North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

The Garlick’s Arch (A43) proposal would double the built area in the locality, and would irrevocably damage the character of the Ancient Woodland on the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

These villages are currently severely congested throughout the day and parking in villages such as Ripley is already a real problem, further development in these villages will only result in more traffic and parking problems. The Plan does not provide an adequate or achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads which in many of the villages particularly Ripley Send and Clandon are narrow and only wide enough for one vehicle at a time. Additionally many of these narrow roads do not have pedestrian footpaths and are both totally unsuitable and extremely dangerous for pedestrians. Bringing an addition of some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley will exasperate this already congested area.

There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough and the Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are already at or close to capacity.

The A3 or M25 would have to be considerably improved before any development is done. Highways England has confirmed that they have no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

I object strongly to the proposals to remove the following villages from the Green Belt, Ripley, Send Clandon, Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlicks Arch (A43) NPP states there needs to be exceptional circumstances for both Green Belt boundaries to be altered and development on Green Belt – these are not exceptional circumstances. These neighbouring villages will merge into one another as a result of the loss of this Green Belt resulting in urban sprawl and loss of the beautiful countryside.

This could be avoided at Garlicks Arch by developing on existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common where there is surplus land affording development.

NPP states that local Plans need to take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. The proposed site at Garlicks Arch (A43) is on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood zone 3 from a river meaning it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year – the HIGHEST risk category, however the site has been assessed as part of the Councils SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 which is between a 1% and 0.1% probability of river flooding annually. This site floods frequently during the winter months, clearly this site is not fit for purpose and needs to be accurately reassessed.

NPP states that the purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development. This development of over 13,500 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable and will have a permanently detrimental impact by over development of villages in particular between Guildford and the M25 including Ripley, Send & Clandon. The services in these villages are not adequate to cope with the levels of development proposed and these developments do not meet with the needs of the local communities.

Garlicks Arch (A43) and Wisley Airfield (A35) are in unsustainable locations with a total lack of sustainable transport - bus services are infrequent and routes have been reduced, no railway stations within walking distance leaving residents reliant upon cars. There are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlicks Arch within the infrastructure plan and once again residents will be reliant on the car. These developments should be considered in areas such as Guildford where sustainable transport can be provided.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan June 2016. The plan is not fit for purpose and unsustainable.

Please find my objection listed below to specific policies and matters within the Plan

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I object to Send village being removed from the Green Belt, this would be a broken pledge by councilors and politicians.

I object to the building of 40 houses and 2 travelers pitches at Send Hill, completely out of place in this rural area near the Cemetery.
I object to the building of houses at Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, again out of place, there is too much traffic on Tannery Lane now and difficult access to the main Send road, more building would only increase this problem.

I object to the building of 400 houses and 7,000 sq metres of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch, what a travesty to destroy this ancient woodland, another reason why we need to keep the Green Belt.

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common, already there is too much traffic, it is now quite rare to travel on the A3 north or south in this area without a hold up.

If any of the above is allowed to happen it will help to turn this area into an urban sprawl, with the added problems of school places, medical services, water, supply, waste and sewage disposal etc.

Would you please confirm that you have received this letter of objection to the Local Plan and that my comments are shown to the Planning Inspector.

My wife and I came to the Horsleys in the early 80s. We have stayed because everything gives a good and enjoyable way of life. More houses and in the numbers proposed could be cruel and only sanctioned by someone not living here.

I hope you find these few words helpful when deliberating our future.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to policy A25 Gosden Hill and the development of 2000 houses, travellers pitches etc. The new proposed junction for the A3 to facilitate the development and the increased traffic would be excessive. Traffic through Send in both directions comes regularly to a standstill at this present time. It will be gridlocked, particularly in bad weather, if the proposed housing with its accompanying traffic goes ahead.

I stress the impact it will have on services including doctors and hospitals. The Royal Surrey A and E Dept struggles to cope at the moment. By increasing the weight of traffic on the A3 and the population around Guildford in general there will be dangerous implications for the lives of people. Without putting into place a huge increase in capacity of our NHS facilities before building thousands of new homes, the borough is being grossly negligent.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
2. I object to policy A43 Garlicks Arch and the building of 400 houses and industrial space and new road junction. Having been a resident of Send for 20 years and previously a teacher at the First School for 10 years, I am aware of the impact this would have on both the schools and traffic. Because of its proximity to the A3 and M25, there have always been recurring difficulties with congestion on the road through Send at peak times. Any incidents on major roads causes huge queues in the village. This has implications for people getting to work and school. When I taught at the school, it was not uncommon for children and staff to be delayed in reaching school following accidents. This would only be exacerbated by increasing the population in this area.

Additionally, I object to destruction of ancient woodland and the loss of natural habitats this would cause. I do see any disclosure of detailed calculations as to the number of new houses Guildford requires. This should be transparent before we consider using Green belt land.

I object to the use of Green Belt land for building before other options have been fully explored. Surrey is an affluent county. Taken as a whole, there are swathes of land currently used for golf courses. The percentage of golf course land compared to other areas of Britain is excessive. The county and its borough councils should work to reduce these courses which benefit a small proportion of the general population and work for the greater good.

3. I object to 400 houses and industry buildings at Garlick’s Arch as I live off Send Green – This is a natural beauty spot and will become a traffic shape up and pollution.
4. I object to 40 houses and 2 travellers pitches at Send Hill. It will cause traffic on a narrow road which was a beauty spot.
5. I object to the interchange at Burnt Common A3 at Send as where I live will become a rat run. It will leech proposed Wisley and Burpham. We need a free space. I have asthma and so does my wife and this traffic would cause pollution and grid lock.

Please don’t develop our Green Belt – we will become a rotten LA/USA what we have is precious.

Gosden Hill Farm is in the Green Belt and as such you need to be able to show that there are 'exceptional circumstances to justify allocating green belt land for strategic development' and this you have not done.

Any development on Gosden Hill Farm will add thousands of additional vehicles onto an already over congested road system and your proposed solution is totally inadequate.

Guildford is already a bottle neck on the A3 and the most logical solution is a tunnel such as that at Hindhead. It therefore follows that no new development should be allowed to take place until such a decision has been made so that land that will be needed for its construction is not used.

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Council’s Draft Local Plan June 2016 for the following reasons:-
There are no constraints to protect the character of the rural aspects of Guildford or its villages.

The vast planned development of homes is a disproportionate level of expansion making it unsustainable without the necessary infrastructure.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

What is needed in West Horsley are affordable homes. This was proven by The West Horsley Parish Council Housing survey and local plan in 2014. All new housing in the village seems to be 4 and 5 bedroom executive homes, usually following the demolition of a smaller home, which brings in a 2 (or more) car family placing extras strain on the village infrastructure. The WHPC survey indicated that there is little scope for older people to downsize, or for starter homes for children born and brought up in the village.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

There is no proposed expansion of local facilities and infrastructure in line with the proposed addition to the total housing numbers. The village schools are full and there is no mention in the local plan about new schools to cater for the likely increased demand.

The roads in the Horsley’s are already very busy, very badly maintained, mostly unlit and with very poor drainage, which is in dire need of maintenance. There are blocked drains all over the village which have not been cleaned out in years – there is one in School Lane which is full of silt and has been for many years. The addition of more homes with drives and paved areas will only exacerbate the problem and result in greater water run off every time there is rain. Ripley Lane is impassable after any heavy rain, so how is more traffic in the area going to be able to use it?

The medical centre is in East Horsley and is already at capacity. There is a very limited bus service through the village on weekdays only and nothing at weekends. There is now no Newsagent or Post Office, and the only other village shop is due to close in the autumn. Existing residents must therefore use their cars to travel to East Horsley for the shops or railway station. This is without the massive increase in housing numbers planned.

I am writing to make a formal objection to the Guildford Local Plan 2016 under the public consultation.

The first line of Policy P2 states “we will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development” and then the policy goes on to totally change the green belt boundaries with a huge and unnecessary development within, so there is an initial and major contradiction in the plan.

The alteration of the green belt is only allowed under “exceptional circumstances” and these have not been demonstrated in the plan – the inclusion of more housing to meet a vague and unproven need is not an exceptional circumstance – I therefore object to this alteration.

Additionally I object to the removal of West Horsley from the green belt by the extension of the 2003 Local Plan Settlement boundaries – there is no justification for this extension.

There is much use of the word sustainable in the local plan. A dictionary definition is “which conserves an ecological balance by avoiding depletion of natural resources or that can be sustained”. Once green belt land is built upon, how it can be sustained? The truth is it can’t – once the green belt is gone that is it – it will never be replaced. The recent referendum vote for Brexit from the EU must cast doubt on many of the assumptions made for population and employment forecasts. The consultation appears to be based on figures which have been kept secret from the public, so how can there be any transparency in the whole process?

I OBJECT to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt, we moved to send because of its peaceful and tranquil surrounding. The green belt is there to protect villages like send from being over run on its small roads. The one village shop in West Horsley may close when the current owners retire. The shop is small and as such has limited stock. There is also very little parking. Other ‘shops’ in the parade are a dentist and a chiropractor, neither of which ‘useful’ on a daily basis to the vast majority of the population of the village. The old post office shop as recently been converted into housing excluding any future ‘useful’ businesses to take occupancy. Residents of West Horsley regularly use the facilities (shops, library, doctors etc.) in East Horsley. The infrastructure, including parking in East Horsley is under increasing strain with the free parking behind Station Parade regularly being close to full.

The Raleigh school serves both East and West Horsley and is full every year with a waiting list. There are already village residents each year which are unable to secure a place. Additional housing will only exacerbate this situation. There are suggestions to relocate the school to increase places but these additional places do not account for the additional housing proposed.

Horsley does not have a secondary school meaning that places are already limited in number at the closest secondary - Howard of Effingham School. Other schools are not feasible for village children due to their distance from home.

There is suggestion that Horsley Medical Centre would be expanded. However it is already in need of expansion to serve the current community as appointments are hard to book, parking is limited. Will the Royal Surrey also be expanded to accommodate the additional 13,000 homes across the borough?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The village (West Horsley) does not have the infrastructure to sustain expansion to the degree that is suggested by the Guildford plan.

There is currently:

- One small village shop
- No post office
- No bank or cash machine
- No doctors surgery
- No secondary school
- Not enough state primary school places
- Limited bus service

Any development in West Horsley will therefore have a significant impact on the facilities (shops, doctors, station, parking) in East Horsley with is already stretched with the current size/population of the village.

Current village roads are not big enough or well enough made to sustain an increase in traffic. Each new household will most likely bring with it 2-3 cars as a necessity in this rural area. In addition to the 4-5000 additional cars that will come with the proposed development at Wisley Airfield. The impact of this on local roads is massive. Traffic already travels at dangerous speed (well about the 30 mph limit) along Ockham Road North, The Street and East Lane. An increase in traffic on the local roads will increase the danger to residents of all ages including the very young and elderly. It will also lessen the semi-rural nature of the village.

Horsley Station is already a busy commuter station 7 days per week. With most travellers travelling to the station by car the car park/waiting area/volume of traffic at peak times (London commuting and school times) will be unsustainable for East Horsley.

Letter of Objection Regarding the Proposed Development for The Horsleys in the Guildford Borough Draft Local Plan

As a life-long resident of the Horsleys, I am writing to object to various components of the Proposed Guildford Borough local plan as follows:

I fully oppose the removal of East and West Horsley from the Green Belt as well as oppose the insetting and extending the settlement area boundaries. There is no justification or reason as to why this should occur other than, in my opinion to allow the proposed additional and considerable building in a semi-rural area of outstanding natural beauty.

In addition to all of the above the volume of new housing proposed for the Horsleys and surrounding villages including the proposal for Wisley airfield does not only seem inappropriate, unjustified and necessary but also seems to be well above the national estimates for population growth. Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A46

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to object to the local plan for Normandy for all the following reasons. Site A46

1. Normandy and Flexford are within the green belt. “exceptional circumstances” have not been approved by the inspectorate. The government’s pledge to safeguard the green belt is not being upheld.
2. The green belt status is given because of the open space surrounding the village which provides a buffer zone between ash and Guildford on either side, this would be lost if the development went ahead.
3. NPFF15 states :“early and meaningful engagement with neighbourhoods, local organisations is essential” – no one has consulted with us. It has come to light that Taylor Wimpey 2 years ago submitted plans for the development of this area to ABC Planning Policy. No word to the local council (Parish Council) was reported. The local residents were left in the dark, is this legal?
4. The size of the development proposed is out of all proportion to the area. A 1,500 place secondary school is not necessary this side of Guildford, as all schools do not have their full complement in the numbers of pupils that coned the allocated and most of the schools have room for expansion in the future.
5. Guildford borough council have skewed the data to suit their objective by combining Normandy and Flexford for the purpose of sustainability, but separated the two areas for the purpose of sensitivity so that it appears in favour of planning applications. The original data used in the first consultation identified Normandy as only one settlement. Rewritten in 2014 it was divided. Data surely cannot be changed for the convenience of planning.
6. Flood issues have not been considered by GBC, now those recognised on the environmental agencies flood alert map 3a and 3b, which disregards the “effective flood-plain” of 3b and will therefore place a severe impact on those areas identified in the SWMP.
7. There will be a threat to the Thames Basin Heath Special protection Area. There will be the erosion of ancient woodland and species of fauna and flora would suffer. A46 strategic site is situated within the protection zone of the TBHSPA, which contains an (SSSI) recognised as one of the key Natural 2000 European sites. The development of A46 will exacerbate all 5 threats which are:-
   1. Higher air pollution – excessive vehicle use and traffic fumes
   2. Human intrusion and disturbance due to lack of space around sensitive sites
   3. With increased numbers of dogs and cats
   4. There is no mention of a funding plan to protect any of these ancient sites
   5. There will be a fall out of species
7. Natural England states: “Special Areas of conservation are European designated and are afforded protection under the conservation of habitats and species regulations 2010” Together with these 2 bodies and the green belt stipulations and original promises of the government to safeguard the green belt, there should be no question of even building further in this area.
9. Normandy has twisted, narrow roads. There are traffic concerns due to the increased number of vehicles should this gross development go ahead. We have a restricted railway bridge in Westwood lane, which only allows simple file traffic. Beech Lane has no sight line at all on exit to the North to go through the bridge. There would be bottlenecks at this junction and accidents and increased pollution. In glaziers lane the road over the railway has poor sightlines and an angled at approach from both directions which is another source of safety concern. The Christmas Pie crossroads which is on a bend exits at the top of a use has already seen many accidents over the years, yet nothing has been done to deal with the problem. The B3000 from wanborough Hill thorough Puttealam Heath Road towards Godalming is already at a standstill at peak times the accumulated traffic would exacerbate the problem and lead to excessive gridlocking and wasted journey time.

10. I object to the destruction of the green belt, to the views which Normandy and the surrounding countryside enjoys, all this will be sacrificed which is a travesty of planning law. Policy D4 states that new development within village will have particular regard to important views of the village from the Surrey Hills during daylight and at night due to the light pollution, which has already increased with the addition of street lights which were never there when we first arrived.

11. The essential characteristics of the green belt all their openness and their pertinence! (NPPF) The proposed plans totally ignore this. GBC are ignoring past verdicts of planning inspectors who recognised the importance of their directions. Why is GBC ignoring them?

12. The following sites are being ignored which point to the special biodiversity in this area which will be fragmented and result in a loss of species. Wanborough and Normandy woods Site Nature Conservation importance (SNCI) A47. The paddocks (SNCI). GBC want to build on this site. The stream goes through it from the Hog’s Back and last year with the excessive rain we had to proposed land was under 3 foot of water this plot is a flood plain and should not be built on ever. Normandy Pond(SNCI) Normandy Common(SNCI) Wyke Churchyard(SNCI) – Flexford(SNCI) all these would be adversely affected by the building of the development proposed with lack of space for species to thrive. When we arrived here in 1968 there were swallows – I have not seen any in years, nor swifts or even the once common house sparrow has declined. Further declines is inevitable if we continue to sacrifice on countryside for urban sprawl.

13. I object to any change in Normandy and Flexford’s green belt boundaries. There are brownfield sites available around Guildford which would eliminate the need for destroying the local green spaces, the less expensive as infrastructure is available of gas, electricity, drainage etc. The closer to all services and provide houses nearer to the centre of town. Other local authorities apply constraints to their housing numbers. GBC do not. This proposal does not assess the needs of Normandy’s residents and the 100% increase in the number of houses suggested will destroy our natural, rural environment. The case has not been made for this destruction.

With respect to the site numbered A44 in the revised draft local plan.

I would like to object to the inclusion of this site in the draft local plan for the following reasons:

1. The number of houses needed in the Borough was changed between the first and second issues of the draft plan indicating that there is considerable uncertainty in this figure and the basis and method of calculation. In view of the recent EU referendum vote and its impact on future immigration, the number of houses required is likely to reduce further.
   With smaller house numbers the need for any loss of the Greenbelt should be reassessed as 'special circumstances' necessary for reclassification have not been established.
2. This site was introduced at the last minute and there has been insufficient time for consultation before its inclusion in the draft plan.
3. This development will add to the disproportionate burden on the north east of the Borough.
4. There is a question as to the suitability of the land for building purposes.

With regard to the sites numbered:

- A25 – Gosden Hill
- A43 and A43a - Land at Burnt Common – known as Garlick's Arch
- A35 – Former Wisley Airfield in the revised draft local plan.

I would like to object to the inclusion of these sites in the draft local plan for the following reasons:

1. The number of houses needed in the Borough was changed between the first and second issues of the draft plan indicating that there is considerable uncertainty in this figure and the basis and method of calculation. In view of the recent EU referendum vote and its impact on future immigration, the number of houses required is likely to reduce further.
   With smaller house numbers the need for any loss of the Greenbelt should be reassessed as 'special circumstances' necessary for reclassification have not been established.
2. Sites 43 & 43a were introduced at the last minute and there has been insufficient time for consultation before its inclusion in the draft plan.
3. Wisley/Ripley/Send/Burnt Common/Send Marsh is a semi-rural area and development on this large scale will lead to urbanisation and permanently change the nature of the area. In particular this could provide the starting link in connecting Guildford to the M25.
4. These developments place a disproportionate burden on the north east of the Borough.
5. Traffic will increase significantly and the access and exit roads to and from the A3 are too narrow to cope with the resultant increase in traffic - particularly at peak hours.
6. Other infrastructure.
Is there adequate power, drainage and sewage provision for industrial development and is there sufficient school, medical and similar provisions for domestic expansion?

7. Light and sound pollution.
The area enjoys fairly dark skies for its proximity to London. Any additional development will add to the light pollution unless provisions are made to ensure strict control of any additional lighting. Please consult Guildford Astronomical Society. It already suffers from noise pollution from the A3. Traffic noise pollution seems inevitable if development proceeds.
If included in the plan, provision should be made for strict control of noise and light pollution emanating from the site – particularly at nighttime.

8. The sites contain a substantial number of trees many of which are quite mature and must make a significant contribution to the Borough's carbon reduction target. It seems perverse that planning permissions have been refused because of the impact on the individual trees whilst the wholesale destruction of woods seems inevitable if these sites are included.
It seems difficult to reconcile these two extreme positions.
If included in the plan preservation orders should be placed on appropriate trees as a minimum requirement.

I OBJECT to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common because Send would have to take traffic from the proposed 2000 new houses at Wisley Airfield, 2000 houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1850 at Blackwell Farm. Send Road is already overloaded and increase in traffic from A3, M25, Woking and Guildford would become gridlocked with noise pollution levels increasing which are already very high. We have recently moved and paid a premium to be able to live in this lovely village surrounded by beautiful country side and impressive scenery.

We have escaped from an area within the M25 which, throughout the 20 years my family and I have lived there, has been constantly developed, causing more traffic on the roads ( and therefore more pollution ), over population, overcrowded spaces, over subscribed school, creating saturation, high density and increased CRIME rate.

At present, whenever I use the village facilities, I am just able to find a parking space in the main car park.

Finding a space to park at the doctor's surgery has been impossible most times even at present.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy P2 where Send Village would be removed (inset) from the Green Belt.

The intention of designating land as Green Belt is for it to permanently remain so, to prevent development on it, to provide protection for wildlife and countryside, and to provides buffers to prevent the creation of conurbations through the joining together of existing local communities.

To abandon Send’s designation of being Green Belt, flies in the face of all these intentions.

The National Planning Policy Framework requires that Green Belt remains so, and there are no justifications for removing Send’s designation as Green Belt that can be considered ‘special circumstances’.

Send must NOT become a Local Rural Centre.

Send MUST remain wholly Green Belt.

This letter responds to your invitation to comment on the above-named document, which I have studied with interest and care. I wrote to you in November 2013 about the previous Green Belt & Countryside Study/Local Plan Strategy Sites Issues & Options. The present document shows improvements to the earlier draft, (including the welcome dropping of the earlier proposed development at Lolesworth Wood, although this site has not been returned to the Green Belt, as it should be); but the new PSLP still contains proposals which many West Horsley residents, including myself, find completely unacceptable. First of these is the continuing proposal to inset virtually by the whole of West Horsley from the Green Belt. The view strongly expressed in our village is that this must not happen, and it is incomprehensible that neither the officers of Guildford Borough, (nor it appears the majority of our councillors) recognise this view (or prefer not to recognise it), since no attempt has been made to change that proposal.

My own views as to why this proposal remains unacceptable are as follows:

1. West Horsley (and also East Horsley - perhaps partly for other reasons - see further below) appears on the Guildford Borough Key Diagram (page 13 of the PSLP), as a sea of white (i.e. land no longer to be Green Belt) set in a larger sea of green representing remaining "countryside". The treatment of West Horsley in this way is clearly not in accordance with many of the requirements of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), but in particular those of paragraph 83.

2. From the North part of West Horsley there are exceptional open views towards the Sheepleas (the nearest part of the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty - ANOB), as well from the ANOB towards the North into West Horsley. Clearly these much-prized views will be damaged by any significant development in any part of West Horsley. Further, the South part of West Horsley actually adjoins the ANOB and is indeed the main access point to the ANOB for the public on foot and by car from the North (at West Horsley church and Shere Road).

3. In particular, the new Strategic Development site A41 in the PSLP is objectionable in this regard, as its effect will be to destroy/ remove views to and from West Horsley, more than other Strategic Development sites proposed for the Horsleys.

4. Although reduced from the previously planned numbers, the current PSLP figures equate to 384 new houses in West Horsley, a rise of 35% compared to the existing 1,111 households in the village, and as I understand it, the new developments are scheduled to be implemented in the early years of the New Plan. Taken with the other development sites proposed for the Eastern side of the Borough, this is sure to put excessive pressure on local services including roads, and other infrastructure.

Turning to East Horsley's proposed development as a District Centre, this is beset by problems, particularly as regards the area of East Horsley Station Parade. Even today, this area has too little short-term and long-term parking, both at the railway station and increasingly for the local shops. Other services, particularly medical and educational, are also already over-burdened. Alone, the new housing developments proposed for both East and West Horsley in the PSLP would overload the proposed District Centre, but the possibility of a larger development at the Wisley Airfield site can only exacerbate this, since Horsley station would be the obvious (or only feasible) access point to the railway for London commuters (and other users) from Wisley. The proposed new Merrow station might attract residents of the proposed Gosden Hill Farm and I Send housing developments, but it will not help Wisley, and would, in any case, lead to increased overcrowding at later stations, given the likely limit to the additional train capacity which could be run on existing track; and because there are no proposals to develop the Effingham junction area (which is marginally closer to Wisley).

All in all it seems that the adoption of the current proposals in the PSLP for excessive housing concentration in the Eastern areas of the Borough of Guildford will lead, over a short time period to the complete destruction of the Green Belt in the Horsley areas, the overwhelming of services in general, and possibly to a major transport disaster. Please re-consider the...
PSLP proposals; specifically, reject Strategic Development Site A41; drop the proposal to indent West Horsley from the Green Belt, review the adoption of East Horsley as a District Centre.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

RE: GUILDFORD BOROUGH COUNCIL -LOCAL PLAN: STRATEGY AND SITES.

I write further to the publication of the above document and write to express my objection to elements of its contents.

My principle overarching objection is the proposal to take a number of Surrey villages out of the Green Belt, and East and West Horsley in particular. This proposal in particular will have "urbanisation" implications far beyond those envisaged by the mantra that more houses must be built in the Borough. Whilst I fully accept the need to provide additional housing in the Borough, I do not agree with the drastic actions of removing the Green Belt status in order to be able to provide large scale developments that would otherwise be subject to far greater planning scrutiny.

1. I object to your proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established for a very defined purpose by statute. It was designed to prevent urban sprawl and to a large extent has succeeded in doing this. It is there for the benefit of not just our generation but those that succeed us. This area not only contains many areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty but also Sites of Special Scientific Interest. The Green Belt enables these areas to be protected in order that the Guildford/Leatherhead/Dorking area does not become a suburban sprawl such as Hersham/Weybridge/Walton on Thames.

2. Large numbers of people visit the Surrey Hills area because of its stunning beauty, villages and leisure opportunities. These visitors in turn support many businesses both large and small whose livelihood depends upon the area retaining its rural charm. You simply have to remember that these people are your citizens, your ratepayers and your electorate and changing the nature of their environment will potentially destroy the uniqueness of their businesses.

3. I object to the volume of housing, and associated density of construction, which is currently proposed in the Horsleys and is completely out of keeping with their village. The proposal to build 180 houses in East Horsley and 411 in West Horsley is completely disproportionate to the housing stock currently in existence. There has not been any detailed study undertaken proving the need for this level of housing in these locations, the size and style of the proposed houses or the impact on the surrounding infrastructure.

4. I object to the proposals as many of these sites do not reflect the level of infrastructure in place to support such a volume of housing, from schools to medical facilities, shops, bus services, train station parking and drains. We have seen how many villages in the area have been blighted by the bolt on Council Estates of the post war years - dumped on village back land with no regard to the architectural merits of the development, the local amenities on offer or the employment of the proposed residents. Each site should be considered on its own individual merits under the existing planning regime which has been designed to protect the environment of our rural life and given its particular circumstances.

5. I object to the proposal to build 100 houses on site A39 in East Horsley as it is fundamentally flawed. The plan already recognises that the site is in a flood plain and notes that the flood risk needs to be reduced and that... there is to be no greater flood risk to anywhere. Surely by interfering with the flood plain in this location can only transfer the flood plain impact somewhere else? That may be downstream of the site or onto adjoining properties. If there is no interference with the flood plain at the site doesn’t it become viable for 100 houses. The existing proposal by Cateby Land to develop 100 affordable homes here simply does not sit comfortably with any sustainable, accessible or employment rationale. It is building the wrong types of houses in the wrong place.

6. I also do not believe that the Council has given sufficient regard to where all these new inhabitants are going to be. There is little or no employment in these villages, there is very little bus transport, the railways are currently crammed in rush hour with no room for extra capacity and the station car parks are not big enough to cater for more cars. And yet how are people meant to get to work in Guildford, Woking and London as the primary employment centres? The answer will be by car, whether this be by way of a short journey to the station (where they will end up parking on the streets) or a full journey into Guildford (which is already rammed in rush hour). I cannot see how this can sit comfortably with the Council’s Green agenda. The Council certainly will not be able to force the bus and train companies to extend their services as these are now privately owned businesses operating for profit.

7. I disagree with the Council’s housing projection of a need for 693 houses per year (identified in the SHMA) for the period 2013-2033 when an independent report prepared by NMSS for Guildford Resident’s Association in June 2016 identifies that the Objectively Assessed Housing Need is nearer to 510. This reinforces my view that the statistical basis for the draft Local Plan is fundamentally flawed.

8. I object to the Council’s failure to unlock the development potential of brownfield sites in the Borough and the volume of currently unoccupied residential properties in the Borough should be given a greater priority in the search for developable land before ruining the environment, livelihood and well-being of a unique area of high amenity value.

Remember, there will be no opportunity to undo any development resulting from these proposals. You will not be able to wind back time.

There has not been any detailed study undertaken proving the need for this level of housing in these locations, the size and style of the proposed houses or the impact on the surrounding infrastructure.

4. I object to the proposals as many of these sites do not reflect the level of infrastructure in place to support such a volume of housing, from schools to medical facilities, shops, bus services, train station parking and drainage. We have seen how many villages in the area have been blighted by the bolt on Council Estates of the post war years - dumped on village back land with no regard to the architectural merits of the development, the local amenities on offer or the employment of the proposed residents. Each site should be considered on its own individual merits under the existing planning regime which has been designed to protect the environment of our rural life and given its particular circumstances.

5. I object to the proposal to build 100 houses on site A39 in East Horsley as it is fundamentally The plan already recognises that the site is in a flood plain and notes that the flood risk needs to be reduced and that accordingly there is to be no greater flood risk to anywhere else. Surely by interfering with the flood plain in this location can on ly transfer the flood plain impact somewhere else? That may be downstream of the site or onto adjoining properties. If there is no interference with the flood plain at the site doesn't become viable for 100 houses. The existing proposal by Cateby Land to develop 100 affordable homes here simply does not sit comfortably with any sustainable, accessible or employment rationale. It is building the wrong types of houses in the wrong place.

6. I also do not believe that the Council has given sufficient regard to where all these new inhabitants are going to. There is little or no employment in these villages, there is very little bus transport, the railways are currently crammed in rush hour with no room for extra capacity and the station car parks are not big enough to cater for more cars. And yet how are people meant to get to work in Guildford, Woking and London as the primary employment centres? The answer will be by car, whether this be by way of a short journey to the station (where they will end up parking on the streets) or a full journey into Guildford (which is already rammed in rush hour). I cannot see how this can sit comfortably with the Council’s Green agenda. The Council certainly will not be able to force the bus and train companies to extend their services as these are now privately owned businesses operating for profit.

7. I disagree with the Council's housing projection of a need for 693 houses per year (identified in the SHMA) for the period 2013-2033 when an independent report prepared by N MSS for Guildford Resident’s Association in June 2016 identifies that the Objectively Assessed Housing Need is nearer to This reinforces my view that the statistical basis for the draft Local Plan is fundamentally flawed.

8. I object to the Council’s failure to unlock the development potential of brownfield sites in the Borough and the volume of currently unoccupied residential properties in the Borough should be given a greater priority in the search for developable land before ruining the environment, livelihood and well-being of a unique area of Remember, there will be no opportunity to undo any development resulting from these proposals. You will not be able to wind back time.

I re-iterate my unreserved objection to the proposals as set out in the above document.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce thus defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.
I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.
Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.
Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.
4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.
I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income. And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being “closely related”. In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London.
cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including...
Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

2. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set.
   Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 2: Legal compliance

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.
I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.
12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.
13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.
14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.
15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular pastime, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sq m of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sq m of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix D: Evidence base

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010–2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital  Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.
I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.
Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.
Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.
I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provide for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy II. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy II requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites. I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including
Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper account of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Cladon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework

8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Cladon, Send and Ripley citizens
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.
I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

We would like to register our objection to the proposed New Local Plan. Fifty seven years ago, we moved to the lovely village of West Horsley and over the years have seen it grow, however, it has basically remained a village,

If the proposed developments go ahead, it will become a town, without the infrastructure to support it. If we had wanted to live in a town to raise our family, we would have done so,

It is of great concern to us that these developments will increase the population significantly and without due concern to the Green belt which was set up to prevent the spread of towns particularly around London,

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution.

I wish to object to the 2016 draft local plan. I am a resident of New Inn Lane, Burpham, and believe the proposed Gosden Hill Farm development will have a significant adverse impact on the local area. My specific concerns are:

1. Road infrastructure is not sufficient to cope with the traffic that will result from the proposals. The roundabout outside the new Aldi store has demonstrated this point with the congestion caused on London Road and New Inn Lane from only a small increase in traffic volume, relative to that which will result from the proposals.
2. During the groundwork and construction phases of the development, the level of disruption within the area will be significant, with the roads becoming clogged as a result of deliveries, plant, and so forth. Pedestrian safety will be put at risk as roads are not designed to cope with such intensive usage.
3. Southbound traffic on the A3 is crawling most weekday evenings and the proposed development will only serve to increase these problems. The same is true for introducing junctions allowing southbound traffic to join and northbound traffic to exit the A3.
4. The development will ruin the dynamic of the local area, which currently provides for a friendly, village community, yet with all the amenities and transport links as a result of the close proximity with Guildford. This will be lost with the proposed urbanisation of the area.

5. The details concerning the proposal are extremely limited at this stage and residents have not been afforded sufficient information or time to fully consider the impact to the local area. For example:

6. There is no evidence to support that there is sufficient demand for the level of housing proposed. A significant oversupply of houses, which seems highly possible, would lead to instability in the local housing market.

7. There is no evidence to support the need for the proposed employment and retail provisions. Again, an under or over supply could affect the viability of the development.

8. It is unclear the purpose for the park & ride and new railway station. The railway station serves no purpose, being as close as it would be to both London Road and Clandon stations. The station would serve stopping services to London so would be of no benefit to a large proportion of commuters.

9. [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered contrary to the Council’s duty under the Equalities Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation against persons with a protected characteristic; and to foster good relations between persons with a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it]

10. There appears to be little consideration of green space and public open spaces, despite considering the proposed development will result in the loss of a substantial proportion of green belt land in the area.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
As a regular visitor to friends in West Horsley, I write to object strongly to the proposals, particularly to the destruction of large areas of Green Belt despite all the undertakings and assurances that they will be preserved except in very special circumstances.

West Horsley has kept its character as an attractive country village thanks mainly to the Green Belt around and within it. The areas of past development are mostly well separated, so that there are hardly any areas more than a few hundred yards from original woodland, fields, meadows or parkland. The plans propose a huge increase of over 1/3 in the number of homes in West Horsley.

Particularly inappropriate is the proposal to build 135 houses on the Manor Farm site (referenced Policy A38), good agricultural land in the Green Belt. It would bind together two existing areas of housing, causing continuous development for over 1 km between the Ockham Road and Long Reach.

Building 225 houses on the Manor Farm (referenced Policy A38) and East Lane sites (referenced Policy A41) in the Green Belt would greatly increase traffic on the narrow East Lane towards Horsley Station and the shops in East Horsley (West Horsley has only one small shop). East Lane is already heavily used despite being a narrow lane with a one-way section in it; it is frequently flooded and it has been in a VERY bad state of repair for many years, as has The Drift beyond it leading on to Effingham and the east.

As well as the roads, the drainage, medical facilities and schools in the area are all struggling to meet the existing demands on them, yet it seems that no consideration is given to any of these essential things in the Plan.

I believe that the Plan has ignored the existing character of the Village and the availability of facilities of all kinds and I strongly object to the Proposals.

I object to the building of 400 houses at Garlick’s Arch. These are not needed in Send or the borough and the proposal was announced at the last minute without any prior consultation.

I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick’s Arch. It is not needed and there is already an available site at Slyfield where it can be built.

I object to the proposed development at Garlick’s Arch because the site is home to ancient woodland which should be conserved and it is also subject to flooding.

I object to the proposed development at Garlick’s Arch as it is part of the Green Belt and helps stop merging of towns and settlements. This is the main purpose of the Green Belt. I believe it needs to stay as such.

I object to a new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because Send is already gridlocked daily at typical rush hour times and hasn’t the road infrastructure to cope with any more traffic.

I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because Send would then be used as a cut through to the A3 and the M25. Already Send Marsh Road is being used as a cut through to Ripley/A3 and is causing daily congestion at peak times. Very heavy traffic would cause daily chaos and bring the surrounding roads to a standstill.

I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

1. Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

2. Site A44 in Broadford Business Park has also been removed. This is another brownfield site that has already been developed. The Council’s claims to “have adopted a ‘brownfield first’ approach” (page 5) but this is clearly not the case, and is contrary to national guidelines.

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn Nursery in Tannery Lane for the following reasons:

1. There has been an increase in proposed building of houses from 45 to 60 – this is ridiculously too many for our area.

2. This totally ignores hundreds of previous objections by local residents.

3. Access to Tannery Lane at the A247 junction is not viable for the amount of traffic that will be incurred.

4. Tannery Lane itself if not capable of being used by large or numerous vehicles – it is a Lane.

5. This will be eroding even more of the Green Belt.

6. There is already bad surface water flooding in this area. This can only increase the problem.
7. This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states "Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays." And yet there are no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

I object to the Policy A43, land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh for the following reasons:

1. This totally ignores hundreds of previous objections by local residents.
2. There are no ‘exceptional circumstances’ as required by the National Planning Policy to take this area out of the Green Belt.
3. This will remove ancient woodland which cannot ever by regained.
4. Ripley and Send villages will merge, therefore defeating the purpose of the Green Belt.
5. The number of homes proposed is excessive. Send is a village. This is over-development to the extreme.
6. The area is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a Flood Zone 2 allocation.
7. The excessive traffic that will be generated will totally cause mayhem on the Send and Ripley roads. Already whenever there is a road closure nearby or traffic accident (almost a daily occurrence on the A3/M25) in the vicinity – the main Ripley, Send Marsh and Send roads are ridiculously congested or at a total standstill.
8. There is no proven demand for Travelling Show people sites in this location. This development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.
9. Guildford Borough is over 100 square miles. Of the 11350 homes proposed in the Plan, 40.6% (4613) are within 3 miles of Send Marsh, most of them on Green Belt. This is grossly unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

"We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan".

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlick’s Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

I object to the Policy A58, land at Burnt Common, London Road for the following reasons:

1. This was deleted from the 2014 draft plan because of all the objections previously made – therefore why has it been included again?
2. There has been a decline in demand for industrial land since the previous draft plant but the 2016 version uses the word ‘maximum’ a change from ‘minimum’ within it – this does not make sense.
3. There are already empty sites and units at Slyfield and Guildford and therefore no need to build new industrial and warehouse developments in our area. I can only envisage these will end up being empty too.
4. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand for industrial land for the whole borough to 3.9 hectares. This policy is a huge allocation of 10 hectares for Send alone. Totally unacceptable.
5. The small roads around this area are already often at gridlock. This can only make the problem worse.
6. The merging of existing villages (which will occur) defeats the purpose of the Green Belt.

I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in Green Belt (A58)

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned in policy 4.423a and does not allow for full and proper consultation. This is unacceptable

I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The policy says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.

This means that the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, but just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. I doubt this is likely to result in the construction of any ‘affordable’ homes.

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15)

Send Business Park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s removal from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the development of sites A36, A37, A38, A39, A40 & A41 in Horsley because:

- These sites are much too large in proportion to the size of East and West Horsley (additional 533 houses)
- These sites represent a disproportionately large amount of the borough's housing "needs"
- These sites are close to the proposed Wisley development and so together represent a vastly disproportionate development of the area.
- They would change to appearance of the green belt in and around Horsley which contradicts the council's aim of protecting the green belt
- The local roads and pavements are very narrow and increasing traffic both during and after construction would increase the risk of traffic accidents both involving cars and pedestrians many of whom are children.
- Considerable objection to these sites was made following the last draft plan by These objections should be considered and not just objections at this stage otherwise the Council could be accused of trying to "wear down" opinion.

22. APPENDIX C

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C).

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the Plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the Borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the Borough being too high (Appendix D).

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS (a housing demographics consultant) has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows, issues with the way it considers students and affordability and flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the Borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the Borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition, since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result, any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need, the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as well as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as well as infrastructure considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly, in this regard, our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First, I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly, I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision-making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt, then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the Plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead, the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt, then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

20. POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.
Note the following accident data:

2010 – 2014 from Crashmap data:

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near Shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays Surrey Fire and Rescue

2016

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Send Marsh Road - Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and Surrey County Council (SCC) is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Green Belt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the Doomsday Book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.
There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council may have been attracted by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the Plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding should be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so-called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running South past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement - often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for Southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4).

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)
Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a).

The addition of North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would have serious repercussions for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the North, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the East of Guildford (Merrow etc.) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas, as the traffic would be on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the Borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which leaves plenty of scope for abuse.

16. POLICY D4

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages.

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

5. POLICY E1

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1).

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is an alternative brownfield site very close by.

6. POLICY E2

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2).

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.
There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

7. POLICY E5

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5).

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

18. POLICY E6

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment or “Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the Plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the Borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

1. To help private providers market local This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.
2. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

14. POLICY E7

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre.

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.
There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

12. POLICY H1

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all.

Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free-up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the Plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to... accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

13. POLICY H2

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility, and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the Plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of over £360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price? As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
17. POLICY H3

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy.

It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances”. The wording of the policy is far too wide, so compromising all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no facility to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the Plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development, then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being “closely related”. In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related”. Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances”. The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1).

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow: wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever more popular past-time, particularly at weekends when hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road traffic accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring additional accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The Borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the Plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problems, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this Policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this Plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the Plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the Borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This Plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow the needs of housebuilding. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to, capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision for increased capacity of Guildford's hospitals: where is this assessed and remedied?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

10. POLICY I2

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2) I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

11. POLICY I3

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the North East of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built-up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

3. POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2).

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the Borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. It appears that the Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands, and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the Plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the Borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused a lot of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. Mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’, so there are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The proposed development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Guidford Borough Council's (GBC’s) Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development: however, other considerations (e.g. traffic congestion) should preclude the use of this site also.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (SFRA) has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the National Planning Practice Guidance (NPPG)) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1.POLICY S1

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1).

The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision- taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.
The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to rely on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Re: Responses to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

My main objections to the Local Plan are on the grounds of the large increase in traffic that is bound to ensue through the village of West Clandon, and to object also because of the consequent destruction of Green Belt lands. The detailed comments below on the paragraphs within the Local Plan have been prepared by others, but nevertheless accurately and succinctly reflect my own views, and are therefore largely unaltered.

Traffic in West Clandon is significant in off-peak times, and becomes congested for most of the peak traffic times, with frequent tail-backs from the Clandon Road/Portsmouth Road roundabout (A246/B2215) to the West Clandon/Guildford Road cross-roads (A246/A247). As the present Clandon Road (A247) cannot cope with peak traffic demands, and any significant improvement in traffic handling on that road would require many houses in the village to be removed and house frontages drastically reduced, so any proposed significant increase in traffic would appear to be the result of inadequate or negligent planning. You will be aware that as recently as 12.07.16 there was yet another traffic accident in the village, this time involving two cars. As a pedestrian walking on the narrow pavements (which are sited on only one side of the road, there being insufficient space for pavements on both sides) I frequently see vehicle debris lying at the road side, presumably as a result of vehicles side-swiping one another on the narrow road. I also not unusually have to have my car mount the pavement in order to pass on-coming wide vehicles (or for them to have to do so).

You should also be aware that traffic congestion in Guildford usually results in congestion on the A3 and A246 leading into Guildford, which then causes severe congestion on the A247 through West Clandon, presumably as traffic on the other two routes tries to find alternative routes. The proposed housing developments in the Gosden Hill and Garlick Arch areas would only result in grid-lock through the village.

West Clandon and the villages and amenity areas around it constitute at present pleasant and peaceful semi-rural habitation. The proposed housing changes would evidently change all of that, resulting in a quasi-urban environment which is not what the local peoples wish for. I understand that there may be a need for increased housing, but would question whether that should be done at the cost of destroying much of the quality of life of existing residents. There are other areas where such developments could be done without such consequences.

My detailed objections are listed below.

I OBJECT to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). In my opinion the Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objections to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to impose constraints on development, primarily due to the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints.

This policy does not take proper account of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited. Accordingly in considering the housing number, the Plan should take into account that in this part of London's commuter belt, availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionate greater than 5% is undesirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be reasonable. A substantially lower number, on the hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number, the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper account of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been skewed towards growth without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites, and through increasing the housing density of existing built-up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is therefore unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Do you agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant?"

ANSWER
I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set.
   Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

ANSWER

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by over 20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.
The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

24.C.Question 3: Soundness

"Do you consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound? Please provide the following information being as precise as possible:

- why you consider it is or is not sound and
- what change(s) (if any) you consider necessary to make it sound, explaining why this is the case."

ANSWER

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green” Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.

2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

1. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites - which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

1. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

2. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

3. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.

4. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.

5. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound.

6. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018.

7. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars.

8. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for

9. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy

10. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

11. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer These include electricity grid supply problems and sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

12. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

13. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

1. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

2. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

3. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

4. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites given priority over commercial development and greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

- why you consider it has or has not complied with the duty to cooperate and
- what change(s) (if any) you consider necessary to make it comply with the duty to cooperate, explaining why this is the "

ANSWER

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the above planning for the following reasons:

- Object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.
- The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley could not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In the refused planning application there had been a suggestion that Cobham & Stoke D’Abernon Station could be used. That or use of stations further north at Weybridge or Walton would increase congestion and pollution on local roads in Elmbridge
- No exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the site from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land.
- It's a disproportionate allocation of a proposed increase in housing to the nearby localities of Ockham, Ripley, the Horsleys and Effingham.
- Object to the threat of the Local Plan as drafted poses to the historic rural settlements of Ockham, Hatchford and Downside.
- The plan calls for Ockham, a hamlet of 159 residences to be subsumed into development, on presently open land, with 2,000 dwellings and other urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- Hatchford, south of the M25, has some 60 residences off narrow Ockham Lane that would be greatly affected by the proximity of development.
- Object to the potential harmful impact on transport, local roads and road safety by the suggested development. The result of an additional 2,000 homes would be an estimated 4,000 additional cars together with other vehicles, including HGVs, to service the development.
- The increased traffic would cause congestion and danger on the narrow rural roads in Ockham, Hatchford, Downside and Cobham. Cobham is the closest shopping centre to the proposed development. The village could not cope with the additional traffic and car parking involved in serving some 5,000 additional occupiers at the site and would experience a significant increase in stationary/idling traffic at peak times and at junctions.
- Due to the absence of cycling paths and the lack of footpaths (and the space to provide them) the assertion that the development would result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking is unbelievable. The increased traffic would add danger to cyclists and pedestrians (including those increasingly using local roads for recreational purposes).
- There would be an increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25 and the junction of those as well as local roads. The current planning application by RHS Wisley would already have significantly added to visitor traffic. Any proposed secondary schooling would add additional congestion.
- Object to the issue of air quality not being taken seriously. Air pollution in this area in the north of the Borough of Guildford and the south of the Borough of Elmbridge and particularly near the M25/A3 junction already exceeds EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic would worsen the situation, affecting the health of all current and future residents.
- Object to insufficient consideration being given to the environmental and ecological value of the site and the area around it, taking account of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
The area is a haven for wildlife, some of which is already endangered. The introduction of residences would mean the import into an ecologically sensitive area not only of humans and their increased footfall, but also of pets, and cats and dogs in particular, that can have a devastating effect on wildlife. Protected species on and near the site and wildlife corridors would be destroyed.

Objections are supported by the unanimous rejection of application no 15/P/00012 by the Planning Committee at Guildford Borough Council on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of Planning Officers. The Planning Report identified the serious concerns now being highlighted.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object fundamentally to this developer led Plan in regard to Site 46 – Normandy/Flexford.

It should be very obvious under serious scrutiny that there is a total lack of supportive infrastructure.

The two Lanes forming part of the boundary of Site 46 – Westwood Lane/Wanborough Hill and Glaziers Lane - could in no way not cope with the substantial increase in traffic, and neither could the third boundary road – the A323 Guildford/Aldershot road – which is already heavily utilised. Any sensible person would immediately understand that it is completely impossible to envisage any "highways improvements" that would enable these narrow roads to cope.

Additionally, this is an environmentally sensitive location in close proximation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area with many vitally important ecological networks and habitats.

The proposed development would destroy these and through the pollution generated – through light, litter, noise, diffuse land and road runoff - would without doubt negatively affect the known green infrastructure corridors, the ancient woodland, stream habitats, Normandy Common, Normandy Pond, and also Wyke Churchyard.

Historically, it is a well known fact that, the area is already prone to flooding. The proposed development would without doubt create a disaster at some stage.

This developer led Plan majors on an intimated need for a new secondary school for the western parishes. This is a completely incorrect assertion.

The schools serving the western parishes are currently well undersubscribed and there are apparently in excess of some 730 vacancies.

Additionally it is understood that the SCC has already approved expansions at the County School, Guildford and St. Peters. Also in 2018, a new technical college is to open that will provide a further 480 places.

QED there is absolutely no need for the school on which the developer bases this proposed Plan.
In view of all the above facts this Plan should be rejected.

I'm writing to object to the local plan for West Horsley. The scale and density proposed is incredible and needs to be urgently amended. The country has just voted for brexit, to a large extent, to curb migration and population growth. It would be awful to build over such beautiful land on the pretences of population forecasts set before Brexit. Without migration our natural birth rate will lead to a shrinking population. Once you build on the greenbelt like this you never get it back.

The density of housing proposed is significantly higher than existing housing. We need suitable family housing to support swathes of young people unable to buy family houses. Familys dont want to live in shoeboxes. Prices can come down if supply and demand balance changes, that is how to make houses affordable rather than building small houses nobody wants.
The local school is already full. What is the plan for that? The station car park already full, what is the plan for that? The peak time trains for London are already full with people standing all the way to London, what is the plan for that? The A3 junction with the M25 is gridlock at morning and afternoon peak, what is the plan for that?

I object to housing as the roads surrounding Ockham are narrow and already have too much traffic cutting through grin the A3 & M25 junction 10.

I object also as there are no secondary schools that could cater for more children than it already does and certainly not hundreds as it could be. It is extremely difficult to get into - The Howard of Effingham, the nearest to Ockham.

My objection is on the grounds that traffic in the area (particularly along the A323) is already bad particularly in rush hour, and an increase by more than 2400 houses will only worsen this congestion.

The reason we moved to this area was due to the Green Belt area, and these additional homes will virtually make one large new town between Aldershot and Guildford. I don't believe sufficient plans have been made for infrastructure to support this increase, not only for traffic but also for vital services such as doctors and hospital. Local surgeries are already under strain with waiting times of up to 2 weeks for non urgent appointments, this can only get worse. Issues with being able to park in Ash Vale to shop already demonstrate how quickly a trouble free trip to the shops can become a nightmare as it has been impossible to park on some occasions since the opening of the Co Op in place of Budgens, there will be far greater requirements for this type of shopping, and no plans for appropriate additional shops or parking.

Policy A19: Land at Westway, off Aldershot Road, Guildford.

The Governing Body of StJoseph's Catholic Primary School,Guildford,would like to comment on the proposed site allocation for approximately 38 homes (C3).

We would like to state that we have no objections to this land being used for housing, as we are very aware that homes, especially affordable family homes, are needed in Guildford.
However, we would like to point out some key considerations applicable to this site:

1) Traffic movement - there have been two serious accidents outside of the school in recent months.

2) Parking - there is very little parking available in the vicinity of the school, leading to dangerous and anti-social parking in the local streets. We believe that generous parking facilities should be available for residents and their visitors on this site.

Both of the above are, of course, a major safety concern for us.

3) The school has recently extended to a three term entry and further expansion on our site is not possible. With pupil numbers at 631, the school is over PAN, and oversubscribed, as are all local primary schools. Planning for additional school places should be taken into consideration.

4) The site boundary runs the full length of the school boundary. Consideration should be given to height and density, with 'overlooking' issues relating to School Consideration should be given to height and density, with 'overlooking' issues relating to School and Play areas - Policy H1: Homes for all, and Policy 01: Making better places - Residential development of 25 dwellings.

5) The school has a plot on the Westborough Allotment which is used every week and is much valued by the children and the school. Continued safe and easy access is paramount. With respect to rights and easements and the right to park, the spaces allocated for users of the allotments is essential, as they provide an important mentoring role for our children.

We would expect the drainage ditch to be maintained as part of any planning approval.

We would like to request that the concerns that the school has in respect of this unusual site be taken into consideration at the outset of the planning process, that they be added to the Key Considerations, and that they be kept on record for when a planning brief is prepared.

Over 80% of Guildford borough land is situated in the Green Belt and the Proposed Submission Local Plan (LP) housing numbers fail to take into account allowable constraints on new builds in the borough, caused by the green belt. Due to such a high housing target, over the plan period, the only way such large housing numbers can be accommodated is by taking too much land out of the Green Belt. A smaller housing target could have protected the Green Belt and been allowable under NPPF constraints based on the high proportion of Green Belt in the borough. Effingham Parish Council objects to the housing target - it is too high.

In addition, it is necessary to review the Strategic Housing Market Availability Assessment (SHMAA) concerning:

1. The part of the housing target driven by economic growth. Is this housing target still appropriate for the borough following the referendum result and the expected slower growth in the future? Given that an average of 125 new builds per year are due to economic growth this figure needs reviewing.

1. Whether student figures for the University of Surrey are still appropriate? Following the referendum result student numbers at the university are expected to decline as students from Europe are now expected to have to pay the full fees. Russell Group universities are predicting a decline in student numbers from Europe in the future due to the higher fees.

1. EPC regards the 14% housing buffer to be higher than necessary and should be reduced. The 14% buffer is forcing GBC to identify sites in the green belt that would not be needed if there were no, or a lower, buffer.

New Local Plan (2016)

It would appear that Guildford Council have not listened to the comments previously made by many people criticising the 2014 draft local plan and have swept all these comments under the carpet as if they did not exist. They have now proceeded with the new GBC local plan as if nothing had happened.

Any new developments should be in keeping with the character of the two villages and within the present existing boundaries of East and West Horsley.

By moving the village boundaries - a very sneaky way of land grabbing, will in no way enhance the character of the existing villages. The infrastructure in the area is already struggling and would be unable to cope with the volume of traffic which would be increased by the proposed Local Plan Strategy.

The local infrastructure will need to be improved to meet the present needs of an expanding population as a result of any new developments.

With the proposal of over 500 houses in East and West Horsley, with the majority in West Horsley, there have been no proposals for a new primary school in the area despite the fact the Raleigh School cannot now cope with current demand for school places.

Also no thought seems to have been given that infrastructures such as health - no commitment for a new doctor's surgery, education, transport. The roads around the Horsleys are already at breaking point.

If the proposal for over 2,000 houses at the Wisley development proceeds the roads around the Horsley's would certainly be unable to cope with all the additional traffic.

11) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

7) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
6. The lack of suitable public transpo The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

I object to the East Horsley village being inset rather than washed over as this would permit even more development whilst doing nothing to improve the roads/lanes or providing more schools places both junior and Senior. The movement of the boundaries within East Horsley would allow building on Kingston Meadow beside the Village Hall which is an important recreational space within the village. The cars would be using an already dangerous junction with Ockham Rd North, the shops and Station Approach.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
• It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill developement being in the Local Plan The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).
The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT  This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.
What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy P3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.
Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.
2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.
These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Objection to the Draft Guildford Local Plan for The Horsleys

I am writing to object to various components of the proposed Guildford Borough local plan with regards to the Horsleys as follows:

I oppose the removal of East and West Horsley from the Green Belt as well as oppose the insetting and extending the settlement area boundaries and associated building of several hundred new houses on field and woodland in this village in an area of outstanding natural beauty.

I oppose the extent of the developments proposed on the basis that the volumes of houses are well above the requirement to support population increases, nationally and in the surrounding area.

East and West Horsley do not have the infrastructure to support the current village population let alone several hundred additional homes in the villages. The situation is as follows:

- One small village shop serving all of West Horsley with residents having to travel (mostly by car) to East Horsley
- No post office following its closure in recent years
- No bank or cash machine
- No doctors surgery as such the overstretched East Horsley Medical Centre is utilised where appointments at short and long notice are hard to come by
- No secondary school as such the oversubscribed Howard of Effingham School is the preferred school for the villages. There is no suggestion of a reasonable alternative to the Howard should housing across Guildford and Mole Valley increase as the county and borough councils would like
- Not enough state primary school places. The Raleigh School is already oversubscribed on an annual basis with village children missing out each year.
- Limited bus service
- Limited volume of passengers able to travel from Horsley Station (car park is often full on weekdays as it is without the additional traffic from additional households and thousands of new homes at Wisley.
- Increased risk of flooding due to the development of fields and woodland

Village roads cannot support an increase in traffic from several hundred new homes and those at Wisley. There are already issues with speed and volume of traffic as well as the quality of the roads

I am writing to state my objection to the removal of the former Wisley airfield site from the green belt.

Although I live in Cobham I commute to Ockham on a daily basis for work.

The local roads and lanes could not cope with the proposed increase in traffic, let alone the A3 and M25 which is already gridlocked on a daily basis.

2000 homes in such a rural area would also have a devastating impact on local residents.

The nearest shopping to the proposed development is in Cobham which has local parking issues and a further possible 4000 vehicles added to this would on result in chaos.

There are also areas of SSI surrounding the site which would be hugely impacted by the increase of family pets from such a number of houses. [cats and dogs etc]

There must be a number of Brownfield sites in and around Guildford that should be considered for development before destroying our precious Greenbelt that once gone can never be replaced.

It would also increase the tendency for urban sprawl. How long before Surrey becomes part of London?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy D4: we object to the insetting of villages (meaning in fact removal of the villages from greenbelt protection) and the fact that they will suffer from higher density development and the resulting increase in traffic, use of infrastructure etc, which is already under pressure. We object in particular to the insetting of West Clandon, Send and the Horsleys. This will have a detrimental impact on greenbelt openness and the views in and out of the area of natural beauty and indirect contravention of Policy P1 and P2.

1. We are particularly concerned about the winding narrow and dangerous route via the A247 through West Clandon which also results in vehicles using a cut through along the even narrower rural road. Ripley Road, through East Clandon from the A3. The Ripley Road is already dangerous and there are potentially many conflicts between vehicles, pedestrians and bicycles, particularly as this is on the Surrey Hills cycle route. The dramatic increase in houses in the area will only exacerbate the problem and we can for-see serious consequences, possibly resulting in injury or death as a result of the increased use. We would hope that the Borough would be held to account if this occurs.

1. We object to the settlement boundary which has been imposed on East Clandon without any consultation. This imposition provides no protection to further development outside of the settlement boundary (Policy P2, para 4.3.25) and is deemed by us as being unnecessary in an already tightly developed ancient and rural conservation village with high archaeological potential. We demand that this proposal be removed as it will endanger the openness of the greenbelt, the views in and out of the area of natural beauty (protection of the AONB Policy P1) and the character of our village.

2. Policy P2 - greenbelt: we object to the significant erosion of the greenbelt with the proposals for large towns being developed on greenbelt land thereby removing the openness of the greenbelt. We note in particular the large developments proposed for the north east quadrant of the Borough which will adversely affect our amenity, but also unfairly targets our tranquil rural villages because we can provide dormitory facilities for commuters to London. The developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracks in the Horsleys and Garlick’s Arch at Send.

4. Further with regard to the erosion of greenbelt, we object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that greenbelt should be protected. We object to the disproportionate use of greenbelt land for housing -some 65% of the housing proposed is on greenbelt and with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brownfield sites.

1. We object to Policy S1 not offering sustainable development as regards roads and rail infrastructure which currently does not cope with demand. Congestion on the A3 in particular, but also other A roads in the area such as the A247 and the A246. There is already an overcrowded and slow train system for those living in the Borough and needing to commute to London. No pre-emptive planning has been made to alleviate these real problems which will be much exacerbated by large increases in housing.

1. Continuing the S1 Policy (presumption in favour of sustainable development), we object that this is not being met and that Guildford Borough Council are contravening this when it is clear that no fixed plans are available to improve the provision of shops, medical facilities, schools etc, in our immediate area (other than roads and rail already mentioned above) to service us. If Guildford Borough Council were serious about improving the infrastructure and sustainability of our communities, they would have secured plans and funding to ensure these facilities are available and not just at the behest and hopeful goodwill from the developers. Further, how will developers be held accountable to their promises to build infrastructure? There are many examples of developers reneging on commitments as funds dry up, even though very high profits will be made as a result of agricultural and greenbelt land being sold for valuable housing development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We, Nigel and Jane Simpson of the above address, object to the 2016 draft Local Plan as a whole and, in particular. We object to the specific issues listed below. We believe that this Local Plan is severely flawed and will have a direct and serious detrimental effect on the amenity currently enjoyed by ourselves and other residents of East Clandon and to the even greater detriment to our neighbouring villages of West Clandon, Ripley, West and East Horsley. The proposals in the Plan will seriously erode the openness of the greenbelt and endanger the beauty and views in and out of the Surrey Hills Area of Natural Beauty.

Our specific objections are:

We object to Policy S2 for the proposed provision of the very high overall housing numbers of 13,800 new homes and we object on two grounds:

The proposed housing numbers have been imposed on us with no proper consultation being undertaken with the residents of East Clandon and the Borough as a whole. Secondly, the housing numbers are based on a high growth economic development plan which in itself has had no consultation with us and this. Combined with estimated demand from London residents. will turn Guildford into a dormitory town for London.

Further, we object to the fact that no real economic or housing demand factors have been provided by the Borough planners to substantiate the very high housing target of 13,800 new dwellings over the next 20 years. This is in direct contravention of the NPPF's requirements for the Planning Authority to provide meaningful consultation.

1. We object to the fact that Guildford Borough Council have not met the requirements of the NPPF paragraph 155, which imposes an explicit obligation to have early and meaningful consultation. This has not been met in a number of areas by Guildford Borough Council. We have not had a meaningful consultation on imposing a settlement boundary on East Clandon. There is also the absence of meaningful economic and population growth figures for Guildford showing various scenarios with high, medium and low growth scenarios being offered.

We demand that there should be a significant challenge to the Guildford Borough Council scenario including planning, housing and growth numbers, which should be revised and especially in the light of uncertainty and changes which will accompany Britain’s withdrawal from the European Union.

- Collective impact of these 6 sites on a small part of the borough not considered. Should not be treated as isolated, separate sites.
- Total amount of new building out of scale with the planned development elsewhere the borough, especially less sensitive urban areas not protected by Green Belt.
- Sites unsustainable. Key infrastructure lacking. No adequate provision is made to increase it – e.g. poor wastewater capacity, lack of schools, absence of traffic management plan, flooding.
- No account taken of additional impact of Wisley Airfield site on Horsleys.
- Extension of settlement boundaries too permissive. Horsleys characterised by streets with development along only one side of the road. Policies allow too many adjacent green fields to be developed by squaring off boundaries and claiming they don’t contribute to Green Belt “openness”.
- Green Belt gap with neighbouring settlements hugely narrowed, especially if Wisley Airfield is built on.
- Will harm compliance with NPPF 81 – e.g. by making cycling (including Prudential cycle races) too dangerous, ruining the rural setting of Waterloo Farm campsite, destroying the ambience of Grange Park Opera’s new “Theatre in the Woods”.
- Policy A40 especially unviable because of high water table and poor drainage, leading to regular winter flooding.
• Safe access and egress at Site A40 unachievable, owing to flooding, high speed limits, poor sight lines, narrow access to existing properties, inadequate pavements for elderly and schoolchildren, increasing use by recreational cyclists etc.

I object to the removal of the former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The site is important in protecting against urban sprawl from London and if built on, will mean an urban corridor from London to Guildford. There are no circumstances whatsoever that warrant removing this land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the continued inclusion of the side known as Three Farm Meadows when the planning application has been unanimously rejected by Guildford Borough Council's planning committee. Serious concerns about the site have also been raised by authoritative sources across the UK including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust these objections will be fully considered and the former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows) Allocation A35 is removed from Local Plan with immediate effect.

I OBJECT ALSO TO POLICY A35 (WISLEY AIRFIELD):

- Should not be in the plan for all the reasons the Planning Committee rejected the identical recent proposal by Wisley Investment Properties.
- Irregularity of including this policy in the plan 24 hours before this planning application was rejected (like extending the time allowed for the developers to present their application).
- Unacceptable Conservative Party links between the developers and the Council.
- No Green Belt “exceptional circumstances” presented.
- Not a brownfield site as stated – only 15% of it.
- Proposed SCC waste site ignored.
- Loss of farming land.
- Too near RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath SPA.
- SANG would harm on SPA.
- Unacceptable increase in air pollution.
- No existing public transport and stations miles away.
- No proper traffic data.
- Housing density far too great.
- Over 2,000 houses will swamp and destroy Ockham conservation area, with impact on listed buildings.
- Access confined to inadequate narrow lanes.
• Water table and surface water flooding not considered either for site itself or for downstream areas on River Mole.
• Major impact on neighbouring villages, especially Horsleys.
• No assessment made of collective impact on area of this and 6 Horsley sites.

I OBJECT TO POLICY D4 (DEVELOPMENT IN URBAN AREAS AND INSET VILLAGES)
• No commitment to expand social housing or accommodation for people who can’t afford so-called affordable homes.
• Not enough new homes in urban areas, despite demand and need for urban regeneration and protection of Green Belt.
• Objectives for inset villages cancelled out by plans for excessive housing growth there.
• Too much emphasis on traditional shops, when a lot of this sector is in terminal decline.

I OBJECT TO POLICY E1 (EMPLOYMENT):
• Poor evidence base.
• Too much encouragement to low added-value employment that’s needed elsewhere in the country.
• Fails to concentrate general business activity in urban areas or business parks that have the infrastructure.
• Fails to differentiate this from appropriate rural business.
• Too much encouragement of warehousing, for which Guildford is too congested.

I OBJECT TO POLICY E5 (RURAL ECONOMY):
• Incompatible with high housing numbers proposed for rural areas elsewhere in the plan.
• Insetting and settlement boundary extension endanger appropriate rural activities listed that depend on maintaining rural areas’ character.
• Town-centre uses for rural areas contradict government’s localism policy and need to consult and protect village environments.
• Established commitments to high-speed rural broadband and mobile coverage watered down despite 2014 consultation responses.

I OBJECT TO POLICY E6 (LEISURE AND VISITOR EXPERIENCE):
• Danger of overdevelopment: success doesn’t depend on building “attractions” which can harm heritage and rural settings. No case made for creating new ones.
• No policy of opposing reduction in rural hotel capacity.
• No definition of what added value interventions by Council can make to normal visitor market mechanisms.
• No policy of supporting Guildford countryside as its prime leisure and visitor asset, whose value rises as London gets bigger and busier.
• No vision of what the ideal visitor experience of the borough actually is and how to support its various elements.

I OBJECT TO POLICY E7 (TOWN CENTRE):
• No statement in policy wording of value of Guildford’s rural setting and views.
• No consideration of Town Centre Master Plan, GVG proposals or station redevelopment plans.
• Proportion of new housing in town far too small. Development pushed into countryside, ruining the latter and harming urban regeneration.
• No brownfield register.
• Too much big retail, despite online shopping revolution and decline of traditional high streets internationally. Futile to try to turn Guildford into Woking or Kingston.
• No measures to support small, niche retailers in town, e.g. through business rates.

I OBJECT TO POLICY E8 (DISTRICT CENTRES):

• No measures to support existing rural shops and services, e.g. through business rates.

- Policy doesn’t set any constraints on building.
- Housing mix based on pre-Brexit growth and demographic assumptions and unreliable SHMA that wasn’t put out to formal public consultation and wasn’t scrutinised by Councillors.
- Fails to compel University of Surrey to use its thousands of planning permissions and existing space, such as car parks, for student accommodation.
- Lets University off the hook of accommodating all its students, so as to free up houses for the most needy in town.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT TO POLICY H2 (AFFORDABLE HOMES):
• Using the official definition of Affordable is a joke. Affordable homes round here are not affordable! Pushing for these homes just means pushing for more development.
• The viability clause lets developers off the hook of providing even these (non-) affordable homes. Too open to manipulation.
• Contradicts government policy to develop less advantaged regions of the UK. People don’t have to live and work in Guildford but should be encouraged to move to cheaper, less congested areas.
• This policy won’t affect market forces or house prices. Guildford is too small and too near London to influence these, however many homes it builds.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I1 (INFRASTRUCTURE & DELIVERY)
• Infrastructure considered here as an afterthought, rather than pre-condition of development. Should be a key issue for the rest of the plan.
• Excessive housebuilding in countryside not supported by any funding or provision for infrastructure.
• Heavy focus on building on greenfield sites inefficient and unnecessary: cheap for developers but much more expensive for the public who have to fund the infrastructure.
• Draft CIL scale discourages use of brownfield land first.
• No plan for organic increase in existing traffic congestion, let alone once thousands of houses are built across the countryside. Local roads hardly considered. Green Belt being eroded before road widening/improvement plans certain, encouraging over-development of greenfield sites.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I2 (SUPPORTING DTP’S ROAD STRATEGY):
• Doesn’t allow for catastrophic increase in traffic resulting from spreading new housing estates across the borough.

• Road plans too optimistic anyway, especially post-Brexit. Probably won’t happen.

I OBJECT TO POLICY I3 (SUSTAINABLE TRANSPORT):
• Just a list of generic measures, not related to real life or the particularities of Guildford.
• Fails to treat sustainability as a constraint. Assumes excessive levels of development proposed in the plan can be supported by sustainable development.
• Unrealistic. Most people can’t or won’t walk or cycle – commuters in a hurry, the elderly, children, people who are unwell or unfit, people carrying heavy shopping or other goods, i.e. most residents!
• Town’s eye view of transport. Ignores scarcity of existing rural public transport and commercial unviability of increasing it. Ignores terrible state of Surrey’s roads, potholes, flooding etc. Ignores extra stress to be created by huge new housing estates in countryside.

I OBJECT TO POLICY P2 (GREEN BELT):
• No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
• No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
• Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
• Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
• Impact on flood control ignored.
• Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
• Impact on biodiversity ignored.
• Impact on natural heritage ignored.
• Impact on water catchment ignored.
• Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
• Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
• Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
• Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored.
• Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
• Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
• Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
• Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
• “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
• Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
• Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified

I OBJECT TO POLICY S2 (BOROUGH-WIDE STRATEGY):
• Numbers based on growth and demographic data now invalidated by Brexit.
• No justification given for 13,860 housing figure. Figure based on a secret formula used by consultants and never seen by anyone on the Council or by the public. Council has failed to seek its disclosure.
• 13,860 figure confuses the OAN with a housing target. No definite housing target given, leaving too much scope for the Council to make one up. I can’t understand how we’re being consulted when we don’t know how many houses the Council want to build, taking all the constraints into account.
• Figures based on a Housing Market Area that ignores 2 neighbouring districts (Rushmoor and Mole Valley) and is much too small, since most people commute or travel far outside the Area to shop or study. This distorts the figures: no reason why Guildford needs to build nearly twice as many large housing estates as the rest of Surrey put together, or half of all sites over 100 units.
• High numbers involved would transform character of the borough from mainly rural/Green Belt to urban, creating a corridor of development out of London as per Woking or Croydon.

Schools:

I understand that the schools in West Horsley have no spare capacity to deal with increased demand for places. The present proposals will lead to a large increase in demand for places at the local schools. How do you propose to deal with that? Is there a proposed building programme for schools in the area? I don’t believe there is. So the inevitable solution will be ‘temporary’ classrooms installed on school sites. As a former County Councillor in Warwickshire and a governor of many schools there I know from experience that ‘temporary’ classrooms have a great tendency to become permanent classrooms as the budget never seems to be able to accommodate a proper building programme for schools. This sells short the children, the teachers and parents who deserve to have satisfactory conditions in which the children are educated. I therefore object to the proposals on these grounds

As a relatively recent newcomer to Surrey from the Midlands I have always been impressed by the environment in the County and particularly in the villages of Surrey. These proposals would alter the nature of the village and the way of life enjoyed by villagers in negative way and I object to that.

Roads:

The roads that will be used by the proposed houses simply will not cope with increased traffic. They barely cope with the traffic during morning and evening rush hours already. The staggered junction across Ockham Road North from the end of East Lane across to the Drift will simply be grid-locked and pose an ever greater danger to the children who cross that junction on their way to and from school.

At present the road surfaces are inadequately maintained and are riddled with pot-holes. The surface of East Lane near to the junction with Ockham Road is a disgrace. This problem can only get worse with an increase in traffic such as that proposed. As the budget for road maintenance seems to be inadequate to deal with present problems where are the necessary added resources to come from if these proposals are accepted? I therefore object to the proposals on these grounds.

We object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because it ignores the thousands of previous objections, the provision of 8 Travelling Showpeople plots is out of proportion, the number of houses is excessive and will cause the loss of ancient woodland, might exacerbate flooding in the area and will generate excessive traffic on roads and villages which cannot cope with the present volume of traffic at peak times. We are retired so don't travel to work during rush hour but if we have a doctor's appointment the volume of traffic has a significant impact.

We object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common, London Road because it was deleted from the 2014 draft because of the amount of objections, the word "minimum" is a change from the previous "maximum" in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land, there is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units, the proposal is a huge over allocation of 10 hectares although the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough, even more traffic would be using small surrounding roads which can't cope with present traffic volumes. Besides causing gridlock all this overdevelopment will obviously contribute to a worsening of air pollution.

13. I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
14. I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan's proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough. This is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
11. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2) and therefore GBC is acting outside their terms of reference.

The Plan states the preference is to make the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick's Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced by a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council's own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of this habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
12. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition of north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of 'through' traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through Glandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

6. I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I object to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick's Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

5. I object to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick's Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; and it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

7. I object due to the congestion that the development will cause to the local village road. (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular pastime, particularly at weekends and hundreds of cyclists pass through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater traffic being generated from these developments, there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
8. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I am not confident that the planning of the infrastructure requirements and the delivery of projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick's Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick's Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

9. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situation worse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
10. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy P13)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that "Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health." The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

3. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Glandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt, once taken from the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.
Rather than developing Garlick's Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

4. I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk and that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough's identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick's Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council's SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be recommissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016).

This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objection to particular policies and issues within the Plan.

1. I object to the Local Plan as the proposed development will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable as it will have a permanent and detrimental impact on the existing local community particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and Glandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development and the proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick's Arch (A43) are in unsustainable locations as they do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services are inadequate. Residents will have to rely on cars. These sites are unsuitable due to the lack of public transport. There are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. GBC should consider increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Glandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2. I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy has been ill considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey and suggests a very irresponsible and cavalier approach has been implemented and this will need examined in detail to understand how this could have happened.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, and disproportionate with development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Glandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Glandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will significantly impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanent detrimental impact on each of these communities.

1. I object to removal of Brownfield site (A34) from the Plan

Site A44 in Broadford Business Park has also been removed. This is another brownfield site that has already been developed. The Council’s claims to “have adopted a ‘brownfield first’ approach” (page 5) but this is clearly not the case, and is contrary to national guidelines.

I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)

This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states "Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays." And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

"We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan”.

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

I wish these objections to be fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

1. I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

1. I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)

This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:

i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!), and

ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

1. I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch

The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

1. The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites.

A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ...” Clearly A50 more than covers the total "need" of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

The inclusion of site A58 Burt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch

GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were

The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm, ... (site allocation A25) [ than the Burnt Common site did ]”

The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) the separation issue is clearly being ignored as BOTH sites (which are almost contiguous) are in the plan; therefore GBC are not following their own guidelines and objectives.

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) more than the “required” industrial space is available there, so there is no reason for Garlick’s Arch to be included.

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. These facilities are always highly contentious and the Council has a duty of transparency in this regard which it is, at best, neglecting.

I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”

So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit is to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

I am a resident in Flexford (Normandy) and have recently been made aware of the new building plans that have been proposed for the lane in between Glaziers Lane and Westwood Lane.

I fully object to these plans.

My main reason for objection is that there is absolutely no need for any schools in our area. Ash Manor School and Kings College are both undersubscribed, these schools should be aiming to get in more pupils. Why build a new school in the middle of both of these schools and have another undersubscribed one? After speaking to many of my neighbours, most of which have young children in between the ages of 5 and 13, none of them are pleased with the idea of the school. They didn’t choose to live in an area like Normandy because they knew it was going to have a new school built there. They moved there to be away from the hustle and bustle.
Why build new homes on two roads called ‘Lane’? We have the traffic from the A31 and A3 to deal with already, and people cutting through Flexford to get to the Aldershot Road. The roads are unable to take the traffic. It’s unfair on the residents already living in the area, choosing to live here for peace and quiet from the big stores, schools and major traffic, to then be put in the middle of it all because of 1100 new homes.

In conclusion, I object to the proposal of new homes and a school in Normandy.

Thank you for your time.

We strongly object to this development as a pledge to protect the Green Belt is a pledge which must be honoured.

The residents of Send Hill have built up our community for years by taking an interest. This is about to be demolished if your development is to take place.

The traffic through Ripley currently, especially that going towards the A3 London bound, is already, at times extremely heavy, how the roads would cope with the extra local traffic created is hard to imagine.

OBJECT TO 400 HOUSES and 7000 sq METRES OF INDUSTRIAL SPACE AT GARLICKS ARCH ,opposite Send Marsh RoadThe site floods and is covered by ancient woodland. The industrial space could be comfortably located elsewhere for example Slyfield. There seems no desire to explore and develop brownfield sites. Again this would put more pressure on traffic with an escalation in the number of motor accidents. Having lived in Potters Lane for 20 years I have already witnessed this increase. On one evening there were 4 accidents outside my home at the bottom of Potters lane within the space of an hour. The river Wey is more prone to flooding. Road water runoff now more prevalent. Access onto and ingress from A3 is particularly dangerous. this road should be closed. discussions with the police suggest they are very supportive of this.

I OBJECT TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF 40 HOUSES AND 2 TRAVELLER’S PITCHES AT SEND HILL. Again very narrow access that can barely take a single car let alone traveller caravans and lorries. This road particularly the steep downhill part into Potters Lane would be lethal from a traffic point of view for cyclists, walkers, motorists and children walking to schools and buses. It would also put pressure on wildlife being in close proximity to the River Wey with commensurate increase in pollution etc. Additionally is the council actually aware of the road width here in places it is not much more than 2 metres wide. It will be impossible for the traveller community to get their caravans and trucks along this lane. This has not been thought out in a detailed way.

I OBJECT TO SEND VILLAGE BEING REMOVED FROM THE GREEN BELT. The Green Belt was intended to be permanent as required by the National Planning Policy Framework. Send’s Green Belt provides an essential buffer between Woking and Guildford providing an essential area preventing the area becoming one sprawling conurbation. Specifically I live at the bottom of Potters Lane directly adjacent to the River Wey. There is a plethora of wildlife on the Wey to include deer, swans, cormorants, migrating geese, fox, badger, numerous fish species, snakes, barn owls, birds of prey, bats, kingfisher to name but a few species. Increased urbanisation and the associated congestion and the effects of an increase in population will bring an increase in pollution, pressure on the river with increased flood risk that will be both aesthetically detrimental to the scenic beauty and have a significant negative impact on both the wildlife and incumbent long established human habitation.

I object to the potential enforcement of a Local Plan for mass house building across our Borough against the wishes of most of its inhabitants. The method used by the Government is inaccurate and crude, interested parties have used the house building policies of National Government to forward their own pecuniary ends. Alternative methodology and analysis seem to have been lost in the haste to bounce through this crude Plan. It is all based on private speculative development, in the present hiatus of post Brexit Britain, levels of net immigration are likely to fall drastically in the next 5 years as well as house sales through uncertainty. So forecasts based on crude figures of population growth via EU immigration, non -
EU immigration, illegal immigration and indigenous birth rates, will probably render a false outcome. The unnecessary destruction of our local and natural environments is there unwarranted in this rush for growth.

I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development: Policy D3 Garlick's Arch will lose it's ancient woodland, most of which is protected. TFM will lose it's agricultural land and most of it's wildlife habitat, including scientific areas of interest that will be inevitably affected, such as snakes field bordering Cahtley Heath, due to the proximity of the development. Ockham will be swamped by the TFM new town and the ancient Parish - which comprises Hatchford and Downside - destroyed. Cobham will become a traffic hub from the Horsely Road access by traffic trying to escape the A3. Worst effected will be Ripley, most of which is a conservation area; what will be conserved by the new Plan, traffic congestion?

I object to unnecessary industrial growth alongside new housing: Policies E1,E2,E5. It is hard to understand why new industrial, warehousing and storage are being proposed for an industrial strategic employment site at Garlick's Arch. There exists an acceptable Brown Field site to the south at Burnt Common which could be used for this and more; why was this removed from the Plan at very short notice and with little or no prior consultation? The use of the GB as opposed to the latter BF site will result in the loss of dozens of long established local established jobs.

If that assumption is based on the ordinary tax payer funding road improvements, then it is high objectionable; why should any one allow tax payers money to subsidise private development profit when they object to the whole Plan in the first place. Either way the situation on the A3 and M25 is one of total congestion at key times; the A£ is congested between Guildford and Cobham, most all the time; how do the authorities think that thousands more vehicles are going to be accomodated?

With air quality breaking the limits set for healthy habitation, the polution levels, Nitrous oxide, Beazines etc, will undoubtedly rise to totally illegal standards. The situation in the north of the Borough is already extreme.

There is a real risk that excessive flooding will derive from Flood plain building, the proposal of 400 houses plus industrial units at Garlick's Arch is a good example, it regularly floods now during winter, this Plan will make that moreso (Policy P4). Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

On the Plan specific, I object to policy S1, S2; sustainability and disproportionality. None of the proposed major strategic sites are really feasible as communities, the costs involved developing them will be borne out on neighbouring established communities, such as Ripley, Send, Ockham Hatchford et al. There are no infrastructure improvements planned, it is assumed that thousands of vehicles can be accomodated by the existing roads; they clearly can't as roads are near grid lock at times now; eg Ripley High St. Many of the existing roads are not able to be expanded, even if that were possible, it is not desirable as it only accomodates unbridled growth of extra traffic, excassertbating a current major problem (policy I1). No proper improvements appear to be planned to sewage systems, medical services electrical supplies Bus or rail services Rail is limited and vehicles are always needed to get to a station miles away, Bus services are actually closing; e.g.Rourtes 462, 463.

The density and numbers of the proposed houses are skewed towards the north of the Borough. The 5,000 proposed between Burpham and the M25 will represent the worst example of ribbon development. The north of the Borough could end up one vast urban sprawl, stretching from Cobham to Guildford. No critical plan has been described at any stage of the 'consultation' in regard to the method for actually building these estates. They just seem to be expected to evolve seamlessly over a number of years. That clearly is a nonesense, the surrounding areas will subjected to unbridled industrial activity, making day to day life miserabale; why should residents have to put up with that for years.

I object to policies I2, I3: the proposed ThreeFarms Meadow and Garlick's Arch site will need considerable alterations for Trunk road access; who will pay for this? It seems that the question is just assumed away, it will happen to allow the developers to build. I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Comment ID: PSLPS16/3358  Respondent: 15448321 / Nicole Mapplebeck  Agent:

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Introduction
I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A25

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data
- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highections Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.
The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.
Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. The parking in this area is limited and public transport poor.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.
4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

Roads through West Clandon are extremely busy at rush hour and peak commuter periods. The development will only result in additional traffic through these routes, posing serious threats to life and health of villagers using the pavements and paths in the village. Heavy vehicles frequently mount the curbs and pavements at speed in these areas. Traffic is so heavy Station users in Clandon can wait for more than 10 minutes to pull out in busy periods, causing massive congestion in the village.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

As a West Clandon resident I am extremely concerned that the removal of these sites will result in the merging of our Green Belt village with the developments on the outskirts of Guildford, making a complete mockery of the term Green Belt. Our village character will be lost for ever if this happens, so we must try above all else to retain our Green Belt, not build on it.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site. The site at Garlicks Arch also comprises much greenfield areas – their loss will contribute to the increased flood risk of other local areas, particularly Send Marsh, which has a history of flooding.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.
This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper account of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Question 1: The evidence base and submission documents

The Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites is based on up-to-date evidence. The evidence base documents contributing to the preparation of the plan are listed in Appendix D and can be found on our website (links open in a new window).

Do you agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant?

ANSWER

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.
The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of ”About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites-which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.
3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.
4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework.

8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 4: Duty to cooperate

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.
Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding
20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.

13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

15. I object to the potential impact of para 4.4.23a on Burnt Common with its over allocation of industrial zoning is subterfuge for a waste management facility which is a dishonest and underhand approach to planning and proper consultation.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to ◦ failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
◦ issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
◦ flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.

○ It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.
Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A25

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 June 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.
The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)
The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement—often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.
This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. The parking in this area is limited and public transport poor.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in...
London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity -
only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure
(Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

Roads through West Clandon are extremely busy at rush hour and peak commuter periods. The development will only result in additional traffic through these routes, posing serious threats to life and health of villagers using the pavements and paths in the village. Heavy vehicles frequently mount the curbs and pavements at speed in these areas. Traffic is so heavy Station users in Clandon can wait for more than 10 minutes to pull out in busy periods, causing massive congestion in the village.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.
Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I havegrave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.
There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.
I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the "insetting" of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the "openness" of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF's other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To "inset" two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

As a West Clandon resident I am extremely concerned that the removal of these sites will result in the merging of our Green Belt village with the developments on the outskirts of Guildford, making a complete mockery of the term Green Belt. Our village character will be lost for ever if this happens, so we must try above all else to retain our Green Belt, not build on it.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site. The site at Garlicks Arch also comprises much greenfield areas – their loss will contribute to the increased flood risk of other local areas, particularly Send Marsh, which has a history of flooding.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S1

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Question 1: The evidence base and submission documents

The Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites is based on up-to-date evidence. The evidence base documents contributing to the preparation of the plan are listed in Appendix D and can be found on our website (links open in a new window).

Do you agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant?

ANSWER

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

2. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.
The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.

2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.
1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Comment ID: PSLPA16/1727  Respondent: 15448385 / Edward Bates  Agent:
I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.
It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.
The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).
The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. The parking in this area is limited and public transport poor.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.
Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.
4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.
There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university’s ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

Roads through West Clandon are extremely busy at rush hour and peak commuter periods. The development will only result in additional traffic through these routes, posing serious threats to life and health of villagers using the pavements and paths in the village. Heavy vehicles frequently mount the curbs and pavements at speed in these areas. Traffic is so heavy Station users in Clandon can wait for more than 10 minutes to pull out in busy periods, causing massive congestion in the village.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.
There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.
The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brownfield sites.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

As a West Clandon resident I am extremely concerned that the removal of these sites will result in the merging of our Green Belt village with the developments on the outskirts of Guildford, making a complete mockery of the term Green Belt. Our village character will be lost for ever if this happens, so we must try above all else to retain our Green Belt, not build on it.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site. The site at Garlicks Arch also comprises much greenfield areas – their loss will contribute to the increased flood risk of other local areas, particularly Send Marsh, which has a history of flooding.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S1

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.
The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.
The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.
It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Question 1: The evidence base and submission documents

The Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites is based on up-to-date evidence. The evidence base documents contributing to the preparation of the plan are listed in Appendix D and can be found on our website (links open in a new window).

Do you agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant?

ANSWER

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.
In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

</table>

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.
3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.
4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation.
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound.
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018.
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars.
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham.
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework.
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 4: Duty to cooperate

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.
The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A25

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.
12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.
13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.
14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon.
The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular pastime, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists pass through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming even more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

Surrey Sports Park is an important facility in Guildford which provides not only sport and physical activity provision for students but also is the base for the Harlequins Premier league rugby team. It provides public access for over 80 community clubs for a variety of sporting activities, it attracts members of the community that are interested in well being and attaining higher levels of fitness and is an important venue for major sporting events which deliver significant economic impact to Guildford. We provide high levels of community engagement with disadvantaged people in the area through our schools and community liaison work and our outreach programmes, which are particularly targeted at young people, and delivered through our professional sportsmen and women paying in our three sport franchises: SurreyStorm, Surrey Scorcheres and Surrey Smashers.

I understand that the draft plan for the period 2013 to 2033 is out for public consultation.

From the perspective of the Surrey Sports Park I am writing to support the policies which will:

- Assist in recruitment and retention of staff by providing wider access and choice of housing, particularly where this is within walking distance from our centre
- Provide better access to the West from our location at Manor Park by investing in Infrastructure.

I understand that to provide these benefits there will be a need to redraw the greenbelt boundary to provide for these important policies.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A25

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.
It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.
The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).
The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. The parking in this area is limited and public transport poor.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/”Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home” is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students are accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy 11)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

Roads through West Clandon are extremely busy at rush hour and peak commuter periods. The development will only result in additional traffic through these routes, posing serious threats to life and health of villagers using the pavements and paths in the village. Heavy vehicles frequently mount the curbs and pavements at speed in these areas. Traffic is so heavy Station users in Clandon can wait for more than 10 minutes to pull out in busy periods, causing massive congestion in the village.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.
The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

As a West Clandon resident I am extremely concerned that the removal of these sites will result in the merging of our Green Belt village with the developments on the outskirts of Guildford, making a complete mockery of the term Green Belt. Our village character will be lost for ever if this happens, so we must try above all else to retain our Green Belt, not build on it.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site. The site at Garlicks Arch also comprises much greenfield areas – their loss will contribute to the increased flood risk of other local areas, particularly Send Marsh, which has a history of flooding.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere.
Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Question 1: The evidence base and submission documents

The Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites is based on up-to-date evidence. The evidence base documents contributing to the preparation of the plan are listed in Appendix D and can be found on our website (links open in a new window).
Do you agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant?

ANSWER

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest 'value creation' areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.
3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.
4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.
1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham
7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework
8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.
9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.
10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens
11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councilors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.

• I object to the removal of Send, Ripley and Clandon from the Green Belt because the villages and their countryside provide a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford.

• I object to building on the Green Belt at Send at Garlick's Arch, Clockbarn Nurseries and Send Hill because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded.

• I object to the exaggerated "housing need" figure of 13,860 which is far too high and results in the completely unnecessary development of the Green Belt. The way students, economic need and affordability are calculated inflates the housing need.

• I object to all proposals to build on the Green Belt at Send and elsewhere in the borough because all the development that is really needed can be accommodated in Guildford's urban brownfield areas, much closer to existing transport hubs.

• I object to all the proposed sites in Send because they were not included in the previous consultation in 2014. Unlike the rest of the borough Send has not been properly consulted and all its sites have been changed substantially.

• I object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because it would be disastrous for Send and the A247 would be gridlocked all day.

• I also object to the proposed new interchange onto the A3 at Burnt Common because the Transport Evidence is incomplete and unreliable and shows there will be congestion because Send would be used as a cut through to the A3/M25.

• I object to the large proposed development at of 2,000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2,000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1,850 houses at Blackwell Farm because it will destroy large areas of Green Belt and agricultural land and produce congestion on the A3 and surrounding roads including

• I object to the development at Garlick's Arch because the stream which runs through that area ends up across the road from our house, in Send Marsh Road, and it has flooded in the past. The new development would increase the amount of run-off into the stream, by replacing soft, permeable, vegetated surfaces with new hard surfaces, and therefore increase the risk of flooding downstream on Send Marsh Road. The development site also has a particular conservation sensitivity as it includes much old woodland. I believe trees which existed in the 16th century would be endangered. The site itself is also subject to flooding.

• I also object to the development at Garlick's Arch for 400 houses because it was sprung on the village at the last moment with only 2 weeks' notice and without any prior consultation and is not required in terms of housing need either for the village or the borough.

• I object to the proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m at Garlick's Arch because it is simply not required since the latest Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) shows a reduction of 80% in required employment floor space from the previous draft plan. If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

• I object to the removal of Send, Ripley and Clandon from the Green Belt because the villages and their countryside provide a necessary buffer between Woking and Guildford.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The SA details that where developers demonstrate that providing the amount of affordable housing required by policy would not be economically viable, the Council will follow the following cascade mechanism to assist with delivering a scheme: 1) vary the tenure mix of the affordable housing (for example, more intermediate housing and less rented housing), size, and/or type of homes to be provided; 2) reduce the overall number of affordable homes. The door appears to be wide open for the council to move against its stated local plan provisions in order to allow future developers to demonstrate that ‘affordable housing’ is not actually economically viable and that they should be permitted to make more money by building larger houses. What is actually the driving force behind these proposals? Without this knowledge I object most strongly. The SA concludes that there remains some uncertainty regarding delivery of an appropriate housing mix more generally.

I object to the new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common in its currently proposed form. There is no mention of improvements to local road infrastructure as a dependency on this proposal. Local roads through Send and Ripley are already heavily congested with pipeline plans leading to further volumes. Traffic already queues at peak periods as existing roads can scarcely cope with the current levels of traffic. Please see below for more information relating to my object on this issue.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 traveller pitches at Send Hill. It is an inappropriate location because of the narrow width single access country road providing insufficient access - please see below for further details on traffic issues. The subsoil of the proposed site contains documented unsafe landfill waste registered at GBC. Guildford’s housing requirements seem confusing as the basis for calculations has not been disclosed. Guildford attracts and maintains a mature and more wealthy citizen. Whilst the aim to provide housing for the younger generation is of course essential and well intentioned there does not seem to be any correlation between the proposed future prosperity of the borough and the looked for increase of workers in the borough doing the jobs we see advertised. I worry that older, wealthier people will move out as a result of the changes proposed and be replaced by low paid individuals who will be less able to contribute to the overall economic sustainability of the borough. There is a lack of information concerning the jobs and work that would be undertaken and mention of employment by local hospitals and care homes is clearly a statement of intention to attract low paid workers requiring very low cost housing.

Policy H1 of the Local Plan (Homes for all) sets out to ensure new development provides a mix of housing tenures/types/sizes, appropriate to the site size, characteristics and location, with a view to meeting the accommodation needs established... by the latest Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA). It says that as well as the benefits it can provide to people’s lives, families and communities, suitably sized, priced and located housing can also help to support the economy by ensuring people with a wide variety of occupations can live in the borough. I refer to comments above concerning the availability of jobs and their wages in order to affirm this aspiration. Is there any assurance that the houses proposed will be low cost? (This is not the usual experience in the borough nor of the intentions of developers as can be seen by very recent small development within Ripley and Send. New cottages built in Newark Lane cost in excess of £half million and new houses at Skeens Lane in Send have been marketed for £690.000 - http://www.rightmove.co.uk/house-prices/Send.html)

A large area of low cost housing suitable for low paid residents does not fulfill the aspiration of supporting the economy.

The SA states with regard to GP Surgery access that there ‘is little potential to conclude on the ability of surgeries to accept additional patients or expand.’ The surgery is already heavily subscribed. Pressures on local GPs are mounting as other national considerations take hold. The SA continues by stating that ‘the proposed allocation at Send Marsh / Burnt Common (400 homes) potentially stands out as being some distance from a GP surgery.’ The plan does not contain any firm commitment for sustainable transport from the proposed development areas to GP surgeries, should there be room for the large number of young people expected to take up residence (400 x 3 people per house = 1200 new patients).

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The SA states that ‘adverse economic, social and environmental impacts of high traffic volumes and a culture of dependence on private car use include recurrent traffic congestion on certain parts of the network at certain times of day, road collisions, community severance, obesity, noise pollution, localised air pollution, greenhouse gas emissions, high demand for parking, and amenity of local neighbourhoods.’ This is very much the case in the above proposed developments. Traffic queues at peak times through Ripley and Send villages and the increased expectation of traffic from the proposed developments is not sustainable.

An objective of the SA was to ‘achieve a pattern of development which minimises journey lengths and encourages the use of sustainable forms of transport (walking, cycling, bus and rail)’. There are no plans mentioned for providing the means of sustainable forms of transport from the above mentioned developments. Guildford residents use cars and these proposals only increase the likelihood of more cars on our roads.

Furthermore the Department for Transport’s Road Investment Strategy includes schemes for the A3 in Guildford and the M25 Junction 10/A3 Wisley interchange; Also, it says that interim ‘quick win’ schemes to deliver road safety and some congestion relief on the A3 in Guildford will be delivered within the plan period. But ‘some’ relief does not commit to assuring residents that any work will be undertaken in this area.

The SA states that the delivery of housing in the later stages of the plan period is dependent upon major improvement to the A3. When will we know about this and is the Guildford plan being held back until such information is confirmed? No statement is included to this effect.

The SA notes that another important consideration is the potential for increased traffic to impact on historic character within Conservation Areas; It states that it is difficult to draw strong conclusions in the absence of detailed modelling work. Should this not be a pre-cursor to any plan? An issue of particular importance it notes is that there is likely to be an increase in traffic through the Ripley Green and Ockham Conservation Areas (the former being associated with a high concentration of listed buildings)

I am writing to object to the proposals for the above developments.

I object to Send and Ripley villages being removed from the Green Belt with regard to the proposals identified by the Local Plan. Please see below for detailed reasons.

Local Councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the green belt. This reneges on it. I particularly voted in accordance with my wish to preserve the green belt and to ensure that Guildford council had good representation in it. I feel let down by my local government when I read these proposals. I choose to live in this area (I was not born or brought up here) as I have valued the semi-rural nature and convenience of the landscape but should these proposals go forward I will move out.

Loss of the Green Belt

My most important objection is the removal of the villages of Send and Ripley (and other surrounding villages) from the Green Belt. This was a particular electoral objective of mine. I am not alone as I know that other nearby boroughs have expressed concern at some of Guildford’s plans.

The Green Belt was intended to be permanent, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework, and there are no special circumstances to justify abandoning it. Send and Ripley’s green belt provide an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one sprawling area.

The fundamental aim of the Metropolitan Green Belt is ultimately to prevent the spread of London. It feels that my local borough considers Green Belt issues to be at the bottom of their priorities despite the feelings of their electorate.

The local plan seeks alignment with the council’s corporate plan 2015-20 which establishes the ambition for Guildford to be ‘a town and rural borough that is the most desirable place to live, work and visit in South East England.’ It goes on to say that ‘we want Guildford to be a centre for education, healthcare innovative and cutting edge businesses, high quality retail and wellbeing...’ This plan does not seek to fulfill the above intentions as it aims to provide low cost housing and industrial units (supporting a town which has rejected high quality retail development in favour of low status anchor tenancy for shopping centres in the future – to the dismay of many residents and council tax payers).

I object to the policy A42 because I wish our village to remain in the Green belt and this plan alters that situation.

The increase in homes from 45 to 60 seems like far too much for the area and it ignores all the previous objections which have been made by local people in the village.

The traffic at the Tannery Lane junction and the main road (A247) is already bad as this is a difficult junction to exit - the proposals can only make matters far worse.

This area is subject to flooding - there is a flood plain nearby- The proposal does not contain good plans for removal of surface water.

This village benefits from the Wey Navigation Canal and its open countryside is an asset. So many houses will mar the views which attract tourism on the canal to the area.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the policy A43 very strongly.

I wish our village to remain in the Green Belt and I cannot see any 'exceptional circumstances' which might enable the council to consider removing us. Living here and purchasing a home here was because of the Green Belt protection to our wonderful countryside. Ripley and Send/Burnt Common are distinct village areas. This proposal tries to link them up resulting in a semi-urban sprawl which goes against the policy of the Green Belt.

Local villagers have already made strong objections which appear to have been ignored! There is no proven demand for Travellers plots in this location.

The number of houses proposed for our village needs is excessive and will cause huge over development of our area. The road networks are already extremely busy and this proposal will result in a huge increase of traffic. Local roads and junctions with the main A3 simply will not cope with the extra influx. Additional traffic jams will result causing untold delays and inconvenience to people trying to commute to London or deliver children to local schools.

The area is subject to flooding (it is currently a flood zone 2 area) - further development will only make matters worse.

The area in question has been used over many years for shooting and the land is contaminated by lead shot.

I object to policy A58 at Burnt Common - this was deleted from an earlier draft (in 2014) because of all the objections made. Why is it suddenly back on the agenda?

There has been a decline in the demand for industrial land since the first proposal - yet I note that what was proposed as a maximum number in the original plan is now a minimum number!! Reduction in need was demonstrates in the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment - we do not need this huge over allocation of land in our Green Belt.

There are empty sites and industrial units at both Slyfield and Guildford which surely need filling before any further industrial expansion is proposed? I strongly wish our villages to remain in the Green Belt and do not believe there is a need to ruin the area by increasing the industrial property available.

As stated above this proposal aims to link up two distinct village areas which is against the purpose of the Green Belt.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because this will adversely affect the nature of the surrounding countryside situated so close to the Wey Navigation. Expansion and development of this area goes against Green Belt intentions regarding the openness of the countryside. It is inappropriate.

Access along Tannery Lane is very difficult in both directions.

I am writing to register my objection to the above proposals which will have an unacceptable impact on this community.

I hasten to add that I fully accept the need for additional local housing, but this should be of modest scale, defiantly not the concentration and number of houses in this proposal, that would double the size of the village and completely change the character of the village.

It is my understanding that the justification for the proposal to build on Green Belt land is linked to the building of a new secondly school. My understanding is that, quite apart from other practical objections there is no existing or anticipated need for addition school places in the Borough. In fact there are at least two undersubscribed local secondary schools that have expressed a willingness to expand should a future need arise.

Other practical objections are.

The proposed land is in the low point of the valley and is subject to flooding.

Both Glaziers and Westwood Lanes are already over used minor roads with dangerous bridges which are in effect rat runs off the A31, this would only become even more acute if this proposal was adopted.

School Lane is already a dangerous spot and the additional traffic and pressure on Wyke Primary school has not been considered.

The Guildford Road already is over load and this would only become more acute.

I don’t believe that the local services will cope with the magnitude of the proposed expansion. My home is already subject to interruptions in the electrical supply.

There is no planned provision for additional medical facilities, shops, pubs and facilities for young people.

I sincerely trust that this plan will not be taken forward which is clearly against the wishes and best interests of the existing local community.

Draft Local Plan in respect of Normandy and Flexford.

I would like to object to the Guildford Borough Plan on the following points:

- I am against the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.
- No exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the site from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land.
- I am against the disproportionate allocation of a proposed increase in housing to the nearby localities of Ockham, Ripley, the Horsleys and Effingham.
- I object to the threat the Local Plan as drafted poses to the historic rural settlements of Ockham, Hatchford and Downside.
• The plan calls for Ockham, a hamlet of 159 residences to be subsumed into development, on presently open land, with 2,000+ dwellings and other urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• Hatchford, south of the M25, has some 60 residences off narrow Ockham Lane that would be greatly affected by the proximity of development.

• I object to the potential harmful impact on transport, local roads and road safety by the suggested development. The result of an additional 2,000 homes would be an estimated 4,000 additional cars together with other vehicles, including HGVs, to service the development.

• The increased traffic if the proposal is implemented will cause serious congestion and danger on the narrow rural roads in Ockham, Hatchford, Downside and Cobham. Cobham is the closest shopping centre to the proposed development and will not be able cope with the additional traffic and car parking involved in serving some 5,000 additional occupiers at the site and would experience a significant increase in stationary/idling traffic at peak times and at junctions.

• Due to the absence of cycling paths and the lack of footpaths (and the space to provide them) the assertion that the development would result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking is unbelievable. The increased traffic would add danger to cyclists and pedestrians (including those increasingly using local roads for recreational purposes).

• There would be an increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25 and the junction of those as well as local roads. The current planning application by RHS Wisley would already have significantly added to visitor traffic. Any proposed secondary schooling would add additional congestion.

• There is no suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley could not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In the refused planning application there had been a suggestion that Cobham & Stoke D’Abernon Station could be used but the car park there is already full. The use of Cobham or stations further north at Weybridge or Walton would increase congestion and pollution on local roads in Elmbridge.

• I object to the issue of air quality not being taken seriously. Air pollution in this area in the north of the Borough of Guildford and the south of the Borough of Elmbridge and particularly near the M25/A3 junction already exceeds EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic would worsen the situation, affecting the health of all current and future residents.

• I object to insufficient consideration being given to the environmental and ecological value of the site and the area around it, taking account of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

• The area is a haven for wildlife, some of which is already endangered. The introduction of residences would mean the import into an ecologically sensitive area not only of humans and their increased footfall, but also of pets, and cats and dogs in particular, that can have a devastating effect on wildlife. Protected species on and near the site and wildlife corridors would be destroyed.

• Objections are supported by the unanimous rejection of application no 15/P/00012 by the Planning Committee at Guildford Borough Council on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of Planning Officers. The Planning Report identified the serious concerns now being highlighted.

The existing local services such as foul and surface water drainage cannot cope with such a major addition without resulting in increased flood risk.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Dear Sir/Madam

As a local resident I would like to strongly object to the proposed destruction of our Green Belt countryside at Normandy in Surrey to build 1100 homes and a school. (please see the attached pictures of the proposed site). The planning proposal is not only totally disproportional to the surrounding countryside and village but it’s also proposed on Green Belt agricultural, grazing land and not safeguarded land as you claim.

The local schools, in Guildford, are only 43% full so have a surplus of 57% so this school will be a folly to get the planning granted!

Guildford Borough Council claim they respect the British countryside (see the link below) yet they are planning to build an 1100 unit housing estate and school on Green belt fields.

http://www.surreyhills.org/discover/ (Please see the map)

The village roads are not suited to the vast amount of traffic that 1100 homes will produce, averaging of 2000 extra cars on roads that are not fit for purpose some of which have a single lane pass through (under a railway bridge), low level lighting and no pavements. This would cost the council a considerable amount to make safe for the increase in residents, not to mention the fact that the land and village are prone to flooding.

Don’t turn our beautiful village surrounded by countryside into a town. There are other proposed sites closer to Guildford at Blackwell farm which would make a far more suitable site for a new school.

I grew up in Feltham, Middlesex and have worked hard all my life to pay my mortgage so that I could move from a built up area to the country, please don’t punish those who have never taken anything from the system, by building what they moved away from in their back yards!

Sustainable agricultural land is being sacrificed for a concrete mess which will have a devastating impact on wildlife with many species of wild bird & mammals (dragonflies, smooth snakes, woodlarks & nightjars etc) having their habitat torn apart forever including the destruction numerous beautiful indigenous oak trees which are hundreds of years old and could never be replaced.

I ask you the simple question “would you want this development in your street”?

We have all been blessed with nature on our doorsteps, as you know, so we need to embrace it & protect it as if these open fields get ripped away it will never, ever be replaced.

I beg you to save our countryside for ourselves and our children’s children instead of building this terrible legacy which no one could be remotely proud of.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - Chilworth
Dear Sirs

I would like to raise an objection to the removal of Chilworth from Greenbelt status so enabling future development of housing in the village to go ahead unrestricted.

I strongly object to this on the following grounds;

Chilworth already suffers from severe traffic flow especially at peak travel times (early morning/early evening) so any additional housing built on green field sites in Chilworth would make this situation far worse.

The main road running through the village is often extremely congested as it is the main route to connect to the A25 from all of the local villages in the area (e.g. Shalford, Bramley, Chilworth & Wonersh).

There is inadequate road infrastructure to accommodate further housing as it stands.

There is also a distinct lack of parking on New Road & this is already exacerbated when the Tillingbourne School is in term time & parents are collecting & dropping off their children for school.

There is already heavy demand on the local schools for child places which would only get worse if additional houses were built in the village. Local children are not automatically accepted at the two Chilworth schools due to over-demand on places.

The proposed sites earmarked for losing Greenbelt status would mean that fields would be lost to the village & this would have a detrimental effect on the feel of the village & the wildlife these areas support as well as removing playing fields which the local community can currently use.

Additional housing will also place an extra stress on the already overstretched local doctors’ surgery at Wonersh which currently supports the residents of Chilworth as well as other local villages such as Wonersh, Shalford & Bramley.

In the past several years there have already been extra houses built in Chilworth where the local garage on New Road was removed & built upon & a residential care home was closed in favour of a modern flat complex being developed.

All of this proposed development would have a negative feel on the village & would remove part of the rural character of the village. Chilworth is a historic village & part of the Surrey Hills & should be preserved as such for future generations to enjoy.

In summary, I object to Chilworth being removed from Greenbelt status & wish to file my objection.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), Hatch Lane Ockham, GU23 6NU now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwelling

I write to strongly object to the inclusion of TFM in the current draft Local Plan for the following reasons:

1. I object because the impact on the local greenbelt area will be unacceptable and it seems that the applicants have shown a total disregard for those residents that have been living here for many years. It beggars belief that the TFM developer’s plans include the closure of several of our local roads forcing us to take detours of several miles to get to our destinations.

2. I object because it is a fact that there is currently severe congestion on the major roads in the area yet this plan would bring an addition of well over 4,000 extra cars for the houses alone plus all the extra cars bringing the school students to the proposed school.

3. I object because the suggestion that people in the area should stop using their cars in favour of walking or cycling is ludicrous. There are no footpaths on these unlit country lanes, no cycle tracks and with the speed at which traffic leaves the adjacent A3 and races down Old Lane no-one in their right mind would risk their life on either mode of travel. Road public transport doesn’t exist in the area.

4. I object because the roads are not coping with the current through traffic and neither are the road surfaces with many potholes and dangerously deep gullies alongside the carriageways and they regularly flooded. I wrote to the council about two roads (Plough Lane and Horsley Road) that are frequently flooded but was told there is no funding in the budget to resolve the situation. Incidentally the flooding was not as a result of the river breaking its banks as the council claimed but by the excess water coming off the surrounding fields which should be controlled by ditches.

5. I object because of the increased number of commuters this will bring to an area where rail public transport is already completely overstretched. How would the two local stations cope with the increased commuter traffic let alone the local country lanes? The distance from the TFM development would necessitate the use of a car. The Railway stations of Effingham and East Horsley are well over a mile from this site and neither of them have spare parking capacity.

6. I object because of the effect resulting from the increased sewerage output that will be caused. How will the water supply cope with the demand? Thames Water have concerns with the limited capacity.

7. I object because of the claim that housing shortage is a reason for the TFM development but there are plenty of alternative sites to resolve this situation. This site was not listed for development under the 2003 Local Plan probably because there is not enough land to provide a sustainable community based on GBC’s own parameters. There are still no “very special or exceptional circumstances” to have added this site to the Local Plan.

8. I object because the TFM developers have decided to include a secondary school in their plans having woken up to the fact that the existing schools would not be able to cope with the additional school age inhabitants. The nearest school, the Howard of Effingham is already extremely over-subscribed. I therefore object because if it is eventually built this new school would attract pupils from the surrounding area thus increasing the traffic congestion in the area even further.

9. I object because of the fact that when the airfield was requisitioned in wartime when an undertaking was made to return it to agricultural use, removing the buildings (which was done) and removing the runway which should have been done because this is a green belt area. TFM developer’s description of the site as brownfield is a gross over-simplification. 17ha (less than 15%) is brownfield, it is adjacent to the SPA and therefore within the 400m exclusion zone for housing. The remaining runway, perversely a habitat for rare flora and fauna, (14ha) has never had any buildings on it. The remainder of the site (55%) is high quality agricultural land.

10. I object because the detrimental impact on the wildlife in this area of the green belt seems to have been totally dismissed as irrelevant. Creating a triangle with two seriously main roads and this band of densely packed houses leaves little room for the wildlife with perils on all sides.
11. I object to the fact that for those of us living in Ockham and the surrounding area would suffer the extreme detriment to the air quality and the visual and aural amenities of the area plus have to put up with the resulting destruction to the environment. The homeowners around Ockham and Horsley will have their life completely blighted by this new town as will the wild life.

12. Finally I strongly support the principle that the countryside should be protected from landowners whose only wish is to line their pockets which seems to me the main reason behind including this development in the draft Local Plan.

I thank you for taking the time to read my objections and for taking them into consideration when finalising the new Local Plan. I truly hope you will agree that the former Wisley Airfield site aka Three Farms Meadows (TFM) should very definitely be removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I Object to any houses etc being built in and around Send, Send Marsh, Ripley, Ockham, and Burpham.

for each house built - think at least two cars, so a TOTAL of 6325 would equate to 12600 vehicles on our country roads, which are not made for such an increase in traffic, they are at Full capacity now.

I Object to the proposed new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common, if there is an accident on the A3 where does the traffic go, through the villages. We already experience problems if the A3 or M25 are closed due to Accidents - where does the traffic go - through the villages.

When Newark Lane was closed for 6 months for bridge work, all traffic was diverted through Send or Ripley to get anywhere - this caused long delays.

I OBJECT to this plan in total. All the villages within this plan would not benefit at all in fact on the contary, it would be a disaster. They are all steeped in history and MUST REMAIN in the Green Belt which you have said time and time again you would uphold, there appears to be no consideration for the wild life in these areas or in this plan. I personally have enjoyed having the deer visit our roads and fields, if we lose this they and many other wild animals and birds, through your TRESPASS into their habitat (Green Belt) will never return.

Infrastructure. We already face a significant deficit in all aspects of infrastructure. Roads are congested, GP's surgeries and schools are at more than capacity. I do not believe that Guildford town centre, in particular, can handle increased pressure in any of these areas. So infrastructure planning must precede development.

The too small gyratory with its surfeit of traffic lights needs to be done away with. I totally support the idea of an additional road crossing over the river and railway in the area of the courts, and I believe the land which would be required for this should be safeguarded in the Local Plan.

First I would like to say that I love Guildford. It has many good things going for it - from its historic High Street to the huge economic contribution made in recent years by the University of Surrey.

I don't believe that towns can survive by avoiding change and simply doing nothing. That is the pathway to serious deterioration of the quality of life of the town. I am in favour of managed growth. I do also understand that there is a need for a significant number of new dwellings, in part to make up for under-investment over the last few years.

The number of new houses in the Local Plan is high and I believe that, only by putting serious effort into building on brownfield sites in the town centre, in combination with a limited number of large developments further out, can anything like this number be achieved. Such large developments should emulate the Canadian-style sub-division model where schools, shops and surgeries etc. are built at the same time, thus creating a proper community.

In my view, there are some major constraints which need to be tackled before any real development can occur:

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I live outside the borough but I have a greater interest in what goes into the Guildford Local Plan for the local area than those living on the far side of the borough for the following reasons:

- The removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.
- No exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the site from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land.
- The disproportionate allocation of a proposed increase in housing to the nearby localities of Ockham, Ripley, the Horsleys and Effingham.
- The threat the Local Plan as drafted poses to the historic rural settlements of Ockham, Hatchford and Downside.
- The plan calls for Ockham, a hamlet of 159 residences to be subsumed into development, on presently open land, with 2,000 dwellings and other urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- Hatchford, south of the M25, has some 60 residences off narrow Ockham Lane that would be greatly affected by the proximity of development.
- The potential harmful impact on transport, local roads and road safety by the suggested development. The result of an additional 2,000 homes would be an estimated 4,000 additional cars together with other vehicles, including HGVs, to service the development.
- The increased traffic would cause congestion and danger on the narrow rural roads in Ockham, Hatchford, Downside and Cobham. Cobham is the closest shopping centre to the proposed development. The village could not cope with the additional traffic and car parking involved in serving some 5,000 additional occupiers at the site and would experience a significant increase in stationary/idling traffic at peak times and at junctions.
- Due to the absence of cycling paths and the lack of footpaths (and the space to provide them) the assertion that the development would result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking is unbelievable. The increased traffic would add danger to cyclists and pedestrians (including those increasingly using local roads for recreational purposes).
- There would be an increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25 and the junction of those as well as local roads. The current planning application by RHS Wisley would already have significantly added to visitor traffic. Any proposed secondary schooling would add additional congestion.
- The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley could not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In the refused planning application there had been a suggestion that Cobham & Stoke D’Abernon Station could be used. That or use of stations further north at Weybridge or Walton would increase congestion and pollution on local roads in Elmbridge.
- The issue of air quality not being taken seriously. Air pollution in this area in the north of the Borough of Guildford and the south of the Borough of Elmbridge and particularly near the M25/A3 junction already exceeds EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic would worsen the situation, affecting the health of all current and future residents.
- Little consideration is being given to the environmental and ecological value of the site and the area around it, taking account of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- The area is a haven for wildlife, some of which is already endangered. The introduction of residences would mean the import into an ecologically sensitive area not only of humans and their increased footfall, but also of pets, and cats and dogs in particular, that can have a devastating effect on wildlife. Protected species on and near the site and wildlife corridors would be destroyed.

Objections are supported by the unanimous rejection of application no 15/P/00012 by the Planning Committee at Guildford Borough Council on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of Planning Officers.

Infrastructure will be further stretched to cope and Station Parade should not be classified as a district centre. I believe this would have a real negative impact locally and for the enjoyment of the many who come and visit this area leading into the surrey hills on a regular basis.

We live happily close to Effingham Junction...

I would like to raise our concerns and objection to the large scale development plans proposed around Horsley.

This should remain a green belt area and I have not heard sound reasons to change this or remove under 'exceptional circumstances' the protection that his area has for the enjoyment of all and preservation of our country and countryside.

I would like to register my objection to the above planning application in and around Send / Ripley

My objection is based on

1. Over density of New Houses
2. The local schools do not have the capacity to take in all the expected children
3. Send Surgery is already oversubscribed making it difficult to get an appointment, additional residents would exasperate this
4. The traffic through Send and Ripley already causes gridlock at certain times of the day additional vehicles would again exasperate this

This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. This is of particular concern as I have young children and walking to school is already a difficult task as cars are so fast along the road into the village. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads. As mentioned above the traffic is a particular concern to me.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.
I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

Please ensure that my letter is shown to the government inspector.

I object the following:

Policy (A43)

The A247 cannot be widened to take more traffic.

Air quality and noise level for house holders along the A247 must also be considered

Our local Send Surgery (which is my local surgery also) cannot accommodate more patients.

Our local schools are also filled to capacity.
In 2014 the council rejected a planning application from Oldlands to build 25 houses on very sound planning grounds, so now, how is an application to build 400 houses and 7,000sq metres of industrial buildings even being considered?

Residents in Send, Ripley and West Clandon purchased their properties in villages because all are surrounded by Green Belt.

As ratepayers of Guildford Borough Council, they cannot have this Green Belt destroyed and should be more protected in line with the current government policy by their Council.

Policy 43a

The New North and South slip-roads to and from AJ to the A247 Clandon Road would generate considerably more traffic, pollution and noise through the A247 Clandon road, Send Village leading to Old Waking, along both roads which are already at capacity without any widening possibility.

We all understand the need to build new houses within the borough, but all brownfield sites should first be used.

I would also favour limited development on the old Wisley airfield providing connecting Country lanes are protected.

My family have lived in Woodlands Close, Clandon Road for 32 years. Over this time it is very clear that traffic has increased significantly to such an extent that during peak periods residents of Woodlands joining the A 247. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Although I live in Stoke D’Abernon which is in Elmbridge, I have known the area of Ockham and Wisley all my life and view with great apprehension the plans for putting some 2,000 homes on Wisley Airfield. There are ample brownfield sites in urban areas which are more suitable for development and which would be more sensible as these would be near to railway stations and bus routes. Wisley and Ockham are small villages and those who need to travel to London would have to use East Horsley, Effingham Junction or Cobham stations which would lead to considerable parking problems. These railway car parks are already overcrowded with parking in neighbouring roads which leads to traffic congestion. The development at Wisley would make matters much worse.

The nearest shopping centre with supermarkets, banks, restaurants etc. is Cobham. This is already a very busy town with severe parking problems and heavy traffic passing through all the time linking places like Walton and Weybridge on one side to Epsom, Leatherhead and Dorking on the other. More congestion and pollution problems.

If you have a new community with 2,000 homes, there are bound to be households with 4,000 cars. The husband needs one to get to his place of work or to drive to the most convenient railway station; the wife needs one for shopping and taking the children to school (if they can find places that is), with the result that 4,000 cars a day will want to join the A3 near to the junction with the M25. Imagine the accidents that will occur as drivers get impatient with all the overcrowding. On the other side, there are only traditional country lanes which could not possibly cope with an excess of traffic.

Air pollution will get worse especially in the morning and evening with people leaving for work and returning at the end of the day. Pollution there already exceeds permitted levels and the development of Wisley Airfield will make matters worse. I do hope that this scheme is finally rejected and that the airfield is returned for agricultural purposes which was its original function, and as we may have to produce more home grown food in the years ahead.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to strongly object to the A46 proposal for 1100 homes, secondary school, retail units, shops and showman pitches etc.

I cannot believe the sheer scale of such a development, which will destroy the community and rural environment. Normandy and Flexford are within Green Belt Land and the development is a threat to the Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area.

A school for 1500 pupils is not needed in our area, as there are over 700 places available to the west of the Borough. There are nearly 500 places available at the new Technical College and I believe there are approved expansions at Guildford County and St Peters. The traffic chaos that will be caused by such a huge development, particularly around school commuting times is just unbearable. Glaziers Lane and Westwood Lane will become gridlocked and many of us will be trapped, not able to get to important appointments without having to factor in an enormous amount of additional travelling time. The Guildford Road already gets backed up into Normandy up to the traffic lights at Aldershot Road, and also Wanborough Hill has long tailbacks in the morning commute. Add the additional amount of traffic caused by school pick ups and drop offs and it will be a total disaster. I dread to think about the amount of cars parked all over the village, to add to the frustration for the Normandy and Flexford residents, and I haven’t even touched on the subject of noise and environmental pollution.

It is truly shocking that a development of this size is being considered within the Greenbelt, and the important views of the village from the Hogs Bank AONB will be destroyed. The characteristics of the Green Belt are their openness and their permanence, which are being totally ignored. There are plenty of brownfield sites which should be used, before devastating the Green Belt areas of The Surrey Hills and The Hogs Back. I believe there are only 2,700 homes planned in Guildford Town Centre, not that many more than what is being proposed for our small villages of Normandy and Flexford.

100% increase in the number of dwellings in Normandy will destroy our rural environment. I only moved out of Guildford to Normandy 3 years ago, to live a more sedate and quiet life. At no stage when my search was going through, was there mention of a development on this scale. It has come to light that at least 2 years ago Taylor Wimpey submitted their plan. No decent efforts seem to have been made to consult with the local people until now.

I will be truly saddened and will probably have to sell my home, if the madness of this proposal is approved. It’s not needed. None of the villagers want this scale of development. None of us want or need the school, indeed it is proved that this is not necessary. None of us want the traffic and parking chaos that will ensue. None of us want to be blocked in our homes and none of us want our beautiful and peaceful village, turned into a town.

Please, reconsider this proposal and keep our beautiful village just the way it is.

Send Hill New Housing: 40 x houses and 2 x traveller pitches on Send Hill, which is known as highly desirable prime semi-rural and much sought after location, is the most unbelievable part of the plan. It is a dangerous road at the best of times with our road at the end where you propose building housing narrowing to a single track with a lethal blind corner. Also it would increase traffic to an unacceptable level. I strongly object.

Where to build If you need to build new properties, place them next 10 the A3 (not on the green belt). People should be grateful for a roof over their head albeit not in a prime location like Send Hill that I spent many many years working hard to afford.

Lastly, the properties you are proposing would have an immediate impact on our house values, so compensation would be sought should the plan go ahead.

Apart from destroying the very reason I moved into Send 22 years ago to be in a quiet village environment, there is currently greenbelt land at the end of Send Hill that was divided into hundreds of plots and sold off to individuals on the premise that one day, it may lose its green belt status. If the green belt were to be removed the flood gates would be opened to wipe out our village life and destroy our community.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road
infrastructure (Policy I1)

The plan will cause greater congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon. There appears not to be any plan to improve the infrastructure. The village roads are in poor condition and narrow and will be unable to sustain the volume of additional traffic. It will be unnecessarily dangerous and as a mother of two young children is a cause for serious concern.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)
The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it and its development. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are already overstretched and this adds an additional and unnecessary burden.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)
I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt. I have actively chosen to buy a house in a village setting within the Green belt and do not wish to see this consumed by the urban growth of Guildford. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites being removed, as required by the National Planning Policy.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)
The volume of houses proposed is not sustainable and will overdevelop the local villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon. The additional housing is not needed by the local area and the infrastructure is not there with no railway infrastructure for Wisley and Garlick's arch. The roads are already impacted by heavy traffic and will not be able to sustain the additional cars required.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)
The councils proposal to include such a large increase in housing differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey and is unbalanced across the borough with too much proposed to the NE of the borough (Wisley/Ripley/Send and Clandon). This seems out of proportion and peculiar particularly as this is Green Belt land.

I object particularly to the proposed development at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm. The developments are out of proportion to the surrounding area and do not qualify for exceptional circumstances required to take them out of the Green Belt. In addition, I object to the planning policies as follows.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I object to POLICY D1 - Making better places

- There is no reference to vernacular or historic design guidelines, even in Conservation Areas. Most of the borough, especially the rural areas, has vernacular design guidelines that are available to give suggestions as to appropriate design. These should have mandatory planning force.
- The monitoring of this policy is inappropriate. Why should this policy result in a reduction of the number of appeals for poor design?

I object to POLICY D3 - Historic environment

- Supports overdevelopment: you can’t “enhance” history. Doesn’t ban private interests from trying to make aggressive profits from privatising and commercialising public historic assets.
- Doesn’t ban development near historic assets.
- Development close to historical assets is harmful and should be expressly prohibited. Fails to meet the requirements of NPPF 126, 131, 132, 133.

I object to POLICY D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

- No commitment to expand social housing or accommodation for people who can’t afford so-called affordable homes.
- Not enough new homes in urban areas, despite demand and need for urban regeneration and protection of Green Belt.
- Objectives for inset villages cancelled out by plans for excessive housing growth there.
- Too much emphasis on traditional shops, when a lot of this sector is in terminal decline.

I object to POLICY E1 - Meeting employment needs

- The evidence base is unreliable;
- There is unclear differentiation between B class uses;
- Only high value-added business uses, contributing to a modern “knowledge economy”, are desirable, not low-grade, low-employment warehousing which is also land hungry;
- Industrial and commercial businesses must be concentrated in the urban area or existing business parks (e.g. Slyfield) not in the rural environment which the infrastructure is unable to support
- The rural environment must support micro- or high-tech businesses, agricultural industries, and tourism, and these sectors must not be damaged by general industrial development which is inappropriate.

• No cost/benefit analysis of harm to Green Belt involved in extending research park.
• Waters down research purpose of park, turning into a general business park.

I object to POLICY E5 - Rural economy

- Incompatible with high housing numbers proposed for rural areas elsewhere in the plan.
- Insetting and settlement boundary extension endanger appropriate rural activities listed that depend on maintaining rural areas’ character.
- Town-centre uses for rural areas contradict government’s localism policy and need to consult and protect village environments.
- Established commitments to high-speed rural broadband and mobile coverage watered down despite 2014 consultation responses.

I object to POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

- Danger of overdevelopment: success doesn’t depend on building “attractions” which can harm heritage and rural settings. No case made for creating new ones.
- No policy of opposing reduction in rural hotel capacity.
- No definition of what added value interventions by Council can make to normal visitor market mechanisms.
- No policy of supporting Guildford countryside as its prime leisure and visitor asset, whose value rises as London gets bigger and busier.
- No vision of what the ideal visitor experience of the borough actually is and how to support its various elements.

I object to POLICY E7 Guildford Town Centre

• No statement in policy wording of value of Guildford’s rural setting and views.
• No consideration of Town Centre Master Plan, GVG proposals or station redevelopment plans.
• Proportion of new housing in town far too small. Development pushed into countryside, ruining the latter and harming urban regeneration.
• No brownfield register.
• Too much big retail, despite online shopping revolution and decline of traditional high streets internationally. Futile to try to turn Guildford into Woking or Kingston.
• No measures to support small, niche retailers in town, e.g. through business rates.

I object to POLICY H1 – Homes for all

- The policy doesn’t set any constraints on building.
- Housing mix based on growth and demographic assumptions and unreliable SHMA that weren’t put out to formal public consultation and wasn’t scrutinised by Councillors.
- I support higher density development in the urban area
- Fails to compel University of Surrey to use its thousands of planning permissions and existing space, such as car parks, for student accommodation.
- Lets University off the hook of accommodating all its students, so as to free up houses for the most needy in town.

I object to POLICY H2 – Affordable homes

- Using the official definition of Affordable is not appropriate. ‘Affordable homes’ in this area are not affordable! Pushing for these homes just means pushing for more development.
- The viability clause lets developers off the hook of providing even these (non-) affordable homes. It is too open to manipulation.
• Contradicts government policy to develop less advantaged regions of the UK. People don’t have to live and work in Guildford but should be encouraged to move to cheaper, less congested areas.
• This policy won’t affect market forces or house prices. Guildford is too small and too near London to influence these, however many homes it builds.

I object to POLICY I4 Green and blue infrastructure
• Infrastructure considered here as an afterthought, rather than pre-condition of development. Should be a key issue for the rest of the plan.
• Excessive housebuilding in countryside not supported by any funding or provision for infrastructure.
• Heavy focus on building on greenfield sites inefficient and unnecessary: cheap for developers but much more expensive for the public who have to fund the infrastructure.
• Draft CIL scale discourages use of brownfield land first.
• No plan for organic increase in existing traffic congestion, let alone once thousands of houses are built across the countryside. Local roads hardly considered. Green Belt being eroded before road widening/improvement plans certain, encouraging over-development of greenfield sites.

I object to POLICY P2 – Green Belt

• No declaration of support for protecting the Guildford Green Belt, contrary to NPPF and government statements.
• No evaluation of value of local Green Belt as a public and private asset: it’s just treated as potential building land with a few inconvenient restrictions.
• Impact of Green Belt development on local agriculture ignored.
• Impact on rural leisure and tourism ignored.
• Impact on flood control ignored.
• Impact on carbon sink and knock-on effects for air pollution and climate change ignored.
• Impact on biodiversity ignored.
• Impact on natural heritage ignored.
• Impact on water catchment ignored.
• Impact on room for public space amenities (parks, cemeteries, waste facilities etc) ignored.
• Impact on rural business (e.g. mineral mining, film making) ignored.
• Impact on natural landmarks and views ignored.
• Harm to public health and wellbeing (physical, psychological) ignored.
• Allows excessive levels of development in breach of views expressed in last consultation and Conservative Party manifesto commitments at the last local elections.
• Has allowed ruling Councillors to argue that there is an acceptable percentage of Green Belt that should be sacrificed to development, when no such rule exists in the NPPF.
• Ignores alternative approaches, such as fair burden-sharing under which settlements would undertake to accommodate new development in proportion to their size.
• Disproportionate amount of development (most of it, in fact) to be in Green Belt. Too few new homes in urban areas where most people (especially the young and less privileged) want to live. This will act against much needed urban regeneration.
• “Insetting” of most villages disproportionate and unjustified in terms of their contribution under the NPPF to the purposes of the Green Belt. Based on flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study. Idea that most Guildford villages do not contribute to “openness” is subjective.
• Major settlement extensions allow indiscriminate housebuilding, as irregularly shaped villages are squared off to enclose green fields.
• Overall harm to Guildford Green Belt unjustified by any objective development need post-Brexit.
• Ignores most of NPPF 17 stipulations.

• Gives Ash and Tongham more protection than rest of borough, including existing Green Belt. But they don’t contribute to preventing London sprawl.
• Special treatment of ward represented by current Council Leader and his predecessor. Politically biased.
• A minor extension of Green Belt in one place does not justify its major destruction elsewhere (the inset villages).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to POLICY S2 – Borough Wide Strategy

- No justification given for 13,860 housing need figure. Figure based on a secret formula used by consultants and never seen by anyone on the Council or by the public. Council has failed to seek its disclosure.
- 13,860 figure confuses the OAN with a housing target. No definite housing target given, leaving too much scope for the Council to make one up. I can’t understand how we’re being consulted when we don’t know how many houses the Council want to build, taking all the constraints into account.
- Figures based on a Housing Market Area that ignores 2 neighbouring districts (Rushmoor and Mole Valley) and is much too small, since most people commute or travel far outside the Area to shop or study. This distorts the figures: no reason why Guildford needs to build nearly twice as many large housing estates as the rest of Surrey put together, or half of all sites over 100 units.
- High numbers involved would transform the character of the borough from mainly rural/Green Belt to urban, creating a corridor of development out of London as per Woking or Croydon.

I understand that you are planning to remove Chilworth, Shalford and Peasmarsh, as well as number of other villages in your borough from the Green Belt.

I am writing to you to protest against this proposal in the strongest possible terms.

The Green Belt planning policy was introduced for a reason, a very good one. It is not acceptable to simply remove that restriction because it prevents large corporations from making money. I appreciate that construction companies can’t make large profits from regenerating old areas and renovating old buildings, but planning laws do not exist to allow companies to make money. They exist to protect the people and the land from exploitation. You are proposing to exploit this land and it’s people, which is both unethical and immoral. Deregulation has currently brought our country to it’s knees - deregulating these areas of Green Belt can only add to the chaos.

Whilst I acknowledge that the Borough needs identify further sites on which affordable housing can be built, I believe that the proposal to build some 400+ homes in West Horsley is ill-conceived and totally disproportionate to the existing housing stock of some 1,100 homes.

West Horsley does need some affordable housing, but this can be achievable both sensitively, and without comprising the Green Belt status and the protection that it offers. Implementation of the Local Plan proposal for West Horsley will remove that protection and will irreversibly alter the character and nature of the village.

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for its removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government states clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

Guildford Borough Council have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common and, confusingly, replaced it with a site at Garlick’s Arch. This proposed site is not appropriate because:

- There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
- The site is liable to flooding
- It has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
- There are no plans to improve local schools, doctors or other local amenities

I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)

There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch. There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that has the capacity to fulfil the need. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)
The addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. The village roads will become more of a cut through than they already are. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy ID1)
The plan will cause greater congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon. There appears not to be any plan to improve the infrastructure. The village roads are in poor condition and narrow and will be unable to sustain the volume of additional traffic. It will be unnecessarily dangerous and, as a father of two young children, this is a cause for serious concern.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)
The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it and its development. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are already overstretched and this adds an additional and unnecessary burden. There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the huge number of additional properties proposed in the north east of the borough.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)
The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development could be completed. Highways England do not have an plans to look and consider improvements to the A3 until 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) are not viable.

I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)
The size of the development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough, will lead to increased congestion and to greater levels of air pollution. This will have a detrimental impact on local residents' health and I have particular concerns for the elderly and children (especially my own children) in the area.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)
I thoroughly object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt. I have purposely chosen to buy a house in a village setting within the Green Belt and do not wish to see this consumed by the urban growth of Guildford. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and sites to be removed, which is the criteria required by the National Planning Policy to do this.

I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)
The volume of houses proposed in the Plan is just not sustainable and will overdevelop the local villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon. The additional housing is not needed by the local area and the infrastructure is not set up to cope. For example, there is no railway infrastructure for Wisley and Garlick's Arch. The roads are already impacted by heavy amounts of traffic and will not be able to sustain the additional vehicles required.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. The development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

13,860 new houses will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. We don't need these houses. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for the Garlick's Arch area. The Plan takes no account of the effects of the recent referendum which rejected UK membership of the EU arr/may reduce the demand for new housing in the future.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to inform Guildford Borough Council that I object most strongly to the proposed plans for development of the GREEN BELT LAND (Site A46) at Normandy.

This village has already been subject to an enforced housing estate (also built on GREEN BELT LAND) at The Paddocks, I believe that the original intention by the building consortium then (TAYLOR Woodrow) was to build 52 town houses but it was considered to be inappropriate and a mixture of private houses and council-owned bungalows was eventually approved.

We now face another similarly, but much larger, inappropriate proposal by a related consortium (TAYLOR Wimpey) whose sole intention appears to be to increase its profits with little regard to the requirements of the village population.

I am very dismayed about the apparent lack of concern by those responsible for even considering this proposal as it will not only seriously impact on the existing wildlife and footpaths locally, but also to the risk of serious flooding to the whole village.

The traffic situation at Glaziers Lane and Westwood Lane is already at very high levels during peak hours and it will be seriously compounded if this proposed development goes ahead. The two narrow railway bridges already cause concern at present and would become even more dangerous with a significant increase in the resulting traffic situation.

Furthermore, I cannot comprehend the reason for the proposed school in this area considering that the nearest existing schools in either direction are undersubscribed.
Response has been redacted due to statements being considered contrary to the Council’s duty under the Equalities Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation against persons with a protected characteristic; and to foster good relations between persons with a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it.

I have lived in Normandy for 44 years and during that time the village has lost many business premises which have been replaced by housing which I have never objected to because that is progress, and I am not one to stand in the way of progress. However, I object to this current application because I consider that it is certainly not progress, it is greed and it is irresponsible and it should be stopped immediately.

There is little doubt in my mind that those responsible for this proposed project do not live in the village, have no intention of ever doing so, and therefore have little regard for the existing residents.

I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).
The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I object to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I object to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.
Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.
The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed.
The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) are in unsustainable locations. They do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land: all requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.
The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site.

Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site?

There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.
National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. Development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition of north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floor space at Garlick’s Arch – Site A43 (Policy E2)

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floor space will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floor space to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south, at Burnt Common, there is existing industrial development, with surplus land that could accommodate further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for “overdevelopment”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travel card for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford Borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages already suffer from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on local roads.

Many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, West Clandon included, already suffer from traffic congestion. Development around these villages will result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become ever popular, particularly at weekends with hundreds of cyclists passing through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements, as they often need to.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being significant for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send, will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is not sustainable.

There is no provision for the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?.

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I worry that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situation worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and neighbouring villages merging into each other. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. I am aware that this site often floods during winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a lasting detrimental impact on existing local communities over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will not be able to cope with the proposed level of development. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The Housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I write further to the publication of the above document and write to express my objection to elements of its contents.

My principle overarching objection is the proposal to take a number of Surrey villages out of the Green Belt, and East and West Horsley in particular. This proposal in particular will have “urbanisation” implications far beyond those envisaged by the mantra that more houses must be built in the Borough. Whilst I fully accept the need to provide additional housing in the Borough, I do not agree with the drastic actions of removing the Green Belt status in order to be able to provide large scale developments that would otherwise be subject to far greater planning scrutiny.

I object to your proposal to remove a number of classic Surrey villages that currently give the area its charm, beauty, character, history and overall appeal is outrageous.

1. I object to your proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established for a very defined purpose by statute. It was designed to prevent urban sprawl and to a large extent has succeeded in doing this. It is there for the benefit of not just our generation but those that succeed us. This area not only contains many areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty but also Sites of Special Scientific Interest. The Green Belt enables these areas to be protected in order that the Guildford/Leatherhead/Dorking area does not become a suburban sprawl such as Hersham/Weybridge/Walton on Thames.

1. Large numbers of people visit the Surrey Hills area because of its stunning beauty, villages and leisure. These visitors in turn support many businesses both large and small whose livelihood depends upon the area retaining its rural charm. You simply have to remember that these people are your citizens, your ratepayers and your electorate and changing the nature of their environment will potentially destroy the uniqueness of their businesses.

1. I object to the volume of housing, and associated density of construction, which is currently proposed in the Horsleys. The proposal to build 180 houses in East Horsley and 411 in West Horsley is completely disproportionate to the housing stock currently in existence. There has not been any detailed study undertaken proving the need for this level of housing in these locations, the size and style of the proposed houses or the impact on the surrounding infrastructure.

1. I object to the proposals as many of these sites do not reflect the level of infrastructure in place to support such a volume of housing, from schools to medical facilities, shops, bus services, train station parking and drainage. We have seen how many villages in the area have been blighted by the bolt on Council Estates of the post war years - dumped on village back land with no regard to the architectural merits of the development, the local amenities on offer or the employment of the proposed resident. Each site should be considered on its own individual merits under the existing planning regime which has been designed to protect the environment of our rural life and given its particular circumstances.

1. I object to the proposal to build 100 houses on site A39 in East Horsley as it is fundamentally flawed. The plan already recognises that the site is in a flood plain and notes that the flood risk needs to be reduced and that accordingly there is to be no greater flood risk to anywhere else. Surely by interfering with the flood plain in this location can only transfer the flood plain impact somewhere else? That may be downstream of the site or onto adjoining properties. If there is no interference with the flood plain at the site doesn't become viable for 100 houses. The existing proposal by Cateby Land to develop 100 affordable homes here simply does not sit comfortably with any sustainable, accessible or employment rationale. It is building the wrong types of houses in the wrong place.

1. I also do not believe that the Council has given sufficient regard to where all these new inhabitants are going to work. There is little or no employment in these villages, there is very little bus transport, the railways are currently crammed in rush hour with no room for extra capacity and the station car parks are not big enough to cater for more cars. And yet how are people meant to get to work in Guildford, Woking and London as the primary employment centres? The answer will be by car, whether this be by way of a short journey to the station (where they will end up parking on the streets) or a full journey into Guildford (which is already rammed in rush hour). I cannot see how this can sit comfortably with the Council’s Green agenda. The Council certainly will not be able... to force the bus and train companies to extend their services as these are now privately owned businesses operating for profit.

1. I object to the Council’s failure to unlock the development potential of brownfield sites and the volume of currently unoccupied residential properties in the Borough should be given a greater priority in the search for developable land before ruining the environment, livelihood and well-being of a unique area of Britain.

Remember, there will be no opportunity to undo any development resulting from these proposals. You will not be able to wind back time.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

On infrastructure, the revised plan proposals do not address the additional strain on infrastructure despite the overwhelming objections on this subject in response to the previous consultation. In particular the wording of Policy IDI has been amended to give the impression that provision of adequate infrastructure will be enforced. However, this is not within the gift of GBC, but, in the case of the road network, by Surrey Highways and Highways England both of whom will be influenced by budgetary constraints elsewhere within their jurisdiction. Equally traffic impact assessments will be prepared, and paid for, by applicants and not by GBC and will therefore present a biased outcome in support of any development. I object to the inclusion of all sites other than brownfield sites on the basis that GBC will be unable to secure or enforce the provision of the requisite infrastructure provisions either by negotiation with developers or through other government agencies. Any development must be in current urban or brownfield site areas where there is already an appropriate infrastructure provision.

The development of the former Wisley airfield is clearly at odds with revised policy ID3. It is simply not possible to offer a sustainable transport policy for a site which is positioned in this location in the middle of nowhere, with no local amenities, narrow country lanes, no lighting and no public transport facilities. I object to the inclusion of the former Wisley airfield within the Local Plan.

No consideration has been made in the revised proposals for the principle enshrined within the NPPF that exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop within the Greenbelt. The proposal to inset the village of East Horsley has not been justified by exceptional circumstances. No account appears to have been made in the revised plan to the overwhelming body of public opinion that objects to the development of the greenbelt and which advocates the development of brownfield sites as priority. I object to the development of new accommodation on the Greenbelt and to the proposal to inset the village of East Horsley and others.

. I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Comment ID: PSLPS16/3505  Respondent: 15451905 / Jonathan Withers  Agent:
I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two-way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.
A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).
The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.
Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the... flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Whilst there is a need for affordable homes, I feel the scale being proposed goes over and above the national need, and will require even further development of commercial, industrial and road construction - all of which will increase the irreversible damage to our countryside. Surely we have to set limits and not be seen as NIMBYs but actually people who care about what environment we are leaving for the generations to come?

In my opinion land is being opened up for drastic redevelopment without any consideration for the current infrastructure or facilities, which will not be able to meet the planned demand.

I feel most strongly that I have to object to protect the natural landscape of our area. As someone who commutes by train every day in an effort to reduce traffic pollution, I have found the view of an open field as I approach my destination lifts the stress of having to deal with a substandard railway service somewhat.

In light of the recent political upheaval I believe this plan should be shelved until we have a clearer picture of the needs of the future. To act now could be short sighted and cause irreversible damage unnecessarily. I ask you to consider my objections.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

issues with the way it considers students and affordability and flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.
Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016. Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

<th>POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience</th>
</thead>

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways. Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services. Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable. There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested.

These narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians AND you have given no consideration to this point.

I walk my 3 children to Clandon School (along The Street in West Clandon - the A427) every day and have recently stopped doing this as the footpath is so narrow in places it is too dangerous. Lorries frequently mount the curb to pass one another with no consideration for pedestrians. Just this week (Tuesday 12th July) 2 cars collided on The Street in West Clandon and both ended up across the footpath. Fortunately noone was hurt this time. It is not safe now. Further increase in traffic will result in more accidents and certainly fatalities.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I object to any proposal to take land out of the Greenbelt as is suggested with villages such as Ripley, Send and Clandon as well as sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). The National Planning Policy Framework clearly states that it requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt and that housing need is not such an exceptional circumstance. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The Green Belt was put in place to prevent this very thing from happening and ignoring this policy is unthinkable. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is no way sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

1. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

The immediate shortage of suitable facilities for the increase in population alone is reason to be wary of this plan that seems ill thought out at best; but the damage this will do to our village, the environment, the birds and endangered bees; the increase in air, light and noise pollution, and the impact all this will have on our future has to be reason enough to halt the plans and reconsider.

I am writing to register my objection to the Local Housing Plan. As someone aged between 18 and 28 I feel that I can object despite clearly being in the category that needs help to get on the housing ladder.

As an employee of the NHS System I am clearly going to struggle for some time to be able to afford my own home on the salary I receive and am still living with my parents as a result, and yet I object to the plan to erode the Green Belt I have grown up in and love - all under a claim to be helping people like me.

I do not feel that this simply building over the nearest open spaces is the answer in the long term - and a lot of Government decisions are made on short term financial winning basis rather than what will actually be good for my generation or that of my future children. The Environment is always overlooked and surely this is what we should be focussing on for the health of the country to come.

Current infrastructure surely couldn't support further housing and transport needs - very few of the local roads have pavements which enhances our rural aspect to the village, but will surely make the roads even more of a risk if the number of cars on the roads is increased. The few pavements that we do have are very narrow and we are often at risk of being hit by wing mirrors from lorries that pass by, as the roads are too narrow for two vehicles to pass each other and give room to pedestrians.

Whilst appreciating the need for affordable homes, I fear this erosion of our green belt will be detrimental for the future. Open countryside needs to be protected around towns for the good of the environment and the nation's physical and mental health. As a parent of a teenager who has suffered greatly with the latter I recognise the importance of having green open spaces within easy walking distance where one can lose oneself in the freedom of nature. A city park, or fenced in recreation areas just won't 'cut it'. We have to protect our natural countryside before it is lost forever.

I strongly urge you to reconsider this plan and consider my strongest objection to it

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley South

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Introduction

1.1 These representations are submitted on behalf of McAndrew Watts, a prospective purchaser (referred to as the Promoter) of a large area of land to the rear of 5 existing detached properties (Ashley Cottage, Silkmore, Willowpond, Goodwood and Two Chimneys) that front Silkmore Lane, West Horsley. The acquisition of the land would be subject to receipt of a satisfactory planning permission.

1.2 As assessment has been made of the village as a location suitable for development. The Borough Council’s Settlement Profiles (July 2013) indicates that, although the village has an average sustainability ranking as it does not contain many key services, its proximity and close relationship to East Horsley, including the sharing of services, means that, together, they are effectively one continuous settlement. The document advises that the combined geographical spread (i.e. critical mass) and populations (East Horsley: 3785 people and West Horsley: 2828 people) is significantly larger than other villages in the Borough and contain a higher number of key community services and facilities making it the most sustainable rural settlement in the Borough. The document further advises that the area could support additional housing development in the future if suitable sites are found. In order to achieve this the advice is that the settlement boundary would need to be amended. This approach accords with the advice of the NPPF (See Paragraph 5.5) and the settlement (Green Belt) boundary has been changed. In both cases, the Promoter supports the Borough Council’s decision.

2. Planning Strategy for West Horsley (South)

2.1 The Submission Local Plan, through its Spatial Vision and Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2), indicates that there is the need to deliver 13,860 additional homes by 2033. The location for this housing includes both urban and rural areas. It is proposed, for instance, to allocate 1200 dwellings on non-strategic sites within and around existing villages, some of which are now inset from the Green Belt, and over 750 dwellings as extensions to existing villages. The Submission Local Plan advises that these dwellings can offer a variety of housing choice in villages and help contribute to supporting local services and the important role they play in village life.

2.2 The village of West Horsley was, historically, washed over by the Green Belt designations. It is now, however, is identified on the Key Diagram/Policies Map as being “white” and thus an “area inset from the Green Belt”. It is also shown on the Diagram/Map as being outside the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. This means that the village is no longer subject to the need to maintain the openness of the Green Belt or constrained by the very important national landscape designation.

2.3 The West Horsley (South) Inset Map indicates that the village has a Conservation Area and an Area of High Archaeological Potential. A Site Allocation (A37) is identified at the southern end of the village and is deemed suitable to accommodate around 40 homes.

2.4 The Promoter supports the provisions of Policy S1 (Sustainable Development). The allocation of land for housing development in the village confirms that it is a suitable and sustainable location.

2.5 The provisions of Policy H1 (Homes for All) is supported by the Promoter. The reasoned justification for the policy (Paragraph 4.2.5) acknowledges the Borough Council’s support for an appropriate mix of homes in villages. It also accepts that although new development must be in keeping with the character of the surrounding area this does not preclude the delivery of smaller units as these are capable of being designed in such a way that respects the prevailing built form.

2.6 The Promoter’s main concern, and thus principal objection to the wording of the Policy, is that in promoting “Housing Mix” it does not permit the net loss of existing/allocated housing. The situation is such that the loss of an existing house or couple of houses could act as enabler to the redevelopment of land to the rear i.e. a backland site that is effectively landlocked.

2.7 The Promoter objects to the allocation of the land (Policy A37) to the rear of Bell and Colvill, Epsom Road, West Horsley on the grounds that, although it seeks to utilise some brownfield land (being an existing car showroom and workshop and two detached dwellings (Braeside and Bijou)), a large proportion of it is located in the village’s Conservation Area. This is deemed to be a significant constraint which is not helped by the fact that the site suffers from surface water flood risk a well, as acknowledged by the Borough Council. Moreover, other relevant issues include the loss of employment land (B2/Sui generis), given its association with the sale and repair of cars, and the presence and potential loss of a number of mature trees.

3. Promotion of land for development

3.1 The Promoter’s land is 2ha in area and comprises of a number of fields adjacent to each other. The attached Location Plan confirms its location and extent. The plan also provides an indication of possible points for vehicular access, to bring the land forward for development, and this would involve the demolition of one of the existing houses, excluding Silkmore being the listed building.

3.2 The land is surrounded on three sides (to the north, east and south) by existing built development. The remaining boundary (west) is defined by existing mature hedges and other boundary treatments.

3.3 The dwelling, Silkmore, was designated a listed building (Grade II) in June 1967. It occupies a substantial plot, with landscaped gardens. The house has been subject to alterations in both the 19th and 20th centuries.

3.4 The area is predominantly residential in character. The other existing dwellings along the east side of the land are all modern in age being built in the mid 1960’s (Willowpond) and mid 1980’s (Ashley Cottage) respectively.

3.5 The adjacent road, Silkmore Lane, is unclassified. It has a semi-rural appearance being formed of a tarmac carriageway with grass verges either side.

3.6 The West Horsley (North) Inset map confirms that the land is located outside the village’s Conservation Area and Area of High Archaeological Potential. It is also neither in Flood Zone 2 nor Flood Zone 3 according to the Environment Agency Flood maps.
3.7 The West Horsley (North) Inset map confirms that the land is located outside the village’s Conservation Area and Area of High Archaeological Potential. It is also neither in Flood Zone 2 nor Flood Zone 3 according to the Environment Agency Flood maps.

4. Conclusions

4.1 The Promoter agrees with the Borough Council that, in order for them to meet their housing requirements, the village of West Horsley (North) is both a suitable and sustainable location for new housing development. He supports, therefore, the provisions of both Policies SD2 and H1. In saying that, however, he is not convinced that the land identified for housing purposes under Policy A37 is the right choice given its environmental sensitivity.

4.2 The land identified by the Promoter had very good potential for development, including housing. It is devoid of any significant constraints and is located outside the designated heritage assets. The setting of the listed building is accepted as being a key factor for consideration.

Guildford has a crying need for better infrastructure, especially regarding transport, and it is essential that this is prioritised in the plan and delivered before or absolutely in parallel with any other development.

I appreciate that Guildford urgently needs a local plan in order to develop coherently and to prevent inappropriate (and in the case of the Solum application for the railway station, one could say 'disastrous') speculative development, but it has to be the right plan.

RE: GUILDFORD BOROUGH COUNCIL - LOCAL PLAN : STRATEGY AND SITES.

I write further to the publication of the above document and write to express my objection to elements of its contents.

My principle overarching objection is the proposal co take a number of Surrey villages out of the Green Belt, and East and West Horsley in particular. This proposal in particular will have "urbanisation" implications far beyond those envisaged by the minister that more houses must be built in the Borough. Whilst I fully accept the need to provide additional housing in the Borough, I do not agree with the drastic actions of removing the Green Belt status in order to be able to provide large scale developments that would otherwise be subject to far greater planning scrutiny.

1. Your proposal to remove a number of classic Surrey villages that currently give the area its charm, beauty, character, history and overall appeal is outrageous.

1. I object to your proposal to remove the Horleys from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established for a very defined purpose by statute. It was designed to prevent urban sprawl and to a large extent has succeeded in doing that. It is there for the benefit of not just our generation but those that succeed us. This area not only contains many areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty but also Sites of Special Scientific Interest. The Green Belt enables these areas to be protected in order that the Guildford/Leatherhead/Dorking area does not become a suburban sprawl such as Hersham/Weybridge/Walton on Thames.

1. Large numbers of people visit the Surrey Hills area because of its stunning beauty, villages and leisure opportunities. These visitors in turn support many businesses both large and small whose livelihood depends upon the area retaining its rural charm. You simply have to remember that these people are your citizens, your ratepayers and your electorate and changing the nature of their environment will potentially destroy the uniqueness of their businesses.

1. I object to the volume of housing, and associated density of construction, which is currently proposed in the Horsleys is completely out of keeping with their village status. The proposal to build 80 houses in East Horsley... and in West Horsley is completely disproportionate to the housing stock currently in existence. There has not been any detailed study undertaken proving the need for this level of housing in these locations, the size and style of the proposed houses or the impact on the surrounding infrastructure.

1. I object to the proposals as many of these sites do not reflect the level of infrastructure in place to support such a volume of housing, from schools to medical facilities, shops, bus services, train station parking and we have seen how many villages in the area have been blighted by the bolt on Council Estates of the post war years - dumped on village back land with no regard to the architectural merits of the development, the local amenities on offer or the employment of the proposed residents. Each site should be considered on its own individual merits under the existing planning regime which has been designed to protect the environment of our rural life and given its particular circumstances.

1. I object to the proposal to build 100 houses on site A39 in East Horsley as it is fundamentally flawed. The plan already recognises that the site is in a flood plain and notes that the flood risk needs to be reduced and that accordingly there is to be no greater flood risk to anywhere. Surely by interfering with the flood plain in this location can only transfer the flood plain impact somewhere else? That may be downstream of the site or onto adjoining properties. If there is no interference with the flood plain at the site it doesn't become viable for 100 houses. The existing proposal by Cateby Land to develop 100 affordable homes here simply does not sit comfortably with any sustainable, accessible or employment rationale. It is building the wrong types of houses in the wrong place.

1. I also do not believe that the Council has given sufficient regard to where all these new inhabitants are going to. There is little or no employment in these villages, there is very little bus transport, the railways are currently crammed in a rush hour with no room for extra capacity and the station car parks are not big enough to cater for more cars. And yet how are people meant to get to work in Guildford, Woking and London as the primary employment centres? The answer will be by car, whether this be by way of a short journey to the station (where they will end up parking on the streets) or a full journey into Guildford (which is already rammed in rush hour). I cannot see how this can sit comfortably with the Council's Green agenda. The Council certainly will not be able to force the bus and train companies to extend their services as these are now privately owned businesses operating for profit.

1. I object to the Council's failure to unlock the development potential of brownfield sites and the volume of currently unoccupied residential properties in the Borough should be given a greater priority in the search for developable land before ruining the environment, livelihood and well-being of a unique area of Britain.

Remember, there will be no opportunity to undo any development resulting from these proposals. You will not be able to wind back time.

I reiterate my unreserved objection to the proposals as set out in the above document.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35 in the draft Local Plan for the following:

1. It is the least sustainable strategic site identified because of the constraints on the site and the physical location.
2. It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
3. It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to Junction 10 (M25) one of the most congested junctions in the country.
4. Local roads are at capacity, particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing due to accidents, diversions, roadworks etc.
5. Any public transport provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe.
6. There is insufficient employment available onsite and almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk or cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
7. I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objections from local residents and statutory consultees.
8. I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints (notably the provision of sewerage capacity).
9. I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money and not following due process, and indeed ignoring previous representations.

For the reasons above and numerous other reasons, this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

Environmental Impact of Proposed Housing in Horsley: Flood Risk

Building the large numbers of houses proposed in the Draft Local Plan will significantly increase the risk of flooding. I strongly object to the proposal in the Draft Local Plan for housing development in Ockham Road North, adjacent to Horsley station. This housing would be located in a floodplain. Housing on this site will adversely affect local drainage patterns, having a knock on effect further down the drainage basin. Increase in the volume of run-off due to paving over of arable land, coupled with higher incidence of flash-flooding caused by Global warming, will result in a greater frequency of abnormal fluvial discharge events, beyond the capacity of the existing drainage system. This will increase the likelihood of homes in the vicinity being flooded.

The Impact of Additional Residential Housing and Population Increase on Local Facilities

I strongly disagree with the premise in the GBC Local Plan 2016 that Okham and the Horsleys are a suitable location for a large number of additional new houses. The housing numbers proposed for Guildford Borough are for 13040 homes over 15 years from 2016 to 2031. This number is too high. The number is based on a Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), which the council required to be amended by the Head of Planning. This amendment has not taken place and therefore the number of new builds proposed in the Draft Local Plan has no basis. I object to Guildford Council proposing a Draft Local Plan on the basis of flawed evidence.

As an inhabitant of West Horsley I know at first hand the existing population pressure on local facilities. The primary school in our neighbourhood (The Raleigh) is oversubscribed, in common with the local secondary school, the Howard of Effingham.

The local medical centre is also filled to capacity. Residents of adjacent villages e.g., Ripley, East and West Clandon also use the centre. As a consequence, new residents to the village are known to register with alternative practices e.g., Bookham. In conclusion, the village services that currently exist in the Horsleys are already filled to capacity and do not have the facilities to accommodate the large number of new residents which would result from the increase in residential housing proposed in the Local Plan.

Impact of Increased Residential Population on Transport
An increase in the number of residents would result in a heavy increase in both construction related traffic and subsequent traffic arising from an increase in local population.

Most residents of the Horsleys work outside the villages. They either commute into London or Guildford by train, or travel by road to places of work and education. There are very few indigenous employment opportunities in the Horsleys. Essentially they are commuter dormitories. The residents of proposed additional housing are unlikely to be employed in the immediate vicinity of the Horsleys. They will therefore join existing commuters travelling either by road or rail. Horsley station car park is already filled to capacity, and there is no option to extend the car parking facilities for the station. The land is not available for expansion. Likewise, at Effingham Junction, there is little land to spare for additional parking facilities. I would conclude, therefore, there is limited potential for additional commuters to park at the local stations and commute by train. I might add, that Horsley station already serves as a rail hub for adjacent villages (e.g., Shere and Ripley), resulting in heavy road usage at peak commuting time. The housing development proposed in the Local Plan will increase the traffic volume through the village, resulting in additional air and noise pollution.

Key road links to the Horsleys focus on the A246, from Leatherhead to Guildford, and additional rural (narrow and winding) roads linking the villages to Ripley, Cobham and the A3/M25. The A246 currently carries a very high volume of commuter traffic at peak periods creating bottle necks and traffic congestion at both the Givons Grove roundabout on the Leatherhead bypass, and the Merrow roundabout on the outskirts of Guildford. The A3 likewise carries a heavy flow of traffic both into Guildford and north to the M25 at peak hours, with stationary traffic a frequent occurrence. The construction of additional housing in a rural area, which by its location and nature, requires inhabitants to travel predominantly by car, will exacerbate an already congested road network. This will clearly have safety implications, as more congested narrow, rural roads will result in a greater frequency of road traffic accidents and undoubted loss of life. It will also increase traffic congestion in local employment hotspots such as Guildford, and Leatherhead.

It makes much more sense to redevelop brownfield sites in Guildford and Woking to accommodate additional housing needs. This would have the advantage of providing new residents with the option of using the existing public transport network, or walking or cycling to work or school. They would also have a full range of urban facilities on their doorstep.

In conclusion, I strongly object to the new housing proposals outlined in the Draft Local Plan.
There are five legal reasons for protection of land assigned as Green Belt:

1. To check the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas
2. To prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another
3. To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
4. To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns
5. To assist in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

The provision of the Green Belt in the vicinity of the Horsleys meets the criteria listed above. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) requires any change of Green Belt boundaries to demonstrate exceptional circumstances. Unmet housing need is not an exceptional circumstance in law. In addition, the existence of the Green Belt/AONB is a reason for not meeting objectively assessed housing need (i.e., such protected land is a legal constraint against any such development). The proposed Local Plan has not demonstrated exceptional circumstances requiring additional housing in the vicinity of East and West Horsley. Removal of villages from the Green Belt is a legal constraint against such development.

I strongly disagree with and object to the assumption made in the Proposed Submission Plan that it is reasonable to remove villages such as West and East Horsley from the Green Belt. It seems remarkable that a single act of Parliament by the current Government can undo the good work for the provision of the Green Belt and protection of rural England laid out in the Town and Country Planning Act of 1947. The rationale behind the need to protect rural areas in close proximity to ever growing metropolitan areas is more relevant today than ever, in light of the projected growth in UK population.

I object to the method of defining settlement hierarchy as described in the Proposed Submission Local Plan. In particular, I take exception to the "classification" of East Horsley as a "Semi Urban village" and question the basis for this classification. Horsley lacks most of the infrastructure and community facilities taken for granted in an urban area. The key charm and attraction of Horsley is essentially its rural character.

To accrete large numbers of new houses to the Horsley - Okham area would change the character of these ancient villages permanently, resulting in a detrimental impact on the environmental and village character. I therefore object to the proposed settlement boundary changes in East and West Horsley.

In summary, I strongly object to the proposal in the Proposed Submission Local Plan to take the following villages out of the Green Belt: East Horsley and West Horsley (North), Effingham, Ripley, Shere and West Horsley (South).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Proposed Submission Local Plan - Site Policy A35 and Site Policies A36, A38, A39, A40 and A41.

I am writing to OBJECT to the Proposed Submission Local Plan in relation to the above Site Policies for the following reasons:

1. Traffic

I live in a house just off Ockham Road South, on the bend just to the south of the shops, so I am familiar with the current traffic which uses Ockham Road South and Ockham Road North (together "Ockham Road").

Ockham Road is the route between the Wisley Roundabout and the A246, and as such takes traffic from the M25 and the A3 to the south towards Dorking, Horsham and areas to the south of Guildford, and vice versa. There is therefore a substantial number of HGVs using this road, which was never designed to carry heavy traffic. Along a substantial part of its length it is difficult if not impossible for an HGV or a bus to pass a car going in the opposite direction. Outside my house, the road is so narrow that there is no centre white line, and even cars have difficulty passing each other.

More recently, with a substantial increase in the number of cyclists in the Surrey Hills area, their presence on the narrow roads in the Horsleys contributes to the difficulty in maintaining safe and smooth traffic flows.

If the above policies are approved the traffic flow along Ockham Road will be very substantially increased. 493 new houses in the Horsleys and a further 2,000 houses in Site A35 (former Wisley Airfield) will all have to use Ockham Road for access, and would have a substantial effect on not only Ockham Road but also on the Wisley roundabout, which is already very busy. It is not unreasonable to assume that on completion of all of the above developments there would be at least 3,400 additional cars using Ockham Road.

The inclusion of these Sites in the proposed Local Plan is therefore contrary to Policy I3 (Sustainable Transport for New Developments) and Policy I1 (Infrastructure and Delivery), since there are no proposals which seek to address this problem.

2. Infrastructure

It is generally accepted that the local schools and the Horsley Medical Centre are functioning at the limit of their capacity, and cannot cope with further local development such as is now proposed in the draft Local Plan. It is also the case that the Horsley Station car park is fully utilised during weekdays, and cannot provide further parking facilities for commuters.
Whilst the Proposed Submission Local Plan does indeed envisage the provision of additional schools and a new surgery on Site Policy A35 (former Wisley Airfield), these will only become available if/when this site is fully developed. Consequently, there can be no guarantee that they will be available when the five Horsley sites (and other nearby sites) are developed - and this is likely to happen within a very much shorter time frame.

There do not appear to be any proposals which provide for additional parking facilities required in the neighbourhood of Horsley Station, nor any assurance or means whereby the provision of extra medical facilities or schooling can be secured so as to be available on completion of the proposed developments in the Horsleys. Whilst an obligation on developers to pay CIL would provide partial funding, action needs to be taken and money needs to be spent before development takes place.

In the absence of a fully thought-out proposal the inclusion of the above sites in the Proposed Submission Local Plan is premature, and is contrary to Policy I1

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s draft Local Plan Proposals to build 1800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog’s Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- Destroy views from the Hog’s Back ridge – a nationally designated area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.
- Remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- Increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- Result in rat-running thorough local roads

I support the removal of site A46-1,100 homes and school (land to the south of Normandy and north of Flexford) and removal of site A47-50 homes (land to the east of the Paddocks, Flexford) which is in Green Belt land and would overwhelm the local infrastructure, especially roads and healthcare and put extra pressure on the electricity supply, sewage and waste water services and increase vulnerability to flooding.

I object to the removal from the Green Belt of homes in Guildford Road, northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford, Walden Cottages and Palm House Nurseries traveller site which contribute to the 'openness' of the Green Belt.

I also object to the assertion in Policy P2 Green Belt para 4.3.13 that Normandy and Flexford are now inset from the Green Belt which effectively redraws the Green Belt boundary with no evidence provided of the 'exceptional circumstances' required. I feel it is important for the two settlements of Flexford and Normandy to remain 'washed over' by the Green Belt so they may maintain their separation and unrestricted views out to the surrounding countryside to support the 'openness' of the Green Belt. Policy P2 fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it needs to be permanently protected to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas, to safeguard the countryside from encroachment, to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another and to encourage the recycling of derelict and other urban land.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy S1

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the proposal of 13,860 homes proposed will not be sustainable (policy S1) and it will have a permanently detrimental effect by overdevelopment in existing communities, in particular Ripley, Send, East/West Horsley and West Clandon.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) as this plan is unsound, unsustainable, unworkable, flawed and in many instances, unnecessary for the reasons set out below.

I OBJECT to the disproportionate amount (36%) of all proposed development being in one area of the borough from Wisley to Burpham creating a narrow ribbon effect along the A3.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

I cannot see how any proposal for Suitable Alternative Natural Green Space can possibly mitigate the damage caused to the natural habitats of the bats, ground nesting birds, invertebrates, reptiles and flora and fauna by additional residents and their pets. It remains very uncertain how this can be controlled.

A development of this scale will have a huge impact on light and noise pollution which will affect both local residents and wildlife.

I OBJECT to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) as this plan is unsound, unsustainable, unworkable, flawed and in many instances, unnecessary for the reasons set out below.

I OBJECT to the disproportionate amount (36%) of all proposed development being in one area of the borough from Wisley to Burpham creating a narrow ribbon effect along the A3.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

1. I OBJECT to policy A43a proposed on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common as this will inevitably cause traffic chaos on the local road network throughout Ripley, Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon, with absolutely no possibility of mitigation due to the nature of our rural roads and lanes.

I OBJECT to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) as this plan is unsound, unsustainable, unworkable, flawed and in many instances, unnecessary for the reasons set out below.

I OBJECT to the disproportionate amount (36%) of all proposed development being in one area of the borough from Wisley to Burpham creating a narrow ribbon effect along the A3.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Whilst the Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements upon which the plan depends, there appears to be no schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43). This indicates that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site. As a result of this omission it is not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.
Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. As stated by central government policy, the need for new housing is not accepted as an exceptional circumstance as such the stated areas should not be removed from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

It is clear that improvements to the M25 and the A3 would be required before any proposed development takes place, this clearly cannot be carried out within the proposed timeframe. Any developments proposed for the Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) sites should not take place without the appropriate improvements to main infrastructure routes. It has been stated by the highways agency that they will not consider improving the A3 until 2020.

The removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt. The National planning policy requires special circumstances to be present – there are no special circumstances evident. I therefore object on this basis. Brownfield site development around Burnt common is a far more logical approach rather than damaging the environment by building and subsequently by increased traffic.

1. I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the proposal of 13,860 homes proposed will not be sustainable (policy S1) and it will have a permanently detrimental effect by overdevelopment in existing communities, in particular Ripley, Send, East/West Horsley and West Clandon.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
The proposed construction of some 13,860 new houses – it will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon and as such is completely unsustainable. There are no rail infrastructures that serve either Garlicks Arch (A43) or Wisley Airfield (A35) and there is clearly inadequate bus services. This is likely to result in greater car traffic as most adults will require vehicular access, yet there appears to be no infrastructure improvement for Garlick’s Arch currently. The development of more urban areas and other brownfield sites makes far more sense in terms of sustainable transport reuse of ‘brown’ sites.

1.  I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule defines the key infrastructural requirements upon which the plan is dependent. However, no such schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43) is apparent. Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A43
I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as it is classed as a Green Belt area. As stated by central government policy, the need for archnew housing is not accepted as an exceptional circumstance. Consequently, Garlick’s should not be removed from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The proposed timeframe for the development are not aligned with the time it would take to effect improvements to the M25 and the A3. Any developments proposed for the Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) sites need to take account of improvements to main infrastructure routes, ahead of the developments commencing. Highways agency assert that they will not consider improving the A3 until 2020.

The National planning policy requires special circumstances to be present – there are no special circumstances evident with reference to the removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt.

Brownfield site development around Burntcommon would provide a much more sustainable approach and reduces the environment damaging likely to result from the proposed building plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The proposed construction of approximately 13,860 new houses will have negative impact on local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. Therefore the proposed development is untenable and practicably unsustainable. Interestingly, there appears to be no infrastructure improvement plan for Garlick’s Arch. Currently there is no rail infrastructure that supports Garlick’s Arch (A43) or Wisley Airfield (A35) and current bus service coverage is found to be inadequate. This lack of public transport will result in greater car traffic as most adults will require vehicular access.
The development of more urban areas and other brownfield sites makes far more sense in terms of sustainable transport reuse of 'brown'sites.

I OBJECT to the development of 40 houses and 2 traveller pitches at Send Hill, this again is an inappropriate location as the roads leading to it are narrow and of single width which would not provide adequate access. The site is also an old landfill site which to deemed to be unsafe.

An article on the local radio recently stated that Surrey council had identified a significant shortfall in the number of school places, thousands! Over the coming years where are all the new children be going to go to school, not to mention over stretched doctors, hospitals etc etc as the whole area seems to be awash with new proposed developments.

I'm writing to object to the proposed local plan. I OBJECT to the removing the local villages from the green belt as this goes against all recent promises to retain the green belt and keep it intact. The outcome in my view would be the lose of the villages as individuals, as fill would undoubtedly link them all and become one, creating areas not villages. The local council promotes Guildford as being a vibrant town set amongst its rural country side and towns and villages. Ok the town might stay the same but what would make people want to visit if it is just another town among others and sprawling housing, because that would become the situation, you don't have to look far to see the reality, and would you want to visit there.

I OBJECT to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) as this plan is unsound, unsustainable, unworkable, flawed and in many instances, unnecessary for the reasons set out below.

I OBJECT to the disproportionate amount (36%) of all proposed development being in one area of the borough from Wisley to Burpham creating a narrow ribbon effect along the A3.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

We very strongly object to building on Green Belt Land

We strongly object to plan A46, the proposed housing development in Normandy/Flexford

We also strongly object to large scale housing developments in Normandy

We object to the construction of a new large school in view of the fact that schools in the area are under-subscribed

We object to our rural environment being destroyed

We also object to this proposal as it will greatly affect views, wildlife, flooding, and local infrastructure will not be able to cope with this scale of development. Therefore, the needs of Normandy/Flexford residents are being undermined.

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A43

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).
The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I object to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists pass through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.
Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the existing local communities by over development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and Clandon. The services in these villages are currently barely able to cope and I therefore cannot understand how they can be expected to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) are in unsustainable locations. They do not benefit from any railway stations within easy walking distance and the local bus services are already inadequate. Residents will have no option but to be reliant on motor vehicles. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from severe congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and potential grid-lock and hence much greater risks from pollution created by stationary cars. The health of residents and the local environment will suffer as a result.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

RE: Objection "Send Housing Developments & Destruction of Green Belt

Green Belt: I was absolutely appalled to read that you would contemplate taking the villages of Send & Ripley out of the green belt. We voted for a Conservative Council to protect our rights, not blatantly ride roughshod over them. The very mention of losing the greenbelt status in our little village is a betrayal of what we thought you stood for and I strongly object to this.

Apart from destroying the a quiet village environment, there is currently greenbelt land at the end of Send Hill that was divided into hundreds of plots and sold off to individuals on the premise that one day it may lose its green belt status. If the green belt were to be removed the flood gates would be opened to wipe out our village life and destroy our community.

Send Hill New Housing A44 .1.9 ha: 40 x houses and 2 x traveller pitches on Send Hill, which is known as highly desirable prime semirural and much sought after location , is the most unbelievable part of the plan. It is a dangerous road at the best of times with our road at the end where you propose building housing narrowing to a single track with a lethal blind corner. Also it would increase traffic to an unacceptable level. I strongly object.

Lastly, the properties you are proposing would have an immediate impact on my home value.

A few years ago my parents came to live in West Horsley and I visit as often as I can with my family. Living in the congestion and pollution of London we appreciate the opportunity to spend time in this lovely place in the Green Belt on the edge of the Surrey Hills. Many of our friends try to get out of the City into the peace and quiet of the Surrey countryside as often as they can, in order to escape from the urban sprawl of London.

Maintaining the Green Belt is particularly important for those areas easy to reach outside the M25 and with West Horsley being just outside the orbital ring road it is a great shame if the proposal to build so many new houses in such a small village is allowed to go ahead.

It is surprising that a Council controlled by representatives of the Conservative Party whose policy is to protect both the Metropolitan and Green Belts is planning to destroy land on this precious and sensitive area for no other reason than to build houses on such a scale when it is clearly against the stated policy of the Government.

I know from local people that the concerns regarding lack of a sustainable and sufficient infrastructure will be brought to your attention but as an outsider I want to stress how important the Green Belt is to those of us who appreciate its value as a release valve from the pressures of living in London.

I sincerely hope that the Council will think again about this disproportionate attack on the village and its value to the wider community.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Destruction of green belt in Normandy, Flexford and Wanborough.

It appears that meetings have been going on for a number of years with the developer and the council, but without the knowledge of the people living in these villages. The same developer (then called Taylor Woodrow) developed another green belt site in Normandy some 35 years ago when a development was approved because the developer "donated" six old peoples' bungalows to Normandy Parish.
Please do not allow the destruction of further green belt, when there are brownfield sites which could take one million homes.

Traffic hazards

The bridge over the railway in Glaziers Lane is not strong enough or wide enough to support the additional weight of traffic. The bridge is very narrow and there are daily "near-misses" as traffic straddles the white line at speed. There has been a fatality on the crossroads of Glaziers Lane and Guildford Road.

The bridge under the railway in Westwood Lane has a one-lane pass through. There have been fatalities at this bridge.

Wanborough Hill would not be able to cope with traffic from a large development which would affect the traffic flow onto the A31 which already has numerous accidents/delays in rush hours when traffic diverts through Normandy and causes traffic chaos.

Commercial vehicles

Large lorries already cause damage in Glaziers Lane when delivering to commercial properties. Should a development be allowed to take place, this lane would be used for all delivery lorries as Westwood Lane has a low-level bridge which could not take such vehicles.

A sink hole has already opened up on two or three occasions close to the junction of Glaziers Lane/Guildford Road.

Flooding

Houses in Glaziers Lane experience severe flooding problems. The loss of farmland and woodland and increased paved areas would only increase the seriousness of the flooding. Only yesterday, some gardens in Glaziers Lane became flooded due to rain.

School

Two other secondary schools in the area are under-subscribed. I question the need for another school. Also, the traffic from a 1,500 pupil school would cause traffic havoc, such as that experienced every morning rush hour on the Worplesdon Road, Guildford, from the Elizabeth Park housing development.

Health and safety

Children would be at risk of serious injury if a site housing fairground equipment was located close to a school. There is presently a large acreage of land in Normandy named "Whittles Drive", Guildford Road, Guildford, which houses a great deal of fairground equipment. There is no need for further storage.

Destruction of wildlife

Destruction of hedges/trees and habitats reduces the availability of food, shelter, nesting sites, etc. for our wildlife which are under increasing pressure. A large proportion of Normandy contains part of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area. We need to protect all sites of special scientific interest. This can never be replaced.

Thank you for taking your time to read this email and please take into consideration all of my comments.

Normandy/Flexford cannot cope with the number of proposed houses in the plan. It also does not need a secondary school here. In fact as I understand it, there are still spaces in a lot of the west Guildford secondary schools going spare so would like to see proper evidence of this requirement.

The drainage system and the roads cannot support that many more houses and are already struggling with what it has to cope with now.

On top of this it would ruin the area of natural beauty currently in existence and affect local wildlife (both on the site itself and nearby due to increased volume of walkers / pets) when there are much better brownfield sites that could be used. Or a larger number of smaller developments would also make more sense than such vast ones in tiny villages that do not have capacity to cope with the increases proposed. For example I understand there is a fairly obvious site in West Horsley that would be suitable for a slightly smaller development and Normandy/Flexford could certainly accommodate some new homes (and possibly some retail) but just not nearly as many as are being proposed and certainly no secondary school.

Having recently moved to the area for it's small parish feel and beautiful surroundings, I sincerely hope that you take these comments on board and reconsider your approach.

I object to way in which the proposed increase in demand for skilled labour in Guildford makes the plan justify the number of new homes required. The plan does not support these requirements, or at least I could not see the case. There is a lack of Commercial Properties in the area, so where are these jobs going to be created? Also the recent Brexit vote means that the numbers growth need to be scaled back.

I object that you propose that Horsleys be removed from the green belt. I can see no justification for this being made, with no exceptional circumstances being proposed or supported. These villages should not be withdrawn from the Green belt. This would seem to make it easier to build new homes with a broad brush stroke. This is not how development should be conducted in long standing village communities.

I object to the number of homes which the plan says need to be built. How can you justify increasing by nearly 35% the number of houses in West Horsley. I agree there is a need for new homes, but this should be done in a sustainable way which is sympathetic to the current villages. So I can agree with the development of “brown field sites” such as Thatchers (A36) and the Bell & Colvill Garage (A37). But the 4 other proposed developments, A38, A39, A40 and A41 should not be granted.

As a very frequent visitor to see my son, daughter-in-law and grandson who live in West Horsley, I am appalled at the proposals for future housing developments in the West and East Horsley parishes contained in the "Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan : Strategy and Sites - June 2016".(The Guildford Plan).

The notion that you can increase the number of households by 35% by way of the proposed developments is hard to comprehend particularly when there seems to have been little or no recognition in "The Guildford Plan" of the effect such a huge increase will undoubtedly have on the infrastructure and services.

I think that it is fair to say that the vast majority of people living in the County of Surrey accept that there is a need for more housing, particularly affordable housing but proposals on the scale set out in the Plan are way in excess of what is acceptable and sustainable.

In view of my observations set out above I strongly object to the proposals set out in the "The Guildford Plan" and urge the Council to have a serious rethink about the sizes/numbers of developments proposed and come up with a much more realistic Plan which will meet the aspirations of your electorate living in The Horsleys.

Having expressed my concerns previously I am writing as a concerned parent of a West Horsley resident regarding the latest changes made to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan June 2017 consultation.

My overriding concern is that it would appear that no change is being proposed with regard to the idea of insetting West and East Horsley from the Green Belt thus risking the beautiful countryside of the two Parishes being swallowed up by the Metropolitan Sprawl. The reduction in the number of new homes being proposed for West Horsley is to be welcomed but there appears to be little evidence of a realistic reduction in the overall number of homes being proposed or indeed introducing a fair balance in the number of new homes in the Borough - at present it appears that the Eastern side of the Borough is being targeted with an unfair proportion of new homes compared with the Western side. There also appears to be no proposal to introduce commensurate infrastructure upgrades e.g. medical, educational and transport services to cope with the increased number of residents. The proposed Wisley Airfield redevelopment is a step too far.

It is also puzzling that like a lot of other Borough and District Councils in Surrey the number of new homes proposed in the Guildford Borough Plan well exceeds the numbers required by HM Government.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.
Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

a. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
b. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
c. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
d. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
e. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
f. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I would like to register my objections please to the above planning applications.

The impact on Send village of such a disproportionately-sized development would be very negative and would permanently alter the fabric of the village and community. The infrastructure and amenities would not be able to cope with such a development and there is clearly no plan to develop them.

The Garlick's Arch site is in the green belt and so should be off limits to development. Aside from that though, it is in a flood zone and so is in any case unsuitable for development.

I appreciate that houses and industrial units are needed in the area but I would ask that the council prioritises existing brownfield sites before destroying the green belt.

1. I object to the enormous amount of proposed housing causing huge increases in traffic, problems with finding school places for children in already over subscribed schools, problems for commuters in already over crowded trains, problems parking at the station and shops, pressure on local medical services. All these will ruin the lives of the residents of Ockham, the Horsleys and Effingham.

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

a. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.

b. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.

c. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.

d. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).

e. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

f. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object very strongly to Guildford Borough Council's Draft Location Plan June 2016.

The situation is becoming 'out of band ' and a stop should be mad e to the unsustainability of the proposals which are flawed in many areas. SH M\^ has indicated there is a housing need of 693 houses per year - why has it been doubled from this figure given only four years ago ? It is not right that GBC should refuse to indicate how the figures have been calculated. The public of Guildford deserve a realistic answer to this question - it is the very least you can do.

At present it is extremely difficult to drive into Guildford from Burpham - the flow of traffic is just unbelievable. I note it has been indicated that an additional 2,000 homes hope to be built in Burpham. You have to consider that if this crazy plan is passed 2,000 homes could generate at least 4,000, possibly more, cars (2/3 cars per household is the 'norm' these days) so how will we be able to drive into the City centre and exactly where will all these additional cars be parked - if, and when, they arrive in Guildford ? You must be aware that parking in this present day is very difficult - on occasions impossible!

I have a dreadful feeling that someone, somewhere, is trying their very best to ruin our delightful City of Guildford - a treasure in Surrey. It should be preserved and treasured and not completely ruined by our present team of 'decision makers'.

101 more thought has to be given to the proposals - just 'building houses' is. perhaps, the easy part but it's what repercussions there will be from this final extremely important, decision. More schools, new and better roads to avoid congestion, will certainly be required - the list is end less. The precious "Green Belt' is so important and should be preserved wherever possible - once if s gone it can not be replaced.
I urge you to look at the situation long and hard - your present proposals are simply not acceptable and I feel sure you will have many residents who love Guildford complaining. They should not be overruled and listened to - and take note, of what they say.

The housing numbers projected by the Council have not been substantiated by the Council, in spite of many requests, so the West Horsley Parish have carried out their own survey, that clearly suggests the figures to be wrong. The Green Belt must be retained as it stands today and each Planning Proposal should be judged on it's own merits. I voted Conservative when they came to office and they vowed to preserve the Green Belt, therefore I expect them to stand by that promise.

Not only that, the infrastructure simply does not exist, certainly not in the Guildford Borough where roads are already inadequate, hospitals and doctors surgeries are not coping, transport systems are under severe pressure as are the schools. The plan makes no provision for putting this right, just feeble remarks suggesting each development will have to look into available possibilities.

We also feel that major plans like this should be put on hold. At present population numbers are uncertain. Until the UKs exit of the EU proceeds further we can now not possibly accurately predict population numbers and housing need. This quantity of extra houses may well not be needed and calculations to prove this housing need must be published.

We wish to object to the proposed local plan. The greenbelt was created to prevent urban sprawl and overdevelopment. Proposed greenbelt destruction confirms the point of overdevelopment has been reached and should not be permitted. Respect why greenbelt was created in the first place.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt. The inclusion of 2100 homes on this site would present an unbearable strain on the existing infrastructure and completely alter the nature of the surrounding villages.

- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans. I doubt that any of these homes will be truly affordable to local residents like myself and will lead to a further influx from surrounding areas and thus not meet the requirements of the local population.

- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC.

- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars. This will cause an increased volume of car traffic on roads which are already congested.

The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas will have a significant impact on the quality of life for existing and future residents.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I am writing with the aim of recording my objection to the Guildford Local Plan 2016. I understand that part of the plan includes the removal of Green Belt protection from a number of villages in the Guildford area. The Green Belt status was put in place for a reason. Removal of Green Belt status to allow for housing development is unacceptable and unjustifiable. While I understand the necessity for more housing, I believe this could be fulfilled using housing that is currently derelict/vacant and by using brown field sites. Such sites are not as attractive to developers, however if they wish to profit from housing development they should be forced to use such sites.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

• I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.
• No exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the site from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
• There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land.
• I object to the disproportionate allocation of a proposed increase in housing to the nearby localities of Ockham, Ripley, the Horsleys and Effingham.
• The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley could not cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In the refused planning application there had been a suggestion that Cobham & Stoke D’Abernon Station could be used. That or use of stations further north at Weybridge or Walton would increase congestion and pollution on local roads in Elmbridge.
• I object to the threat the Local Plan as drafted poses to the historic rural settlements of Ockham, Hatchford and Downside.
• The plan calls for Ockham, a hamlet of 159 residences to be subsumed into development, on presently open land, with 2,000 dwellings and other urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
• Hatchford, south of the M25, has some 60 residences off narrow Ockham Lane that would be greatly affected by the proximity of development.
• I object to the potential harmful impact on transport, local roads and road safety by the suggested development. The result of an additional 2,000 homes would be an estimated 4,000 additional cars together with other vehicles, including HGVs, to service the development.
• The increased traffic would cause congestion and danger on the narrow rural roads in Ockham, Hatchford, Downside and Cobham. Cobham is the closest shopping centre to the proposed development. The village could not cope with the additional traffic and car parking involved in serving some 5,000 additional occupiers at the site and would experience a significant increase in stationary/idling traffic at peak times and at junctions.
• Due to the absence of cycling paths and the lack of footpaths (and the space to provide them) the assertion that the development would result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking is not plausible. The increased traffic would add danger to cyclists and pedestrians (including those increasingly using local roads for recreational purposes).
• There would be an increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25 and the junction of those as well as local roads. The current planning application by RHS Wisley would already have significantly added to visitor traffic. Any proposed secondary schooling would add additional congestion.
• I object to insufficient consideration being given to the environmental and ecological value of the site and the area around it, taking account of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
• The area is a haven for wildlife, some of which is already endangered. The introduction of residences would mean the import into an ecologically sensitive area not only of humans and their increased footfall, but also of pets, and cats and dogs in particular, that can have a devastating effect on wildlife. Protected species on and near the site and wildlife corridors would be destroyed.

I WOULD LIKE TO ADD MY OBJECTION TO THE PROPOSED A46 DEVELOPMENT IN NORMANDY AND FLEXFORD.

As a long term resident of the part of Ash which comes under the boundaries of Normandy Parish, I have attended the public meetings and have read the literature published and I strongly believe that Guildford Borough Council should not allow the development to go ahead due to a number of reasons.

GREEN BELT LAND

The proposed development being an inappropriate use of a rural area. This land is designated as Green Belt land, the fundamental aim of Green Belt Policy being to prevent the unrestricted urban sprawl by keeping land 'permanently' open. It is part of the essential and important divide between Guildford and Rushmoor Boroughs, and the ever enlarging Guildford and Aldershot urbanisation and their respective areas. Developments on green fields not only add to creeping suburbanisation but once change of use has taken place, the decision can never be reversed and that particular part of the rural environment is destroyed and lost forever. I question why more attention cannot be paid to the development or brownbelt or brown field sites, which in some cases have some or all of the services in place and so in the long term could be less expensive to develop. Local Authorities are required to have a register of brownfield land so sites that can be recycled, regenerated and put back into use. Places on the Guildford list include Woodbridge Meadows, Walnut Tree Close by the station area and North Street, however I do feel if further research were carried out appropriate further development sites could be found with less of a need to take virgin Green Belt Land. Also why cannot better utilisation be made of unused sites within the urbanised areas of Guildford itself and its surrounding areas particularly when apparently there is a desperate requirement for housing in central Guildford itself? Why is there a need to locate new properties on the edge of the Borough and how can the Council justify releasing precious Green Belt Land to be lost forever?

NATURAL FLOOD PLAINS.

I have owned my property for over forty years and over that time have become fully aware of the importance of maintaining the natural flood plains due to excessive rainfall during particular years and in particular areas. From what I have learned I feel that Guildford Borough Council have not completely considered the implications of water stress upon this Green Land. Their Surface Water Management Plan has excluded the land north of A46, yet flood risk 3a and 3b is identified on the Environmental Agencies flood risk map. Loss of, or the development on, of an effective flood plain would severely impact on the surrounding areas, putting not only any newly developed properties at risk, but more importantly and most unfairly, existing properties. Time and again I have personally witnessed the results of heavy rainfall on land down between the higher ground of the Hogs Back and the adjacent army land and one feature is highlighted. The current land for floodplain and the drainage services find it hard to cope in containing and draining away the water. New mass development of the land will surely only add to this problem.

PROPOSED AMOUNT OF BUILDING

I find the number and type of properties proposed to be built in the village of Normandy to be disproportionate and in certain cases unjustified. I am well aware that the Government sets quotas and guidelines for our Councils to follow, however the impact of 1100 houses on a village such as Normandy has the possibility of totally changing the place, socially, environmentally and economically. More concerning than the development of habitations are the proposed plans for a school. I learn that apparently Secondary schools to the West of the Borough are currently undersubscribed by a significant number so question why a school should be needed. The reason given is that educational provision planned is because of the need arising from the allocation of development on this site, so the argument again turns to that if the development were not taking place then the school would not be needed. On a similar vein there is also the proposed parade of shops on the new development. Due to the nature of how residents access and use local amenities, shops and pubs have had to close in the recent years because they became no longer economically viable. Again then I question why are decisions regarding services for the public being taken without consultation with the local population to find out the actual realistic need for the area?
ROADS AND TRAFFIC

I do strongly believe that the Green Belt is already being eroded by disproportionate ‘strategic sites’ particularly as they do not always have the secured funding for infrastructure and road improvements. Normandy is a predominantly rural area and the transportation of residents accessing shops and amenities in the local areas is in the majority of cases by private vehicles. The level of traffic on the local roads in and around Normandy is already well above the capacity these roads were designed for, the main road through the village being an ‘A’ road and main artery between Guildford and Aldershot. The situation at the moment though is that this road is only single carriage either way and thus any minor incidents such as horse riders, vehicles parked on the side of the road, delivery vehicles, the beginning and end of the school day, etc., already have the capacity to bring traffic to a complete stand still during certain times of busy flow. There does appear to be no evidence of secure funding for any major improvements to the roads passing through or around Normandy. The not unjustifiably expected and drastic increase of motor vehicles introduced from such a comparatively small area onto the existing network then will only add to the causation of grid-lock, stagnation of the local economy and massively increased exhaust pollution.

Having lake” into consideration the above factors. I cannot conceivably see how the proposed plans can be legally compliant with planning policies set for local authority areas. Not only do they not fully meet the legal requirements of the relevant Planning Acts and Regulations, but their implementation could bring long term and lasting, severe and detrimental effects to the area, affecting it environmentally, socially and economically.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I would like to add my support with regard to the removal of the site A46 (1,100 homes and school on land to the south of Normandy and north of Flexford), and site A47 (50 homes on the land to the east of the Paddocks, Flexford). I feel that the infrastructure, particularly the road network, would not be able to cope with the addition of such large developments. Living on the Guildford Road I already witness first hand the current congestion created at particular times of the day, along with that due to the railway crossing at Ash and have concerns over the current quotas of new housing being built in the immediate surrounding areas on the road network between Aldershot and Guildford. Surely other solutions should be looked at further and seriously when it comes to the council meeting its needs for the development of new housing, including the re-use of already developed land, infill on undeveloped parcels of land within urbanised areas, or Brown land sites. New building should definitely not be taking place on Green Belt land.

I would also like to object to the removal of homes in the areas of the Guildford Road, the northern end of Glaziers Lane, Flexford, the Waldon Cottages and the Palm House Nurseries traveller site. As I have been informed, placing these sites outside of the Green Belt could in theory enable development and give a much greater success for future planning applications. This I am most opposed to as it too as it gives potential to encroach on an ever threatened and decreasing Green Belt, an important natural divide between the urbanisation of Aldershot, Hampshire and Guildford, Surrey.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans. I doubt that any of these homes will be truly affordable to local residents and will lead to a further influx from surrounding areas and thus not meet the requirements of the local population.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars. At present cyclists are already endangered by the number and speed of cars passing through the area and this will do nothing to improve the situation.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads which are already congested. At present the roads are in a terrible state with numerous pot holes and the council seems to do little to maintain them.

3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.

4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).

5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity. In addition the council seems to show no support for measures to reduce traffic on the roads such as the provision of school buses which were once in place but have now been terminated.

• I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

• I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

• I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

• I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd's (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan for Horsley, Ripley, Send and Clandon

Our villages are based on agricultural environment in the green belt and what you are suggesting with the plans opens up building program that will totally destroy our villages, way of life and the green belt for ever. You are ignoring all our objections. We do not wish our village lives to change. The infrastructure is not capable.

Building on this type of scale puts pressure on facilities, schools, medical centers which are all overstretched. Where money is involved, it is persuasive and services are shimped. In the past development has been gradual and on the whole well planned. Now everyone is getting on the bandwagon on infilling and developing any part of the greenbelt the council will allow, stop changing our lives and our area.

Traffic, already difficult, well increase dramatically especially where tannery lane meets the A247 junction. Which is highly restrictive. Our local roads are not designed for the increase in traffic for both the building part and then the residents once finished.

What the building of these properties in Tannery lane, Garlick Arch, Burnt Common, Wisley is proposing is the destruction of our village, our sacred greenbelt.

With the ancient woodland and our current way of life. Traffic will be increased to such an extent to be problematic. The effect of building on the flood zone always avoided will now effect local residents and its the everyday people who will suffer. By infilling in this way, the occupant will need to travel; out to work, increasing gridlock. Most houses have at least two cars per household and the majority have 4.

There is no circumstances that can warrant the destruction of our green belt and once its gone its gone, please take our objections seriously.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I object to this proposal.

This rural country lane, Tannery Lane, has already had permission granted for the building of a marina and 64 apartments. These will cause a huge increase in traffic using this very narrow lane and also an increase in the traffic exiting the lane onto Send Road (A247).

Send Road is already extremely busy and frequently at a standstill because of the amount of traffic travelling between the A3, Woking, Guildford and other villages in the borough. Residents living along Send Road are either inhaling traffic fumes because of the traffic jams or in danger trying to cross this busy road. On many occasions Send residents have requested traffic calming measures and a pedestrian crossing but have only been given 3 traffic islands which are constantly being damaged.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43).

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There was no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).
This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3). The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4) It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1) Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I object to this proposal.

How could this proposal have been such a last minute thought? It is such a large development I have no confidence that the implications of it have been thought through. If it is not a last minute thought then why have we not been informed of it before? It is highly suspicious, surely it cannot be legal to deprive us of a full length consultation period?

This plot of land creates an important buffer between Send Marsh and the A3 and also prevents the village of Send merging with Clandon

What are the special circumstances that would allow 400 houses to be built on this flood prone, Green Belt with ancient woodland, when the housing numbers that we have been told we need are highly questionable?

Why do we need 700 sq metres of more industrial space when GBC has failed to provide sound evidence in terms of the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2015 (ELNA) which shows an 80% reduction in employment space from the previous ELNA carried out by GBC in 2013.

This proposal would be right next to the A3. So again air quality for those living in the 400 houses should be questioned. Building sound proofing bunds does not protect the inhabitants from air pollution.

The high density housing and industry would also add to the already congested A3, M25 and A247. In addition to developments proposed at Wisley and Gosden Hill Farm. It would also create a huge burden on our other facilities e.g. schools and medical centre.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)
The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.
The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.
This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.
A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km
Furthermore this land is held in trust with Manorial rights and has no business being included.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

This again is a hugely important development which has suddenly appeared in the Local Plan.

If traffic is allowed to access the A3 northbound and exit it southbound it is likely to more than double the amount of traffic using Send Road. This is without taking into account the traffic generated by the development of Wisley and Gosden Hill.

There seems to be either a lack of understanding of the consequences of these sorts of developments and/or a total lack of consideration for those of us who will suffer.

I object to this proposal.

It seems grossly unfair that Send has been targeted with so many unsuitable proposals which will fundamentally change the whole nature of our village. Some of the proposals have been included at a very late stage, as some sort of afterthought, without allowing a decent consultation period. It seems most unprofessional and I do question the reasoning behind it.

I object to this proposal.

I know this area well as it is one of the few pieces of open ground available to dog walkers now that the old sandpits and the field alongside have been fenced off. Surely this is not suitable land to build houses on as it is a landfill site. I remember that all sorts of rubbish was dumped on this site including asbestos. There seemed very little control on the rubbish dumped here. Lorries just used to turn up and dump their load including lots of smaller vehicles. Surely if houses are built here there will be health issues for the people who buy the houses or park their caravans?

Again Send Hill is very narrow and a single track at the Potters Lane end. Any additional houses will inevitably result in more cars using it causing more problems outside our houses at busy times. And again the proposal will exacerbate the congestion on Send Road.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5) Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London. Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes
I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

64.9% of all proposed sites in the plan are on Green Belt land – some 8000 houses, This is NOT acceptable and is certainly not GBC’s position to give this protection away. The Green Belt was setup to protect our open spaces from the very thing the GBC are planning. We all have a duty of care to up hold the Act and ensure that the GREEN BELT IS NOT ERODED - ONCE ITS GONE, ITS GONE FOREVER.

There are NO exceptional circumstances to enable this prosperous plan and it sets a dreadful precedent for conservation and represents a threat to the public health, wellbeing and quality of life of not only local residents but wider urban areas and future generations.

Our Green Belt Policy is set in law and is a living example of sustainability and is the envy if the world. Apart from all the regularly mentioned reasons for not building on Green Belt (stopping urban sprawl, protecting openness and space around development), it also poses a devastating threat on our ecosystems, our biodiversity, our nature and wildlife species at a time when many of our resident and migratory species are in drastic decline nationwide.

GBC has taken perfectly good brown field sites out of the plan (A43 – 2014 Plan) and replaced them with Green Field sites - there is NO rational for this other than being manipulated by developers and the promise of money to enable bigger sites to be accepted.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighboring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch A43, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Notwithstanding that NO one has seen the SHMA figures and how they were calculated, it’s hard to take the figures in the plan seriously and one wonders how the plan has got this far without the transparency required. It’s apparent they are over inflated and no constraints have been applied.

Its seems GBC are going for gold in being able to accommodate large numbers of houses that are simply not needed or substantiated.

There are fundamental differences between the 2014 and 2016 plans namely the movement from planning in urban areas to rural ones - and the creation of an Urban Urban areas ( whatever that is)?? It is apparent the GBC is moving its boundaries around to suit the sites suitable for large developments which is not in line with the governments new ruling to ensure SMES are able to partake in building the future housing needs.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

I agree more houses are needed - but these need to be strategically panned - using brown field sites unless there are exceptional circumstances, in sustainable areas - in SURREY 80% of that needs to be Urban as developments in the villages are not sustainable and neither is it possible on already very congested roads to accommodate more traffic.

Surrey does not need more executive homes - what it desperately needs is affordable homes - this can only be achieved by building flats and studio flats - more properties on less land - we could have Iconic 6/10 floor flats along York Road, which is close to the Station and would be much more affordable and as importantly sustainable too.

The plan is fundamentally flawed as 50% of the developments proposed are along the A3 corridor in huge estates - 3 of them with more than 2000 homes - this gets GBC the numbers - but it does not tally with the lack of infrastructure, which is not satisfactorily tackled in the poor infrastructure plan. 3000 of the houses needed are for Students of the university - The University has 17 hectares of car park space and this land could be used to build sustainable student accommodation with parking beneath - this is simple common sense.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I feel that common sense has not prevailed in this plan. A fortune has been spent on expensive consultants - yet the plan is aspirational, muddled and uses the Green Belt as a rule not an exception. The answers to plan are already in front of us, yet ignored. Use all the brown field sites (and there are more than enough) support SMES as our government dictates and build lots of smaller developments, which lessens traffic burden and spreads the housing load across the borough (not 50% within a 5 mile radius), make the University provide its own accommodation on its land and consult with the community in bite size chunks – not with an overwhelming document that is too difficult for people to understand. Make the plan fair, just and reasonable so that the communities are not being compromised and our green belt is not being eroded.

Instead plan for houses that are needed, gradually, in the right areas with a considered and reasoned approach – joined up thinking is lacking in the rush to produce an aspirational plan that frankly impresses no one, in fact the money wasted on this is beyond comprehension.

Whilst I have many significant objections to the GBC Local Plan I applaud the policy statement by GBC in their Monitoring Report, “We will continue to monitor the use of previously developed land, and continue to identify as many opportunities as possible for redevelopment of previously developed land.” I believe it will be to the benefit of all residents if GBC can apply themselves vigorously to this endeavor in order to protect the Green Belt.

Therefore WHY is this Revised Local Plan Unsound?

The Plan will not deliver sustainable development in accordance with the policies of the Framework. Rather it will lead to serious degradation of the rural environment, erosion and piecemeal development of vital Green Belt land, harm to heritage assets, intensification of use and urbanisation and access to new development principally by motor car, leading to congestion or upgrading of rural roads at the expense of rural character. The effect on existing and future residential communities will be diminution in social cohesion, reduced quality of life and substantial harm to the amenity. The overall housing land requirement in Policy S2 and the Proposed Delivery of housing in Table 1 of the Plan, as well as individual allocations in the Plan considered above, are not founded on a robust and credible evidence base. The planned 30% oversupply of housing sites will make monitoring impossible and will lead to a de facto housing requirement which significantly exceeds the OAN. Furthermore vital evidence is missing in parts.

However, we do have some concerns about the implementation of the proposals and the impact it could potentially have on existing Gypsies and Travellers who live on these sites where comprehensive redevelopment/ intensification / redesign is proposed.

Whilst additional pitches and improvements to site facilities are welcomed, it is an imperative that existing occupiers are fully consulted on any proposals and their views taken into account prior to any commencement of works. Without knowing the full details of the proposals, or the exact nature of the sites, it would appear that some of these could not be implemented without existing occupiers being willing to relocate within a site, if only for a temporary period.

We would strongly advise that the Council engage with everyone who may already live on these sites prior to progressing any of these proposals further. Engagement should be fit for purpose, and include face to face meetings in order that the wishes of existing on site Gypsies and Travellers can be taken into account.

Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016

Thank you for giving the Surrey Gypsy Traveller Communities Forum (SGTCF) the opportunity to comment on the above Plan. Mrs. Hilda Brazil, the joint Chair of the Forum, has already taken the opportunity to address Councillors at the EAB Committee held on 13th April 2016, about the pressing need to meet the accommodation requirements for Gypsies and Travellers within the Borough. We hope that this has helped to increase awareness of our needs and the way in which provision for Gypsies and Travellers in the past has been wholly inadequate.

We very much hope that this Local Plan offers a turning point and that our needs are satisfied in the future. The SGTCF welcomes the Council’s commitment to meet the accommodation needs of Gypsies and Travellers, and we are willing to assist in any way we can in order to increase participation and awareness of planning issues within the Gypsy and Traveller Community.

The SGTCF would like to submit the following comments in response to your proposed submission local plan.

STRATEGY

Policy H1: Homes for all

The SGTCF support the commitment of the Council to identify sufficient sites for Travellers' accommodation needs as set out in the latest Traveller Accommodation Assessment. We welcome the fact that these sites will be for a mix of tenures and provided on a number of small sites.

We also support the Council’s commitment for all new sites to have adequate utility services and amenity space, space for related business activities where appropriate, safe vehicular access, turning space and parking and that these sites should be in areas with reasonable access to schools, health services and local services.

Providing Traveller accommodation on development sites of 500 homes or more will help in the provision of land to meet needs. However, the location of accommodation within these larger development sites should be treated sensitively and considered in full consultation with the local Gypsy and Traveller community.

Should any of these larger development sites not go ahead, the plan should include contingency measures in order that the needs of Gypsies and Travellers can still be met in other ways.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Re My Objections to the new Guildford Local Plan are as follows;

-I do not believe the Council have demonstrated that ‘exceptional circumstances’ exist to justify ‘The Horsleys’ being removed from the Green Belt.

-I am not aware of any plans to materially improve the infrastructure re drainage, medical facilities etc to take account of the proposed increase in population.

-No sound reasons have been given for the proposed extension of the boundaries of the settlement areas of the Horsleys.
The excessive number of new houses (593 new houses in the Horsleys within 5 Years of adopting the plan) proposed arising from a Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHWA) that was generated by a consultant’s mathematical model, which is not revealed in the plan, nor apparently to Guildford Borough Council (GBC). I think this raises major doubts concerning the inflated number of new houses proposed by the SHWA and further increased by GBC.

I hope the Council will take my concerns into account during this consultation period.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I have been a Send resident all my life. The village has seen development but nothing on the scale that has been proposed in this 2016 Local Plan. It really has alarmed my family and all our community, at the proposed developments around our home.

I strongly object to Send village being removed from the Green Belt. This acts as a buffer between Woking and Guildford, because it is not justified by any special circumstances and the fact that Green Belt is meant to be permanent and not continually eroded. We are so close to being absorbed into the urban landscape.

I voted for the Conservative party at the last election and one of the main reasons was because of the promise to protect the Green Belt. I do hope the Conservative party/GBC do not break this promise.

I object to the Garlick’s Arch site with the change of this land, as it is ancient woodland, of local beauty and floods. I object to the 400 houses and the 600+ cars. The local roads are already heavily congested at commuting times let alone with more added, and also the pressure on local facilities.

I object to the 7000sq metres of industrial units at the Garlick's Arch site. Is there not space yet at Slyfield or Brownfield sites that are more appropriate for industrial units rather than virgin Green Belt land? Also I believe from the last Employment Land needs Assessment of 2015 that this showed a reduction of 80% in required employment from the previous Local Draft Plan.

I strongly object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. Send will be a cut through and have to take the extra traffic from Woking and Guildford and also the A3 and M25 for the proposed developments at Blackwell Farm, Gosden Hill, Wisley Airfield, and Burpham. Our main road, the A247 is already struggling, with regular crawling traffic/gridlock. The pollution and noise levels are already very high.

I strongly object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers pitches at Send Hill because some the lane is single access and some parts winding and extremely narrow, to add even more traffic to an already struggling road would be dangerous. I have been gridlocked many times with traffic unable to pass along Send Hill and then blocking Potters Lane. It cannot be walked safely as a pedestrian. Also I believe, the land is an unsafe landfill site. It's a beautiful area of countryside that I walk and enjoy on a regular basis. Also this affects our local cemetery that is a place of beauty and peace; this will be compromised.
I strongly object to the Clockbarn Nursery site with 45 houses because again of the very inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is like many of our Send back lanes, very narrow and twisting. It is already very hazardous for traffic from Tannery Lane to join the Send Road. Traffic has to dangerously edge out, and often gridlocks Send Road. We already have the marina development going ahead and 60+ apartments, and I feel that this in it's own right will cause enough traffic concerns. Also at this junction is our Send Recreation Ground, which has been highly maintained and extremely popular. I object to any more pressure being put on this road junction as it will be a detriment to our Park, with safety, noise and pollution.

I have also read and heard about the GBC's refusal to disclose their housing requirement calculations and that these have been greatly exaggerated. I object to having local plans being suggested without the GBC written evidence to back up the housing requirement. I object to the fact that infrastructure requirements have not been properly thought through, as Send's are not good enough to deal with the proposed housing levels. There will be irrevocable pressure and damage on the surrounding flora/fauna and infrastructure; roads, doctors, schools will not be able to handle this.

I do appreciate that housing in the Guildford borough is needed but would ask that GBC put every effort looking into Brownfield sites in the urban area before the open countryside.

I would like my comments to be shown to the Planning Inspector and also a confirmation that you have received my communication.

I have lived in Send my whole life and I enjoy the mix of housing and environment. I walk often in the surrounding area and it would be such a shame to lose the countryside appeal of Send. I object to the removal of Send from the green belt because the countryside gives a needed buffer between our local towns. I object to any proposal to build on the green belt land, as I believe you should use all the urban/brownfield sites in Guildford (nearer transport links) before using any green belt land.

I object to the Garlick’s Arch site with the change of this land as it is ancient woodland, of local beauty and floods. I object to the 400 houses and the 600+ cars. A39, A38, A40, A41

East Horsley, West Horsley:

I object to the over-development of East and West Horsley. These four proposed site selections will add approximately 445 housing units in what is presently green belt. This as over-development of these two neighbouring villages, with land being inset from the green belt for the sole purpose of meeting housing targets and a further urbanisation of the green belt between Leatherhead and Guildford. Site selections A39, A40, and A41 seem to have no logic, they do not follow easily identifiable boundaries and seems to be created for the sole purpose of artificially creating sites for development in the green belt. Sites 39 and 41 seem only to have development on one or two sides and are in open green belt and inappropriate for development.

Wisley:

I object to the Wisley site selection and approximately 2000 units proposed for the former Wisley Airfield. It is an over-development of the site and an over-development of the local area which will adversely affect already heavily congested local roads and puts strains on public transport infrastructure and local services.

The 40% affordable housing target is far too high a figure for building outside urban areas. This should be set at a more practical 30%. If it were set at this lower level, there would be more room to reduce the overall housing target.

Please find my response to Guildford borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites (LP). I live on the border between Effingham and East Horsley and will be focusing my comments on these two villages and neighbouring West Horsley and Ockham.

I welcome the new plan and the urgency that GBC are showing to get a Local Plan (LP) in place. The LP contains many thoughtful and acceptable policies covering affordable housing, protection of our green assets, local jobs, infrastructure and design of new builds.

However, I am very disappointed with the severe erosion of the green belt that is being proposed. The LP proposes taking far too much land out of the green belt to meet housing targets. It artificially engineers some inset boundaries for the sole purpose of creating new sites for building in the green belt. Some of the inset boundaries are artificially engineered to such an extent that the boundaries are unclear and do not follow easily identifiable or permanent borders, site selection 41 is an example. The LP also proposes the over development of villages such as Ockham and East and West Horsley by excessive building on green belt land.

P2
Green Belt:
I object to the insetting of Effingham, East Horsley, and West Horsley. The NPPF Para 86 states that “If it is necessary to prevent development in a village primarily because of the important contribution it makes to the openness of the Green Belt the village should be included in the Green Belt”. These three villages should all remain washed-over by the green belt as they all make important contributions to the openness and attractiveness of the green belt. In addition, they make an important contribution to maintaining the remaining green belt between Leatherhead and Guildford. These villages play an essential in preventing the erosion of the green belt in this area and should continue to be washed over by the green belt and not inset. I am also concerned that insetting is being used to create green belt areas specially for the purpose of housing development, to meet housing targets. For example, the inset boundary at Site Selections 39, 40 and 41, look artificial, taking inexplicable turns, following unclear boundaries for the specific purpose of artificially creating a development plot. This is completely contrary to NPPF paragraphs 86 and 87.

Thames Basin Heaths SPA:

I object to a car park on Effingham Common. Its proposed location in the middle of the common is in an area where Skylarks nest, and Skylarks are on the red list in the UK. A car park situated on the Common is completely impractical, it would be full of commuters’ cars from morning to night as it is so close to Effingham Junction station.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the following policies:

Policy Number: S2

Policy Name: Borough Wide Strategy

Explanation: I object to the very high housing target. Over 80% of Guildford borough land is situated in the green belt and the LP sets a housing target figure which is too high for an area such as Guildford borough that is predominantly green belt – and green belt for the reasons that it stops the spread of London, provides clean air protection to the city and is a place where city dwellers and others can enjoy the countryside within an easy distance of their homes. The continual erosion of the green belt over the last 60 years seems to be accelerating with the LP proposals for swathes of land to be pulled out of the green belt for housing development in contradiction to NPPF 87. This requires very special circumstances for development in the green belt and, as Government ministers have stated on many occasions, the need to meet housing targets is not a very special circumstance. A smaller housing target could have protected the Green Belt and been allowable under NPPF constraints, based on the high proportion of green belt in the borough. The housing target is also being driven higher because of:

1. Over ambitious economic growth targets, 125 new builds per year are due to economic growth. In present circumstances a less ambitious growth target would seem more appropriate.

2. Future reductions in student numbers at the University of Surrey. Student numbers from Europe are set to reduce as they will shortly have to pay full fees.
3. The 14% housing buffer is forcing GBC to identify site selections in the green belt that would not needed if there were no buffer.

Maps, Appendix H, Page 12, Effingham

Would you kindly review the inset boundary proposal to the east of Effingham village. The proposed inset boundary to the east of the village is still unclear. I suggest the boundary comes up Browns Lane and Church Street until it reaches footpath FP118. This footpath, which goes to the north of the St Lawrence Church and to the south of the Howard of Effingham School joins up with the rest of the Submission LP proposed inset boundary at the north west of the KGV fields.

This follows a much more clearly defined and permanent boundary – based on roads and footpath FP118. If this changed boundary were applied it would be clear and defensible over the plan period and avoid confusion in the future.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Paragraph 2.10a

This new (moved) paragraph understates the pressures on the local road networks in the villages. Many rural roads are too narrow especially in Effingham and the Horsleys to take continuous flows of development traffic and the increased traffic from the proposed new developments at Wisley. Rural roads are often so narrow that two cars must slow to pass and two lorries often cannot pass each other without going on pavements. This is a serious road safety issue and this point should be made in this paragraph. It means that developers must take the widths of local roads into account in their planning applications and seek to mitigate road safety matters. Infrastructure deficiencies need to be addressed by Surrey County Council or the developer before development work starts, especially where the rural road network is inadequate.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

3.1 Wisley

The Green Belt inset should not be expanded at Wisley there is no justification for this. It would be better to reduce the inset to make more defensible boundaries. This would also have the advantage of reducing the over-development of Ockham as described in Guildford Borough Council’s Wisley Appeal Statement of Case where GBC describes the Wisley development as a totally disproportionate attempted location of 2068 dwellings within the ancient village of Ockham.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

GBC Draft Local Plan re Normandy & Frexford Site A46

This is to register my very strong OBJECTION to the building plans for the Normandy and Flexford site A46

For the following reasons:-

1. THE SCHOOL.

I object most strongly to the proposal to build a secondary school. By no stretch of the imagination is this school necessary. There is proven spare capacity in other local schools and the opportunity to expand some of them if necessary. The proposal to build this school is clearly the developers ‘carrot’ to enable them to get permission for the rest of the plan.

1. TRAFFIC.

I object to the fact that no thought seems to have been given to the chaos the additional traffic would cause. The whole area would be in total gridlock morning and afternoon. It can take the best part of an hour now, to travel the few miles into Guildford in the morning. There is clearly no way in which these country roads could be improved to accommodate the extra traffic in and out of the village.

1. GREEN BELT.

This is Green Belt land and should remain so. There would be no reason to sacrifice it if ‘brown field’ sites in Guildford were used for homes instead of endless new retail outlets. If more consideration was given to building accommodation in Guildford it would avoid the congestion and pollution caused by countless car journeys into the town.

1. NEED.

It is not a proven fact that we need this many new homes in the Guildford area.

How was this figure arrived at?

1. a) Part of the suggested need is due to student requirements. If accommodation was built on campus the students at the University would not have to travel from elsewhere.

2. b) Most of the villages around Guildford could accommodate a realistic building plan off up to a total of 10% increase over the time of the plan. This would be accomplished without ruining any of the villages.

1. WILDLIFE.

I object to the fact that no attention is being paid to the various government directives regarding the effect a building plan will have on the local wildlife. One of the considerations is the close proximity to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area. These appear to be being completely ignored. This size of the proposed development would have a huge impact.

1. LEGALITY.

There is a question of the legal aspect of the whole plan. There doesn’t seem to be any exceptional circumstances to justify the removal of Normandy and Flexford from washed over green belt status.

1. CONSULTATION.
Certainly there has been no consultation with Normandy residents (which I believe government guidelines advocate.) Most of us have chosen to live here for its rural location. Our shops and Pub closed through lack of use, and although it would be nice to have these amenities, not at the price of this developer-led overdevelopment. Our lives will certainly not be improved by this plan.

Finally, how can it be reasonable to almost double the number of homes in this village? The area will be completely ruined and just be a dormitory town for Guildford, instead of part of a green buffer between Guildford and Aldershot.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Policy A25- I object to this policy as it is unsound and is not positively prepared. The proposals for the development of Gosden Hill Farm would make traffic movements in Burpham quite horrendous and doesn’t take into account land that should be reserved for a tunnel. This will have a significant knock on effect in Merrow.

Provision must be made for 4 way access to the A3 and not for the 2 way access proposed.

I do not support a new railway station in Merrow unless there is a new footbridge over the railway line and the bridge under the railway line is re-built.

The common land in Merrow Lane must be protected and must not become an access for any development on Gosden Hill Farm Policy I 1- I object to this policy since the additional traffic generated by the proposed developments would increase traffic congestion to a level that would be totally unacceptable. The traffic is bad enough now.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy P2- the policy is unsound as it does not follow the NPPF nor the advice from DCLA Ministers on the preservation of the Green Belt. The Green Belt around Guildford is under attack from all sides. I came to live in Guildford because it has not been spoilt by massive developments and is surrounded by lovely countryside. I have no wish to see the Guildford environs ruined in the way proposed.

What right have we got to rip up the countryside that has been protected for generations? We must protect our countryside for generations to come as once the Green Belt is lost it is lost for ever. We must follow the Government guidance in the NPPF to the letter.

Policy S2- the policy is unsound as the G L Hearn OAN is too high and should be set at no more than 510 new homes per year in accordance with the advice of NM Strategic Solutions Ltd. It is unacceptable that no one has been permitted by GBC to cross check the work of G L Hearn and the independent analysis by NMSS makes it clear that there are a number of errors and flaws in the G L Hearn SHMA which should have been picked up and corrected by GBC before the report was approved and published. I take the view that the current GL Hearn SHMA has been discredited.

As GBC will be aware this NMSS report can be found on the Guildford Residents Associations website.

Policy S2- this policy is unsound as the housing target has been inflated; the housing target should be corrected to a figure which is significantly less than the OAN as the final housing target must reflect the impact of the constraints described in the NPPF and which have not been applied across the borough.

Policy S2- I object to the policy as it is unsound as it does not follow the NPPF, the NPG nor the advice of Ministers in the DCLA on constraints. This is a major flaw in the draft Local Plan that I find extremely disappointing.

Policy ID1 – The transport aspects of the Plan cannot be regarded as sound. The Plan provides a vivid description of the conditions on the network today and the evidence is that these will be as poor, and in some cases worse, at the end of the plan period, even with the mitigation measures. The evidence provided indicates that congestion will be widespread on much of the highway network in peak periods, even with the proposed highway schemes and with the measures to encourage the use of public transport in place.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - Shalford (south)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We are very concerned about the latest version of the proposed Local Plan issued on 6 June 2016 in relation to the fields behind Shalford Village Hall. The Plan removes the fields from the Green Belt and puts them in the Shalford Settlement Boundary. As this removes the current long established Green Belt protection it would encourage the developer who has an option on the land to submit housing development proposals with access to Chinthurst Lane.

It is noted that the Plan does reserve these fields for "Open Space" but we understand that as currently notated on the Shalford plan, it is not as strong as its current Green Belt status and will be open to challenge. We believe the Borough Council shares the expressed view of the local community that this land should be left undeveloped. Therefore this intention would be best met by retaining this land in the Green Belt with its additional AGLV protection.

Regarding the site, the fields rise up 32 feet from Kings Road and over 25 feet above the Village Hall. Any development would be clearly seen from the Village Common and could dominate the tennis courts and bowling green. Aerial maps used to draw up new settlement boundaries do not take into account high elevation of land or any protected status.

The gift by the late E. C. Wigan in 1962 of the land for the main Village Hall building was made for the inhabitants of Shalford "for use for meetings ....... and otherforms of recreation and leisure time occupations ". The Village Hall site and the open space around it has been the vision of many residents for over 50 years. The facilities offered -including the 3 tennis courts and bowling green and open space - are a significant amenity value and are important in providing an attractive setting for the village. There is a real possibility that the recreational facilities could be expanded in the future: for example adding more tennis courts. We are very anxious to keep these options open and retain the site benefits for future generations.

In summary the proposed Green Belt boundary is in the wrong place by enclosing these fields on the edge of the village within the built up area of Shalford. Only a small adjustment to the 2003 boundary plan is necessary to reflect the 1999 development behind the Village Hall and thus keep its Green Belt status. We ask that full and sympathetic consideration be given to this objection.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
   a. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
   b. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.
   c. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.
   d. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
   e. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.
   f. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to all the GBC Plans and Proposals to build on Green Belt, most importantly the sites known as Wisley Airfield/Three Farms Meadows and the Woodland known as Garlic Woods on the Send/Ripley boarders.

Even the consideration of developing the FWA/TFM area – which would be a small town - with a potential population of 5000 plus – is clearly ludicrous.

The application should be refused once and for all on a whole host of grounds:

1. 4000 additional cars in the area
2. Effingham and Horsley stations overcrowding
3. Road casualty numbers and serious delays at Ockham Interchange
4. NO2 and CO2 pollution
5. Sewage problems
6. Water drainage – Already Ockham Road North floods – and Surrey CC seem impotent to stop it.
7. No secondary school places available in the area
8. Rural flora and fauna damage (SWT have recently butchered an area in The Forest (East Horsley) which was the environment of Wrens, Blue Tits, Black Caps and rabbits with seeming impunity
9. The ‘lungs’ of London – the green areas just outside this massive urban area - have to be sacrosanct.

Clearly people without any vision will only wake up when all the land within the M25 and ten miles outside is all concrete. Then, there will be difficulties with sewage inadequate water supplies and nowhere for flash-flood water to go except into people’s homes. Surely the cruel lessons in December/January in Cumbria 2015/2016 must be learned?

The only answer to Guildford housing requirement – and who, by the way, are these people who come up with a figure of 400/500/600 new homes a year?….These figures are never justified to the general public, - must be smaller developments throughout the Borough.

I do not just mean the occasional new house. I mean significant developments like the proposed 120 housing in Send Marsh. This will make significant contribution to housing requirement without any impact on the roads, sewage, water system etc.

As I have said new housing is necessary, but I think that GBC Planning department must move their mind-set into the 21st century. For example – why not decree that all new builds MUST be a minimum of three stories + a basement if a fourth is desired.

By definition, then, all dwellings will require a smaller footprint, which means that dwelling density can be greater and more can be built per acre.

Just finally, and returning to my reason for writing I have read and heard literally thousands of people with a whole host of reasons why the Wisley air field project should NOT go ahead.

The development proposed for Wisley Airfield would have a huge impact on the region, the roads and junctions are not suited to taking more traffic. The M25 and A3 junction is already one of the most polluted areas in Europe.

This area of the country is already over crowded. The conservative government has said it would build whole new towns on the North and Midlands not in towns on the overcrowded S.E. They should honour their promises and manifesto.

Finally the most important objection:

I OBJECT to Send village being removed from the Green Belt.

This fantastic legacy from our Victorian Philanthropists was always intended to be permanent, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework. There are no special circumstances to justify abandoning this fantastic legacy.

The Green Belt in Send provides an ESSENTIAL Buffer, stopping Woking and Guildford becoming one conurbation. The GBC Councillors and Government gave clear election promises to protect the GREEN BELT. This plan blatantly reneges on those promises, and goes against Government Guidelines as pointed out by Sir Paul Beresford our local MP.

This would be a Developers Charter to provide unlimited development all over our Village and some other villages.

Please do not allow this dreadful error which will be irreversible

I object to building 400 houses and 7000 sq meters of industrial space at Garlicks Arch opposite Send Marsh Road.

This is green belt land with ancient woodland, and is prone to considerable flooding. The industrial space is definitely not needed as there is adequate space at Slyfield Green, and the owners at Slyfield are keen to have extra use there if there is in fact a need at all for extra industrial space.

If GBC used the brownfield sites this green belt land would not be needed.

The gridlock that this development would cause on the local roads would make the already overly congested and busy roads impassable.

I object to this proposed new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common because much of the traffic to and from the A3, the M25, Woking and Guildford would be going through to Send Road which is already at full capacity. It would be total gridlock as this road funnels into a small roundabout and very small congested roads in Old Woking.

The proposed junction would have to take traffic from the proposed 2000 houses at Wisley Airfield, 2000 houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1850 at Blackwell Farm, this would be a total disaster for the Village of Send.

The proposed housing developments in West Horsley would completely overwhelm the village. Drainage would be a major concern as it is inadequate at present.

Similarly road and school capacity, station and village car parking capacity, doctors surgery and shops capacity would all be overwhelmed.

The proposed developments would be as out of place here as they would be in Send, the Clandons and Ockham village.

Any Major developments would be better placed in the west of the borough – Normandy, Ash and Tongham, where there is much more open land.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.
Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I am a resident of Send Hill and am appalled by the proposals by the Council to remove Send Village from the Green Belt, which was intended to be permanent under the National Policy Planning Framework.

In particular:

* I object to the development of further houses at Send Hill.
* It would be detrimental to what is currently a quality Green Belt amenity and area of beautiful countryside.
* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a single track country road and too narrow to provide sufficient access to the site or accommodate the potential new levels of traffic the proposed development would bring.

* I further object on the basis that the existing site contains documented unsafe land fill waste.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the existing road and parking infrastructure is already inadequate or under pressure and could worsen with the planned development, reducing quality of life.

* I object to the proposal for two Traveller Pitches. The Pitches would be completely inappropriate due to the narrow width single track country road, providing insufficient access to the site.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the site is not large enough for the proposed use.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would cause adverse impact on street parking.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send is in green belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill is a narrow road resulting in loss of a turning point for vehicles.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that it would impact the nature reserve nearby. The proposed site is a quality green belt amenity area within countryside and would be spoilt by development.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that too many houses are proposed to Send and the impact on traffic congestion and local services would be unacceptable.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that Send Hill already suffers from significant congestion, particularly at peak times such as during the school run.

* I object to the local plan on the grounds that it could result in 92 extra cars in Send Hill, which already suffers from limited parking.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that this would cause loss of village identity, be detrimental to the community and increased flood risk.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that a Wasteland Solutions environmental report on Send Hill dated March 2004 gave evidence of past ponding of water in the excavated area. Further development would disturb water table and increase risk of flooding to my property, Greystones.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the proposed development site (A44) was used as GBC registered landfill site, not a quarry as listed as reference LLA 2081 in the local plan.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the 1963-8 Ordnance Survey maps of proposed site mark it as “refuse and slag heap”. It is therefore unsuitable for such a development on health reasons.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the 1971 Ordnance Survey maps of proposed site mark it as “refuse tip” prior to when proper licensing/registration was required. The date of the landfill works predates the 1999 EU Landfill Directive regulations. I therefore believe that there is a danger that any disturbance would be health hazard due to the unknown materials.

* GBC has installed gas monitoring wells on site since July 2000. One well recording methane gas discharge.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that a Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN_HCP dated 5th January 2005-Identifies the proposed site as GBC recorded landfill site Ref GU/11/LLC with... type of waste not identified. The date of the landfill works predates the 1999 EU Landfill Directive regulations. I therefore believe that there is a danger that any disturbance would be health hazard due to the unknown materials.

This causes me concern as to what it does contain and dangers if disturbed.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both the Envirosearch Report RS1100201_1_1 dated 17th February 2004 and historical map data and information from GBC has identified site as landfill and has “areas of potentially contaminative industrial activities”. Development of this site would be a health hazard. The recent news reports of a child dying from seepage of contaminated ground following flooding prove that developing any such sites is a danger to health. The Daily Mail has also recently had an article on how the dangers of living near landfill site raises cancer concerns. The paper referenced a study published by the International Journal of Epidemiology which tracked 242,000 people living near landfill sites in Italy.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both the Envirosearch Report RS1100201_1_1 dated 17th February 2004 identifies “potential risk from landfill gas migrations” which I believe is a health hazard.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that both Envirosearch Report RS1100201_1_1 dated 17th February 2004 concludes “potentially contaminative industrial sites identified from analysis” of Ordnance survey maps.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN_HCP dated 5th January 2005-Identifies proposed site as a local authorised landfill site as licences under Part II of Environmental protection Act 1990. The proposed site is not a quarry as specified in the GBC Local Plan. And is therefore not suitable for the proposed usage.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Southern County Searches (Sitescope Ltd) report E.2978.SN_HCP dated 5th January 2005-Identifies proposed site as potentially contaminative industrial land. With usage of “Heap and unknown constituents”. This causes me concern as to what it does contain and dangers if disturbed.

* I object to the proposal in the local plan on the grounds that the Traveller Accommodation Assessment research, purported to have been undertaken in June-July 2012 by Mill Field Services, cannot be so. The Sittingbourne based market research company was dissolved in January 2011 according the government companies’ site.

* I object to Send Village being removed from the Green Belt. It was intended to be permanent and there should be no special circumstances for removing such an important feature of our environment.

Please ensure that my comments are show to the Planning Inspector, and confirm receipt of my e mail.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I would like to register my objection regarding the impact of Guildford Borough Council’s current Draft Local Plan and in particular object to its impact on West/East Horsley and its immediate environment and its disregard for the existing designation of Green Belt Protected Areas for which I believe no valid case has been made or exceptional circumstances proven.

I think the demand for housing is artificially fuelled by people living longer and by the high level of immigration into the country. You should be building retirement homes not housing estates and the effects form the second issue needs to be look up following the country’s decision to leave the European Union.

I also object to the proposed changes to the village settlement boundaries in particular where there is no proposal to build new houses, I can not imagine what reason could there be? It is obviously a hidden agenda to permit further building in these areas at a later date without having to obtain separate approval in the future.

I should also like to state that the extent and number of new houses proposed in the Horsley’s, area is totally out of proportion to any local requirement, there is no industry or business case for increased housing on this scale which I think is about 40% increase in West Horsley’ if new housing is required it would be better to site it close to where that need really is.

The vast number of new residents commuting in and out of the area would put a massive additional burden on the existing road networks and transport infrastructure that is already buckling under the weight of lack of investment or maintenance by Guildford County Council – Have you tried driving down ‘Long Reach’, ‘Ripley Lane’, ‘The Street’, ‘East lane’ in winter? When flooded and is waisting on the sides.

Where are do the new residents on the proposed of houses are taking the children to school? It would put an unsustainable strain on the local schools. When we moved to this area 12 years ago we struggle getting our son into the local Primary School and there are annual arguments over catchment areas between the local villages just to get children into the nearest Secondary Schools. The proposals do not address these problems adequately they would just make them worse and mean parents would have to drive their children to schools many miles away. What about hospital and Dr surgery?

The increase in housing will also strain the services infrastructure, local sewage and drainage requirements are overloaded.
as can be seen after a heavy downpour water floods over Ripley Lane and The Street between the Railway Bridge and Long Reach due to many natural springs in the area. Localised flooding will of course be compounded by the proposed new homes the plans take no account of this.

A couple of years ago heavy construction lorries were employed at Jury Farm for a couple of months in Ripley Lane and the Road was structurally damaged as a consequence and has still not been satisfactorily repaired. Building in the local area on the scale proposed will never be made good by the construction companies lining up to build on nice Green Field Sites.

I note that in the latest version of the local plan that the Station Parade in East Horsley has been designated a District Centre which is incorrectly identifying the village facilities in order to justify inappropriate development of the area.

I urge the Council to-

a) Think again on a local scale and consider what is actually needed by the people living in the borough.

b) Go back to Central Government and seriously question the whole premise of this notional housing requirement. Do we really need so many houses in such a small area? when it will only compound the pressure on local facilities and have a major negative impact on the local environment, adversely affecting the quality of life of all those currently living around Guildford.

I am sure that there is plenty of room for new housing and properties that could be refurbished in other parts of the country, without the impact to sensitive environmental and designated Green Belt or conservation areas where effort should be put to regenerate both jobs and industry supported by investment in affordable housing.

I really hope you take us serious and try to find a solution.

I object to the Garlick’s Arch site with the change of this land- it is ancient woodland, of local beauty and floods. I object to the 400 houses and the 600+ cars. The local roads are already heavily congested at commuting times let alone with more added, and also the pressure on local facilities. I object to the 7000sqm of industrial units at the Garlick's Arch site. I believe there are other brownfield sites that are more appropriate for industrial units rather than greenbelt land?

I strongly object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. Send will be a cut through and have to take the extra traffic from Woking and Guildford and also the A3 and M25 for the proposed developments at Blackwell Farm, Gosden Hill, Wisley Airfield, and Burpham. Our main road, the A247 is already struggling, with regular crawling traffic/gridlock. The pollution and noise levels are already very high.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers pitches at Send Hill because some the lane is single access and some parts winding and extremely narrow, to add even more traffic to an already struggling road would be dangerous. I have been gridlocked many times with traffic unable to pass along Send Hill and then blocking Potters Lane. It cannot be walked safely as a pedestrian. I used to travel on the school bus that was regularly stuck/trying to reverse to get passed other vehicles. Also I believe, the land is an unsafe landfill site.

I strongly object to the Clockbarn Nursery site with 45 houses because of the very inadequate access and busy traffic. Tannery Lane is very narrow and twisting. It is already very hazardous for traffic from Tannery Lane to join the Send Road. Traffic has to dangerously edge out, and often gridlocks Send Road. We already have the marina development going ahead and 60+ apartments, and I feel that this in it's own right will cause enough traffic concerns.

I appreciate that housing in the Guildford borough is needed but would ask that GBC put every effort looking into Brownfield sites in the urban area before the open countryside.

I would like my comments to be shown to the Planning Inspector and also a confirmation that you have received my communication.

Attached documents:
I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D).

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans. But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016).

My main reasons are…

I object to the Local Plan as the following development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

At least 148 more houses in East Horsley. At least 385 more houses in West Horsley.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT TO THE DRAFT LOCAL PLAN FOR THE FOLLOWING KEY REASONS:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
   a. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   b. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
c. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
d. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
e. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
f. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

8) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

9) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

10) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

11) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)
There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.
The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths. 5000 more houses means dangerous traffic.

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)
Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.
The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)
North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

I object to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3). The Garlick’s Arch (A43) proposal would double the built area in the locality, and would irrevocably damage the character of the Ancient Woodland on the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1).
The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities and sewerage, doctors etc. are at or close to capacity. There are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and police/emergency services to cover the 5000+ houses in the north east of the borough.

The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. I further object to both villages to be taken out of the Green Belt. The new boundary, (called the in-setting boundary) extends the old settlement boundary and includes some fields and open spaces. This means that Kingston Meadows (by East Horsley Village Hall) is included inside the insetting boundary – despite being a valuable green space. Horsley Tennis & Cricket club at the end of Pennymead Drive is also inside the insetting boundary.

This is totally unacceptable. I object to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2) object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk as required by National Planning Policy.
The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)
13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch.

object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)
GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.
The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.
5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages.

I also object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on so much protected Green Belt land.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The Green Belt serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the Wisley site will potentially open the way to creating an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Have exceptional circumstances been established to warrant removing the land from the Green Belt?
- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys.
I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the rural village of Ockham. The plan will mean the village of 159 residences could be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development.

I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars.
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes could result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25.
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

Has sufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI)?

I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents.

I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, will be removed from the Local Plan.

Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

This still proposes to inset East Horsley from the Greenbelt. The development of 100 homes is proposed near Horsley station and over 2000 on the Wisley Airfield. The village of East Horsley (and surrounding villages such as West Horsley, Effingham and Ripley) do not have the infrastructure in terms of transport (roads, parking or rail), schools or medical facilities to adequately meet this increased demand.

57% of new housing proposed is on land that is currently categorised as Greenbelt and this is, quite frankly, shameful as this land is land that was supposed to be protected for future generations.

Since Brexit, forecasts of increasing population numbers have been significantly reduced. The ONS forecast is now only forecasting 10.4% for Guildford, which still intends to increase its housing stock by 22%. This doesn't seem to make sense?

Outlined below are my objections to the Guildford Local Plan.

? West Horsley is defined by Guildford Council as a Green Belt Village.

? Policies in the Governments National Planning Framework (NPPF) require that new building is regarded as inappropriate in the Green Belt.

? These Policies also say that only limited infilling with Housing is appropriate.

? Neither of these policies support substantial new development in the green belt.

? The Councils Proposals total some 500 new dwellings in the green belt, which is clearly contrary to the above policies.
Previous objections to the Local Plan by West Horsley residents have been totally ignored by the council, who have shown no community engagement in producing the current plan with the increase in housing and the expansion of the village contrary to their wishes.

In producing the new Local Plan larger sites are proposed west of Guildford to reduce the pressure on the green belt. No benefit is evident to the residents of West Horsley from this reappraisal and in fact an increased requirement for housing in their green belt is proposed.

The existing roads, schools and health facilities have no plan for funding set out in the plan to address 500 new houses.

Several of the new sites proposed extend the built area out into the countryside, which is clearly damaging to the Green Belt where any new building is regarded as inappropriate in government policy.

The council are proposing new village boundaries which extend the built area outwards into the green belt, again clearly damaging to the Green Belt where any new building is regarded as inappropriate in government policy.

The proposed new development has been focussed on West Horsley with no Special Purpose being defined as required by policy to promote development in the green belt.

The protection of Birds in the special protection area near Wisley requires special consideration within 5 km. All of the sites in West Horsley and the site at Wisley Airfield are within this 5km. Any new development requires the possible effect on the birds to be addressed by the provision of alternative open space to draw residents away from Wisley. Effingham Common has been identified to serve this propose but in order to be usable for this purpose it requires a public car park which it has not got. Common Rights and planning permission issues may well stop this ever coming forward. This puts in doubt the feasibility of the sites in the long term.

For all of the above reasons I object to the Local Plan and request that the minister addresses the green belt points and confirms that West Horsley remains a green belt village, recognises the uncertainty relating to the protection of the birds and that as a result removes the pink coloured sites as development sites from the plan.

Please find below my objections to the Guildford Local Plan.

West Horsley is defined by Guildford Council as a Green Belt Village.

Policies in the Governments National Planning Framework (NPPF) require that new building is regarded as inappropriate in the Green Belt.

These Policies also say that only limited infilling with Housing is appropriate.
Neither of these policies support substantial new development in the green belt.

The Council's Proposals total some 500 new dwellings in the green belt, which is clearly contrary to the above policies.

• I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

• I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

• I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

• I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

• I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I would like to object very strongly to the latest draft of the GBC local plan.

This draft is still proposing to remove East Horsley from the Greenbelt. Development of 100 homes is proposed near Horsley station and over 2000 on the Wisley Airfield. The village of East Horsley (and surrounding villages such as West Horsley, Effingham & Ripley) do not have the infrastructure in terms of transport (roads, parking or rail), schools or medical facilities to meet this increased demand.

The whole point of Greenbelt is to protect our countryside. 57% of the new housing proposed is on Greenbelt land. This is outrageous!

Since Brexit, forecasts of increasing population numbers have been reduced. Why are you trying to increase our housing stock by 22% when the new forecast, since Brexit, has gone down to 10.4%?

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
• I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

• I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

• I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

• I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

• I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars

Appendix 1: Housing Need

Please refer to separately attached report by Neil McDonald of NMSS entitled, “A Review of the West Surrey SHMA as it relates to the Objectively Assessed Housing Needs of Guildford.”

Neil McDonald is an independent adviser and commentator on housing demographics. He works with local authorities and others on the estimation of housing need and related issues.

He was a civil servant and policy adviser to Ministers for over 30 years, the last 10 advising on housing and planning issues within the Department of Communities and Local Government. His 7 years as a Director at DCLG included a posting as Director, Planning Policy and a period as Chief Executive of the National Housing and Planning Advice Unit until its closure in 2010. He left the Department in March 2011 and has since worked with the Cambridge Centre for Housing and Planning Research (CCHPR) as a Visiting Fellow (2012-15), collaborating in particular with its founder director, Professor Christine Whitehead.

Appendix 2: Transport Infrastructure Part 1 and Part 2

These reports, the first looking at highways and traffic, the second at transport other than the strategic and local road network, are prepared by Richard Jarvis BSc, MS, CEng, FICE, FCIHT.

Richard Jarvis is a retired planning and management consultant. He has many years’ experience as a transport planner, managing a wide range of projects in the UK and around the world. He led studies for highways, city planning and public transport. He has acted as an expert witness at public inquiries.

COMMENTARY ON THE PROPOSED SUBMISSION LOCAL PLAN AND TRANSPORT INFRASTRUCTURE

Highways and Traffic

1. The highways network is under stress at peak times in many parts of the borough. Queuing is the daily experience of drivers going to and from work. The Plan recognises the problems in para 2.14. Much of the road network is single-carriageway, and junctions act as constraints.

2. The key evidence on future traffic conditions is provided in the Strategic Highway Assessment Report (SHAR) which summarises the results of the tests carried out by SCC at the request of GBC. Five scenarios were examined using SCC’s strategic traffic model. Scenario 1 contains all developments and planning permissions in the borough from 2009 to date. It represents today’s circumstances, with the addition of growth in traffic to 2031 outside the borough and in Waverley in line with their plan. The results for this scenario correspond to the current unsatisfactory traffic conditions in peak periods.

3. Scenario 5 represents the position at the end of the plan period, including all development and highways schemes in the Plan. The Scenario 5 results show that there will be widespread congestion in the morning peak hour across the network in 2031. The key strategic routes, the A3 through Guildford NE bound, and the M25 between Junctions 10 and 11 will be at or over capacity. The summary network statistics presented in the SHAR, while useful, require some interpretation because the analysis of vehicle-hours is derived from link speeds only, and does not reflect junction delays and queues. The tables that show the ratio of flow to capacity and level of service are especially helpful to gaining an understanding of the conditions on the network in the forecast. Where the forecast traffic volume is above or close to capacity, flow becomes unstable and there is congestion. The SHAR results provide evidence that congestion will be worse in 2031 than it is today on much of the network.

4. It is the case that the traffic modelling does not take into account the potential for increased use of other modes, but the trip rates used for developments already have built in the typical level of use of other modes, and services will be required to meet that need. It is also the case that the model does not allow for park and ride, which would improve matters in the town centre.

5. In order to gain an insight into conditions across the network, it is necessary to combine information from several tables in the SHAR. Table 4.5 shows that the M25 and A3 will be at capacity in Scenario 5. The other roads that will have poor levels of service include those in Table 4.5 but also those in 4.12 (except the A3), and those in Tables 4.3 and 4.4 with levels of service E and F that will not benefit from the improvement of the A3 in Scenario 5. Paras 4.10.3, 4 and 5 point out that there will be increased congestion. Given that the starting point is unsatisfactory, there can be no expectation that the schemes in the Infrastructure Development Plan will provide an overall improvement. There will be some local benefits, such as the Ash rail bridge for example, but in general conditions will be as bad and in many places worse. So the statement in the SHAR para 4.2.5 that ‘the combined mitigation as reflected in Scenario5...indicates that at the strategic level it accommodates the additional PSLP demand’ needs qualifying – ‘at the cost of a lot of queuing’.

6. The cumulative effect of the additional traffic generated by the developments in the Plan will be to increase congestion, even with the proposed highway schemes in place. More detailed analysis of the junctions and queuing is required. So we do not accept the conclusion that the developments would have ‘an acceptable impact on the capacity of the highway networks in terms of the policy test set in paragraph 32 of NPPF’.

1. Appendix 3 of the Transport Topic Paper shows the phasing of housing development and transport infrastructure. The major improvement scheme being studied by Highways England for the A3 between the A31 and the A320 is scheduled for delivery in the period 2023/24 to 2027/28. The strategic developments at Blackwell Farm and Gosden Hill Farm are shown as being phased in from 2021/22 onwards. The Garlick’s Arch development is shown as starting in 2019/20. Therefore there will be a period in which the existing A3 will have to carry additional traffic associated with those developments before extra capacity is provided.

The following comments regarding the strategic sites are taken from the SHAR:

- Blackwell Farm – there will be congestion at the A31 junction, and the problems at the Tesco junction, and the Egerton road /Gill Avenue junction (para 4.9.5). Traffic is likely to access the Surrey Research Park and the RSCH through the development (para 4.7.3)
- Gosden Hill Farm – there will be an increase in traffic through Burpham. There will be pressure on the A3100/B2234 roundabout (paras 4.7.6, 4.7.7 and 4.7.8)
- Wisley Airfield – traffic will increase on minor roads to gain access to the A3 (N and S bound) and to other routes (para 4.7.11). The development will add more traffic to the A3. The Burntcommon slips help alleviate the traffic through Ripley according to the model, but queuing on the A3 could mean this does not happen (para 4.7.14)
- Normandy/Flexford – the report has little to say about the impact of this large development. The increase in flow on Westwood Lane is noted (para 4.5.7). Tables 4.10 and 4.11 show junction delay reducing at the Westwood Lane,B3000 junction, but increasing at the Puttenham Hill/Millbrook junction
- Ash – development in Ash is not specifically addressed, but there are large increases in traffic on a number of roads. The new rail bridge will bring relief (but traffic will move to the next junction)
- Slyfield – there are no remarks relating to SARP, and as there are no additional trips shown in and out of the Slyfield residential zone in Tables 3.3 and 3.4, it is possible that this development has been omitted in error. There is a significant increase in trips to and from the Slyfield industrial zone, which will impact on the A320 and Clay Lane
- Town Centre – the report has very little to say about the town centre. The model results forecast severe congestion on the approaches to the town centre, such as the A281, the A31 Farnham Road, and Woodbridge Road for example. There are no highway mitigation measures in the PSLP for the centre. In the Transport Strategy, GBC states that the intention is to adopt Allies & Morrison’s Scenario 2 which would have the effect of significantly reducing the capacity of the town centre road system. The implications have not been examined in the SHAR, but traffic using the A281 from Waverley, for example, would be affected. The PSLP does include a new park and ride facility at Gosden Hill and the Sustainable Movement Corridor, which is discussed in a separate note.

1. The PSLP does not state an objective for congestion. The two strategic objectives that are included for infrastructure refer to supporting sustainable development and delivering a balanced system. However, in para 2.15 there is an aspiration expressed about opportunities ‘to improve the performance of the road networks through transport infrastructure and service improvements’, which taken with the previous paragraph includes reducing congestion. The evidence so far shows that this will not happen.

2. The mitigation proposed is not sufficient to overcome the problems that will be caused by the level of growth in the PSLP. Congestion will worsen. The network will lack resilience and be vulnerable to disruption due to incidents. Minor roads will have to cope with a lot more traffic, to which they are unsuited. The model results show an increase of 47% over 2009 in Scenario 5.

Appendix 2: Transport Infrastructure Part 2

COMMENTARY ON THE PROPOSED SUBMISSION LOCAL PLAN AND TRANSPORT INFRASTRUCTURE – part 2

1. Appendix C of the Plan includes the following categories of transport infrastructure in addition to the Strategic Road Network and the Local Road Network which are discussed in a separate note:

- Park and Ride
- Sustainable Movement Corridor
- Bus Transport
- Active Modes
- Rail

Each of these is considered below.

Park and Ride

1. There is one Park and Ride project in the Infrastructure Development Plan which is a new facility at Gosden Hill Farm. This is to be delivered by the developer of the site and the Transport Topic paper states that the intention is that it will operate without any public funding with 500-700 spaces. It is expected that the site will be use by drivers on the A3 southbound heading into Guildford town centre (TTP para 5.60). It is not clear how this ‘mitigates the traffic impact of the Gosden Hill Farm site’ (PLSP App C P&R1), though there could well be residents of the new development who may choose to use the P&R bus service. The Park and Ride facility is not related to the proposed new Merrow Station.

2. There is an absence of any park and ride proposal east of the town centre, which would surely benefit from one.

Sustainable Movement Corridor

1. This is an ambitious concept. Policy I3 in the Plan states that the SMC ‘will provide a priority pathway through the urban area of Guildford for buses, pedestrians and cyclists’. It will link the new developments in the west to those in the east via the town centre. It is estimated to cost £70-90m, with funding coming from developers and the Local Growth Fund. The recognition of the importance of sustainable travel is welcome. Connecting new developments to the town centre, as in the case of SMC1 and SMC2, is sensible, but the need for a ‘corridor’ is unproven.

2. The latest information on the project has been supplied in a paper ‘Progress Update on the SMC Scheme’ published by GBC on 6 June 2016. This explains that studies have been carried out for sections 1-5 of the proposed route, and further work is needed. The SMC will use existing roads for the majority of its length, so this means that it will affect the allocation of carriageway between road users. Two design formats have been identified, ‘type 1’ involving separate lanes for the SMC, and ‘type 2’ in which bus priority measures are introduced at congestion sections and interchanges. The majority of the route is likely to be ‘type 2’ according to Table 1 of the Progress Update. This will be challenging because the road width on several sections will limit what can be achieved without a major impact on other traffic.

3. The Plan states in para 4.6.24, that ‘journeys will be rapid and reliable by bus and safe and direct on foot and by bike’. The ability to deliver rapid bus services in peak periods has not been demonstrated. There has been no quantification of the potential demand to use the SMC. Securing funding from the Local Growth Fund requires an economic justification.

Bus Transport
1. There are two projects in the Plan relating to buses. The first is labelled ‘New Guildford town centre bus facilities’. This is essential and the absence of a site for a bus station in the Plan is a serious weakness. Delivering a focus for town centre bus services and the SMC surely should be a key feature of town centre planning. The improvement of bus connections to the station is also needed.

2. The second project is for bus/rail interchange at Effingham Junction station (or Horsley) is desirable if the Wisley Airfield development proceeds.

Active Modes

1. The schemes listed are welcomed.

Rail

1. There six projects listed in the Plan of which four will be delivered by Network Rail as part of their investment programme. The other two are the new stations, Guildford East and West, which will increase rail access to development sites, and the hospital in the case of the West station, and are to be welcomed for that reason.

2. The Plan does not deal with the fact that the Portsmouth/London main line is extremely busy in peak periods. Commuters from Guildford to London frequently have to stand, and this is in spite of longer trains having been introduced. Capacity is limited in the area between Surbiton and Waterloo and this is the focus of Network Rail investment (project NR5) that is scheduled to start in 2029. The growth proposed in the Plan for Guildford will undoubtedly mean more people will want to commute, adding to pressure on the congested services, in the period before the frequency of services can be increased.

Appendix 3: University Student Housing

Background

Guildford is preparing its Local Plan and is trying to identify housing provision for the future. The Council has indicated that there is a particular problem in meeting short-term housing needs (years 1 to 5).

The University has approximately 14,000 FTE students, half of whom live off-campus. This means that around 7,000 students live in the town centre, occupying homes that could be made available for University staff and other key workers. The GRA believes that a policy by GBC to ensure that the University accommodates 80-90 per cent of its students on its existing campuses (which it could implement over the next three years without affecting any existing students) would greatly help the housing situation as it would quickly free up 1,000 - 2,000 lower-cost houses close to the Hospital, Research Park and University.

Dedicated student accommodation would provide a range of other benefits to students and to Guildford:

Better for students:

- It is more affordable for students - there are economies in providing dedicated facilities with communal areas, shared services (such as broadband access and shared laundry facilities). Currently students compete for accommodation on the open market meaning that landlords charge rent outside of term time (when students often do not require accommodation).

- Dedicated accommodation would be more appropriate - it is not unusual that a bedroom in a shared house may be no more than a box room perhaps with no windows, in a conservatory or cold attic. It is not unusual that flatmates need to pass through a bedroom to visit the bathroom, use the kitchen or even to get to the front door. Purpose-built accommodation does not present any of these problems.

- Living on campus would be safer for students. Some students are living in cramped, substandard conditions. The condition of dedicated student accommodation would be easier to regulate (provision for fire escapes etc). It is also easier to ensure safer travel for students at night through the provision of transport.

- Students would have the benefit of a guaranteed residence throughout their studies. Not all first-year students were allocated rooms on campus last year and many struggled to find accommodation in the town, which caused stress.
• Students can still enjoy the benefits of town life. Unlike many universities, the University of Surrey’s main campus at Stag Hill is just a stone’s throw from town centre so students will not miss out on Guildford’s night life etc.

• Students perform better - Several US studies have shown that students who live on campus perform better academically than those who live off-campus (see http://www.iub.edu/~caepr/RePEc/PDF/2010/CAEPR2010-002.pdf)

Better for Guildford:

• There would be fewer traffic movements, and fewer problems with students parking in residential areas. Students living on campus are less likely to bring cars. (In parts of Ashenden there are four cars per student house) NB. In 2002, the University promised that Manor Park would be a “world-class car-free campus”.

• If there were a dramatic swing in student numbers in the future, voids in student residences could be passed back to offer homes for local people, such as nurses. Plans for the new student accommodation at Walnut Tree Close already allow this.

• There will be improvements in neighbourhoods vacated by students, such as Onslow Village and Park Barn, when the houses provide accommodation for families and key workers throughout the year. Businesses in Guildford Park Avenue have struggled and some have closed down because local houses are occupied for just 30 weeks of the year. It would also help to tackle issues (described in the Local Plan Issues and Options document) “with noise and disturbance, car parking and sometimes with the general upkeep of the rented property”

• Under a 2004 Section 106 agreement (Section 15), Hazel Farm will be released by the University to provide housing for Guildford once 2,500 units have been built on Manor Park. Whilst the site cannot be used for family housing (because of its proximity to Whitmore Common SPA), Natural England would allow the site to be used as a care home. The usage would seem appropriate given the ageing population often cited as being a reason for population growth, and it would help towards Guildford’s housing supply numbers.

Is this a viable option?

• There are precedents for having nearly all students live on campus - seven out of the top-10-ranking US universities accommodate more than 86% of students on campus - Harvard has 98%. In the UK, Oxford City Council’s Local Plan includes a policy which limits the number of students in the private housing market to 6,000 out of a student population expected to reach 40,000 in the near future.

• The University has ample space on its Manor Park and Stag Hill campuses to provide this accommodation.

• There would be no cost to the University. The University could opt for a lease/leaseback deal with Unite (one of the main student accommodation providers), which would include a five-year fix on student rent with a pre-emption on buy back for the University.

Some numbers in detail:

According to the University website, it provides the following number of beds:

Stag Hill: 3,002
Hazel Farm: 349
Manor Park: 1665
Total: 5,016

From the 2011/12 Financial Review, there are the following students:

Undergraduates: 10,878
Postgraduates: 3,157
Research: 1,174
Total: 15,209 (NB this includes some part-time, so the Full Time Equivalent (FTE) number is 13,576)

Student preference is an argument that the University has used in order not to build its student housing.

1) The majority of students attending Oxford University are not given the option to live in shared accommodation in town, and this does not prevent them wanting to go there.

2) Many students actively want to live on campus and want the security of knowing that they have a roof over their heads for three years. The student halls are filled every year. A number of students, for example in Onslow Village, would have preferred to remain on campus, but say they were unable to do so.

3) In 2002, when the University was pushing to take Manor Farm out of green belt, it argued that students wanted to live in student halls and that not having enough on-campus accommodation meant that it was losing students to Kingston. It also stated the following:

“The provision of on-campus accommodation for over 60% of students is a benefit of very substantial significance. On-campus accommodation is cheaper than renting in the private sector and students are closer to the University’s facilities. Other benefits include a subsequent reduction in housing demand in Guildford, further enhanced by the release of University land at Hazel Farm for general housing provision.” - University of Surrey, Manor Park Non Technical Summary (para 19/20), November 2002.

The University now promotes the opposite argument suggesting that students prefer to live in town. Pressure for housing in the town suits the University's case to develop its land holding on the green belt.

4) GRA is not being suggested students currently attending UniS should be forced onto campus. This policy would only affect future students, ie those currently studying for their GCSEs. Future candidates would be applying to Guildford in the knowledge that this was a "campus university" in the true sense of the word.

5) It would be possible for the University to encourage students to live on campus by making the accommodation cheaper or by including accommodation costs within the student fees. Exceptions could be made for students who were married with families or who wished to live with their parents or who had other good reason for living in town.

Letter and Reply

Cllr Paul Spooner
Leader of the Council and Lead Councillor for Planning and Regeneration

Guildford Borough Council

17 May 2016

Dear Paul

Link between infrastructure and development in the Local Plan

Site Allocation Policies A24, A25, A26 and A35

Following the Executive meeting on 11 May, I am writing to ask you to change the wording of your proposed policies designed to make development of strategic sites contingent on timely delivery of infrastructure.
We are concerned that the very strong statements being made by the Executive, that permission will not be given for development without requisite infrastructure being in place, are not reflected in the Plan. We ask for this to be put right before the Proposed Submission Local Plan is issued for consultation by the Council.

Could you please ask your lawyers to provide a stronger formula than have regard to which is simply too weak and will not work. Much time has been spent in Parliament firming up intentions that a have regard to clause has failed to deliver.

- Developers will drive a proverbial coach and horses through “regard will be had to the delivery and timing of delivery of”.
- There is also a danger that “or otherwise alternative interventions which provide comparable mitigation” will be used to justify a sticking plaster approach and to avoid investment in durable measures.
- We are also concerned that, as worded, the much needed Site Allocation policies on infrastructure could undermine the first paragraph of Policy I1 which states that “infrastructure needed to support development should be provided and available when first needed to serve the occupants and users of the development.” and “Where the timely provision of necessary supporting infrastructure is not secured, development may be phased to reflect infrastructure delivery, or will be refused.”

Weaknesses in the policies are made all the more critical by:

- the quantum of development proposed in combination with the scale of the infrastructure deficit identified by Surrey County Council
- the small proportion of infrastructure scoped, costed and in approved programmes
- conversely, the majority of infrastructure required being as yet poorly defined and reliant on inclusion in programmes beyond the current Spending Period, being either at the tail end of, or beyond, the Plan period.
- the poor track record of infrastructure being delivered in practice during the Structure and Regional Planning eras. The intention may be there to improve this under the new arrangements but the new system is untested.
- the immature status and lack of clarity around local infrastructure schemes.
- the possibility that decisions on planning permission will be made by inspectors, and not Guildford Borough Council, and that development may be determined at the outset by a new category of “in principle” permission.

Given this context, it seems to us that you are asking residents to take much on trust. In view of your clearly genuine intention, as Council Leader, to ensure that development is contingent on infrastructure being in place when required, we ask you to ensure your Policies A24, A25, A26 and A35 are redrafted to achieve this.

Kind regards

Hi Amanda,
I had seen this and asked Planning Policy to consider this as a consultation submission for review. To be absolutely sure please also resubmit during the formal process!

I agree with the sentiments of the letter.

I object in the strongest possible terms to the expansion of Guildford as represented by this local plan.

I object to development within the green belt and In sight of the AONB.

I object to the proposed development at site A26 Blackwell farm where an independent landscape evaluation study (funded by Compton, Worpleson and Wanborough Parish Councils) has identified most of the development site as meeting the criteria for an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). The study will now be forwarded to Surrey CC/Natural England with a request that Blackwell Farm is included as a candidate area in the forthcoming AONB boundary review.

The PCs were prompted to do this when it was brought to their attention that Blackwell Farm had been omitted from Surrey CC's landscape evaluation on behalf of Surrey Hills AONB Board (despite a previous study suggesting that it was likely to meet AONB criteria and merited assessment)

Transport survey for A26 Blackwell Farm.

Compton PC and Compton Village Association have jointly commissioned a Technical Note by traffic consultant RGP to look at the implications of the Blackwell Farm development, and the proposed new link road from the A31. The results show:

- The road infrastructure costs associated with providing a new route into Guildford from the west (linking the A31 to the Tesco roundabout) are far in excess of what has been estimated in the Local Plan and would not justify a development of this size. The scheme is therefore economically unviable.
- The new 4-way junction proposed at Down Place on the A31 would require more land-take than the Local Plan has suggested - it would involve widening the A31 bridge over the A3. No money has been allocated for this bridge-widening scheme and there is no indication that Highways England has approved it. Given the traffic flows, it is more likely that a large roundabout would be needed at this junction and this would severely impact the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

- The new highway scheme, which provides access to Blackwell Farm, will increase congestion on the A31, B3000, and at the Gill Avenue/Egerton Road junction, which serves the A&E unit at the Royal Surrey County Hospital
- All the options for vehicles coming from the A3 north into the site would result in an increase of traffic manoeuvring through junctions that have poor accident records (eg Puttenham Interchange). No transport infrastructure requirements for the site have been identified to address the u-turning problem on the A31 (although we know SCC is trying to close the East Flexford gap).

I object to the proposed development at Slyfield which omits to show improved road systems and would lead to traffic gridlock.

The full consequences of the proposed local plan are enormous and are only now emerging. For example, even if all the proposed highway improvements in the Plan were built, congestion would not improve. We would just have a lot more people stuck in traffic and traffic would get a very great deal worse to start with. In our area, Stoke next Guildford changes we would be likely to experience include:

- the expansion of Guildford along the A3. Development of 2000 homes on Gosden Hill, by Burpham, is a particular local concern
- more traffic from the major development sites coming in on the Stoke Intersection and London Roads
- roads near us, such as Stoke Rd, and York Road, being even busier due to other more central routes being closed to through traffic, pedestrianised or used for development
- pressure for high density development eroding character in our area

It is a matter of choice by our Council that Guildford would expand on this scale. Many residents were prepared to support our Council in the need for some sensitive, measured expansion. However the scale of what is proposed is far from this.

Other Councils are applying “constraints” to their overall housing number. This is allowed. By contrast, Guildford is proposing to release so much land for development that we could end up being asked to meet housing need for neighbouring towns. We find ourselves in the bizarre situation where it is suggested we sacrifice our countryside in order to protect countryside around Woking.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

There is much to be welcomed in this policy and text.

4.5.5 and 3.5.6 We need a Local Plan Development Management Policies Document urgently. We will be vulnerable without development control and design policies in place. Can relevant policies in the 2003 Plan be saved, at least to fill the gap?

The policy to “provide convenient and safe routes through the development and to nearby areas for pedestrians and cyclists” is particularly welcome given experience of developers failing to provide this.

We warmly welcome the addition of promoting green approaches to 4.5.8 which reads “The relationship of the built environment to the landscape must be taken into account and the transition from urban to rural character will need to be reflected in the design of new development with the green approaches to settlements respected.”

However, this approach should go beyond respecting to promoting. We propose that green approaches – both soft green edges to settlements and greenerly along roads into settlements - are such a valued, distinctive feature of Guildford that this should be in the policy itself to guide developers. For example, “green approaches to settlements and” could be inserted after “with” in the following:

“All developments will:...promote and reinforce local distinctiveness to create a sense of place, with [green approaches to settlements and] innovative architecture encouraged and supported in the appropriate context.” We suggest “and supported” is superfluous.

Green approaches to settlements are just as important as innovative architecture in Guildford. Promoting green approaches is a dynamic concept not a brake on development. It affects how you do things and applies equally well to the design of settlement extensions and to managing change in established areas. We rely so heavily on green approaches to shape change for the better at inquiries and when responding to applications. It will become more important during a period of growth if we want to retain the qualities that distinguish Guildford and prevent it being a “could be anywhere” town.

Monitoring Indicators

Again we are concerned to avoid perverse consequences, with the possibility of reluctance to refuse due to poor design to avoid the risk of unsuccessful appeals.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

“a new retail-led, mixed-use development of 45,000 sq m (gross) of additional comparison goods floorspace on the North Street regeneration site within its primary shopping area.”

We question the wisdom of expanding retail floor space on this scale given the demand from competing priorities in our constrained town and given the need to ensure resilience for the high street in the face of trends in retailing.

“approximately 1,172 new homes, particularly on upper floors as part of mixed use developments; ”

Homes should not be confined to upper floors and care needs to be taken to ensure development heights are stepped to reflect the rise of the land. Extensive residential storeys, all on one level on top of large retail units, should be avoided.

Vision

The objective of giving pedestrians priority needs to be qualified. The extent of pedestrian areas needs to be tempered by the reality that Guildford is a crossing point in the downs and that its geography is not amenable to a ring road strategy that normally accompanies extensive pedestrianisation. If central roads are closed to through traffic, vehicles will be displaced to more residential and rural roads with unacceptable consequences. Further, steep slopes mean there is a requirement for access to transport along the length of the main shopping streets to help those who cannot cope with the gradients. This means you cannot adopt an approach of bus stops around the periphery of the retail area with no central interchange.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

4.2.1 We question the wisdom of adding you want to meet “demand”. For example, there has been demand by foreign investors for homes to be bought as an investment and left vacant.

“Development that results in the net loss of housing or specialist housing, including sites allocated for housing within the Local Plan will not be permitted.”

This should be qualified with ”normally”. It will be necessary to be able to make adjustments to the number of homes given permission “in principle” or in outline where a site survey shows that the envisaged number of units cannot be accommodated without causing unacceptable impact (eg space is needed for sustainable drainage). Also, within the context that some town centre properties are changing from business to residential, it may be appropriate to make some changes from residential to business. In some instances, it may not be inappropriate for a house in multiple-occupation to be reinstated as a family home.

Density- Policy and Justification

We strongly welcome this approach with an overall presumption and decisions taken on what is appropriate on a case by case basis. This has been a game changer in enabling positive schemes in Guildford. Previous targets were too blunt to be useful having no relevance where higher densities could be achieved and driving harmful schemes and avoidable appeals in those instances where a lower density was appropriate.

Students

“We expect 60 per cent of the University of Surrey eligible student population (full time equivalent) to be provided with student bedspaces and accommodation on campus.”

This percentage is far too low given the mix of pressures on Guildford as a university, London commuter belt and constrained gap town. We have a thriving University that is an engine for our economy and also for population growth. With that comes responsibility. We ask the University to provide far more campus accommodation making it attractive so 80-90% of their students will want, and expect, to live on campus. This will free up much needed affordable homes in the town. (See comments on Soundness and Annex 3)

This has been reviewed in detail by Richard Jarvis, a qualified civil engineer and expert in transport planning. His reports of the transport modelling and non road proposals are attached in Appendix 2. Also see comments on questions 1 to 3.

The transport infrastructure proposals are best summed up by “too little, too late”.

The Sustainable Movement Corridor is only shown as a concept. Its reliance on existing roads means its impact will need to be assessed and we do not have any indication of use. For example, will London Road traffic be deflected along Epsom Road and what will happen to queuing time at junctions for traffic that is not prioritised?

An appropriate site for a central bus interchange, so you can go in any direction from one point, has not been allocated.

There is no additional road bridge over the river and railway for our physically divided town.

We strongly welcome the Leader’s clear call that development should be contingent on infrastructure delivery and the policy that infrastructure should be available “when first needed”. However, policy I1 needs to be considered alongside the infrastructure proposals in Site Allocation policies A24, A25, A26 and A35 184-192, 211- 212 for strategic sites. These are discussed here to avoid duplication.
The following wording is of concern: “regard will be had to the delivery and timing of delivery of the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends, set out in the Infrastructure Schedule in the latest Infrastructure Delivery Plan, or otherwise alternative interventions which provide comparable mitigation.”

We believe the weak wording “have regard to”, on which this policy hinges, needs to be tightened. Also the option of alternative mitigation could be used to justify a sticking plaster approach and to kick infrastructure provision into the long grass. We refer to our letter in Appendix 4 and the positive reply from the Council leader.

We are delighted to see reference to an A3 tunnel beyond the Plan period but we are concerned that land is not safeguarded for entrances or works areas. Even for projects within the Plan, it is not clear that all requisite land has been safeguarded (eg railways stations and sustainable movement corridor).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We very warmly welcome improvements to this policy which better captures the importance and value of the AONB.

We further suggest the following clarifications to avoid ambiguity:

- It is most important that “promote its enjoyment by the community and visitors to the area” specifies “enjoyment of its special landscape qualities”
- After “proposals will be assessed on their individual merits, add, “as to whether they are consistent with conserving and enhancing the special landscape qualities.”.
- The text should note that potential AONB will be based on landscape assessment by Natural England on behalf of the Minister and may include land not currently designated as AGLV.
We suggest the monitoring indicator is inappropriate. It should track absence of major development (which is in principle harmful to the statutory purpose even when deemed in the public interest) not avoidance of appeals. The currently proposed indicator could encourage the perverse behaviour of avoiding appeals.

We welcome this policy and ask that reference is made to the recently increased climate change allowances required when considering flood risk. Policy S1: Presumption in favour of sustainable development

We appreciate that this is model wording. However, experience since this was first produced now shows that this wording is inadequate to communicate accurately to users of the Plan:

1) the concept of sustainable development including the five guiding principles

2) the policies in the NPPF as a vehicle for achieving sustainable development

3) the positive presumption in favour of sustainable development,

While fully appreciating that it is important the Local Plan does not duplicate the NPPF, the reasoned justification could usefully clarify the three components of policy S1.

“4.1.6 Our preference is to focus growth in the most sustainable locations, making the best use of previously developed land (including in the Green Belt if appropriate). “

Need to be clear that in Green Belt openness is the determinant. Hence, previously develop open land should not be preferred.

“4.1.8 Whilst these sustainable locations are our preferred locations for new development, they are unable to accommodate all of the new development we need. We will therefore release allocated land for development in other areas. “

This policy sequence moves too readily to allocating green field sites and omits to encourage efficient use of previously allocated land or initiatives to assemble brownfield sites. This reflects weaknesses in the Council’s own approach until recently. There is a risk the policy as drafted will also encourage developers to turn too readily to greenfield sites rather than to engage in redevelopment initiatives.
There are errors in the development need identified and the harmful consequences of meeting need have not been weighed in an appropriate assessment.

“13,860 new homes,” The OAN on which this is based is exaggerated.

“4.1.10 This is a higher level of development than experienced in Guildford borough during the previous Local Plan period, and represents an increase in new homes and employment floor space in line with the aims of NPPF, NPPG, our Economic Strategy, and the best available information on the likely levels of development required by 2033.”

Constraints have not been applied arising from an assessment weighing meeting needs versus harm. Need is exaggerated.

“4.1.12 Table 1 shows a number of new homes that is greater than the figure in the policy. This is to build flexibility into the plan and demonstrate that our strategy is capable of delivering the target. Further details of these and other sites are provided in the site allocations policy of the Local Plan.”

It in inappropriate to designate more land than required given the constraints.

Monitoring Indicators

There is no indicator to track the location of development and the objective that overall brownfield land will be developed first.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

GRA Comment: Key parts of the evidence are missing, flawed or based on withheld assumptions. The Strategic Housing Market Assessment overstates housing need, the Green Belt and Countryside Study uses a flawed approach and the Transport evidence is too late and incomplete to be relied upon to inform the Plan.

Strategic Housing Market Assessment

The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.

A professional review by NMSS (see Appendix 1) has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year. It also advises the SHMA method should be changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effect of students on the overall Objectively Assessed Need (OAN) forecast.
The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to

• failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
• issues with the way it considers students and affordability, and
• flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.

The SHMA needs to be revised, and the proposals based upon it reconsidered, before the Plan can be viewed as ready for submission to an Inspector. In addition, an immediate start should be made on calculating student requirements separately using a consultant with appropriate expertise. It is probable this exercise will reduce the OAN.

Revision of the SHMA to take account of the consequences of the vote to leave the European Union has been proposed by a number of consultees and the Council leader. The NMSS SHMA Review makes an important contribution to the way ahead in several respects by showing that:

• even with a relatively strong pre ‘Brexit uncertainty’ economy, and using a stronger trend period than the one used by GLHearn for migration flows within the UK, the GLHearn OAN figure was too high.
• simply making a few post ‘Brexit uncertainty’ adjustments to economic and demographic need, as currently calculated by GLHearn, would not be an adequate response because their approach to the economic data is flawed and they have not corrected for large errors in the historical data on international migration,
• student flows should be better understood and separated out to avoid distortion of the forecasts and, especially given the significance of flows of international students in Guildford, separate modelling of the student population will become more significant in future.

NMSS has advised that the new projections issued on 12 July 2016 should make little difference in Guildford as the household formation rates on which they are based are not significantly different from the 2012-based set.

It is most disappointing that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld by GLHearn so that the whole process cannot be cross checked. This means the OAN taken from their SHMA cannot be substantiated.

Green Belt and Countryside Study

This does not value appropriately the “fundamental aim” of Metropolitan Green Belt or look strategically at options for developing instead in major settlements beyond the Green Belt.

• The way Green Belt is parcelled up and scored is invalid: serving 2 Green Belt functions well is as legitimate as serving 3 to 5 functions. The Green Belt sensitivity analysis is not a valid basis for informing decisions. Eg It could be argued the sweep of open countryside rising up Gosden Hill, as you approach Guildford along the A3, is highly prized.
• Proposed removal from the Green Belt of a number of relatively small sites where development of an exceptional nature has taken place, plus adjoining land, has lost sight of the scale at which Green Belt is effective.
• Assessment of which villages to take out of the Green Belt does not adequately consider that villages contribute to the openness of the Green Belt as seen from surrounding AONB.

Transport Evidence

This has been produced very late and is incomplete and untested to the extent that the Plan is not ready for a Regulation 19 consultation.

• It is emerging that the Strategic Highway Assessment shows there will be congestion, even with all the highway schemes in the Plan. Many questions remain unanswered. We assume various inconsistencies are errors (eg 1000 homes on Slyfield generating no extra traffic). More information is needed to understand how much congestion will occur, and where. This has not been provided in time to inform Plan proposals or responses. The analysis points out problems across the network and does not support the claim that the highways network can accommodate the additional demand arising from the Plan.

- The available evidence shows that the Sustainable Movement Corridor is in a preliminary stage of development. The information provided indicates that it cannot achieve its intended objectives along much of its route due to narrow roads and pinch points. The original concept has had to be diluted and impact on other routes, demand and an economic business case are required. The very concept of a single linear route as appropriate for Guildford is unproven.
- Evidence on bus travel is fundamentally compromised because no clear and workable location for a bus interchange is proposed.
- No information has been provided on the demand for and capacity of rail services. The main line to London is already extremely busy in peak periods.
- Information about the town centre as regards traffic, buses and parking is lacking in the Plan. The Plan does not address the traffic issues in the town centre. The Council has announced its intention of implementing the Town Centre Master Plan which includes making better use of the asset of the river. We submit that the Plan should include the protection of a route for a new bridge connecting the east and west parts of the town across the railway to maintain accessibility and to provide greater resilience in this key part of the road network.

For more detail refer to Appendix 2.

Please Note: Additional transport information has been requested which it was not possible for Guildford BC and Surrey CC to provide in time for this submission. A list of the relevant questions has been submitted. GRA wishes to reserve the right to follow up aspects of this submission where lack of transport information (data or model assumptions) or absence of clarification leads to gaps or errors in analysis and observations.

Guildford Retail and Leisure Study

This is an improvement but the credibility of the case for massively expanding retail space is undermined by trends in retailing and by the repeated failure to implement the North Street development. The economic value of the green and historic character of Guildford is not adequately considered.

Air Quality and Noise

NO2 emissions need careful monitoring in view of some sites being close to limits, revised estimates of premature deaths, issues with vehicle emission controls and misplaced optimism regarding congestion. Traffic noise from the A3 should also be reported.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
GRA Comment: The Plan preparation process has had inadequate regard for national policy which attaches “great importance” to the “openness” and “permanence” of Green Belt. The test of “exceptional circumstances” that might justify allocating Green Belt land for development in a Local Plan has not been rigorously and transparently applied at a strategic level.

The Sustainability Appraisal seems to have lost sight of the concept of Sustainable Development as described in the National Planning Policy Framework to the extent that we question whether it complies with the requirement.

Green Belt

It is unacceptable to treat Green Belt as a readily available source of development land during Plan preparation, notwithstanding that this is the time when any boundary review deemed necessary takes place. Any such review should be mindful of the “great importance”, “openness” and “permanence” of Green Belt and take a long term perspective towards this planning mechanism.

The Mayor of London intends to respect London’s Green Belt boundary.

The test of “exceptional circumstances” that might justify allocating Green Belt land for development in a Local Plan has not been rigorously and transparently applied at a strategic level. Releasing Green Belt to fund infrastructure (eg “support delivery of A3 junction upgrades” or “facilitate delivery of new strategic infrastructure including a rail station, park and ride and a secondary school”) or to fully meet exaggerated need does not pass this test. Nor does building on open, previously-developed Green Belt.

Opportunities to channel development towards locations beyond the outer Green Belt boundary, linked to sustainable transport and the duty to cooperate, have not been adequately considered at a strategic level. This assessment should involve more than just looking at a small area of countryside within the borough immediately beyond the Green Belt boundary, or indeed the rather meaningless Housing Market Area.

In view of the extent of the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, Special Protection Area and Green Belt in Guildford Borough, which restrict the availability of land suitable for development, it is important that the potential for sustainable travel is considered. This needs to be balanced against the option of minimising distances between work and home which is usually treated as a more sustainable approach.

It is not credible to suggest the Green Belt is being treated as permanent when its boundary was changed as recently as 2003 as part of the last Local Plan review. Indeed, land released in 2003 is neither fully developed nor efficiently used. An approach of eroding the Green Belt at each Local Plan review without considering the bigger picture is not sustainable. Proposed erosion of Green Belt to development and “insetting” in this Plan should be put in the context of cumulative loss. Since the Metropolitan Green Belt was established, just over 6% has been lost (6.24%), noting that a modest proportion of Green Belt lost to “insetting” will be protected as open space in villages.

If there is a case for Green Belt development, this would need to have been proven through the application of policy. In addition, careful thought would need to be given to the pace at which Green Belt is developed using a long term reserve site approach. It would be unsustainable to release all potential last resort greenfield options within one plan period, denying future generations any such options.

The Green Belt and Countryside Topic Paper is cause for concern on the issue of Green Belt safeguarded for development. It suggests in paragraphs 4.64 to 4.71 that the Plan will not safeguard sites for future development because so little land can be identified and more strategic solutions will be required. It concludes that any further Green Belt development would result in ribbon development, a stretched urban area and merging of villages with the urban area*. In view of the fact that such ribbon development would be wholly unacceptable, the more strategic approach referred to in paragraph 4.70 is required now. The current Local Plan review should both constrain the overall scale of development in this Plan and also very carefully pace any releases deemed necessary over several generations.

*4.68 “Given the limited central ribbon within which development could potentially occur, safeguarded land in Guildford would result in an unsustainable pattern of development. It would create an oblong-shaped urban area...”
4.69 “there will inevitably be a limit to the extent that Guildford urban area can expand before it would begin to merge with surrounding villages. This would have a detrimental impact on the character of the countryside and our rural communities.”

4.70 “…a more strategic approach to growth or protection will need to be considered, in cooperation with our neighbours.”

Sustainability Appraisal

The extent to which the current Sustainability Appraisal fails to test the sustainability of the spatial options in a meaningful way casts doubt over whether sustainability has been assessed. The report

- accepts the Council’s corporate objectives, which have not gone through proper consultation, as consistent with sustainable development when they are not,
- treats various major development sites in Green Belt, contrary to the importance attached to protecting Green Belt, as “a given”,
- fails to consider options that constrain development or that make greater use of brownfield or previously-released greenfield land,
- focuses on a range of options that involve developing on even more Green Belt around Guildford in order to protect countryside around Woking
- does not consider environmental limits or impact on the next generation in terms of weighing demand for homes alongside the use of all possible last resort greenfield options by one generation.

The National Planning Policy Framework requires that objectively assessed needs should be met unless:

- “any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in this Framework taken as a whole;
- or specific policies in this Framework indicate development should be restricted.”

The specific policies described include several of particular relevance to Guildford including sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives, Sites of Special Scientific Interest, Green Belt, Local Green Space, Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations at risk of flooding. In this situation, we do not consider it appropriate for the Appraisal to rule out not meeting needs in full from a sustainability perspective.

Notwithstanding that the Sustainability Appraisal should be proportionate, realistic, strategic, and look at significant matters, the assessment appears deficient and biased in the spectrum of alternatives it considers to the point that it is questionable whether it meets the requirements.

We note that the Government’s Local Plans Expert Group has advised (March 2016) that “Whilst we recommend significant reductions in other elements of the local plan evidence base..., we propose that a proportionate Assessment of Environmental Capacity should be an important part of plan making.” The group confirms that “Objectively assessed needs for all types of development are the starting point but it is then necessary for the authority to consider the extent to which the plan can meet those needs consistently with the policies of the Framework.” They continue, “Despite the clear test set by paragraph 14 of the NPPF, few authorities compile an assessment of the environmental capacity of their area, making it difficult for Planning Inspectors to apply the NPPF policy”. They go on to say “We recognise that the NPPF does not require authorities to meet the full identified need for development in all circumstances, even within the Housing Market Area, if there is insufficient environmental capacity but we encountered significant uncertainty about how the appropriate balance should be struck. We make recommendations to remove that uncertainty and to confirm the legitimacy of applying the tests set out in the NPPF to ensure that needs are met up to the point where the adverse effects of doing so can be shown to outweigh the benefit of meeting the need.”

An adequate Sustainability Appraisal, which considers environmental capacity alongside social and economic aspects of sustainable development, should enable reasonable alternative scenarios to be tested against environmental capacity. We suggest the alternative scenarios selected, ranging from fully meeting exaggerated need to also meeting all of Woking’s need that would be unmet due to the application of constraints, did not test a meaningful spectrum of options. Indeed, it seems bizarre to place such emphasis on developing Green Belt in Guildford to protect countryside in Woking.

The Expert Panel was concerned at the number of authorities that cannot demonstrate soundness because they have constrained development without adequately testing the point at which adverse effects of meeting need can be shown to outweigh the benefit of doing so. The concern is that Guildford has gone the other way: it has been so eager to get the Plan through that it has failed to give sufficient weight to harm to the environment from fully meeting need, such that it proposes an inadequately tested option that would constitute unsustainable development.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

GRA Comment: It is unsound and unsustainable to develop on the scale proposed. The overall housing target (13,860 new homes) and 40% increase in retail space should be reduced to take account of the constraints of our gap town and growth in online retailing. Opportunities to provide greater accommodation on campus for university students, to provide more homes as part of the North Street development, to plan the river corridor achieving flood risk betterment, to promote sustainable commuting and to open up access across the railway for our physically divided town have not been considered positively.

We do not consider that the proposed housing target of 693 homes a year is soundly based, notwithstanding the intention that this should be skewed to later in the Plan period or the aspiration that this should be linked to timely delivery of infrastructure. We are also concerned that a target of “about 695” homes a year and a focus on strategic sites in the Green Belt were suggested very early in the Plan-making process and we would be concerned if the Plan had been prepared around these working assumptions.

Green Belt and Sustainability

The Council’s case set out in the Green Belt and Countryside Topic Paper paragraph 4.62, is as follows: “We consider that in general terms there are exceptional circumstances that justify the amending of Green Belt boundaries in accordance with the NPPF, paragraph 83. Our evidence base identifies a high level of need for market and affordable housing (including traveller accommodation) and employment. Given the extent of Green Belt across the borough (89 per cent) and the lack of sufficient suitable and deliverable sites located outside the Green Belt, to not amend boundaries would lead to a significant undersupply of homes compared to the identified needs – approximately half. The consequences of this within Guildford would be to exacerbate the existing affordability issues and have an adverse impact on economic growth in the area, which would lead to unsustainable commuting patterns. Each addition or removal to the Green Belt is also separately considered above and in the Housing Delivery topic paper.”

We do not accept this assessment.

• The NMSS SHMA review indicates that the evidence base exaggerates the level of housing need and that the employment housing need assessment is flawed. Increasing housing supply beyond the level suggested by the demographic OAN would not have a discernible effect on affordability but simply mean more people who can afford high prices moving to the area.
• We submit that the economic need should be tested on a sector by sector basis and that the priority given to retail expansion should be questioned.
• Suitable deliverable alternatives, such as significantly increasing campus accommodation, thereby freeing up homes in the town, and provision of more homes on North Street in lieu of a 40% increase in retail, have not been pursued.
• Options for meeting revised need in larger settlements beyond the outer Green Belt boundary linked to sustainable transport have not been fully explored.
• The option of not fully meeting needs in recognition of constraints, including Green Belt, has not been balanced against the positive and negative consequences of fully meeting need (as revised) as should happen in a meaningful Sustainability Appraisal that takes account of environmental capacity.
• Commuting by sustainable means, especially in the context of the current high levels of inward- and outward-commuting, should not be dismissed as an unsustainable option in all the circumstances.
• It would be irresponsible and unsustainable to use up all potential least-worst, last resort Green Belt sites within one plan period.
• High-added-value, knowledge-based businesses and homes should be given priority over expansion in retail land.

Constraints

Guildford is physically constrained being a gap town set in the Surrey Hills AONB and in Metropolitan Green Belt. Significant parts are affected by the Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area. There are also notable areas of river, surface water, groundwater and sewer flood risk. Constricted road and rail routes converge to cross the downs seeking to avoid both high ground and floodplain. These compete with housing for land and there is no space for road widening or a conventional ring road approach. High rise buildings would be inappropriate due to the important contribution views and the rise and fall of the land make to both urban and rural character, including the nationally significant Surrey Hills AONB. The river and railway divide the town and there are too few crossing points; a further constraint. Air quality and traffic noise are not insignificant considerations in some locations.

The Local Plan process envisages that the housing target should be lower than the “objectively assessed need” if there are valid constraints. GRA considers it would be harmful to rural, suburban and urban character, quality of life and the economy of Guildford not to reduce the new housing units delivered by 2033 to a number significantly below 13,860. We submit it would be counter to sustainable development as a whole (in particular to living within environmental limits and achieving a sustainable economy) and contrary to policy to develop on the scale currently proposed. We are concerned that insufficient attention has been paid to cumulative impacts with constraints considered separately for each site.

Transport infrastructure is also a constraint. Current congestion is severe by any meaningful definition and there is a backlog of infrastructure investment. Assessment of the very late and incomplete transport evidence by expert, Richard Jarvis, using the information made available to date, indicates that the overall effect of completing the proposed schemes and development in the Plan would be congestion to a level that makes it hard to conclude that the test in paragraph 32 of the NPPF is passed. See extract below and Appendix 2. Any notion that building 13,860 homes is going to deliver infrastructure that will overcome Guildford’s traffic problems seems misguided.

“The cumulative effect of the additional traffic generated by the developments in the proposed submission local plan will be to increase congestion, even with the proposed highway schemes in place. More detailed analysis of the junctions and queuing is required. So we question the conclusion that the developments would have “an acceptable impact on the capacity of the highway networks in terms of the policy test set in paragraph 32 of NPPF.’”
“The mitigation proposed is not sufficient to overcome the problems that will be caused by the level of growth in the proposed submission local plan. Congestion will worsen. The network will lack resilience and be vulnerable to disruption due to incidents. Minor roads will have to cope with a lot more traffic (47% more than in 2009), for which they are unsuitable. “

In view of the extent of physical constraints, protective designations and congestion, it is likely that even a more accurate, lower OAN housing target would need to be constrained.

We submit that Guildford BC should:

° revise the SHMA to make corrections and to better account for student need
° undertake a proper assessment of constraints, informed by a strategic Green Belt review and a Sustainability Appraisal that tests environmental capacity and considers meaningful alternatives to establish an appropriate balance between adverse effects and fully meeting (revised) need ° test the transport evidence that should inform the plan and which points to congestion.

Any housing figure adopted in the context of considerable uncertainty would need to be kept under regular review.

If any land releases were deemed necessary following a rigorous, strategic and accountable approach to Green Belt review, these should be measured and paced, arising from a robust assessment of the balance between benefits and adverse effects, taking full account of environmental capacity.

Guildford has not currently provided the evidence to derive a housing figure arising from such a process. It is notable that Woking has proposed constraining its OAN by 50%.

In Guildford, if one uses a revised OAN of 10,200 over 20 years (510pa) and assumes no Green Belt development and that 50% of need can be met through positive initiatives in the town, this results in a target of 255 [check] homes pa which would be below the previous target of 322pa. This reinforces the extent to which Guildford is constrained. This would be broadly consistent with the urban capacity assessment undertaken for the last Surrey Structure Plan and with the concern about the risk of town cramming in Guildford identified in the SE Plan.

If one uses a revised OAN of 10,200 over 20 years (510pa) and assumes 20% of all last-resort Green Belt land is released to development in each of the next three Plan periods, this results in a target of 340pa [check] for the current 20 year Plan period.

More strategic solutions, such as development beyond the Green Belt linked to sustainable commuting or a tunnel for the A3, are required now. They cannot be left until the next Plan period as proposed.

Neglected Opportunities

A more sound and sustainable approach to planning positively in Guildford should include greater emphasis on the following:

- Campus accommodation:

  Higher priority should be given to providing attractive campus accommodation so a very high proportion of university students will want to live on campus thereby freeing up affordable homes in the town. Significantly, this could deliver homes within the challenging first five year period of the Plan.

  There has been some late progress towards meeting the modest 60% student accommodation target agreed in the previous Plan as a result of residents expressing concern at the lack of progress in meeting the undertakings in the previous 2003
Plan. However, the opportunity to increase significantly the proportion of university students attracted to live on campus has not been pursued. Neither nostalgia by decision makers for student days spent living in shared houses in the town, nor eagerness by the University to support a case for development on Blackwell Farm, should deflect attention from the opportunity to free up homes in the town for use by others. Nor is it adequate to reject the possibility of increasing campus accommodation by saying the percentage is at the higher end compared with other tertiary institutions or to be sceptical about uptake and funding. We need to plan positively to find sustainable ways to sustain a thriving university in a constrained, commuter belt gap town.

Appendix 3 provides more information on the opportunity.

- Flood risk:

  Higher priority should be given to work on integrating flood risk management and development in the town centre. The 2014 Draft Local Plan failed to include a Flood Risk policy and was not informed by a flood risk sequential test or Level 2 Strategic Flood risk Assessment. Subsequent application of the necessary tests has resulted in some residential allocations being removed and some zone 3 non-residential allocation proposed under the exception test.

  Overall, progress has been painfully slow in planning positively along the river corridor in a way that achieves flood risk betterment and also enhances the natural and built environment. Time was lost with a first iteration Town Centre Master Plan that paid insufficient attention to the significant flood risk. The margin required for climate change reinforces the importance of factoring in flood risk and moving away from the old approach of seeking to justify development in even the functional zone 3 floodplain.

- Sustainable commuting:

  Far more attention should be given to the potential for enabling sustainable commuting recognising that Guildford has a high-value-added economy in a constrained gap town. Rather than destroying the qualities that underpin the town’s economic success by overdeveloping, the scope for making it easy and affordable to commute by sustainable means from less constrained settlements should be pursued as a priority, both for the short and long term.

  The context is that levels of both inward and outward commuting are extremely high. Almost half the working population commutes out to work and almost half of the workforce commutes in. In many households, occupants work in different locations and people do not necessarily move when they change jobs. In 2001, more people commuted out to Rushmoor than vice versa and more commuted in from Waverley than vice versa.

  In a Guildford context, the aspiration that more people should live where they work needs to be balanced with other sustainability considerations.

- All-direction, central bus interchange:

  Failure to identify a central location, and to allocate appropriate land, for an attractive all-direction bus interchange in the town is a grave failing that undermines the soundness of the Plan and should be addressed as a matter of urgency. A central interchange is needed in view of levels of congestion, the gradients involved in town centre journeys, the limited options for crossing the railway and river, and the need to provide sustainable transport options to support complex commuting and travel patterns.

- Town centre plan:

  Better progress, and a more joined up approach, in town centre planning is required. The slow pace has meant opportunities for coordinated brownfield development are not available as part of this Plan. The need to have brought forward town centre options in a timely way should have been foreseen. Guildford had already used up its green field sites within its Green Belt boundary by the time of the 2003 Local Plan.

  It is a problem that Guildford BC has chosen to tackle the town centre after the Plan via an Area Action Plan in which it intends to incorporate Scenario 2 from the A&M/Arup proposals that will reduce highway capacity in the centre. This prevents joined up planning. For example, the Plan should face up to implications of constraints being applied to roads such as the A281, A31 and A322.
• New cross-town road bridge:

An additional bridge over the river and railway is required to improve connections across the railways and river for our physically divided town. We want to see the townscape improved, with better use of the river. Achieving this, while maintaining accessibility, will be much easier with a new crossing.

Sustainable Choices

Given the scarcity of land arising from being a constrained gap town, the Plan should consider a wider range of sustainable strategies than simply expanding across the board.

• Balance between retail expansion and town centre homes

The Plan should weigh the case for a 40% increase in retail space, especially given trends in internet shopping, with the opportunity to provide accessible and sustainable town centre homes. Increased town centre housing provision for the elderly could also have the beneficial knock-on effect of freeing up existing family homes. All types of town centre housing would help support the evening economy.

The wisdom of such massive retail expansion, on top of already generous retail provision, needs to be challenged in view of the fate of the High Street in many places. The mix of homes and retail, with its relatively low added-value, in the North Street development should be reconsidered. Residents were dismayed that the Bellerby theatre site was used for yet another supermarket rather than primarily homes.

• Balance between high-value-added, knowledge-based economy and retail expansion

Similarly, the mix between land allocated to the high-value-added, knowledge-based economy in the town and to retail expansion should be carefully reviewed. Knowledge-based enterprises yield returns between 3 and 4 times greater than retail.

Planning ahead

In order to deliver sustainable development, it is important to plan ahead. Sites for entrances and, in the shorter term construction areas, for an A3 tunnel through Guildford should be safeguarded.

Attached documents:
We welcome the approach adopted by local councils in Surrey of working together based on Memoranda of Understanding, although we note that neighbouring Waverley has not signed.

We are concerned that the Strategic Housing Market Area is not meaningful and omits nearby communities in Hampshire, such as Rushmoor, that are very important for planning housing, employment and transport in Guildford. Further, a strategic approach to Green Belt planning and commuting requires cooperation with more distant communities with transport and economic links. Aldershot, Frimley and Portsmouth are all relevant to Guildford.

Within the somewhat arbitrary Strategic Market Area, differences in approach have a distorting effect, as seen in Guildford’s Sustainability Appraisal.

Several large developments are proposed in neighbouring Plans that would have a very significant effect on Guildford and it is of concern that the impact of these has not been specifically addressed as part of Guildford’s Local Plan process.

There is no discussion in the transport papers about the traffic generated by Dunsfold or Cranleigh wanting to use Guildford’s roads. For example, the A281 is forecast to be far over capacity at Millbrook. Guildford BC is saying, in its views on the Town Centre Master Plan and the Transport Strategy, that it wants to opt for Scenario 2 which means a reduction of say 30% in capacity. So what will happen to traffic from Waverley that wants to go to the hospital or University? Will it try using the B3000? This does not appear to have been thought about.

Guildford Residents Association (GRA) has

- engaged positively in the Local Plan process from the outset,
- agreed “Aspirations for Guildford” and Local Plan consultation responses with the support of 26 Residents Associations and four Parish Councils,
- encouraged and supported residents to participate in the Plan-making process
- through contributions from residents groups, raised funds to commission an expert to review the SHMA, and
- drawn on the knowledge of environmental, planning, engineering, flood risk management, economic, commercial and transport experts to inform its contributions.

GRA does not consider the Plan to be sound for the reasons set out and we wish to make the case for changes we consider necessary to achieve this. These concerns, which relate to the overall approach, manifest themselves in policy throughout the Plan. Hence, our interest is overarching rather than confined to specific issues.

We would like to participate in all matters at the inquiry on behalf of the many residents who have worked together to establish a collective voice through the GRA. We would also like to be accompanied by an expert witness for the SHMA and for transport-related matters.

Residents wish to register concern and disappointment at the poorly judged decision to produce, promote and spend public money on a film to represent the views of “some residents”. A number of those “residents” represent institutions that have interests in proposed development that were not declared. There was no attempt to achieve balance. The film was inconsistent with the fair approach proposed in the Statement of Community Engagement. Use of the video on the Local Plan homepage could bias the Regulation 19 consultation. The suggestion that housing proposed will make a material difference to affordability or that congestion will be solved by development is to be tested. Indeed, the traffic evidence was not available when the video was produced and some of the data needed to assess congestion is not yet available.

1. SRN1 and SRN 6 should be reinstated.
2. The addition of LRN 23, LRN24 and LRN25 is supported.
3. The funding sources for many of the Local Road Schemes have been changed to ‘Developer’ only. The highway authority, SCC, is not proposing any schemes of its own. Is this due to lack of funds, or a belief that nothing more is needed?

The addition of BT5 and BT6 is supported

Chapter 2 Key facts about the borough

1. The changes to paras 2.13, 2.14a, 2.14b and 2.15 are welcome. In para 2.15, the text now says that there are opportunities improve the capacity of the road network, rather than performance. This is more realistic and fits with the plans. However it does not match the ambition of the Transport Strategy to ‘address the historic infrastructure deficit’.

28. Policy A26 Blackwell Farm

The addition of a six form entry secondary school will add to morning peak hour traffic demand on a road system that will be under pressure.

There are still fundamental flaws with the latest draft of the proposed Local Plan that need rectifying.

Members of Stoke next Guildford Residents Association, are so concerned about the local plan they contributed twice to the Guildford Residents Association fund to hire expert Neil McDonald.

Please find attached latest version of Neil McDonald’s report. It has a minor addition on pages 19 and 20 which advises ONS has said there is an issue. This further strengthens the case for revising the Guildford population change projections ie the demographic housing need.

Behind the scenes Neil has had his report peer reviewed and agreed in various quarters. You may like to be aware that the Waverley inspector accepted Neil’s demographic analysis as opposed to that of GL Hearn, which lends further weight to his Guildford analysis.

A report from the Protect Our Waverley campaign group on the Waverley Plan Inquiry is well worth a read. It is available on this link: http://powcampaign.org/report-examination-public-27th-june-6th-july
From this link you will also see that GRA concern about Guildford being asked to meet Woking’s unmet need was borne out at the Waverley Inquiry. This increases the importance of applying constraints in Guildford prior to Plan submission (just as Woking did).

Stoke next Guildford RA located just south of Stoke Crossroads predominantly Josephs Road and north Stoke Rd is an area where residents suffer the worst air quality almost 29 times more polluted than anywhere in Guildford except the town centre traffic lights, a Surrey University study revealed in 2015.

This far exceeds EU safe limits!

Traffic pollution was recently placed in the top ten health risks faced by human beings globally, with the World Health Organisation linking air pollution to seven million premature deaths every year,” said lead author of the research, Dr Prashant Kumar, from the University of Surrey.

At the town centre stakeholder meeting briefings of 21.7.17 it was revealed the proposed Sustainable Movement Corridor and the LEP proposal has been watered down and will be incapable of delivering the modal shift and reduced congestion required. Also without an A3 tunnel which would have linked benefits for the entire Enterprise M3 area, ie not just Guildford, increased congestion would add further to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits.

See attached report by GRA Transport expert, Richard Jarvis’s updated comments on the transport aspect of the Plan which support the case that transport infrastructure is a constraint even with all the proposed measures.

Stoke next Guildford RA most strongly urge the council to use all available constraints including transport infrastructure in the local plan for congestion fuelled air pollution reasons. Residents frequently cannot exit onto Stoke Rd as the congested traffic from the lights tails back to the Guildford College roundabout and Guildford is already euphemistically known as a car park.

27. Policy ID3 Sustainable transport for new developments

The change from ‘will expect’ to ‘will be required’ in point (2) is supported. The similar revised wording in point (7) is also supported.

The lack of specificity about the Sustainable Movement Corridor makes it difficult to make an informed comment on point (3).

In para 4.6.28, the aim of achieving a modest modal shift is noted, and also that the road schemes in the plan will ‘mitigate the principal adverse material impacts of this growth in traffic volumes’. It is realistic to recognise that there will be congestion on the road network in peak periods. However, the problem is that better evidence is required of what conditions will be like both halfway through the plan period and in 2034. The risk of them being unsatisfactory (perhaps unacceptable) is significant. Point (11) is noted but it is not clear that any of the town centre sites included in the plan would involve additional off-street car parking.

Q 1 The evidence base and submission documents

Doc Ref T12a Addendum to 2016 Strategic Highway Assessment Report: high level review of potential key changes in the Guildford borough PSLP: strategy and sites June 2017

1. This presents a qualitative assessment of the effect of the changes made to the 2016 plan on traffic forecasts. Essentially, because the amount of development in the plan has been reduced, GBC’s argument is that things will be better than estimated in 2016. We can readily agree that where development sites have been removed, notably as in the case of the Normandy/Flexford strategic site, the forecast traffic level will be lower in the vicinity of the development. However, there are some sites where the planned development is now greater than in 2016. There are also potential changes to plans outside the borough to be taken into account, such as Dunsfold Park, which may have significant consequences for Guildford, as was pointed out by SCC and GBC in their submissions to Waverley in response to that planning application. The trip rates used in the forecast assume a level of public transport use and an appropriate level of bus services.

2. On the evidence provided by the SHAR based on the 2031 traffic forecasts using the SCC traffic model, congestion will be widespread in peak periods across much of the highway network, including on strategic routes. The A3 and M25 are forecast to be at or over capacity. The cumulative effect of the additional traffic generated by the developments in the plan will be to increase congestion, even with the proposed highways schemes in place. Interpreting the model results is not straightforward, as was pointed out in response to the 2016 consultation. Table 4.12 is significant – showing the roads with the ten largest ratios of flow to capacity for Scenario 3, which includes all the planned development but not the major strategic route improvements on the A3 and M25. There is no equivalent for Scenario 5 (i.e. with the strategic improvements), but we can infer that all the roads in Table 4.12 will be at or over capacity in Scenario 5.

3. With regard to the comments on Policy A6: North Street redevelopment (page 9), the model used for the Strategic Highway Assessment is not sufficiently detailed to provide a satisfactory assessment of conditions on the town centre road network. This has been recognised by GBC and has led to the commissioning of more detailed analysis using a simulation model. Added to which, there is uncertainty over the highway capacity implications of the Sustainable Movement Corridor in the town centre and possible changes to the town centre gyratory, as discussed in the draft Town Centre Regeneration Strategy, which indicates that the intention is to reduce the capacity of the town centre network. The experimental closure of Walnut Tree Close is already being planned. Taking into account the demand forecast on the A281, the A322 and A31 in Table 4.12, the consequences of such a reduction will be far-reaching.

4. Policy A26: Blackwell Farm has been amended and now the proposed development includes a secondary school with up to six form entry. This will add to morning peak hour traffic which was not included in the 2016 modelling. The SHAR findings indicate that there will be congestion in peak periods on the network that will serve this development. The A3 will be at or over capacity which means that the network will lack resilience, as it does today. The roads connecting to the town centre will continue to be under pressure. The SMC concept is more advanced on this section than elsewhere, but the effect on capacity has yet to be established. There will be queuing on the A31 on the approach to the new signalised junction that will give access to the Blackwell Farm site. The A31 is regarded as a key route by the LEP and LA partners.

5. The improvement to the A3 is obviously critically important to the Gosden Hill Farm development. We do not have the benefit of analysis of the proposed new slip roads giving access off and on to the A3 S-bound carriageway, nor an understanding of the implications of the SMC for the allocation of highway capacity on the local roads. What is self-evident is that the pressure on local roads in Burpham is already intense in peak periods, and these roads are not suited to carrying large volumes of traffic. Under the plan, congestion is very likely to be worse than today. The proposed Policy A24 Slyfield development will also add demand to the A320 and roads in Jacob’s Well.

6. The change to Policy A29: Land to the south and east of Ash and Tongham involving more houses means that there will be more traffic locally. While this will not be ‘major’ in terms of the borough as a whole, it will be significant locally. Ash and its surroundings will be impacted by the large Wellesley expansion in Aldershot. It is not clear to what extent the modelling reported in the SHAR allowed for this development. The pressure on the A331 and the roads connecting Aldershot to Guildford and Woking will increase.
