not be acceptable”
● In accordance with the most up to date Minerals and Waste Plan, safeguarding of applicable land within the AONB and/or AGLV may be necessary and deemed appropriate.
Finally, I would like to see a clause which gives protection to the candidate areas for AONB status in the forthcoming Surrey Hills AONB Boundary Review. I consider that all land that has been assessed as meeting the latest Natural England criteria for AONBs should be subject to the same level of protection as an AONB, not just land that has been designated AGLV.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy P2 Green Belt
This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I do not accept this statement.
The Metropolitan Green Belt forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. As noted under Policy S1, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. It is an inalienable public good. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away.
Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:
1. Agricultural production
2. Rural leisure and tourism amenities
3. Water catchment
4. Flood control
5. Biodiversity
6. Natural heritage
7. A carbon sink for air pollution
8. Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
9. Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
10. Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
11. Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
12. Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. I am worried that settlement boundaries are to be greatly extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large scale development.

This policy is disproportionate in terms of foreseeable development need. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy P5 Thames Basin Heaths SPA

I believe that the Plan is unsound as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact seven proposed developments will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site (as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).

Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area is a statutory designated site and designated for its rare and vulnerable birds, specifically nightjar, Dartford warbler and woodlark under the EC Birds Directive. This site also forms part of the Thursley, Ash, Pirbright and Chobham Special Area of Conservation (SAC), a statutory designated site and designated for its North Atlantic wet heaths, European dry heaths and peat bogs.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not additional; the sites identified or targeted are already green space. To create SANG is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces. There is no actual increase in environmental protection; it is a policy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG, in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds, must ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the special protection areas.

The seven proposed developments are less than five kilometres away from the TBH SPA and in some cases not much beyond the 400m exclusion zone, occupying an area between under 1km to just over 2km from the TBH SPA. It has been indicated that the cumulative effect of further residential development up to 5 km from protected heathlands will have a significant adverse effect on the heaths.
A survey in 2005 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. A follow-up survey in 2012 found that there was a 10% increase in visitors to the SPA.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A35

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objections to Guildford Borough Council (GBC) Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM)

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brown field land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths, the lack of pedestrian footpaths and the space to provide either, together with the pitiful state of the existing highways, which are currently dangerous for cyclists.

5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and demand for car parking at each station is already at capacity.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously. Air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan for a number of reasons including:

1. This is the least sustainable site identified in both the current and previous versions of the Local Plan because of the site constraints and location.
2. This site is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
3. The site is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network (SRN) in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (M25 -J10)
4. Local roads are at capacity particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing (in peak times and also due to accidents, diversions, roadworks etc)
5. Suggested public transport initiatives including bus services to and from Guildford will exacerbate the already over crowded road network leading to unreliability and delay, which in turn will make local residents choose individual modes of transport resulting in further congestion.
6. Public transport bus services to Horsley will reduce the safety of the local road network as lanes are narrow and this will increase danger to cyclists and walkers which should be encouraged as eco friendly alternatives. The area is greatly used by cyclists at all times throughout the year who seek to follow the 2012 Olympic cycle route and train for the annual Ride London –Surrey 100 cycle event. The current plan will add to traffic flows and endanger cyclists and walkers lives.
7. The proposed site is adjacent to the Royal Horticultural Society gardens, which is one of the most visited destinations in the south-east of the country. I understand that expansion plans the RHS have will significantly increase the number of visitors to Wisley. From reading the plan, the resultant traffic increase from the RHS has not been considered. Furthermore, there are regular events at the RHS which attract 1,000’s of additional visitors and again the impact of this increase in traffic does not appear to have been taken into consideration.
8. Once completed, there will be minimal employment opportunities on the developed site as a result of which, the majority of new residents will travel to work. The majority of these are likely to use motor cars (probably with only a driver) and this will add significant volumes of traffic to the already over crowded local narrow lanes.
9. The identified mitigation to address the impact of increased traffic will not address the commuters travelling to Woking rail station
10. It remains unclear when/if the Ockham DVOR/DME will be decommissioned as the timetable has already slipped. This constrains the site significantly in terms of building heights etc.
11. The changed “Opportunities” listed in this policy reinforce why this site is totally inappropriate talking of “good urban design”
12. Opportunity (3) should be common to all sites and is not unique to this site
13. I object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts another heritage asset, Upton Farm negatively impacting the setting of this building.
14. I object to the fact that the increased area, being on the south of the site facing the Surrey Hills AONB will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB.
15. I object to the change of site boundaries as these are not identified correctly on the plan (Appendix H p16)
16. I object to the removal of additional 3.1 ha from the green belt without any justification
17. I object to the change in green belt boundary to the eastern end of the site as this now encloses an area of high archaeological impact
18. I object to para 21 which “limits” development in flood zone 2 and 3. Development should be excluded in flood zone 2 and 3
19. I object to para 22 as this does not reflect the impact of the buildings on the surrounding area.
20. I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consultees.
21. I object to the proposed Submission Local Plan because the significant modifications made to the plan mean that this should not be a Regulation 19 consultation. A regulation 19 consultation needs to be on the totality of the plan rather than the proposed changes.
22. I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.
23. I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.
24. I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.
25. I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change
26. I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.
27. I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.

28. I object to the inclusion of a 10% buffer in the housing number over the plan period. This is unnecessary.

29. I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS.

30. I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.

31. I object to the fact that the Council appear to have directed the transport assessment to use prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.

32. I object to the housing number and particularly the fact that the Council have not, as required used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBHSPA etc. I believe that the housing number is unsound and open to legal challenge.

33. I object to the apparent disregard for the impact of in-combination development on the TBHSPA, particularly the damage caused by nitrogen deposition and high pollution levels.

34. I object to policy S2 where it states “the figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426” yet the figures in the table add up to 9,810 – what is the significance of the missing 2,616? This is one of a number of glaring examples of why the plan is not sound.

35. I object to the quantity of space allocated for retail in the town centre. This could be much better used for residential development. I particularly object to the reliance on the Carter Jonas study update 2017 which includes “demand” for retail space from companies already in administration.

I consider for the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

Please note that I reserve my right to attend the inquiry and personally present evidence.

As a further over arching comment on local and government policy, I do not understand why more emphasis is not being given to long term investment in developing other parts of the UK. It is evident that the South East and the London conurbation in particular is over crowded. The answer is not to destroy the green belt but to encourage a shift in population to other areas which have been neglected by successive governments.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
including Ripley, Send and Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities. The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) are in unsustainable locations. They do not benefit from direct public transport links – there are no railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport.

Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in present urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from significant congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution and noise. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

2) I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2).

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey at an apparent detriment to borough residents.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities. In particular, residents in Send and Clandon will suffer as a result. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution and noise. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

3) I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2).

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt.

Once villages are removed they are removed forever. Villages are a quintessential element of life in the borough – for the villagers themselves and for large numbers of people in areas surrounding the villages. Villages cannot be replaced with the sweep of the planner’s pen. Planning history is littered with failed attempts to create the unique character and life of traditional villages in a modern project. We have wonderful and meaningful villages and cannot afford to lose them. In fact, there are no plans to build new villages hence we cannot afford to lose our existing villages.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there are numerous brownfield sites in the borough with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

4) I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4).

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

There are many other sites in the borough not designated as flood risks that can be developed for housing and industry without such risks and without condemning families and business to highly likely flooding events and the inevitable disruptions and costs.

5) I object to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1).

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

There is also brownfield site at nearfield Slyfield that is highly suited to industrial development. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

6) I object to the location for new employment floor space at Garlick’s Arch – Site A43 (Policy E2).

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floor space will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floor space to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

There is also brownfield site at nearfield Slyfield that is highly suited to industrial development. There is no evidence that industrial development in addition to that planned and possible in Slyfield is needed at Garlick’s Arch and that it would warrant a plan that does so little to meet the needs and desires of the local community.

7) I object to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5).

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

8) I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I object to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees. The ancient woodlands are an amenity enjoyed by many in the borough.

9) I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1).

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages not just from the traffic created by the proposed developments but from the rat-running the proposed developments will encourage. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces. Many of the affected villages, such as Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

10) I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1).

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers.

No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

11) I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2).

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse. It must not be a planning goal or consequence to make matters worse for residents of the borough.

12) I object to concerns of poor air quality (Policy I3).

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.”

The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

13) I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43).

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site.

This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3). Many residents in the borough would object to the removal of protection for these trees.

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)
Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

14) I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a).
The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. The route from London/M25 to Woking would become through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 would go through Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.
This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

15) I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C).
The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

16) I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough as being too high (Appendix D).
The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.
The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford in general and in particular to the sites in the Proposed Plan. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

17) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt.
There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

18) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt.
The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

19) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there.
The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

20) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the proposed sites, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

21) I object to the fact that environmental concerns are not taken seriously in the Proposed Plans.
Air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
Noise from current traffic levels is already a significant nuisance in many areas and the plan would add further noise to existing residents and introduce many new families of the proposed new housing to this existing level of unpleasant or damaging traffic noise. It is not necessary since there are better sites to build on than along the main traffic arteries where noise would be an unwarranted nuisance to neighbouring residents.

22) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan.
The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained.
and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

23) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

It is more than clear that planning applications are unwarranted for all the many and detailed reasons given. Further such plans create an undue waste of public monies and are a serious distraction to residents who unfairly have to face over and over repeated threats to the enjoyment of residency in their borough.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and the Plan is amended accordingly.

I wish to add my objection to the proposed plan for the removal of Chilworth and other adjoining villages from the protection of the Green belt.

This is an A.O.N.B. and should remain so. I and many other local people have chosen to live here because of the quietness and unspoilt countryside which offers a great amount of peaceful walks. If Chilworth and other villages are removed from protection then this would result in more houses, people, cars, further congestion, fewer school places for children and pollution on our already over crowded ratrun roads. As the country has now voted for Brexit then hopefully not so many further homes need to be built so that we in the villages of the, Surrey Hills can still enjoy the peace and tranquility of this beautiful area which is the reason we moved here in the first place.

I am writing to you as I have grave concern that you are considering taking Chilworth out of the Green Belt, along with Shalford, Peasmarsh and many other villages. These villages were given Green Belt status, so they couldn't be subject to development. If you remove this, all our lovely green fields and peace and quiet would be removed and this is criminal.

We don't need houses built everywhere, whatever we are told. Even more so now with coming out of the EU, we certainly will not need the houses. Nobody has the right to live in the village they are born in, as years ago I had to move away and return years later when I could afford it and I found the new home I was happy to live in.

So I am asking you from the bottom of my heart to please reconsider this proposal to take Chilworth & the local villages out of the Green Belt.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighborhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

I object to raising the annual number of houses built per year. With no rational reason given, one must assume these are developers' numbers for financial gain and not for social need.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far, the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)

This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states "Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays." And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

1. I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.
I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch

The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

The inclusion of site A58 Burt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch

GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were

1. a)The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm, ... (site allocation A25) [ than the Burnt Common site did ]”
2. b)The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) the separation issue is clearly being ignored as BOTH sites (which are almost contiguous) are in the plan; therefore GBC are not following their own guidelines and objectives.

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) more than the “required” industrial space is available there, so there is no reason for Garlick’s Arch to be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the unfair imbalance of the Plan across the borough.

With the removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) and reductions of housing planned in this version of the Plan in other parts of the borough the Plan has become even more biased against the North East of the borough. Guildford Borough is over 100 square miles. Of the11350 homes proposed in the Plan, 40.6% (4613) are within 3 miles of Send Marsh, most of them on Green Belt. This is grossly unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough.

The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites.
A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ...” Clearly A50 more than covers the total "need" of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in Green Belt (A58)

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. These facilities are always highly contentious and the Council has a duty of transparency in this regard which it is, at best, neglecting.

I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)

This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:
i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!) , and
ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”

So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses].” That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit is to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

"We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan."

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council (GBC) Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM)

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brown field land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths, the lack of pedestrian footpaths and the space to provide either, together with the pitiful state of the existing highways, which are currently dangerous for cyclists
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and demand for car parking at each station is already at capacity.
- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously. Air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighborhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

<tr>
<th>I strongly object to the proposals in the Draft Local Plan for the following reasons:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I live in East Horsley and find the roads</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I object to the building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick’s Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because the Green Belt is meant to be permanent and there are no special circumstances to justify development.</td>
<tr>
<td>I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village with only 2 weeks’ notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough, as illustrated by the 80% reduction from the 2013 to the 2015 Employment Land Needs Assessment.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the needed development can be accommodated in Guildford’s urban brownfield areas much closer to existing transport hubs.</td>
<tr>
<td>I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25. Clandon would also suffer increased traffic to and from the south.</td>
<tr>
<td>I object to the fact that 70% of the proposed 13,860 houses are targeted at the Green Belt strung along the A3. This will destroy the open amenity of the borough and produce gridlock on the A3 and surrounding roads including the A247 which are all already at 100% capacity.</td>
<tr>
<td>be very dangerous with even the current amount of traffic let alone if we get more traffic due to the increased population in Horsley and the surrounding areas. I notice there is a development proposal at the Thatchers Hotel on the Guildford Road East Horsley. This area of road is particularly dangerous as it has a blind corner and a sharp bend and many people having to turn right out of Ockham Road South onto it, all within the space of about 50 metres.</td>
<tr>
<td>I object to all the proposals at the sites in West Hosley and East Horsley for the reasons of the local transport infrastructure simply not being able to cope with the huge demand the increased numbers of population will place upon them. In particular the stretch of the A3 from the M25 junction at Ockham past Wisley, past Burpham and all the way along to Guildford experiences many collisions. A new junction will increase numbers of traffic on this dangerous road.</td>
<tr>
<td>In addition as a daily commuter into London from Horsley station I do not see how this small village station can cope with the increased demand from literally potentially thousands of extra commuters every morning and every evening travelling to and from the proposed sites in The Horsleys and at Wisley Airfield Ockham. The new Guildford Local Plan states expressly that regarding Effingham Junction station it is “not considered sequentially preferable or sustainable to direct office development to these locations”. See extract below. If it is not considered an adequate station where will the commuters residing at and office workers working in Wisley Airfield Ockham get the train to and from? Surely not Horsley as this will be having to cope with extra commuters from the 535 proposed new homes in the Horsleys.</td>
<td>4.4.17 For the purposes of the sequential assessment the train stations at Clandon, Chilworth, Gomshall, Shalford and Effingham Junction, will not be considered to be transport interchanges because of their locations within the Green Belt, AONB or the isolated nature of the station away from the village or centre. We do not consider that it is sequentially preferable or sustainable to direct office development to these locations.</td>

I object to new sites (Garlicks Arch) being introduced as an afterthought when it was not even considered in the previous plan. A slip road on the A3 at Burnt Common has been added to the Draft Local Plan without Highways England consent.

I object to raising the annual number of houses built per year. With no rational reason given, one must assume these are developers' numbers for financial gain and not for social need.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far, the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

I object to raising the annual number of houses built per year. With no rational reason given, one must assume these are developers' numbers for financial gain and not for social need.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far, the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I strongly object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being completely ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt. The site will suffer from constant low level noise and extremely poor air quality.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.

3. The significant congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.

4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).

5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already currently at full capacity.

7) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham and the Horsleys are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the three villages maintained and the villages’ green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighborhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I understand that the village of Shalford along with others near Guildford (Chilworth, Peasmarsh etc.) may lose their 'Green Belt' status as a result of the proposed Guildford Local Plan.

Whilst I appreciate the need for new housing, both locally and nationally, I can only foresee that this proposal will diminish these villages as planning decisions could ultimately become less well scrutinised, thus allowing for development that has not been evaluated sufficiently in terms of benefit for the local community.

The roads that serve Shalford, where I live with my family, are already prone to congestion and the village is at present delicately balanced with regard to local shops, housing and recreational facilities.

The village is historically significant with many Grade II listed buildings set in the beautiful Surrey Hills, an area of outstanding natural beauty. If this village, along with the others included in this proposal, are not in 'The Green Belt', then which, if any, villages can be considered to be worthy of this status?

Considering the above and other objections that have, I imagine, been submitted by other concerned individuals, I urge you to please reconsider this proposal.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to raising the annual number of houses built per year. With no rational reason given, one must assume these are developers' numbers for financial gain and not for social need.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far, the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I have the following objections to the proposed plan:

The proposed development of 48 houses at Thatcher's Hotel would severely impact on the already congested A246, particularly at peak times with drivers attempting to turn right out of the site. There is a strong potential for serious accidents to occur with vehicles exiting the petrol station at the same time. In addition, the density is out-of-keeping with the area.

The proposed travellers site on the old-telephone site, next to St. Martin's Close is particularly unsuitable due to the adjacent Care Home and sheltered accommodation. Many elderly people walk to Bishopsmead Parade and could find the site very intimidating.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBE).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no street lights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.

2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.

3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.

4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).

5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

7. I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8. I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously - air pollution in many parts of the borough and particularly at the the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9. I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village's green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10. I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the environmental agency.

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighborhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

I object to raising the annual number of houses built per year. With no rational reason given, one must assume these are developers' numbers for financial gain and not for social need.

I object to the disproportionate distribution of houses across Guildford Borough, by far, the North East has taken an unsustainable number, in an area where country lanes are narrow and volume of traffic now using through routes makes roads gridlocked at rush hour.

I object to the methodology of drawing up the plan. Guildford Borough employs consultants who allegedly have planning expertise but have done so without taking account of Surrey County Council highway planners' views, or the costs involved in improving the infrastructure, currently outside their financial capability.

The methodology is also flawed as this plan has been formulated without regard to village Neighborhood plans. Surely, logic would suggest planning is best formed by a bottom up approach, not top down.

I object especially to policies A35-41:

- Amount of new housing far exceeds local need
- Housing density excessive when compared with existing development

- No local support
- Collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough appears not to have been considered
- Key infrastructure is lacking with no adequate provision
- Green Belt gap with neighbouring settlements hugely narrowed
- Site A35 has surely been included in error given that it was rejected by the Planning Committee?

The proposal to redevelop the Howard of Effingham School is unjustified. The school has confirmed that it does not plan to change its catchment area, and can only be described as oversubscribed when demand from outside the catchment area is taken into account. A new school is therefore clearly not a strategic need and as such should not appear in the Local Plan, which by definition is a document of strategy. It is important to note that the record of the meeting on 31 March between EPC and GBC shows that Cllr Mansbridge stated that any proposal for redevelopment of the School would NOT be included in the Local Plan.

Parking is available at Effingham Junction station. Building upon the Common and allowing motor vehicles to access the common would contravene a number of Acts (1857 and 1875, the Commons Act 2006 and the Road Traffic Act 1988). Rare insect and bird life would be irrevocably damaged by development works.

- The Local Plan will shape the future of our historic village and our borough. Please listen to the views of the residents. I would be pleased to see a revision to the Local Plan which preserves the Green Belt and results in proportionate development on suitable sites, supported by infrastructure improvements.
Green Belt is not for the Council to give away; it belongs to us all and not just those who live within it, yet the detail of the policy suggests the Council is willing to sacrifice it. There is no commitment within this plan to protect the Green Belt, contrary to the content of the NPPF, party manifesto commitments, government policy and previous responses to public consultations.

There is no assessment of the Green Belt’s value, yet losing it results in an irreversible loss of:

- Agricultural production
- Rural leisure and tourism amenities
- Water catchment
- Flood control
- Biodiversity
- Natural heritage
- A carbon sink for air pollution
- Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
- Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
- Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (fracking)
- Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
- Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF).

The draft Local Plan suggests that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness”, however this is subjective. Indeed, preserving the openness of Effingham is a cornerstone of their emerging Neighbourhood Plan and fits with Paragraph 17 of the NPPF which ‘empowers local people to shape their surroundings’. I am especially concerned by the proposed ‘insetting’ of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and ‘infilling’ 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. It is of great concern that settlement boundaries are proposed to be extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. To ‘inset’ two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is completely inappropriate, given the stated objectives of the Green Belt in the NPPF and government policy. No exceptional circumstances have been disclosed, and therefore the Green Belt boundaries should NOT be changed.

The Local Plan proposes 13,860 new homes to be built across the borough by 2031. This figure is said to be based on an objective SHMA carried out by GL Hearn, consultants whose website openly proclaim their pro-development agenda. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it, despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model have not been disclosed, protected by a claim to intellectual property. The Council say we should ‘trust the contractors’ model because it is used by a large number of other local authorities’; however this is no guarantee of objectivity. Indeed, at least two recent papers have been published (one by Guildford Greenbelt Group Councillor David Reeve and the other by an independent expert commissioned by the non-political Guildford Residents Association), which challenge the findings of the SHMA.

Furthermore, the housing number is based on projections for economic and population growth pre-BrExit, including migration. These projections should now be revised downwards, possibly quite significantly.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.
The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

2016

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is gridlocked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.
The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick's Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)
It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/”Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward-looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.
The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to other towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations were available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy 11. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.
Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.
There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

2. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I object to the ‘insetting’ of local villages and to the horrific overloading of the A3 proposed by the developments in this plan.

As a resident of West Horsley I would like to register my objection to the new Guildford Plan. I object to the proposal for the following reasons:

- I feel that tinkering with the green belt boundaries, to extend land available for building houses, is a travestying misuse of power.
- The Green Belt was agreed to protect the beautiful countryside and the unique character of villages such as East and West Horsley and preserve it for future generations I object to this misuse of power.
- The local infrastructure is unable to cope with the proposed number of new residents; schools and primary healthcare would all be affected by an increase in the population negatively impacting on the well-being of residents.
- Current residents have difficulty securing places for their children in primary schools.
- The number of vehicles using local roads is currently pushing the boundaries of acceptability and increase would quickly tip the balance creating danger for children, young people and other vehicles.
- The kind of machinery needed for extensive building increases the dangers, in particular Tipper Trucks employed to remove earth are often driven very dangerously and at great speed.
- The roads are already in need of repair; damage caused by the increased volume of building related traffic would be devastating.

I believe the New Guildford Plan lacks probity and does not concede any ground to the residents concerns registered in past consultations.

As a local resident and member of the Hogs Back residents association I write to register my strong objection to Guildford's local plan site allocation A26 (Blackwell Farm). Whilst I accept the need for additional housing around Guildford I object on 3 counts:

First the new junction that will connect the site to the A31 will increase the congestion on an already very busy road. East bound traffic along the eastern end of the Hogs Back is frequently stationary for miles in the peak morning periods and any junction will only exacerbate the situation.

Secondly, having worked on the Research Park for 15 years, despite the recent work on the Egerton Road junction, the site cannot handle the volume of traffic at peak times and frequently becomes gridlocked. Further expansion will only make this worse and more frequent.

Thirdly, the site is adjacent to an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, and I understand it may be re-designated as part of it. As such any development will be very detrimental to the area.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not believe that Chilworth should lose its Green Belt status.

Currently Chilworth is gridlocked twice a day during school term time due to the amount of traffic that reduces movement to single line traffic. Furthermore the Blacksmith Lane road through to Guildford is also inundated with traffic as parents use this road to take their children to schools in Guildford. Chilworth also has an enormous amount of through traffic from the A248. If there is to be large scale building of houses on either side of the village this will only magnify the problem even more. The infrastructure cannot absorb any more traffic, or an increase of population, without completely destroying the village.

The Green Belt must be preserved and not destroyed by unsightly new building projects. The current infrastructure cannot cope with any more expansion.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the foregoing on grounds which include the following:

The Former Wisley Airfield should not have been removed from the Green Belt – the proposed development would create an urban corridor from London to Guildford. There are no exceptional circumstances justifying removal from the Metropolitan Green Belt. The proposed housing density will severely impact the nearby localities – Ockham, Ripley, the Horsleys and Effingham. In particular, the proposal will have a devastating impact on Ockham, a hamlet on open land, which would be subsumed into an area of high population density.

2 Further, the proposal would have an adverse impact on transport, local roads and road safety, and danger on the narrow local roads. Far from encouraging local cycling and walking, it would increase the danger.

3 There would be an increase in the already severe traffic congestion on the A3, M25 and some local roads.

4 There is a lack of local transport, and the local railway stations could not cope, while use of stations further afield would add to congestion and pollution. The risk of increased air pollution has not been properly addressed.

5 The area is a haven for wildlife, which would be seriously endangered.

In short, although this proposed development would undoubtedly benefit developers who are, I believe, operating out of a tax haven, I cannot see how it would benefit the area concerned. Although living in Cobham, I believe I have a greater interest in the area concerned than those living on the far side of the Borough.

I strongly object to our villages being taken out of the Green Belt. This is an area of outstanding beauty for all to enjoy including those who live in towns.

The infrastructure is not there for increased use of poorly maintained roads. Overfull schools, shortage of car parks.

The drainage is poor with flooding in many places when it rains heavily.

I do wonder whether people from planning actually come and look at the area in question.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I have worked at RHS Garden Wisley for nearly 10 years, and have lived in Surrey all my life, at contrasting locations such as Croydon, Dorking and Haslemere. I have personal experience of the housing market as a Surrey resident, as do my children. I earn below the national average income and choose to live here because it is beautiful, even if it means sacrificing some life-style choices. I do not want to see this area ruined and become suburban sprawl and a biodiversity desert. I have not seen prices in the rental and buying market rise very much at all over the last five years - indeed I believe they have just fallen following the brexit vote. The devaluing of the pound has suddenly made us an even more attractive market for foreign investment: this is trend does not support the apparent housing problem. We've yet to see the effects of the buy-to-let changes. The Green Belt is as necessary here as the parks are to London. I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
   4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity
7) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

0 The "objectively assessed need" figure of 693 homes a year is too high.

0 A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.

0 The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to:

0 failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,

0 issues with the way it considers students and affordability and

flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.

0 It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough; it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.
The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

1. OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham's sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England's requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an "aspiration" in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (Blc), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8).

There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site.

Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy 13).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy 03).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy 14)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy 11)
Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of 'through' traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick's Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1).

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (Blc), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick's Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick's Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

1. I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick's Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor "attractions" and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/"Disneyfication". Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many "leisure and visitor attractions" already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan's explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough's prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

To help make Guildford's river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An "English town break" (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a South West Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

1. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council's timidity is a case of "regulatory capture" by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog's Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

1. POLICY H3 - Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the "mix" this can include "market" housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove "exceptional circumstances."

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick's Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents' in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

1. I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

1. I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

1. I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send, and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

1. I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency's flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding.

Knowing the area well, I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly, the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly consi It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

1. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migrati These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

1. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the "West Surrey" tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, "West Surrey" is much too small. Half of Guildford borough's residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside "West Surrey". Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification on to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make "West Surrey" reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour's "need". Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey's 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. The University of Surrey has already desecrated Manor Farm by building on land originally designated as Green Belt. The Green Belt status was removed due to the University advancing the argument their "Special Circumstances" as an educational organisation needing more accommodation for its students, etc. It has not built accommodation for 1,500 students for which it has planning permission but instead pursued its "for profit" ventures on the site.

After building an under-used Park & Ride, an International Sports Centre and Veterinary School the University has still not built 1,500 student houses on Manor Park for which it has planning permission. Instead students occupy over 1,500 houses in the area and in Guildford town which could be available for local residents, students add to traffic and parking issues for local residents.

Instead of fulfilling the already approved planning for student houses on Manor Farm, more student houses were built on the former Unigate Dairiesite which is close to Guildford Station. This provision for students has denied local residents who work in Guildford town or further afield the opportunity of walking to work or to the train or bus station thus reducing pollution from vehicle emissions and reducing vehicle movements. This property alone could have provided housing for several local residents and their families.

The University's proposed development on Blackwell Farm will further erode Green Belt and affect the visual amenity of the Hog's Back Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. A ministerial statement is clear that constraints such as Green Belt, AONB, etc. must be considered. The following Government on Green Belt Guidance announcement stated:

“The framework is clear that local planning authorities should, through their Local Plans, meet objectively assessed needs unless any adverse Impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits when assessed against the policies in the Framework taken as a whole, or specific policies in the Framework indicate development should be restricted. Such policies include those relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives, and or designated as sites of special scientific interest; land designated as greenbelt, local green space, an area of outstanding natural beauty, heritage coast or with a national park or the Broads; designated heritage assets; and locations at risk of flooding or coastal erosion”.

The adverse impacts of the University building such a large development on Blackwell Farm in terms of harm to the Green Belt and AONB demonstrably outweighs the benefits of providing land for housing and employment. Much of the Blackwell Farm development is a profit making exercise, like Manor Farm where the Farm was purchased by the University with Green Belt restrictions; the University then used its might and influence to have that restriction removed.

In addition:
- Blackwell Farm is still an agricultural farm providing valuable crops without the need to incur costs of importing this food e.g. 1 acre of land can produce up to 2.5 tonnes of wheat, etc.;

- The University has already made plans to develop Blackwell Farm by restricting public access to recreation on their land of the public footpaths and bridleways. What action has been taken to reinstate access when the University is breaking the law?

- If the University is allowed to build on Blackwell Farm we will all lose the visual amenity of this Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and Green Belt forever; the setting will be urbanised.

- The development will create intense areas of light pollution, not only from the numbers of houses but from the University’s security for the additional Research Park units they intend to build.

- The retail units they intend to build will further affect small local shops.

- The development will be in an area totally disassociated from Guildford Town, and any new residents on Blackwell Park will naturally travel into Guildford household needs, adding to any already congested traffic system.

- There will be extra demands on public services, including the Royal Surrey County Hospital; increased traffic congestion will impede safe passage and increase and affect response times for ambulances attending the Royal Surrey County Hospital.

- Pollution from vehicles and central heating systems will affect the environment around the proposed Blackwell Farm development.

1. Included in the major significant factors to OPPOSE the University's plan to develop on Blackwell Farm. Is the lack of immediate improvements to the infrastructure. Before any large developments are considered, infrastructure must come first; it is already overstretched.

The traffic along the A31 Hog's Back is already at stand still at peak hours.

- The University's plan for Blackwell Farm is to include new schools in the development. This will further increase the volume of traffic at peak times.

- No provision has been made for cycle tracks along the A31 which could provide a safe Route for environmentally minded members of the public to cycle to the Surrey Research Park/Hospital, etc. from Farnham to Guildford and Guildford to Farnham.

There are plans to build more houses between Normandy and Flexford and in Frog Grove lane at the proposed SANG site. Additional traffic from these developments from the West is likely to add to the congestion on the A31 and the A3 and rat runs through local roads and lanes.

There is no mention of the provision of slip roads for safe access for house holders living on each side of the Hog's Back. How are we supposed to safely enter/exit this highway during the hours when traffic is moving at motorway speeds? With the additional traffic volumes that will be generated, it will be untenable.

- There is no mention of provision of safe access for pedestrians who cross the A31 to the bus stop and walkers using the public footpaths which cross the A31 Hog's Back.

We note that an air pollution survey was carried out at the top of East Flexford Lane/A31 earlier this year (presumably at the University's behest). If the statistics are used to countermand complaints about an increase of air pollution they should be taken in the context of the increase in traffic that a development at Blackwell Farm will generate; also in the winter we see and smell the emissions from vehicles in the "A31 Car Park" in the mornings rolling off the Hog's Back into the fields, into Blackwell Farm and surrounding properties along the Hog's Back. Building on this Green Belt area will remove Green lungs which counteract the effects of traffic pollution.
There is frequent badger roadkill on the Hog's Back.

The additional traffic will create even more noise disturbance from the Hog's Back for wildlife.

The proposed traffic light system at the top of the Farnham Road/Down Place will create more of a back-log along the A31; queues at peak times already extend westwards beyond the B3000. How is the traffic joining from new housing in Normandy/Flexford and the SANG at Frog Grove lane going to join the A31?

- Drivers impatient to reach the A3 already drive along the fastlane and "cut in" just before the slip road onto the A3. This is the cause of accidents and "shunts" which have inappropriately been attributed to the gap in the central reservation in the A31 at the East Flexford lane and Monks Hatch junction. The sec Highways state, as a safety measure, "Queues Ahead" signs have been erected before the A3 sliproad on the A31. However, these are only just beyond the Junction at East Flexford lane, just before the A3 sliproad. By the time drivers reach these signs, they are already IN the queue at peak times.

Should the University's plans for Blackwell Farm be approved the benefits of income from Community infrastructure Levy contributions are likely to be absorbed by making provision of another SANG instead of improving the already overloaded and congested infrastructure around Guildford.

The appalling congestion around and into and out of Guildford must cost businesses dearly.

Approving planning for this huge development on Blackwell Farm is ill-conceived and only serves to put more money into the University's and others coffers and not benefit Guildford in the many respects I have referred to in this letter.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Please see attached letter regarding my objection to the proposed Normandy/Flexford development.

I hope for GBC to commit to not undertaking the development to preserve the valuable Green Belt land and more equitably share development throughout the area.

I would like to strongly display my objections to the proposed development on the land South of Normandy and of that North of Flexford, which has been indicated as the site of potentially substantial development.

Reasons for objection:

• The site lies within the Green Belt area and has been previously indicated as being highly sensitive in previous assessments, playing host to a variety of wildlife and in line with the purpose of Green Belt land should be preserved to prevent further encroachment of the urban sprawl.
• The development does not particularly fill any sustainability criteria, both environmentally and socially in line with that defined within policy frameworks.
• The area identified has not been subject to any indication of how the highways, railway and other infrastructure would be impacted. The significant scale of the proposed development indicates all infrastructure, transport and inclusive of drainage would be unable to cope, with little indication of improvements being provided that wouldn’t further affect the lack of sustainability this proposed development promises.
• The site was previously safeguarded providing no opportunity for discussion beforehand, displaying the value of this green belt land. The council has now failed to identify the value of this land and the opinion of the residents before proposing such a large scale development.
• The argument regarding the need for a school is circular, having little solid basis, other schools within the area are undersubscribed and there are a number of alternative sites and situations to solve the issues with a school which do not pose the problem of remoteness nor affect the green belt.
• The requirement for this development and housing is not based on the required exceptional circumstances to comply with policy and legislation required to develop Green Belt land with what appears to be wholly unsuitable and lacking evidence as to the true need of the school and housing.

Guildford Borough Council has seemingly proposed this development for its own ease having little regard for other factors. Manageable development is required within this area and there are a number of sites which would likely be more suitable. The sharing of disruption, pressure on infrastructure through mixed development throughout the whole of GBC area would be a much greater reflection of demand and would provide a more effective, sustainable and holistically economically viable options.

I feel there is a lack of sound justification or understanding regarding this development and strongly object to the design, scale and location of this proposed development. I hope to hear the confirmation from GBC that this development will not be undertaken and so to preserve the vital green belt land, maintain some of the character of the area and allow for more sustainable development throughout the GBC area.

I OBJECT to this policy as it stands. This policy is concerned only with the strategic road network – the A3 and M25 for which the responsibility and decision-making lies with Highways England and will take years to agree and complete. The draft plan commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. Surrey is the most congested county in England, with 683 people per square kilometer, compared with an English average of 413. This policy will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone). This is a major development constraint that should have been applied to the OAN before this consultation.

I OBJECT. This policy is much weaker than previous protection. It is dependent on the Surrey Hills Management Plan, which welcomes housing development. The Surrey Hills needs much more substantial protection.

I particularly protest at the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 Green Belt villages. I am deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. This policy fails to recognise that development in rural areas, with inadequate transport and other infrastructure, cannot cope with the proposed scale of development and is therefore unsustainable. This should represent an absolute constraint on development.
Policy S1 is the Green Belt. As an inter-generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity, the Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice. Policy S1 should commit to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections, setting a clear boundary to planning decisions.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposal to build 13,860 new homes during the plan period (2013-33). The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden. It is not reasonable to produce unsubstantiated numbers in order to justify major structural change in a widely protected area (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB, approx. 75% protected by SPA). It is inappropriate to allocate this housing number, either over the plan period OR across projected sites, when the number itself is unsubstantiated. If the housing number were substantially lower, and only met housing need, there would be no need to build on Green Belt or open countryside.

I OBJECT to the plan to identify 43 permanent pitches for Gypsies and Travellers and 6 permanent plots for Travelling Show people within Guildford borough between 2012 and 2017, and an additional permitted 30 pitches and 2 plots, or any new target as identified within an updated Traveller Accommodation Assessment, between 2017 and 2027. Guildford borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Overprovision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants .

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon, Burpham, Merrow and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.
2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan proposal to take the Horsleys and neighbouring villages out of the Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances to warrant such an action.

Whilst accepting that there is a need for some additional housing, I strongly OBJECT to the proposal to build as many as 593 additional homes in a settlement of about 3000, which is the present size of the Horsleys.

The projected housing requirements for the Borough do not have any basis which has been defined. No proposal should be put forward for consideration until it is made clear why a certain number of dwellings are required and the reliability of this projection.

Before adding to the population of the Horsleys, the infrastructure must be upgraded. Local education and medical facilities must be made capable of expansion. Currently, the roads are inadequate for the traffic which uses them. If the population is really going to take to riding bicycles (or tricycles) as a regular form of transportation, then the provision of a network of cycle tracks is an essential precursor.

Mixing cyclists and motor transport is dangerous and severely disrupts the normal flow of traffic.

Introduction

These representations have been prepared on behalf of Guildford College Group who own Land at Liddington Hall in Guildford, in response to Guildford Borough Council’s consultation on its Proposed Submission Local Plan (Regulation 19).

The full extent of the site is shown in Appendix 1.

These representations supplement the original written representations submitted in September 2014 on behalf of Guildford College Group in respect of Land at Liddington Hall in response to consultation on the Regulation 18 version of the Draft Local Plan. A copy of the original representations is provided at Appendix 2.

A detailed description of the site and its surroundings is contained in paragraphs 3.7 to 3.10 of the earlier representations.

The following additional technical documents have also been prepared in support of these representations:
- Design Document, prepared by LDA Design; and
- Sustainability Note and accompanying plans, prepared by Vectos.

A copy of both technical reports is provided at Appendix 3 and 4.

The Guildford College Group and the Liddington Hall Site
The Guildford College Group (comprising Guildford, Merrist Wood and Farnham Sixth Form Colleges) is the largest College of Further and Higher Education in Surrey and one of the largest employers in the Guildford area.

The College Group covers all government funded sectors: general further education, higher education, land-based and sixth form. It currently enrols around 10,000 students per annum made up of school leavers, apprentices, adults and employers onto a broad curriculum across 15 sector skills areas, with courses ranging from supported learning/entry level to degree level programmes.

The College works with over 1,500 local employers, as well as universities, schools and other stakeholders to meet skills needs and currently has around 700 apprentices. With its broad offer which includes community outreach and special needs, the College has a positive social as well as an economic impact on the local community.

Although well-regarded, some of the facilities at Guildford and Merrist Wood have fallen behind other colleges and are no longer fit for purpose by modern teaching standards. This restricts the College from being able to develop its curriculum to meet the needs of the Local Enterprise Partnerships’ future skills agenda.

The College has no direct access to further funding to facilitate these future vital improvements and therefore needs to look to alternative means for investment. The only way the College can fund the improvements is by selling some of its own assets and reinvesting the money back into the programme of works.

The College believes that improvements to the facilities would allow them to increase and diversify the curriculum offer, thereby increasing student numbers and also enabling them to draw more revenue from commercial interests, which in turn would make them more self-sufficient in terms of future funding.

To allow this to happen, they are reliant on bringing forward a sensitive and suitable residential development at Liddington Hall as an urban extension to Guildford. A Site Location Plan of the site is provided at Appendix 1.

Guildford College are relying on funds being from the future sale of land at Liddington Hall to secure much needed improvements to its main Guildford and Merrist Wood campuses.

Consequently, Guildford College has been promoting their site, Liddington Hall through the Local Plan process for the past few years. The earlier (Regulation 18) version of the Draft Local Plan identified Liddington Hall as a potential housing (650 homes) and travellers site (site ref. 78 in Land Availability Assessment February 2016).

However, Liddington Hall has been removed from the latest Proposed Submission (Regulation 19) version of the Local Plan. This is surprising given that:

- The site is in a sustainable location on the edge of Guildford and within easy reach of the Fairlands Estate. It is well-served by local bus routes with good cycling connections to the town centre. It is within walking distance of the local facilities in Fairlands;
- In view of the potential capacity of the site (as acknowledged by the Council) for approximately 600 dwellings, there is the potential to further enhance the connectivity of the site for sustainable modes of transport as part of any redevelopment of the site;
- The existing footpaths already connect the site back in to adjoining residential areas;
- The site is effectively surrounded on three sides by existing development and two streets of existing development extend into the site from Aldershot Road;
- The substantial tree belts and small copses on the western and southern boundary, together with the settlement edges and road corridors on the northern and eastern boundaries establish a sense of containment to the site;
- The site has clear defensible boundaries and an appropriate Masterplan for the site could provide a robust green edge;
- The site has a very limited role in preventing the merging of Guildford and Fairlands;
- The site has only a limited role in containing the sprawl of urban areas;
- The site plays no role in preserving the setting and special character of an historic town;
- The site is not subject to any landscape-related, ecological, archaeological or heritage designations;
- None of the land is high grade agricultural land (predominantly grade 3 with some grade 4);
- The site is not a flood zone;
• The land is under single ownership (the college). The college would be committed to bringing forward the site as soon as the Plan is adopted;
• Residential development of the site would be compatible with adjacent residential land uses;
• There is sufficient existing highways capacity to accommodate development;
• Appropriate access into the site can be achieved; and
• The site is available for development and deliverable within 1-5 years, with no insurmountable obstacles to delivery in terms of infrastructure, highway improvements, ground contamination or ecology.

Soundness

Paragraph 182 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) states that a local planning authority should only submit a plan for examination which it considers to be ‘sound’, namely that it is:

• Positively prepared – the plan should be prepared based on a strategy which seeks to meet objectively assessed development and infrastructure requirements, including unmet requirements from neighbouring authorities where it is reasonable to do so and consistent with achieving sustainable development;
• Justified – the plan should be the most appropriate strategy, when considered against the reasonable alternatives, based on proportionate evidence;
• Effective – the plan should be deliverable over its period and based on effective joint working on cross-boundary strategic priorities; and
• Consistent with national policy – the plan should enable the delivery of sustainable development in accordance with the policies in the Framework.

The representations demonstrate that the Draft Plan as currently worded is not sound because:

• It is not positively prepared as it fails to adequately meet Guildford’s housing need and does not aspire to exceed minimum requirements and build in flexibility;
• It is not justified as it is not based on a robust spatial strategy to meet housing need;
• It is not effective as it is unlikely to deliver enough new homes over the Plan period and at the right time; and
• It is not consistent with National policy or planning practice guidance as it focuses on the protection of the Green Belt over the presumption in favour of sustainable development and the environmental capacity of sites to accommodate appropriate development and the proper distribution of development around the Borough.

In these representations we set out the changes which will need to be made to the Plan to make it sound, including the re-insertion of our client’s site, land at Liddington Hall as a site allocation.

The case for Liddington Hall

Green Belt Sensitivity

As confirmed in the LDA Design Green Belt Assessment (Appendix 3) the site has a very limited role in preventing the merging of Guildford and Fairlands and also in containing the sprawl of urban areas. Furthermore, it plays no role in preserving the setting and special character of an historic town.

Removal of the site from the Green Belt would not compromise the integrity and screening function of retained vegetation despite a narrowing of the physical gap between settlements.

As demonstrated by LDA Design a new permanent and definable boundary could be established along Gravetts Lane and the A323 which would be more effective in the long term in preventing further creep of development into the more sensitive rural landscape to the west.

Sustainability credentials

The Green Belt Volume II Addendum at Appendix 6, gives Liddington Hall a total sustainability score of 8.57 and ranks it 8 out of the 16 appraised sites. Based on this scoring and ranking it decided to include the site in the earlier iteration of the Local Plan.
Vectos have carried out a review of the sustainability of the Liddington Hall Site compared to the other key strategic sites being progressed by the Council and have demonstrated that Liddington Hall is in a more sustainable location, in transport terms, compared to these sites, with scope to deliver meaningful transport improvements.

It is well-served by local bus routes with good cycling connections to the town centre. It is also within walking distance of the local facilities in Fairlands.

The site already benefits from footpaths which connect the site back in to adjoining residential areas. These could be upgraded as part of any redevelopment to enhance pedestrian and cycle connectivity further.

In view of the potential capacity of the site (as acknowledged by the Council) for up to 600 dwellings, there is the potential to further enhance the connectivity of the site for sustainable modes of transport as part of any redevelopment of the site.

Environmental Capacity

The Liddington Hall site scores well in terms of its Environmental Capacity. The Council has acknowledged in its own Environmental Capacity Analysis (Appendix 3 of Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study Volume II Addendum) that:

- There are no landscape related designations on any of the land parcel;
- There are no archaeological or heritage designations in place on the land;
- None of the land lies within an area liable to flood;
- None of the land is high grade agricultural land (predominantly grade 3 with some grade 4);

In view of lack of constraints the Council have identified that the majority of the open land within the site comprises a potential development area with an estimated capacity of 600 homes.

Deliverability

Land at Liddington Hall has been in the single ownership of the Guildford College Group for 50 years and therefore the site is available for development immediately (ie within Year 1-5 of the Plan Period) without any insurmountable obstacles to delivery.

The site has been promoted through the Local Plan process over a number of years, and has previously been identified as a suitable location for housing within previous iterations of the Land Availability Assessment (LAA) subject to release from the Green Belt;

Not only would the funds raised by the disposal of the land be entirely re-invested to provide improvements of Guildford College, the redevelopment of the site would help plug the gap in the earlier phases of the plan period.

Summary

For all of the above reasons we consider that land at Liddington Hall should be re-inserted as a site allocation under Policy S2 of the Plan.

Conclusions

The Draft Plan as currently worded is not sound because:

- It is not positively prepared as it fails to adequately meet Guildford’s housing need and does not aspire to exceed minimum requirements and build in flexibility;
- It is not justified as it is not based on a robust spatial strategy to meet housing need;
- It is not effective as it is unlikely to deliver enough new homes over the Plan period and at the right time; and
- It is not consistent with National policy or planning practice guidance as it focuses on the protection of the Green Belt over the presumption in favour of sustainable development and the environmental capacity of sites to accommodate appropriate development and the proper distribution of development around the Borough.
In order to prepare a sound Core Strategy, the council should plan for more homes with greater flexibility and selection of sites should be based more on the purported spatial strategy adhering to sustainable development rather than the slavish protection of Green Belt. In any event, the Green Belt Assessment should be re-examined in terms of methodology and results. This would result in a more rounded and robust selection of sites, including the re-insertion of land at Liddington Hall as a site allocation under Policy S2 of the Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Introduction

1.1. We act on behalf of the Guildford College Group in relation to their Merrist Wood College campus. Merrist Wood is a landbased college, which trains skilled workers for agricultural and horticultural industries.

1.2. The Merrist Wood campus is a long established college and the only land based college in Surrey. It extends over 400 acres, with a wide range of built facilities covering over 12.7ha including teaching blocks, student accommodation, glasshouses, workshops, sports pavilions, and one of the largest indoor equine arenas in the south east. The College is broadly split between the northern and southern campuses.

1.3. Merrist Wood College (MWC) is a 162ha, multi-award winning College which specialises in the land-based industries. The College is widely recognised by industry specialists for its training and for its past successes at RHS Chelsea and more recently at the Hampton Court Flower Shows; with work from the estate known across the country and in other parts of the world. The College has a national and international reputation amongst employers and industry specialists and a long history of providing education in the land-based sectors. In the College’s last Ofsted inspection they were graded as having “outstanding provision in land-based, equine and animal care”. Inspectors commented that there is “very good academic and pastoral support” and “curriculum enrichment, including work experience, visits and external speakers, is strong”.

1.4. The existing educational facilities at MWC include a large, diverse animal management centre which has both domestic and exotic animals; specially designed studios and workshops for floristry (horticulture), garden design and landscaping (with ancillary retail); workshops and classrooms for maintenance of agricultural machinery and equipment (vehicle technology); equine care and livery (currently with accommodation for over 70 horses); an indoor riding arena which is one of the largest of any college in the country; student classrooms, computer technology suites, a student library and associated ancillary student facilities including a restaurant, etc.; a working farm; and, on-site student and staff residential accommodation. The College also provide outdoor sport activities for its students and the wider community, which includes an existing affiliation with Chelsea Football Club wherein one of their ‘soccer academies’ is run from the land at MWC.

1.5 The College are developing ambitious plans for the future. Having recently invested £1m at their Farnham Sixth Form College site in the last three years they are now looking to further heavily invest in the redevelopment and enhancement of the Merrist Wood Campus in the coming years.

1.6. There is a continuing need to rationalise, modernise and grow the college campus to cater for an expanding educational offer and the anticipated growth. The College has suffered from under-investment for a number of years. With a renewed emphasis on modernising the educational offer at Merrist, the College are currently exploring development plans with the council through the pre-application process to expand and modernise the campus. These current development plans will ensure that the college is allowed to maintain and improve its facilities and realise capital funds, to secure its long term future. This evolution and growth of the campus will continue into the future.

1.7. It is therefore important that the emerging Guildford Borough Local Plan allows for the continual evolution and current growth plans for Merrist Wood. Our contention is that the Merrist Wood campus should be inset from the Green Belt as has been proposed for other major developed sites in the Green Belt. The Merrist Wood campus is larger, with more built development than many of the other major developed sites that have been proposed to be inset from the Green Belt. The campus is well contained in the landscape with opportunities on its own land to strengthen defensible boundaries.

2. Policy Background

2.1. The status of Merrist Wood as a major developed site in the Green Belt has been recognised in successive versions of the Local Plan.

2.2. More recently, draft Policy 9 ‘Villages and major previously developed sites’ of the Draft Local Plan (Regulation 18 – July 2014) gave recognition to previously developed sites in the Metropolitan Green Belt. It stated that development should help support the present and future economic, environmental and social sustainability of rural settlements in the Borough.

2.3. Two levels of major previously developed sites were referenced. Firstly, sites including Mount Browne Headquarters and the Pirbright Institute where “appropriate development and redevelopment opportunities will be supported”. Secondly, other major previously developed sites, including Merrist Wood College, Bisley Camp and RHS Wisley were identified as suitable for “small scale or infill development and redevelopment”.

2.4. The provisions of Draft Local Plan Policy 9 have, however, not been carried through to the Submission version of the Local Plan (July 2016). Instead, there is a new draft Policy 2. Draft Policy 2 gives no recognition to previously developed sites in the green belt such as the Merrist Wood campus, and fails to support the present and future sustainability of rural settlements.

2.5. Although not explained as the reason for removing draft Local Policy 9, we understand that as the NPPF now gives greater support for the limited infilling or the partial or complete redevelopment of previously developed sites, there is perhaps no need to recognise major previously developed sites in the Green Belt in the Local Plan to allow for their expansion.

2.6. Supporting text to draft Policy 2 states that “if major previously developed sites are of sufficient scale and do not possess an open character, it is not considered necessary for them to remain within the Green Belt”. Seemingly using these criteria, the Submission Local Plan proposes to remove some major developed sites from the Green Belt, including Henley Business Park, HM Prison Send, Keogh Barracks, Mount Browne, Pirbright Barracks, Pirbright Institute and the University of Law Guildford. Further, it is proposed that these sites are then allocated for development, including housing, or designated as Strategic Employment Sites.

2.7. Supporting text states that the Council considers that “exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development” (para. 4.3.16).
2.8. We have reviewed the Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study, prepared on behalf of the Council by Pegasus Group, to understand the evidence base upon which the Council is relying for green belt matters. This study reviewed all of the previously developed sites within the green belt, to determine whether there are opportunities for appropriate expansion or redevelopment of those sites. Sites were determined to either be inappropriate or appropriate for insetting within the green belt as follows:

<See table attached>

2.9. It appears that four broad criteria were used to make the allocations in the above table. These were the proportion of built development/openness; the total site area; land uses and character; and the presence or otherwise of defensible boundaries. Pegasus Group’s findings can be summarised as follows:

<See table attached>

2.10. Pegasus Group conclude that sites 1-7 should be inset from the green belt and that sites 8-11 should continue to be ‘washed over’ by the green belt.

3. Draft Policy 2

The case for insetting Merrist Wood from the Green Belt

3.1. The college’s contention is that if these criteria are applied properly and consistently then Merrist Wood College should also be inset from the Green Belt.

3.2. Local and national planning policy requires that land which it is unnecessary to keep permanently open, should not be included in the green belt.

3.3. We do not accept the findings of the Green Belt and Countryside Study that concludes that it would be inappropriate to inset Merrist Wood College from the Green Belt. We believe the specified criteria have not been applied consistently and if they had, Merrist Wood would have been proposed to be inset from the Green Belt and treated similarly to other undesignated sites.

% Built Development

3.4. Of the 11 sites examined, seven were identified as being appropriate for insetting in the Green Belt. Merrist Wood has the second highest proportion of built development on site, more than five of the other sites that are proposed to be inset from the Green Belt. This is significant and conveys that the educational campus is packed tightly with development, with minimal areas of open land, particularly when compared with other developed sites in the Green Belt. The council’s study concludes that 6.4ha of built development exists on site. This is five times as much development as exists on the University of Law site.

Total Site Area

3.5. Again, when compared with the seven sites proposed for removal from the Green Belt, only two sites are larger than Merrist Wood in overall area. At 12.7ha in size, Merrist Wood is twice as large as Mount Browne Police HQ, and three times the size as the University of Guildford site. Both these sites have been proposed to be inset from the Green Belt.

3.6. It has been consistently acknowledged by the council that Merrist Wood College is a major previously developed site in the Green Belt and that policy has continued to support the expansion of the college campus.

Uses and Character

3.7. The council’s study states that the campus includes ‘agricultural buildings sparsely arranged within open grounds. Areas of open land contribute to the openness of the wider Green Belt’.

3.8. We strongly disagree with this description. College’s land ownership covers an area of over 400 acres. However, the main educational facilities comprise of two distinct areas, the northern and southern campuses. The northern campus comprises teaching blocks, canteen and meeting space, student accommodation, sports pavilions, glasshouses, and workshops. There are large areas of car parking and other hard surfacing. The northern campus is situated on a ridge and contained by trees and ancient woodland on all aspects.

3.9. The southern campus accommodates one of the largest indoor equine arenas in the south east, with sprawling areas of hardsurfacing, storage sheds and machinery warehouses. The site is contained to the south by woodland and Holly Lane, a main route into Worplesdon.

3.10. The site is not sparsely arranged within open grounds and the land within the northern or southern campuses does not contribute to the openness of the wider Green Belt. Merrist Wood has the second highest proportion of built development on site, more than five of the other sites that are proposed to be inset from the Green Belt. This is significant and conveys that the educational campus is packed tightly with development, implying minimal areas of open land.

3.11. It is important to note that the boundary proposed for the site when it was designated as a ‘Major Developed Site (MDS) in the Green Belt’ under draft Policy 9 ‘Villages and major previously developed sites’ of the Draft Local Plan (Regulation 18 – July 2014) only included that land covered by the northern and southern campuses. The built facilities of the College are split in two by open fields used as pasture and for sports but this land was never included within the MDS boundary.

Defensible boundaries

3.12. The main criticism of the site by the council is that the defensible boundaries of the site are incomplete or absent. Again, we strongly disagree with this conclusion.

3.13. As mentioned above, the northern campus is situated on a ridge and contained by trees and ancient woodland on all aspects. This means that substantial built development on this part of the campus is screened from wider views and therefore contributes little to openness of the Green Belt.

<See picture attached>

3.14. The southern site too benefits from defensible boundaries including the existing trees, hedges, and roads to the south. These combine to create a clear demarcation of the site’s developed areas on the landscape.

<See picture attached>

3.15. In any event, the site’s defensible boundaries could easily be strengthened through a landscaping scheme; either implemented as immediate plans or as part of redevelopment works for the campus, which are in the process of being prepared and have been discussed with the Council through the pre-application process. The college has sufficient land ownership around the site to allow boundary strengthening works to proceed easily.

<See picture attached>

3.16. Even if Merrist Wood Campus is inset from the Green Belt, we would only expect the built facilities of the College to be inset. This would be consistent with the approach taken to the previously proposed MDS boundary. Furthermore, a variety of other development management policies would ensure that any development inappropriate for the site is avoided.

4. Development aspirations

4.1. Insetting the Merrist Wood College campus from the Green Belt would also assist the College in realising their development aspirations to modernise and grow the College.

4.2. The Merrist Wood College campus is in need of urgent investment and renewal. It operates from facilities which are no longer fit for purpose by modern teaching standards and it is suffering from a prolonged period of under-investment.
4.3. The outdated accommodation is expensive to maintain. The campus desperately needs to re-invest in order to improve its educational offer and become financially viable and self-sustaining. Without such investment, there is a very real danger that prospective students will venture elsewhere to colleges with considerably better facilities. Although the college is well regarded locally, it is falling behind the top performing land-based colleges at a crucial time when the higher and further education sector is in a state of flux.

4.4. The college wishes to improve its education offer through a series of enhancements to the campus and its facilities. These aspirations have been shared with the Council through their pre-application process and we expect to submit a planning application for this improvements shortly.

5. Proposed amendments

5.1. Our client is concerned that the Submission Local Plan is unsound for the following reasons:

5.2. 1. The plan fails to present the most appropriate strategy for the Borough’s previously developed sites within the green belt, based on the Council’s own evidence, and is therefore not justified.

5.3. 2. Through failing to channel appropriate development to the Borough’s previously developed sites in the green belt on a consistent basis, the plan does not provide for the most sustainable pattern of development over the plan period and is therefore inconsistent with national policy.

5.4. We request an amendment to the supporting text to draft Policy 2 as follows:

Para 4.3.15 The following major previously developed sites are now inset from the Green Belt: Henley Business Park, HM Prison Send, Keogh Barracks, Mount Browne, Pirbright Barracks, Pirbright Institute, the University of Law Guildford and Merrist Wood College.

Examination in Public

5.5. We wish to appear at the forthcoming Examination in Public to present our case on this matter.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Policy S2: Housing Need

Requirements of the NPPF

The NPPF was published in March 2012, long before work began on the Local Plan. Therefore the evidence base which supports this Local Plan should be NPPF-compliant.

One of the key aims of the NPPF is to boost significantly the supply of housing. To achieve this aim, the NPPF places new responsibilities on local planning authorities to “use their evidence base to ensure that their Local Plan meets the full, objectively assessed needs for market and affordable housing in their housing market area” (Paragraph 47). This evidence base should be “adequate, up to date and relevant” (Paragraph 158). The NPPF also requires that the Plan should identify the scale and mix of housing which:

- Meets household and population projections;
- Addresses the need for all types of housing, including affordable housing; and
- Caters for housing demand and the scale of housing supply to meet this demand.

Requirements of the NPPG

The Planning Practice Guidance to accompany the NPPF was first published in March 2014 and is kept up-to-date on an ongoing basis. It provides further guidance on the steps that plan-makers should take when determining the objectively assessed housing need in their area.

Paragraph 080 requires that housing “needs should be assessed in relation to the relevant functional area, ie housing market area”. This means that authorities should consider the need in those neighbouring authorities with which it has strong economic or migration links, in addition to its own need.

Paragraph 015 goes on to set out that the household projections published by the Department for Communities and Local Government (DCLG) should provide the starting point for estimating the overall housing need.

Paragraph 016 states that wherever possible, local needs assessment should be informed by the latest available information. The NPPF is clear that Local Plans should be kept up-to-date.

Paragraph 018 requires that an adjustment to the starting point should be considered to ensure that sufficient housing is provided to meet the needs of the economy (by increasing the local labour supply). It states: “Plan makers should make an assessment of the likely change in job numbers based on past trends and/or economic forecasts as appropriate and also having regard to the growth of the working age population in the housing market area”.

Paragraph 019 goes further, setting out that a further adjustment should be applied if there are market signals indicating an imbalance between the demand for and supply of housing: “prices or rents rising faster than the national/local average may well indicate particular market under supply relative to demand”. Relevant indicators include house prices, rents, affordability and overcrowding.

Compliance with NPPF and NPPG

The Proposed Submission Local Plan (July 2016) (Regulation 19 consultation) sets out that the council will make provision for 13,860 additional new homes (Policy S2) over the plan period (2013-2033). This equates to an annual figure of 693 dwellings per annum. This is made up of 517 homes, with an uplift of 25 homes for student growth, 120 homes for economic growth and 31 homes to address market signals and affordability (total 693).

This figure of 693 dwellings per annum is taken from the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) – Guildford Summary Report (October 2015) prepared by GL Hearn (Section 4 - Objectively Assessed Need).

The previous iteration of the Local Plan (draft version - July 2014) (Regulation 18) set out that provision would be made for 13,040 new homes over the plan period (2011-31), equating to an annual requirement of 652 new homes a year. This updated figure therefore represents an increase of 820 homes over the plan period, in comparison to the previous (Regulation 18) version.
This increased annual requirement is consistent with the Fully Objectively Assessed Need (FOAN) set out in the West Surrey SHMA October 2015. However, the OAN identified within the 2015 SHMA was based on 2012 population data therefore cannot be considered to be a sound FOAN which meets the requirements of the NPPF and NPPG, as it is not ‘up-to-date’.

Calculation of OAN

The NPPG requires that the starting point for the calculation of OAN is the household projections published by the Department for Communities and Local Government (DCLG) when estimating the overall housing need (Paragraph 015). Household projections are derived from the ONS Sub-National Population Projections.

The 2015 SHMA applies household formation rates from the 2012-based household projections to the 2012-based ONS Sub-National Population Projections to provide an appropriate starting point for considering housing need.

Population projections

Since the publication of the mid-2012 population projections in 2013, mid-year population projections have been published for mid-2013, mid-2014 and mid-2015. As a minimum, the mid-2014 projections should have been considered as the basis for the 2015 SHMA which was prepared in 2015 and published in October 2015, well after the mid-2014 projections were published.

Between both 2013 and 2014, and 2014 and 2015, the population of the UK increased by approximately 0.8% overall, year on year. In both time periods, the population growth in the year to mid-2014 and mid-2015 was greatest in southern and eastern England. The mid-year population estimates for Guildford and resulting population increase is summarised in Table 5.1 below:

Table 5.1 – Mid-year population projections (ONS Sub-National Population Projections)

The figures demonstrate that there has been substantially higher population growth in recent years in Guildford. It can therefore be expected that this will have a material effect on the household projection rates which would be applied in the SHMA relating to Guildford and the surrounding Housing Market Area.

Household Formation Projections

On 12 July 2016, DCLG published the 2014-household projections, which update the 2012-household projections. The updated figures project average household growth of 210,000 each year across the country between 2014 - 2039. The household projections are derived from the population projections set out above.

In Guildford, the annual household growth has increased from 499 homes per year (2012-based projections) to 538 homes per year (2014-based projections). This is an absolute difference of 39 homes per year. This indicates that, as expected, Guildford Borough Council needs to account for higher household formation rates and increased housing need when calculating their OAN.
Five Year Land Supply

GBC have re-confirmed recently (in the Land at Wisley Airfield decision) that they do not have a five year supply of housing land. This is coupled with the significant and persistent underdelivery in housing over the years, and also the large backlog of housing provision given this persistent under-delivery. This situation all points to GBC planning for more homes and the delivery of them at the earliest opportunity in the Plan Period. It also confirms that GBC should be selecting sites that do not require the delivery of significant infrastructure.

Delivery of Affordable Housing

The overall housing target for the borough should be higher to make a tangible difference to meeting the affordable housing needs of the area.

The SHMA concluded that house prices across the HMA are substantially above the South East level. The evidence clearly indicates strong growth in prices and deterioration in affordability over the initial part of the 2001-11 decade. This appears to have contributed to reducing the ability of younger households to get on the housing market.

The SHMA states that there is a shortfall of circa 13,000 affordable homes in the borough, which alone is the equivalent to 718 homes per annum until 2031. The proposed delivery of 693 dwelling per annum does not deal adequately with even the affordable housing needs of the area, let alone the overall market requirements.

If GBC continue to only plan for the minimum requirements then no inroads will be made to address the severe affordability issues in Guildford.

Summary

We consider that the OAN should be underpinned by the most up-to-date evidence, as required by the NPPG, which includes the 2014-based household formation rates for Guildford, and the latest population projections.

We consider that, on the basis of the above, the SHMA should be revised to take into account the latest mid-year population projections in order to meet the requirements of the NPPF and NPPG.

We anticipate that, if this analysis were undertaken, the objectively assessed housing need for the Borough is likely to be higher. It is therefore likely to be the case that the housing target should be increased and the additional housing need should then be met through additional sites within the emerging Local Plan.

In any event, the Council should be seeking to exceed and not simply meet the minimum growth needs of the Borough given previous poor delivery rates to stand any chance of meeting its Objectively Assessed Housing Need.

The Draft Plan as currently worded is not sound because:

- It is not positively prepared as it fails to adequately meet Guildford’s housing need and does not aspire to exceed minimum requirements and build in flexibility;
- It is not justified as it is not based on a robust spatial strategy to meet housing need; and
- It is not effective as it is unlikely to deliver enough new homes over the Plan period and at the right time.

Policy S2 - The Spatial Vision

The Borough’s spatial strategy is set out within Policy S2 Planning for the borough – our spatial development strategy and the supporting text. Paragraph 4.1.6 states that the Council will focus growth to the most sustainable locations, determined by a spatial hierarchy, which identifies a ‘brownfield first’ approach. Policy S2 sets out that growth will therefore be directed to:

- Guildford town centre;
- Urban areas;
- Inset villages; and Identified Green Belt villages.

This order of preference has been carried forward from the previous iteration of the Local Plan (July 2014) (paragraph 4.4). This hierarchy reflects the most sustainable options for growth, in line with the NPPF. We do not dispute this approach.

However, paragraph 4.1.8 recognises that these four preferred locations are unable to accommodate all the new development that is needed and that therefore additional development should then be directed to:

- Countryside beyond the Green Belt;
- Urban extensions to Guildford and Ash and Tongham;
- New settlement at the former Wisley airfield; and
- Development around villages (including some expansion).

Given that Guildford is the Borough’s most sustainable settlement it is wholly logical that, in accordance with the overall spatial vision, development should be directed towards urban extensions to Guildford (and Ash and Tongham) ahead of new settlements (ie Wisley airfield) and development around villages (ie Normandy and Flexford village expansion).

In reality, however, the robustness of the spatial strategy has been undermined by two factors; the Council’s over-riding priority to the protection of the Green Belt over the presumption in favour of sustainable development and the exceptions made to include some large strategic sites low down in the hierarchy based on the infrastructure they could provide.

In terms of the Liddington Hall site, whilst this falls fairly high in the hierarchy given its sustainable urban edge location, the site has been removed from the latest Proposed Submission Local Plan (Regulation 19 version) because of its perceived high Green Belt sensitivity scoring. (We look into this matter in more detail in Chapter 8)

Conversely the new strategic site at Normandy and Flaxford, has been allocated for 1100 units despite its lowest ranking in the hierarchy, and its poor green belt sensitivity scoring on the basis that it will provide a new secondary school.

Similarly Wisley, which again falls below Liddington Hall in the hierarchy has been allocated because the scale of development (2100 new homes) will provide other uses that benefit the wider community and because of the infrastructure which can be provided.

The impact of this approach is that growth will not be focused on the most sustainable locations in conflict with the aspirations of the NPPF and policy S2 of the emerging Plan.

The Draft Plan as currently worded is not sound because:

- It is not justified as it is not based on a robust spatial strategy to meet housing need.

Policy S2 - Proposed Housing Strategy

As is set out within Section 5 above, the proposed Submission Version of the Local Plan identifies housing sites within the urban area, on the edge of the urban area, and within the Green Belt to meet the housing target of 693 dwellings per annum (13,860 homes across the plan period 2013- 2033).

Over-reliance on a limited number of strategic sites outside the built up area

The Council is relying heavily on a limited number of strategic housing sites outside the built up area at Ash and Tongham, Gosden Hill Farm, Blackwell Farm, Wisley Airfield and Normandy and Flexford village expansion to deliver a considerable proportion of its new housing across the Plan period (approximately 8,000 new homes – or almost 60% of the overall target).
Such strategic sites are inherently more complicated and take longer to start delivering new homes. The heavy reliance on such sites (60% of the total target) is likely to create greater pressure on housing delivery in the Borough as the majority of housing will come forward later on in the plan period.

The major sites are set out in Table 7.1 below.

Table 7.1 – Key strategic sites (draft allocations)

Policy S2 - Proposed Housing Strategy

Policy S2 states that the delivery of homes is expected to increase over the plan period reflective of the timescales associated with the infrastructure improvements required to deliver these strategic sites.

Furthermore paragraph 4.1.9 of the supporting text to Policy S2 acknowledges larger development sites, including the strategic development sites, will deliver the majority of new development in years 6-10 and 11-15 of the plan period.

This is consistent with the information contained within the Latest Land Availability Assessment (LAA) (February 2016) which confirms that on these large strategic sites a high proportion of the dwellings will be delivered in the later phases of the Plan period rather than from Year 1. For example, at Wisley airfield only 150 of the 2100 new dwellings are expected to be delivered in the first five years, with 500 expected during the plan period 6-10 and the remaining 1,450 in Years 11-15 (Housing Trajectory, page 20, LAA 2016).

Despite this, within the Site Allocations section of the Plan (page 122) it states:
“Phasing of sites across the plan period is not proposed in the site policies. Allocated sites are encouraged to progress development proposals as soon as possible, to help provide housing in the earlier stages of the plan period, to help boost housing supply. Equally, where allocated sites have been identified as likely to deliver in the later years of the plan period due to constraints, if these are resolved sooner, development proposals are encouraged.”

We consider that it is unrealistic to assume that these strategic sites will be brought forward to boost housing supply in the early phases of the plan period (years 1-5 and 6-10) and have serious concerns over whether they will deliver significant numbers of homes during the Plan period for the reasons set out below.

Deliverability of Strategic Sites outside of the built up area

We set out below a number of factors which will affect the deliverability of these larger strategic sites. In many cases there is serious doubt as to whether they can realistically be delivered until, at the very least, towards the later phases of the Plan period (if at all during the Plan period) because of the significant infrastructure requirements associated with them. The Council should not be allocating such sites without certainty that such constraints can be adequately addressed.

Ash and Tongham Urban Extension

The Council consider that this strategic area of growth is likely to generate 1,241 homes to 2033.

Guildford recognises that extensions to Ash & Tongham are being delivered on a piecemeal basis and therefore housing is being delivered without any wider supporting and infrastructure benefits. Therefore, it may be more difficult to ensure that the appropriate connections can be secured in a comprehensive and structured manner.

It is interesting to note that whilst the June 2016 Topic Paper: Housing Delivery considers that the harm associated with additional growth in this area would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits to the Borough, the two site allocations making up this urban extension are still included in the Submission Version of the Local Plan.

Blackwell Farm

As is set out in Table 7.1 above, Blackwell Farm is allocated for 1,800 homes in the Draft Submission Local Plan. The site would require more than one access point due to the quantum of development. It is proposed that the existing junction between the A31 and Down Place will be upgraded to form one access, which is located on a 50mph stretch of the A31. This access will require construction in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) and an Area of Great Landscape Value (AGLV). No detailed design of this upgraded access has been provided, and it is unclear whether it is practical or possible to provide a junction at this location.

Furthermore as this access would provide access to the Surrey Research Park, Surrey Sports Park, University of Surrey and Royal Surrey County Hospital there would a high level of traffic. This could be problematic due to the close proximity of the bridge on the A31. Against this context, there is likely to be a lengthy design, review and implementation process, with involvement from Highways England.

There are no details provided of where a second access would be located.

In terms of sustainable modes of transport, the development is required to contribute to a new Guildford West (Park Barn) railway station which would offer railway connections. However, the deliverability of a new railway station is likely to involve a lengthy process in terms of planning and construction, as well as securing funding.

The site is currently poorly served by bus services, which would require significant investment to be upgraded. The site is proposed to be part of the Sustainable Movement Corridor however this is not likely to be delivered until 2033.

In light of the above, there are significant unknowns over the access to the site, whether Highways England are supportive of the access proposals, and the timing of a new railway station at Park Barn which is the key to securing sustainable access to the site.

Gosden Hill Farm
Gosden Hill Farm is allocated for 2,000 new homes, however, the site is poorly connected to the public transport network and being bound to the A3 to the north, is likely to encourage car-borne trips. The site is not sustainable.

As part of the new development, a new railway station known as Guildford East (Merrow) station and Park & Ride scheme would be delivered. This site is also proposed to be part of the Sustainable Movement Corridor which again, is a long term project (to be delivered by 2033), some of which has not yet been designed. Similarly, there are questions around when the railway station could be delivered.

New bus services would also need to be implemented to support residential development, as existing services are not set up to accommodate this level of additional development, as well as being located around 1km from the site.

Again, there are serious question marks over the sustainability and deliverability of the scheme.

Wisley airfield

Wisley Airfield is allocated for approximately 2,000 new homes and a mix of other uses.

The proximity of the site to the trunk road network which is more than likely to encourage car trips.

Planning permission for the redevelopment of Wisley Airfield (including 2,068 new homes) was recently refused by Guildford Borough Council on 8 April 2016. Reason for Refusal 3 stated that the application had not demonstrated that the proposed development would not give rise to severe adverse impact on the safe and efficient operation of the strategic road network (A3/M25), nor that it would not give rise to a severe impact to the efficient operation of the local road network (in particular in Ripley and the junction of Newark Lane/Rose Lane).

Whilst Guildford’s topic paper: Housing Delivery notes that “further work has been undertaken” in relation to the anticipated traffic impact, it is unclear whether suitable mitigation can be achieved and agreed with both Highways England and Surrey County Council.

The scheme had also promised to deliver accesses onto the A3 (Ockham Interchange), Ockham Lane and Old Lane and revised access to Elm Corner. A major new access onto the A3 would require significant consultation with Highways England and could prove to be a relatively lengthy process.

The site is remote from major settlements and the public transport network with the closest bus stops currently 1.6 km to the west of the site.

The accessibility of the site needs to be substantially improved in terms of public transport facilities to avoid becoming a car dominated development. Condition 4 of the recent planning permission related to the applicant’s failure to deliver transport sustainability measures to enable sustainable travel choices to be made to minimise the reliance on the private car.

Given that permission has recently been refused on this site on highways impact grounds and sustainability, there is clearly uncertainty over the deliverability and suitability of the site.

Normandy and Flexford Village expansion

The site has been allocated for (amongst other things) up to 1,100 homes.

The site is located a significant distance from the main urban centres of Guildford and Aldershot and has a relatively poor provision of local facilities in its vicinity which is likely to encourage car borne trips. It would need to deliver highway improvements as well as a significant bus network and improvements to the off-site cycle network to minimise the reliance on cars, all of which would require significant investment and planning.

The Council is looking to bring forward this site allocation as a deviation from its Spatial Strategy because it will contain a new 7 form secondary school.

It appears that the village expansion has been identified due to its ability to deliver a new school rather than because it is the most suitable and sustainable option available to the council.
Summary

The delivery of these key strategic sites are dependent upon securing major transport or other infrastructure improvements. In many cases this is dependent on the agreement by statutory third parties to deliver such improvements. It brings into question their deliverability within the Plan period, or at least during the early stages of the Plan when houses are most needed in Guildford. The Council should not be allocating such sites when there is still uncertainty as to whether feasible design solutions can be achieved, particularly when more sustainable options are available such as Liddington Hall.

Deliverability of Liddington Hall

Land at Liddington Hall lies within a sustainable location compared to the strategic sites referred to above with scope to deliver meaningful transport improvements. It lies on the edge of Guildford (which is the Borough’s most sustainable urban area) and within easy reach of the Fairlands Estate. It is well-served by local bus routes with good cycling connections to the town centre.

There is sufficient highway capacity to accommodate development and appropriate and suitable accesses into the site can be achieved. It is not dependent on significant off-site infrastructure improvements in the same way as many of the strategic sites.

The site is in single ownership and is available for development within years 1-5 of the Plan Period without insurmountable obstacles to delivery.

The site has been promoted through the Local Plan process over a number of years, and has previously been identified as being suitable for housing within previous iterations of the Land Availability Assessment (LAA) subject to release from the Green Belt;

Not only would the funds raised by the disposal of the land be entirely re-invested to provide improvements of Guildford College (a significant benefit in its own right), the redevelopment of the site would help plug the gap in housing delivery in the earlier phases of the Plan period.

It is essential for the Council to increase the delivery of housing now (years 1 – 5) through the release of sites like Liddington Hall to counteract the persistent under-supply of homes in previous years, which has led to an unprecedented demand within the Borough and indeed across the South East. The reliance on housing being delivered on strategic sites later on in the plan period should be resisted to avoid compounding this position.

The Council cannot demonstrate a five year supply of housing and the allocation of additional housing through the local plan process would go some way to remedy this, particularly sites like Liddington Hall which are likely to be able to deliver a significant number of new homes, (approximately 600 homes) in the first five years of the plan period.

Over-reliance on Windfall Sites

Table 2 of Policy S2 (Planned Delivery of new homes between 2018 and 2033) confirms that the Council is relying on the delivery of 625 homes through windfall sites over the 15 year period. The LAA (2016) sets out that this equates to 50 units per year in years 6-10 and 11-15 (500 over a 10 year period), plus 125 in the first five years. This is reduced to avoid double counting.

The NPPF requires that a windfall allowance may be justified in the five-year supply if a local planning authority has compelling evidence (Paragraph 48). Within the LAA, the Council set out that over the last 10 year period (2006 – 2016), 809 homes have been granted planning permission on sites delivering less than 5 units (in accordance with NPPG). 256 homes were making use of residential gardens, which must be discounted. This leaves 553 homes, which equates to approximately 55 units per year, although this has peaked and troughed over the last 10 year period.

The LAA goes on to state that, as the Local Plan has not been updated since 2003, the majority of housing completions have been from windfall sites, but that this is not expected to continue. It therefore seems overly optimistic to suggest a similar rate of windfalls in Years 6-10 and 11-15, particularly given that this is when the key strategic sites are expected to come forward.

The heavy reliance on windfall sites to make up the housing targets will also result in lower levels of family housing being delivered, as these sites typically deliver smaller, flatter units, (ie through office to residential conversions) often without any provision of affordable housing.

The Council needs to consider releasing greenfield sites like Liddington Hall to deliver both the quantum of housing needed within the next five years and also the type/mix of housing most needed, including affordable housing to deal with the current acute housing need.

Policy S2 - Evidence Base

Green Belt Review

Policy Background

Paragraph 83 of the NPPF allows for Green Belt boundaries to be altered though the Local Plan process in exceptional circumstance (which should include the inability to accommodate its objectively assessed housing need (OAN) within existing urban areas).

When reviewing Green Belt boundaries, paragraph 84 of the NPPF advises Local Planning Authorities to take account of the need to promote sustainable patterns of development.

Paragraph 85 of the NPPF sets out a number of criteria that Local Planning Authorities should have regard to when defining boundaries. These include (of relevance):

- Ensuring consistency with the Local Plan strategy for meeting identified requirements for sustainable development;
- Not including land which it is unnecessary to keep permanently open;
- Being satisfied that the Green Belt boundaries will not need to be altered at the end of the development plan period; and
- Defining boundaries clearly using physical features that are readily recognisable and likely to be permanent.

Guildford’s Core Evidence Base

The Guildford Green Belt and Countryside study (including addendums) forms the Council’s primary evidence base underpinning the selection of potential Green Belt site allocations as part of its Green Belt review to accommodate the required growth within the Borough as set out in policy S2 (Spatial Strategy) of the submission version of the Local Plan.

The study assesses land parcels against their contribution to each of the following four purposes of the Green Belt set out in paragraph 80 of the NPPF by a simple a scoring system (1 denoting low Green Belt sensitivity whilst 3 / 4 denoting high Green Belt sensitivity):

- to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas;
- to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another;
- to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment; and
- to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns.

The Housing Delivery Topic Paper that supports the Proposed Submission Local Plan states, at paragraph 4.91, that any land parcels that fall within a red (high sensitivity) land parcel should be excluded.

In terms of the Liddington Hall site, Volume II (February 2013) identified the site to contribute notably to the purposes of the Green Belt (sensitivity score of 3). The site has therefore been discounted from the Proposed Submission Local Plan (Regulation 19 version).
Robustness of Evidence Base

On behalf of the Guildford College Group, LDA Design have prepared a detailed report which challenges the robustness of the methodology and conclusions presented in Guildford Borough Council’s Green Belt and Countryside Study (including addendums).

A full copy of this report is included in Appendix 3 but the key findings are summarised below.

Over-reliance on Green Belt sensitivity scoring in Green Belt site selection

In the absence of any definitive best practice guidance from Central Government on the Green Belt review process, LDA acknowledge that the approach taken by the Council is consistent with Green Belt reviews undertaken by other Green Belt authorities. This includes a four stage process comprising the identification and definition of land parcels, an assessment of the contribution each land parcel makes to the four Green Belt purposes, the sustainability credential of land parcels and an assessment of the environmental capacity of the land parcels to accommodate appropriate development.

The main criticism is that where a land parcel has been assessed as having a high Green Belt sensitivity (in the case of Liddington Hall where it scores 3 out of 4) then the site has been removed as a potential site allocation, whatever the site environmental and or sustainability scoring might be or where it might fall in the Council’s spatial hierarchy. It is clear from the officer’s report to the Extraordinary Meeting of the Council on 24 May 2014 that the greater emphasis on the need to protect the Green Belt has been an over-reaction to public comments during the Regulation 18 consultation and this has to be rebalanced.

Furthermore, LDA has pointed out that some locations that fulfil more or the same number of purposes as other areas (and therefore meet the Green Belt ‘test’), may have capacity to accommodate development without undue harm being caused to Green Belt as compared to other apparently similar, less or more sensitive areas. This may be as a result of fewer ‘absolute’ constraints to development allowing for mitigation measures to be adopted as part of a well-considered masterplan. Conversely areas of Green Belt might only fulfil a single purpose and yet have no capacity to accommodate development, without undermining the very purpose of the Green Belt itself.

Lack of comprehensive and transparent evidence base

LDA consider that the scoring system adopted by the Council is overly simplistic leading to a binary outcome for each Green Belt purpose.

Furthermore there is no supporting information which explains or qualifies how the conclusions have been reached.

LDA advise that a more rigorous and qualitative approach is needed for each land parcel to assess the degree to which the land parcel contributes to each of the Green Belt purposes.

Incorrect Green Belt Scoring for land at Liddington Hall

Even using this simple methodology adopted by the Council, the Green Belt and Countryside Study has incorrectly scored Liddington Hall (land parcel J1) in respect of two of the purposes of the Green Belt, namely the prevention of Guildford and Fairlands from merging and the restriction of urban sprawl.

To demonstrate this LDA has undertaken an independent assessment of the site and its immediate hinterland, which has been informed by a number of site visits and a review of relevant background material, including the Guildford Local Character Assessment and Guidance. Their findings are set out in Section 4 of their report.

LDA conclude that the Liddington Hall site has a very limited role in preventing the merging of Guildford and Fairlands. The separation of developed areas is to a large degree upheld by the mature and substantial vegetation framework which adjoins the site and which is considered to have ‘permanence’ by virtue of its intrinsic landscape, biodiversity and amenity value. Removal of the site from the Green Belt would not compromise the integrity and screening function of retained vegetation despite a narrowing of the physical gap between settlements.

This judgement is supported by recommendations made in the GBCS Volume II Addendum (April 2014).
“The parcel (Liddington Hall) was highlighted as being potentially sensitive in terms of coalescence with Fairlands to the west. However, a strong area of woodland would be maintained between any development within the western part of the parcel and the eastern edge of Fairland, meaning the visual connectivity between the two settlements could be limited appropriately.”

There are no reasons to explain why these recommendations were not incorporated into the subsequent draft of the Proposed Submission Local Plan and the Liddington Hall scoring remained unchanged.

LDA also conclude that the Liddington Hall site has only a limited role in containing the sprawl of urban areas. The encroachment of residential properties and, to a lesser extent, industrial facilities along its boundaries following the designation of the Green Belt establishes a development context beyond the core area of Guildford.

It is judged that a new permanent and definable boundary could be established along Gravetts Lane and the A323 which would be more effective in the long term in preventing further creep of development into the more sensitive rural landscape to the west. If Liddington Hall’s Green Belt sensitivity score is updated to properly reflect the LDA conclusions, then its sensitivity score can be reduced to 2 (medium sensitivity).

The Council acknowledge that because Guildford town is their most sustainable settlement and urban extensions (including land at Liddington Hall) fall fairly high in their Spatial Hierarchy, there are good reasons to explore both low sensitivity and medium sensitivity Guildford urban extension land parcels.

Therefore, the Council should re-consider land at Liddington Hall alongside the other Guildford urban extension sites (Blackwell Farm, Gosden Hill farm and Keens lane) having regard to its sustainability or environmental capacity and certainly ahead of allocations such as Wisley and Normandy and Flexford (which are lower down the settlement hierarchy and are in less sustainable locations).

I wish to object to the proposed Submission Local Plan.

Of most concern is the significant impact of more traffic on already busy narrow local roads. The roads in the Horsleys area are basically narrow, winding country lanes, already busy at peak times and will not be able to cope with the additional high volumes of traffic the developments would create, especially the major one at Wisley airfield. Additional major concerns include moving the boundaries of the Green Belt, lack of sustainability of the developments and inadequate proposed improvements to local infrastructure especially medical facilities and schools. The proposed developments are out of character with the village nature of the Horsleys and, particularly, the density of the new housing will contrast starkly with the existing settlements.

LAND AT FORMER WISLEY AIRFIELD
I wish to object specifically to the above proposed development. It breaches Green Belt rules, will have major adverse impacts on the natural environment including wildlife, local traffic and infrastructure as well as resulting in a development which is total out of character with surrounding settlements and lacking in the fundamental tenets of sustainability. The housing density of the proposed new development would be roughly 6 times as dense as the existing local settlements.

My major concern is the lack of suitable additional travel infrastructure in the proposed development will make the car the first choice of transport – probably another 4000+ cars and associated journeys - adding to the already serious traffic queues experienced around the M25/M3 junction, already of concern to Highways England. Effingham Junction and East Horsley rail stations do not have sufficient parking to accommodate the extra cars and vehicles are already now parking on Effingham Common Road as the station car park is regularly full.

The site falls within the Metropolitan Green Belt and, as such, should only be developed if the proposal meets “very special circumstances”. The proposal singularly fails to demonstrate that the benefits of the development outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and other aspects noted above. The development would create the largest settlement in Guildford Borough after Guildford itself, and be the inevitable precursor to further development of the Green Belt and spread of suburban London outside of the M25.

Both Ockham & Wisley Commons lie within an area designated as a Site of Special Scientific Importance (‘SSSI’) and forms one part of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area. A large percentage of the site lies within the 400m Exclusion Zone where new building is effectively prohibited. The impact of such a large settlement and associated pets will inevitably have a detrimental impact on the local wildlife.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016).

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt. Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

- There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
- The site is liable to frequent flooding
- The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
- There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.
I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable

13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch.

The development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

The Plan should develop the existing brownfield site at Burnt Common rather than developing Garlick’s Arch (A43).

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.

The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths. 5000 more houses means dangerous and unsustainable traffic.

I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development

The Garlick’s Arch (A43) proposal would double the built area in the locality, and would irrevocably damage the character of the Ancient Woodland on the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I object to poor air quality concerns

The huge developments being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion and to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are at or close to capacity.

There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough.

GBC has not published any details as how this figure was arrived at, and has not applied any of the applicable constraints to it. This lack of transparency is not acceptable in a public consultation. Also it's clear that affordable houses in this area are still too expensive for those with jobs in the state sector so this is really building more executive homes for London commuters.  I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable. Also the village of West Clandon cannot sustain any more traffic through it as a short cut to Guildford. There has already been one instance of a child being knocked down by a car on The Street which is a residential road and the speed limit is not imposed here. Also the narrowness of the road in places makes it unsuitable and dangerous (pavement is not safe) with an increased flow in traffic.

 I object to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads A3/M25 (Policy12)

Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

Please record these objections individually against the relevant sections of the plan and ensure that they are submitted to the Planning Inspectorate.

 I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy 13)

The increased congestion that will arise from the massive proposed developments will in turn lead to increased air pollution which will have damaging effect on local residents and their health.

 I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, in addition to Wisley Airfield (site A35) and Garlicks Arch (site A43)

 I object to development in areas at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

The Environment Agency classifies the site at Garlicks Arch (A43) as being in a higher risk than the Council's own assessment. The plan does not take adequate account of the flood risk as required by National Planning Policy, especially as this area has flooded many times in recent years.

I object to the 2016 draft local plan for the following reasons:

 I object to the local plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

The volume of proposed housing will damage local communities especially Ripley, Send and Clandon and is not sustainable due to lack of infrastructure. There are no rail stations near the proposed developments and no plans to improve the local roads. What about primary schools, doctors and dentists? Where are the thousands of extra cars going to go with no possibility of significant improvements to local roads?

 I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

There is too much development in Wisley (A35) Ripley/Send (A43) and Clandon (A25). The plan is unbalanced with over 5,000 houses proposed between M25 and Burpham, which will merge all the villages and their identities. This is unfair and unreasonable.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity.
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.

7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.

13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”

8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.

9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.

11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

I am fully supportive of the responses submitted by the Guildford Residents Association (GRA) about this Submission Local Plan.

I wish to emphasise my concern about:

1. the lack of suitable infrastructure for the massive increase in housing proposed.
2. the proposal to use green belt land for so much of the housing when brownfield possibilities have not been fully explored and used first.

I believe that the Objectively Assessed Need figure of 693 homes per annum for future housing is excessive and based on flawed calculations within the SHMA.

The OAN should also take account of constraints inherent in Guildford Borough, such as:
• the lack of infrastructure (particularly transport infrastructure) affecting road travel and causing serious congestion, within the Borough
• the risk of flooding in a large number of key areas of the Borough
• the large amount of Green Belt land within Guildford Borough, which limits the amount of available land for development (see below)
• the fact that Guildford is both an historic town and a “gap town”, both of which reduce its ability to easily correct the infrastructure deficiencies
• Protected wildlife areas
• Landscape areas

I strongly oppose the submission local plan as it currently stands, and hope that changes will be made to address my concerns and the more detailed concerns as in the GRA response.

The flawed evidence base for numbers of houses needed:

1. the massive number of new houses proposed, based on a flawed OAN of 12,426, and on only 60% of university students being provided with accommodation on campus.
2. the overestimate of the likely population growth due to failure to consider the large number of student temporary residents in Guildford.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The amount of proposed development that Guildford Borough Council has prescribed for our villages is totally unsustainable. The level of development proposed is unreasonable and would change the whole character and ambience of the villages. I object to this most strongly. The proposed increases to Ripley, Send and Send Marsh and Burnt Common are both disproportionate and unsustainable with the existing level of infrastructure. Send village is to expect 22% increase in housing and Send Marsh/Burnt Common a 27% increase, whereas the Borough as a whole will be approximately 14% with this housing requirement. Our villages SIMPLY CANNOT COPE with such a huge increase in population.

The proposed insetting of land planned in and around Ripley, Send and Send Marsh and Burnt Common would both virtually double the size of the villages and increase the potential for future land speculation and proposals for inappropriate development. The current road structure is already stretched to capacity and the lack of shops and school place provision would be exacerbated further by the draft Local Plan proposals.

The communities are semi-rural villages and very poorly served by public transport. The buses to Send are approximately one an hour Monday to Saturday, finishing at about 6.45pm and none at all on Sundays. Burnt Common has an additional service the 515 which passes along Portsmouth Road on the way to and from Kingston. No public services go to the Villages Medical Centre in Send Barns Lane at all. This medical centre serves a wide area including Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common, Ripley, Old Woking and beyond. The service is extremely busy currently, so increasing the amount of residents so vastly will cause great problems in increasing numbers of service users. The absence of buses passing the medical centre, results in patients using cars to travel there or getting lifts from friends or voluntary services. I object to your greed putting our lives at risk.

The communities of Ripley Send Marsh and Burnt Common have few proper shops at all apart from the Burnt Common petrol station store. There is no open space where children may kick a ball around and no community centre. In fact we feel that the scoring system your Council has used for sustainability is seriously flawed and will have affected our ranking in some areas.

The access roads around this proposed development site are appalling with traffic exiting from the A3 northbound carriageway still travelling at high speed in London Road. It is mooted that there might be a northbound access to the A3 at Burnt Common but this has been talked about for at least 25 years to my knowledge. The noise and pollution from the A3 abutting this site is dreadful. The roads nearby flood frequently, both from the run off from the fields and the A3. The road at the foot of the slipway from the northbound A3, at its junction with Vicarage Lane floods frequently throughout the year and is often flooded for several days at a time in the winter. The site lines for exiting the properties in question which back onto the northbound carriage of the B2216 are appalling. You are entering a road where the traffic is travelling at 60mph, with very restricted views. The whole roadway system in this area would need redefining if development went ahead here. Much of the proposed land for development is floodplain, building on this again will increase the likelihood of flooding to both roads and housing which is completely unacceptable. I object to this in the most strongest terms.

In summary I consider that the housing requirement for the borough as a whole has been significantly overstated and that Ripley, Send, Send Marsh and Burnt Common have both been unfairly and inappropriately targeted to bear a disproportionate number of additional dwellings. I object to this most strongly.

Our local MPs Sir Paul Beresford and Anne Milton have stated that they question the housing numbers in the Local Plan. They understand that even though the ONS has revised the population growth figures downwards this has not been reflected in the total number in the Draft Plan. Likewise the decision to leave the EU and have a more direct control on our borders must also call for a re-evaluation in the population growth figures. It is also Sir Paul Beresford’s contention that the Green Belt must be protected and that removal of any site from the Green Belt must be under exceptional circumstances. I share this opinion that the housing requirement in the Draft Local Plan has been overstated and that Guildford Borough Council has not had sufficient regard to their duty to protect the Green Belt land in the borough.

The road network is quite inadequate for the level of the existing population at peak times and it would be totally unable to cope with the proposals for increases in the population of Ripley, Send, Send Marsh/Burnt Common.

I object to these developments, I also consider that the scale of the proposed development will destroy the essentially rural nature of the parish and that the general lack of infrastructure within the villages makes them unsuitable for anything other than minor infill housing development. I request that these comments are shown to relevant planning director and I should be grateful if you would please acknowledge receipt of my email.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016).

We wish to register our objection to the draft Local Plan. More specifically, we wish to object to the removal of East and West Horsley from the Greenbelt and to the proposed developments in these villages and the surrounding areas for reasons outlined further below.

The Local Plan fails to take due consideration of the detrimental impact such extensive development will have on transport, local roads and road safety. The proposals will have a materially negative impact on the quality of life for existing residents. We specifically object to:

(i) Traffic and parking: Assuming that every new house has at least 2 cars, this means potentially 6,000 more cars within a three mile radius of East and West Horsley. For example, parking at Horsley & Effingham junction stations (which are already full), at the shops, at the medical centre and at the village halls will all be affected.

(ii) The significant increase in traffic will cause severe congestion on the local narrow rural roads (which are already busy). This will be exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.

(iii) The increased traffic will pose a danger to local cyclists and pedestrians given that there is an absence of cycling paths and lack of pedestrian footpaths (and no space to provide them).

(iv) The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

(v) The large increase in volume of traffic will cause an increase in nitrogen dioxide and particulates in the environment - already a cause for concern in several areas in the Borough.

(vi) Local Road Network: In respect of the proposals for development at Wisley Airfield and for an upgrade the current A3 junction at Burntcommon to a full 4-way junction, SCC traffic modelling anticipates increased use of Guilleshall Lane, Hungry Hill Lane and Tithebarns Lane for traffic accessing the A3 at Burntcommon in order to travel to Guildford and beyond. The SCC report states that "consequently, it indicates that further thought may have to be given to managing traffic in this area as part of a transport assessment should the development be progressed". It appears that the Plan is proposing a strategic site at Wisley Airfield without having given due consideration to the improvements which will be needed to the local road infrastructure. If that is the case for Wisley Airfield, then it is almost certainly true for the proposed developments in East and West Horsley as well.
We object on the grounds that local primary and secondary schools are already at capacity with no immediate plans for expansion. No extra places are planned in the Horsleys, and the school places proposed at Wisley Airfield are not planned until many years into the project. We object on the grounds that the East Horsley Medical Practice is already operating at (or close to) capacity and there are no provisions in the plan for addressing this.

Flooding: The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. Furthermore, the existing drainage system cannot cope, evidenced by the river which materialises on Ockham Road North following heavy rain.

We object to the removal of East and West Horsley from the Greenbelt. Taken together with other sites such as the former Wisley Airfield (also known as Three Farm Meadows), Greenbelt status serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Under the National Planning Policy Framework, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

We object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. More than 23% of the Plan's new housing is proposed for the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys.

We object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the former Wisley Airfield site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI). Serious concerns about this site have been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

We object to the continued inclusion of the former Wisley Airfield/Three Farm Meadows site - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

We would also note that the projections for economic and population growth were formed before the "Brexit" referendum result was known. Given the potential impact the result is expected to have on the economy and population growth (including migration), we object to developments which fundamentally alter the nature of the local area while relying on outdated projections which possibly now need to be significantly revised downwards.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I am writing to register my objection in the strongest possible terms to the plan to remove Chilworth and Shalford from the green belt.

I have just in the last few days become aware of a deadline – which I understand is midnight tonight, please correct me if I’m wrong - to respond to this plan and so have had little time to understand this aspect of the plan and research and organise appropriately. I do no recollect receiving any correspondence from GBC to inform me of this deadline. Neighbours have also made similar comments about correspondence.

I have lived in Chilworth for 18 years. I moved here because of the particular nature of the area: it has a particular semi-rural feeling and a strong community spirit. Any building of mass-produced housing would completely change the nature of the area.

Chilworth for example has two well-regarded schools which have no scope for increased intake. The inevitable result of which would be a reduction in their hard-earned and deserved reputations.

This is in a community that has a trunk-route – the A248 – running through it that is obviously used as the main road link from the Blackwater valley dual-carriageway to the A25.

However the road network itself is completely inadequate for the population that is already here and for the traffic that already passes through it. During peak traffic periods there is considerable congestion and very lengthy delays along the A248 and the B2128 which feeds in turn to the congestion along the A281 into Guildford. Travelling at peak times to work is very difficult and must contribute significantly for example to decreased working productivity and to CO2 and toxic nitrogen-compound emissions in the area. Both schools are on the A284.

In addition the quality of the roads themselves are disgracefully inadequate due to years of neglect.

The idea of adding to these substantial existing problems with further population increase is unthinkable.

Finally for now this plan is strongly opposed by the overwhelming majority of residents in Chilworth and Shalford and in a democratic and representative society we have a right to expect elected representatives to support our views – I assume therefore GBC will do so. Perhaps this is why there was no need to inform residents of the referenced deadline.

I AM WRITING TO FORMALLY OBJECT TO REMOVING CHILWORTH FROM THE GREEN BELT.

It is possible for appropriate new development to take place in Chilworth without removing it from the green belt - removing the green belt is not a good way forward nor necessary.

Please make sure my objection is noted and registered - DO NOT REMOVE GREEN BELT PROTECTION FROM CHILWORTH.

Thank you.

With regards to Insetting of the Green Belt behind Heath Drive and Send Road and in the vicinity of St Bedes Junior School Send Hill – I would register my [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998] objections as follows

- The number of homes (693 pa) that the plan intends to deliver
- The enclosure of protected Green Belt land within the proposed new village boundaries (for which there will be a presumption for development in the future)
- The Garlick’s Arch (Policy A43) proposal to build 400 houses and 7,000 sq metres of light/general industrial/storage distribution space on the Green Belt
- The creation of new north and southbound slip roads to and from the A3 to the A247 Clandon road (Policy A43A) at Burnt Common
- The wholesale destruction of the Green Belt in this area (including the planned development of 2000 homes at Gosden Hill Farm, Merrow – Policy A25) in clear contravention of the central government’s stated commitment for Green Belt protection.

My family and I live in West Horsley [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998]. My wife) and I would like to object in the strongest terms to what seems a particularly poorly considered local plan in the context of East and West Horsley (the "Horsleys"). There are many potential heads of objection but the following strike me as particularly pertinent:

- From a legal prospective, the local plan does not demonstrate the "exceptional circumstances" that would be required to remove the Horsleys from the Greenbelt.

- The proposals outlined in the local plan would increase West Horsley's housing stock by 35% over a very short period of time. This is a ridiculous position in any event for a village such as West Horsley but an increase in population density of this magnitude would clearly require significant infrastructure development (given the current pressure on education, traffic, drainage and other infrastructure). The local plan does not address this issue. The fact that the local plan has proposed such a fundamental increase to West Horsley's housing stock without addressing this issue raises serious questions as to the core integrity and competence of the local plan.

We expect much better from our elected council and the local plan will be subject to significant challenge if pushed through in anything resembling its current form.

I object to the figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

GBC has not published any details as how this figure was arrived at, and has not applied any of the applicable constraints to it. This lack of transparency is not acceptable in a public consultation.

 I object to development in areas at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

The Environment Agency classifies the site at Garlicks Arch (A43) as being in a higher risk than the Council's own assessment. The plan does not take adequate account of the flood risk as required by National Planning Policy, especially as this area has flooded many times in recent years

 I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlicks Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch is Green Belt and has ancient woodland and has a thriving wildlife habitat, which should be protected. There is no infrastructure, it floods and the the Draft Local Plan Infrastructure schedule does not provide for this site at all.

 I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

Damage will be caused to the ancient woodland of oak trees at Garlicks Arch site (A43) proposal, and the loss of green space and amenity

 I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

There is no schedule for Garlicks Arch (A43); the plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and therefore it is not fit for purpose

 I object to the employment strategy and impact on Garlicks Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)

The development will result in the loss of existing local successful businesses, which have been employing local people over many decades, and are therefore sustainable.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable.

Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

Please record these objections individually against the relevant sections of the plan and ensure that they are submitted to the Planning Inspectorate.

I object to the 2016 draft local plan for the following reasons:

 I object to the local plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

The volume of proposed housing will damage local communities especially Ripley, Send and Clandon and is not sustainable due to lack of infrasctucture. There are no rail stations near the proposed developments and no plans to improve the local roads. What about primary schools, doctors and dentists? There is too much development in Wisley (A35) Ripley/Send (A43) and Clandon (A25). The plan is unbalanced with over 5,000 houses proposed between M25 and Burpham, which will merge all the villages and their identities. This is unfair and unreasonable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

As residents of Normandy we would like to register our OBJECTION to the development of the Normandy & Flexford strategic site for the following reasons:

1. This land is greenbelt and maintaining this is vital to the rural area in which it sits. Normandy is on the slopes of the Hogs Back and views from the Surrey Hills would be drastically affected by the A46 development and would add to further urban sprawl in the area.
2. Normandy is also an area very much used by others outside of it because of its rural location and unique habitats. It provides vital green space for walkers, dog walkers, cyclists, naturists etc. thereby enhancing the quality of lives for others. A46 would create more noise and light pollution in the area thereby reducing the quality of life for all.
3. Wildlife habitats need protecting. We have noticed the decrease in bird populations these last 20 years and the change in species now coming to our garden. The dawn chorus is already greatly reduced here. Hedgehog numbers have also decreased. So even with no new developments, there are already pressures affecting the wildlife to this area.
4. Lack of suitable major roads to take the added traffic. The two roads which bound this proposed A46 site are C and D roads, narrow and unable to take the further number of cars which will be generated by the proposed development. The Guildford Road to which it is linked already suffers from much congestion at peak hours and it is not sustainable to add to the traffic.
5. The unsuitability of the two railway bridges on Westwood Lane and Glaziers Lane. Both of these are narrow and angled in such a way as to make their use always to be approached with care. Westwood Lane is only a single carriageway. Adding to traffic flows on both these bridges are more likely to cause more accidents unless both can be rebuilt and the roads widened.
6. High water table. Our home is situated off of Flexford Road, which is on the slopes of the Hogs Back, built twenty years ago. This new four house development was supposedly very well served with large drains and a private pumping system to deal with the large amount of water run-off from the Hogs Back. However, our garden is always flooded after a downpour, despite the fact that we have three very large trees on and bordering the property and two drains belfow our lawn. Even a meter from the drain, the garden remains saturated due to the clay subsoil and the high water table.

The proposed A46 site similarly is flooded in winter. The homes surrounding the A46 site on Glaziers Lane have for many years had backflow problems with their sewage despite attempts by the Water Authorities to solve this problem. We fear concreting over such a large area, despite putting in good drainage, would only add to the frequent flood woes in this part of Normandy.

There is also a stream in the middle of the proposed site adding to the drainage issues.

1. Stress on local health services. We realise we have the luxury of Normandy GP Practice, but this facility is already overstretched with its present patient numbers. We frequently have a three week waiting list to see a Doctor in Fairlands or in Normandy. Would there be extra provision to cope with an increased population as proposed?

2. Little need for a secondary school in this area. We understand some Guildford schools are already 63% undersubscribed and a lower birthrate is expected. Also a private site at Rokers is being proposed for the needs of schooling in the west of Guildford. This site is better served with adequate A road access then at he proposed A46 site.

3. In Guildford, there are brown field sites, level carparks, empty office blocks etc that are available for development into housing. We are happy for Normandy to expand with its fair share of 30 – 40 homes being sensitively built. It is the doubling of its population that this proposed development would bring along with the stress on its services that we object to.

These are our objections and would be grateful if these would be taken into account.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object very strongly to Guildford Borough Council’s Draft Local Plan dated June 2016. I am concerned on many levels that the plan is unsound and that it is based on flawed data.

Housing numbers:

Regarding housing numbers the Strategic Housing Market Assessment has given a housing need of 693 per year, this is far too high and is double the figure given just 4 years ago.

Guildford Borough Council have not given details of how the figures have been calculated, the report is therefore unaccountable so should not be used.

The SHMA is fundamentally flawed, historical errors have not been corrected, there are issues over student housing requirements and errors in the estimation of homes needed to support growth.

By contrast the independent report by Guildford Residents Association comes up with a much lower figure of 510.

All other boroughs have reduced the figure that their SHMA came up with, Guildford have taken the highest number. Why have Guildford not constrained the figure?
The proposed 14,000 homes is a massive increase on the current housing stock, this is overdevelopment and is unsustainable. No justification has been put forward for such a massive increase in one town.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Gosden Hill Farm:

This massive proposed development will have a huge impact on Burpham, the proposal is to effectively double the size of Burpham. This is a major assault on a village area on the outskirts of town. Burpham is already congested particularly at peak times, adding to this 2000 houses, a 1000 car park and ride, 2 schools and perhaps a station will add thousands more car movements to an already congested road network. The increase in solution is unacceptable.

Gosden Hill is in the Green Belt, the topography of the hill means it is a very visible site when driving on the A3. Development of these green fields will spread the urban sprawl in a very visible manor significantly up the A3.

A large portion of the traffic from this massive site will head towards Guildford via the roads through Burpham, this is already congested and will simply not cope with the increase, moreover the pollution of near stationary cars will blight the area.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Transport:

The evidence on future traffic conditions which has been provided in the Strategic Highway Assessment Report was produced late and is incomplete. Critical information on congestion has not been given in time to be taken into account in the plan proposals.

The proposed Sustainable Movement Corridor is simple unsound and cannot be delivered due to the narrow roads and pinch points on an already very congested route through Burpham.

Of further note is that the proposed Gosden Hill development of 2000 houses plus offices, school etc will add significant pressure to the already congested London road and New Inn Lane. The increase in solution and noise is unacceptable.

The phasing of the proposed Gosden Hill development is in advance of proposed improvements to the A3. This makes no sense.

The major transport issues around Guildford need to be resolved before any further development is considered, these include the proposed A3 tunnel, new river crossing, a workable central bus terminal and a rail station at Merrow.

The Green Belt:

The National policy is clear in that it attaches great importance to the nature of the Green Belt.

The Plan does not show evidence of exceptional circumstances to justify why the Green Belt land should be used for strategic development.

Brownfield land needs more consideration, surely the decline in the need for retail space means that houses could be built in the town centre instead of more retail units, student accommodation should be constructed on campus even if higher rise accommodation is used.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - Normandy and Flexford

I am writing to raise my concerns about the proposed development in Normandy.

Firstly, I would like to say that I am not objecting to the development per se. My family and I live directly adjoining the land in question and can see that there would be benefits to some development in the area, in particular more local amenities such as a convenience store, pub and post office facility. A reasonable number of new houses would not be objectionable to a lot of people within the village but 1,100 plus schools, nursing homes, retail units, travelling show people pitches, etc risks overwhelming the established community.

I am sure that you will receive many more detailed and more eloquently written objections regarding the inadequate infrastructure in terms of flood risks (of which we already suffer), traffic congestion, pressures on local GP services and the detrimental effect on wildlife, all of which are valid concerns and I am sure you will consider very carefully.

As a family we have young children and are aware of the difficulty of getting into a 'good' school in Guildford. We initially did believe that there was a need for another secondary school in the area, knowing many families who have not been able to get their first choice and have subsequently been offered schools a good distance away. However, we have now learnt through our excellent County Councillor; Keith Witham, that 3 of our local secondary schools - Ash Manor, Kings College and The Connaught school, are actually significantly undersubscribed. Surely it would be better to invest in bringing these schools up to a decent standard so that local people would choose to send their children there, rather than building another large school that appears to be unnecessary? Kings, in particular, would be just as accessible from the proposed Blackwell Farm development as Normandy.

I am concerned that the layout of the development will not encourage new residents to integrate into the established village society that many have worked hard to build up. The village has raised funds and campaigned hard over the years to build the village hall, to get fitness equipment and children's play areas put into the local parks. Residents in the new estate will have no need to leave their enclave, not even to send their children to the already established primary school (what will happen to Wyke school if the plans for the primary and secondary schools are approved?).

I was also rather concerned to note that the area next to our property, which is a known flood zone, now appears to have increased in size. Previously the flood risk area was located alongside the stream or drainage ditch at the far side of the field. It is now shown as encroaching onto our property due to re-landscaping of the area. This would obviously have significant implications for us in terms of insurance and re-sale, not to mention increasing the problems that we already face with overflowing drains from the main road and the back-flow onto our property.

I would like to think that, as an organisation who work on behalf of the local population, you will listen very carefully to the issues raised during this consultation period.

Best wishes.

To whom it may concern,

As a resident of West Horsley I would like to strongly object to the proposed plan to build additional houses on the green belt in and around Horley.

The character of the village would be total changed and we have too few green areas near London as it is and no more should be lost to housing when there are other options available.

Kind regards,

I object to these areas being inset from the Green Belt: Chilworth, East Horsley, Effingham, Fairlands, Flexford, Jacobs Well, Normandy, Peasmarsh, Ripley, Send, Send Marsh/ Burnt Common, Shalford, West Horsley and Wood Street Village.

There are many brownfield sites and areas which remain open for development which could provide much needed affordable housing for the current population. There are also areas which could provide more housing with a little thought around redesign and redevelopment. This would not mean an influx of more people but affordable housing for the existing population. I believe that the plan is for profit and does not provide for the needs of the current residents of Guildford. Where does the DRAFT Local Plan identify the type, size and potential value of these developments? Where does the Draft Local Plan define affordable, with examples of who would be able to afford to live in these houses. Anybody under 35 looking for a property from 1st April 2016 is now being confined to house sharing and room renting. Where does the plan identify this problem?

Why take swathes of the Green Belt countryside that make this area so beautiful and cover it in concrete, just to line the pockets of the house builders. Once it is gone, there is no going back. I am disappointed in the Draft Local Plan and object most strongly. This is nothing more than the road to a dormitory Guildford Borough, property rich and socially and environmentally poor.

My main objections to the Guildford Local Plan are as follows;

During the previous consultation there was much publicity, documentation, booklets and CD’s available for people to look at and to read. There was also much interest in the Local Plan. That was seen as a done deal with the views of the people being taken into consideration. In fact the main areas which had Pop-Up consultation points seem to be the areas which are now being removed from the Green Belt, cleverly worded as “Inset from the Green Belt” One might think that ‘Inset’ meant included! Further to those initial consultations, this current DRAFT Local Plan seems to completely ignore the concerns of the local people regarding the loss of the Villages surrounding Guildford. Removing these villages will inevitably mean that the character of the whole area and Guildford Borough will be lost. Most of these areas are those with AONB status and other recreational value.

I have a particular concern about the way the Local Plan is worded and put together. Most people would not be able to wade through the vast amount of text and plans, evidence and policy which is quoted. It is not a simple document to read and is not summarised sufficiently. I think that each Parish Council should have responsibility for fully revealing the Draft Local Plan, showing the local impact, the impact on the Guildford Borough and in addition how that impacts on the whole region when taking other Borough Local Plans into consideration. Where have GBC included ideas from local residents?

I do not think the Draft Local Plan takes into account the real impact of huge areas of development around Guildford and beyond, after all we do not live in isolation of the rest of the South East and the huge traffic and transport problems we see on a daily basis on the M25, A3, M3, A31 and all the major train routes into London. These are what need addressing in the local plan. Furthermore, all the major arterial roads and side roads are at a standstill during most days rush hour (or 3) period and whenever there is any kind of incident. People generally have to travel away from Guildford to work and this has put more pressure on the local infrastructure. The Plan should be looking to address the real issues which currently exist. Why go for growth when the fact is that it is not sustainable in terms of everyday life. Local transport, local schools and access to the NHS services are way overstretched with children having to travel miles to a place at primary school, further burdening the transport system.

The DRAFT Local Plan identifies sites with current planning applications as available to increase housing quotas. Some have actually been refused on several occasions, including through the Appeals to the Secretary of State process. Why are these planning applications being included in the numbers, they are also not defined as affordable which is a wasted opportunity to provide additional affordable housing. Several areas around Shalford and Chilworth had been identified on the previous plan as areas for development; they are no longer included in the DRAFT Local Plan but are within the Green Belt. Chilworth in particular has already seen a vast increase in houses which are in no way affordable and to the benefit of the local population. It is obvious that once these areas are removed from the Green Belt there will be no protection against development, as development is considered to be ‘approved in principle’. This development is seen as growth, but for Profit; not in perpetuity. The DRAFT Local Plan also identifies areas to the north of Guildford and along the A31 Hogs Back corridor, for development; this area has also seen a substantial increase in density and areas for commerce and includes the University of Surrey plans which have already been agreed.

This 'Plan' is ill-conceived, badly thought through, and needs to be scrapped.

I would also like to know why the consultation period has been so limited, especially with a decision of such magnitude (2,000 homes at Gosden Hill and, potentially, over 6,000 planned new homes in total), which will have far-reaching implications on the overall quality of life of residents in the Borough.

I object to the figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)
The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)
Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for its removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:
• There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
• The site is liable to frequent flooding
• It has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
• There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)
There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)
North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)
The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch.

The development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport.

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages.

I often stay with my sister Anne at the above address and have done so for the last 30 years. It is a true pleasure to roam around this lovely area of Surrey. So green and verdant. A true gem.

I was upset to hear of the proposed building by Guildford Borough Council to build so many houses in the Horsley area. Over 2000 on Ripley Airfield and over 500 in the Horsley area.

I find the situation appalling to even consider. My reasons are:

The local roads will not be able to sustain another 4000 cars

The trains to London will have to board another 1400 people

Where are 1400 people going to park their cars?

There is no local Bus service

The local schools will not be able to take another 2000 children

I am told by locals that the local Medical Centre are full to capacity.

I have just read the Guildford Local Plan and feel I must register my objection on a number of important issues :

The proposal to remove remove Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Greenbelt will completely change the character of the local environment. I do not believe there are any special circumstances to allow you to do this. Once these villages are removed from the green belt their unique identities will be lost forever as more properties will be built.

This will have a significant impact on local infrastructure such as roads, medical facilities and schools which are already full.

The villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley which I use to access the A3 from Pyrford. Further development within Ripley which will cause this to become a bigger bottleneck for traffic.

I do not believe you have fully considered the environmental impact of removing countryside from the greenbelt. The air quality of residents will deteriorate due to increased traffic and building within Ripley and Send will increase flooding risk.
lower down the Wey catchment. I do not believe the local sewer infrastructure will be able to handle the additional population growth.

I strongly believe that the guildford area does not need this development at any cost

I have read your proposed local plan and particularly the suggestions with regard to East and West Horsley – including Wisley airfield.

I fully understand the need for a steady increase in new housing to meet the demands of a growing population. But your plan seems far too aggressive in its proposal to increase the size of settlement areas such as East Horsley and to effectively take the village out of the green belt. Based on previously declined proposals for Wisley airfield I fail to see how you could find a workable proposal to put a new town on this site without the essential amenities – it would become a strange ghetto.

The Horsleys should contribute to meeting the need for increased housing in the borough. But this should be done in a way that is sensitive to the current environment and without any need to remove green belt ‘status’.

I Object to your local plan as currently proposed for the Horsleys.

1. I object to the figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)
   The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)
   Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

   The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

   The site is not appropriate because:
   • There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
   • The site is liable to frequent flooding
   • It has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
   • There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

1. I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)
   There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

   Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)
   North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)
   There is too much traffic in the villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that. The rural roads in the area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths. 5000 more houses means dangerous and unsustainable traffic. Furthermore, cycling is a popular past time within this area and brings plenty of tourism. However, with extra cars on the road, and perhaps using the rural roads, there is a probability that more cyclist deaths will occur.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)
   The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

1. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)
   The huge developments being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion and to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)
   I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy. If this development goes through, further green belts within Surrey will be destroyed and eventually Surrey will turn into an extension of London.

1. I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)
   The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy. The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

1. The development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)
   13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development. There is a certain charm about the area and the surrounding area which will be destroyed with the development of new houses. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every household will have to have a car, if not a few more. The Plan contains nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch. This will have a knock on effect to all surrounding roads.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)
   GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

   The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

   5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities of the villages.

I am writing to OBJECT to your plans to remove SEND VILLAGE from the green belt. I have never heard such a silly idea.

I OBJECT to plan A42 this is on prime agricultural land and the access on and off would be onto a very narrow lane and would affect the wildlife which inhabits this area, there are deer forces of a multitude of birds of which come into my garden i.e gold finches, chaffinches 4 different types of sets of black birds, pheasants and also RED KITES which would be driven away and no longer give me the opportunity to watch them, at 85 they are great pleasure also the extra traffic it would put on the main road which is always brought to a standstill and very blocked up. I OBJECT STRONGLY.
I OBJECT A44 plan again this is a Very Narrow lane and would spoil the area and bring uproar to a quiet road and spoil the quiet area.

I OBJECT to the A43 plan for lands at Garlicks Arch this again is undesirable on a quiet area with all sorts of wildlife and ancient woodlands etc again too the amount of extra traffic which it would generate at least a 1000 more vehicles and cause even more chaos on the roads. Have you ever tried to get get to Guildford and beyond on an afternoon around 4-430 from this area it is absolutely grid locked on both the old and the new A3 it is horrendous. The roads and infrastructure are not fit for purpose with schools, shops, doctors etc etc.

The councillors were voted on the borough and promised to save the Green Belt.

I OBJECT PLEASE READ OUT.

Finally, there appears to have been little consultation with Resident Associations or Parish Councils. Is GBC actually listening at all?

The transport evidence is weak and major issues are unresolved. The Hindhead Tunnel (a great success) has impacted on Guildford and now A3 disruption is mostly centred on Guildford. The topography of hills & river make it difficult but a realistic plan is required.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to object to the above proposed Local Plan which affects the Horsleys.

My reasons for objection are as follows:

1. Both West Horsley and East Horsley villages will be removed from the Green Belt and there is legal no justification for this approach to be adopted.
2. The proposed new homes to be built within a very short space of time will increase the burden on the existing infrastructure including inadequate roads, car parking, local schools and medical facilities. In addition, there is also inadequate drainage to deal with wastewater and surface water and many places suffer flooding when there is heavy rainfall.
3. The density of the proposed development appears to concentrate on three major development sites in West Horsley which will completely destroy the rural village effect of West Horsley. I have lived in West Horsley... since 1979 and I have specifically chosen to stay in West Horsley where there are open fields retaining the rural feel of the village.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

• I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

• I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

• I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

• I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

• I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

• I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

• I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPI) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I OBJECT TO THE 2016 DRAFT LOCAL PLAN!??

I am only 12 years of age and I do not want to grow up in a busy, polluted area. I like to feel safe in my environment which I currently do as my village is small and friendly with lots of fields to play on with my friends. If 2000 more homes, industrial and business sites and a railway station are added to my surroundings I will not feel so happy as millions of people would be traveling through my area every week. This will not only hurt me but many others of my similar age too. If we are to go through with this plan it will result in 5000+ more vehicles on our roads causing pollution in our currently clean area. Building on the Green Belt will mean thousands of animals losing there homes and possible extinction in some species. This will also harm the bees which I know we are trying to look after at the moment due to low numbers. I know this sounds extreme but it could even put us at risk!

YOU DON'T WANT TO LOSE THE GREEN BELT FOR EVER DO YOU?

I OBJECT TO THE 2016 DRAFT LOCAL PLAN!??

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

To Whom It May Concern:

From day one this has been a very underhand process, which I believe, proves that we are not living in a democracy!! It’s the same old story that if you know the right people and give the right handshake then anything is possible. You have listened to dishonest councillors and greedy developers but noone has actually listened to the families that will be affected.

I am listing below my objections and the reasons for those objections. I cannot believe that again I having write the same things as before.

I object to the following:

1 I object to: Building 45 houses at Clockbarn nursery
2 I object to: Send Village being removed from the Green Belt!
3 I object to: New interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common
I object to: building 400 houses and industrial space at Garlicks Arch

As already stated in my previous three letters to yourselves, Tannery Lane cannot accommodate the amount of traffic that the new developments will bring. We have already had an accident on Send Road this month where a child got knocked down and many near misses on the junction of Tannery Lane.

This is a LANE not a main road and is not meant to be one. Send village is a Village not a TOWN and is not meant to be one.

The current infrastructure cannot cope with any additional residents as the Doctors Surgery currently services 3 villages at present. It can be very difficult if not Impossible sometimes to get an appointment within a month.

The local schools, although being redeveloped and becoming a through Primary will still only be able to cater for the same amount of pupils, although, Secondary places will definitely be a problem.

The greenbelt prevents places like Send and Ripley and Send marsh from becoming an extension of Woking and Guildford Town. It also serves a conservation purpose which as you clearly know is an extremely important function with our recent flooding issues. Developers, once they have the go ahead will not stop !!!!!!! and you wont be able to stop them as it will set a president.

Unfortunately due the way this whole plan was put together it has left local people with a very bad taste in their mouths. We do not trust anyone and we do not believe that even these objections will be taken seriously which will prove my point.

To summarise:

Our current infrastructure and busy roads in our village cannot cope with any further housing or increase in flow of traffic. I am concerned about the safety of not only our children but the elderly residents of our village who sometimes take chances crossing these roads to get to the busy park and shops…. I hope you will take my views into consideration.

More than any other I OBJECT to the limited consultation period.

Which smacks of a lack of forward planning, a rushed, hasty and “desperate catch up “ or “opportune” timescale, to force decisions by stealth or reduce fair and thereby ignore proportionate objection.

This is plainly illustrated by the last minute inclusion of new sites with less than 2 x weeks notice, which I also OBJECT to.

I object to the strain put on the already strained infrastructure in these villages. Ripley high street is already crowded with cars, with little parking and the junction with Newark Lane is chaotic at peak times and many times during the day. Add many more homes to the mix and the route to/from the A3 would be strained to breaking point, not to mention liable to lead to accidents.

I object to the Local Plan which is currently out for consultation. There are so many aspects of the Plan which are not acceptable. To list them all would take up an inordinate amount of your time reading, comprehending and responding to. Therefore I will just list the most obvious parts of the Plan which are unacceptable paying particular attention to those affecting the local parishes of Send, Clandon & Ripley:-

• I object to the use of a “Black Box” method which has been used by GBC to derive the housing target. I attended a meeting where the leader of the Council was unable or unwilling to shed any light upon the methodology or parameters used within the model. The annual number of new homes required quoted in the draft Local Plan exceeds the needs of residents.

I object to a Local Plan which includes 400 houses and 7,000 sq feet of industrial usage (A43) in an area where only recently you correctly turned down an application for only 25 houses. Housing Need is not an exceptional circumstance which justifies the removal of land from the Green Belt. Simply because a Landowner and a Developer are seeking to make millions of pounds profit – that greed is not an exceptional circumstance which justifies the removal of land from the Green Belt. Neither is there an exception circumstance justified when those said Land owners and developers effectively offer a bribe of paying for the ramps to the A3 (A43A). On every moral and ethical test this is not something which can be justified and should be removed from the Local Plan.

I trust that you will consider all of the objections which I have raised above. That you will determine that all my objections are reasonable and as a consequence you will accept that the Local Plan, as currently written, is flawed and requires significant amendments before being presented again.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

- I object to the creation of ramps to and from the A3 at Garlick’s Arch / Burnt Common (A43A). The local roads already cannot support the existing volume of traffic. The new ramps would generate significant additional flows upon local roads creating numerous rat runs as commuters strive to save additional time. This pressure would not just be felt by the A247 but by narrow lanes e.g. those around East Clandon and Tithebarns Lane in Send.
- I object to a Local Plan which seeks to direct additional traffic onto roads (A247) which cannot be widened to accommodate the additional volume of traffic.
- I object to the creation of the ramps to and from the A3 at Garlick’s Arch / Burnt Common – These would generate additional noise to Local houses whilst significantly deteriorating the quality of air.
- I object to the creation of ramps to and from the A3 at Garlick’s Arch / Burnt Common since these would generate significant safety risks to those living in the immediate vicinity of the planned ramps (Tithebarns Lane) together with pedestrians, cyclists and other users of Tithebarns Lane – including staff and visitors to HMP Send.

I object to the revised local Plan because there is still not adequate infrastructure being implemented for the increased needs generated by the additional homes specified in the Draft Plan i.e. schools, doctors, dentists, shops and most importantly the impact upon local roads which would naturally follow if the draft local plan were to be implemented has not been addressed.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

I trust that all of these objections, together with those which I submitted when the previous iteration of this Local Plan was made open to comment, will be taken into account when finalising the Local Plan. That final version should simply address the needs of the community and not reflect the desires of developers and land owners.

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:

- The increase to 60 homes in place of 45 homes is 33% more and too much
- It ignores all the hundreds of previous objections made by local people
- It will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction
- It will make erosion of the Green Belt in our village worse
- It will make surface water flooding, which is already bad, even worse
- It will impact open countryside views from the River Wey Navigation

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch because:

• It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
• There is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location
• It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no "exceptional circumstances" exist
• It will cause over-development of our village and the number of homes is excessive
• It is exquisite ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth I
• It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
• It is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation
• It is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over fifty years
• It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads of Send and Ripley

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:

• It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
• The word "minimum" is a change from the previous "maximum" in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
• There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
• The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
• The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
• It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy(A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

2 - Objection to the number of houses being built in the four proposed sites - specifically policy A41:

A suggested 35 percent increase in housing in West Horsley is a monstrous figure for this community. Vast developments impinge on the rural nature of villages and destroy the very reason why people want to live there.

The purpose of the Green Belt is to provide 'lungs' for a Metropolitan Area and West Horsley village serves that purpose. This particular proposal to build 90 homes on the open fields will destroy that. For ever it's been possible to take quiet country walks starting at Lollesworth Lane across to the Sheepleas and beyond, appreciating the rural aspect from the start.

As a Nation we need to protect villages like West Horsley and concentrate on developing in areas where there IS sufficient infrastructure to support new homes. Guildford Borough Council need to consider this very carefully and ensure that the much needed new homes that are built are not going to impact on this valuable commodity which once lost can never be retrieved.

This is not a NIMBY objection but an appeal for common sense.

We are writing to object to the Local Plan proposals for West Horsley on the following grounds:

1 - Objection to removing West Horsley from the Green Belt:

The Local Plan categorically states "that we will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt " - understandable, as the fact is, the village has absolutely no infrastructure in terms of doctors, very limited bus service, one small shop, poor roads and a school already operating at capacity.

We were resident at 23 East Lane for over 30 years until 2007 and continue to visit regularly as one of our sons bought the property and now lives there with his family. Since we left the infrastructure has not changed apart from the fact that there is no longer a post office and the traffic has increased considerably.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy(A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I wanted to draw your attention to my objection to the proposed developments in West and East Horsley and the surrounding areas. It seems there have been no sound reasons given for the proposed changes which seem to be aimed solely at increasing land available within the settlements for future additional development.

I am also opposed to the village’s removal from the Green Belt by insetting and extending the 003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries. West Horsley Parish is one of a rich and varied mix of established low housing density settlements with a considerable number of historic buildings. Positioned on the north side of the North Downs, partly in the Surrey Hills AONB, it attracts a considerable number of recreational visitors through the seasons each year. This added to your proposed circa 3,000 additional houses will ensure the Village infrastructure falls apart.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The local schools are already full. The Medical facilities are stretched. Drainage is inadequate and roads and car parks are overloaded with little or no scope for improvements. Traffic around the area is generally getting heavier and the villages have not been built with such a high density of housing or population in mind.

Without a doubt your proposed plans are going to ruin the local villages, the infrastructure won’t be able to cope and the scale of increase has alarming results (up to 35% in existing west Horsley households - greater than any other single area in the Borough).

I sincerely hope you will reconsider your plans that are going to have a detrimental effect on the whole borough.

I am 29 years old and have lived in Horsely most of my life and I write to object to the above proposed new local plan and what you propose to do with taking land out of the green belt to create additional housing in West Horsely of up to 385 homes.

This is totally unfair for everyone that lives in the village- what right do you have to propose a plan that does not account for the views of the local residents?

These proposals will have massive detrimental effect on our homes and our lives. All the initial consultation on the strategy and the various objections appear to have been ignored.
West Horsley as a village does not have the facilities for the population to be increased by this amount. The school is oversubscribed and so is the medical centre.

I therefore strongly object to this proposal.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy(A43 Garlick’s Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43a, the proposed on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common as this will inevitably cause traffic chaos on the local road network throughout Ripley, Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon, with absolutely no possibility of mitigation due to the nature of our rural roads and lanes.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I OBJECT to policy A43.30 the development of new four way interchange onto the A3 which would mean that narrow Send Road (A247) would be the main route for traffic leaving the M25 and A3. It is already crowded and vulnerable to traffic jams. Further traffic from this development would result in permanent gridlock. It simply would not work.

I OBJECT to policy A44 which would see 40 homes and two travellers' pitches on land west of Winds Ridge and Send Hill. This was again a NEW site NOT included in 18 draft and therefore has NOT been consulted on previously. Once again this is Green Belt land partly containing unsafe landfill. Access is by a narrow lane which could never take the volume of traffic that would ensue from traveller's pitches.

I OBJECT to the fact that the Local Plan takes no account of schools, doctors surgeries and roads that are already operating at full capacity. Another 4000 houses in this area with a conservative estimate of a further 8000 cars would be catastrophic.

I OBJECT to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a single track country road and too narrow to provide sufficient access to the site or accommodate the potential new levels of traffic the proposed development would bring.

I OBJECT to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed number of houses potentially could result in 92 extra cars in Send Hill which is already suffering from congestion particularly at school run time.

I OBJECT to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that a wasteland solutions environmental report on Send Hill dated March 2004 gave evidence of past ponding of water in the excavated area. Further development would disturb water table and increase risk of flooding to my property.

I OBJECT to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed development site (A44) was used as OBC registered landfill site, not a quarry as listed as reference LLA 2081 in the local plan.

I OBJECT to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the 1963-8 Ordnance Survey maps of the proposed site mark it as "refuse and slag heap". It is therefore unsuitable for such a development on health reasons.

I OBJECT to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Traveller Accommodation Assessment research purported to have been undertaken in June-July 2012 by Mill Field Services, cannot be the case. The Sittingbourne based market research company was dissolved in January 2011 according to the government companies site.
I OBJECT to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both Envirosearch report RS1100201 _1 _1 dated 17th February 2004 concludes "potentially contaminative industrial sites identified from analysis" of Ordnance survey maps.

I have concerns over the strain the additional proposals will place on local resources. The roads in the surrounding area will not be able to cope with the addition of some 800 vehicles of local traffic. It is also my belief that the current local surgery will be overstretched with the addition of houses proposed causing a backlash for current residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common,
Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common,
Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Consultation: Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy And Sites 2016

I am responding to the above consultation on behalf of the National Federation of Gypsy Liaison Groups.

We consider the plan to be unsound, non-compliant with National policy and it will not be effective in meeting the needs of Gypsies and Travellers.

Policy H3 refers to a requirement that pitches for Travellers pitches will be permitted to meet an identified need provided it is within easy walking distance of a settlement. This is unacceptable as sites so close to settlements will rarely if ever be acceptable to local communities.

The policy also requires that pitches for Travellers pitches must meet or contribute to meeting the local; affordable housing need and that they are secured as affordable homes in perpetuity. This is clearly quite inappropriate for Traveller sites.
Furthermore both elements of the policy require favourable consideration of Traveller pitches to be reliant on meeting an identified need. This is inconsistent with national policy. Paragraph 10 of Planning Policy for Traveller sites requires Local Plans to set out criteria to deal with applications irrespective of need.

Paragraph 4.2.49 says Traveller exception housing will be provided on council owned public pitches on small, suitably located sites in the Green Belt. This is not consistent with Green Belt Policy P2 which does not allow for such development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

We consider the plan to be unsound, non-compliant with National policy and it will not be effective in meeting the needs of Gypsies and Travellers.

Some of the allocated sites are only temporary and some limited to particular occupants. These cannot therefore be regarded as fulfilling the long term need for Traveller sites.

There is a complete absence of any policy guidance to deal with applications which are received for new Traveller pitches. PPTS requires that Local Plans must provide policy guidance to deal with applications which come forward where there is no identified need.

I wish to register my support for retaining the above allotment site.

My father and I both have plots on the site and since my father retired his allotment has been a lifeline for him, not only as a social, but also as a mental health benefit. If he did not have the allotment, his mental health would have suffered greatly. My grandfather also had a plot on the site, and my partner and I currently have a plot, so three generations of our family have had allotments on the Westborough site. This heritage is very important and this community-led site has been in existence since before the First World War.

The retention of the front access (behind St Josephs School) off Aldershot Road is also critical as there is no hardstanding for cars at the top of the site, and when it rained heavily recently, my partner and I parked on the grass which turned into a bog and we were stuck there for an hour trying to dig the car out.

The group WASHA work very hard and run an educational plot on the site for St Joseph’s School which I believe has won a prize. Creating an interest in gardening is critical for children of a young age as it teaches them about biodiversity, the importance of caring for the environment, and about healthy eating. I am a school counsellor and there are many school children suffering from obesity. In addition to changing to more healthy meals at school, it is educationally beneficial to teach children where food comes from and stimulate that interest at an early age about the environment. This teaching also links to School’s yearly Harvest Festivals which have a strong relationship to the allotments.

It is very sad that every few years we need to campaign for our cause, to save our allotments. This is a benefit for the community and we need to try and protect what little green spaces we have left from the threat of new builds. I therefore strongly believe that allotments should be included on the list of green spaces under ‘green and blue infrastructure’ under para 4.6.31 of the draft plan (p. 116) and I wholly support Policy I4 (Green and Blue Infrastructure).

Periodically, I come down from the haze and dust of London and stay with my brother in East Horsley. The fresh air, the fields full of horses and sheep is a joy to see. So therefore, I strongly object to Guildford Borough Council proposals of taking the Horsley area out of Green Belt and to propose such a colossal building programme of 2000+ houses on Ripley Airfield and over 530 houses in Horsley.

The schools will not be able to cope with at least another 2000 children

The roads will not be able to cope with an extra 4000 cars.

At least 1500 persons will want to use Horsley station in already overcrowded trains

Where will 1500 people park?

On many occasions, I have walked to my brothers house in East Horsley on flooded roads. So where is all the water going to go with such ancient drainage?
Please take note of my concerns with regard to such a massive house building scheme.

I refer to the above and hereby put on record my very strong objection to it.

I have lived in West Horsley since 1978 and can not see any justification whatsoever for removing East & West Horsley from the Green Belt. It would completely destroy the character of the villages and put enormous pressure on local infrastructure i.e. roads, drainage, schools, health service etc.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am a resident in West Horsley and I wish to inform you of my very strong objection to this village and surrounding areas being taken out of the Green Belt. The plans for development will destroy everything that makes the Horsleys a wonderful place to live. I moved to the area last year purely on the basis of the setting of the village, the community, the relatively small population and of course the beautiful countryside.

I previously lived within the M25 with its large estates, pollution, high levels of traffic and crime. I certainly do not want Horsley to go the same way, which would be inevitable if removed from the green belt.

The village is already struggling to provide for its current residents i.e. parking at the doctors surgery is always very difficult, schools over-subscribed and some of the roads are in a dangerous state (East Lane being a prime example)
I STRONGLY OBJECT to Horsley being removed from the Green Belt and to the proposed planning developments.

Please do not destroy one of only a few areas of outstanding beauty. I fully appreciate the need for more housing and for it to be affordable housing, but I think it more appropriate to expand already existing urban areas rather than destroy country villages.

I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1).

The proposed number of 13,860 new houses in the area of Ripley, Send and Glandon is not sustainable. This development will ruin the local community and surrounding area, as there are no railway services, for Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43) and the bus services are inadequate, it will bring more cars to the area as most households have more than one vehicle.

The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch.

The development should be relocated to urban areas where there is sustainable transport.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The phasing of housing development and transport infrastructure are out of kilter. Gosden Hill is shown to be phased in from 2021 onwards but improvements to the A3 are to be delivered in the period 20123-2027. There will be a huge period of time where the existing A3 has to cope with additional demand. As a daily user of the A3, this will result in me having to adjust my schedule significantly to compensate for the extra traffic that I will encounter. As we move into a more 'sustainable' era, motorists sitting idle with their engines running for longer surely doesn't help achieve this goal? Keeping people moving will help dampen this environmental impact.

Not only is this out of kilter but the allocation of the most suitable site for the proposed A3 tunnel entrance for housing is shortsighted and a detriment to the whole of Guildford who desperately need to have the A3 traffic jams solved.

I hope you take this objection, and the many others, seriously, and abandon the proposed plans to the Burpham & wider Guildford area.

The London Road (one of the main roads into the town centre) does not have the capacity to include a bus lane and a cycle lane, furthermore, the current Bus system does not warrant the need for an extra lane. The designation as a sustainable movement corridor cannot be correct as the road is not wide enough and the traffic is already horrendous queuing the full length from The Parkway to the A3100 Clay Lane. The costs and disruption, in my view, clearly outweigh any benefits that might be gained, certainly, this won't encourage residents to drive less.

Emerging local Plan Consultation - Proposed site allocation for the travelling community off Rose Lane, Ripley

We have worked in a professional sense for Alexander Stewart Clark, the owner of the two large industrial buildings off Rose lane and we have watched from a distance (occasionally advising our client) as the travellers who have setup camp off Mr Stewart Clark's track have used the system to get the site that they live on established in the planning system.

We note that Guildford Borough Council's emerging local Plan Document, the Proposed Submission local Plan, is currently out for consultation and it is with dismay that we note that this initial development plan document includes this traveller site as a potential permanent allocation.

In suggesting this site as an allocated traveller site, it appears that the Council has taken the path of least resistance because the residents are already present. We must remind you that the occupiers of the site have, for many years, been in breach of planning regulations. The planning history of the site includes dismissed planning appeals as well as a court in junction to vacate the site-yet nothing has happened and they remain in situ. In brief, this includes the refusal of Planning permission (PP) for the use of the land as a caravan site for 2 static caravans and 3 touring caravans in February 2010 and an enforcement notice (EN) followed. Appeals against the PP and EN were dismissed in September 2010. A high court challenge against these decisions was dismissed in April 2013 and the EN came into effect to clear the site by 14th June 2014. A subsequent application was submitted on 8th May 2014, a month before the EN was due to be complied with and using a change in national policy as the way to have are consideration and delay an enforcement notice.

The last of these applications was refused by the Borough Council and the most recent appeal decision was issued on 3pt July 2015 and granted the appellants temporary planning consent to remain on the site for three years. There are three important conclusions that the Inspector makes in the decision and all point at a site being unsuitable for the proposed use:

- The proposal encroaches into the countryside and is therefore contrary to the purposes of the Green Belt in conflict with policies RE2 and H13 of the GBC local Plan.
- The development of the site detracts from the appearance of the area and is "harmfully out of keeping with its rural setting". The application is contrary to policies G5 and H13 of the GBC local plan.
- There would be some harm to the setting of the Ripley Conservation area.

All these issues would usually result in the refusal of planning permission. However, the Inspector went on to consider the need for traveller sites and concluded that, If the appeal was to fail, there is nowhere for the appellant and extended family to live as "they could not conceive of living in bricks and mortar”. The Inspector also had regard to the personal needs of the family with particular regard to the needs of the children and a nomadic existence would make education and healthcare difficult. The removal of the family from the site would “undoubtedly result in Article 8 of the European Convention of Human Rights being engaged”.

When assessing Human Rights, the Inspector is obliged to "strike a fair balance between the rights of the individuals concerned and the interests of the community”. In making this balance (and he considers in detail both sides of the argument) the Inspector concluded that "the harm to the Green Belt is not clearly outweighed by other considerations and that permanent planning permission should not be granted”.

He concluded that the planning balance is different for a temporary decision because harm would be limited in time and reduced. The Inspector was satisfied that the Council will provide traveller sites inline with the requirements above and he was "satisfied that there is a real likelihood that sites will become available so that circumstances will have materially changed by the end of a temporary planning permission. Permission is therefore granted for 3 years."

At no point did the Inspector say that this was a suitable site for a travellers' site. In fact, every conclusion made by the Inspector stated that it was not a suitable site for the continued residential use. The Borough Council have a duty to consider these conclusions in preparing the new local plan. It is clear that the Council are taking the easy route here and have effectively concluded that, as that the site has a temporary planning consent, it might as well remain. The Council has failed to take into account the negative conclusions made by the Inspector focusing only on the headline of the appeal decision rather than the conclusions made within. In other words, it is effectively endorsing the approach of the residents to move to the most desirable site possible- in this case, on the edge of the pleasant village of Ripley and its conservation area -and then to find any change in policy to force the Council to reconsider their case, prevent vacation and ultimately have the location ratified through the new local plan.

Whilst we appreciate that the Council has a duty to find traveller sites as part of the emerging local plan, these must be broadly consistent with the Government's policy and not seek to go against national advice (or the Council run the risk of the local plan being found “unsound”). This site must be viewed as though it was an empty and undeveloped site.

In terms of the location of traveller sites sustainability is an important consideration in assessing the acceptability of proposed gypsy pitches. The NPPF is underpinned by the "presumption in favour of sustainable development" and this presumption is evident throughout the Planning Policy for Traveller Sites notably in the following locations:

- Paragraph 4, bullet point 8-" The government's aims in respect of traveller sites are to increase the number of traveller sites in appropriate locations...."
- Paragraph 11 -"LPA’s should ensure that traveller sites are sustainable economically, socially and environmentally” .
- Paragraph 21 -"Applications should be assessed and determined in accordance with the presumption in favour of sustainable development"
- Paragraph 23-"LPAs should strictly limit new traveller site development in open countryside that is away from existing settlements".

This site is completely detached from the edge of Ripley and is therefore located in the open countryside away from existing settlements. To allocate it as a site, GBC would need to remove the site from the Green Belt as the proposed use is not one of the acceptable land uses in the Green Belt. This will effectively create an island of Greenfield land (noting that, despite being occupied, it is not classified as previously developed land) otherwise surrounded by Green Belt, unless the Council are planning on a larger release of Green Belt around Ripley-however this is not suggested on the allocations map.

This suggested allocation should be reconsidered otherwise the local Plan examiner will be asked to contradict the findings of his colleague in the recent appeal decision.

Objection to Guildford Borough Council draft Local Plan (June 2016) and to the inclusion in the Plan of Site Allocation A35 - the Former Wisley Airfield - for a new settlement with 2,000 dwellings

Although we live outside the borough of Guildford, we have a greater interest in what goes into the Guildford Local Plan than those living on the far side of the borough. With this in mind we would like to object most strongly to the Guildford Borough Council draft Local Plan (June 2016) and to the inclusion in the Plan of Site Allocation A35 - the Former Wisley Airfield - for a new settlement with 2,000 dwellings with the following reasons:

- We object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.
- No exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the site from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land.
- We object to the disproportionate allocation of a proposed increase in housing to the nearby localities of Ockham, Ripley, the Horsleys and Effingham.
- We object to the threat the Local Plan as drafted poses to the historic rural settlements of Ockham, Hatchford and Downside.
- The plan calls for Ockham, a hamlet of 159 residences to be subsumed into development, on presently open land, with 2,000 dwellings and other urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- Hatchford, south of the M25, has some 60 residences off narrow Ockham Lane that would be greatly affected by the proximity of development.
- We object to the potential harmful impact on transport, local roads and road safety by the suggested development. The result of an additional 2,000 homes would be an estimated 4,000 additional cars together with other vehicles, including HGVs, to service the development.
- The increased traffic would cause congestion and danger on the narrow rural roads in Ockham, Hatchford, Downside and Cobham. Cobham is the closest shopping centre to the proposed development. The village could not cope with the additional traffic and car parking involved in serving some 5,000 additional occupiers at the site and would experience a significant increase in stationary/idling traffic at peak times and at junctions.
- Due to the absence of cycling paths and the lack of footpaths (and the space to provide them) the assertion that the development would result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking is unbelievable. The increased traffic would add danger to cyclists and pedestrians (including those increasingly using local roads for recreational purposes).
- There would be an increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25 and the junction of those as well as local roads. The current planning application by RHS Wisley would already have significantly added to visitor traffic. Any proposed secondary schooling would add additional congestion.
- The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley could not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In the refused planning application there had been a suggestion that Cobham & Stoke D’Abernon Station could be used. That or use of stations further north at Weybridge or Walton would increase congestion and pollution on local roads in Elmbridge.
- We object to the issue of air quality not being taken seriously. Air pollution in this area in the north of the Borough of Guildford and the south of the Borough of Elmbridge and particularly near the M25/A3 junction already exceeds EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic would worsen the situation, affecting the health of all current and future residents.
- We object to insufficient consideration being given to the environmental and ecological value of the site and the area around it, taking account of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- The area is a haven for wildlife, some of which is already endangered. The introduction of residences would mean the import into an ecologically sensitive area not only of humans and their increased footfall, but also of pets, and cats and dogs in particular, that can have a devastating effect on wildlife. Protected species on and near the site and wildlife corridors would be destroyed.
These objections are supported by the unanimous rejection of application no 15/P/00012 by the Planning Committee at Guildford Borough Council on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of Planning Officers. The Planning Report identified these serious concerns.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designatea Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the Green Belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy(A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I object strongly to the above proposed development. I do not believe that it is for the good of Guildford in any shape or form. We do not have the necessary infrastructure to support it nor is anything satisfactory proposed. With the current levels of traffic on the hogs back, the level of accidents along this section of the A3 with no safe place for emergency vehicles and close proximity to the hospital thus endangering the lives of many people with gridlocked traffic, the whole proposal is pure madness. I am shocked that it has got as far as it has. Not to mention this is an area of outstanding beauty and greenbelt!!

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the above proposed development for the following reasons:

Policy A26-para 4.1.9:

1) This has been classed as an Area of Outstanding Beauty in the past but this has been conveniently disregarded in order to allow developments to take place on this land. I'm not sure what's changed?

2) Office space proposed in the current development will further increase traffic on the A3 at peak times.

3) Ignores current infrastructure problems as highlighted by independent study on the traffic and seems to want to add further to them. This could prove very dangerous around the Royal Surrey Hospital. Also due to the fact there is no hard shoulder the police/ emergency service have no where to pull over resulting in the A3 having to come to a complete halt causing gridlock chaos.

4) Air pollution already exceeds EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

As a resident of Beechcroft Drive already struggling to enter and exit via the A3 due to increased traffic with a young baby and after also suffering a stroke 2 weeks after giving birth, I'm appalled that we are being left until there is a serious accident on this junction before anything is done. I can assure you that if anything happens to me and my child on this junction I will ensure that my family make sure it is on the front on every national newspaper. This proposed development is going to make a difficult junction even harder. Drivers do not keep to the 50mph limit and it's just a matter of time before there is a fatality. Please don't add to an already dangerous situation.
With the widening of the A3 a real possibility from 2020, we need to address the infrastructure before we gridlock Guildford with new developments in this section of Guildford.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43a, the proposed on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common as this will inevitably cause traffic chaos on the local road network throughout Ripley, Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon, with absolutely no possibility of mitigation due to the nature of our rural roads and lanes.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I understand the owners of Garlick's Arch are gifting the land for these new slip roads. What the plan does not make clear is that Policies A43 and A43a are actually inter-dependent in that the gifting of this land is dependent on the owner's receiving planning consent for housing.

The Garlick's Arch site has a number of problems with it that will, in no doubt, lead to lengthy delays in its development. For example the site is in Flood Zone 3, the existence of four pylons on site and the ancient woodland.
The Garlick's Arch site was included in the Plan at the twelfth hour—it has not been the subject of the rigorous scrutiny that has been applied to all other sites. I cannot understand why it was a last minute replacement for another site, Burnt Common, that has been the subject of prior development as it already has on it three industrial units. Furthermore this site was previously highlighted as important in meeting the industrial needs of the Borough.

In addition, the impact of the increased traffic will be a disaster for local residents. The plan for the roads hinges on the provision of two new slip roads but these are not likely to be delivered until 2021 at the earliest and may be as late at 2033. Each slip road is likely to cost £10m. I strongly suggest that these will not be delivered and even if they are it will be long after the damage to the local environment has been done.

I am writing to express my extreme concern over the plans for development on site A26 (Blackwell Farm). Having lived in the area my whole life, I cannot stress enough the strength of my objection to these plans. This area of outstanding natural beauty deserves to be protected. The increase in traffic this would cause, resulting in a huge increase in both noise and air pollution, along with the excess land required to sustain the new road infrastructure are just some of the immensely damaging and irreversible consequences of this poorly thought out plan.

I hope you understand the importance of what is at stake here, and I stress again my sincere objection to these plans.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. I object to the proposed development on the site of the former Wisley Airfield.

The Spatial Vision notes… ‘Not all of the borough’s development needs can be met within Guildford’s urban areas. It is therefore proposed to focus some development on large strategic greenfield sites which brings with it significant infrastructure.’

Please can you explain what significant infrastructure is available at the site of the former Wisley Airfield where you propose to create a new town.

As already observed, very little development will take place within Guildford’s urban areas. Nevertheless, two new rail stations are planned, Guildford East (Merrow) and Guildford West (Park Barn), presumably to support the additional 2,742 homes planned for Guildford. However, the new town planned for Wisley will be expected to use already over-extended stations at Horsley and Effingham Junction. In excess of 2,500 new homes (including those planned for the Horsleys) are proposed without any additional infrastructure beyond the addition of bus routes and a cycle path.

Assuming there is significant infrastructure that could make the former Wisley Airfield a candidate for development, I would still object to this proposal based on the level of detail provided in the plan. This proposal is a very significant intrusion into the green belt and the level of associated planning seems minimal. For example, the plan suggests the need for ‘…a significant bus network to serve the site and key destinations including Effingham Junction railway station and/or Horsley railway station’. However, the existing roads (commonly referred to as lanes) are insufficient to accommodate two buses passing, never mind a ‘significant bus network’. The consequences of this development will lead to very significant additional infrastructure work that is currently not envisaged in the plan and which will have a much wider impact on the green belt.

In short this proposed development can never be supported until a comprehensive and detailed plan is developed with a model showing how

- The current, very poorly maintained, road infrastructure will be impacted
- the Horsley and Effingham railway stations will be impacted
- the existing schools and medical facilities will be impacted
- disruption will be minimised for existing residents while such an extensive multi-year development proceeds
- the very real flood risk will be overcome
- the designated Site of Nature Conservation Importance will be protected
- listed buildings will be protected
- funding will be secured from multiple agencies over a multi-year budget cycle
- air quality will not be reduced
- the model should also illustrate the impact if (and surely when) the 2000 homes become 3000 and then 4000.

Of course, without a fact based explanation as to why the housing stock must increase by 25% (refer to Objection 1) it is not clear that this development is even needed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the extent of development planned within the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Policy P2 states that Guildford Borough Council ‘…will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt.’ An explanation is required detailing how the green belt is being protected when greater than 65% of the proposed developments will take place on land currently within the Metropolitan Green Belt.

As an example, of the 13,860 planned new homes only 1,172 will be built in Guildford Town Centre and 1,570 in the Guildford urban area, that is a total of 2,742. On the other hand, 2,533 are planned to be built within a three mile radius of the Horsleys which is currently within the green belt.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the housing targets set out in Policy S2.

If the proposed plan were to be implemented, it would represent an increase in housing stock to support a population increase of 25%. However, the ONS projects a population increase of 15%.

I understand that the 25% increase is the result of a Strategic Housing Market Assessment which was conducted by an external consultant and based on a mathematical model. Critically however, the details of this model have not been explained in the plan. I further understand that Guildford Borough Council are also unaware of the basis of this mathematical model.

Given that the conclusions from the SHMA study underpin the entire plan, they cannot be accepted as an article of faith. The assumptions and algorithms must be fully explained and then subject to rigorous review. Furthermore, the differences between the Strategic Housing Market Assessment and the assessment of the ONS must be fully understood and reconciled.

Without such analysis it is difficult to understand how any responsible body could submit this plan for approval. Or perhaps GBC are simply following the advice from the film ‘Field of Dreams’ – build it and they will come.

I OBJECT to Policy A35 Former Wisley Airfield as being totally inappropriate and unsustainable development of 2000 homes in the Green Belt

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy(A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to Policy A43a, the proposed on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common as this will inevitably cause traffic chaos on the local road network throughout Ripley, Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon, with absolutely no possibility of mitigation due to the nature of our rural roads and lanes.

I OBJECT to Send village being removed from the Green Belt. The green belt was intended to be permanent, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework, and there are no special circumstances to justify abandoning it. Sends Green Belt provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one conurbation. Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt and this reneges on it. Developers will be quick to take advantage and there will be nothing to stop them.

I OBJECT to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery because inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and twisty to take any more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles trying to join the main road. Planning permission has previously been given for 64 apartments at the Tannery and for building the Marina, both of which will generate additional heavy traffic. The lane cannot take any more. The junction is too dangerous already and will be made much worse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I would like to object to the below proposed new developments for the below reasons. We accept that extra housing is needed, but it is important to get the numbers and locations right, which based on my objections below does not seem to be happening.

Please can my below comments be shown to the Planning Inspector who will make the decision. Please also send an email receipt that this has been received.

I OBJECT to building 400 houses and 7000 sq meters of industrial space at Garlick's Arch, opposite Send March Road. This will create unsustainable amounts of traffic on the already extremely busy Send March Road and Portsmouth Road. My busiest part of my journey to work in the morning is getting from Send March Road onto Portsmouth Road, and the queue of traffic is often down as far as the Saddlers Arms pub. It will become impossible to get onto Portsmouth Road with any additional houses or industrial space.

In addition, the site floods and is covered by ancient woodland. The industrial space is not needed but if it were it should be at Slyfield. Guildford's housing requirements have been shown to be grossly exaggerated and they have refused to disclose their calculations. With proper use of brownfield sites this Green Belt site is not needed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common because Send would have to take traffic from the proposed 2000 new houses at Wisley Airfield, 2000 houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1850 at Blackwell Farm. Much of this traffic to and fro the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford would go through Send. Send Road, which is already overloaded, would become gridlocked. Noise and pollution levels, already at excessive levels, would worsen. This much be avoided.

I OBJECT to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers' pitches at Send Hill. It is an inappropriate location because the narrow width single access country road provides insufficient access. The subsoil of the proposed site contains documented unsafe landfill waste registered at GBC. Any development there would spoil a high amenity area set it beautiful countryside.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

Introduction

1.1 This representation has been prepared by WYG on behalf of the site owners Mr & Mrs Roe, who are the owners of land at Waterloo Farm. Mr and Mrs Roe have been members of the Horsley Community for over 44 years and have resided at Waterloo Farm for some 28 years. There are currently three generations of their family living and participating in the communities of East and West Horsley, and each will continue to do so for the foreseeable future. Mr and Mrs Roe support the principle of sustainable expansion of the Horsleys which has been delayed/deferred for decades.

1.2 This Representation is submitted in support of Waterloo Farm (hereon known as the Site) which is a proposed allocation within the draft Local Plan, with the potential to accommodate a number of dwellings, and has been identified as part of a wider allocation and policy – Draft Local Plan reference A40.

1.3 Please take full account of previous Representations particularly that dated September 2014 (attached as Appendix A for your reference).

Site and Surroundings

1.4 The Site provides an excellent opportunity to accommodate new homes in a suitable and sustainable location. Waterloo Farm is described by Guildford Borough Council (GBC) Planning Department as being a large, detached dwelling within a curtilage of about 1.35 ha (3.34 acres). In addition to the dwelling house there are two ancillary residential outbuildings.

1.5 The Site is essentially “wedge” shaped and orientated North/South. The principle south and south eastern boundaries immediately adjoin Nightingale Crescent (Nos 34-44) and Northcote Crescent (No 51). We understand that Nightingale Crescent was originally part of Waterloo Farm estate which was acquired by GBC in 1947 for residential development. The western boundary is shared with the Camping and Caravanning Club of Great Britain. The immediate adjoining land is a copse which forms an effective barrier with the site. In addition there is a purpose built brick two storey facilities building which also houses a reception office and shop for visitors.

1.6 The Site is accessed via a non-adopted private road which runs from Ockham Road North and currently serves the Caravan site, Waterloo Farm and Lake and Shepherd Cottages. The owners of Waterloo Farm retain right of way and access rights over the lane.

1.7 Detailed Planning permission, since lapsed, was granted in 2010 (Ref 10/P/01550) for conversion of the barn to two residential units. An outline planning application was made for 3 dwellings at the southern end of the site in 2014 (Ref 14/P/00012). The application was refused essentially on the grounds of policy (Green Belt) It is clear that GBC have considered the Site suitable for residential development albeit in the event of a change of current policy towards the Green Belt.

1.8 The Site is included in the draft emerging Local Plan as a housing allocation of 120 units as part of a wider allocation including land held by Persimmon Homes. Persimmon Homes are also submitting a Representation for Policy A40. The Site has been promoted through the Local Plan process since 2008 and we are very pleased to see it included as part of a draft allocation and strongly support this.

1.9 The Site is surrounded by immediate residential development. The argument for sustainable development is enhanced by the existing established housing that encircles Policy A40, and which runs along Green Lane, Ockham Road North and Nightingale Avenue.
1.10 The Site is sustainable, available and deliverable and can provide for housing within the next five years to meet GBC short term need.

1.11 The proposed adjustment of the Settlement Boundary, as it effects Waterloo Farm, could be described as “rounding off” and would complement a nucleated pattern of development appearing as a natural, unobtrusive extension to the existing boundary.

2.0 HOUSING AND POLICY CONTEXT

Guildford BC planning context & housing numbers

2.1 This representation is in response to the Regulation 19 consultation phase for the pre-submission version of the draft Local Plan. WYG are pleased to have been given the opportunity to make representations on this concerning the Site and general planning matters within the Borough. WYG are also pleased that Guildford BC has acknowledged the significant challenges that the borough faces in delivering sufficient housing to meet its needs. The previous interim housing figure of 322 dwellings per annum agreed in May 2012 did not take account of up to date assessments of housing need and therefore was not NPPF compliant. The reliance on this figure has meant that Guildford BC has significantly under-delivered on their housing requirements over the past five years as shown in the below table:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Net completions</th>

</thead>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>13/14</td>
<td>137</td>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2.2 As the housing completions above show, Guildford has not only been under-delivering against the now up-to-date Objectively Assessed Need (OAN) but there has also been consistent under-delivery against the interim housing target.

2.3 The most recently produced Annual Monitoring Report (AMR), published in October 2015 for the period 2014/2015 showed that net completions of dwellings in the borough for this period was 242 and that the majority of homes completed in this period are on sites of under 20 homes. As the AMR notes:

“The number of new homes completed this year (2014/15) is still lower than required to meet our objectively assessed need…contributes to a growing deficit of new homes”.

2.4 The recommendation within the AMR following this states that:

“Housing provision is currently restricted by the lack of available and deliverable development land in the borough….delivery rate is only likely to increase when larger areas of land are suitable and available for development”.

This shows the necessity for suitable and available sites to be considered and this should apply to all sites within the borough that meet this criteria. Our client is the landowner of Waterloo Farm and the Site is available for development. We have set out below the reasons as to why the site should be considered suitable and deliverable in order to assist in the supply of land to contribute to meeting the chronic housing needs in the Borough. Consideration should be given to the Site as suitable and available regardless of its designations.

Objectively Assessed Need
2.5 Guildford Borough has an identified (OAN) of 693 dwellings per annum following the conclusions of the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) produced in September 2015 by GL Hearn. This assessment was carried out as part of the Housing Market Area (HMA) known as West Surrey which included Waverley and Woking in addition to Guildford.

2.6 The most recent population projections produced by Office of National Statistics (ONS) shows that by 2037, the population of Surrey is expected to increase by over 200,000. This increase is anticipated to be greater than shown by the 2012 population figures. The 2012 figures informed the SHMA which in turn has provided the basis around which the housing requirement for the new Local Plan is formed. It can be expected that a large proportion of this increase will be in the West Surrey HMA due to its proximity to London, strong rail connections and reputation as being part of the commuter belt and a desirable place to live. It is on this basis that we would question the validity of the figures and believe that the OAN to inaccurate and should be revised upwards taking into account the increases based on the 2014 projections as opposed to the 2012 figures. This should, in turn, mean that the housing requirements in the new Local Plan should also be revised upwards and the identification of other sites for development should be considered as part of this process.

Five-year supply of deliverable housing land

2.7 Paragraph 47 of the NPPF states that there is a requirement for Local Planning Authorities (LPA) to:

   “Identify and update annually a supply of specific deliverable sites sufficient to provide five years’ worth of housing against their housing requirements with an additional buffer of 5%...where there has been a record of persistent under-delivery of housing, LPAs should increase the buffer to 20%”.

2.8 It has been established that GBC cannot demonstrate a robust five year supply of deliverable housing land and at best the Council can show 2.5 years supply whilst at worst this drops to 1.4 years. It is therefore clear that without significantly more available land, Guildford cannot expect to be able to show a five year supply. The NPPF para 83 states that “Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances”. However, as the site is surrounded by development, and is in many respects an area of “washed over” Green Belt, we conclude that the site should be looked on favourably as a suitable development site in the 0-5 year time frame.

Housing requirements within new Local Plan (2013-2033)

2.9 The pre-submission version of the draft Local Plan makes provision for the delivery of 13,860 new homes over the plan period (2013-2033). This equates to 693 dwellings per annum which matches the identified housing need through the SHMA. The draft Local Plan states that:

   “The delivery of new homes is expected to increase over the plan period, reflective of timescales associated with delivery of strategic sites”.

The draft Local Plan sets out the housing delivery in different tranches as below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Housing Number</th>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Housing Number</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2018/2019</td>

<td>700</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
2.11 The above shows that there is proposed to be an increasing level of delivery over time as the plan progresses through the plan period. On this basis, to ensure the minimum housing requirements are achieved, over the first five years of the plan an average of 693 dwellings per annum are to be delivered. This raises an immediate concern given that GBC cannot demonstrate a five year land supply of any better than 2.5 years. As the net completions table also shows, the first two years of the plan period 2013/14 and 2014/15 have delivered significantly fewer than 693 dwellings per annum. Therefore it is vital that existing allocations in the draft Local Plan are retained and that those which are suitable and deliverable, particularly within the near future, such as the 120 deliverable units in allocation A40 at Waterloo Farm, remain within the Plan and are supported in coming forward as soon as possible within the 0-5 year time frame.

3.0 JUSTIFICATION FOR THE ALLOCATION

Horsley in Plan Making

3.1 The site was identified within the previous emerging Local Plan which was released in 2014. The site has been promoted throughout the development of the emerging Local Plan process and previous representations for this site were submitted in September 2014 as part of the Local Plan consultation under regulation 18 (attached as Appendix A for your information). In addition, the proposed development of part of the Site has been the subject of a formal Outline application submitted by Alliance Planning (now part of WYG) for 3 houses (reference 14/P/00012). This application was refused at the time for 4 reasons. Reason 1 was due to the site location, outside of any housing allocation and within the Green Belt, and is the subject of this and the previous representations. Reasons 2-4 relate to technical matters and developer contributions which could all be overcome in any future application submission.

3.2 Importantly, the refusal raised no issues in relation to:

- Highways and Transport
- Residential Amenity
- Mains Drainage and Utilities Provision
- Trees and Vegetation; or
- Ecology.

Senior Planning Officers (Policy) visited the site and walked the boundaries in March 2014. Details of discussions are included as part of Appendix C.

3.3 The emerging Local Plan, through the draft strategy and sites document, has allocated the land at Wisley Airfield for a mixed use development, including the provision of up to 2068 dwellings. The recently refused planning application (planning ref: 15/P/00012) has shown the difficulty in achieving a consent through a local decision and a reliance on a possible determination through appeal. This creates a great deal of uncertainty as to whether the anticipated housing as part of this proposed development can be delivered in a timely manner and therefore contribute to the Borough’s pressing housing need. Therefore the reliance on such a site should be limited. It is possible that up to 2100 dwellings may have to be delivered elsewhere in the borough. We recommend therefore that suitable nearby sites should be taken forward where there is a clear ability to deliver housing numbers. This would apply to the site at Ockham Road North. We therefore recommend that the Council should consider all sites that are considered suitable and deliverable and this particular site is one which meets these criteria. We strongly suggest the allocation should remain when taking the pre-submission plan to examination with the existing quantum of development as identified. If however, the Council decides not to allocate this wider site, the Waterloo Farm site should in any case be included in the settlement boundary, as it is already enclosed on all sides.

Access

3.4 There is a suitable road access to the site, which currently serves the Caravan site, Waterloo Farm and Lake and Shepherd Cottages, the additional traffic generation and pedestrian footfall for a small number of dwellings would not result in any transport concerns. The existing access/egress into the site is therefore considered to be appropriate. As part of the wider allocation, it is our understanding that suitable upgrades will be made to both the access road and the junction with Ockham Road North, where necessary to accommodate 120 units or the existing road would be suitable with minor improvement if the Waterloo Farm site only is allocated (included within the settlement boundary, excluded from the Green Belt).

Flood Risk

3.5 Previous concerns have been raised concerning flooding matters. The previous representation for the regulation 18 was accompanied by a Flood Risk Assessment prepared by Peter Brett Associates see Appendix B. Persimmon Homes have conducted further extensive work regarding this aspect which has been submitted as part of their representation for the site, which concludes that:

“The modelling work also incorporated climate change allowances in line with newly released Environment Agency/ DCLG guidance. This detailed modelling has clearly shown the Environment Agency’s mapped flood extents to be overestimating the actual scenario…”

Their modelling further demonstrates that suitable mitigation can be provided onsite to overcome this technical matter lowering the flood risk on the site and therefore the principle of development, and therefore a deliverable allocation on this site should be considered as appropriate, notwithstanding the previous refusal.

Sustainability

3.6 The site is located a short walk from the centre of Horsley and situated alongside existing residential development. The site represents a logical infilling of available land to the rear of Nightingale Avenue to the south. Para 14 of the NPPF states that a presumption in favour of sustainable development is at the heart of planning, which should be seen as a golden thread running through both planmaking and decision-taking. There is an existing wide footway running along Ockham Road North which provides a safe pedestrian route that is used by a large number of people to access the centre of east Horsley.

3.7 The settlement hierarchy, published in May 2014 and used as part of the evidence base for the emerging Local Plan, notes that East Horsley has a population of 3,785 (2011) and is ranked as the 3rd most sustainable location within the borough (out of 32). In addition to the highly rated sustainability of East Horsley, the site lies close to West Horsley which is ranked as the 13th most sustainable location within the borough (out of 32).

3.8 The site is located less than a mile away from the centre of East Horsley where many of the local facilities which can serve residents’ day-to-day needs are found. The main line rail station is also located close to the high street and this allows good access to London Waterloo via a train service which takes under an hour and includes stops at larger stations such as Leatherhead, Epsom, Wimbledon, Clapham Junction (east) and Guildford (west); allowing access to large employment areas and facilitating onward travel.

3.9 Raleigh Primary, Glenesk Preparatory and Montessori Nursery are within 1/2 mile radius. Cranmore Nursery and Preparatory is within 2 miles. These schools provide suitable education for children up to the age of 11 and secondary school education is provided by Howard of Effingham and Manor School which are within 2 miles of the site in nearby Effingham. We note that Raleigh School is also within the draft allocation to be enlarged and relocated to Policy A41. This proposal is one of few infrastructure projects being considered as part of the plan and we are also in support of this much needed facility.

3.10 The Site lies on Ockham Road North exactly midway (some 2 miles) between direct access to the A3 etc and the A246 (Guildford /Leatherhead/Epsom). These two direct road access points ensure high sustainability of the site and allow further access on to the M25 road network which links to Heathrow and Gatwick airports in addition to the wider national strategic road network through the M3, M4 and M40 motorways. This allows for the development to have a suitable mix of transport options through either using the strategic road network or utilising the train line. Access to the train line is provided by a wide footway and the road from the site down into East Horsley is 30 mph and is considered to be safe for all to use. The Infrastructure Delivery Plan (IDP) states that there are to be additional highway improvements made within the West and East Horsley areas through a traffic management and environmental improvement scheme which is to planned to be delivered between 2019 and 2023. This would further enhance the highway safety with the local area through traffic calming measures as well as ensuring the character of the two areas remains as present.

3.11 The development of this small part of site A40 for several units would not require the highway works to competed first, as such this section of the site should be considered as deliverable within the 0-5 year time frame. For the wider site there would be the opportunity to contribute to the traffic calming measures by extending the existing 30mph speed limit past the site access.

Landscape and Visual Assessment

3.12 The Site comprises an area of residential garden surrounded by trees and dense landscaping on all sides, with residential dwellings beyond on the south. The site is away from public rights of way and as discussed within the Regulation 18 representation, Officers walked the site and found it to be secluded with very few views in or out. Therefore the Site is considered to have low landscape impact and it does not contribute to the wider open landscape value of the Green Belt. This is further supported by the councils separate proposal to remove this area from the Green Belt altogether.

3.13 The Site, having an overall low landscape sensitivity and a low landscape value, is considered to have a high capacity to successfully accommodate residential development, particularly that of 2 – 2.5 storey residential development, sensitively designed through siting, layout and massing, set within the existing woodland buffer, complemented by a comprehensive landscape framework and green infrastructure proposals, resulting in very limited landscape and visual effects on the surrounding area, including the Green Belt. It should also be noted that a strip of land within this allocation is within the designated settlement boundary.

3.14 The combination of the low landscape character sensitivity and low visual sensitivity, result in low overall landscape sensitivity for the Site.

Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG)

3.15 The Site falls within the 5km buffer zone of the TBH SPA at Ockham and Wisley Common and therefore, in line with saved policy NRM6 of the South East Plan, it is necessary to provide suitable mitigation for the proposed development. For this section of the allocation, if brought forward on its own, it would likely fall within the thresholds for a financial contribution to be provided as part of the development. Alternatively SANG may be provided onsite as part of the wider A40 allocation.

Density of Development

3.16 The overall allocation of A40 is 8 ha (some 20 acres). At 120 dwellings this would suggest a density of 15 per ha / 6 per acre. This would allow for a relatively low density so as not to result in the “over development” of the villages or a strain on services.

3.17 The Councils LAA February 2016 identifies the site as REF975: This document concludes that the side is acceptable in all respects subject to drainage having being relocated; the previous PBA report and attached PBA reports demonstrate acceptability in the respect

Conclusion

4.1 In conclusion, Site Allocation A40 represents the opportunity for a sustainable extension to what is one of the most sustainable settlements in the Borough of Guildford, and indeed is regarded as the most sustainable of the villages outside the urban areas of Guildford, Ash and Tongham. It is well connected to the existing community and facilities which will remain accessible to prospective residents. The increase in population that results from this extension to the physical extent of the village also helps to support the continued viability of local services.

4.2 It has been demonstrated in this submission that the site is suitable for the development proposed as it is directly adjacent to and bound by existing areas of housing. The proposals would consolidate the form of the settlement in this location which would result in a less dispersed pattern of development than exists at present to the north of the main service centre at East Horsley. New development on this site would be fully contained both within the site itself and within the perceived extent of the village which lies further to the south. The Development in this location would not encroach into wider more open areas of the Green Belt further from the village. The plan also identifies the site as inset from the Green Belt, further supporting the case for the development of the site.
4.3 Housing development would be compatible with the surrounding land uses which are well-established and enclose our site. These include areas of housing to the north, east and south, and the Camping and Caravanning Club of Great Britain site to the west.

4.4 A summary of the benefits of the site are below:

- This site will provide several residential units in the Waterloo Farm part of the site with a total of 120 units across the allocation within a sustainable location.
- The settlement of East Horsley is an appropriate location for additional housing and is among the best performing villages in the Borough in terms of their sustainability credentials and in terms of the access these provide to local services.
- The proposed uses would be compatible with adjacent land uses.
- The site is well-contained and enclosed by existing physical features and development, forming a natural extension of and would be contiguous with the residential environment of the settlements of East Horsley and West Horsley.
- The site has defensible boundaries which will ensure that the development will not harm the purpose or openness of the wider Green Belt or landscape value.
- The site is not constrained by any other sensitive planning designations.
- The site would not impact materially on any existing residential properties.
- The site is deliverable within 1 – 5 years, there being no insurmountable obstacles or technical issues to delivery in terms of highway, drainage, SPA or the capacity of existing utilities.
- The scheme will generate section 106 contributions and provide SANG mitigation.

4.5 The site should be allocated as the wider site A40, or if not, Waterloo Farm as a further inset from the Green Belt in this part of Horsley.

I object to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick’s Arch and its late substitution in the local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick’s Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 land at Burnt Common Ware house which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick’s Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I OBJECT to Policy A35 Former Wisley Airfield as being totally inappropriate and unsustainable development of 2000 homes in the Green Belt

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A46

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of Policy A46 (Normandy and Flexford village expansion)
The whole basis for the identification of this land as a strategic site appears to be achieved through the manipulation of the rules governing the criteria for “sustainability” and “sensitivity”. By considering the settlements of “Normandy” (to the north) and “Flexford” (to the south) as a single settlement for the purpose of “sustainability” the land referenced is considered as not to contribute to “open space”. However these settlements have been considered as separate ones for the purpose of calculating “sensitivity”, and thus achieving the outcome that was clearly intended, otherwise a consistent approach would have been taken for both metrics. Flexford and Normandy are referenced as separate villages in the majority of the Draft Plan, demonstrating this inconsistency. It could be viewed that the assessment of Normandy and Flexford has been manipulated to make the criteria for selecting site A46 achieve a predetermined outcome.

The documentation recently (February 2016) made publicly available indicates that a major developer has been soliciting GBC over the last two years with proposals for this land that include essentially a financial reward to GBC (disguised as a cost-neutral build of a large (7FE) secondary school) if planning was granted for the development of the houses. The selection basis has recently been clarified that the inclusion of a no-cost school was a significant factor. The requirement for the secondary school has not been demonstrated. Several of the neighbouring secondary schools are significantly under-subscribed. In fact, even if Site A46 were to be developed, the 1FE school requirement would easily be accommodated by the neighbouring schools. As has been widely communicated in advance of this public consultation, the inclusion of site A46 is based on an unsubstantiated and circular justification. The proposed secondary school is not viable on its own given its remote location from the major population centres. The proposed housing is not viable own its own without the proposed deal to include the provision of the schools. Neither are actually justified on any substantial evidence.

The selection of site A46 was based on a number of invalid and unsubstantiated statements. Firstly it was included because the land owners were willing to sell the land for development. This is not a valid selection criteria for developing Greenbelt. Almost any landowner would sell land for development if the price was attractive and which meant that they could themselves relocate. Secondly, it was determined by Guildford Borough Councillors that “Normandy would benefit” from the availability of additional local retail spaces. I do not believe that Normandy and Flexford residents have been consulted in anyway on this subjective statement. People that choose to live in rural areas are usually fully aware of the lack of retail space. This has not been an issue for me and my family in the 18 years that we have lived in this village.

I also have concerns that the suitability of the site for the 1100 or so houses has not been considered appropriately given the local infrastructure and environmental factors. The plan does not include a financial case for the long term damage / maintenance of the road and services infrastructure, nor considered the impact on the local environment. In fact Guildford Borough Council previously objected to the large developments proceeding in Aldershot/Farnborough on the basis of the impact to the A323 that runs through Normandy. Policy A47 combined with the sites in Ash/Ash Green are of a similar scale to that opposed by Guildford Borough Council. The site selection includes as part of its justification the improvement to the Christmas Pie trail between Flexford and Guildford, to enable a cycle super-highway. This trail weaves through ancient woodland and currently contributes to the feeling of openness for many residents in all areas. As a layperson I would suggest that it would be impossible to upgrade this trail without significant damage to the ancient woodland that surrounds it.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of Policy A47 and site A47 (Land to east of The Paddocks, Flexford)
This land is clearly part of the open space around Flexford. It borders ancient woodland and agricultural land. It provides a natural soakaway for the existing housing and is under several inches of water for much of the year. A variety of wildlife including birds of prey and herons visit this site. Additionally the road infrastructure to access it is completely unsuitable (single narrow lane and bridge)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7: Guildford Town Centre
I object to the strategic principle that the town centre requires considerable additional retail floor space, when there are consistently vacant retail properties. The level of vacancies varies with the ebb and flow of the national economy, but essentially there has never been a point that I can remember in the 28 years I have lived in or around Guildford where there has been a constraint on retail occupation in the town centre. The future of retail businesses in the UK should be considered - in general additional floor space (and therefore cost overheads) will give way to a click&collect experience where internet shopping and retail collection coupled with an emphasis on showcasing rather than retail stock management will result in a shopping culture that operates with a reduced physical foot print.
Instead, I believe more emphasis should be given to providing additional housing in the town centre, increasing the community focus and creating a significant urban contribution to the housing demand rather than identifying “strategic sites” which are generally in greenbelt. Thus the whole basis of the strategy for the Local Plan is flawed.

I OBJECT to the interpretation of Policy P2 (Green Belt)
It would appear that the villages of Flexford and Normandy are now removed from the greenbelt to achieve the objectives of the draft plan rather than the green belt being considered as a valid constraint. Anyone visiting the site and walking along the public footpaths that cross the site would surely agree that this land significantly contributes to “openness” both between Flexford and Normandy, and also ensuring openness between Flexford and Ash/Ash Green (which is only a modest walk away).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I SUPPORT the REMOVAL of sites A46 and A47.

The basis for originally identifying these sites was flawed, due to the manipulation of the rules governing the criteria for “sustainability” and “sensitivity”, the misrepresentation of what constituted a "settlement" for different purposes, and the lack of consideration for the contribution to open space. In addition, the business case for the proposed school was also shown to be miscalculated.

In addition, due to the increase in housing now being proposed in Ash, Ash Green and Tongham, sites A46 and A47 represent areas that are even more critical in maintaining openness and defending the Greenbelt from further planning intrusion in the future.
I also refer to my original statements from my response dated 13/07/2016 sent from my email address [removed] to localplan@guildford.gov.uk on 15/07/2016

I OBJECT to the INCREASE in housing numbers proposed for site A29. The actual total housing target for the entire plan is still not justified and demonstrates a "continuous growth" strategy by the Guildford Borough Council based on economic targets rather than housing need. The numbers planned for Ash and Ash Green will result in major infrastructure (road and rail) congestion.

I OBJECT to the Traveller pitches at site A49. Normandy already has a disproportionately high number of traveller pitches in its vicinity. These should be distributed across the borough.

I OBJECT to the Travelling showpeople plots at site A50. Normandy already has a disproportionately high number of traveller plots in its vicinity. These should be distributed across the borough.

[Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998]

I would also like to object to the secretive and high-handed way in which the SHMA process has been The annual house building target is more than double what was agreed in 2010, and more than double what could be explained by the population growth figures for Guildford for the last twenty years. Also, unlike last time, no constraints have been applied for infrastructure or environmental factors, with no explanation offered as to why. GBC has repeatedly refused to involve their electorate in discussing this matter, and has steadfastly refused to explain what factors could account for this huge hike in the annual house building target. All we do know is that G.L. Hearn, who did the SHMA, has a vested interest in setting the figure as high as possible, to generate work for their associates at Constructionline. Government guidelines state that the community should be able to feel confident that the SHMA figure is fair and objective. For the reasons given, GBC has failed woefully in this regard.

Consequently I object to the way the plan proposes to put 70% of the new houses on the Green Belt around Guildford, as this is surely the worst possible option for exacerbating traffic congestion, while putting more of the housing on brown field sites within the town would mean people could walk or cycle to the station or the shops. To make matters even worse, much of the brownfield sites are proposed for commercial use, drawing even more traffic into the town.

I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements the Plan depends on. There is no schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43), so the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site. It is therefore not fit for purpose.

I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D).

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

The Council will not publish the SHMA report so this figure cannot be verified? This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.

There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq. m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning?

Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for its removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government states clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

• There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
• The site is liable to frequent flooding
• The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
• There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I object to the lack of road infrastructure and the congestion that this development will cause to the local village roads (Policy I1)

These villages are currently severely congested throughout the day and parking in villages such as Ripley is already a real problem, further development in these villages will only result in more traffic and parking problems. The Plan does not provide an adequate or achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads which in many of the villages particularly Ripley Send and Clandon are narrow and only wide enough for one vehicle at a time. Additionally many of these narrow roads do not have pedestrian footpaths and are both totally unsuitable and extremely dangerous for pedestrians. Bringing an addition of some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley will exasperate this already congested area.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough and the Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are already at or close to capacity.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 or M25 would have to be considerably improved before any development is done. Highways England has confirmed that they have no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object strongly to the proposals to remove the following villages from the Green Belt, Ripley, Send Cladon, Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlicks Arch (A43) NPP states there needs to be exceptional circumstances for both Green Belt boundaries to be altered and development on Green Belt – these are not exceptional circumstances. These neighbouring villages will merge into one another as a result of the loss of this Green Belt resulting in urban sprawl and loss of the beautiful countryside.

This could be avoided at Garlicks Arch by developing on existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common where there is surplus land affording development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to development in areas of high risk of flooding (Policy P4)

NPP states that local Plans need to take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. The proposed site at Garlicks Arch (A43) is on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood zone 3 from a river meaning it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year – the HIGHEST risk category, however the site has been assessed as part of the Councils SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 which is between a 1% and 0.1% probability of river flooding annually. This site floods frequently during the winter months, clearly this site is not fit for purpose and needs to be accurately reassessed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Local Plan as the proposed development will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

NPP states that the purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development.

This development of over 13,500 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable and will have a permanently detrimental impact by over development of villages in particular between Guildford and the M25 including Ripley, Send & Clandon. The services in these villages are not adequate to cope with the levels of development proposed and these developments do not meet with the needs of the local communities.

Garlicks Arch (A43) and Wisley Airfield (A35) are in unsustainable locations with a total lack of sustainable transport - bus services are infrequent and routes have been reduced, no railway stations within walking distance leaving residents reliant upon cars. There are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlicks Arch within the infrastructure plan and once again residents will be reliant on the car. These developments should be considered in areas such as Guildford where sustainable transport can be provided.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

The plan is based on the use of out of date estimates of population growth. These population projections used to underpin this entire plan were recognizably wrong at the outset and there is major doubt concerning housing numbers.

Designating station road as a district centre is wrong. It results from a complete misreading of the nature of the facilities in the village centre and would inappropriately target the area for future urban developments.

To build hundreds of houses in the Horsleys is out of all proportion as there is no infrastructure in place to support this. Already Raleigh School is oversubscribed as is the medical centre—impossible to get urgent appointments now. Our busy narrow potholed roads cannot cope.

Homes For All: I object to the SHMA including student housing. The university obtained planning permission many years ago to build student accommodation, but has not done so. Freeing up private housing in the town currently used for student accommodation would mean availability for those requiring affordable housing. A new development at Blackwell Farm (2,000 houses) providing accommodation for students is a selfish move by the university.

After the 1st World War 'Homes for Heros were provided countrywide, as was the case for council housing after the 2nd World War. I believe GBC should adopt the same strategy, even in areas of AONB albeit on a reduced scale, to provide sustainable homes alongside current housing for the borough.

Supporting the Dept of Transport's Road Investment Strategy

I object to this policy only relating to the strategic road network, the A3/M25, without ensuring any development includes the necessary road infrastructure being implemented. I object to developers funding road infrastructure which suits their wishes and not the necessary needs, i.e. south bound slip road and north bound sliproads at the Ockham roundabout. Such provision at Burnt Common increases the traffic through Ripley should the 2,000+ houses be built at the former Wisley Airfield. The village already suffers traffic log-jams on a daily basis.

Green Belt

I strongly object to GBC considering building new developments of 2,000 houses in Green Belt. I object to Gosden Hill, Blackwell Farm and the former Wisley Airfield becoming new towns 'dumped' in the Green Belt for reasons of economy and convenience. I particularly object to the former Wisley Airfield being considered for a new town as this is slap bang in the middle of a green belt area and totally unsustainable as accepted by the recent Planning Committee who recently unanimously rejected a planning application on various NPPF grounds. This site is far too close to Cobham (1.5km), Pyrford (1.5km) and Woking (2.5km) not to become their urban areas over time which will totally wipe out green belt in this area.

Developments of 2,000 houses in the Green Belt are exploitation and fulfill developer's dreams who can escape their their affordable homes targets (clause 4.2.40) and provide houses for those from outside the borough. I object to GBC realising those developers dreams and ignoring those of the residents.

Policy S2 – Planning for the Borough

I object to GBC making amendments without adhering to the government’s NPPF rules “to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land”. (NPPF, Section 9, para 80).

I object that the amended draft does not encouraging utilising the numerous surface public car parks in to provide sustainable homes.

I object to the amended plan ignoring the government’s NPPF guidelines - “…… local planning authorities should take account of the need to promote sustainable patterns of development. They should consider the consequences for sustainable development of channelling development towards urban areas inside the Green Belt boundary, towards towns and villages inset within the Green Belt or towards locations beyond the outer Green Belt boundary”

I object to GBC amending all of the large Green Belt sites and including large Green Belt sites throughout the borough for housing instead of proposing housing in every village and town, on a proportional basis, to meet local needs.

I object to GBC using amended housing figures (SHMA) based on a flawed housing study which has attracted widespread criticism.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 land at Burnt Common Ware house which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to policy A43a, the proposed on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common as this will inevitably cause traffic chaos on the local road network throughout Ripley, Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon, with absolutely no possibility of mitigation due to the nature of our rural roads and lanes.
