I would therefore urge Guildford Borough Council not to countenance any development at the Wisley Airfield site and to considerably reduce the planned housing increase in the Horsleys.

1. The number of houses needed in the Borough was changed between the first and second issues of the draft plan indicating that there is considerable uncertainty in this figure and the basis and method of calculation. In view of the recent EU referendum vote and its impact on future immigration, the number of houses required is likely to reduce further. With smaller house numbers the need for any loss of the Greenbelt should be reassessed as 'special circumstances' necessary for reclassification have not been established.

1. Other infrastructure.
   Is there adequate power, drainage and sewage provision for industrial development and is there sufficient school, medical and similar provisions for domestic expansion?

2. Light and sound pollution.
The area enjoys fairly dark skies for its proximity to London. Any additional development will add to the light pollution unless provisions are made to ensure strict control of any additional lighting. Please consult Guildford Astronomical Society. It already suffers from noise pollution from the A3. Traffic noise pollution seems inevitable if development proceeds

If included in the plan, provision should be made for strict control of noise and light pollution emanating from the site – particularly at nighttime.

The sites contain a substantial number of trees many of which are quite mature and must make a significant contribution to the Borough's carbon reduction target. It seems perverse that planning permissions have been refused because of the impact on the individual trees whilst the wholesale destruction of woods seems inevitable if these sites are included.

It seems difficult to reconcile these two extreme positions.

If included in the plan preservation orders should be placed on appropriate trees as a minimum requirement.

I would like to object to the inclusion of this site in the draft local plan for the following reasons:

1. 2. This sites was introduced at the last minute and there has been insufficient time for consultation before its inclusion in the draft plan.
3. This development will add to the disproportionate burden on the north east of the Borough.
4. There is a question as to the suitability of the land for building purposes.

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.
National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

. I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

. I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

. I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

1. I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan. The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.
The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians. The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)
Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?.

.  I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy ID3
Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not adress Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

1. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

2. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Sustainability Appraisal

This indicates that the Council’s preferred ONA option is Option 4 – ONA plus 14%. This cannot be justified. If the SHMA has been calculated correctly, and the ONA correctly extrapolated from it, there is no need to build in a buffer of over 1,600 homes in excess of SHMA (or, as in another place, 1,900). This is over-development to the equivalent almost of Blackwell Farm or Gosden Hill. Either of these projects could be cancelled or much reduced with no effect on meeting the SHMA.

Conclusion

There are huge difficulties in bringing forward a plan that will satisfy everyone. But the proposals (which I have just skimmed across above) are built on shaky foundations, are not explicit enough in detail and paint a picture of over-commercialisation of the Guildford environment.

One of the critical factors is whether an A3 tunnel would be built. Only once decided can plans begin to come together of what the housing need will be, particularly in the Burpham area. If those plans continue to include Gosden Hill, no housing should be built until the tunnel has been finished.

If there is to be no tunnel, the immediate need would be for a four-way road interchange just north of Potters Lane. A two way in Burpham spells disaster for Burpham and Jacobs Well.

Turning towards my own area in Burpham, I am astonished that the proposed Gosden Hill development has been so badly thought out in terms of the effects it will have on the existing Burpham area, particularly that of increased road traffic. The effects will ‘knock on’ to the wider area of Guildford.

“Guildford borough’s historic environment is intrinsically part of what makes Guildford the place it is. The historic environment includes many important heritage assets, both designated and undesignated, that contribute to the borough’s character, sense of place and quality of life”. Agreed. This is crucial to the identity of Guildford. One of the things that makes it feel historic is its firm boundaries. The Plan proposals elongate the town, detracting from its sense of separateness from its surrounding environment. In particular the proposals to the east (Gosden Hill and the nearby villages) mean that the definition between town and village becomes blurred and ends up as urban sprawl. It also represents a further increment towards being absorbed by outer London.

“The NPPF requires planning authorities to plan proactively to meet the development needs of business and support an economy fit for the 21st century. Paragraph 21 requires the Council to “support existing business sectors” and to “plan positively for the location, promotion and expansion of clusters or networks of knowledge driven, creative or high technology industries”. This has already been done. It needs to go no further. Just because there is a demand from profit-motivated organisations does not mean that the public sector has to respond – i.e. give way. The identified need at the University is for student accommodation. The land being sought for research development should be set aside for that accommodation and thereby ease the pressure on the Green Belt.

This policy, significantly, omits mentioning young, single people. Their housing needs are not being met by the Plan. Even “affordable housing” is simply beyond their reach in this area. This is a crucial omission as the Plan makes a point of the fact that there is a skills shortage in the area. There must be a direct correlation between this and the lack of availability of truly affordable housing. Young people are moving away.
“We want a flexible housing stock that helps meet the wide range of accommodation needs so we will expect new homes to be flexible, accessible, adaptable and age friendly.” This sounds fine, but where are the developers who will design cheap and acceptable (in the planning sense) houses for young individuals and young couples? GBC, quite rightly, states that any development must be of high quality. But quality comes at a price that young people simply cannot afford.

Guildford desperately needs a local plan which meets a vision of, amongst other things, providing much-needed, additional housing and the infrastructure to cope with the consequent increased demand, not only from within the borough but from outside. The plan is also an opportunity to restructure the transport element of the town’s infrastructure in a way that efficiently meets current and future needs.

I do not underestimate the task that this represents and would like to be able to support the proposed Submission Plan. However, I find that omissions of information, lack of firm commitment to, or clarity about, particular infrastructure issues and a fundamental shift towards the reshaping of our town mean that I cannot do so.

The need to meet the infrastructure demands of the present and the future, in terms of any Plan submitted to the Secretary of State, are critical. The Plan does not give sufficient assurances that the water, sewage, electricity, roads, medical and teaching needs will be met. For example, unless a four-way interchange is developed just north of Potters Lane on the A3, Burpham will reach crisis point in terms of congestion. Congestion equals pollution, i.e. reduced air quality. Air quality will also be an important issue for any development at Gosden Hill and needs to be properly assessed.

“The A3 Guildford scheme is subject to feasibility study and then progression through Highways England’s Project Control Framework during Road Period 1. As a result, the scheme could either be the widening of the existing A3 carriageways or a tunnel option”. The most likely north entrance for a tunnel at the north east end of the town would be at Gosden Hill. It is, therefore, absurd to consider building houses on this land until a decision has been reached on whether a tunnel will be built.

‘Sustainable Movement Corridor’ – it is impossible to see how this will work. Physically, in Burpham it would involve a significant widening of the road which would totally destroy the character of Burpham’s ‘Main St’. It is also difficult to see how this would affect behaviour given that most people would be afraid to use it, given the traffic volumes, and any would simply be incapable of using it. There are a lot of older people in Burpham.

“The main aim of Green Belt is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open”. This policy need go no further. However, the proposals in the Plan make significant inroads into the Green Belt in direct contravention of the NPPF. The NPPF states that planning permission should only be granted in very special circumstances.

Cumulatively, the housing need is becoming critical. But it is not very special. These circumstances have crept up upon us over a period of decades and it is only the magnitude of the problem which is causing the current anxiety. However, this anxiety can be reduced significantly by a realistic calculation of the ONA, a better assessment of need and land availability and a stringent application of the affordable housing principle which does not allow developers to change their ‘offer’ half way through.

This policy is not sustainable, although a firm definition is not provided in the Plan. This is an expansionist policy and does not sustain the Guildford environment for future generations. They will wake up to ongoing urban sprawl which removes increasing amounts of the Green Belt and increases the prospect of merging with, at the least, Woking, and, at worst, London.

The erosion of the Green Belt, engendered by the Plan, will remove significant amounts of land which are currently used by the community to exercise and find enjoyment in open space. Even the “A3 boot sale” at Nuthill Fruit Farm is a day out in the country for thousands of people. This will all disappear.

- This states, “Our preference is to focus growth in the most sustainable locations, making the best use of previously developed land (including in the Green Belt if appropriate).” As previously stated, why do we have to focus on growth? A better strategy for the residents of Guildford, as evinced by the number of protests about this and the previous version of the Plan, is containing and maximising what we have.
- “There will also be opportunities for rural exception sites which are small-scale developments providing affordable homes in locations where new homes would not usually be appropriate”. The Plan gives no reason why these sites should now be regarded as unexceptional. It is a deliberate move to make the numbers up at whatever cost.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Growth

One of the key themes of the Plan is that is seeks to stimulate economic growth and retain Guildford’s economic competitiveness with other towns. It is this very adherence to the growth mantra that has caused the town’s problems:

- the transport infrastructure is creaking because there are so many people trying to get in and out of the town. This will only be exacerbated by building more out-of-town housing complexes;
- housing is in short supply because the town has had a policy of attracting more and more businesses, thereby increasing demand for more homes;
- skilled labour is in short supply because we have attracted these same businesses;
- there is a tacit acceptance that because people want to live here, we have to accede to that demand.

We are a prosperous town with what we have. We do not need to grow in order to retain that prosperity. Guildford will always be popular, for its historic interest, quality of housing, surrounding countryside and, as far is business is concerned, its affluent population. Growth simply leads to urban sprawl and the merging of unique areas – and, in Guildford borough’s case, these are unique historical areas.

Rather than expand the University of Surrey Research Park, the land should be used for the housing that will, under GBC’s plans, be placed in the Green Belt.

Guildford’s aim should be to be the best at what it is or already has. Better housing, better facilities, better research facilities, better education, better care, and a better environment for its population (not a gradually worsening environment through the Plan proposals). These should be the guiding principles. Guildford should not succumb to pressure from developers whose only interest is profit.

Brexit

The Plan is pre-Brexit. The Surrey Advertiser tells me that the SHMA will be looked at in the light of Brexit. But it also quotes Cllr Spooner saying, “we will revisit both the SHMA and the employment land needs assessment (ELNA) prior to the submission of the local plan to the secretary of state”. If this consideration changes the SHMA and, therefore, the ONA, it must surely change the whole basis of the Plan. People have already commented on the proposals based on pre-Brexit figures and assertions. Everyone who comments on the Plan will have to do so before any re-assessment is made. Morally, politically and practically, GBC cannot submit the Plan to the Secretary of State without receiving the views of the Guildford residents and its organisations in the light of these latest developments.

SHMA/ONA

It is completely undemocratic that the SHMA is not available for scrutiny. How could GBC enter into a contract where it is unable to assess the validity of the assumptions and calculations that are built into one of the most important calculations that affects Guildford’s citizens? How am I to know whether the calculations are skewed in some way – particularly towards the desires of developers.

All other views I have seen regarding the ONA, at 693, condemn it as ludicrously high. Independent research is casting significant doubt over this figure. It needs to be re-assessed in the light of this research (and the Brexit considerations) and a revised Plan needs to be re-submitted to the public for comment.

Concluding Comments

The views I have expressed above are based on my experience as a resident in this area for some 16 years and have experienced the various traffic routes which are in issue with the current proposals, as a regular driver at peak and off peak times. It is inevitable that an increase of residential housing and industrial use at the level proposed, brings an increase in the population and traffic.

The current infrastructure (medical, educational and policing) is clearly at its limit to provide for the current population. GP appointments on the day of need are already difficult to obtain and requests to make an appointment at a future date becoming quite a rarity. Police visibility is no longer valued it seems. It is said that resources now need to be matched to risk for example, cyber crime, historical crimes against the vulnerable, and other areas of major crime. Patrol presence is a feature of policing long ago, and is no longer in the best interests of the community (National Council of Police Chiefs). In accepting this as a feature of national policing policy and practice, I remain more concerned that increases in a population still carries with it potential conflicts between individuals and cars.

Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane

I object to the development proposal for 45 houses, again because of inadequate access and volume of traffic. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and has a number of bends making additional traffic an obvious non starter. It is already hazardous for vehicles attempting to join the main Send Road. Planning permission has previously been given for 64 apartments at the Tannery and building a Marina, both of which will generate additional heavy traffic.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Garlicks Arch

I object to the development of some 400 houses plus 7000sq m of industrial and warehousing building on the Garlicks Arch.

The Portsmouth Road is often used as a substitute for the A3 in terms of speed and bad driving, which would multiply with the level of additional traffic which must be anticipated with the proposed development on this site. I live in nearby Send Marsh and often see instances of drivers taking high risks in pulling out of Send Marsh Road into the Portsmouth Road. Again the potential for quite serious traffic collisions would be increased from the level of the increase in traffic flow along the Portsmouth Road. This particular junction is badly in need of traffic safety measures as it stands, the increase of significantly more traffic would increase the potential for collisions to an unacceptable point. The consequences of an accompanying increase of heavy goods vehicles associated with the proposed industrial site are self evident.

The thought of a major increase in traffic flow facing local people needs to be seriously considered before any approval is given to the local plan.

A3 Interchange

I object to a new intersection as proposed. It would lead to an increase through Send and surrounding villages which the existing infrastructure is unable to withstand.

Send in particular would become a permanent through route for traffic avoiding the A3 Northbound during the morning peak hours. The reverse would apply in respect of the A3 southbound for the evening (5pm-7pm) traffic flow.

Send Hill development

I object to the development of another 40 houses and 2 traveller site pitches on this site. The area is a popular beauty area, which fits the Green Belt designation. Access for the new residents would be via a very narrow single track road, again impacting on traffic passing through send villages.

I object to local villages within the above area being removed from the Green Belt. Send has grown over the years and I feel is at its capacity now. It is also a popular through route for traffic which frequently comes to a standstill at peak times for people making necessary journeys to work and schools. Some of the roads in the village are too narrow for current traffic flow and will therefore be unable to carry the inevitable additional vehicles.

I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

- There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
- The site is liable to frequent flooding.
- The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
- There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

I object to the employment strategy and impact at Garlick’s Arch (A43) (Policies E2 and E5)

There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy II)

There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.

The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths. 5000 more houses means dangerous and unsustainable traffic.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy II)

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43) which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 or M25 would have to be improved before any development is done. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

The Plan should develop the existing brownfield site at Burnt Common rather than developing Garlick’s Arch (A43).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities of the villages.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough, which is too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough; it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. Furthermore, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land; all are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.
The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is for making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced by a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is, in the scheme of industrial development, relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

| | I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions. The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated. I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London. Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back. Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints. | What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document? |

| | POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes | I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions. | |
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital; where is this assessed and remedied?.

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.
2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I would like to register an objection to the above named local plan and the above section for the following reasons:

1. Impact of traffic on Send village and neighbouring villages as a result of an additional 400 homes being built. Improvements to road network in the form of two new slip roads is not expected till between 2021-33 and at a cost of £10m each it is highly likely they will never be delivered.
2. The addition of 400 homes to the small village of Send is a disproportionate amount of development and there is a complete lack of provision for Doctors Surgeries or Schools.
3. The creation of a second employment area in Send when there are existing industrial units at Burnt Common Nurseries and space to expand to satisfy the demand. The proposed mixed development will cause issues such as road safety due to mixing commercial and private vehicles in the development. Secondly the proximity of the industrial units to the residential may put of potential tenants concerned about restrictive working hours.
4. The Garlick’s Arch site is in the Green Belt and used for agricultural purpose. Any development will result in the loss of rural employment.
5. The Local Plan is misleading in that it does not explain that Policies A43 and A43a are intrinsically connected due to the owners of Garlick’s Arch gifting the land for the slip roads on condition of receiving planning permission for housing.
6. The deliverability of Garlick’s Arch in 0 -5 years is highly questionable due to the following – Garlick’s Arch being in Flood Zone 3, Four electricity pylons running through the centre of the site, Ancient Woodland dating back to the 16th Century, Pollution levels currently recorded, No existing screening protecting the site from noise or visual impact of the A3.
7. The Garlick’s Arch site replaced the Burnt Common Nurseries Site which was included in all previous drafts of the local plan and was allocated for industrial use and housing. Whereas the Garlick’s Arch site is Green Belt and has never been previously developed the Burnt Common Nurseries site has been previously developed and includes three industrial units totalling 50,000 square feet. This site was previously highlighted as key to meeting the industrial needs of the Borough.
8. The last minute inclusion of Garlick’s Arch means that it has not been threw the rigorous scrutiny that all the other sites have.

I live in West Horsley and object to the Guildford local plan. I strongly OBJECT to West Horsley and the surrounding area being taken out of the green belt.

This will undoubtedly lead to even more houses being built in the future, increased population density and over crowded spaces. We paid a premium to move to this lovely area and do not want to watch it turn into a less desirable area.

I commute to central London 5 days a week, the trains are already very busy with the current train service, which quite simply would not be able to cope with a larger number of commuters.

I object to your Local Plan because of the way it totally ignores Green Belt constraints.

Brownfield land should be used for building before any green fields. Housing numbers must reflect real local need not developers' wishes and your proposed housing numbers are considered far too high by everyone who has looked at them closely, except GL Hearn's sub-contractors who are keeping their working methods a secret. It would seem that not even you know how they were arrived at. The Metropolitan Green Belt was conceived for the benefit of all and must not be ignored or considered an easy target for building land.
You campaigned to protect the Green Belt prior to your election to the council and you should now be ashamed of yourselves for backing this iniquitous Local Plan. There are so many procedural and planning errors by GBC and its consultants that this plan must be rethought. All protected sites and nature reserves must be conserved, the Green Belt must be maintained and the wishes of your electorate must be listened to. Remember you are public servants there to serve your constituents and not to bully us into accepting this appalling Plan.

Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites: June 2016

I am writing to make comment on the above in respect of West Horsley.

The proposed number of new dwellings proposed for the 4 parish development sites (385) is excessive and would result in an increase of 35% on the current number of homes. I object to this most strongly as it will change the character of the village entirely and without any increase in infrastructure cause a dramatic strain on local service such as roads, schools and medical facilities. There would be an increase of at least 1500 residents and probably 1000 cars and this seems in complete contradiction to Strategic Policy S1: Presumption in favour of sustainable development.
Of particular concern is the current level of flooding in the village which should be covered by Policy 11 waste water infrastructure in which West Horsley is not mentioned. The gullies in this part of the village were recently cleared which is a good thing but the result of this in the following storm downpour was that the water cleared by the gullies then shot out of the manhole in Ripley Lane like a tropical waterfall causing the road to flood. What effect would an extra 385 dwellings and their waste water have on this infrastructure?

There is no evidence of the need for this number of homes in West Horsley. Local surveys show that there is the need for a small number of affordable homes for local people not large estates. The proportion of dwellings proposed for the green belt areas is disproportionate to those proposed for brownfield sites in Guildford itself which are much more sustainable being served by Public Transport, employment and other facilities. It is a mark of shame that GBC appears incapable, and has been for many years, of facilitating development of the vast tracks of derelict land it owns in and around North Street which could provide large numbers of dwellings for young people and others who may wish to downsize as well as families.

1. HOUSING NUMBERS

It is suggested that 693 houses per year need to be built, totalling 14000 over the next 20 years. How can residents be asked to believe such a figure when

- this is double the number calculated by GBC 4 years ago
- GBC refuse to share with their customers (ie borough residents), information on the key elements and inputs to the model used.

The figure produced represents a 25% increase in borough housing stock and thus population. Given the massive impact this will have on the borough, its calculation elements must be opened up for proper local scrutiny and debate. Additionally, following the recent BREXIT vote, some assumptions of a diminution in housing stock pressure over the 20 year time horizon should now be considered.

3, GOSDEN HILL FARM a25

The proposal is to build on green belt, but the draft local plan does not provide any evidence of the exceptional circumstances that are required to justify such use of green belt land. This is unacceptable.

Planning applications for this land have been turned down in the past - what's changed???

The 2000 homes proposed is about the same as the existing size of Burpham. Traffic impact on already congested London Road and New Inn Lane will be unsupportable (see traffic comment above).

Some mention is made of a new rail station at Merrow, which would allow commuting to London, without driving to Guildford. Again this appears to be aspirational only, as no plan appears in the relevant rail companies for a Merrow station. Again this is an unsound part of the "plan".

No part of the Borough should shoulder a disproportionate amount of the council's new building proposals. Any significant increase across the borough will not work without a tunnel, a 100% increase locally to Merrow and Burpham will just not work. GBC should, like Woking and Waverly, consider applying constraints on housing growth, and also recognise a duty to local residents in specific areas to maximize local housing growth impact to no more than the borough wide increase.

1. TRAFFIC/ROADS/NOISE

Traffic congestion in Guildford is already chronic, and its impacts felt in many ways. In my area

1. Traffic noise from the A3 can be heard all over Burpham and into some of the estates in Merrow
2. Local access roads into and out of Guildford are badly congested in AM and PM rush hours, with the A3 backed up from Stag Hill to the Burpham turning on a very frequent basis.
3. The ever increasing amount of traffic on the A3 is making the already inadequate joining points with the A31 and hospital/university northbound, and town north and south bound, positively dangerous. (Have GBC recently looked at serious accident data and costs, and impact on emergency response rates for ambulances and fire services.....)
4. Local planning approval of the Aldi Burpham store has led to traffic backed up Burpham Lane waiting for car park spaces, onto the roundabout with the London Road. This is happening ESPECIALLY AT WEEKENDS, the one time of the week that the London Road used to be relatively free flowing at this point.

Before any significant housing development takes place in the North of the Borough, the above problems need to be solved. If not, the chronic daily congestion will turn to gridlock.

I believe the answer to all of this is for GBC to think boldly, and FAST TRACK the A3 tunnel suggested, leaving the original A3 for local traffic. Benefits would be numerous, with POSITIVE outcomes for a big proportion of borough residents, businesses, and passing goods traffic.

- Reduction in loss of life and of serious injury impacts by improving safety for this stretch of the A3
- A3 Traffic noise elimination from Ripley through to Burpham, the town and cathedral/university campuses
- Local and trunk road significant congestion reduction and thus time and money savings for residents and business
- Pollution containment

This is GBCs chance to do something that the vast majority of residents would welcome, AND BENEFIT from. If a 2 km tunnel can be justified for Hindhead (population 4000, thus 0.5 tunnel metres per resident), lets secure the 8KM tunnel for Guildford (population 137 000, thus only 0.058 tunnel metres per resident).

A comment too on phasing - optimize and build the A3 tunnel first, don't reduce your flexibility and increase your tunnel cost by premature commitment to large scale housing developments at various points along the way.

The impact of the tunnel would then allow a more sensible debate on borough housing increase with the right infrastructure backbone already in place.

A word too on the suggested road developments within the draft plan. With respect to the north of the Borough and in the light of the massive housing proposals from Wisley through to Gosden Hill, these road developments alone, will be ineffective. They will simply deliver more traffic onto a full A3, and locally a full New Inn Lane/London Road. Congestion will worsen yet further, perhaps leading to frequent gridlock.

Furthermore, the suggested new Sustainable movement corridor in the London Road area will be anything but sustainable - adding to local traffic noise and pollution, and road safety impacts especially with respect to pedestrians and school children. Additionally how will this be built without compulsory purchase of local housing and business properties
I understand that the roads part of the plan is "aspirational" only. How can this be acceptable, against a housing increase proposal of 25% over 20 years. THIS WILL JUST NOT WORK.

I write with respect to the 2016 Draft Local plan, being a Guildford Borough resident living in Burpham.

In summary, I find it in general unsound, and only aspirational in some critical aspects. Being over 1800 pages of high level prose, it is impossible for any resident to comment on fully. In some areas it is in white text on coloured background, making it even difficult to read. As such, as a "plan" for residents' comment, about the future development of their borough, it is not really even fit for purpose.

Infrastructure plans lack ANY certainty, rendering the planning base naive at best, catastrophic at worse.

The figure 13893 new dwellings over the planning period has been challenged down to as law as a real need for only 7676 new dwellings. The former lacks any credibility especially in the light of the councils continuing refusal to share its planning models assumptions and inputs.

This remains a plan without need, credibility and at great local social, health and economic cost. 7 to 8000 dwellings will be more than sufficient over the plan period - concentrate on that and the infrastructure to support it.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object most strongly to Guildford Borough Council draft local plan (June 2016) and to the inclusion in the plan of Site Allocation A35 - the former Wisley Airfield - for a new settlement with 2000 dwellings Point 1. Erosion of the Green Belt.

I am a resident of West Horsley (my address is [redacted]) and my son and his family also live in Horsley. I moved to this area 4 years ago drawn by the unspoilt quality of the area and the sense of community in the village. The fact that these villages are in the Green Belt is fundamental to the reason why there has been tight control on housing development in these villages, maintaining the rural nature of this whole area. I strongly object to removing East and West Horsley from the Green Belt. The Green Belt is one of the best controls established in this country to make sure that we hold on to our green space, if we allow this to be lost in this area we will open the door to a steady urbanisation. This should not and need not happen.

Point 2. The Extent of Development Proposed

The proposed plan includes at least 148 more homes in E. Horsley, at least 385 more homes in W.Horsley, plus 2,068 homes on the Wisley site (2.1 miles away) 400 more at burnt Common (3.2 miles away) and 2,000 at Gosden Hill Farm (4.2 miles away). This amount of development in such a small area borders on the ridiculous! There is no doubt that we need to be able to provide affordable housing for young people in this country but there have to be better ways than this - explosive housing development in a rural area. The social impact of radical change like this is never good.

Point 3. Pressure on Roads, Parking, Education and Medical Facilities

In all these development plans very little attention has been placed on the infrastructure that will be necessary to support the extra people who will be living in these new homes - the cars they will be driving, the schools the children will need and the medical services that will need to be stretched beyond the way they are now to accommodate so many more people. Just adding up the number of new homes in the developments described above gives a total of 5,000 new homes with a knock on of at least 5,000 extra cars (probably more), 10,000 plus more people to be catered for by NHS facilities and certainly several thousand children to be educated.

Lack of Imagination Developing Brown Field Sites

There is ample brown field land in areas not in the Green Belt. It is surely better to develop these and protect our green spaces for generations to come. Why, for example, in a small island like ours do we not encourage more apartment living? A broad sweep of development may well be an 'efficient' way of increasing our housing stock and is an approach which I am sure will be welcomed by building developers! But what is needed in these communities is flexible and moderate development which takes into account both the value of the rural environment and the capability of essential social facilities to support the housing development.

I am a current member of the Horsley Countryside Preservation Society and spent many years of my youth living in both E. and W. Horsley.

I have very fond memories of this beautiful rural area.

I was horrified when I read in a recent HCPS magazine of the hundreds of extra homes that Guildford Borough Council are planning to build in these areas and the encroachment on the precious Green Belt….which plays such a major part as being the Lungs of the country.

It is very sad to see the probable demise of ‘Thatchers’, a major land mark for so many years. My sister, at one stage, owned Fangate Manor Farm, and is horrified how this land is proposed to be subdivided into a housing estate.

I object very strongly to these plans.

I was absolutely horrified to hear of the proposed ruination of the Horsleys by cramming it with hundreds of houses in a beautiful rural area.

I spent most of my younger years there enjoying the woods, riding in the Sheepleas and walks with the dogs on the many footpaths. We attended many happy functions at the famous Thatchers, in fact we recently on a return visit to the U.K, met up with friends there for lunch. For 10 years I owned and lived at Fangate Manor.

A beautiful smallholding of 6 acres where I had cows, chickens, pigs and dogs. Manor farm was one of my neighbours. I have been told that even that is to be subdivided------how DARE you ruin that and Thatchers. Is nothing sacred any more in the rural villages, will the U.K become like Australia, destroy the heritage

And stick up concrete multi-story housing blocks. I hope not.

As a long term resident of West Horsley, I would like to submit my strong objection to the Draft Local Plan for Guildford. West Horsley is currently a semi-rural barrier to the onward urban sprawl which has relentlessly paved over Surrey. There are actually fields here and country walks for all to enjoy including people who I know who come down from London to walk here. I can see no justification for the following:

- removing West Horsley from the Green Belt
- building another 35% more houses - this is way, way too much although I fully accept the need for some new housing
- building on fields!

To do the above would permanently destroy one of Surrey's remaining rural villages beyond recognition.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable.

I object to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

This will cause more congestion to the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon, which have poor condition narrow roads and no footpaths, which are dangerous. More houses will increase this danger and unsustainable volumes of traffic

I object to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads A3/M25 (Policy12)

Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

I am a Send resident, writing during this consultation period to make clear that I object wholesale to every aspect of the proposed GBC Local Plan. For the purposes of absolute clarity, I object to:

- Policy A25
- Policy A35
- Policy A42
- Policy A43
- Policy A43a
- Policy A44

All of the above policies should be removed from the GBC Local Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The proposed population growth at site A43 in particular (48% - 3.2% per annum over the plan period), where 400 new homes are being proposed, is an unsustainable and entirely ill-conceived one. The Office of National Statistics projects a growth of 0.57% across the whole UK for the same period, therefore I am curious as to how the architects of the GBC Local Plan consider this to be a sensible one. I also refer you to the lack of due process in your own planning procedures, whereby a last-minute change was made in April/May 2016 to the GBC Local Plan to add the Garlick's Arch development. From October 2013-May 2016 there had been no reference made to a development at Garlick's Arch. Instead there had been regular consultation on Burnt Common Warehouse. This latter development was inexplicably deleted from the proposals in May 2016 and replaced with a previously unmentioned development at Garlick's Arch, adding a further 300 homes to the Local Plan. Such an act is exceptionally bad practice (I concur entirely with Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design in this regard); please could the Council explain why it considers making this last-minute decision, after almost three years of consultation, an example of acceptable policy-making? I therefore restate my objection to policy A43; it should be removed.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
It is evident that Guildford Borough Council's extraordinary determination to contravene National Planning Policy Framework for Green Belt protection remains at the forefront of your operations, even after the objections raised by Sir Paul Beresford MP back in 2014 which highlighted the entirely erroneous beginnings of the Local Plan and the many examples of poor practice carried out by GBC in their initiation of the process. GBC will, therefore, accept that the Local Plan was initiated under entirely misguided circumstances, without appropriate consultation and, as such, that the entire process is flawed and has been tainted by chronic mismanagement from the outset. Unfortunately, lack of consultation has continued with the recent addition of policy A43a - the proposed new A3 slip roads, which have not been properly appraised and only recently added. For example, in the 11th May review of the draft Proposed Submission Local Plan (reviewed by Guildford Council Executive), it is notable that Appendix C does not contain any reference to the need for a new A3 slip road at A247 Clandon Road. The first reference made to it is on May 24th (Appendix C) when considered as part of the draft Local Plan by the Full Council. Perhaps light can be shed as to why it was only on May 24th that the need was identified for these new slip roads, when this planning process began in October 2013? Such an action is one of two things: last-minute, in which case the decision has not been fully appraised and reviewed, or 'back door', whereby GBC is attempting to add in these proposed slip roads at the last-possible juncture so that they go unnoticed by members of the public. In either case, you will agree that this is poor process and will not stand up to further scrutiny.

To supplement the evidence of this catalogue of inappropriate procedure, I will refer you to the comprehensive document produced by Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design, appointed planning consultants acting on behalf of Send Parish Council, who have conducted a review in to the GBC Local Plan. I quote points 4.15 and 4.16 of their document in full here:

- The June 2016 Strategic Highways Assessment is a strategic transport modelling study that informs decision making surrounding the suitability of potential development sites and future highway mitigation proposals which have been identified. Appendix A sets out the strategic residential sites assessed as part of the highways assessment. The main residential site in Send is as follows: Ref. 2258 - Land south east of London Road Land south east of London Road, Send (part of B13-d) (known as Burnt Common) 260 homes and 140 flats.

It is unclear which site this refers to. Site 2258 appears to be a reference to the Feb 2016 LAA site reference for the 'Land at Garlick's Arch', however the site description appears to refer to the Land around Burnt Common Warehouse, formerly allocated as Site A43. The B13-d reference appears to relate to the January 2013 Green Belt and Countryside Review area around Burnt Common, not Garlick's Arch, which falls under land parcel B14 in this document. This shows a high degree of inconsistency in the appraisal and it is unclear which site is even appraised. It is possible that this was changed shortly before the Local Plan was released for consultation with the updated A43 and A43a allocations in May 2016, but it indicates that this piece of evidence is inconsistent and should be ascribed little weight.

This first issue is one of many examples of a lack of strategy in the GBC Local Plan, and evidence of a lack of information gathering. I restate my objection to policy A43a; it should be removed. Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design identify that the proposed level of new housing in the Local Plan is greater than the identified need, and therefore constitutes "over-development". Equally, Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design have identified an over-provision of land in the GBC Local Plan, which has failed to be justified by the Leader of the Council. Such a lack of justification and methodology is evidence of the points raised in my first paragraph, and references the "cavalier" approach that Sir Paul Beresford MP describes GBC having taken. In the same document, Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design refer to the GBC Local Plan referencing the May 2014 Settlement Hierarchy Document, which the Local Plan cites as key evidence. I quote the following point made by Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design in its entirety here:

- Paragraph 3.4.2 states that large rural villages are unsuitable for substantial growth but capable of accommodating an extension. Medium sized villages are unsuitable for substantial growth but capable of taking appropriate residential infill and development to meet local needs, defined as ‘employment, amenity and community facilities as well as small scale infill housing and rural exception sites for affordable housing’. Send Parish consider the proposed level of development in Send Marsh / Burnt Common to represent substantial and inappropriate growth, contrary to this strategy for development.

As a four-year resident of Send I concur entirely with the Tibbalds Planning and Urban Design report point 3.6, commenting on the lack of public transport service in Send. Send is served only by hourly busses to Guildford, and the Villages Medical Centre has no bus service at all to it. There is extremely limited parking at the Send village shops, and... the shops that are in the village are very limited (a handful of newsagents/convenience stores, a café, a charity shop, two takeaway restaurants, and some miscellaneous businesses - not enough to sustain someone who does not drive). Consequently, anyone living in these proposed new developments and needing to access these businesses, the Villages Medical Centre, or the local primary school will likely need to drive to them. This seems to be an extremely ill-thought-through policy in terms of environmental sensitivity, and I suspect it is not one that GBC has actually considered at all as part of the Local Plan. I would be interested to hear your thoughts on whether this has been considered by members. I also have major concerns about traffic congestion in the village, which is already an issue, and the safety of Tannery Lane. I have already personally witnessed a serious car accident in the last few months on Polesden Lane/Tannery Lane junction, due to it being 2.75m wide. When this becomes a hub for major traffic, including commercial vehicles of considerable size, accidents will inevitably increase as it is not possible to increase the size of the Polesden Road junction. The same issue applies at Send Hill in relation to Policy A44. I am sure that GBC have considered this as part of the Local Plan and are prepared for the increase in traffic accidents in already dangerous areas; perhaps you could tell me the exact nature of the discussions by Council members when they debated this? Consequently, I restate my objections to policies A42 and A44; they should be removed.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I am writing to strongly object to proposals in relation to four Development sites in West Horsley village as laid out in The Guildford Plan. My reasons for objecting to the proposals are that I believe that the proposed addition of 385 homes is wholly inappropriate and would not be sustainable within the boundaries of our small village due to the local infrastructure. Such high density housing will inevitably result in more vehicles moving around the village which will cause more traffic congestion, noise and pollution. Currently:

- The population of West Horsley is increasing. This is due to the ongoing trend throughout the village of demolition of many single storey dwellings, typically with 2/3 bedrooms, which are being replaced with large 4/5 bedroom properties, as well as people extending existing properties to provide extra bedrooms. Most households have at least 2 cars per household, with larger houses and extended properties this is likely to increase to at least 3 or 4 cars per household.
- The roads and lanes in West Horsley are narrow in parts and are already very busy, especially at peak times. East Lane is not passable by two way traffic in parts (there are some traffic management measures in place) and this, coupled with the increasing number of parked cars on East Lane and The Street means there are regularly queues of cars waiting to pass through from one end of the village to the other. The problem is compounded by heavy vehicles (diggers, grabbers etc.) and lorries which are constantly moving around the village and parking in the streets and lanes to service the high level of building work to which I have previously referred.
- I commute to London on a daily basis via Horsley station. The station car park is regularly full to capacity on weekdays and I have recently witnessed stressful situations where people cannot access parking spaces. Increased residents will ultimately result in extra commuters who need use the station car park. There will simply be nowhere for them to park. Station Approach, which is the short, narrow, steep road that leads to the car park is already dangerously busy at peak times with cars, cyclists and pedestrians all trying to access or leave the station at the same time. This results in congestion at the bottom of Station Approach with vehicles trying to get on to Ockham Road North which is already very busy with moving traffic. There have recently been several accidents at this junction.
- There is also the concern about potential further strain on the village environment when Grange Park Opera takes up residency at West Horsley Place. This will inevitably cause traffic congestion, more noise and pollution, albeit at specific times through the year, but on top of nearly 400 extra planned homes within such a small area, I feel these proposals will impose an unsupportable burden on the entire infrastructure of not only West Horsley, but also of neighbouring East Horsley.
- The proposals also completely go against the National Planning Policy Framework which states that new residential development must respect the character and density of housing in the area and be limited in quantity by the availability of infrastructure and local facilities.

My worry is that the current proposals will result in West Horsley village becoming effectively strangled by traffic congestion and overcrowding and be negatively impacted which will result in its character being changed for future generations. Finally, I would like to add that I am totally opposed to the proposal to remove West Horsley from the Green Belt by insetting and extending the 2003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries as I believe this would alter the genuinely rural nature of the village.

I am writing to strongly object to proposals in relation to the Development sites in West Horsley village as laid out in The Guildford Local Plan. My reasons for objecting to the proposals are that I believe that the proposed addition of some 395 homes is wholly inappropriate and would not be sustainable within the boundaries of our small village due to the local infrastructure. Such high density housing will inevitably result in more vehicles moving around the village which will cause more traffic congestion, noise and pollution. Currently:

- The population of West Horsley is increasing. This is due to the ongoing trend throughout the village of demolition of many single storey dwellings, typically with 2/3 bedrooms, which are being replaced with large 4/5 bedroom properties, as well as people extending existing properties to provide extra bedrooms. Most households have at least 2 cars per household, with larger houses and extended properties this is likely to increase to at least 3 or 4 cars per household. The proposal to support self build housing on the sites will no doubt follow this trend.
- The roads and lanes in West Horsley are narrow in parts and are already very busy, especially at peak times. East Lane is not passable by two way traffic in parts (there are some traffic management measures in place) and this, coupled with the increasing number of parked cars on East Lane and The Street means there are regularly queues of cars waiting to pass through from one end of the village to the other. The problem is compounded by heavy vehicles (diggers, grabbers etc.) and lorries which are constantly moving around the village and parking in the streets and lanes to service the high level of building work to which I have previously referred.
- I commute to London on a daily basis via Horsley station. The station car park is regularly full to capacity on weekdays and I have recently witnessed stressful situations where people cannot access parking spaces. Increased residents will ultimately result in extra commuters who need use the station car park. There will simply be nowhere for them to park. Station Approach, which is the short, narrow, steep road that leads to the car park is already dangerously busy at peak times with cars, cyclists and pedestrians all trying to access or leave the station at the same time. This results in congestion at the bottom of Station Approach with vehicles trying to get on to Ockham Road North which is already very busy with moving traffic. There have recently been several accidents at this junction.
- I am also confused by the removal of the site of the Thatchers Hotel complex as a potential site for development when it has infrastructure and access to the main Portsmouth Road already. If there is to be some limited development in the Horsleys why not do it here as an existing site rather than build on areas of local beauty and greenery with no appropriate access to main roads.
- The proposals also completely go against the National Planning Policy Framework which states that new residential development must respect the character and density of housing in the area and be limited in quantity by the availability of infrastructure and local facilities.

My worry is that the current proposals will result in West Horsley village becoming effectively strangled by traffic congestion and overcrowding and be negatively impacted which will result in its character being changed for future generations.

Finally, I would like to add that I am totally opposed to the proposal to extend West Horsley village boundary into the Green Belt land especially around the west side of Silkmore Lane. This will effectively grant development rights on the paddocks in the area behind the lane. This will be another erosion of the beautiful landscape which many people including walkers and cyclists enjoy in this part of our rural village.

1. wish to register my strong objection to the local plan in the Horsley area, which will have a severely detrimental impact on our neighbourhood. I object in particular to -
2. The density of proposed additional housing in East and West Horsley. To add 593 houses to already overcrowded schools, medical facilities and the railway will have a major negative impact on the daily life of local residents.
3. The proposal to remove the Horsley Green Belt is outrageous. No "exceptional circumstances" have been demonstrated. The Council has a duty to protect the Green Belt for future generations.
4. No sound reasons have been given for the proposed extension of the settlement areas of the Horsleys.

The development of the Wisley airfield site in Ockham would have a massive negative impact on the area, entirely changing the environment for existing residents and blighting daily life for all concerned. Public facilities are already overloaded. The heaviest impact would fall on the most vulnerable, especially the elderly.

The local plan would, in short, destroy the village community and turn the area into yet another bleak commuting dormitory.

Objection to Guildford Local Plan – Impact on East and West Horsley Villages

As a resident of East Horsley (see below), I am writing to object in the strongest possible terms to the proposed Guildford Local Plan, which would, if implemented as proposed, have a very harmful effect on East and West Horsley Villages.

My objections are as follows:

Proposal to remove the Horsleys from the Green Belt: The ‘exceptional circumstances’ required before taking this action have not been demonstrated.

Extension of the boundaries of the settlement areas of the Horsleys: No sound reasons have been given for the proposed changes, which seem to be aimed solely at increasing the land available within the settlements for future additional developments.

Station Parade’s designation as a ‘District Centre’: This ‘classification’ results from a complete misreading of the nature of the facilities in the village centre and would inappropriately target the area for future urban developments.

Traffic and parking: Assuming that every new house has at least 2 cars, this means potentially 6,000 more cars within a three mile radius of the villages. The impact on local roads will be tremendous. Parking at Horsley & Effingham junction stations (which are already full), at the shops, at the medical centre and at the village hall will all be affected.

Local Road Network: In respect of the proposals for development at Wisley Airfield and for an upgrade the current A3 junction at Burntcommon to a full 4-way junction, SCC traffic modelling anticipates increased use of Guileshall Lane, Hungry Hill Lane and Tithebarns Lane for traffic accessing the A3 at Burntcommon in order to travel to Guildford and beyond. The SCC report states that “consequently, it indicates that further thought may have to be given to managing traffic in this area as part of a transport assessment should the development be progressed”. It appears that the Plan is proposing a strategic site at Wisley Airfield without even knowing what improvements to the local road infrastructure will be required. If that is the case for Wisley Airfield, then it is almost inevitably true for the proposed developments in East and West Horsley as well.

Pollution: The large increase in volume of traffic will cause an increase in nitrogen dioxide and particulates in the environment – already a cause for concern in several areas in the Borough.

Flooding: The site behind Ockham Road North in East Horsley is partially a level 3 flood risk area, and local residents are well aware of how much standing water there is in their gardens after rain. Building on such land will only exacerbate the problem. We already know what happens to local roads when it rains – the drains can’t cope.

Schools: Local schools are already at capacity – where will newcomers go to school? No extra places are planned in the Horsleys, and the school places proposed at Wisley Airfield will not planned until many years into the project.

Medical facilities: Similar situation to the schools.

Loss of Green Belt land: Sadiq Khan, new Mayor of London, has instructed London planners not to approve development on Green Belt Land within the M25. If we continue to build on our countryside it won’t be many decades before we have none left. Creeping development has led to almost continuous housing from Central London to Effingham. Is this to carry on to Guildford and beyond? (1,700 houses are planned for the Guildford end of the Hogs Back and 1,000 new houses on greenfield sites in Normandy.)

Transport: Misery for commuters, nowhere to park and full trains at commuting times.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to: the removal of the Horsleys from the Green Belt.

There are no exceptional circumstances, these have not been demonstrated. To the proposed planning of hundreds of houses in the West Horsley and East Horsley villages.

I wish to register objections to the local plan job 13,860 new proposed houses, as not sustainable. There will be damage to local communities, these will not be villages any more.

We need to check unrestricted sprawl of large buildup areas,

We need to protect our Green Belt land and fields.

We live here because it is a village and surrounded by green fields and farmland.

We like the village atmosphere, knowing our neighbours and meeting them in our villages, being part of a small community.

I OBJECT To: the huge influx of traffic this planning will cause. Our little country roads cannot cope with the traffic as it is. The condition of our local roads is Appalling! Pot holes everywhere, causing dangerous driving, trying to avoid the holes, damaging cars. We have narrow country roads, not suitable for hundreds more ‘large family cars’. We don’t want yellow/white lines all over our village and road signs, which are quite unnecessary, which will only increase with your planning proposals. The car parking facilities are inadequate and no room for expansion.

I OBJECT To: the lack of facilities suitable for thousands more people using our Doctors Surgery. We cannot get an appointment within a week as it is, there is nowhere to expand the Surgery, are you planning to build another? The medical facilities are over stretched as it is. The local hospital The Royal Surrey is overcrowded already, there is nowhere else for us in our villages to go.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )
I OBJECT

To: the influx of thousands more families with school age children, when our local junior school, The Raleigh, is full and they want to move to a larger site now! If they took one of your sites and you took over their 2 sites, at least the planners would have a few hundred more houses and the school would be able to accommodate more new children, but only a few! Not the hundreds you propose to bring into our little villages.
We cannot accommodate these new children into the local Senior schools either. Where do you propose to build these new schools? They would then need adequate transportation, so parents cars would not always be on these country roads, emitting yet more pollution!
We are villages, people want to move here, as we did because of the quiet, the fields, the village atmosphere, and the safety of a village. Children need open spaces, greenery, the safety of a village to grow up in.

I OBJECT

there is no infrastructure which has been confirmed.
The flood plans in these areas get flooded every winter. West Horsley is known for being a flood plain area, totally unsuitable for hundreds more houses.
Thames Water has advised that the current wastewater network is unlikely to support the demand from all these developments!

I OBJECT: the overcrowding at our shops, we have two little parades of shops for the use of the two villages, not thousands more people using them. There is only limited parking, only one little supermarket, Budgens, and no access to any larger Supermarket.
Station Parade is an inappropriate target in the area for future expansion and development, the only shops we have to walk to.
The train does not take us into Cobham centre, only Stoke D’Abermen, miles away from the Cobham town Centre, how do all these new people get to ships?
We have no bus which has a regular timetable to Cobham, our nearest town, there would have to be in place public transport regularly into Cobham and Guildford.

I OBJECT: the state of our roads when thousands more people will be using them. The Drift, which is a narrow lane from West Horsley to Effingham, is already used by lorries, coaches from the schools, and many local businesses, it is full job potholes from constant use, how is that going to cope?
All our roads are narrow, we are a village, the drainage is already a problem through the village every winter.

BROWNFIELD ARE BEING IGNORED
We need more houses in the centre of towns, not out in our villages, therefore using more cars, more pollution, more congestion on our already crowded roads.
Recycle derelict and urban land.

I OBJECT To: The SHMA target housing number, which will then be increased further by the GBC to give a population increase, which is almost 70% than the official National estimates for population growth in the BoroughThis would bring alarming results of an increase of up to 35% in the existing West Horsley households, more than any other single area in the Borough.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to: the planning on the Wesley Airfield site

Again no infrastructure: Transport?
No regular busses to take people to the only 2 train stations near by, being Horsley or Effingham, which are both totally unsuitable for thousands more commuters either from the Wisley site or from the Horsley proposed sites. These train stations are small and serve the villagers at the moment, but could not accommodate thousands more commuters. Cobham Stn was mentioned in these plans as being a 'local station'!! This is rubbish, as it is several miles away and the Wisley inhabitants would have to go up the A3, or travel down the road by Wisley Lake to get there. This road which you are planning to close and make 'one way'!!

That road is used constantly by traffic coming from the M25 and the A3 by commuters and locals alike. It is a main thoroughfare.
The Wisley site needs busses to take the population to Guildford, Cobham. They would need a Doctors Surgery, schools, junior and senior as all the local schools are over subscribed in the surrounding areas.

There is already a large Traveller site in Effingham, we as villages do not need any more sites for them, as our own children cannot buy houses, or build, or extend from our own properties, yet the Travellers can build on Green Belt at will.

There is no detail about improvements in infrastructure. The ill-advised Aldi development further compromised inadequate infrastructure in Burpham (queues of traffic on the main London road mid-week and outside rush hour). Roads which are lanes (Burpham Lane, New Inn Lane etc) were never intended to support the volume of traffic they carry at present. Further development of this area, without addressing the infrastructure deficit, will exacerbate the existing problems and bring gridlock to our neighbourhood.

Housing Need

The housing need has been reviewed, but only reduced by 5% (from 693 to 653 per annum). Guildford Borough Council (GBC) has not provided information supporting these figures. Without this, their credibility is in question. Furthermore, the independent survey, commissioned by Guildford Residents Association, concluded an annual build of 404 homes would meet Guildford's needs. This is 40% less than the GBC figure.

The council, by their lack of transparency, detract from any provenance to their plan.

Gosden Hill is on Green Belt land, which should be preserved, rather than encroached, with the inexorable extension of development. This, ultimately, results in communities coming together as one large urban sprawl, with little re-oxygenating green space between…..bad for the environment, and for those who live in it.

Infrastructure

Over the last 30 years, Burpham has seen 2 large housing developments and one major supermarket built, with adequate car parking.

The recent addition of the Aldi supermarket, with a car park entrance in a residential lane, has exacerbated the congestion in this area.

Our present roads are incapable of supporting more traffic which would be generated by i) the proposed housing development at Gosden Hill, and ii) the two-way proposed junction at the A3.

In conclusion, the plan is no more credible than the last, with only unsupported minor changes to the housing need figures, and no consideration for the inadequate infrastructure in the area to support the plan. I write to formally register my objection.

- Serious consideration needs to be given to the type of properties built in any development within the Horsley village boundaries: it should not be assumed that 4 and 5 bedroom family houses are the only properties required. The addition of high quality apartments, similar to Maranello House, should be considered to accommodate people in the area wishing to downsize. This would free up larger family properties and increase the population density without destroying Green Belt lands.

I trust my views will be taken into account by the Council when they are considering the Local Plan.

- It is totally unacceptable to consider violating Green Belt lands when the potential for the redevelopment of brown field sites in the county have not been exhausted. Clearly the redevelopment of the Thatcher’s Hotel and Bell & Colvill sites should be encouraged together with improving the existing house stock through infill developments etc providing funds are made available to repair and maintain the existing roads and utilities infrastructure.

- East and West Horsley are both small historic villages that have expanded over the last 50 years; further major expansion will not be possible without destroying the character and ambiance of the area. The current levels of traffic passing through East Horsley is barely tolerable and the social infrastructure is straining at the moment even without further development on Green Belt land.

The redevelopment of the Wisley Airfield site would only be acceptable if development was designed and constructed to be self-sufficient and separate from Horsley in terms of the provision of schools, medical facilities, shops, public transport etc. Consideration would also need to be given to the provision of additional parking at Horsley Station.

There should be no major road widening in the area which would alter the character of the road system and villages; the road layout for the Wiseley Airfield development should be designed to discourage journeys to Horsley and use of the lanes ie access and egress from the A3 only.

General Comment

GBC’s proposed Local Plan proposes a total of 4,993 new dwellings within a 5-mile radius of The Horsleys, not including many smaller sites in nearby villages, comprising.

- 533 houses on large sites in East and West Horsley (The Horsleys)
- 60 houses on small sites in The Horsleys
- 2000 houses on Wisley Airfield
- 400 houses on Burnt Common
- 2000 houses at Gosden Hill Farm (on the A3 near Burpham)

Currently there are 2808 dwellings in The Horsleys (EH 1697, WH 1111).

Thus the plan represents the follow increase in dwelling places:

- 21% within The Horsleys.
- 178% within a 5-mile radius of The Horsleys.

I can find no reason for building such large numbers of homes in The Horsleys or neighbouring villages given in the document ‘Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013-2031. Most of the Strategic Employment Sites proposed in Policy E1 are over 5 miles away from them.

I have commented previously under Policies I1, I2 and I3 on the existing shortcomings with, and deficiencies in, the infrastructure of The Horsleys. The proposed increase in dwellings for The Horsleys set out in the draft local plan will make matters far worse.
These policies also run contrary to NPPF paragraph 17 which specifically states that planning should be about “empowering local people to shape their surroundings”. As I have said earlier under Policy P2 and its attendant paragraphs, but it bears repeating, comments on local social media sites, notice boards by the side of our local roads and so on show the depth of local feeling against these policies. Thus I conclude that Site Policies A35-A41 do not shape the surroundings in the way in which local people would wish. There seems little doubt that the local populace feel victimised by GBC’s policies when The Horsleys will be required to build, in percentage terms, twice the amount of housing than for the Guildford urban area.

I OBJECT therefore to Site Policies A35-A41.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICIES A37, A38, A40 & A41, located in West Horsley

These policies propose a total of 385 dwellings from these four sites. The 2011 Census showed West Horsley had 1,124 dwellings at that time. This represents an increase of 36% over the plan period, a very high proportion by any standards.

These sites all currently lie within the Green Belt. Development on them requires settlement boundary movements. As I have stated in the objection to Policy A39 above, the NPPF is quite clear that every movement in settlement boundaries must be justified by ‘exceptional circumstances’. I do not believe these policies demonstrate any such circumstances and are therefore unjustified and contrary to NPPF rules. If this boundary movements are invalid then these sites remains a part of the Metropolitan Green Belt. Therefore the housing development proposal would be invalid.

I OBJECT to Policies A37, A38, A40 and A41 as they do not demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to move the settlement boundaries.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to this policy for the following reasons:

- The proposed development site

This development site is entirely within the Metropolitan Greenbelt. I can see no exceptional circumstances necessary to justify altering greenbelt boundaries stated within the draft plan. Thus the proposal is inappropriate development in the Green Belt as defined by NPPF paras 88 and 89.

I also believe that:

- A number of Public Rights of Way used by local residents cross this site.
- The majority of the site (70.1 ha) is Grade 3 quality agricultural land which has been farmed for many years and produces over a million loaves of bread a year.

NPPF para 79 states:

“The Government attaches great importance to Green Belts. The fundamental aim of Green Belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open; the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence.”

I believe the above bullet points show the proposed development is contrary to this.

Therefore I OBJECT to Policy A35 as a breach of the Metropolitan Green Belt rules.

- Impact on local traffic and infrastructure

I have already commented under Policies I1, I2 and I3 about the serious deficiencies and shortcomings in the current infrastructure of East and West Horsley.

As I can find no specific proposals to improve the current infrastructure within this policy, the proposed development will serve only to increase these problems. Examples I foresee include:

- A severe adverse impact on road traffic in the surrounding area including my own village of East Horsley.

I calculate that the 2000 dwellings will generate what would be a considerable increase of approximately 3,000 cars locally. However there is no detail I could find on the Wisley Airfield website re improving local roads save for the rather bland statement:

“We’re also making improvements to local roads to reduce rat running, improve traffic flow and increase safety.

The proposals also see improvements to local footpaths and bridleways.”

This additional traffic is likely to use East Horsley’s two stations, shops, nearby schools and medical facilities.

The local roads are characteristically narrow winding ‘lanes’, many without pavements for large stretches. Some are poorly lit and others have a number of pinch points where it is difficult, and in some cases impossible, for vehicles to pass one another.

The road and junction changes which were mentioned previously as part of this development will increase traffic volumes through the village centre of East Horsley and around the station at Effingham Junction. These already suffer from traffic congestion at peak times.

- An increase in the risk of accidents.

Many schoolchildren cycle and walk along these through roads on their way to local schools. Ockham Road North and Ockham Road South have only narrow footpaths in many places through East Horsley village and Forest Road has no footpath in places.
There is concern of course for other pedestrians and cyclists. The number of cyclists has increased considerably - both locals and by groups riding in charity events, “Sportives” and for general recreation. Also the users of the narrow pavements - the elderly and infirm, parents pushing infants in pushchairs etc. – will be at increased risk.

The additional traffic will doubtless increase the likelihood of accidents and reduce the safety of their journeys.

- Station Parking

The Wisley Airfield website states that there are 9 mainline stations within 5 miles. The majority of inhabitants from this development would in fact travel from Effingham Junction or Horsley stations as they are the nearest stations. They are much quicker to reach than the other stations, especially at peak times. Further, it is cheaper and quicker to travel from these to London or Guildford (which would be the likeliest destinations) than from elsewhere.

Neither Horsley nor Effingham Junction railway stations currently have any significant spare parking capacity, something I know from personal experience! The suggestion of the developer that large numbers of cyclists from Site A35 will cycle 6 or 7 miles each day along busy roads in order to travel to and from these stations lacks credibility.

The proposal plans to run buses through the site to major local destinations approximately every 10 minutes at peak times. Many commuters start very early and/or finish very late. It is unlikely these would be catered for. There is no local taxi service at Effingham Junction station so once again no doubt a car would be used – further increasing traffic volumes.

- Other village facilities in East Horsley

These include the medical centre and primary school. They will likely suffer adversely from a substantial increase in users as a result of this proposed development. I have commented more fully on these under Policies I1, I2 and I3

Accordingly, I OBJECT to Policy A35 on grounds of its severe impact on local traffic and infrastructure

- Health and Safety Concerns

The site is located close to one of the busiest road junctions in the country, the junction of the M25 and A3. It is not uncommon for traffic on the M25 to be at a standstill at various time throughout the day and at the A3/M25 junction during peak hours. This must be detrimental to the air quality in the proposed development area. Figures on the Wisley Action Group website in the past showed the Nitrous Oxide (‘NOx’) levels being above the EU limit of 40 mg/m3. This will surely affect residents of the proposed site. Also government policy prohibits the building of schools on sites in areas where there is high NOx. Therefore the proposal to build schools on this development must be contrary to this and thus not allowable.

Also the exhaust fume from the 3,000 cars which I estimate residents will own and use will increase the problem of poor air quality.

NPPF para 109 says:

“The planning system should contribute to and enhance the natural and local environment by” ….

“... preventing both new and existing development from contributing to or being put at unacceptable risk from, or being adversely affected by unacceptable levels of soil, air, water or noise pollution or land instability”.

I believe that the points I have made above demonstrate that the proposed development runs contrary to the above NPPF paragraph.

Accordingly, I OBJECT to Policy A35 on grounds of its adverse health & safety implications

- Local Character

Policy H1 of the draft plan states under “Density” that development should: “make the most efficient use of land whilst responding to local character, context and distinctiveness.” Policy A35 fails to do this.
The area in which the development is planned is essentially rural with many pretty villages, such as Ockham, East and West Horsley and Ripley containing historic, listed or protected buildings. The proposed development is large compared to these villages. It would create a community of just over 2000 dwellings. In comparison this will be 10 times the size of Ockham, twice the size of West Horsley and bigger than East Horsley.

I suspect that Ockham, a small historic rural village, will be subsumed into the Wisley development and doubtless, in the fullness of time, forgotten. Ockham is documented as being in existence in the Domesday Book of 1086 and has a number of historic buildings including All Saints, a Grade 1 listed building which has a nave and foundations which are partly 12th century, plus other parts dating from the 13th and 15th centuries. It is also the birthplace of William of Ockham, the famous medieval philosopher and inventor of the theory of Occam’s Razor. What a tragedy that a village so rich in our history should be treated thus.

I believe the overall housing density of the Wisley development is around 49 dwellings per hectare (‘dph’) which is effectively an urban density. It is to be achieved in part by building apartment blocks of five stories in height, according to the designs previously presented by the developer. Para 4.2.5 of the draft local plan says:

“all new development must be in keeping with the character of the surrounding area”

For a setting within the middle of rural Surrey this development is completely out of character.

East Horsley is just three miles from this site. With 1,760 homes it is the largest settlement in Guildford borough outside of Guildford town and has an overall housing density of 8.1 dph within its settlement area. Therefore, the proposed development under Policy A35 is six times as dense. Para 4.2.8 of the draft local plan says:

“Certain areas can accommodate higher densities provided there is no adverse impact on the character of the area and the infrastructure is able to cope.”

However I have shown in my comments under Policies I1, I2 and I3 that the infrastructure is NOT able to cope.

The development is therefore inappropriate in terms of character and density with regard to the surrounding villages.

I believe the character of this whole area would be irreparably destroyed if this proposed development were to go ahead. The development therefore fails to respond to local context and as such is in breach of GBC’s own Housing Policy H1.

Thus, I OBJECT to Policy A35 on the grounds that it is out of keeping with local character, context, density and distinctiveness, and therefore breaches the NPPF and Policy H1.

• Historic environment

Policy D3 of the GBC proposed plan says:

“Heritage assets are an irreplaceable resource and works which would cause harm to the significance of a heritage asset, whether designated or non-designated, or its setting, will not be permitted without a clear justification to show that the public benefits of the proposal considerably outweigh any harm to the significance or special interest of the heritage asset in question.”

There are a large number of “heritage assets” in The Horsleys, Ockham and Ripley. These all help to contribute to the character, look and feel of the villages and the environment surrounding them, which is one of the reasons people like to come and live here.

Thus, I OBJECT to Policy A35 on the grounds that it fails to meet the criteria set out in Policy D3, Historic Environment.

• Environmental Objections

It is nowadays recognised that building over the countryside stops rainwater draining away naturally into the earth, thus increasing the likelihood of flooding. The size and location of the planned development should therefore give cause for concern in this respect. The development is very close to, and slopes down towards, Ockham Road North (ORN) where it is prone to flooding. There is a recent example of such flooding in this area. During the winter of 2013/2014 ORN was impassable for a lengthy period due to flooding.

In addition, development of this scale would, in my opinion, increase light and noise pollution in its vicinity. This would affect both current local residents and existing wildlife.

Accordingly, I OBJECT to Policy A35 on grounds of its adverse environmental impact.

POLICY A36: Hotel, Guildford Road

The Thatcher’s Hotel is something of a landmark in East Horsley and to those who pass through.

Policy D3: Historic Environment of the draft plan states that

“Guildford borough’s historic environment is intrinsically part of what makes Guildford the place it is, that it acknowledges the wider social, cultural, economic and environmental benefits that conservation can bring to our community and that it will conserve and enhance the historic environment in a manner appropriate to its significance.”

It further states that:

“Heritage assets are an irreplaceable resource and works which would cause harm to the significance of a heritage asset, whether designated or non-designated, or its setting, will not be permitted without a clear justification to show that the public benefits of the proposal considerably outweigh any harm to the significance or special interest of the heritage asset in question.”

I OBJECT to this policy as I believe that The Thatcher Hotel is part of this historic environment and that this policy runs contrary to Policy D3.

Furthermore Policy E6: The leisure and visitor experience. States:

“The loss of existing visitor, leisure and cultural attractions, including arts and entertainment facilities, hotels and indoor sports venues, will be strongly resisted unless replacement facilities of an equivalent or better standard and provision are proposed in a location equally accessible to the facility’s current catchment area.”

The Thatcher Hotel attracts visitors to the area by providing accommodation and restaurant facilities. It also caters for those wishing to hold receptions, parties etc. by providing rooms for this sort of thing. Therefore it is surely a visitor attraction. forth.

Therefore I OBJECT to this policy as it runs contrary to Policy E6
Furthermore the density of houses proposed for this site (37 dph) is much higher than currently exists within East Horsley (8.1 dph). According to the local parish council the highest density found locally to the proposed site is 13 dwellings per hectare.

The proposed dph is therefore approximately 5 times the average in the village, which I think is very high for this location. Thus, I OBJECT to Policy A36 on the grounds that it is out of keeping with local character, context and distinctiveness, and therefore breaches the NPPF and emerging GBC Policy H1.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

My objection follows on from my comments above in the section “Policy P2: Green Belt, b) Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley”.

The proposed housing development of 100 dwellings on a 5.7 acre green-field Green Belt site behind the houses on the western side of Ockham Road North is dependent upon the proposed western movement of the settlement boundary needed to bring this site within the settlement area.

It is clear from the NPPF that there must be ‘exceptional circumstances’ to justify any movement in settlement boundaries. This policy fails to demonstrate any such circumstances. Thus it is not justified and contrary to NPPF rules. Therefore in my view this site remains a part of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the housing development proposal should be considered invalid.

I OBJECT to Policy A39 as it fails to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to move the settlement boundary.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Policies 11, 12 and 13

There are serious deficiencies and shortcomings in the current infrastructure of East and West Horsley. This includes schools, roads, medical facilities. There have been complaints made to both county and local councils and it is a common subject on the local social media site.

GBC’s proposed housing policy in the Local Plan (see my comments on Policy S1 above) can only make this problem worse.

Specific current problems are:

- Potholed roads.
- The principal through roads are narrow with a number of pinch points where it is difficult for vehicles to pass one another. This is exacerbated by the increasing numbers of large vehicles such as HGVs using them.
- The principal roads struggle to cope with current levels of traffic at times. Particularly:
  - The roads are used by schoolchildren to cycle to & from school. Any increase in traffic volumes without improvement in the infrastructure will increasingly put them at risk.
- The pavements are in poor condition. As well as being narrow, they are often uneven and/or cracked making it difficult, for example, for people with pushchairs or prams or in wheelchairs. Once again schoolchildren walk along these narrow pavements and as for cycling above they will be in increased danger.
- There are also sections with no or narrow pavements and which are poorly lit.
- Drainage is in poor condition with blocked drains giving rise to streams of water running down the roads and frequent surface water flooding when it rains.
- There are insufficient school spaces for the number of local children needing them.
- The Medical Centre in East Horsley is already at capacity in terms of its number of patients.

Regarding East Horsley I could find only two specific proposals in Appendix C:

LRN 25 - East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme. This says that funding will, at least in part, come from developer contribution. Funding is needed now to sort out the current problems. Any words about future funds from as yet to be agreed developments is, quite frankly, pie in the sky.

HSC 5 - Expansion of East Horsley Medical Centre to provide additional capacity and services for future population in years 5 – 15 of the plan. The centre is already at capacity. There are a large number of retired & elderly people in The Horsleys. Therefore this problem will only get worse. Expansion is therefore needed now!

Local primary schooling is also a major issue. There is only one primary school in The Horsleys which is, I believe, operating at or near capacity. East Horsley Parish Council has raised this with you in its objections. The developments proposed in the plan will increase the number of children in the area but there is no provision for any more schooling in The Horsleys.

The proposed developments in The Horsleys and Wisley will put further strain on the other parts of the existing infrastructure, increasing traffic, patient numbers, and so on. Thus existing problems will be exacerbated. There are no proposals to solve these or at least to improve the situation.

I OBJECT to the infrastructure proposals as they fail to address the existing problems with the infrastructure.

I OBJECT to the infrastructure proposals because they do not meet the stated objective of providing infrastructure to support the proposed developments set out in the Site Policies.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY P2: Green Belt

This policy states that GBC “will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt”.

Authorities are permitted to make allowance for factors which may constrain the delivery of new housing under NPPF rules, including protecting the Metropolitan Green Belt and the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (‘AONB’). However I cannot find anywhere any reduction in GBC’s housing target to take account of such constraints.

GBC seems therefore to ignore its own Policy P2 through the housing policies that it has set out in the Local Plan. I understand that the analysis included in the Appendix of the draft local plan shows that around 65% of the developments proposed are to be built on land currently within the Metropolitan Green Belt. This is contrary to the GBC Policy P2 statement to protect the Green Belt.

I believe that GBC has incorrectly interpreted para 83 to 87 of NPPF. There are a number of references I have found which comment on the fact that green belt boundaries should be altered only “in exceptional circumstances”

- Para 83 clearly states green belt boundaries should be altered only "in exceptional circumstances".
- Ministerial Guidance on the Green Belt (reference Brandon Lewis MP and Nick Bowls MP 17/1/14 and 18/6/14 respectively) shows unmet housing need alone is not likely to qualify as exceptional circumstances.
- Sir Eric Pickles when Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government drew attention to the NPPF which states that the Green Belt may be altered ‘…only in exceptional circumstances…’.
- Sir Paul Beresford, MP for Mole Valley constituency, commented that “we see in the NPPF that Green Belt protection is specifically cited as a consideration which would override the need to meet housing targets. This is a clear statement of government policy.”

There is a tremendous strength of feeling by local people against the way in which GBC is proposing to implement its Green Belt policy. Local social media is awash with complaints about it. Anyone driving along the local lanes will see a large number of notice boards along the roadsides protesting about it. It can also be gauged from the thousands of letters sent protesting about the previous draft plan and the various past and ongoing campaigns being waged by locals against GBC’s initiatives. This policy is hardly “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” as set out in NFPP para 17.

Thus I OBJECT to this policy as set out in the draft local plan for the following reasons:

- The policy is inconsistent with itself
- It runs counter to the NPPF guidelines.
- It runs counter to Ministerial and Governmental guidance.
- It is against the wishes of the local people and thus runs contrary to NPPF para 17.

In addition I OBJECT to the following paragraphs within this policy.

1. a) Paragraph 4.3.13: Proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt

East Horsley is a rural village. Its Green Belt status has been a key factor in preserving its character. Policy P2 proposes that East Horsley should be inset from the Green Belt, instead of being ‘washed over’ as it is today.

GBC seems to be saying in paragraph 4.3.12 that East Horsley is not an open village and therefore be inset. I would contest this.
East Horsley Parish Council says; “No less than 36% of East Horsley is composed of woodlands, whilst inside the settlement area there is an average housing density of just 8.1 dwellings per hectare (‘dph’). Woodlands and large residential gardens make a vital contribution towards biodiversity, provide wildlife corridors, and furnish those open spaces which are vital to the character of the greenbelt. It is one thing for a planner to study a map and see a settlement area filled with housing, but it is quite another actually to come to a rural village like East Horsley and see how the Green Belt has preserved the rural character and openness of this village.”

Anyone who has come to East Horsley would recognise that this gives the village an open character which contributes to the open nature of the Green Belt.

In addition NPPF paragraph 17 specifically states that planning should be about “empowering local people to shape their surroundings”. Notice boards by the side of our local roads and comments on local social media sites plus the views of village inhabitants lead me to conclude that the proposed policy does not shape the surroundings in the way local people would wish. This is re-enforced by the number of responses received by GBC regarding the former iteration of the draft local plan. I believe this was around 20,000 most of which were opposed to it.

I can see no facts or arguments within P2 to support GBC’s argument to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt. Nor do I believe it meets NPPF para 17.

I OBJECT therefore to this policy.

1. b) Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley

GBC proposes a number of changes to the settlement boundaries of East Horsley which expand its settlement area.

The NPPF is clear that any change to settlement boundaries must be justified by ‘exceptional circumstances’.

GBC states in this paragraph that such “exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development”. GBC justifies these changes in the settlement boundaries in order to meet unfulfilled housing need in the borough in the Green Belt & Countryside Study and its accompanying Topic Paper.

However, NPPF Para 83 makes it clear that such an “unfulfilled housing need” alone is not likely to qualify as exceptional circumstances.

Therefore I OBJECT therefore to this policy.

1. c) Paragraph 4.3.17: Proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt

The only justification for this proposal, and its related planned development of over 2000 dwelling thereon, appears to be to meet an unfulfilled housing need.

The NPPF does not considered unmet housing need to be an exceptional circumstance.

This proposal also runs counter to the Council’s own planning officers’ recommendation. Indeed GBC’s Planning Officer, in assessing a previous planning application from the developer of this site, rejected their application, arguing that:

It has not been demonstrated that the benefits of the proposal amount to very special circumstances such as to clearly outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and the other harm identified.

This proposal would open the door to the development stated in Policy Site A35 of the draft plan. It would be little short of catastrophic for the local villages, including East and West Horsley, Ripley and Ockham. I have commented further on this matter under Site A35 below.

NPPF paragraph 17 specifically states that planning should be about “empowering local people to shape their surroundings”. The wishes of local people are very much against this proposal as can be deduced from the very many letters GBC received in protest to it in 2015. I am sure they can provide you with the number.
I OBJECT to the proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt as it runs contrary to the NPPF and specifically paragraphs 17 and 83.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy S2: Borough Wide Strategy

I OBJECT to this policy as I believe the figures used to calculate GBC’s annual housing target are incorrect.

The policy is based upon a projected net increase of 25% in the housing stock of Guildford Borough over the period 2013-2033.

However the Office of National Statistics (ONS) projects a 15% increase in population over the same period.

In addition the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment, (“SHMA”), seems to be based on miscalculation. It estimates that 517 homes per annum arise from ‘the demographic starting point’. This is effectively what (ONS) and the Department of Communities and Local Government (“DCLG”) predict GBC will require based upon their population and household forecasts. It then adds

- 120 homes per annum in order to ‘support economic growth’
- 31 homes per annum to ‘improve affordability’ and
- 25 homes per annum due to ‘student growth’

This increases the original per annum figure of 517 new homes by 176 to reach the 693 annual housing target.

I would have thought that economic growth is already factored into the statistics produced by ONS and DCLG.

Further the GBC Affordable Housing Policy H2 proposes that all but the very smallest development sites must have 40% of their homes offered as affordable housing. Surely these would already be included in the 517 homes proposed.

It appears therefore that what GBC is proposing is actually in excess of the official household growth forecasts for the borough.

Furthermore I believe that the annual target needs to be recalculated in view of the decision of the UK to leave the EU. Both the government and Bank of England forecast that economic growth will be reduced. This must bring into question the number of homes added to the ONS/DCLG figures.

The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), paragraph 158, requires GBC to base its development plan policies on up-to-date and relevant evidence. I believe it can be seen from the above that this is not the case.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
As a resident of this Parish for some considerable years, I wish to present my objection in the strongest terms to GBC latest proposed submission which will undoubtedly affect the allocation of land both south of Normandy and North of Flexford for the future.

My objections are based upon common sense which the council has failed to recognise in any of their proposals.

1. We cannot take any further building works in such a small area of green belt land which had previously been promised as being safeguarded.
2. The infrastructure will not be able to absorb additional traffic
3. Building works on the land will result in more flooding to present home owners despite the reassurance of the planners
4. In addition to the incredible number of extra dwellings proposed where are the children going to go to school because the existing ones are already over capacity in numbers.
5. The rural aspect of Normandy & Flexford will be totally removed and it will become yet another sprawling housing estate which it was never intended for.
6. Our doctors surgeries would not be able to take on any additional patients, which would put more strain on the service they already provide.

In the past the village has lost a post office; butchers, garage/petrol station x 2, village stores x 2.
Planning consent is given to all and sundry which have already changed the persona of the village and yet when individual house owners apply for permission to extend their homes, they are more often than not rejected on the basis that it is not in keeping with the area.

WHY CAN OTHER PROPOSALS SUCH AS THIS LATEST ONE BE EVEN CONSIDERED. Is it for the financial gain for some people and or departments?

The personnel who make these decisions I am sure do not live in this community and will not feel the terrible affect it will have on our community.

PLEASE LET US WORK TOGETHER TO BRING BACK THE COMMUNITY SPIRIT AND ALLOW THE EXISTING OCCUPANTS MAKE OUR VILLAGE AND SURROUNDING AREAS A PLACE WE CAN ALL BE PROUD OF AND NOT JUST ANOTHER MONEY MAKING EXERCISE FOR DEVELOPERS ETC.

We elect our local councillors and politicians to work on our behalf and I am afraid that you are failing to meet our expectations

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements to support the huge scale of development, especially at Garlick’s Arch (A43), which has no infrastructure projects in the Infrastructure Schedule to support it. Local services, utilities, roads, sewerage and doctors, etc. are already at or close to capacity, without an infrastructure plan the proposals are simply unsustainable and are therefore not fit for purpose.

and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. As mentioned, there are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government states clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance. The Plan states the preference is to use previously developed land, but Guildford Borough Council have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common and replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

• There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
• The site is liable to frequent flooding
• The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.

There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy II)

There is already too much traffic in our villages. At present the morning traffic can back up the Portsmouth Road for over a mile from the centre of Ripley Village, simply because a school bus is trying to turn left into Newark Priory Avenue. This then has a knock on effect of tail backs down Send Marsh Road as far as the Saddler’s Arms and beyond. Further, congestion on the A3 often causes drivers to use the Portsmouth Road as a ‘rat run’, resulting in additional tail backs. The proposed housing plan for this area could put at least another 5000 cars on the road in the morning, which is simply not sustainable. Without adequate plans for improving road and transport infrastructure, the area is simply going to become gridlocked.

The A3 and M25 need to be improved before any development is considered. Highways England has no plans to even start considering improving the A3 before 2020. The recent opening of the Hindhead Tunnel on the A3 has noticeably increased the flow of traffic in this area, which now daily backs up from the M25 towards Guildford. So the area is already highly congested. Clearly no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place until they are.

1. I object on the grounds of poor air quality

The increased congestion that will result from the plan will inevitably reduce air quality. I am an asthmatic and suffer from severe chest infections about twice a year, which I am now suspecting is related to poor air quality in this area, which is not helped by living close to the A3 and M25. As mentioned, the huge developments being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough, will inevitably lead to considerable further congestion and to even greater levels of air pollution, which can only have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

<td>The Plan does not appear to take adequate account of flood risk, as is required by National Planning Policy. It is well known that housing leads to additional risks from flooding, as rainfall is directed towards inadequate sewer systems rather than soaking into soil. The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.</td>

The number of houses planned will damage local communities through over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, which was exemplified by my sons’ being unable to rely on buses to get into school on time. This means each adult will have to use a car, which will put a large number of extra cars on an already overcrowded and inadequate road infrastructure (see 3 below), which the plan does not appear to be addressing around Garlick’s Arch.

APPENDIX C

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.
I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

POLICY A25 - Gosden Hill Farm

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 6 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from... encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

POLICY A43 AND A43a – Garlick’s Arch

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

POLICY D4

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

POLICY E1

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

POLICY E2

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

POLICY E5

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY E6

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY E7

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
POLICY H1

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H2

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to other towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

POLICY H3

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations are available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

POLICY II

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

POLICY I2

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are likely to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
POLICY I3

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.
The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages.

In particular I OBJECT to the settlement boundary put round East Clandon with no reference to the residents or the Parish Council.

Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.
In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
POLICY S1

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including
Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”.

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 1: The evidence base and submission documents

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. “Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt.” Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford’s circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.
14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.
15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 4: Duty to cooperate

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the 2016 draft Local Plan is amended accordingly.
What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I am writing with regard to the Draft Local Plan for the Guildford Borough, with particular concern for the proposed changes in East and West Horsley. I object to all policies which include development of land situated on the green belt. I believe that the land on the green belt should be preserved for future generations and we should not opt to destroy it before fully examining the consequences and how this will affect the environment in the future.

Recently, I have been learning about brownfield and greenfield sites in my geography lessons at school and I have come to the conclusion that there are plenty of derelict brownfield sites which need redevelopment in the inner city and central business district. This land already has foundations built into it and the infrastructure surrounding it is much more advanced. For example, there are sufficient road networks that are able to deal with an increase in population within that area. Consequently, this would fulfil the need for more housing but leave the green belt untouched. This land is currently neglected and many declining businesses would welcome new residents, giving a purpose to the land.

The original purpose of the green belt was to prevent urban sprawl so that the environment is protected in rural areas, this has resulted in many more benefits. For example, air quality is improved in both rural and urban areas, nature is successfully conserved, and the unique landscape is protected in many rural areas. So then, what are the benefits of destroying this policy? I would argue that yes, this is a very straight-forward way to provide housing for those who need it, however, where will we draw the line? This development can only be temporary and before long, more housing will be needed and therefore more of the green belt will be destroyed. This completely defeats the objective of the green belt and I believe that to prevent this development leading to a slippery slope we must not go ahead with the local plan.

I have noticed on the Guildford Borough Council website that one of the aims of this local plan is to 'protect our most important countryside, landscapes and heritage' however I am at a loss as to how this can be claimed whilst at the same time, both of the Horsleys are to be removed from the green belt altogether along with many other villages in Surrey. The green belt policy was made with thought and consideration, it provides protection for the environment and is often what defines the historic status of many English villages. Therefore I ask you to rethink the plans which have been put forward and what would be best for the country in the long term.

I leave you with my objections, and ask you to remember that building upon the green belt is an irreversible process and therefore more time and effort needs to be put into finding other areas which would be more suitable for fulfilling the needs of the British population, a plan in which both those who need homes and those who are already homed are satisfied.

I would like to add my name to the countless others (I suspect) who are unhappy with your plans for our neighbourhood.

1. I object to the proposal to remove us from the Green Belt.
2. I'm unsure of the reasons why you propose to change either boundaries.
3. Our infrastructure is not suitable, at present for any additional pressure to add to the area is, road routes, schools, surgery practise are already over stretched, no improvement mentioned of these important needs for the community.
4. Wisley Airfield, the impact again of the locality would be enormous for the surrounding area and beyond, the same applies to Burnt Common, also.
5. Thatchers Hotel is the nearest proposed site to where I live and I'm concerned about the road system, already a bad bend and lots of entrances and exits to contend with.

I moved here originally for the quiet, peaceful neighbourhood and I would hate to see that ruined for future generations therefore I feel it's important to add my voice to those who are very unhappy with your proposed proposal.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We are writing to strongly object to the large development being proposed in the GBC Local Plan on Site A46 for over 1100 houses and a secondary school on 67 hectares of green belt land in Normandy and Flexford.

It is stated in this revised proposed local plan that this land could be removed from the green belt due to ‘exceptional circumstances’, but these have not been demonstrated by GBC. We believe this is a completely developer-led proposal, with Taylor Wimpey offering to provide a school as a sweetener if they can develop the land. However, there is no evidence to prove there is a need for an extra school in the area; two schools within 3 and 5 miles of the site are undersubscribed which, together with the proposed new UTC which is to be opened in 2017/18, should negate the need for a new school in Normandy.

Site A46 is not a suitable site for a school or for the large-scale development proposed. The minor C and D class roads which would serve them are completely inadequate and unsuitable to carry the inevitable vast increase in traffic from the new householders travelling to and from the development and from parents dropping off and picking up their children from school. There is a height restriction at the railway bridge in Westwood Lane, and the bridge over the railway at Glaziers Lane has a bend at its blind apex, making this a dangerous section of road. It is a common occurrence when driving over the bridge to meet oncoming vehicles on the wrong side of the white line.

Even though GBC envisage that many children will be using the train or cycling to school, this is unlikely as most parents will opt to drive their children due to safety reasons. It would be extremely hazardous for children to cycle on the roads given the volume of traffic on all of the surrounding roads in the area and the width of Glaziers Lane. In addition, Glaziers Lane is used extensively by heavy lorries, more often than not exceeding the 30 mph speed limit, using Glaziers Lane as a route between the A3 or A31 and the Aldershot Road. It is difficult to see how any road improvements could be made to these local lanes to improve traffic flow for the future and we do not think this has been considered fully when suggesting this site for development.

It is not unusual for a journey during rush hour (from around 7 am) from Normandy to Guildford to take 40 minutes to an hour due to the volume of traffic whether using the A31, A3 or A323. The increase in traffic created by the new development and school would inevitably lead to more road chaos and have the effect of extending traffic congestion to include the whole area of Normandy and Flexford in addition to the daily queues at the top of Wanborough Hill and junctions with the Aldershot Road during rush hour. With the increase in traffic, it is also likely there will be more serious and fatal road accidents particularly at the dangerous road junctions where Glaziers Lane and Westwood Lane meet the A323.

Whilst we understand the need for new homes, we feel any new developments should be built in small pockets of land, by infilling and using brownfield sites, preferably with all towns and villages of Surrey bearing an equitable quota of new housing. To centre such a large development between our two small settlements of Flexford and Normandy will decimate a very special area of countryside which is one of only a few truly rural open and accessible spaces remaining in the ever expanding urban sprawl of the borough.

In an interview with Sir Andrew Motion (April 2015) the Prime Minister stated

“Green belt land is extremely precious. Protecting the lungs around our cities is paramount for me. I am very clear about that – as is our National Planning Policy framework. This framework compels local councils to develop Local Plans, protecting not just the green belt but any other important areas of green space. The Local Plan sets out where things get built or not. The combination of the National Planning Policy Framework and the Local Plans provide strong protections against green belt development. Councils are exempt from meeting local housing need if constraints like green belt make it impossible.”

The land between Normandy and Flexford provides an extremely precious green lung amongst the built up areas of Ash, Tongham and Guildford. The proposed area of land includes a wide variety of habitats – ancient woodland, streams, prime arable and pastoral land with field margins lined by many mature trees and hedgerows.

Should this development on green belt land be allowed to go ahead, there would be a devastating and irreversible loss of wildlife as the land in question supports many species of birds, animals, trees and plants. The rural aspect of Flexford and Normandy has attracted new wildlife to the area in recent years, for example red kites and buzzards have also become daily sightings. We commonly see deer, foxes, hedgehogs and bats, and see and hear many birds such as skylarks, whitethroats, blackcaps, yellowhammers, and fieldfares and redwings in addition to the more common or garden birds on the proposed site. Although some of these are not protected species, it is an indication of how rich our village’s rural environment is.

It would be wrong to destroy this beautiful rural area to simply provide an easy route to enable the borough to meet a substantial quota of housing target with one large development rather than identifying more suitable brownfield sites and smaller sites for more widespread but fairer developments. If it is allowed to proceed it will completely annihilate 67 hectares of precious countryside, devastate a thriving population of wildlife and take away the very essence of our village.

We hope that our objection and comments will be taken into consideration by the planning committee.

Objection to Guildford Borough Council Draft Local Plan (June 2016)

I am a student who currently lives in West Horsley and am deeply concerned by the proposed plans and the effect these will have on not only my generation, but generations to come. I am objecting to this plan on a number of grounds which take into account social, economic and environmental aspects; all of which in my opinion will be hugely detrimental to the areas around Guildford and their peoples.

1. Green Belt
   - “The green is a policy for controlling urban growth. The idea is for a ring of countryside where urbanisation will be resisted for the foreseeable future, maintaining an area where agriculture, forestry and outdoor leisure can be expected to prevail.” It is an area which is only able to be removed in ‘exceptional circumstances’ and it is clear that such circumstances have not been met. The green belt is crucial for the local area in providing such facilities but also for the local ecosystems. Such developments will destroy habitats of local species and the removal of species could potentially lead to trophic cascade- which will be extremely damaging to the area, highlighting the environmental damage. In the long run it is more than likely the local economy will be damaged as a result.
   - Therefore the Horsleys must remain in the green belt and I object to the proposal to take them and the Former Wisley airfield (Three Farm Meadows) out of the green belt.

1. Congestion and Public Transport
   - Having used the local train services for the last 7 years, it is evident that the service provided is not adequate. Trains are often overcrowded and prices are already too high. With the thousands of houses being built this service will only get worse. Prices will rise to fund “improvements” and services will become even more overcrowded. As a student, public transport is crucial for me to get around and with increased demand for these services there is little evidence to suggest they will cope, pointing only to extreme difficulties. I can’t stress enough how important an efficient and sufficient public transport system is for the local economy.

- Similarly the roads around the area of the proposed sites will not be able to cope. Many of the sites are in areas where single track roads are extremely common and any improvements in these will lead to further damage to the ecosystem. However, more importantly, the A3 will not be able to cope. It already struggles and with thousands of more cars in the area there can only be negative consequences. Increased journey times and congestion will mean increased costs to business and could affect locals’ ability to have jobs further away from their homes. There is no sufficient plan as to how the area will cope and this worries me for my future.

1. Infrastructure and Local services

- The proposed increase of up to 35% in existing West Horsley is greater than any other single area in the Borough. The proposals for West Horsley are unbalanced and unsustainable and would change the character of the village forever. I object to this. Such character is what attracts people to the area and enables local businesses to thrive.

The local infrastructure would not be able to cope and I cannot see any circumstance in which one can argue that it will firstly, be sufficient and secondly, have a positive effect on the area.

Schools are full, drainage systems are struggling and medical facilities are stretched.

These are only a few of the many issues these plans will create and highlight to me that there has not been sufficient research on the consequences, as anyone with common sense and an understanding of the area would realise that what has been proposed is utterly ludicrous.

As a young individual it angers me how these plans can be proposed and I am worried for the future and sustainability of an area I love living in and hope to do so in time to come.

Further to this, it worries me how little information there is on these plans. Having spoken to my peers many are unaware of what is going on. These peers of mine will be most affected by what is proposed. There needs to be more information for the younger generation without a doubt, the plan is not accessible to people in my age group and needs to be. The fact little information is being pushed towards those of my age and younger shows that something other than the future for our generation is more important.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I wish to object to changes to the Draft Local Plan.

I object to the fact that there has been NO change to the insetting of West and East Horsley from the Green Belt

I object to site A35 Three Farm Meadows still being included in the Local Plan and that it hasn't been removed despite the thousands of objections from both residents and consultees

The site is next to an extremely busy stretch of road and close to the very congested Junction 10 of the M25. Plans for improving the road do not take into account any development and the road system would not be able to cope

It is also next to the very popular RHS Wisley which has thousands of visitors a year and the effect of this traffic has not been considered

The site is not near any railway station so travel on the local roads would cause huge disruption and congestion. Other sites are much nearer train stations

There is no public transport and any suggested would have to negotiate the local narrow roads. Sustainable transport would not be possible as they would not be safe

I object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts another heritage asset, Upton Farm negatively impacting the setting of this building.

I object to the fact that the increased area, being on the south of the site facing the Surrey Hills AONB will increase the negative impact of the views from the AONB

I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.

I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change

I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame

I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)
It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

2. I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.
4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.
Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be recommissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT in the strongest possible terms to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016). This Plan is unsustainable, unworkable and, in many provisions, unnecessary.

I set out below my objection to specific policies and matters within the Plan.

1. I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I am objecting to the proposed development of Gosden Hill Farm. I believe the plans to be unsound as there does not seem to be enough access to the A3 planned, ie, north and south slip roads.

The resulting excess traffic will have to travel through Burpham (a residential area) which is already struggling with a huge amount of cars trying to get to the A3.

Re the plans, I am writing to say that I support the GRA’s response in objecting to the expansion of Guildford by 25% - a ridiculously high percentage which will spoil/ruin the character of the town.

In particular I object to:

- plans to use green belt land when there are brownfield sites available especially in the centre - people do not want to live in a town totally given over to retail.

- a lack of proper sustainable transport exacerbated by an excessive number of new homes creating yet more and more vehicles on already crowded roads

- These plans strike me as ones developed by businesses likely to benefit - construction etc etc and not for the people of Guildford.

I object to the Settlement Boundary, which has been imposed on East Clandon without any consultation. This imposition provides no protection to further development outside the settlement boundary (Policy P2 para 4.3.25) and is therefore considered as being unnecessary in an already tightly developed ancient and rural conservation village. I therefore ask that this proposal be removed as it risks endangering the openness of the Green Belt, the views in and out of the AONB (protection of the AONB Policy P1), and the character of East Clandon.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy D4: I object to the insetting of villages (meaning in fact, removal of villages from Green Belt protections) and the fact that they will suffer from higher density development with the resulting increase in traffic, and additional unacceptable pressure on infrastructure. I object in particular to the insetting of West Clandon, Send, West Horsley and East Horsley. This will have a detrimental impact on Green Belt openness and the views in and out of the AONB in direct contravention of Policy P1 and P2.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy P2 – Green Belt: I object to this significant erosion of the Green Belt with the proposals for large towns to be developed on Green Belt land thereby removing the openness of the Green Belt. I note in particular the huge developments proposed for the North East quadrant of the borough, which unfairly target our tranquil rural villages on the basis they can provide ‘dormitory’ facilities for commuters to London. The developments directly affecting our villages are the proposals for Wisley Airfield, Gosden Hill Farm, various farms and tracts in the Horsleys and Garlicks Arch at Send.

I object that Policy P2 is not met where it states that Green Belt should be protected. I object to the disproportionate use of Green Belt land for housing. Some 65% of the housing proposed is on Green Belt, with little consideration being given to redevelopment of brown field sites for housing.
I object to GBC’s contravention of the NPPF framework stipulation in paragraph 87 with the proposed developments at Gosden Hill Farm, Ripley, East and West Horsley and Garlicks Arch, Send. Paragraph 87 states “As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances.” GBC has not proven any special circumstance for development on these Green Belt areas.

I object to Policy S1 not offering sustainable development as regards roads and rail infrastructure, which does not even cope with current demand. There is already significant congestion on the A3 in particular, and also other ‘A’ roads in the area such as the A247 and the A246. There is already an overcrowded and slow train system for those already living in the borough and needing to commute to London. No pre-emptive planning has been made to alleviate these real problems, which will be much exacerbated by large increases in housing.

I specifically draw to your attention the winding, narrow, dangerous and congested route via the A247 through West Clandon, which then encourages drivers to seek and use the even narrower rural Ripley Road, through East Clandon, to and from the A3. This will be much exacerbated with the proposed large increase in housing resulting in associated large increases in cars and travel.

Continuing with Policy S1 (Presumption in favour of Sustainable Development)

I object to the Plan on the basis that this Policy is not being adhered to. It is clear that there are no fixed plans to improve the provision of services. If GBC is serious about improving the infrastructure and sustainability of our communities, it would have secured plans and funding to ensure these facilities are available and not just at the behest and hoped-for goodwill from the developers. Further, how will developers be held accountable to their promises to build infrastructure?
Stories are legion of developers reneging on commitments as the ‘money runs out’ even though vast profits will be made from turning agricultural and Green Belt land into highly valuable housing land.

I object to the fact that GBC has not met the requirements of the NPPF Paragraph 155, which imposes an explicit obligation to have early and meaningful consultation. This has not been met in a number of areas by GBC. Here in East Clandon, we have not had a meaningful consultation on imposing a settlement boundary on East Clandon, nor have we been consulted on meaningful economic and population growth figures for Guildford showing various projections with high, medium and low growth scenarios.

There should be a significant challenge and review of GBC scenario planning with the housing and growth numbers revised, especially in the light of uncertainty and change, which will accompany Britain’s withdrawal from the EU.

I write to formally object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan as a whole and in particular I object to the specific issues (listed below). I believe that this deeply flawed Local Plan will have a direct and detrimental effect on the amenity currently enjoyed by residents of East Clandon and will be of even greater detriment to our neighbouring villages of West Clandon, Ripley, West Horsley and East Horsley. It erodes the openness of the Green Belt and endangers the beauty and views in and out of the Surrey Hills AONB.

- I object to Policy S2 for the proposed provision of the very high overall housing numbers of 13,800 new homes (690 new dwellings being built every year for 20 years) and I object on two grounds: Firstly these housing numbers have been imposed with no real consultation being undertaken with the residents of East Clandon and the borough as a whole. Secondly, the housing numbers are based on a high-growth economic development plan on which there was no consultation. This policy and its excessive housing forecasts will turn Guildford into a dormitory town for London.

Further, I object to the fact that no real economic or housing demand factors have been provided by the borough planners to substantiate the very high housing target of 13,800 new dwellings over the next 20 years. This is in direct contravention of the NPPF’s requirement for the planning authority to provide meaningful consultation.

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.
The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough. It is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is, I believe, inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve: it provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land, all requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery and schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour onto the A3 which is already stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day, and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.
There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size. Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development. The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London. The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could do virtually whatever it wants. The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley. If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km. Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime, given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and roads like the A3. Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill with which health and safety issues are associated.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A43

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to make the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no railway station within reasonable walking distance, it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hour no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons run through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site which, incidentally, includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is, in the scheme of industrial development, relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four already existing successful rural businesses which have been in existence for over 30 years plus a further two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in the town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

I OBJECT to the congestion that the proposed development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy II)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.
Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow, only being wide enough for one vehicle at a time. The main “pinch point” on The Street in West Clandon is a case in point: lorries travelling in opposite directions cannot pass each other and, when faced with a lorry, even cars need to mount the pavement to get past. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT most vigorously to the development proposed in the local plan which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads leading to further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever more popular pastime, particularly at weekends, with hundreds of cyclists passing through the local villages on their way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow roads surrounding the villages, and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments, there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk of injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon, The Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements as mentioned above.

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to, capacity such as the electrical network and sewers. Without plans to improve these services there should be no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send, will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services even further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision made for what will be the necessary increase in capacity of the Royal Surrey Hospital, Guildford. Where is this assessed and how will it be remedied?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I OBJECT to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough, will lead to considerable further congestion despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with the sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires that there be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, as for any development on the Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ for encroachment on the Green Belt. Once taken, the Green Belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt would result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging together. The significant development proposed for these villages will result in the character of these villages being completely lost and the surrounding countryside encroached upon. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, especially for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. Not only will the services in these villages be unable to cope with the level of development proposed, the proposed developments themselves do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are constantly being reduced. Residents will have no option but to rely on their cars. These sites are totally unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, the Infrastructure Plan shows no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch. Residents will have to rely on their cars for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical and sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from significant congestion. Further vehicle movements will only result in ever more acute congestion and increased pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. The Borough Wide Strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall Housing Figure, which would be more reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.
2. The Housing Number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
3. The Housing Number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West. All of these lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial and so, therefore, are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites of over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result in coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

I object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

I object to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

- There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
- The site is liable to frequent flooding
- The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
- There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

There is too much traffic in our villages already and this plan will cause more congestion in Ripley, Send and Clandon, with no plan to improve that.

The rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths. 5000 more houses means dangerous and unsustainable traffic.

Objections to Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016)

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016).

These are my main reasons/ I object on these grounds / …

1. I object to the Local Plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch.

The development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport.

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
• It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

SITES - POLICIES A1 TO A57

I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as Ill as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as Ill as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number.
Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

• 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays

Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

• 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
• 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
• 30 June 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools. Currently, a two-way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.
The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime, given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly, any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council's eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)
The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brownfield site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.
This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

POLICY D3

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

POLICY D4

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

POLICY E1

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

POLICY E2

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floor space (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floor space will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floor space to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

POLICY E5

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY E6

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford's river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

POLICY E7

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area. The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion. The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF. The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY H1

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions. The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university’s ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H2

I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular, a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale vale of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly, no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition, the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2-bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income. And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price? As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
POLICY H3

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations were available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.

The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY I1

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based... on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers.

No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

POLICY I2

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

POLICY ID3

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy ID3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

POLICY P2

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt.

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.
In addition, I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY P4

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
POLICY S1

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including...
Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick's Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

POLICY S2

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”.

Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London's commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set.
   Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. "Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt." Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.

3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site then needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.

2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan to show that this rate is achievable and sustainable.

3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.

4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.

1. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

2. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation

3. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound

4. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018

5. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars

6. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham

7. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework

8. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

9. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

10. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens

11. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.
12. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

13. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

14. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

15. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.

Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

I feel strongly about the proposed extra housing on our green belt in Normandy. The village not only has an old out dated sewer and water system that would not cope with the extra demands but other services are also overloaded.

This week I attempted to get an urgent appointment with my local doctor. To make things easier (I thought) I did not stipulate which of the two surgeries, Fairlands or Glaziers Lane, nor did I request a specific Doctor. Hoping this would speed the appointment.

THE EARLIEST WAS IN TWO WEEKS TIME. Please tell me how they would cope with all the extra housing.

Also, on a Sunday morning it is impossible to walk on the pavement by the church in Westwood Lane. Cars completely block the pavement for at least two hundred yards and pedestrians, including mothers with prams and others IN wheelchairs, have to move into the very narrow and dangerous road.

There is only one very small car park at the church hall insufficient for the needs of the local church goers now so what will happen when another two or three hundred cars want to park there?

Do you gave a response to this plan from the utility companies? Will they cope?

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I write regarding the above and ask that the following comments be taken into account when considering the same.

I live in the village of West Horsley and therefore many of my comments relate to the specific issues relating to that village alone.

The Issue

I am aware of Central Government's desire to increase the UK's housing provision, particularly in the South East, and within this context Guildford Borough Council (GBC) is under pressure to adopt a deliverable Local Plan for the borough for the period until 2031 and with particular reference to housing provision.

Within this context, I believe that the extra housing provision in discussion should ideally be located on existing brownfield sites within the borough and be located as near as possible to the centres of employment. I do not believe that the current document has given sufficient consideration to this issue, seeking instead an over-reliance on the proposed utilisation of the currently designated Green Belt land around local villages, particularly to the east of the borough, to meet such needs.

In my opinion (and this is formulated through extensive research and professional advice taken) this is a fundamental flaw in the Guildford borough Submission Local Plan 2016 (Proposed Local Plan) as it proposes extensive residential development that will be remote from the existing centres of employment or where indicated within the Proposed Local Plan; these being largely on the opposite side of the borough. Such a policy would be counter to the principles of sustainable development and would undoubtedly put further pressure on the already struggling transport infrastructure. I would like to see this approach rejected and the bulk of new proposed housing allocated nearer to the existing and proposed centres of employment, i.e. within and around Guildford town centre / urban area, rather than in the borough’s outlying, and previously protected, villages.

But I also think that semi-rural villages in the borough, such as West Horsley should and be expected to bear some of the brunt of the future housing provision as it is necessary to increase the number of houses within the village, amongst other reasons, for the young to be able to stay within the village and the older residents to have the opportunity to downsize within the village, but any such housing provision must only be allocated having considered many factors, such as: environmental issues (inc Green Belt), housing needs, local character and architecture, transport and highway situations, infrastructure (schooling, doctors, cap parking in and around the village and at the rail stn, potn development sites amongst others.

I will therefore set out my views on each topic with regard to West Horsley below.

As a matter of government policy, soundness requires a plan to be:

- positively prepared;
- justified;
- effective;
- consistent with national policy.

Within these four heads it should enable, over its plan period, the delivery of sustainable development in accordance with the NPPF.

I have several strong concerns as to whether this is the case within the Proposed Local Plan, as currently drafted, and believe that some of the current policies are not justified nor consistent with national policy, thereby rendering the same unsound without significant revision.
I therefore OBJECT to the Guildford borough Proposed Submission Local Plan – Strategy & Sites 2016 as currently drafted.

ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES (INC. GREEN BELT)

In my opinion, the Metropolitan Green Belt and its special natural environment is a defining characteristic of Guildford borough and, indeed, West Horsley.

I believe that there should remain a general presumption that it should be protected. The Green Belt should only be sacrificed as a last resort, as once lost it can never be reclaimed. Many many villages in Guildford borough are still threatened with removal from their long established Green Belt designation, including where I live, the village of West Horsley. Personally, I do not believe that West Horsley’s currently defined Settlement Area boundaries (ref. 2003 Local Plan) needs such a significant extension, as is being proposed, and perhaps only needs a smaller scale review. In this context, paragraph of Policy P2: Green Belt; is in my opinion so badly worded. For GBC to state “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt, as shown on the proposals map, against inappropriate development” is not being represented at all in the way they are proposing removing so much of the Green Belt, and I do not agree with the proposals map and its proposed new Green Belt boundary.

The national policy regarding protection for the Green Belt is contained within section 9 of the NPPF. Paragraph 79 confirms that the Government attaches great importance to Green Belts.

The main and probably the most important aim of national Green Belt policy, which is repeated word for word by GBC in item 4.3.11, is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open; the essential characteristics of the Green Belt being its openness and permanence.

As the Green Belt in Surrey is long established and has detailed boundaries, “exceptional circumstances” must be demonstrated to necessitate the change to its boundaries. I do not believe that this Proposed Local Plan is an “exceptional circumstance”.

Paragraph 84 of the NPPF advises that “When drawing up or reviewing Green Belt boundaries local planning authorities should take account of the need to promote sustainable patterns of development. They should consider the consequences for sustainable development of channelling development towards urban areas inside the Green Belt boundary, towards towns and villages inset within the Green Belt or towards locations beyond the outer Green Belt boundary”.

GBC states in item 4.3.12 that “national planning policy states that only those villages whose open character makes an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt should be included in the Green Belt”.

I believe that West Horsley’s open, semi-rural character makes an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt in this part of the borough. This is the specific and differentiating characteristic of West Horsley over its more ‘leafy’ and more tightly developed neighbour, East Horsley, which I believe GBC and its consultants have failed to recognise or protect.

It is a strong feeling that the semi-rural landscape character of the village is greatly valued by West Horsley residents and is detailed in general terms within the Guildford Borough Council Landscape Character Assessment.

A huge amount of the character of West Horsley is defined by the open views, (via paths, gates, farm entrance openings, bridle ways etc) from the roads either entering or passing through the village settlement.

Throughout the village, stretches of undeveloped countryside on just one side of Ockham Road North, then East Lane, Ripley Lane and Long Reasch, and also The Street boldly reinforce this characteristic. The clearly defined precedent is of the village settlement being on one side of the route and there being open vistas across fields and meadows and paddocks or into woodlands on the other. This should be protected not compromised by any developments.

Also the fact that the main traffic route through the village (along East Lane and The Street) currently benefits from a ‘green gap’ of woods and fields to the north (between The Rectory, roughly opposite Northcote Road to Grovelands Farm, beyond the railway bridge) and to the south (between Roundtree Farm and the listed Railway Cottages, at the Railway bridge). This natural green area, centred on the Lollesworth Lane and Long Reach junction, is in many ways the real centre of the village.

Clearly Green Belt everywhere is under pressure, but in my opinion, I strongly feel that any linear extensions of the existing settlement boundaries should be strongly resisted.

I therefore believe that the parish of West Horsley’s open, semi-rural, character does indeed make clear and important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt, and therefore I believe that, under national planning policy it should remain “washed over by” the Green Belt, rather than being “inset from the Green Belt” as proposed.

Policy on development with the Metropolitan Green Belt is set out in paragraphs 79 – 92 of the NPPF.

Inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to Green Belt and paragraph 87 of the NPPF clearly states that it “should not be approved except in very special circumstances”. Furthermore paragraph 89 advises local planning authorities to “regard the construction of new buildings as inappropriate in Green Belt”.

Whilst I accept that it is possible for a local planning authority to conduct a review of Green Belt land and consider redefining boundaries which add or take away Green Belt land in order to meet these “very special circumstances”, paragraph 83 of the NPPF states, “Local planning authorities with Green Belts in their area should establish Green Belt boundaries in their Local Plans which set the framework for Green Belt and settlement policy. Once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan. At that time, authorities should consider the Green Belt boundaries having regard to their intended permanence in the long term, so that they should be capable of enduring beyond the plan period.”

This paragraph clearly sets out that a Green Belt review should only happen in “exceptional circumstances”. This idea is further explained on in paragraph 82 as being “for example when planning for larger scale development such as new settlements or major urban extensions”. The proposals for West Horsley are neither a NEW SETTLEMENT NOR A MAJOR URBAN EXTENSION.

I note that within item 4.3.16 GBC states that “We consider that exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and to promote sustainable patterns of development.” - in my opinion these are absolutely not EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES and therefore I am requesting that this sentence is removed.

I cannot see how GBC have directed sustainable development towards existing urban areas and also have not directed it next towards town and villages already inset with the Green Belt.

Removal of any land from the Green Belt should only be allowed after long and thoughtful consideration of the individual sites concerned. I fear that the proposed ‘wholesale’ removal from being “washed over by the Green Belt” to being “inset within the Green Belt” will forever change the nature of West Horsley and, once lost, the character of our village and many surrounding villages will be changed for the worse forever and will clearly be irreversible, which would be a tragic and very sad loss to West Horsley.

I am therefore OBJECTING to the proposals map and the proposed amendment of the Green Belt boundary around West Horsley in particular. I would ask that the proposals map be rejected, reconsidered and amended.

HOUSING NEED

The target house building programme proposed by GBC represents a 25% increase in the housing stock of the borough, whilst we have been advised that the Office of national Statistics (ONS) projects a population increase of some 15% for the borough of Guildford over the same period, I THEREFORE CANNOT SEE OR UNDERSTAND WHY GBC DEEMS IT SO NECESSARY TO INCREASE THE TARGET HOUSE BUILDING PROGRAMME BY A 25% INCREASE IN THE HOUSING STOCK OF THE BOROUGH.
Without a doubt the proposed increase in the number of new houses required has NOT been proven for the village of West Horsley. In my opinion the Proposed Submission Local Plan in respect of West Horsley is excessive in terms of the potential residential provision currently indicated.

I do not believe that the scale of development proposed, in any way, reflects the actual need, or that it respects the local character and existing built density of the village. But I do strongly feel the Horsleys (both East and West) should have new houses built for reasons already stated (PARTICULARLY FOR THE YOUNG AND OLD) but in a much less excessive way. The necessity for 385 new houses on the four proposed sites is grossly excessive.

The population of West Horsley is circa 2828 – to build 385 houses with an increasing family size per household according to new data from Eurostat (according to a Telegraph article of August 2015) stating that the average of 2.4 children is now growing and there are more four baby families now in Britain than almost all of Europe. If we assume that it is still only 2.4 children per family then 385 houses will equate to circa 1700 people – that is a 60% increase on the already existing population of West Horsley – I cannot comprehend the thought process of GBC if they actually want to increase the population of West Horsley by 60% - the village will quite literally just not be able to cope in anyway whatsoever. If the population was increased by 15-20% then it would be necessary to build circa 130 more houses or circa 33 per the four proposed sites, which would be so much more appropriate and within the desires of circa 95% of the Horsleys (East and West).

I therefore OBJECT to the current site allocation and housing densities proposed for all four sites in West Horsley.

I understand that in March 2014 the Government published a new web-based Planning Practise Guidance (Housing & economic land availability assessment, Methodology – stage 5: Final evidence base, 6 March 2014) to accompany and give further detail about the policies in the NPPF. This guidance set out that unmet housing need in a particular area is unlikely to meet the “very special circumstances” test to justify development within the Green Belt. It states “Unmet housing need is unlikely to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and other harm to constitute the “very special circumstances” justifying inappropriate development on a site within the Green Belt”.

On 4th October 2014, I understand that the Government announced that it had updated its online Planning Practice Guidance. The aim of this was to reaffirm local authorities’ abilities to “safeguard their local area against urban sprawl, and to protect the green lungs around towns and cities”. The Government said that it wanted to make planning policy clear that housing need does not justify the harm done to the Green Belt by inappropriate development.

The new guidance read: “Do housing and economic needs override constraints on the use of land, such as Green Belt? - The NPPF should be read as a whole: need alone is not the only factor to be considered when drawing up a Local Plan. The Framework is clear that local planning authorities should, through their Local Plans, meet objectively assessed needs unless any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in the Framework taken as a whole, or specific policies in the Framework indicate development should be restricted. Such policies include those relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives, and/or designated as sites of special scientific interest, land designated as Green Belt, local green space, an area of outstanding natural beauty, heritage coast or within a national park or the Broads; designated heritage assets; and locations at risk of flooding or coastal erosion.

The Framework makes clear that, once established, Green belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan.

Do local planning authorities have to meet in full housing needs identified in needs assessments? – Local authorities should prepare a Strategic Housing Market Assessment to assess their full housing needs. However, assessing need is just the first stage in developing a Local Plan. Once need has been assessed, the local planning authority should prepare a strategic housing land availability assessment to establish realistic assumptions about the availability, suitability and likely economic viability of land to meet the identified need for housing over the plan period, and in so doing take account of any constraints such as Green Belt, which indicate that development should be restricted and which may restrain the ability of an authority to meet its need.”

On the 19 December 2014 the Planning Minister wrote to the Chief Executive at the Planning Inspectorate about Strategic Housing Market Assessments. This letter set out the relationship between housing figures produced as part of a Strategic Housing Market Assessment and those in a Local Plan and how to take into account constraints such as Green Belt land: “However, the outcome of a Strategic Housing Market Assessment is untested and should not automatically be seen as a proxy for a final housing requirement in Local Plans.

It does not immediately or in itself invalidate housing numbers in existing Local Plans. Councils will need to consider Strategic Housing Market Assessment evidence carefully and take adequate time to consider whether there area environmental and policy constraints, such as Green Belt, which will impact on their overall final housing requirement. They also need to consider whether there are opportunities to co-operate with neighbouring planning authorities to meet needs across housing market areas. Only after those considerations are complete will the council’s approach be tested at examination by an inspector. Clearly each council will need to work through this process to take account of particular local circumstances in responding to Strategic Housing Market Assessments”.

It is strongly of my opinion that the overall extent of development required in the borough necessary to meet the employment and housing needs in the borough, as set out in Policy S2, has not been satisfactorily defined having regard to the methodology summarised above.

The West Surrey Strategic Housing Market assessment (SHMA) assesses an Objectively Assessed Need (OAN) of 633 dwellings per annum “but does not take into account land supply or other constraints to development”, as per paragraph 1.2 of the Guildford Summary Report – October 2015. This figure is acknowledged as including upwards adjustments to support growth in student numbers and higher migration levels than are shown in the 2012-based Population Projections and represents an OAN 23% higher than need calculated through London sensitivity analysis, as per paragraphs 4.1 – 4.2 of the same Guildford summary Report.

Policy S2 of the Proposed Local Plan applies uncritically this OAN figure to identify a housing requirement of 13,860 dwellings for the plan period (20 years at 693 dwellings per annum). There is no evidence to indicate that in defining this figure GBC has undertaken a careful consideration of “whether there are environmental and policy constraints, such as Green Belt, which will impact on their overall final housing requirement” and which indicate that development should be restricted.

In my opinion, the Proposed Submission Local Plan’s proposal to make provision for 62% of this total dwelling requirement on land that is currently Green Belt is simply NOT ADEQUATELY JUSTIFIED OR SUPPORTED WITH SOUND ARGUMENT OR TAKING INTO ACCOUNT GOVERNMENT POLICY REGARDING THE PROTECTION OF GREENBELT AND EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES.

Furthermore, I also understand that GBC will not release details of the methodology used by their third party consultants to arrive at the OAN figures used, which, in my opinion, also makes the likelihood of the Proposed Local Plan being considered unsound in this respect. Given that these OAN figures then play such a fundamental role in many of the Site and Strategy issues (and in particular Site Allocation) I believe that much of the Proposed Local Plan is very much open to challenge, possibly including judicial review.

A disproportionate burden of meeting what GBC has chosen to define as its development needs is also proposed to fall on the more rural east of the borough.
Within this eastern area, West Horsley is then allocated to bear an excessive proportion of this proposed development (as stated above, circa 60% increase of the population of West Horsley), despite the numerous countervailing reasons and objections put forward in previous consultation rounds by many local residents (e.g. narrow roads; areas of flood risk; access to both senior and junior school places; medical facilities, parking availability at the station, etc.) If adopted, the draft plan will put an unsustainable pressure on all local resources and infrastructure.

I would further make the point that the Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013 – 2031 made no such case for siting large numbers of residential units within West Horsley. As previously stated, West Horsley is remote from the existing centres of employment and the new Economic Development Site proposals, which are focussed on the opposite side of the borough.

I just cannot understand why it is deemed necessary for such an excessive number of houses to be proposed to be built in West Horsley. To me it seems like total opportunism on behalf of GBC and local and owners which would be massively detrimental to the village of West Horsley.

I therefore OBJECT to the borough housing targets set out in Policy S2.

Furthermore, I am also concerned that all of the proposed Site Allocation sites are currently designated for years 1 – 5 of the plan, which I feel would only exacerbate local infrastructure problems.

CHARACTER OF THE LOCAL AREA

It is incredibly important that West Horsley’s local character, distinctiveness, history and architecture is clearly defined and then promoted and reinforced within the Proposed Local Plan. Poor or average design or execution within the village just cannot be accepted.

I therefore SUPPORT Policy D1: Making better places; where these sentiments are further reinforced by stating that “All developments will: …be laid out to make the best use of the natural features such as trees and hedges and levels, and enhance views into and out of the site....promote and reinforce local distinctiveness to create a sense of place....be expected to use art and materials of a nature appropriate to their setting”

Any new development should work to retain existing natural features and trees, rather than being allowed to clear all existing features to facilitate the standardised approach of volume house builders.

Also, and whilst I object to the principle of ‘insetting’ so many rural villages and West Horsley in particular, in general terms I can also SUPPORT Policy D4: Development in urban areas and inset villages.

Furthermore, I SUPPORT Policy H1: Homes for all, particularly the statements under the heading Housing Mix; that states “New development should provide a mix of housing tenures, types and sizes appropriate to the site size, characteristics and location..... and under the heading Density states that “New residential development is required to make the most efficient use of land whilst responding to local character, context and distinctiveness. Residential densities will vary dependent upon the local area context and character and the sustainability of the location.”

SITE ALLOCATION

At present there are four sites in West Horsley included as sites allocated for development within the Proposed Local Plan. Two further sites are being proposed for East Horsley, one of which immediately abuts the West Horsley parish boundary, which will no doubt primarily utilise the same local resources and infrastructure.

The four sites allocated within West Horsley are:

• Policy A37 – Land at and to the rear of Bell & Colvill, Epsom Road, WH (40 homes / 1.4 hectare / 28.6 dwellings per hectare)
• Policy A38 - Land to the west of West Horsley (Manor Farm, between East Lane and Long Reach) (135 homes / 8.4 hectare / 16.1 dwellings per hectare).

• Policy A40 - Land to the north of West Horsley (Waterloo Farm at rear of Ockham Road North) (120 homes / 8 hectare / 15 dwellings per hectare).

• Policy A41 - Land to the south of West Horsley (on East Lane) (90 homes / 4.8 hectare / 18.8 per hectare).

This is a total of 385 homes on 22.6 hectares, at an average density of 17 per hectare.

ADDED, Policy A39 - Land near Horsley Railway Station (off Ockham Road North and at rear of Heatherdene) (100 homes / 5.7 hectare / 17.5 per hectare) is immediately abutting the West Horsley Parish boundary, however it is not in West Horsley (as referred to incorrectly on page 125 of the Proposed Submission Local Plan) but is actually in East Horsley.

I would reiterate that I am not opposed to new housing in West Horsley per se; however this scale of potential development in, and around, West Horsley is excessive. I would strongly question the need for the inclusion of all four sites and certainly not at the densities proposed.

In particular I would like to STRONGLY OBJECT to the inclusion of Policy A41: Land to the south of West Horsley.

The Policy A41 site is, in my opinion, essential to the village’s semi-rural identity and character and it is vitally important that this open green aspect is maintained through what is, in so many ways, the centre of the village.

If the Proposed Local Plan is adopted, Policy A41 would allow this open space to become the only development (existing or proposed) of any significant depth along the whole of the southern side of the East lane / The Street corridor and would severely compromise this ‘green gap’ between the northern and southern parts of West Horsley.

This is contrary to at least two of the five essential purposes of Green Belt as defined at NPPF paragraph 80 (namely to check unrestricted sprawl and to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment – functions which this part of the Green Belt, including this site, is recognised as performing at paragraph 8.2 of the Guildford Green Belt and Countryside Study).

This site had not previously been include as a potential development site within previous draft versions of the emerging Local Plan and assessment of this site, in background studies forming the evidence base for this Site Allocation, is based on incorrect information.

In particular:

1. In the Guildford Borough Land Availability Assessment (LAA) 2016 – Page 388 in respect of site reference 2063 (‘the site of East Lane’) it states under ‘summary of land designations’ – “Green Belt adjoining settlement boundary”. This is incorrect. Unlike any of the other three sites proposed in West Horsley, this site currently has no boundary that adjoins the village Settlement boundary as defined in the GBC Local Plan 2003.

1. Also, The Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study produced by Pegasus Planning Group, Volume III – Appendix VI – Sustainability Walking Distance Plans for Land Surrounding the Villages refers to the above site, plus the field beyond that the Council now propose removing from the Green Belt (together with a section of Lollesworth Wood) as site D. All assumed walking paths to (i) Nearest Local Centre, (ii) Healthcare Facility and (iii) Railway Station are presuming that access could have been gained to Lollesworth Lane via the undesignated (save that it has been proposed to be removed from the Green Belt) field to the south and fronting Lollesworth Lane. This field is currently used for grazing sheep and is owned by Mr & Mrs. Richard Wills of Lollesworth Farm who are my direct neighbours and they have HAVE MADE IT ABUNDANTLY CLEAR TO ME THAT UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WHATSOEVER THEY WILL PERMIT SUCH ACCESS ROUTE ACROSS THEIR FIELD, therefore the assumption used by Pegasus Planning Group is incorrect and may well have a material effect on their conclusions.

Furthermore, any development on this site would not be consistent with the distinctive settlement pattern of the village and the important relationship between the built environment and the surrounding landscape (i.e. development on one side of the route only). In my opinion, there will be considerable harm to important views of the village from surrounding landscape (from Lollesworth Lane) and from within the village of local landmarks (of Lollesworth Wood), contrary to Policy D4 of the Proposed Local Plan.

Allocation of the site will not “promote sustainable patterns of development” and the wildlife / environmental amenity loss of this site is likely to result in a significant detriment to the village’s character. Furthermore it will cause harm to the biodiversity and natural environment of the adjoining Lollesworth Wood SNCI. Indeed, this is contrary to Sustainability Objective 1 of the Sustainability Appraisal framework set out at Table 4.1 of the Guildford Borough Local Plan Sustainability Appraisal.

Indeed Policy I4: Green and blue infrastructure; states that “Permission will not be granted for proposals that are likely to materially harm the nature conservation interests of local sites unless clear justification is provided that the need for development clearly outweighs the impact on biodiversity.” Local Sites are earlier defined in the policy as including Sites of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCI).

I cannot think of any reason for this amendment, save for a potential second phase development in the next Local Plan and surely it cannot be considered to be justified by “exceptional circumstances” when no alternative use is currently proposed and its current and historic use is as pasture?

Added to which, if the allocation of this site under Policy A41 is adopted, the prospect of further infilling and extension of the village settlement defined in the 2003 Local Plan on adjacent undeveloped, but currently protected, sites south of East Lane and north of Lollesworth Wood would significantly increase, raising the chances of further subsequent harm to the Green Belt and the purposes for which it has been designated in this area. Development of any nature in this location would result in the greater risk of encroachment and merging between the two built settlements in West Horsley and would fundamentally harm to the existing open and natural character of the village.

The proposed amendment to the Green Belt boundary in this location, resulting from the allocation of the site, does not therefore potentially have sufficient regard to its intended permanence in the long term or its capacity of enduring beyond the plan period. Indeed, in my opinion it is contrary to NPPF paragraph 83.

Added to which and contrary to the guidance of NPPF paragraph 85 it has not been clearly defined using “physical features that are readily recognisable and likely to be permanent”. In my opinion, the proposed revision to the Green Belt boundary in this location has been poorly considered.

I would therefore specifically OBJECT to the amendment of the Green Belt in this area, to both the site encompassed by Policy A41 and to the field and wood beyond Policy A41 site, whereby an adjacent field and part of the Lollesworth Wood (SNCI & Ancient Wood designated) to the south have been removed from the Green Belt.

Finally, if any of the above mentioned five sites (four in West Horsley and one in East Horsley) are ultimately to be included within the adopted Local Plan then very careful consideration should be given to the proposed density of any future developments. I think that it far more appropriate that a density of circa 8-10 homes per hectare and a maximum density of 15 homes per hectare is more appropriate for such semi-rural village locations, and certainly are more in keeping with the village’s existing character and density. The existing village settlement largely comprises low density housing, with a considerable mix of ages and housing styles. The number of houses proposed on each of the potential development sites in West Horsley, and thereby their densities, are completely out of character with the existing village, where a density of around 8-10 homes per hectare is much nearer to the norm.

West Horsley requires a balanced mix of homes to meet the community’s needs. West Horsley will require some smaller scale ‘affordable’ homes, both for young people starting home ownership or independent rental and for more elderly residents who wish to downsize for obvious reasons. I believe that a significant number of the ‘affordable’ housing should be available for shared ownership, enabling younger people and families to gain a foothold on the housing ladder, which they would otherwise be unable to due to the high cost of local housing. These younger residents would however contribute significantly to the fabric of the local community and would ensure a balanced community of all ages.

TRANSPORT & HIGHWAY CONSIDERATIONS
Any traffic generated from the proposed Site Allocation housing sites will further contribute to traffic congestion in the area. The existing road system is only appropriate for a semi-rural village, such as West Horsley; indeed its appearance and scale is one of the characteristics of the village.

Many of the traffic routes are little more than lanes, many with pavements on only one side of the carriageway. With many households now having at least two cars, the potential increase in traffic could overwhelm the existing infrastructure and lead to serious, and potentially life threatening, safety concerns.

No specific proposal as to how GBC intend to address these concerns has been detailed in the Local Plan or the Draft Guildford borough Infrastructure Delivery Plan 2016.

Furthermore, GBC are still championing the creation of a new significant settlement under Policy A35: Land at former Wisley Airfield, Ockham. This is potentially a double whammy for local infrastructure, and in particular local roads, from which it may never recover!

I would therefore OBJECT to Policy A35: Land at former Wisley airfield, Ockham.

Is at capacity. There is no adjacent land available for additional car parking provision. A significant increase in the village population will increase the pressure on station car parking and traffic movements to and from the station on already narrow and, at times, congested local roads.

There is currently a regular bus service operating along the A246 between Guildford and Leatherhead, however this is really only of use to residents at the southern end of West Horsley. There is also currently an extremely limited bus service along East Lane and The Street, through West Horsley village, which only operates 2 or 3 times per day between Monday to Friday only. There is no service at the weekends. Any significant development of new homes at this end of the village would necessitate an improvement in this service for it to be in any way considered sustainable.

In Policy I3: Sustainable transport for new developments; GBC proposes that "We will expect developments will contribute.... The policy as drafted is weak and non-specific and as such has no real specific directive that developers must contribute towards sustainable transport and is open to abuse from developers or housebuilders.

I would therefore ask that Policy I3: Sustainable transport for new developments should be AMENDED to state that GBC require this rather than expect them!

INFRASTRUCTURE

West Horsley is a small village with few local facilities. There is currently just one shop at the southern end of the village, where local car parking is very limited. Most people in West Horsley already have to travel, largely by car, to East Horsley for their day to day shopping, banking, doctors visits etc. The existing car parking facilities in East Horsley are already at capacity and any increase in the local population will add to the already existing problems. Any new development would not “support the continued viability” of the existing village infrastructure, as has been said by GBC in the past. In my opinion it would only serve to overload the same beyond breaking point.

State educational provision, both at junior (The Raleigh) and senior (The Howard of Effingham) school level, is already under strain and has been a real and sensitive issue for Surrey County Council and the local community for some years. The Raleigh School, which endeavours to serve both West Horsley and East Horsley, is full every year and has been so for decades. Its site is already fully developed and the opportunities for further expansion are limited. The Raleigh has however recently indicated to local residents that it cannot further increase capacity on its existing site and is considering its options for relocating, raising further concern about possible future erosion and harm to the Green Belt.

Secondary school places are already restricted in number at the Howard of Effingham School for children from West Horsley and all other available secondary schools are considerably further afield in either Guildford or Woking. Potential residential development in Effingham and Bookham would only further increase the problems for local West Horsley children, as children from these developments would, by being closer to the school, have priority. This, however, could push West Horsley children out of its potential catchment, with no currently sustainable local alternative.
I understand that a new junior school and senior school is proposed at the Wisley redevelopment site, although this will not be delivered until well into the plan period and certainly after the currently proposed residential development in West Horsley is well underway or finished.

In the Independent school sector, both Glenesk and Cranmore private schools are supported not just by local Horsley families, but also by many families from Guildford and other surrounding villages, some travelling significant distances. In term time each of these schools contributes to significant local traffic problems on Ockham Road North and the A246 respectively.

The Horsley Medical Centre is already at capacity, as it serves both East and West Horsley, and any additional development would necessitate an expansion of this facility. Possible extension is mentioned in the Draft Guildford borough Infrastructure Delivery Plan 2016 but scant detail, except for envisaged timescale, is given, which is completely unacceptable.

Finally, I also believe that the existing utilities infrastructure in the area would be further stretched, probably beyond acceptable limits.

Surface water drainage along East Lane has been a continual problem throughout the autumn and winter months. The addition of further built environment would just make these problems. I understand that Thames Water have already advised GBC that the area’s waste water network is unlikely to be able to support the demand anticipated from all the local developments.

I also understand that there may also be a serious under capacity of existing foul water sewers. The foul drainage system from West Horsley to the treatment works north of Ripley will, I understand, all need to be upgraded to cope with the increased demand. Thames Water has apparently advised that a two or three year lead-in period will be needed to install the necessary waste water network and treatment capacity after planning permission for any significant development is granted. Unfortunately I’m sure that housing developers will not be waiting that period before they want to build / sell their new houses! This is clearly unacceptable and again shows a flaw in the proposals put out for consultation by GBC.

Water pressure in the area is already poor.

I note that GBC states in Item 4.6.1 that “Timely provision of suitable, adequate infrastructure is crucial to the well-being of the borough’s population, and its economy. Guildford Borough Infrastructure baseline 2013 summarises the capacity and quality of existing infrastructure, including planned improvements. Historically infrastructure provision and upgrading has not always kept pace with the growth of population, employment and transport demands, and in parts of the borough some infrastructure is currently at, or near to, capacity or of poor quality.” I have no doubt that West Horsley must fit into this category.

I was pleased to note that Policy I1: Infrastructure and delivery; states its aim as being “To support delivery of this Local Plan, infrastructure needed to support development should be provided and available when first needed to serve the occupants and users of the development...”. However it then goes on to say “where the timely provision of necessary supporting infrastructure is not secured, development may be phased to reflect infrastructure delivery, or will be refused.”

I don’t think that GBC can offer this “timely provision of necessary supporting infrastructure” – it either happens in full when developers commence construction or they are not granted planning permission.

WEST HORSLEYS HISTORY

West Horsley has many listed buildings, flint and Lovelace houses and any new developments need to be built in keeping with the existing architecture and not just bland developments from the volume house builders.

CONCLUSION
I fully appreciate that more houses need to be built both for the young and the old but it needs to be measured, proportionate and not excessive (ie not increase the population of West Horsley by 60%) and the Green Belt which is a real asset to West Horsley, the borough, the county and the whole of the UK NEEDS TO BE PROTECTED AS FAR AS IS POSSIBLE. And thus all new housing should be built to a measured quantity (eg 120 houses in total in West Horsley with circa 25 houses on each site) and before any Green Belt avenue is explored existing brownfield sites close to areas of employment must and have to be utilised. I do not believe that the Proposed Submission Local Plan : Strategy and Sites 2016 has completely reviewed the possibilities for residential development on such land. The proven need (OAN) for the full extent of new housing proposed I completely disagree with. The proposed potential development in West Horsley is excessive and inappropriate and over dense and certain locations should be removed.

The inclusion of the proposed allocation to the south of West Horsley under Policy A41 is unsound in that, having regard to the advide at paragraph 182 of the NPPF. Allocation of this specific site and its Policy is neither consistent with national policy, nor is it justified. This proposed allocation site (Policy A41) should be removed from the Local Plan and it should be returned to the protection that its present Green Belt designation gives it. The case for “exceptional circumstances” has not been proven for the proposed change in Green Belt boundary here, and actually the same goes for many other locations in the borough.

- Also the proposed removal of the field and part of Lollesworth Wood to the south of the above site is completely wrong and should be reconsidered and returned to the protection that its present Green Belt designation gives it. Added to which the field is owned by Mr and Mrs Richard Wills and they absolutely will not give access rights for a footpath through their land.
- I do not accept the case for “exceptional circumstances” has been proven for the proposed change in Green Belt boundary here either.
- High density development in West Horsley is completely inappropriate and a more appropriate level of density (as highlighted earlier) would be right for the village with small houses as well as apartments for the young and old alike. To finish any significant new housing in West Horsley would need huge improvements in the existing infrastructure (education, doctors, drainage, parking, improvements of the road network).

It seems to me over the next 3-5 years West Horsley is line for a disproportionate no of new houses. If West Horsley sites Policy A37,38,40 and 41 and Policy A39 which immediately abuts the West Horsley Parish boundary are all built out that is just under 500 new houses, where the tarhet is 693 homes per year in the borough for 20 yrs – that is just under 15% of the boroughs quota per year which is clearly grossly excessive for West Horsley to be dealt this blow.

Why are 70% of new homes being proposed to be built on Green Belt or on other countryside. I object to building on the Green Belt because the essential characteristic of Green Belt is its openness and permanence (National Planning Policy Framework paragraph 79)

I object to the scale of new building throughout the borough, which is disproportionate and unjustified, particularly in West Horsley. I think the calculation of housing need is unsubstantiated. The model has not been scrutinised and fundamental assumptions are flawed. The housing target is unconstrained.

I object to the fact that brownfield land would be disproportionately used for commercial development and unnecessary retail expansion. This means Green Belt land is used for housing development unnecessarily.

I object to the fact that new sites have been proposed in this consultation which have not previously been considered, which is not appropriate at this stage.

OVERALL I OBJECT TO THE GUILDFORD BOROUGH PROPOSED SUBMISSION LOCAL PLAN : STRATEGY AND SITES 2016 as large parts are excessive, unsound and technically incorrect.

GUILDFORD BOROUGH – PROPOSED SUBMISSION LOCAL PLAN: STRATEGY AND SITES 2016 CONSULTATION

I write regarding the above and ask that the following comments be taken into account when considering the same.

I live in the village of West Horsley and therefore many of my comments relate to the specific issues relating to that village alone.

The Issue

I am aware of Central Government’s desire to increase the UK’s housing provision, particularly in the South East, and within this context Guildford Borough Council (GBC) is under pressure to adopt a deliverable Local Plan for the borough for the period until 2031 and with particular reference to housing provision.

Within this context, I believe that the extra housing provision in discussion should ideally be located on existing brownfield sites within the borough and be located as near as possible to the centres of employment. I do not believe that the current document has given sufficient consideration to the this issue, seeking instead an over-reliance on the proposed utilisation of the currently designated Green Belt land around local villages, particularly to the east of the borough, to meet such needs.

In my opinion (and this is formulated through extensive research and professional advice taken) this is a fundamental flaw in the Guildford borough Submission Local Plan 2016 (Proposed Local Plan) as it proposes extensive residential development that will be remote from the existing centres of employment or where indicated within the Proposed Local Plan; these being largely on the opposite side of the borough. Such a policy would be counter to the principles of sustainable development and would undoubtedly put further pressure on the already struggling transport infrastructure. I would like to see this approach rejected and the bulk of new proposed housing allocated nearer to the existing and proposed centres of employment, i.e. within and around Guildford town centre / urban area, rather than in the borough’s outlying, and previously protected, villages.

But I also think that semi-rural villages in the borough, such as West Horsley should and be expected to bear some of the brunt of the future housing provision as it is necessary to increase the number of houses within the village, amongst other reasons, for the young to be able to stay within the village and the older residents to have the opportunity to downsize within the village, but any such housing provision must only be allocated having considered many factors, such as: environmental issues (inc Green Belt), housing needs, local character and architecture, transport and highway situations, infrastructure (schooling, doctors, car parking in and around the village and at the rail stn, potential development sites amongst others.

I will therefore set out my views on each topic with regard to West Horsley below.

National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), paragraph 182, advises that a Local Plan can only be adopted if it is sound.

As a matter of government policy, soundness requires a plan to be:

- positively prepared;
- justified;
- effective;
- consistent with national policy.
Within these four heads it should enable, over its plan period, the delivery of sustainable development in accordance with the NPPF.

I have several strong concerns as to whether this is the case within the Proposed Local Plan, as currently drafted, and believe that some of the current policies are not justified nor consistent with national policy, thereby rendering the same unsound without significant revision.

I therefore OBJECT to the Guildford borough Proposed Submission Local Plan – Strategy & Sites 2016 as currently drafted.

ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES (INC. GREEN BELT)

In my opinion, the Metropolitan Green Belt and its special natural environment is a defining characteristic of Guildford borough and, indeed, West Horsley.

I believe that there should remain a general presumption that it should be protected. The Green Belt should only be sacrificed as a last resort, as once lost it can never be reclaimed. Many many villages in Guildford borough are still threatened with removal from their long established Green Belt designation, including where I live, the village of West Horsley. Personally, I do not believe that West Horsley’s currently defined Settlement Area boundaries (ref. 2003 Local Plan) needs such a significant extension, as is being proposed, and perhaps only needs a smaller scale review. In this context, paragraph of Policy P2: Green Belt; is in my opinion so badly worded. For GBC to state “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt, as shown on the proposals map, against inappropriate development” is not being represented at all in the way they are proposing removing so much of the Green Belt, and I do not agree with the proposals map and its proposed new Green Belt boundary.

The national policy regarding protection for the Green Belt is contained within section 9 of the NPPF. Paragraph 79 confirms that the Government attaches great importance to Green Belts. Paragraph 84 of the NPPF advises that “When drawing up or reviewing Green Belt boundaries local planning authorities should take account of the need to promote sustainable patterns of development. They should consider the consequences for sustainable development of channelling development towards urban areas inside the Green Belt boundary, towards towns and villages inset within the Green Belt or towards locations beyond the outer Green Belt boundary”.

GBC states in item 4.3.12 that “national planning policy states that only those villages whose open character makes an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt should be included in the Green Belt”.

I believe that West Horsley’s open, semi-rural character makes an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt in this part of the borough. This is the specific and differentiating characteristic of West Horsley over its more ‘leafy’ and more tightly developed neighbour, East Horsley, which I believe GBC and its consultants have failed to recognise or protect.

It is a strong feeling that the semi-rural landscape character of the village is greatly valued by West Horsley residents and is detailed in general terms within the Guildford Borough Council Landscape Character Assessment.

A huge amount of the character of West Horsley is defined by the open views, (via paths, gates, farm entrance openings, bridle ways etc) from the roads either entering or passing through the village settlement.

Throughout the village, stretches of undeveloped countryside on just one side of Ockham Road North, then East Lane, Ripley Lane and Long Reasch, and also The Street boldly reinforce this characteristic. The clearly defined precedent is of the village settlement being on one side of the route and there being open vistas across fields and meadows and paddocks or into woodlands on the other. This should be protected not compromised by any developments.

Also the fact that the main traffic route through the village (along East Lane and The Street) currently benefits from a ‘green gap’ of woods and fields to the north (between The Rectory, roughly opposite Northcote Road to Grovelands Farm, beyond the railway bridge) and to the south (between Roundtree Farm and the listed Railway Cottages, at the Railway bridge). This natural green area, centred on the Lellesworth Lane and Long Reach junction, is in many ways the real centre of the village.

Clearly Green Belt everywhere is under pressure, but in my opinion, I strongly feel that any linear extensions of the existing settlement boundaries should be strongly resisted.

I therefore believe that the parish of West Horsley’s open, semi-rural, character does indeed make clear and important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt, and therefore I believe that, under national planning policy it should remain “washed over by” the Green Belt, rather than being “inset from the Green Belt” as proposed.

Policy on development with the Metropolitan Green Belt is set out in paragraphs 79 – 92 of the NPPF.

Inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to Green Belt and paragraph 87 of the NPPF clearly states that it “should not be approved except in very special circumstances”. Furthermore paragraph 89 advises local planning authorities to “regard the construction of new buildings as inappropriate in Green Belt”.

Whilst I accept that it is possible for a local planning authority to conduct a review of Green Belt land and consider redefining boundaries which add or take away Green Belt land in order to meet these “very special circumstances”, paragraph 83 of the NPPF states, “Local planning authorities with Green Belts in their area should establish Green Belt boundaries in their Local Plans which set the framework for Green Belt and settlement policy. Once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan. At that time, authorities should consider the Green Belt boundaries having regard to their intended permanence in the long term, so that they should be capable of enduring beyond the plan period.”

This paragraph clearly sets out that a Green Belt review should only happen in “exceptional circumstances”. This idea is further explained on in paragraph 82 as being “for example when planning for larger scale development such as new settlements or major urban extensions”. The proposals for West Horsley are neither a NEW SETTLEMENT NOR A MAJOR URBAN EXTENSION.

I note that within item 4.3.16 GBC states that “We consider that exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed to promote sustainable patterns of development.” - in my opinion these are absolutely not EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES and therefore I am requesting that this sentence is removed.

I cannot see how GBC have directed sustainable development towards existing urban areas and also have not directed it next towards town and villages already inset with the Green Belt.

Removal of any land from the Green Belt should only be allowed after long and thoughtful consideration of the individual sites concerned. I fear that the proposed ‘wholesale’ removal from being “washed over by the Green Belt” to being “inset within the Green Belt” will forever change the nature of West Horsley and, once lost, the character of our village and many surrounding villages will be changed for the worse forever and will clearly be irreversible, which would be a tragic and very sad loss to West Horsley.

I am therefore OBJECTING to the proposals map and the proposed amendment of the Green Belt boundary around West Horsley in particular. I would ask that the proposals map be rejected, reconsidered and amended.

HOUSING NEED
The target house building programme proposed by GBC represents a 25% increase in the housing stock of the borough, whilst we have been advised that the Office of National Statistics (ONS) projects a population increase of some 15% for the borough of Guildford over the same period, I THEREFORE CANNOT SEE OR UNDERSTAND WHY GBC DEEMS IT SO NECESSARY TO INCREASE THE TARGET HOUSE BUILDING PROGRAMME BY A 25% INCREASE IN THE HOUSING STOCK OF THE BOROUGH.

Without a doubt the proposed increase in the number of new houses required has NOT been proven for the village of West Horsley. In my opinion the Proposed Submission Local Plan in respect of West Horsley is excessive in terms of the potential residential provision currently indicated.

I do not believe that the scale of development proposed, in any way, reflects the actual need, or that it respects the local character and existing built density of the village. But I do strongly feel the Horsleys (both East and West) should have new houses built for reasons already stated (PARTICULARLY FOR THE YOUNG AND OLD) but in a much less excessive way. The necessity for 385 new houses on the four proposed sites is grossly excessive.

The population of West Horsley is circa 2828 – to build 385 houses with an increasing family size per household according to new data from Eurostat (according to a Telegraph article of August 2015) stating that the average of 2.4 children is now growing and there are more four baby families now in Britain than almost all of Europe. If we assume that it is still only 2.4 children per family then 385 houses will equate to circa 1700 people – that is a 60% increase on the already existing population of West Horsley – I cannot comprehend the thought process of GBC if they actually want to increase the population of West Horsley by 60% - the village will quite literally just not be able to cope in anyway whatsoever. If the population was increased by 15-20% then it would be necessary to build circa 130 more houses or circa 33 per the four proposed sites, which would be so much more appropriate and within the desires of circa 95% of the Horsleys (East and West).

I therefore OBJECT to the current site allocation and housing densities proposed for all four sites in West Horsley.

I understand that in March 2014 the Government published a new web-based Planning Practise Guidance (Housing & economic land availability assessment, Methodology – stage 5: Final evidence base, 6 March 2014) to accompany and give further detail about the policies in the NPPF. This guidance set out that unmet housing need in a particular area is unlikely to meet the “very special circumstances” test to justify development within the Green Belt. It states “Unmet housing need is unlikely to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and other harm to constitute the “very special circumstances” justifying inappropriate development on a site within the Green Belt”.

On 4th October 2014, I understand that the Government announced that it had updated its online Planning Practise Guidance. The aim of this was to reaffirm local authorities’ abilities to “safeguard their local area against urban sprawl, and to protect the green lungs around towns and cities”. The Government said that it wanted to make planning policy clear that housing need does not justify the harm done to the Green Belt by inappropriate development.

The new guidance read: “Do housing and economic needs override constraints on the use of land, such as Green Belt? - The NPPF should be read as a whole: need alone is not the only factor to be considered when drawing up a Local Plan. The Framework is clear that local planning authorities should, through their Local Plans, meet objectively assessed needs unless any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in the Framework taken as a whole, or specific policies in the Framework indicate development should be restricted. Such policies include those relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives, and/or designated as sites of special scientific interest, land designated as Green Belt, local green space, an area of outstanding natural beauty, heritage coast or within a national park or the Broads; designated heritage assets; and locations at risk of flooding or coastal erosion.

The Framework makes clear that, once established, Green belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan.
Do local planning authorities have to meet in full housing needs identified in needs assessments? – Local authorities should prepare a Strategic Housing Market Assessment to assess their full housing needs. However, assessing need is just the first stage in developing a Local Plan. Once need has been assessed, the local planning authority should prepare a strategic housing land availability assessment to establish realistic assumptions about the availability, suitability and likely economic viability of land to meet the identified need for housing over the plan period, and in so doing take account of any constraints such as Green Belt, which indicate that development should be restricted and which may restrain the ability of an authority to meet its need.

On the 19 December 2014 the Planning Minister wrote to the Chief Executive at the Planning Inspectorate about Strategic Housing Market Assessments. This letter set out the relationship between housing figures produced as part of a Strategic Housing Market Assessment and those in a Local Plan and how to take into account constraints such as Green Belt land:

“However, the outcome of a Strategic Housing Market Assessment is untested and should not automatically be seen as a proxy for a final housing requirement in Local Plans.

It does not immediately or in itself invalidate housing numbers in existing Local Plans. Councils will need to consider Strategic Housing Market Assessment evidence carefully and take adequate time to consider whether there are environmental and policy constraints, such as Green Belt, which will impact on their overall final housing requirement. They also need to consider whether there are opportunities to co-operate with neighbouring planning authorities to meet needs across housing market areas. Only after those considerations are complete will the council’s approach be tested at examination by an inspector. Clearly each council will need to work through this process to take account of particular local circumstances in responding to Strategic Housing Market Assessments”.

It is strongly of my opinion that the overall extent of development required in the borough necessary to meet the employment and housing needs in the borough, as set out in Policy S2, has not been satisfactorily defined having regard to the methodology summarised above.

The West Surrey Strategic Housing Market assessment (SHMA) assesses an Objectively Assessed Need (OAN) of 633 dwellings per annum “but does not take into account land supply or other constraints to development”, as per paragraph 1.2 of the Guildford Summary Report – October 2015. This figure is acknowledged as including upwards adjustments to support growth in student numbers and higher migration levels than are shown in the 2012-based Population Projections and represents an OAN 23% higher than need calculated through London sensitivity analysis, as per paragraphs 4.1 – 4.2 of the same Guildford summary Report.

Policy S2 of the Proposed Local Plan applies uncritically this OAN figure to identify a housing requirement of 13,860 dwellings for the plan period (20 years at 693 dwellings per annum). There is no evidence to indicate that in defining this figure GBC has undertaken a careful consideration of “whether there are environmental and policy constraints, such as Green Belt, which will impact on their overall final housing requirement” and which indicate that development should be restricted.

In my opinion, the Proposed Submission Local Plan’s proposal to make provision for 62% of this total dwelling requirement on land that is currently Green Belt is simply NOT ADEQUATELY JUSTIFIED OR SUPPORTED WITH SOUND ARGUMENT OR TAKING INTO ACCOUNT GOVERNMENT POLICY REGARDING THE PROTECTION OF GREENBELT AND EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES.

Furthermore, I also understand that GBC will not release details of the methodology used by their third party consultants to arrive at the OAN figures used, which, in my opinion, also makes the likelihood of the Proposed Local Plan being considered unsound in this respect. Given that these OAN figures then play such a fundamental role in many of the Site and Strategy issues (and in particular Site Allocation) I believe that much of the Proposed Local Plan is very much open to challenge, possibly including judicial review.
A disproportionate burden of meeting what GBC has chosen to define as its development needs is also proposed to fall on the more rural east of the borough.

Within this eastern area, West Horsley is then allocated to bear an excessive proportion of this proposed development (as stated above, circa 60% increase of the population of West Horsley), despite the numerous countervailing reasons and objections put forward in previous consultation rounds by many local residents (e.g. narrow roads; areas of flood risk; access to both senior and junior school places; medical facilities, parking availability at the station, etc.) If adopted, the draft plan will put an unsustainable pressure on all local resources and infrastructure.

I would further make the point that the Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013 – 2031 made no such case for siting large numbers of residential units within West Horsley. As previously stated, West Horsley is remote from the existing centres of employment and the new Economic Development Site proposals, which are focussed on the opposite side of the borough.

I just cannot understand why it is deemed necessary for such an excessive number of houses to be proposed to be built in West Horsley. To me it seems like total opportunism on behalf of GBC and local and owners which would be massively detrimental to the village of West Horsley.

I therefore OBJECT to the borough housing targets set out in Policy S2.

Furthermore, I am also concerned that all of the proposed Site Allocation sites are currently designated for years 1 – 5 of the plan, which I feel would only exacerbate local infrastructure problems.

CHARACTER OF THE LOCAL AREA

It is incredibly important that West Horsley’s local character, distinctiveness, history and architecture is clearly defined and then promoted and reinforced within the Proposed Local Plan. Poor or average design or execution within the village just cannot be accepted.

I therefore SUPPORT Policy D1: Making better places; where these sentiments are further reinforced by stating that “All developments will: …be laid out to make the best use of the natural features such as trees and hedges and levels, and enhance views into and out of the site….promote and reinforce local distinctiveness to create a sense of place….be expected to use art and materials of a nature appropriate to their setting”

Any new development should work to retain existing natural features and trees, rather than being allowed to clear all existing features to facilitate the standardised approach of volume house builders.

Also, and whilst I object to the principle of ‘insetting’ so many rural villages and West Horsley in particular, in general terms I can also SUPPORT Policy D4: Development in urban areas and inset villages.

Furthermore, I SUPPORT Policy H1: Homes for all, particularly the statements under the heading Housing Mix; that states “New development should provide a mix of housing tenures, types and sizes appropriate to the site size, characteristics and location….. and under the heading Density states that “New residential development is required to make the most efficient use of land whilst responding to local character, context and distinctiveness. Residential densities will vary dependent upon the local area context and character and the sustainability of the location.”

SITE ALLOCATION

At present there are four sites in West Horsley included as sites allocated for development within the Proposed Local Plan. Two further sites are being proposed for East Horsley, one of which immediately abuts the West Horsley parish boundary, which will no doubt primarily utilise the same local resources and infrastructure.

The four sites allocated within West Horsley are:
• Policy A37 – Land at and to the rear of Bell & Colvill, Epsom Road, WH (40 homes / 1.4 hectare / 28.6 dwellings per hectare)

• Policy A38 - Land to the west of West Horsley (Manor Farm, between East Lane and Long Reach) (135 homes / 8.4 hectare / 16.1 dwellings per hectare).

• Policy A40 - Land to the north of West Horsley (Waterloo Farm at rear of Ockham Road North) (120 homes / 8 hectare / 15 dwellings per hectare).

• Policy A41 - Land to the south of West Horsley (on East Lane) (90 homes / 4.8 hectare / 18.8 per hectare).

This is a total of 385 homes on 22.6 hectares, at an average density of 17 per hectare.

ADDED, Policy A39 - Land near Horsley Railway Station (off Ockham Road North and at rear of Heatherdene) (100 homes / 5.7 hectare / 17.5 per hectare) is immediately abutting the West Horsley Parish boundary, however it is not in West Horsley (as referred to incorrectly on page 125 of the Proposed Submission Local Plan) but is actually in East Horsley.

I would reiterate that I am not opposed to new housing in West Horsley per se; however this scale of potential development in, and around, West Horsley is excessive. I would strongly question the need for the inclusion of all four sites and certainly not at the densities proposed.

In particular I would like to STRONGLY OBJECT to the inclusion of Policy A41: Land to the south of West Horsley.

The Policy A41 site is, in my opinion, essential to the village’s semi-rural identity and character and it is vitally important that this open green aspect is maintained through what is, in so many ways, the centre of the village.

If the Proposed Local Plan is adopted, Policy A41 would allow this open space to become the only development (existing or proposed) of any significant depth along the whole of the southern side of the East lane / The Street corridor and would severely compromise this ‘green gap’ between the northern and southern parts of West Horsley.

This is contrary to at least two of the five essential purposes of Green Belt as defined at NPPF paragraph 80 (namely to check unrestricted sprawl and to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment – functions which this part of the Green Belt, including this site, is recognised as performing at paragraph 8.2 of the Guildford Green Belt and Countryside Study).

This site had not previously been include as a potential development site within previous draft versions of the emerging Local Plan and assessment of this site, in background studies forming the evidence base for this Site Allocation, is based on incorrect information.

In particular:

1. In the Guildford Borough Land Availability Assessment (LAA) 2016 – Page 388 in respect of site reference 2063 (‘the site of East Lane’) it states under ‘summary of land designations’ – “Green Belt adjoining settlement boundary”. This is incorrect. Unlike any of the other three sites proposed in West Horsley, this site currently has no boundary that adjoins the village Settlement boundary as defined in the GBC Local Plan 2003.

1. Also, The Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study produced by Pegasus Planning Group, Volume III – Appendix VI – Sustainability Walking Distance Plans for Land Surrounding the Villages refers to the above site, plus the field beyond that the Council now propose removing from the Green Belt (together with a section of Lollesworth Wood) as site D. All assumed walking paths to (i) Nearest Local Centre, (ii) Healthcare Facility and (iii) Railway Station are presuming that access could have been gained to Lollesworth Lane via the undesignated (save that it has been proposed to be removed from the Green Belt) field to the south and fronting Lollesworth Lane. This field is currently used for grazing sheep and is owned by Mr & Mrs. Richard Wills of Lollesworth Farm who are my direct neighbours and they have HAVE MADE IT ABUNDANTLY CLEAR TO ME THAT UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WHATSOEVER THEY WILL PERMIT SUCH ACCESS ROUTE ACROSS THEIR FIELD, therefore the assumption used by Pegasus Planning Group is incorrect and may well have a material effect on their conclusions.
Furthermore, any development on this site would not be consistent with the distinctive settlement pattern of the village and the important relationship between the built environment and the surrounding landscape (i.e. development on one side of the route only). In my opinion, there will be considerable harm to important views of the village from surrounding landscape (from Lollesworth Lane) and from within the village of local landmarks (of Lollesworth Wood), contrary to Policy D4 of the Proposed Local Plan.

Allocation of the site will not “promote sustainable patterns of development” and the wildlife / environmental amenity loss of this site is likely to result in a significant detriment to the village’s character. Furthermore it will cause harm to the biodiversity and natural environment of the adjoining Lollesworth Wood SNCL. Indeed, this is contrary to Sustainability Objective 1 of the Sustainability Appraisal framework set out at Table 4.1 of the Guildford Borough Local Plan Sustainability Appraisal.

Indeed Policy I4: Green and blue infrastructure; states that “Permission will not be granted for proposals that are likely to materially harm the nature conservation interests of local sites unless clear justification is provided that the need for development clearly outweighs the impact on biodiversity.” Local Sites are earlier defined in the policy as including Sites of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCL).

I cannot think of any reason for this amendment, save for a potential second phase development in the next Local Plan and surely it cannot be considered to be justified by “exceptional circumstances” when no alternative use is currently proposed and its current and historic use is as pasture?

Added to which, if the allocation of this site under Policy A41 is adopted, the prospect of further infilling and extension of the village settlement defined in the 2003 Local Plan on adjacent undeveloped, but currently protected, sites south of East Lane and north of Lollesworth Wood would significantly increase, raising the chances of further subsequent harm to the Green Belt and the purposes for which it has been designated in this area. Development of any nature in this location would result in the greater risk of encroachment and merging between the two built settlements in West Horsley and would fundamentally harm to the existing open and natural character of the village.

The proposed amendment to the Green Belt boundary in this location, resulting from the allocation of the site, does not therefore potentially have sufficient regard to its intended permanence in the long term or its capacity of enduring beyond the plan period. Indeed, in my opinion it is contrary to NPPF paragraph 83.

Added to which and contrary to the guidance of NPPF paragraph 85 it has not been clearly defined using “physical features that are readily recognisable and likely to be permanent”. In my opinion, the proposed revision to the Green Belt boundary in this location has been poorly considered.

I would therefore specifically OBJECT to the amendment of the Green Belt in this area, to both the site encompassed by Policy A41 and to the field and wood beyond Policy A41 site, whereby an adjacent field and part of the Lollesworth Wood (SNCL & Ancient Wood designated) to the south have been removed from the Green Belt.

Finally, if any of the above mentioned five sites (four in West Horsley and one in East Horsley) are ultimately to be included within the adopted Local Plan then very careful consideration should be given to the proposed density of any future developments. I think that it far more appropriate that a density of circa 8-10 homes per hectare and a maximum density of 15 homes per hectare is more appropriate for such semi-rural village locations, and certainly are more in keeping with the village’s existing character and density. The existing village settlement largely comprises low density housing, with a considerable mix of ages and housing styles. The number of houses proposed on each of the potential development sites in West Horsley, and thereby their densities, are completely out of character with the existing village, where a density of around 8-10 homes per hectare is much nearer to the norm.

West Horsley requires a balanced mix of homes to meet the community’s needs. West Horsley will require some smaller scale ‘affordable’ homes, both for young people starting home ownership or independent rental and for more elderly residents who wish to downsize for obvious reasons. I believe that a significant number of the ‘affordable’ housing should be available for shared ownership, enabling younger people and families to gain a foothold on the housing ladder, which they would otherwise be unable to due to the high cost of local housing. These younger residents would however contribute significantly to the fabric of the local community and would ensure a balanced community of all ages.
TRANSPORT & HIGHWAY CONSIDERATIONS

Any traffic generated from the proposed Site Allocation housing sites will further contribute to traffic congestion in the area. The existing road system is only appropriate for a semi-rural village, such as West Horsley; indeed its appearance and scale is one of the characteristics of the village.

Many of the traffic routes are little more than lanes, many with pavements on only one side of the carriageway. With many households now having at least two cars, the potential increase in traffic could overwhelm the existing infrastructure and lead to serious, and potentially life threatening, safety concerns.

No specific proposal as to how GBC intend to address these concerns has been detailed in the Local Plan or the Draft Guildford borough Infrastructure Delivery Plan 2016.

Furthermore, GBC are still championing the creation of a new significant settlement under Policy A35: Land at former Wisley Airfield, Ockham. This is potentially a double whammy for local infrastructure, and in particular local roads, from which it may never recover!

I would therefore OBJECT to Policy A35: Land at former Wisley airfield, Ockham.

Is at capacity. There is no adjacent land available for additional car parking provision. A significant increase in the village population will increase the pressure on station car parking and traffic movements to and from the station on already narrow and, at times, congested local roads.

There is currently a regular bus service operating along the A246 between Guildford and Leatherhead, however this is really only of use to residents at the southern end of West Horsley. There is also currently an extremely limited bus service along East Lane and The Street, through West Horsley village, which only operates 2 or 3 times per day between Monday to Friday only. There is no service at the weekends. Any significant development of new homes at this end of the village would necessitate an improvement in this service for it to be in any way considered sustainable.

In Policy I3: Sustainable transport for new developments; GBC proposes that “We will expect developments will contribute...”. The policy as drafted is weak and non-specific and as such has no real specific directive that developers must contribute towards sustainable transport and is open to abuse from developers or housebuilders.

I would therefore ask that Policy I3: Sustainable transport for new developments should be AMENDED to state that GBC require this rather than expect them!

INFRASTRUCTURE

West Horsley is a small village with few local facilities. There is currently just one shop at the southern end of the village, where local car parking is very limited. Most people in West Horsley already have to travel, largely by car, to East Horsley for their day to day shopping, banking, doctors visits etc. The existing car parking facilities in East Horsley are already at capacity and any increase in the local population will add to the already existing problems. Any new development would not “support the continued viability” of the existing village infrastructure, as has been said by GBC in the past. In my opinion it would only serve to overload the same beyond breaking point.

State educational provision, both at junior (The Raleigh) and senior (The Howard of Effingham) school level, is already under strain and has been a real and sensitive issue for Surrey County Council and the local community for some years. The Raleigh School, which endeavours to serve both West Horsley and East Horsley, is full every year and has been so for decades. Its site is already fully developed and the opportunities for further expansion are limited. The Raleigh has however recently indicated to local residents that it cannot further increase capacity on its existing site and is considering its options for relocating, raising further concern about possible future erosion and harm to the Green Belt.

Secondary school places are already restricted in number at the Howard of Effingham School for children from West Horsley and all other available secondary schools are considerably further afield in either Guildford or Woking. Potential residential development in Effingham and Bookham would only further increase the problems for local West Horsley children, as children from these developments would, by being closer to the school, have priority. This, however, could push West Horsley children out of its potential catchment, with no currently sustainable local alternative.
I understand that a new junior school and senior school is proposed at the Wisley redevelopment site, although this will not be delivered until well into the plan period and certainly after the currently proposed residential development in West Horsley is well underway or finished.

In the Independent school sector, both Glenesk and Cranmore private schools are supported not just by local Horsley families, but also by many families from Guildford and other surrounding villages, some travelling significant distances. In term time each of these schools contributes to significant local traffic problems on Ockham Road North and the A246 respectively.

The Horsley Medical Centre is already at capacity, as it serves both East and West Horsley, and any additional development would necessitate an expansion of this facility. Possible extension is mentioned in the Draft Guildford borough Infrastructure Delivery Plan 2016 but scant detail, except for envisaged timescale, is given, which is completely unacceptable.

Finally, I also believe that the existing utilities infrastructure in the area would be further stretched, probably beyond acceptable limits.

Surface water drainage along East Lane has been a continual problem throughout the autumn and winter months. The addition of further built environment would just make these problems worse. I understand that Thames Water have already advised GBC that the area’s waste water network is unlikely to be able to support the demand anticipated from all the local developments.

I also understand that there may also be a serious under capacity of existing foul water sewers. The foul drainage system from West Horsley to the treatment works north of Ripley will, I understand, all need to be upgraded to cope with the increased demand. Thames Water has apparently advised that a two or three year lead-in period will be needed to install the necessary waste water network and treatment capacity after planning permission for any significant development is granted. Unfortunately I’m sure that housing developers will not be waiting that period before they want to build / sell their new houses! This is clearly unacceptable and again shows a flaw in the proposals put out for consultation by GBC.

Water pressure in the area is already poor.

I note that GBC states in Item 4.6.1 that “Timely provision of suitable, adequate infrastructure is crucial to the well-being of the borough’s population, and its economy. Guildford Borough Infrastructure baseline 2013 summarises the capacity and quality of existing infrastructure, including planned improvements. Historically infrastructure provision and upgrading has not always kept pace with the growth of population, employment and transport demands, and in parts of the borough some infrastructure is currently at, or near to, capacity or of poor quality.” I have no doubt that West Horsley must fit into this category.

I was pleased to note that Policy I1: Infrastructure and delivery; states its aim as being “To support delivery of this Local Plan, infrastructure needed to support development should be provided and available when first needed to serve the occupants and users of the development...”. However it then goes on to say “where the timely provision of necessary supporting infrastructure is not secured, development may be phased to reflect infrastructure delivery, or will be refused.”

I don’t think that GBC can offer this “timely provision of necessary supporting infrastructure” – it either happens in full when developers commence construction or they are not granted planning permission.

WEST HORSLEYS HISTORY

West Horsley has many listed buildings, flint and Lovelace houses and any new developments need to be built in keeping with the existing architecture and not just bland developments from the volume house builders.

I fully appreciate that more houses need to be built both for the young and the old but it needs to be measured, proportionate and not excessive (ie not increase the population of West Horsley by 60%) and the Green Belt which is a real asset to West Horsley, the borough, the county and the whole of the UK NEEDS TO BE PROTECTED AS FAR AS IS POSSIBLE. And thus all new housing should be built to a measured quantity (eg 120 houses in total in West Horsley with circa 25 houses on each site) and before any Green Belt avenue is explored existing brownfield sites close to areas of employment must and have to be utilised. I do not believe that the Proposed Submission Local Plan : Strategy and Sites 2016 has completely reviewed the possibilities for residential development on such land. The proven need (OAN) for the full extent of new housing proposed I completely disagree with. The proposed potential development in West Horsley is excessive and inappropriate and over dense and certain locations should be removed.

The inclusion of the proposed allocation to the south of West Horsley under Policy A41 is unsound in that, having regard to the advise at paragraph 182 of the NPPF. Allocation of this specific site and its Policy is neither consistent with national policy, nor is it justified. This proposed allocation site (Policy A41) should be removed from the Local Plan and it should be returned to the protection that its present Green Belt designation gives it. The case for “exceptional circumstances” has not been proven for the proposed change in Green Belt boundary here, and actually the same goes for many other locations in the borough.

- Also the proposed removal of the field and part of Lollesworth Wood to the south of the above site is completely wrong and should be reconsidered and returned to the protection that its present Green Belt designation gives it. Added to which the field is owned by Mr and Mrs Richard Wills and they absolutely will not give access rights for a footpath through their land.
- I do not accept the case for “exceptional circumstances” has been proven for the proposed change in Green Belt boundary here either.
- High density development in West Horsley is completely inappropriate and a more appropriate level of density (as highlighted earlier) would be right for the village with small houses aswell as apartments for the young and old alike. To finish any significant new housing in West Horsley would need huge improvements in the existing infrastructure (education, doctors, drainage, parking, improvements of the road network).

It seems to me over the next 3-5 years West Horsley is line for a disproportionate no of new houses. If West Horsley sites Policy A37,38,40 and 41 and Policy A39 which immediately abuts the West Horsley Parish boundary are all built out that is just under 500 new houses, where the tarhet is 693 homes per year in the borough for 20 yrs – that is just under 15% of the boroughs quota per year which is clearly grossly excessive for West Horsley to be dealt this blow.

Why are 70% of new homes being proposed to be built on Green Belt or on other countryside. I object to building on the Green Belt because the essential characteristic of Green Belt is its openness and permanence (National Planning Policy Framework paragraph 79)

I object to the scale of new building throughout the borough, which is disproportionate and unjustified, particularly in West Horsley. I think the calculation of housing need is unsubstantiated. The model has not been scrutinised and fundamental assumptions are flawed. The housing target is unconstrained.

I object to the fact that brownfield land would be disproportionately used for commercial development and unnecessary retail expansion. This means Green Belt land is used for housing development unnecessarily.

I object to the fact that new sites have been proposed in this consultation which have not previously been considered, which is not appropriate at this stage.

OVERALL I OBJECT TO THE GUILDFORD BOROUGH PROPOSED SUBMISSION LOCAL PLAN : STRATEGY AND SITES 2016 as large parts are excessive, unsound and technically incorrect.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Further to your letter, dated 7th June 2017, inviting me to take part in the targeted consultation on Guildford Borough Council’s Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites (2017), I am writing to you as I fully support the proposed change to the Proposed Submission Local Plan relating to the deletion of the previously proposed Policy A41.

It is pleasing to see that the site which had been previously indicated for housing under policy A41 has now been removed from the allocation sites for housing and now remains within the protection of the Green Belt designation. It is a greatly appreciated decision that means that this natural and beautiful area of West Horsley has been returned to the protection of the Green Belt area and will remain as such to the enhancement of the ruralness and open spaces which make Horsley the beautiful place that it is.

Thank you for this proposed change and I personally give you my full support re your decision.

In particular I have issues with Guildford’s plans for the following developments as they do not show consideration for their surroundings, the impact the influx of large numbers of people will have on village life or the roads that will receive increased traffic flow.

I OBJECT TO development of Clockburn Nursery, Tannery Lane (45 houses) covers an area where there is already a marina and 64 apartments planned. Tannery lane is a single track road that already takes far too much traffic. The quality of the road is poor and the edges non-existent and walking along these roads impossible. It emerges at Send Road at a cross roads that is already horrendous to navigate.

I OBJECT TO development of Garlick’s Arch, opposite Send Marsh Road, (400 houses and 7,000 sq. Metres of industrial space) slipped in at the last moment in the hope it would be overlooked. This particular site reeks of underhandedness and it would be interesting to know who has a vested interest in this going ahead. Such a large number of houses and industrial buildings on virgin green fields is criminal in the extreme. Guildford has plenty of existing industrial complexes that would welcome expansion and which already have the infrastructure in place to take the traffic generated. Such a large number of houses and influx of people will totally change the character of the area. Where are the extra schools and doctors to support these numbers? We are struggling now to get appointments with our doctors and our children into our schools of choice right now, increase the population by 25% and it will be impossible.

I OBJECT TO New interchange on A3 at Burnt Common. It is obvious that this is being put in place to support the huge housing sites intended for Wisley Airfield, Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Farm. Building these sites will be easier to pass if Guildford can show they have this road infrastructure in place. It will destroy an area of countryside that supports a high diversity of wildlife and destroy the peace and quiet for current householders in the area. It will also cause more congestion on the A3 which struggles at peak times already.

It is arrogant of the Council in the extreme to present us with such a plan when they should be upholding the need to ensure our green belt remains permanent and intact for future generations, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework. Having been made aware of your plans for this area for the future I am so disappointed that you as professionals seem to have planned for a nightmare scenario for this area. You have a duty to those who live within your boundaries to present us with sensible and strategic decisions in your local plan. You have done neither and instead presented us with a plan that seems greedy in the extreme, threatens to destroy our village life and that takes no consideration of conservation of our precious Surrey flora and fauna.

I strongly object to the high number of houses intended for this area which is currently small villages connected by narrow country roads which are already overloaded, poor quality and impossible now to walk down safely. Trying to keep abreast of what Guildford’s intention is for the area requires an eye for attention to detail. Developments come and go and some are slipped in at the last moment to confuse and baffle us.

Come on Guildford you can do better than this, you have a duty to your residents to present us with sensible plans and not ones that seem to have been drawn up on the back of a cigarette packet to meet targets. If your local plan was marked it would get a FAIL from me. Give us something that doesn’t ruin the area with overdevelopment because you are too lazy or lacking in imagination to present something better.

The inflated number of new houses proposed arises from a Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) that was generated by a consultant’s mathematical model which is not revealed in the plan. Nor, apparently, to Guildford Borough Council, GBC. This SHMA target housing number is then further increased by GBC to give a population increase which is almost 70% higher than the official national estimates for population growth in the borough.
The scale of this increase has alarming results eg., an increase of up to 35% in existing West Horsley households – greater than any other single area in the borough |

Re: Development of over 2,000 house village at Ockham (former Wisley Airfield)

The impact on the Horsley villages of such a huge mixed housing, retail, commercial, traveller and schools development, under 2 miles away, would be enormous. The plan also includes extensive developments at Burnt Common, (400 houses commercial developments) Gosden Hill Farm, Burpham (2000 houses & mixed use developments).

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill developement being in the Local Plan The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).
The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.
I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace at Garlick’s Arch – Site A43 (Policy E2)

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.
The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

. I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?.

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsustainable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I write to you to provide my objections to the Proposed Submission Local Plan.

I am a resident of West Horsley and I am deeply dismayed by the scale of the building that is proposed in this area.

The summary for Horsley is:

- Removal of greenbelt land
- 35% additional housing by numbers
- New housing at a significantly higher density than is typical in these villages
- Development completed within 5 years without any proposed increase to supporting local amenities

When reviewing the data to support the proposed plans I find it very difficult to determine what evidence is behind the number and density of the housing proposed for this villages of Horsley. The source of the data to support population growth is absent.

The proposed plans will irrevocably change the Horsley villages. The local plan does not represent a plan that considers the character and sustainability of the village of Horsley.

I strongly urge the independant assessor to visit the villages of Horsley to see first hand how the village is today.

I object to the 2016 draft Local Plan for the proposed insetting (policy P2) of the green belt land within the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon. The proposals fly directly in the face of the council’s stated objective to protect the local green belt land. “Most valuable green belt' will be a 'no, no’ in Guildford's local plan, borough council leader says” (quote from getSURREY, 15-Feb-2016. There are numerous existing brown field sites available within the borough and there is no need to irreversibly destroy valuable green belt areas.

I object strongly to the 2016 draft Local Plan for the proposed development of 400 homes at the Garlic Arch site on the Ripley/Send borders on the grounds that this proposal would include the destruction of ancient establish broad leave woodland and the large scale destruction of agricultural land. Both of these areas are an important part of the local green belt.

I object strongly to the 2016 draft Local Plan for the proposed development of 400 homes at the Garlic Arch site on the Ripley/Send borders on the grounds that both these areas are strategic for the natural absorption of local rainwater runoff. Even with these natural areas, the Environment Agency deemed it a necessity to spend considerable sums in 2006-2007 to protect Sendmarsh and Maple Roads from repeat flooding from Garlic Arch runoff. Calculations for these defences would NOT have taken into account the additional problems that would inevitable result from building over this natural ground abortion. If the proposal were to go ahead, Sendmarsh residents would be at a substantially greater risk of flooding and be severely disadvantaged by increased insurance premiums and devaluation of property.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object strongly to the 2017 revised draft Local Plan for the proposed development of housing at Garlic Arch (site A43) on the Ripley/Send borders. The removal of the previous limit of 400 new homes leaves the site entirely open ended for additional destruction of Green Belt land. This is both ambiguous and unacceptable.

I object to the 2017 revised draft Local Plan for the expansion of previously proposed new industrial sites at Garlic Arch (site A43). Existing brown field sites within the borough are already far better suited to these industrial developments without the need to destroy additional Green Belt land.

I object to the 2017 revised draft Plan for inclusion under the development of Garlic Arch (site A43) of travelling showpeople plots with storage facilities. There is no justification for such inclusion within the Green Belt area and sacrifice of Green Belt land for this purpose seems inappropriate and cavalier.

I object to the 2017 revised draft Plan proposals for the number of showpeople plots at the Garlic Arch (site A43). The proposed allocation is disproportionate to the number of possible homes on the site as compared with other local development plans, such as the Wisley aerodrome site.

I strongly object to the maintained inclusion of the woodland area at Garlic Arch (site A43). There is absolutely no justification for the wholesale destruction of this well-established ancient woodland. At the very least, this woodland area should be removed entirely from any proposals for development of the remainder of the site.

I object strongly to the 2017 revised draft Local Plan for the proposed development of increased number of homes at the Garlic Arch (site A43) because, as outlined in previous objections, both these areas are strategic for the natural absorption of local rainwater runoff. Additional homes over and above the previously stated limit of 400 homes will only further exacerbate the water runoff problems and further increase the flood risk.

I object to the reference to a potential waste management facility at Burnt Common (site A58). No specific details have been published on this facility. However there can be no justification to sacrifice Green Belt land for such purposed whilst there are many alternative brown filed sites available in the borough.

I object to the removal of the limitation, previously set at 7,000 sq.m, to the industrial floorspace proposals at Burnt Common (site A58). The revised terminology of “at least 7,000 sq.m” is both ambiguous and potentially significantly damaging to the local environment.

The revised proposals appear to make no concessions to any of the thousands of previously submitted objections made in respect to the 2016 draft plan. HOUSING - Construction on the Green Belt may not be necessary at all now that housing needs have fallen because of Britain’s imminent departure from the EU.

The council has estimated incorrectly based on flawed data- the SHMA figure has doubled from 4 years ago, and it is wrong on several counts, it fails to correct historical errors, it fails to account for immigration from EU falling to zero after the BREXIT, it is flawed in the way student needs are considered and estimations in job growth post Brexit.

Waverley and Woking Borough Councils are sensibly applying reductions to the proposed levels of housing growth, and so must Guildford Borough Council, before the earmarking of Green Belt countryside for development.
RETAIL - Retail Space is planned at 40% growth, clearly going against trends in retailing and internet shopping and Post Brexit economy influences. This is clearly unsound planning. The need for less traffic in the already congested town centre should be given priority over more development. There will be less need for the proposed 1000 car park and ride, not more. Any needed development should be done on BROWNFIELD sites that will no doubt appear in town as the retail sector reduces, not on pristine country rural Green Belt

TRANSPORT - the following needs are unsupported in the plan:

Evidence of future traffic conditions which is in the SHAR has not been finished and has been provided too late for the PLAN to respond to.

The proposed Sustainable Movement Corridor is unsound, due to narrow roads and pinch points. At Burpham the London Road is supposed to carry 2 bus/cycle lanes north and south bound as well as 2 general traffic lanes each way. This will result in the Gosden Hill development, the 1000 car park and ride, 2 schools and railway station as well as unspecified retail and business traffic proposed to start as early as 2021 delivering massive traffic to London Road /New Inn Lane junction before the proposed A3 improvements in 2023- 2027.

I have carefully considered the Proposed Submission Local Plan which Guildford Borough Council (“GBC”) has now published for public consultation.

My comments are set out in this letter. I have strong concerns about the Proposed Submission Local Plan and the evidence and assumptions which support it. In particular, I do not accept the scale of the house building programme which is being proposed by GBC. The target outlined represents a 25% increase in the housing stock of the borough, whilst I note that the Office of National Statistics (“ONS”) projects a population increase of some 15% for Guildford Borough over this same period. I also note that the Proposed Submission Local Plan includes the statement “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt”. I fully and un-equivocally support this policy. The Green Belt is a national asset which should be treasured; the whole character of Surrey will change over time if GBC allow the degradation of the Green Belt. If every time there is pressure to build housing, GBC uses the Green Belt as an area for negotiation, the unique character of Surrey will be lost forever and the generations that follow will look at this moment as a trigger point in the decline of Surrey. Unfortunately GBC appears to be in breach of this same policy through the housing policies it has set out in the Proposed Submission Local Plan, whereby some 65% of developments will be made on land that is currently Green Belt. I am also concerned that the infrastructure proposals are inadequate even to meet the needs of what is here currently, let alone the proposed developments in the Local Plan.

POLICY P2: Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.13: Proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt

Policy P2 proposes that East Horsley should be inset from the Green Belt, instead of being ‘washed over’ as it is today. Currently development is permitted within the settlement boundary, although this area is still considered to be Green Belt with a particular planning regime being applicable.

East Horsley is set in a rural location and the village has the look and feel of a rural village. Its Green Belt status has been a key factor in preserving that character. Moreover, being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt has not been a serious constraint on development within the village. For example, GBC’s planning records indicate that no less than 149 net new homes were added to the village housing stock through in-filling and brownfield developments between 2000 and 2015.

GBC attributes the need to inset East Horsley to NPPF requirements, arguing that the test for remaining ‘washed over’ is that the village should make an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt. This East Horsley clearly does. No less than 36% of East Horsley is composed of woodlands, whilst inside the settlement area there is an average housing density of just 8.1 dwellings per hectare (“dph”). Woodlands and large residential gardens make a vital contribution towards biodiversity, provide wildlife corridors, and furnish those open spaces which are vital to the character of the greenbelt. It is one thing for a planner to study a map and see a settlement area filled with housing, but it is quite another actually to come to a rural village like East Horsley and see how the Green Belt has preserved the rural character and openness of this village.

Today East Horsley is a picturesque and flourishing rural community, which has and continues to experience steady incremental growth as a result of being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt. Therefore there is no need to change its status.

I therefore OBJECT to the proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt and requests that this proposal be dropped from the Local Plan.
Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley

GBC are proposing to make a number of changes to the settlement boundaries of East Horsley and so expand the settlement area, as set out in the Proposals Map, with the justifications seemingly provided in the Green Belt & Countryside Study prepared by the consultants, Pegasus.

I object to two specific boundary changes, which have been proposed, as follows:

1. i) There is a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Ockham Road North up to the eastern boundary of Lollesworth Wood. This proposal removes over 5 hectares of agricultural fields from the Green Belt. The present boundary line is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch which is classified by the Environment Agency as a ‘main river line’ and therefore represents a highly defensible Green Belt boundary. Moving this boundary west to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. I do not believe this proposal can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. Clearly the only justification for this change is to bring a large agricultural field within the settlement area in order to provide more housing land. However, under NPPF rules this is not a sufficient justification for changing a Green Belt boundary. As such, I believe it is an invalid proposal. I, accordingly, OBJECT to this proposed boundary change.

1. ii) There is also a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Kingston Avenue up to a tree line running along the Parish Boundary at the western edge of Kingston Meadows. The result is to take all of Kingston Meadows out of the Green Belt. Kingston Meadows is the main public recreational space of East Horsley, comprising various sports facilities and playing fields. The present settlement boundary is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch running along its eastern side. It therefore represents a very defensible Green Belt boundary. Moving this boundary westwards to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. I do not believe that this can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. As such I believe this is an invalid proposal. I accordingly OBJECT to this proposed boundary change.

In the Green Belt & Countryside Study and its accompanying Topic Paper, GBC justifies the need to make changes in settlement boundaries in order to meet unfulfilled housing need in the Borough. However, Green Belt rules make it clear that unfulfilled housing need is not normally considered to be ‘an exceptional circumstance’. If it were the entire Green Belt would already be covered in tarmac.

The NPPF is clear that every movement in settlement boundaries must be justified by ‘exceptional circumstances’. GBC have offered only a generic justification in their Topic Paper of meeting unfulfilled housing need, but a case by case justification has not been provided. As such, I believe Local Plan Response 13.06.16 the settlement boundary changes referred to above (and many others) are invalid without such detailed justification.

Paragraph 4.3.17: Proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt I OBJECT to the proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The only justification for this proposed change is unfulfilled housing need which is not considered an exceptional circumstance. The proposed Wisley development is discussed further below in the Site Allocation section.

INFRASTRUCTURE POLICIES This section of the Proposed Submission Local Plan sets out details covering a range of infrastructure policies.

POLICIES I1, I2 & I3 These three policies cover Infrastructure & Delivery, Supporting the Department of Transport’s ‘Road Investment Strategy’ and Sustainable Transport. Whilst I support the general policy statements as presented in each case, it is the detailed infrastructure proposals for Guildford Borough which give us cause for concern. I believe there are serious deficiencies and shortcomings in the infrastructure of Guildford Borough as it is today and that the aggressive housing policy as proposed by GBC in the Proposed Submission Local Plan will exacerbate this problem. I would make the following comments specifically about infrastructure in East Horsley today:
• Roads across the parish are in poor condition with many potholes. Many roads are unable to sustain their current levels of traffic, particularly the increasing levels of HGV traffic;

• The principal through roads traversing East Horsley are narrow and winding, have a series of pinch points, have sections without any pavements and are generally unlit. As a senior SCC councillor remarked at a recent public meeting in the village hall: “East Horsley has lanes, not roads.” East Horsley’s ‘lanes’ are totally unsuitable for high volumes of traffic, in particular for the volume of HGV’s now using them;

• Many of the drains are blocked or otherwise in poor condition giving rise to frequent surface water flooding when it rains. Any substantial development as indicated within the Local Plan will increase hard surfaces in the area and therefore the rainfall runoff will increase into local watercourses and exasperate localised flooding.

• The pavements are in poor condition. As well as being narrow, they are often uneven and/or cracked making it difficult, for example, for people with pushchairs or prams or in wheelchairs;

• There are insufficient school spaces for the number of local children needing them, with the result that children are often allocated to schools a significant distance away such as Dorking or Woking; and

• The Medical Centre in East Horsley is already at capacity in terms of its number of patients.

Train services to and from Horsley to London on the ‘Guildford via Cobham’ line are already at full capacity at peak times. The current service has to be substantially improved BEFORE allowing further development. Such improvements should include additional train services and additional stations to support new communities.

It is recognised that, as stated in the Proposed Submission Local Plan, the maintenance of adequate infrastructure and its expansion to meet growing needs is the responsibility of the relevant infrastructure provider. This is often not GBC itself but rather, for example, Surrey County Council, South West Trains or utility companies. Surely GBC must see the infrastructure improved first before approving any new developments.

In respect of East Horsley, there are only two specific proposals in Appendix C:

LRN 25 - East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme.

It is not clear what is proposed here, and its timing and funding have to be considered uncertain. It is stated that funding will, at least in part, come from developer contribution. However, it Local Plan Response 13.06.16 is not at all clear what development is likely to give rise to such a contribution, but it certainly implies that funding could only come if there were a development; and

HSC 5 - Expansion of East Horsley Medical Centre to provide additional capacity and services for future population in years 5 – 15 of the plan. There are no proposals in respect of all the existing problems with for example roads, pavements, drainage, and schools. Furthermore, it is inevitable that the proposed developments in East Horsley itself and nearby, particularly in West Horsley and the proposals for Wisley, will put further strain on the existing infrastructure. There are no proposals at all to cater for this. Although an expansion of the Medical centre is proposed in the Infrastructure Schedule, this is not until years 5 – 15 of the Plan. Given that it is already at capacity, I believe that this needs to be implemented earlier.

Local primary schooling is also a very pertinent issue. There are 11 housing development sites identified in the LAA for East and West Horsley, which taken together would result in the building of 593 new houses in the two parishes that are today served by a single primary school - The Raleigh, in West Horsley.

Planning guidance suggest that this number of new homes will require the provision of around 150 additional primary school places to accommodate such an increase in population. Today there is no spare capacity at The Raleigh, yet no proposals are made in the Proposed Submission Local Plan to provide for any more schooling in the Horsley’s. I believe that the failure to address the inadequacies of the existing infrastructure to meet the needs of what is there already is a serious deficiency in the Proposed Submission Local Plan.

I therefore OBJECT to the infrastructure proposals on these grounds. I also OBJECT to the proposals for infrastructure in that they do not meet the stated objective of providing infrastructure to support the proposed developments.

There is a legacy of approving development without the appropriate infrastructure, and the infrastructure lags to the point it cannot cope, whether this schools, trains, roads or utilities. GBC in their local plan set out a vision of development, however the details of the infrastructure upgrades needed to today are not firm legal commitments.

POLICY A35: Land at former Wisley Airfield Policy

A35 proposes approximately 2,000 homes to be built on the site of the former Wisley Airfield. This will lead to the creation of the largest settlement in Guildford Borough outside of Guildford town. In effect it is proposing to create a New Town in the heart of the Surrey Green Belt. I have major concerns about this proposed development. I consider this proposed development to be a severe contravention of Metropolitan Green Belt policy. It will result in a New Town being created of very low sustainability which will have a major adverse impact on infrastructure across a widespread area, including East Horsley. Above all it will cause irreversible destruction to the character of one of the most picturesque and historic areas of the country. I strongly OBJECT to Policy A35.

Summary Surrey is a beautiful county enjoyed by the people from London and further afield, the beauty comes from the structure of open land, green fields and villages, which has been preserved through planning constraints and the Green Belt. The GBC Local Plan sets out to erode the green spaces of Surrey, put strain onto the infrastructure already under strain, and allow housing developments on a scale that is not justified.

I have carefully considered the Proposed Submission Local Plan which Guildford Borough Council (“GBC”) has now published for public consultation.

My comments are set out in this letter. I have strong concerns about the Proposed Submission Local Plan and the evidence and assumptions which support it. In particular, I do not accept the scale of the house building programme which is being proposed by GBC. The target outlined represents a 25% increase in the housing stock of the borough, whilst I note that the Office of National Statistics (“ONS”) projects a population increase of some 15% for Guildford Borough over this same period. I also note that the Proposed Submission Local Plan includes the statement “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt”. I fully and un-equivocally support this policy. The Green Belt is a national asset which should be treasured; the whole character of Surrey will change over time if GBC allow the degradation of the Green Belt. If every time there is pressure to build housing, GBC uses the Green Belt as an area for negotiation, the unique character of Surrey will be lost forever and the generations that follow will look at this moment as a trigger point in the decline of Surrey.

Unfortunately GBC appears to be in breach of this same policy through the housing policies it has set out in the Proposed Submission Local Plan, whereby some 65% of developments will be made on land that is currently Green Belt. I am also concerned that the infrastructure proposals are inadequate even to meet the needs of what is here currently, let alone the proposed developments in the Local Plan.

POLICY P2: Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.13: Proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt

Policy P2 proposes that East Horsley should be inset from the Green Belt, instead of being ‘washed over’ as it is today. Currently development is permitted within the settlement boundary, although this area is still considered to be Green Belt with a particular planning regime being applicable.

East Horsley is set in a rural location and the village has the look and feel of a rural village. Its Green Belt status has been a key factor in preserving that character. Moreover, being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt has not been a serious constraint on development within the village. For example, GBC’s planning records indicate that no less than 149 net new homes were added to the village housing stock through in-filling and brownfield developments between 2000 and 2015.

GBC attributes the need to inset East Horsley to NPPF requirements, arguing that the test for remaining ‘washed over’ is that the village should make an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt. This East Horsley clearly does. No less than 36% of East Horsley is composed of woodlands, whilst inside the settlement area there is an average housing density of just 8.1 dwellings per hectare ("dph"). Woodlands and large residential gardens make a vital contribution towards biodiversity, provide wildlife corridors, and furnish those open spaces which are vital to the character of the greenbelt. It is one thing for a planner to study a map and see a settlement area filled with housing, but it is quite another actually to come to a rural village like East Horsley and see how the Green Belt has preserved the rural character and openness of this village.

Today East Horsley is a picturesque and flourishing rural community, which has and continues to experience steady incremental growth as a result of being ‘washed over’ by the Green Belt. Therefore there is no need to change its status.

I therefore OBJECT to the proposal to inset East Horsley from the Green Belt and requests that this proposal be dropped from the Local Plan.

Paragraph 4.3.16 and Proposals Map: Settlement Boundary changes in East Horsley

GBC are proposing to make a number of changes to the settlement boundaries of East Horsley and so expand the settlement area, as set out in the Proposals Map, with the justifications seemingly provided in the Green Belt & Countryside Study prepared by the consultants, Pegasus.

I object to two specific boundary changes, which have been proposed, as follows:

1. i) There is a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Ockham Road North up to the eastern boundary of Lollesworth Wood. This proposal removes over 5 hectares of agricultural fields from the Green Belt. The present boundary line is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch which is classified by the Environment Agency as a ‘main river line’ and therefore represents a highly defensible Green Belt boundary. Moving this boundary west to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. I do not believe this proposal can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. Clearly the only justification for this change is to bring a large agricultural field within the settlement area in order to provide more housing land. However, under NPPF rules this is not a sufficient justification for changing a Green Belt boundary. As such, I believe it is an invalid proposal. I, accordingly, OBJECT to this proposed boundary change.

1. ii) There is also a proposal to move the East Horsley settlement boundary westwards from behind the houses on the west side of Kingston Avenue up to a tree line running along the Parish Boundary at the western edge of Kingston Meadows. The result is to take all of Kingston Meadows out of the Green Belt. Kingston Meadows is the main public recreational space of East Horsley, comprising various sports facilities and playing fields. The present settlement boundary is clearly defined by a deep and well-maintained drainage ditch running along its eastern side. It therefore represents a very defensible Green Belt boundary. Moving this boundary westwards to the edge of woodland in no way improves its defensibility. Under NPPF rules Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’. I do not believe that this can be considered as an exceptional circumstance. As such I believe this is an invalid proposal. I accordingly OBJECT to this proposed boundary change.

In the Green Belt & Countryside Study and its accompanying Topic Paper, GBC justifies the need to make changes in settlement boundaries in order to meet unfulfilled housing need in the Borough. However, Green Belt rules make it clear that unfulfilled housing need is not normally considered to be ‘an exceptional circumstance’. If it were the entire Green Belt would already be covered in tarmac.

The NPPF is clear that every movement in settlement boundaries must be justified by ‘exceptional circumstances’. GBC have offered only a generic justification in their Topic Paper of meeting unfulfilled housing need, but a case by case justification has not been provided. As such, I believe Local Plan Response 13.06.16 the settlement boundary changes referred to above (and many others) are invalid without such detailed justification.

Paragraph 4.3.17: Proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt I OBJECT to the proposal to remove Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The only justification for this proposed change is unfulfilled housing need which is not considered an exceptional circumstance. The proposed Wisley development is discussed further below in the Site Allocation section.
INFRASTRUCTURE POLICIES This section of the Proposed Submission Local Plan sets out details covering a range of infrastructure policies.

POLICIES I1, I2 & I3 These three policies cover Infrastructure & Delivery, Supporting the Department of Transport’s ‘Road Investment Strategy’ and Sustainable Transport. Whilst I support the general policy statements as presented in each case, it is the detailed infrastructure proposals for Guildford Borough which give us cause for concern. I believe there are serious deficiencies and shortcomings in the infrastructure of Guildford Borough as it is today and that the aggressive housing policy as proposed by GBC in the Proposed Submission Local Plan will exacerbate this problem. I would make the following comments specifically about infrastructure in East Horsley today:

- Roads across the parish are in poor condition with many potholes. Many roads are unable to sustain their current levels of traffic, particularly the increasing levels of HGV traffic;

- The principal through roads traversing East Horsley are narrow and winding, have a series of pinch points, have sections without any pavements and are generally unlit. As a senior SCC councillor remarked at a recent public meeting in the village hall: “East Horsley has lanes, not roads.” East Horsley’s ‘lanes’ are totally unsuitable for high volumes of traffic, in particular for the volume of HGV’s now using them;

- Many of the drains are blocked or otherwise in poor condition giving rise to frequent surface water flooding when it rains. Any substantial development as indicated within the Local Plan will increase hard surfaces in the area and therefore the rainfall runoff will increase into local watercourses and exasperate localised flooding.

- The pavements are in poor condition. As well as being narrow, they are often uneven and/or cracked making it difficult, for example, for people with pushchairs or prams or in wheelchairs;

- There are insufficient school spaces for the number of local children needing them, with the result that children are often allocated to schools a significant distance away such as Dorking or Woking; and

- The Medical Centre in East Horsley is already at capacity in terms of its number of patients.

Train services to and from Horsley to London on the ‘Guildford via Cobham’ line are already at full capacity at peak times. The current service has to be substantially improved BEFORE allowing further development. Such improvements should include additional train services and additional stations to support new communities.

It is recognised that, as stated in the Proposed Submission Local Plan, the maintenance of adequate infrastructure and its expansion to meet growing needs is the responsibility of the relevant infrastructure provider. This is often not GBC itself but rather, for example, Surrey County Council, South West Trains or utility companies. Surely GBC must see the infrastructure improved first before approving any new developments.

In respect of East Horsley, there are only two specific proposals in Appendix C:

LRN 25 - East Horsley and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme.

It is not clear what is proposed here, and its timing and funding have to be considered uncertain. It is stated that funding will, at least in part, come from developer contribution. However, it Local Plan Response 13.06.16 is not at all clear what development is likely to give rise to such a contribution, but it certainly implies that funding could only come if there were a development; and

HSC 5 - Expansion of East Horsley Medical Centre to provide additional capacity and services for future population in years 5 – 15 of the plan. There are no proposals in respect of all the existing problems with for example roads, pavements, drainage, and schools. Furthermore, it is inevitable that the proposed developments in East Horsley itself and nearby, particularly in West Horsley and the proposals for Wisley, will put further strain on the existing infrastructure. There are no proposals at all to cater for this. Although an expansion of the Medical centre is proposed in the Infrastructure Schedule, this is not until years 5 – 15 of the Plan. Given that it is already at capacity, I believe that this needs to be implemented earlier.
Local primary schooling is also a very pertinent issue. There are 11 housing development sites identified in the LAA for East and West Horsley, which taken together would result in the building of 593 new houses in the two parishes that are today served by a single primary school - The Raleigh, in West Horsley.

Planning guidance suggest that this number of new homes will require the provision of around 150 additional primary school places to accommodate such an increase in population. I believe that the failure to address the inadequacies of the existing infrastructure to meet the needs of what is there already is a serious deficiency in the Proposed Submission Local Plan.

I therefore OBJECT to the infrastructure proposals on these grounds. I also OBJECT to the proposals for infrastructure in that they do not meet the stated objective of providing infrastructure to support the proposed developments.

Objected to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM)

Allocation A35 – for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2,100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following reasons:

1. I object to the removal of the Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established to prevent urban sprawl from London and no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removal of this land from the Green Belt.

2. I object to the impact this development would have on transport and local roads, particularly:

   1. The A3 and M25 roads are already congested and, when there are problems on either of these roads, the surrounding areas come to a standstill. This happens frequently.
   2. The car parks at Effingham Junction and Horsley Stations are very often full. The detrimental impact of a further possible 4,000 cars cannot be overstated.
   3. The developers seem to think that the local population will suddenly take to cycling or walking, even though there are no cycle lanes and a lack of pedestrian footpaths.

3. I object to the fact that air pollution has not been given consideration. I understand that the air quality at the M25/A3 junction is in excess of EU-permitted levels and this can only become worse with more traffic.

4. I object to the fact that this site has been included as the planning application was unanimously rejected by the Planning Committee.

I cannot understand why Guildford Borough Council still feel this site should be included when there have been many serious concerns raised by a number of authoritative sources, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency. There are brownfield sites in the area which would benefit from development without affecting historic local villages and causing untold problems for the local communities.

I trust these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings.

I am stunned that having rejected the proposed development of Three Farms Meadows at the Council Planning Meeting, we, yet again, having to write to the GBC to reiterate the same things that applied from the start; the same things that were totally rejected before. So why are they on the table again? This, however, being the case, I include my objections to the Proposed Local Plan's inclusion of Three Farms Meadows below:

I object to the encroachment on the green belt, for which there is no justifiable reason. There has been no real determination to use brown field sites (because of reduced profits for faceless property speculators)

I object as our road systems, already dangerously over-used, will not be able to cope with the increased traffic. I live in a lane in Ripley which has no pavements and is already a dangerous place to walk, due to the volume of traffic. The same is true of many of the residential roads in the area.

I object because the increased traffic will result in increased pollution and have a detrimental impact on the health of local residents.

I object because the proposed building on this site would result in this part of Surrey becoming part of the urban sprawl from London.

I object as there is no real improvement to local infrastructure to cope with this vast influx of people and that the figures presented do not reflect the true number of houses required

I object as there are no plans for how to deal with increased sewage, water supplies and run offs.

I object as the creation of a town on the The Three Meadows site will not provide additional school places for years, long after the houses begin to be built. This will create problems for local schools. Similarly, there are no plans for another Doctors’ Surgery.

I object to the local plan because The GBC are still dealing with a company registered in the Cayman Islands and, therefore, anonymous money people. They are only interested in getting outline planning permission so they can sell on their totally inadequate proposals for a profit of several hundred million pounds. They will then beat a hasty retreat and leave the whole sorry mess to be put together by somebody else and to incarcerate hapless people for the foreseeable decades into overpriced and under-planned mis-housing. We know that our villages have to grow, but in an organic way, not by totally engulfing them into a sprawling new town.

The Borough Councillors are our representatives and, as such, should represent the views of those who elected them. Election promises were made to protect the green belt which are now being flagrantly flouted. Listen to the views of the people you represent and remove Three Farm Meadows from the proposed plan.

This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:
i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!) , and
ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

9. I object to removal of Brownfield site (A34) from the Plan
Site A44 in Broadford Business Park has also been removed. This is another brownfield site that has already been developed. The Council’s claims to “have adopted a ‘brownfield first’ approach” (page 5) but this is clearly not the case, and is contrary to national guidelines.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Once again, I find that I must object to the Guildford Borough Council's inclusion of Three Farms Meadows in the 2017 Local Plan. As someone who attended the council meeting in which all proposed plans to develop this site were unanimously rejected for very good reasons, I find it hard to understand how it can still be included in this draft. As a resident of Ripley I know that if this development goes ahead, the very nature of this corner of the borough will be destroyed. I will render it nothing more than a suburb of London. The council seems to have no qualms about destroying the green belt which, by it's very nature, is designed to ensure that the urban sprawl is not allowed to simply go unchecked. This, along with other planned developments in Send and Clandon will result in the end of village life here. The villages will simply merge into a new town.

I have seen projected plans for the development of this area and believe that there is a cynical use of green belt land which can be bought cheaply but, once planning has been granted, can then be sold on for a premium. There are those who seek only to make a large profit. The real needs and wishes of the communities involved are simply ignored. Green belt is being exploited in preference to genuine brown field sites for this reason. Those who stand to make vast amounts from this site are registered in the Cayman Islands. They are not paying UK tax and have no interest in improving the lives of those of us who live in the borough.

My reasons for objecting to Policy A35, Three Farms Meadows, in the draft 2017 Local Plan are as follows:

I object to the inclusion of this site in the 2017 Local Plan because it will be adjacent to the most congested stretch of roads in the country, junction 10 of the M25. In addition to this, the neighbouring roads, many of which are little more than country lanes, which already carry a high volume of traffic, will be negatively impacted. Living in a narrow lane, which is already a rat run, I know only too well of the impact the development would have. When the increased traffic that is projected due to increased visitor numbers to RHS Wisley is added to this the result can only cause misery for those living here.

I object to the inclusion of this site in the 2017 Local Plan because alongside the very significant increase in traffic movements, there will be a very significant increase in air pollution. The quality of our air as a result of the heavy traffic on the M25 and A3 already fails to meet suggested limits. The increase in asthma, particularly amongst children in the area, is disturbing. As a child brought up here, I can attest that when I was a child asthma was unusual, not the norm as it has almost become today.

I object to the inclusion of this site in the 2017 Local Plan because the access to the train network from this site is highly problematic. The roads surrounding the development are little more than country lanes and the suggested solution, that commuters could walk or cycle to the nearest railway station, is ridiculous. To suggest a bus service to Horsley again is not viable. The prospect of walkers, cyclists and buses using these narrow roads is completely unrealistic. These lanes and unlit, have no footpaths, are barely wide enough for two vehicles to pass and, therefore, cycle lanes would be impossible.

I object to the inclusion of this site in the 2017 Local Plan because the increase in area is on the south of the site and faces the Surrey Hills ANOB. The projected building on this area, in places several storeys high, would be a true blot on the landscape of this protected area. The removal of a further 3.1 hectares of green belt land is totally unjustified and unnecessary.

I object to the inclusion of this site in the 2017 Local Plan because one of the major issues is the provision for dealing with the large amount of sewage that such a site will generate. This will prohibit the plan from contributing to the five year housing projection.
I object to the inclusion of this site in the 2017 Local Plan because the housing number and the fact that the council has not used any constraints such as green belt, infrastructure, air quality, AONB, TBHSPA.

I object to the inclusion of policy S2 in the 2017 Local Plan because it states that the figures in the Annual Housing Target Table add up to 12,426, when, in fact, they add up to 9,810. There seems no account taken of the missing 2,616. This anomaly suggests that the figures are not to be trusted.

I object to the inclusion of this site in the 2017 Local Plan because the council has failed totally to take into account all of the objections raised by those they purport to represent. This is to disregard the fact that they are our democratically elected representatives and have a responsibility to act upon the wishes of the electorate. The promise by those on the council when elected was to protect the green belt. This promise is being flagrantly broken.

8. I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan
Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

11. I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)
This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states “Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

1. I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)
I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

2. I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch
The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlicks Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

4. I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)
This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:
i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!) , and
ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

5. I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch
The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

7. The inclusion of site A58 Burt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were
a) The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm, … (site allocation A25) [ than the Burnt Common site did ]”
b) The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) the separation issue is clearly being ignored as BOTH sites (which are almost contiguous) are in the plan; therefore GBC are not following their own guidelines and objectives.

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) more than the “required” industrial space is available there, so there is no reason for Garlick’s Arch to be included.
14. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (A43 and A42)

The Foreword to the plan by Paul Spooner includes on page 5:

“We recognise that significant infrastructure upgrades are required to support existing communities and the planned growth of the borough. The delivery of sites allocated in this plan is contingent upon the provision of new infrastructure, which is a key theme of our Local Plan”.

The lack of any plan for either physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlicks Arch and A42 Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan, and should not go ahead.

The most distressing element of this plan is that such a large proportion of the overall proposed development is being targeted on this small part of the borough. It is simply disproportionate and there is little understanding being shown by those elected to represent our views. I trust, therefore, that these objections will be given your full attention and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

10. I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in Green Belt (A58)

The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. These facilities are always highly contentious and the Council has a duty of transparency in this regard which it is, at best, neglecting.

12. I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)
The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.
The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”
So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make a negotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.
Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit IS to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

13. I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).
Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms

Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) The plan has been based on the intention of adding 13,860 new homes to Guildford Borough over the 2013 - 2033 period, this represents a massive increase of 25% of the housing provision in just 20 years, the need for this huge increase has not been explained or justified, as neither has the basis on which the SHMA has been calculated. It is also the case again without justification that GBC has enhanced this figure to a level which is 70% higher than the official national estimates for population growth than the Borough. The GBC has no mandate from its residents to provide this additional level of housing and therefore has completely departed from the ethos of “localism” in planning policy.

The effect of Brexit will be to reduce the demand for housing nationally and the ability of the building industry to provide it, making GBC’s figures even more extraordinary.

2) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of the new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are for no good reason being forgotten and ignored.

3) I object to the disproportionate allocation of this new housing in this particular part of the borough which means that over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

4) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt, and its inclusion in the Local Plan as a site suitable for development. This site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt. The proposed removal of this site from the Green Belt by GBC only a few months after Wisley Property Investments Ltd.’s (WPIIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers is totally hypocritical, lacking in logic and integrity, and would seem to indicate the existence of an unduly coercive influence by the associated developers on some council members.

From what I have seen of the Local Plan Guildford’s planners, councillors and external consultants seems to have forgotten (or not be aware of) what gives the Borough and Surrey as a whole its unique character and the attributes which currently make it one of the most desirable places in the country to live in.

The first of these is of course that a good proportion of the Borough and indeed the county is countryside protected by the Green Belt, a piece of planning legislation which has given London its “Lungs” and prevented an unrestricted urban sprawl envied by most of the world’s capital cities.

The second is that quintessential element of the British countryside, small villages dotted about the county each with its own character, vernacular architecture, church and village green and individual communities.

The third attribute is the space that we enjoy by choosing to live in a rural and not an urban environment.

The proposals shown in the Local Plan spell out the destruction of what causes this part of Surrey to be unique and will devalue the quality of life of many of the Borough’s residents particularly in the Horsleys, Ockham, Ripley and Send.

5) For these reasons I also object to the proposed extension of the Settlement Boundaries of the Horsleys.

6) I also object to the Local Plan proposals for any significant increase in the population of the Horsleys, Ockham, Ripley and Send. Notwithstanding the effect of proposed development in these villages the provision of over 2,000 homes on the Former Wisley Airfield will add some 5,000 to 6,000 people to the area and probably 3,000 or more extra vehicles.
This new community will need to get to their workplaces and schools and as there is no train station proposed for Wisley Airfield they will have to travel by car either by driving to Guildford or London or to the train stations at Horsley and Cobham. This will involve them accessing the A3 where the 3,000 vehicles would first have to go south to the Ripley/Ockham junction before going east to Horsley Station or north to London and Cobham.

At the present time at rush hour there are often queues northbound between the Ripley/Ockham roundabout and the Cobham roundabout and the addition of a further 3,000 vehicles at this time would cause these roundabouts to seize up and effectively close the A3. Those motorists lucky enough to complete their journeys via the A3 will find that there will not be any spare car parking at either of the stations (where there is no room to extend either the car parking or the platforms) and even if by chance they did find a space in the car park they probably would not find one on the train.

In the villages most of the primary foul water, surface water, electricity, gas, and telephone services are 80 or more years old, close to capacity and near to the end of their effective life. My personal experience of this is that in the six years that I have lived in Ockham Road South East Horsley the electrical supply to my part of the road has failed twice, once for five days and the second time for two days due as the electricity supplier told me, to the age and capacity of the mains cables.

Although new energy saving technologies and elements like sustainable underground drainage systems can to a degree reduce the impact of any new developments ultimately they still have to be provided with services form the existing primary utilities infrastructure which will not be able to cope or be renewed by the monies obtained from the anticipated community infrastructure levies.

Other resources which will be overwhelmed will of course be the local healthcare services (where appointments are already difficult to get) and many will be aware of the near impossibility of parking at Royal Surrey County Hospital. It is also the case that most of the local “country” roads already have difficulty in withstanding the onslaught of potholes following each winter, without the added attrition of 100’s of heavy good vehicles which will be unleashed when any significant development works start.

I also object to the classification of the East Horsley Station Parade as a designated “District Centre” this is pure artistic licence by the Plans authors, it is just a small shopping parade.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Local Plan will be redrawn to reflect the views and true needs of the local electorate, the parish councils and local action groups and not politicians with alternative agendas.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. This land serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on this land would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing this land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the draft Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to the FWA/TFM), an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC.

5) I object to the threat the current draft Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham. The current draft plan contemplates that a conservation-protected village of 159 homes (many of which are grade 2 listed, with a grade 1 listed church), with narrow, winding country lanes (which are weight-restricted), no streetlights and very few pavements should be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings, up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety that such a development would inevitably entail. The local infrastructure, including the roads and railway networks, schools, medical facilities and even local drainage facilities cannot support such a contemplated development.

7) I object to:
   1. The assertion that such a development would result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The location of the FWA/TFM, surrounded as it is by narrow, winding country lanes, with no footpaths, remote from shops and the nearest commuter stations, mean that this assertion is demonstrably wrong. Even claims about the time it would take to cycle from the FWA/TFM to Effingham Junction station have been shown to be wrong.
   1. The increased volume of car traffic that such a development would entail. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the narrow country lanes that surround the FWA/TFM.
   1. The heavy traffic that such a development would entail during many years of construction, on our narrow, winding weight-restricted lanes.
   1. The danger that such traffic would pose to those who use these lanes.
   1. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school as part of the possible development on the FWA/TFM would result in still further congestion at the M25/A3 junction, as well as on local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.
   1. The lack of suitable public transport. The local railway stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the increase in passengers that such a development would entail, and car parking is already at capacity.

8) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environment, ecological and agricultural value of the FWA/TFM - the Thames Basin Heaths' Special Protection Area (SPA) adjoins the FWA/TFM, as does a Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI). The nature conservation designation SNCI (Site of Nature Conservation Interest) applies to almost all of the FWA/TFM. Rare flora and fauna abound and should continue to be protected. This land is predominantly high grade agricultural land which should continue to be cultivated.

9) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken sufficiently seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of legal limits. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents.

10) I object to the fact that no account seems to be being taken of the effect of acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths' SPA and its irreversible impact on the habitats of the many rare species of flora and fauna which the various nature conservation designations that apply to the FWA/TFM are designed to protect.

11) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two reasons given to the question why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

12) I object to the continued inclusion in the draft local plan of the FWA/TFM: a planning application for residential development of this land was unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee in April 2016: after 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC's Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about the proposed residential development of this land have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

13) I object to the inclusion of the FWA/TFM in the draft plan: it fails to take account of the value of FWA/TFM for agriculture, comprising as it does over 75% of agricultural land including 63ha of Grade 2, 3a and 3b agricultural land (of which at least 19.3ha is classified as best and most versatile land).

14) I object to the inclusion of the FWA/TFM in the draft plan: claims have been made that FWA/TFM should be regarded as “brownfield” or "previously developed land". I believe these to be erroneous. The land is Green Belt land. It should also be noted that the former airfield hardstanding and part of the old runway are within the 0-400m exclusion zone of the SPA, and the remainder of the old runway is (of course) flat and at ground level, meaning that any development would have a “major impact on the openness of the area”. Much evidence exists that the adverse consequences of development of this land, including damage to the ecology of, e.g., the SPA, cannot be mitigated.

15) I object to the inclusion of the FWA/TFM in the draft plan: the impossibility in practical terms of creating a sustainable development on the FWA/TFM is further demonstrated by the historical use of, and lack of development of, this land and most recently by the inability of the current landowner/ developer and its many experts and advisers to come up with a sustainable development proposal despite numerous attempts over an extended period - unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee - on the recommendation of its Planning Officers - in April 2016.

CONCLUSION

The above objections graphically demonstrate why the FWA/TFM was and should remain in and be part of the Green Belt, and why the location, limited size, lack of infrastructure, relative isolation, distance from places of employment, and existing overstretched and inadequate public transport, roads, services and facilities make this land totally unsuitable for any kind of significant development – as has been consistently argued.

The fact that the draft Local Plan still includes FWA/TFM (as well as neighbouring land not owned by WPIL) as a potential site for development flies in the face of logic and GBC’s own arguments and decisions, disregards local and not-so-local opinion, and imposes significant cost and anxiety on local communities.

I continue to strongly OBJECT to:

the inclusion of the FWA/TFM and other parts of Ockham Parish in the draft local plan as possible sites for housing development and their proposed exclusion from the Green Belt.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield/Three Farms Meadow, Allocation A35, will now be removed from the draft Local Plan with immediate effect.

1. The heavy traffic that such a development would entail during many years of construction, on our narrow, winding weight-restricted lanes.

1. The danger that such traffic would pose to those who use these lanes.

1. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school as part of the possible development on the FWA/TFM would result in still further congestion at the M25/A3 junction, as well as on local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

1. The lack of suitable public transport. The local railway stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the increase in passengers that such a development would entail, and car parking is already at capacity.

8) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environment, ecological and agricultural value of the FWA/TFM - the Thames Basin Heaths' Special Protection Area (SPA) adjoins the FWA/TFM, as does a Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI). The nature conservation designation SNCI (Site of Nature Conservation Interest) applies to almost all of the FWA/TFM. Rare flora and fauna abound and should continue to be protected. This land is predominantly high grade agricultural land which should continue to be cultivated.

9) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken sufficiently seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of legal limits. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents.

10) I object to the fact that no account seems to be being taken of the effect of acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths’ SPA and its irreversible impact on the habitats of the many rare species of flora and fauna which the various nature conservation designations that apply to the FWA/TFM are designed to protect.

11) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two reasons given to the question why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

12) I object to the continued inclusion in the draft local plan of the FWA/TFM: a planning application for residential development of this land was unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee in April 2016: after 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC’s Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about the proposed residential development of this land have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

13) I object to the inclusion of the FWA/TFM in the draft plan: it fails to take account of the value of FWA/TFM for agriculture, comprising as it does over 75% of agricultural land including 63ha of Grade 2, 3a and 3b agricultural land (of which at least 19.3ha is classified as best and most versatile land).
14) I object to the inclusion of the FWA/TFM in the draft plan: claims have been made that FWA/TFM should be regarded as “brownfield” or "previously developed land". I believe these to be erroneous. The land is Green Belt land. It should also be noted that the former airfield hardstanding and part of the old runway are within the 0-400m exclusion zone of the SPA, and the remainder of the old runway is (of course) flat and at ground level, meaning that any development would have a "major impact on the openness of the area". Much evidence exists that the adverse consequences of development of this land, including damage to the ecology of, e.g., the SPA, cannot be mitigated.

15) I object to the inclusion of the FWA/TFM in the draft plan: the impossibility in practical terms of creating a sustainable development on the FWA/TFM is further demonstrated by the historical use of, and lack of development of, this land and most recently by the inability of the current landowner/developer and its many experts and advisers to come up with a sustainable development proposal despite numerous attempts over an extended period - unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee - on the recommendation of its Planning Officers - in April 2016.

CONCLUSION

The above objections graphically demonstrate why the FWA/TFM was and should remain in and be part of the Green Belt, and why the location, limited size, lack of infrastructure, relative isolation, distance from places of employment, and existing overstretched and inadequate public transport, roads, services and facilities make this land totally unsuitable for any kind of significant development – as has been consistently argued.

The fact that the draft Local Plan still includes FWA/TFM (as well as neighbouring land not owned by WPIL) as a potential site for development flies in the face of logic and GBC’s own arguments and decisions, disregards local and not-so-local opinion, and imposes significant cost and anxiety on local communities.

I continue to strongly OBJECT to:

the inclusion of the FWA/TFM and other parts of Ockham Parish in the draft local plan as possible sites for housing development and their proposed exclusion from the Green Belt.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield/ Three Farms Meadow, Allocation A35, will now be removed from the draft Local Plan with immediate effect.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I am writing regarding Policy A21 regarding Westborough Allotments. I would like to express my support that the allotment site is protected from development and the lower access to the site from Westway remains as it is.

Allotments provide an enormous benefit to the local community. They promote physical activity, healthy eating and provide a form of relaxation and stress relief to local residents. A number of the tenants are elderly and having an allotment encourages them to remain fitter and independent for longer. The allotments also support social interaction and allow people to become involved with their local community. The green and natural environment has also been proven to have a beneficial effect on health and wellbeing.

Westborough Allotments are particularly invested in the local community, having their own self-help group Westborough Allotments Self Help Association (WASHA), who run an education programme for the local school who won a Gold award in the 2015 Guildford in Bloom competition in the best allotment category. They also provide support to new and existing tenants to make the most of their plots.

The lower access to the plot, from Westway, is the only access point suitable for vehicles. There is other vehicular access but the allotment site slopes dramatically from this point so it would not be safe for a vehicle such as an ambulance to use. It is essential the lower vehicular access point is retained so in the event of an accident the emergency services can gain access to the allotments. This access point is also regularly used by tenants transporting large or heavy materials to their plots, something which elderly tenants particularly rely on.

The allotments also provide vital green space for the local residents and wildlife. The noise and disruption that any development brings would have a detrimental effect on the area. Consideration should also be given to any neighbouring development to ensure there is as little disruption as possible. The local residents can live with and understand the disruption but the wildlife cannot and any nearby developments should be managed to have the minimum impact.

Further to this point I would suggest that allotments be specifically included in the list of green and blue spaces listed in Policy I4 in the Proposed Submission Local Plan. With the current rate of housing development it is essential that any sites which meet this definition are protected, particularly in areas like Guildford which are already built up. Allotments also provide a very unique environment which meet the needs of relaxation, exercise, recreation, visual amenity, wildlife habitat and agriculture in a way that other open spaces do not. They also provide a valuable tool with which to teach future generations the value of these open spaces.

I am writing to object to Guildford Borough Council's new draft local plan A46 Normandy & Flexford. We have lived on the Guildford Road in Normandy for 18 years and consequently have first-hand experience of how increasingly busy the road has become over that time. To now learn that the draft local plan is to double the size of the village in Normandy, adding 1,100 new homes in addition to a secondary school is extremely alarming. Just imagine all the extra traffic, increased danger, noise, pollution and congestion that would cause on local roads (not to mention all the years of construction prior.)
I object to the claimed need for a secondary school on this Green Belt site. The school would not be required if the site were not allocated for housing development so both cancel one another out. There is no proven need for a new school as expansions are planned at existing schools in the borough and a new technical college will be available from 2018.

Proposals for housing development all around us, i.e. Wood Street Village, Fairlands and Holly Lane mean that our beautiful rural location will be destroyed. What are the "exceptional circumstances" that justify the proposed release of site A46 from the Green Belt?

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

- I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.
- I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.
- I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.
- I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).
- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads.

3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements.

4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them).

5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest.

6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.

- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Where does GBC get their figures for a need of 632 houses per year? Why is GBC reluctant to explain the figures? In my view the figures are not based on needs of local people – more like a need from London overspill / European influx. Other boroughs are applying constraints to overall housing growth. Why is GBC not doing likewise?

I wish to object very strongly to GBC’s draft local plan June 2016.

The plan is flawed and unsound and yet again it would appear GBC has not and does not listen to local people’s fears of the sheer decimation of the green belt let alone the utter gridlock such a plan will have on Burpham and surrounding villages. GBC went ahead and allowed Aldi to build a store even though local people objected to the plan and it is causing havoc on the already congested London road. We didn’t need the store and the site would have served a better purpose if kept as a family pub/restaurant. I have lived in Burpham for over 30 years and have witnessed the building of several housing developments in the area. This has had an impact on the volume of traffic through Burpham from Guildford direction and from the exit slip road from the A3 either heading for Woking and beyond or Guildford.

I would like to register my concern with a number of the proposals laid out in the proposed Local Plan, which I feel will have lasting detrimental consequences for West Horsley and the surrounding countryside.

My concerns are as follows:

- The proposed scale of development in West Horsley will result in dramatic permanent change to the character of the area, and is unsustainable given the local infrastructure. The local schools are over-subscribed and full every year; the doctors surgery in East Horsley is invariably busy today and appointments hard to come by; the roads (especially Ockham Road North/South and East Lane) are very busy at peak times; and the basic services, especially sewerage/drainage, are already incapable of dealing with the current demand as the widespread flooding that invariably accompanies periods of heavy rainfall in the village shows (further development will mean more surface water runoff, and more immediate demand on outdated sewers and storm drains which in turn will mean more flash flood episodes around the village).

- Additionally, there is no proven case for the supposed demand for such a large number of houses in this area. West Horsley Parish Council’s own analysis suggests that approximately 20 properties would be needed in order to meet demand from local people otherwise unable to stay living in the village - a development of that scale and for that explicit purpose would be entirely understood, but what is proposed is anything but. It is unreasonable to expect a few villages in the Borough (of which West Horsley is the most extreme case) to take a share of the burden of future development that is wholly disproportionate to the scale of those villages today, when the equivalent number of houses added to already well-established urban centres (e.g. Guildford) would result in far less significant change to the character of the area.

- Removing the Horsleys from the Green Belt is fundamentally unjustified and contrary to the stated Government policy (see Hansard ref. Queen’s Speech, 5th June 2014). GBC’s need to find space for housing does not constitute an “exceptional circumstance” that could in principle otherwise justify the deletion of the Green Belt designation. Removing the village(s) from the Green Belt will lead to further urban sprawl and the unique character and community of East and West Horsley, as well as that of much of the surrounding countryside, will be lost forever to future generations. It is furthermore key to note that the National Trust aspire to pursue the further northward extension of the current Surrey Hills AONB to cover this area, which provides recognition at the most significant level of the importance of the rural nature of this region.

- The scale of the proposed Wisley Airfield development is hugely out of keeping with the local area, and a development of that magnitude will have an unsustainable impact on our shared infrastructure, not least on the A3 which already experiences long tailbacks at peak times around the Ockham Park and M25 junctions (which will be those most burdened by the addition of such a large, new town on the airfield site) and on the already overcrowded South West Trains railway service from Horsley into London and Guildford.

I trust that you will take this opportunity to revise these points in the Local Plan, and insodoing ensure that future generations are able to benefit from the rurality of this area as much as previous generations have done.

We object to the 2016 Draft Local Plan by Guildford Borough Council (GBC) to remove Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt:

- Traffic in the area is already ridiculous at peak times

- The health infrastructure is already being challenges as our family recently experienced a 6 month wait time for an important appointment

- The quality of air is very important and it is crucial to have sufficient green land in a place so close to London, which has already got plenty of environmental challenges.

We strongly believe in protecting our environment, being members of the Surrey Wildlife Trust and think our heritage assets and wildlife need protection to counterbalance the effects of global warming and environmental changes that are already creating weather events across the UK and locally that have a very negative impact on people around us nearly every year now. We therefore object to the site A45 The Talbot, the A57 The Paddocks and the site A43 Garlick's Arch

We particularly object to the allocation of land to the strategic sites of Garlicks Arch (Ripley/Send border), Gosden Hill (Clandon) and Wisley Airfield, which we believe will have a particularly bad impact on the communities and wild life in the area.

We also think that proposing the erection of more than 6,500 houses between the M25 and Burpham is a shocking idea as it will create an even bigger traffic problem for me commuting in and out of Guildford. The sheer size of this proposal is disproportionate and unfair to the people in our area.

I OBJECT specifically to Ripley and Send Villages being removed from the Green Belt. The green belt was intended to be permanent, as required by the National Planning Policy Framework, and there are no special circumstances to justify abandoning it. Send’s Green Belt provides an essential buffer stopping Woking and Guildford becoming on conurbation. Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect Green Belt ad this reneges on it, Developers will be quick to take advantage and there will be nothing to stop them

I OBJECT to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery because of the inadequate access and traffic volume. Tannery Lane is far too narrow and twisty to take and more traffic. The junction with Send Road is already very hazardous for vehicles trying to join the main road. Planning permission has previously been granted for 64 apartments at the Tannery and for building a marina, both of which will generate additional heavy traffic. The lane cannot take any more traffic. The junction is too dangerous already and will be made much worse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to Policy A43.30 the proposed development of Garlicks Arch designated for 400 houses and an industrial estate. This is a new site not included in the Regulation 18 draft and has NOT been consulted on previously. It is not only permanently protected green belt but also a site of ancient woodland with some trees planted in the 16th century. The site floods and is covered by ancient woodland. The industrial space is not needed but if it were it should be at Slyfield. Guildford’s housing requirements have been shown to be grossly over exaggerated and they have refused to disclose their calculations. With proper use of brownfield sites this Green Belt is not needed.

I OBJECT to policy A43.30 the development of new four way interchange onto the A3 which would mean that narrow Send Road (A247) would be the main route for traffic leaving the M25 and A3. It is already crowded and vulnerable to traffic jams. Further traffic from this development would result in permanent gridlock. It simply would not work. Send would have to take traffic from the proposed 2000 new houses at Wisley Airfield, 2000 houses at Gosden Hill, Burpham and 1850 at Blackwell Farm. Much of this traffic to and from the A3, M25, Woking and Guildford would go through Send. Send Road, which is already overloaded, would become gridlocked. Noise and pollution levels, already at excessive levels, would worsen. This must be avoided.

I OBJECT to the fact that GBC have failed to provide sound evidence in terms of the Employment Land Needs Assessment which shows that industrial space at Burnt Common IS NO LONGER NEEDED.

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:

- The increase to 60 homes in place of 45 homes is 33% more and too much
- It ignores all the hundreds of previous objections made by local people
- It will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction
- It will make erosion of the Green Belt in our village worse

- There is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location
- It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no "exceptional circumstances" exist
- It will cause over-development of our village and the number of homes is excessive
- It is exquisite ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth I
- It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
- It is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation

I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because:

- It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
- The word "minimum" is a change from the previous "maximum" in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
- There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
- The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt
- The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
- It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

 I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable.

I am writing to strongly object to the proposed Normandy development on Green Belt land.

The proposed development would cause chaos on the local country roads especially on the two country lanes Westwood Lane and Glaziers Lane which bound two sides of the proposed development which are boxed in by two railway bridges. One of the bridges is only one car per time and the other a very narrow bridge over the railway that has houses surrounding the railway land. Thus resulting in major congestion as the 1100 new houses will have 2000 or more vehicles and traffic pickups and drop offs to and from the proposed 1500 pupil school. The A323 is already backing up at peak times because of the volume of existing traffic and the railway crossing at Ash blocking the twisty country road through Normandy.
Can you explain why we need a new school in Normandy with 1500 places? I cannot see that there is a good argument for such a development.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to object to the removal of West Horsley from the green belt. There appears to be no exceptional circumstances or other justification for the new Green Belt boundaries. West Horsley’s defined current defined Settlement Area boundaries do not need to be extended. West Horsley is a rural village at the foot of the North Downs, partly in the Surrey Hills AONB, extending the settlement area will turn it into a quite different and more urban place that will detract from the green belt and interfere with views from such places as Sheepleas – with an outlook over an urban area.

Adding to the current settlement in this piecemeal way will just add strain to an already stretched infrastructure – roads, shops, schools and the medical centre. This issue not addressed in the local plan and no evidence is given as to how this change would be sustainable.

The development proposals would also be at a higher densities than the village currently is. This would make the village unbalanced and a totally different place. There is no evidence of the need for 385 new homes in West Horsley. Local surveys show that there is the need for a small number of affordable homes for local people not large estates. The proportion of dwellings proposed for the green belt areas is disproportionate to those proposed for brownfield sites in Guildford itself which are much more sustainable being served by Public Transport, employment and other facilities. Brownfield sites should be developed first before there is an consideration of building on the green belt.

If all developments outlined in the plan were to go ahead Guildford would be left sitting in an urban area surrounded by suburbs rather than at the moment surrounded by a rural hinterland with villages.

The Horsleys

The case for removing the Horsleys from the green belt has not been made, nor the extension of the boundaries.

The roads are not suitable for the increase in capacity of traffic arising from the planned volume north/west of the railway.

The road network of the village has very narrow roads that are not suitable for the increase in business traffic – including buses.

The proposed increase from all the individual sites will increase the requirement for schools and health services – I don’t see that these have been addressed.

Wisley Airfield

The road system is not adequate for the volume of housing and the transport access plans have significant road safety issues. There is mention of the M25/A3 interchange but no specifics about how the Old Lane access can be made safe. The site should not be developed at all until after a suitable road system is fully committed to, planned in detail and is in place.

The flood risk paper makes no mention of the risk for the density planned for this site. I can’t see anything that addresses the change to risk with such a large development.

The nearest stations do not have sufficient car parking capacity for the size of the development – the residents are unlikely to travel by bus.

I cannot see that the increase in health services requirements have been addressed.

The road network south to the Horsleys and towards A246 and to Effingham has narrow roads, very narrow in places, that are not suitable for the increase that would arise in business traffic – including the proposed increase in buses.

The plan has a statement which would allow the council to not build a school that is currently stated as part of the plan.

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick's Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity
7) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylons runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.
Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundary to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.
Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the existing local communities by over development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) are in unsustainable locations. They do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

If there is a need for 7,000 sq m of industrial space it should be at Slyfield where there is a 40ha site available.

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Impact on local schooling

Given that the site is inappropriate for the location of schools (see above), children living at the new site would have to use existing schools in the area. However the existing schools are already full.

I therefore object to the development on the grounds of its severe impact on local schools.

Incompatibility of the proposed development of Wisley Airfield with the character of the surrounding area

I understand that it is part of planning policy that new developments should be in keeping with the local character, context and distinctiveness.

However the proposed development will create a new settlement that will be larger than any other settlement in Guildford Borough, outside of Guildford itself, in an area that is characterised by small developments in a country / rural setting.

Furthermore the density of around 49 dwellings per hectare of the proposed development compares to an overall density of around 8 dwellings per hectare in East Horsley. Clearly the density of the proposed development is out of keeping with that of the surrounding area.

Also, the development includes the building of five-storey apartment blocks. As there are no such buildings in the area, this is obviously out of keeping with the local area.

I therefore object to the development on the grounds that it is entirely out of character with the surrounding area.

Impact of the development at Wisley Airfield on local traffic and infrastructure

The villages of East Horsley, Cobham and Ripley, along with the roads around Effingham Junction station, already suffer from traffic suggestion at peak hours. The development will only increase traffic volumes in all these areas.

Furthermore, neither Horsley nor Effingham Junction railway stations currently have any significant spare parking capacity. As the roads between the proposed development and the stations are not suitable for cycling and there is no bus service, residents at the new development will have to drive to, and park at, both stations. The proposed development will therefore only exacerbate parking at both stations.

Also many of the roads in the surrounding area are country lanes, which are not suitable for the major increase in traffic that would result from the proposed development.

I therefore object to the development on the grounds of its severe impact on local traffic and infrastructure.

Impact on health and safety of the development at Wisley Airfield
The site is located close to the junction of the M25 and A3, where recorded Nitrous Oxide emissions are very high. This will therefore have a detrimental effect on the health of residents in the proposed site.

Furthermore, the proposal includes the building of a new primary and a new secondary school. This is in contravention to government policy which prohibits the building of schools in areas where there are high Nitrous Oxide levels.

I therefore object to the development on the grounds of its unsuitability on health and safety grounds.

Breach of Metropolitan Green Belt rules

I understand that development on Green Belt land is only permitted under “very special circumstances”. Also, I understand that unfulfilled housing does not constitute very special circumstances.

Furthermore, the reason that land is designated as Green Belt land is for the benefit of the health and well-being of all communities in the area. This includes communities in larger metropolitan areas, such as Guildford. I have seen nothing in the plans to say that the Green Belt no longer provides these benefits to local communities.

I therefore object to the removal of land from the Green Belt on the grounds that:

1. a) it is a breach of Metropolitan Green Belt rules, and

b) it will have a detrimental impact on the health and well-being of all communities in the area.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery. This is a ridiculous idea. Tannery lane is a narrow and bendy road joining Send Road at a very difficult and potentially dangerous junction. The traffic in Send is already heavily congested and further traffic emerging from Tannery Lane will only make this worse. Traffic improvements at the junction will not help, as the congestion is the result of bottlenecks at both the Burnt Common and Old Woking roundabouts. The future traffic has already been exacerbated by planning permission for 64 apartments and a marina further down Tannery Lane.

I object to building 400 houses and 7000m2 of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch. Ancient woodland! Subject to flooding! Plenty of brownfield sites already available in the borough! Slyfield is already the industrial centre of Guildford Borough so why create another one especially as there is an over supply of industrial space in the area at the moment and for the foreseeable future. I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. I have already described how Send Road is heavily congested especially at peak times. By creating a new interchange at Burnt Common this will choke Send Road and the Village with additional traffic to and from Woking. Not only will this become the new rat run into Woking from the A3 and the M25 but will also have to contend with additional traffic from the proposed 2000 houses at Wisley, 2000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1850 houses at Blackwell farm. This on a road that is already heavily congested.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers’ pitches at Send Hill. Another ridiculous idea. As with the Clockbarn proposal, the effect of the additional traffic on the already congested Send Road will be significant and unacceptable. Send Hill is also a narrow residential lane and will be badly affected by the additional traffic. [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered contrary to the Council’s duty under the Equalities Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation against persons with a protected characteristic; and to foster good relations between persons with a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it.]

I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established as a permanent feature required by the National Planning Policy Framework and not something that can be taken away under pressure from property developers, unjustified government targets or a Borough Council who prefers to develop in the areas that they believe will give them the least resistance.

There are no special circumstances to justify Send losing its Green Belt status and as a buffer to separate Guildford from Woking it is essential that its Green Belt status be retained.

Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt. The current proposals renege on those promises.

As a resident of Send I am appalled at the proposals put forward in the Local Plan. The plan is supposed to be the result of the consultation process between the Borough Council and its residents. We have already put forward our views during the process and have been totally ignored. It is not surprising that the people of this country have lost faith in our politicians (you guys).

• We object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

- We object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

- After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

We reflect objections from our family and friends who regularly visit us and benefit from the current surroundings and are acutely concerned about the changes proposed.

We trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

- We object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

  - We object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. We specifically object to:
    1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
    2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
    3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
    4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
    5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
    6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity
  - We object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
  - We object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
  - We object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

- We object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

I believe the Council's proposals to be deeply flawed and seriously detrimental to Guildford and the surrounding areas, particularly Burpham and Merrow.

To introduce such a disproportionate volume of new housing without first tackling the already severe traffic problems in the area is totally irresponsible and seriously questionable. This is putting the horse before the cart and puts the local area under such intense pressure such that will adversely affect all residents, old and new.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I have been a resident of West Horsley since 1976. We selected this area for its quiet, rural charm and the last 40 years have not disappointed.

The proposal to take East and West Horsley out of the Green Belt is unacceptable when there are other more suitable and less damaging options; there are brownfield sites in the area and only when all such sites are developed should more sensitive areas be carefully considered. In my view, the development of Wisley Airfield is an obvious unused brownfield site with space, and excellent access, for the creation of a new development with all the infrastructure needed to take the pressure off local schools, doctors' surgeries and shops. A large development on this site could provide housing needs for 10-15 years.

I feel that the first line of Policy P2 – “we will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development” should not be treated as a casual remark and should be guarded very responsibly by those who live in and care for this rural and special area. Short sighted and short term solutions to cater for housing needs must not be allowed to damage protect countryside.

I also object most strongly to the proposed huge development of houses and industrial space at Garlick's Arch. This area is covered by ancient woodland and should remain so for our native wildlife. 1. I object to the amount of houses which I being proposed to the area - there is no infrastructure in place to deal with the amount of new road traffic which this will produce.
2. I object to the building of a new secondary school - there are many spaces available to local existing secondary schools and as I currently work at the local primary school which is full at present and would be unable to cope with an additional 1000 homes - where would these children go to primary school? why are we concerned with secondary school when they will need to be in education before then and nothing is in place for that.
3. I object to the amount of traffic this will increase our roads by. At the moment there are a few dangerous roads as it is when pulling out of Beech Lane and this is only going to make things worst and with doubt an accident will happen.
4. I object to the amount of land which is going to be lost - this is a greenbelt area and it will be lost purely for the construction of a concrete area. We are constantly being reminded that we need to encourage our children to be outside and enjoying the fresh air and green space but this is trying to be taken away from us which is tragic.
5. I object to the amount of homes which are being proposed. I understand that new homes are needed but how many of these will actually go to Normandy residents. This has been proved with the development on Beech lane where the house were only suppose to go to normandy residents but that is not the case and many of them are now being lived in by people who have no connection to the village at all.
6. I object as this is my village and needs to remain as a village. Adding 1000+ homes with still no shops, hardly any local transport this is an incredible oversight from both the planners and Guildford Borough Council too.

I would like to strongly object to the above proposed development. Having just returned from a morning of cycling and walking in this beautiful green belt area, this is a much needed green belt space and must remain so to protect the local wildlife and countryside as it is.

The development plans look way too heavy for the local area.

The roads and surrounding small villages will be swamped by the traffic from the service vehicles needed for building the development and then congestion from the additional residents from the development.

Traffic at the M25 and A3 junction is already at bursting point at peak times.

I believe there is supposed to be a plan for the residents to cycle but where are the plans for this.

No exceptional circumstances have been identified to allow this development on green belt land

There will also be a huge demand on local amenities, schools (already over subscribed), doctors, dentists, etc.

15. I object to Sites being planned in unsustainable locations

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I am a resident of Merrow Park – and object to the proposed development at Gosden Hill Farm for the following reasons:

The development of thousands of homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Burpham, Merrow, Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

Gosden Hill Farm (A25) is in an unsustainable location. This site does not benefit from a railway station within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. This site is also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

I also object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network.

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites such as that identified at Gosden Hill (A25) will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.
This development will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

2015

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
- 28 April 2016 A3 West Clandon London bound between A247 Tythebarns Lane (Burntcommon and M25J10 (Wisley Interchange) congestion on A3 to A3100 Clay Lane Burpham
- 30 June 2016 Motorcyclists with injuries airlifted to hospital Send Marsh Road

Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to the surrounding villages. It would have four times the amount of housing as West Clandon plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight this historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.
The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants. The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

1. I object to the SHMA figure. Appendix d: evidence base

The SHMA proposed housing numbers of 693 houses per annum is very high and bears no resemblance to the national estimates for housing growth. There is no explanation of these numbers and they seem very doubtful and appear to be grossly overestimated. The number is more than double the figure of 322 which has been used previously and as the source is confidential there is no tracking and this should not be used in consultation, it is undemocratic.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these.

1. I object to the continued inclusion of the site A35 Formerly Wisley Airfield (Three Farm Meadows), Ockham in the Local Plan. A35

This planning application was recently unanimously rejected by GBC's planning committee on the recommendation of the GBC planning officers who had grave concerns about the application.

I objected to this application on a number of grounds including the quality of the agricultural land, the impact on wildlife and the complete lack of infrastructure to support such an application. The road system is already at a standstill and even with the proposed new junction on the A3 (which has so obviously been added to the plan at the very last minute as a means to support this enormous housing development and the proposed development at Gosden Hill A25) the impact on the local villages and environment would be enormous. Flooding in that area remains a huge problem and cannot be ignored.

Serious concerns about this site were also raised by the Environment Agency, Thames Water and Highways England.

1. I object to the inclusion of Clockbarn Nurseries A42 in the Local Plan

Clockbarn Nursery is located on Tannery Lane which is a narrow road with no pedestrian footways after a few hundred yards down from Send Road. Planning permission is already in place for new housing and as a result the road would not be able to cope with any additional traffic. Tannery Lane exits onto Send Road at an extremely busy junction with poor visibility for emerging traffic. The land at Clockbarn Nursery is agricultural with an abundance of wildlife and should not be developed.

1. I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The installation of ramps to use the northbound A3 would create a large amount of additional traffic to the local roads that are already overburdened, especially at rush hour times. The A247 through Send is already an extremely busy road and would become gridlocked with the additional traffic.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

1. I object to the proposed high density housing in the Horsleys

The proposed increase of up to 35% of new homes compared to existing homes in West Horsley is greater than any other single area in the Borough. The proposals for West Horsley are unbalanced and unsustainable and would change the character of the village forever.

The NPFF requires that residential development must respect the character and density of the housing in the area and be limited in quantity by the availability of infrastructure and local facilities

The addition of 385 homes on sites A37, A38, A39, A40 and A 41 in the timeframe of 2018-2022 would be an unbearable strain on the local infrastructure.

The Plan does not address the provision or even consider the need for expanding local services. The Raleigh Junior School is full with no room for expansion and the Howard of Effingham Secondary School is also operating at full capacity. The drainage systems would not be able to cope and would have to be completely upgraded. The infrastructure including the roads, public transport and medical provision are totally inadequate for this housing proposal and would not be able to support this level of development. The impact on the residents of these villages must be considered.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy 11)

There are insufficient infrastructure details in the plan to support the enormous development that is planned. Many sites, including Garlick’s Arch (A43), do not have any infrastructure improvements identified. Policy 11 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development.

1. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to trunk roads and village roads (Policy I2)

There would need to be significant improvements made to the major trunk roads, A3 and M25, prior to any development taking place. It is noted that Highways England has no plans to start improvements on the A3 before 2020. Therefore it would be unsustainable for the huge developments at the Former Wisley Airfield A35, Garlick's Arch A43 and Gosden Hill A25 and the large developments in the Horsleys to take place within the time frame of the Plan.

The villages are already struggling with traffic volume and there is no strategy for improving capacity in the Plan. The road surfaces are in a bad condition, parking is an issue in many of the villages and provision for pedestrians is often poor. Added to this is the increased popularity of cycling which would create more danger for participants with increased traffic.

I wish my objections to be fully taken into consideration and that the Local Plan is amended in accordance with the objections raised

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
1. I object to the proposed removal of the Horsleys, Send and Ripley from the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances clearly do not exist to justify amendments to Green Belt boundaries as part of the Local Plan process. The villages of East and West Horsley, Send and Ripley and sites at the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farm Meadows) A35, Garlick's Arch A43 and Clockbarn Nurseries A42 should not be removed from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Green Belt provides a buffer from urban sprawl and must not be permanently eroded.

The National Planning Policy Framework, para 87 states that 'As with previous Green Belt policy, inappropriate development is, by definition, harmful to the Green Belt and should not be approved except in very special circumstances'

The proposal that 8,202 (64.6%) of all proposed new homes are to be built in the Green Belt is totally unacceptable. The areas around the villages of the Horsleys, Clandon, Send and Ripley would account for 50% of the new homes.

West Horsley is proposed to have 35% of its existing number of homes - the largest of any of the proposed developments and this is unsustainable.

The character of the villages would be lost forever and the countryside removed for future generations.

The site at Garlick's Arch was added very late to the Plan without prior consultation and with no infrastructure planning. The road network, medical facilities, schools provision and basic utilities would be unable to cope. The proposed 400 houses are not needed in the village or borough and the local area could not support a development of this site. It is totally inappropriate.

GBC's Green Belt and Countryside Report does not address Garlick's Arch so there is NO evidence base to support including this site.

The proposed industrial development of 7,000 sq m is not required as stated by the ELNA report showing an 80% reduction in employment floor space required since the previous plan. There is a brownfield site available at Burnt Common which has been taken out of the plan and also the industrial site at Slyfield where further development could take place on the 40 ha available site. This site has been included as a payback for the land for the proposed A3 interchange.

There is no sustainable transport from this site and it has been identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment agency, which is higher than GBC's assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

The site is bordered by Ancient Woodland which must not be removed and is home to a huge amount of wildlife, including protected species. There has been no wildlife report conducted on the site (Policy 14)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to the Local Plan Policy S1

The Local Plan proposed is not sustainable. The National Planning Policy states that the planning system should contribute to the achievement of sustainable development. The proposed development of 13,860 houses during the period of the plan is just not sustainable. The impact on the local communities, namely the villages north of Guildford, would be disastrous as they would not be able to cope with the proposed level of development. The needs of these local communities have been completely ignored in this Plan.

Site A35 at Wisley Airfield and site A43 Garlick's Arch are positioned in locations with no public transport - already overcrowded railways are a drive away and bus services are very limited. Therefore these sites would be unable to access sustainable transport and would rely totally on the use of cars. There is already major congestion in these areas and concern over air pollution and this would be exacerbated. Development should take place in urban areas where sustainable transport options can be provided.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The strategy proposes that 13,860 houses are developed across the borough but does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure. This is different to all other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The strategy in the plan suggests a disproportionate amount of development in the north east of the borough with the inclusion of the Former Wisley Airfield A35, Garlick's Arch A43 and Gosden Hill A25 as three huge residential sites. These sites are in Wards that currently represent 11% of the housing in the borough, due to their rural nature, but these Wards would have to bear 36% of all the new housing. The rural nature of these areas would be lost with the urbanisation and this would permanently destroy the communities. This is a very unbalanced plan which does not reflect the current housing spread in the borough.

As a resident of West Horsley who works in Send I am writing to object again to the Guildford Local Plan.

As one of the 30,000+ local residents who objected to the Local Plan in 2016 I note that there is very little evidence of change with regard to expansion into the Green Belt. I also note that some areas have had large plans withdrawn completely (Normandy and Flexford) whereas other areas, mostly to the east of Guildford, have more than their fair share of proposed development in the Green Belt.

I object to the fact that there has been NO change to the insetting of West and East Horsley from the Green Belt.

I question the housing numbers put forward by Guildford estimating that the town will grow by 25% by 2034. This is nearly double the predicted growth for Guildford from the Office for National Statistics. Guildford MUST constrain its housing growth and do more to protect the Green Belt. There needs to be more housing in the town centre and on brownfield sites.

I object that there have been NO changes to improve the sustainability of the West Horsley development sites.

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch as this is Green Belt land with areas of ancient woodland that should not be designated for Travelling Showpeople. There are no exceptional circumstances for building on this land. I note that an application in Vicarage Lane for one house was recently turned down as it is in the Green Belt and yet this is proposing over 400 houses and sites for travellers on Green Belt land incorporating ancient woodland. This does not make sense. Other factors that must be considered include:-
• the local area will not be able to cope with the additional traffic generated and will cause hold ups on all the local roads
• the proposed number of houses is far too high for the area
• the allocation of a site of ancient woodland for the travellers is wrong and would not suit their needs
• the combination of general housing and travelling show people is not satisfactory
• the proposed number of pitches represents the total number required for the whole borough on one site
• the huge number of objections made about this proposal to build on the Green Belt and destroy ancient woodland MUST be considered

I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because there is a reduction in the demand for industrial land over the borough - this is shown by the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment and was noted in a recent application in Tithebarn Lane as the reason for conversion of industrial land to housing. It cannot work both ways.

• There are still empty sites at Slyfield and therefore there is no need to build more industrial development on the Green Belt
• The local area would not be able to cope with additional traffic potentially generated.
• This site was previously deleted from the 2014 draft due to objections

I do not believe that we can add thousands more homes into the Borough as the infrastructure will not support this. Last year my eldest daughter was going to Secondary School and due to the lack of places was first allocated a school in Addlestone which was impossible to get to. Additionally, in the 15 years that I've lived in the Borough I have sometimes worked in London and had to commute by train, either from Clandon or Woking - Woking is already impossible to get a seat on the train, and the Clandon trains are almost at capacity now (at Clandon, which is only 2 stops along the slow line to London), despite additional carriages, whereas there used to be spaces on the trains.

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy as GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; there’s too much development in the north east of the borough (Wisley [A35], Ripley/Send [A43] and Clandon [A25]). 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in this area, which has only 11% of the existing housing.

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of the villages

I finally object to the multiple revisions of the plan with relatively short notice - only last year a plan was included for commercial development on brownfield sites at Burnt Common - these are now removed. Additionally, the proposed development for 40 houses on Burnt Common Lane was added at the last minute to last year's plan - but subsequently removed. The plan should follow GBC’s consultation process without having last minute amendments which cause all concerned a great deal of disturbance.

I trust that the objections made above are fully taken into consideration and that the Plan is amended accordingly.

Traffic
- There is no clear plan in place to deal with the significant increase in traffic. Plans are merely aspirational.
- Evidence on future traffic levels has not been demonstrated in the Strategic Highway Assessment Report (SHAR).
- The Gosden Hill Development will put enormous pressure on the A3 (North and Southbound) and the London Road/New Inn Lane intersection which at present are significant bottlenecks.
- Should a tunnel be part of the proposal to ease traffic congestion, this will need to be agreed prior to any development commencing to avoid sterilisation of land needed for construction of the tunnel.

Size of Development
- The 14000 homes proposed in the plan on sites close to and in Guildford will be unsustainable in the absence of a clear agreed plan for new schools, transport (rail and road), medical facilities, sewerage, retail facilities and the creation of new jobs.
- In any event the figure is far too high compared with the present population of Guildford. The construction of 14000 new dwellings is likely to increase the population of Guildford (current population approximately 140,000) well in excess of 25%.
- The unique identities of the villages which are close to the proposed developments will be changed for ever.

POLICY A26

Sir, I wish to object to the local plan on the grounds that it is unsound, for the following reasons.

1. In the development at Gosden Hill, it appears that the building of the houses etc. will begin before the new roads are put in. This will lead to increased traffic through Burpham, already snarled up at peak times.

2. The plan for the park and ride seem a good idea, BUT, while the traffic from the north will enter easily, when the customers return they will have to come through Burpham to access the Clay lane slip road, again causing holdups and increased pollution from idling cars. An access road from the park and ride, and the new houses, to the north bound carriageway would seem a sensible idea, channelling the traffic away from Burpham bottleneck.

3, The Green Belt was brought in to prevent ribbon development along major highways causing urban sprawl. The building on Gosden Hill, Garlik Arch and Wisley aerodrome looks very much like ribbon development, connecting up the villages along the A3.

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

.  I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).
The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site. The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

1. I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians. The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?.

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

1. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.
2. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any commonsense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guilford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

OBJECTION TO NORMANDY AND FLEXFORD LOCAL PLAN

I write to strongly object to the Green Belt land taken out of Green Belt and this virgin land full of old English trees, wildlife and beautiful pasture used to build houses and schools with commercial retail shops. This type of development which in fact would double the size of the village would not enhance village life it would make it into a town.

Can the planning committee demonstrate the need in this particular corner of Surrey for such a development?

Has the transport infrastructure been adequately addressed? The number of vehicles which would be in the area on the local Lanes would make it impossible to travel even a small distance without having huge queues. The traffic backs up daily on the A323 which is also a relief road for the Hogs Back. Ash has a railway crossing which causes traffic build up. Normandy is bound by two railway arches one which is a small bridge only allowing very slow passing vehicles and is bound by houses on all sides. The other railway bridge restricts the height and flow of one car per time in either direction.

I object to Send being removed from the Green Belt. The Green Belt was established as a permanent feature required by the National Planning Policy Framework and not something that can be taken away under pressure from property developers, unjustified government targets or a Borough Council who prefers to develop in the areas that they believe will give them the least resistance.

There are no special circumstances to justify Send losing its Green Belt status and as a buffer to separate Guildford from Woking it is essential that its Green Belt status be retained.

Local councillors and central government gave a clear election promise to protect the Green Belt. The current proposals renge on those promises.

I object to building 45 houses at Clockbarn Nursery. This is a ridiculous idea. Tannery lane is a narrow and bendy road joining Send Road at a very difficult and potentially dangerous junction. The traffic in Send is already heavily congested and further traffic emerging from Tannery Lane will only make this worse. Traffic improvements at the junction will not help, as the congestion is the result of bottlenecks at both the Burnt Common and Old Woking roundabouts. The future traffic has already been exacerbated by planning permission for 64 apartments and a marina further down Tannery Lane.

I object to building 400 houses and 7000m2 of industrial space at Garlick’s Arch. Ancient woodland! Subject to flooding! Plenty of brownfield sites already available in the borough! Slyfield is already the industrial centre of Guildford Borough so why create another one especially as there is an over supply of industrial space in the area at the moment and for the foreseeable future. In addition, Guildford’s housing plan requirements have been shown to be grossly exaggerated and when challenged, the council refuses to release their calculations.

I object to a new interchange with the A3 at Burnt Common. I have already described how Send Road is heavily congested especially at peak times. By creating a new interchange at Burnt Common this will choke Send Road and the Village with additional traffic to and from Woking. Not only will this become the new rat run into Woking from the A3 and the M25 but will also have to contend with additional traffic from the proposed 2000 houses at Wisley, 2000 houses at Gosden Hill and 1850 houses at Blackwell farm. This on a road that is already heavily congested.

I object to the development of 40 houses and 2 travellers’ pitches at Send Hill. Another ridiculous idea. As with the Clockbarn proposal, the affect of the additional traffic on the already congested Send Road will be significant and unacceptable. Send Hill is also a narrow residential lane and will be badly affected by the additional traffic. I do not accept the proposal that there are to be two travellers' pitches in Send. [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered contrary to the Council’s duty under the Equalities Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation against persons with a protected characteristic; and to foster good relations between persons with a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it] and following the recent closure of Ripley police station and the loss of our local police presence (policemen on the beat) there will be no deterrent at all in our village.

Objection to Guildford Borough Council's Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) – Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) It is in all our interests to protect Green Belt sites from development. This was promised in the Election manifesto.

2) The proposed site, Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) is on Green Belt land. For this reason I object most strenuously to 70% of this Green Belt land to be taken and used to build 2100 new dwellings.

There is ample brownfield land in urban areas which needs to be regenerated instead.
3) The FWA/TFM site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

4) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA). This is far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

5) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the Borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

6) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

7) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
   4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity

8) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

9) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have NOT been taken seriously. Air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

10) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are:

   • Access to the countryside and clean air
   • The peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces.

Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

11) I object to the continued inclusion of a site FWA/TFM where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.
After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), the planning application of Wisley Property Investments Ltd (WPIL) was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

The introduction of such a disproportionate volume of new housing without first tackling the already severe traffic problems in the area is totally irresponsible and seriously questionable. Building housing and commercial developments which will inordinately increase the amount of traffic both residing within the area and travelling to Guildford from outside, will create a pressure cooker situation of constantly grid locked roads. The road system is currently under significant pressure and the problems of traffic management must be addressed before any new building in the area can be considered feasible.

Another issue is that the local area would not be able to cope with the increase in traffic as there will be a huge rise in the amount of cars on the road meaning more pollution to the area and making the roads more dangerous. Also the noise levels will increase in a peaceful area where everyone gets on and lives without any conflict but by having more people in the area there is more of a chance that this will change. I don't think that the station or the local parade of shops will be able to cope with the high demands that will be brought upon by having such a huge increase of population.

POLICY A44

On Policy A44. 1.9a Land West of Winds Ridge and Send Hill 1. I object to the proposal on the grounds that Send Hill is in part a single track country road and too narrow, particularly at the Potters Lane Junction, to accommodate the extra traffic the proposed development would bring.

1. I object to the proposal on the ground that Send is in Green Belt. The proposed inset is inappropriate due to its permanent green belt status.
2. I object to the proposal on the grounds that the existing roads and parking infrastructure is already inadequate and could not cope with the extra traffic.
3. I object to the proposal on the grounds that the proposed development site (A44) was used as a GBC registered landfill site. Disturbance of the site would be a health hazard due to the unknown materials in the site.

5 I object to the inclusion of Traveller Accommodation on Send Hill due to the disturbance of an existing community. If significant development is in prospect the Traveller Accommodation should be planned as an integral part of such new development (as for affordable housing) rather that imposed on the existing community.

POLICY II

1. I object to the scale of the development at Wisley, Garlicks Arch and Merrow because there is no provision for appropriate timely investment in infrastructure (roads, schools, hospitals etc). Anyone living locally would confirm that the road infrastructure is inadequate now, never mind having to cope with the extra volumes resulting from the Proposed Plan.

I object to in particular the scale of development at Grlicks Arch and Merrow which will produce significant extra traffic volumes into and from Woking via Send Road and Potters Lane. Neither of these roads can safely or effectively handle increased traffic flows.

The Objections above demonstrate. Democratic deficit between the views of the local population and the unjustified scale of development in the Proposed Plan which places now value on existing amenity (i.e Green Belt) and contains no practical plans for infrastructure enhancement.

I accept the need for additional housing, particularly low-cost housing, for future generations but I do not accept the figure of 693 houses per year and do not understand why there is no background information available to explain how this figure is calculated. I object to this figure being used as the basis for decisions which will alter the local landscape for ever.

We live in the Send/Ripley/Clandon area because it is close to London and other amenities and enjoys good transport links. BUT we live here primarily because it is a green and pleasant land, protected by the Green Belt, designed to ensure that generations of planners do not allow the metropolitan sprawl to continue unabated. Architects and town planners come and go and few are ever held accountable for terrible errors of judgement. On the other hand, residents and their families stay for generations.

To remove this area from the Green Belt would be a travesty. This area would rapidly become just another housing development to join Surbiton and Cobham with Guildford and Woking. The urban sprawl would reach far and wide – and once that decision is made, no architect or planner would be able to stand in its way.

Huge objections were raised two years ago and little victories were achieved. But as with all planning issues, they keep coming back. Here we are in 2016 faced with more house development proposals (on my understanding about 690 homes per year), plus 400 more houses and industrial units at Garlick’s Arch, followed by the relentless pursuit of traveller pitches in Send Hill.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objections to Guildford Borough Council Proposed Local Plan (June 2016) and to the continued inclusion in the plan of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA), now known as Three Farms Meadows (TFM) –

Allocation A35 - for the phased development of a new settlement of up to 2100 dwellings

I object to the draft Local Plan for the following key reasons:

1) I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

2) I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. This site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

3) I object to the housing number of 693 houses per year from the West Surrey Strategic Market Housing Assessment (SHMA) as far too high. This assessment and calculation process has been far from transparent and indeed is more than double the figure used in previous plans.

4) I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the Borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

5) I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.

6) I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:

   1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
   2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
   3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
   4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
   5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
   6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity.
7) I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).

8) I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously – air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.

9) I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.

10) I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, - now known as Three Farm Meadows) - where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC’s Planning Committee.

After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter.

Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency.

I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I am 16 and have lived in West Horsley all my life. I went to the Raleigh school and live nearby. I like living in the countryside as I enjoy taking my dogs for a walk nearby and seeing the deer, foxes, rabbits and other animals and insects.

I don’t like that the Raleigh is always overcrowded and always has been with classes of at least 30 as the school needs to raise money. This won’t change if it moves it will just become a giant school and the terrible traffic problems and fumes that have been around Northcote Crescent and Nightingale Crescent will be moved into East Lane. Maybe this will make me happier except it will use up a field full of wildlife which is now part of the Green Belt. Please put this where there are old ugly buildings. If there are new houses will I be able to afford one or will I be a chosen first? Is this about money and numbers rather than about people?

There won’t be enough doctors or parking or school places or good enough roads because this is not in the plan. It will mean that people like me will lose out and people like you will be happy. Surely the young should decide their future and the residents rather than parents at the Raleigh who are not resident and probably live in other villages or Guildford as they don’t care about us.

Housing Policies: Policy H1 “Homes for all” suffers from the inclusion of an unacceptable requirement to impose on the University (regardless of Blackwell Farm) an obligation to provide accommodation for 60% of its students on campus. This imposition will limit education and will create a “them and us” style society. The housing problem in Guildford is not caused by students or the University and the Town should not discriminate against them.

Policy H2 “Affordable Homes” imposes a high obligation on developers for affordable housing but makes no reference to viability. If we are unrealistic about expectations of what developers must provide it will limit the supply of new homes and increase the cost of those that are built.

Strategic Policies: The strategic policies within the plan are sensible. Development must be sustainable and respect natural assets; it must also include some careful use of greenbelt land for the simple reason that there is not enough developable capacity in brownfield sites. I therefore support both Policy S1 “Sustainability” and Policy S2 “Housing number”.

Both the A3 and M25 need improvements before any developments commence. This is clearly not going to happen in the timescales of the plan, so the proposed developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlicks Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) should NOT take place.

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, in addition to Wisley Airfield (site A35) and Garlicks Arch (site A43)

There are no exceptional circumstances (as required by the National Planning Policy) for these villages and sites being removed.

This is an extremely beautiful area. Removal from the green belt will cause the local tourist trade to suffer significantly.

The volume of proposed housing will damage local communities especially Ripley, Send and Clandon and is not sustainable due to lack of infrastructure. There are no rail stations near the proposed developments and no plans to improve the local roads. All adults will require a car. There is too much development in Wisley (A35) Ripley/Send (A43) and Clandon (A25). The plan is unbalanced with over 5,000 houses proposed between M25 and Burpham, which will merge all the villages and their identities. This is unfair and unreasonable.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements the Plan depends on. There is no schedule for Garlick’s Arch (A43), so the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site. It is therefore not fit for purpose.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report, which says that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, which is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans.

But because the Council will not publish the SHMA report, this figure cannot be verified. This lack of transparency is not right for consultation on the Plan.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s own assessment. This area has flooded many times in recent years and therefore the Council’s assessment is not good enough to be included in the plan.

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

North facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities, which do need to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic. E.g. all traffic from London/M25 to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking. This is not sustainable as this cannot be improved.

Garlick’s Arch is protected from development as Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for it’s removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2). Central Government state clearly that housing need is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan states the preference is to use of previously developed land, but GBC have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common replaced it with Garlick’s Arch.

The site is not appropriate because:

- There is no sustainable transport infrastructure.
- The site is liable to frequent flooding
- The site has Ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat, but no wildlife report for the site is in the Plan.
- There are no plans to improve local schools, medical or utilities to cope.

There is no need for new industrial sites at Garlick’s Arch (A43). There is an existing brownfield industrial site at Burnt Common that could easily accommodate the 7,000 sq m proposed. That site was removed from the Plan without any reasoning.

Furthermore the development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been for there decades employing local people and are therefore clearly sustainable.

13,860 new houses proposed is not sustainable – it will damage local communities by over development, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon. The local communities don’t need these houses. Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) have no railway stations and inadequate bus services, so almost every adult will have to have a car. The Plan has nothing to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch.

The development should be in urban areas where there is sustainable transport.

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages.

I Object to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule - (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements the Plan depends upon. I Object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick's Arch is protected from development due to it's Green Belt status. There are no exceptional circumstances which allow it's removal from the Green Belt (Policy P2) - Central Government clearly state that the need for new housing is not an exceptional circumstance.

The Plan clearly states the preference is to use previously developed land, but Guildford Borough Council have removed a brownfield site at Burnt Common, and replaced this with Garlick's Arch.
The Garlick's Arch is not appropriate because:

- there is no sustainable transport infrastructure
- the site is liable to frequent flooding
- it contains ancient woodland and is a wildlife habitat - yet there is no wildlife report for the site in the Plan
- there are no plans to increase local school places or local medical services, or any plans to improve local utilities in order to meet the additional demand from these new houses.

There is already too much traffic in our villages - Ripley is a point in case - traffic cutting through Ripley from Junction 10/A3 to get across towards Pyford/Woking via Newark Lane (B367) means tailbacks already stretch back along the Portsmouth Road (B2215) to the roundabout under the Ripley Bypass (A3). There are no plans to improve issues like this. Rural roads in this area are narrow, in poor condition and have no footpaths - with 5000 more homes this means dangerous conditions particularly for cyclists, pedestrians/walkers and children in the area.

The Plan does not identify adequate infrastructure improvements that support the huge scale of the proposed development, particularly at Garlick's Arch (A43) - it has no infrastructure projects within the Infrastructure Schedule to support this.

Having lived in the area for 17 years, I can vouch for the fact that Local Services, Utilities & Sewerage, Doctors and medical facilities are all at, or very near capacity - a further influx of residents on the scale proposed would place incredible strain on these already-stretched services.

I also further understand that there are no plans to improve the capability of the medical and Police/Emergency services to cover this additional influx of residents in some 5,000+ houses.

Highways England have no plans to even start considering improvements to the A3 until at least 2020. I object to the removal of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, along with the sites of Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Wisley Airfield (A35) and the subsequent urban sprawl that threatens them. I Object to the Local Plan, as it is simply not sustainable - (Policy S1)

Over-development of our area will heavily impact Ripley, Send and Clandon, due to the sheer number of houses proposed - (13,860). Both Garlick's Arch (A43) and the old Wisley Airfield (A35) have no accessible train stations as well as inadequate local bus services. It is therefore inevitable that there will be many more cars used in the area. Additionally, the Plan contains nothing that will improve infrastructure to improve Garlick's Arch. It therefore makes more sense for this development to be sited in urban areas where sustainable transport links are already in place.

Guildford Borough Council's proposal for 13,860 new houses without any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, differs from the plans of all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan shows great imbalance across the borough with too much development in the North-East of the borough (Wisley A35), Ripley/Send (A43) and Clandon (A25) - a staggering 36% of all the Plan's new housing is proposed in this area which currently has only 11% of the existing housing.

I am very concerned that 5,036 new houses proposed between the M25 and Burpham (a distance of about 5 miles in total) will obviously lead to merged urbanisations that will engulf our villages and wipe away our identity.

The amenities and infra structure of the Horsleys are all ready either under pressure or at capacity.

The Raleigh school is full with no room for expansion. In a high birth rate entry year not all children in the Horsleys can be accommodated at the school.

In view of the building of a new Howard of Effingham school being rejected and the existing school being full to capacity, there will not be enough local secondary school places for local children if the plan goes ahead.
The roads are already busy in the Horsleys with queues developing on the A246 and along Ockham Road South where it joins the A246 in peak periods. The proposed development at the hotel site, adjacent to dangerous bends on the A246, particularly concerns me. An additional junction here at an already busy and dangerous location will only exacerbate the situation.

Parking at East Horsley village shops is already congested and at times it is impossible to find a parking space. Increased inhabitants in the Horsleys will increase pressure on parking still more.

The medical centre seems routinely unable to offer an appointment for up to a fortnight, so an increased population will no doubt extend waiting times.

Based on these points I object to the proposed Guildford local plan 2016.

Secondly, is that the local amenieties like Budgens and the taekaways, and even the hairdressers wont be able to deal with the amount of people being brought to the village, and therefore may go elsewhere affecting these companies profit margins.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Fourthly local schools own't be able to deal with the sheer weight of new students and therefore could have to reject potential students. Finally Thames water has advised the council that the current wastewater network in the area is unlikely to be able to support the extra houses causing an upgrading costing thr local community.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I am writing to object to the proposed Guildford plan 2016. Listed are my reasons why.

The first reason is that if the proposed number of houses is built, the traffic and danger to me walking around horsley is heavily increased due to the traffic and number of cars on the road.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The housing numbers projected by the Council have not been substantiated by the Council, in spite of many requests, so the West Horsley Parish have carried out their own survey, that clearly suggests the figures to be wrong. The Green Belt must be retained as it stands today and each Planning Proposal should be judged on its own merits. I voted Conservative when they came to office and they vowed to preserve the Green Belt, therefore I expect them to stand by that promise.

Not only that, the infrastructure simply does not exist, certainly not in the Guildford Borough where roads are already inadequate, hospitals and doctors surgeries are not coping, transport systems are under severe pressure as are the schools. The plan makes no provision for putting this right, just feeble remarks suggesting each development will have to look into available possibilities. It is a joke!!!

I totally understand that "development" in terms of housing and commercial has to happen, but not on this scale and not at the expense of our vitally important "Green Land". This has to be preserved for future generations and even for the health and wellbeing of the generation of today.

<td>I am a resident of Ripley Surrey, I object to the local planned development as it is not sustainable. I also object to the A35 Wisley Airfield development as it is inappropriate and unsustainable. Traffic through Ripley is difficult enough to get through without additional cars. We also have a speeding problem throughout the village, the high street should have speed cameras. I don’t have any young children but I am really scared when I watch young children try to reach the other side of the road to go to school. I do not know how there has not been a serious accident.</td>

I object to site A43a the proposed on off ramp at burnt common as this will again only increase traffic in villages. Our villages are being changed and as our local council I would have expected you to want to preserve our rural way of life. Guildford itself is losing its attractiveness as an historical town and will shortly be unrecognisable if any of the proposed large developments go ahead.

At the present time it takes two to three weeks to see a doctor at the local doctors surgery, we don’t need any additional housing of this scale in our villages. I object to Guildford council alleged housing need numbers when they fail to produce any undeniable evidence.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I live on Ripley High Street and I want to register my objections to items mentioned in the latest local plan.

We currently have a monumental problem at present with traffic going through Ripley village. The proposed increase in housing at Garlicks Arch, Wisley and Tannery Lane will only make the situation worse.
I also object to the plan for 6 travelling show people plots on green belt land as it is a rural environment and totally wrong for the area and this again would lead to increased traffic. Our local roads are too small for this congested traffic.

I think Guildford borough council are hell bent on destroying our village with misconceived and ill thought out plans, it is time the planning officials started listening to residents of our local villages.

I would like to register my objection to this proposal as it would ruin the local environment. Having studied at school the impact of large numbers of people on the areas such as the ones in the proposed villages this plan is not sustainable and would cause a lot of congestion on the roads, trains and emergency services.
