Brandon Lewis MP, in his role as Minister of State for Housing and Planning made the following comments in a letter sent to all Local Planning Authorities in March 2015:

“We all need to do more to address the lack of suitable plots of land being made available, and we believe that local planning authorities have a vital role to play.”

The letter went on to say:

“National planning policy and guidance is clear that local planning authorities should identify and plan for local demand for custom and self build housing. Planning inspectors will want to see evidence that consideration of demand for custom and self-build housing has been taken into account when they examine Local Plans. Failure to provide sufficient evidence may lead to plans being found unsound.”

This communiqué from the Department of Communities and Local Government could not be any more explicit in its requirements for LPAs to plan for the needs of those that wish to build their own home.

The Self-build and Custom Housebuilding Bill received Royal Assent on 26 March. The Bill is now an Act of Parliament. This Bill seeks to establish a register of prospective custom builders who are seeking a suitable serviced plot of land and requires LPAs to keep an up to date register of people within the district that wish to build their own home. It is understood that Guildford Borough Council have complied with the legislation and keep a register of those in the borough that wish to build their own home.

The above comments from the Planning Minister and the emerging Right to Build legislation clearly demonstrate how the government intended LPAs to respond to the requirements set out in the NPPF when drawing up new Local Plans. LPAs should take a proactive position to providing land and should undertake rigorous and effective evidence gathering to measure custom and self-build need in their districts. And LPAs that do not do so can expect their Local Plans to be found unsound at examination.

Critique of Evidence Base

The evidence for housing needs within the emerging Local Plan evidence base is centred on the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) September 2015.

The paper does make reference to custom and self-build and notes that the Government aspires to make self-build ‘a mainstream housing option’ and makes some attempt to quantify the demands for self-build in West Surrey. The paper states that the 2012 Guildford BC Housing Needs Survey revealed a very low interest in self-build in the borough. However, contact with custom and self-build specialist website Buildstore revealed a much higher indicative demand:

‘Within the postcodes of Guildford, there are 65 people registered their details on the Custom Build register and 216 active members on the Plotsearch register’

The SHMA also reveals that Buildstore register of plots shows a supply as of June 2015 of nine self-build sites within West Surrey with six plots for sale in Guildford borough.

It is considered that the council have not really tried to understand the demand for custom- and self-build in the borough. The SHMA simply concludes that there is ‘modest’ demand in the SHMA area with ‘limited’ supply. As a consequence, it is considered that the plan cannot be said to be positively prepared or justified as there has been no concerted attempt to establish the actual demand for custom or self-build within the borough beyond the data held by a single website. This is clearly at odds with the March 2015 letter from Brandon Lewis MP.
Critique of Pre-Submission Plan

There are no policies within the Proposed Guildford Borough Local Plan that deal directly with custom and/or self-build. The reasoned justification (paragraph 4.2.12) explains that the council have a legal responsibility to keep a register of individuals or interested associations that are seeking a plot of land to construct a self-build or custom build house. It further goes on to explain that Guildford BC will have regard to the information on the register when carrying out planning functions and explains that the council ‘have allocated some self-build plots within the strategic housing development sites’. Lastly it states that the council will keep further demand under review.

Whilst the above all sounds promising and would appear to be broadly in line with the requirements in the NPPF, the Right to Build and government missives, a closer look at the allocations made by GBC reveals that the council have not in fact stipulated a number of self-build plots to be allocated nor have they produced a target for the number of self-build plots that should be built in the borough over the plan period.

There are 5 allocated sites on which some provision for self-build is made. However, as can be seen below all five allocations include ‘some self-build plots’ as ‘opportunities’, with no specified figures attached:

POLICY A22: Land north of Keens Lane, Guildford

Opportunities:

- Inclusion of some self-build plots as part of the provision of new homes (C3)

POLICY A25: Gosden Hill Farm, Merrow Lane, Guildford

Allocation:

- Approximately 2000 homes (C3), including some specialist housing and self-build plots

POLICY A26: Blackwell Farm, Hogs Back, Guildford

Allocation:

- Approximately 1800 homes (C3), including some specialist and self-build plots

POLICY A35: Land at former Wisley airfield, Ockham

Allocation:

- Approximately 2000 homes (C3), including some specialist housing and self-build plots

POLICY A46: Land to the south of Normandy and north of Flexford

Allocation:

- Approximately 1,100 homes (C3), including some specialist housing and self-build plots (C3)

The above therefore does not guaranteed that any self-build properties will be provided in the borough over the plan period. Indeed, it would appear peculiar in fact that the council would go to the lengths of mentioning self-build within the strategic allocations but not specify how many self-build units should be built, either on each site or even overall.

It is considered therefore that Guildford Borough Council have not in fact identified and planned for local demand for custom and self-build housing. It is a tokenistic approach, which although a step in the right direction, does not go far enough in our view. The council are simply aware that demand is ‘moderate’ and have suggested that there are ‘opportunities’ for self-build on some of the Local Plan’s allocated sites. This is clearly not sufficient to fulfil the government’s requirement that ‘local planning authorities should identify and plan for local demand for custom and self build housing’. As a consequence, it is considered that the plan cannot be said to be positivity prepared as the council cannot demonstrate that needs of the community are necessarily going to be met, specifically those that wish to build their own home.

Furthermore, the plan cannot be said to be consistent with national policy since the NPPF states that councils ‘should look to plan for a mix of housing based on present and future demographics, market trends and the needs of different groups in the community including ... people who wish to build their own homes’. Whilst the Local Plan mentions self-build opportunities in relation to the strategic allocations, there is no guarantee that the numbers that will be delivered will be sufficient to meet the demand in the area.

It is considered that the best way of ensuring delivery of self-build opportunities in the borough is not by alluding to an unspecified potential number of self-build opportunities on an allocated strategic housing site. Rather the council should consider the opportunity for more than one approach which should include the allocation of dedicated self-build sites, giving choice and an opportunity for smaller land owners to come forward with sites. Large developers are considered likely to resist the provision of self-build plots on the strategic allocations preferring to build their own product. Furthermore, since the Local Plan does not state a minimum number of self-build plots that should be provided it is difficult to see how the council will ensure that sufficient are provided. As a consequence, it is considered likely that the provision of self-build opportunities will be unlikely to meet the demand in the borough.

Conclusions

1. The council’s attempts to assess the demand for self-build are inadequate. The plan has therefore failed the test of soundness in terms of being justified and consistent with national policy.

Custom- and self-build demand within the borough must be properly assessed.

1. The ‘opportunities’ for self-build included on the strategic allocations within the plan are wholly inadequate as a means of meeting the demand for self-build in the borough. The plan has therefore failed the test of soundness in terms of being positively prepared and consistent with national policy.

Dedicated self-build housing sites should be allocated within the Local Plan to ensure that the demands of those that wish to build their own home are met.

The Local Plan in its current form clearly cannot be considered sound and the above observations and suggestions are proposed to help to ensure that the plan is robust when submitted for examination.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Executive Summary

The site is deliverable, located sustainably, has good potential for vehicular and pedestrian connectivity and is enclosed by defensible boundaries formed from existing and consented development ensuring the openness of the Green Belt is not affected.

Accordingly, the site was supported to accommodate significant residential development by the April 2014 Green Belt and Countryside Study and the July 2014 draft Local Plan.

However, the rationale set out within the 2016 Housing Delivery Topic Paper applies a blanket approach which results in the site not being allocated in the draft Local Plan 2016. Such an approach denies the opportunity to consider the value of the site as demonstrated by its exclusion from the 2016 sustainability appraisal despite it being considered an allocated site in the 2014 draft Local Plan. This approach, which does not consider the comparative value of this deliverable site, calls the soundness of the Local Plan into question.

Based on a comparative assessment of the site, its sustainability and deliverability it should be included in the Local Plan as a residential allocation contributing to meeting the housing need of the Borough.

1.0 Introduction

1.1 This document will consider the sites involvement in the Guildford Borough Local Plan process to date, whether the site could be developed, how the site compared to those proposed to be allocated in the Local Plan and whether the site should be allocated for residential development in the Local Plan.

1.2 This document should be read in conjunction with the submitted Site Appraisal and covering letter.

2.0 The site and the local plan process 2013-2016

October 2013 Issues and options

2.1 The site was not included in the 2013 Issues and Options document on the basis that the Council did not consider that the site was deliverable as the owner had not responded to the call for sites. However, Mr Cook, of his own volition entered into dialogue at the time concerned that the Council had not approached him.

April 2014 Green Belt and Countryside Study

2.2 The site was thereafter considered in the Green Belt and Countryside Study of which the relevant part (volume V) identified parcel of land B16A as the application site (plus some surrounding land). The Study, the relevant extract of which is attached at Appendix A, was published in April 2014 prior to the draft Local Plan 2014 being published.

2.3 The Study, which considered whether Send has capacity for a ‘Major Village Expansion’, categorised the wider area the site lies in as a ‘high sensitivity’ Green Belt area. However, it made several observations that the site:

- “is relatively unconstrained in environmental capacity terms”;
- “has a bus service rating of 3 within GBC’s Settlement Hierarchy document which is classed as a good service”;
- “provides opportunities for pedestrian linkages to the River Wey towpath connecting to Old Woking and vehicular access to the A247 Send Road via Tannery Lane”;
- “provides an opportunity to form a waterfront development”;
- “Send scored highly in terms of total community facilities and was ranked 5th in terms of the sustainability assessments within the GBC settlement hierarchy”;
- “the score of 24 in terms of community facilities is higher than a number of similar sized settlements”;
- “provides opportunities to accommodate a major expansion without significantly compromising the openness of the wider Green Belt across the Borough”;
- “would not result in settlement coalescence due to the physical separation provided”;
- “would not likely affect any historic setting” and
- “the impact on openness would be limited be enclosure provided by treebelts following the River Wey Navigation to the north, treebelts following Tannery Lane and hedgerows to the east”;

2.4 In conclusion the Study “considered that a Potential Major development Area at land parcel B16A (which includes the site) to the north of Send would be appropriate as a major village expansion as the sustainability credentials outweigh the potential harm to the openness and purposes of the Green Belt”.

2.5 It was not therefore surprising that the site was included for residential development in the draft Local Plan 2014.

July 2014 draft Local Plan (Regulation 18)

2.6 The site, as part of a wider parcel of land including Clockbarn Nurseries and land to the south of Tannery Lane, was included for up to 215 residential dwellings in the draft Local Plan 2014 an extract of which is attached at Appendix B.

2.7 In allocating the site the draft Local Plan recognised that “there is an opportunity to provide a mix of uses in this area, resulting in leisure facilities and new homes (including at least 45% affordable homes), close to a strategic employment site (Send business centre). This also makes use of the former nursery that is now disused”.

August 2014 draft Sustainability Appraisal

2.8 The sites allocation for residential development in the 2014 draft Local Plan was further strengthened by the sites high score in the subsequent 2014 draft sustainability appraisal an extract of which is attached at Appendix C.

September 2015 planning approval for the construction of a marina (14/P/02289)

2.9 The sites allocation was again further supported by the approval, in September 2015, of a marina to serve the River Wey Navigation a plan of which is attached at Appendix D. By allowing the application the Council, due to the existing Send Business Centre and Clockbarn Nurseries, enclosed the site changing its character and bringing it within the form of Send.

June 2016 Sustainability Appraisal

2.10 It was surprising, given the Council had previously not only accepted the benefits of, but had actively promoted, the site as a residential allocation, that the site was not considered by the June 2016 sustainability appraisal. This is confirmed by an e-mail from the Council attached at Appendix F.

2.11 This is particularly surprising given that the methodology of the Sustainability Appraisal states (at paragraphs 5.13 and 5.14) that:

“Specifically, in-line with regulatory requirements, there is a need to explain how work was undertaken to develop and then appraise reasonable alternatives, and how the Council then took into account appraisal findings when finalising the Proposed Submission Plan.

More specifically still, this part of the report sets out to present information regarding the consideration of reasonable alternative spatial strategies, i.e. alternative approaches to the allocation of land to meet housing (and economic) needs”.

2.12 Given that the site has previously been considered appropriate for development, and this was confirmed by the draft 2014 Sustainability Appraisal, the fact that the site, as a realistic prospect for accommodation residential development, was not even considered by the 2016 Sustainability Appraisal is surprising and must call into question the soundness of the draft Local Plan.

June 2016 Housing Delivery Topic Paper

2.13 The rationale for applying a blanket restraint on the site is set out in the Housing Delivery Topic Paper 2016 which seeks to focus residential development as follows:

2.14 This approach disregards the previous assessment of the site that lead to its positive score in the 2014 draft Sustainability Appraisal and its inclusion as an allocation in the 2014 draft Local Plan. Not only does it disregard this previous work but it prohibits any assessment of the site at all going forward because it is currently sited in the green belt. Such an approach gives no weight to the conclusions of the 2014 Countryside and Green Belt Study (which considered the site favourably) or the change in circumstances at the site (i.e. its enclosure by the approval of the marina, the proposed allocation of Clockbarn Nurseries and existing development) which could arguably lead to the conclusion that site should not be included within the Green Belt designation.

2.15 This approach applies too much weight to the Green Belt designation at too early a stage in the Local Plan process and relies heavily of large allocations being deliverable early within the plan process which, accordingly, calls into question the soundness of the Local Plan.

June 2016 Local Plan (Regulation 19)

2.16 Given the methodology that had been set out in the Housing Delivery Topic Paper it was not possible for the site to be considered for inclusion by the Council in the draft Local Plan 2016. However, development is proposed at Send on Clockbarn nursery and this is set out in the extract from the local plan at Appendix G.

3.0 Should the Green Belt designation be changed?

3.1 The site was included in the Green Belt by the 2003 Guildford Local Plan. However, the context of the site has changed since this time with its increasing integration into Send. To the north the site is bounded by the River Wey Navigation and the consented marina, to the north east by Send Business Centre, to the east by the vehicular access to the consented marina, to the south by Clockbarn nursery and to west by residential development adjoining Send Road.

3.2 It is therefore appropriate to consider whether the Green Belt designation should still apply to the site by assessing it against the five tests set out at paragraph 80 of the NPPF:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>NPPF Test</th>
<th>The Site</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>“to check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas”</td>
<td>The proposed site would infill between existing and consented development having little impact upon the openness of the Green Belt.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“to prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another”</td>
<td>Development of the site would not lead to the actual, nor perceived, merging of two settlements.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“to assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment”</td>
<td>The presence of Send Business Centre, Clockbarn Nurseries and the consented marina has introduced development around the site. The development of the site would not extend the built form of Send into the countryside as it has already occurred at this location.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns”</td>
<td>The development of the site would not harm the setting or special character of a historic town.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land”</td>
<td>To meet the housing need of the Borough development must occur and it is appropriate to direct it to the least harmful locations with regard to protecting the countryside. Due to the existing and consented development surrounding the site its development would not be considered as encouraging development within the countryside.</td>
</tr>

3.3 Given the above it can be reasonably considered that the site does not portray the characteristics of a site within the Green Belt as it does not contribute to the openness of the Green Belt due to the presence of existing and consented development enclosing the site.
4.0 Can the site be developed?

4.1 As set out within the supporting Site Appraisal the site could be developed without resulting in any demonstrable harm for a range of dwellings from 50 to 140 dwellings in addition to the provision of open space for the local community. This section will consider the reasons why the site is suitable and deliverable within the earliest stages of the draft Local Plans housing delivery trajectory.

4.2 The site is immediately deliverable as the land is within the control of Mr Cook and there are no known legal or ownership issues that would constrain the site coming forward for immediate development.

4.3 The site is located in a sustainable location when regard is had to the economic, social and environmental dimensions.

4.4 The site would not harm the openness of the Green Belt as it has defensible boundaries encompassed by existing and consented development.

4.5 The site is not located within a designated sensitive landscape and does not fall within any other ‘sensitive area’ as defined in Regulation 2 of the Environmental Impact Assessment Regulations 2011.

4.6 The site can accommodate a high quality of design that respects local distinctiveness in accordance with policy D1 of the draft Local Plan 2016 and includes affordable homes in accordance with policy H2 of the draft Local Plan 2016.

4.7 The site has good existing vehicular access due to the recent formation of an access to the marina and also has the potential to create a further access onto Tannery Land and offer vehicular permeability to the site allocated to the immediate south at Clockbarn Nurseries.

4.8 The amenity of occupiers of the existing residential dwellings to the western boundary of the site can be respected through careful design and layout.

4.9 The site is located close to local services and facilities and can support safe and easily accessible pedestrian permeability to these facilities and services.

4.10 The site can provide open space for the benefit of the local community. Open space would be provided in each phase of development option one as follows: phase one 0.65ha; phase two 0.33ha; and phase three 0.72ha. If development option two is chosen the same would apply but a further 1.55ha of open space would be provided in lieu of phase three. This could include the potential expansion of the marina.

4.11 The introduction of residential development would respect the River Wey Corridor the policy designation for which is arbitrarily drawn. The proposed development would enhance the purposes of establishing the River Wey Corridor by providing opportunities to improve education by increasing understanding of the River Wey Navigation and its associated habitats in accordance with policy E6 of the draft Local Plan 2016. Therefore, the introduction of residential development would enhance the River Wey Corridor Conservation Area in accordance with policy D3 of the draft Local Plan 2016.

4.12 The site would support economic development in Send supporting existing employment sites such as at Send Business Centre. This is in accordance with policy E5 of the draft Local Plan 2016.

4.13 The site is not of any significant agricultural value as it primarily constitutes infill from the excavation of the adjacent (now full) landfill site that was previously formed of gravel.

4.14 Because of the history of the infilling of the surface of the site all the material imported was certified as clear so the site has no known land contamination.

4.15 Whilst the northern part of the site it identified as a mineral safeguarding zone no evidence has been put forward by Surrey County Council to state why this particular parcel of land has an overriding value in that regard.

4.16 The site can be connected to existing gas, electricity, telecommunication, foul sewerage and water services.
4.17 The site is within EA Flood Zone one where the introduction of residential development is considered acceptable. A Sustainable Urban Drainage Scheme (SUDS) would complement a landscaping strategy.

4.18 The site is not within an Air Quality Management Area (AQMA).

4.19 The ecological value of the site is primarily within the existing hedgerows and mature trees along the field boundaries and River Wey Navigation corridor on the northern part of the site. These habitats would be enhanced by the introduction of residential development.

5.0 Comparison with sites proposed to be allocated in the 2016 draft Local Plan

5.1 The methodology employed through the adoption of the Housing Delivery Topic Paper results in a situation whereby many smaller extensions to the Green Belt to accommodate sustainable, deliverable and often appropriate development cannot be considered.

5.2 The methodology also results in significant allocations to large sites being relied upon heavily to meet the housing needs of the Borough – such as almost 4,000 dwellings through extensions to Guildford and 2,000 dwellings at the former Wisley airfield. This places significant pressure on these larger sites, often funded by international finance, to meet the housing need rather than spreading the allocations in a more robust and measured way which reflects the financing structure of smaller sites that often renders them more deliverable as they are robust from international economic pressures.

5.3 The methodology also places significant weight on the Green Belt designation whereas often a development outside of, but adjacent to, the Green Belt may have more of an impact on it than an infill development such as that this representation advocates. This is clearly the case here in that the assessment of the proposed development on the purposes of the Green Belt results in the conclusion that there is little impact on the openness of the Green Belt due to the surrounding existing and consented development. However, as an example, the proposed allocation at Burntcommon (sites A43 and A43A) are located next to the A3 within the Green Belt and have a much greater impact that would be appreciated by far greater people than the site north of Tannery Land.

5.4 A further example is presented by the limited agricultural value of the site as a result of it being formed from extracted material from the adjacent former landfill to the South of Tannery Lane. This is in stark contrast to the high agricultural value of other allocated sites.

5.5 It is this level of assessment that the blanket methodology has restricted and, in doing so, the soundness of the emerging Local Plan must be called into question.

6.0 Should the site be allocated for residential development in the local plan?

6.1 It has been demonstrated that the site is deliverable, located sustainably, has good potential for vehicular and pedestrian connectivity and is enclosed by defensible boundaries ensuring the purpose of the Green Belt is not affected.

6.2 It has been further demonstrated that the previous designation of the land as within the Green Belt should be reconsidered in light of existing and consented development that encompasses the site and reduces its openness.

6.3 However, the rationale set out within the 2016 Housing Delivery Topic Paper applies a blanket approach which results in the site not being allocated in the draft Local Plan 2016. Such an approach denies the opportunity to consider the comparative value of this deliverable site and calls the soundness of the Local Plan into question.

6.4 Based on a comparative assessment of the site, its sustainability and deliverability it should be included in the Local Plan as a residential allocation contributing to meeting the housing need of the Borough.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
1.1 Executive Summary

The site is deliverable, located sustainably, has good potential for vehicular and pedestrian connectivity and is enclosed by defensible boundaries formed from existing and consented development ensuring the openness of the Green Belt is not affected.

Based on a comparative assessment of the site, its sustainability and deliverability it should be included in the Local Plan as a residential allocation contributing to meeting the housing need of the borough.

1.2 Purpose of this document

This document provides a site appraisal and indicative layout to illustrate the development potential of land adjacent to the village of Send, to support a representation to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites consultation June 2016. This appraisal should be read in conjunction with the Policy Appraisal and covering letter which, along with two indicative plans, form the representation to the Regulation 19 Local Plan consultation.

1.3 Site Location

The site currently consists of approximately 4.6 hectares of low value agricultural land. Planning permission has been secured for a Marina to enhance the facilities of the River Wey Navigation to the north of the site. The River Wey Navigation defines the northern boundary of the site, whilst the rear of houses along Wharf Lane and Send Road abut the site’s western boundary. Tannery Lane runs along much of the site’s eastern boundary, providing access into the site (potentially from the existing marina access).

The former Clockbarn Nurseries lies along the southern side of the site, and has been allocated for development in the draft Local Plan 2016 (Policy A42). The development of the adjoining site (subject to this representation) will deliver housing in this sustainable location, while integrating with the development of the Nurseries land to form a natural extension of the village, with the River Wey Navigation marina and Send Business Centre naturally defining the limits of the development.

2.1 Site Context

The Send Parish Plan 2007 provides a useful overview of the village. Send is described as a thriving Surrey village of 1600 households. The village has a long history, and is mentioned in the Domesday Book. It has grown from a small settlement around the New Inn and the adjacent river crossing, with pre-war housing built along Send Road. Further areas of linear housing along Potters Lane and Send Road and housing areas around Send Marsh and Burnt Common were built in the post-war period.

Send benefits from a range of local facilities including:

- Shops, local services, pub and cafés/ restaurants, mostly concentrated in the local centre;
- Post office;
- Employment provision including at Send Business Centre and Vision Engineering;
- Recreational facilities including recently improved play and exercise facilities at the Recreation Ground, as well as the public rights of way network which gives access to the local countryside and Wey Navigation;
- Send Church of England First School and St Bede’s Church of England Junior School;
- The Villages’ Medical Centre and chemist; and
- Community facilities and places of worship including St Mary’s Church, Send Methodist Church, Send Village Club and Lancaster Hall.

The majority of these facilities are located within easy walking distance of the site.

2.2 Local Character
A study has been undertaken of the character of Send with the aim of identifying the key features of the settlement. This analysis has been used to guide the design of the proposed development.

The density of residential development within the village varies, with densities often being below 25 dwellings to the hectare. However, a recent development at Sandfields was developed at a density of 31 dwellings per hectare, and the Walnut Tree Place development is slightly higher at 36 dph.

Building heights are predominantly two-storey, with some buildings providing further accommodation within roof spaces. There are also a number of single storey bungalows.

Various layouts are evident in the village, with linear traditional development lining the key routes. More recent infill and extensions include cul-de-sac developments and development around small open spaces. Dwellings are detached, semidetached or arranged in short terraces, fronting onto roads.

There is also a range of parking provision with many plots providing parking in front of dwellings, although parking is also provided to the side of plots, within garages and on street.

Send has a range of architectural styles, reflecting the different ages of its buildings. Key features include:

- Hanging tiles;
- Brick and render external walls;
- Plain brown or red clay tiles, interlocking tiles and grey slate;
- Hipped, half hipped or gabled ended pitched roofs;
- White sash and casement windows;
- Dormer windows; and
- Brick porches and chimneys.

2.3 Landscape Features
The site benefits from the current key green and blue infrastructure:

- The River Wey Navigation – the Navigation runs along the site’s northern boundary facilitating the approved marina; and
- Trees and hedgerows – the site’s field margins are lined by trees and hedgerows. The development of the site would retain the vast majority of these green assets, using retained and enhanced field boundaries to provide the basis of the landscape framework for the development.

The largely agricultural nature of site means that development is not expected to have significant adverse ecological effects. Indeed, a the introduction of residential development has the potential to deliver ecological enhancements through the provision of new aquatic and terrestrial wildlife habitats.
A scheme can be developed for the site which ensures that there are no unacceptable impacts on the ecology of the wider area, including designated sites such as the Papercourt Marches SSSI to the east.

2.4 Connectivity and Access

As set out above, the site benefits from being in close proximity to a range of local facilities, and thus provides opportunities for journeys to be made on foot or by bicycle. Pedestrian and cycle facilities around the site are currently poor with a lack of footway on most of Tannery Lane and no cycle lanes or off street routes in the close vicinity of the site. The development of the site provides the opportunity to contribute to the improvement of facilities for these transport modes for the benefit of the local community.

A number of public rights of way run close to site boundaries, providing an existing network into which the development can connect. There is the opportunity to enhance the network with additional links.

Vehicular access to the site is provided by Tannery Lane, and the development of the site can contribute to any necessary works to improve the junction of Tannery Lane, Send Road and Sandy Lane. Tannery Lane is currently used by HGVs accessing the Send Business Centre, and the development could contribute to measures to improve the road alignment to enable vehicles to pass more easily.

The nearest bus stops are located on Send Road within 150 metres of the site. Arriva 462 and 463 bus routes serve these stops, combining to provide an hourly service between Guildford and Woking through Send.

2.5 Flood Risk

Although the low lying surrounding context of the site is dominated by water, the site itself lies within Flood Zone 1, the least vulnerable designation that is therefore the most suitable for residential development. The residential development of the site would include proposals to sustainably address surface water issues, ensuring that the development at least maintains current volumes and quality of surface water run off.

2.6 Landscape Character and Views

The key landscape features of the site consist of the blue and green infrastructure set out above. The residential development of the site would retain and enhance these features as far as possible. The visual effects of the scheme on the Wey and Godalming Navigations Conservation Area would be a key consideration, with appropriate setting back of buildings and landscaping to minimise visual effects and ensure that the development preserves and enhances the Conversation Area.

The relatively flat nature of the site and its context, and the existing trees and hedgerows result in a site that is visually self contained. Careful consideration would need to given to immediate views into the site, particularly from adjacent residential development. The treatment of boundaries and inclusion of landscape buffers would be important in providing visual screening.

2.7 Site Opportunities and Constraints

The above analysis has highlighted a number of key opportunities and constraints which provide the framework for the residential development of the site. These are:

- The site provides the opportunity to deliver a mix of new homes, including affordable homes for local people, in a sustainable location close to local facilities;
- The River Wey Navigation is a key site feature and provides the opportunity to create a high quality waterside environment. The need to protect or improve the special character of the Navigation is also a constraint;
- Tannery Lane can provide accesses to the site at a range of locations, and the scheme provides the opportunity to improve the alignment of the lane;
- The development of the site can contribute to improvements to the junction of Tannery Lane, Sandy Lane and Send Road to ensure that additional vehicular traffic can be suitably accommodated within the road network;
- The scheme will need to carefully consider the relationship with adjacent existing development;
• The existing pedestrian network (including public rights of way) must be retained, and forms the basis for the creation of new linkages. There is an opportunity to improve the currently poor cycle and pedestrian provision in the vicinity of the site, including improved footway provision on Tannery Lane. Send Road currently acts as a barrier to pedestrian movement, and there is the opportunity to provide crossings at the junction with Tannery Lane;

• Development of the site must ensure that there is no adverse impact on nearby designated sites, including the Site of Nature Conservation Importance and Sites of Special Scientific Interest. There is the opportunity to enhance the site’s ecological value; and

• Existing trees and hedgerows that contribute to the character of the site should be retained and guide the layout of the scheme. These provide the starting point for the development of a high quality landscape framework for the site.

3.1 Residential Site Allocation

Indicative plans setting out how residential development could be accommodated on the site have been developed to illustrate how it could deliver an attractive extension to the village. The scheme has the potential to deliver up to 140 units (development option 1) and can be developed in phases, or in part.

Development option 2 (shown overleaf (page 18)) shows an approach that could accommodate 90 dwellings but retains a large area of open space adjacent to the Wey Navigation for the purposes of further respecting the setting of the River Wey Navigation, providing valuable amenity space for the local community and enabling additional ecological enhancement.

3.2 Delivering New Homes

The extension to the village can be well-integrated with the existing and proposed adjacent built form. The figures provided indicate a density of approximately 30 dwellings per hectare, reflecting a balance between the objectives of making the best use of the land while at the same time respecting the local character of Send.

Building heights would be predominantly two storey, with some dwellings having accommodation in the roof. The scheme could accommodate a mixture of unit types, sizes, styles and tenures, and will include affordable housing for local people. The marina and Wey River Navigation provide the opportunity to develop waterside units, the design of which can draw on marine themes. Architectural detailing and materials can make reference to the local vernacular as evident in the character of the local area (see Section 2). Thus elements such as brick and render external walls, plain clay tiles and slate for roofs, hanging tiles, decorative brickwork, brick porches and chimneys, and white sash and casement windows would be likely to feature within the scheme.

3.3 Access and Movement

Vehicular access could be provided from Tannery Lane to serve the development both from a new access point to the south of the approved marina access (or in combination with the marina access), and through the adjacent Clockbarn Nurseries development.

As set out in Section 2, the scheme can contribute to improvements to the alignment and width of Tannery Lane, as well as to the junction of Tannery Lane, Sandy Lane and Send Road. These improvements would address any issues created by additional traffic created by the development, and would also improve local pedestrian infrastructure by providing safe crossing facilities for Send Road. New pedestrian links can be provided to connect with the existing pedestrian network, and there may be potential for the scheme to contribute to the delivery of a new footway along Tannery Lane close to the village centre.

3.4 Landscape Strategy and Open Space

The proposed residential development would be delivered with a high quality landscape strategy including the following key elements:
• Existing trees and hedgerows of value to be retained and enhanced, and forming an important input into the layout of the scheme;
• A significant landscape buffer zone to be provided along the Wey Navigation;
• Further landscape buffer zones and planting to be provided between the proposed development and neighbouring residential areas;
• Linear open spaces and gardens to provide visual and green links through the development;
• The adjacent marina and associated landscaping would form a key landscape feature to which the residential development can respect; and
• A series of open spaces would be incorporated into the scheme, connected by green links through the development. Providing green links to the waterside would be a key feature of the strategy.

3.5 Local Facilities

In addition to bringing forward new homes including affordable housing, the site’s developers would enter into a legal agreement (or make payments under the emerging Community Infrastructure Levy) to provide significant financial contributions towards local infrastructure and services. A site specific legal agreement may also be required to contribute to the upgrading of the access to the site. The exact nature and amount of these contributions will be defined as the proposals progress, but it is envisaged they will relate to issues such as healthcare, children’s services, education, sports and leisure provision.

3.6 Sustainability

The proposals have the potential to deliver a sustainable development in its broadest sense. Key aspects of the sustainability of the scheme could include:

• Scheme layout to maximise solar gain and natural lighting through the orientation of the majority of the dwellings to the south, east and west;
• Sustainable energy including energy efficiency measures and possible generation of power from decentralised, renewable or low carbon energy sources;
• Amenity space and access to the waterside;
• A safe and secure design underpinned by Secured by Design principles;
• Transport design to encourage walking and cycling for local trips;
• Protection and enhancement of the site’s ecological value;
• Use of sustainable and locally sourced materials wherever possible;
• An integrated approach to water demand and rainwater disposal using sustainable urban drainage systems as far as possible; and
• A waste management strategy to promote resource efficiency in construction and encourage recycling in operation.

3.7 Place-Making

Character
• Traditional Surrey vernacular integrated into the village.
• Brickwork and render, hanging tiles, plain tile and slate roofs.
• Gabled, half hipped and hipped roofs.
• Decorative brickwork and traditional chimneys and porches.
• White framed windows and doors, bay windows.
• Contemporary waterside development.
• Waterside housing drawing on marine theme with potential for timber boarding and balconies. Street Scene
• Homes to provide frontages to activate streets.
• Hedges, timber fences, open meadow areas, gravel paths.
• Detached, semi-detached and short runs of terraced housing.
• Shared surfaces on lanes.

Landscaping and Open Space
• Retain the existing trees as far as possible.
• A landscape buffer zone along the Wey Navigation.
• Open spaces and gardens providing green links through the development.
• Play space for children.

Working with the Village
• Easy walking and cycling to the village centre and facilities.
• Pedestrian crossing facilities on Send Road.
• Financial contributions to local facilities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Land North of Tannery Lane, Send – representation to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (Reg 19): Strategy and Sites 2017 Consultation

We write further to our comments on the proposed submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites 2016 Consultation on behalf of Mr Geoff Cook, in support of residential development at Land North of Tannery Lane, Send. We previously raised concerns that the Plan was not sound due to the lack of sustainability assessment for this site and we consider this to still be the case. Accordingly, we once again put forward the site for development, given our view of its appropriateness for residential use and the contribution it can make towards meeting the housing need of the Borough.

The consultation submission draft acknowledges the need for ‘at least’ 12,426 new homes by 2034. However, the proposed method for delivering this commitment, once again raises concerns regarding the reliance on strategic sites, which as previously highlighted is not considered to be a robust strategy given the uncertainty over their deliverability and timing of delivery.

The information previously submitted (and re-provided with this submission) sets out that the site could accommodate a range of residential development from 50 to 140 dwellings, depending on the housing need of the Borough, and that the site is both suitable, and better placed than many of those proposed in the draft Local Plan submission, to meet this need. It is also noted that the consultation submission draft now proposes an amendment to omit Send Business Park from the Green Belt, bringing this site’s continued inclusion in the Green Belt into question.

Due to the proposed allocation of residential development on Clockbarn Nursery (for 60 homes), the presence of Send Business Centre (to be removed from the Green Belt) and the granting of permission for a marina (14/P/02289) adjacent to the River Wey Navigation, the development would be enclosed on 3 sides by development that falls outside of the Green Belt. This position reinforces the view that this is an appropriate site for removal from the Green Belt and for residential development, a view the Council strongly endorsed in the first draft of the Local Plan.
As noted above, it is concerning that the methodology of the Housing Topic Paper 2016, along with the sites exclusion from the 2016 Sustainability Appraisal, does not provide the opportunity for the suitability of the site for residential development to be properly assessed. This is despite its inclusion in the draft Local Plan 2014 (and high score in the draft 2014 Sustainability Appraisal). Such a methodology, therefore, calls the soundness of the draft Local Plan 2017 into question.

We consider that proper analysis of the site overcomes the reasons for removing it from the draft Local Plan (since its previous inclusion in 2014), indicated as simply because it is zoned in the Green Belt. It is also noteworthy that the site is previously worked land, being a refilled gravel pit, with a poor 2B+ soil rating, so has no agricultural value.

Having regard to the view that the site no longer accords with the proposed spatial strategy in the local plan, the site is not considered to be any different, in terms of scale, to many of the parcels of land that have been included within the draft. The reliance on moving allocations to alongside the A3 and building large estates would have implications in terms of noise, pollution, and raises concerns that Send village will become a thoroughfare. These issues would not be of concern with the allocation of the Tannery Lane site, particularly given the allocation of the Clockbarn Nursery adjacent.

Accordingly, based on a comparative assessment of the capacity of Send to accommodate development, the sustainability of the site, its deliverability and its contribution/impact to the Green Belt it is considered that the site should be included in the Local Plan as a residential allocation contributing to meeting the housing need of the Borough as it:

• Is in a sustainable location (with regard to the economic, social and environmental dimensions);

• Is immediately deliverable;

• Can provide affordable homes for the local community;

• Can provide homes of a high quality design reflecting local distinctiveness;

• Is not of any significant agricultural value;

• Would not harm the purposes of the Green Belt, being surrounded on 3 sides by development outside of the Green Belt;

• Has defensible boundaries encompassed by existing and proposed development;

• Has good vehicular access and linkages to the local highway network;

• Can support good pedestrian permeability to local services and facilities;

• Can support the provision of open space, including the potential expansion of the marina facilities, for the local community;

• Would complement local economic development; and

• Would support cultural education and understanding linked to the River Wey Navigation.

Given the above we are, therefore, pleased to re-provide the following documents, previously submitted in support of the representation to the 2016 consultation:

• A Policy Appraisal;

• A Site Appraisal;

• An indicative layout for a 90 dwelling development; and

• An indicative layout for a 140 dwelling development.
I trust that the information provided will be adequate to demonstrate why residential development should be allocated to the site in the Local Plan and please feel free to contact me should you require any further information of clarification.

I write as a frequent visitor to my family in Compton and a lover of the surrounding area as an escape from the metropolis, and also as one of many enthusiastic supporters of the Watts Gallery.

Compton is a beautiful and historic village that is known and loved by a surprisingly large number of people who have no connections to it and do not live anywhere near it. Its attraction is partly due to the houses that line its narrow thoroughfare, The Street, partly its position close to an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and partly the draw of the Watts Museum, St Nicholas’s Church and the Withies pub.

It seems that Guildford is bulldozing The Local Plan through without considering fully enough the overall effect it will have not only on Compton (particularly the Street (A3000) which is already at saturation point and producing higher pollution than is permissible or desirable) but also on the surrounding Green Belt and ANOB areas.

Fiona Curtis has summed up the objections better than I could and I thoroughly endorse all that she has written. I copy her letter below and ask that all of her points should be thoroughly dealt with. Of course we need more housing but it should be firstly on any available brownfield sites and not before the transport and environmental problems have been addressed.

Key parts of the evidence are still missing, flawed or based on withheld assumptions. The Strategic Housing Market Assessment overstates need, the Green Belt and Countryside Study uses a flawed approach, and the Transport Assessment is too late and incomplete to be relied upon to inform the plan.

The Employment Land Needs Assessment

I object

This document omits many important points that are to be addressed at a future stage. The information is, however, very relevant and necessary and without it the document is weak on evidence. The overview given does not assess the capacity of existing supply to accommodate future growth. The paper acknowledges that almost 9% of commercial premises are empty and this somewhat flies in the face of arguments to vastly increase the volume until the reasons are understood. Around 30% of businesses are considering leaving Guildford (congestion being cited as a reason). There are also issues with planning permissions being granted to convert office space to residential, whilst at the same time it is argued that more offices are needed? The contradictions appear to indicate that policies related to this need firming up and that the evidence is incomplete.
I disagree with 40% of land in the town centre being given over to retail as there is no evidence that Guildford will 'buck the national trend' in terms of declining high-street sales, as has been suggested by Cllr Furniss. Guildford urban area ranks no 1 in terms of being the most sustainable location in the borough and, as housing is a priority, there should be more than 1,172 residences in the town centre.

I object to Policy E4 (expansion of the Surrey Research Park into the Blackwell Farm) The existing Research Park has been built at a very low density (25% plot ratio), which is very low for an urban extension. The majority of existing buildings are 2 storeys giving a developed floor space plot ratio of only 12.5%.

The existing Research Park has acres of surface car parking, which provides it with the opportunity to markedly increase its density without infringing any Green Belt land nearby. Any density increase would be cost effective for the use of all existing infrastructure and would also have the potential to match the existing density of the neighbouring academic buildings on the university campus at Manor Park, which is five times higher.

Together with the existing expansion of 14% through existing consents and the opportunity to increase its density, the Research Park has ample capacity to expand to embrace new demand for B1b uses linked to the university, without utilising additional land.

Infrastructure

The infrastructure schedule makes reference to 'improvements' without saying what they are. It includes a junction at the Guildford end of the A31, and another junction at Tongham. No evidence or traffic modelling data is available to demonstrate whether these 'improvements' will indeed improve anything at all given the additional traffic that will be generated by the new developments included in the plan. The Highways Assessment indicates that, even with these 'improvements', the level of congestion on the A3, A31, the B3000 and A25 will leave these roads over capacity and congested.

Constraints should be applied to the housing need/number as a full application of the overinflated number will have a severe detrimental impact on our road network. Smaller housing estates may be more difficult financially, but they would have less impact on infrastructure and could be considered where infrastructure already exists. The borough has many acres of surface car parking which, if replaced by multi-storey versions, and combined with current Brownfield sites, would free up enough land to build housing where it is wanted and needed and not on valuable Green Belt. There would be no need to build high-rise style development in Guildford town, which we don't support, but we do believe that buildings of 6-10 storeys (with underground parking) would be in keeping in some urban areas (where they don’t impinge on important vistas). [Some existing buildings already reach 5-7 levels in height].

The traffic maps omit the area south of Guildford borough completely and the lack of detail about impact on the B3000, a strategic route, is highly questionable, particularly as there are no solutions in place to deal with the impact. I am particularly concerned that, after the main highways routes of M25, A25, and the A320, the B3000 will incur the greatest increase in flow as this road is already close to capacity, with tailbacks at peak times. The road is no longer fit for purpose and modelling shows that developments planned, and the introduction of a new westerly route through Blackwell Farm, will severely worsen the situation, whether major work takes place on the A3, or not.

The Highway Assessment

I OBJECT

The strategic highway assessment requires a great deal more work and hence I OBJECT to the inclusion of this as evidence.

The B3000 runs through Compton, a small village with many listed buildings, most of which are very close to the road. The road already carries in excess of 5 million vehicles a year with average flow rates exceeding most A roads. It is the only settlement area in the borough where pollution levels exceed EU regulations and it is close to capacity now, with tailbacks at peak times, which add to the pollution problem. [see legal section]
The study is highly misleading. It refers to a figure of zero additional traffic from scenario 3, which includes the traffic from the strategic sites, one of which is partly in Compton. The assessment does not make it clear that the modelling is extremely limited and only includes impact on developments within the immediate area. Blackwell Farm is excluded from Area 107 (part of Compton) as false boundaries have been set. I believe that the impact from the strategic sites will be far-reaching and will most certainly impact Compton and beyond. Each village needs to be able to see the impact that development will have.

The Highways Assessment concentrates on peak time traffic only and gives no indication of overall volume increases or traffic type using specific routes outside peak hours. Understanding of the overall increase is important, as there is a bridge on the B3000 between Artington and Compton, which has a width restriction and may also require a weight restriction as it needs replacing within the next 2 years and no funding has been set aside for this. Instead Network Rail, SCC, GBC and Waverley BC continue to battle over responsibility for, and scope of, the project.

It appears that traffic data has been collected at different times of the year and over varying time scales in order to provide averages. This method of data collection can underestimate measurements by at least 30%.

Furthermore, I have been told that the person responsible for ratifying traffic data at Surrey County Council (SCC) has been off sick for over a year and that, whilst the daily data boxes continue to collect data, that data has not been collected or analysed for 2015. The data put forward for Compton's B3000 was based on a 3-week period in January and, as this was not representative, we understand it was removed. That said, the year-on-year data is for different periods and different times, varying from a few weeks in winter to longer periods over many months. I would like a more robust approach to traffic data collation.

The cumulative effect of the additional traffic generated by the developments in the proposed submission Local Plan will be to increase congestion, even with the proposed highway improvement schemes in place. More detailed analysis of the junctions and queuing is required. We question the conclusion that the developments would have An acceptable impact on the capacity of the highway networks in terms of the policy test set in paragraph 32 of NPPF'. We do not believe that the impact on the B3000 will be acceptable, as it is already operating beyond capacity, and this situation will be made much worse following the mitigation proposed for the A3.

The Highways Assessment is limited to 30 results. Roads have been omitted from the report and it is unclear whether findings for the B3000 (also referred to as The Street B3000) are in fact from the Street or the roundabout from which there is a feeder road to Godalming via Priorsfield Road.

The table comparing scenarios and the impact on traffic is difficult to decipher. Scenario 1 includes current planning permissions plus Waverley's strategic sites. This shows an increase of just 9 vehicles per hour at peak times on the B3000. The next scenario 2 is the same, but includes GBC's strategic sites. Given that there is a strategic site in Compton of 1,800 homes and another of 1,000 at Normandy, the expectation would be for the volume to be not only higher, but considerably higher. The result is however, ZERO. We understand that this is because the impact measured is only from the immediate area and, as Blackwell Farm has been removed from the village for modelling terms, this does not give a realistic result. The omission of the Town Centre Master Plan and its impact on the roads further diminishes the integrity of this Highways Assessment.

Even without the full impact being understood, it is clear from the scale of development on the west of Guildford (1,800 homes at Blackwell Farm, 1,000 homes at Normandy, 1,300 homes at Ash, 3,800 homes in the Aldershot urban area, 1,200 homes at Borden) that the increase in traffic on the B3000 and other main routes would be severe.

The Highways Assessment shows that as a result of the proposals put forward in this draft of the Local Plan the B3000 will suffer the highest increase in flow rates at peak times (after the M25, A320 and A25. It also reveals that traffic flows would increase if the A3 was widened, as the A3 would then attract more traffic via the B3000. Despite this, there are no solutions planned to mitigate the situation and we are therefore strongly objecting to the level of development and in particular strategic development at Blackwell Farm as outlined in the Local Plan.

The proposal to introduce a new route to Guildford town centre from the west via Blackwell Farm has been ill thought out. The volume of traffic that will use this new ‘rat run’ through the new development and the university campus/business park, has been underestimated. There will be problems for traffic wishing to exit the new development in both directions.
during peak hours - traffic is frequently queueing for miles along the A31, and the Tesco roundabout is one of the worst bottlenecks in Guildford. The knock-on effect on the Egerton Road/Gill Avenue junction would impede emergency vehicles getting to and from the hospital.

The 4-way junction on the A31 has no detail at all and the concern is that permission in principle will be given to the site in the hope that these problems are surmountable. If they are insurmountable, which I believe they are, then enormous amounts of Green Belt land within the setting of the Surrey Hills AONB will have been sacrificed for nothing. The 4-way junction, if it goes ahead, is likely to be huge and, due to its elevated position, will cause significant harm to the AONB in terms of landscape and light pollution.

The Highways Assessment has many limitations, not least being the absence of the Town Centre Master Plan, which includes potential road closure and re-routing. Compton is likely to be very much affected by any reduction in road capacity in the town centre and it is important that we are presented with the whole the picture.

The Assessment acknowledges that not all impacts of proposed Blackwell Farm development have been modelled and that, due to the emphasis on the A31 and the A3, not all roads were included.

The report concludes that the improvements to the A3 are necessary to maintain adequate flow rates on the strategic network. Further work is needed to determine what impact any widening or junction improvements will have on local roads, and what will be done to mitigate against the increased flows through Compton, particularly given that a section of the B3000 though the Village is anticipated to become an Air Quality Management Area. GBC has resisted requests by members of the PC to have the northern end of The Street made an AQMA, but readings of nitrous oxide in this area are well above EU legal limits.

There is little information about the tunnel but the map indicates that one access / egress point will be in Compton near the A3, although no land has been safeguarded for this purpose. This is likely to have the same impact as the improvements to the A3, i.e. increased traffic (and pollution) through Compton.

The Spatial Hierarchy

The spatial hierarchy, which outlines Guildford's preferred strategy, does not match up with the proposed plan. The hierarchy places Brownfield sites (including those on Green Belt) as a priority, but the Plan has 66% of development on Greenbelt and only 34% on Brownfield. The hierarchy lists Guildford town and urban areas as a priority followed by inset villages and identified Green Belt villages. A relatively small percentage of housing is allocated for Guildford town (the most sustainable location) and Green Belt areas, such as Blackwell Farm, with high sensitivity have been classified as within the 'Guildford urban area' when they are in fact in the open countryside. We are told that only 1.6% of the 89% Green Belt has been earmarked for removal and that the 6% removed via insetting doesn't count as these villages are already developed. If this is the case, why list them in 4.1.16 of policy s2 - Spatial Strategy?

4.18 The preferred options cannot accommodate all that Guildford 'needs'. This is untrue. Two specialist consultants have independently critiqued the OAN and both question the level of uplift and the use of ONS data without full correction for changes and anomalies. They refer to 'double accounting' as the uplift is introduced at several stages and the assumptions that result in the final OAN are not explained. See comments on Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA).

Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA)

The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.

A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the SHMA method should be changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects of students on the figures.

The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to:

- failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
• issues with the way it considers students and affordability, and
• flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.

It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

Two additional reviews of the SHMA reach similar conclusions, one having been produced by CPRE and the other by Cllr. David Reeve.

The Land Assessment

I object

The exclusion of sites of 5 dwellings or fewer from the list might make administration easier, but the addition of these sites plus windfalls and outstanding (but current) permissions gives rise to a higher number of dwellings than is actually needed. There is therefore no justification for release of all the Green Belt put forward.

The criteria used to include or exclude sites because of this study lack consistency, with many sites excluded as 'unsuitable' with no further explanation offered (many of which were in the urban area of Ash). The assessment lacks objectivity and detail.

Green Belt & Countryside Study

I object

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Study does not value appropriately the “fundamental aim” of Metropolitan Green Belt or look strategically at options for developing in major settlement areas beyond the Green Belt. It is pointless for London to apply constraints to protect its Green Belt if areas within it, such as Guildford, choose to ignore this option. It is the same Green Belt and serves the same purposes, all of which are acutely valuable.

The way Green Belt is parcelled up and scored is invalid: serving 2 Green Belt functions well is as legitimate as serving 3 to 5 functions less effectively. The Green Belt sensitivity analysis is not a valid basis for informing decisions. This method also omits purpose one, on the basis that all Green Belt sites encourage regeneration of urban sites. This should not be excluded for it is valid and could even be argued to be particularly valid in areas close to the town. Boundaries used for Blackwell Farm were neither permanent nor defensible.

Proposed removal from the Green Belt of a number of relatively small sites where development of an exceptional nature has taken place, plus adjoining land, has lost sight of the scale at which Green Belt is effective.

Assessment of which villages to take out of the Green Belt does not adequately consider that villages contribute to the openness of the Green Belt, as seen from surrounding AONB.

A key principle of Green Belt is its permanence. The University Consultants stated this 13 years ago when seeking permission to take Manor Farm out of the Green Belt to create Manor Park. They reassured residents that the boundary would not be frequently moved and that Blackwell Farm would be opened up to the public for “informal recreation”. The same Consultant has now repeated this promise in putting forward the University plans to develop on Blackwell Farm, saying that the new boundary would be permanent for at least 25 years!

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

ABSENCE OF POLICY ON RIVER WYE

I object to the omission of a policy for the River Wey which was included in the previous local plan. The existing policy G11 from 2003 Local Plan should be included so that development within the River Wey corridor will only be permitted provided that:

- It protects or improves the special character of the River Wey and the Guildford and Godalming Navigations, in particular their visual, setting, amenities, ecological value, architectural and historic interest;
- The special character of the landscape and townscape in the corridor is protected or improved;
- Views both within and from the corridor which contribute to this special character are protected or improved;
- Where appropriate, public access is provided to and along the River and the Navigations.
- The Nature Conservation value of the site is protected or improved.

GREEN BELT SITES

I object to ALL Green Belt sites allocated for development in the local plan.

I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses.” This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are tired of repeating the same comments as it appears to be a waste of time and effort. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014.13

All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the inclusion of Blackwell Farm in this Local Plan, for the following reasons:

- The southern slopes of the Hog's back are AONB and views in and out of that area should be protected and this is not possible if the development goes ahead.
- Blackwell Farm has recently been assessed by an independent expert as being of AONB quality and we anticipate that it will be included within the Surrey Hills AONB as part of the forthcoming boundary review.
- The South Downs are National Park and there has been a call for the North Downs to be considered in the same light. This would make Blackwell Farm a great asset to Guildford and a tourist attraction (particularly as it is home to one of the few Model Farms in the South East) and would fit in well with the rural ventures such as Greyfriars Vineyard, Mane Chance horse sanctuary and Watts Gallery, all of which are in close proximity.
- Blackwell Farm is very effective in fulfilling the functions of Green Belt.
- Blackwell Farm land which has been categorised as the best and most versatile (Grades 2 and 3a) and there is strong demand for local food production.
- More people objected to the inclusion of this strategic site than to any other strategic site, its inclusion is not supported.
- The 4-way access to the site on the A31 (Hog’s Back) is highly unlikely to be viable, and would harm to the AONB for miles (due to the need for lighting and its elevated position). The suggestion that rat running could be deterred through the use of automatic number plate is unrealistic. What about visitors and deliveries and changes of vehicle? Likewise, a barrier would cause chaos and possibly increase the volume of traffic wishing to use the A31. If no restrictions were put into place, the route will become a rat run, then there is nothing from stopping traffic on the A31 from using it if it is indicated as the shortest route. If the A3 were congested traffic could also come off at the Compton roundabout and take this route via Down Lane, which would add to congestion in this busy village and would negatively impact the tranquil lane, which is the home of Watts Gallery and Chapel.
- Maps, tables and results from assessments such as traffic impact all refer to the Blackwell Farm site as in “Guildford urban area” and refer to non-existent boundaries as if they are current. There is nothing urban about this area of countryside as the independent landscape assessment reveals.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to policy A26 Blackwell Farm

There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.

Blackwell Farm is located entirely within the green belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Blackwell Farm performs all five functions of green belt, and fulfils purposes 1, 3 and 5 very strongly.

Purpose 1 – “checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas”. There is huge pressure to develop on the western edge of Guildford; the University of Surrey has stated publicly that its key objective is to develop the whole of its landholdings, stretching west to Flexford Farm. This, combined with the indefensible boundary being proposed (a hedgerow rather than the existing belt of ancient woodland), will put more of the green belt and the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) at risk of future development.

Purpose 3 “assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment” - the proposed movement of the green belt boundary on the west of Guildford to allow for development of the University in 2004 resulted in the encroachment on countryside and the loss of working farmland (including some Grade 2) at Manor Farm. The proposed future change in the boundary would result in further encroachment and the loss of farmland including further Grade 2. The proposed road development with access road from the A31 would also effectively cut off farm access to the south of the development area leading to further urban influence on this countryside. The University’s stated key objective is to develop land, which includes Chalkpit and Wildfield farms leading to the risk of further boundary change and further encroachment in future years.

Purpose 5 - “assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land”

Whilst all green belt assists towards this purpose, the ownership of this land by the University of Surrey with its extensive landholdings within the urban boundary (including land it leases to the Hospital and Holiday Inn, the Surrey Research Park, Hazel Farm as well as two large campuses) means that the location of Blackwell Farm within the green belt plays an even greater and direct role in encouraging the more efficient usage of urban land.

Stopping development on Blackwell Farm would result in the University of Surrey investing in, and regenerating, land in its ownership and delivering its commitments following the 2003 boundary review (including 270 homes for key workers, 3,125 student residences and releasing further accommodation at Hazel Farm). The University has 17 hectares of surface car parking that could be built over with offices and flats. This is a more sustainable option than building over open farmland (largely grade 2 and 3a) within the green belt.

The Blackwell Farm development would result in harm to the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB), harm to an Area of Great Landscape Value (AGLV), and harm to the setting to the AONB. (Blackwell Farm forms the views into and out of the Hogs Back ridge). The NPPF is clear that AONBs should be afforded the highest level of protection in relation to landscape and scenic beauty. All development proposals within and adjacent to the AONB must conserve or enhance its special qualities. The NPPF also makes it clear that applications for major development in the AONB will be refused unless exceptional circumstances are demonstrated and the development is proven to be in the public’s interest. Guildford Borough Council has not shown that the proposed housing development or the extension of the Research Park, or the proposed link road from the A31 to Gill Avenue, is in the wider public interest. Indeed, the increased traffic through the already congested Egerton Road/Gill Avenue junction, which would result from the development, would impede emergency vehicles travelling to the Hospital and this would be very much against public interest. GBC’s Policy P1 states that, “The Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) will be conserved and enhanced to maximise its special landscape qualities and protect it from inappropriate development. All proposals will be considered against whether they conserve and/or enhance the setting and views of the AONB”. I question how the proposal to carve a new two-lane carriageway through the AONB fits this policy, or meets para 115 of the NPPF? Finally, nearly the whole site has been identified as a “candidate area” for AONB status in the Landscape Evaluation Study commissioned by Compton, Worpswold and Wanborough parish councils. Therefore, the entire site should be treated as though it is within the AONB during this local planning process.

The access to the proposed Blackwell Farm site will put additional peak hour pressure on two of Guildford’s worst congestion “hot spots”: the A31 (Hog’s Back) and the Tesco Roundabout on Gill Avenue.

GBC’s proposal to create a new major route into Guildford from the west at, or close to, the Down Place private driveway, and to make this the main access to the planned Blackwell Farm development, does not appear to have been thought through. There are queues stretching back from the Farnham Road Bridge as far as the Down Place driveway entrance most weekday mornings and any traffic generated by the new development would not be able to clear the junction. In order to accommodate the volume of traffic using the new junction (generated by residents of the new housing estate, employees at the Surrey Research Park, Hospital and University, and visitors to the new school/supermarket), there would almost certainly need to be a roundabout (rather than the proposed traffic-light controlled junction) and GBC has ruled out a roundabout on grounds of landscape impact and traffic.

The secondary access to the site at Gill Avenue also presents problems, and as GBC states in its Transport Assessment (14.9.5), changes planned for the Tesco roundabout will not mitigate against the increased level of traffic through the junction as a result of the Blackwell Farm development, and this in turn will impact on the Egerton Road/Gill Avenue junction, which serves the Royal Surrey County Hospital. I question whether it is responsible to allow a development that would impede emergency access to an A&E department and a major incident unit.

The traffic impact resulting from the development of Blackwell Farm on the strategic road network would not appear to be properly assessed but it would be alleviated in part (but not completely) by widening the A3. However, timing and funding for this work is unclear so there would be many years of traffic chaos before any widening took place (if indeed it does). More significantly, the widening of the A3 would create noise and environmental impact on the neighbouring residential areas of Onslow Village and Beechcroft Drive and a six-lane highway would cause greater severance between Guildford and Blackwell Farm and areas to the west.

The NPPF states in Section 6 para 47 that local authorities should “identify a supply of specific, developable sites or broad locations for growth, for years 6-10 and, where possible, for years 11-15”. In a footnote to this, it further adds, “To be considered developable, sites should be in a suitable location for housing development and there should be a reasonable prospect that the site is available and could be viably developed at the point envisaged.” I consider that the proposed access arrangements to Blackwell Farm are wholly inadequate for a development of this scale and thus the site cannot be “viably developed”.

I object to the removal of land from Greenbelt for the provision of two traveler pitches on Puttenham Heath Road to 'enable delivery'. The area warrants Green belt status and should remain in Green Belt. Removal is a big step towards the eventual development of permanent accommodation, which would result in loss of the two pitches.

I object to policy D3 Historic Environment

This policy clashes with the strongly pro-development agenda of the rest of the plan and fails to address the contradiction. History is unamenable to improvement, so the policy should commit the Council firmly to protecting and preserving our heritage assets from development. Instead, the specific policy pledge to “support development” that might “enhance” heritage assets leaves wide scope for abuse in the form of destructive commercialisation and financial leveraging of relevant sites.

This policy is based on the false premise that Guildford’s heritage is inherently in decay. This is a developer’s charter – a short step away from the idea that the historic environment needs to pay its way to be preserved. The Council’s reviews of Guildford Museum and the Electric Theatre support this interpretation. Whatever the “reasoned justification”, the actual policy wording in the blue box leaves too many loopholes.

Development close to historical assets is harmful and should be expressly prohibited. This policy fails to meet the requirements of NPPF paragraphs 126 and 131-133.

I object to policy D4 Development in urban areas and inset villages

This policy that does not address the opportunity for building in the urban area

The plan envisages that 40% of homes built will be “affordable”, but this does not provide any accommodation for low-paid workers, for example, those on the minimum wage, who cannot afford to buy so-called “affordable” homes or pay an “affordable” rent. There is a need for some expansion in social housing, especially in urban areas, where there is a greater concentration of low-paid workers such as those employed in the retail, warehousing and distribution sectors (all of which this plan aspires to expand).

The number of homes planned in the urban area is much too low. There is a glaring need for regeneration in many urban areas, particularly Guildford Town Centre but this is ignored in favour of building homes on green-field sites instead.

This will not address urban housing needs. It is also unsustainable, since building outside the town does disproportionate harm to road traffic, air quality and overstretched infrastructure.
The plan envisages a large expansion of the retail sector, but this is hard to justify because the sector is in rapid and continuous decline.

THE BROWNFIELD OPPORTUNITY

Yes, we need a new Local Plan for our borough in order to provide a development strategy within which we can accommodate our local housing, economic and environmental needs. But first we must make good use of our urban brownfield before we consider building in the Green Belt or countryside.

Paragraph 80 of the NPPF clearly states that Green Belt serves a key purpose, “to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict land and other urban land”. In order to comply with central planning policy we need a brownfield strategy that states clearly. “We are committed to a brownfield first initiative whereby all applications on previously developed land are given fast track priority and every facility to promote development for residential purposes and employment purposes in order to satisfy the needs of local people. In parallel a low CIL incentive should be given for all residential development on brownfield land.

In response to the detailed objections received in the Regulation 18 process of the 2014 Local Plan and also in accordance with government policy a Guildford brownfield land register should be urgently compiled showing address, ownership, occupier, current use and detailed planning brief

Perhaps someone could be appointed at GBC with a clear briefing to deliver brownfield targets of housing and employment space

GBC needs to accelerate the residential redevelopment at Woodbridge Meadows, Walnut Tree Close and the Station within the next 5 years

GBC needs to examine the residential development opportunity of the 25.7 acres of car parks in GBC ownership

I do not consider that the target of 1,172 homes in the town centre takes account of the need and demand for housing or the opportunities that brownfield sites present for increasing the residential development in the core of the town which will in itself help to sustain the retail core by increased economic impact.

The Town Centre policy needs to maximise the potential for residential development on brownfield and include as an absolute minimum the 2,551 units proposed in by Allies and Morrison for the town centre included in the masterplan 2015 which has recently been adopted by GBC. The reality is that the Town Centre has the capacity for significantly more homes. See details on GGG website - Guildford Greenbelt Group

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )
I object to policy E1 sustainable employment

I note that there is a significant reduction of between 71% and 79% in the previous job target and resultant 79% reduction in employment space in response to the many objections lodged in 2014 against an unsubstantiated agenda for economic expansion in the last draft and based on new findings by Aecom in the latest ELNA 2015.

I have concern as to the ill-informed clustering of all B classes in terms of the clarity of market evidence required to inform effective planning and a failure to provide a clear understanding of business needs required under Section 160 of the NPPF.

I also note the dramatic reduction in assessed demand by two Employment Land Needs Assessment Reports carried out under the same terms of reference within a period of 2 years which calls into question the general reliability of the process of collection and interpretation of data in the overall forward planning process by GBC. I am concerned however that the research undertaken by Aecom is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1a, B1b, B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and that no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of office, research and development, light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

No proper analysis has been made of data held by GBC in respect of different B classes in terms of planning applications granted or evidence gathered by the economic development function at GBC and no robust assessment of local market demand apart from fairly brief references to freely available market research undertaken by commercial estate agents such as Lambert Smith Hampton covering a much wider area.

GBC appear to fail to appreciate the fundamental rationale of the Use Classes Order as a planning tool in terms of useful property market research or forward planning.

What we are left with is a fairly clumsy and poorly informed plan which clusters B classes without any appreciation of widely different employment impact and economic sustainability. E.g. B1 generates at least 5 times as much employment as B8.

The lack of appreciation as to the opportunity for widely different uses being generated within B class clusters defeats the whole point of proper planning of employment uses and can significantly endanger previously good planning put forward in the previous 2003 plan. E.g. the creation of a research and development park linked to the University but now has the threat of being downgraded into a general business park (see below).

Little regard has been given in the plan to the economic reality of falling demand for B2 industrial space which is clustered with other B classes almost randomly throughout the plan.

Little regard is given to the opportunity of B1 b space as an opportunity for research and development which needs to be nurtured and preserved without the detrimental and confused clustering with other B classes both in terms of planning and promotion of a research hub.

I note that the past trend of expansion of Office/R &D is 0.43% pa over the period from 2004 to 2012 derived from VoA analysis and that the calculated annual floor space demand is 0.7% over the plan period up to 2033.

I support the concept of seeking increased investment in our local knowledge-based, high technology economy. This will provide well paid, creative jobs and generate the funding necessary to pay for the infrastructure and environment this sort of industry requires.

We need to distinguish between wanting to increase the added value of the economy and physical expansion, especially given the scarcity of land in Guildford. Guildford is not the place for large space hungry businesses. So I should target high added value small and medium sized enterprises rather than the headquarters of larger corporations.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):

I object to policy E2 location for new employment floor space

I object to the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm and I do not believe there are exceptional circumstances to justify incursion into this permanent and high quality area of Green Belt.

The Surrey Research Park currently extends to 65,000 sq m. There is already granted consent to expand to a further 9,000 sq m (14%)

The past trend of expansion of Office/R &D is 0.43% pa over the period from 2004 to 2012 based on ELNA 2015 derived from VoA analysis.

The ELNA 2015 calculated annual floor space demand is 0.7%.

The data point for our analysis is today in 2016 so we have 17 years to go to the end of the plan period. The necessary growth in floor space over the plan period is therefore 17 years x 0.7% = 11.9%.

There is currently 14% expansion space already available.

The proposal by GBC to expand the 65,000 sq m by 9,000 sq m (existing allocation) with an additional 35,000 sq m amounts to an increase of 67% of the Research Park which is not required. The Research Park is currently developed at a density of 25% plot ratio.

The majority of existing buildings are 2 stories giving a developed floor space plot ratio of 12.5%.

The existing Research Park has the opportunity to markedly increase its density without infringing any Green Belt land nearby. Any density increase would be cost effective for the use of all existing infrastructure and would also have the potential to match the existing densities of existing academic buildings on the university campus which are three to four times higher.

Together with the existing expansion of 14% through existing consents and the opportunity to increase its density the Research Park has ample capacity to expand to embrace new demand for B1b uses linked to the university.

A preferred location for increased B1a and B1b space would be in the Town Centre close to housing and a convenient transport hub.

I object to Policy E3 maintaining employment capacity

I object to the ill-informed policy of resisting change of use from B1a to residential because it flies in the face of positive property market solutions for the regeneration of brownfield land. It is also contrary to current government policy which has recently been reaffirmed and permits a change of use from B1a (offices) to C3 (residential).

I believe that the existing government policy which has recently been made permanent of allowing change of use from B1a to C3 is sound

Many office buildings reaching an age of more than 30/50 years become redundant in terms of energy compliance making them illegal to occupy for employment purposes and the cost of refurbishment makes them redundant and uneconomic

The reality of market demand is that the gross development value of refurbished residential space is in excess of the gross development value of refurbished old office space in many locations (this gross development value assessment is supported by the analysis by property consultants GVA in the supporting evidence within the Allies and Morrison Masterplan for Guildford dated 2015)

To resist change from B1a to C3 is contrary to the concept of brownfield first for residential development schemes.

To resist change from B1a to C3 in Strategic or Significant Employment Sites is contrary to the concept of integrated mixed use communities whereby the journey to work is minimised.

London has led the way with significant residential schemes being created from redundant office stock. A good example is the South Bank in London adjacent to Waterloo Station where in 2005 the Shell Centre has been converted into flats. Another early example is the 2000 scheme at Metro Central Heights at Elephant and Castle where the old Alexander Fleming House was converted to 435 flats by St George. GBC needs to adopt more modern trends and policies.

I object to policy E4 Surrey research Park.

I support the maintenance of research, development and design activities, in any science, including social science, that is complementary to the activities of the University of Surrey at the Surrey Research Park. I object however to the completely unnecessary expansion of the Research Park into a larger Business Park. I believe that the planning policy going forward for the Surrey Research Park should be to maintain and enhance the integrity of its research base allowing for the economic value add to the local economy of knowledge and technology transfer from the University.

I believe that B1b (should be the primary use class for the Research Park and that applications for B1a should be resisted due to the danger of dilution of the core purpose and reputation of the park. I object to the inclusion of B1c uses which is inappropriate and unnecessary.

Research parks based on the early UK technology transfer exemplars of the Cambridge and Oxford need careful monitoring, nurturing and protection to ensure the integrity and quality of the park is maintained and the park continues to be a destination for innovation and enterprise

There is a danger for research parks to be overwhelmed by short sighted development opportunities being taken by park managers provided by standard office activities and administrative functions which in time turn them into standard business parks which can be found anywhere in the country. Their relative low density and attractiveness make them targets for “any other” office user

Research parks that lose their way stop being the location of choice for new innovative enterprises.

I hope the Surrey Research Park in Guildford remains focussed on a broad spectrum of scientific research including computer science, bio-chemistry, design, space-science, eco-science, health science, software development, laser technology, media-science, artificial intelligence, robotics and super-manufacturing

Monitoring indicators should include new start-ups and new patents created
Facilities should be provided whereby new small businesses can secure premises under subsidised licence fee arrangements with no onerous rent or lease commitments

I support the idea of a variety of sizes of unit including some small units (between 15 – 80 sq m) bearing in mind one workstation is 10 sq m

Consideration should be given to the concept of shared “enterprise hubs” where individuals can take pay as you go workstations in shared spaces similar to touch down business centres similar to the “enterprise village” concept

I object to the policy of any new extension of the research park more than the existing 14% already provided for within the park or within the footprint of the park

The Surrey Research Park currently extends to 65,000 sq m

There is already granted consent to expand to a further 9,000 sq m (14%) This space has been available for 10 years and is still to find a taker

The ELNA 2015 calculated annual floor space demand is 0.7%

The data point for our analysis is today in 2016 so we have 17 years to go to the end of the plan period.

The necessary growth in floor space over the plan period is therefore 17 years x 0.7 = 12% which is less than the current expansion space of 14%.
The research park is developed at a plot ratio of 25%. This could be increased to 50% within the same footprint of the existing park without damage to its amenity. The actual current land use for development in the park is in fact only 12.5% because most buildings are 2-storey.

I object to policy E5 Rural Economy

In my opinion this policy should only apply to small-scale development in rural areas which means development of less than 100 sq m (gross) which is in keeping with and the permanence and amenity of the green belt. Use of rural areas for town centre uses without applying the sequential approach is against the principles of localism that require local people to be consulted and heeded, not ignored. Villages need protecting in terms of both design and scale and character.

Previous commitments to improved high-speed broadband and mobile phone coverage have now been diluted, despite general support. This disregards the responses from the 2014 public consultation.

The consultation process was not well publicized; many Parish Councils had no idea of this. The emphasis on voluntary efforts and greater community efforts is far removed from reality for this 'solution' was presented for almost every aspect of rural life from managing crime to looking after elderly to education and more besides. Villages by nature are usually small and the percentage of the population who are able to do voluntary work is smaller still.

The solution is therefore unworkable. The results of the consultation were not publicized but were instead collated and summarized and bore no resemblance to the submissions I had sight of.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to policy E6 the leisure and visitor experience. I believe that the importance of a visitor attraction hub could be much better articulated. Guildford has great potential to become a “must see” destination for tourists and visitors. Surrounded by the natural beauty of the Surrey Hills, it is already distinguished as an historic county town. The historic part of the town should be exploited to the full creating a real sense of vibrancy and atmosphere. This should be linked to the attractions of the Museum, the Castle, the Wey and the historic High Street including its views of the Hogs Back.

The economic impact would create big advantages for both the leisure and the niche speciality retail sectors in the town. Given the local and wider catchment of the town Guildford should strive for high quality definition making it a great centre for people to live in and visit.

Guildford the historic “Gateway to the Surrey Hills” has far more potential than Guildford just any other stereotypical centre found anywhere around London. Re-branding walks, such as a new “Pilgrims Trail” similar to the Patriots trail in Boston USA with marked yellow footsteps leading from the station to the River and up through the historic heart of the town.

There is a need to make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

There is a need to help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to RHS Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently bypass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to policy H1 Homes for all.

Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set any rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development but not high-rise development (ie over 10 floors) in the urban area close to transport hubs to facilitate modal shift e.g. 20 minutes’ walk of Guildford railway station.

Student accommodation should provide for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and underused surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back. Surrey University has 17 ha of car parks that could provide all the student accommodation required above it, with parking beneath.

Guildford borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Overprovision is inappropriate given other constraints.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to policy H2 Affordable homes.

“Affordable” homes, under national definitions, means homes that are sold or rented at 80% of market value. Even if 70% of these are rented as proposed, the level of market prices in the South-East means (even post-Brexit) that these homes will remain well beyond most people’s means and that starter homes will not become available for local people.

In addition, the viability clause (4.2.40) means that in practice the policy could be unenforceable. Private financial viability has no place in a public policy and should be removed. It is a get-out-of-jail-free card for developers that will sacrifice countryside for no local benefit.

I question the assumptions that seem to underlie this policy: that people have a right (rather than a legitimate aspiration) to own a home; that they should be encouraged to live locally in enormous debt (contradicting the Government’s policy of encouraging labour mobility and development in poorer regions, where homes are cheaper); that increasing local house-building will reduce overcrowding and congestion (rather than simply suck more people into the borough); and that it will stem the rise in house prices (even though 13,860 new homes will be a drop in the ocean, given that prices are determined by an infinite demand-pull from London, whose population is increasing by 100,000 a year, and by the currently low cost of capital for overseas and other buyers). The weak mechanisms proposed in the plan might influence the market in a more remote part of the UK, but not here.

This policy’s version of “affordability” is just a smokescreen for pushing through more development generally. Building more homes in Guildford cannot increase real affordability given the overhang of the London market.

I object to policy H3 Rural Exception Homes

This is a type of Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix”, this can include “market” housing – i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means expensive executive homes. This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to policy I1 Infrastructure and delivery

Most of the borough’s infrastructure is antiquated, congested and straining to accommodate even current needs and organic growth. Yet this plan’s commitment to building housing estates across the Guildford countryside will mean either major infrastructure investment that no-one is prepared to pay for or else a catastrophic and simultaneous collapse in transport, educational, medical, energy, water and communications services.

The plan targets greenfield sites – requiring heavy infrastructure investment – in order to generate CIL income necessary to meet an infrastructure shortfall that is already serious. The current draft CIL scale also encourages development on greenfield sites rather than brownfield and will reduce or negate developer's obligation to sell a percentage of homes at 20% below market value.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing infrastructure needs in this area is inadequate, identifying only the tip of an iceberg of existing congestion. Compton Village is already close to tipping point, yet it will see a significant increase in traffic volume, will be completely congested and yet no plans exist to mitigate the problem.

The schemes referred to in this policy barely solve existing congestion and are inadequate when development takes place. The full impact on local road networks has not been fully considered. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that involve demolishing property and road-widening in residential areas to solve the resultant congestion. The A3 improvements are not guaranteed to take place but they are being used to justify removing large areas from the Green Belt before detailed traffic assessments have taken place. These detailed investigations are being deferred until the planning application stage and will be left to developers to prepare. If a site then proves to be unsustainable its Green Belt protection will have been lost for no reason and unsuitable development will take place by a more insidious process. Compton Village will actually incur increased traffic flow as a consequence of A3 widening according to the study, yet as was pointed out above, no solutions are in place to improve the situation.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritising greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly.

This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognising this as a key issue, the plan makes too many assumptions, not least being the verbal promise that development will not take place without infrastructure preceeding it. It is not clear how this will happen and is not in the Plan, as it should be, if it is achievable.

The highways network is under stress at peak times in many parts of the borough. Queuing is the daily experience of drivers going to and from work. The local plan recognises the problems in para 2.14. Much of the road network is single-carriageway, and junctions act as constraints.

The key evidence on future traffic conditions is provided in the Strategic Highway Assessment Report (SHAR) which summarises the results of the tests carried out by Surrey County Council at the request of GBC. Five scenarios were examined using SCC’s strategic traffic model.

Scenario 1 contains all developments and planning permissions from 2009 to date. As such it corresponds to today’s circumstances, and describes the current unsatisfactory traffic conditions in peak periods.
Scenario 5 represents the position at the end of the plan period, including all development and highways schemes in the local plan.

The results of the analysis show that there will be widespread congestion in the morning peak hour across the network. The key strategic routes, the A3 through Guildford NE bound, and the M25 between Junctions 10 and 11, are shown to be at or over capacity. The summary network statistics presented in the SHAR, while useful, require some interpretation because the analysis of vehicle-hours is derived from link speeds only, and does not reflect junction delays and queues. The tables that show the ratio of flow to capacity and level of service are especially helpful to gaining an understanding of the conditions on the network in the forecast. Where the forecast traffic volume is above or close to capacity, flow becomes unstable and there is congestion. The SHA results provide evidence that, in 2031, congestion will be worse than it is today on much of the network.

It is the case that the traffic modelling does not take into account the potential for increased use of other modes, but the trip rates used for developments already have built in the typical level of use of other modes, and services will be required to meet that need. It is also the case that the model does not allow for park and ride, which would improve matters in the town centre, as discussed below.

In order to gain an insight into conditions across the network, it is necessary to combine information from several tables in the SHAR. Table 4.5 shows that the M25 and A3 will be at capacity in Scenario 5. The other roads that will have poor levels of service include those in Table 4.5 but also those in 4.12 (except the A3) and those in Tables 4.3 and 4.4 with levels of service E and F that will not be given some relief by improvement of the A3 in Scenario 5. Paras 4.10.3, 4 and 5 point out that there will be increased congestion. Given that the starting point is unsatisfactory, there can be no expectation that the schemes in the Infrastructure Development Plan will provide an overall improvement. There will be some local benefits, such as the Ash rail bridge for example, but in general conditions will be as bad and in many places, such as Compton Village, worse. So the statement in the SHAR para 4.2.5 that ‘the combined mitigation as reflected in Scenario5..indicates that at the strategic level it accommodates the additional PSLP demand’ needs qualifying – ‘at the cost of a lot of queuing’ and makes no mention of the impact this will have on pollution, which is already a known problem at the A3 end of Compton.

The cumulative effect of the additional traffic generated by the developments in the local plan will be to increase congestion, even with the proposed highway schemes in place. More detailed analysis of the junctions and queuing is required. So we question the conclusion that the developments would have “an acceptable impact on the capacity of the highway networks in terms of the policy test set in paragraph 32 of NPPF”.

Appendix 3 of the Transport Topic Paper shows the phasing of housing development and transport infrastructure.

The major scheme being considered for the A3 between the A31 and the A320 is scheduled for delivery in the period 2023/24 to 2027/28. The strategic developments at Blackwell Farm and Gosden Hill Farm are shown as being phased in from 2021/22 onwards. The Garlick’s Arch development is shown as starting in 2019/20. Therefore, there will be a period in which the existing A3 has to cope with the additional demand arising from those developments before extra capacity is provided.

The following comments regarding the strategic sites are taken from the SHAR:

Blackwell Farm – there will be congestion at the A31 junction, and the problems at the Tesco junction, and the Egerton road / Gill Avenue junction (para 4.9.5). Traffic is likely to access the Surrey research park and the RSCH through the development (para 4.7.3).

Gosden Hill Farm – there will be an increase in traffic through Burpham. There will be pressure on the A3100/B2234 roundabout (paras 4.7.6, 4.7.7 and 4.7.8).

Wisley – traffic will increase on minor roads to gain access to the A3 (N and S bound) and other routes (para 4.7.11). The development will add more traffic to the A3. The Burnt Common slips help alleviate the traffic through Ripley according to the model, but queuing on the A3 could mean this does not happen (para 4.7.14)
Normandy/Flexford – the report has little to say about the impact of this large development. The increase in flow on Westwood Lane is noted (para 4.5.7). Tables 4.10 and 4.11 show junction delay reducing at the Westwood Land, B3000 junction, but an increasing at the Puttenham Hill/Millbrook junction.

Ash – development in Ash is not specifically addressed, but there are major increases in traffic on a number of roads. The new rail bridge will bring relief (but traffic will move to the next junction).

Slyfield – there are no remark relating to SARP, and as there are no additional trips shown in and out of the Slyfield residential zone in Tables 3.3 and 3.4, it is possible that this development has been omitted. There is a significant increase in trips to and from the Slyfield industrial zone, which will impact on the A320 and Clay Lane.

Town Centre – the report has very little to say about the town centre. It is evident that the model is forecasting severe congestion on the approaches to the town centre, such as the A281, the A31 Farnham Road, and Woodbridge Road for example. No mitigation measures are planned. And in the Transport Strategy, GBC states that the intention is to adopt Allies & Morrison’s Scenario 2 which would have the effect of significantly reducing the capacity of the town centre road system. The implications have not been examined, but traffic using the A281 from Waverley, for example, would be affected.

The B3000 will be severely affected by development schemes and will not benefit from road improvements. It is essential that the impact of all change to road networks are looked at in conjunction with one another for any survey to be meaningful. The local plan does not state an objective for congestion. The two strategic objectives that are included for infrastructure refer to supporting sustainable development and delivering a balanced system. However, in para 2.15 there is an aspiration expressed about opportunities ‘to improve the performance of the road networks through transport infrastructure and service improvements’, which taken with the previous paragraph includes reducing congestion. The evidence so far shows that this will not happen. The mitigation proposed is not sufficient to overcome the problems that will be caused by the level of growth in the local plan. Congestion will worsen. The network will lack resilience and be vulnerable to disruption due to incidents. Minor roads will have to cope with a lot more traffic, for which they are unsuitable.

I object to policy i2 Supporting the Department of Transport’s “Road Investment Strategy”

This policy is too vague and unrealistically optimistic. Decisions by Highways England on improving the strategic road network (the M25 and A3) are still years off. The Council have suggested a very expensive tunnel under Guildford, but there is no evidence to show that this is a realistic option. Even if Highways England accepted this (which is highly unlikely in the post-Brexit public spending climate) it would not be built until the end of the plan period at the earliest.
Other, less expensive A3 improvements, and changes to the Junction 10/Heathrow stretch of the M25, will also take years to agree and complete.

The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is foolhardy. Surrey is the most congested county in England, with 683 people per square kilometre, compared with an English average of 413. This policy will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone). This is a major development constraint that should have been applied to the OAN to constrain the housing target.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to policy I3 Sustainable transport for new developments

This is another aspirational policy, not grounded in the practical realities of daily life. It consists of a standard, box-ticking list of local government measures unrelated to the specifics of the plan. Like infrastructure, transport appears to be an afterthought; the policy fails in its essential job of guiding planning decisions, since it assumes development of any kind can be supported by sustainable transport.

The sustainability of the dormitory settlements which the Council want built across the countryside depends on a general “modal shift” from private car use to walking, cycling and public transport. This is unrealistic. The proposed sites are often miles away from the nearest railway station. Bus services even in the largest villages are almost non-existent – just one bus to and from Guildford each day in the Horsleys and none at weekends. Since bus services depend on profitability, they cannot be expanded and the Council are not proposing to subsidise new ones. Rural buses are too slow anyway for busy people. Most rural roads in the borough are narrow, winding, hilly, potholed, muddy and unlit. Many flood badly and have no footpaths.

The desired modal shift would require a comprehensive co-ordination of bus and train timetables with services every few minutes, seven days a week, to stops within walking distance of every home in the borough. This kind of integrated public transport system has been achieved in Switzerland, for instance, but only at huge public cost and thanks to a political consensus supporting state ownership of trains, buses and the post office, which delivers rural passengers as well as mail. There is absolutely no chance of this in the UK.

The vast majority of the borough’s residents are not, in practice, able to cycle. This includes children, the elderly, commuters who have to look smart, the infirm, the unfit and people carrying goods or shopping of any kind. Dependence on walking and cycling discriminates against these groups, which include some of the most vulnerable members of the community. It is socially unjust. One in two working people in Guildford commute for up to 3 hours a day. They will not leave their cars for even part of their journey if it means longer travel times.
Park-and-rides are a welcome part of the transport mix but are too slow for commuters and others on a tight schedule. For an adult couple going shopping it is still cheaper to park in town.

I like the idea of water buses but have concerns over the reality. The Wey is narrow and, with a river speed limit of 4mph, boats are too slow for anything but recreation. Except on the tideway, not even the Thames has such services.

The addition of two new stations appears attractive but will slow down train journeys, which are already slower than at any time since the 1930s. Knock-on effects on localities where the new stations are built have not been worked out or presented. Ie. Cost of housing will increase.

I object to policy I4 green and blue infrastructure.

This policy is a box-ticking exercise with no teeth to it. It sits oddly with the plan’s onslaught on the Green Belt. The plan to build on large areas of countryside and to inset villages will cancel out any benefits from extending the principle of enhancing biodiversity beyond Biodiversity Opportunity Areas.

There is no mention of the value of wildlife gardening to biodiversity or the important role that larger gardens play in a village setting.

I object to policy P1 Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding National Beauty. This policy weakens existing protection when it should strengthen it. It is dependent on the Surrey Hills Management Plan. The latter welcomes housing development. Even major (undefined) development in the AONB would be permitted if exceptional (undefined) circumstances could be demonstrated.

Much of my concern stems from the loose wording of the Policy, which in some places renders the policy ineffective, for example:

“All proposals will be considered against whether they…”

“All development proposals within and adjacent to the AONB will be expected to conserve or enhance its special qualities”

Terms such as “considered” and “expected” are not strong enough in prohibiting development proposals that do not conserve and enhance the AONB, and it is likely that developers will be able to use this loose wording to their advantage.

Of particular concern is the paragraph 3, which begins:

“Whilst the AONB designation does not preclude specific types of development in the Surrey Hills and proposals will be assessed on their individual merits…”

This whole opening clause is unnecessary and almost invites development proposals. I believe that it should be deleted, and the sentence should therefore begin: “There is a presumption against major development in the AONB in accordance with NPPF.

“In addition to the weakness of the language, I am also concerned that the AONB criteria listed in the policy are not the most important ones in determining whether a planning application should be approved. Aside from the one outlined in the first bullet point (which relates to the AONB setting) none of these criteria is concerned with the key characteristics of AONB, ie landscape character, scenic beauty, important views, tranquility etc. Whether or not a development supports the rural economy or provides public access are of far less national importance than preserving the quality of the landscape itself.

I believe that the AONB Policy in the Draft Plan 2014 provided greater protection to the AONB, and would like to see the following sentences reinserted:

“The national significance the AONB will be afforded the highest level of protection and only proposals which can be sensitively amalgamated into the area and which complement and enhance the character of the AONB will be considered”

“Proposals within the AGLV which would have a negative impact upon views into and out of the AONB and which do not respect the setting, will not be acceptable”

In accordance with the most up to date Minerals and Waste Plan, safeguarding of applicable land within the AONB and/or AGLV may be necessary and deemed appropriate

Finally, I would like to see a clause which gives protection to the candidate areas for AONB status in the forthcoming Surrey Hills AONB Boundary Review. This should include Blackwell Farm which was recently reviewed by an Independent consultant and deemed worthy of inclusion as a candidate. I consider that all land that has been assessed as meeting the latest Natural England criteria for AONBs should be subject to the same level of protection as an AONB, not just land that has been designated AGLV.

I object to Policy P2 green belt

This policy states, “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” This is a misleading statement.

The policy wording is weak in support of the Metropolitan Green Belt even though the latter forms 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. It is precious beyond the short-term demands of the present Government’s policy or a 15-year local plan. As noted under Policy S1 above, it is a solemn legacy to future generations – an asset and amenity that belongs as much to Londoners and the whole nation as to the people who live in it. Once gone it is gone forever. It is not the Council’s to give away.

Policy P2 completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it has been around for a long time and it needs to be permanently protected. It was actually established in a local act of parliament in Guildford under the London Home Counties (Green Belt) Act 1938 and subsequently in the 1944 Greater London Plan to contain the outward sprawl of London. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were later defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). The Metropolitan Green Belt is an exemplar of good planning and the envy of planners throughout the world.

Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. Building on it involves high opportunity costs, including an irreversible loss of:

1. Agricultural production
2. Rural leisure and tourism amenities
3. Water catchment
4. Flood control
5. Biodiversity
6. Natural heritage
7. A carbon sink for air pollution
8. Room for public facilities such as parks and burial grounds
9. Profitable film locations (e.g. Shere)
10. Future economic potential such as mineral extraction (even fracking)
11. Natural beauty, landmarks, open space, rural views and sight lines
12. Benefits to public health and wellbeing, physical and psychological (as well expressed in the NPPF)

As a matter of law and national and local policy, these assets should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultations.

It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold.
I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell bent on self-defeat.

I believe this policy is based on a flawed Green Belt and Countryside Study that, according to one Conservative Councillor, was irregularly commissioned by Council officers without the authority of Councillors.

To “inset” two thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, although they would quickly destroy them if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

I object to the removal of over 400 hectares of Green Belt land in and around Blackwell Farm to facilitate further development of Surrey Research Park and for 1800 homes. Over 60 hectares were removed from Green Belt 12 years ago for the same developer (Surrey University) who has yet to fulfill their planning obligations. This valuable land has been squandered with over 17 acres of surface car parking and as one of the key features of Green belt is its 'permanence' this second request for yet more Green Belt land to be released in such a short space of time, with all the outstanding issues that remain makes this all the more objectionable.

Furthermore, I object on grounds of the impact this development will have in terms of congestion on our highways, these issues have been highlighted under 'infrastructure'.

I object to ALL Green Belt sites allocated for development in the local plan

I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development, however, it does identify the principle of development and uses.” This ignores the tens of thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. This amounts to a war of attrition by the Council in conjunction with developers, since many busy residents are tired of repeating the same comments as it appears to be a waste of time and effort. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014.13

All Green Belt sites should be removed from the plan until “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I object to policy P3 Countryside (i.e. beyond the Green Belt)

This is more protective – as a policy – than the proposals for the AONB and the Green Belt, so is anomalous. I am not in favour of building on this area, since urban, brownfield areas are sufficient to meet all reasonable housing targets. There is no need to build on any green fields if brownfield, previously developed land is used efficiently (without garden-grabbing).

This policy refers to the countryside near Ash and Tongham (see paragraph 4.3.28). This area does not justify stronger policy protection than any other part of the borough. The fact that the current and previous Council Leaders represent it should not give it preferential status: “we will seek to limit any development in the countryside unless it can be demonstrated that it is necessary in that location”. Green Belt and AONB areas should by definition have higher levels of protection than non-Green Belt areas.

It should also be noted that Ash and Tongham lie beyond Guildford far away from London and therefore make no contribution to controlling Metropolitan urban sprawl, that is presumably why Ash and Tongham are not in the Green Belt already. This policy, however, attaches higher priority to preventing the “coalescence between the Ash and Tongham urban area and Aldershot” than it does to the primary purpose of the Metropolitan Green Belt, which is to stop London sprawl. I agree to the prevention of coalescence but this should apply to all villages including East and West Horsley and Flexford and Normandy.

I object to policy P4 Flood risk and water source protection zones

Urban development on existing hardstanding would not create additional flood risk, especially where there is scope for improved flood resistance measures to be included in the design. Sites such as Woodbridge Meadows Industrial Estate and the Arriva bus depot, on the River Wey bank, are potential high-value brownfield sites that would not be available for housing if this policy is implemented. It is not the footprint of existing buildings that should limit future development, but the extent of existing hardstanding. Tarmac and concrete do not act as functional floodplain, and some land with hard standing close to the river, within the town centre and within easy walking distance of the railway station, provides an excellent opportunity for real urban regeneration that could protect the surrounding countryside.
I strongly believe that this policy should not be used as a convenient excuse not to build on the extensive area of brownfield sites between the station and Ladymead. Any new development in this area could easily be built on stilts with flood resistant ground floor parking in areas that are identified as high flood risk. This area has been built over successfully over the last 50 years. We do not need to stop now.

I do not support building directly on (as opposed to over) flood plain as the land is effectively a soak away, but intelligent architecture has been dealing with this problem for many decades in other parts of the UK and the globe.

I object to policy P5 Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Areas

This policy is not robust enough. The mitigation (cash compensation) offered for development in the special protection area is so small as to be meaningless.

SANG (Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace) is not beneficial since the sites identified or targeted are already green space. This is just using agricultural or wooded land as recreation land in order to justify building on other green spaces nearby. There is no actual increase in open space or environmental protection; instead, it is a ploy designed to permit building on otherwise protected areas. SANG – in part used to prevent dogs and cats attacking nesting birds – must also ensure that it is not using land which is adjacent to the Special Protection Areas.

I object to policy S1 as stated and the presumption in favour of sustainable development.

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. No definition of “sustainable development” is given.

The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The promise “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area” omits to recognise that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. It does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the tough choices Councillors will face, it is without value. Under this policy, any development will qualify as “sustainable”, thereby failing to apply the NPPF’s most important guideline.

The most gaping hole in Policy S1 is the Green Belt. As an inter-generational covenant (enshrined in primary legislation) to protect green areas in perpetuity, the Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice. It is the envy of the world. Policy S1 should commit to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections, setting at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The plan’s contempt for Green Belt constraints is amply demonstrated in later policies.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals this draft plan’s pro-development bias. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.3.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire):()

I object to policy S2 the Borough Wide Strategy and the commitment to build 13,860 homes based on the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) 2015 prepared by GL Hearn.

The OAN “objectively assessed need” figure in the SHMA of 693 homes a year is far too high.

I am very surprised and concerned that GBC have adopted the OAN of 13,860 homes as the housing target without any application of constraints as required under the National Planning Policy Framework and the National Planning Policy Guidance. The scale of the housing number proposed, inevitably increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

Other local planning authorities appear to take a more balanced view in their approach to planning. The Woking Core Strategy 2012 applies a constraint of 50% from the 594 new homes identified in their own SHMA. “ It should be noted that local evidence (Strategic Housing Market Assessment - SHMA) highlights a need for an additional 499 new affordable homes every year in the Borough and a total of 594 new homes every year when taking into account demand. Given the level of environmental constraints present in the Borough, it is considered that the provision of an average of 292 dwellings per annum represents a reasonable level of housing growth for Woking and is deliverable.”

Historically GBC have correctly applied constraints on housing numbers to protect the Green Belt. The Surrey Structure Plan 1994 advocated a general slowing down in the rates of development “because of the environmental constraints which exist in the County, including Green Belt”. This slowing down was reflected in the requirement that Guildford Borough should accommodate a net increase of 3,800 dwellings between 1991 and 2006. This was a lower rate of development than in previous years. It is interesting to note that the Structure Plan at that time expected sufficient land to arise within the urban areas to accommodate this requirement.

However it would appear that today GBC have effectively ignored the real potential of the urban area to provide for housing. At the same time GBC have adopted a radically different approach to the policy of the Council over the last 20/30 years and are now ignoring government policy in relation to the Green Belt.

A detailed and comprehensive professional review of the SHMA dated June 2016 by NMSS an independent expert firm dealing with housing and demographics procured by Guildford Residents Association (GRA) has concluded that the OAN figure should be revised down from 693 homes per annum to 510 homes per annum.

The 41 page report by NMSS which can be found on the GRA website entitled “A Review of the West Surrey SHMA as it relates to the Objectively Assessed Housing Needs of Guildford”. It was a real community effort. It was paid for by over separate 20 Guildford Residents Associations and Local Parish Councils none of whom were convinced that the SHMA report procured and presented by GBC was accurate or transparent or accessible in a meaningful way. So they clubbed together and collected contributions from many hundreds of Guildford residents to try to find out the truth of the housing need figure presented in the Local Plan.

The NMSS report includes detailed analysis and financial modelling and was prepared by Neil McDonald. He is an independent adviser and commentator on housing demographics. He works with local authorities and others on the estimation of housing need and related issues. He was a civil servant and policy adviser to Ministers for over 30 years, the last 10 advising on housing and planning issues within the Department of Communities and Local Government. His 7 years as a Director at DCLG included a posting as Director, Planning Policy and a period as Chief Executive of the National Housing and Planning Advice Unit.

NMSS found that the SHMA used in the Local Plan incorrectly adds extra homes to its basic demographic projection to allow for improving affordability of housing, increased student numbers and economic growth. The report found that none of these additions were justified based on the evidence presented within the SHMA. The report concluded amongst other matters that:

- The affordability of housing in Guildford is no worse than in other Surrey districts and boosting supply beyond the demographic OAN would not result in a noticeable improvement in affordability but simply in more people moving to the area.
- There are reasons for believing that the SHMA’s estimate of the number of homes needed for students may be too high and that an adequate provision for students is already included in the demographic OAN. The report advises that the Council should commission a separate student housing need figure for Guildford given the distorting effect of students on our overall OAN. It envisages that, once this exercise is undertaken, improved accuracy means the overall OAN would be likely to reduce still further.
- The SHMA seeks to estimate the number of homes needed to support employment growth using employment rate assumptions that are inconsistent with the employment forecasts. This produces misleading results. An analysis of the Cambridge Econometrics and Oxford Economics forecasts using employment or economic activity rate assumptions consistent with the forecasts suggests that in neither case is there a need to provide more housing than suggested by the demographic analysis. Indeed, in both cases a smaller population growth (and hence fewer homes) could support the jobs growth that is forecast.
A further independent report was procured in 2016 by the Campaign for the Protection of Rural England CPRE from Richard Bate of Green Balance, an independent consultancy with expertise in demographic and housing matters to carry out a review of the GL Hearn SHMA.

The report by Green Balance runs to 37 pages and its findings are that the OAN for homes in Guildford should be reduced from 693 per annum to 481 because:

1. The vacancy rate figures should be taken from local government annual records rather than from the 2011 Census. This would reduce vacancy rates to 2.9% in Guildford.
2. There should be no increase for affordability above basic demographic change.
3. There should be no increase for Student housing and it was considered unrealistic that the University should be allowed to exert such substantial pressure on the domestic housing market
4. The use of employment-led forecasts should be abandoned using purely household projections instead which are more reliable as a form of prediction.

Two completely independent expert reports are surprisingly consistent in their findings. In broad terms a figure of approximately 500 homes per annum would appear to be a correct estimate of OAN for Guildford. However, this is before constraints are applied to arrive at an acceptable housing target.

The SHMA is based on pre-Brexit projections for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards.

It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld by GBC and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The figure of 13,860 new homes is unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinised by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA.

Both the National Planning Policy Framework and National Planning Policy Guidance provide a clear policy direction that the overall housing target should be reduced by a variety of constraints to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors. I have corrected this omission below. Infrastructure policies should be planned at the same time as Local Plans but in this case they have effectively been left out and are not sufficiently developed.

The Framework also makes clear that, once established, Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances, through the preparation or review of the Local Plan.

Unmet housing need (including for traveller sites) is unlikely to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and other harm to constitute the “very special circumstances” justifying inappropriate development on a site within the Green Belt.

THE NEED TO APPLY CONSTRAINTS

Ministerial guidance in relation to building on the Green Belt is clear:

1. “The single issue of unmet need - is unlikely to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt and other harm to constitute the “very special circumstances” justifying inappropriate development in the Green Belt” - Nick Boles to Sir Paul Beresford MP 7th February 2014.
2. “We were always very clear that we would maintain key protections for the countryside, and, in particular, for the Green Belt. The Framework makes it clear that a Green Belt boundary may be altered only in exceptional circumstances and reiterates the importance and permanence of the Green Belt” – Nick Boles to Sir Michael Pitt, Planning Inspectorate 3rd March 2014.
3. “Planning Guidance, updated in March 2014, also states that unmet housing need is unlikely to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt to constitute the very special circumstances justifying inappropriate development within the Green Belt” – Nick Boles to Sir Paul Beresford MP 18th June 2014.
70% of the sites put forward in the Local Plan are in the Green Belt which flies in the face of current government planning policy. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), National Planning Policy Guidance and case law make it clear that Green Belt is an absolute constraint on housing supply. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to adjust boundaries.

Other constraints under the NPPF include assessments of sustainability, strategic flood risk assessment, physical constraints on land use and infrastructure constraints (this can include road congestion, schools, drains, power supply and medical requirements).

Constraints should be applied to the Objectively Assessed Housing Need (OAN). However this itself is overstated and should be reduced from 693 per annum to 500.

In view of the comments above it would appear logical to apply CONTRAINTS in line with government policy to a corrected OAN of approximately 50% to account for the fact that 89% of the borough is in the permanent Green Belt and development is not supported by adequate major infrastructure. This reduction is in line with the constraints percentage of 50% applied by Woking Borough Council.

This would result in a more acceptable and practically achievable HOUSING TARGET of 250 homes per annum which over a 20-year period would be 5,000 homes. All of these homes could be built in the existing urban brownfield areas of the borough and would in part satisfy the 20,000 objections made by residents to the 2014 draft plan and also relieve the additional problems of inadequate infrastructure.

It would also mean that there is currently 8.5 years supply of housing (2131/250) which is made up of existing permissions granted (1,518) and completions made (613) during 2013/2015. (Monitoring Report by GBC 2015)

The Brexit vote may have strengthened government policy further. Theresa May, the new prime minister, announced on 11 July that she is personally committed to protecting the Green Belt once she takes office.

Whilst I have many significant objections to the GBC Local Plan I applaud the policy statement by GBC in their Monitoring Report, “We will continue to monitor the use of previously developed land, and continue to identify as many opportunities as possible for redevelopment of previously developed land.” I believe it will be to the benefit of all residents if GBC can apply themselves vigorously to this endeavour in order to protect the Green Belt.

The Plan preparation process has had inadequate regard for national policy, which attaches "great importance" to the "openness" and "permanence" of Green Belt. The test of "exceptional circumstances" that might justify allocating Green Belt land for the development in a Local Plan has not been rigorously and transparently applied at a strategic level.
The Sustainability Appraisal seems to have lost sight of the concept of Sustainable Development as described in the National Planning Policy Framework to the extent that we question whether it complies with the requirement.

The report states that there are no pollution issues in Guildford. This is not true. The A3 end of the B3000 exceeds EU regulations and this should be flagged in the 2015/16 air quality report which the Council has yet to publish.

The 2015/2016 air quality management report has not yet been published and this will/should include an area at the A3 end of Compton, which exceeds the recommended max NO2 reading. One year results for NOx are 48.728 with highs of 68 using National bias adjustment.

Cllr Furniss indicated that the location of the test tubes may have made them invalid, but measurements show that they were positioned correctly and monitored for over a year by GBC environment officers, who have now added additional monitoring devices (See Annex 2 – Correspondence between Cllr Curtis and Cllr Furniss). This area qualifies as an air quality management area (AQMA) and it is disingenuous to omit this from the report or to use an old report on the basis that the 2015 report is not yet published, as the problem is known and recognised by the environment department within GBC.

The traffic survey shows increases in overall flow at the B3000 monitoring point, of values between 5.6% and 16.5%. This would severely impact flow, which is not in line with National Policy as further congestion would exacerbate the current air quality issues as the A3 end of the Street.

I do not believe that a regulation 19 consultation is appropriate. Whilst few changes have been made, additional sites have been included without opportunity for regulation 18-consultation input.

The video used and paid for by GBC and taxpayers is biased towards development, and hence raises questions over the validity and legality of such marketing campaigns. All the individuals featured in the video, with the exception of one nurse have previously spoken in the Council Chamber in favour of house building/building on Blackwell Farm; and there is not a single voice representing protection of the Countryside or outstanding landscapes.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object

The plan is not so much positively prepared as avariciously prepared. I do not consider that it is reasonable to take on unmet need from neighbouring authorities, which have given greater protection to their Green Belt if it means our own is compromised on the scale being put forward.

I believe that constraints should be applied to the housing target, which we understand equates to the objectively assessed need (OAN) as no reasonable constraints have been applied. The constraints that could and should be applied
It was recommended by landscape consultant Alison Farmer Associates that the area known as Blackwell Farm should be considered in the AONB boundary review, yet it was omitted in Surrey CC’s landscape evaluation. This meant the Parish Councils of Worplesdon, Compton and Wanborough had to fund an independent review to ascertain whether the area was a contender for AONB classification. The survey was carried out by Land Management Services Ltd, which concluded that most of the 265 hectare farm was of a landscape and scenic quality that merited inclusion within Natural England’s revised Surrey Hills AONB boundary.

The plan is not justified. Residents groups have suggested other strategies but these have not been tested or considered against the current trajectory, which has remained largely unchanged since day one.

Many aspects of the Plan were strongly objected to in 2014 and not only have these points been ignored, they have in fact been embellished or made worse. I refer to the points that GBC referred to in their own summary, which stated that most people objected to the scale of development and the harm to the Green Belt. At that time there were 4 strategic sites and now there are 5. At that time approx 50% of development was in Green Belt and now it is 66% with only 34% on previously developed sites. 58% of development is on just 5 sites.

A more realistic appraisal of the town centre with more multi-storey car park development and less retail would make way for a greater percentage of housing in the town centre, which is after all the most sustainable and sought after area. Additionally, greater pressure must be placed on the University to house more students at Manor Park in order to free up affordable rented accommodation in the town for key workers.

There is a conflict of interest when the developer (University) drags its feet over the provision of promised student accommodation (thereby putting pressure on the housing market) whilst at the same time seeking permission to build 1,800 new homes to help Guildford’s need? The University is at least five years behind with programme of building student residences and staff housing. It is widely agreed among residents groups that the University must fulfil all of its current building plans and substantially increase the proportion of students on campus. If the University built the outstanding units, the housing need would reduce substantially yet much of this is omitted from the outstanding permissions list?

GBC has approached development without applying constraints that are applicable such as Green Belt and infrastructure. It is wholly inappropriate to build a Plan without constraints when there is widespread opposition to this approach. Furthermore, there are serious doubts over the validity of the objectively assessed housing need. Housing need underpins the entire plan, and we are being asked to accept the figure of 693 on trust. Without an understanding of the methodology behind the OAN, the public cannot 'buy into' this figure, especially as it has been illustrated by two reputable professionals that there have been errors such as ‘double accounting’, which has resulted in uplift. Both consultants have concluded that a more accurate figure would be around 500 new homes pa and the most recent one, which was done in pre Brexit June 2016 acknowledges that due to the high number of International students here in Guildford a student SHMA would better inform this plan. Both consultants feel that the current SHMA is flawed and that the OAN of 693 is too high. These reviews will be submitted by CPRE and the GRA and we support the findings of both.

Putting 58% of development on 5 sites, which are within the Green Belt, or largely within the Green Belt, is not consistent with national policy. The definition of ‘exceptional’ is forming an exception or rare instance; unusual; extraordinary. What possible exceptional circumstances can justify 3 sites of approx 2,000 each and two of 1000 each, on Greenbelt. This makes a mockery of the term ‘exceptional’?

The plan has a maximum number and a hefty buffer. It has underestimated windfalls and overestimated need. It is likely therefore that if one of the major sites fails to come through, the Plan could still succeed in terms of numbers, but would fail in terms of impact on infrastructure and reliance on aspirational, but distant 'yet to be discussed' schemes such as railway stations, making the plan undeliverable. If more people are not given the opportunity to live in Guildford town, the night time economy cannot grow and if the gamble to use 40% of the land for retail fails, shops will close and we will have created a leafy green ghost town, whilst the villages outside the town will have changed beyond all recognition as the impact of urban sprawl takes its toll.

The plan puts many eggs into 5 baskets with 58% of all development on just 5 sites. If these are not deliverable, the plan will fail. This strategy has been roundly criticised by Inspectors in other parts of the country.

Taking on such a high OAN without scrutinising it and then taking land out of Green Belt to fulfil it, and using developer funding to secure infrastructure (which reduces significantly the proportion of affordable housing delivered) is destructive and risky.

It is inconceivable that 5 sites between 1,100 and 2,000+ each can be built on Green Belt land without affecting the purposes of the Green Belt.

AONB should be given the highest protection. Despite being put forward for AONB review Blackwell Farm was omitted and an independent consultant had to be commissioned by local parish councils. The findings showed that the area met Natural England’s latest criteria for AONB and should not therefore be developed but should instead be properly recognised.

The proposal at Blackwell Farm has been reduced from 2100 to 1800 to take account the impact on future AONB or for views in and out of the existing and future AONB from public areas as determined by planning policy. It is feared that if this site were approved and if access could be made possible without causing serious problems to the surrounding road network, that the AONB in this location would undoubtedly be destroyed.

GBC argues that it is necessary to remove more than 1.6% of its 89% Green Belt and to remove more than 6% of its Green Belt from villages (by way of insetting) in order to meet its need, yet at the same time the Council advocates making an additional area Green Belt? The area of land being put forward for inclusion within the Green belt is on the same ridge as two areas of Green Belt it wishes to remove (Normandy & Blackwell Farm). This approach lacks consistency.

Cllrs Paul Spooner and Matt Furniss have stated clearly that there will be no development without supporting infrastructure and that the infrastructure must come before, or alongside, development. It is difficult to see how this will materialise as developers’ CIL contributions (which will fund infrastructure) are paid from profits made from the development. This statement appears to be unenforceable and could offer false reassurance to residents who may support the Plan on this basis.

Developers are being asked to fund large amounts of infrastructure. They will offset this against any agreement for affordable housing and it is highly possible that affordable housing will not be built or that only a small proportion will be built. This was one of the key drivers and is factored into the housing need, yet may not be delivered. Where is the general analysis to see what level of affordable housing might actually be delivered given the level of infrastructure needed to implement this level of development on new sites?

The omission of the Town Centre Master Plan (on the basis that this has different timescales) invalidates two key components of the Plan - the Infrastructure and Highways assessments. The suggested road closures in the town centre and the resulting re-routing of traffic should be factored into the highways assessment, but they are currently omitted. The consequences of this could render the whole Plan undeliverable and I don't believe the Plan can be approved without factoring in the Town Centre Master Plan.

GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), which CPRE and GRA consider unsound. The methodology for the uplift and assumptions made have not been made available and thus the openness and transparency required for public understanding as outlined in the NPPF has not been adhered to.

I understand that Highways England will not start to consider its intentions as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018. It is difficult to see how plans can be approved without the inclusion of this information.
Network Rail has not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow, nor have we been told where the station car park would be situated nor how the railway bridge between Merrow and Burpham would be re-constructed to take the additional traffic. Likewise, there are no detailed plans for the railway station at Park Barn and Network Rail has not confirmed the status of either. These schemes must have a sounder footing to be included in the Plan if they are to be used to justify large developments nearby.

The access to, and from, Blackwell Farm (via the A31) has not been thought through. There proposed new route will likely be used as a rat run to the A3/Guildford, but this will put pressure on a congestion hot spot, and result in increased traffic at the Compton turn-off and Down Lane (home to Watts Gallery). It is also recognised that congestion at the Tesco roundabout will be made worse and this area is already subject to considerable problems. Additional traffic via the business park from Blackwell Farm will add to congestion at the Egerton roundabout and impede access for emergency services to the hospital.

The proposal at Blackwell Farm has been reduced from 2100 to 1800 to take account of the AONB, but this does not account for views in and out of the AONB from public areas.

The greenbelt sensitivity study is not objective. The reference to Blackwell Farm as 'South West Guildford Urban' is totally misleading as it is unadulterated countryside that fulfills all the purposes of Green Belt. I consider this Study, which was the subject of much criticism in the last plan, to be flawed, yet it remains in this Plan. Why?

The damage caused to the Green Belt by the addition of Blackwell Farm would outweigh benefits gained from development, as there is ample space and lapsed planning permission on the existing Manor Park land for development for student accommodation, which would free up affordable rented accommodation in the town.

The proposal for Garlic Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any consultation under Regulation 18.

No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Guildford citizens.

No land has been safeguarded for a tunnel, which would show a real intent.

This consultation included 'significant changes' according to GBC, although most residents would strongly dispute this. Some key reports were added and 6 weeks was not long enough to properly digest the information and impart this to residents. Many additional questions had to be asked and many points required clarification, which essentially meant adequate information, was not made available until two thirds of the way through the consultation.

The level of objection at the 2014 consultation was considerable - these objections have NOT been dealt with, but have been carried through to a regulation 19 consultation, undeterred. This is not in the spirit of Localism or the NPPF.

Cooperation is a two-way street. Guildford objected to Waverley's plans for Dunsfold on the grounds of increased traffic and in the same submission referred to positive consideration of unfulfilled OAN. Guildford also refers to its duty to consider Woking's unfulfilled housing. Guildford does not have land to spare to assist Waverley or Woking without taking vast amounts of land out of Green belt, which is protected by the NPPF. Greed is not 'an exceptional circumstance' and if both Woking and Waverley (and indeed London as it is the Metropolitan Green Belt) prefer to protect their Green Belt then the question must be asked as to why Guildford is happy to relinquish its Green Belt land, especially in the face of strong public opposition.

Many also question the choice of just Woking and Waverley as partners in the SHMA as there are considerable links with Aldershot and Farnborough in Rushmoor, which have very different needs and their inclusion could have provided a better balance.

Comment - Localism

The Plan is supposed to be informed by residents and by parish councils and residents' groups and their input used to formulate the Local Plan, not for it simply to be presented to them and objections and subsequent input ignored. Despite a great deal of effort from these groups and many like-minded responses, the Plan has not taken their concerns on board. The Plan has barely changed since day one and residents feel their views have been ignored and that the consultations have not been genuine. To add insult to injury, some of the key points raised have actually been exacerbated or made worse, such as the scale of development and harm to the Green Belt and issues over infrastructure.
The NPPF is open to interpretation, but it is our belief that GBC has chosen to interpret it in a way that lacks objectivity in an effort to appease developers in order to avoid costly court cases at a later stage. GBC has cited cases where development has been granted in an effort to justify this pro-development stance but has failed to balance this against the many sites where development has been refused.

To gain true public reaction, material presented has to be factual and unbiased and written without jargon and acronyms. This has not been the case. A degree of 'double speak' has led to absurdities such as 'affordable housing' which is over £300,000 i.e. ten times the average salary; 'safeguarding' which does not mean protection of land as most people would think, but rather potential future development and 'insetting' which means removal? It is recognised that these terms are not locally derived but all the same they are confusing for most of us.

Some Councillors have shown a lack of knowledge about environmental matters. Cllr. Gunning - webcast 24th May section 7 - 3:39

'About ancient woodlands, of course they are very attractive things, but they are ancient and trees don't last forever, so can we be practical about ancient woodlands and consider their value or their life, I should say, their life'

May 11th - Cllr Ellwood announced that he couldn't understand what all the fuss was about pollution as his Mother had lived (presumably unaffected by it) under the flight path at Heathrow?

Whilst people have been encouraged to take part in consultation, objectors have been subjected to name calling and public humiliation. There are too many examples to list and so I am listing the most recent. http://www.guildford-dragon.com/2016/07/10/letter-not-surprised-mr-patons-comparison/#comment-157440

The Local Plan has divided communities and highlighted weaknesses and alliances, which have resulted in a breakdown of trust between residents and those whose job it is to implement the Plan.

The Plan has been roundly criticized and objected to and yet it is presented to us once again. Many feel the consultations to date have been worthless and feel they have already made their points, which were ignored and will not therefore be making them again as they fail to see the point?

It simply is not possible to address infrastructure shortfalls by building in the hope that developers contributions will cover the costs as the level of development needed negates any benefits gained and in many cases, the situation is made worse.

Central government funding is needed to address current problems so that funding from development can be used to implement additional infrastructure needed to make new sites viable without damaging their surroundings. It must be accepted that geography and lack of previous investment leaves some areas with less opportunity to do this than others.

ABSENCE OF POLICY ON RIVER WEA

I object to the omission of a policy for the River Wey which was included in the previous local plan. The existing policy G11 from 2003 Local Plan should be included so that development within the River Wey corridor will only be permitted provided that:

- It protects or improves the special character of the River Wey and the Guildford and Godalming Navigations, in particular their visual, setting, amenities, ecological value, architectural and historic interest;
- The special character of the landscape and townscape in the corridor is protected or improved;
- Views both within and from the corridor which contribute to this special character are protected or improved;
- Where appropriate, public access is provided to and along the River and the Navigations.
- The Nature Conservation value of the site is protected or improved.

Constraints and Objectively Assessed Need

Policy S2 sets out the development targets for housing, employment and gypsy and traveller pitches. There are a number of factors to assess in establishing if these targets are robust and correct. The first consideration must be an establishment of whether the Council has made a robust assessment of its full objectively assessed housing need (FOAHN). Once this has been considered factors which may prevent the Council from meeting its FOAHN can be taken into account to arrive at the housing requirement for the district.

The Council commissioned GL Hearn to produce its evidence on housing needs, the work was carried out alongside Waverly and Woking districts to form the West Surrey Housing Market. The report produced in October 2015 concluded that, for Guildford, the FOAHN was 693 dwellings per annum.

Having reviewed the evidence there are a number of issues which Gladman believe require further consideration by the Council. These are:-

1. The base date projections are now out of date following the publication of the 2014 household projections on the 12th July 2016.
2. The market signals uplift applied to Guildford is not sufficient. Affordability in the area is chronic. Inspector’s reports in other Local Authority areas such as Canterbury, an area with less housing market pressure than Guildford, have endorsed at least a 20% uplift. The figure for Guildford quoted by GL Hearn is just 31 dwellings per annum.
3. The allowance for economic growth seems weak when considering the strength of the local economy.
The Council is in need of a refresh and update of the work in order to properly inform policy S2. However as we have outlined establishing FOAHN is only the first part of the process, and just because the FOAHN may increase it does not automatically follow that the housing requirement for the district should also increase, or increase by the full amount. Guildford is a highly constrained authority with much of its area washed over by Green Belt, however it is important to assess the full housing need figure in order that the Council can be clear as to what it can meet, what it can’t meet and what discussions it needs to have with neighbouring authorities about delivering its unmet housing need.

As drafted at present the policy states it will be delivering 13,860 homes between 2013-2033. A stepped trajectory included in the policy explains that the annual housing target from 2018-2033 is 10,395, the Councils Table 1 shows a surplus of housing sites to build flexibility in meeting this target. Therefore whilst Gladman question the robustness of the SHMA and note it is in need of updating to fully establish the FOAHN for Guildford, Gladman are supportive of the approach taken by the Council in meeting housing needs within the area. The overall figure, we believe, may be an underestimation but the Council is proactively trying to meet it despite the constraints of the district.

Conclusion

At present therefore, Gladman are concerned that the establishment of FOAHN is not robust and therefore the housing requirement within the plan is based on evidence which is not justified or up to date. We would however wish to endorse the Councils approach to seeking to deliver housing in an area of heavy green belt constraint. The Councils approach in proactively and robustly assessing its green belts to help deliver much needed housing and economic growth is to be supported, therefore whilst we believe the FOAHN is higher than that established by GL Hearn it does not mean that the Council have not prepared an otherwise sound plan. As we explain above even with a higher FOAHN the housing requirement for Guildford may well be appropriate.

We trust that these representations are helpful, we would request the right to be heard at the reconvened examinations to discuss the above points in further detail and to elaborate on the points expressed in this letter.

Gladman acknowledge the importance of the historic environment and the important role the Council has in ensuring its continued protection and enhancement. However, we believe that the policy as written at present is at odds with NPPF paragraph 134. Whilst it is clearly acknowledged what the NPPF states in paragraphs 132 and 133 about the substantial harm or total loss of a heritage asset policy D3 does not recognise the wording in NPPF paragraph 134. That talks about weighing the harm done to the heritage asset against the public benefits, the wording currently within D3, in our view goes a step beyond this.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Whilst the concept of what the policy is trying to achieve is acknowledged, Gladman have concern that the policy could be used to refuse development, when the development in question represented sustainable development. We would suggest that the policy should be rewritten to incorporate a reference as to how the policy will be used as part of a wider judgement on the sustainability of a site.

Given the nature of the district it is entirely possible that none green belt land may come under more pressure than other areas.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Whilst Gladman are in full agreement with the statement for the presumption in favour of sustainable development, we are concerned that the way the statement is expressed in policy S1 is simply a watering down of the policy as contained within paragraph 14 of the NPPF. We are unconvinced that a separate statement, beyond the NPPF is required, however if the Council wish to include the policy it should be as per the wording of the NPPF. At present therefore we do not consider the policy sound by virtue of it not being justified or consistent with the NPPF.

Introduction

Gladman Developments Ltd (Gladman) specialise in the promotion of strategic land for residential development and associated community infrastructure. From this experience, Gladman understand the need for the planning system to deliver the housing and economic needs of an area, whilst responding positively to the wider opportunities for growth.

This submission provides Gladman Developments’ written representations to the submission version of the Guildford Local Plan (strategy and sites). The plan will be followed by a part 2 plan considering issues relating to development management policies.

The plan is at submission stage and therefore has already been subject to public consultation. This submission draft of the plan is one that the Council should consider ‘sound’, which means it should be:

- Positively prepared
- Justified
- Effective
- Consistent with national policy

Gladman have considered the documentation and accompanying sustainability appraisal prepared by the Council, which support the submission version of the Guildford Local Plan. This representation outlines some brief comments from Gladman with regard the Councils approach to its constraints and its establishment of its FOAHN, and the implications this may have for neighbouring authorities, the housing market area and discussions being undertaken through the Duty to Cooperate.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The Duty to Cooperate and Unmet Housing Need

Our main concern, therefore, is if the Councils FOAHN is an underestimation, and if there are reasons why it cannot meet a higher FOAHN what implications does this have for the HMA and surrounding districts. We have been able to find no record of the discussions which may or may not have taken place under the Duty to Cooperate, and we would expect to do so. Nevertheless the point is it is vital for Guildford to fully understand its FOAHN, set out what it can meet and identify where any unmet need is being accommodate through conversations using the Duty to Cooperate.

If there is found to be a shortfall we would wish to bring to the Councils attention the case of Warwick District and the Coventry HMA. The examination of the Warwick EIP has been in effect paused since May 2015 because of the level of unmet need within the HMA1. The inspector into the Warwick Local Plan was so concerned by the failure of the local authorities to reconcile the issue of unmet housing need that at one point he was proposing the plan should be withdrawn as he considered it unsound. Since this time that HMA has made significant strides on joint working with regard housing numbers, SHLAA assessment and green belt release. The HMA contains significant levels of green belt.

Local Plan Expert Group (LPEG)

The government remains concerned that the Local Plan process remains flawed, overly long and is leading to plans and HMAs which are failing to adequately plan for their housing needs. The lateness of which is particularly prevalent in the south east. As a response LPEG was commissioned to look at ways in which the Local Plan system could be improved. The report was published in March 20162 and was the subject of a consultation which ran until 27th April 2016.

LPEG are quiet clear in their recommendation that the Duty to Cooperate has failed to deal with the unmet housing needs emanating from certain areas of the country. LPEG do not underestimate the difficulties faced by local authorities in planning to meet housing need however they recommend a series of changes, in Appendix A - section 5 to the main report, to ensure that HMAs cannot simply pass the buck on housing needs. These include:-

- Establishing coordinated HMA boundaries;
- Strengthening the Duty to Cooperate and including and adding the following wording to the tests of soundness in para 182 of the NPPF;
- the product of joint working between authorities is expected to be agreement on the distribution of full OAN unless there is clear and convincing agreed evidence that the adverse effects of meeting the need in full would significantly outweigh the presumption that the need should be met;
- plan making authorities who do not plan to meet their own OAN are expected to identify in their submitted plans how those needs are likely to be met and to proactively work towards achieving the meeting of those needs – this should involve, for instance,
- testing the assertions of adjacent authorities who claim an inability to meet those unmet needs and challenging that assertion if capacity is considered to be available to meet needs;
- formally requesting that adjacent authorities meet those needs; and
- making representations to adjacent authorities’ plans to meet those needs in the event that agreement has not been reached.
- where unmet needs are identified as a result of this process, planning authorities requested to meet needs from adjacent authorities whether within the same HMA (or not) will be expected to treat that unmet need as part of their own OAN and to apply the same NPPF tests as they do to their own OAN in assessing their ability to meet those needs within their local plan

It is acknowledged that the LPEG recommendations have not yet been formally accepted by government, however it is clear that the problems of unmet need in and bordering HMAs is a significant problem for many local plans at present. We have put forward the example of Warwick where an Inspector has properly sought to grapple with these significant issues, we believe strongly that a similar approach must be taken in Guildford and the surrounding districts. Too many plans have already been passed without any significant work undertaken to address the levels of unmet need being generated and where the housing need is to be accommodated, the problem is only likely to grow, and starting to tackle it now is the only sound approach to take in preparing a sound, future proof Local Plan. LPEG clearly state how they thing this can be undertaken, and it is likely that the full impacts of what LPEG proposes will start to be felt imminently. The Council should therefore take this opportunity to start to consider these implications and consider further where its unmet need is likely to go.

1 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

i. This submission provides Gladman Developments’ written representations on the Guildford Borough Council Proposed Submission Local: strategy and sites 2017 consultation.

ii. Gladman specialise in the promotion of strategic land for residential development, with associated community infrastructure. These representations concern the following matters:

- Duty to Cooperate
- Sustainability Appraisal
- Vision
- Housing Numbers
- Site Allocations
- Evidence Base

iii. At this stage of the plan preparation process, Gladman consider that there are number of areas the Council will need to address in order to be able to deliver a sound plan, most importantly the housing requirement being planned for.

2 INTRODUCTION

2.1 Context

2.1.1 Gladman Developments specialise in the promotion of strategic land for residential development with associated community infrastructure. This submission provides Gladman Developments’ representations on the Guildford Proposed Submission Local Plan Draft for Consultation (regulation 18).

2.1.2 Through this submission Gladman have highlighted several issues with the Guildford Proposed Submission Local Plan in its current form. We submit that the plan will need to reconsider some of its policies and ensure that its evidence base is up to date and robust in light of changing circumstances and the potential changes brought about by the Housing White Paper.

2.1.3 To ensure a sufficient supply of deliverable and developable sites and to meet Guildford’s and the HMA housing needs in full, we submit that the plan should be seeking to identify additional sites, and that the process for identifying the sites currently within the plan is in need of further explanation and consideration.

2.1.4 The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) sets out four tests that must be met for Local Plans to be considered sound. In this regard, we submit that in order to prepare a sound plan it is fundamental that it is:

- Positively Prepared – the Plan should be prepared on a strategy which seeks to meet objectively assessed development and infrastructure requirements including unmet requirements from neighbouring authorities where it is reasonable to do so and consistent with achieving sustainable development.
- Justified – the plan should be the most appropriate strategy, when considered against the reasonable alternatives, based on a proportionate evidence base.
- Effective – the plan should be deliverable over its period and based on effective joint working on cross-boundary strategic priorities; and
- Consistent with National Policy – the plan should enable the delivery of sustainable development in accordance with the policies in the Framework.

2.1.5 The current consultation is on proposed changes, as such this representation should be considered in the context of previous submissions made by Gladman.

3 NATIONAL PLANNING POLICY

3.1 National Planning Policy Framework and Planning Practice Guidance

3.1.1 The NPPF has been with us now for over five years and the development industry has experience with its application and the fundamental changes it has brought about in relation to the way the planning system functions. The Framework sets out the Government’s goal to ‘significantly boost the supply of housing’ and how this should be reflected through the preparation of Local Plans. In this regard, it sets out specific guidance that local planning authorities must take into account when identifying and meeting their objectively assessed housing needs:

“To boost significantly the supply of housing, local planning authorities should:

• Use their evidence base to ensure that their Local Plan meets the full, objectively assessed needs for market and affordable housing in the housing market area
• Identify and update annually a supply of specific deliverable sites sufficient to provide five years’ worth of housing against their housing requirements…”
• Identify a supply of specific, developable sites or broad locations for growth, for years 6-10, and where possible for years 11-15” (Paragraph 47)

3.1.2 The starting point of identifying objectively assessed housing needs is set out in paragraph 159 of the NPPF, which requires local planning authorities to prepare a Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), working with neighbouring authorities where housing market areas cross administrative boundaries. It is clear from the Framework that the objective assessment of housing needs should take full account of up-to-date and relevant evidence about the economic and social characteristics and prospects of the area, with local planning authorities ensuring that their assessment of and strategies for housing and employment are integrated and take full account of relevant market and economic signals (paragraph 158).

3.1.3 Once a local authority has identified its objectively assessed needs for housing these needs should be met in full, unless any adverse impacts would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits of doing so (paragraph 14). Local planning authorities should seek to achieve each of the economic, social and environmental dimensions of sustainable development, and net gains across all three. Adverse impacts on any of these dimensions should be avoided. Where adverse impacts are unavoidable, mitigation or compensatory measures may be appropriate (paragraph 152).

3.1.4 As the Council will be aware the Government published its final suite of Planning Practice Guidance (PPG) on the 6th March 2014, clarifying how specific elements of the Framework should be interpreted when preparing their Local Plans. The PPG on the Housing and Economic Development Needs in particular provides a clear indication of how the Government expects the Framework to be taken into account when Councils are identifying their objectively assessed housing needs. Key points from this document include:

• Household projections published by the Department for Communities and Local Government should provide the starting point estimate of overall housing need
• Plan makers should not apply constraints to the overall assessment of need, such as limitations imposed by the supply of land for new development, historic underperformance, infrastructure or environmental constraints.
• Household projection based estimates of housing need may need adjusting to reflect factors affecting local demography and household formation rates which are not captured by past trends, for example historic suppression by under supply and worsening affordability of housing. The assessment will need to reflect the consequences of past under delivery and the extent to which household formation rates have been constrained by supply.
• Plan makers need to consider increasing their housing numbers where the supply of working age population is less than projected job growth, to prevent unsustainable commuting patterns and reduced local business resilience.
• Housing needs indicated by household projections should be adjusted to reflect appropriate market signals, as well as other market indicators of the balance between the demand for and supply of dwellings.
• The more significant the affordability constraints (as reflected in rising prices and rents, and worsening affordability ratio) and the stronger other indicators of high demand (e.g. the differential between land prices), the larger the improvement in affordability needed, and the larger the additional supply response should be.
• The total affordable housing need should be considered in the context of its likely delivery as a proportion of mixed market and affordable housing developments, given the probable percentage of affordable housing to be delivered by market housing led developments. An increase in the total housing figures included in the local plan should be considered where it could help to deliver the required number of affordable homes.

3.2 Housing White Paper – Fixing our broken housing market
3.2.1 A government Housing White Paper was published in February 2017, and included a consultation on changes to planning policy and legislation in relation to housing, sustainable development and the environment, which expired on the 2nd May 2017. Government White Papers are often Command Papers that either contain future legislation or proposals for future legislation, therefore they provide a very clear indication of the direction of travel for government policy, which in this instance relates to Housing. In order to safeguard its local plan position, the Council will need to consider the emerging plan against the points raised within the White Paper, and monitor the progress of the consultation as the proposals within it materialise as potential reforms to the planning system. Given that the intention of the document is to have some of the proposed reforms to come into force by November 2017, it is highly likely that a number of its measures will be relevant considerations prior to the adoption of the plan.

3.2.2 The title of the White Paper makes apparent that the government considers the housing market to be broken, it is also clear from the document forward by the Prime Minister that the cost of housing is a key part of why the housing market is considered broken. In the foreword the Prime Minster states:-

“We need to build many more houses, of the type people want to live in, in the places they want to live. To do so requires a comprehensive approach that tackles failure at every point in the system.” (Foreword from the Prime Minister)

3.2.3 The second foreword from the Secretary of State adds further to the governments thinking, particularly on the need to build new homes now, it states:-

“This country doesn’t have enough homes. That’s not a personal opinion or a political calculation. It’s a simple statement of fact”

“Soaring prices and rising rents caused by a shortage of the right homes in the right places has slammed the door of the housing market in the face of a whole generation.”

“That has to change. We need radical, lasting reform that will get more homes built right now and for many years to come.”

3.2.4 The White Paper outlines further potential reforms to the plan making process, OAN methodology, and Green Belt consideration and housing delivery tests, amongst others. Gladman will point out key aspects from the White Paper in relevant sections of this representation.

3.2.5 Whilst the document is a White Paper, the Council must give consideration to what it is saying, and how it outlines the need for reform and the need for change in the planning system. It is clear that not delivering the identified housing needs of an area or a HMA is not an option moving forward.

5.1.1 In accordance with Section 19 of the 2004 Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act, policies set out in Local Plans must be subject to Sustainability Appraisal (SA). Incorporating the requirements of the Environmental Assessment of Plans and Programmes Regulations 2004, SA is a systematic process that should be undertaken at each stage of the Plan’s preparation, assessing the effects of the Local Plan’s proposals on sustainable development when judged against reasonable alternatives.

5.1.2 The Guildford Local Plan should ensure that the results of the SA process clearly justify its policy choices. In meeting the development needs of the area, it should be clear from the results of the assessment why some policy options have been progressed, and others have been rejected. Undertaking a comparative and equal assessment of each reasonable alternative, the Guildford Local Plans decision making and scoring should be robust, justified and transparent.

5.1.3 Gladman are concerned that in a previous iteration of the plan the sustainability appraisal supported a significantly more positive approach with the Council considering itself able to deliver 14% above its then significantly higher housing requirement. The current consultation is seeking to deliver a much lower number and Gladman suggest that this approach cannot be justified.

5.1.4 Given the issues expressed above with regard to the Duty to Cooperate, and the need for the Council to consider unmet housing needs the Councils SA is not fit for purpose in justifying it’s substantially lower housing requirement.
6 OBJECTIVELY ASSESSED HOUSING NEED

6.1 Background

6.1.1 The process of undertaking an OAN is clearly set out in the Framework principally in §14, §47, §152 and §159 and should be undertaken in a systematic and transparent way to ensure that the plan is based on a robust evidence base.

- 6.1.2 The starting point for this assessment requires local planning authorities to have a clear understanding of housing needs in their area. This involves the preparation of a SHMA working with neighbouring authorities where housing market areas cross administrative areas as detailed in §159 of the Framework. The Framework goes on to set out the factors that should be included in a SHMA including identifying “the scale and mix of housing and the range of tenures that the local population is likely to need over the plan period which:
  - Meets household and population projections taking account of migration and demographic change;
  - Addresses the need for all types of housing including affordable housing and the needs of different groups in the community (such as, but not limited to, families with children, older people, people with disabilities, service families and people wishing to build their own homes); and
  - Caters for housing demand and the scale of housing supply necessary to meet this demand.”

6.1.3 Key points that are worth noting from the above is that the objective assessment should identify the full need for housing before the Council consider undertaking any process of assessing the ability to deliver this figure. In addition, §159 specifically relates to catering for both housing need and housing demand within the authority area. It is worth pointing out that any assessment of housing need and demand within a SHMA must also consider the following factors: Falling household formation rates; net inward migration; the need to address the under provision of housing from the previous local plan period; the results of the Census 2011; housing vacancy rates including the need to factor in a housing vacancy rate for churn in the housing market; economic factors to ensure that the economic forecasts for an area are supported by sufficient housing to deliver economic growth; off-setting a falling working age population by providing enough housing to ensure retiring workers can be replaced by incoming residents; addressing affordability and delivering the full need for affordable housing in an area.

6.1.4 Of particular importance is the need to consider market signals. The consideration of market signals is one of the core planning principles considered in §17 of the Framework, which states:

‘...Plans should take account of market signals, such as land prices and housing affordability, and set out a clear strategy for allocating sufficient land which is suitable for development in their area, taking account of the needs of the residential and business communities.’

6.1.5 Of critical importance is what the Framework goes onto say in §158 in the section discussing Plan Making. It states here:

‘Local planning authorities should ensure that their assessment of and strategies for housing, employment and other uses are integrated, and that they take full account of relevant market and economic signals.’

6.1.6 Market signals are therefore at the very core of what the Framework is trying to achieve in promoting sustainable development and boosting the supply of housing land.

6.1.7 The formal publication of the Planning Practice Guidance (PPG) in March 2014 gives further explanation to what the Framework means with regard to market signals, and sets out, in a range of paragraphs, the way in which local planning authorities should go about factoring in relevant market signals in arriving at their OAN. §19 and §20 of the PPG gives guidance on what market signals should be taken into account and how plan makers should respond to these market signals. The below extracts identify some particularly pertinent points.

‘The housing need number suggested by household projections (the starting point) should be adjusted to reflect appropriate market signals, as well as other market indicators of the balance between the demand for and supply of dwellings. Prices of rents rising faster than the national/local average may well indicate particular market undersupply relative to demand.’
6.1.8 The paragraph goes on to indicate that these factors would include, but should not be limited to, land prices, house prices, rents, affordability, rates of development and overcrowding. However, given what the Framework says at §17, quoted above, it seems clear that particular consideration should be given to affordability.

6.1.9 In order to consider how market signals should be taken forward §20 identifies some key concepts:

‘Appropriate comparisons of indicators should be made. This includes comparison with longer term trends (both in absolute levels and rates of change) in the: housing market area; similar demographic and economic areas; and nationally. A worsening trend in any of these indicators will require upward adjustment to planned housing numbers compared to ones based solely on household projections.’ (emphasis added)

6.1.10 It is therefore clear that where market signals are apparent (in any of the indicators assessed), there is an absolute and clear direction that an upward adjustment to housing numbers is required. It is also clear that both the absolute level of change and the rates of change are considerations, and that local planning authorities need to carefully bench mark themselves against other areas. This should not simply be a case of considering neighbouring authorities but should look at, as well as these, local authorities on a national basis, if the demographic and economic indicators are relevant. Gladman are firmly of the view that considering comparisons purely against neighbouring authorities is not sufficiently robust and does not address the underlying issues which both the Framework and PPG are trying to tackle with regard to housing.

6.1.11 What is of further importance when considering these issues is the period of time analysed when considering both relative and absolute change. It has become apparent, in our consideration of a number of plans that many local authorities choose to look at periods of time that are not fully representative of the depth of the housing crisis which we are currently within.

6.1.12 The problems are noted in Fixing the Foundations: Creating a more prosperous nation published by HM Treasury in July 2015. In paragraph 9.7 the report states:

‘There remains more to do. As the London School of Economics (LSE) Growth Commission found, ‘under supply of housing, especially in high-growth areas of the country has pushed up house prices. The UK has been incapable of building enough homes to keep up with growing demand.’

6.1.13 Gladman are therefore of the view that local planning authorities must take a long term view when considering affordability and consider the relative and absolute change over a long term 15-20 year period, which coincides with the normal time span of a Local Plan. Authorities should assess, as a constituent part of their OAN, how they can improve affordability over the life time of a plan to a point where affordability is more in line with average earnings and affordable mortgage lending rates. They should assess a level of housing over the 15-20 year plan period that would enable this step change and consider its deliverability in the plan. Only through planning for significant housing growth can local authorities realistically tackle market signals in the way advocated by the PPG and tackle the affordability and housing crisis.

6.1.14 The need to identify the full OAN before considering any issues with the ability of a Local Planning Authority to accommodate that level of development has been confirmed in the High Court. Most notably in Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council v (1) Gallagher Homes Limited (2) Lioncourt Homes Limited where it was considered that arriving at a housing requirement was a two stage process and that first the unconstrained OAN must be arrived at. In the judgment it was stated:

“The NPPF indeed effected a radical change. It consisted in the two-step approach which paragraph 47 enjoined. The previous policy’s methodology was essentially the striking of a balance. By contrast paragraph 47 required the OAN [objectively assessed need] to be made first, and to be given effect in the Local Plan save only to the extent that that would be inconsistent with other NPPF policies. […] The two-step approach is by no means barren or technical. It means that housing need is clearly and cleanly ascertained. And as the judge said at paragraph 94, “[h]ere, numbers matter; because the larger the need, the more pressure will or might be applied to [impinge] on other inconsistent policies”.

6.1.15 Therefore, following the exercise to identify the full, OAN for housing in an area, “Local planning authorities should seek opportunities to achieve each of the economic, social and environmental dimensions of sustainable development, and net gains across all three. Significant adverse impacts on any of these dimensions should be avoided and, wherever possible, alternative options which reduce or eliminate such impacts should be pursued. Where adverse impacts are unavoidable, measures to mitigate the impact should be considered. Where adequate mitigation measures are not possible, compensatory measures may be appropriate.” (NPPF §152)

6.1.16 This statement clearly sets out that local planning authorities should seek to deliver the full OAN and that this should be tested through the evidence base. Only where the evidence shows that this is not achievable should they then test other options to see if any significant adverse impacts could be reduced or eliminated by pursuing these options. If this is not possible then they should test if the significant adverse impacts could be mitigated and where this is not possible, where compensatory measures may be appropriate.

6.1.17 The final stage of the process is outlined in §14 and involves a planning judgement as to whether, following all of the stages of the process outlined above,

“Local Plans should meet OAN, with sufficient flexibility to adapt to rapid change, unless:

• specific policies in this Framework indicate development should be restricted.”
• any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in this framework taken as a whole; or

6.1.18 It is also worth noting that the final part of this sentence refers to footnote 9 of the Framework which sets out the types of policies that the Government consider to be restrictive. These include:

“sites protected under the Birds and Habitat Directive (see paragraph 119) and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest; land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, Heritage Coast or within a National Park (or the Broads Authority); designated heritage assets; and locations at risk of flooding or coastal erosion”.

6.1.19 Although this list is not exhaustive it is clear that local landscape designations, intrinsic value of the countryside, the character of areas, green gaps etc. are not specifically mentioned as constraints by the Framework.

6.1.20 The PPG contains guidance to support local authorities in objectively assessing and evidencing development needs for housing (both market and affordable) and economic development. This document supports and provides further guidance on the process of undertaking such assessments, in addition to what is set out in the Framework.

6.2 Objective Assessment of Housing Needs for Guildford

6.2.1 Gladman are concerned with the OAN figure for Guildford and the robustness of the evidence to support it. The SHMA undertaken by GL Hearn for the authorities of Guildford, Waverley and Woking was published in 2016 which set out the full OAN for Guildford to be 693 dwellings per annum. This considered it was necessary to include an uplift to the 2012 household projections to support economic growth, improve affordability and student growth impact. Whilst a fairly positive assessment it was considered that to truly improve affordability this uplift would need to be taken significantly further than the 5% as proposed.

6.2.2 Following consultation on the draft Local Plan, an addendum to the SHMA has published solely for Guildford which is not a full assessment of the HMA. Whilst increasing the affordability uplift, still significantly less than the level it should be, this addendum has significantly reduced the uplift to support economic growth resulting in an OAN less than previously consulted on. It is considered that this is not a robust figure that is positive, justified or effective.

6.2.3 It is expected that the uplift for market signals should be at least 25%, equal to that of neighbouring Waverley, following examination of the Waverley Local Plan where the Inspector considered this to be a more appropriate figure. It is also not considered appropriate to reduce the economic growth uplift and it is considered that the Council are planning for significantly less than what should be the full OAN for Guildford.

6.2.4 We do consider that the SHMA is a robust piece of evidence, nor do we consider the proposed reduction in the housing requirement justified.

8.1.1 Having considered the Guildford Submission Local Plan, Gladman are concerned about a range of matters including the housing requirement, evidence base, and delivery of some site allocations.

8.1.2 The plan must be positively prepared, effective, justified and consistent with national policy to be found sound at examination. In the first instance, the Council should look again at its housing requirement and subsequent site allocations, and crucially the assessments that underpin the decisions made.

8.1.3 It is apparent that there are substantial problems with the OAN for Guildford and the subsequent housing requirement derived from it. The Council is failing to meet its requirements in meeting it’s OAN and in contributing to meeting the already known unmet housing needs of the HMA. A number of issues with the GL Hearn OAN methodology were exposed during the examination of the Waverley Local Plan Part 1, these have led to a significant increase in the housing requirement for Waverley. We consider that such an upward adjustment is also required in Guildford. The plan as written is unsound as it is not adequately planning to meet its housing requirements.

8.1.4 Furthermore even should the Council wish to put forward the argument that the constraints of the district mean that it cannot meet its housing requirement, when this requirement has been properly assessed, there is currently insufficient evidence to justify this position. Indeed the Councils previous iteration of the plan was accompanied by evidence that suggested the previously planned for housing figure was both sound and acceptable.

8.1.5 The Guildford Local Plan is therefore considered not to be sound.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

4 DUTY TO COOPERATE

4.1.1 The Duty to Cooperate is a legal requirement established through Section 33(A) of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, as amended by Section 110 of the Localism Act. It requires local authorities to engage constructively, actively and on an ongoing basis with neighbouring authorities on cross-boundary strategic issues throughout the process of Plan preparation. As demonstrated through the previous withdrawn plan, and 13 other Local Plans since 2011, if a Council fails to satisfactorily discharge its Duty to Cooperate, this cannot be rectified through modifications and an Inspector must recommend non-adoption of the Plan.

4.1.2 Whilst Gladman recognise that the Duty to Cooperate is a process of ongoing engagement and collaboration1, as set out in the PPG it is clear that it is intended to produce effective policies on cross-boundary strategic matters. In this regard, Hart must be able to demonstrate that it has engaged and worked with neighbouring authorities, alongside their existing joint working arrangements, to satisfactorily address cross boundary strategic issues, and the requirement to meet any unmet housing needs. This is not simply an issue of consultation but a question of effective cooperation.

4.1.3 The Local Plan as written clearly fails to meet the Duty to Cooperate. Guildford has failed to adequately, alongside its HMA wide partners, meet the unmet housing needs of the HMA. In the ongoing examination of the Waverley Local Plan, the Inspector has indicated that Waverley will be required to take 50% of Woking’s currently identified unmet housing... need. Guildford must address how it will make a contribution towards meeting the other 50% of unmet housing need in the HMA. Furthermore, it must be remembered that this represents 50% of the currently identified figure, it is highly likely that this figure is a significant underestimation of the unmet housing needs of Woking and thus the HMA. The real figure that Guildford and Waverley will have to consider is therefore likely to increase.

4.1.4 It was apparent from the Waverley Local Plan examination that there was significant disagreement between the HMA wide authorities of Guildford, Woking and Waverley as to who should be taking what level of need. The government has made clear through the Housing White Paper that the current situation, where HMAs pass unmet need from authority to authority is untenable. The Guildford Local Plan contains insufficient evidence to justify the position of not contributing towards meeting HMA wide unmet needs, as such we do not consider that the plan soundly discharges the Duty to Cooperate.

7 GUILDFORD LOCAL PLAN

7.1 Vision and Objectives

7.1.1 Gladman are concerned that the vision outlined in the previous Local Plan has been significantly watered down by a general reduction in development levels across the area. As expressed in other areas of this representation we do not consider these changes can be justified by evidence. It is our concern therefore that the vision from the plan is fundamentally flawed and is not justified, effective, positively prepared or in accordance with national policy.

1.1 Environment Agency Position on Plan as a whole

1.1.1 Points of soundness summary
We welcome and support a number of the changes that have been incorporated into the Plan since we reviewed the Draft Guildford Borough Local Plan: strategy and sites dated July 2014. However, we consider the Plan to be UNSOUND in its current form due to issues relating to:

- Infrastructure Delivery Plan – Water quality
- Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Tests - site allocations and the justification for promoting certain sites
- Policy P4 – Flooding, flood risk and groundwater production zones
- Site Allocation Policies – safe access and egress of allocated sites A5 and A13

In its current form the Plan does not meet the tests of soundness in terms of being justified, effective or consistent with national policy. These points are summarised below.

- With regards to water quality the Plan does not reflect the evidence submitted in the Infrastructure Delivery Plan for wastewater capacity issues, which may result in an adverse impact on water quality. The Plan is not consistent with the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), paragraph 109, and is not justified by a robust evidence base.
- With regards to the Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Tests, we do not consider that sufficient evidence has been presented in this supporting document to justify the conclusions drawn in the Plan with respect to the allocation of certain sites. Without this evidence the Plan is not justified.
- With regards to Policy P4 we do not consider that sufficient reference has been made to the impacts of climate change on the flood risks associated with development. We consider that without specific mention of the flood risks associated with climate change that the Plan is not consistent with paragraph 99 of the NPPF.
- With regards to flood risk three of your allocated sites; A5: Jewsons, Walnut Close, Guildford; A13: Kernal Court, Walnut Close, Guildford; and A14: Wey Corner, Walnut Tree Close, Guildford, do not have the evidence on access and egress to support their allocation in the Plan. Without this evidence the deliverability of these sites is questionable and their inclusion is not consistent with NPPF paragraphs 100-102 of the NPPF.

Further details on these issues are provided in section 1.2, 1.3, 2.1 and 3.1 of this letter respectively.

1.2 Supporting Document: Draft Infrastructure Delivery Plan June 2016

1.2.1 Points of Soundness
We welcome paragraph 2.22 in the Plan and promotion of the principle that “Pressure on existing infrastructure and additional stress caused by planned growth must be addressed”. However, within the draft Infrastructure Delivery Plan (IDP) there is no evidence relating to environmental capacity and water quality and the impact of the growth being proposed in terms of the sewerage infrastructure needs and the impact of Water Framework Directive (WFD) objectives. Without this evidence the Plan is not based on robust evidence or consistent with national planning policy and is unsound.

Paragraph 3.10 and 3.11 state that Thames Water have advised that there is insufficient wastewater infrastructure in the Borough to satisfactorily accommodate some of your proposed development sites.

It is indicated that smaller allocated sites will provide the majority of the supply in the first five years of the Plan. However, some of these smaller sites have also been identified as causing an infrastructure concern for Thames Water. It is likely that planned Sewage Treatment Works (STW) upgrades will be in line with the next business planning period (2020-2025), unless additional funding can be obtained. The schedule of development indicates 1050 homes will be built before 2020. This suggests housing is proposed in advance of adequate infrastructure being in place which would not be consistent with paragraph 177 of the NPPF.

Therefore, we do not believe that the Plan is justified by your local evidence base or consistent with national planning policy and guidance.

1.2.2 Overcoming this point of unsoundness
To overcome this point of unsoundness we recommend that a Water Cycle Study
(WCS) (or equivalent assessment) needs to be completed to assess the impacts on water quality and WFD objectives of the cumulative growth proposed within the Plan (13,860 homes).

1.3 Supporting Document: Sequential and Exception Tests

1.3.1 Points of Soundness

Within the Plan and this supporting documents we find that the Plan is unsound because the flood risk sequential and exception tests have not been appropriately applied to justify the conclusions drawn in the Plan.

Point 1 – It is unclear from Appendix A (Stage 2) why some sites appearing to be ranked as having low flood risk in the table appear to have been discounted due to “Suitability concerns: high flood risk” while other sites with higher flood risk have been promoted as site allocations.

For example, sites LAA reference 2167 and 2168 have both been considered as potential traveller accommodation sites and both appear to be in Flood Zone 1 but have been discounted due to “Suitability concerns: high flood risk”. In contrast, LAA reference sites 2106 and 241 both containing Flood Zone 3 have both been promoted to site allocations A54 and A50 respectively.

On further examination of Appendix A (Stage 3) in the Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Test and the associated Site Proformas within the Level 2 Strategic Flood Risk Assessment it does become clear that the potential allocated sites have a flood zone breakdown as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Site Allocation</th>
<th>A50</th>
<th>A54</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>LAA Reference</td>
<td>241</td>
<td>2106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Address</td>
<td>Land at Whittles Drive, Aldershot Road, Normandy</td>
<td>Lakeview, Lakeside Road, Ash Vale</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flood zone 1</td>
<td>73.7%</td>
<td>72.7%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flood zone 2</td>
<td>20.3%</td>
<td>9.6%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flood zone 3a</td>
<td>6%</td>
<td>17.7%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flood zone 3b</td>
<td>-</td>
<td>-</td>
</tr>

As such both sites A50 and A54 appear to be deliverable. However, as no site assessment or further explanation is provided for excluding 2167 and 2168 other than the phrase “high flood risk” when considered against the reasonable alternatives the decision made to exclude these sites and include site A50 and A54 appears to be unjustified.

Point 2 – Appendix A (Stage 2) of the supporting evidence document Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Test provides a list of all the potential sites provided to GBC for consideration (after those sites which are not suitable in planning policy terms had been excluded in Stage 1). These have been ranked in order of flood risk preference (from least preferable to most preferable) based on the highest flood zone classification within the site. Following an assessment, where sites have not been taken forward as potential site allocations you have provided a brief reason for not doing so.

However, many sites have been discounted for being “Not identified in the Greenbelt and Countryside Study” but no further detail is given in the table or Proposed Submission Local Plan (2016) – Flood Risk Sequential and Exception Test methodology and outcomes. It is unclear why this reason may overrule flood risk, a constraint that potentially places people and property at severe risk.

1.3.2 Overcoming these points of unsoundness

Point 1 – We recommend that you expand upon the discounting reason “high flood risk” within this table to provide justification of the decisions made.
Point 2 – We recommend that an explanation is given in the methodology to justify why “Not identified in the Greenbelt and Countryside Study” is reason for discounting potential allocation sites.

1.3.3 Points of clarity and accuracy
Within Appendix A (Stage 3) there appears to be an error on the heading of columns the Stage 3 table (pages 35-38). The columns to the right of the Stage 3 table indicate the compatibility of different flood risk categories according to the flood zone in which they are located. The positioning of “Exception Test” in these columns appears to have been incorrectly carried out.

For instance, Table 3 (reference ID 7-067-20140306) of the National Planning Practice Guidance (NPPG) does not indicate that the Exception Test is required for less vulnerable development but the Stage 3 table indicates that it is for a number of sites. Table 3 of the NPPG also indicates that more vulnerable development in flood zone 3a should pass the Exception Test. However, your Stage 3 table indicates that it would not be an appropriate development type for this flood zone, while highly vulnerable development would be should it meet the requirements of the Exception Test.

In contrast this does appear to have been carried out correctly in Appendix 1 Stage 2. The route of this problem may be a formatting issue with the columns in the Stage 2 table which do not follow the sequence in the NPPG:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Essential infrastructure</th>
<th>Highly vulnerable</th>
<th>More vulnerable</th>
<th>Less vulnerable</th>
<th>Water compatible</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

We believe that the Stage 3 table has been incorrectly labelled in this sequence:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Highly vulnerable</th>
<th>More vulnerable</th>
<th>Less vulnerable</th>
<th>Water compatible</th>
<th>Essential infrastructure</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Please can you confirm this formatting issue is indeed the reason behind this inconsistency with this essential element of your Local Plan evidence base?

1.4 Additional Comments on the Plan as a whole
We welcome and support the Spatial Vision (Section 3.0 – Our vision and ambition) to guide the creation of the plan. However, alongside the existing themes outlined in the Spatial Vision we would recommend the inclusion of a section on the implementation of a green and blue infrastructure network that contributes to protecting and enhancing the water environment, improving habitat connectivity between designated sites and important habitats, managing flood risk, reducing diffuse pollution and re-connecting people with nature.

3.1.3 Policy A14: Wey Corner, Walnut Close, Guildford
This site lies partly within flood zone 2 and 3 we note that safe access may be questionable. It does not appear that this has been taken into account and no evidence that demonstrates that safe access is achievable has been provided.

3.2 Overcoming this point of unsoundness
In its current form the Plan is not consistent with national planning policy as it fails to justify the allocation of these sites. At present evidence is not in place to demonstrate safe access and egress. To justify the allocation of these sites in the Plan an assessment should be made of the safe access and egress routes from these sites to identify the hazards associated them. We consider that these assessments should be made prior to the allocation of these sites for future ‘more vulnerable’ residential development.

Where hazards are greater than a very low hazard consideration should be given to whether flood plans specific to the development would be acceptable. There should be sufficient information to enable Emergency Planners to determine if evacuation is possible. Issues to cover may include the rate of onset of flooding, the availability of flood warnings, duration of flooding, depth of flooding and the length of the evacuation route.

3.1 Points of Soundness
In our letter dated 19 September 2014 regarding the DRAFT Guildford Borough Local Plan: strategy and Sites (July 2014) we raised concerns about the provision of safe access and egress to a number of allocated sites. While some of these sites appear to have had their proposed use flood risk classification changed from ‘more vulnerable’ to ‘less vulnerable’, or have been removed from the site allocations list entirely; two sites, detailed below, are still allocated for ‘more vulnerable’ housing development. At present the Plan is unsound as the evidence is not in place to demonstrate that these safe access and egress can be provided to these sites:

3.1.1 Policy A5: Jewsons, Walnut Close, Guildford
Although this site lies within flood zone 1 we noted that safe access may be questionable. It does not appear that this has been taken into account and no evidence that demonstrates that safe access is achievable has been provided.

2.2 Policy I4 – Green and blue infrastructure
We welcome and support this policy and specifically the commitment to protect and enhance waterways.

2.2.1 Points of accuracy and clarity
Paragraph 4.6.35 – We welcome the production of a separate Development Management Policy (DMP) and a Green and Blue Infrastructure Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) to set out how ecological networks will be managed and enhanced. We would like to be involved in this and suggest that separate policies and guidance are written for biodiversity and the water environment.

2.1 Policy P4 – Flooding, flood risk and groundwater source production
We support the inclusion of a specific policy for flood risk and welcome the protection of groundwater within Policy P4. In addition, we pleased to see the distinction between developed and undeveloped flood zone 3b explained and included within the policy wording, which provides clarity on what is appropriate development in the functional flood plain.

2.1.1 Points of soundness
We do not consider that sufficient reference has been made to the impacts of climate change on the flood risks associated with development. The NPPF sets out how the planning system should help minimise vulnerability and provide resilience to the impacts of climate change. We consider that without specific mention of the flood risks associated with climate change that the Plan is not consistent with paragraph 99 of the NPPF.

2.1.2 Overcoming this point of unsoundness
We recommend that in accordance with the paragraph 99 of the NPPF Policy P4 can be re-worded to reference climate change. For instance:

a site-specific flood risk assessment demonstrates that the development will be safe for its lifetime, taking into account climate change, including access and egress, without increasing flooding elsewhere, and where possible, will reduce flood risk overall

2.1.3 Points of accuracy and clarity
In the interests of accuracy and clarity we recommend that this Policy is retitled to reflect the correct terminology:

Policy P4 – Flooding, flood risk and groundwater protection zones

In the interest of accuracy and completeness we suggest that the following is added to the end of Paragraph 4.3.39:

All other land surrounding this is important flow routes and should be retained.

In the interest of accuracy and clarity we suggest that the following is added to the details regarding development in areas at risk of flooding in Policy P4:

site drainage systems are appropriately designed taking into account of storm events up to 1 in 100 year chance of flooding with an appropriate allowance for climate change allowance.

While Policy P4 makes reference to the protection of Groundwater Source Protection Zones, however, in-line with paragraph 109 of the NPPF in the interests of accuracy and clarity we suggest the following wording:

Development within Groundwater Source Protection Zones and Principal Aquifers will only be permitted provided that it has no adverse impact on the quality of the groundwater resource and does not put at risk the ability to maintain a public water supply.

Final comments
Once again, thank you for contacting us. Our comments are based on our available records and the information submitted to us. Please quote our reference number, letter subject and letter date in any future correspondence.

We would like to work with you further on your Local Plan to ensure that all of the potential issues are satisfactorily addressed and to enable Guildford Borough to have a robust, effective local plan that is reflective of national planning policy and your local evidence base.

2.4 Appendix C Infrastructure Schedule
We note that your WQA is mentioned on page 345. It is suggested the purpose of this document is just to assess waste water infrastructure. This is only one half of the assessment. The other is considering the environmental capacity of the effluent receiving waters. This environmental capacity consideration has been included as part of the assessment that AECOM has undertaken on behalf of the council. For the sake of accuracy and clarity we recommend that this is updated to include this aspect of the WQA.

3.1.2 Assessment of climate change

Within your plan the following four sites are based on high level flood risk information:

- POLICY A39: Land near Horsley railway station, Ockham Road, North, East Horsley (assessment based on Flood Zones)
- POLICY A40: Land to the north of West Horsley (assessment based on Flood Zones)
- POLICY A50: Land at Whittles Drive, Aldershot Road, Normandy (assessment based on Flood Zones)
- POLICY A54: Lakeview, Lakeside Road, Ash Vale (assessment based on detailed flood model (Blackwater 2007) 1 in 100 year flood)

Although you have deemed these to have passed the flood risk sequential test as noted below we would expect that at planning application stage detailed flood modelling is undertaken.

We note that the new climate change allowances haven’t been specifically mentioned in the Level 2 SFRA or local plan. However, the majority of allocated sites have detailed modelling where the 1 in 1000 year (0.1% annual exceedance probability) is available, these sites have been assessed against the 1 in 1000 year flood. For the purpose of accuracy and clarity we recommend that this approach of using the 1 in 1000 year flood event to account for climate change is clearly set out in the SFRA Level 2.

If these sites are adopted, at the planning application stage we would expect an assessment of climate change (using the new allowances) to be undertaken by applicants. We recommend applicants consult with the most recent national climate change guidance including our Thames Climate change guidance.

2 Points of clarity and accuracy
2.1 Policy ID1: Infrastructure and delivery
The policy may benefit from incorporating some of the recommendations that came from the Water Quality Assessment (WQA) undertaken by AECOM.
For major developments in the Guildford, Ripley, and Ash Vale Sewage Treatment Works (STW) catchments it is recommended that the council embeds a development control policy within the local plan. This could require developers to provide evidence that they have consulted the sewer undertaker regarding capacity of the sewer network. Drainage strategies should also be submitted as part of the application to enable the sewer undertaker and the Environment Agency to fully assess the potential impacts on the sewer network. Developments should not be occupied before capacity of the sewer network to accommodate flows and capacity at the works is in place to treat to the required standard. For cases where capacity is not in place, the council could include wording in the policy on Grampian conditions.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
2.2 Policy ID4: Green and blue infrastructure

We welcome and support the recognition of the differences between green and blue infrastructure. We recommend that use of the word “waterways” is changed to “watercourses”.

2.2.1 Green and Blue Infrastructure Supplementary Planning Document, paragraph 4.6.35

We recommend that separate development management policies are written for Biodiversity, Green Infrastructure and Open Spaces and The protection and enhancement of river corridors. Please refer to policies DM11, DM12, DM13, DM14, DM15 and DM16 of Wycombe District Council’s Local Plan. We would also welcome the inclusion of a separate advice note on watercourses, similar to the one produced for Wycombe District Council (River Wye Advice Note) which really values the watercourses as an important asset in its district and provides advice to developers and landowners on how to protect and enhance the river environment. The River Wye Advice Note includes sections on the design of new riverside development (and the inclusion of buffer zones); landscape design of the river bank; public access; surface water run-off and the avoidance of pollution and weirs/barriers to fish passage. We’d be happy to work with the Council on this.

2.2.2 Blue Infrastructure

We welcome the reference to the Water Framework Directive in paragraph 4.6.40. However, we recommend that the following wording is used for the first sentence in this paragraph:

2.2.3 Policy ID4: Green and blue infrastructure

In policy point (6) we recommend that mention of about non-native invasive species. Developments can result in the spread of non-native invasive species which have devastating ecological and economic impacts. Where identified, these species should be eradicated/controlled under an agreed scheme.

In policy point (7) we recommend that the second sentence is replaced with: “Development proposals that are likely to have an adverse impact on the functions and setting of any watercourse and its associated corridor will not be permitted. Development should seek to conserve and enhance the ecological, landscape and recreational value of the watercourse and its associated corridor through good design and seeking out opportunities to deliver WFD objectives.”

This policy should identify potential opportunities for aligning with Water Framework Directive (WFD) objectives and consider the pressures and aims outlined in the River Basin Management Plan (RBMP). For instance, many of the actions that have been highlighted to bring the River Wey into good ecological status involve re-naturalising the bank by removing hard engineering, encouraging natural buffer zones to the watercourse, removing barriers to fish and eel passage, reducing diffuse pollution and tackling non-native invasive species. Some WFD objectives can only be delivered via catchment wide/cross-boundary planning which the Wey Landscape Partnership (currently hosted by the Surrey Wildlife Trust) was set up to achieve - please see comment above on working in partnership and the Wey Habitat Restoration Strategy.

2.2.4 Buffer zone

Paragraph 4.6.48 to a buffer zone for non-navigable rivers. Please note that all rivers (navigable or not) should be protected and enhanced by an 8m wide minimum undeveloped buffer zone (measured from bank top) on both sides of the river. Bank top is defined as the point at which the bank meets the level of the surrounding land. 8m is the minimum required for main rivers under the Thames Region land drainage byelaws.

However, on a greenfield site where there is plenty of land available, we would expect to see a wider buffer zone of a minimum of 10m on both sides of the watercourse that varies in size and shape to include larger areas. It may be appropriate to look at a much larger buffer on certain sites but this should be assessed on a site by site basis. The provision of a buffer zone should also be supported by a long term ecological management plan.

2.2.5 Key evidence
We note that the WQA is not referenced with the key evidence green box but this document provides evidence to underpin this policy and should therefore be included.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

“watercourses”.
“Development proposals that are likely to have an adverse impact on the functions and setting of any watercourse and its associated corridor will not be permitted. Development should seek to conserve and enhance the ecological, landscape and recreational value of the watercourse and its associated corridor through good design and seeking out opportunities to deliver WFD objectives.”

1 Points of soundness

1.1 Points of soundness summary
We welcome and support a number of the changes that have been implemented since we reviewed the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites dated June 2016. However, we consider the plan to be UNSOUND in its current form due to issues relating to flood risk.

1.2 Policy P4: Flooding, flood risk and groundwater protection zones
We consider that Policy P4 does not reflect some of the conclusions within the evidence submitted in the Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (SFRA) Level 1. Therefore, we do not consider this policy to be justified by the evidence base or consistent with the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) and associated Planning Practice Guidance (PPG). On page 5 of the Level 1 SFRA it is made clear with regards to development within the functional floodplain that “there should be no increase in development vulnerability or intensification in use”. We note that this is not reflected in Policy P4.

1.2.1 Overcoming this point of soundness
In order to overcome this point of soundness we recommend that Policy P4 (3) is updated to reflect your SFRA:
“Development proposals in the ‘developed’ flood zone 3b will also only be approved where the footprint of the proposed building(s) is not greater than that of the existing building(s) and there will be no increase in development vulnerability or intensification in use. Proposals within these areas should facilitate greater floodwater storage.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

"and there will be no increase in development vulnerability or intensification in use"
2.3 Policy P4: Flooding, flood risk and groundwater protection zones
We welcome the inclusion of a majority of the advice we provided in July 2016, in particular the specific mention of the flood risks associated with climate change within Policy P4 (2) (c).
2.3.1 Paragraph 4.3.36
For the sake of clarity we recommend adding the date of the Flood and Water Management Act (2010). In addition, specific mention of Thames Water as a Risk Management Authority could be made, as they have a significant role in relation to managing flood risk from sewers.
2.3.2 Paragraph 4.3.42
We welcome the recognition of sensitive groundwater receptors within the Borough. We recommend that reference is made to the most up-to-date version of the Environment Agency’s groundwater protection position statements which can be found at:
2.3.3 Site allocations and groundwater protection
We wish to note that sites within the inner source protection zone (SPZ1) often have specific requirements to protect groundwater. We recommend that the following groundwater issues are added to the list of key considerations for the preferred sites listed in Appendix A to this letter.

 Assumptions adopted

I understand the number of houses proposed arises from a strategic housing market assessment (SHMA) that was generated by a consultant’s mathematical model the basis of which has not been revealed to any member of the public nor apparently to Guildford Borough Council. This evidences a lack of rigorous testing and a willingness to conceal which is clearly unacceptable on both counts.

Having taken the SHMA housing number (the basis of which is unknown) it is understood that this has been further increased by Guildford Borough Council to give a population increase which is almost 70% higher than the official national estimates for population growth in the Borough. One is therefore led to question the rationale and wisdom of those who have been responsible for the preparation of these proposals.

Effectively all of these lead to an increase of up to 35% in existing West Horsley households – which is greater than any other single area within the Borough and certainly dramatic by any standards.

How can any public officer seriously propose such a dramatic impact upon the lives of people without a more rigorous and study and understanding of the parameters adopted and basis of the proposals put forward?

As submitted, these proposals clearly require a total “re-think” as they affect West Horsley and perhaps other locations as well should the same fundamental discrepancies have similar application elsewhere.

As such, I wish to formally object to the proposals submitted and suggest that they require a complete reconsideration and that the basis on which they have been considered is not only flawed but requires greater transparency to permit meaningful consideration, not only by the officers who have put forward these proposals but also by the electorate that they are effectively paid to look after!

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I have been a resident of West Horsley for some 24 years and write to express profound regret at the proposals which have been introduced which in my opinion lack careful consideration and wish to raise the following observations by way of an objection to these proposals.

I would first add that I am not directly affected by the development proposals but like many others, are aghast at the lack of diligence that is evident in the proposals which have been produced and comment as follows.

Proposals for removal of West Horsley and East Horsley villages from the green belt

At a time when properties within Central London remain substantially vacant in exclusive residential areas then to undertake further residential development outside the core areas of population, (i.e. Central London and within the ring of the M25), will lead to increased travelling time for commuters, lack of consideration for the environment and a lack of “sustainable” development. Far better use could be made of developments in existing “brown field” sites with high rise developments where people will actually choose to live rather than consuming acres of good quality agricultural land or land situated within the established green belt. If an encroachment is made on the green belt, then quite simply – where will this stop? Increased travelling times for those leaving London at weekends to enjoy public open space will inevitably rise and this will lead to further environmental damage. The green belt has served the South of England well for over 50 years and there is no good reason to introduce such a change – especially given that the population projections maybe impacted by recent political development such as the withdrawal from the EU and the projections on population growth prepared by Central Government may now be considered wholly erroneous.

Increase of some 385 homes to West Horsley and some 100 homes to East Horsley

It will be noted that the proposed figures for additional housing are in addition to those which have already been provided for in the proposed Parish development sites. However, no real consideration appears to have been given to the impact upon the infrastructure which is already overloaded in terms of the following:

1. local schools are full and already over-subscribed with more demand than places available;
2. medical facilities are already stretched;
3. drainage is inevitably inadequate;
4. the existing highway system is inadequate to take further population growth of the levels proposed without leading to severe safety concerns and increases in the number of accidents to both pedestrians, cyclists and other road users;
5. car parking within both East and West Horsley is limited and is already at capacity at Horsley Station. Given the expectation that the majority of the proposed housing will be sold to commuters, this will simply exacerbate parking within the existing centre which is already full. What though has been given to this?
6. it is also noticeable that the percentage of new homes proposed within the proposed “Guildford Plan” involves an increase of some 35% more than the existing number of houses in the Parish compared to 16% in Ash and Tongham District Council and just 11% in Guildford Town – the latter location in particular benefiting from substantially superior facilities and more readily capable of taking such growth as an appendage to an established urban area!

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Development of over 2,000 house village at Ockham (the former Wisley Airfield)

The proposal at this location of some 2,000 houses with mixed housing, retail, commercial, traveller and school development under two miles away would be significant in itself. To further compound this with proposed extensive developments at Burnt Common (400 houses and commercial developments and Gosden Hill Farm, Burpham 2,000 and mixed used developments) in addition to the impact upon West Horsley of the proposed developments within those Parishes, is more reflective of the form of development one might see in a Stalinist society rather than a caring and listening, democratic society. It also evidences a total lack of real consideration for residents within the districts concerned.

INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW

These representations have been prepared by Barton Willmore LLP on behalf of Zurich Assurance Limited and their fund managers Columbia Threadneedle (hereafter referred to as ‘Zurich’) in respect of their landholding at Broadford Business Park, Broadford Park, Shalford GU4 8ED, which lies to the south of Guildford.

These representations are submitted in response to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites (‘the Proposed Submission GBLP’), which Guildford Borough Council (GBC) has published for consultation under Regulation 19 of the Town and Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012 (‘the Local Planning Regulations’) for a 6 week period on the 6 June 2016.

Zurich previously submitted representations responding to the Draft Local Plan: Strategy and Sites (‘the Draft GBLP’), which Guildford Borough Council (GBC) has published for consultation under Regulation 18 of the Local Planning Regulations that was carried out between July and September 2014. The Draft GBLP outlined the draft strategic policies for the borough and proposed allocation of sites for various types of development, including residential, so to realise GBC’s vision, aims and spatial strategy.

GBC’s Local Development Scheme (LDS), approved at the meeting of the Council’s Executive on 29 September 2015, explains that following the completion of the current consultation, the Proposed Submission GBLP is to be submitted to the Secretary of State (SoS) for independent examination in December 2016. An Examination in Public (EiP) is proposed for April 2017. Subject to the Examiner’s findings, GBC anticipate it will adopt the new GBLP as the Development Plan for Guildford Borough in December 2017, at which stage it will replace the saved policies of the current adopted Local Plan (2003).

Overview

The Strategic Vision for Guildford Borough, outlined in Section 3 of the Proposed Submission GBLP, describes GBC’s plan for sustainable growth of the borough up to 2033. The vision identifies four key core themes, namely society, environment, economy and infrastructure, which will be used to inform the delivery of GBC’s strategic objectives.

Due to a number of factors, there is insufficient land available within the Borough’s existing urban areas and village settlements to accommodate the objectively assessed needs of the area. As recognised by GBC within the Proposed Submission GBLP, “exceptional circumstances” justify the allocation of land currently within the Green Belt to make an important contribution towards meeting development needs and to facilitate sustainable patterns of development

Broadford Business Park, Shalford

Broadford Business Park (hereafter referred to as ‘the Site’), which these representations focus upon, is previously developed land (PDL) and occupied by a number of buildings currently used as offices (Class B1(a)) and for light industrial (Class B1(c)) purposes. A more detailed description of the Site is set out at Section 2 of these representations.

The Site was first identified as a prospective development site in the Guildford Borough Land Availability Assessment (LAA) (current version dated February 2016) (LAA ref: 2186). Subsequently, the Site was allocated for redevelopment as part of the Draft GBLP (ref: Site 81). The site allocation has been retained as part of the Proposed Submission GBLP (ref: Policy A34) and has been assessed as being capable of delivering 100 new homes in place of the existing employment uses.

Zurich supports the proposed site allocation, as set out in the Proposed Submission GBLP, for a residential development. The Site can make a meaningful contribution to the housing requirements of Shalford and the wider spatial and development aspirations for the borough.

The indicative masterplan proposals and technical documents that accompany these representations demonstrate that the following can be delivered during the plan period:

- The delivery of up to 100 new homes (including affordable housing), to reflect GBC’s preferred tenure mix;
- Design-led approach that enhances the setting of the adjacent conservation area;
- High quality hard and soft landscaping to enhance the setting of the nearby Area of Great Landscape Value;
- Improved flood attenuation and mitigation measures to reduce flood risk and surface water runoff rates; and
- The opportunity to secure financial contributions through the planning application process and New Homes Bonus to enhance local services and infrastructure.

To demonstrate the deliverability of the Site, these representations are accompanied by the technical documents listed below. The corresponding document reference number has been included for ease of reference:

- BBP2: Design Statement, including Illustrative Masterplan prepared by John Thompson and Partners;
- BBP3: Commercial Agents Report prepared by Savills;
- BBP4: Flood Risk Advice Letter prepared by WSP;
- BBP5: Landscape and Visual Commentary prepared by Scarp Landscape; and
- BBP6: Transport Note prepared by TTP.

Overarching Policy Context

The representations will have regard to paragraph 14 of the NPPF, which states that at the heart of the Framework is a presumption in favour of sustainable development, which should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking. For plan-making this means that:

- Local planning authorities should positively seek opportunities to meet the development needs of their area;
- Local Plans should meet objectively assessed needs, with sufficient flexibility to adapt to rapid change, unless:
1. Any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in this Framework taken as a whole; or
2. Specific policies in this Framework indicate development should be restricted.

Zurich’s representations seek to support GBC in ensuring that the Proposed Submission GBLP meets national planning policy and guidance within the context of the tests of soundness identified at paragraph 182 of the NPPF and the guidance contained in Planning Practice Guidance (PPG) relevant to the preparation of Local Plan (ref ID: 12). Paragraph 182 of the NPPF explains that the Local Plan will be examined by an independent Inspector, whose role is to assess whether the plan has been prepared in accordance with the Duty to Cooperate, legal and procedural requirements, and whether it is sound. A local planning authority should submit a plan for examination which it considers is “sound” – namely that it is:

- Positively prepared – the plan should be prepared based on a strategy which seeks to meet objectively assessed development and infrastructure requirements, including unmet requirements from neighbouring authorities where it is reasonable to do so and consistent with achieving sustainable development;
- Justified – the plan should be the most appropriate strategy, when considered against the reasonable alternatives, based on proportionate evidence;
- Effective – the plan should be deliverable over its period and based on effective joint working on cross-boundary strategic priorities; and
- Consistent with national policy – the plan should enable the delivery of sustainable development in accordance with the policies in the Framework.

Whilst having regard to the overall objectives of the Proposed Submission GBLP, particular attention will be given to demonstrate that the Site is free from constraint and meets the availability, suitability and deliverability tests referred to in paragraph 47 of the NPPF. Zurich’s representations include technical assessments addressing the key policy considerations and demonstrating how the Site could be brought forward through an indicative masterplan and accompanying Design Statement that has been prepared by JTP architects.

General analysis of the policies particularly relevant to Zurich’s interests at the Site is provided. Where Zurich are proposing changes to Policy, these are highlighted in bold whilst all proposed deletions are struck through.

SITE DESCRIPTION

Broadford Business Park is situated to the south-west of the village, and identified settlement, of Shalford. The 1.5 hectare site is within the single freehold ownership of Zurich. An aerial photograph of the Site is included in Figure 1 below.

This previously developed site falls within the Metropolitan Green Belt and forms part of the locally designated Area of Great Landscape Value (AGLV) and Corridor of the River Wey (see Figure 2 below). Notably, the Site is located within 5 – 7km of the Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (SPA), which is beyond the zone of influence on the SPA as determined by Natural England. The LAA 2016 advises that development at the Site may have an impact on the SPA, judged on a case by case basis, and in that respect GBC’s draft Infrastructure Delivery Plan (IDP) (June 2016) confirms that a contribution may be required to the Chantry Woods and Tyting Farm SANGs.

The Site is occupied by seven commercial buildings (extending to circa 6,500 sqm) that range from two to three storeys in height, namely:

- Bishopsgate House;
- Broadford House and Park House;
- Narthfield House and Southfield House;
- River House; and
- Captia House.

Two single storey outbuildings are located towards the northern site boundary. The buildings on the Site benefit from office (Class B1(a)) and light industrial (Class B1(c)) uses. The remainder of the Site is covered by block paving used for car parking that are interspersed with small areas of soft landscaping and trees. The existing trees along the eastern boundary adjacent to the River Wey provide some screening to the open countryside beyond.
As can be seen from Figure 3 below, the northern part of the Site falls within Flood Zone 2 as defined by the Environment Agency, whilst the western extremity of the Site is within Flood Zone 3. The remainder of the Site is within Flood Zone 1.

The Site is accessed by Broadford Park, which crosses common land owned by GBC, and joins with the A248 (Broadford Road) that links the villages of Shalford and Peasmarsh.

Immediately to the west of the Site is the River Wey, which is designated as the Wey and Godalming Navigations Conservation Area. Beyond the river navigation is an open flood plain that is also part of the AGLV as well as is a Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI).

To the east is an area of common land, which comprises areas of open grassland and woodland. This area is a designated as a Site of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCI).

Planning History

The Site has limited planning history and has not been subject to any previous planning applications for redevelopment that might be relevant to informing the proposals going forward.

The Proposed Submission GBLP is accompanied by a comprehensive set of "Site Policies" that are designed to allocate land for a range of uses to support the vision, aims and objectives of the Local Plan. These policies consider sites within the whole of the borough, and allocate land for development including for housing, employment, retail and infrastructure.

Each policy lists uses that are acceptable on the identified land, alongside specific requirements and opportunities for future development proposals. Allocated sites are encouraged to progress development proposals as soon as possible, to help provide housing in the earlier stages of the plan period, to help boost housing supply. Equally, where allocated sites have been identified as likely to deliver in the later years of the plan period due to constraints, if these are resolved sooner, development proposals are encouraged.

The proposed site allocation for Broadford Business Park is set out at Policy A34 of the Proposed Submission GBLP. The Site Policy specifies the allocation, requirements and opportunities set out in Table 3 below that are to be taken into account as part of future proposals for the Site.
The supporting text that accompanies the Site Policy goes on to identify the ‘Key Considerations’ relevant to proposals for the Site. These give due consideration to the relevant planning policy designations that are summarised in Section 2 of these representations.

Zurich wholly supports GBC’s decision to allocate their land at Broadford Business Park for residential development. Zurich is committed to ensuring the optimal amount of new homes are delivered on the Site as early as possible within the plan period.

As explained in Section 2 of these representations, the Site is wholly within the single freehold ownership of Zurich. The majority of the Site will be available for redevelopment by 2019 through vacant procession, with Bishopsgate House later in the plan period. The Site is therefore available for development in the short to medium term and can provide a meaningful contribution to the borough’s housing needs in the short term.

Site Allocation Boundary

Zurich have noted that the access road (Broadford Park) that links the Site to the public highway (A248 – Broadford Road) has not been included in the proposed site allocation. Broadford Park is tarmacked private road that crosses common land owned by GBC (see Figure 6 below).

Zurich have a well-established easement agreement with GBC that provides a right of access over this land for users of the Site. It is anticipated that Broadford Park will continue to serve as the principle vehicular access to the Site. However, vehicular access would be possible from the north-west corner of the Site directly onto Broadford Road, if required. As such, Zurich considers this should be reflected in the Site Policy for the Site. Zurich therefore requests that GBC amend the site allocation boundary so to include Broadford Park and, for the sake of clarity, specify within Policy A34 that the land is only to be used to provide vehicular access to the Site. Furthermore, please note the change in site boundary at the corner adjacent to Broadford Cottages to reflect ownership. Further Figure 7 illustrates the suggested revised site allocation boundary.

Land Availability Assessment

In weighing up the decision whether to allocate the Site under Policy A34, GBC have had regard to the analysis contained in the LAA. Whilst the LAA is not an expression of planning policy and does not grant planning permission for new development, it does provide an evidential baseline that highlights prospective constraints and indicative capacity of any given site.

Consistent with the deliverability tests described at footnote 112 to paragraph 47 of the NPPF, LAA site reference 2186 considers the suitability, availability and achievability of new development on the Site.

In response to the analysis provided by site reference 2186, these representations are supported by a comprehensive suite of technical documents, prepared by an expert consultant team, to demonstrate that the Site is free from constraint and meets deliverability tests referred to in paragraph 47 of the NPPF. Through the detailed work undertaken, it has been possible to demonstrate that the Site is sustainable and can be well integrated into an existing and enhanced infrastructure network.

Set out below is a summary of the indicative development proposals for the Site along with the key findings of the technical documents prepared in response to the analysis contained in the LAA.

Development Proposals

A Design Statement with concept masterplan (Doc Ref: BBP-2) has been prepared by JTP architects to illustrate Zurich’s proposal for its allocation. The proposals would deliver up to 100 new homes in a range of sizes and tenures that will be tailored to meet local housing needs.

Based on a detailed analysis of the Site’s Constraints and Opportunities, page 8 of the statement presents an illustrative vision of how the Site could be developed. Development is envisaged as a range of short terraced homes, some detached and semi-detached dwellings and clusters of apartments. A prospective site layout has been prepared that offer an indication on how the Site could come forward for development. The housing mix, as summarised in Table 4 below, has been adjusted to achieve an appropriate balance between meeting local housing needs, as described in GBC’s SHMA.
whilst maintaining the character and appearance of the area. Ultimately, the final housing mix for the Site would be determined at the planning application stage in response to housing needs at that time.

The site area of the proposed site allocation is 1.5 hectares. This results in an overall development density of 66 dwellings per hectare (dph).

The layout provides a high degree of pedestrian permeability between the proposed development and the existing community, as well as making better use of the existing green and blue infrastructure, particularly in terms of improving access to the River Wey and maintaining a respectful relationship with the open countryside to the west. New landscaping across the Site will also increase opportunities to improve the biodiversity value of the Site and integrate more effectively with the SNCI and SSSI areas to the east and west.

Consistent with the objectives of Policy H2 of the Proposed Submission GBLP, the proposals for the Site will ensure affordable homes are delivered in line with GBC’s policies. Further discussions will be conducted with GBC’s Housing Team to finalise the particulars of the affordable housing products and that the proposed is reflective of local housing needs.

The Site is within easy reach of a wide range of areas of public open space, including the River Wey Navigation and Shalford village green. Opportunities to provide contributions to enhance these areas of open space will be secured as part of redevelopment of the Site. A landscape buffer will be provided along the western site boundary for the benefit of future residents so to improve access to the River Wey and provide flood risk mitigation.

Technical Evidence to Support Allocation

As set out in Section 1 of these representations, a suite of technical assessments have been undertaken to address the key planning considerations relevant to the Site. Whilst additional technical studies will be required for any planning application to redevelop the Site, the following address the key issues relevant to the plan making process.

Commercial Agents Report (BBP-3)

A commercial agents report (and associated financial appraisals) has been prepared by Savills to support these representations. The report considers the following:

- Whether the existing buildings are suitable for refurbishment or whether they have reached the end of their economic life.
- Whether redevelopment of the site for employment use is economically viable.
- Whether there is a need for this current space within the Borough for employment purposes or whether there are better suited locations.

The report advises that the existing buildings are failing and the considerable cost of their refurbishment is not a viable option for a developer. It also confirms that alternate employment uses on the site as part of a redevelopment proposal would also be unviable and, in any event, the site is not best placed for such a use in terms of location or demand. Its concluding remark is: “refurbishment of the existing office stock or the redevelopment of the site with a new office scheme will not offer a viable proposition for developers or investors. If the Property were to be brought to the market in its current form we are of the opinion that demand will be from residential developers.”

Flood Risk Advice Letter (BBP-4)

A Flood Risk Advice letter has been prepared by WSP to accompany these representations. It provides a brief assessment of the baseline assessment of flood risk, climate change and drainage and concludes as follows:

“In summary, the site is located in Flood Zone 1, 2 and 3, but mainly Flood Zone 2 Residential development should be preferentially located in Flood Zone 1, followed by Flood Zones 2 and 3, as discussed in Sequential and Exception Tests. To allow for climate change, a basic assessment assumes the 1 in 100 plus climate change level to be 34.80m AOD. It is recommended that further discussions with the Environment Agency are undertaken to agree an approach for estimating the climate change level.
As shown by the GBC SFRA’s the site is sequentially appropriate for development as although there are preferential site outside the flood plain the required allocation for development cannot be met in these areas and that - “The LAA and sequential test identifies that there is no reasonably available site appropriate for the proposed development of 100 homes with a lower probability of flooding.”

Based on the current information available and the above assessment, and on the understanding that residential development is located above a level 34.80m AOD including suitable mitigation and management measures are utilised it is concluded that the proposed development is considered appropriate from the perspectives of flood risk.”

Transport Note (BBP-5)

A Transport Note prepared by TTP accompanies these representations which provides an overview of the site’s location, its accessibility and the change in traffic flows that might be expected.

It concludes that:

- The site is located within walking distance of wider facilities offered in the village, local amenities and public transport.
- Bus stops providing access to a number of routes are located within walking distance from the site and Shalford train station provides regular services to London and Reading.
- The level of traffic likely to be generated by a residential use will be comparable with the existing levels of daily activity and as such would not be expected to have a noticeable impact on the operation of the public highway.

Landscape and Visual Commentary (BBP-6)

The landscape and visual commentary provided by Scarp seeks to:

- Outline landscape and visual appraisal of the site and its surroundings,
- Guide the preparation of the master plan for the proposed residential development, and
- Provide a commentary on the effects of the preliminary development proposals on the local landscape and on existing views and visual amenity.

It advises that:

- The development proposal would have many positive effects on local landscape character and visual amenity.
- The proposed development would also introduce an architectural style and materials with a stronger sense of local distinctiveness.
- The existing green corridor alongside the river would be widened and enhanced in landscape and ecological terms.
- Green belt openness would be enhanced by an overall reduction in building heights and volume and by the reduction in the amount of hard-standing on the site.
- The development proposals would enhance the rural setting of the Wey floodplain.
- The widening of the green corridor alongside the river would allow for enhanced footpath access to the River Wey, creating a recreational route that would be safer and more inviting in terms of fewer blind-spots and less dominated by large-scale built form.
- The proposed set-back of buildings away further from the Wey and Godalming Navigations Conservation Area and the establishment of a wider, more robust tree/shrub framework would enhance the setting of the conservation area.
- The enhanced enclosure of built form on the site, as recommended by the Guildford Landscape Character Assessment and Guidance, would help conserve and enhance the pastoral character of the floodplain and the rural character of views from the River Wey.

Phasing within Plan Period

The majority of the site will be available for redevelopment in 2019 following vacant possession. Subject to planning, it is envisages that units could be delivered on the site 2/3 years later therefore a delivery timetable of circa 5-10 years in line with GBC LAA 2016. The redevelopment of Bishopsgate House will be later in the plan period, circa 10-15 year delivery period.

Delivering Sustainable Development

The NPPF states that the purpose of planning is to help achieve sustainable development. Paragraph 7 states that there are three dimensions to sustainable development, comprising economic, social and environmental roles.

Paragraph 8 emphasises the need for the planning system to balance these different dimensions.

The fundamental precept of the NPPF is a presumption in favour of sustainable development and Paragraph 14 states that this should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.

In the Table 5 below, we summarise how the proposals for Broadford Business Park comply with the definition of Sustainable Development as described in the NPPF.

SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

In summary, Zurich’s overall conclusions in responding to the Proposed Submission GBLP consultation are as follows:

1. Zurich supports GBC’s proposal to meet OAN in full;
2. Zurich is wholly supportive of GBC’s proposals to allocate land at Broadford Business Park for residential development purposes in accordance with the redevelopment of PDL in the Green Belt set out by the NPPF;
3. Broadford Business Park meets the deliverability tests set out in paragraph 47 of the NPPF;
4. The Site is within the single freehold ownership of Zurich meaning it is immediately available for development;
5. GBC should give further consideration to the inclusion of viability considerations when assessing the provision of affordable housing and planning obligations on new development sites;
6. The Site is sustainably located for future housing growth, being able to deliver a meaningful level of new and affordable housing;
7. Zurich is supportive of GBC’s economic development objectives and the removal of the strategic employment site designation from the Site. GBC’s economic development objectives will deliver a range of employment opportunities in line with GBC development strategy.

Zurich is committed to collaborative working with GBC, its partners, key stakeholders and the local community to ensure the future development of Broadford Business Park comes forward in a timely manner and in the early part of the plan period.

Zurich supports GBC’s intent within Policy E1 to deliver 3,200 additional B Class jobs by 2033 and to utilise sustainable employment development patterns to achieve this.

Seventeen designated sites make up the borough’s core supply of employment land and have been allocated as Strategic Employment Sites. Broadford Business Park has historically been allocated as a strategic employment site. However, as has been evidenced in the Commercial Agents Report that accompanies these representations (refer to Section 11 for more detail) the location of the Site combined with the substantial refurbishment costs makes the retaining the current designation unviable in the medium to long term.

GBC’s strategy has identified a varied supply and range of sites situated across the borough, which are tailored to meet local employment needs and retain a diverse local economy. Focusing economic growth on sustainably located sites that are in easy reach of public transport will also help achieve its strategic objective in reducing borough resident’s reliance on travel by private car.
Policy E3 seeks to “sustain and enhance” employment capacity (land, floorspace and jobs) in the Borough. It advises that employment floorspace will be protected across the Borough, particularly on the Strategic Employment Sites and Locally Significant Employment Sites, unless marketing evidence (varying levels of detail dependent on the site’s employment status) is provided to justify its loss.

Zurich supports GBC’s intent within Policy E3 however considers that the policy is too rigid and should be more flexibly worded to allow for other forms of evidence (such as: viability, building/structural survey evidence, local market assessment and employment land study) to justify the loss of employment floorspace. Each proposal should be considered on a site by site basis.

Furthermore, sites that are in an existing employment use, but allocated within the emerging Local Plan for an alternative use (such as Broadford Business Park), should not be protected by this policy and subject to the marketing requirement, as the site allocation confirms the acceptability of the site for the alternative use. The policy wording should be changed to reflect this.

Paragraph 4.2.1 that precedes Policy H1 seeks to ensure GBC meets the housing needs of its Borough, accommodating families, older people, people with disabilities, travellers and students.

Housing Mix

With regard to housing mix Policy H1 requires development to “…deliver a wide choice of homes and meet a range of accommodation needs as set out in the latest Strategic Housing Market Assessment”. The extract from GBC’s SHMA reproduced in Figure 4 below highlights the preferred housing mix appropriate to the housing needs in Guildford Borough.

Applying the 40% affordable housing target set out in Policy H2, discussed in more detail below, Zurich notes that the arithmetic in the above table is incorrect. Zurich therefore recommends GBC reviews the content of the SHMA and clarifies the policy requirement going forward. Table 2 offer an alternative approach assuming the proportion between market and affordable housing and associated dwelling mix remains unchanged.

Notwithstanding the above, Zurich supports the recognition contained in Policy H1 that “new development should provide a mix of housing tenures, types and sizes appropriate to the site size, characteristics and location”. Zurich is committed through their future proposals for Broadford Business Park to delivering a full mix of new homes. The precise mix will be agreed in liaison with GBC Officers and taking account of market condition at the time the Site is brought forward for development.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

GBC is seeking to ensure, through Policy H2, that on sites providing 5 or more homes, or sites of 0.17 hectares or more regardless of the number of homes, at least 40% of new homes on these sites must be affordable. This is a blanket requirement across all qualifying sites, apart from public sector owned land, which will need to comprise solely affordable housing.

The SHMA identifies that the affordability of housing within the Borough is a key issue and recommends that a tenure split of 29% shared ownership and 71% social/affordable rent is applied when securing affordable housing provision in new developments. Policy H2 requires a minimum of 70% to be social/affordable rent, with the remainder being other forms of affordable housing.

However, unlike the Regulation 18 version of the Draft GBLP, reference to viability considerations has been deleted from the policy. Reference is instead now made at paragraphs 4.2.38 to 4.2.44 to the role of viability. This is insufficient in our view and fails to recognise the important role viability considerations have to play in the plan-making and decision-taking process.

Policy 173 of the NPPF makes clear that viability is a vital consideration in achieving sustainable development.
“Pursuing sustainable development requires careful attention to viability and costs in plan-making and decision-taking. Plans should be deliverable. Therefore, the sites and the scale of development identified in the plan should not be subject to such a scale of obligations and policy burdens that their ability to be developed viably is threatened. To ensure viability, the costs of any requirements likely to be applied to development, such as requirements for affordable housing, standards, infrastructure contributions or other requirements should, when taking account of the normal cost of development and mitigation, provide competitive returns to a willing land owner and willing developer to enable the development to be deliverable” (NPPF, para.173).

Whilst GBC have undertaken viability testing of the proposed affordable housing policy requirement, the NPPF and PPG is clear on the need to recognise viability as a valid planning consideration that should be reflected in policy.

“…The National Planning Policy Framework policy on viability applies also to decision-taking. Decision-taking on individual schemes does not normally require an assessment of viability. However viability can be important where planning obligations or other costs are being introduced. In these cases decisions must be underpinned by an understanding of viability, ensuring realistic decisions are made to support development and promote economic growth. Where the viability of a development is in question, local planning authorities should look to be flexible in applying policy requirements wherever possible” (PPG, Ref ID: 10-001-20140306) (Barton Willmore emphasis).

The policy is also silent on the provision of Starter Homes and does not account for the impact this may have on development viability. Policy H2 should therefore clarify GBC’s planning policy position to Starter Homes and ensure this is reflected in its viability testing.

In summary, whilst Zurich is generally supportive of the delivery of affordable housing as proposed by Policy H2, they object to the specific wording of the policy. Zurich therefore invites GBC to reconsider its approach to affordable housing and ensure the wording of Policy H2 is unambiguous and retains sufficient flexibility in relation to viability considerations so to avoid the stagnation of residential and mixed use development sites in times of economic downturn. Suggested wording is set out below:

“…Subject to viability, these affordable homes will be provided:

• on sites providing five or more homes, or sites of 0.17 ha or more regardless of the number of homes. At least 40 per cent of the homes on these sites must be affordable homes; and
• on developments providing solely affordable housing either on public sector-owned land or developments by registered providers…”

Policy H2 also states that “developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”. The Local Plan Viability and Affordable Housing Study (December 2014) prepared by Peter Brett Associates has not tested the viability implications of applying a nil land value to affordable housing. In view of the high land values throughout the borough, Zurich objects to the current wording and would request that GBC alter their approach so to retain flexibility. As an alternative, whilst the policy may aim for a nil land value, in some circumstances this may not be appropriate and may in fact stifle development. Zurich therefore requests that GBC revisit their approach and retain sufficient flexibility to ensure development proposals are not rendered unviable.

Policy II seeks to ensure that “…infrastructure needed arising from a proposed development is provided and available when first needed to serve the occupants and users of the development”. The redevelopment of Broadford Business Park will secure funding for infrastructure improvements through GBC’s Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) and other site specific planning obligations. The infrastructure derived from CIL in particular will enable GBC to deliver the key infrastructure identified in Appendix C of the Proposed Submission GBLP. Zurich supports this approach and will work with key infrastructure agencies, including Surrey County Council Highways and Education departments, to deliver the site specific mitigation measures in a timely manner.

Zurich notes that reference to viability considerations when negotiating planning obligations has been removed since the Regulation 18 Draft GBLP was consulted upon. In accordance with paragraph 173 of the NPPF, Zurich recommends amendments that reference to viability considerations is reinstated except where the non-delivery of effected infrastructure would result in unresolved planning harm that is not outweighed by other material planning considerations. Revised wording for Policy II is set out below:

“To support delivery of this Local Plan, infrastructure needed to support development should be provided and available when first needed to serve the occupants and users of the development. This will be secured by planning obligation, planning condition, or from other infrastructure funding, including the Community Infrastructure Levy. Where the timely provision of necessary supporting infrastructure is not secured, development may be phased to reflect infrastructure delivery, or will be refused, unless evidence is provided to demonstrate that the delivery of such infrastructure would render the development proposal unviable and does not result in unresolved planning harm that is not outweighed by other material considerations”.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy P2

Policy P2 sets out GBC’s continued commitment to protecting the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development by using criteria set out within the NPPF. Zurich supports the objective that new development in the Green Belt will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated.

The policy confirms that proposals will be permitted where they are consistent with the exceptions listed in national planning policy and, where relevant, the specific criteria set out in the policy.
There are insufficient opportunities for growth within both Guildford’s urban area and settlement areas within the Borough. This results in the need for GBC to release appropriate Green Belt sites in sustainable locations. Broadford Business Park is PDL and therefore complies with the sixth exception criteria set out in paragraph 89 of the NPPF. The redevelopment of the Site is not therefore inappropriate in the context of Green Belt policy but will remain ‘washed over’ by Green Belt throughout the plan period.

Paragraph 4.3.18 of the Proposed Submission GBLP notes that the redevelopment of previously developed land where it would not have a greater impact on the openness of the Green Belt is an exception to new buildings being deemed inappropriate in the Green Belt (emphasis added). In December 2015, the department for Communities and Local Government conducted a ‘Consultation on proposed changes to national planning policy’. In accordance with the Government’s desire to utilise brownfield sites, contribute towards the delivery of Starter Homes and to add flexibility to the existing policy situation, paragraph 53 of the consultation document outlined that the redevelopment of brownfield land in the Green Belt need not be inappropriate unless any harm to the openness of the Green Belt was ‘substantial’.

Whilst Zurich recognises that the position and relationship of the Site relative to the Shalford settlement boundary, combined with the non-strategic nature of the proposed allocation, is not sufficient to warrant the Site’s release from the Green Belt, Policy P2 should remain sufficiently flexible to account for future changes in national planning policy. The policy wording itself achieves this. We, however, consider the wording of paragraph 4.3.18 requires amendment to account for future changes in national planning policy. The following wording is therefore suggested:

“Whilst most forms of development are considered inappropriate in the Green Belt, national planning policy lists certain exceptions which are not inappropriate. These are set out in paragraphs 89 and 90 of the National Planning Policy Framework. The exceptions listed include development such as new buildings for agriculture and forestry, and the redevelopment of previously developed land where it would not have a greater subject to the impact on the openness of the Green Belt, as set out by national planning policy”.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Housing

Paragraphs 4.1.5 to 4.1.14 of the Proposed Submission GBLP set out GBC’s spatial development strategy, identifying the scale and distribution of development. They support Policy S2, GBC’s Borough Wide Strategy, which identifies an overall housing requirement throughout the plan period of 13,860 new homes between 2013 and 2033. This equates to 693 dwellings per annum when spread across the 20 year plan period.

It is important to note that the proposed housing target has been set before any unmet needs arising from neighbouring authorities, and that which is expected to arise as a result of the Further Alterations to the London Plan adopted in March 2015 and any subsequent full review of the London Plan to emerge prior to adoption of the GBLP, have been taken into account. On this basis, Zurich notes that GBC will need to ensure that the strategy is justified by up to date evidence, and that appropriate cooperation has taken place with other surrounding planning authorities.

Overall, Zurich is generally supportive of GBC’s intent to ‘boost significantly’ its supply of housing in line with national policy objectives (para. 47, the NPPF), which provides the “exceptional circumstances” necessary to justify undertaking a review of Green Belt boundaries. Zurich welcomes GBC’s efforts to produce a plan that is ‘positively prepared’ in accordance with paragraph 182 of the NPPF by uplifting the borough’s overall housing target, compared to earlier iterations of the plan, so to be commensurate with the full objectively assessed need (OAN) figure of 693 dpa identified in the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA, October 2015). As the GBLP moves forward towards Examination, GBC should ensure that it keeps its evidence base under review and account for the latest population projections released by the Office for National Statistics and current market conditions.

Policy S2 should, however, make clear that the proposed housing target is to be treated as a minimum that GBC should seek to exceed. The following amendments are therefore recommended to Policy S2:

“During the plan period (2013-33), we will make provision for a minimum of 13,860 new homes, 37,200 – 47,200 sq m of office and research and development (B1a and b) floorspace and 4.7 – 5.3 hectares of industrial (B1c, B2 and B8) employment land to help meet the needs for new homes, support the economy and supply 3,200 additional B class jobs.

The delivery of homes is expected to increase over the plan period, reflective of timescales associated with the delivery of strategic sites and infrastructure. The minimum housing target each year is as set out below, however, this is not a ceiling, and earlier delivery of allocated sites will be supported where appropriate, subject to infrastructure provision…”
In order to support economic growth and tackle the acute affordability issues that affect the three authorities that make up the South West Surrey Housing Market Area (HMA), Zurich consider it vitally important to bring forward new housing quickly and meet OAN in full. To this end, Zurich also supports the recognition that the development of Broadford Business Park will make a notable contribution towards meeting the Borough’s strategy.

Safeguarded Land

Unlike the Draft GBLP subject to the previous Regulation 18 consultation, GBC has removed the flexibility previously incorporated into Policy S2 through the inclusion of 99 hectares of safeguarded land to be used for various purposes, including residential. Instead, as discussed in more detail below, GBC’s planned housing delivery has relied upon identifying a greater amount of capacity than that required to meet housing need in full.

Paragraph 85 of the NPPF makes clear that when defining Green Belt boundaries, “…where necessary, identify in their plans areas of ‘safeguarded land’ between the urban area and the Green Belt, in order to meet longer-term development needs stretching well beyond the plan period…”. Zurich therefore recommends that GBC seek to identify additional safeguarded land on a site specific basis now so to ease transition into subsequent versions of the Local Plan and avoid generating a backlog of housing delivery similar to what currently exists in the borough.

Employment

Informed by GBC’s Employment Land Needs Assessment (September 2015), Policy S2 specifies that 37,200 – 47,200 sqm of office and research and development (B1a and b) floorspace and 4.7 – 5.3 hectares of industrial (B1c, B2 and B8) employment land to help meet the needs for new homes, support the economy and supply 3,200 additional B class jobs.

Zurich is generally supportive of the delivery of new, good quality employment floorspace in the Borough but considers it essential for any such accommodation to be appropriately located so to meet the needs of local communities and benefit from sustainable transport connections so to minimise traffic generation.

Policy S2: Annual Housing Target

Policy S2 anticipates that housing delivery will vary across the plan period. As a result, the annualised housing target gradually increases from 500 dwellings per annual (dpa) in 2018/19 to 790 dpa in 2032/33 so to reflect GBC’s envisaged housing trajectory. The proposed annual housing equates to a total of 10,395 dwellings between 2018 and 2033. This therefore means GBC need to have delivered 3,465 dwellings, at a rate of 866 dpa, in the initial part of the plan period between 2013 and 2017 in order to meet GBC’s overall housing target.

GBC’s most recent Monitoring Report (October, 2015) covering the period 2014/15 (replicated in Table 1 below) notes the performance in terms of net housing completions between 2006/07 and 2014/15.

Recent trends in GBC would suggest that accommodating backlog housing need equivalent to 866 dpa is not achievable in the short term without the necessary improvements to supporting infrastructure. Zurich would therefore invite GBC to reconsider its future housing trajectory and ensure that sustainable growth, commensurate with the rate new infrastructure is brought forward, is incorporated into the medium to later stages of the plan. By the same token, opportunities for GBC to bring forward smaller sites that place a less substantial burden on existing infrastructure should be embraced.

Paragraph 4.1.12 explains that GBC will deliver the development identified at Table 1 throughout the plan period. The number of homes identified at Table 1 exceeds the housing requirement set out at Policy S2. GBC’s rationale for this is to “…build flexibility into the Plan and demonstrate that our strategy is capable of delivering the target”. GBC has adopted a mixed approach to its spatial distribution with the Proposed Submission GBLP including a range of prospective sites that vary in size and can be delivered at different stages throughout the plan period. Zurich supports this approach and considers it offers the most robust solution to ensure GBC is able to still deliver its vision in the event sites were not to come forward as planned.

Zurich therefore supports the inclusion of Table 1 within the Proposed Submission GBLP where it fulfils NPPF objectives set out at paragraph 47 by “…identifying key sites which are critical to the delivery of the housing strategy over the plan... period”. Given the important role Table 1 plays in identifying realistic future growth locations which are critical to meeting GBC’s identified housing need, Zurich recommends the inclusion of Table 1 within Policy S2 rather than as supporting text.

REPRESENTATIONS TO GBC’S VISION AND AMBITION

GBC set out at Section 3 of the Proposed Submission GBLP, the Vision and Ambition for Guildford Borough. The key points can be summarised as follows:

- Meet the identified growth needs of the borough in terms of housing, employment, retail and leisure;
- Provide the delivery of 13,860 additional homes, in a range of sizes and preferably on brownfield sites, by 2033 to reflect local needs and create mixed communities;
- Affordable housing will account for approximately 40% of all new housing and provided on all appropriate sites;
- Maintain the extent and function of the Green Belt so to protect the existing character of the borough and a clear distinction between urban and rural areas as well as the natural, built and historic environment;
- Over 2,800 units are proposed in the urban areas and will take advantage of existing infrastructure and services as well as sustainable transport options;
- Due to it not being possible to meet all the borough’s development needs within Guildford’s urban areas, the plan proposes to deliver additional housing on sustainable locations within and around existing villages and as large strategic extensions to Guildford’s urban area and as a new settlement created at Wisley that will bring forward significant infrastructure;
- Provide a significant increase in accessible public open space across the borough;
- Maintain and support existing high levels of economic prosperity through the protection of commercial premises and the provision of additional sites to meet the needs of businesses across the borough;
- Support the rural economy;
- Maintain and enhance Guildford town centre as the largest retail, service, administrative and commercial centre in Surrey; and
- The growth proposed is predicated on the delivery of the necessary improvements to infrastructure, including new rail stations, park and ride facilities and major improvements to the A3 and A3/M25 interchange, as outlined in the Infrastructure Schedule that supports the plan as well as encourage the use of alternative modes of transport.

Zurich supports the objectives of GBC, coming forward within their Vision and Ambition, particularly where this seeks to provide new homes to meet the needs of its communities.

The transport infrastructure, both in the town but in particular along the A3 corridor are not fit to support the proposed level of housing needs and consequently the extra traffic. Major issues such as a central bus facility close to the railway station have also not been resolved. Without improvements to support growth Guildford will become grid-locked.

In looking at what residents can do to object, it considers that it would be best for residents to focus on objecting to the inclusion of development of the Former Wisley Airfield and it has drafted some bullet points for residents to use as below.

It is important to state an objection whenever that is appropriate.

Object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield from the Green Belt. The area serves a vital role in preventing urban sprawl from London and a development would create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford.

The increased traffic would cause congestion and danger on the narrow rural roads in Ockham, Hatchford, Downside and Cobham. Cobham is the closest shopping centre to the proposed development. The village could not cope with the additional traffic and car parking involved in serving some 5,000 additional occupiers at the site and would experience a significant increase in stationary/idling traffic at peak times and at junctions.

Any proposed secondary schooling would add additional congestion.

Objections are supported by the unanimous rejection of application no 15/P/00012 by the Planning Committee at Guildford Borough Council on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of Planning Officers. The Planning Report identified the serious concerns now being highlighted.

The area is a haven for wildlife, some of which is already endangered. The introduction of residences would mean the import into an ecologically sensitive area not only of humans and their increased footfall, but also of pets, and cats and dogs in particular, that can have a devastating effect on wildlife. Protected species on and near the site and wildlife corridors would be destroyed.

Village sites - East and West Horsley

I object to the extension of the settlement boundary of my village (East and West Horsley) by the redrawn insetting boundary. I particularly object to the inclusion of Kingston Meadows, land owned by GBC and previously dedicated as open space for the use and benefit of the community. That is a key green space and recreational area where I have used the play parks, bike humps, trim trail and football pitch for decades with friends from the village and outside. It is used by hundreds of dog walkers and for village celebrations. No change to the settlement boundary has been justified. I object to the inclusion in the Plan of six large housing sites in the Green Belt by the two villages (A36 - 41).

In addition I draw your attention to the very serious existing problems in the village with infrastructure - roads, flooding and drainage, sewage, etc - and facilities - schools, doctors, transport, parking at the station to mention just a few. There is a high dependence on car use. For these reasons a large increase in housing is not feasible. For all the reasons given above, any additions to housing in East and West Horsley should be small scale and preserve the openness of these Green Belt villages.

Housing

I object to all policies based on your housing figures, which I believe are too high. I further object to a Plan which requires 70% of housing to be built on the Green Belt. Everything possible must be done to put as much of the housing as possible on urban brownfield land and I object to your policies which do not do this (Policies H1,H2). This will also help Guildford town centre which should be revitalised with more town centre housing than is proposed as shops shut with the move to internet shopping. (Objection to policy E7, E8).

Guildford Borough Local Plan – Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy sites 2016

I am writing on behalf of the Surrey/Hants Borders Branch of CAMRA, the Campaign for Real Ale, in relation to the above consultation.

As you would expect, CAMRA’s chief concern is that the Local Plan will afford suitable protection, in planning terms, for public houses. The continuing loss of traditional pubs, both in urban and rural settings, is in our view having a very negative effect on the communities concerned. The planning system affords a potentially powerful line of defence against the efforts of some pub owners to make short-term financial gains at the expense of valuable community facilities. Our hope would be that the Local Plan will include policies which support the retention of community assets like pubs and resist applications for change of use unless there is very clear evidence that the facility is no longer wanted or needed.

I note that the Vision contained in the plan highlights the importance of protecting and supporting community facilities. I would support this, and whilst it is implicit that such community facilities include public houses, it would help strengthen the Plan if this was made clearer.
I am also pleased to note that Policy E5, contains a specific mention of public houses in terms of businesses that will be supported for retention in rural areas. I would agree that pubs they often essential in maintaining the local economy in rural villages. However, this can equally apply in urban areas, such as for example the suburbs of Guildford, where whole communities often have a single pub to act as the focus of the community. I would therefore like to see this policy extended to cover all communities, not just rural areas.

Whilst this is positive I believe your policies in relation to the retention of pubs should be stronger and would therefore suggest that as the Local Plan develops a further policy should be included along the following lines:

That the Council strongly supports retaining public houses, particularly in rural areas where the availability of other premises is limited. Applications for changes of use will be resisted, unless convincing evidence can be provided to show that the public house is not economically viable. If permission is granted for a change of use, preference will be given to the premises remaining in some form of community or employment use; as long as there are no traffic, amenity, environmental or conservation problems as a result.

If applications for a change of use of a public house are received the Council will require evidence that:

- a comprehensive and sustained marketing campaign (agreed in advance by the Council) offering the public house for sale as a going concern, has been undertaken, using an agreed valuation of the premises;
- the marketing campaign has run for a period of at least twelve months before the planning application is submitted;
- if marketing has been based wholly or partially on an alternative community or employment use, there has been prior discussion with the Council on the principle of the proposal; and
- the public house has been offered for sale locally, and in the region, in appropriate publications.

In addition we would strongly advocate that the Council develops pub protection further within a Supplementary Planning Document (SPD). This has already been done in neighbouring Rushmoor who introduced a SPD relating to Development Affecting Public Houses and we would like you to consider the introduction of something similar in Guildford.

We believe the protection of public houses in Guildford is very important and think a SPD or similar would be helpful, by setting out to developers how they should justify any proposals for change of use, conversion or redevelopment of pub sites. In particular this could include criteria for the assessment of applications for development proposals affecting the loss of current or former public houses. CAMRA have produced a Public House Viability Test that can be used to assess the viability of pubs and help to demonstrate whether or not a particular public house is economically viable. We fully accept that in some instances a public house may well not be sustainable, but do feel that such a decision should be made following a sound assessment of need.

As you would expect, CAMRA’s chief concern is that the Local Plan will afford suitable protection, in planning terms, for public houses. The continuing loss of traditional pubs, both in urban and rural settings, is in our view having a very negative effect on the communities concerned. The planning system affords a potentially powerful line of defence against the efforts of some pub owners to make short-term financial gains at the expense of valuable community facilities. Our hope would be that the Local Plan will include policies which support the retention of community assets like pubs and resist applications for change of use unless there is very clear evidence that the facility is no longer wanted or needed.

I am also pleased to note that Policy E5, contains a specific mention of public houses in terms of businesses that will be supported for retention in rural areas. I would agree that pubs they often essential in maintaining the local economy in rural villages. However, this can equally apply in urban areas, such as for example the suburbs of Guildford, where whole communities often have a single pub to act as the focus of the community. I would therefore like to see this policy extended to cover all communities, not just rural areas.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the late inclusion of the site A43 at Garlicks Arch. The scale of development proposed is disproportionate both to the size and character of the villages of Send and Ripley and also in respect of the borough as a whole, with far too much development focused in one area. The site is liable to flooding and not supported by adequate infrastructure to enable sustainable methods of transport, meaning new residents will have a high reliance on cars. Many of the routes between Ripley, Clandon and the surrounding areas are tiny country lanes, which are in poor condition and do not accommodate traffic in both directions at once. The main routes through Clandon, Ripley and Send are already highly congested during rush hours and at other times of the day, particularly where problems arise on the A3. The route through Clandon in particular is barely wide enough in places to allow the passing in both directions of heavy goods vehicles. I have seen no plans for additional railway stations to support sustainable travel around these developments and Highways England has no plans to improve the A3/M25 trunk roads (which are already severely strained) within the timeframes necessary to accommodate this plan.

The huge number of houses and large industrial space proposed will stretch the local villages’ amenities (utilities, doctors and schools are already close to or at capacity), cause further traffic problems on routes that are already severely strained during busy periods and harm the environment in a greenbelt area surrounded by ancient woodland, which is home to an abundance of wildlife, including some protected species.

There has been no adequate consultation on this additional development, which was added late to the draft in May 2016.

The industrial site is an unnecessary addition to this area, where there are seemingly other sites available which are far more appropriate for this type of development, in particular around Slyfield, which is already industrialised and would not pose such a threat to protected areas and wildlife habitats.

I would like to place on record my wholehearted objection to the 2016 Draft Local Plan. I understand that there is some need for new housing and industrial space in the borough, however I have been unable to find evidence supporting the housing needs numbers in relation to these developments and the local villages are nowhere near equipped to deal with the size and locations of the developments proposed, which have not been well thought out and are, in my opinion unsustainable.

I object to the figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)
The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. I have been unable to locate a copy of this and therefore do not believe the information available is conducive to a fair consultation., The 693 house per year is more than double the figure of 322 used in previous plans and again seems disproportionate and without the information available to verify the high figure, the decision lacks transparency.

I kindly ask that the above considerations are taken into account and that the Plan is revised accordingly.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

- There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt, as required by national policy. Housing need is not enough to constitute exceptional circumstances.
- The scale of the development proposed is far too large as the neighbouring villages do not have the infrastructure to support the proposed number of houses. Schools are already at or near capacity and there inadequate railway facilities or bus routes to prevent an inevitable over reliance on cars. There is no infrastructure schedule for Garlick’s Arch, so the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose
- The roads in Send, Ripley and Clandon are not sufficient to cope with additional traffic flow that would inevitably arise from a development of this size. The proposed inclusion of an industrial estate is likely to increase the use of the roads by heavy goods vehicles and the roads, which are already in poor condition are unlikely to be able to support this. The extra traffic will also have a severely detrimental impact on the environment.
- The woodland surrounding Garlick’s Arch is centuries old, includes a number of trees protected by Tree Preservation Orders and is home to many species of wildlife. Development on the scale proposed is likely to severely damage animal habitats. I have been unable to locate a wildlife report carried out on this site and it seems the severe environmental impacts of the proposed developments have not been properly considered.
- The land is also susceptible to flooding and this does not seem to have been properly taken into account, with the Environment Agencies flood risk ratings being higher than that specified by the Council.
- There has been no adequate consultation on this development.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

The A3 and M25 are already severely strained at the junctions closest to Ripley. The scale of development in the Local plan, particularly for the sites at Garlick’s Arch and Wisley Airfield (A35) is such that there will be unprecedented increases in traffic on these routes. I have been unable to identify adequate evidence of the plans in place to address the likely impacts on key trunk roads resulting from the scale of developments proposed in the area.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Please find below my objections to the Guildford Local Plan.

West Horsley is defined by Guildford Council as a Green Belt Village.

Policies in the Governments National Planning Framework (NPPF) require that new building is regarded as inappropriate in the Green Belt.

These Policies also say that only limited infilling with Housing is appropriate .

Neither of these policies support substantial new development in the green belt.

The Councils Proposals total some 500 new dwellings in the green belt, which is clearly contrary to the above policies.

Previous objections to the Local Plan by West Horsley residents have been totally ignored by the council, who have shown no community engagement in producing the current plan with the increase in housing and the expansion of the village contrary to their wishes.

In producing the new Local Plan larger sites are proposed west of Guildford to reduce the pressure on the green belt. No benefit is evident to the residents of West Horsley from this reappraisal and in fact an increased requirement for housing in their green belt is proposed.

The existing roads, schools and health facilities have no plan for funding set out in the plan to address 500 new houses.

Several of the new sites proposed extend the built area out into the countryside, which is clearly damaging to the Green Belt where any new building is regarded as inappropriate in government policy.

The council are proposing new village boundaries which extend the built area outwards into the green belt, again clearly damaging to the Green Belt where any new building is regarded as inappropriate in government policy.

The proposed new development has been focussed on West Horsley with no Special Purpose being defined as required by policy to promote development in the green belt.

The protection of Birds in the special protection area near Wisley requires special consideration within 5 km. All of the sites in West Horsley and the site at Wisley Airfield are within this 5km. Any new development requires the possible effect on the birds to be addressed by the provision of alternative open space to draw residents away from Wisley. Effingham Common has been identified to serve this propose but in order to be usable for this purpose it requires a public car park which it has not got. Common Rights and planning permission issues may well stop this ever coming forward. This puts in doubt the feasibility of the sites in the long term.

For all of the above reasons I object to the Local Plan and request that the minister addresses the green belt points and confirms that West Horsley remains a green belt village, recognises the uncertainty relating to the protection of the birds and that as a result removes the pink coloured sites as development sites from the plan.

I would like to raise my objections to the current "Guildford Local Plan" proposal.

The plans are flawed on so many levels, it is difficult to know where to begin, or where to stop when commenting on them.

Firstly, the secrecy surrounding the advice Guildford Borough Council has received with regards to the number of new houses which apparently need to build each year within the borough is scandalous. If justification for such an important decision cannot be transparent then I have deep concerns about its reliability. Also, the fact that now the UK has voted to leave the EU, the calculations and projections must surely have altered, meaning the figures are outdated, if they were in any way accurate to begin with.

I think it is very naive to think that building houses on the green belt, will assist anyone living or working locally. Building more houses in these areas will not provide affordable housing for those who may need it, but will simply encourage more people to relocate to the Guildford area, putting further strain on the existing services, the poor and overpriced public transport system and worst of all the road network, which is already regularly at gridlock in many places with the current volume of commuter traffic.

Instead, existing sites within Guildford town should be re-developed to provide affordable housing, if it really is achievable or necessary at all.

Any plans to pedestrianize essential routes through central Guildford, without providing replacement routes (which would be extremely challenging) are also very naive and short-sighted. The only solution to the terrible congestion and traffic problems within Guildford, are to discourage drivers, or to build a bypass. Non-essential commuter traffic passing through Guildford and its surrounding villages should be discouraged, perhaps with tolls (that should not be levied on local residents!) and with business rate incentives for companies who work within the local area and employ staff living within the local area.

Many of the recent small scale alterations to Guildford's roads and the closing of pedestrian underpasses, have been very ill conceived ideas. The junction at Waitrose, the underpass at the bottom of the high street and removal of the road side pull-ins for buses on the A281 in Shalford. These all demonstrate a lack of foresight and have each ADDED to the congestion problems on Guildford,s busy roads. Such poor decisions really make me worry about the councils ability to plan, oversee and execute any large scale changes to the town and its surrounding area....
Another factor contributing to the lack of available housing within Guildford Town, are the large number of buy to let homes rented to Surrey University students. If the University of Surrey were to build the on site student accommodation it has obtained planning permission for, then all of these houses would become available for local residents.

We support:

- Improved access to the west from the SRP - there are few negatives about working at SRP but access and traffic congestion is one of
- Future expansion of the Research Park will ensure for us and many other companies on the Park the potential for continuity as we
- Additional affordable housing would help with the development and retention of the young science graduates ANGLE needs to employ in the development of its revolutionary cancer diagnostic
- While acknowledging any changes to the green belt are contentious, the company supports the necessary planning processes and strategies to achieve these features of the proposed plan

I object to the Garlick’s Arch development since it will contribute to sprawl and destroy the countryside.
I object to the Garlick’s Arch development because the extra traffic cannot be accommodated on local roads. At least 1000 cars will be injected into the road system that’s already jammed.

I have been following the debate on the Local Plan through the Surrey Advertiser, attendance at a Parish meeting and leaflets that have come through our letter box. No information has been received from GBC despite their promotion of the Local Plan. The Council Leader (Mr. Spooner) and his Deputy (Mr. Furniss) did attend the Send Parish meeting which was good of them. Unfortunately it did nothing to arrest local fears and concerns. The inability to name the developers that have been liaising closely with the Council and the lack of willingness to show the calculations that support the housing number added to the general stench arising from the last minute insertion of Garlick’s Arch into the Local Plan. I like to believe that corruption is something that happens elsewhere but this the Parish meeting left me uncertain. The Deputy’s belief that a motorway style junction is a good idea because it would help build a tunnel under Guildford is demented.

I understand that there is a format that has to be followed to register an objection to the Local Plan otherwise you are simply ignored. But to be clear, I utterly object to developments that contribute to urban sprawl. I’ve spent a lot of time in Houston and have observed at close hand what uninhibited building does. The idea of building on the greenbelt might bring some short term gain to a few developers but we all lose in the long term as Guildford sprawls up the A3 towards the M25. Who are we to wreak destruction on the countryside and leave concrete for those who come after us? In the short term we all lose as the overloaded rail and roads deteriorate further.

I am also concerned about the proposal to inset East Horsley from the green belt (Para 4.3.16). East Horsley retains its country village character as a direct consequence of its low housing density and significant green space and woodland features, all of which would be at risk with the reduced protection should East Horsley be removed.

I also note that each of the proposed developments has a housing density far above any comparable housing in the village.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

There does not appear to be any framework to ensure that the affordable housing is distributed sensibly within the borough, there is little demand for one bedroom accommodation in an area such as Horsley where the councils own studies show that three bedroom houses are in more demand.

There is also no protection from right to buy which would most likely lead to the accommodation being purchased and sold on for the profit of a select few individuals.

I am writing in response to the submission of the proposed local plan for Guildford borough

I am concerned with the volume of development proposed, it appears to be far in excess of any natural growth of the borough.

It appears that the numbers used to justify the development have double counted some sectors which gives the illusion of demand that Guildford is obliged to fill when it does not.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I wish to register my strong objection to the proposed submission local plan (strategies and sites) June – July consultation

The first line of your proposed Policy P2 states, “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt against inappropriate development.” It then fails to do so.

I am a resident of West Horsley and am totally opposed to the village's removal from the Green Belt by insetting and extending the 2003 Local Plan Settlement Area boundaries. The village is well into the green belt and should remain so.

Nowhere in your proposal are exceptional circumstances or any other justification made for the new Green Belt boundaries that will result from the proposed insetting of the two parts of the village from the Metropolitan Green Belt

I believe the Green Belt & Countryside Study is flawed

Certainly West Horsley's defined Settlement Area boundaries (ref 2003 Local Plan) DO NOT need to be extended

West Horsley Parish is one of a varied mix of well established low housing density settlements with a considerable number of historic buildings. We are positioned on the north side of the North Downs, partly in the Surrey Hills AONB, and attract a considerable number of recreational visitors (walkers and cyclists) through the seasons each year the Key Evidence document 'Guildford Borough Economic Strategy 2013-2031 makes absolutely no case for locating large numbers of homes in West (an increase on current house numbers of 35%) and East Horsley or neighbouring villages and the proposed new economic development site proposals are on the opposite side of the Borough to West Horsley

Policies S1 Presumption in favour of Sustainable Development, S2 Borough Wide Strategy, H1 Homes for all, H2 Affordable Homes

I further object to this proposed policy.

Policy S2 states that provision will be made for 13,800 new homes over the Plan Period 2013 to 2033. The number of homes is too high and unsustainable in Guildford’s villages. The Site Allocations list totals 12,698.

This size of expansion in our village is unsustainable. With only one small shop, no post office, very limited weekdays only bus service through the village, it is clearly not suitable for the proposed high volumes of new housing development.

The development of 385 homes on the 4 proposed sites are at much higher densities than currently exist in the village settlement and will be totally out of character with the existing mix of different housing styles and layout of the village. The homes building proposals are unsustainable in terms of schooling, drainage, roads capacity, shops, parking in East Horsley (shops and station), public transport.

The need for so many houses to be built in West Horsley over the first 5 years of the Plan period 2018 to 2033 is totally unproven and nothing in your documentation says otherwise. The West Horsley Parish Council and Surrey Community Action Housing Survey: May 2014, identified a limited need for some 20 affordable homes for local people who want to remain in the village, i.e. for young people and for elderly people who wish downsize to a smaller home.

Policy i3: Sustainable Transport for new developments

I object to this policy. Developers will be expected to propose and secure travel Plans for their developments and contribute to transport arrangements for the able and disabled.”. This proposed policy is too soft and is unrealistic where development and major housebuilding companies are involved. The roads in the area were founded many years ago when cars did not exist. They can hardly cope with the current volumes, let alone the increase that your plans would deliver.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS:

Have the authors of this proposal ever lived in or even visited a village community of our size. If they had, they, like me, would be objecting as I do to the plan in its current form.

The small grocers store at the southern end of the village may close later this year as the shop owner is retiring. There has always been very limited parking outside this store.

People using East Horsley’s shops and its Public Library in 2016 experience more and more difficulty in parking their cars at most times of the day. The proposed large increase in population of West and East Horsley will make parking and movement into and through the village considerably more difficult and time consuming.

There is a continuing lack of state primary school places in the village. The Raleigh school which serves both East and West Horsley is full every year and this has been the situation for many years.

Secondary school places are limited in number at the Howard of Effingham School and other secondary schools involve a much longer journey of time and distance from the village to reach them.

Glenesk and Cranmore private schools are well supported by many families living in Guildford and other villages up to 14 miles away. Each of these private schools during term time, receives high volumes of traffic going to and from each school at each end of the school day, on Ockham Road North and the A246 respectively.

Again I object to this plan.

Medical facilities –

Kingston Avenue Medical Centre, serving all of East and West Horsley and areas beyond, is always extremely busy and residents experience difficulty in making appointments. Yet your plans are for expansion after five years. The planned population increase which you are predicting for the Borough will require a major extension of the Royal Surrey Hospital to cope. Therefore, I object to the way your plan does not recognize medical needs.

Transport

Horsley station has frequent trains to London and Guildford 7 days a week, the station car park is normally full on weekdays. An increase in village population will increase pressure on station parking and traffic movements to/from Horsley station to drop off/collect travellers to London and school children going to Guildford and Leatherhead.

Traffic generation from the proposed new housing areas will be considerable. Most households in rural areas as a necessity have 2 cars, many having 3. Journey times on local roads will increase significantly.

Therefore I object to your plan.

Waste water Infrastructure –

There are known sewage overflow problems in the Ockham Road North / Green Lane area.

Thames Water has advised Guildford Borough that the area’s wastewater network is unlikely to be able to support the demand anticipated from all the proposed developments. The foul drainage system from West Horsley to the treatment works north of Ripley, will need to be upgraded to cope. Thames Water advise ‘a 2 to 3 years’ lead-in period’ to install the necessary waste water network and treatment capacity after planning permission for a development is granted.

All in all, this is a badly thought out plan, which does nothing but bring distress to the residents of villages such as West Horsley. It must be withdrawn.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We have lived in the Horsley area for nearly 28 years.

I completely understand the need for more housing, especially affordable housing, in and around the Guildford area. However, I would like to object to the proposed local plan, particularly for the Horsley area, for the following reasons:-

1. Transport.

Public transport in Horsley and Effingham is already pushed to its limits. I think it's fair to assume that each new household will have at least one, but probably 2, cars. Having done school runs through Ripley and Horsley and Effingham for over 10 years (no bus service), I know that rush hour is awful on the roads and will not be improved by the introduction to the area of a further 500+ vehicles, if 500+ more homes are built. This does not include all the extra traffic expected to East Horsley station should the Wisley/Ockham and Send/Send Marsh developments go ahead.
1. Resources

Having spoken at length to a local builder, who has lived and worked in the Horsleys for over 50 years, I understand that the water supply in West Horsley could only support another 20 homes in its current state. Provision of water and dealing with waste water is not something that can be done after the event. The local plan seems to be very vague on how this vital infrastructure can be dependently delivered in time, if at all. It also appears that Thames Water themselves don't believe that level of development is suitable or sustainable.

1. Percentage increase

West Horsley is proposed to have a 35% increase in its housing. I strongly object to this percentage, especially when the proposal is that the Horsley villages will be removed from the Green Belt. There will undoubtedly be a huge loss of amenity with this sort of increase in population and buildings. If the development of Wisley/Ockham and Send/Send Marsh goes ahead, this would be exacerbated further. This percentage increase is far greater in the Horsleys than any other area in the local plan and is totally disproportionate.

1. Infrastructure

The local infrastructure is already close to, if not at, full capacity.

The schools (both public and private) are full.

The roads are very congested and it's difficult to park at:- the local shops, who we'd like to support, and The station, as we'd prefer to use public transport.

According to local sources, medical facilities are 'stretched'.

As previously mentioned, water provision and waste water systems are already at capacity. Little Cranmore Lane regularly floods because Thames Water will not install a pipe that is big enough to deal with anything other than light rainfall, despite numerous requests to do so. Can they therefore be trusted to provide adequate water and drainage and deal with waste water for another 500+ houses?

I hope that the Planners can come up with a more sustainable and sympathetic way to increase the amount of housing in the Guildford area, without the amount of negative impact that this plan would inflict on the local community and countryside.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

We strenuously object to the Proposed Submission Local Plan issued June 2016 on the following grounds:

1. Guildford Borough Council proposes to remove East & West Horsley from the Green Belt.

In section 4.3.16 the plan states that “National planning policy requires that Green Belt boundaries are only amended in exceptional circumstances”. GBC has not been clear what exceptional circumstances exist that support a 25% increase in the housing stock of the borough when the Office of National Statistics (“ONS”) are projecting a population increase of 15% for Guildford Borough over this same period.

In section 4.3.24 the plan states that “Development within villages in the Green Belt is limited to small scale infilling”, yet for the Horsley’s this infilling numbers more than 533 new houses which represents a 25% increase.

The proposed plan further states that “We will continue to protect the Metropolitan Green Belt” which we hole-heartedly applaud. The plan further states that “The AGLV will be retained until such time as there has been a review of the AONB boundary”. Yet GBC goes on to propose that some 65% of developments will be made on land that is currently Green Belt.

East Horsley moving to “inset” from being “washed over”, means that any green spaces within the village potentially be built on in the future. GBC also proposes to move many of the settlement boundaries around East Horsley in particular by redrawing the western boundary removing over 5 hectares of agricultural fields from the Green Belt as well as Kingston Meadows. These open spaces contribute to the openness and character of the village, including providing valuable outdoor space that contributes the social and physical wellbeing of all residents. NPPF rules state that Green Belt boundaries should only be changed in ‘exceptional circumstances’, yet GBC has not provided evidence of exceptional circumstance.

1. No consideration in the proposal is given to current infrastructure and services which are already overloaded:
In section 4.1.13 of the plan Station Parade, East Horsley is listed as a district centre. Yet more closely meets the definition of a local centre. “The borough’s local centres range from the small centres with only five to 10 commercial premises or public facilities such as library or village halls, through medium sized local centres with between 10 and 15 premises, to large local centres, such as Woodbridge Hill in Guildford which has 29 units.” GBC has not indicated it’s reasoning for this listing and also the potential impact of designating it a district centre. The local East Horsley shops whilst sufficient for the current number of residents are insufficient to support an additional 533 households, and there is a lack of available land in the current shopping parade to support development, this means that the local character will be irreversibly impacted by redevelopment.

No consideration is made on the impact to local schools which are already heavily oversubscribed from the additional 533 households in East and West Horsley, nor to the addition of 2000 additional households in the nearby Wisley site which will not have schooling for many years.

No consideration has been made to the impact to local medical facilities, roads and car parks. Parking at Horsley & Effingham junction stations (which are already full), at the shops, at the medical centre and at the village hall will all be affected.

In both East and West Horsley the principal through roads are narrow and winding, having pinch points that would be unsuitable for HGV traffic. Although it is stated that funding will, at least in part, come from developer contribution, there is no clear plan as to how the roads will be made to accommodate the increase of traffic or how existing problems such as pot holes, uneven surfaces, lack of pavements and street lighting will be resolved, the latter posing a significant safety risk to residents.

We respectfully ask that you do not adopt this plan and take into consideration the objections from both this recent planning period and the 20,000 objections to the 2014 draft planning consultation. Please protect our green belt and our legacy to the future generations of the borough.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

As a local West Horsley resident I object to The Guildford Plan removing East and West Horsley villages from the green belt and the proposed significant increase in housing developments.

- there is already insufficient school places both at primary (The Raleigh) and secondary schools (the Howard of Effingham), a material increase in the number of houses in East and West Horsley will result in many children not being able to attend schools locally but will have to travel to other villages and towns.
- the infrastructure cannot handle the proposed increase of housing in west and east Horsley village, there have bee no clear plans provided by The Guildford Plan on how traffic and environmental issues will be addressed. There are already limited parking facilities in both villages, which cannot support the extra cars and traffic as a result of the increased housing.
- local facilities, such as medical cannot support an increase of housing as proposed by the Guildford Plan.
- removing west and east Horsley from the green belt will completely alter the character of the local area.
The Guildford Plan is unsustainable and not proportionate in the Housing proposals in West and East Horsley, the green belts and characters of our local villages need to be protected, and any development needs to be in line with what local infrastructure and facilities can support. I thus strongly object to the Guildford Plan in regards to West and East Horsley.

Already Rejected Proposals. I object to the GBC rejecting plans to develop the former Wisley airfield due to among many things a breech of national regulations as to the levels of nitrogen dioxide and particulates in the environment, and yet now includes this site in the Draft Local Plan. Utterly disingenuous.

I object to the plan not making any comprehensive provision for the social infrastructure that must go with such a huge building programme. That is schools for the new population, more health centres, the means of accommodating their vehicle movements at the station, the car parks of the village and simply getting around on our roads built for 19th century traffic.

I object to no evident thought and absence of information provided to residents as to how access from existing roads to the proposed development sites will work. ie. traffic lights, mini roundabouts etc. Ockham Road to the junction with East Lane is already impassable at school arrival and leaving times. More than doubling such traffic will simply clog the roads and bring the villages to a standstill.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

There are multiple developments proposed in the Merrow and Burpham area. The road infrastructure cannot cope currently - these developments in the area will cause terrible issues. Any new development or changes MUST be pre-dated by new infrastructure. It is no good if the road changes are made after developments and changes are made.

The sustainable movement corridor seems to be a huge cost with little benefit. I would suggest that this is very carefully reviewed for cost effectiveness. It would certainly have zero benefit for those of us living in Merrow and would cost a huge amount of our funds.

<td>• Specifically I object to the Gosden Hill development. An appeal was made by the developers to overturn a previous GBC refusal for this plan in the 1980’s. This went to appeal and GBC fought and won and the refusal was upheld. Why on earth is this now in the local plan. Nothing has changed since then. The site is still inappropriate, the infrastructure is woefully inadequate and putting 2000 homes in this area would severely impact an already very busy area. There is little or no detailed information and the suggestion is so unripe it should not even be a suggested site in the plan. This land is greenbelt and as such should be left as the buffer to town encroachment of the countryside, as was it’s purpose. If this was passed - which it should NOT be - there should be a 4-way junction from the A3 and NO exit through Merrow and Burpham. This would mean that traffic would be sensibly routed around the development. Additionally if there is to be a new station at Merrow, the station itself should be on the Gosden Hill side of the development. The lane to the current Merrow depot is too small and narrow to take the traffic. The junction is too small and dangerous, with the railway bridge also causing issues. The 90 degree turn also causes accidents and near misses regularly. Should the station not be sited on the Gosden Hill side of the track, the parking and all access to the station must be via a footbridge from that side. The Merrow Lane route to the depot is far too small.</td>

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” Standing at the head of the draft plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

I object to the exaggerated “housing need” figure of 13,860 which is far too high and results in the completely unnecessary development of the Green Belt. The way students, economic need and affordability are calculated inflates the housing need.

I object to the complete failure of GBC to identify sufficient brownfield sites within the urban area which should be targeted first for development before the open countryside and the Green Belt and the failure to include the Town Centre Masterplan 2015 within the plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I wish to register my objection to the local plan on the following points:

- proposal to remove Horsleys from the green belt - it is essential that an area such as the Horsleys remains in the green belt and should not be removed for the sake of convenience to assist planning proposals. 'Exceptional circumstances' need to be demonstrated before such a step can be taken and this has not been done.
- extension of the boundaries of the settlement areas of the Horsleys - I cannot identify any sound reasons for such an extension contained in the plan. Therefore, it should be the case that the status quo remains.
- infrastructure - no detailed thought or planning has been given to the infrastructure adaptation that would be required for the number of new dwellings in the local plan. The Horsleys are already stretched in terms of school places. Further roads/drainage would need to be implemented and the inherent structure and feel of the Horsleys would be adversely affected
- number of houses - an appropriate method to determine how many dwellings the local area could feasibly sustain has not been applied. the plan has been proposed without proper depth of thought as to the impact and practicalities that would need to be involved.

The plan seeks to implement a local plan which is not sustainable and would materially adversely affect the existing residents of the villages. The proposal does not sufficiently support the number of houses contemplated.

I would urge the council to reconsider the local plan given it is ill thought out and unsustainable for the reason specified above.

I object to the proposed development of the Garlick’s Arch site at Burnt Common for at least 400 homes plus industrial site. I object to the increase in traffic in Clandon and Ripley that would be caused by the planned development. There is a lack of public transport in these villages which means that the residents are heavily reliant on cars. The roads in these villages could not accommodate any increase in traffic. As a resident of West Clandon, I have experienced first hand the traffic on these roads. They are far too narrow in places and highly twisty in parts to accommodate any more traffic. It can be really difficult crossing the A247 in parts during rush hours and I would be worried that more cars on the A247 would be dangerous for the residents of Clandon.

| Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Question 5: The examination
Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I very strongly object to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016).

Firstly, I would like to highlight that it is highly irresponsible that the council has set a 6 week public consultation period as the proposed submission has the potential for devastating, long term effects on our local villages.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I OBJECT to the 2016 local plan in its current format. I do not believe that it is sound and is not yet fit for implementation.
   1. The council relies on a strategic housing making assessment that is in question. The council have not scrutinised the figure provided and rely purely on the fact that other councils have used the consultant GL Hearn to assess the housing need. The SHMA appears to be exaggerated against ONS data. Two independent reviews have identified similar faults, which suggest that the figure is too high and inaccurate. They also identify that the recent referendum result relating to Europe may have an impact on economic growth and consequently should be reviewed. The SHMA must be reviewed to ensure that it is accurate before the housing figure is agreed.
   2. The council have chosen not to impose any constraints in respect of the OAN.
      1. The Council highlight that the borough is 89% greenbelt and yet proposes to build approximately 65% of new development on greenbelt.
      2. The council appropriately identifies that the enhancement of the A3 is essential to the scale of development possible within the local plan. Page 21 Strategy and sites states 'The delivery of housing in the later stages of the plan period is dependent upon major improvement to the A3 through Guildford'. Highways England have made no commitment to improve the A3 and yet the local plan still seeks to deliver the full housing target through the delivery of three of its four strategic sites sighted directly beside the A3. The transport survey also highlights that traffic will be impacted and congestion worsened irrespective of what improvement measures are put in place.
   3. The Council have failed to consult effectively with infrastructure providers prior to publishing the draft local plan and as a consequence the Raleigh school has only recently put forward a proposal to build a new school on site A41. I am unable to comment on this because I do not have sufficient information.

2. I OBJECT to altering the green belt boundaries. Para 83 NPPF states green belt boundaries can only be altered in exceptional circumstances and where there is local support. Meeting the housing need is not exceptional circumstances. This has recently been reiterated by Central Government. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated.

3. I OBJECT to the use of the 'Green belt and countryside study 2014' within the evidence base. This is a subjective view of the green belt provided by one company. It is not evidence. It does not provide exceptional circumstances to remove land from the green belt.

4. I OBJECT to the use of the transport study within the evidence base. The SINTRAM model is designed for major routes and is not suitable for local roads as it takes no account of junctions. The three hour period also skews the data disproportionately downwards. This means that it will not necessarily provide a true reflection of traffic movement within Guildford. A different model should be used and the peak times adjusted to accurately reflect traffic, particularly within rural areas

5. I OBJECT to the disproportionate amount of development in this small area of the borough; The area surrounding East and West Horsley will attract in excess of 5000 new homes, which accounts for over thirty-six percent of development. The area is predominantly rural in structure, nature and environment and does not have the infrastructure to cope.

6. I OBJECT to the disproportionate increase in housing in West Horsley. The local plan proposes an increase of thirty-five percent for a rural village, this is totally out of character. The density suggested by the council is not in keeping with the current environment, almost double the levels within the majority of the village.

7. In line with Central Government guidance I OBJECT to development on areas of high agricultural value. This includes Wisley airfield. If it is necessary to build on agricultural land it should be of low quality.

8. I OBJECT to the fact that there is no provision for a larger primary school within East or West Horsley despite the fact that Para 38 NPPF states that for large developments a primary school should be built within walking distance. Over 500 houses within East and West Horsley is large development when considering the size of the villages. The Surrey infrastructure review does not state that a new school is necessary despite the fact that the school is already oversubscribed causing children to be driven to other villages. (They do state the school may in the future identify a suitable site through infill opportunities). Surrey have suggested that children from the Horsleys can be accommodated either in Ripley or Clandon; both of which would necessitate parents driving, and in the case of Ripley travelling through a traffic blackspot.

9. I OBJECT to the local plan making East and West Horsley less sustainable. This is breach of para 7 and 9 NPPF and policy S1 of the proposed local plan. Failing to provide essential health, education and community facilities forces residents to use private vehicles to reach these when at present the majority can walk. The Infrastructure survey suggests that primary and junior school aged children will have to travel to Ripley and Clandon to attend school. No provision is made for any other facilities including health, dental, community and sport.

10. I OBJECT to the inclusion of Policy A41 relating to land south of East Lane. This is in contravention of para 85 NPPF which states that borders must clear and readily recognised. The natural border is the wood to its east. The inclusion of this site is not in keeping with the current settlement and character of the village; houses front East Lane up the woods to the east of this site which borders the road for approximately 400 yards. The land is green belt, no exceptional circumstances are made.

11. I OBJECT to the inclusion of A35 Wisley airfield in the local plan. The principle of the local plan is a presumption in favour of sustainable development. The Housing and Planning Act 2016 grants permission in principle to any development included within the local plan leaving only technical details to be considered by planning authorities. The site at Wisley failed in its planning application on a large number of points including infrastructure and sustainability. It is highly unlikely that these will be met in the future due to its positioning. Part of the site is green belt and no exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated. Aspects of the site also include high quality agricultural land.

12. I OBJECT to the fact that the Local plan does not effectively demonstrate proposals to improve road networks to accommodate the additional vehicles likely to travel through East and West Horsley. The majority of through roads are narrow, have pinch points and are subject to closure through flooding on a regular basis

1. LRN7 intends to introduce interventions to address potential highway performance issues resulting from the development of Wisley airfield. If these are those put forward by the developers they are likely to have a significant negative impact on East and West Horsley, or any traffic travelling to or through even without additional housing

2. LRN22 East and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme is non specific and the suggested £1m is insufficient to make sufficient improvements to deal with the substantial traffic increase likely if all aspects of the local plan are allowed.
13. I OBJECT to the council failing to deliver sufficient infrastructure to cope with the proposed development within this area of the borough. The bus network is almost non-existent and new buses are linked only to the Wisley development. The train station car-parks at Horsley and Effingham junction are always full and there is no space to enlarge them. The roads are not suitable for commuters to cycle any distance due to the narrowness of the roads, speed of traffic and lack of space to build cycle paths.

14. I OBJECT to the area described as West Horsley (south) being removed from the green belt. This clearly meets the description of a village that should be 'washed over' by the green belt in terms of size, appearance and character.

I refer to Guildford Borough Council's New Draft Local Plan, especially with respect to the following proposed development sites: Thatchers Hotel, East Horsley (ref A36, ID 2044); Ockham Road North, East Horsley (ref: A39, ID 240); Bell & Colvill Garage, West Horsley (ref: A37, ID 1 6); Ockham Road North, West Horsley (ref: A40, ID 975); Manor Farm, West Horsley (ref: A38, ID 1 5); East Lane, West Horsley (ref: a 41, ID 2063) and the Wisley Airfield site.

I strongly object to the proposals in the New Local Plan to build what seems to be an excessive number of new houses in the villages of East Horsley, West Horsley and the surrounding areas. The proposed development of over 500 houses in the Horsleys plus another 2,000 houses at the Wisley Airfield site will hugely change the character of the area irreversibly destroying the existing village character, the quality of life of its residents and, undoubtedly, property values.

Insufficient local infrastructure to support the increased housing - current parking, school facilities, medical facilities and transport facilities are already stretched and inadequate for existing needs. The excessive addition of the proposed housing will put an intolerable strain on the local community and inevitably result in a deterioration of such facilities, higher costs, lower quality and a poorer standard of living for residents. The existing and planned infrastructure simply cannot sustain such an increase in housing and people in this small area in my view.

Medical and schooling facilities - I am not convinced that the standard of local facilities provided for the education of our children and the treating of our infirm and elderly residents can be maintained with the addition of some many more houses and people. Existing facilities will be rapidly overloaded, while limited space exists to expand these to cope viably with the increases under consideration in your New Local Plan.

Negative environmental impact - the addition of so many more houses in the area will inevitably take its toll on the environment in terms of overloading our already old (in many cases) water drainage systems (both rain run-off and waste water), increasing noise pollution during construction and impacting air pollution from the additional cars that would inevitably come with the additional houses and people in the area. This can only lead to a detrimental impact on the health and safety of local residents.

Transportation congestion - existing roads and train routes (and the associated car parking facilities) already struggle to cope with the current daily load factors resulting in car transport tailbacks and train overcrowding at peak times. Adding more people and cars will only exacerbate this problem. Additionally, during the many years required to construct these houses, the road users and residents will be subject to significant inconvenience from the movement of heavy lorries and equipment and the delivery of building materials which will, doubtless, cause significant wear and tear on the roads (which it seems even now are only repaired infrequently).

Whatever happened to the Green Belt - I fail to understand why the above referenced developments are being given serious consideration given the protection that I had understood to be provided by the "green belt" concept. Proceeding with the above developments on the scale currently envisaged can only lead to the increased "sub-urbanisation" of the area and the loss of the village character of the Horsleys and the surrounding area.

2.13 This states that we have a reasonable network of Cycle Routes and footpaths! We strongly disagree and ask this to be corrected. There is no network, only a series of disjointed cyclelanes, too narrow to ride in safely, mounting footpaths and rejoining carriageways, and usually terminating for no reason with the word END written on the road. Basically telling cyclists to fend for themselves after that point! Some of the cycle routes are in a dreadful state of maintenance and therefore if any new routes are created their future maintenance must also be planned for. The above statement should be redrafted to say Guildford has a poorly connected array of cycle routes which in some cases are badly maintained.

Guildford Borough Transport Strategy 2016

This makes a disappointing read as an initial search for Cycling policies finds them hidden away with Walking in an Active Modes Strategy. These are so important for the future of a healthy, pollution reduced, congestion free Guildford that they should each be given their own separate strategies.

However we comment on the various strategies as listed and request that all bullet points below are incorporated in these strategies:

3  Our Rail Strategy

- The safe cycle storage at Guildford Station should be greatly increased to 2000 bikes and include CCTV cameras for security.
- All other stations should increase safe cycle storage and security.
- A ‘Boris’ bike scheme with both normal and electric bikes should be introduced at Guildford Main and London Road stations to compliment the small Brompton Scheme at the Main station not replace it.
- Cycle access needs to be improved to all railway stations to provide segregated access for cyclists.
- More cycle storage needs to be provided on trains.
- A cycle hub is listed as an improvement with no explanation what this involves? Please explain.

4  Our Strategic Road Network Strategy

- The A3 improvements should include provision for a segregated Cycle super highway from Guildford to London and in the future to Portsmouth.
- The strategic Wooden Bridge footway over the A3 and A25 needs replacing with a wider joint cycling and walking bridge.
5 Our Local Road Network Strategies

Our local roads and parking strategy

- All main A roads through Guildford Borough should have segregated safe two way cycleways to replace the existing footpaths and be shared with pedestrians, eg A25 to Dorking, A246 to Leatherhead, A31 to Farnham, Woking Road and Worplesdon Road.
- Park and rides should have ‘Boris’ bikes (normal and electric) installed with segregated Cycle routes to the Town Centre
- All schools should have Cycle to School plans and all roads within one mile of schools should be 20mph zones

Our bus transit strategy

- The sustainable movement corridor SMC must not be just for buses but must include segregated cycle lanes as well
- There should be cycle storage and Boris bikes at the Main bus station

Our active modes strategy should be split into our cycling strategy and our walking strategy

- Guildford needs to create an integrated safe cycle network throughout the Borough.
- This network needs to start with safe routes through the town centre which need to be designed in accordance with the Master Plan Options for the Town Centre gyratory system. However in the interim period safe routes must be provided for cyclists to avoid the gyratory and these require in some cases sanctioning shared use of pavements with pedestrians.
- A Town wayfinding cycle map must be provided showing the full network. This should be positioned at strategic notice boards around the town ie the station and also be available as leaflets.
- We support the sustainable movement corridor SMC concept but need to be sure that this will include segregated two way cycle lanes
- On certain routes the sharing of pavements with pedestrians should be encouraged but cyclists need to practice safe cycling etiquette to achieve this and persuade pedestrians to share their surface
- The various cycle routes in the villages should all be integrated into the proposed network such that all villages are linked in.
- New development must incorporate internal safe cycling routes and also contribute financially to the cycling network

7 Our road safety strategy

- Improved facilities are promised for pedestrians and cyclists. Unfortunately as cycling casualties are increasing so is the urgency for the gyratory and the full cycling network to be implemented. Funds must be provided to enable this work to be completed within ten years, not fifteen years as proposed.

Summary

We applaud Guildford for the introduction of the Guildford Borough Transport Strategy 2016 but feel that Cycling is too far down the list of priorities. If Guildford wants to reduce congestion, reduce pollution, and improve the health of its inhabitants, the quickest and most cost effective way is to improve its cycling infrastructure to create a fully integrated network of safe cycle lanes and cycleways. As in London, this can supply the town with a tenfold return on investment, and therefore needs to be implemented immediately as a top priority.

Build it and we will ride it!

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

3.2 Spatial Vision

While this discusses encouraging visitors to use alternative modes of transport and having policies that reduce car traffic it must come out and say we need to create an integrated safe cycle network throughout the town which in turn connects to all parts of Guildford and on to neighbouring towns such as Woking, Leatherhead, Godalming and Farnham. The return on investment for the town by spending money on improving cycling infrastructure will be at least tenfold.

The vision for Guildford must follow London’s example and wake up to the health, pollution and congestion solutions that cycling can achieve. Build it and we will ride it!

Core Theme – INFRASTRUCTURE

This has a strategic objective to deliver a safe transport system balanced in favour of sustainable transport modes! Let’s talk CYCLING and WALKING, not Sustainable Transport modes please.

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

As it is clear that no improvements to the A3 or M25 would be possible before 2020, no real improvements are possible in the timeframe of this Plan so the developments at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), should not take place.

The huge developments being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion and to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on the health of local residents especially the young and elderly.

The Plan does not take adequate account of flood risk. It appears that the Councils assessment of the flooding risk is flawed.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is classified by the Environment Agency as being in a higher risk than the Council’s assessment.

This area has flooded many times in recent years.

The proposed mass housing developments will damage local communities, especially Ripley, Send and Clandon.

The development is better suited to urban areas that can provided transport links, these plans are not for local communities, we do not have good rail links, and quite poor bus services, so that means more cars on the local roads.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

GBC’s proposal for 13,860 new houses differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The Plan is unbalanced across the borough; 36% of all the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the Ripley Send Clandon area,

5,036 houses are proposed between the M25 and Burpham (about 5 miles) which will obviously lead to a merging urbanisation of identities the villages, this mass urbanisation of Surrey villages is deplorable.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

These developments will inevitably lead to a merging of all the areas which are at present separate entities, Wisley Airfield, Ripley including Garlick's Arch to Send and on to Clandon and Burpham. We wish to remain villages - we all live here because they are villages. The development is far too concentrated in this part of the borough and GBC has made it a feature of their plan with larger numbers than other Borough Councils in Surrey. I therefore object to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2) and the SHMA figure of 693 houses per year as being too high (Appendix D).

Garlick's Arch is at risk of flooding and is classified by the Environment Agency as being at higher risk than the Council's assessment. I object to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4). The original plan had included land at Burnt Common where there was a brownfield site this new site is absolutely wrong as it has ancient woodland and GBC's Green Belt & Countryside Report does not even cover this site.(A43) Ripley and Send together only have about 3000 households and the development would damage the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

With lack of good air quality due to congestion especially in the construction stage, although even now there are problems with the numbers of diesel vehicles especially HGVs, I have concerns about healthy living. (Policy I3) This is a great place to live, but GBC is intent on destroying it.

Please take my objections into consideration and amend the Plan so that housing sites are reduced in this area for not only are we surrounded by all of this proposed by GBC, we also have to live with extra traffic due to a proposal by Woking Borough Council for houses only a mile or so away at Pyrford. This is not NIMBYism but a cry for help as you will destroy our way of life entirely.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the lack of planned road infrastructure. (Policy I1). I live on the Portsmouth Road which runs through Ripley and Send adjacent to Garlick's Arch. We are already coping with large amounts of traffic which is often diverted onto our road when an accident closes the A3. The A3 from the junction north of the village to the M25 is almost at a standstill during the rush hour both going north in the morning and coming south in the evening. All of the above developments are sited along the A3 and with the number of houses proposed probably in the region of an extra 5000 cars will be wishing to use our local roads. Congestion will be even worse and at present Highways England has no plans to start considering improving the A3 before 2020. There should therefore be no development until this has been considered (Policy I2).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to removing Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt (Policy P2) together with the proposed development sites at Wisley Airfield and Garlick's Arch. I understand there have to be exceptional circumstances for these areas to be removed as required by National Planning Policy. We are providing large areas of countryside where people can walk and ride cycles and horses and generally enjoy the open air. Why cannot existing brownfield sites such as the one at Burnt Common which was removed from the original plan, be used instead of Green Belt?

I object to the Local plan (Policy S1) on the grounds that the development proposed is not sustainable. How on earth can the total development of new houses some 13,860 be accommodated in the borough with no improvements to the infrastructure. We are already at bursting point with access to schools and doctors, inadequate bus services, sewage removal etc. and the road network is fast becoming gridlocked at rush hour.

I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites A43 and A42. The lack of any plan for either the physical or green infrastructure improvement clearly contradicts this in respect of both A43 Garlick's Arch and the A42 Clockbarn Nursery in Tannery Lane, Send. Development of these sites without the contingent infrastructure would therefore be contrary to the stated aims and themes of the Plan and should not go ahead.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Garlick's Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl, half a mile away from where I live. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to the allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople sites in A43 Garlick's Arch as the development only includes 400 houses and therefore no provision is necessary as this is not compliant with the minimum of 500 as stated in section 4.2.24 of the plan.

I object to the hiding of development by "deferment" for sites A24, A25, A26 and A43. I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick's Arch. The potential of an increase at site A43 will be extremely harmful to the rural natures of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause an urban site as buildings abut local boundaries.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the imbalance of the Plan across the borough. With the removal of site A46 from the Plan and reductions of housing planned in this version of the Plan in other parts of the borough, 40.6% of the 11,350 homes proposed in this Plan are sited within 3 miles of where I live, most of them in the Green Belt. We are already suffering from traffic chaos when accidents or roadworks are causing problems on the A3 or M25. This is grossly unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough.

The inclusion of site A58 Burnt Common now proposed once again, removes the need for A43 Garlick's Arch, surely only one site is needed, especially as they are so close to one another.

I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in the Green Belt site (Burnt Common A58) which is mentioned but does not allow for full and proper consultation. (More traffic on our road).

I object very strongly to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2017) and in particular to the changes affecting Ripley and Send, which make the Plan even worse than the 2016 proposals.

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Living in Guildford as a student has never been easy. For the last fifty years the continued expansion of the town through industry, retail and business has put pressure on the student community which has been traditionally pushed to the fringes of Guildford. Recently however, the phenomenon of a middle class exodus from the city into the suburbs has put unbearable pressure on the student community. All residents of the town on low income now have to compete for an ever dwindling stock of rental properties. Combined with the arrival of the amateur landlord, students are regularly ripped off with sub-standard properties and face a fight to safeguard their deposits.

As a result of this change the student community has been scattered far and wide

International students are particularly hard hit by the lack of affordable student rentals as they lack the local knowledge and have to arrange their accommodation remotely, this leaves them prone to extortion by landlords and agents, or even faced with arriving in the UK to a house that does not actually exist despite apparently having paid for one online.

Rental Values

Almost every student who responded told us the rent they ended up paying was either the same or more expensive than they had budgeted for. The average budget overspend was £47 per month, which compounds the financial difficulties faced by our students.

The average rent paid excluding bills was £457 per calendar month. This gives Guildford landlords an estimated monthly income of £2.2m. Despite this, students are regularly told they must ‘do more’ to be a part of the community even though the entirety of their student maintenance loan pays for accommodation alone.
In academic year 2014/15, University of Surrey students borrowed £21m for living costs, and the total outstanding debt for all current students and alumni is over £318m. As we have shown with the exception of the tuition fee loan, the maintenance loan is paid wholesale to Guildford landlords. Surrey students will be paying this debt for the next forty years or more.

Transport

As the University has committed to reducing car journeys, Surrey students have to rely on the local bus or train service. The Arriva bus service is rated poor or worse in every category that was measured.

The lowest rating was reserved for ‘punctuality’ which is no doubt a result of the poor provision of traffic control in Guildford, as the town is gridlocked at peak times.

For those students who do rely on a car such as student nurses and midwives, they face frequent berating from non-student residents who believe they have a greater right to park their car in the estate than ‘a student’.

Conclusion

While it is true that many students are transient in nature, this is often not by choice. Many graduates would naturally remain in Guildford as that is where the developing industries of the 21st century are based, many of whom have benefitted from the University influence.

Guildford borough development has been woefully inadequate for the last two decades and simply not kept pace with the demands of this region. As a result, Guildford is regressing to a quasi-feudal system where those who were fortunate enough to capitalise on the housing boom of the 1980’s and 1990’s hold sway over the student class who must now work almost full time to support the high cost of renting.

A privileged class of landowner holds Guildford in its grip, believing that only they have the right to a secure home, to a reliable income, and to afford the space for their car (or multiple cars). The very nature of Guildford is being sterilised as it gradually transforms into ‘Fortress Surrey’ with the drawbridge pulled up.

The students of the University of Surrey have been a part of Guildford for fifty years, they have contributed financially, culturally, physically and emotionally in the history of this town. This is the time that Guildford must now repay this faith and loyalty.

More housing is needed urgently.

Reliable transport is needed urgently.

The local plan must be implemented in full, as is drafted, as soon as possible.

Attached documents:  USSULocalPlanSubmission.pdf (504 KB)
It fails completely to recognise the infrastructure requirements. There are some laughable suggestions about transport. It mentions railway stations in the east and west of Guildford. There is no money in Control Period 5 or 6 for Network Rail to build these stations. There is no Train Operating company considering that they should run services as there is no business case.

Car parks at local rail stations are more than 80% full, the point at which rail industry modelling dictates that they are full and deter people from using them.

The plans for more houses in Horsley are inappropriate. There is simply not the infrastructure in terms of roads, drainage, schools, medical facilities, transport etc etc.

I OBJECT to the fact that the Local plan does not effectively demonstrate proposals to improve road networks to accommodate the additional vehicles likely to travel through East and West Horsley. The majority of through roads are narrow, have pinch points and are subject to closure through flooding on a regular basis

1. LRN7 intends to introduce interventions to address potential highway performance issues resulting from the development of Wisley airfield. If these are those put forward by the developers they are likely to have a significant negative impact on East and West Horsley, or any traffic travelling to or through even without additional housing

2. LRN22 East and West Horsley traffic management and environmental improvement scheme is non specific and the suggested £1m is insufficient to make sufficient improvements to deal with the substantial traffic increase likely if all aspects of the local plan are allowed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the 2016 local plan in its current format. I do not believe that it is sound and is not yet fit for implementation.

1. The council relies on a strategic housing making assessment that is in question. The council have not scrutinised the figure provided and rely purely on the fact that other councils have used the consultant GL Hearn to assess the housing need. The SHMA appears to be exaggerated against ONS data. Two independent reviews have identified similar faults, which suggest that the figure is too high and inaccurate. They also identify that the recent referendum result relating to Europe may have an impact on economic growth and consequently should be reviewed. The SHMA must be reviewed to ensure that it is accurate before the housing figure is agreed.

2. The council have chosen not to impose any constraints in respect of the OAN.

3. The Council highlight that the borough is 89% greenbelt and yet proposes to build approximately 65% of new development on greenbelt.

I OBJECT to the fact that there is no provision for a larger primary school within East or West Horsley despite the fact that Para 38 NPPF states that for large developments a primary school should be built within walking distance. Over 500 houses within East and West Horsley is large development when considering the size of the villages. The Surrey infrastructure review does not state that a new school is necessary despite the fact that the school is already oversubscribed causing children to be driven to other villages. (They do state the school may in the future identify a suitable site through infill opportunities). Surrey have suggested that children from the Horsleys can be accommodated either in Ripley or Clandon; both of which would necessitate parents driving, and in the case of Ripley travelling through a traffic blackspot.

I OBJECT to the local plan making East and West Horsley less sustainable. This is breach of para 7 and 9 NPPF and policy S1 of the proposed local plan. Failing to provide essential health, education and community facilities forces residents to use private vehicles to reach these when at present the majority can walk. The Infrastructure survey suggests that primary and junior school aged children will have to travel to Ripley and Clandon to attend school. No provision is made for any other facilities including health, dental, community and sport.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of A35 Wisley airfield in the local plan. The principle of the local plan is a presumption in favour of sustainable development. The Housing and Planning Act 2016 grants permission in principle to any development included within the local plan leaving only technical details to be considered by planning authorities. The site at Wisley failed in its planning application on a large number of points including infrastructure and sustainability. It is highly unlikely that these will be met in the future due to its positioning. Part of the site is green belt and no exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated. Aspects of the site also include high quality agricultural land.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of Policy A41 relating to land south of East Lane. This is in contravention of para 85 NPPF which states that borders must clear and readily recognised. The natural border is the wood to its east. The inclusion of this site is not in keeping with the current settlement and character of the village; houses front East Lane up the woods to the east of this site which borders the road for approximately 400 yards. The land is green belt, no exceptional circumstances are made.

I OBJECT to the council failing to deliver sufficient infrastructure to cope with the proposed development within this area of the borough. The bus network is almost non-existent and new buses are linked only to the Wisley development. The train station car-parks at Horsley and Effingham junction are always full and there is no space to enlarge them. The roads are not suitable for commuters to cycle any distance due to the narrowness of the roads, speed of traffic and lack of space to build cycle paths.

I OBJECT to altering the green belt boundaries. Para 83 NPPF states green belt boundaries can only be altered in exceptional circumstances and where there is local support. I OBJECT to the disproportionate amount of development in this small area of the borough; The area surrounding East and West Horsley will attract in excess of 5000 new homes, which accounts for over thirty-six percent of development. I object to the proposed development at Slyfield which omits to show improved road systems and would lead to traffic gridlock.

The full consequences of the proposed local plan are enormous and are only now emerging. For example, even if all the proposed highway improvements in the Plan were built, congestion would not improve. We would just have a lot more people stuck in traffic and traffic would get a very great deal worse to start with. In our area, Stoke next Guildford changes we would be likely to experience include:

- the expansion of Guildford along the A3. Development of 2000 homes on Gosden Hill, by Burpham, is a particular local concern
- more traffic from the major development sites coming in on the Stoke Intersection and London Roads
- roads near us, such as Stoke Rd, and York Road, being even busier due to other more central routes being closed to through traffic, pedestrianised or used for development
- pressure for high density development eroding character in our area

It is a matter of choice by our Council that Guildford would expand on this scale. Many residents were prepared to support our Council in the need for some sensitive, measured expansion. However the scale of what is proposed is far from this.

Other Councils are applying “constraints” to their overall housing number. This is allowed. By contrast, Guildford is proposing to release so much land for development that we could end up being asked to meet housing need for neighbouring towns. We find ourselves in the bizarre situation where it is suggested we sacrifice our countryside in order to protect countryside around Woking.

Please do not let this local plan go ahead in its present from.

by Compton, Worplesdon and Wanborough Parish Councils) has identified most of the development site as meeting the criteria for an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). The study will now be forwarded to Surrey CC/Natural England with a request that Blackwell Farm is included as a candidate area in the forthcoming AONB boundary review. The PCs were prompted to do this when it was brought to their attention that Blackwell Farm had been omitted from Surrey CC's landscape evaluation on behalf of Surrey Hills AONB Board (despite a previous study suggesting that it was likely to meet AONB criteria and merited assessment)

Transport survey for A26 Blackwell Farm.

Compton PC and Compton Village Association have jointly commissioned a Technical Note by traffic consultant RGP to look at the implications of the Blackwell Farm development, and the proposed new link road from the A31. The results show:

- The road infrastructure costs associated with providing a new route into Guildford from the west (linking the A31 to the Tesco roundabout) are far in excess of what has been estimated in the Local Plan and would not justify a development of this size. The scheme is therefore economically unviable.
- The new 4-way junction proposed at Down Place on the A31 would require more land-take than the Local Plan has suggested - it would involve widening the A31 bridge over the A3. No money has been allocated for this bridge-widening scheme and there is no indication that Highways England has approved it. Given the traffic flows, it is more likely that a large roundabout would be needed at this junction and this would severely impact the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.
- The new highway scheme, which provides access to Blackwell Farm, will increase congestion on the A31, B3000, and at the Gill Avenue/Egerton Road junction, which serves the A&E unit at the Royal Surrey County Hospital.

All the options for vehicles coming from the A3 north into the site would result in an increase of traffic manoeuvring through junctions that have poor accident records (eg Puttenham Interchange). No transport infrastructure requirements for the site have been identified to address the u-turning problem on the A31 (although we know SCC is trying to close the East Flexford gap).

Inaccurate evidence on SNCIs.

In the Settlement Profiles document (2013) which is part of the Settlements Hierarchy referred to in the Evidence Base (Appendix D of the Plan) GBC state (page 49) “There is a Site of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCI) to the north of Normandy” whereas in fact there are four (and possibly even five) SNCIs to the north of Normandy namely: Withybed Copse and Henley Park Fields SNCI, Normandy Common SNCI, Wyke School Wood SNCI, and Wyke Churchyard SNCI, and arguably part of Wanborough and Normandy Woods SNCI.

In addition to these, there are two others in Normandy Parish, namely Little Flexford SNCI (which is directly affected by Policy A46), and Broadstreet Common and Backside Common SNCI, as well as the remainder of Wanborough and Normandy Woods SNCI.

I believe that this is important evidence that has been missed and, had it been included correctly, A46 and A47 would not have been included in the plan.

With reference to Policy 12, the Plan has been developed without due assessment of the implications to local highways of the proposed development under policy A46.

Surrey County Council traffic simulations verify that the level of traffic on the local roads is already above capacity the roads were designed for. With no evidence of secure funding for any improvements to the A3 during the life time of the Plan the local road network will be even more affected. The local road network is incapable of coping with the development of the scale proposed in A46, and there is no evidence that this has been consider, nor that provisions for improvement in the plan period are feasible or viable.

I understand the GBC plans to build a tunnel to ease traffic congestion along the A3, however, it will not be completed during the life span of this Local Plan.

I believe that this is important evidence which is correctly assessed would have meant that A46 would not have been included in the plan.

Flood risks have not been considered by GBC

As A46 is within 5km of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection area (TBHSPA), (Policy 1: Sustainable Development) GBC should have considered the Habitats Regulations (NPPF) ‘water stress’. Yet this has not been considered. GBC’s Surface Water Management Plan (SWMP) has excluded the land north of A46, flood risk 3a and 3b (identified on the Environmental Agencies flood risk map). Loss of 3b an ‘effective floodplain’ will severely impact on the surrounding areas identified on the SWMP.

I believe that this is important evidence which is correctly assessed would have meant that A46 would not have been included in the plan.

The existing SPA Avoidance Strategy 2009-2014 was already extended to 2016 but has not been completely reviewed. The needs of the SPA cannot be assessed against the proposals brought forward under the Local Plan without this being completed.

The Guildford Open Space, Sport and Recreation Assessment document was also produced too late to be properly considered in relation to the proposed sites.

With reference to Policy A46 the ‘needs and priorities’ for Normandy and Flexford have not been decided by the residents, as local residents have not been consulted early enough in the process. The National Planning policy Framework (NPPF) 155 states, ‘early and meaningful’ engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods and local organisations is essential. This has not happened. I understand that evidence is available that documentation for A46 was submitted on behalf of Taylor Wimpey to GBC Planning Policy at least two years ago. However, this has not triggered any meaningful local resident consultation until now.

I object to policy A46 on the grounds that local residents have not been consulted sufficiently on this proposal, as required under the NPPF.

The national and local policies on biodiversity and the natural environment listed below all make strong statements about the need to minimise the impact of development on biodiversity and to conserve the natural environment.

The National Planning Policy Framework

The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) states that “The purpose of planning is to help to achieve sustainable development” and it describes three “dimensions” relevant to this aim: economic, social and environmental. The explanation for how the environmental aspect plays a role includes the statement “…..helping to improve biodiversity, use natural resources prudently….,” (see point 7 of the section in the NPPF dealing with achieving sustainable development).

In section 11 headed “Conserving and enhancing the natural environment”, it is stated inter alia that planning policy should protect and enhance valued landscapes and minimise impacts on biodiversity, providing net gains in biodiversity wherever possible to halt the overall decline in biodiversity, by promoting “the preservation, restoration and re-creation of priority habitats, ecological networks and the protection and recovery of priority species populations….”.

Guildford Borough Council

Guildford Borough Council (GBC) interprets the NPPF through their 'Policy I4' which emphasises the commitment to biodiversity stating: "The Council will conserve and enhance biodiversity and will seek opportunities for habitat restoration and creation, particularly within and adjacent to Biodiversity Opportunity Areas (BOAs)".
Proposals for development must demonstrate how they will deliver appropriate net gains in biodiversity. Where proposals fall within or adjacent to a BOA, biodiversity measures should support that BOA’s objectives. The Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) will set out guidance on how this can be achieved. European sites designated as Special Protection Areas (SPAs) and Special Areas of Conservation (SACs), National Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), local SNCIs and Local Nature Reserves are all shown on the Policies Map or as subsequently updated.

Policy 14 goes on to say that "Permission will not be granted for proposals that are likely to materially harm the nature conservation interests of local sites unless clear justification is provided that the need for development clearly outweighs the impact on biodiversity."

The UK Biodiversity Action Plan

The UK Biodiversity Action Plan (UK BAP) describes the UK’s biological resources. In Surrey recognised priority habitats include lowland dry acid grassland, lowland meadows, flood plain grazing marsh, wet woodland, hedgerows and arable field margins. It is known that farmland offers important habitat for wildlife. The UK BAP also identifies priority species for conservation which include rare and also declining “species of mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians, fish, plants, mosses, lichens and fungi”. Examples of priority species in Surrey include farmland birds which should be protected from further decline by maintaining and enhancing current populations wherever possible. As it says: “Development could impact on these species by direct loss of habitat, but also through increased recreational disturbance, especially associated with residential developments.”

The proposed area for development in Normandy and Flexford encompasses many of the above biological resources, recognised priority habitats and priority species for conservation. It is also relevant to the Biodiversity Plan for Surrey (see 2.4 below).

The Biodiversity Plan for Surrey

The Biodiversity Plan for Surrey (BPS) incorporates changes brought about by the NPPF, identifies the importance of Ancient Woodland and veteran trees for biodiversity interest. Such habitats support woodland plants with limited dispersal abilities, mammals such as bats and dormice which are protected species, as well as woodland birds and butterflies (many of which are in decline nationally), invertebrates and often lichen, mosses and fungi.

It is clear that the proposals for development in Normandy and Flexford (A46 and A47) directly conflict with these policies and I object to these development proposals as GBC have failed to show how they will conserve and enhance biodiversity.

Objection to Policy A46 on the grounds that GBC have failed to take into consideration the impacts upon wildlife and habitats both within the proposed development site and in SSSI’s and SNCI’s in the surrounding area in breach of Section 11 of the NPPF

Impact on the wider environment of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area

I believe that the Plan is unsound in relation to Policy A46 as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact that this huge proposed development specifically will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).

The proposed development is considerably less than five kilometres away from the TBH SPA and not much beyond the 400m exclusion zone, occupying an area between under 1km, to just over 2km, from the TBH SPA. It has been indicated that the cumulative effect of further residential development up to 5 km from protected heathlands will have a significant adverse effect on the heaths. Furthermore, Natural England believes that recreational use of the heaths arising from housing developments up to five kilometres away from a SPA will create disturbance to rare bird populations. The TBH SPA is an internationally important habitat for three rare species of bird - the Dartford warbler, woodlark and nightjar. The latter two are ground nesting and therefore particularly susceptible to disturbance from people and animals (including dogs being exercised).

I therefore question whether enough - or indeed any - consideration been given to the potentially detrimental effect that the proposed strategic development between Normandy and Flexford will have on this internationally important site.
A survey in 2008 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. Two hundred and sixty-four dogs are likely to come with the proposed development, the current ratio of dogs per household being 24/100, so this could potentially attract between 26 and 132 extra dog-walkers a day.

To deter dog-walkers from visiting the TBH SPA, any Suitable Alternative Green Space (SANG) in the proposed development would have to be of exceptional quality, as the Nightingale Road and Dolley's Hill entrances to the TBH SPA are only either 5 minutes away by car, or 20 minutes on foot. Whatever the size, the SANG would be a very small area in which to exercise 264 dogs. A small number of irresponsible dog owners, who do not scoop the poop, will make such a small area unattractive for walk and play. This is already a problem on Normandy Common.

Another factor is that some areas where a SANG might be located are muddy in wet weather and throughout the winter, whereas many of the tracks on the TBH SPA are dry in wet weather, including the winter. For those dissatisfied with the proposed SANG for whatever reason, or those wanting a longer walk, the natural alternative is the TBH SPA. If only 10% of dog owners use the TBH SPA, there would be 26 extra dogs a day using the TBH SPA; if 50% do, it would be an extra 132 dogs a day.

I strongly believe, that given the proximity of the proposed development to two entrances to the TBH SPA it will be impossible to design a SANG that will deter many residents from using the TBH SPA to walk their dogs. This will have a very serious impact on the wildlife and overall environment (unique flora and fauna) of this internationally important area.

Natural England states: “Special Areas of Conservation (SACs) are European designated sites, they are afforded protection under the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010. Generally speaking, when considering the impacts upon European sites, the Local Planning Authority, under the provisions of the Habitat Regulations, should have regard for any potential impacts that a plan or project may have”.

‘Natural England disagrees with the conclusions reached by the Habitat Regulation Assessment (HRA) and Sustainability Appraisal (SA) and advise that the plan is unsound on this basis’. Natural England states further: “We also have concerns that the Council does not appear to have adopted Government planning policy set out at paragraph 14 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) stating that local plans should meet objectively assessed development needs unless specific policies in the NPPF (such as protecting designated wildlife sites and landscapes) indicate development should be restricted.”

The Habitats Regulation Assessment document is incorrect. In Section 18 Policies 9, 10, and 13 are assessed but not the policies proposed in this version of The Plan.

I therefore object to the proposed A46 on these grounds.

Impact of increased volumes of traffic on wildlife

If the proposed development goes ahead, there will be an increase in pollution with respect to air quality, noise and light levels, particularly where cars have to queue at junctions or obstructions. The transport strategy proposed by GBC for this strategic site contains no scheduled improvements for Glaziers Lane and very few for Westwood Lane, both rural lanes. The A323 to the north of the site will also be affected, and very few improvements to that road are planned.

This will affect not only the people living in the area but also local wildlife. Natural England addressed this issue in: 'The ecological effects of air pollution from road transport' (2016) which states that: "Biodiversity 2020 identifies air pollution as a direct threat to biodiversity in England. Many habitats of nature conservation importance in the UK are adapted to low nutrient conditions and/or are vulnerable to acidification, and are sensitive to additional airborne nitrogen oxides (NOx), sulphur dioxide (SO2) and ammonia (NH3), as well as to nitrogen deposition and acid deposition." In addition, noise from traffic can result in hearing loss in animals. It masks important environmental clues and animal signals. It can result in stress and induce behavioural effects, such as abandonment of territory. With regard to light, predators use light to hunt, and prey species use darkness as cover. Thus increased light at night alters the predator/prey balance and can also affect breeding behaviour in many species.

The environment and the wildlife in and around the four designated SNCIs on the A323 in Normandy i.e. Wyke Churchyard SNCI, Normandy Common SNCI, Wanborough and Normandy Woods SNCI (northermost wood) and Wyke...
School Woods SNCI, all of which border the road, will be adversely affected by increased traffic and associated pollution. The UK BAP Traditional Orchard Habitat in Glaziers Lane will also be affected.

Another road where traffic will also be significantly increased is the A324. This borders the TBH SPA and increased traffic and pollution will therefore have an adverse effect on the heathland.

The increase in volume of traffic resulting from the proposed A46 development will reduce biodiversity and harm wildlife. The transport strategy for the area does nothing to mitigate for this and does little to reduce the number of additional motorised vehicles on the roads around the site. I therefore object to the proposed A46 on these grounds.

Impact of the proposed density of housing and Policy D4

A large development such as proposed for site A46, with urban housing density, will impact significantly on wildlife within the ancient woodland and veteran trees on the site. The damage to both the environment and its wildlife would be immeasurable regardless of whether buffer zones are put in place.

Not only would the woodland wildlife on the site be harmed, but also wildlife in the woodland next to the site, i.e. the North end of Walden's Copse and Pussey's Copse. Furthermore, it is very important not to break the canopy in any of the existing connections between these woodlands for fear of wildlife isolation. Dormice, for example, do not often like to come down to the ground preferring to move through the canopy.

With the proposed development will come cars, noise, light and air pollution all of which are hazardous to wildlife. As well as increased human activity, there are likely to be approximately 187 extra cats in the area, cat ownership currently being 17 out of 100 households, together with a large number of dogs (see section 2.4.1. above). These animals would undoubtedly have a serious impact on the wildlife of the woodland areas no matter how well the woodland are protected by fencing for example (it is well known that people cut fencing to facilitate access).

The elimination of farmland on site A46, which has traditionally been used for grazing, would also be disastrous since it provides habitat for a variety of wildlife including hedgehogs (which are seriously in decline), bats, owls, and woodpeckers. The open fields are important hunting grounds for barn owls, which can only hunt over open space, and birds of prey such as red kite, buzzard and kestrel. Bats have been seen to hunt by the avenue of ancient oaks and on the wooded edges.

At present, the majority of houses in the villages of Normandy and Flexford have fairly large gardens, which support large numbers of wildlife species. The increased density in housing will come with gardens of much reduced size. There is also a trend in such housing developments for areas to be paved over for parking. Taken together, this would result in a further reduction in the amount of green space, and the value of the gardens for wildlife declines.

GBC are of the opinion that the size of garden is irrelevant when it comes to maintaining biodiversity (see answer given by GBC to question 26 at the meeting organised by Normandy Parish Council on 24 February 2016). This is incorrect. According to an internet article compiled by Ken Thompson and Steve Head, entitled 'Gardens as a resource for wildlife' (Wildlife Gardening Forum) it has been shown that total vegetation is a major determinant of diversity and abundance of wildlife. In this article the potential national significance of gardens as a resource for wildlife is clear, but that as garden size decreases, the area occupied by trees, hedges and tall shrubs also declines, with a resulting decline in biodiversity.

Policy D4 anticipates that new possible development sites will be proposed in inset villages (which will include Normandy and Flexford if the Plan is adopted) in addition to current site locations. Whilst they state that they aim to protect the important character of these inset villages using other development management policies, it is inevitable that any such development, if granted, will further increase housing density, with greater impacts on wildlife (as above).

GBC state in the Plan that they have a responsibility to use natural resources, such as land, wisely. They are of the view that increasing densities of housing is one such wise use of land, because it makes development more sustainable. However they fail to take account of the impact of such development on wildlife and the environment, both within the proposed development site and on statutory and non-statutory designated sites in and around Normandy and Flexford. I therefore object to the development proposed on Site A4 on these grounds.

The majority of the site covered by this part of the development is designated as an SNCI and lies within an area identified as a ‘Water Vole Alert Area’ as identified by the National Water Vole Database and Mapping Project in 2012.
It is shocking that GBC would ever consider an SNCI a suitable site for development, particularly given the statements in the NPPF (Para 109) and the Council's own Policy I4 as set out in section 2.1 and 2.2 above. We find it a telling insight into the very low value that GBC places on biodiversity and wildlife. I strongly object to policy A46 on these grounds.

2.6 I object to Policy A46 on the grounds that there is no proven need for a secondary school in Site A46. Secondary schools to the west of the Borough are under subscribed by 736. Another 480 places will be available at the new Technical College (2018) and there are approved expansions at Guildford County and St. Peters. The New Hoe Valley school will have 120 places available per year, 25 places this year not taken.

The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) projections show there will be no identified ‘need’ for a school for the first 5 years of construction of 450 homes. An application for housing and a secondary school has been submitted for the development at Rokers, Worplesdon.

There has been no proper assessment of whether alternative sites could accommodate the school, as is clearly required given the “exceptional circumstances” test. GBC’s assessment of alternative secondary school sites notes that Surrey County Council’s concerns as to remoteness of the site from development areas was only overcome by the new housing provision in the Local Plan – i.e. that housing which is proposed on this site. The alternatives assessment fails to identify the land area required for the school, and fails to assess alternative sites on the basis of their contribution (or otherwise) to the Green Belt. This is a fundamentally flawed sequential assessment.

Even if this site is the only possible school site (which is not accepted) then there is no explanation as to why 1,100 houses are required to be delivered in addition to the school, with a materially greater impact on the Green Belt and the environment generally. Part of the justification offered for the selection of this site for a school is that it is close to the proposed housing (together with other development sites). This argument is circular, since if the school is not required in this location then nor is the housing. In any event, this justification does not compare alternative sites on a fair basis, since other sites are rejected for schools on the basis of their Green Belt location. This site also lies within the Green Belt.

2.7 Lack of consistency of approach on ‘Sustainability’ versus ‘Sensitivity’

Two of the key concepts that underpin the Plan are ‘sustainability’ (i.e. an areas suitability for development - Policy 1) and ‘sensitivity’ (its importance in terms of protecting the Green Belt). Individual settlements are ranked on both counts, and development is favoured in the most ‘sustainable’ ones; conversely, the barrier is higher in the most ‘sensitive ’ones. What is significant is that for the purposes of assessing ‘sustainability’ Normandy and Flexford’ have been treat as one settlement, whereas for ‘sensitivity’ they have been treated separately. This is simply inconsistent. In fact the original data (used in the first consultation) identified Normandy as one settlement. The data was rewritten in 2014 dividing the settlements in two. It is not appropriate to alter data in this way.

The Local Plan 2014 did not propose site A46 be allocated for development. Since then there has been no further Green Belt review, but there has been a Green Belt Purposes Assessment which identified this site as particularly sensitive in Green Belt terms.

I object on the grounds that A46 was not proposed or considered as a strategic site in the first consultation of the Local Plan. In conclusion, I feel strongly that the draft Local Plan does not meet sufficient standards to justify the proposed development at Sites A46 and A47, as detailed above, and therefore object to this Local Plan. Thank you for taking my comments into consideration.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

A46 and A47 both fall within the Green Belt, but their inclusion here is not justified. The fundamental aim of green belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open. The NPPF states ‘the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence’ (NPPF). Past verdicts of planning inspectors have declared that Normandy/Flexford green fields (A46) contribute to the ‘openness’ of the Green Belt and a panoramic view of green fields to the Surrey Hills AONB.

Paragraph 4.3.1.2 of the Plan (under Policy P2) states that "only those villages whose open character makes an important contribution to the Green Belt should be included in the Green Belt". I contend that the land in both Policy A46 and A47 makes an unparalleled contribution to the Green Belt which stretches from Guildford in the east to Ash/Tongham in the west. If this area is inset and built upon in the manner proposed it will be the beginning of urban sprawl across this stretch of countryside which Green Belt policy was designed to prevent. The Government have indicated that Green Belt is supposed to be protected, but GBC are trying to justify development in this area when they themselves designated it as having a 'Red' status under their system for quantifying sensitivity (red being the most sensitive and least likely to be developed). GBC have totally ignored all policies on biodiversity when proposing to inset these areas.

New developments are supposed to maintain existing Green infrastructure and improve upon it; in order to secure sustainable development, there should be a net gain for biodiversity. It is impossible to agree that any Green infrastructure which would accompany this development could mitigate for the habitat loss and resultant decline of species.

According to the Council for Protection of Rural England (CPRE), 13% of the most important habitat areas identified in UK BAP occur in the Green Belt, and certain species such as the mistle thrush, song thrush and starling (known to use Site 46) are doing better in the Green Belt than in any other parts of England. Green Belt areas also show more positive trends of bird and butterfly species than in the urban fringes compared to them.

I object to the insetting of Normandy and Flexford (re: Policies A46 and A47) from the Green Belt on the grounds that these areas do contribute to 'openness of the Green Belt'.

I support the removal of site A46 from the Local Plan. My previous submission to the Local Plan 2016 included reasons for my objection to the inclusion of this site, as there would be significant biodiversity loss if this development had proceeded, including to the Special Protection Area of the Thames Heaths Basin.

I support the removal of site A47 from the Local Plan. Again, I had objected previously to the inclusion of this site in Local Plan 2016, mainly on the grounds of biodiversity loss given that this is a designated Site of Nature Conservation Importance and therefore of high local wildlife value.

For both of these sites (A46 and A47) the reason for removal from the Local Plan was stated as being because no exceptional circumstances existed to remove this “high sensitivity” land from the Green Belt. This, again, provides greater evidence to the first point in this letter, from the Guildford Borough Council’s own documented rationale, that the insetting of the Green Belt at Flexford and Normandy is completely unjustified.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am a Guildford Borough Council resident, living in the Normandy/Flexford area. I have some strong objections to the Guildford Borough Council (GBC) Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites (2017) (Reg 19) including changes made since the last draft.

I strongly object to the changes in policy P2. Green Belt is, amongst other things, vital to protecting our natural countryside from urban sprawl, and should not be removed from areas without proper evidence to support “exceptional circumstances” (as per National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) para. 89). To suggest in the proposed changes that new areas - Normandy settlement, Flexford settlement and Walden Cottages - be inset from the Green Belt is in fact completely contradictory to the evidence that exists:-
- Past planning appeals APP/Y3615/W/15/3002308, APP/Y2615/A/10/2140630 and APP/Y3615/A/10/2131590 contained such evidence that these areas contribute to the openness of the Green Belt.
- The Sustainability Appraisal para. 10.4.7 contains evidence that the agricultural land affected contributes to the ‘openness’, is of Best and most Versatile (BMV) quality and contributes to the local rural economy.
The applicable land at Flexford and Normandy is also visible from the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB), so the loss of this area, and thus the countryside, by insetting it in the Green Belt would affect the views into and from the AONB.

I am concerned and object to the statement in the submission Local Plan under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) that Normandy, Flexford and 12 other villages are “now inset from the Green Belt". This is extremely inaccurate, as the proposed changes are just that, proposals only, with no decision having been made to this end and therefore these areas still remain within the Green Belt.

There is no percentage of loss of land in the Green Belt which would be considered acceptable as stated in the NPPF or elsewhere. It is concerning that the plan claims to lose only 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt, when in fact if measuring this accurately it would be closer to 7% when one considers all of the insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Revised Guildford Borough Draft Local Plan 2016

It appears that very little of substance has changed from the first unacceptable Draft Plan of 2014. I write to register my objections and criticisms of certain key aspects of the above Plan, as follows:

- The blanket withdrawal from the Green Belt of West and East Horsley, as well as all the other villages listed, is overreaching and excessive. If it is necessary to designate some very specific small patches of land for inset from the Green Belt for development, it should only be done with considerable care on a site by site basis, not sweeping wholesale removal of large swathes of whole Parishes and villages.
- The policy statements essentially contradictory, claiming to protect the Green Belt but then removing huge areas from its protection.
- The number of additional potential dwellings proposed in West Horsley is disproportionate compared to the existing housing stock and will constitute a massive increase of some 35% and in no way can be considered “commensurate to their size, character and function”.
- The number of additional potential dwellings in West Horsley is considerably higher and disproportionate to that proposed for the rest of the Borough.
- The population growth projections used in the Plan appear to have a fundamental base calculation flaw to justify these huge housing increases. They are considerably higher than predictions made by the Office for National Statistics. Why? They are therefore an unreliable basis to warrant such considerable development.
- In addition, following the Brexit referendum outcome, housing needed for EU immigrants will be much less.
- The proposed additional housing for the Horsleys must not be viewed in isolation but must be considered in the context of the potential other developments in the Borough, particularly the massive expansion of over 2000 houses at Wisley Airfield, a mere couple of miles away. The area will be literally swamped by a massive increase in population which is in no way “commensurate”.
- Successive national Governments and Ministers are on record as confirming that the Green Belt should remain protected and only used in “exceptional circumstances” and housing development needs does NOT constitute exceptional circumstances.
- The proposed extremely high proportion of affordable housing in these housing developments is totally out-of-line with the current mix of housing. Furthermore it is questionable if there is even demand for such a high proportion.
- The local infrastructure of facilities and services such as schools, medical facilities, roads, will be overwhelmed.
- The adoption and conversion of most pavements to shared use for both pedestrians and cyclists, with pedestrians having priority where necessary, should be specifically stated in the Draft Plan.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I wish to note my objection to the proposed plan for development for certain part of the Horsley area.

I am a Horsley resident and home owner. One of the main reason for choosing to live in this area was and still is to take full advantage of quiet village life and to enjoy the green space which is entrenched in the declaration of much of this area as a green belt.

I am disappointed that application has been made by the Guildford Council to ‘delink’ Horsley from the green belt so that housing and development can be increased in this area. Horsley is an essential part of the green belt and is part of the Surrey Hills and part of this area of outstanding natural beauty. It is also close enough to London to be a great area to easily access by Londoners keen to introduce their families to nature either walking in the various green areas of cycling along country lanes. There appear to be no good or exceptional reasons, as required by the Policy to change the boundaries of the green belt. Any such change would also add significant impact on the enjoyment of the area.

The addition of so many more homes will have a significant impact on the services in the area. Not only would the planned additional Housing change the character of the village but there are no plan for how the additional Services will be provided.

There is no concrete plan for infrastructural development to accompany the proposed increase in housing. The train station parking is already inadequate for present commuters and is often full. No plan exists for the development of new schools although the population increase would require it. The roads around Horsley are country lanes and would not be able to cope with further traffic.

All in all the proposed development is not well considered or thought out and will have a very negative impact on the character of the area without enough consideration.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Errors and omissions need to be corrected and significant late evidence should be properly considered when making such important judgements. Arguments made based on flawed, inaccurate or inadequate evidence cannot be valid.

Specifically:

- Surrey County Council’s Strategic Highway Assessment and Guildford’s Borough Transport Strategy were both produced very late in the process and their content is not and cannot have been fully taken into account in the production of the Local Plan. Infrastructure capacity, condition and future changes / funding are key to making decisions in the Local Plan and these issues appear weak in the Proposed Submission Local Plan in relation to the proposed Sites.
- The Guildford Open Space, Sport and Recreation Assessment document was also produced too late to be properly considered in relation to the proposed sites.
- The Settlement Hierarchy and Settlement Profile for Normandy / Flexford states that “there is a Site of Nature Conservation Importance (SNCI) to the north of Normandy”. There are actually several SNCIs in Normandy, including south of Normandy within the allocated A46 site.
- The existing SPA Avoidance Strategy 2009-2014 was already extended to 2016 but has not been reviewed for the future. The needs of the SPA – arguably one of the most important protected sites in southern England – cannot be assessed against the proposals brought forward under the Local Plan without this being completed.

I believe that Sites A46 and A47 could not be included in the draft proposals if the evidence were correct and properly assessed.

Lack of consistency of approach on ‘Sustainability’ versus ‘Sensitivity’

Two of the key concepts that underpin the Plan are ‘sustainability’ (i.e. an area’s suitability for development - Policy 1) and ‘sensitivity’ (its importance in terms of protecting the Green Belt). Individual settlements are ranked on both counts, and development is favoured in the most ‘sustainable’ ones; conversely, the barrier is higher in the most ‘sensitive’ ones. What is significant is that for the purposes of assessing ‘sustainability’ Normandy and Flexford have been treated as one settlement, whereas for ‘sensitivity’ they have been treated separately. This is simply inconsistent. In fact the original data (used in the first consultation) identified Normandy as one settlement. The data was rewritten in 2014 dividing the settlements in two. It is not appropriate to alter data in this way.

In conclusion, I feel strongly that the draft Local Plan does not meet sufficient standards to justify the proposed development at Sites A46 and A47, as detailed above, and therefore object to this Local Plan. Thank you for taking my comments into consideration.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Impact of increased volumes of traffic on wildlife

If the proposed development goes ahead, there will be an increase in pollution with respect to air quality, noise and light levels, particularly where cars have to queue at junctions or obstructions. The transport strategy proposed by GBC for this strategic site contains no scheduled improvements for Glaziers Lane and very few for Westwood Lane, both rural lanes. The A323 to the north of the site will also be affected, and very few improvements to that road are planned.

This will affect not only the people living in the area but also local wildlife. Natural England addressed this issue in: 'The ecological effects of air pollution from road transport' (2016) which states that: “Biodiversity 2020 identifies air pollution as a direct threat to biodiversity in England. Many habitats of nature conservation importance in the UK are adapted to low nutrient conditions and/or are vulnerable to acidification, and are sensitive to additional airborne nitrogen oxides (NOx), sulphur dioxide (SO2) and ammonia (NH3), as well as to nitrogen deposition and acid deposition.” In addition, noise from traffic can result in hearing loss in animals. It masks important environmental clues and animal signals. It can result in stress and induce behavioural effects, such as abandonment of territory. With regard to light, predators use light to hunt, and prey species use darkness as cover. Thus increased light at night alters the predator/prey balance and can also affect breeding behaviour in many species.

The environment and the wildlife in and around the four designated SNCIs on the A323 in Normandy i.e. Wyke Churchyard SNCI, Normandy Common SNCI, Wanborough and Normandy Woods SNCI (northernmost wood) and Wyke School Woods SNCI, all of which border the road, will be adversely affected by increased traffic and associated pollution. The UK BAP Traditional Orchard Habitat in Glaziers Lane will also be affected.

Another road where traffic will also be significantly increased is the A324. This borders the TBH SPA and increased traffic and pollution will therefore have an adverse effect on the heathland.

The increase in volume of traffic resulting from the proposed A46 development will reduce biodiversity and harm wildlife. The transport strategy for the area does nothing to mitigate for this and does little to reduce the number of additional motorised vehicles on the roads around the site. I therefore object to the proposed A46 on these grounds.

Impact of the proposed density of housing and Policy D4

A large development such as proposed for site A46, with urban housing density, will impact significantly on wildlife within the ancient woodland and veteran trees on the site. The damage to both the environment and its wildlife would be immeasurable regardless of whether buffer zones are put in place.

Not only would the woodland wildlife on the site be harmed, but also wildlife in the woodland next to the site, i.e. the North end of Walden's Copse and Pussey's Copse. Furthermore, it is very important not to break the canopy in any of the existing connections between these woodlands for fear of wildlife isolation. Dormice, for example, do not often like to come down to the ground preferring to move through the canopy.

With the proposed development will come cars, noise, light and air pollution all of which are hazardous to wildlife. As well as increased human activity, there are likely to be approximately 187 extra cats in the area, cat ownership currently being 17 out of 100 households, together with a large number of dogs (see section 2.4.1. above). These animals would undoubtedly have a serious impact on the wildlife of the woodland areas no matter how well the woodland are protected by fencing for example (it is well known that people cut fencing to facilitate access).

The elimination of farmland on site A46, which has traditionally been used for grazing, would also be disastrous since it provides habitat for a variety of wildlife including hedgehogs (which are seriously in decline), bats, owls, and woodpeckers. The open fields are important hunting grounds for barn owls, which can only hunt over open space, and birds of prey such as red kite, buzzard and kestrel. Bats have been seen to hunt by the avenue of ancient oaks and on the wooded edges.

At present, the majority of houses in the villages of Normandy and Flexford have fairly large gardens, which support large numbers of wildlife species. The increased density in housing will come with gardens of much reduced size. There is also a trend in such housing developments for areas to be paved over for parking. Taken together, this would result in a further reduction in the amount of green space, and the value of the gardens for wildlife declines.

GBC are of the opinion that the size of garden is irrelevant when it comes to maintaining biodiversity (see answer given by GBC to question 26 at the meeting organised by Normandy Parish Council on 24 February 2016). This is incorrect. According to an internet article compiled by Ken Thompson and Steve Head, entitled 'Gardens as a resource for wildlife' (Wildlife Gardening Forum) it has been shown that total vegetation is a major determinant of diversity and abundance of wildlife. In this article the potential national significance of gardens as a resource for wildlife is clear, but that as garden size decreases, the area occupied by trees, hedges and tall shrubs also declines, with a resulting decline in biodiversity.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

GBC state in the Plan that they have a responsibility to use natural resources, such as land, wisely. They are of the view that increasing densities of housing is one such wise use of land, because it makes development more sustainable. However they fail to take account of the impact of such development on wildlife and the environment, both within the proposed development site and on statutory and non-statutory designated sites in and around Normandy and Flexford. I therefore object to the development proposed on Site A4 on these grounds.

I object to Policy A46 on the grounds that there is no proven need for a secondary school in Site A46

Secondary schools to the west of the Borough are under subscribed by 736. Another 480 places will available at the new Technical College (2018) and there are approved expansions at Guildford County and St. Peters. The New Hoe Valley school will have 120 places available per year, 25 places this year not taken.

The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) projections show there will be no identified ‘need’ for a school for the first 5 years of construction of 450 homes. An application for housing and a secondary school has been submitted for the development at Rokers, Worplesdon.

There has been no proper assessment of whether alternative sites could accommodate the school, as is clearly required given the “exceptional circumstances” test. GBC’s assessment of alternative secondary school sites notes that Surrey County Council’s concerns as to remoteness of the site from development areas was only overcome by the new housing provision in the Local Plan – i.e. that housing which is proposed on this site. The alternatives assessment fails to identify the land area required for the school, and fails to assess alternative sites on the basis of their contribution (or otherwise) to the Green Belt. This is a fundamentally flawed sequential assessment.

Even if this site is the only possible school site (which is not accepted) then there is no explanation as to why 1,100 houses are required to be delivered in addition to the school, with a materially greater impact on the Green Belt and the environment generally. Part of the justification offered for the selection of this site for a school is that it is close to the proposed housing (together with other development sites). This argument is circular, since if the school is not required in this location then nor is the housing. In any event, this justification does not compare alternative sites on a fair basis, since other sites are rejected for schools on the basis of their Green Belt location. This site also lies within the Green Belt.

Impact of Policy A47

The majority of the site covered by this part of the development is designated as an SNCI and lies within an area identified as a ‘Water Vole Alert Area’ as identified by the National Water Vole Database and Mapping Project in 2012.

It is shocking that GBC would ever consider an SNCI a suitable site for development, particularly given the statements in the NPPF (Para 109) and the Council's own Policy I4 as set out in section 2.1 and 2.2 above. We find it a telling insight into the very low value that GBC places on biodiversity and wildlife. I strongly object to policy A46 on these grounds.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy D4 anticipates that new possible development sites will be proposed in inset villages (which will include Normandy and Flexford if the Plan is adopted) in addition to current site locations. Whilst they state that they aim to protect the important character of these inset villages using other development management policies, it is inevitable that any such development, if granted, will further increase housing density, with greater impacts on wildlife (as above).

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
1. Legal compliance and soundness

I object to the proposed Local Plan on the grounds that numerous factors make it non-compliant legally and unsound.

The Local plan proposals for A46 and A47 are inadequate on all the following grounds:

- The NPPF demands that residents are actively engaged in deciding their needs and priorities. This has not been met. These previously safeguarded proposals have been brought forward in detail only in this iteration of the plan, meaning residents have had only a minimal time to respond and only in relation to Regulation 19, not at Regulation 18. Even at a public meeting on 24th February with Cllr Spooner the position presented was that the safeguarding on A46 had been lifted and that the site was a ‘red rated’ green belt area. No mention was made of either proposal – only a few weeks before the new draft was published. I understand the proposals have been with GBC for up to two years.

I object that residents have not been fully consulted on these proposals.

- The proposals are contrary to the NPPF’s requirements on biodiversity and the natural environment. In section 11 headed “Conserving and enhancing the natural environment”, it is stated that planning policy should protect and enhance valued landscapes and minimise impacts on biodiversity, providing net gains in biodiversity wherever possible to halt the overall decline in biodiversity, by promoting “the preservation, restoration and re-creation of priority habitats, ecological networks and the protection and recovery of priority species populations…..”. GBC is failing to do this in several ways in relation to A46 and A47 with no clear justification or evidence given as to why this is the case. It seems that no consideration has been given to the value of the existing SNCIs, the wider network of hedges and trees and the fact that all this is within one of Surrey’s Biodiversity Opportunity Areas – despite Policy I4 seeking to promote exactly these qualities. I object that Guildford has not given biodiversity the full consideration legally required, in breach not only of these policies but their statutory duty under the NERC Act 2006.

- A46 and A47 both fall within the Green Belt, but their inclusion here is not justified. The fundamental aim of green belt policy is to prevent urban sprawl by keeping land permanently open. The NPPF states ‘the essential characteristics of Green Belts are their openness and their permanence’ (NPPF). Past verdicts of planning inspectors have declared that Normandy/Flexford green fields (A46) contribute to the ‘openness’ of the Green Belt and a panoramic view of green fields to the Surrey Hills AONB.

Paragraph 4.3.1.2 of the Plan (under Policy P2) states that "only those villages whose open character makes an important contribution to the Green Belt should be included in the Green Belt". I contend that the land in both Policy A46 and A47 makes an unparalleled contribution to the Green Belt which stretches from Guildford in the east to Ash/Tongham in... the west. If this area is inset and built upon in the manner proposed it will be the beginning of urban sprawl across this stretch of countryside which Green Belt policy was designed to prevent. The Government have indicated that Green Belt is supposed to be protected, but GBC are trying to justify development in this area when they themselves designated it as having a 'Red' status under their system for quantifying sensitivity (red being the most sensitive and least likely to be developed). GBC have totally ignored all policies on biodiversity when proposing to inset these areas.

New developments are supposed to maintain existing Green infrastructure and improve upon it; in order to secure sustainable development, there should be a net gain for biodiversity. It is impossible to agree that any Green infrastructure which would accompany this development could mitigate for the habitat loss and resultant decline of species.

According to the Council for Protection of Rural England (CPRE), 13% of the most important habitat areas identified in UK BAP occur in the Green Belt, and certain species such as the mistle thrush, song thrush and starling (known to use Site 46) are doing better in the Green Belt than in any other parts of England. Green Belt areas also show more positive trends of bird and butterfly species than in the urban fringes compared to them.

I object to the insetting of Normandy and Flexford (A46 and A47) from the Green Belt on the grounds that these areas contribute to the ‘openess of the Green Belt’

2.4.1 Impact on the wider environment of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area

I believe that the Plan is unsound in relation to Policy A46 as the Habitats Regulations Assessment prepared for GBC does not take sufficient account of the impact that this huge proposed development specifically will have upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA) which is a European Site as defined under the Habitats Directive and Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).

The proposed development is considerably less than five kilometres away from the TBH SPA and not much beyond the 400m exclusion zone, occupying an area between under 1km, to just over 2km, from the TBH SPA. It has been indicated that the cumulative effect of further residential development up to 5 km from protected heathlands will have a significant adverse effect on the heaths. Furthermore, Natural England believes that recreational use of the heaths arising from housing developments up to five kilometres away from a SPA will create disturbance to rare bird populations. The TBH SPA is an internationally important habitat for three rare species of bird - the Dartford warbler, woodlark and nightjar. The latter two are ground nesting and therefore particularly susceptible to disturbance from people and animals (including dogs being exercised).

I therefore question whether enough - or indeed any - consideration been given to the potentially detrimental effect that the proposed strategic development between Normandy and Flexford will have on this internationally important site.

A survey in 2008 showed that more than 83% of visitors to the SPA arrived by car and that 70% of those had come from within 5km of its access point. A very large proportion of the TBH SPA visitors are dog walkers, many of whom visit a particular site on a regular basis. Two hundred and sixty four dogs are likely to come with the proposed development, the current ratio of dogs per household being 24/100, so this could potentially attract between 26 and 132 extra dog-walkers a day.

To deter dog-walkers from visiting the TBH SPA, any Suitable Alternative Green Space (SANG) in the proposed development would have to be of exceptional quality, as the Nightingale Road and Dolley's Hill entrances to the TBH SPA are only either 5 minutes away by car, or 20 minutes on foot. Whatever the size, the SANG would be a very small area in which to exercise 264 dogs. A small number of irresponsible dog owners, who do not scoop the poop, will make such a small area unattractive for walk and play. This is already a problem on Normandy Common.

Another factor is that some areas where a SANG might be located are muddy in wet weather and throughout the winter, whereas many of the tracks on the TBH SPA are dry in wet weather, (including the winter). For those dissatisfied with the proposed SANG for whatever reason, or those wanting a longer walk, the natural alternative is the TBH SPA. If only 10% of dog owners use the TBH SPA, there would be 26 extra dogs a day using the TBH SPA; if 50% do, it would be an extra 132 dogs a day.

I strongly believe, that given the proximity of the proposed development to two entrances to the TBH SPA it will be impossible to design a SANG that will deter many residents from using the TBH SPA to walk their dogs. This will have a very serious impact on the wildlife and overall environment (unique flora and fauna) of this internationally important area.

Natural England states: “Special Areas of Conservation (SACs) are European designated sites, they are afforded protection under the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010. Generally speaking, when considering the impacts upon European sites, the Local Planning Authority, under the provisions of the Habitat Regulations, should have regard for any potential impacts that a plan or project may have”.

‘Natural England disagrees with the conclusions reached by the Habitat Regulation Assessment (HRA) and Sustainability Appraisal (SA) and advise that the plan is unsound on this basis’. Natural England states further: “We also have concerns that the Council does not appear to have adopted Government planning policy set out at paragraph 14 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) stating that local plans should meet objectively assessed development needs unless specific policies in the NPPF (such as protecting designated wildlife sites and landscapes) indicate development should be restricted.”

The Habitats Regulation Assessment document is incorrect. In Section 18 Policies 9, 10, and 13 are assessed but not the policies proposed in this version of The Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I overwhelmingly object to the removal of Guildfords greenbelt it makes the area special and desirable and helps to balance London's carbon emissions.

<td>Comments on the proposed submission local plan; stratagem and sites June 2016. I am a resident of West Horsley and have been for over 10 years. The reason I chose to live in the village was predominantly due to the peaceful, beautiful and unspoilt location. Whilst I am sympathetic to the reason for new housing I cannot understand why anyone would consider removing the green belt land to make way for such development. The areas proposed for development are home to a number of key indicator species of animals which determine the conditions of the local environment. One of these species is the Red kite. There are many other precious spices of bat and reptiles such as the adder which I have seen residing locally. Another privilege of living in the village. If the land use is change from green belt to allow the local council to sell the land for development, I fear greatly for the habitat destruction of the species mentioned, and these are just some examples. It seems so much effort has been put into making the environment habitable for these animals only to be lost for the short sighted gain of building homes. There are in my opinion many other brownfield sites that would benefit from this sort of development, but here is not one of those places.</td>

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3).

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity.
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.
15. I object to the potential impact of para 4.4.23a on Burnt Common with its over allocation of industrial zoning is subterfuge for a waste management facility which is a dishonest and underhand approach to planning and proper consultation.

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.
Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

Policy A25 – My Objections

1) Gosden Hill development of 1700 houses. Reference to a potential link road from the development to the A247. The clear implication is for access from the development to the A247 with enormous traffic implications for the A247.

2) South bound off- and on- slip roads to service the development and replace the existing off-slip road to Burpham. The only North bound access to the A3 will be via the existing slip road off Clay Lane. (See later, Burnt Common).

3) A 4-entry form secondary school, a primary school, a retail centre and a park and ride for up to 700 cars.

4) When developed, the new employment site at the north side of Gosden Hill Farm (site allocation A25) will be treated as an Office and Research & Development Strategic Employment Site (7000sq.m). This could mean several hundred employees.

   1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
   2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
   3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,

This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).
   8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
   9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Policy A43 – My Objections

Garlick’s Arch development of 400+ houses and facilities for travelling showmen (implies storage yards and long vehicles). This will generate traffic on the A247.

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be recommissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.
12. I object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.
13. I object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.
14. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and theA247 through West Clandon. 22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Burnt Common strategic industrial employment site for light industry, storage and distribution activities. It is to be designated an Industrial Strategic Employment Site which means that it is a preferred site for industrial development including waste management facilities. The site is 9ha which it is stated allows for considerable future expansion. This will generate large amounts of traffic including heavy vehicles on the A247.

1. I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common and to the proposed inclusion of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site
2. This previous allocation for B1c, B2 and B8 development was removed from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
3. The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. This change alone is unacceptable since even if there was a need to build 7,000 sq m at Burnt Common this development would only require 1.4 ha at a standard plot ratio density of 50% not 9.26 ha. There is no justification for zoning an additional 7.86 ha in the Green Belt.
4. There is in fact no justification for building any more industrial development in the borough particularly at Burnt Common. The current industrial pipeline of granted consents of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space is double the 19,000 sq m said to be needed by Aecom who justify the need for new space on top of the existing pipeline by a completely unsubstantiated suggestion that “there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”
5. There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units.
6. The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.
7. The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”
8. 38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and is in fact more space than the 3.9 ha of industrial land that is said to be needed for the plan period by Aecom. Since if you were to develop 3.9 ha at a plot ratio of 50% it would provide new industrial development of 19,000 sq m approximately half of current planning permissions granted. This does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common.
9. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.
10. The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock.
11. It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.
12. The ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 does not support industrial development on land in the Green Belt at Burnt Common.
13. The Aecom research is generally superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.
14. The potential inclusion of a waste management facility mentioned at paragraph 4.4.23a lacks enough detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate.

Policies ID1 & ID2 Infrastructure – My Objections

Although much is made of the need for new infrastructure to support these developments and for this to be in place as needed, the Plan admits … “we forecast that there will also be an absolute increase in overall traffic volumes” and this is assuming all the infrastructure (listed in App. C to the Plan) is in place in a timely fashion. GBC has little or no control over the plans of Surrey County Council as the local highways authority and Highways England for trunk roads. Worryingly, the Plan now has less substantive information about improvements to the A3 South of the M25 from Highways England and it appears that their plans are not yet formed (Policy ID2). In the absence of such information, the infrastructure proposed is specific to each proposed development and does not address cumulative effects. What would be the case with regard to planning approval if SCC and/or HE do not provide timely infrastructure?

The Plan now calls for nearly all infrastructure to be funded by developers (see APP. C). We question how realistic it is to expect developers not only to pay for all the infrastructure but also to have it in place in a timely fashion. The Plan says that planning permission will be refused if timely provision of infrastructure cannot be secured. Such refusals will almost certainly be settled in the courts. Developers’ business models are based on building and selling houses to create the cash to provide infrastructure. People will be living on the sites well before infrastructure is complete. Will GBC prevent development of Gosden Hill until slip roads etc. are provided off and onto the A3? Again, the infrastructure is site specific and does not address cumulative effects.

If development were to be refused the land would still have been removed from the green belt and its future rendered uncertain.

Residents are being asked to accept very large amounts of development with little or no detail being provided on measures which would relieve existing congestion and limit future problems. The cumulative effects of the developments listed below are certain to have a devastating effect on the A247 through our village (and of course on Send) and it is hard to see how any of the infrastructure proposed in the Plan (App. C) will do anything to mitigate the effects of these developments on the A247 and hence our village.

Summary of the Impacts on the A247 – My Objections

All of these developments will draw additional traffic to the A247 through the village. It would be naïve to think that the employment sites and schools will serve only the developments themselves. Apart from the normal movements of residents to and from the new sites there will be considerable additional traffic on the A247 generated by:

- children from elsewhere being delivered to schools and collected
- the employees of the offices and industrial sites getting to work and returning home
- the vehicle movements generated by distribution and storage activities
- traffic from Wisley wishing to travel South and returning
- traffic from Gosden Hill wishing to travel South and returning
- traffic from Slyfield wishing to travel South and returning
- private and commercial traffic originating in the South and accessing Gosden Hill, Burnt Common or the A3 and returning (including traffic from Dunsfold)

The A247 although an A road:
- is less than 2 vehicle wide in places
- does not have continuous footpaths
- has several sharp bends
- has a hump-backed bridge with poor site lines
- has a very difficult junction to access the station
- is largely unlit
- has a primary school
- is already very congested at times

The removal of green belt protection from the prison site meaning that it is likely to come forward for housing development. The nearest feasible access to the A3 is at the A247 junction.

The Plan states: “4.3.16 National planning policy requires that Green Belt boundaries are only amended in exceptional circumstances and that this must be undertaken as part of the Local Plan process. We consider that exceptional circumstances exist to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to facilitate the development that is needed and promote sustainable patterns of development.”

The Plan fails to demonstrate that exceptional circumstances exist for each site that is to be taken from the green belt. The wording implies that it is legitimate to have a blanket change to green belt boundaries to facilitate development. That is not in accord with the NPPF.

Non-plan Items – My Objections
Surrey County Council’s business plan for Newlands Corner (not referenced in the Local Plan) to attract 100,000 more visitors a year. A significant proportion of these can be expected to use the A247.

Cumulative impact of changes – My Objections
Changes to the Plan have done nothing to alleviate the problems (particularly of traffic and congestion) raised in residents’ previous responses. Indeed it is now clear that the problems will be made much worse. There do not appear to be any changes which would be of benefit to the Clandons and indeed the cumulative effect of what is in the Plan and some external factors not in the Plan will have a much worse impact on the A247 through West Clandon and Send than the 2016 draft. Note that the A247 is the only road over the Guildford to Waterloo railway, North of Guildford that doesn’t involve travelling through the town centre.

Duty to Cooperate – My Objections
The NPPF states para 155: “Early and meaningful engagement and collaboration with neighbourhoods, local organisations and businesses is essential. A wide section of the community should be proactively engaged, so that Local Plans, as far as possible, reflect a collective vision and a set of agreed priorities for the sustainable development of the area, including those contained in any neighbourhood plans that have been made.”

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

Please close Walnut Tree close road for the following reasons -

It has a long history of flooding, it floods completely at 3.08 metres, we watched the river level rise over 1 metre in an hour. If it flash floods faster as it did in 1968 there is no access for emergency services, cars will become submerged with the people in it. On 24th Dec 2013 it took over an hour to get gridlocked cars out of the road. Please review the photos attached and google Walnut Tree Close 1969 flood which has a view of GU1 4UI in the foreground (closest to the station).

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes which is still far too much.
2. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
3. Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt,
4. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity
5. The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.
6. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon.
7. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below),
8. The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
9. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
2. It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
3. There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
4. There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
5. The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.
6. This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
7. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.
8. Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
9. The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.
10. I object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in West Clandon, Send and Ripley will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.
11. I object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river
14. I object to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

15. Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Ripley, and Send are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

16. Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

17. With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the villages of West Clandon, East Clandon, Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

18. The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the roads becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

19. I object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

20. Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

21. Many of the utilities in the West Clandon, East Clandon, Burpham, Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

22. Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

23. I object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

24. I object to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.
25. I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

26. It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

The Plan now states: “the presumption in favour of sustainable development will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

Gosden Hill and Blackwell Farm (both currently in the green belt) are called “urban extensions” surely a euphemism for urban sprawl? Garlick’s Arch and Burnt Common developments take land from the green belt to extend Ripley/Send. One of the important specific purposes of the green belt is to prevent urban sprawl.

The changes in this latest version of the Guildford Local Plan show little or no willingness of Guildford Borough Council to reflect a collective vision. Despite the many thousands of responses to previous versions of the Plan which overwhelmingly rejected building on Green Belt land this latest version has as much, if not more, building on the Green Belt and increased problems of infrastructure and traffic which will bring increased noise and air pollution and danger to residents.

Thank you for your e-mail and I now return a copy of your plan having hatched in red those areas of the Estate which should be excluded from your assessment as public open space. I’m afraid the quality of the plan you send me is not that good so I have only been able to roughly identify the land that should be excluded. However as you will see it does cover a significant part of the Estate.

Having re-read again your criteria set out on page 41 of your assessment I believe I have correctly identified the land which does not fulfil the criteria as it is land that is not open for informal access either on a permissive or managed basis. Whilst there are some rights of way running through or adjacent to these areas of land they are no more open space than any other field within the locality. The areas I have identified are all run as areas of commercial woodland or commercial agricultural land.

I look forward to receiving your confirmation that these areas will be correctly identified and formally excluded from your assessment.

Please advise if we need to make a formal objection or whether this is sufficient for the purpose.

If you require me to identify the land more accurately then please send me a better quality plan.

I look forward to hearing from you.

I have been forwarded a copy of your Guildford Open Spaces, Sport & Recreation Assessment of June 2016 and am extremely surprised to see that without any form of consultation you have included large areas of the Albury Estate which are private and not open to the public as either accessible natural green space or park and recreation ground.

Significant parts of the Albury Estate are indeed open to the public but this does not extend to the following areas which are shown on the map for the Tillingbourne Ward contained in Appendix 2 of your assessment.
Some of the following areas may have public footpaths close by them, they are not publicly accessible spaces and should therefore be excluded:

- The Netherlands
- Chantry Wood
- The Boxes
- Tickners Copse
- The Warren
- Kiln Rough
- Far Plantation
- Mustard Copse
- Jugs Copse
- Broomfield & Blackheath Woods
- Silverwood
- Albury Park

On behalf of the Estate I wish to object in the strongest possible terms to their inclusion as they are private areas and I request that they are deleted from your plan.

I appreciate that it may be difficult for you to identify exactly which parts of the Estate are available to the public and which are private and if you care to send me a more detailed version of the plan contained in Appendix 2 I will happily draw the correct boundaries so that you can correct the plan.

I look forward to hearing from you with confirmation that the private areas of the Estate will be removed from your assessment forthwith.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I live in [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998] which borders the proposed path on its West side. I completely concur with Mr Jenkins view and would also add:

1. the proposed path will have a significant negative impact on the security and privacy of both [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998]. I have a young family and therefore object strongly to it
2. the proposed path will open up the southern boundary of our property (approximately 200m wide) which will also require new fencing and screening which will obviously increase the costs already mentioned by Mr Jenkins.

I am also happy to attend meetings to discuss this topic further.

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are likely to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situation worse.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attended documents:
Loss of Green Belt, this is of particular concern as its will set a precedent which will have long term repercussions across the county.

I do not believe that the demand is actually there for the number of houses that have been proposed 693 almost double the previous stated figure of 322.

I note in the video the argument on the cost of affordable housing and the inability of staff to live close to their place of employment. I do not think this is a valid reason for building more houses. In my lifetime I have commuted to work and had to find affordable housing as close to my place of work as I could. In an ideal world we would all like to live a short distance from work but in reality this is not feasible or realistic.

I have lived in Burpham for 24 years and seen the steady rise in new builds, with no consideration to the improvement of essential infrastructure. Given the proposed number of dwellings and the huge impact this would have on our roads, transport and the utilities especially Water this cannot continue, so why is there a lack of specific details of essential infrastructure especially as there is an acknowledged existing deficit.

<td>In View of flawed new evidence, Guildford’s proposal for more than 12426 homes (plus buffer of 1,155 homes) is excessive and will result in needless loss of green belt and green character, and increase congestion, that cannot be justified in our heavily constrained borough, Their is evidence Guildford’s population growth is overestimated by about 40% because of under-recording of students leaving at the end of their studies.</td>

The revised proposal that only 60% of full time Guildford based University students will be provided with accommodation on campus puts unnecessary pressure on housing stock in the town. An 80% target could help by freeing up affordable homes relatively quickly.

If the Council fails to apply Green Belt protection or constrain expansion to reflect widespread, legitimate environmental and transport constraints, the 2017 Plan will cause harm to the qualities that underpin the economic success of Guildford and aggravate congestion.

Allocating too much land for development in the 2017 Plan will also result in Guildford being required to provide homes for Woking on our Green Belt which is folly given the constraints in Guildford, a gap town with constricted roads set in the Surrey Hills AONB.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the inclusion of the land at Garlicks Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch is Green Belt and has ancient woodland and has a thriving wildlife habitat, which should be protected. There is no infrastructure, it floods and the the Draft Local Plan Infrastructure schedule does not provide for this site at all.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to all strategic sites proposed in the draft Plan to be built in the Green Belt.

1. I object to the identification and allocation of sites in this plan without regard to Green Belt, infrastructure or other constraints. The plan says that “allocating these sites does not grant planning permission for development.” However, each of the sites will be removed from the Green Belt and will be available in principle for development and non-Green Belt uses. The inclusion of these sites without detailed site by site justification shows contempt for the thousands of detailed comments the Council have received about individual sites ever since the Issues and Options consultation in 2013. The plan has hardly changed since the Council received 20,000 objections to its first draft plan in 2014. The Inspector considering the plan may conclude that the consultation has not been properly conducted.

2. The housing needs assessment is flawed in various respects and overstates housing need. In addition since it was produced, the referendum Brexit decision has almost certainly reduced future housing need and rendered the previous assessment seriously out of date. As a result any assessment of Green Belt sites which took place to consider whether “exceptional circumstances” existed to outweigh the harm to the Green Belt was based on false premises and should be reconsidered.

3. Having determined housing need the Council was entitled to consider constraints before determining the housing number. I believe that as III as being entitled to do this the Council was required to give proper consideration to constraints. The scarcity of sites outside the Green Belt as III as infrastructure (most notable roads) considerations all represented constraints which should have been taken into account in determining the final housing number. Accordingly in this regard our objection to the allocation of Green Belt sites is twofold. First I believe constraints should have been applied. Secondly I believe the Council did not properly consider constraints and that their decision making process was flawed and thus subject to being set aside by the Inspector.

4. Even if having properly applied constraints there is a need to develop in the Green Belt then specific Green Belt sites should not be included in the plan unless “exceptional circumstances” for development are proven in relation to that specific site, as stipulated repeatedly in the NPPF. The Green Belt should trump short-term considerations such as perceived housing need, as case law has established. There needs to be a specific balancing exercise conducted on each Green Belt site weighing the harm to the Green Belt against the very special circumstances which are argued in favour of development at that particular site. There is no evidence this has been done. Instead the council have appeared to say that having chosen a housing needs figure and decided it cannot be met without building on Green Belt then there is no need for any further consideration and any convenient Green Belt site can be allocated for building at will.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy A25

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A25 with proposals for Gosden Hill Farm.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green. Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure.

It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick's Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Send through to Guildford.

The Plan does not put forward any evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt.

The development will overburden the local road network and increase congestion on the A3 and A247 through the centre of West Clandon. This is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement.

Note the following accident data:

2010 –2014 from Crashmap data

- Clandon Cross Roads Area to Bulls Head - 17 incidents
- Bulls Heads Head to Bennett Way - 8 incidents
- Bennett Way to Highcotts Lane - 15 incidents
- Tithebarn Lane to Portsmouth Road Birch Close - 8 incidents

- 21 Oct 2015 – A247 near shell garage - Three vehicles collided causing delays
  Surrey Fire and Rescue deployed.

- 15 April 2016 12 year old boy injured in The Street – A247 closed in both directions
Attempts have been made over many years to reduce traffic, traffic speeds and accident risks through West Clandon, however little has been achieved as the road cannot be widened and SCC is reluctant to impose further speed limits as congestion is already very high.

I object most strongly to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below).

The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All of these are requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.
A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan, is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I OBJECT to Policy A43 and A43a on Garlick’s Arch.

The site was only inserted in the draft plan at a late stage just before publication of the consultation draft which is a shabby way for the Council to proceed. The site is not a sustainable site being far from any infrastructure facilities and transport links. The bus service is infrequent and it is almost certain any future residents will rely almost entirely on cars for journeys. Similarly any employees at the employment areas will almost undoubtedly arrive and leave by car.

The site is susceptible to flooding and will not make a suitable site.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from Send. Building here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt.

I have seen no evidence that exceptional circumstances exist to justify removing this site from the Green Belt or that this important issue has been addressed. The Green Belt and Countryside study did not even consider this site.

It is understood the Council’s eyes may have been turned by the possibility of receiving for free the land which might be used for new A3 slip roads in return for allowing this development, thus justifying it as some form of enabling development. However the slip road land if needed could be safeguarded in the plan and acquired by compulsory purchase when required. Lack of current funding for the slip road is not a justification for allowing the development of this site. If the slip road is genuinely needed then government funding will be available for it. (One of the reasons for turning down the so-called enabling development proposal intended to fund the rebuilding of the Howard of Effingham School was that the redevelopment of the school was not essential. As and when it became essential Government funding would become available. Accordingly enabling development was not necessary. The same principle applies here.)

The A247 running south past this site through the centre of West Clandon is already very heavily used whilst being unsuitable for designation as an A road. In places it is too narrow for two lorries to pass causing them to mount the pavement- often at speed. It has narrow bends with poor sight lines, an infants school and a hump-backed bridge concealing the entrance road to the station for southward traffic. In addition, there are no continuous footpaths which forces... pedestrians to cross and re-cross the road. Development at Garlick’s Arch will only exacerbate the problem and make the road even more congested and unsafe for pedestrians.

The development will cause harm to the ancient woodland on and by the site.

Taken together with the Gosden Hill site, there will be a ribbon of development along the A3 in contrast to the current “soft” edge approach to Guildford.

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced with a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.

National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to Policy D3 - Historic environment

I object to this policy as it is very weak and I do not think it is clear enough in its support for the conservation of the historic environment. It provides for development which will “enhance” heritage assets which I fear is a developer’s charter as it leaves plenty of room for abuse.

I OBJECT to Policy D4 - Development in urban areas and inset villages

The policy should place much greater emphasis on residential development in the existing urban centres. In this way housing needs can be met without resorting to large developments in the Green Belt. There are urban areas in need of regeneration but these are ignored in favour of Green Belt development.

The policy should not be applied to the villages which should remain in the Green Belt. Unrestricted application of this policy to the villages intended to be inset will change their characters radically and for the worse. The development it encourages will increase traffic and congestion disproportionately.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Gosden Hill Farm. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable locations with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development. Warehousing, distribution and industrial premises cause considerable commercial traffic, noise, pollution and general disruption. They are not good neighbours for schools and 2000 houses. Many of the jobs will be taken by people outside the area leading to additional congestion in Burpham and on the A3.

I object to the inclusion of a strategic employment site at Garlick’s Arch. It is in a non-sustainable location remote from any facilities of any kind and with poor public transport links. It is unlikely jobs there will be taken by local residents and it is likely all travel to and from work will be by car adding to local congestion. Employment sites should be concentrated on previously developed land in more sustainable location with good transport links where the infrastructure can support development.

The site is in any event subject to frequent flooding and unsuitable for development.

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace (Policy E2)

I object to this policy. It would be more sensible to confine new office and research and development floor space to the urban Guildford area. I also oppose the policy of expanding the Research Park onto Blackwell Farm. No exceptional circumstances, as defined under the NPPF, have been advanced to justify incursion into this permanent and high-quality area of Green Belt.

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch or Gosden Hill Farm, when near to these sites at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E6 - The leisure and visitor experience.

The policy should acknowledge that whilst in some areas new and enhanced leisure facilities are valuable (for example the new Opera House at West Horsley Place Towers), much tourism depends on the undeveloped nature of Green Belt areas surrounding Guildford. Accordingly the policy should recognize that in many rural areas new and enhanced visitor facilities may be unnecessary and counterproductive, particularly away from existing buildings and development. For example the attraction of Newlands Corner is its undeveloped nature. Significant development of visitor facilities there is likely to diminish rather than increase its attractions. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.
2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.
3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a Southwest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

The policy “vision” describes protecting the Guildford’s unique setting and historical character and sets out some of the ways this will be done. However none of this is included in the formal Policy wording in the blue box. I suspect the Vision wording is effectively of little or any force. These principles should be included in the formal policy.

There should be a much greater focus on residential use of the town centre where many people would like to live and where the necessary amenities and infrastructure exist. The policy misses the opportunity to propose forward looking sustainable residential development plans in, for example the Walnut Tree Close area, where very significant numbers of new homes could be provided. Such town centre sites could meet much of the housing need over the plan period without harming the countryside.

There is an urgent need for a strategy to focus on brownfield redevelopment before considering development outside the existing urban area.

The policy does not address any of the major issues raised by the Council’s own Town Centre Master Plan, the Guildford Vision Group’s proposal for new river and rail crossings or plans for the redevelopment of Guildford Station, all of which are already the subject of public discussion.

The policy also fails to provide guidance on design requirements, as required by the NPPF.

The policy and surrounding text concentrates too much on shopping without regard to its nature which risks a proliferation of dull high-street chain stores. The policy should seek to enhance Guildford’s character and encourage a wider variety of small shops including locally owned businesses and shops of use to consumers. (For example there is no butcher in Guildford.)

I OBJECT to Policy H1 – Homes for all. Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

It is not appropriate to release Green Belt land to house students who could be accommodated on the Surrey campus or other university sites. The plan should take account of the university's ability to house its own students and reduce the housing number accordingly.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
I OBJECT to this policy on affordable homes (Policy H2) on the grounds of feasibility and that it should be more firm and explicit on unviability in paragraph 4.2.40.

In particular a scheme is only unviable if the value of developing the land (including some allowance for development risk and a normal level of profit) falls below the sale value of the land for alternative non-premium uses such as agriculture. The price paid for the land is not relevant. The possibility of avoiding the affordable housing obligation through use of unviability arguments only serves to inflate land values. It will become clear that developments are unviable when developers start selling land for alternative non-development uses.

It should be noted in the plan that because of Guildford's relative popularity as a place to live combined with its location close to others towns and within the London Commuter belt no amount of building will meet demand. Similarly no amount of affordable housing will ever meet demand.

In addition the definition of an ‘affordable home’ is 80% of market value. With even a 2 bedroom flat in Guildford now having a market value of +£360,000 the discounted price is still not going to be affordable to anyone on a normal income.

And at what point will ‘affordable homes’ be able to go onto the market at full market price?

As we have seen with council houses it is not long before the discounted property is sold at full market value with the original owner simply pocketing the profit.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy H3 – Rural Exception Homes as this Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

The wording of the policy is far too wide and drives a coach and horses though all other aspects of planning policy. As drafted the planning authority could be obliged to grant permission for inappropriate and unsuitable developments.

The wording provides no ability to balance the desirability of the development against other considerations including harm to the Green Belt or the AONB. (If the housing would meet identified need and adjoins a settlement under this policy wording permission would have to be granted even in the most sensitive AONB location, even if more suitable locations were available.) The policy should include the need for a balancing exercise including consideration whether more suitable locations exist.
The policy wording should not allow market housing. The ability to include market housing is likely to inflate land values, leading to a self-perpetuating need to include market housing. It may lead to spurious developer led proposals which will be difficult to resist.

The policy wording should define small, either in land size or number of units. I am concerned that if small is left undefined the policy could be used to justify significant developments. In the context of the plan a development of 150 homes might be argued as small. (If Wisley at 2,500 homes is a big development then 500 homes might be a medium development and 150 could be small.)

The policy wording should be restricted to adjoining sites or define the concept of being "closely related". In particular I believe adding the concept of safe and easy walking distance extends the potential radius within which sites will be argued to be “closely related” Many people would regard a mile or so as an easy walking distance. (School children are expected to walk further than that before being eligible for free school travel.)

The wording of the policy itself does not require the local connection requirement for tenants to be secured in perpetuity - only the affordability must be secured in perpetuity. (For example housing could be built for retired Cabinet Ministers under this policy so long as the first tenant was required to have a local connection.) The introduction to the policy mentions this point, but it is not part of the policy itself and may carry little weight at appeal.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.” The size and location of sites should be better defined and it should be clear market housing cannot be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy II)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley and the A247 through West Clandon. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.
Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added accidents, noise, pollution and injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

This policy as it is inappropriate and inadequate and fails to respond to the challenges raised by the proposed significant Green belt developments. The borough’s infrastructure is already heavily strained. However the plan’s determination to build large housing estates across the Guildford countryside significantly increases the need for infrastructure investment without securing the means for its provision. Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

Placing housing in the established urban areas would reduce the need for enhanced infrastructure as would a more realistic housing number.

The policy wording says nothing about roads and traffic. The Council’s methodology for assessing traffic congestion - averaging it over periods of several hours and ignoring the effects of junctions - simply hides the problem, which will get worse as development proceeds. The schemes referred to in this policy will not solve existing congestion and the local road network has not been given sufficient consideration. Some proposed development locations would require highway schemes that are unlikely ever to happen.

Adequate infrastructure provision is a pre-condition of sustainable development. But in this plan it is an afterthought buried away in Policy I1. By prioritizing greenfield over urban, brownfield regeneration, the plan creates insurmountable (and unnecessary) obstacles for itself. Common sense suggests a local plan should first assess the borough’s infrastructure capacity for sustainable development, and then tailor development accordingly. This plan, however, assumes infrastructure will follow on the heels of housebuilding as if by magic. It makes implementation critically dependent on providers outside the Council’s control and on the vagaries of CIL income. Instead of recognizing this as a key constraint, the plan is based on hope. It is also highly likely that developers faced with the imposition of large infrastructure requirements will go to court to invoke the NPPF provision that prevents authorities from imposing conditions that make a development non-viable.

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.
There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

I object to this policy as it is too vague and optimistic. Significant improvements to the road infrastructure are like to be many years away even if they ever happen. The draft plan, however, commits to building massive housing estates in the countryside before any of these road improvements are in place. This is inappropriate and will lead to massive traffic disruption during the construction phase and will add permanently to an already congested network (about 3,000 private cars from the 2,100 new homes at Wisley Airfield alone).

Road infrastructure represents a major constraint that should have been applied to the housing target at a much earlier stage in the plan process and not left as an unresolved difficulty in the draft plan.

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ( )

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.
I note that the Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5 states that "... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt." This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.

To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

In addition I OBJECT to the proposals to remove from the Green Belt the so called ‘strategic sites’ of Wisley Airfield (A35), Gosden Hill Farm (A25) and Garlick’s Arch (A43) and all other strategic sites. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these sites and villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’) to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken from the green belt they will be lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

This policy does not sufficiently safeguard the Green Belt even though Green Belt constitutes 89% of the borough and should be the cornerstone of all local planning policy. The Green Belt is not the Council’s to give away and once it is gone it is gone forever. Sacrificing areas of the Green Belt to a developer influenced growth agenda is a betrayal of future generations and does not constitute sustainable development.

The Green Belt should be protected in perpetuity, but Policy P2 seeks to justify excessive development in supposedly protected areas. This is in breach of party manifesto commitments and contrary to previous responses to public consultation. It is disreputable to argue, as the Council does, that the Plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. Leaving aside the reliability of that statistic, the NPPF does not set an “acceptable” percentage. The fact remains that the plan proposes that 65% of the housing plus industrial development be built on land to be taken out of the Green Belt

Paragraph 4.3.16 is seriously deficient in simply stating that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist to justify amendment of Green Belt boundaries. The exceptional circumstances are not identified. It is clear from national guidance that unmet housing need is not on its own an exceptional circumstance. Even to the extent that exceptional circumstances exist, these have to be balanced against the harm to the Green Belt in the specific sites proposed to be taken out of the Green Belt. This balancing exercise appears not to have been done.

The Countryside Study which the Council may argue fulfilled the need to demonstrate the exceptional circumstances required to justify removal of areas from the Green Belt was a simplistic tick box exercise. Within limits it may have answered certain questions about different attributes of different areas of Green Belt but it did not carry out the balancing exercise needed to determine whether specific exceptional circumstances justified removal of specific areas of land from the Green Belt. I believe that each of the identified Green Belt site proposed to be removed from the Green Belt should be carefully assessed against any exceptional circumstances in deciding whether it should be removed from the Green Belt in the final plan. This exercise should bear in mind that housing need in itself is not an exceptional circumstance and nor is the Council’s growth aspiration. An important consideration is that more housing need could be met on urban sites than is currently planned. The Plan has fallen into the developers’ hands and developers prefer building on undeveloped land rather than brown field sites.

I note that the Summer 2016 edition of “About Guildford” (published by the Council) on page 5 states that “... the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental impact on the Green Belt.” This is demonstrably untrue and I consider this to be a deliberate untruth which compromises the consultation process. I would ask that this untruth be corrected and the consultation period restarted after the correction has been given the same distribution as the original statement. (I assume the document was delivered to most houses in the Borough.) I reserve the right to argue before the inspector that the consultation process was flawed and ineffective because of this.

I object to the “insetting” of 14 villages from the Green Belt. Contrary to assertions made in the Plan process many of these villages do contribute to the openness of the Green Belt and there is no need to inset them.

I also object to the wholesale extensions to the settlement boundaries in many villages to allow for infilling and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. Many Guildford villages are linear. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost calculated to secure the rejection of the plan as a whole.
To “inset” two-thirds of the borough’s rural villages on the grounds that they no longer contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt is extreme and inherently implausible, given the borough’s location on the edge of Metropolitan London. I cannot see how such extensive areas fail to contribute to the purposes of the Green Belt under the NPPF, but this could quickly be the case if the proposed “insetting” and boundary extensions go ahead.

This policy is wildly disproportionate in terms of any foreseeable development need and has caused tidal waves of opposition from residents. It flies in the face of NPPF paragraph 17’s aim of “empowering local people to shape their surroundings” and other NPPF provisions.

Paragraph 4.3.17 states that “the general extent of the Green Belt has been retained.” I believe this should be deleted as an untruth.

I OBJECT to this Policy as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The NPPF states that the presumption in favour of sustainable development “should be seen as a golden thread running through both plan-making and decision-taking.” As the first policy in the Plan, Policy S1 ought to set a clear framework. Instead, no definition of “sustainable development” is given. The policy also fails to set out any principles for applying sustainable development in practice to local planning decisions, which often have serious long-term impacts.

The policy states that it aims “to secure development that secures the economic, social and environmental conditions in the area”. This fails to recognize that economic growth, social justice and environmental protection often conflict. The policy does not say how each element is to be weighted or conflicts resolved. As a practical guide to the planning decision to be taken in the Plan period it is seriously deficient. The policy is likely to be used by developers to justify inappropriate developments on economic grounds. Under this policy, virtually any development will qualify as “sustainable”, in breach of the NPPF’s most important guideline.

Policy S1 is also seriously deficient in making no mention of the Green Belt. The Green Belt is a long term Government policy enshrined in primary legislation to protect green areas in perpetuity. The Green Belt is a living example of sustainable development in practice and is one of the most important factors affecting sustainable development in the area covered by the Plan and should be acknowledged in this policy. Policy S1 should include a commitment to protect the Green Belt from inappropriate development and to uphold Green Belt boundaries and protections. This would set at least one clear boundary to planning decisions. The Plan and the Council have treated the Green Belt as a developable land bank rather than as a constraint to development.

The commitment to approve planning applications “wherever possible” and “without delay” reveals the pro-development bias of the plan. Countervailing references to sustainability are so vague that the NPPF presumption in favour of sustainable development becomes a presumption in favour of any development at all.

This policy also ignores, as if they are inconvenient constraints, most of the 12 Core Planning Principles set out in NPPF paragraph 17.

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (A25) are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are also unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick's Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

The housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

The assumptions and calculations in the SHMA are widely regarded as flawed and even before Brexit, produced an inflated housing needs number. The figure of 13,860 new homes is completely unsubstantiated. It has not been scrutinized by Councillors despite repeated requests for debate. The assumptions and calculations underlying the model are hidden, protected by a claim to intellectual property by a commercial sub-contractor used in preparing the SHMA. I have serious doubts about the objectivity of the SHMA because it has been produced by consultants whose website openly proclaims their pro-development agenda leading to reasonable suspicion that the figures are inflated. Guildford’s OAN is not transparent but has been taken on trust by the authors of the plan. Given that almost every element of the plan is predicated on this OAN, the plan as a whole cannot be considered “sound”.

The status of the 13,860 figure is ambiguous. The Council has said that the housing number and the OAN are identical because the OAN is “deliverable” and is by definition objective and cannot be contradicted. The OAN is only deliverable because of the Council’s cavalier approach to the Green Belt in contravention of the NPPF, ministerial statements and local and national Conservative Party manifesto commitments. The plan also states that infrastructure or other constraints may in due course affect deliverability. It is also unlikely that the number of houses can be built at the rate proposed. In recent years, housing starts have on average been less than half the proposed rate. This is not because developers do not have the land or cannot get planning permission. Constraints in the supply chain and maintaining profit levels have been more important.

The plan cannot be considered “deliverable”. In addition, the number of homes proposed, plus existing planning permissions, plus expected “windfall” sites, exceeds the total of 13,860. So how many homes (taking account of these adjustments) do the Council want built? The plan does not say. Without this figure it is hard to see how anything else can be planned. This undermines the validity of the whole consultation. It is unreasonable to ask the public to approve a “plan” that fails to propose a target number that takes all the standard constraints and adjustments realistically into account, leaving the Council to set one without further consultation. Even if the OAN is not flawed, it is at best only a baseline figure and should not be passed off as a policy proposal.

It is unreasonable to embark on a radical transformation of the borough on the basis of an unclear housing target. Most of Guildford Borough is highly protected from development (89% Green Belt, 44% AONB and about 75% protected by SPA). Whether or not increasing the number of dwellings by up to a quarter is desirable, it would be a major and irreversible change, arguably turning a largely rural borough into a mainly urban or suburban one like Woking. The scale of the housing number increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

The Plan in general and this policy in particular does not address the point that Guildford exists as part of London’s commuter belt. Any increase in supply of housing in Guildford, particularly if the increase is proportionately greater than elsewhere in the commuter belt, will simply result in a shift of population into the area. It will not reduce prices or increase availability except imperceptibly. The Plan also ignores the point that many of those working in the area live elsewhere. Accordingly in considering the housing number the Plan should take into account that in this part of London’s commuter belt, demand for housing is, in practical terms, unlimited.

This policy does not take proper accounts of the constraints to development which exist, principally posed by the Green Belt and by infrastructure limitations. I believe the Council is under a duty to properly consider applying these constraints. It is clear the Council has failed to do this. This approach differs from all the other boroughs in Surrey. The Plan appears to have deliberately been manipulated towards a growth agenda without disclosing why this is being done. The housing that is needed should be concentrated on urban brown field sites and through increasing the housing density of existing built up urban areas.

The development of 13,860 homes in the Plan period with 65% in the Green Belt does not constitute sustainable development. It will have a permanently detrimental impact on the Borough in general and on West Clandon and surrounding area in particular. The developments at Garlick’s Arch and Gosden Hill Farm do not meet the needs of the local communities. The road infrastructure in and around West Clandon will be unable to cope with additional demand. The edge of urban Guildford will creep that much closer to West Clandon, thus negating the purposes of the Green Belt in the area which include safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, checking the unrestricted sprawl of large built up areas and preventing neighboring towns merging into one another.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill Farm (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.

The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I do not agree that the evidence used for the Proposed Submission Local Plan Strategy and Sites is adequate, up-to-date and relevant.

The fundamental driving forces for much of the development proposed in the Plan (particularly that on Green Belt land) are based on:

1. An excessive ambition to expand the local economy which is neither warranted nor wanted by the local population. Guildford is already one of the highest ‘value creation’ areas in the country and has one of the lowest unemployment rates. There is no evidence that massive and accelerated expansion is required.

1. SHMA figures which are neither transparent nor justifiable, especially in view of previous figures set. Independent assessments of the SHMA (eg from Guildford Residents’ Association and David Reeve) show it is set far too high and so cannot be said to be adequate, up to date or relevant.

In addition the recent vote to leave the EU and the impact this will have on the economy and migration have not been taken into account.

The Plan should be re-assessed and the methodology for arriving at housing need figures should be fully transparent.

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be legally compliant because it mainly ignores the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan it is claimed to be based on.

That consultation process was absolutely clear by some +20,000 responses that that Plan was flawed and no development should be carried out on Green Belt land.

Instead this 2016 draft Plan actually increases the number of dwellings being built on the Green Belt, in direct contradiction to the consultation process, yet is stated to be a Regulation 19 proposal.

As a result I do not see how the 2016 draft Plan can be Legally Compliant.

The 2016 draft Plan should be re-assessed and should take into account the views of the majority of responses from the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole to be sound, because, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. "Only sites that propose sustainable solutions have been included in the Plan and the Plan rejects any schemes that would have a detrimental effect on the green belt." Summer 2016 edition of "About Guildford" (published by the Council) on page 5. This is demonstrably untrue and appears designed to bias the consultation process.
2. The housing OAN figure has been calculated by a process which is not transparent. It has not been properly examined by Councillors before being adopted.
3. The OAN has been adopted as the housing number without the application of any constraints to take account of Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt, AONB and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.
4. The draft Plan does not accord with the NPPF policies on protecting the Green Belt.

Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to justify removing areas from the Green Belt and this has not been done. The housing need number is not justification in itself according to published ministerial statements. Having properly calculated an OAN, constraints should be applied to it to reflect the Green Belt, AONB and infrastructure. Each proposed Green Belt site needs to be justified on its own merits. The benefits of the proposed development need to be identified together with the harm to the Green Belt. Only if there are exceptional circumstances and following a proper balancing exercise demonstrating that these exceptional circumstances outweigh the harm to the Green Belt can the proposal proceed. The draft Plan does not demonstrate that this has been done. The housing number has been used as a blanket justification for all Green Belt sites—which amount to 65% of the proposed housing number.

1. Whatever the justification for the assumptions made in calculating the OAN, those assumptions are now almost certainly incorrect following the referendum.
2. The housing number is at least twice the achieved rate of building in the Borough over the last few years. There is no evidence in the Plan that this rate is achievable and sustainable.
3. Much of the infrastructure required to support the level of development proposed is outside the Council’s control. The Infrastructure Plan is long on possibilities and aspirations and very short on commitments. The infrastructure requirements placed on developers are supposed to be in place before development commences. This is utterly unrealistic and indicates a lack of knowledge of developer’s business models which depend on positive cash flow. It seems very clear that at best, infrastructure provision will seriously lag development and leave higher levels of congestion than now. This will reduce the quality of life for residents through congestion and disruption.
4. The 40-45% requirement for affordable homes together with infrastructure such as railway stations, park and ride facilities, schools and roads is highly likely to be challenged on a site by site basis by developers using the NPPF provision that Councils cannot impose conditions which make development non-viable.
5. GBC has not included details of its Town Centre Master Plan and urban development proposals in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
6. GBC has failed to provide an Infrastructure Report in time for and as a part of the Guildford Local Plan consultation
7. GBC has proposed an OAN of 693 houses per annum in the GL Hearn West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) which many, including independent assessors, consider unsound
8. Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2018
9. Network Rail have not made available for the public consultation any plans for a new railway station at Merrow with an adjacent Park & Ride for 1,000 cars
10. The GBC proposals for Gosden Hill Farm do not appear to be in coordination with the Neighbourhood Plan for Burpham.

11. The draft Local Plan will cause further linear development along the A3 between Burpham and West Clandon PC and encroachment onto open Green Belt countryside in clear conflict with the National Planning Policy Framework.

12. The proposal for Garlick’s Arch was added to the draft Local Plan without any prior consultation under Regulation 18.

13. The Land Availability Assessment (LAA) indicates a range of planning difficulties for Gosden Hill Farm and Burpham which have to be met by the developer involved. These include Electricity Grid supply problems and foul sewage and surface water issues that suggest the development proposed cannot easily be implemented both technically and financially.

14. No adequate explanation is given as to how the aspirational proposal for a tunnel will be used to overcome traffic issues relating to the quality of life and amenity of Burpham, West Clandon, Send and Ripley citizens.

15. In common with many others I do not believe the housing figure has been properly calculated and I believe it overstates housing need. The Council has prevented councillors or others from properly considering the SHMA by refusing to make public the basis on which it was drawn up.

16. The housing figure, when properly recalculated, should be subject to constraints to reflect Guildford's circumstances, including in particular the Green Belt and road infrastructure. National policy permits such constraints to be applied and it is inappropriate not to consider the need to do this.

17. Even once a housing number has been calculated it cannot be used to justify taking land out of the Green Belt on a wholesale basis.

18. Cast iron commitment should be included in the plan that development can only commence when required infrastructure improvements have been secured.

19. The status of the text which accompanies each policy box is not clear. If the accompanying text does not have the force of policy a number of the policies (i.e. the text in blue) are so vague and general that they commit the Council to very little.

The draft Plan should be re-assessed with housing on brownfield sites made a priority over commercial development and Greenfield sites and each of the above points addressed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I do not consider the Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites as a whole has complied with the Duty to cooperate.

This 2016 draft of the Local Plan clearly demonstrates Guildford Borough Council’s refusal to co-operate with the wishes and requirements of the vast majority of the residents in its Borough.

The Council has failed to co-operate with the results of the consultation process for the 2014 draft Plan which was meant to inform and guide this 2016 draft Plan.
Despite campaigning on a clear statement ‘Conservatives Say Green Belt To Stay’, the ruling party on GBC is now intent on pushing through a Plan which will devastate Green Belt land and extend the Guildford Urban Area to further merge into surrounding rural villages.

This is not cooperation by any definition.

In addition the Council has failed to cooperate in providing any transparency to the housing need figures commissioned by the Council from GL Hearn.

The 2016 draft Local Plan should be reassessed with a reviewed and transparent SHMA and revised to reflect the views of the residents of the Borough, who pay for Guildford Borough Council to act in their interests, and not those of developers and central government.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

This is disastrous as the increased volume of traffic would impact the local communities. The increased traffic from London (M25) to Woking would go through Burnt Common, Send and Old Woking, which currently cannot cope with the existing traffic. This is unsustainable.

I object to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

I object to the local plan as the development proposed is not sustainable (Policy S1)

The volume of proposed housing will damage local communities especially Ripley, Send and Clandon and is not sustainable due to lack of infrastructure. There are no rail stations near the proposed developments and no plans to improve the local roads. What about primary schools, doctors and dentists? I write to object to the Local Plan for East and West Horsley.

I believe that the Horsleys should remain as Green Belt. The exceptional circumstances required before taking this action have not been demonstrated.

There are no sound reasons for the boundaries of the settlement areas to be changed.

Infrastructure in Horsley is already overloaded. Local schools are full, drainage is inadequate, roads and car parks are overloaded.

Station Parade should not be designated as a District Centre. The nature facilities in the village centre have been misread.

I object to the development of over 2,000 houses at Ockham. This will have a huge and devastating impact on Horsley.

I write as a resident of West Horsley in response to your draft Local Plan. I draw attention to my two previous detailed letters of 17 September 2014 and 28 November 2013 in relation to your previous form of draft Local Plan and the Strategy and Sites document respectively. Much of the comments in those letters do not seem to have been specifically considered in this latest Local Plan. As a general comment, I believe that you have demonstrated both irresponsibility with public funds and poor custodianship by not specifically addressing the points previously raised.

In the continued period of austerity I think that you have unnecessarily wasted significant sums of residents’ money in the manner in which you have pursued the local plan process, more focussed on razzmatazz surrounding it and self-promotion rather than seriously, substantively and constructively engaging with residents and precipitating a point of consensus. I have been particularly disappointed in GBC’s conduct in relation to these proposals given the massive mismanagement that was demonstrated in 2013-214. Lessons do not seem to have been learned.

As an initial comment, I believe that you have wasted a great deal of public funds and energies of residents in this process. You could have considered matters better and allowed for a more focussed, constructive debate that the one you have precipitated.

My principal comment is to object to the proposal for villages being removed from the Green Belt. I do not believe that there is sufficient reason for this and, furthermore, to do so would be unlawful and ultra vires because exceptional circumstances for blanket removal has not been, and cannot be demonstrated. Development in the Green Belt can only be justified when other options have been exhausted: this is demonstrably not the case.

GBC should be working to improve the area and the efficiency of Guildford as a major town, increasing population density within the central urban area in a sustainable manner and thereby reducing private traffic movement.

Development on the Green Belt can only be justified in narrow circumstances. It is accepted that specific fields might be appropriate for release from the Green Belt where specific exceptional circumstances exist, such as where the provision of essential community infrastructure (such as schooling and healthcare facilities) is required, but this is an exception to the general rule. The blanket removal of villages from the Green Belt (as is proposed) is both lazy and irresponsible and will do little to actually support the need for sustainable growth in the area.

Development should be focused on Guildford Town Centre

Guildford is Surrey’s country town and is a leading town centre in Southern England, boasting a major university, many corporate head offices and thriving community assets, such as the Cathedral community. Accordingly, Guildford should be the focus of development within the borough, whether that be commercial or residential. For thousands of years it has been clear that conurbations are the most efficient and effective manner in which to manage human populations and, accordingly, if there is to be population growth in the proportions projected by GBC, our largest town centre is the most appropriate place for this.

Regardless of the other overriding reasons to object to development across the Green Belt, there has been a lack of consideration for social infrastructure and transport connections. These will be best delivered in Guildford town centre, with improved connections to Guildford from the villages. East and West Horsley’s local facilities (including local shops, parking, schools, medical services and transport infrastructure) are inadequate to cope with the numbers you contemplate for increase in population. Development in East and West Horsley would lead to a great increase in car use, which is contrary to sustainable transport policies. The roads of East and West Horsley are of poor quality, are narrow and cannot sustain further traffic. The Station parade area of East Horsley is regularly overcrowded and the changes of the area were demonstrated by the awful accident at the Station Approach/Kingston Avenue junction during afternoon peak hours. Train services from Guildford are, and will always be, much better than from Horsley.

No exceptional circumstances which justify development of the Green Belt

GBC has, to date, failed to make any case that exceptional circumstances exist to justify any attack on the sanctity of the boundary of the Green Belt as it currently stands. Indeed, GBC seems to be adopting a position which is contrary to central government policy. To do so will lead to any decision being changed as ultra vires, thereby exposing GBS (and, effectively, its rate payers) to the unnecessary cost of judicial review.
Those who have made a conscious decision to live in a village within the metropolitan Green Belt appreciate the constraints (and responsibilities) that places on them, restricting what they can do with their land.

In the Winter 2013 copy of About Guildford GBC stated the importance of maintaining a continued sense of community and to recognise the distinct character of each of the villages within the borough. The status of much of the borough as metropolitan Green Belt land is fundamental to this, protecting the area from the encroachment of London from the north east and from Guildford itself as well. Accordingly, the process for the development of the local plan must be delivered with the protection of community and the environment at the forefront. There is insufficient and inadequate evidence that this has been done. No sufficient consideration has been given to the legacy we would create for our children if GBC’s wide-scale development assault on the Green Belt is allowed to proceed.

Accordingly, I strongly advocate for East and West Horsley (and the other villages within the borough) to remain within the Green Belt and should not be removed from it. However, if there is a powerful case for the re-zoning of a particular field or fields for reasons which satisfy the high threshold set, that could be supported on a case-by-case basis. GBC is yet to do this on a case-by-case basis but, if any when it does I would be happy to lend my support. Given the current political trend for referenda rather than elected politicians demonstrating leadership, perhaps the solution is to hold a multiple choice local referendum with a series of questions.

The provision of vital community infrastructure is a powerful example of where the sacrifice of a small piece of Green Belt land might become appropriate, provided that there is no other viable alternative. Similarly, such a sacrifice should not be used as the thin end of any wedge to then open the door from property speculation for commercial purposes.

Loss of Green Belt Land is Irreversible

As you will have remembered from my previous letters, to change the planning status of the Green Belt land around the metropolis and around Guildford would sent a clear (and negative) message that the rural nature of our precious and beautiful county is not something for which we are simply custodians and which therefore requires protection. A continued development linking London to Guildford along the axis of the A3 would be unacceptable and is contrary to the objective of Green Belt designation.

The Green Belt land in the east of the borough protects our most precious natural asset, the North Downs and Surrey Hills, in their true, undeveloped, context. We should be justly proud of being the most wooded county in England (much of it ancient) and do everything to ensure that this precious heritage is passed down to future generations.

We have much to thank former generation for in the protection of our county's countryside in a manner which has delivered a vibrant local economy, whilst protecting our heritage. Today, it is the responsibility of the current councillors and officers of GBC and its residents to ensure that the work of past generations is not for naught and that the special characteristics of our borough are maintained.

If the Green Belt status of vast swaths of the borough were removed, there is a genuine risk that it only the SSSI/AONB areas would be appropriately and sufficiently protected from development for the benefit of biodiversity and for our children and successive generations.

It should be remembered that that Green Belt status assists GBC in its stewardship of the borough so as to protect the precious nature of the area, whilst also permitting sustainable, proportionate and sympathetic development. Green Belt status clearly identifies areas which are “off limits” for most development. By proposing to move the boundaries of the Green Belt you will make your own role harder than it needs to be.

Loss of undeveloped land within the current Green Belt is irreversible and it is our collective social responsibility, and your legal responsibility as public steward, to ensure that this does not happen.

Planning Policy Guidelines in relation to the Green Belt

I would like to bring GBC’s attention to page 19 of the DCLG National Planning Policy Framework (March 2012) (the "NPPF"). In the NPPF DCLG sets out five purposes served by the Green Belt. These are listed below:
Purpose Achieved by the current GBC Green Belt?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>#</th>
<th>Purpose</th>
<th>Achieved by the current GBC Green Belt?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.</td>
<td>check the unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas</td>
<td>Y</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.</td>
<td>prevent neighbouring towns merging into one another</td>
<td>Y (towns and villages)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.</td>
<td>assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment</td>
<td>Y</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.</td>

<td>Y (towns and villages)</td>

</tr>

In applying the NPPF to the borough GBC should only consider changes to Green Belt status once other non-Green Belt areas have been effectively developed and once a continuing unsatisfied demand is demonstrated. At present, this is not the case and GBC is encouraged to assess each borough candidate site within the current metropolitan Green Belt against the above criteria. GBC should therefore make no mention of any piece of land within the current boundaries of the Green Belt within its Local Plan unless and until it has failed to adequately meet housing and other land use need from other sites: this is not yet the case.

GBC should use the full array of powers available to it (including powers of compulsory purchase) to ensure that brownfield and other non-Green Belt sites are appropriately developed before any assault is made on Green Belt status. Any assault on the Green Belt may only be considered appropriate once all sites have been fully developed and a continuing unsatisfied demand demonstrated.

In November 2013, the then leader of GBC said that GBC “will not be building on the Green Belt until we have exhausted all usable brownfield sites first”. Such a statement was very encouraging, but now GBC need to be kept honest to stick to this promise, commitment and aspiration. Such a responsible approach is not reflected into the draft Local Plan which seeks to remove villages from the Green Belt from a sense of apparent laziness before developing the brown field options.

It is recognised that appropriate, proportionate, sympathetic and sustainable development is desirable and necessary. In that regard, the NPPF states that the construction of new buildings within the Green Belt should be regarded as inappropriate, subject to certain exceptions.

The most relevant exceptions in relation to the future planning policy relevant to East and West Horsley (emphasis added) are limited infilling in villages, and limited affordable housing for local community needs under policies set out in the Local Plan and the partial or complete redevelopment of previously developed sites (brownfield land), whether redundant or in continuing use (excluding temporary buildings), which would not have a greater impact on the openness of the Green Belt.

The Local Plan proposals for East and West Horsley go far beyond these limited exceptions (both in nature and extent) and would have a significantly detrimental (and irreversible) impact on the natural characteristics of the area, as well as being unsustainable with regard to the existing local infrastructure. The existing local infrastructure struggles to bear existing demands, in particular board traffic levels of quiet rural roads, village parking and school access.
In the aftermath of the successful High Court challenge to the Solihull Local Plan the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government has made it clear that there is a two-fold test for any intended development on Green Belt land:

1. Firstly, whether land should be taken out of the Green Belt at all; and
2. Secondly a hurdle as to what should be put on the land which hitherto benefitted from Green Belt categorisation.

There is a high threshold to pass for each. GBC has not demonstrated this in respect of the Green Belt land within the borough. I am keen to ensure that GBC does not waste further monies in pursuing Local Plan proposals which will be struck down through a judicial review or face any other legal challenge. Accordingly, I urgently call upon GBC to produce more reasonable, reasoned and acceptable proposals which are consistent with the NPPF and the legal regime.

Improved safety for pedestrians and cyclists needed

Improved road safety to ameliorate the village environment for cyclists and pedestrians is vital. GBC should work with the highways authority and enforcement agencies to apply a zero tolerance attitude towards antisocial, dangerous and aggressive motorists. Safety for sustainable travel in villages attracts insufficient attention in your Local Plan.

Generally, much more work needs to be done by GBC (in conjunction with Surrey County Council as the highways authority and the Parish Councils) to slow motor vehicles and to protect pedestrians and cyclists in East and West Horsley. The potential proposals in relation to East and West Horsley and Ockham give insufficient consideration to the infrastructure and the inability of the current road network to satisfactorily service the increased demand that would be placed upon it by potential development.

It is also important for GBC to ensure that footpaths and cycle paths remain accessible, are not overgrown and left with plant detritus and the metal surfaces remain of appropriate quality. Once this is done, better lighting for pedestrians and cyclists should also be considered.

The roads in the villages are inappropriate for existing traffic using them and something must be done to ensure that they are no longer used as a cut through by commercial vehicles seeking to avoid the major trunk road network: this needs to be carefully considered as part of the local plan adoption process.

Lack of proportionality in development in the area and lack of sustainability

GBC’s proposals for development in East Horsley and West Horsley are disproportionate to the area. Development should be focussed on Guildford Town Centre and increasing density in urban zones rather than increasing the size of sensitive villages which would:

- lead to a disproportionate impact in comparison with other parts of the borough better placed to deal with large population increases (in particular, Guildford Town Centre);
- cause irreversible harm to the Green Belt and the Surrey Hills AONB;
- place unmanageable pressure on local infrastructure (in particular, the local shops in East Horsley, Horsley Station, the Raleigh School, the Medical Centre and local roads);
- cause irreversible harm to the Green Belt; and
- not be sustainable.

Sustainability goes far beyond deploying low-carbon construction techniques.

Some limited development at Ockham Airfield might become appropriate if it met sustainability needs, focussed only on brownfield land and was accessible only from the A3, so as to not harm the villages. However, to deliver such a plan, it would be necessary to also address traffic congestion issues with Highways England on the A3 and the M25.

Conclusion

Once development takes place on land, the change to the nature of an area is irreversible. Many appropriate non-Green Belt sites available within the borough which may be available for development and a number of these candidate sites are in public ownership: in order to comply with the NPPF and to ensure that GBC is able to optimise its cash position other candidate sites (particularly those within GBC or other public sector ownership) should be fully developed before any review of the Green Belt is undertaken.

Whilst it is appreciated that the EU referendum exit decision has been thrust upon the people of Guildford against our will, it is clear that central government policy will be moving against population increase through immigration. Accordingly, GBC needs to re-run your household growth modelling to reflect this new paradigm once central government policy is clarified.

GBC is presented with an opportunity to be innovative in its planning policy, whilst protecting the heritage and value of its precious landscapes. For example, GBC should carefully evaluate the use of high-density development around Guildford station with new communities built above commercial units at ground level (a very attractive prospect for commuters). GBC has, as yet, failed to demonstrate innovative thinking. I implore you to now assume the role of a responsible steward and to develop proposals.

We object to Guildford Borough Council's draft Local Plan proposals to build 1,800 houses, an industrial park and a highway on the slopes of the Hog's Back at Blackwell Farm, which will:

- destroy views from the Hog's Back ridge - a nationally designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- remove 72 hectares of scenic farmland and additional ancient woodland from the green belt
- increase tailbacks on the A31 and traffic congestion
- result in rat-running through local roads
- add to Guildford's pollution

I object to the removal of the Former Wisley Airfield (FWA/TFM) from the Green Belt. The site serves a vital role in protecting against urban sprawl from London. Development on the site will create an urban corridor stretching from London to Guildford. Under the NPPF, no exceptional circumstances have been established to warrant removing the land from the Metropolitan Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

- I object to the threat the Local Plan poses to the historic rural village of Ockham and the blight on properties there. The plan calls for a village of 159 residences (with narrow lanes, no streetlights, very few pavements and many listed houses) to be subsumed into a 2,000+ dwelling development, with urban-style buildings up to five storeys high and a population density higher than most London boroughs.
- I object to the detrimental impact on transport, local roads and road safety. I specifically object to:
  1. The assertion that the development will result in a meaningful shift to cycling and walking. The development is too isolated, and even within the development itself too spread out to anticipate a reduced reliance on private cars
  2. The increased volume of car traffic. A proposed development of 2,068 homes would result in an estimated 4,000 additional cars on the roads
  3. The congestion this traffic will cause on the narrow rural roads in Ockham and the surrounding areas, exacerbated by wide vehicles including increased bus and HGV movements
  4. The danger this traffic will be to local cyclists and pedestrians, due to the absence of any cycling paths and the lack of pedestrian footpaths (and the space to provide them)
  5. The increase in the already severe congestion on the Strategic Road Network of the A3 and M25. A further planning application at RHS Wisley (with a significant increase in visitor traffic) and a proposed 600 pupil secondary school on the site would add additional congestion at the M25/A3 junction as well as local roads. No development can proceed without significant infrastructure enhancements to the A3 and M25. Partial improvement works on the A3 south of the site are not due to start until 2019 at the earliest
  6. The lack of suitable public transport. The local rail stations of Effingham and Horsley cannot cope with the proposed increase in passenger traffic and car parking is already at capacity
- I object to the fact that insufficient consideration has been given to the environmental and ecological value of the site, in relation to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (SPA), Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI) and Site of Nature Conservation Interest (SNCI).
- I object to the fact that air quality concerns have not been taken seriously—air pollution in many parts of the borough, and particularly at the M25/A3 junction, is in excess of EU-permitted levels. Additional traffic will exacerbate this situation, impacting the health of all current and future residents. No account is being taken of the acid deposition on the Thames Basin Heaths SPA and the irreversible impact of the habitat degradation.
- I object to the fact that the proposed plan does not meet the needs and desires of local communities, as evidenced through the Ockham Parish Plan. The top two responses as to why local residents enjoy life in Ockham are (1) access to the countryside and clean air and (2) the peace and quiet afforded by wide open spaces. Over 90% wish to see both the historic features of the village maintained and the village’s green spaces, including the FWA/TFM, protected.
- I object to the continued inclusion of a site (the former Wisley Airfield, now known as Three Farm Meadows) where the planning application has already been unanimously rejected by GBC's Planning Committee. After 14 months of consideration (and various extensions and amendments), Wisley Property Investments Ltd’s (WPIL) planning application was unanimously rejected by GBC on 8th April 2016 on the recommendation of GBC Planning Officers, who cited the same grave concerns highlighted in this letter. Serious concerns about this site have also been raised by a broad number of authoritative sources across the UK, including Highways England, Thames Water, NATS and the Environment Agency. I trust that these objections will be fully considered and that the Former Wisley Airfield (Three Farms Meadows), Allocation A35, is removed from the Local Plan with immediate effect.

I object to a plan which proposes that over 70% of new housing be built within the Green Belt. There is ample brownfield land in the urban areas which needs to be regenerated, without the need to encroach on protected Green Belt land. Election manifesto promises to the electorate are being ignored.

I object to the disproportionate allocation of housing in this particular part of the borough. Indeed, over 23% of the Plan’s new housing is proposed in the immediate localities of Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys (of which 65% is allocated to FWA/TFM, an area that at present has only 0.3% of the population of GBC).

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

- The “objectively assessed need” figure of 693 homes a year is too high.
- A professional review by NMSS has concluded that, even basing the calculations on a period of stronger economic and student growth, the housing need figure should be revised down to 510 homes a year and the method changed to consider student housing need separately due to the distorting effects.
- The current SHMA inflates the proposed housing figure due to
  - failure to correct for errors in the historical data for international migration flows,
  - issues with the way it considers students and affordability and
  - flaws in the method for estimating the number of homes needed to support job growth.
- It is unacceptable that demographic and economic model assumptions have been withheld and cannot be checked making the process unaccountable.

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill developement being in the Local Plan The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.

Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.
The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43)

Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

The Plan states the preference is to making the best use of previously developed land. Yet at the 11th hour a perfectly acceptable brown field site at Burnt Common, capable of accommodating approximately 100 houses, was removed from the Plan and replaced with the Garlick’s Arch site. There was no proper consultation in relation to the inclusion of this site. Why was a brownfield site removed and replaced a Greenfield site? There is no evidence that Section 18 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, which requires local planning authorities to produce a Statement of Community Involvement, has been complied with for this site. This only came to light for local residents following a Council meeting on 11th May 2016.

Moreover, Guildford Borough Council’s own Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch at all, so there is no evidence base to support the inclusion of this site.
National Planning Policy promotes sustainable developments, with sustainable transport. With ever reducing bus services in the area and no train station within reasonable walking distance it is impossible for any development on this site to offer a sustainable transport solution. Development on this site is wholly inappropriate (Policy I3).

The stream, which runs through the site, is identified as having a high risk of flooding by the Environment Agency. There are other sites that do not flood that can be developed and therefore this site should be removed from the Plan (Policy P4).

This site is bordered by Ancient Woodland and within it a number of trees are protected by Tree Preservation Orders (Policy D3).

The site has an abundance of wildlife, some of which are protected. It is home to many types of owls and bats, with the woods having cuckoos and woodpeckers. In addition there are regular sightings of badgers, deer and red kites. The development of the site will result in the loss of habitat. No wildlife report has been conducted on the site. (Policy I4)

It is clear that with this site being added at the 11th hours no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

Furthermore, several electricity pylon runs through the site, which will have the potential to be a health hazard for any residents.

I OBJECT to the inclusion of the land for new on/off ramps at Burnt Common (A43a)

The addition north facing ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common would be a disaster for local communities. There is no requirement for local traffic to access the A3 to the north, but the addition will draw in a huge amount of ‘through’ traffic.

The route from London/M25 to Woking or would now be through Burnt Common and Send. Equally traffic from the east of Guildford (Merrow etc) and the A25 will now go through West Clandon and Burnt Common. This will cause immense damage to those areas on small roads which cannot be improved.

This Plan does not address the needs of local communities or the Borough in this regard. There has again been no Section 18 consultation on this.

I OBJECT to the damage to the historic environment as a result of the scale of the proposed development (Policy D3)

I OBJECT to the local plan based on the impact it will have on the special countryside of the borough.

The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees.

I OBJECT to the sustainable employment policy (Policy E1)

If developed, the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common (A43), would be treated as a Strategic Employment Site.

The proposed development of up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8) at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in the scheme of industrial development relatively small. Just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m. The Garlick’s Arch site which is in the Green Belt should not be developed as a Strategic Employment Site when there is a suitable alternative brownfield site very close by, which is far more sustainable.

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
POLICY E6 - The leisure and visitor experience

I OBJECT. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor “attractions” and could actually be damaged by them, as compellingly argued in the current debate over Newlands Corner. In this policy, the presumption in favour of development runs the risk of becoming an excuse for overdevelopment/“Disneyfication”. Heritage sites and the Green Belt are particularly vulnerable to harm.

Guildford has many “leisure and visitor attractions” already. The case for creating more is not made and no examples are given. Instead, the plan’s explicit priorities should be:

1. To protect the borough’s prime leisure and tourism asset, its countryside, from inappropriate development. This is all the more valuable because of its accessibility from London, the rest of Britain and the Continent, in that order. Rural residents are its custodians and require no Council interference. Economically, the most valuable forms of tourism, such as walking and cycling, require no new development. In the overcrowded South-East of England, lack of development is a leisure and tourism asset, not a liability.

2. To help make Guildford’s river landscape less off-putting and support town-break packages for high-value tourists. To achieve this, the policy needs to define what leverage, if any, Council planners have to influence normal tourism market mechanisms.

3. To help private providers market local tourism. This need not involve extra spending. The Council could, for instance, help co-ordinate ready-made, local tourism packages under a distinctive brand at an all-in price. An “English town break” (including B&B accommodation, a walking tour of Guildford, a pub lunch in the Surrey Hills, a visit to Wisley Gardens and a National Trust property and a SouthWest Trains travelcard for a day out in London) would be highly attractive to many European visitors who currently by-pass Guildford to go to Bath, Oxford or Cambridge instead.

4. To rule out the redevelopment of scarce rural hotel sites (e.g. Thatchers, East Horsley, earmarked for 40 new houses under Site A37 of the plan yet just a short walk from the new opera house).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Student accommodation should be provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

POLICY H3 – Rural Exception Homes

I OBJECT This is a Trojan horse policy. It says that homes can be built anywhere near a settlement of any form (including agricultural land and the AONB). These homes are meant for people with a village connection, but they could be for anyone on the Guildford borough housing list. To make the housing viable, or to improve the “mix” this can include “market” housing (i.e. normal commercial development which in Guildford usually means large executive homes). This policy means building anywhere, and ignoring all historic planning restrictions.

The blue-box policy wording needs explicitly to limit rural exception to cases of demonstrable, unfilled, local need that cannot otherwise be met. It also needs to make it clear that the NPPF (especially paragraphs 87-89) fully applies, including the need to prove “exceptional circumstances.”

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5,000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.
Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?

I OBJECT due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2)

There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified at Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to not protecting the Green Belt (Policy P2)

I OBJECT to the proposals to remove the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt, together with sites of Wisley Airfield (A35) and Garlick’s Arch (A43). National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for these villages (as mere housing need does not constitute a ‘special circumstance’ and the land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever.

There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and these neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in these villages will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached. GBC’s Green Belt & Countryside Report does not address Garlick’s Arch, so there is no evidence base to support including this site.

Rather than developing Garlick’s Arch, there is an existing brownfield site just to the south of the site at Burnt Common, with surplus land that could accommodate a further development.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

I OBJECT to the Local Plan as the development proposed will not be sustainable (Policy S1)

The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

The development of 13,860 homes during the Plan period is not sustainable. It will have a permanently detrimental impact existing local communities by over-development, particularly for the villages between Guildford and the M25, including Ripley, Send and West Clandon. The services in these villages will be unable to cope with the level of development proposed. The proposed developments do not meet the needs of the local communities.

The strategic sites of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill are in unsustainable locations. The former two sites do not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. These sites are just unsuitable due to being unable to access sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan. Residents will be reliant on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.
The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

I OBJECT to the Borough Wide Strategy (Policy S2)

1. The borough wide strategy is poorly considered. It proposes 13,860 housing being developed across the borough and does not apply any constraints to reduce the overall housing figure, which would be very reasonable and sensible. This approach differs from all the other Borough Councils in Surrey.

2. The Housing number is based on pre-Brexit data for economic and population growth, including migration. These now need to be revised downwards, possibly quite seriously.

3. The housing number is based on an arbitrary Housing Market Area (HMA): the “West Surrey” tri-borough area of Guildford, Woking and Waverley. An HMA should be an area within which a majority of people live, work, shop or study. On any common sense view, “West Surrey” is much too small. Half of Guildford borough’s residents work elsewhere, and half who work here live outside the borough. A short, half-hour commute puts the borough within reach of Surbiton to the North, Haslemere to the South, Reigate to the East and Basingstoke to the West; but all lie well outside “West Surrey”. Puzzlingly, the adjacent district of Rushmoor, minutes from Guildford town centre, is outside the HMA. It is no justification to say that the tri-borough area has been used in the past, or that a similar approach is used elsewhere; unlike (say) Carlisle, Norwich or Shrewsbury, Guildford is in the London commuter belt and part of a far wider and more complex housing market.

These concerns have been raised since 2014 but the Council has failed to seek better market data. There was no public consultation on the SHMA and Councillors were not allowed to scrutinise it. The absence of a ready alternative, however, does not make “West Surrey” reliable. The area is artificial, and so therefore are the housing numbers derived from it. For instance, by juxtaposing Guildford with Woking it appears that Guildford residents are being asked to build homes on open countryside to meet its bigger, urban neighbour’s “need”. Guildford wants to build 7 sites of over 500 units, compared with only 4 across Surrey’s 10 other districts, and 26 sites over 100 units, compared with 53 across the rest of the county. This distribution is unbalanced.

It is clear that the strategy adopted in the Plan is out of balance, with disproportionate development in the north east of the borough resulting from the allocation Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (Ripley/Send border) (A43) and Gosden Hill (Clandon) (A25) as major residential sites. The allocation of sites in the Plan will result in 36% of all new housing being located in the three Wards of Lovelace, Send and Clandon & Horsley. Whilst at present these three Wards represent only about 11% of the existing housing in the borough, they are very much rural Wards. Some 5,036 houses are being allocated between the M25 and Burpham, a distance of only about 5 miles. It will result coalescence and a merging of identities of the surrounding villages. The Plan is completely unbalanced and does not reflect the current spread of housing across the borough.
The proposed development of Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25) will have a disproportionate impact on the surrounding local villages. They will have a permanently detrimental impact on each of these communities.

Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 – Representation on behalf of Sir Rocco Forte and Lady Alicia Forte owners of the Ryde Farm Estate.

I refer to previous submissions made in respect of the emerging Local Plan including our letters of 22nd September 2014 and 8th September 2015. It is with considerable disappointment that our client finds that the proposed Submission Plan has excluded the site at Ripley Lane, West Horsley (previously known as Land to the west of West Horsley (south) – Policy Reference 73) from its proposed allocations.

This objection to the Plan is based upon our view that the Green Belt assessment for this site is flawed and that this the Plan has not correctly considered all of the reasonable alternatives at West Horsley. We are of the view that the Council has misdirected itself in that respect when concluding that the site should be removed from the proposed allocations.

When the revised Plan was presented to the Council on 13th April 2016, the officers provided a briefing note which summarised how the Plan has changed. It stated:

“This note seeks to focus on the changes made to the draft Local Plan and the reasoning behind those changes. Much of the evidence base has been updated and, together with the representations received as part of the formal consultation process, has been instrumental in informing changes to the plan. The use of the spatial hierarchy to accommodate sustainable development remains fundamentally unchanged. However, the use of the Sustainability Appraisal and the Green Belt sensitivity assessment have resulted in significant changes to the plans site allocations. The site allocations are concentrated on larger sites and a number of allocations on Green Belt sites of high sensitivity have been removed from the plan.”

The briefing note also states:

“A number of sites have been removed around Send and a site adjacent to West Horsley.”

It is not clear if this refers to the Ripley Lane site, but it is reasonable to assume so.

However, we consider that the Ripley Lane site was assessed incorrectly and that the result was an incorrect scoring of the site against Green Belt objectives to its disadvantage as against other sites within the West Horsley area and beyond.

The site does not threaten unrestricted sprawl as it is contained with the perceived settlement boundary as defined by the Council.
The site clearly has no function in contributing to the merger of settlements. Parcel D6 of the Green Belt Sensitivity Analysis was clearly intended to identify the open greenbelt space between the West and East Horsleys, but the Ripley Lane site is on the western side of West Horsley. The conclusion that the site would cause a merger between settlements is clearly wrong.

The assessment that parcel D6 assists in safeguarding the setting of the East and West Horsley Conservation Areas is a misinterpretation of the national guidance. The proper consideration is the “setting and special character of historic towns”, not individual Conservation Areas. Conservation Areas provide a protection regardless of whether they are in a Green Belt or not. Even if this were not the case, the Ripley Lane site is not adjacent to any Conservation Area and the degree of intervisibility between the site and the West Horsley Conservation Area (the nearest) is severely restricted due to the vegetation around Pincott Farm.

We have also identified further flaws in respect to the scoring of other sites in the West Horsley area which has prejudiced our client’s site.

We would therefore request that the Council corrects the serious flaws in the assessment of our client’s site and re-instates the allocation status previously offered in earlier versions of the Local Plan prior to Submission of the Plan.

We support the Council’s approach in principle to the most suitable strategy to accommodate future housing development. As part of that strategy land currently within the Green Belt has been assessed as to whether it represents the most suitable option for future development in accordance with national guidance.

The objectors own some 9.8 hectares of land at Ripley Lane, West Horsley (plan attached). This site lies within the Green Belt but has been previously assessed within the Council’s Green Belt Study as providing: - “opportunities to accommodate appropriate development without compromising the purposes of the Green Belt.”

The site was identified particularly as it was: - “generally contained by local undulations, hedgerows and railway infrastructure”

Accordingly, the site was allocated for residential development under Policy 73 of the draft Local Plan. However, the allocation was subsequently deleted in subsequent versions of the Local Plan. It is unclear why the draft allocation was deleted particularly when the site was assessed as being suitable for release and allocation.

Sensitivity Analysis of Sites in the Green Belt

The original Guildford Borough Green Belt and Countryside Study was produced in 2013 but during the subsequent period was amended several times. The resulting ‘suite’ of documents is therefore an amalgamation of different approaches to the topic.

The core of the methodology is the four states of analyses that result in a conclusion about specific sites within the Green Belt as to their appropriateness for development. Stage 1 identifies the land parcels that are the basis of the analyses, Stage 2 assesses the degree to which each parcel contributes to the mandatory purposes of the Green Belt, Stage 3 assesses the sustainability credentials of the land parcels and Stage 4 assesses their environmental capacity. Firstly, it is important to note that the ‘parcels’ are not necessarily ‘proposed sites for allocation’. So for example, four of the West Horsley proposed allocations falls within one parcel, whilst Ripley Lane alone falls within a difference parcel.

The Stage 1 analysis parcelled up the West Horsley area as shown in the following extract from the associated map.

The parcels are not arbitrarily drawn and use existing landscape features to define their boundaries. However, notwithstanding this, some ‘rules’ have been applied: -

“The criteria for establishing the land parcels included the following parameters:
- Land parcels should follow identifiable landscape features
- Land parcels should not cross motorways, A roads or railway infrastructure
- Land parcels should only cross railway lines and rivers at bridges
- Land parcels should not cross zone boundaries”

These ‘rules’ are a subjective assessment of where a boundary should lie. The red lines shown on the plans define the parcel boundaries. The Ripley Lane site lies within the defined parcel D6 but having examined this against the ‘rules’ used the Ripley Lane site could just as easily have fallen within parcels D5 (using the edge of settlement hedgerow boundary rather than Ripley Lane tree/hedgerow feature) or C13 (using the ability of parcels to cross a railway line at a bridge).

The importance of defining a parcel boundary is revealed when one examines the Stage 2 analysis. This looks to each parcel to decide whether it fulfils one or more of the relevant purposes of the Green Belt. These purposes are defined in national guidance as: -

1. To check unrestricted sprawl of large built-up areas
2. To prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another
3. To assist in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment
4. To preserve the setting and special character of historic towns”

Each site is then scored 0 to 4 where 0 is where the parcel doesn’t fulfil that purpose and 1 is where it does. Therefore any one site could have a score of 0, 1, 2, 3, or 4. The stated methodology is that sites which score 3 or 4 means that the parcel should remain in the Green Belt. So, in the case of parcel C13 where the four other West Horsley sites are located, this is scored 2. To obtain this score the conclusion reached by the study is that it checks the northward sprawl of West Horsley (score 1), it assists in safeguarding the countryside from sprawl (score 1), it does not help to prevent neighbouring settlements from merging (score 0) and is not need to preserve the setting of a historic town (score 0). Hence why these four sites remain under consideration at this stage.

However, in the case of parcel D6, where the Ripley Lane site is located, all four of these purposes are scored 1, to a total of 4. Hence this is why the site is deemed to be in a sensitive Green Belt location and is so unsuitable for development. This is essentially different to the previous analysis that concluded that the site could be removed from the Green Belt.

In our opinion these analyses are flawed. In respect of the Ripley Lane site, it could only be considered a site that threatens unrestricted sprawl if there were no clear physical boundaries to such a spread. The site is bounded by the railway line on one side (already accepted in the methodology as a substantial boundary) and by residential development on two sides. The fourth side is bounded by a substantial semi woodland/hedgerow boundary and by Ripley Lane itself. At the very least the score of 1 is debatable.

The site clearly has no function in contributing to the merger of settlements. Parcel D6 was clearly intended to identify the open greenbelt space between the West and East Horsley, but the Ripley Lane site is on the western side of West Horsley. The conclusion about it causing a merger between settlements is clearly wrong and should not have been included as scoring 1 as happened to the rest of the parcel.

The assessment parcel D6 and thus Ripley Lane is correctly assessed as a site which assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and so is properly scored as 1.

The assessment that parcel D6 assists in safeguarding the setting of the East and West Horsley Conservation Areas is a misinterpretation of the national guidance. The proper consideration is the ‘setting and special character of historic towns’, not individual Conservation Areas (the nearest) is severely restricted due to the vegetation around Pincott Farm. The conclusion that it preserves the setting of a historic town, even of a Conservation Area is totally unpersuasive and this assessment can be argued to score 0.

In addition, the scoring of parcel C13 looks odd in context. It scored an overall 2 but it is unclear why two of the sites (Site Ref A39 and A41) do not have a similar role to play in avoiding neighbouring sites from merging to that land which is within parcel D6 to the south beyond the railway line. Therefore why these two sites don’t score 3 instead of 2 and so taking them outside the area to be considered for development. It is another example of how the assessment parcels do not take account of the Green Belt sensitivity differences between parts of the parcel.

In conclusion, of the sites proposed for allocation at West Horsley in earlier drafts of the Plan, Ripley Lane had been excluded from the new draft Plan on the ground of a flawed Green Belt analysis.

Assessing the Settlement Boundary for ‘Inset Village’ Status

Volume IV of the Green Belt study deals with the methodology used in defining the ‘inset village’ status for the purpose of excluding West Horsley from the Green Belt. It is essentially about defining an appropriate settlement boundary.

The assessment is a staged process; first identifying the type of development that exists and then the extent of the village as perceived to be apparent in the Green Belt. Given the topography and close proximity of the Ripley Lane site to the village, it is not surprising that the site lies within the village envelope identified on the assessment plan.

The assessment then identifies strong linear features such as roads and hedgerows and it is here that the subjective assessment notes the strength of the Ripley Lane feature and that of the fence line behind the properties along Silkworm lane. This formed the basis of the line drawn around West Horsley which excluded the Ripley Lane site. We are firmly of the view that this assessment is flawed for it failed to take account of the strong semi-woodland and hedgerow along the edge of the site at Ripley Lane which could be reasonably considered as a stronger feature than that chosen, lying behind the properties at Silkwork Lane. It is interesting to note that only a fence boundary defines the land owned by John Clark which is therefore contained within the village boundary for inset purposes thus releasing that land from the Green Belt designation.

The Sustainability ‘Credentials’ of Sites

It is unusual for a Green Belt Study to stray into the role of undertaking sustainability analyses of specific proposed sites, but this is contained within Volume III of the suite of documents and is part of the methodology used. The title of the document identifies the method used ‘Sustainability Walking distance Plans for Land Surrounding the Villages’. The study identifies the services available locally (rail stations, shops, schools, healthcare, SANGs, amenity spaces, community hall) and then works out how far it is to walk to them.

What this analysis concludes is that of the sites proposed within West Horsley, Ripley Lane does perform poorly in relation to others proposed for allocation. However, this is unsurprising given the criteria used and the obvious fact that is it East Horsley that contains the great majority of the services available in the area.

However, whilst the analysis is a complex methodology and comprehensively applied, the analysis is spread over several documents and it is not obvious what influence it had in the decision to remove Ripley Lane from consideration as an allocation. Neither is it clear from what has been published why ‘walking distances’ was the only sustainability criteria used. A Sustainability Analysis of Sites, as set out in the Council’s Sustainability Report of the Plan, is more comprehensive in its range of topics used and we would expect this document to form the basis of the criteria to be used on specific sites and that it would be more than one criteria.

The Ripley Lane site has been treated unfairly in the emerging Local Plan and that it should be reinstated as an allocation.

Recommendation

Delete the Ripley Lane site from the Green Belt and allocate for residential development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Objections have been previously lodged to this policy on the basis that the Local Plan is not meeting its objectively assessed housing need in the period up to 2034.

The NPPG states that the primary objective of identifying housing need is to:

- “identify the future quantity of housing needed, including a breakdown by type, tenure and size;
• identify the future quantity of land or floorspace required for economic development uses including both the quantitative and qualitative needs for new development; and
• provide a breakdown of that analysis in terms of quality and location, and to provide an indication of gaps in current land supply."

The NPPG goes on to state that:

“The assessment of development needs is an objective assessment of need based on facts and unbiased evidence. Plan makers should not apply constraints to the overall assessment of need, such as limitations imposed by the supply of land for new development, historic under performance, viability, infrastructure or environmental constraints. However, these considerations will need to be addressed when bringing evidence bases together to identify specific policies within the development plans.”

The objector has serious concerns over the Planning Authority’s concept of the requirements of the paragraph 47 of the NPPF and the NPPG. There are three significant recent changes to the legal context concerning the meeting of objectively assessed housing need. These are as follows:

i. Hunston Properties Limited (1) Secretary of State for Communities & Local Government and (2) St Albans City & District Council [2013] EWCH 2678 (admin);

ii. Gallagher Homes Limited (2) Lioncourt Homes Limited v Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council [2014] EWHC 1783 (admin); and

Paragraph 47 of the NPPF states that:

“...local planning authorities should... use their evidence base to ensure that their Local Plan meets the full, objectively assessed needs for market and affordable housing in the housing market area, as far as is consistent with the policies set out in this Framework.”

The Hunston judgement found that in paragraph 26 the qualification contained in the last clause of paragraph 47 quoted is not qualifying housing needs. It is qualifying the extent to which the Local Plan should go to meet the need. To meet assessment objectively arrived at is not affected in advance of the production of the Local Plan which will then set the requirement figure. Colloquially, the ‘objectively assessed need’ is a ‘policy off’ figure where the Local Plan strategic housing requirement is a ‘policy on’ figure that qualifies the full objectively assessed need by reference to the policies of the NPPF. In South Northamptonshire v Secretary of State for CLG and Barwood Homes Limited [2014] EWHC 570. Ouseley J confirmed, in paragraph 32, that:

“... until the full, objectively assessed needs are qualified by the policies of an up to date Local Plan, they are the needs which go into the balance against any NPPF policies. It is at this stage that constraints or otherwise may apply. It may be problematic in its application, but that is how paragraph 47 works.”

In the Gallagher judgement, at paragraph 31, Hickinbottom J differentiates NPPF guidance on meeting housing need from that previously the case within PPS3 where he states that:

“Thus, paragraph 47 makes full objectively assessed housing needs, not just a material consideration, but a consideration of particular standing.”

In paragraph 53 of the judgement, the approach of the NPPF is stated as:-
Paragraph 88 of the judgement confirms that: -

“... where there is no Local Plan, then the housing requirement for a local authority for the purposes of paragraph 47 is the full, objectively assessed need.” Confirming Ouseley J above, paragraph 94 states that the balancing exercise required by paragraph 47 cannot be performed without being informed by the actual full housing need. Paragraph 98 highlights the new NPPF world with its greater policy emphasis on housing provision and paragraph 100 refers to the need for the objectively assessed housing need to be ‘a driver’ of the housing requirement target as opposed to, it was conclude, it being a back seat driver in the case in question.

The Local Plan makes provision for some 12,426 new dwellings in the period 2015-2034. This equates to some 654 dwellings per annum. We do not believe that this represents the Full Objectively Assessed Need for Guildford Borough and that it should be significantly increased. The Strategic housing Market Assessment dated September 2015 concluded that the overall housing need in Guildford was 693 dwellings per annum. This resulted in a total housing provision of some 13,167 dwellings in the period up to 2034. The Addendum update recalculated the housing provision and concluded that a lower figure of 12,476 dwellings, a reduction of some 691 dwellings overall was appropriate. However, the Addendum concludes that: -

- Housing need to support forecasted jobs growth 555-584 dwellings per annum
- Affordable Housing Need 517 dpa
- Student Need 73 dpa
- C2 Use 73 dpa

We believe that if affordability issues are to be properly addressed in Guildford that the overall housing provision should and must be increased. On that basis we believe that a housing provision of some 700 dpa is a more appropriate figure if housing needs are to be met in full. This figure should be expressed as a minimum.

Recommendation

That the proposed housing provision be expressed as a minimum and that the Local Plan should plan for additional housing of at least 700 dpa or 13,300 dwellings in the period 2015-2034.

Site Allocation A28: Land to the East of White Lane, Ash

Our Client support the allocation of Site A28 for approximately 62 new homes.

The site would, however, be more appropriately described as Land East of White Lane, Ash. This would reflect the Proposals Map designation which shows the site within the defined Ash Urban Area.

The site currently included within the Site Allocation extends to 1.9 Hectares and is currently open pasture land. To the north of the site is the route of a former (now dismantled) railway line. The site has access from White Lane. The site area should be increased to include additional land to the south (2.48 hectares) which will largely form a landscape buffer but which may be required in part on the road frontage to facilitate access and visibility.

The summary table at Page 24 lists the 62 unit capacity as a ‘Total number of Homes- Approx’, however, this should not be imposed as a limit on site capacity.

Our Client agrees with the Council that the site may be suitable for residential use, however, also highlights that the site could be suitable for a C2 care village or other specialist retirement housing use.

SUPPORT ALLOCATION

Our Client supports the inclusion of land to the east of White Lane, Ash Green (Site A28) The Client, however, recommends that:

• The site description is amended to Land to the East of White Lane, Ash to reflect the inclusion of the site in the amended Ash Urban area;
• The identified site area is enlarged to include the additional land to the
• The Site Allocation recognises the potential for use as a C2 care village or other C2 accommodation for older people or other specialist retirement

POLICY D1: MAKING BETTER PLACES

The broad principles of this policy are supported, however, our Client has some concerns regarding the implications of practically applying some of the potentially ambiguous objectives and how the council may seek to apply these general principles in future detailed development control policies.

Our Client support the objective to deliver high quality design and the enhancement of the environment on all new developments. There are, however, a number of aspects of the more prescriptive policy text that should be clarified/adapted as follows:

The threshold of 25 dwellings or more is too low and does not reflect a scale of development which may in all instances:

- Deliver a mix of uses; and
- Provide play, recreation and other public spaces for the local

These objectives should be focused on larger scale residential development, particularly in the context of some of the significant sites proposed as part of the Council’s housing supply. A more realistic approach would be to set a threshold of 100 units where these objectives ‘must’ be provided and provide encouragement for these objectives on smaller sites.

With regard to the provision of play and recreation space and the tangible changes that can realistically be made in terms of prioritising non-car travel in new village sites of less than 100 units will be limited.

POLICY D2 SUSTAINABLE DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION AND ENERGY

It is important that new development achieves a good level of design that respects existing character, however, the Council have a balancing exercise to ensure that they make the maximum productive use of identified sites in order to ensure that the most important ‘natural, built and heritage environments are protected.’ Including making maximum use of sustainably located sites within and adjoining existing settlements.

The Council must also be careful to ensure that unrealistic design standards or the constraints of historic character do not undermine the delivery of new growth.

POLICY D4: DEVELOPMENT IN URBAN AREAS AND INSET VILLAGES

Our Client is supportive of the proposed changes to the Urban Area and Settlement boundary shown around Ash; specifically the inclusion of Site A28. However, whilst the overall objectives of the policy guidance set out at Policy D4 are acknowledged and broadly supported by Our Client it is considered that the tone of the policy could serve to curtail rather than encourage the development of the specific site allocations identified in the Plan. Paragraph 4.5.46 suggests that the policy is targeted to windfall opportunities, however, the wording could still be applied to ‘all new development’ including site allocations. Our Client contend that this would undermine the delivery of Site Allocations and impact on the delivery of the Council’s housing target.

The expansion and development of edge of settlement sites will necessitate some changes in scale, massing and height. It will also be necessary to build at increased densities in order to ensure the most effective use of land. Whilst it will be important to ensure that new development successfully integrates within areas and does not impact on the amenities of neighbours the Borough requires a step change in the delivery of housing, particularly in urban areas. As such settlements and places will need to sensitively evolve.

POLICY 3: HOMES FOR ALL; PAGE 31

Mix

It is important that there is sufficient flexibility in this policy to ensure that housing mix/tenure genuinely does take account of the “size, characteristics of the site and location” to ensure that Development sites remain commercially attractive.

Paragraph 4.2.3 is considered to represent a realistic summary position and the Council should support schemes which broadly follow these principles. The Council should not, however, seek to unduly influence the proposed mix.

Housing for Older People

Supporting text at paragraphs 4.2.9 -4.2.11 recognise the need for; specialist homes for older people as well as residential car and nursing homes. However, this issue needs to be set out more clearly within the policy itself or indeed a standalone policy. Site Allocations and supporting policies also need to take specific account of the needs and requirements of older housing.

The NPPF states at paragraphs 50 and 159 the need to deliver a wide choice of homes to meet the needs of current and future demographic trends and meeting the needs of different groups of the community including older people. The PPG further reinforces this, stating under the heading of ‘Housing and Economic Development Needs Assessments’ that:

“The need to provide housing for older people is critical given the projected increase in the number of households aged 65 and over accounts for over half of the new households

(Department for Communities and Local Government Household Projections 2013). Plan makers will need to consider the size, location and quality of dwellings needed in the future for older people in order to allow them to move. This could free up houses that are under occupied. The age profile of the population can be drawn from Census data. Projections of population and households by age group should also be used. The future need for older persons housing broken down by tenure and type (e.g. sheltered, enhanced sheltered, extra care, registered care) should be assessed and can be obtained from a number of online tool kits provided by the sector.”

One of the ‘online tools’ referred to is the Strategic Housing for Older People Analysis Tool (SHOP), provided through the Housing LIN website, which provides a basic tool for forecasting future demand for specialist housing accommodation based either on traditional growth expectations or growth based on increasing life expectancy. This data would indicate the need for extra care accommodation and care beds as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Extra Care</th>
<th>Care Home (Nursing)</th>

<td>743</td>
</tr>
With reference to current provision, the SHOP data shows that at present there are only 164 extra care units provided within the District, and 548 nursing care beds. Assuming that this position remains unaltered the future need for extra care will continue to result in an under supply, whilst for nursing care following 2020 there will also be a deficit.

In the above context, the SHMA (2015) highlights that over the plan period there is a projected increase of 43.5% in the population of residents over 65. As the population is ageing the need to provide housing to meet the varied and complex needs of older people will become a key driver of change in the housing market.

The future population growth of older people must be planned for in order to ensure the provision of sufficient specialist housing to meet identified needs, accordingly we consider that specific sites and/or locations should be included within the Plan. The identification of specific sites can be included as part of the overall housing requirements for the District, even when they fall within a Class C2 definition, as noted in the NPPG as follows:

“Older people have a wide range of different housing needs, ranging from suitable and appropriately located market housing through to residential institutions (Use Class C2). Local planning authorities should count housing provided for older people, including residential institutions in Use Class C2, against their housing requirement. The approach taken, which may include site allocations, should be clearly set out in the Local Plan.” Paragraph: 037 Reference ID: 3-037-20150320.

A failure to proactively plan for the future housing needs of all groups within the community will result in a greater imbalance in the supply of specialist housing compared to traditional market housing. As well as a demonstrable need for this specialist form of housing, the delivery of this accommodation enables residents to make a conscious decision to ‘rightsize’, choosing a property that suits their care and support needs while removing the potential burden of the upkeep of their existing property. In addition, the delivery of such a scheme provides the opportunity to free up larger under occupied family housing within the local area. These are all added benefits of providing such a development.

Policy H1 needs to provide clearer guidance and support for the provision of housing for older people. It should be recognised that:

- Specific provision should be made for older housing in settlements across the Borough;
- Older person’s accommodation can be delivered at a higher density than family housing and this should be reflected in site density calculations
- Recognition of the role of supported sheltered housing, enhanced and extra care and care communities and villages.

The provision of accommodation for the frail and elderly is loosely wrapped up as part of a recognised need for ‘Specialist Housing’ including housing for; homeless people, people with health issues. This policy approach is, however, considered to be far too broad and does not reflect the growing trend for flexible residential communities for older people which can meet their transitioning needs over time without requiring them to move home or from a wider community/village.

The policy should be amended or a separate policy created to reflect this nuance and to make appropriate provision covering the broad spectrum of needs for older housing.

The Council must allow flexibility to allow for some of the allocated sites to include accommodation for specialist uses. Site A28 should be allocated for C3 and/or C2 uses.

This should be seen to contribute to housing targets, however, where provision is made for care accommodation it should not be burdened by the restrictions of providing affordable housing or the same level of CIL charges as standard market housing. Such accommodation needs to be set as a self-contained community and will typically involve reduced car movements, education constraints and provide more facilities and services on site.

Self-build and custom housebuilding
The Council make only a limited reference to self-build and custom housebuilding at paragraph 4.2.12 where-as this should form part of the specific policy wording.

The text and policy wording should also be positively phrased to encourage the development of self-build housing on both identified and windfall sites. Whilst the Council note that some self-build plots have been allocated within the strategic housing development sites it is considered more likely, that demand for self-build schemes will come forward on smaller scale sites. Accordingly, the Council should ensure that self-build proposals will be supported wherever they are proposed.

Furthermore, the self-build register should provide a guide on where the Council should make appropriate provision for plots, however, this should not be referenced or used to prevent sites coming forward. A flexible approach to self-build development will be key in supporting and encouraging self-build as a productive source of housing supply.

Density

To ensure that the most productive use is made of any site released for development it is recommended that the Council set a minimum baseline density per hectare. It is suggested either a blanket minimum density of 30 dph or potentially a sliding scale between greenfield and brownfield sites.

Our Client supports the identification of site A28 for the development of 62 homes, based on the LAA assessment work.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY H2: AFFORDABLE HOMES

Our Client is supportive of the need to make appropriate provision for affordable housing, however, they wish to make the following specific comments in relation to; the viability and justification of the affordable housing target set out within Policy H2.

Compliance with National Guidance

The Council’s policy does not take account of Paragraph: 031 Reference ID: 23b-031- 20160519 of the NPPG.

This states that there are specific circumstances where contributions for affordable housing and tariff style planning obligations (section 106 planning obligations) should not be sought from small scale and self-build development. This follows the order of the Court of Appeal dated 13 May 20161, which give legal effect to the policy set out in the Written Ministerial Statement of 28 November 2014 and should be taken into account when formulating new policy.

These circumstances are that;
• Contributions should not be sought from developments of 10-units or less, and which have a maximum combined gross floorspace of no more than 1000sqm;
• In designated rural areas, local planning authorities may choose to apply a lower threshold of 5-units or No affordable housing or tariff-style contributions should then be sought from these developments. In addition, in a rural area where the lower 5-unit or less threshold is applied, affordable housing and tariff style contributions should be sought from developments of between 6 and 10-units in the form of cash payments which are commuted until after completion of units within the development. This applies to rural areas described under section 157(1) of the Housing Act 1985, which includes National Parks and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

1 R on the Application of West Berkshire District Council v Department for Communities and Local Government. Case Number: CO/76/2015

The clear intention and wording of the Ministerial Statement is to ensure that smaller scale development (10 units or less) are not burdened by the need to provide affordable housing or other contributions. This must clearly apply to both financial contributions as well as on-site provision.

For the avoidance of doubt a lower threshold should only be applied in ‘rural areas’ which meet the definition in the Housing Act. This should not include sites within defined settlement boundaries. Our Client cannot, however, see any grounds for a lower target to be applied in the Borough and there is no support for such an approach from the Council’s evidence base.

The Local Plan does not reference the Ministerial Statement and relies on Evidence Base which pre-date the Court of Appeal Decision. The Guildford Borough Council Local Plan Viability and Affordable Housing Study, Final Report, December 2014 references the relevant National Guidance at 2.2.7 to 2.2.12, however, no justification is provided for setting aside the policy provision.

Type of development

It is recognised at 4.2.35 that affordable housing should only be sought from C3 class uses, however, this should be specifically included in the policy wording.

In addition, whilst the subtext specifically excludes residential institutions such as care homes and nursing homes from the definition of C3 class uses, this should be extended to encompass all forms of elderly and retirement accommodation where there would be assistance provided or a community living environment. This should explicitly extend to the inclusion of care villages and other emerging forms of older housing development.

With the growing needs for older housing over the plan period it is anticipated that the type and form of older person housing will evolve rapidly and the plan needs to be adaptable to change.

Flexibility in the application of the target

Although it is agreed that, where possible, a sufficient level of affordable housing should be provided on site, this should be subject to viability considerations and should be assessed on a site specific basis, taking into consideration other regeneration benefits or sites costs. The policy should include a greater degree of inherent flexibility to specifically recognise the need for reduced levels of on-site provision or off-site contributions on sites that would otherwise be undeliverable.

The Council must be certain that the affordable housing target that is ultimately adopted is realistically attainable and will not hold back development. The policy should also include safeguards to prevent the policy being rigidly applied and being used as a brake on development. Particularly in the early years of the Plan where there will be an onus on housing delivery to address the shortfall.

The Council’s Evidence Base work demonstrates the sensitivity of scheme viability to development assumptions. A key driver is the level of CIL. In the absence of a clear position on CIL it is impossible to reach a conclusion on the impact of setting an affordable housing target. The final CIL charging schedule must be brought forward at the same time as the Local Plan for consideration.

Setting the affordable housing target

We understand the pressing need for affordable housing within the District and overall our Client supports the approach to extend the requirement across a wider range of sites, taking account of the National limitations on sites of 10 units or less. Our Client considers that the threshold should be set at 11 units or more. There is also no justification for setting an additional area threshold of 0.17 hectares.

It is deemed appropriate that the Council have adopted a level playing field by setting a single fixed target, however, the 40% level is deemed unrealistic particularly in the context that affordable housing completions as a proportion of total supply have only hit 31% of the period 2008-2013. This is without the added burden of a CIL charge.2

It is considered that the proportion of affordable housing should remain consistent with the current policy of 35% with clear flexibility written into the policy to reduce this when development would otherwise be unviable. The policy should also clarify that the affordable threshold should be derived on a ‘net increase of units’ to enable the offset of existing housing stock.

Our Client is concerned that Table 5.7 of the Plan Viability and Affordable Housing Study, 2014 shows that on the assumptions of providing 40% affordable housing and an estimated CIL charge of £100 (the lowest preliminary charging level in the Borough) development in Ash and Tongham would not be viable. Given the identification of over 1,300 units in this area

2 Paragraph 3.2.5 of Local Plan Viability and Affordable Housing Study, December 2014.

...together with the inherent benefits of developing land outside of the Green Belt this evidence warrants further scrutiny and it is suggested that a reduced affordable housing target is applied to land, including site A28, to ensure that the site will come forward.

Off-site contributions

The policy text makes no provision for off-site contributions which will be essential on some smaller and medium size schemes (over 10 units) to ensure that they are workable, viable and ultimately deliverable. To be robust the policy must include a specific mechanism within the policy wording to allow offsite contributions in appropriate circumstances. Reference is made to this at paragraphs 4.2.36 – 4.2.37, however, these provisions need to be specifically included within the policy text.

Any formula must also be consulted and tested and should not be left for publication as supplementary guidance.

It must also be recognised that alternative sites cannot always be identified and it is unrealistic to specify that land values for affordable housing must always be provided at nil value.

It is considered that the statement at paragraph 4.2.38 that ‘the vast majority of development in most locations in the Borough are viable providing an affordable housing contribution of 40 per cent.’ Is misleading. The viability work is based on specific scenarios and it is not considered that this provides a reliable basis for the threshold and percentage adopted. It is also a significant concern that the Council’s viability evidence has highlighted that developments in Ash and Tongham would not be viable.

In order to ensure that development comes forward in the short term the approach outlined at paragraph 4.2.39 may only realistically be applied once the plan, and any CIL charge has been adopted. Where land has been acquired or options signed in advance the Council should adopt greater discretion in negotiations.

Finally, Affordable housing is a dynamic sector and accordingly the Council should ensure that this policy does not prejudice the delivery of; key worker or Private Rented Sector schemes which can make schemes in their entirety more accessible.

POLICY II: INFRASTRUCTURE AND DELIVERY

This policy should define what is meant by strategic sites. Only the largest sites can realistically and effectively provide on-site infrastructure.

The identification and managed delivery of infrastructure by the Council and partners will be essential to support small and medium scale rural schemes which should not be expected to shoulder the burden of nonsite specific infrastructure.

POLICY P1: SURREY HILLS AONB

The specific protection for the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and the Area of Great Landscape Value is fully supported. It is important that these most sensitive parts of the Borough are effectively protected. To ensure that these areas can be effectively protected whilst still ensuring that the Council meet their growth targets it is essential that full and proper use is made of all other potential locations for growth. The identification of Site A38 supports this policy objective and it is imperative that the Plan provides the support and flexibility to ensure that the site can come forward promptly and that its potential is maximised.

POLICY P5: THAMES BASIN HEATHS SPECIAL PROTECTION AREAS

Our Client considers that in assessing the requirement for mitigation within five and seven kilometres of the SPA the threshold of 50 net new dwellings is too low and would place a further unreasonable restriction on development.

The supporting text states that 80% of visitors come from within seven kilometres of the SPA, however, this does not quantify the proportion from the outer reaches of the zone of influence (5-7 kilometres).

This consideration is more relevant to the larger strategic sites and it is suggested that a threshold of 100 or 150 units should be imposed. Furthermore, the uncertainty presented by the case by case assessment will curtail the delivery of sites and could stifle housing delivery.

POLICY S2: BOROUGH WIDE STRATEGY

The Borough wide strategy sets out the growth targets for housing over the Plan Period. Provision is made for 13,860 new homes; which equates to 693 new homes per year across the Plan Period, based on the conclusions of the SHMA, 2015.

The Annualised Housing Target (AHT) sets out projections for the delivery of 10,395 homes for the period 2018-2019. This, therefore, assumes that the balance of 3,465 homes will have been delivered in the five year period 2013-2018.

The most recent published monitoring report (2014/15, October 2015) shows that for the period 2012/13 through to 2014/15 a total of only 613 homes were delivered. An average of only 204 homes per annum. Paragraph 4.169 of the Housing Delivery Topic Paper, June 2016 (HDTP) states that ‘…completions for 2015/16 are well over 300 homes at nearly 400 homes.’ Taking the upper end figure this still assumes that 2,452 homes will need to be delivered in the two year period 2016/17-2017/18 which, on the basis of previous supply and the Council’s own Annualised housing target is not achievable and will leave a large surplus which is not accounted for in the AHT.

Paragraph 4.156 of the HDTP estimates that the backlog will be 2,019 homes at the point of adoption. This means that the AHT is misleading and the Council should commit to updating this figure prior to adoption to ensure that the AHT represents a credible basis in assessing five year supply. It is suggested that for the Draft Plan the HDTP figure is used which would increase the target for 2018-2033 to 12,414 units.

Table 1 (Page 28) sets out Planned Delivery between 2018 and 2033 and represents a total of 13,652 dwellings. Whilst this is in excess of the AHT figure. 8,381 homes relate to large scale strategic sites and a further 715 represent unidentified; windfall and rural exception sites.

The LAA, February 2016 advises that there is in addition extant planning permission in the Borough for 1,408 new homes (excluding Tannery Works). It should not, however, be automatically assumed that all of this potential capacity will come forward in the Plan Period (243 units relate to consents which were granted over 10 years ago).

The Council’s figures reflect the potential for some additional flexibility to take account of changes in circumstances across the Plan period, however, it is not considered to be a credible position to assume as set out in the LAA (Page 17) that there is potential capacity of 15,116 units, as this relies on the delivery of unidentified sites, 100% completion of all strategic sites and the delivery of all extant consents.

This projected capacity figure should not breed complacency particularly given the backlog highlighted above, and the Council’s acceptance in the short term that they won’t be able to meet the NPPF’s requirements for five year housing supply (paragraphs 4.167-4.174).

Paragraph 4.117 of the HDTP acknowledges this point and states “The Plan is heavily reliant on the delivery of larger strategic sites to meet OAN, the delivery of which are linked to the necessary improvements to the A3…For this reason, it is important that we consider smaller sites, such as those around villages, which are able to deliver in the early years to ensure that whilst much of our supply is backloaded, we are nevertheless making a concerted effort to boost the sustainable supply of housing in the early years.” This text should be specifically reflected in the Local Plan text and policies.

It will be for the appointed Inspector to determine the SOUNDNESS of the approach adopted in relation to housing delivery, however, it must be incumbent on the Council to ensure that the site capacity of smaller sites is maximised in order to maximise supply in the early years of the plan.

The release of Site A28 represents just such an opportunity for growth in the early part of the Plan period, within a site to be located within the amended urban area and providing capacity for circa 62 units.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

QUESTION 1: THE EVIDENCE BASE AND SUBMISSION DOCUMENTS

The majority of the Evidence Base is considered robust, although the Council have not published an update on CIL. This will be a key document in assessing and evaluating the deliverability of sites and other plan commitments, in particular the level of affordable housing sought from new development.

Our client is particularly concerned that the 40% target for affordable housing provision has been determined on the basis of assumptions from the Preliminary Draft of the CIL Charging Schedule. Furthermore, the affordable housing threshold does not take account of National Guidance (see additional comments on Policy H2 below).

Our client would also question the robustness of the Viability and Affordable Housing Study, Peter Brett Associates, December 2014 which was prepared in the context of a Draft affordable housing policy which had already been set and has now been amended and utilises the preliminary CIL figures.

The Council also acknowledge at Appendix D of the Draft Plan that the Local Housing Needs Surveys for settlements are still being updated. This work will be key in understanding the specific balance of housing needs; including specialist housing and care accommodation (see Policy H1). In the absence of this work the Council must ensure that there is flexibility in the allocated uses in Site Allocations to ensure that specialist needs are met. Our client would draw attention to the fact that no provision has been made for specialist retirement or care development accommodation in the Ash and Tongham area, despite the fact that 1,320 units are proposed in this location.

It is imperative that the Council ensure that:

- That the Evidence Base guidance is reflected in the policy approach adopted unless clear justification for departing from the Evidence base is provided;
- That the Evidence Base relied upon is up to date;
- That the Evidence Base is published at an early enough stage in the process and that stakeholders are afforded an opportunity to comment on it before key policy decisions are fixed

UNSOUND:

The absence of an up to date CIL charging schedule, taking account of responses to the 2015 consultation means that the Council cannot proceed with confidence that the 40% affordable housing target will be achievable.

The absence of the Local Housing Needs Surveys means that specific assessments on housing need or specialist accommodation cannot be made. Accordingly to ensure that the Plan is EFFECTIVE Site Allocations must be flexible in order to allow for a balance of uses to be provided.

As a whole our client considers that the Local Plan may be deemed to be legally compliant and sound subject to comments in relation to specific policies which for ease of reference we consider in turn below.

As a general point we are concerned that the Council have failed to “…assess the likely cumulative impacts on development in their area of all existing and proposed local standards…” (Paragraph 174 of the NPPF).

In particular our client has concerns regarding the cumulative impact of: Affordable Homes (Policy H2); Policy D1 (Making Better Places); Policy D2 (Sustainable Design, Construction and Energy) and the Council’s future proposals for CIL (only a preliminary charging schedule currently published)

REPRESENTATIONS BY VORTAL PROPERTIES LTD ON THE GUILDFORD BOROUGH PROPOSED SUBMISSION LOCAL PLAN STRATEGY AND SITES; JUNE 2016.

Introduction

ShrimplinBrown Ltd are instructed by Vortal Properties Ltd (our client) to submit the following representations to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites document, June 2016.

ShrimplinBrown have undertaken a comprehensive review of the Draft Guildford Local Plan document as well as the relevant supporting evidence base. In accordance with the guidance set out within the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 as amended by the Localism Act 2012, the following representations relate specifically to the “legal compliance” and “soundness” of the draft Local Plan. As well as the specific tests of soundness set out in the NPPF.

These representations relate specifically to our clients’ interest in the development of Site Allocation A28 – Land to the east of White Lane, Ash Green. Specific comments and clarification on the site are set out at the end of these representations.

For ease of reference we have set out our clients’ representations within this single document which addresses the relevant questions set out within the questionnaire and makes clear references to specific; paragraphs, policies and site allocations within the draft plan.

Key Diagram and Proposals Map (Paragraph 1.15)

Whilst the Key Diagram is diagrammatic the maps included in the Appendix serve to identify the boundaries of sites for development as well as amendments to the boundary of villages. Accordingly, these should be set with clear boundaries as part of the identification of Sites.

It is recommended that for clarity that the Final Proposals Map is shown at a higher resolution.

The inclusion of Site A28 within the extended Ash Urban area is supported. The inclusion of the site within the urban area will also be important in ensuring the viability of the proposal.
In relation to Site A28 a larger area of land is available for release which should be included in the allocation (see accompanying plan) and set within the defined Ash Urban Area on the Proposals Map.

Spatial Vision

With regard to the reference at Paragraph 3.2: the Corporate Plan only covers a short timeframe 2015-2020 and is principally a mechanism for stimulating short term actions; for example the adoption of the New Local Plan.

Our client considers that the Plan Vision should not be dictated by one source. As the Plan evolves so should the Plan Vision in order to reflect the updating of Evidence Base work and input from consultation responses. Our client has concerns that the Vision does not currently fully reflect the realities of the spatial approach which is by necessity focused on both the release of large significant greenfield sites as well as development within and surrounding towns and villages.

Whilst the release of existing brownfield sites (which may be within either urban or rural locations) may be preferable, the realities of delivering the necessary growth in Guildford Borough is that significant greenfield releases are essential. Also with the current significant deficiencies in the provision of housing in the Borough it is essential that the vision (together with the detailed Plan policies) provides the necessary support to ensure both the timely development and maximisation of the potential of all Site Allocations.

The Plan relies heavily on large strategic releases which will take a significant time to come forward and accordingly this places a greater onus in the short term on supporting the delivery of smaller sites, including land at Ash and Tongham (Site A28) which will be easier and quicker to bring forward.

Exemplary Design and the Provision of Infrastructure

Good quality design is important in ensuring that the development created integrates within the existing urban environment and will stand the test of time. Strong infrastructure will also be important to support new growth. However, the plan must be realistic in terms of what may be achieved from smaller sites in order to ensure that over ambitious objectives do not stifle growth or provide a brake on development.

The Council cannot rely solely on new development to meet infrastructure needs and both the Council and statutory providers will also need to contribute in order to address existing deficiencies.

It makes sense to focus initial growth in the plan period within and on the edge of existing settlements. Smaller pockets of development of circa 60 units can be subsumed within existing settlements and help to reaffirm their vitality and viability.

Such development will not normally trigger a need for investment in new infrastructure, beyond any site specific requirements, and will thus be more deliverable earlier in the Plan period and can contribute at an early stage to addressing the Council’s current housing supply deficit.

Furthermore, a high proportion of the Borough is either within the; Green Belt, AONB and AGLV or covered by other local, national and European environmental and heritage designations which limit the potential for development. Whilst significant releases of Green Belt land will be required to meet the Council’s Objectively Assessed Need (OAN) the Plan must embrace the potential, wherever possible, to maximise opportunities on less sensitive land outside of these locations. Land at Site Allocation A28 represents just such an opportunity.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR SOUNDNESS

UNSOUND: The reliance on the Corporate Plan is not considered to meet the criteria of being ‘Positively Prepared ’ and ‘Effective’. It is important that the vision is viewed holistically and that no one component is to be afforded any greater or over-riding weight. This point should be made explicitly within the Vision text.

The Plan Vision should be appropriately flexible and should stand alone as a vision for the entire plan period. Given the failure over ten or more years to deliver the necessary levels of housing to satisfy OAN it is essential that the plan provides the conditions for ALL of the housing identified to come forward and quickly. The vision should be amended to emphasise the key role of growth in and around villages (particularly in the early years of the plan) and the need for a flexible approach to development standards.

LAA, February 2016

The site was highlighted for development in the LAA. The document notes that the northern part of the site forms part of the built up area of the village and the southern part of the site is visually and physically contained by woodland.

The site is in flood zone 1 (at low risk of fluvial flooding) and the currently open land to the rear is technically located on Grade 3 agricultural land, albeit it has no current or realistic future agricultural potential.

Green Belt and Countryside Study, 2014

The Council have undertaken a detailed assessment of the Green Belt and Countryside which has led to the identification of the various revisions to settlement boundaries, including the revisions to the Ripley settlement. The subject site was highlighted in this document as a logical location for the extension of the settlement.

Development of the site would not undermine any of the five NPPF purposes of the Green Belt. The site is not necessary to keep permanently open and its release will ensure that the Green Belt boundaries for the Ripley settlement endure beyond the plan period (NPPF Paras 83-85).

Landscape and Character Assessment (LACA), 2007

The site is not within a sensitive location within the LACA and development of the site could contribute positively to enhancing the key characteristics of the ‘Send Gravel Terrace’ landscape character area within which the site is located. The development of the site offers an opportunity to reinforce the historic core of Ripley and the redevelopment scheme would not impact on its distinctive character. The development plot here is well contained by both the existing settlement on the frontage and a mature landscape buffer to the south. Development would clearly not lead to fragmentation of the landscape.

The site already functionally forms part of the settlement and the currently undeveloped land to the east is enclosed on all sides. The development of these sites would form a natural rounding off of the settlement and will offer opportunities to rationalise/strengthen boundary landscaping particularly on the southern boundary of the site.

The site does not make “an important contribution to the openness of the Green Belt” and it is considered that the site performs no Green Belt role and is “unnecessary to keep permanently open.”

Outline Planning Application

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1692</th>
</tr>
</thead>
Outline proposals were submitted in June 2016 for a scheme comprising 26 residential units and retail on the site frontage, with all matters reserved except for access.

Whilst the application has been refused the principal reason for refusal related to objections on Green Belt policy grounds. Whilst our Client disputes the position adopted by the Council, the proposed amendments in the emerging plan to the village boundary and the insetting of the village from the Green Belt would, in any event overcome the concerns raised.

Technical concerns were also raised relating to the impact on the conservation area and loss of employment. Our Client again disputes the policy approach adopted and the conclusions reached, however, these issues also have no bearing on the site allocation given that they relate to the specific form of development and the merits of protecting existing short term uses.

The other reasons for refusal related to the requirement to secure financial contributions and a commitment to affordable housing. These issues may be addressed through the completion of a S106 agreement and have no bearing on the draft allocation.

Overall, the reasons for refusal relate to the existing policy context and do not undermine the underlying principle of allocating the site for housing.

A technical note with further supporting information accompanies these representations.

The Burr Family and Ripley Carriage Ltd own the 0.97 hectare site on land to the Rear of the Talbot, High Street Ripley. The site is located within the heart of the Ripley settlement area and currently comprises:

1. On the frontage; land and buildings associated with the; car sales use and commercial garages;
2. To the south an area of scrubland previously used as a helicopter landing pad for the Talbot Inn Hotel (now in a separate ownership).

The frontage site has been in use for car sales and servicing by the current owner since 1971 and is currently part occupied on a small number of short term tenancies.

The Site is considered to represent the most suitable and logical piece of infill development within Ripley. Development of the site can help to address the specific local development needs for the village as well as providing an appropriate contribution to the Council’s wider District housing target. The site performs no Green Belt function in line with the NPPF tests and as evidenced by the Council’s own Evidence Base represents a suitable location for release from the Green Belt.

The village of Ripley is located to the north east of the District and represents a highly sustainable and vibrant settlement. The settlement is classified as a District Centre and is ranked ninth out of 32 settlements in the Council’s sustainability ranking of settlements, and was ranked particularly strongly in terms of; shops, other community facilities and schools (which provide both a diverse range of services and local employment opportunities).

The settlement also benefits from a village hall, recreational open space, a children’s playground, pubs, restaurants, a dentist. The village is served by a bus service and has excellent direct links to the strategic road network.

The settlement performs an important supporting function for both the immediate local community and smaller surrounding communities. The settlement is, therefore, a logical location for future growth and its needs must be appropriately planned for to maintain its status and future prosperity.

The allocation of Site A45 will help to address local housing needs and will also in part support the plan vision to focus development on brownfield sites.

The Proposals Map identifies the site for development building on the strong recommendations in the Council’s evidence base. The site is to also be included within the amended settlement boundary alongside a recently completed residential infill development on adjoining land.

Our Client supports the inclusion of Site A45, Land at the rear of the Talbot, High Street, Ripley.

The adjustment of the village boundary and removal of the site from the Green Belt will appropriately realign the settlement boundary to reflect the functional extent of the village. It is considered that the proposed amended boundary would be logical, robust and would create a long term defensible boundary to the Green Belt, in line with the approach set out in the Council’s Evidence Base.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The broad principles of this policy are supported, however, our Client has some concerns regarding the implications of practically applying some of the potentially ambiguous objectives and how the council may seek to apply these general principles in future detailed development control policies.

Our Client support the objective to deliver high quality design and enhancement of the environment on all new developments. There are, however, a number of aspects of the more prescriptive policy text that should be clarified/adapted as follows:

The threshold of 25 dwellings or more is too low and does not reflect a scale of development which may in all instances:

- Deliver a mix of uses; and
- Provide play, recreation and other public spaces for the local community.

These objectives should be focused on larger scale residential development, particularly in the context of some of the significant sites proposed as part of the Council’s housing supply. A more realistic approach would be to set a threshold of 100 units where these objectives ‘must’ be provided and provide encouragement for these objectives on smaller sites.

That aside the first objective for an “integrated mix of uses” and the provision of facilities and services is an objective which may be achievable on some medium scale sites 20-40 units within central town or village locations. In supporting housing schemes through infill development and the rounding off of village settlements there will be a clear role in ensuring the provision of new supporting services and facilities. Site A45 represents an opportunity to provide housing alongside new retail or commercial use.

It is important that new development achieves a good level of design that respects existing character, however, the Council have a balancing exercise to ensure that they make the maximum productive use of identified sites in order to ensure that the most important ‘natural, built and heritage environments are protected.’ Including making maximum use of sustainably located sites within and adjoining existing settlements.

The Council must also be careful to ensure that unrealistic design standards or the constraints of historic character do not undermine the delivery of new growth.

A number of parts of the Borough do not have a Conservation Area Character Appraisal; including the Ripley Conservation Area.

To ensure the robustness of this policy the Council should produce an Appraisal which takes account of the proposed changes to the settlement boundary and planned future development.

With regard to undesignated assets these should be reviewed in light of the challenges posed by the current Plan Review process. Such assets should not prejudice the delivery of new development.
The principal of expanding and in-setting the village of Ripley from the Green Belt and the identification of Site Allocation A45 is supported.

However, whilst the overall objectives of the policy guidance set out at Policy D4 are acknowledged and broadly supported by Our Client it is considered that the tone of the policy could serve to curtail rather than encourage the development of the specific site allocations identified in the Plan. Paragraph 4.5.46 suggests that the policy is targeted to windfall opportunities, however, the wording could still be applied to ‘all new development’ including site allocations. Our Client contend that this would undermine the delivery of Site Allocations and impact on the delivery of the Council’s housing target.

The expansion and development of edge of settlement sites will necessitate some changes in scale, massing and height. It will also be necessary to build at increased densities in order to ensure the most effective use of land. Whilst it will be important to ensure that new development successfully integrates within areas and does not impact on the amenities of neighbours the Borough requires a step change in the delivery of housing, particularly in urban areas. As such settlements and places will need to sensitively evolve.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
This policy places an unnecessary level of restriction in proposing to place significant restrictions on the loss of floorspace outside of ‘designated employment sites.’

The best employment sites have been assessed as part of the Evidence Base and are specifically protected. Policies E1 and E2 also reflect the guidance of the NPPF and are positively worded. Policy E3, however, goes too far and does not reflect the guidance set out at paragraph 22 of the NPPF. The subtext, paragraph 4.4.25 refers specifically to the loss of office space as a driver for retaining employment land, however, the Council should consider other more specifically targeted mechanisms to protect office space e.g. Article 4 direction.

The reliance on marketing for a period of 12 months will stifle redevelopment for other uses, in particular residential development. The prescriptive guidance at paragraph 4.4.27 is also too draconian and has no place in positive plan making.

Any restrictions on designated sites should also allow for a balanced judgement to be made including impact on neighbouring uses and other considerations, including the Council’s current housing supply position.

Alternative use should also not be prejudiced by the need to assess any other suitable employment use prior to residential use.

Importantly, the policy should make it explicitly clear that these restrictions should not apply to any Site Allocations.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The identification of Ripley as a District Centre is supported, however, the opportunities to expand the facilities, shops and services in Ripley are limited.

Site Allocation A45: Land at the rear of the Talbot, High Street, Ripley provides an opportunity to deliver 90 sqm of new floorspace within the shopping frontage. The Council should include this additional floorspace on the Table at Page 28.

The policy should, however, allow flexibility for new units to come forward for a flexible range of; A1, A2, A3, A4, A5, B1a or D class uses. These uses will support the vitality and viability of the District centre.

SUPPORT subject to an amendment to the text stating: “In order to strengthen the liveliness and economic resilience of the borough’s District Centres, retail developments or other suitable District Centre uses including restaurants, takeaways, small scale offices and community uses, consistent with the scale and function of that centre, will be supported in the Primary Shopping Area.”

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Mix

It is important that there is sufficient flexibility in this policy to ensure that housing mix/tenure genuinely does take account of the “size, characteristics of the site and location” to ensure that Development sites remain commercially attractive.

Paragraph 4.2.3 is considered to represent a realistic summary position and the Council should support schemes which broadly follow these principles. The Council should not, however, seek to unduly influence the proposed mix.

Density

To ensure that the most productive use is made of any site released for development it is recommended that the Council set a minimum baseline density per hectare. It is suggested that the policy adopts a blanket minimum density of 30 dph.

In line with this approach the capacity for Site Allocation A45 should be increased to circa 30 units.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Our Client is supportive of the need to make appropriate provision for affordable housing, however, they wish to make the following specific comments in relation to; the viability and justification of the affordable housing target set out within Policy H2.

Compliance with National Guidance

The Council’s policy does not take account of Paragraph: 031 Reference ID: 23b-031-20160519 of the NPPG.

This states that there are specific circumstances where contributions for affordable housing and tariff style planning obligations (section 106 planning obligations) should not be sought from small scale and self-build development. This follows the order of the Court of Appeal judgement dated 13 May 2016, which give legal effect to the policy set out in the Written Ministerial Statement of 28 November 2014. This guidance must be taken into account in formulating a new affordable housing policy.

These circumstances are that;

- Contributions should not be sought from developments of 10-units or less, and which have a maximum combined gross floorspace of no more than 1000sqm
- In designated rural areas, local planning authorities may choose to apply a lower threshold of 5-units or less. No affordable housing or tariff-style contributions should then be sought from these developments. In addition, in a rural area where the lower 5-unit or less threshold is applied, affordable housing and tariff style contributions should be sought from developments of between 6 and 10-units in the form of cash payments which are commuted until after completion of units within the development. This applies to rural areas described under section 157(1) of the Housing Act 1985, which includes National Parks and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

The clear intention and wording of the Ministerial Statement is to ensure that smaller scale development (10 units or less) is not burdened by the need to provide affordable housing or other contributions. This must clearly apply to both financial contributions as well as on-site provision.

For the avoidance of doubt a lower threshold should only be applied in ‘rural areas’ which meet the definition in the Housing Act. This should not include sites within defined settlement boundaries i.e. Ripley should not be classified as a rural area. In any event our client cannot see any grounds for a lower target to be approved in the Borough, and there is no support for such an approach in the Council’s evidence base.

The Local Plan does not reference the Ministerial Statement and relies on Evidence Base which pre-date the Court of Appeal Decision. The Guildford Borough Council Local Plan Viability and Affordable Housing Study, Final Report, December 2014 references the relevant National Guidance at 2.2.7 to 2.2.12, however, no justification is provided for setting aside the policy provision.

Flexibility in the application of the target

Although it is agreed that, where possible, a sufficient level of affordable housing should be provided on site, this should be subject to viability considerations and should, on a site specific basis, take into consideration other regeneration benefits or sites costs. The policy should include a greater degree of inherent flexibility to specifically recognise the need for reduced levels of on-site provision or off-site contributions on sites that would otherwise be undeliverable.

The Council must be certain that the affordable housing target that is ultimately adopted is realistically attainable and will not hold back development. The policy should also include safeguards to prevent the policy being rigidly applied and being used as a brake on development.

The Council’s Evidence Base work demonstrates the sensitivity of scheme viability to development assumptions. A key driver is the level of CIL. In the absence of a clear position on CIL it is impossible to reach a conclusion on the impact of setting a higher affordable housing target than existing.

Setting the affordable housing target
We understand the pressing need for affordable housing within the District and overall our Client supports the approach to extend the requirement across a wider range of sites, taking account of the National limitations on sites of 10 units or less. Our Client considers that the threshold should be set at 11 units. Also there is also no justification for setting an area threshold of 0.17 hectares.

It is deemed appropriate that the Council have adopted a level playing field by setting a single fixed target, however, the 40% level is deemed unrealistic particularly in the context that affordable housing completions as a proportion of total supply have only hit 31% of the period 2008-2013 (paragraph 3.2.5 Local Plan Viability and Affordable Housing Study, December 2014). This is without the added burden of a CIL charge.

It is considered that the proportion of affordable housing should remain consistent with the current policy of 35% with clear flexibility written into the policy to reduce this when development would otherwise be unviable. The policy should also clarify that the affordable threshold should be derived on a ‘net increase of units’ to enable the offset of existing housing stock.

The policy text makes no provision for off-site contributions which will be essential on some smaller and medium size schemes (over 10 units) to ensure that they are workable, viable and ultimately deliverable. To be robust the policy must include a specific mechanism within the policy wording to allow offsite contributions in appropriate circumstances. Reference is made to this at paragraphs 4.2.36 – 4.2.37, however, there needs to be a specifically included within the policy text.

Any formula must also be consulted and tested and should not be left for publication as supplementary guidance.

It must also be recognised that alternative sites cannot always be identified and it is unrealistic to specify that land values for affordable housing must always be provided at nil value.

It is considered that the statement at paragraph 4.2.38 that ‘the vast majority of development in most locations in the Borough are viable providing an affordable housing contribution of 40 per cent.’ Is misleading. The viability work is based on specific scenarios and it is not considered that this provides a reliable basis for the threshold and percentage adopted.

In order to ensure that development comes forward in the short term the approach outlined at paragraph 4.2.39 may only realistically be applied once the plan, and any CIL charge has been adopted. Where land has been acquired or options signed in advance the Council should adopt greater discretion in negotiations to ensure that land will come forward in a timely manner.

Finally, Affordable housing is a dynamic sector and accordingly the Council should ensure that this policy does not prejudice the delivery of; key worker or Private Rented Sector schemes which can make schemes in their entirety more accessible.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
Our Client consider that within the context of a Spatial approach that looks to identify the most sustainable locations within village settlements there is little merit in maintaining a rural exception homes policy.

As an alternative it is considered to be a more robust strategy to specifically allocate all of the suitable sites within or immediately adjoining the defined village settlement boundaries in order to directly contribute to the Council’s housing target. This is more likely to achieve the target of 90 units than from currently unidentified rural housing schemes which are likely to be few and far between.

Nonetheless, if this policy is to be maintained, in order for it to be realistically workable, the ability to include public subsidy within a rural exception scheme, as outlined in paragraph 4.2.52, should be specifically written into the policy text. Furthermore, the Council should not impose artificial limits on the level of market housing needed to support rural housing schemes but should objectively consider any scheme which seeks to deliver affordable units above the adopted policy target.

The additional caveats set out under paragraphs 4.2.53 and 4.2.54 are not considered to be justifiable and serve to further undermine the workability of this policy.

The specific protection for the Surrey Hills Area Of Outstanding Natural Beauty and the Area of Great Landscape Value is fully supported. It is important that these most sensitive parts of the Borough are effectively protected. To ensure that these areas can be effectively protected whilst still ensuring that the Council meet their growth targets it is essential that full and proper use is made of all other potential locations for growth. The identification of Site Allocation A45 supports this policy objective and the Council are urged to ensure that maximum productive use is made of this site.

The Borough wide strategy sets out the growth targets for housing over the Plan Period. Provision is made for 13,860 new homes; which equates to 693 new homes per year across the Plan Period, based on the conclusions of the SHMA, 2015.

The Annualised Housing Target (AHT) sets out projections for the delivery of 10,395 homes for the period 2018-2019. This, therefore, assumes that the balance of 3,465 homes will have been delivered in the five year period 2013-2018.

The most recent published monitoring report (2014/15, October 2015) shows that for the period 2012/13 through to 2014/15 a total of only 613 homes were delivered. An average of only 204 homes per annum. Paragraph 4.169 of the Housing Delivery Topic Paper, June 2016 (HDTP) states that ‘…completions for 2015/16 are well over 300 homes at nearly 400 homes.’ Taking the upper end figure this still assumes that 2,452 homes will need to be delivered in the two year period 2016/17- 2017/18 which; on the basis of previous supply and the Council’s own Annualised housing target is not achievable and will leave a large surplus which is not accounted for in the AHT.

Paragraph 4.156 of the HDTP estimates that the backlog will be 2,019 homes at the point of adoption. This means that the AHT is misleading and the Council should commit to updating this figure prior to adoption to ensure that the AHT represents a credible basis in assessing five year supply. It is suggested that for the Draft Plan the HDTP figure is used which would increase the target for 2018-2033 to 12,414 units.

Table 1 (Page 28) sets out Planned Delivery between 2018 and 2033 and represents a total of 13,652 dwellings. Whilst this is in excess of the AHT figure. 8,381 homes relate to large scale strategic sites and a further 715 represent unidentified; windfall and rural exception sites.

The LAA, February 2016 advises that there is in addition extant planning permission in the Borough for 1,408 new homes (excluding Tannery Works). It should not, however, be automatically assumed that all of this potential capacity will come forward in the Plan Period (243 units relate to consents which were granted over 10 years ago).

The Council’s figures reflect the potential for some additional flexibility to take account of changes in circumstances across the Plan period, however, it is not considered to be a credible position to assume as set out in the LAA (Page 17) that there is potential capacity of 15,116 units, as this relies on the delivery of unidentified sites, 100% completion of all strategic sites and the delivery of all extant consents.

The projected capacity figure should not breed complacency, particularly given the backlog highlighted above and the Council’s acceptance that they won’t be able to meet the NPPF’s requirements for five year housing supply (paragraphs 4.167- 4.174.

Paragraph 4.117 of the HDTP acknowledges this point and states “The Plan is heavily reliant on the delivery of larger strategic sites to meet OAN, the delivery of which are linked to the necessary improvements to the A3…For this reason, it is important that we consider smaller sites, such as those around villages, which are able to deliver in the early years to ensure that whilst much of our supply is backloaded, we are nevertheless making a concerted effort to boost the sustainable supply of housing in the early years.”

It will be for the appointed Inspector to determine the SOUNDNESS of the approach adopted in relation to housing delivery, however, it must be incumbent on the Council to ensure that the site capacity of smaller sites is maximised in order to maximise supply in the early years of the plan.

The development of Site A45 would also fulfil the objective set out at Para 4.118 of HDTP to “Maintain the Green Belt by limiting growth to those sites that are located in Green (low sensitivity land parcels) only”. Furthermore, maximum use should be made of suitable sites within and adjoining villages as these sites will be deliverable more readily and earlier in the plan period than the large strategic designations.

In focusing on the low sensitivity land it is, however, vitally important that the most effective use is made of those sites when they are released and developed. Our Client considers that more effective use could be made of Site Allocation A45 and that a more realistic density would be circa 30 units. The boundaries of the site should also be increased to include the full site area of 0.95 Hectares (see attached Plan, Ref: A15517.01.01A).

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
The majority of the Evidence Base is considered robust, although the Council have not published an update on CIL. This will be a key document in assessing and evaluating the deliverability of sites and other plan commitments, in particular the level of affordable housing sought from new development.

Our Client is particularly concerned that the 40% target for affordable housing provision has been determined on the basis of assumptions from the Preliminary Draft of the CIL Charging Schedule, 2015. Furthermore, the affordable housing threshold does not take account of National Guidance (see additional comments on Policy H2 below).

Our Client would also question the robustness of the Viability and Affordable Housing Study, Peter Brett Associates, December 2014 which was prepared in the context of a Draft affordable housing policy (now amended in the Proposed Submission Draft Local Plan) and which utilises the preliminary CIL figures.

The Council also acknowledge at Appendix D of the Draft Plan that the Local Housing Needs Surveys for settlements are still being updated. This work will be key in understanding the specific balance of housing needs and the specific local housing requirements.

It is imperative that the Council ensure that:

- The Evidence Base guidance is reflected in the policy approach adopted unless clear justification for departing from the Evidence base is provided;
- The Evidence Base relied upon is up to date;
- The Evidence Base is published at an early enough stage in the process and that stakeholders are afforded an opportunity to comment on it before key policy decisions are fixed locally. This is particular relevant in evaluating the viability of the affordable housing threshold in isolation from a draft CIL charging schedule.

UN SOUND:

The absence of an up to date CIL charging schedule, taking account of responses to the 2015 consultation, means that the Council cannot proceed with confidence that the 40% affordable housing target will be achievable.

The absence of the Local Housing Needs Surveys means that specific assessments on housing need, local housing requirements or specialist accommodation cannot be made. Accordingly, to ensure that the Plan is EFFECTIVE Site Allocations must be flexible in order to ensure that local need is satisfied and the appropriate balance of uses are provided.
As a whole our Client considers that the Local Plan may be deemed to be legally compliant and sound subject to comments in relation to specific policies which for ease of reference we consider in turn below.

As a general point we are concerned that the Council have failed to “…assess the likely cumulative impacts on development in their area of all existing and proposed local standards…” (Paragraph 174 of the NPPF).

In particular our Client has concerns regarding the cumulative impact of; Affordable Homes (Policy H2); Policy D1 (Making Better Places); Policy D2 (Sustainable Design, Construction and Energy) and the Council’s future proposals for CIL (only a preliminary charging schedule currently published).

The wider conformity with National guidance is considered individually below in our responses to individual policies.

ShrimplinBrown Ltd are instructed by The Burr Family and Ripley Carriage Ltd (our client) to submit the following representations to the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan: Strategy and Sites document, June 2016.

ShrimplinBrown have undertaken a comprehensive review of the Draft Guildford Local Plan document as well as the relevant supporting evidence base. In accordance with the guidance set out within the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 as amended by the Localism Act 2012, the following representations relate specifically to the “legal compliance” and “soundness” of the draft Local Plan. As well as the specific tests of soundness set out in the NPPF.

Our client are the owners of Site Allocation A45: Land to the rear of the Talbot, High Street, Ripley. These representations should be read in conjunction with the attached summary information which provides further analysis of the site and its capacity for redevelopment.

For ease of reference we have set out our representations within this single document which addresses the relevant questions set out within the questionnaire and makes clear references to specific; paragraphs, policies and site allocations within the draft plan.

Key Diagram and Proposals Map (Paragraph 1.15)

Whilst the Key Diagram is diagrammatic the maps included in the Appendix serve to identify the boundaries of sites for development as well as amendments to the boundary of villages. Accordingly, these should be set with clear boundaries as part of the identification of Sites.

It is recommended that for clarity that the Final Proposals Map is shown at a higher resolution.

The inclusion of Site A45 as a Proposed Site Allocation and as part of the extended and inset Ripley village boundary is supported.

Spatial Vision

Paragraph 3.2: The Corporate Plan only covers a short timeframe 2015-2020 and is principally a mechanism for stimulating short term actions; for example the adoption of the New Local Plan.

Our Client considers that the Plan Vision should not be dictated by one source. As the Plan evolves so should the Plan Vision in order to reflect the updating of Evidence Base work and input from consultation responses. Our Client has concerns that the Vision does not currently fully reflect the realities of the spatial approach which is by necessity focused on both the release of large significant greenfield sites together with the expansion of towns and villages to facilitate new growth.

Whilst the release of existing brownfield sites (which may be within either urban or rural locations) may be preferable, the realities of delivering the necessary growth in Guildford Borough is that significant greenfield releases are essential. Also with the current significant deficiencies in the provision of housing in the Borough it is essential that the Adopted Plan provides the necessary support to ensure both the timely development and maximisation of the potential of all Site Allocations.

The Plan relies heavily on large strategic releases which will take a significant time to come forward, and accordingly this places greater onus on the need, particularly in the short to medium term, to support the delivery of smaller sites which will often be easier and quicker to bring forward. The amendments to village boundaries (including Ripley), their insetting from the Green Belt and the identification of specific sites, including Site A45, will be important in supporting early releases.

Exemplary Design and the Provision of Infrastructure

Good quality design is important in ensuring that the development created integrates within the existing urban environment and will stand the test of time. Strong infrastructure will also be important to support new growth. However, the plan must be realistic in terms of what may be achieved from smaller sites in order to ensure that over ambitious objectives do not stifle growth or provide a brake on development.

The Council cannot rely solely on new development to meet infrastructure needs and both the Council and statutory providers will also need to contribute in order to address existing deficiencies.

It makes sense to focus initial growth in the plan period within and on the edge of existing settlements. Smaller pockets of development of up to 50 units can be subsumed within existing settlements and help to reaffirm their vitality and viability.

Such development will not normally trigger a need for significant investment in new infrastructure, beyond any site specific requirements, and will thus be more deliverable earlier in the Plan period and can contribute at an early stage to addressing the Council’s current housing supply deficit.

It is important that the vision is viewed holistically and that no one component is to be afforded any greater or over-riding weight. This point should be made explicitly within the Vision text.

The Plan Vision should also adopt a holistic approach to new growth which maximises the opportunities to group together wherever possible; new housing with jobs and supporting services. Ripley is a prime location to fulfil this objective. Site A45 offers the potential for housing development during an early stage of the Plan Period and will also satisfy in part the objective of developing on previously developed land.

To comply with guidance within the NPPF and reflect the approach set out within the Council’s Evidence Base (i.e. SHLAA, GBCS) the Council should state a clear priority for the redevelopment of previously developed land and sites within or on the edge of existing settlements prior to the wider expansion sites or new settlement growth. A high proportion of the Borough is either within the AONB and AGLV or covered by other local, national and European environmental and heritage designations which limit the potential for development. In this context the potential to focus growth on less sensitive land outside of these locations, including Site Allocation A45: Land to the rear of the Talbot, High Street, Ripley, should be maximised.

UNSOUND:

The reliance on the Corporate Plan is not considered to meet the criteria of being ‘Positively Prepared’ and ‘Effective’. The Plan Vision should be appropriately flexible and should stand alone as a vision for the entire plan period. Given the failure over ten or more years to deliver the necessary levels of housing to satisfy demand it is essential that the plan provides the conditions for ALL of the identified Site Allocations to come forward as quickly as possible. The vision should be amended to emphasise the key role of growth in the villages (particularly in the early years of the plan) and the need for a flexible approach to development standards.

POLICY D1: PLACE SHAPING

1.79 The broad principles of this policy are supported, however, our Client continues to have some concerns regarding the implications of practically applying some of the potentially ambiguous objectives and how the council may seek to apply these general principles in future detailed development control policies.

1.80 Our Client support the objective to deliver high quality design and enhancement of the environment on all new developments. There are, however, a number of aspects of the more prescriptive policy text that should be clarified/adapted as follows:

1.81 The Council have not addressed the previous concerns raised regarding the proposed threshold of 25 dwellings. The threshold is set too low and does not reflect a scale of development which may in all instances:

• Deliver a mix of uses; and
• Provide play, recreation and other public spaces for the local community.

1.82 These objectives should be focused on larger scale residential development, particularly in the context of some of the significant sites proposed as part of the Council’s housing supply. A more realistic approach would be to set a threshold of 100 units where these objectives ‘must’ be provided and provide encouragement for these objectives on smaller sites.

UNSOOUND: As currently drafted the policy could limit the deliverability and potential of smaller sites and as such would fail the test of being Positively Prepared or Effective.

Recommended Change: Increase the policy threshold to 100 units.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY D4: CHARACTER AND DESIGN OF NEW DEVELOPMENT

1.86 Whilst the overall objectives of the updated policy guidance set out at Policy D4 are acknowledged and broadly supported by our client it is considered that the tone of the amended policy is now even more likely to serve to curtail rather than encourage the development of the specific site allocations identified in the Plan.

1.87 The Council do provide some much-needed clarity in broadening the policy to refer to all new development, however, our Client remain concerned that the policy has the potential to undermine the delivery of Site Allocations and impact on the delivery of the Council’s housing target.

1.88 The distilled reference to site density in this policy (moved from Policy H1- see earlier comments) when read in the context of the other policy restrictions will not serve to maximise the potential of the specifically identified site allocations. The policy should make a clear commitment to a density target which would be more clearly set out in Policy H1. It should also be made clear that the Site Allocations are expected to meet the projected density targets set out in the Pro-formas as a minimum.

1.89 The expansion and development of edge of settlement sites will necessitate some changes in scale, massing and height. It will also be necessary to build at increased densities in order to ensure the most effective use of land. Whilst it will be important to ensure that new development successfully integrates within areas and does not impact on the amenities of neighbours the Borough requires a step change in the delivery of housing, particularly in urban areas. As such settlements and places will need to sensitively evolve. Policy D4 in conjunction with Policy H1 needs to provide more of a driver for development.

UN Sound: As currently drafted the policy will not be EFFECTIVE in securing the delivery of Site Allocations. It is suggested that the relevant aspects of the policy are re-worded as follows.

“High quality design is expected in the borough. All developments will:

d) Take appropriate account of the; existing grain street pattern, layout, scale, form, massing, height and materials of surrounding buildings and structures;

e) Deliver a minimum density of 30 dwellings per hectare on all allocated sites to ensure the most efficient use of the land. Unallocated sites should target a minimum density of 30 dwellings per hectare unless this would be of significant detriment to local character and context

l) Conserve, and where possible enhance designated heritage assets

m) Ensure that the amenities enjoyed by the occupants of buildings are protected.”

And the following additional text added for clarity:

“Development will be deemed acceptable in principle for all of the Site Allocations identified at pages 123-126. The approximate site densities should be achieved wherever possible subject to compliance with other plan policies.

The criteria set out for new development should also not serve as a brake on the delivery of Site Allocations.”

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
1.68 The revised policy wording continues to place an unnecessary level of restriction on the loss of floorspace outside of ‘designated employment sites.’

1.69 The best employment sites have been assessed as part of the Evidence Base and it is proposed will be subject to extensive protection.

1.70 Policies E1 and E2 reflect the guidance of the NPPF and are positively worded. Policy E3, however, goes too far and does not reflect the guidance set out at paragraph 22 of the NPPF. The subtext, paragraph 4.4.25 refers specifically to the loss of office space as a driver for retaining employment land, however, the Council could consider other more specifically targeted mechanisms to protect office space e.g. An Article 4 direction.

1.71 The reliance on marketing for a period of 12 months will stifle redevelopment for other uses, in particular residential development. The prescriptive guidance at paragraph 4.4.27 is also too draconian and has no place in positive plan making.

1.72 The quality and location of employment land should also play a role in decision making and the Council must also allow for a balanced judgement to be made to include an assessment of the impact on neighbouring uses and the pressing need for other forms of development, most notably housing.

1.73 As set out in the Guildford Borough Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017 (Page ii) there is a healthy existing pipeline of 38,357 sqm of consented floorspace for B1c, B2 and B8 uses.

1.74 Alternative use should also not be prejudiced by the need to assess any other suitable employment use prior to residential use.

1.75 Most crucially, the policy still fails to make it explicitly clear that these restrictions will not apply to Site Allocations where these are designated for alternative uses.

UN SOUND: The wording of the Third Bullet point should be amended as follows:

• Employment floorspace which is not otherwise allocated for development in the Plan will be protected in line with latest need assessments. Redevelopment to alternative use will be permitted where it can be demonstrated that; there is no longer a requirement for employment use, the site is no longer suitable for employment uses or the site has a negative impact on surrounding uses.

POLICY E8: DISTRICT CENTRES

1.76 The identification of Ripley as a District Centre is supported, however, the current opportunities to expand the facilities, shops and services in Ripley are limited.

1.77 Site Allocation A45: Land at the rear of the Talbot, High Street, Ripley provides a rare opportunity to deliver 90 sqm of new floorspace within the shopping frontage.

1.78 The specific support for both retail and ‘other main town centre uses’ within the Borough District Centres is supported. For clarity the Council should make it clearer what uses will be specifically supported. The definition at 4.4.87b is deemed to be largely irrelevant for the District Centres identified and accordingly it would be more realistic to set out a range of realistically deliverable uses which would logically include D Class uses and also in appropriate circumstances office use (B1a)

SUPPORT subject to an amendment to the text stating: “In order to strengthen the liveliness and economic resilience of the borough’s District Centres, retail developments or other suitable District Centre uses including; restaurants, takeaways, small scale offices and community uses, consistent with the scale and function of that centre, will be supported in the Primary Shopping Area.”

POLICY H1: HOMES FOR ALL; PAGE 31

1.48 The proposal to delete the reference to Density in this policy is considered UNSOUND as it will undermine the effective delivery of sites. The reference to Density should be reinstated and the policy wording expanded to set a minimum baseline density per hectare. It is suggested that the policy adopts a blanket minimum density of 30 dph.

1.49 This will ensure that the most productive use is made of any site released for development.

1.50 In line with this approach the capacity for Site Allocation A45 should be increased to circa 30 units.
1.51 The proposed limited reference to Density in Policy D4 does not address these concerns.

SOUNDNESS: To ensure the EFFECTIVE delivery of sites the Council should ensure that Density figures for allocated sites make full use of site potential and should be based on robust analysis.

UN Sound: The Policy wording should be adapted to include reference to a minimum baseline density per hectare. To reflect the current housing shortfall it is suggested that this is set as a minimum 30 dph.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY H2: AFFORDABLE HOMES

1.52 Our Client is supportive of the need to make appropriate provision for affordable housing, however, they are concerned that previous comments relating to viability and the justification of the affordable housing target set out within Policy H2 have been overlooked.

Flexibility in the application of the target

1.53 The revised policy wording still does not include any flexibility to specifically recognise the need for reduced levels of on-site provision or off-site contributions on sites that would otherwise be undeliverable.

1.54 The Council must be certain that the affordable housing target that is ultimately adopted is realistically attainable and will not hold back development. The policy should also include safeguards to prevent the policy being rigidly applied and being used as a brake on development.

1.55 The Council’s Evidence Base work demonstrates the sensitivity of scheme viability to development assumptions. A key driver is the level of CIL. In the absence of a clear position on CIL it is impossible to reach a clear conclusion on the impact of setting a higher affordable housing target than existing.

1.56 It is considered that the statement at paragraph 4.2.38 that ‘the vast majority of development in most locations in the Borough are viable providing an affordable housing contribution of 40 per cent.’ is misleading. The viability work is based on specific scenarios and it is not considered that this provides a reliable basis for the threshold and percentage adopted.

1.57 In order to ensure that development comes forward in the short term the approach outlined at paragraph 4.2.39 may only realistically be applied once the plan, and any CIL charge has been adopted. Where land has been acquired or options signed in advance the Council should adopt greater discretion in negotiations to ensure that land will come forward in a timely manner.

1.58 There is some recognition in the sub-text at paragraph 4.2.40 that there will be instances where the tenure mix or number of affordable homes requested cannot be met. This flexibility should be specifically written in to the policy text. with a clear and reasonable test set out for assessing scheme viability (see below).

Setting the affordable housing target

1.59 It is deemed appropriate that the Council have adopted a level playing field by setting a single fixed target, however, the 40% level is deemed unrealistic particularly in the context that affordable housing completions as a proportion of total supply have only hit 31% of the period 2008-2013 (paragraph 3.2.5 Local Plan Viability and Affordable Housing Study, December 2014). This is without the added burden of a CIL charge. In light of the wider pressures facing housing delivery affordable housing cannot form a further brake on development.

1.60 It is considered that the proportion of affordable housing should remain consistent with the current policy of 35% with clear flexibility written into the policy to reduce this when development would otherwise be unviable. The policy should also clarify that the affordable threshold should be derived on a ‘net increase of units’ to enable the offset of existing housing stock.

Off-site contributions

1.61 It is recognised that the policy does now allow specifically within the policy text for the provision of off-site contributions in certain circumstances, however, this is only where on-site provision would be impractical or the location of the development is unsuitable.

1.62 Any formula for assessing off-site contributions must also be consulted and tested and should not be left for publication as supplementary guidance.

1.63 Finally, Affordable housing is a dynamic sector and accordingly the Council should ensure that this policy does not prejudice the delivery of; key worker or Private Rented Sector schemes which can make schemes in their entirety more accessible.

UNSOUnd: The published Affordable Housing Evidence Base is not considered to provide the necessary justification for the 40% target.

It is suggested that the 40% target is reduced to 35%

Flexibility must be included within the policy wording to enable a reduction of on-site provision and/or off-site contributions where these would undermine the delivery of housing supply.

1.66 Our Client continues to fully support the proposal to expand village settlement boundaries and inset specific villages from the Green Belt, including Ripley. This is essential to ensure that the Council maximise the opportunities for housing delivery, particularly in the earlier years of the Local Plan.

1.67 However, the inclusion of Ripley as a settlement where only ‘Limited Infilling within the identified settlement boundaries’ is to be permitted is confusing and could conflict with the intention to inset the majority of the village from the Green Belt.

PARTIALLY SUPPORT POLICY- The policy needs to be clarified to confirm that limited infilling in Ripley will apply only to those areas NOT inset from the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

POLICY S2: BOROUGH WIDE STRATEGY

1.33 The updated policy sets out the growth targets for housing over the Plan Period. Provision is now to be made for a reduced target of 12,426 new homes; which equates to 654 new homes per year across the Plan Period, based on the conclusions of the West Surrey SHMA: Guildford Addendum Report (2017).

1.34 The Annualised Housing Target (AHT) sets out projections for the delivery of 9,810 homes for the period 2019-2034. This, therefore, leaves a shortfall of 2,616 homes.

1.35 The most recent published monitoring report (2015/16, October 2016) shows that for the period 2015/16, 388 homes were delivered, and paragraph 2.9 of the Guildford Borough Topic Paper, Housing Delivery, June 2017 states that only 297 homes were delivered in 2016/17. This leaves 1,931 homes to be delivered over the remaining two monitoring years (965 homes per annum).

1.36 This is not, however, realistic based on current rates of delivery. Over the period 2012/13 to 2015/16 only 1,001 homes were delivered, an average of only 250 homes per annum. This includes a significant uplift in 2015/16.

1.37 The plan does not, therefore, actually plan for the delivery of the reduced housing target of 12,426 homes and at the point of adoption there will be a large surplus not accounted for in the Council’s own Annualised housing target (AHT).

1.38 Paragraph 4.188 of the Housing Delivery Topic Paper (HDTTP), June 2017 estimates that the backlog will be 1,319 homes at the point of adoption. This means that the AHT is misleading and the Council should commit to updating this figure prior to adoption to ensure that the AHT represents a credible basis in actually committing to delivering the full housing target during the plan period. The reference at paragraph 4.1.9b to taking account of the deficit accrued until that point does not include the backlog at the point of adoption.
1.39 It is suggested that for the Submission Plan the HDTP projected backlog figure is included in the AHT which would increase the overall target for 2019-2034 to 11,129 units.

1.40 This is particularly important given the recognition that the Council do not envisage being able to meet their projected annual housing target until 2026/2027.

1.41 Assuming that the Council’s projected rates of delivery are achieved the Council are by this time committing to an additional backlog of 1,028 units. Adding this to the shortfall at adoption would mean a backlog of 2,347 units (3.58 years) to be addressed in the last eight years of the Plan. This would mean committing to the delivery of an additional 293 units per annum on top of the already ambitious targets for the second half of the plan period.

1.42 It will be for the appointed Inspector to determine the SOUNDNESS of the approach adopted in relation to housing delivery.

1.43 To maximise the delivery of sites in the short term it remains incumbent on the Council to ensure that the site capacity of smaller sites is maximised in order to maximise supply in the early years of the plan.

1.44 Paragraph 4.143 of the HDTP recognises that “The Plan is heavily reliant on the delivery of larger strategic sites to meet OAN, the delivery of which are linked to the necessary improvements to the A3 (with the exception of North Street). For this reason, it is important that we consider smaller sites, such as those around villages, which are able to deliver in the early years to ensure that whilst much of our supply is backloaded, we are nevertheless making a concerted effort to boost the sustainable supply of housing in the early years.”

1.45 In addition paragraph 4.144 of the HDTP advises that the selection of sites in the short-term seeks to “…maintain the integrity of the Green Belt by limiting growth to those sites that are located in Green (low sensitivity land parcels) only.”

1.46 In the above context Our Client considers that the Plan should specifically emphasise that maximum use should be made of suitable sites within and adjoining villages as these sites will be more readily deliverable at an earlier stage in the plan period than the large strategic designations.

1.47 In focusing on the release of low sensitivity Green Belt land it is, however, vitally important that the most effective use is made of those sites when they are released and developed. Our Client considers that more effective use could be made of Site Allocation A45 (which is on a low sensitivity land parcel) and that a more realistic density would be circa 30 units. The boundaries of the site should also be increased to include the full site area of 0.95 Hectares (see attached Plan, Ref: A15517.01.01A).

UNSOUND: To ensure that the Council’s housing target is suitably robust and capable of reacting to change the AHT should be amended to include the projected backlog at the point of adoption. The Council’s figure of 11,129 additional units should form the basis of the total AHT supply. This will provide clarity and clearer guidance on housing supply and delivery.

The Council should also look to secure a greater contribution from inset villages and infill development within identified Green Belt villages. Specifically, the capacity of Site A45, Land to the rear of the Talbot, High Street, Ripley should be increased to approximately 30 units.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

QUESTION 1: THE EVIDENCE BASE AND SUBMISSION DOCUMENTS

1.9 The Council have still not published an update on CIL.

1.10 This will be a key document in assessing and evaluating the deliverability of sites and other plan commitments, in particular the level of affordable housing sought from new development and the delivery of new infrastructure. The importance of infrastructure provision is highlighted by paragraph 2.10a which recognises that ‘Pressure on existing infrastructure and additional stress caused by planned growth must be addressed…’ However, in the absence of a joint consultation on CIL it is not possible to critically assess how and when infrastructure will be facilitated and the impact this could have on the delivery of new housing sites.

1.11 Our Client is particularly concerned that the currently proposed 40% target for affordable housing provision has been determined on the basis of assumptions from the Preliminary Draft of the CIL Charging Schedule, 2015.

1.12 Our Client would also continue to question the robustness of the Viability and Affordable Housing Study, Peter Brett Associates, December 2014 which was prepared in the context of a Draft affordable housing policy (now amended in the Proposed Submission Draft Local Plan) and which utilises the preliminary CIL figures.

1.13 It is imperative that the Council ensure that:

- The Evidence Base guidance is reflected in the policy approach adopted unless clear justification for departing from the Evidence base is provided;
- The Evidence Base relied upon is up to date;
- The Evidence Base is published at an early enough stage in the process and that stakeholders are afforded an opportunity to comment on it before key policy decisions are fixed locally. This is particular relevant in evaluating the viability of the affordable housing threshold in isolation from a draft CIL charging schedule.

UN SOUND: The absence of an up to date CIL charging schedule, taking account of responses to the 2015 and 2016 consultations, means that the Council cannot proceed with confidence that the 40% affordable housing target will be achievable.

QUESTION 2 AND 3: LEGAL COMPLIANCE AND SOUNDNESS

1.14 As a whole our Client considers that the Local Plan may be found to be legally compliant and sound subject to comments in relation to specific policies which for ease of reference we consider in turn below.

1.15 As a general point we are concerned that the Council have failed to “…assess the likely cumulative impacts on development in their area of all existing and proposed local standards…” (Paragraph 174 of the NPPF).

1.16 In particular our Client continues to have concerns regarding the cumulative impact of the following policies (as amended); Affordable Homes (Policy H2); Policy D1 (Shaping Places); Policy D2 (Sustainable Design, Construction and Energy) and the Council’s future proposals for CIL (only a preliminary charging schedule currently published). These issues have not been addressed in the changes.

1.17 The wider conformity with National guidance is considered individually below in our responses to individual policies.

POLICY A25: GOSDEN HILL

APPENDIX C INFRASTRUCTURE SCHEDULE

Highways England notes the proposed reduction in the number of dwellings and employment space to be delivered during the plan period. The removal of the definition of the size of the Park and Ride site from Policy A25 is also noted.

We support the proposed changes to the policy. We particularly note the transport package to facilitate growth at the site which includes having regard to the forthcoming Sustainable Movement Corridor Supplementary Planning Document which alongside other measures has the potential to reduce impacts on the A3.

POLICY A26: BLACKWELL FARM, HOGS BACK

Highways England notes the proposed reduction in the number of dwellings to be delivered during the plan period.

Highways England also notes that it is proposed that a through vehicular link between the A31 Farnham Road and Egerton Road will now be controlled to provide a new route for employees, residents and emergency services. It is noted that this is now said to “reduce impact on the A31/A3 junction, in advance of the delivery of Highways England’s A3 Guildford scheme”. We are keen to work with GBC and/or the site promoter to understand the degree of impact reduction on the A31/A3 junction ahead of a potential A3 scheme. Further it is unclear at this stage what level of growth can be delivered in advance of a potential A3 improvement and the consequences for growth at the site if there is no A3 improvement.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
The requirements section of Policy A35 newly proposes that additional mitigation is required for the Wisley Airfield development in the form of “two new slip roads at A247 Clandon Road (Burnt Common)”. The Transport Topic Paper paragraph 5.56 notes that the new slip roads are being promoted to “mitigate the impact of the level of strategic planned growth and in particular the development traffic flows resulting from the development of a new settlement at the former Wisley Airfield site (site allocation Policy A35)”.

As noted in our letter dated 5 October 2016, it remains unclear if these slip road proposals are deliverable and what the conditional requirements are to enable the proposals to progress. It is not clear if proposals set out in Policy A43 (and now additionally Policy A58 and A35) are dependent on GBC’s aspirations set out in A43a. Appendix C Infrastructure Schedule notes that the Burnt Common slip road scheme will be wholly developer funded. To date we do not have any evidence that such an improvement is deliverable and could be designed in conformity with the Design Manual for Roads and Bridges.

We would welcome further discussions on these policies.

We understand that the Wisley Airfield site is expected to go to Planning Appeal in September 2017 which will likely have implications for the soundness of these policies, therefore discussions are urgent if proposals are reliant upon the improvement set out in A43A that is being promoted by GBC and Surrey County Council.

POLICY ID1: INFRASTRUCTURE AND DELIVERY

It is noted that the delivery of housing in the later stages of the plan period is dependent upon a major improvement to the A3 through Guildford. As set out in Policy ID1, it is essential that “the delivery of developments may need to be phased to reflect the delivery of infrastructure” and that “if the timely provision of infrastructure necessary to support new development cannot be secured, planning permission will be refused”. We consider this to be essential due to the existing congestion issues and the lack of certainty of any future scheme, as noted above.

POLICY ID2: SUPPORTING THE DEPARTMENT FOR TRANSPORT'S “ROAD INVESTMENT STRATEGY”

Our letter dated 5 October 2016 sets out Highways England comments on Policy ID2 and specifically its position on a potential A3 and planned M25 schemes, which remain the current position. However you will note that subsequent to a public consultation earlier this year, we plan to announce the preferred route for the M25 Junction 10 scheme in late August. This may or may not have implications for proposals set out in policies A43A (Burnt Common) and A35 (Wisley Airfield) can be delivered.

We are pleased to advise that on the 10th March 2017 the Department of Transport announced £220 million to help motorists to beat congestion and this included schemes for the A3 Guildford Northbound Off Slip at the University Interchange and A3 Guildford Stoke Interchange Southbound Off Slip Improvements. Further, we can also advise that schemes at Beechcroft Drive and for Safety Enforcement Cameras on the A3 through Guildford have been funded to enable progress with the intention to start construction before 2020.

POLICY ID3: SUSTAINABLE TRANSPORT FOR NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Highways England is supportive of the changes to Policy ID3, which are required to help maintain the safe operation and performance of the SRN.

Attached documents:

Comment ID: pslp171/3526  Respondent: 15746081 / Highways England (Patrick Blake)  Agent:

Thank you for consulting Highways England in relation to the Guildford Borough Council (GBC) targeted Proposed Submission Local Plan (Reg 19).

Highways England has been appointed by the Secretary of State for Transport as a strategic highway company under the provisions of the Infrastructure Act 2015 and is the highway authority, traffic authority and street authority for the strategic road network (SRN). The SRN is a critical national asset and as such, Highways England works to ensure that it operates and is managed in the public interest, both in respect of current activities and needs as well as in providing effective stewardship of its long-term operation and integrity. In this case Highways England’s interests relate to the potential impact of development on the A3 and M25.

Overall, in accordance with national policy, we look to GBC to promote strategies, policies and land allocations that will support alternatives to the car and the operation of a safe and reliable transport network. We would be concerned if any material increase in traffic were to occur on the SRN because of planned growth within the Guildford borough, without careful consideration of mitigation measures. It is important that the Local Plan provide the planning policy framework to ensure development cannot progress without the appropriate infrastructure in place.

When considering proposals for growth, any impacts on the SRN will need to be identified and mitigated as far as reasonably possible. We will support a local authority proposal that considers sustainable measures, which manage down demand and reduce the need to travel. Infrastructure improvements on the SRN should only be considered as a last resort. Proposed new growth will need to be considered in the context of the cumulative impact from already proposed development on the A3 and M25.

This correspondence follows on from our letters dated 18 July and 5 October 2016, produced in response to the 2016 Proposed Submission Local Plan consultation for which our comments remain (with the exception of Policy A46 which has subsequently been removed from the 2017 Proposed Submission Local Plan).

POLICY S2: PLANNING FOR THE BOROUGH - OUR SPATIAL DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY

TOPIC PAPER: TRANSPORT APPENDIX 3 (2017)

LAND AVAILABILITY ASSESSMENT ADDENDUM (2017)

It is noted that the Annual Housing Target numbers presented in Policy S2 differ to those presented in the Topic Paper: Transport Appendix 3 (2017) and the Land Availability Assessment Addendum (2017). It would be helpful if this could be clarified.

The housing trajectory contained in the Land Availability Assessment Addendum demonstrates that many thousands of houses are expected to be delivered after the next roads period (2020-2025). Some of these Local Plan sites may be wholly or partially reliant on a potential improvement on the A3 through Guildford. It would be helpful to understand in more detail which development sites are expected to come forward ahead of a potential scheme and which development sites may be dependent upon it.

Owing to the existing A3 congestion issues and the lack of certainty for any potential future scheme on the A3 through Guildford, the management and phasing of the Local Plan developments will be critical.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
It is recognised that the transport evidence base (SHAR 2016) has not been updated, with no further transport modelling taking place.

The Addendum document notes that “key changes made to proposed site policies and to the programme of transport schemes in the Draft Local Plan, as identified in the Draft Local Plan 2017, are not considered likely to change the conclusions of the SHAR 2016”. The SHAR 2016 concludes that: “the results of this assessment indicate that should the RIS schemes not be forthcoming then the residual cumulative impact of the Proposed Submission Local Plan on the highway network could be considered severe”.

As noted above, it would be helpful to understand in more detail which developments are expected to come forward ahead of a potential A3 improvement scheme and which developments may be dependent upon a scheme. The management and phasing of the Local Plan developments will be critical to maintain the safe operation and performance of the SRN.

TRANSPORT TOPIC PAPER JUNE 2017

1. Evidence Base

With regard to the Addendum Strategic Highway Assessment Report it is noted that “GBC, with Surrey County Council, we will be undertaking new supplementary technical work prior to the submission of the plan to the Secretary of State. This will respond to the remaining issues raised by Highways England on the strategic highway assessment”.

Highways England looks forward to working with GBC and Surrey County Council to take forward the supplementary technical work. This would likely include outputs from the forthcoming update to Surrey SINTRAM model and be used to inform updates to the Infrastructure Delivery Plan supporting the Local Plan. Further the supplementary technical work could help inform a Statement of Common Ground or similar between Highways England, Surrey County Council and GBC.

1. Appraisal and Local Plan

GBC has included Policy ID2 ‘Supporting the Department for Transport’s Road Investment Strategy’ within the Local Plan and text within the Transport Topic Paper between paragraphs 5.33 and 5.57. With regard to the current status of the RIS schemes see our comments on Policy ID2 above.

Paragraph 5.89 notes that “in the early years of the new Local Plan, the delivery of planned development and the impact of new development traffic on the SRN is likely to be an important ongoing consideration as the existing SRN suffers from significant congestion during peak periods. Highways England’s main concern is road safety and any proposal that adds significant levels of traffic to existing congested areas will need to be carefully assessed through the development management process for planning applications to ensure that it does not have a severe impact on road safety”.

Paragraph 5.90 notes that “the delivery of planned development has been proposed to ensure that the sites, and phasing of sites, that will be delivered in the first years of the new Local Plan, and therefore in the absence of the Department for Transport’s RIS Road Period 1 and/or Road Period 2 schemes are located where traffic associated with them will have the least impact on the SRN’s links and junctions where current congestion issues are the most acute”.

As noted above, it would be helpful to understand in detail which developments are expected to come forward ahead of a potential A3 scheme and which sites are dependent upon a scheme. This is required to allow critical management and phasing of the Local Plan developments to take place.

SUSTAINABILITY APPRAISAL

Highways England has no comments on the Sustainability Appraisal, as the broad transport conclusions remain unchanged.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Thank you for seeking the Education Funding Agency’s (EFA) views on the above document; we welcome the opportunity to contribute to the development of planning policy at the local level.

2. The EFA was established in 2012 in order to help the government achieve its schools objectives by delivering effective capital programmes that improve the condition of existing buildings and support the creation of new places for pupils and learners. We manage £54 billion of funding a year to support all state-provided education for 8 million children aged 3 to 16, and 1.6 million young people aged 16 to 19.

3. The EFA aims to work closely with local authority education departments and planning authorities to meet the demand for new school places and new schools. As such, we would like to offer the following comments in response to the proposals outlined in the above consultation document:

   Infrastructure Policies (Policy I1)

   1. The EFA support reference within Policy I1 to securing contributions from developers towards school provision through CIL and s106. You will have no doubt taken account of the key strategic policies to reiterate this position, but it would be helpful if they were explicitly referenced within the document. In particular:

   National

   1. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) advises that local planning authorities (LPAs) should take a proactive, positive and collaborative approach to ensuring that a sufficient choice of school places is available to meet the needs of communities and that LPAs should give great weight to the need to create, expand or alter schools to widen choice in education (para 72).

   2. The EFA support the principle of Guildford Borough Council (BC) safeguarding land for the provision of new schools to meet government planning policy objectives as set out in paragraph 72 of the NPPF. Support is also given for the siting of schools within the allocated sites in locations which promote sustainable travel modes for pupils, staff and visitors. There is also a need to ensure that the education contributions made by developers are sufficient to cover the increase in demand for school places that is likely to be generated by a development. When new schools are developed, local authorities should also seek to safeguard land for any future expansion of new schools where demand indicates this might be necessary.

   3. Guildford BC should also have regard to the Joint Policy Statement from the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government and the Secretary of State for Education on Planning for Schools Development (2011) which sets out the Government’s commitment to support the development of state-funded schools and their delivery through the planning system.

Guildford BC Proposed Policy and Provision

1. The EFA welcomes the support in Guildford’s Infrastructure Delivery Schedule (para 4.6.3) to schools as necessary infrastructure required to help deliver sustainable growth in the borough. The EFA note that significant growth in housing stock is expected in the borough, with 14,500 new homes anticipated between 2017-2033. This will place significant pressure on social infrastructure such as education facilities.

2. In light of the above, the EFA encourages local authorities to work closely with us during all stages of planning policy development to help guide the development of new school infrastructure and to meet the predicted demand for primary and secondary school places.

3. In this respect, the EFA commends, for example, the approach taken by the London Borough of Ealing in producing a Planning for Schools Development Plan Document (DPD). The DPD provides policy direction and establishes the Council’s approach to providing primary and secondary school places and helps to identify sites which may be suitable for providing them (including on MOL), whether by extension to existing schools or on new sites. The DPD includes site allocations and policies to safeguard the sites, and was adopted in May 2016 as part of the Local Plan. The DPD may provide useful guidance with respect to securing site allocations for schools in your emerging sites allocations document, as well as providing example policies to aid their delivery within your subsequent Development Management DPD.

4. The Guildford Draft Local Plan: Education Review (May 2016) provides a useful background document setting out Guildford’s requirements for new schools over the plan period. It confirms the need for 8FE primary places across the borough arising specifically from the strategic sites identified. In addition, it confirms 5FE secondary provision is required (beyond the existing planned provision) up to 2025. We note the Education Review is however intended to be reviewed and updated prior to the Strategy and Sites examination and request sight of this once published, to help inform any subsequent response from the EFA. Ensuring there is an adequate supply of sites for schools is essential and will ensure that Guildford can swiftly and flexibly respond to existing and future need for school places to meet the needs of the borough over the plan period.

5. The EFA’s comments on the identified sites for anticipated education provision over the plan period are set out in the table below. These include strategic sites and sites identified in Guildford’s Infrastructure Delivery Schedule:

Access / Transport Issues

1. In developing policies for new schools, consideration should be given at an early stage in the site appraisal process as to how the use of public transport, cycling and walking can be encouraged to help reduce the number of car journeys to and from new schools. The inclusion of a well-developed green travel plan can help to ensure that new schools are better integrated with existing communities.

Developer Contributions, costs of school provision, CIL and EFA funding

1. There is a need to ensure that education contributions made by developers are sufficient to cover the increase in demand for school places that are likely to be generated by major developments in the borough. The EFA acknowledge the pupil yield calculator Surrey currently use to seek s106 contributions and support this approach in principle.

2. We note Guildford BC are currently preparing their CIL charging schedule and support the inclusion on the draft Regulation 123 list of primary school provision on strategic sites allocated in the Local Plan. The EFA would be particularly interested in responding to any review of infrastructure requirements, CIL draft charging schedule and (once adopted) any subsequent CIL review and/or amendments to your Regulation 123 list. As such, please add me to your database as the EFA contact for Local Plan and CIL consultations.

3. EFA have recently held discussions with officers from Guildford BC and Surrey CC regarding the potential for EFA to forward fund the provision of schools. We look forward to progressing these discussions with your officers for those sites/schools which will be secured by 2020.

4. Finally, I hope the above comments are helpful in shaping Guildford’s Local Plan Strategy and Sites, with particular regard the provision of land for new schools. I look forward to opportunities for EFA’s continued involvement in the Local Plan process.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Draft Policy A1: The Plaza, Portsmouth Road, Guildford

Pegasuslife is the landowner of the Site identified in draft Policy A1, with the extent of the Site identified on the plan accompanying the draft Policy. The previous version of draft Policy A allocated the Site for 70 homes within the C3 Use Class.

The Site has been the subject of significant pre-application discussions with your Officers for proposed development to provide assisted living accommodation for older people with communal facilities and health and wellbeing facilities. GBC concluded that the proposed development is a Sui Generis Use Class in September 2015.

A planning application was subsequently submitted to GBC in April 2016 on behalf of Pegasuslife for assisted living accommodation, which was withdrawn. Following further discussions with GBC, a revised application was submitted in March 2017 on behalf of Pegasuslife, which is currently subject to determination, for the provision of:

Proposed assisted living accommodation for older people (sui generis) comprising communal facilities including residents lounge, guest suite, health and well-being facilities, cafe/restaurant, staff offices, basement car parking, cycle parking, bin storage, plant room, associated hard and soft landscaping, and groundworks.

Our previous submissions on behalf of Pegasuslife to the June 2016 Proposed Submission Local Plan supported the principle of draft Policy A1, which confirms the acceptability for redevelopment at the Site for residential purposes. However, we objected to the sole allocation of the Site for residential use (Use Class C3) and considered the Site should instead be allocated for residential (Use Class C3) and/or assisted living accommodation for older people (C2/Sui Generis).
We also submitted that the Site should be allocated for approximately 90-100 dwellings. Draft Policy AI has been amended within the current focused consultation, allocating the Site for approximately 90 homes within the C3 Use Class or accommodation for older people within the C2 Use Class.

Whilst PegasusLife continue to support the principle of draft Policy AI and the increase in the number of homes allocated, PegasusLife remain concerned that the draft Policy does not reflect the currently submitted application for assisted living accommodation falling within the Sui Generis Use Class.

Assisted living accommodation for older people is considered to be an entirely appropriate land use given the Site's location within the Town Centre. The Site has good levels of accessibility via walking, cycling and public transport modes. Both Guildford Railway Station and Guildford Bus Station are within an 8-minute walk from the Site.

The number of older people in the UK is growing and the HAPPI 3 Report1 (June 2016) states that the number of people aged 80 and above will more than double by 2037 and the number of people aged over 90 will triple. The number of centenarians (i.e. those older than 100 years old) shows an increase of sevenfold in estimates from 14,450 in mid-2014 to 111,000 in mid-2037.

In the light of the rate of change, it is not surprising that there is a chronic undersupply of suitable housing for older people in the UK with retirement properties making up just 2% of the housing stock (approximately 533,000 homes). To put this into perspective, the over 65 population is approximately 10 million and the over 60 population is approximately 14 million. Evidently, the demand for suitable housing for older people significantly outweighs the supply.

The ONS Annual mid-year population estimates (2014) for the UK (published in June 2015), estimates a rise in the medium age of the population to 40-years (the highest ever estimated) as the number and therefore proportion of older people continue to rise, up 0.3% in a year. This only reinforces the need for a response to the crisis.

Accordingly, the NPPF (Paragraph 50) encourages a wide choice of quality homes that widen opportunities for home ownership and create sustainable, inclusive and mixed communities. LPAs are required to plan for a mix of housing based on current and future demographic trends, market trends and the needs of different groups in the community, including older people and people with disabilities. The revisions to the Planning Practice Guidance (PPG) (March 2015) strengthen the requirement for LPAs to plan and provide housing for older people.

Paragraph 4.2.7 of the Pre-Submission Local Plan confirms that self-contained accommodation for the elderly will contribute to GBC's local housing requirement. The sustainable location of the Site therefore makes it appropriate for this land use to make an important contribution to local housing need.

Furthermore, GBC has confirmed the suitability of the Site to provide accommodation for older people within draft Policy AI through the amendment of the Policy. However, this unduly restricts developments within the C2 Use Class, contrary to the currently submitted planning application and does not provide any flexibility or consideration that accommodation for older people falling within the Sui Generis Use Class would similarly be acceptable.

It is important to note that PegasusLife consider that assisted living accommodation could be classed as C2 or Sui Generis; it is GBC who has determined that the proposals for the Site fall within the Sui Generis Use Class. It is therefore inconsistent of GBC not to reflect this position in the draft allocation for the Site.

We consider that the Site can accommodate approximately 90-100 dwellings, which is in line with PegasusLife's proposed response to consultation feedback received for the proposed development. It is considered appropriate that a dwelling range is provided in order to be flexible and respond to prevailing circumstances. Whilst we support the increase from the previously allocated 70 dwellings, it is submitted that a range of between 90 and 100 would be more appropriate.

Draft Policy H2: Affordable Homes

Draft Policy H2 requires that on sites providing five or more homes, or sites of 0.17ha or more, that at least 40% are to be affordable. The 'reasoned justification' for this draft policy previously stated at Paragraph 4.2.35 of the June 2016 Pre-Submission Local Plan:

This policy applies to all new homes within the C3 Use Class. This generally includes retirement homes, as well as self-contained studio flats for a single household, whether specifically aimed at students or not. It does not apply to residential institutions such as care homes and nursing homes. Assisted living and other sui generis residential developments may be required to make provision; these will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Within our representations to the June 2016 Pre-Submission Local Plan we objected to this Policy. We noted that the last aspect of Paragraph 4.2.35 has been amended in the updated document to state:

Assisted living, extra care and other C2 residential developments may be required to make provision; these will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Whilst we support the removal of Sui Generis developments from the Policy, our objection to this draft Policy remains since it still applies to assisted living accommodation. Thereby the policy does not take into account the viability or provide certainty for emerging models of accommodation and care for older people. The draft Policy is therefore not considered 'effective' in this regard, and therefore fails this test of 'soundness'.

Assisted living accommodation for older people generates additional costs relative to residential development (Use Class C3) due to the need for specialist design and specification, the sacrifice of saleable area for the provision of services and facilities with no compensating income, and other differentiating factors. Land must be competed for on the open market with key competition including non-specialist housebuilders, student housing developers and commercial developers. Inevitably, in reaching a competitive land value an affordable housing provision equal to that assumed by non standard housebuilders bidding on the site cannot therefore be sustained.

This is a structural issue which affects the delivery of assisted living accommodation for older people at a strategic level. Not seeking to achieve parity of affordable housing provision between specialist and mainstream developments is essential to supporting efforts to boost the supply of housing in this sector in line with both national and local priorities. Owing to the further increased costs of redevelopment on previously developed sites, it is therefore considered that Policy H2 should not apply to assisted living developments on previously developed land.

Furthermore, draft Policy H2 does not currently provide any certainty for developers delivering assisted living, extra care and other C2 residential developments. Draft Policy H2 currently states such schemes 'may be required' to make an affordable housing provision, which will be considered on a case-by-case basis. As such there is no certainty as to whether GBC will seek an affordable housing contribution, which is likely to result in every developer wishing to provide such housing having to undertake a viability appraisal and negotiate accordingly with GBC, adding unnecessary expense and time delays to schemes providing much needed forms of housing.

Draft Policy H2 is somewhat contradictory within the reasoned justification, stating at Paragraph 4.2.35 that it does not apply to residential institutions such as care homes or nursing homes, then in the next sentence stating assisted living, extra care and other C2 developments may be required to make provision. Given that the majority of care homes or nursing homes will fall within Use Class C2, there is no clarity as to whether Policy H2 applies or not in these instances.

The earliest dates for the railway stations at Park Barn and Merrow are not expected before 2024 (six years later than first anticipated).

Two road safety schemes for the A3 have been abandoned.

SCC appear to have washed their hands of involvement in the delivery of a number of highway developments on the local road network (which is their responsibility). (E.g. those in LRN7).

LRN7 (For Wisley Airfield) is an example of inadequate infrastructure requirements to address the problems that would be created by a strategic site.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

GGGG objects to the continued poor quality of the evidence base and lack of sound property market research that relates to the local market in Guildford rather than the continued reliance on generic economic capacity forecasts. As a result many of the submission documents providing key evidence are unsound, unreliable and inconsistent.

Key parts of the evidence base are flawed or based on withheld assumptions.

The latest SHMA 2017 still inflates the proposed housing figure due to the following factors:
An independent review by NMSS of the latest ONS population estimates and projections has found compelling evidence that there are substantial errors in past estimates of student migration flows. It is probable that migration flows out of Guildford, both to other parts of the UK and abroad, have been under-estimated by sizeable amounts.

Owing to the way in which migration estimates are used to construct population and household projections, the errors in past migration estimates are likely to mean that the latest demographically-based housing need estimates by GL Hearn overstate the number of homes needed by over 25%.

The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.”

38,357 sq m of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is a quite sufficient supply for the plan period and does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm.

The ELNA states “that a large proportion of the net additional floorspace and land requirements for both office/R&D and industrial/storage uses could be met through the permissions which have been consented but which have yet to be implemented. However, there is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward at all, or be developed in different quantities by use class than has been consented.”

“There is the possibility that some pipeline developments may not come forward” is patently a weak argument indeed for the proposed industrial development at Burnt Common in the Green Belt and expansion of the Surrey Research Park into the Green Belt which has unused consents dating back many years and also the substantial latent potential for an increased density of development. The current plot ratio is less than 25%. The reason that the unused consents have not been used up is simple. There is a proven lack of demand.

Exceptional circumstances clearly do not exist to justify amendments to Green Belt boundaries as part of the Local Plan process. It is quite achievable for realistically prepared and identified development needs to be accommodated in Guildford’s urban areas and villages.

The Carter Jonas Guildford Retail Study Update 2017 lacks credibility and there is no proven case for expanding comparison retail space which is undermined by failure to implement existing retail consents at the North Street development over the last 10 years. The Guildford Retail Study does not take account of changing retail patterns in relation to the threat of the internet and the “clicks and mortar” conflict. The study also assumes a number of logged retail requirements from companies already in liquidation or with national requirements that exclude Guildford.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
We object to the changes to Policies A36 to A41 (East and West Horsley) The number of potential development sites has been reduced by two (A36 and A41, representing a total of 138 dwellings). This leaves four sites (A27-40) which still represent a total of 395 new dwellings.

Marginal changes such as these would still leave 70% of all new development in the borough built on Green Belt sites. No “exceptional circumstances” or any other justification is advanced for this strange imbalance. The deletion of two Horsley sites fails to correct the issue of relative overdevelopment in East and West Horsley, which is both excessive in absolute terms and disproportionate in relation to the rest of the borough.

No attempt is made to assess the cumulative impact on the Horsleys – either of the four sites now proposed, or of Site A35 (Three Farms Meadow, alias “Wisley Airfield”), with over 2,000 new homes only 2 miles away. This piecemeal approach leaves the future of the Horsleys at the mercy of ad hoc planning applications, which is the opposite of what a Local Plan should intend. The new plan Policies put greater emphasis on the need for adequate facilities and infrastructure to underpin development. But this is not reflected in any new wording on the Horsley sites, thus leaving most local objections unaddressed. Again, this defect curtails the plan’s usefulness as a practical planning tool at a site level and undermines its credibility among residents.

The plan fails to mention most of the known sustainability issues and infrastructure constraints affecting the Horsley sites, including public transport, traffic, road safety, parking, schooling, medical facilities, sewage, flooding/surface drainage and shops.

These were fully set out in responses to last year’s public consultation. The density of new housing on the four Horsley sites too is inappropriate, being greater than anywhere in the locality at present.

Sites situated on the periphery of existing development in the Horsleys encroach on surrounding open fields and require the extension of settlement boundaries. The plan presents no arguments for this which, contrary to NPPF paragraph 79, will contribute to creeping urbanisation by attenuating the Green Belt corridors separating the Horsleys from neighbouring settlements. Collectively, the four Horsley sites breach NPPF paragraph 81’s encouragement of access to the Green Belt and its amenity and recreation value. This has been an outstanding success story in the Horsleys, as detailed in response to the last consultation. Assets include a dense public footpath network, parish parks, sports fields, a campsite of international standard, Britain’s newest rural opera theatre and the popular Olympic cycle route. These examples of positive planning depend on a Local Plan that protects the Green Belt, maintains its openness and beauty and avoids urbanisation and traffic congestion. Sites A35-41 are hostile to this.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
We object to the changed policy A25 Gosden Hill for the development of 1700 homes. Deferral of the target number of homes by 300, to be built after the plan period, is effectively just a smoke and mirrors exercise. This housing is still being allocated. There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.

Gosden Hill is located entirely within the Green Belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Gosden Hill performs all five functions of green belt. The site has no provision for foul or surface water sewerage and adjoining sewerage is at capacity.

The Green Belt at this point serves the important function of separating West Clandon from the edge of urban Guildford. Development here will cause the two to coalesce defeating one of the objectives of the Green Belt. If this development proceeds I believe the narrow strip of Green. Belt remaining between Guildford and Clandon at this point will be too narrow and will come under further pressure. It will represent an undesirable ribbon development along the A3. It will be highly visible from the A3 when approaching Guildford and will, in conjunction with A43a at Garlick’s Arch give the appearance of almost continuous development from Ripley through to Guildford. The development of this site cannot be sustainable and will cause massive congestion onto surrounding roads. The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will exit straight on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon. I object to the proposal for a link road to bring traffic from the Gosden Hill development to the proposed 4 way junction at Burnt Common. This has the potential to generate large volumes of traffic (including commercial vehicles) on the A247 through Send and West Clandon - a road which is already under traffic stress (see below). The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools. A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to the changed policy A26 Blackwell Farm for 1500 homes which is still far too much. As for Gosden Hill, the deferral is not a genuine reduction but merely a presentational exercise.

There is no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints. Blackwell Farm is located entirely within the green belt. No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore development here does not meet paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. Furthermore, Blackwell Farm performs all five functions of Green Belt, and fulfils purposes 1, 3 and 5 very strongly. The site is dependent on a new access road from the A31 (Hog’s Back) to the Hospital roundabout at Egerton Road, with a new signalised junction on the A31 at Down Place (just east of the A3 slip road). An independent traffic study commissioned by the Parish Council has shown that this new junction would result in more queuing on the Hog’s Back and on the A3 during the morning peak-hour, and as a result the villages of Puttenham, Compton and Artington will see a surge in traffic numbers as Guildfordbound drivers seek out the fastest route and divert along the B3000, B3100 or Down Lane.
Levels of nitrous oxide that are consistently well above the EU legal limit have been recorded at the A3 end of the B3000 over the last 2 years (GBC Air Quality Annual Status Report, September 2016. Compton Parish Council is expecting that this section of the B3000 will be made an Air Quality Management Area soon. Any traffic intervention that increases traffic levels through Compton (such as the proposed access road to Blackwell Farm), will make this situation worse and potentially have an impact on the health of residents.

The development will result in the loss of nationally important countryside - The new access road would cut through the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB), uprooting centuries old trees and scarring the north face of the Hog’s Back. It would also pass through an Area of Great Landscape Value and through, or next to, a belt of ancient woodland. The housing development itself and the proposed extension the research park, would harm the setting to the Surrey Hills AONB (the views into and out of the Hog’s Back ridge). The development site includes high-grade farmland and forms 20% of Compton’s green belt.

The development will produce more congestion at the Hospital/Tesco roundabout - This will impede access to the Hospital's A&E unit - a problem was identified by the Planning Inspector who presided over the previous Local Plan and who put a cap on traffic increases in the area of 5%. That cap has been exceed (despite the University’s claim that construction traffic and buses don’t count). Guildford’s underlying traffic modelling is flawed and simply tweaking the Hospital roundabout and/or providing a new rail halt at Park Barn will not mitigate against the traffic generated by 1,800 homes, two schools, and an extended business park.

The new road proposed would be inadequate for the volume of traffic, and once the development has been built out it wouldn’t be long before new roads were required to serve the new population, which would inevitably pass through Wood Street Village (adding to the congestion in Worplesdon and potentially ruining Wood Street Village Green) and/or through Flexford/Wanborough, potentially ruining the conservation area of Wanborough, with its 13th century church and 14th century barns. The development will result in more flooding. The Hog’s Back acts as a soak away for surface rainwater. Once its slopes are concreted over, this water will travel north, adding to existing flooding in Wood Street Village, Fairlands and Whitmore Common (a European protected habitat)

We object to the changed Policy A35 Wisley in respect of the identified mitigation to address the impacts on Ripley High Street and surrounding rural roads comprises two new slip roads at A247 Clandon Road (Burnt Common) and associated traffic management. This will not in any way mitigate the impact on Ripley High Street since traffic will need to pass through Ripley to reach Wisley. Previous objections therefore still stand for this changed policy concerning the reinclusion in the plan of Policy A35 (land at Three Farms Meadow, alias the former Wisley airfield, Ockham). Following a huge public outcry, Guildford Planning Committee unanimously rejected a recent planning application for precisely this development on 14 separate grounds. This deceived many residents into thinking that it has been defeated. There is in any case no need for housing on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.

This is not an NPPF “presumption in favour of sustainable development” but a predetermined bias in favour of specific applicants, who had already been given many additional months to refine their application before it was rejected. Residents are disturbed by apparent political links between the ruling Conservative group on the Council and individuals connected to the developers, a shadowy Cayman Islands company.

Policy A35 should be deleted from the plan for all the reasons the development was rejected by the Planning Committee, including:

1. Green Belt location and absence of “exceptional circumstances”.

2. Misrepresentation of the site as brownfield land: 17ha (less than 15%) is brownfield, it is adjacent to the SPA and therefor within the 400m exclusion zone for housing. The remains of the runway (14ha) are a habitat for rare flora and fauna and has never had any buildings on it.

3. Proximity to RHS Wisley and Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area (TBHSPA).

5. Absence of adequate traffic data.

6. Further harm to air quality both onsite and nearby (e.g. the Cobham AQMA) and disregard for the health of children at the proposed secondary school.

7. Loss of high-quality agricultural land (55% of the site), in breach of national policy.

8. Disproportion of locating of over 2,000 dwellings within the ancient village of Ockham with just 159 households.

10. Cost of infrastructure required to the detriment of alternative more favourable sites.

11. Lack of local transport possibilities owing to country lanes with no footpaths or cycle ways and the distance to railway stations which have no spare parking capacity.

13. Difficulty of SANG siting and inability to divert residents and their pets away from the SPA.

15. Damage to neighbouring communities of creating a settlement of 5,000 residents, equivalent to East and West Horsley combined, with worse light pollution, noise and traffic, and competition for local amenities and infrastructure.

16. Insufficient information about the impact on the local water table and run-off (see comments on flooding in Horsley above), and the possible aggravation of downstream flooding towards the Thames (e.g. Thames Ditton, which was under water during the winter of 2013/14).

17. Failure to evaluate the cumulative impact of this and nearby development sites on the area.

We object to the changed policy A42 Clockbarn Nursery to 60 homes.
It ignores all the hundreds of previous objections made by local people
The increase to 60 homes in place of 45 homes is 33% more and too much.
It will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction.
It will make erosion of Green Belt worse
It will make surface water flooding, which is already bad, even worse
It will impact open countryside views from the River Wey Navigation
The site is part of the permanent Green Belt at Send and should remain undeveloped inorder to preserve the amenity of the surrounding area.
The site has very restricted access along Tannery Lane which is narrow and for most of its length only capable of providing access for cars in one direction. Development of the site is not therefore sustainable or practical.
Tannery Lane already provides access to a Business Park which generates a considerable amount of traffic at all times of the day including lorries. This narrow country lane cannot cope with any more traffic.
Planning consent has already been granted, rather unwisely given the access problems, for 84 flats and a marina. Anymore development at this location would not be sustainable.
The junction with Send Road has poor visibility and is dangerous for traffic entering and leaving Tannery Lane.

We object to the changed policy A43 Garlick’s Arch for 400 homes and 6 travelling show people pitches
It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
There is no proven demand for travelling show people plots in this location
There is no need for putting houses on this site because the local plan housing target is incorrect and inflated and ignores constraints.
The allocation of 28.9 ha is an excessive land grab into the Green Belt. If we take a normal density of 30 homes per ha and it is at the end of the day proven that there is a need for 400 homes in this location the land requirement is 13 ha not 28.9 ha which is more than double. This replicates a similar over land grab at Burnt Common where the factor is 7 times the land required.

This confirms the worrying impression that GBC have a pre-determined policy of building on the Green Belt at every opportunity. The arithmetic does not stack up. One would have thought that they would as custodians of the green Belt be intent on conserving it rather than exploiting it.
The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development, as stated by National Planning Policy.

Garlick’s Arch (A43) is in an unsustainable location. It does not benefit from railway stations within easy walking distance and bus services across rural villages are forever reducing. Residents will have few options, but to be reliant on motor vehicles. The site is unsuitable due to lack of access to sustainable transport. Furthermore, there are no plans to improve the infrastructure for Garlick’s Arch in the Infrastructure Plan.

Residents will be dependent on the car for transport. Greater consideration should be given to increasing the density of development in urban areas, such as Guildford, where more practical sustainable transport options can be provided.

The A3, M25 and the roads through the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon already suffer from congestion. Further vehicle movements will result in even more acute congestion and greater pollution. Residents and the environment will suffer as a result.

We object to the proposal to remove Garlick’s Arch from the Green Belt. National Planning Policy requires there to be an exceptional circumstance for the Green Belt boundaries to be altered, or the development on Green Belt. There are no exceptional circumstances for this land to be taken from the Green Belt. Once taken the green belt is lost forever. There is a real danger that the loss of this Green Belt will result in urban sprawl and the neighbouring villages merging into one another. The significant development in Send, Ripley and Clandon will result in the character of these villages being lost and the countryside encroached.

We object to the development at Garlick’s Arch because of flood risk. The site at Garlick’s Arch is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as a Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. Knowing the area well I am aware that this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay.

Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

We object to the loss of rural employment on the site. The development at Garlick’s Arch would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises.

We object to the potential loss of Ancient Woodland on the site. The proposed development at Garlick’s Arch will have a permanent impact on the character of the Ancient Woodland that surrounds the site on two sides and runs centrally through the site, which includes over 80 ancient oak trees that existed in the year 1600.

We object due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1). Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road and Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition. I object to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as Send and Ripley, already suffer from parking problems. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Send and Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become a popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the village on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.
The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

We object to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1). Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

We object due to the congestion that development will cause to the trunk roads, A3/M25 (Policy I2). There is no certainty that either the A3 or M25 in the borough will be improved to increase capacity and reduce congestion during the Plan period. Highways England has no plans to even examine improving the A3 before 2020. I have considerable concerns that development of the large residential sites identified a Wisley Airfield (A35), Garlick’s Arch (A43) and Gosden Hill (A25), will take place before any improvements are made to the trunk road network. The A3 & M25 are already at capacity during peak hours and any development prior to improvement of these roads will only make the situations worse.

We object to poor air quality (Policy I3). Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health.

We object to the inclusion of the land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley (A43). Garlick’s Arch has previously been protected from development as Green Belt. Under the Plan it is proposed that the site will be developed for approximately 400 homes (C3) and up to 7,000 sq m of either or a mix of light industrial (B1c), general industrial (B2) and storage and distribution (B8). There are no exceptional circumstances which allow for the removal of this land from the Green Belt (Policy P2).

It is clear that with this site being added at the eleventh hour and no infrastructure planning has been undertaken. The Infrastructure Schedule makes no provision for any infrastructure improvements for this site. How will the local services such as schools and doctors cope, many of which are already at capacity? (Policy I1)

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

We object to the change by way of deletion of paragraph 4.5.8: “We will expect development to respond to local character and history, reflecting the identity of its context whilst allowing for innovative and forward thinking design…. There is no reasoned justification for this deletion and its omission will not make places better.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

We object to the change in Policy E1 sustainable employment because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 objections made to the 2016 plan.

We object to the inclusion of Send Business Centre/Tannery Studios Tannery Lane, Send in relation to proposed inset from the Green Belt because:

- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside
- It is adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
- There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate.

We object to the change in Policy E1 of proposed designation of Burnt Common as an Industrial Strategic Employment Site.

- It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the local objections made previously and there is no logical reason to go back on this decision
- The word “minimum” is a change from the previous “maximum” in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land as shown in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017
- There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have many empty sites and industrial units
- The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to a low of 3.7 and a high of 4.1 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 9.26 hectares at Burnt Common in the Green Belt
- There are patently no exceptional circumstances in terms of demand for employment space to build on this important area of Green Belt which effectively separates existing development in Send and Ripley and prevents urban sprawl
- The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
- It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

We also object to the potential inclusion at Burnt Common of a waste management facility mentioned at the change to paragraph 4.423a which lacks sufficient detail for proper consultation and is completely inappropriate. We object to the ongoing poor quality of the updated research undertaken by Aecom in the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017.
which generally is superficial and lacks sufficient detail and analysis between B1a, B1b, B1c, B2 and B8 use classes and that no reliable individual analysis has been undertaken of the widely different supply and demand dynamics of office, research and development, light industrial, general industrial and warehousing and distribution floor space.

We object to the fact that no reliable analysis has yet been made of data held by GBC in respect of different B classes in terms of planning applications granted or evidence gathered by the economic development function at GBC and no robust assessment of local market demand apart from fairly brief references to freely available market research undertaken by commercial estate agents such as Lambert Smith Hampton covering a much wider area.

GBC in their role as a Planning Authority appear to fail to appreciate the fundamental rationale of the Use Classes Order as a planning tool in terms of procurement of useful property market research analysis or forward planning.

What we are left with is a fairly clumsy and poorly informed plan which clusters B classes without any appreciation of widely different employment impact and economic sustainability. E.g. B1 generates at least 5 times as much employment as B8. The lack of appreciation by GBC as to the opportunity for widely different uses being generated within B class clusters defeats the whole point of proper planning of employment uses and can significantly endanger previously good planning put forward in the previous 2003 plan. E.g. the creation of a research and development park linked to the University but now has the threat of being downgraded into a general business park (see below). Little regard has been given in the plan to the economic reality of falling demand for B2 industrial space which is clustered with other B classes almost randomly throughout the plan.

The Employment Land Needs Assessment update 2017 (ELNA) states “that the pipeline for employment floorspace defined by planning permissions yet to be implemented and prior approvals suggests the potential for an additional 33,607sqm of B use class floorspace to come forward. This figure comprises a net loss of 4,750sqm of B1a use class floorspace and a net gain of 38,357sqm in B1c, B2 or B8 use class space.” 38,357sqm of B1c, B2 or B8 use class is quite sufficient supply for the plan period and does not justify the need for new development of industrial space on the Green Belt in such areas as Burnt Common. The reality of demand for industrial space is that it is both nationally and locally in decline and this is evidenced by old existing permissions that have not been taken up and developed. The ELNA alludes incorrectly to the poor quality of existing space being a “constraint” on supply and fails to acknowledge that this assertion cannot apply to potential newly developed space e.g. the undeveloped pipeline of 38,357sqm. Little regard is still not given to the opportunity of specific B1 b space as an opportunity for research and development which needs to be nurtured and preserved without the detrimental and confused clustering with other B classes both in terms of planning and promotion of a research hub.

We support the concept of seeking increased investment in our local knowledge-based, high technology economy. This will provide well paid, creative jobs and generate the funding necessary to pay for the infrastructure and environment this sort of industry requires. We need to distinguish between wanting to increase the added value of the economy and physical expansion, especially given the scarcity of land in Guildford. Guildford is not the place for large space hungry businesses. So i should target high added value small and medium sized enterprises rather than the headquarters of larger corporations. We need to promote the idea of new knowledge transfer in incubator units and small premises for new start up enterprises. They need to be on the wave of innovative new technology as opposed to older established businesses.

We object to the change in policy E2 under paragraph 4.4.23a in relation to development involving waste management facilities to be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

- This fails to provide sufficient public consultation in relation to access and traffic flows
- This fails to provide sufficient public consultation in relation to unpleasant aspects of waste management

We object to the changes in relation to Policy E3 maintaining employment capacity which do not take account of my previous objections to this policy

We object to the ill-informed policy of resisting change of use from B1a to residential because it flies in the face of positive property market solutions for the regeneration of brownfield land. It is also contrary to current government policy which has recently been reaffirmed and permits a change of use from B1a (offices) to C3 (residential).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to changes in policy E4 Surrey Research Park which is still earmarked for excessive expansion which is not supported by the findings of the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017

We support the maintenance of research, development and design activities, in any science, including social science, that is complementary to the activities of the University of Surrey at the Surrey Research Park. We object however to the completely unnecessary expansion of the Research Park into a larger Business Park. We object to the extension to the Research Park of over 10 hectares will be delivered. This I understand will provide a total capacity of around 35,000 sq m of additional floorspace, of which 30,000 sq m is expected to be delivered in the plan period. This expansion is not effectively supported by evidence for an increase in B1b use class under the Employment Land Needs Assessment 2017.

We also believe that B1b (should be the primary use class for the Research Park and that applications for B1a should be resisted due to the danger of dilution of the core purpose and reputation of the park. We also object to the inclusion of B1c light industrial uses which is inappropriate and unnecessary. Research parks based on the early UK technology transfer exemplars of the Cambridge and Oxford need careful monitoring, nurturing and protection to ensure the integrity and quality of the park is maintained and the park continues to be a destination for innovation and enterprise.

There is a danger for research parks to be overwhelmed by short sighted development opportunities being taken by park managers provided by standard office activities and administrative functions which in time turn them into standard business parks which can be found anywhere in the country. Their relative low density and attractiveness make them targets for “any other” office user Research parks that lose their way stop being the location of choice for new innovative enterprises. The Surrey Research Park in Guildford needs to be focussed on a broad spectrum of scientific research including computer science, bio-chemistry, design, space-science, eco-science, health science, software development, laser technology, media-science, artificial intelligence, robotics and super manufacturing Monitoring indicators should include new start-ups and new patents created.

Facilities should be provided whereby new small businesses can secure premises under subsidised licence fee arrangements with no onerous rent or lease commitments The Surrey Research Park currently extends to 65,000 sq m The research park is developed at a plot ratio of 25%. This could be increased to 50% within the same footprint of the existing park without damage to its amenity. The actual current land use for development in the park is in fact only 12.5% because most buildings are 2-storey.

We object to the changes in Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre

We consider that policy E7 is still very ill-informed and there is insufficient evidencia support to objectively assess the capacity of the existing town centre to accommodate appropriate new development and therefore fails the requirements of Section 161 of the NPPF to assess the real quantitative and qualitative floor space needs. Policy E7 is still an aspirational voice from the past and is unlikely to benefit the health of the town centre in the future. There is no reliable evidence provided that the retail core of the Town Centre needs or can be expanded by 41,000 sq m of retail space at North Street because of lack of demand for retail units in the Town Centre particularly large units. This is due to falling demand for retail space in Guildford and town centres throughout the country evidenced by independent research and the reality of empty shops in many high streets (including Guildford) and the accelerating competition from internet shopping.

The recent Carter Jonas Study Retail Study 2017 update predicts total demand for Guildford Town Centre by 2020 at only 3,313 sq m and only 34,811 sq m by 2036. We have now been waiting some 15 years + for demand to catch up to enable development of North Street where the old consent for some 40,000 sq m of retail had to be renewed because it was getting out of date. Are we now going to have to wait till 2036 only another 19 years for demand to get to the point to enable development of this much prized site which developers have not exactly been falling over themselves to develop. That is also assuming that all retail demand in the Town Centre is wanting just this site. However optimistically and quite illogically they protest that “there still remains significant capacity to support new comparison goods floorspace over the plan period”. It’s a bit like saying in town x we have currently 100,000 m of shopping and the UK retail forecast done by Experian shows that we can predict a growth of 10% therefore this means we must have an additional 10,000 sq m in town x. This is unscientific guess work.

In table 2 Appendix 6 of their report we learn that there is a potential for turnover to reach £856.3m in the town centre by 2020 however actual committed floorspace take up accounts for only £1.3m of this. This is 0.15%. It is hardly surprising that there are no details of take up or real demand evidence given anywhere in the report. The Carter Jonas report is based on broad brush retail capacity forecasting derived from work by Experian which is very far from site or location specific and as a retail supply and demand assessment in my view is totally unreliable. The source is not even Guildford specific or even Surrey specific. The authors of the report do not disagree with my cynicism with capacity forecasting since they state up front that “It should be noted at the outset that capacity forecasts carried out over a long period of time are inherently less certain and should be treated with caution” and repeated again “at the outset we advise that all capacity forecasts beyond a five year period should be treated with caution. This is because long term trends in the economy, consumer demand and retail property market could have a significant impact on the potential capacity and need for new retail floorspace. For example, as discussed previously, a higher growth in nonstore retail sales (i.e. Internet sales) than forecast by Experian would reduce the capacity for new retail floorspace over time.” The Carter Jonas report is a vague whitewash report for a pre-conceived and outdated concept of increased retail development in the town centre. “For comparison goods, we have assumed the same estimations for convenience goods expenditure ‘inflow’ (10%) for Guildford Town Centre, again based on the centre’s role as a popular shopping and visitor destination.” Coming to the vague conclusion that Guildford is popular is far from reliable property market research.

The closest thing I can find to evidence of actual demand in this report is to read “In addition to focusing their attention on larger, dominant centres, many of the multiples and traditional high street retailers are changing their store formats and locational requirements. For example, key anchor retailers such as Boots, Next, Mothercare, TK Maxx, John Lewis and Marks & Spencer are actively seeking larger format units to showcase their full product range and to provide an exciting shopper environment backed by the latest (digital) technology.” But this statement applies to any of 100 centres in the UK. We are concerned as to whether the authors of this retail study have actually visited Guildford or know where it is? In their 2014/2015 reports Carter Jonas provided a fairly inaccurate picture of retail demand (originally Appendix 6) with the inclusion of retailers who had either gone bust or actually specified demand requirements in centres other than Guildford. This I note has now been deleted presumably because of its inaccuracies which were dealt with in my 2016 objection and has not been updated. We are now left with no demand assessment from either small, medium sized or large retailers. This does not support the view that Guildford is a vibrant retail destination requiring expansion with a large retail development in North Street.

The reality is that the town centre has enough retail floor space. If more is introduced it will result in the closure of existing shops particularly in locations which are less than 50% of peak Zone A or 100% positions. What Guildford needs is a new focus on specialty high quality comparison shopping supported by a revival of Guildford’s attractive heritage core and a new major visitor attraction supported by restaurants. Guildford needs to become the quality shopping destination for Surrey. The existing site in North Street should be replaced with a well-designed ground floor high quality specialty retail mall and frontage of no more than 40 shops extending to 10,000 sq m with the rear and upper floors providing an additional 600 homes. The proportion of the above proposed smaller scheme at North Street will be complementary to and not antagonistic to the Upper High Street, Tunsgate, the Debenhams site and the 100% Zone A positions of the Lower High Street. If the existing policy under E7 is adopted the North Street site will remain empty for another 10 years. We also object to the continued failure of this policy to provide much needed substantial residential development in the Town Centre which is still only a modest target of 1,300 homes. Only approximately 10% of the total planned for the Borough.

There is still a blind overconcentration on retail expansion which fails to take account of market forces and a complete failure to grasp the reality that a residential expansion is required to stimulate retail/leisure demand in the Town Centre which is markedly losing out to nearby centres such as Woking which has a very different approach. See them Town Centre Opportunity in next section. We object to the deletion of the vision statement “Guildford town centre has a unique setting and historical character, and is at the centre of one of the most prosperous counties in England. We will protect and build on these assets and insist that all new development will be of the highest design and environmental standards. We will be proactive in building a great town centre which connects to the amenity of the riverside. We will invest in creating high quality public realm. We will put people above traffic and we will promote new high quality retail and business development. To achieve this we will develop innovative funding and delivery bodies. As we embark together towards this exciting future we pledge that we will continue and extend an active dialogue with our residents and other stakeholders."

Guildford Town Centre needs a decent vision. Without a vision the Town Centre is flying blind and it demonstrates the failure of the potential for imaginative Town development in this latest draft plan.

We support the deletion of paragraph 4.4.86 since many of the sites along the River Wey are capable of full development

We object to the deletion of the Allies and Morrison Masterplan as a source document for the plan since although it failed to fully exploit the development potential of the Town Centre it did include many good ideas including more extensive brownfield development extending to 2,551 homes including Woodbridge Meadows as a residential development site.

We do not consider that the modest target of 1,300 homes in the town centre takes account of the need and demand for housing or the opportunities that brownfield sites present for increasing the residential development in the core of the town which will in itself help to sustain the retail core by increased economic impact. What the town centre needs in terms of urban regeneration is much more residential development. As can be seen from the previous section, retail will not work!

The Town Centre policy needs to maximise the potential for residential development on brownfield and include as an absolute minimum the 2,551 units proposed in by Allies and Morrison for the town centre included in the masterplan 2015 which was originally adopted by GBC. The reality is that the Town Centre and other areas of brownfield in the borough has the capacity for at least 5,000/7,500 homes.

The additional target capacity of 5,000 could easily be provided within the following urban sites which have the capacity for 7,500 homes:
- 2,500 homes detailed in Masterplan 2015 including Woodbridge Meadows which can itself be increased substantially
- 500 homes at North Street
- 1,000 homes on current GBC car parks (25 acres) and at the station
- 1,000 homes saved in the urban area if 100% of students are accommodated on Surrey University campus (17 ha of car parks)
- 1,000 homes at Slyfield on the 40 ha regeneration site
- 1,000 windfall infill (50 per annum)
- 500 homes on brownfield sites in villages on sites of max 1ha which do not impact Green Belt

Yes, we need a new Local Plan for our borough in order to provide a development strategy within which we can accommodate our local housing, economic and environmental needs. But first we must make 100% use of our urban brownfield in the town before we consider building in the Green Belt or countryside. Paragraph 80 of the NPPF clearly states that Green Belt serves a key purpose, “to assist in urban regeneration, by encouraging the recycling of derelict land and other urban land”. In order to comply with central planning policy we need a brownfield strategy that states clearly “We are committed to a brownfield first initiative” whereby all applications on previously developed land are given fast track priority and every facility to promote development for residential purposes and employment purposes in order to satisfy the needs of local people. In parallel a zero CIL incentive should be given for all residential development on brownfield land.

We object to all changes in policy H1 Homes for all because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 objections made to the 2016 plan.

We object to the change by way of deletion of the paragraph on density:
“New residential development is required to make the most efficient use of land whilst responding to local character, context and distinctiveness. Residential densities will vary dependent upon the local area context and character and the sustainability of the location. Higher density development will be supported in Guildford town centre.” This indicates that GBC have no intention of building at a higher density within the existing urban area which is desperately needed and is in accordance with existing government policy. To have a plan with no density guidelines in the urban area is irresponsible and effectively very bad planning since it fails to exploit the development opportunities that urban areas can afford.

We support higher density development in the urban area close to transport hubs to facilitate modal shift e.g. 20 minutes’ walk of Guildford railway station. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 7 storey blocks (there are currently blocks of this size already in the town) at 50 homes per ha with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London. We object to the change in relation to student accommodation: “About 60 per cent of full time Guildford based University of Surrey eligible students population (full time equivalent) are expected to be provided with student bedspaces on campus.” The University should provide accommodation for 100% of new first year students and more than 60% of existing students. This would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and underused surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back. Surrey University has 17 ha of car parks that could provide all the student accommodation required on stilts with parking beneath.

We object to the change in relation to Gypsy, Traveller and Travelling Showpeople pitches and plots. Guildford borough already has a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Overprovision is inappropriate given other constraints. We object in particular to the inclusion of 6 Travelling Showpeople pitches at Garlicks Arch where there is no proven need. We object to the deletion of the paragraph 4.2.8 on density: “We have a responsibility to use our natural resources, such as land, wisely. Efficient use of land is essential.

Housing density describes the number of homes developed within a particular site area. It is usually calculated by the number of dwellings per hectare (dph). Increasing densities can help to reduce the land needed for new homes and make development more sustainable. It can also support more facilities and services. Certain areas can accommodate higher densities provided there is no adverse impact on the character of the area and the infrastructure is able to cope. Planning applications will be assessed on a case-by-case basis having regard to the local context, character of the surrounding local area and the sustainability of the location. This will include consideration of established street patterns, plot sizes, spaces around buildings, and relationship with nearby buildings as well as form, massing, height of existing buildings and structures, and materials.” To have a plan with no clear density guidelines is irresponsible and effectively very bad planning since it fails to exploit the development opportunities that urban areas can afford.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to the changes in policy H2 Affordable homes which still do not go far enough to address affordable or social housing need. “Affordable” homes, under national definitions, means homes that are sold or rented at 80% of market value. Even if 70% of these are rented as proposed, the level of market prices in the South-East means (even post-Brexit) that these homes will remain well beyond most people’s means and that starter homes will not become available for local people.

In addition, “the viability clause” means that in practice the policy could be unenforceable. Private financial viability has no place in a public policy and should be removed. It is a get-out-of-jail-free card for developers that will sacrifice countryside for no local benefit. This policy’s version of “affordability” is just a smokescreen for pushing through more development generally. Building more homes in Guildford cannot increase real affordability given the overhang of the London market. GBC has failed demonstrably to provide any significant social housing. Over the last 2 years a tiny 65 units have been built. GBC may have demonstrated a pre-determined agenda to build large numbers of high priced executive boxes for Londoners in the Green Belt but key workers such as nurses and teachers have been ignored.

Opportunities for local not for profit social housing schemes, borrowing from the public sector at low interest rates and using existing GBC land holdings are extensive. But the political persuasion and intent of GBC does not seem to really want to accommodate local people in need. This is a great pity.

We object to the change in policy H3 Rural Exception Homes. We object to the deletion of para 4.2.51 “ To ensure that the housing is secured permanently to meet local affordable housing needs, we will require the affordable housing provider to enter into a planning obligation with cascade provisions. This requires the housing to be allocated to people with a local connection to the parish (through residence, employment or close family), followed by those with a local connection to adjacent parishes within the borough who meet the criteria, and finally those with a connection to the borough of Guildford in accordance with its published scheme Guildford Homechoice (or equivalent scheme).” This demonstrates GBC’s disregard for local housing need.

A new Transport Topic Paper has been published by GBC. Items 3.16 and 3.17 (page 10) mention Highways England concerns regarding the Strategic Highway Assessment Report 2016 and two letters. These letters can be accessed from the “Get Involved” website by searching for the Highways England response to the consultation. It seems clear that further modelling will be undertaken before the Examination and it also seems unlikely that it will be consulted on. We consider that any further modelling should include more detailed information so that it can be subject to scrutiny by GBC and the public.

The wording of Policy ID1 has been amended to give an impression that provision of adequate infrastructure will be enforced. However, the reality is that GBC will not determine the required infrastructure. It will be determined by Surrey Highways for the local road network and they are required to support development – not put obstacles in the way. If the Strategic Highway Assessment Report is anything to go by, the requirements will be understated or not even recognised.

Transport assessments supporting planning applications will be prepared by consultants acting for, and remunerated by, the applicant. Improvements to the strategic road network (e.g. A3) will be determined by Highways England, budget constraints, and ministerial decisions. Cllr Furniss has stated that the proposed Blackwell Farm development will not depend on A3 widening (in response to a question from Karen Stevens to the Executive Advisory Board meeting held on 20 April). It seems likely that Highways England have felt the need to offer a reality check on the likelihood of major work on the A3, such as widening or a tunnel, in the foreseeable future – apart from improvements to two slip roads. The policy states that infrastructure will be secured by planning condition and/or planning obligation but this will require enforcement and we doubt the ability and willingness of GBC to overcome developers’ viability arguments. For the permissions that require a longer timescale there could be non-delivery issues if the original developer abandons the project without fulfilling all the conditions and obligations.

Item 4.6.8 still indicates that GBC will be prepared to reduce infrastructure requirements by negotiation, i.e. viability for the developer will take precedence over infrastructure. No change has been made to the monitoring requirement which is based on CIL receipts and spending rather than actual, and timely, delivery of infrastructure.

We object to the new Guildford Borough Council Transport Strategy 2017.

We object to ASP 3 new A3/A3100/B2215/A247 Burpham-Burnt common all-movements junction, formed by a new connector road linking between new A3/A3100 Burpham junction (SRN4) and the B2215 London Road, in combination with the new A3 northbound on-slip (SRN9) and the new A3 southbound off-slip (SRN10) under Infrastructure and Delivery.

If development gets the go ahead for the strategic site at Gosden Hill it would be logical to construct a 4 way A3 interchange at Burpham. The A247 link road to Woking already at capacity will become gridlocked.

We object to SRN4 New A3/A3100 Burpham junction with relocated A3 southbound off-slip and new A3 southbound on-slip. This will place an unbearable problem onto the A247 whereby traffic will be passing directly through Send from the A3 and M25 and the proposed new development at Wisley.

We object to SRN9 A3 northbound on-slip at A247 Clandon Road (Burnt Common) and SRN10 A3 southbound off-slip at A247 Clandon Road (Burnt Common). This will place an unbearable problem onto the A247 which is already at capacity.

The removal of item 4.6.17 is puzzling. In the rationale for changes it is described as a potential statement of common ground with Highways England. GBC believe that it is likely to be agreed nearer to the plan Examination – but once again it highlights the lack of control over key roads infrastructure in formulating the Plan.

Biodiversity Opportunity Areas (BOAs) seem to have been heavily influenced by the proposal of new identified settlement boundaries, in this draft local plan. The proposal in themselves have not been fully considered; they threaten landscape and biodiversity. Biodiversity will be seriously damaged by the many greenfield development sites proposed. We are suspicious of the use of the phrase “where possible”, which is a letout. Important habitats for biodiversity (outside BOAs) include many which are not adjacent to BOAs. There is no proper concern for protection of such areas.

4.6.45 is misleading. The primary ostensible role of SANGs is to divert recreational use, and dog-walkers in particular, away from the TBHSPA. It is extremely doubtful whether new SANG will achieve its primary purpose. For example, dog walkers are being encouraged to use sites occupied by ground-nesting Skylarks. It is wrong to claim, in effect, that SANG will produce net gains in biodiversity when it will be used to justify the destruction of existing wildlife on greenfield sites by building on it.

Land used for SANG should be made attractive in order to divert recreational use away from the SPA; but this cannot be achieved by a SANG which is adjacent to the SPA or many of the sites proposed.

We object to the introduction of 4.6.49a which appears to be an afterthought to weaken the policy.

Existing biodiversity and recreational use is being ignored by Guildford Borough Council and developers in selecting sites. In practice, SANG is being used in order to avoid any restriction on housebuilding due to the SPA; and is effectively a Trojan horse. Furthermore, all such sites are by definition already green spaces with either biodiversity or recreational uses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The policy relating to Surrey Hills AONB weakens the protections offered, and (unlike previously) does not have restrictions on non-major development. This is a move in the wrong direction. Previously all proposals were considered against the 5 key tests – now development in the AONB seems to be more acceptable. This is weaker, not stronger, and is contrary to huge responses from the public in previous consultations and the weight of protection given to AONB in the NPPF.

We OBJECT to the loss of the five tests which were previously included. Previously it was suggested that all proposals should be considered as to whether they
- Conserve or enhance the setting and views of the AONB
- Conserve wildlife, historic objects or natural phenomena within it
- Promote its enjoyment by the community and visitors to the area
- Support the rural economy of the Surrey Hills area
- Provide or maintain public access to the AONB

These tests are significant and important and the loss of these tests is a serious diminution of the protection afforded to the AONB. They should be reinstated. Similarly the deletion of the presumption against inappropriate development means that inappropriate development is not necessarily going to be rejected – which would seem to be in contravention of the policies and the principles of the AONB, which the borough council has a duty to protect. This too should be reinstated.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to the changes to Policy P2 because they have not addressed many of the 32,000 objections made to the 2016 plan.

We object to the new para (1) “The Metropolitan Green Belt will continue to be protected as shown designated on the Policies Map, against inappropriate development.

In accordance with national planning policy, the construction of new development will be considered inappropriate and will not be permitted unless very special circumstances can be demonstrated.” The words “as shown designated on the Policies Map” should be deleted. The Policies Map has effectively ignored huge areas of Green Belt protection and the new para (1) is therefore a sham.

We object to the proposed change that Send Business Park should be inset from the Green Belt due to the fact that: It is effectively a non-conforming user in an area of beautiful countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation. It has restricted access along Tannery Lane. It should not be given the opportunity for further expansion or development.

Policy P2 still completely fails to appreciate the importance and permanence of the Metropolitan Green Belt and the fact that it has been around for a long time and it needs to be permanently protected. It was actually established in a local act of parliament in Guildford under the London Home Counties (Green Belt) Act 1938 and subsequently in the 1944 Greater London Plan to contain the outward sprawl of London. The boundaries of the Green Belt through Guildford Borough were later defined in the 1987 Local Plan, forming part of a 19-24km concentric belt around London. The Green Belt is intended to check the unrestricted sprawl of built up areas; to prevent neighbouring towns from merging into one another; to safeguard the countryside from encroachment; to preserve the setting and special character of historic towns; and to assist with urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. The principles of the Green Belt designation were outlined within Planning Policy Guidance 2: Green Belts (PPG2) and are found within the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). The Metropolitan Green Belt is an exemplar of good planning and the envy of planners throughout the world. Policy P2 omits any assessment of the Green Belt’s value. The Green Belt is not just empty space but is an inhabited, working environment that safeguards a certain stock of natural capital. It is quite incorrect to argue, as the Council do, that the plan would involve the loss of “only” 1.6% of the borough’s Green Belt. In reality the figure is nearer 7% when insetting, infilling and settlement boundary extensions are included. More importantly, there is no “acceptable” percentage (in the NPPF or anywhere else) of Green Belt that may be sold. No-one argues that we should sell 1.6% of the Crown jewels in order to build houses.
We object to the statement in the Draft Local Plan under Green Belt Policy P2 (4.3.13) which claims that 14 villages are “now inset from the Green Belt”. This statement is untrue as GBC is proposing to “inset” these village. No decision has been made by an Inspector, therefore the villages remain in the Green Belt. We object to the changed “insetting” of 15 villages (including Ripley) from the Green Belt, and at “infilling” 12 of the borough’s Green Belt villages. We are deeply disturbed that settlement boundaries are to be hugely extended in many villages (including Send) and that infilling is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages. This is completely unplanned and unmeasured development outside of the OAN. Many Guildford villages are “leggy” in outline, reflecting the effect of ribbon development (often along just one side of existing roads) permitted between the Wars. It is all too easy to square off boundaries by including countryside bounded on only one or two sides by existing development, claiming it contributes nothing to the “openness” of the Green Belt, a term which neither the plan nor the NPPF defines. The NPPF’s other 4 tests of Green Belt status, including the prevention of urban sprawl, are ignored. Effectively, this policy makes all villages within the Green Belt vulnerable to large blocks of new development and seems almost hell bent on self-defeat. Many of the local village should not be removed from the Green Belt. Send, for example, provides an important Green Belt buffer between Woking and Guildford. The village and the countryside behind the A247 should all be protected.

We object to three particularly vulnerable areas of high quality amenity land being taken out of the Green Belt at Send which include:
- The land behind the schools including playing fields and woodland.
- The land to the right of Cartbridge by the River Wey Navigation up to the new boundary fence with Vision Engineering.
- Land to the left of Cartbridge going up to the old depot on the Wey Navigation.

POLICY S1 SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

GGG supports the change to paragraph 4.1.4 “Local Planning Authorities are encouraged to include a policy within their Local Plan that embraces the presumption in favour of sustainable development. Policy S1 meets this requirement and adopts the model wording suggested. When implementing Policy S1, local circumstances will be taken into account to respond to different opportunities for achieving sustainable development. In accordance with the NPPF, the presumption will not automatically apply to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.”

We are of the opinion in terms of clear policy that GBC have made a definitive statement to support the Green Belt. GGG is however disappointed that they have failed to put this policy into practice in forming this plan.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

GGG objects to the amended policy S2 the Borough Wide Strategy and the commitment to build 12,426 homes based on the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) 2017 prepared by GL Hearn because it has not addressed many of the 32,000 objections made to the 2016 plan.

The OAN “objectively assessed need” figure of 12,426 is far too high. The committee of GGG are very surprised and concerned that GBC have adopted the OAN of 12,426 homes as the housing target without any application of constraints as required under the National Planning Policy Framework and the National Planning Policy Guidance. The scale of the housing number proposed, inevitably increases the onus for it to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

Other local planning authorities appear to take a more balanced view in their approach to planning. The Woking Core Strategy 2012 applies a constraint of 50%. Historically GBC have correctly applied constraints on housing numbers to protect the Green Belt. The Surrey Structure Plan 1994 advocated a general slowing down in the rates of development “because of the environmental constraints which exist in the County, including Green Belt”. This slowing down was reflected in the requirement that Guildford Borough should accommodate a net increase of 3,800 dwellings between 1991 and 2006. This was a lower rate of development than in previous years. It is interesting to note that the Structure Plan at that time expected sufficient land to arise within the urban areas to accommodate this requirement. However, it would appear that today GBC have effectively ignored the real potential of the urban area to provide for housing. At the same time GBC have adopted a radically different approach to the policy of the Council over the last 20/30 years and are now ignoring government policy in relation to the Green Belt.
A detailed and comprehensive professional review of the SHMA dated June 2017 by NMSS an independent expert firm dealing with housing and demographics procured by Guildford Residents Association (GRA) has concluded that the OAN figure should be revised down from 560 homes per annum to 400 homes per annum. The 19 page report by NMSS which can be found on the GRA website entitled “Review of GL Hearn’s Guildford Addendum to the West Surrey SHMA”. It was a real community effort. It was paid for by over separate 20 Guildford Residents Associations and Local Parish Councils none of whom were convinced that the SHMA report procured and presented by GBC was accurate or transparent or accessible in a meaningful way. So they clubbed together and collected contributions from many hundreds of Guildford residents to try to find out the truth of the housing need figure presented in the Local Plan.

The NMSS report includes detailed analysis and financial modelling and was prepared by Neil McDonald who we were lucky to find. He is a niche consultant with the right skills and a national reputation. An independent adviser and commentator on housing demographics. He works with local authorities and others on the estimation of housing need and related issues. He was a civil servant and policy adviser to Ministers for over 30 years, the last 10 advising on housing and planning issues within the Department of Communities and Local Government. His 7 years as a Director at DCLG included a posting as Director, Planning Policy and a period as Chief Executive of the National Housing and Planning Advice Unit. The NMSS recent study has found that the latest SHMA update by GL Hearn 2017 over estimates population growth for Guildford. The report shows that an indication of the scale of the problem can be obtained directly from the ONS’s own data. Their estimates of births, deaths and population flows into and out of Guildford suggest that the population should have grown by 15,000 between the 2001 and 2011 censuses. The censuses, however, record a population growth of only 7,800. The discrepancy is over 90% of the population change indicated by the censuses.

The analysis in the NMSS report demonstrates that the errors must be in the population flows in age groups in which there are significant numbers of students. They are almost certainly the result of the under-recording of the numbers of students leaving Guildford each year. If the projections are based on under-estimates of the number of students leaving the district each year, they will assume that people will be living in the area who will in fact have left. This means that they will over-estimate the likely growth in Guildford’s population. The ONS’s projections envisage that the population will grow by 21,700 between 2015 and 2034. However, if the estimates of past migration flows are adjusted to make them consistent with the census figures, this could fall to 13,000. As a consequence, the demographically-based estimate of the number of homes needed would be 400 homes a year (2015-34), not 580. 70% of the sites put forward in the Local Plan are still in the Green Belt which flies in the face of current government planning policy. The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), National Planning Policy Guidance and case law make it clear that Green Belt is an absolute constraint on housing supply. Exceptional circumstances need to be shown to adjust boundaries.

Other constraints under the NPPF include assessments of sustainability, strategic flood risk assessment, physical constraints on land use and infrastructure constraints (this can include road congestion, schools, drains, power supply and medical requirements). Constraints should be applied to the Objectively Assessed Housing Need (OAN). However this itself is overstated and should be reduced from 580 per annum to 400. We object to the fact that GBC have not used the guidance available to reduce the number of houses they propose.

GBC has not taken into account the possibility of lowering the required number of houses by adhering to the restraints offered in various papers. Government guidelines, even before the publication of the Paper, quoted below say that if a Council cannot supply sufficient houses without impinging on the Green Belt, then they do not have to build so many houses.

GBC have gone against the NPPF as they are not adhering to the ruling that Local Plans must plan positively to seek opportunities that meet objectively assessed development needs and be flexible enough to adapt to rapid change unless any adverse impact of doing so would significantly outweigh the benefits or specific policies in the NPPF which suggest that development should be restricted. House of Commons Briefing Paper ; Planning for Housing no 03741, 14 June 2017. Guidance on taking account of constraints. “Need alone, is not the only factor to be considered when drawing up a Local Plan”. This includes “land designated as Green Belt” and “SSSIs”.

“The framework makes clear that once established Green Belt boundaries should only be altered in exceptional circumstances” and “should take into account any constraints such as Green Belt, which indicate that development should be restricted and which may restrain the ability of an authority to meet its need.” (P d055 ref ID.3-045-20141006 In view of the comments above it would appear logical to apply CONSTRAINTS in line with government policy to a corrected OAN. of approximately 50% to account for the fact that 89% of the borough is in the permanent Green Belt and development is not supported by adequate major infrastructure. This reduction is in line with the constraints percentage of 50% applied by Woking Borough Council. This would result in a more acceptable and practically achievable HOUSING TARGET of 200 homes per annum which over a 20-year period would be 4,000 homes. All of these homes could be built in the existing urban brownfield areas of the borough and would in part satisfy the 32,000 objections made by residents to the 2016 draft plan and also relieve the additional problems of inadequate infrastructure.

Guildford is physically constrained being a gap town set in the Surrey Hills AONB and in Metropolitan Green Belt. Significant parts are affected by the Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area. There are also notable areas of river, surface water, groundwater and surface water flood risk. Constricted road and rail routes converge to cross the downs seeking to avoid both high ground and floodplain. These compete with housing for land and there is no space for road widening or a conventional ring road approach. The Local Plan process envisages that the housing target should be lower than the “objectively assessed need” if there are valid constraints. GBC have failed to apply any reduction which makes the plan undeliverable and unsound. We believe it would be harmful to the character, quality of life and economy of Guildford not to reduce the housing figure to a number significantly below 12,426 new homes by 2034. I submit it would be counter to sustainable development as a whole (in particular to living within environmental limits and achieving a sustainable economy) and contrary to policy to develop on the scale currently proposed. We are concerned that insufficient attention has been paid to cumulative impacts with constraints considered separately for each site. In view of the extent of physical and policy constraints, the inflated SHMA figure, and the transport evidence indicating that the Plan would lead to congestion, the OAN figure should be 400 homes per annum and the housing target after the application of constraints should be in the range of 200 homes per annum and kept under regular review.

The extent to which the Sustainability Appraisal fails to test the sustainability of the spatial options in a meaningful way casts doubt over whether sustainability has been assessed. The report treats various major development sites in Green Belt, contrary to the importance attached to protecting Green Belt, as “a given”, fails to consider options that constrain development or that make greater use of brownfield or previously released greenfield land, focuses on a range of options that involve developing on even more Green Belt around Guildford in order to protect Green Belt around Woking does not consider environmental limits or impact on the next generation in terms of weighing demand for homes for the young alongside the use of all possible last resort greenfield options by one generation.

Policy in relation to sustainable development has been changed in a way that runs counter to GBC’s previous predetermined agenda for building on the Green Belt.

Under newly amended para 4.1.4 It is stated that "Local Planning Authorities are encouraged to include a policy within their Local Plan that embraces the presumption in favour of sustainable development. Policy S1 meets this requirement and adopts the model wording suggested. When implementing Policy S1, local circumstances will betaken into account to respond to different opportunities for achieving sustainable development. In accordance with the NPPF, the PRESUMPTION WILL NOT AUTOMATICALLY APPLY to policies relating to sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives and/or designated as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs), land designated as Green Belt, Local Green Space, the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations identified as at risk of flooding.

The National Planning Policy Framework requires that objectively assessed needs should be met unless: “any adverse impacts of doing so would significantly and demonstrably outweigh the benefits, when assessed against the policies in this Framework taken as a whole; or specific policies in this Framework indicate development should be restricted.” Under this amended policy it is clear that the OAN should be constrained. The specific amended policy described above is of particular relevance to Guildford including sites protected under the Birds and Habitats Directives, Sites of Special Scientific Interest, Green Belt, Local Green Space, Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated heritage assets and locations at risk of flooding. In this situation, is it appropriate for the Appraisal to rule out not meeting needs in full from a sustainability perspective?

Notwithstanding that the Sustainability Appraisal should be proportionate, strategic and look at significant matters, the assessment appears deficient and biased in the spectrum of alternatives it considers to the point that it is questionable whether it meets the requirements. The plan fails to produce a coherent development strategy for Guildford Town. GBC has deleted its independently commissioned Town Centre Master Plan by the well renowned firm of architects and master planners Allies and Morrison as a source document from the plan even though this master plan was previously well publicised and enthusiastically adopted by the Council.

Highways England will not start to consider what it intends to do as regards the A3 in the vicinity of Guildford until 2020.

In the view of the GGG committee it is not sound. The changes do not take account of previous objections including the 32,000 other valid objections that are shown on the GBC website as made to the previous 2016 version. In terms of appraisal of the Local Plan it is vital that those objections are fully regarded, since many have not been taken on board.

As requested, this response reflects only comments on changes to the previous draft; both in terms of new text and also comments on deletions which lack acceptable justification. This is as a result of a specific instruction as given by the GBC Executive that only comments on changes will be acceptable. As a result, GGG requests confirmation that all of the objections to changes made below will be put to the Inspector appointed by the Secretary of State to review the GBC Regulation 19 local plan 2017 and also that all the previous objections to the 2016 draft plan made by GGG will be placed before the inspector and that when objections are fully taken into consideration the draft plan is amended accordingly and re-issued before it is submitted to the Inspector.

Guildford is a constrained borough. 89% of its area is zoned as permanent Green Belt. The road network is already at capacity. We are concerned that GBC have adopted a lower but still grossly inflated OAN of 12,426 homes as a housing target without any application of constraints as required under the National Planning Policy Framework and the National Planning Policy Guidance. Approximately 70% of the new development proposed in this plan is in the permanent Green Belt.
In the latest plan only 1,300 homes are going to be built in Guildford town which is some 10% of the total development proposed. It is very disappointing that GBC fail to set higher densities for the urban area and have in this latest draft deleted all reference to “density for development” which is normally an integral part of forward planning and development control.

GBC still fail to acknowledge that the application of constraints to housing need in respect of the Green Belt is a sensible and practical approach to development within the borough and is not only what they have done in the past in previous plans but is also what its neighbouring local planning authorities have done.
The current scale of the housing number proposed in this plan, which is based on a flawed SHMA, inevitably increases the onus for the plan to be seen to be sound. A substantially lower number of 4,000 homes, on the other hand, would remove the need to build on Green Belt or open countryside, and instantly meet the single biggest public objection to the plan as a whole.

It appears that GBC have still failed to grasp the opportunity of following clear government policy to develop in the urban area on previously developed sites. Many of these sites are in their ownership and it would seem a practical and readily achievable alternative which is much more acceptable to local residents.

In the opinion of the GGG committee much of the updated local plan still appears out of date. Current trends in terms of property development such as the marked decline in town centre shopping centres and the need to create modal shift by developing residential uses close to transport hubs appear to have been overlooked.

Unsupported assertions that there is real demand for the expansion of retail, industrial or office space lack credibility especially in the absence of significant planned expansion of residential development in the town centre which is universally acknowledged as a key stimulant for urban economic health. There would appear to be two worrying examples where GBC are taking the role of “developer/landowner” rather than “independent not for profit public sector planner” in so far that they have a pre-determined agenda for building on the Green Belt rather than acting as careful, professional and responsible planner guardians.

Example 1: Policy A43 Garlicks Arch Burnt Common. The stated, albeit unproven, need by GBC is 400 homes. Normal residential density is 30 homes per ha. Land required would therefore be 13 ha. Land actually proposed to be allocated is 28.9 ha. This is more than double land required in beautiful irreplaceable Green Belt.

Example 2: Burnt Common Policy A 53. The stated, albeit unproven need, is 7,000 sq m B1c, B2 and B8 development. Normal density 50% plot ratio. Land required 1.4 ha. Land allocated 9.26 ha. This is more than six and half times more land than necessary in valuable Green Belt which the planners should be looking after.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
LAND AT TITHEBARN FARM, SEND

Background to the Site
The site currently comprises a series of sheds, surrounded by hardstanding, which have been in storage use (B8 Use Class) since the 1st July 1990. They were historically used as chicken sheds. The site is located within the Green Belt, and also within the 5 km buffer of the Thames Basin Heath SPA.

A resolution to grant planning permission subject to a S106 was given at Guildford’s Planning Committee on 12th July for the ‘demolition of buildings and the development of 13 residential houses, vehicular access, car parking and associated landscaping’ (Ref. 17/P/00523).

Summary of Representations and Recommendations

We submit these representations on behalf of Ashill Land Ltd, with particular interest to their site at Land adjacent to Tithebarn Farm, Send. The representation is submitted in support of development at this site for the following reasons:

1. Paragraph 89 of the NPPF supports the complete redevelopment of previously developed sites (brownfield land) and the draft Local Plan Policy P2 ‘Green Belt’ should adequately reflect the Framework.

2. Guildford’s housing target within the draft Local Plan needs to set as a minimum requirement and be increased to meet the required housing need in the borough.

3. We suggest a flexible approach to the affordable housing policy to have further consideration to viability and deliverability. In addition, to payment in lieu towards affordable housing taking into account site specific considerations.

4. We recommend that the approach to the redevelopment or change of use of non-designated employment sites is reviewed to take into consideration the conditions of existing buildings for employment uses.

The representations, on behalf of our client, to the draft Local Plan, with regards to the above are set out in the following paragraphs.

Green Belt Allocation and Policy

Draft Local Plan Policy P2 ‘Green Belt’ details that certain forms of development are not considered to be inappropriate development within the Green Belt. Specifically included within the draft policy is the criteria for ‘replacement of buildings’ within the Green Belt. The policy dictates the replacement of a building would be appropriate, provided the new building:

• Would be in the same use;
• Is not materially larger than the one it replaces; and
• Is sited on or close to the position of the existing buildings

However, the criteria is too narrow and does not go far enough to fully reflect the guidance for local authorities included within paragraph 89 of the NPPF, with regard to previously developed land within the Green belt. With the above in mind we recommend the following amendments to the wording of the policy:

Furthermore, we would recommend that the policy is broadened to include the tests as set out within paragraph 89 of the NPPF.

Replacement of a building, provided the new building:

• Is on previously developed/ brownfield land;
• Is not materially larger than the one it replaces, and
• Is sited on or close to the position of the existing building.
The policy should therefore be amended to ensure consistency with the NPPF, and ensure that development is not restricted at sites, which are considered suitable for development in line with paragraph 89 of the NPPF.

Housing
We support the housing target outlined within Policy S2 ‘Planning for the borough – our spatial development strategy’ to be set as a minimum requirement. The housing target should also be increased. The development of 13 homes at the above site, which is viable, suitable and deliverable for housing development within the next five years, can contribute to this housing need in line with aims of the NPPF.

Loss of Employment Space
Draft Policy E3: ‘Maintaining employment capacity and improving employment floorspace’ as drafted does not identify site specific exceptions. It requires marketing evidence for all sites, which are in employment use, and not designated to justify their loss. The draft policy requires an element of flexibility in order to be considered sound. It should therefore be amended to state that where it can be demonstrated that the building or site is unsuitable for continued employment use on the basis of the following criteria, employment floorspace does not need to be protected. The criteria comprise:

- The type of employment use;
- The employment generation of sites;
- The suitability and condition of the employment buildings;
- Economic viability for refurbishment;
- The availability and demand for the employment floorspace; and
- Flexibility in employment floorspace.

This will enable brownfield sites within the Greenbelt (i.e. appropriate development under NPPF, Paragraph 89) to be redeveloped where appropriate, such as Tithebarn Farm, and deliver housing.

Affordable Housing
We support a more flexible approach to affordable housing provision outlined within the Policy H2 ‘Affordable Housing’ of the draft Local Plan (2017), which takes into account the viability and deliverability of housing schemes, and would not restrict the provision of more housing on sites such as the Land at Tithebarn Farm.

On behalf of our client, Ptarmigan Land, we hereby provide our comments on the Guildford Borough Local Plan Proposed Submission Draft which was published for consultation on 6 June 2016.

Our client has an agreement in place with the owners of land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh (identified on the Site Location Plan, Site Constraints and Framework Plans enclosed with this response) to develop the site, which is located immediately to the northwest of the A3 trunk road and to the southeast of Portsmouth Road, on the southeastern edge of Send Marsh. Ptarmigan Land is working to deliver a sustainable residential-led development on this site, and they consider that the land at Garlick’s Arch can provide a key contribution to assisting Guildford Borough in meeting its development needs over the plan period. Our client welcomes the opportunity to work with the Council to develop a sound strategy for the delivery of this site.

Having reviewed the current consultation document, we provide comments below on a number of the policies included in the latest draft of the Local Plan. A consultation questionnaire and comments form is also enclosed with this response. We will be pleased to discuss these representations in further detail with the Council in due course.

The site (outlined in red on the enclosed Site Location Plan, Site Constraints and Framework Plans) comprises the allocation in the draft Local Plan identified by Policy A43 as ‘Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley’ and Policy A43a as ‘Land for new north facing slip roads to/from A3 at Send Marsh/Burnt Common’. Our client is working with Crownhall Estates and the landowners at Garlick’s Arch to deliver this development, and is willing to offer land either side of the A3 to facilitate the development of northbound and southbound slip roads.

The site is located immediately to the northwest of the A3 (Ripley Bypass), on the southeastern edge of Send Marsh, approximately 2km to the southwest of Ripley and 6km to the northeast of Guildford. The site largely comprises agricultural land, with a relatively small area of commercial land in the centre of the site. High voltage electricity pylons run through the centre of the site across its full length. A substantial tree belt, comprising an element of ancient woodland, screens the northwestern corner of the site, with another patch of woodland located on the southeastern boundary with the A3. A small brook also runs through the eastern portion of the site.

Following previous representations on behalf of the landowners and ongoing engagement with the Council, we welcome the proposed allocation of this site in the draft Local Plan for residential-led development. We set out below our support for the broad strategy and specific elements of the draft Local Plan. We also where appropriate suggest alterations to the proposed policies and supporting text where we consider that these would assist in enhancing the soundness of the Local Plan when adopted.

SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

This document sets out our representations on the Guildford Borough Local Plan Proposed Submission Draft on behalf of our client, Ptarmigan Land. Our client controls the land identified within the enclosed Site Location Plan, Site Constraints and Framework Plans which comprises the vast majority of the land identified within the draft allocations set out at Policies A43 and A43a, and is committed to the delivery of this site for residential-led mixed use development in the early years of the plan following its adoption. This site therefore has the potential to make a valuable contribution towards the Borough’s significant development needs, as well as providing additional benefits such as the dedication of the land necessary to deliver the new slip roads onto the A3 detailed in Policy A43a.

Our client welcomes the release of the site from the Green Belt and its allocation for residential-led development as detailed within Policy A43, and welcomes the opportunity to work constructively and collaboratively with the Council to shape the emerging proposals for the site, informed by an extensive range of technical assessments and masterplanning work. Our client is also broadly supportive of the Council’s proposed overall development strategy as set out within the current consultation draft of the Local Plan, although as detailed above there are certain aspects which we would encourage the Council to consider further in order to ensure all the proposed policies are fully robust and sound, having regard to the tests set out within paragraph 182 of the NPPF.

We trust the Council will take the above comments into account in the production of the final draft of the plan, and we welcome the opportunity to work collaboratively and constructively with the Council as matters progress. Please do not hesitate to contact Iceni Projects should you wish to discuss matters further.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policies A43 & A43a: Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley, & Land for New North Facing Slip Roads to/from A3 at Send Marsh/Burnt Common

As stated above, the vast majority of the land included within the allocations identified by Policies A43 and A43a is controlled by our client, who is committed to delivering a sustainable residential-led development.

It should be noted that the land required to deliver the slip roads onto the A3 (as identified within Policy A43a) is also controlled by our client, and that they are willing to set aside this land for the purposes of delivering the slip roads in conjunction with the allocation of Site A43 for development as currently proposed within the draft policy. Importantly, the development of Site A43 will not be dependent on the delivery of these slip roads, and indeed is likely to be completed in advance of the slip roads, so as to ensure that the site can provide the maximum possible contribution to the Council’s housing needs within the next five years. The enclosed illustrative Framework drawing demonstrates how the site layout and access can be appropriately designed to accommodate these future slip roads onto the A3, which will be independently delivered, on land controlled by and offered by our client by the relevant authorities. Further details of the slip road design are provided in the Highway Design Note enclosed at Appendix A1.

We strongly support the proposed allocation of the land at Garlick’s Arch for residential-led mixed use development as detailed within Policy A43. The provision of a significant number of new residential dwellings on this available and deliverable site will assist in meeting the Borough’s significant housing needs, and will help to create a ‘critical mass’ of population required to achieve a sustainable mixed community in Send Marsh/ Burnt Common. The site is available for development immediately and can be delivered within the next 5 years, as unlike a number of other allocations in the Local Plan it is (a) solely within the ownership of two parties committed to working together with Ptarmigan Land and (b) not reliant on the provision of additional infrastructure prior to development taking place. The delivery of this allocation shortly after adoption of the Local Plan will therefore assist in meeting housing needs in these crucial early years and minimise the cumulative deficit expected when the housing trajectory is assessed against the annualised requirement. We therefore consider Policy A43 to be positively prepared and therefore sound in accordance with paragraph 182 of the NPPF, as it will assist in meeting Guildford’s objectively assessed needs.

The release of this site from the Green Belt, as indicated by the proposed inset boundary on the Proposals Map, is justified by the Council’s evidence base, including the Green Belt and Countryside Study. Volume 2 of the Study assesses the site as only meeting two of the purposes of Green Belt as defined by the NPPF, indicating that the site does not prevent neighbouring settlements from merging and does not preserve the setting and special character of an historic town. Whilst the assessment does consider that the site makes some contribution towards checking the eastward sprawl of the village and safeguarding the countryside from encroachment, in our view the A3 (Ripley Bypass) provides a significant long term, logical defensible eastern boundary to Send Marsh/ Burnt Common. Furthermore, the existing areas of trees/ancient woodland, enhanced with further landscaping, as shown on the enclosed plans would perform the function of checking eastward sprawl and safeguarding the countryside from encroachment in perpetuity. Accordingly recognisable and enduring new boundaries can be formed to the Green Belt at the southern and eastern edges of the proposed village inset. As such, this site represents a logical and justifiable release from the Green Belt in order to meet the pressing development needs of the Borough established within Draft Policy S2, whilst providing a permanent Green Belt boundary consistent with the guidance contained in Chapter 9 of the NPPF.

We further note that Volume 5 of the Green Belt and Countryside Study finds that potential impacts on the openness of the Green Belt resulting from development at this location could be limited by new tree belts on the site, and that development of this site as a major village expansion would be appropriate as the potential improvements to the sustainability credentials of the village (i.e. contributions towards ensuring the viability of local shops, education, healthcare facilities and services) would outweigh the potential harm to the openness and purposes of the Green Belt. We would also add that as shown on the illustrative masterplan, our client fully intends to remove the high voltage electricity pylons from the site, and re-route the cables underground. The existing pylons represent a significant urbanising feature of the landscape as seen from the existing properties to the north and west, and also in terms of longer distance views from the south on the opposing side of the A3. The presence of the pylons further undermines the existing status of the land as Green Belt, and through the removal of these features and careful planting of landscaping, the outlook from both the A3, and from longer distance views from the south, east and west of the site will be enhanced through the removal of an urbanising feature that encroaches upon the open countryside. We therefore consider the proposed allocation to be entirely justified by the Council’s evidence base and compliant with national policy, and thus is considered sound in accordance with the tests set out at paragraph 182 of the NPPF.

As noted within the Council’s 2016 Land Availability Assessment (LAA), there are no anticipated technical constraints to development of this site, and it is anticipated that it could be acceptably developed for a residential-led mix of uses in a relatively short timeframe following adoption of the Local Plan. The 2016 LAA notes that whilst a small area of the site is located within Flood Zones 2 and 3, the majority is within Flood Zone 1 and therefore not at risk of flooding. Meanwhile appropriate access is expected to be achievable, and there are some existing sustainable transport options which can be improved. Appropriate mitigation of potential impacts on the Thames Basin Heath SPA can be achieved through contributions towards SANG provision, and as concluded by the Council’s assessment, there is no known reason why well designed new homes and commercial uses in this location should have an unacceptable impact on the environment, existing and future occupiers. The main relevant constraints and opportunities for this site are identified on the enclosed Site Constraints Plan, and the initial masterplan prepared on behalf of our client responds specifically to the identified constraints to demonstrate an appropriate, suitable and viable layout for residential-led development A full suite of technical assessments will be undertaken in the coming months to inform further detailed masterplanning work and to demonstrate the suitability of the site for the proposed form and scale of development. The results of these assessments will be presented to the Council and the Inspector in due course.

The enclosed illustrative Framework diagram demonstrates how the proposed development of the site can be achieved, having regard to the identified constraints and opportunities. It is anticipated that the main development parcels will be accommodated around the retained woodland and areas of floodplain, which will provide a green corridor throughout the development and serve to limit the potential impact of the proposals on the openness of the Green Belt adjacent to the site. Send Marsh/ Burnt Common does not currently benefit from any significant areas of park/public amenity space and the site has the capacity to accommodate a large area dedicated to sports facilities/ public open space in its centre as a natural focal point and a hub within which our client will explore the potential to provide appropriate services or facilities for the local community. It is anticipated that the broad development parcel within the southwestern corner of the site, closest to the A3 and the new slip roads, would be most appropriate for an element of employment floorspace. The provision of commercial uses in this area, coupled with a landscape bund and acoustic fence will ensure the amenity of future residents is appropriately protected with regard to noise from the A3, whilst also serving to visually screen the site from the road. Appropriate space within the layout will be left to accommodate the future slip roads onto the A3, and the land will be dedicated for this purpose (with actual delivery of the new infrastructure being undertaken by the relevant authorities at a future date, independent of the proposed development on the wider site).

With regard to transport, the Transport Feasibility Appraisal (TFA) provided at Appendix A1 demonstrates that the delivery of a residential led mixed use development accords with the guiding principles of the NPPF; namely:

- The site is well located to encourage people to travel by a variety of modes;
- Safe and suitable access can be provided for all; and,
• The residual impact of the quantum of development envisaged is unlikely to be severe, albeit is accepted that this will need to be considered in further detail over the coming months.

The TFA also sets out how the A3 slip roads could be delivered, together with the outcome of initial feasibility discussions that have been held with highways officers at Highways England, Surrey County Council and Guildford Borough Council. It is worthy to note that the evidence presented within the TFA shows that the area of land that has been safeguarded is sufficient for the relevant authorities to construct the slip road in accordance with current design guidelines, subject to further detailed work being undertaken having regard to the outcome of topographical surveys and detailed traffic modelling. To this end, it is evident that Ptarmigan Land’s intention to safeguard this land will enable Guildford Borough Council to realise a key aspect of its emerging Transport Strategy, and in particular Strategic Road Network Measures 9 and 10.

With regard to the specific requirements of Policy A43, we support the intention for the site to be delivered for predominantly residential uses. The ownership and physical status of the site render it suitable, viable and appropriate to development immediately, providing a substantial contribution to meeting the Borough’s housing needs in the early years of the Local Plan. Indeed, initial masterplanning work has indicated that in excess of 400 new homes could be achieved, and that up to approximately 500 may be deliverable on this site, subject to further detailed technical assessments and masterplanning exercises. Accordingly, whilst as stated above, the intention to provide an element of employment floorspace is supported - in order to deliver employment opportunities for local people and create a sustainable, mixed community that reduces the need to travel, we would welcome greater flexibility in the wording of the policy, allowing for a sliding scale of development that can deliver “up to 7,000 sq. m” of such commercial floorspace, and/or up to 500 new homes (as opposed to 400). We would also encourage the policy wording to allow for additional flexibility in terms of the specific employment generating uses that will be permitted on this site, so as to enable development to respond to local demand and market conditions.

By allowing for ‘up to 7,000 sq. m of commercial floorspace’ on Site Allocation A43 it ensures that any potential reduction in the amount of commercial floorspace as a result of demand, or potential to provide provision elsewhere in the village inset, would not render the policy wording inaccurate or prohibitive to other options. Consequently, by allowing for an upper ceiling of 500 homes, it would provide additional flexibility in this regard to make efficient use of the land, should the final development provide less than 7,000 sqm of commercial floorspace. It is anticipated that development of the site broadly in accordance with the high level illustrative Framework plan enclosed with this submission would be entirely compliant with such amendments to this policy.

The development of this site as set out in Policy A43 will also result in a number of benefits in addition to the provision of residential dwellings and employment floorspace at an early stage of the plan period to help meet the Borough’s development needs. These are anticipated to include the removal of the overhead electricity pylons currently running the length of the site, which are expected to be replaced as part of the development with underground cables. Clearly this will have a significant positive impact, both in terms of the local visual impact and amenity of local residents, and the general impact of the site on the openness of the surrounding Green Belt. Furthermore, the potential provision of local facilities and the contribution towards a ‘critical mass’ within the village will improve the overall sustainability of Send Marsh/ Burnt Common, whilst the provision of land for the new slip roads onto the A3 will facilitate a very substantial benefit to the local community and the wider Borough in terms of the provision of critical infrastructure.

Having regard to the above, we therefore strongly support Policies A43 & A43a, and would welcome the opportunity to work constructively with the Council in the coming months to ensure the prompt development of the site to achieve the Council’s key aims for this allocation.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Comment ID: PSLPP16/17159  Respondent: 15806849 / Ptarmigan Land  Agent: Iceni Projects Ltd (Stuart Mills)
With regard to the proposed levels of employment provision in the Borough over the plan period, we support the fact that 4.7-5.3 hectares of industrial land will be delivered in order to meet the need identified by the 2015 Guildford Borough Employment Land Needs Assessment. We also support the strategy referred to within Policy E1 to deliver new employment floorspace in Send Marsh/ Burnt Common, as the village represents a sustainable location adjacent to the A3, which provides convenient access to other settlements in the Borough and beyond. The provision of additional employment floorspace in this broad area will assist in delivering a sustainable mixed community, locating employment opportunities in close proximity to residents and reducing the need to travel, whilst also boosting the economy of the rural area. This employment floorspace could potentially be provided on the allocation at Garlick’s Arch, as referred to in the policy, subject to further masterplanning work and consideration as to which site within the inset of the village would be most appropriate to accommodate this development.

We would however encourage the Council to reconsider the wording of the policy that specifically refers to the delivery of employment development at Garlick’s Arch being treated as a ‘Strategic Employment Site’. This would appear illogical, given that paragraph 4.4.6 defines Strategic Employment Sites as comprising more than 7,000 sq. m of employment floorspace (with most existing Strategic Employment Sites having more than 10,000 sq. m of floorspace). Conversely, the proposed employment provision at Garlick’s Arch as set out within Policy A43 comprises “up to 7,000 sq. m” of employment floorspace, which even at the upper end, would clearly be below the threshold for Strategic Employment Sites. Furthermore, we would encourage the Council to ensure that sufficient flexibility is built into the policy consistent with the NPPF. Whilst we support the provision of employment floorspace at Send Marsh/ Burnt Common, and consider that the land at Garlick’s Arch could make a welcome contribution towards the Borough’s employment needs sufficient flexibility needs to be built in to allow for 2 scenarios. Firstly (a) if additional employment provision were to be made elsewhere within the inset of the village, and/or (b) a lower level than the maximum quoted 7,000 sq. m of employment floorspace were to be delivered (subject to appropriate masterplanning and further detailed consideration of site constraints) on the Garlick’s Arch allocation in, the existing wording in Policy E1 which makes specific reference to the land at Garlick’s Arch would no longer be relevant or justified.

Having regard to the above, in order to ensure the policy is sufficiently flexible and is consistent with the definition of Strategic Employment Sites set out within the supporting text, we consider that it is important and necessary to retain the ‘up to 7,000 sq. m’ edit and to delete the reference to the new employment site at Garlick’s Arch being treated as a ‘Strategic Employment Site’. This amendment will ensure that the policy is justified and sufficiently flexible to adapt to suitable alternative options.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy E5 refers to the retention and development of local services and community facilities in the inset villages, such as local shops, meeting places, sports venues and cultural buildings. We support this aspiration and actively encourage development that will facilitate the provision of further local services that will enhance the sustainability of villages. Our client is currently exploring the potential to deliver such facilities for local people on the land at Garlick’s Arch in order to boost the sustainability of Send Marsh/ Burnt Common and provide additional benefits for local residents. However, the provision of additional housing of sufficient quantum will assist in ensuring the viability of local shops and services to the benefit of new and existing residents of Send Marsh/ Burnt Common.

The delivery of additional development at Garlick’s Arch will assist in achieving the ‘critical mass’ of Send Marsh/ Burnt Common referred to in Volume 5 of the Council’s Green Belt and Countryside Study, thereby supporting the rural economy by creating additional demand for local shops and services and providing additional funding for local infrastructure and facilities. This will assist in creating a sustainable mixed community, as encouraged by national policy set out in the NPPF.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy H1

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We support the policy’s aspiration for new residential development to deliver a wide choice of homes that can meet a range of accommodation needs as set out within the latest Strategic Housing Market Assessment. We note that development on specific sites should provide a mix of tenures, types and sizes appropriate to the site size, characteristics and location, and welcome the fact that the policy recognises the need to have regard to site-specific context rather than requiring a uniform mix across all development sites in the Borough. We similarly support this site-specific approach to density considerations.

With regard to the provision of Traveller accommodation, whilst we welcome the fact that the Local Plan is seeking to meet the identified need in accordance with the requirements of the national Planning Policy for Traveller Sites. We wish to raise concerns however regarding the requirement within Policy H1 for developments of 500 homes or more to include provision for Traveller accommodation - developments of 500 to 999 homes being required to provide two pitches. We query whether this requirement is based on any particular evidence regarding the desire for those in Traveller accommodation to live on a small site of two pitches alongside the settled community, and whether any consideration has been given to how these pitches would be successfully integrated into the development whilst also meeting the requirements of the Traveller community. In the absence of this evidence, it is unclear how the requirements would effectively meet the needs of Travellers.
Proposed Amendments
Consequently, in order to ensure this part of the policy is sound, in our opinion it is necessary to either remove the requirement for the provision of Traveller pitches as part of large scale residential development in its entirety in the absence of any evidence to support this strategy, or the wording of the policy should be amended to read:

“Traveller accommodation should be provided on suitable development sites of 500 homes or more whilst there remains an identified need…”

Any such update to the wording of Policy H1 would also need to be reflected in paragraph 4.2.24 of the supporting text, which we suggest should also either be removed or updated to read:

“We require Traveller accommodation within suitable development sites of 500 homes or more to help create sustainable, mixed communities with suitable housing for all.”

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy H2

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Policy H2 sets out the Council’s requirements in respect of affordable housing, stating that affordable homes (at a rate of at least 40%) will be provided on sites providing five or more homes, or sites of 0.17 hectares or more, and on developments providing solely affordable housing. Paragraphs 4.2.38 to 4.2.44 of the supporting text to the policy indicate that such provision will be subject to viability considerations, however there is no explicit reference within the policy text itself to a lower provision being appropriate where viability factors would prevent the development coming forward with at least 40% affordable housing provision. In our view this omission creates an element of ambiguity, and risks the policy being considered as contrary to paragraph 173 of the NPPF, which states that such requirements for affordable housing and other developer contributions should provide competitive returns to a willing land owner and willing developer to enable the development to be deliverable. The policy without such clarification with regard to viability could therefore be regarded as unsound due to inconsistency with national policy.

Proposed Amendments
In order to strengthen the policy and ensure clarity of interpretation, we therefore consider it necessary to add reference within the policy text itself to the fact that the requirements for affordable housing provision will be subject to such provision being viable, having regard to the guidance on assessing viability set out within the supporting text that follows.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2016 / Policy P2
We support the Council’s Green Belt strategy as set out within Policy P2 and the text which supports the policy. In particular, we support the intention to inset certain villages from the Green Belt, including Send Marsh/Burnt Common, as set out at paragraph 4.3.13 and illustrated on the updated Proposals Map accompanying the Local Plan. This approach is clearly justified by the Council’s evidence base, including Volume 4 of the Green Belt and Countryside Study, which concluded that it would be appropriate to inset Send Marsh and Burnt Common within the Green Belt due to the high density and distribution of existing development and the presence of recognisable and defensible boundaries. In this regard, we consider the proposed removal of the village (including the proposed allocation at Garlick’s Arch – Sites A43 & 43a) to be entirely justified and compliant with national policy set out at paragraph 86 of the NPPF, and therefore sound in accordance with the soundness tests at paragraph 182 of the NPPF.

We also strongly support the indication at paragraph 4.3.16 that the Council considers that exceptional circumstances exist (as required by paragraph 83 of the NPPF) to justify the amendment of Green Belt boundaries in order to meet the Borough’s development needs and promote sustainable patterns of development. We note that the 2015 West Surrey SHMA identifies a very significant housing need for Guildford of 693 dwellings per annum, which compares to a previous requirement under the revoked South East Plan of just 422 dwellings per annum. Meanwhile the 2016 Guildford Borough Land Availability Assessment demonstrates that only a very limited number of the new dwellings required to meet the Borough’s needs can be delivered in existing urban areas outside the Green Belt, as 79% of the Borough is designated as Green Belt. The various volumes of the Council’s Green Belt and Countryside Study assess a number of areas where the existing Green Belt boundaries can be satisfactorily adjusted to assist in meeting this significant need.

The NPPF places a much greater emphasis on seeking to meet objectively assessed needs than previous national policy, and there are clearly a number of significant negative socio-economic consequences that result from a failure to meet housing needs. These include reducing access to housing, increasing inequality and increasing house market volatility. One of the most significant impacts of a lack of housing supply is to reduce affordability, thereby increasing the numbers of concealed households and increasing the proportion of income required to rent. In this context, there is a clear imperative to adjust Green Belt boundaries where the Council’s Green Belt assessment work indicates such an amendment would be justifiable, and as such we consider that exceptional circumstances exist in the instance of Guildford Borough to justify the alterations to the Green Belt boundaries currently proposed. We therefore consider that the Council’s proposed Green Belt strategy is sound in this regard, as it is consistent with national policy, justified in relation to the evidence base, and positively prepared in terms of seeking to meet objectively assessed needs.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:
We broadly support the strategy set out within Policy S2 with regard to the delivery of development to meet the needs of the Borough over the plan period, and we specifically welcome the fact that the Council is seeking to meet the objectively assessed housing need of 13,860 dwellings over the plan period as identified in the 2015 West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment. We also support the fact that Policy S2 explains that the targets set out for each year of the plan post-adoption are not a ceiling, thus emphasising that these are minimum requirements and that delivery in excess of these targets is supported.

Having regard to the supporting text to the policy and the housing trajectory set out in the 2016 Land Availability Assessment, it is evident that much of the delivery will occur in the later years of the plan period, when infrastructure delivery will facilitate large-scale allocations to be brought forward. In this context, having regard to the National Planning Policy Framework’s (NPPF) emphasis on significantly boosting the supply of housing as soon as possible, it is imperative that any opportunities to deliver residential sites early in the plan period are maximised in order to minimise the adverse socio-economic impacts associated with an under-supply of housing. Early delivery of those sites which are currently available and unconstrained by such infrastructure requirements should be particularly welcomed in light of the low rates of delivery in the first years of the plan period, in order to reduce the cumulative deficit against the housing requirements as soon as practical.

Considering the Borough-wide strategy for the provision of industrial employment land, we welcome the fact that Policy S2 seeks to provide for between 4.7 and 5.3 additional hectares of B1c, B2 and B8 floorspace, which reflects the demand to the end of the plan period identified in the 2015 Guildford Borough Employment Land Needs Assessment. This would appear to be in accordance with the requirements of paragraph 20 of the NPPF to plan proactively to meet the development needs of business and support an economy fit for the 21st century. As with the supply of housing, early delivery of available and suitable sites should be encouraged to meet the Borough’s development needs as early as practical in the plan period.

Having regard to the above, we therefore consider that the broad strategy to meet the Borough’s development needs as set out within Policy S2 is sound, as it seeks to positively meet the objectively assessed housing and employment needs as identified within the evidence base as required by paragraph 14 of the NPPF. With reference to the tests of soundness set out at paragraph 182 of the NPPF, we therefore consider the broad strategy in Policy S2 to be sound, as it is positively prepared, justified and consistent with national policy. Notwithstanding, we note that delivery of new residential dwellings is anticipated to be below the annual average requirement of 693 dwellings per annum in the early years of the plan, and in this context promoting an maximising the delivery of available sites which do not rely on significant infrastructure should be particularly welcomed in order to minimise the resulting cumulative deficit against this annual average requirement.

Representation on the Local Plan proposed submission draft

3.25 We strongly support the continued intention to allocate the land at Garlick’s Arch within the latest version of the Local Plan for residential-led development. As discussed in our previous representations, the vast majority of the land included within the allocation is controlled by our client, who is committed to delivering a sustainable residential development at this location. Our client is also able to provide the land required to deliver the slip roads onto the A3 as identified within Policy A43a, thereby providing a significant benefit in terms of mitigating the impacts of growth in the area, including at the former Wisley airfield. To this end and in direct response to representations submitted by Highways England to the previous Local Plan consultation, our client is in the process of preparing a Statement of Common Ground (SOCG) with Highways England, Guildford Borough Council and Surrey County Highways Authority.

Employment Uses

3.26 The latest version of Policy A43 as set out in the June 2017 consultation document removes reference to the previously proposed B1(c)/B2/B8 employment uses. The area of land our client identified for delivery of the 7,000 sqm of employment uses previously identified in Policy A43 covered approximately 2 hectares. As such, whilst we have no in-principle objection to the proposed deletion of this use, it is important to find an appropriate alternative use for the 2 hectares to ensure a viable and sustainable development, and to ensure employment needs are appropriately provided for elsewhere as necessary. Accordingly, we maintain that this area of the site is entirely suitable for either a) additional housing; b) an alternative appropriate compatible use such as a Care Home; or c) an element of employment (B1(c)/B2/B8) uses if required. Whilst paragraph 4.151 of the Council’s June 2017 Housing Delivery Topic Paper suggests that the employment element of the allocation has been deleted in response to some concerns raised that the employment uses may not be compatible with residential dwellings, we are not aware of any evidence which would substantiate such concerns. Clearly, there are innumerable examples of where industrial/commercial uses have been successfully accommodated within relatively close proximity to residential dwellings, and with appropriate masterplanning and mitigation measures where necessary we are not aware of any technical reasons as to why an element of employment uses could not be accommodated on this site if required. Notwithstanding this, we note that employment uses are now proposed at the site known as ‘land around Burnt Common warehouse, London Road, Send’ (Policy A58) instead, and provided employment needs are appropriately met elsewhere we have no objection to the principle of deleting the proposed employment use for the land at Garlick’s Arch, provided the land which was allocated for employment uses is appropriately utilised for either additional residential development, or an appropriate alternative use such as a Care Home instead.
3.27 The deletion of the proposed employment element of the allocation set out at Policy A43 releases approximately 2 hectares of land and thus clearly presents a key opportunity to make efficient use of the site to maximise the residential dwellings that can be accommodated here be that as standard housing provision or for a specialist form of housing such as a Care Home, thereby assisting to meet the Borough’s very significant housing needs. As noted above in relation to Policies S2 and H1, it is imperative that relatively unconstrained sites which are capable of delivering a significant quantum of residential dwellings within the early years of the Plan following adoption, such as this site, are brought forward as early as possible, and that their development potential is maximised in order to ensure a sufficient supply of housing land is identified.

Travelling Showpeople Plots

3.28 The other principal change to the previous version of the Local Plan published in June 2016 is the proposed inclusion of a requirement for the provision of 6 plots for Travelling Showpeople. We strongly object to this proposed amendment to Policy A43. As noted above, requiring this site to include provision for Travelling Showpeople would be inconsistent with Policy H1, which indicates that sites of 500 homes or more should provide Gypsy & Traveller or Travelling Showpeople accommodation. Clearly, as the site is currently allocated for approximately 400 dwellings, it does not exceed the 500 dwelling threshold set out in Policy H1 (and would not do so even if the 2 hectares previously allocated for employment uses are now utilised for housing) and thus there would not appear to be a policy justification for inclusion of the Travelling Showpeople plots within the allocation. Furthermore, based on the thresholds set out within Policy H1, a site would not be required to deliver 6 pitches or plots unless 1,500 to 1,999 dwellings were proposed. Clearly, the scale of development here is significantly below this threshold. We assume that the thresholds in Policy H1 were devised having regard to a robust evidence base and reasoning regarding the level of Gypsy & Traveller or Travelling Showpeople accommodation that it would be suitable, viable and sustainable to provide alongside a development comprising general market and affordable housing, and as such it would not appear to be justifiable to simply ignore these thresholds in this particular case. We are unaware of any justification put forward by the Council as to why the land at Garlick’s Arch should be an exception in this regard, and we thus consider this proposed amendment to the policy to be unsound and contrary to the requirements of paragraph 182 of the NPPF, as it would not be justified.

3.29 As explained within the June 2017 Housing Delivery Topic Paper, the 6 Travelling Showpeople plots identified for the land at Garlick’s Arch were originally proposed for a much larger allocation in the west of the Borough, known as ‘land to the south of Normandy and north Flexford’ (Policy A46), which was to provide approximately 1,100 new residential dwellings, alongside other uses including retail and community facilities. The proposed deletion of this allocation has seemingly created a requirement to identify additional plots elsewhere to ensure the needs identified in the 2017 Traveller Accommodation Assessment are met, and it seems likely that the Council has simply identified the land made available by the proposed deletion of employment uses on the land at Garlick’s Arch and transferred the outstanding 6 plots onto this site, without any further detailed assessment of justification.

3.30 With regard to the spatial distribution of accommodation for Travelling Showpeople in the Borough, we note that the existing 12 plots in Guildford are located at land at Whittles Drive, Aldershot Road, Normandy, which is allocated for a further two net additional plots at Policy A50 of the draft Local Plan. The Council’s 2017 Traveller Accommodation Assessment indicates that the need identified for additional Travelling Showpeople plots over the plan period, particularly the short term need, arises from overcrowding and doubling-up on these existing plots, and hence there is a requirement to provide additional plots within the Plan to accommodate those Travelling Showpeople at Whittles Drive who do not currently have suitable accommodation. In our view, it would therefore be logical and sustainable to accommodate this need as close as possible to the existing Travelling Showpeople plots, given the likely associations between the families wishing to secure their own plot and those remaining at Whittles Drive. We consider that the provision of additional plots at Send Marsh/ Burnt Common would be a significantly less sustainable option, given the considerable distance between this site and the existing community in the far west of the Borough, which would clearly increase the need to travel between the sites should the relocated families wish to maintain contact with the remaining community at Whittles Drive. Meanwhile it is likely that the services and facilities required to serve the existing community of Travelling Showpeople are already in place in close proximity to Whittles Drive, and thus it would be more sustainable to concentrate additional plots in this area, rather than creating additional pressure on new areas to provide such services and facilities.

3.31 Furthermore, it is unclear whether the existing families at Whittles Drive that are in need of their own plots would actually utilise the new plots in Send Marsh/ Burnt Common, given the significant distance between them and uncertainty regarding whether they would be suitable for these particular Travellers. Given the lack of evidence as to whether these proposed new plots would be suitable in this regard, it cannot be concluded that this element of the policy has been positively prepared as required by paragraph 182 of the NPPF. Consequently we consider that the proposed amendment of Policy A43 to include provision for Travelling Showpeople plots is unsound, as there is no evidence that this will actually meet the identified need for such plots.

3.32 Having reviewed the Council’s evidence base documents, it would appear that no specific assessment has been undertaken regarding the suitability of the land at Garlick’s Arch for the provision of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots, and that the plots appear to have simply have been transferred from the now deleted site A46 once it had been decided that the employment floorspace previously identified for the land at Garlick’s Arch was to be relocated at site A58. The June 2017 Sustainability Appraisal Update suggests (at Table 10.1) that the land at Garlick’s Arch was identified as an alternative site for the 6 pitches originally allocated for the land to the South or Normandy and north of Flexford on the basis that “[t]here is no available alternative site that can provide Travelling Showpeople plots in the first five years of the plan to meet need”. It is assumed that the reference to the first five years of the plan is actually intended to refer to the first five years following adoption of the plan. Regardless, this commentary would appear to provide the only explanation as to why the Council is now proposing a requirement for 6 Travelling Showpeople plots as part of the development of the land at Garlick’s Arch. However, the Sustainability Appraisal does not provide any further evidence as to why other sites could not accommodate this need within the first five years following adoption of the plan, and as such we consider this proposed amendment to Policy A43 to be unsound, as it is not justified having regard to the requirements of paragraph 182 of the NPPF.

3.33 In order to facilitate a comparison between the strategic sites identified as being suitable for delivery of a portion of Gypsy & Traveller/ Travelling Showpeople accommodation and to demonstrate how the requirements of Policy H1 are intended to be met, we set out in Appendix 1 a table identifying all sites proposed for residential-led development that exceed the 500 dwelling threshold identified within Policy S2, as well as the land at Garlick’s Arch in light of its proposed allocation for 6 Travelling Showpeople plots. It should be noted that those sites allocated solely for Gypsy & Traveller pitches or Travelling Showpeople plots, which will deliver the remainder of the requirement, are not included for the purposes of this comparison. The table highlights that site A29 (‘land to the south and east of Ash and Tongham’) is not currently allocated for any Gypsy & Traveller or Travelling Showpeople accommodation, despite being of a sufficient size to require the provision of 6 pitches or plots. It is unclear why no provision is made for Gypsy & Traveller or Travelling Showpeople accommodation on this site. We understand that planning permission has been granted for development of part of the site already, however the Council has not provided any evidence as to why provision for Travellers could not be made as part of the remainder of the allocation. Based on the trajectory included within the 2017 Addendum to the Land Availability Assessment, the Ash and Tongham urban extension is expected to deliver residential dwellings immediately following adoption of the Local Plan, and thus provides an opportunity for early delivery of Gypsy & Traveller pitches or Travelling Showpeople plots. As such, the Council has not adequately demonstrated a need to provide Gypsy & Traveller pitches and Travelling Showpeople plots on sites under 500 dwellings in order to meet identified needs (in addition to those provided on smaller sites identified for solely for Travellers).

3.34 As discussed above, even if the Council were to consider it necessary to identify sites below the 500 unit threshold in order to meet the identified needs, this would be contrary to the approach identified within Policy H1, and as such this policy would require amending. Any such amendments would need to be justified by the appropriate evidence to demonstrate that delivery of Gypsy & Traveller pitches or Travelling Showpeople plots on sites comprising less than 500 dwellings would be suitable, sustainable and viable.

3.35 Having regard to the above, if additional land is still required to accommodate Gypsy & Traveller/ Travelling Showpeople needs and this cannot be delivered as part of residential-led developments in accordance with the requirements of Policy H1, it may be necessary for the Council to identify additional small sites dedicated solely to Gypsy & Traveller pitches/ Travelling Showpeople plots. We would therefore encourage the Council to undertake a full assessment of potential sites in order to identify any additional capacity in this way if necessary.

3.36 On the basis of the above points, we strongly object to the proposed amendment to Policy A43 to require 6 Travelling Showpeople plots to be provided as part of the residential development of the site. In our assessment, the proposed amendment would be unsound, having regard to the requirements of paragraph 182 of the NPPF, as it would not be justified, positively prepared or effective. A requirement for 6 plots on site A43 would fundamentally contradict the Council’s own policy as set out at Policy H1, and it has not been demonstrated that the provision of Travelling Showpeople plots in this location would actually serve the identified need. Meanwhile the Council has not provided sufficient evidence or justification as to why it would be acceptable in principle to require a site of this size to accommodate Gypsy &
Traveller/Travelling Showpeople accommodation, or why this site in particular would be suitable for such provision (or indeed why this site would be the only/most suitable site to accommodate any outstanding need).

3.37 In order to make the policy sound, we therefore consider that the proposed amendment relating to the provision of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots should be deleted. Should the land originally proposed for employment floorspace on this site no longer be required, we consider that it would be appropriate to increase the proposed quantum of residential development in order to ensure the development of this site, and the contribution it makes towards the supply of housing in the Borough, is maximised. The enclosed vision document indicates that up to approximately 500 dwellings could be appropriately accommodated on the site, or that provision could be made for an alternative appropriate use such as a care home in addition to the 400 homes having regard to the technical and masterplanning work undertaken to date. We therefore request that the Council update the wording of the policy to reflect this potential capacity and ensure that it does not artificially constrain the future development of this site and its potential contribution to the Borough’s housing supply.

5 Considerations

We have undertaken a number of technical assessments on the Land at Garlick’s Arch and conclude that there is relatively little to constrain development (see left).

Introduction

The Site is well screened by existing tree stands and woodland and although development will alter the character of the Site, sensitive design will allow development to sit well within its setting. In terms of its landscape value, the Site offers a number of opportunities that could significantly enhance the development and help to create a unique sense of place. Existing features such as mature and Ancient Woodland and waterbodies can all be integrated in a way that adds value to the development.

Provision of access and services is straightforward and the overhead pylons that pass through the Site can be undergrounded to improve visual amenity. The Kiln Lane and the A3 provide a natural boundary to the edge of the village negating any further future expansion into the Green Belt to the south-east. A planted landscape buffer, potentially including a bund and acoustic fence, serves to mitigate any noise generated by the A11.

The plan (left) summarises the key considerations. The following pages describe these in more detail. Full technical reports include:

• Transport and Access
• Utilities
Transport and Access

The NPPF is predicated on the assumption that new developments are located in areas that provide people with a choice of travel modes and are able to provide safe and suitable access for all. There is also a presumption that new developments should only be resisted on highways and transportation grounds when it can be demonstrated it will lead to a severe impact upon the local transport networks.

When considered against this background it is evident that the allocation of the Land at Garlick’s Arch is well placed to accord with these principles. An overview of the benefits associated with the development at the Site is provided below, with a more detailed assessment provided in the Technical Appendices.

Opportunities to walk and cycle

The Land at Garlick’s Arch is well connected to an existing network of pedestrian and cycle routes that have the potential to encourage future residents to make use of these important modes of transport. However, there are currently gaps in the existing infrastructure that may limit existing residents in Send Marsh from using these modes and/or accessing the new community facilities that will be provided at the Land at Garlick’s Arch. For example, there are not any pedestrian crossing points provided between the residential areas to the north of Portsmouth Road and the bus stops that are located adjacent to the Site.

Development at the Land at Garlick’s Arch therefore offers the potential to address these limitations for the benefit of existing and future populations alike. This is likely to include new footways along Portsmouth Road and the introduction of formal pedestrian crossings.

Opportunities to travel by public transport

The local pedestrian network provides excellent connectivity to the local bus network with the closest bus stops located adjacent to the Portsmouth Road/Burnt Common Lane junction. The bus services that operate from these bus stops follow routes that incorporate key local employment and retail centres. It is possible to undertake longer journeys by a combined busrail trip as the bus services that operate along Portsmouth Road also access Clandon railway station.

To ensure good access to public transport to and from the Site, pedestrian links to the existing bus stops on Portsmouth Road will be provided. These can be supplemented by the creation of new bus stops within the Site. The delivery of the latter will be dependent upon the outcome of discussions with local bus operators, but, subject to further detailed review and agreement with the existing operators, it is considered viable to divert either of the existing routes that serve the site without having a significant impact upon their current timetables. The additional patronage as a result of the new residents will be an additional benefit to the viability of the services.

Access to the highway network

The local highway network is focused around Portsmouth Road, which provides a connection to Guildford town centre to the west and Junction 10 of the M25 Motorway to the east via the A3. As part of the Strategic Highway Network, the A3 also links the Site with Portsmouth and the M3 Motorway (via the A31) to the south west. It is therefore evident that the Site is well located with respect to key local centres and the wider region.

However, the A3 does not currently benefit from a junction that caters for all movements. To this end, existing residents of Send Marsh, Burntcommon and the wider area are required to travel relatively long distances to access the A3. This places sensitive areas of the local highway network, including Ripley village centre, under stress.

Development at the Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to address this as Ptarmigan Land is willing to facilitate the safeguarding of land for new ‘on’ and ‘off-slips’ to the A3, which forms a key part of GBC’s emerging Transport Strategy that is being developed to assist with the delivery of the housing and employment requirements of the emerging Local Plan.

Notwithstanding this, an initial highway impact assessment has established that increases in traffic associated with a large scale mixed-use development at the Land at Garlick’s Arch are unlikely to materially affect the operation of the local highway network without the new A3 slip roads in place. It has also been shown that the emerging access strategy for the site will provide a safe and suitable means of access in accordance with the NPPF.

Access to local services

The Land at Garlick’s Arch is relatively well located to a range of facilities and services that can be accessed by walking, cycling and public transport in accordance with the guiding principles of the NPPF. However, it is understood that Send Marsh and Burntcommon have previously received a poor rating from GBC for their access to community facilities.

From a transportation perspective it is considered that a major mixed use development at the Land at Garlick’s Arch will provide a quantum and mix of development that can deliver a step change in the availability of local services. For example, the inclusion of a local centre, new village green and SANG will significantly increase the offer that is available to existing residents thereby reducing the length and frequency of journeys.

Utilities

Data on the location of existing utilities in and around the site has been obtained from the statutory undertakers and this demonstrates that there are no significant constraints to delivery of the Site.

It is proposed that pylons that pass through the site will be under-grounded to improve visual amenity.

Air Quality

We have completed an initial High Level Review of the Air Quality Issues.

A review of current information has indicated that air quality at the Site is likely to be characterised as having low to moderate concentrations of background pollutants exacerbated by contributions from the local road network, principally the A3 Ripley bypass to the south of the Site with current traffic flows exceeding 90,000 vehicles per day. As a result placement of residential units immediately adjacent to this road within the Site will need to be carefully considered.

Given the range of mitigation options available, as detailed in the accompanying reports, and the relatively low concentration of urban background pollutants in this area away from the A3, it is not considered likely that air quality will present a constraint to the granting of outline planning permission for the residential development of this Site.

Archaeology

A desk-based archaeology and heritage assessment has been completed for the Site. The Surrey Historic Environment Record and History Centre have been consulted as have Historic England’s Archive and National Heritage List for England. These and online sources informed a site walkover. No designated heritage assets lie close to the Site and given topography and existing development and vegetation, no designated heritage assets would be adversely affected by development of the Site. Although the general pattern of the landscape is recognisable on 18th century maps, early field boundaries have been removed except on the edges of some woodland where wood banks survive. The only structure on the Site is a large late twentieth century metal and breeze-block building with no special architectural or historical interest. ‘Garlick’s Arch’ itself is a culvert under the road marking the western boundary of the site and this appears to have been replaced in modern times.

There is nothing archaeological recorded for the Site and limited evidence in the area. The land may only have been brought into agricultural use in recent centuries and medieval settlement is likely to have been dispersed and to have lain away from the Site. The construction of the A3 radically redefined the landscape post-war. Past and continuing cultivation and tree roots will have truncated any sub-surface remains which do lie within the Site.
The Site has low archaeological potential. Although sub-surface remain may lie within the Site area, it is almost certain that they would be typical, locally significant features which could be dealt with through further investigation ahead of construction and would not constrain scheme design.

Noise

A noise impact assessment has been prepared to test the site’s suitability for residential development. The assessment has been based on detailed environmental noise measurements and predicted noise levels at the site, under open site conditions.

The noise predictions have been carried using the noise-modelling suite Cadna/A, in accordance with the Calculation of Road Traffic Noise (CRTN) prediction methodologies, based on noise measurements taken at the site.

The assessment has been utilised to develop a masterplan for the site; the built form of which will add significant screening and reduce the effects of noise within the interior of the site.

In light of the findings of this assessment, it is considered with appropriate, acoustically sympathetic design that the site can be feasibly developed for residential purposes, while complying with all relevant British Standards and that noise should not present a constraint to the granting of outline planning permission for the residential development of this site.

Landscape Assessment

The text below summarises the findings of the Landscape and Visual Appraisal and Green Belt Review which accompanies the Vision Document.

The Site is not of noteworthy scenic beauty, and does not contain any landscape features of any particular importance with the exception of the TPO group in the north-eastern part of the Site, and does not afford the opportunity for public outdoor recreation due to the lack of access. It is not within the Surrey Hills AONB.

The Site is well contained and largely screened from view from its surrounding context, with the exception of glimpsed views from the A3 adjoining the south-eastern boundary of the Site and long distance glimpsed views from elevated land to the south. This is due to a combination of topography and the strong vegetation structure present locally within the settlements and wider landscape, including the field boundaries and numerous woodland blocks present locally.

The assessment within the Landscape and Visual Appraisal and Green Belt Review identifies that the contribution that the Site makes to the purposes of Green Belt is limited. The Council’s own assessment also supports this view.

In conclusion, development could be effectively assimilated within the Site from a landscape and visual perspective and would not compromise the purposes and function of the Green Belt. Furthermore, the proposed masterplan improves local visual amenity by relocating visually unattractive pylons and power cables underground for the benefit of the entire village.

On this basis, the Site is considered appropriate for release from the Green Belt for residential development.

6 Vision

The vision for Garlick’s Arch is dual themed.

Liveability: A Good Neighbour

Whilst an important theme is creating a considered, well designed and aspirational approach to site planning, the Land at Garlick’s Arch also seeks to add real benefit to the existing community by enhancing daily village life.

Theme One: Enhance Village Facilities Burntcommon Today

The Land at Garlick’s Arch presents an opportunity to enhance Send Marsh/Burntcommon as a liveable and sustainable village by providing those facilities and amenities you would expect to find in a settlement of a similar size.
Today the village is predominantly comprised of the built-up residential estates of Boughton Court Avenue and the Portsmouth Road forming Burntcommon. As identified in earlier chapters of this document, local facilities extend to a petrol filling station and a Little Waitrose with little else to meet the daily needs of villagers. There is a notable lack of public open space with the village lacking a park, sports pitches and allotments. Community space for social events is also absent.

The Land at Garlick’s Arch presents an opportunity to provide real benefit to the village through the provision of new facilities as part of a ‘community heart’.

Theme Two: Site Vision

The need for bespoke design solutions across the Land at Garlick’s Arch

The Site is divided into southern-northern parts by a stream and mature vegetation. The southern portion of the Site is a large, relatively flat, and irregular shaped field set against the urban context of the existing village edge and A3. The northern portion of the Site is more contained by mature woodland and also comprises a grazed field hillock and two further contained parcels of land.

A bespoke north and south design response

The differing southern and northern site conditions prompt the need for a bespoke design solution to each area. When this design solution is combined with analysis of what placemaking elements would enhance the village, undertaken in earlier sections of this document, a clear rationale for the Site’s organisation takes shape. Conceptually this is best described by the Venn diagram above. The ‘Village’ and ‘Infrastructure’ elements respond to the context of the southern, more urbanised, portion of the Site. The ‘Arcadia’ element responds to the landscape assets of the northern area of the Site.

The character of the ‘Village’, ‘Infrastructure’ and ‘Arcadia’ elements are outlined in the following pages of this document. Where the elements meet a new village heart complete with a village green, convenience shopping and community space is created.

Development Principles

The following sequence of diagrams show the key principles for the development of the Land at Garlick’s Arch.

The Site today

The Site, which covers a total area of circa 30 hectares, is surrounded by mature vegetation belts which provide physical and visual containment to much of the Site, particularly from the north and east.

Pylons extend across the Site, and a telecommunications mast is visible to the south of the Site, which in combination with the adjoining settlement edge of Send Marsh / Buntcommon and the presence of the A3 corridor, exert an urbanising influence on the Site.

The Site is divided into a southern and a northern part by a stream corridor and associated mature vegetation. The Site and wider landscape comprises parcels of woodland, some of which is ancient woodland.

1. Completion of the south eastern extent of the village

Development at the Land at Garlick’s Arch is enclosed by defensible boundaries of neighbouring built areas and the A3. Development at this location provides a logical development parcel in the completion of the village and does not open up the possibility of coalescence or further encroachment in to the Green Belt.

2. Improve Visual Amenity

The Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to improve local visual amenity by relocating pylons and power cables underground for the benefit of the entire village.
3. Maintain and enhance visual enclosure and create an acoustic bund to mitigate noise generated by the A3

Retain and enhance natural features including hedgerows, trees and water bodies for the benefit of flora and fauna. The retention of trees and hedgerows provides mature planting with aesthetic value that helps to mitigate the visual impact of future development.

Opportunity to create a tree planted landscape bund to reduce the noise generated by the A3.

4. Create A Woodland Park

Create a woodland park to recognise the value of the existing ancient woodland and stream. The woodland landscape corridors provide new public open space for existing and new residents and are conduits for pedestrian and cycling movement. The landscape corridors link the Garlick’s Arch community to the village and surrounding countryside.

The woodland park provides an attractive outlook for new homes.

5. Mitigate Long Distance Views

Create planted screens and a hillock pocket park to mitigate the potential for external longer distance views.

6. Create a Sustainable Urban Drainage Strategy

The existing topography and proposed landscape corridors provide an opportunity to create a sustainable urban drainage system (SUDS) of swales and ponds to mitigate surface water. The creation of a SUDS network provides the opportunity for semi-wetland habitats to enhance biodiversity. Swales and ponds also provide a place for people to enjoy nature and relax.

7. Establish ‘Arcadia’

Create a sensitive, lower density, Arcadian approach to development in an area of the site with a wealth of valuable natural features including woodland and a stream.

Please see the following page for more information on Arcadia.

7. Establish 'Arcadia'

Introduction

The topography and mature planted landscape encircling the northern part of the Site offers the opportunity to create a unique character through a sensitive, landscape-led design approach. Long distance views into this part of the Site call for a proposal where rooftops blend within clusters of trees rather than dominating the skyline.

An Arcadian approach to development differs from more standard development models by creating pedestrian scaled environments through trees, hedges and shrubs rather than buildings. This allows a greater proportion of buildings to be free standing or clustered in smaller groups rather than space enclosing elements within a wider landscape. This provides a legitimate context for detached and semi-detached clusters of homes which are nestled amongst a dominant landscape.

Arcadia is the creation of the rural idyll by using the picturesque approach to landscape design as typified by the layout of parks of great country houses in the eighteenth century. These landscapes were pioneered by Capability Brown, ‘England’s greatest gardener’, whose approach to landscape was more organic and naturalistic.

A key ingredient of Arcadia is the use of meandering walks and lanes which successively reveal features interspersed within a dominant landscape. In the same way, early ‘leafy’ suburbs of the nineteenth and early twentieth century conceal houses among mature trees so that the visitor is more aware of the landscape setting than of the houses.

Arcadia at Garlick’s Arch should strive for the same effect.
Key ingredients of Arcadia:

- a dominant, naturalistic, landscape
- existing tree cover enhanced by new planting
- front gardens enclosed by hedges in order for the landscape to dominate the houses.
- avoidance of built enclosures such as walls and gates
- detached and semi-detached homes
- a meandering network of paths and lanes
- a sequence of green open spaces
- human-scale enclosure provided by landscape features rather than buildings
- natural materials and colour
- generous, planted, front gardens with buildings set back

8. Provide sports pitches for the benefit of new and existing residents

The local area lacks sports provision and a village green. New sports pitches benefit both existing and new residents. The creation of a village green encourages social cohesion and reflects the local settlement pattern of village greens at Send Marsh, Send and Ripley.

9. Extend the ‘Village’

Please see the following page for information on Extend the Village.

Introduction

The ‘Village’ is an a modern interpretation of the traditional village character found in surrounding historic villages such as Ripley and immediately around Send Manor in Send Marsh.

Key components of the village character include:

- Enclosure created by continuity of built front
- High proportion of dwellings joined to one another in flats, terraces and semidetached arrangement. Individuality of buildings should be encouraged as found in historic towns and villages where individual buildings happen to be joined to one another
- Breaks between buildings for car parking or access to read car parking areas should be bridged over at first floor level
- Buildings on corners to address dual street frontage through openings
- Shallow front gardens to encourage spatial enclosure
- Traditional materials deployed in a contemporary architectural language

Infrastructure Benefits

The Land at Garlick’s Arch presents an ideal opportunity to provide a sustainable, residentialled development whilst enhancing the existing settlement’s infrastructure, providing additional benefits to the local community.

Local infrastructure will be improved through the provision of new vehicular linkages through the site, making land available for the creation of new slip roads onto the A3 and improving visual amenity by relocating pylons underground.

10. Relieving Traffic Pressure at the Send Barns Lane & Clandon/London/Portsmouth Road Roundabout Junction

Relieve traffic pressure at the Send Barns Lane & Clandon/London/Portsmouth Road Roundabout Junction by encouraging traffic through the Garlick’s Arch site between Portsmouth Road and the A3.

11. Enable the Delivery of A3 Slip Roads & Junction Improvements

Enable the delivery of new access slip roads and junctions improvements to the A3.
The site is capable of being delivered entirely independently of the proposed slip roads.

12. Provide a New Village Park & Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG)

In accordance with Natural England guidelines, a large area of natural greenspace will be provided for the benefit of local residents. At present, neither the Site or the area where SANG is proposed benefits from public access. A potential location for the provision of this SANG has been identified immediately to the south of the Land at Garlick’s Arch, within easy walking distance of Burntcommon. This would provide immediate positives to the existing and proposed residents in terms of access to local walks, greenspaces, a village green and sports facilities on the Sang and the Site itself which is not currently available. Alternatively, an appropriate contribution can be made towards the funding a nearby SANG already approved by the Council and Natural England.

Introduction

The Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG) will be delivered as part of a planning application for the proposed development of Garlick’s Arch, Send. A SANG Management Plan has been produced to accompany a future planning application and provides further information as to how the SANG will be used and managed.

The SANG is proposed as part of the mitigation package designed to ensure there are no adverse effects on the integrity of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBH SPA).

The scheme’s required SANG provision will be 8ha and the site can provide 16ha.

The overall site consists of an area of pastoral farmland and Ancient Woodland, located within private land. The site includes boundary trees and hedgerows, and internal hedgerows with trees. The site is bordered to the south by Tithebarns Lane, to the west by Tithebarns and to the north by the A3 and the east by further farmland. A Phase 1 Habitat Survey of the site was carried out in September 2016. The arable land is of limited ecological value, although the fields are bounded by native hedgerows which offer some value to wildlife. The hedgerows and associated boundaries have potential for protected species including nesting birds, reptiles and hazel dormice.

The SANG has been designed in accordance with Natural England’s guidance and has involved correspondence and a site meeting with Natural England. The proposed SANG is closely linked to the proposed housing development and is thus intended for local use, plus has car park provision for the additional capacity for other housing developments.

13. Create a Mixed-Use Neighbourhood Heart

Introduction

The meeting of ‘Arcadia’, ‘Village’ and the ‘Infrastructure’ elements of the Site present an opportunity to create a neighbourhood heart for Burntcommon. The heart is a community focal point and includes a village green, convenience shopping and community space to support daily needs.

Village greens are a key component of the local village settlement pattern. This character extends the nearby villages of Send Marsh, Send and Ripley (see right). As identified in earlier chapters of this document, Burntcommon lacks a discernible village heart. The Land at Garlick’s Arch presents an opportunity to create a community focal point for Burntcommon through the creation of a village heart for the benefit of new and existing residents.

Vision

The Land at Garlick’s Arch adds real benefit to the existing community of Burntcommon by enhancing daily village life through the provision of a new community heart that includes a village green, convenience shopping and community space to support daily needs.

The Land at Garlick’s Arch enables the delivery of A3 slip roads & junction improvements. However, the Site is deliverable regardless of whether the slip roads are constructed. The two options showing the vision with and without the slips roads are shown pages 43 and 44.
The Numbers

The Vision support the emerging Local Plan policy by providing for approximately 400 homes.

Community Engagement

Community Engagement is integral to developing the vision for the Land at Garlick’s Arch. Ptarmigan Land has a strong track record in working with local residents, community groups and business groups, as well as locally elected representatives, at each stage of developing their proposals. We firmly believe that successful developments are those where the interests of stakeholders are given full consideration, and where a transparent, proactive engagement strategy is adopted.

This is true for the Land at Garlick’s Arch, where Ptarmigan Land will work closely with local ward members, Send and Ripley Parish Councils, as well as community action groups, to ensure that interested parties are kept up-to-date with the development of the proposals and have the opportunity to help shape them. The wider community will also be invited to take a proactive role in shaping the proposals, through a variety of tailored engagement events.

Engagement activities will be designed to be both appropriate for the stakeholders’ interest, and for the stage of the development of the proposals; allowing for meaningful engagement from the concept stage through to detailed design.

It is envisaged that engagement activities will include:

- One-to-one stakeholder meetings;
- Design-led workshops;
- Public drop-in exhibition events;
- Community update newsletters; and
- A community consultation website.

Early, regular engagement generating effective dialogue will help shape the vision for Garlick’s Arch. This will allow for a scheme that meets the needs of the local community, whilst maximising the opportunity of the site to provide for a sustainable community, and benefits for existing and new residents.

7 Conclusions

This document has been prepared on behalf of Ptarmigan Land in relation to Land at Garlick’s Arch in order to set out a vision for development of the Site for residential-led purposes.

The Site has been identified in the Submission Draft (June 2016) of the Local Plan to be released from the Green Belt consistent with draft allocation A43 of the Local Plan. The identified Site would also make land available for the provision of new slip roads onto the A3, in accordance with Policy A43a of the Submission Draft of the Local Plan.

The Site provides a significant opportunity to create a sustainable community by knitting together the existing ‘ad-hoc’ areas of the village with a new heart and community that is inherently more sustainable. It will help to meet local housing needs. As set out above, the Site is well located having regard to existing residential development in the area and the proximity of existing facilities, and is relatively unconstrained with regard to technical matters such as transport and access, utilities, air quality, noise, ecology and heritage. Development of this Site would not have an unduly detrimental impact on the landscape character of the wider countryside or adjacent Green Belt, and comprises a currently underutilised area to which the public have no access, between existing development on three sides and the A3 on the fourth. Furthermore, the proposed masterplan improves local visual amenity by relocating visually unattractive pylons and power cables underground for the benefit of the entire village.

On this basis, the Site is considered appropriate for release from the Green Belt for residential development. This Site therefore represents a logical opportunity to enhance the character of Send Marsh/ Burntcommon and provide additional homes and local facilities within the settlement, and to provide a more logical and clearly defined southern boundary to the village and the wider Green Belt.
The vision for the Site includes a number of interlocking elements which will create a sustainable, mixed community which will enhance the existing settlement and provide a number of wider benefits. These elements include the provision of a logical, defined edge to the settlement, an improvement to visual amenity, the creation of a pleasant, liveable environment including a woodland park and sustainable drainage measures, and the establishment of ‘arcadia’. New homes and jobs will be provided around a thoughtfully designed heart of the community, incorporating sports pitches and creating the opportunity to provide other facilities such as a village shop of community hall. Local infrastructure will be improved through the provision of new vehicular linkages through the site, and making land available for the creation of new slip roads onto the A3.

Having regard to the various considerations discussed within this document, the Land at Garlick’s Arch presents an ideal opportunity to provide a sustainable, residential-led mixed use development which will assist in meeting Guildford Borough’s housing needs whilst enhancing the existing settlement and providing additional benefits to the local community. Ptarmigan Land look forward to engaging further with Guildford Borough Council, consultees and local stakeholders in order to realise this vision in the coming months and years.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The Site provides a significant opportunity to create a more sustainable community at Burntcommon whilst helping to meet local housing needs. The Site is located near to existing facilities within Send Marsh and key centres across the Borough more widely. As detailed in the technical appendices to this document, the Site is relatively unconstrained with regard to considerations such as transport and access, utilities, air quality, noise, ecology and heritage. Furthermore, the Site is well contained within the landscape and could be developed without having an unduly detrimental impact on the wider countryside. By infilling this vacant area of land between the existing residential development to the north and west and the A3 dual carriageway to the southeast, this Site will provide a more logical and clearly defined southern boundary to the village.

There are a number of potential benefits associated with development of the Site. In addition to the provision of a broad range of much-needed family housing that will assist in meeting the Borough’s acute needs, this residential-led development has the potential to provide community facilities/infrastructure to create a more defined and sustainable ‘centre’ to Burntcommon. This will strengthen the sense of place and identity of the area, whilst providing the necessary ‘critical mass’ of population to support the viability of local facilities such as a village shop thereby creating a more sustainable community. Highways improvements associated with the development offer the potential to relieve traffic through Send Marsh and Ripley, and the proposed removal of the high voltage electricity pylons running through the Site would significantly enhance the visual appearance of the Site and wider area. Further benefits of developing the Site are discussed throughout this document.

This Vision Document also identifies the key considerations that will need to be taken into account as the emerging proposals for the Site progress. These include the provision of appropriate mitigation measures to account for noise and air quality, which have been fully investigated and accounted for in the design and layout of the development. An assessment of the potential impact on the surrounding landscape has also been undertaken to inform the location, design and density of the proposed uses. Highways and access will also be an important consideration; the Site is relatively well served by road, walking and cycling connections and public transport, and opportunities will be taken where appropriate to enhance local connectivity.

Having regard to the various considerations discussed within this document, the Land at Garlick’s Arch presents an ideal opportunity to provide a sustainable, residential-led mixed use development which will assist in meeting Guildford Borough’s housing needs whilst enhancing the existing settlement. The Site is suitably located and relatively unconstrained, and as acknowledged by the Council through the emerging Local Plan, would comprise a logical amendment to the historic Green Belt boundary in order to facilitate development and establish a robustly justified, long term, recognisable and defensible boundary to Burntcommon.

Set out on page 5 is an overview of the Site and its surroundings, followed by a summary of the latest planning policy position relating to this proposed allocation. Chapter 3 of this document identifies a number of the key benefits associated with the emerging proposals, whilst Chapter 4 considers the sustainability of development in this particular location. Chapter 5 provides an analysis of the key considerations which have been taken into account in the design of the Site. Further details regarding the vision for this Site – in particular how it could appear, contribute to and function as part of the wider settlement are provided in Chapter 6. This chapter, which brings together the various elements of the proposed vision into a high level illustrative masterplan. This illustrates how the Site might be comprehensively developed to provide a new sustainable community. Conclusions regarding the Site and the vision for its development are set out in Chapter 7.

About The Site

The Site, which covers a total area of circa 30 hectares, is located to the south of the B2215 (Portsmouth Road) approximately 6.5 kilometres to the north east of Guildford town centre within the administrative boundaries of Guildford Borough Council (GBC) and Surrey County Council (SCC).

The Site lies within land between Send Marsh / Burntcommon and the A3 which forms the southeastern edge of the Site. The nearest settlement to the south of Send Marsh / Burntcommon is Clandon, south of the A3.

The edge of the Site is surrounded by mature planting which provides physical and visual containment, particularly from the north, east and west of The Site. There are reciprocal intermittent views to the A3 to the south. There are also long distance views towards elevated land to the south associated with the Hogs Back Ridge formation.

Pylons extend across the Site, and a telecommunications mast is visible to the south of the Site, which in combination with the adjoining settlement edge of Send Marsh / Buntcommon and the presence of the A3 corridor, exert an urbanising influence on the Site.

The Site is divided into a southern and a northern part by a stream corridor and associated mature vegetation. The southern field is a large irregular shaped field tapering to its south-western corner which appears relatively flat, and falls gently towards the stream corridor (35 – 40m AOD). The northern part of the Site comprises a localised hillock formation (+40m AOD) which comprises a grazed field and two more contained parcels of land to the east. The northern part of the site includes a car workshop yard.

The Site and wider landscape comprises parcels of woodland, some of which is ancient woodland including Garlick’s Arch Copse and the northern part of Oldlands Copse, both of which are within the Site.

Land to the north, east and west of the Site comprises residential development within Send Marsh / Burntcommon. The south-eastern boundary of the Site is defined by the A3 which comprises a total of six lanes, which has a national speed limit. Intervening vegetation and an embankment along part of the southern part of the Site boundary with the A3 partially screens visibility into the Site however, there are stretches of open views into the Site from the A3. The Site’s surroundings include development to the north and west and the A3 road corridor to the south which together have an urbanising effect on the Land at Garlick’s Arch.

The Site is not crossed by any public rights of way (PRoW), is not within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, and there are no listed buildings or conservation areas within the vicinity of the Site.
2 Planning Overview

"... the emerging policy therefore sets out clear support for a residential led mixed use development of this site, to provide a valuable contribution towards meeting the Borough’s housing and economic needs."

The Land at Garlick’s Arch, as identified on page 3, is currently located outside the settlement boundary of Send Marsh and within the Green Belt, as defined by the Council’s 2003 Proposals Map.

As such, existing local planning policies significantly restrict the nature and extent of development that could be achieved on this Site.

However, having regard to the June 2016 Proposed Submission Version of the Local Plan, the Council is proposing to remove the Site from the Green Belt and allocate the Site for residential-led mixed use development. Policy A43 of the emerging Local Plan specifically allocates the Land at Garlick’s Arch for approximately 400 homes.

A number of requirements for the proposed development are also set out within the draft policy, including the provision of appropriate flood risk mitigation, protection of the ancient woodland within the Site and the provision of green corridors and linkages to habitats outside of the Site.

Related to Policy A43, Policy A43a allocates the land immediately adjacent to the A3 Ripley Bypass for new slip roads linking the A247 to the A3. The northbound slip road is to be located within the wider Land at Garlick’s Arch Site identified above.

Associated with the draft allocations, the proposed updates to the Council’s Proposals Map identifies the Site as being within the village Green Belt inset boundary for Send Marsh, and as a specific Site Allocation.

Having regard to the above, the emerging policy therefore sets out clear support for a residential led mixed use development of the Site, to provide a valuable contribution towards meeting the Borough’s housing and economic needs.

3 Why Garlick's Arch?

Why choose to locate new homes at the Land at Garlick’s Arch over another potential location?

The Land at Garlick’s Arch supports the objectives of the Guildford Borough Council’s emerging Local Plan.

Locating development at Garlick’s Arch provides many strategic benefits from improving visual amenity by undergrounding electrical pylons to helping to relieve congestion through Send Marsh/Ripley and providing facilities and amenities missing in the local area.

The Site enables the release of land to deliver new access slip roads and junction improvements to the A3. However the Site is deliverable regardless of whether the slip roads are constructed.

1. Provide sports pitches and a village green for the benefit of the village

The local area lacks sports provision and a village green. New sports pitches benefit both existing and new residents. The creation of a village green encourages social cohesion and reflects the local settlement pattern of village greens at Send Marsh, Send and Ripley.

2. Relieve congestion in Send Marsh

Potential to relieve traffic pressure at the Send Barns Lane & Clandon/London/Portsmouth Road Roundabout Junction by encouraging traffic through the Land at Garlick’s Arch.

3. Create a park for all in the village to enjoy

Send Marsh/Burntcommon lacks a village park. The Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to create a new publicly accessible parkland landscape for new and existing residents to enjoy.
4. Create a village heart

Burntcommon lacks a discernible village heart. The Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to create a community focal point for Burntcommon through the creation of a new village heart. The village heart includes a village green, convenience shopping and community space to support daily needs.

5. Improve Visual Amenity

The Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to improve local visual amenity by relocating visually unattractive pylons and power cables underground for the benefit of the entire village.

6. Easy access to strategic employment, leisure and recreation destinations (10 minutes)

The Land at Garlick’s Arch is connected, by major infrastructure corridors, to nearby larger settlements that include strategic employment, leisure and recreation.

7. Excellent access to major transport corridors including the A3 and M25

The Site is well connected to major infrastructure corridors including the A3 directly to the south of the Site and the M25 which is approximately 6km from the Site.

8. A visually contained Site

The Site is already visually contained and has the capacity to accommodate new development without significant impact on external views.

9. Opportunity to enhance Burntcommon

The Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to enhance Send Marsh/ Burntcommon as a well-rounded settlement by providing facilities currently lacking in the local area.

10. Enable the delivery of A3 slip roads and junction improvements

The Site enables release of land for the delivery of new access slip roads and junction improvements to the A3. However the Site is capable of being delivered entirely independently of the proposed slip roads.

11. Provision of SANG

In accordance with Natural England’s established principles, Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG) will be provided for the benefit of residents, with features such as walking/ cycling routes and accessible green space. This will be provided either directly by the developer on land immediately to the southeast of the A3 – less than 1km from the Site, or as a financial contribution towards an existing SANG.

12. Creating local jobs

The provision of 400 homes will support a population of approximately 1,000 people that will help to underpin the viability of existing shops and services – i.e. education, health etc. thereby supporting and creating local jobs.

13. Mitigating noise from A3 to local houses

The Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to mitigate the impact of noise generated by the A3 for the existing local residents at Burntcommon and Kiln Lane. Mitigation measures include the creation of a landscape bund, acoustic fence and planting screen.

14. Relieving traffic in Ripley
The Land at Garlick’s Arch provides the opportunity to relieve traffic congestion in Ripley by the release of land to enable delivery of northbound A3 slip roads. Currently all local traffic wishing to access the A3 in the northbound direction passes through Ripley High Street (B2215).

15. Completion of the south eastern extent of the village

Development at the Land at Garlick’s Arch is enclosed by defensible boundaries of neighbouring built areas and the A3. Development at this location provides a logical development parcel for the completion of the village and does not open up the possibility of coalescence or further encroachment in to the Green Belt.

16. Management of landscape assets

The Land at Garlick’s Arch includes a number of valuable landscape assets including Ancient Woodland and watercourses which are unmanaged. Development at the Land at Garlick’s Arch presents an opportunity to actively manage landscape assets and enhance their local heritage and biodiversity value.

17. Creation of a sustainable residential community

The delivery of a mix of residential properties will make a valuable contribution towards the Borough’s housing needs, enhance choice within the local housing market and improve affordability for local people.

4 The Audit

The Audit is a comprehensive analysis of the Site and the wider area, encompassing assessment of access to local facilities, landscape and open space, and connectivity.

Selecting a sustainable site

Access to local facilities is fundamental to the concept of locating sustainable development. New development needs the full range of social, retail, educational, health, transport and recreational facilities to allow people, especially those of limited means or mobility, to go about their daily lives without over reliance on a private car.

Building for Life is a tool to assess and compare the quality of proposed neighbourhoods. It is led by the Design Council CABE, Home Builders Federation and Design for Homes. Whilst Building for Life is usually awarded to completed schemes, the site selection criteria has been applied to the Land at Garlick’s Arch to demonstrate the sustainability of the site as a location for future a neighbourhood extension. Building for Life asks:

1) Does the development provide (or is it close to) community facilities, such as shops, schools, workplaces, parks, play areas, pubs or cafes?

2) Are there enough facilities and services in the local area to support the development? If not, what is needed?

The facilities audit on the next page demonstrates the Land at Garlick’s Arch is a sustainable site location and fully meets the Building for Life criteria through existing local facilities. Shaping Neighbourhoods, a best practice neighbourhood design guide, also suggests the site scores highly as a sustainable location for neighbourhood extensions. This is illustrated on the following pages.

Facilities Audit

Figures 1, 2 and 3 (on the following pages) assess the Land Garlick’s Arch against the accessibility criteria benchmark for new neighbourhoods established by Shaping Neighbourhoods. Fig 1 demonstrates the ideal distances of local facilities for a sustainable neighbourhood. Fig. 2 illustrates how accessible local facilities are from the site in its current form and Fig. 3 illustrates the accessibility of local facilities when the site is built out.

The facilities audit has highlighted good access to a range of facilities, though access to a local centre, local parks and sports pitches is weak. Fig. 3 illustrates that once the site is built out many of the missing facilities are provided meaning the site exceeds expectations of access to facilities by some margin.
In summary the Land at Garlick’s Arch is a sustainable choice for new development and generally exceeds expectations of access to facilities as identified by ‘Shaping Neighbourhoods’: a best practice design guide for new neighbourhoods’ when fully built out.

Connectivity Audit: Road Network

At present the Site is undeveloped. However, as it is used for agricultural purposes it does benefit from vehicular access points onto Portsmouth Road and Kiln Lane, albeit the geometry of these accesses do not accord with current standards for new residential developments. Notwithstanding this, it is noteworthy the predominant land use in this area is residential and the proposals therefore form a natural extension to the existing built up environment.

The local highway network is focused around Portsmouth Road, which is a single carriageway road subject to a 40 mile per hour speed limit. Portsmouth Road provides a connection to Guildford town centre to the west and Junction 10 of the M25 Motorway to the east via the A3. The A3 can be accessed via the A247 (Send Road) and B2215 (London Road) to the west, and the Ockham Interchange to the east. As part of the Strategic Highway Network, the A3 also links the site with Portsmouth and the M3 Motorway (via the A31) to the south west. It is therefore evident that the Site is well located with respect to key local centres and the wider region. The location of the Site in relation to the wider highway network can be seen overleaf.

Connectivity Audit: Public Transport

The local pedestrian network connects to the local bus network with the closest bus stops located adjacent to the Portsmouth Road/Burnt Common Lane junction. Given that the bus services that operate from this stop (Routes 462/463 and 515) follow routes that incorporate Cobham, Esher, Guildford, Kingston, Surbiton and Woking, it is evident that the Site is well located to encourage future residents to travel to key local employment and retail centres by public transport. Furthermore, it should be noted that Route 462/463 also stops at Clandon railway station. As this station is served by circa 8 trains per hour (4 to London Waterloo and 4 to Guildford) it is evident that the Site is also well located for people to undertake longer journeys by a combined bus-rail trip.

Connectivity Audit: Pedestrian Network

It is generally accepted that walking and cycling provide important alternatives to the private car, and should also be encouraged to form part of longer journeys via public transport. Indeed, it is noteworthy that the Institute of Highways and Transportation (IHT) has prepared several guidance documents that provide advice with respect to the provision of sustainable travel in conjunction with new developments. Within these documents it is suggested that:

- The bicycle is a potential mode of transport for all journeys under five miles (Planning for Cycling, 2015)
- The maximum walk distance for commuting is 2 kilometres (Planning for Walking, 2015)
- Walking distances to bus stops should not exceed 400 metres (Planning for Walking, 2015)

Given the location of the Site, it is considered that it is well situated to encourage less reliance upon the private car. The plan, right, shows the Site is well connected with respect to an extensive network of pedestrian and cycle routes providing excellent access to local countryside, including direct pedestrian links to Suitable Alternative Natural Greenspace (SANG), and routes towards Ripley to the north and Burpham and Abbotswood to the south west.

Footways incorporate crossing facilities (i.e. dropped kerbs with tactile paving) along key desire lines. In this regard, the Site is well placed to encourage future residents to make use of these important modes of transport when travelling to and from the Site.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

3.23 We note that the current consultation document includes updated figures for the employment requirements for B1(a)/B1(b) and B1(c)/B2/B8 uses over the plan period, with a reduction in the quantum of floorspace being planned for in both categories. However, this would appear to be consistent with the findings of the latest (2017) Employment Land Needs Assessment, and as such we broadly support the fact that the Council is apparently seeking to meet identified needs in this regard.

3.24 Furthermore, the latest version of Policy E1 no longer includes reference to employment uses at the land at Garlick’s Arch, and instead includes a general reference to employment land at Burnt Common. As discussed in our representations on the previous (June 2016) version of the Local Plan, we consider that the employment floorspace required in Send Marsh/ Burnt Common could potentially be provided on the allocation at Garlick’s Arch (site A43). Whilst the Council’s June 2017 Housing Delivery Topic Paper suggests that some concerns had been raised regarding the compatibility of employment uses with the proposed residential dwellings, we are not aware of any technical reason based on evidence as to why an employment use could not be acceptably accommodated within our client’s site with appropriate masterplanning and mitigation measures where necessary. The proposed amendment inevitably frees up approximately 2 hectares of land previously allocated for employment purposes at Garlick’s Arch, and whilst this could also be appropriate for additional housing or indeed a compatible use such as a Care Home, as part of the allocation set out at Policy A43, as discussed further below, should additional land be required in Send Marsh/ Burnt Common for employment uses, we consider that our client’s site would be suitable and available to accommodate this need.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Gypsy, Traveller and Travelling Showpeople Pitches and Plots

3.18 We note that Policy H1 (as amended) sets out a requirement for development sites of 500 dwellings or more to provide Gypsy & Traveller/ Travelling Showpeople accommodation as part of the proposals. Whilst it may be broadly reasonable to require the largest sites to accommodate the identified Traveller need for the Borough, the 500 dwelling threshold and required quantum of Traveller provision based on the size of the development set out within the policy do not appear to be consistent with the site allocations as set out within amended Policies A1-A59.
3.19 For example, site allocation A29 (‘Land to the south and east of Ash and Tongham’) does not include a requirement for any Gypsy & Traveller/Travelling Showpeople accommodation, despite being allocated for a total of 1,750 dwellings. Meanwhile sites A24 and A25 are required to provide more Gypsy & Traveller pitches than would actually be required by Policy H1. In addition, the Land at Garlick’s Arch (site A43), which falls below the 500 unit threshold, is also required to make provision. As such, the requirements of Policy H1 in relation to Gypsies & Travellers and Travelling Showpeople do not appear to be consistent with the latest site allocations. To ensure a sound policy basis upon which traveller accommodation is allocated in the Local Plan, the Council should consistently ensure that in accordance with Policy H1 only sites capable of delivering 500 or more dwellings should be required to provide Gypsy & Traveller pitches/Travelling Showpeople plots.

3.20 The provision of Gypsy & Traveller/Travelling Showpeople accommodation specifically relating to the Land at Garlick’s Arch is discussed further in our comments on the proposed amendments to Policy A43.

Self-Build and Custom Housebuilding

3.21 Whilst the requirement to provide self-build and custom build housing as a percentage of development proposals would appear to be broadly reasonable in principle, it is unclear at this stage what the actual need for self-build and custom build is in Guildford. The 2015 West Surrey SHMA noted that there was modest interest for custom and self-build properties in the Housing Market Area, but did not draw specific conclusions regarding the need for self-build and custom build units in each Local Authority area. The 2017 Addendum did not provide any further assessment of need and thus it is unclear to what extent the proposed 5% requirement set out within Policy H1 will serve to meet Guildford’s housing needs in this regard. We therefore encourage the Council to clarify the need for self-build and custom build units over the plan period and how the 5% requirement relates to this need.

3.22 It is also unclear within the supporting text to the policy at paragraph 4.2.27c what a “significant proportion” would comprise, when it states that a significant proportion of dwellings within the first phase of a development should be self-build or custom build. We therefore encourage the Council to clarify what would be regarded as a “significant proportion” in order to ensure the policy and its supporting text provides a clear indication of how a decision maker should react to a development proposal, in accordance with paragraph 154 of the NPPF.

1.2 Our client has an agreement in place with the owners of land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh (identified on the Site Location Plan, Site Constraints and Framework Plans enclosed with this response) to develop the site, which is located immediately to the northwest of the A3 (Ripley Bypass) and to the southeast of Portsmouth Road, on the southeastern edge of Send Marsh. Ptarmigan Land is working to deliver a sustainable residential-led development on this site, and considers that the land at Garlick’s Arch can provide a key contribution to assisting Guildford Borough in meeting its development needs over the plan period. Our client welcomes the opportunity to work with the Council to develop a sound strategy for the delivery of this site.

1.3 Having reviewed the latest consultation document, we provide comments below on a number of the proposed amendments to the draft policies within the Proposed Submission version of the Local Plan. We will be pleased to discuss these representations in further detail with the Council in due course.

2. BACKGROUND

2.1 The site promoted by Ptarmigan Land (outlined in red on the enclosed Site Location Plan, Site Constraints and Framework Plans) comprises the allocation in the draft Local Plan identified by Policy A43 as ‘Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh/Burnt Common and Ripley’ and Policy A43a as ‘Land for new north facing slip roads to/from A3 at Send Marsh/Burnt Common’. Our client is working with the landowners at Garlick’s Arch to deliver this development, and has now entered into a legal agreement with the Council to provide the land either side of the A3 to facilitate the development of northbound and southbound slip roads. To that end our client is in the process of preparing a Statement of Common Ground (SOCG) with Highways England, the Surrey County Highway Authority and Guildford Borough Council in respect of the delivery of the slip roads.

2.2 The site is located immediately to the northwest of the A3 (Ripley Bypass), on the southeastern edge of Send Marsh, approximately 2km to the southwest of Ripley and 6km to the northeast of Guildford. The site largely comprises agricultural land, with a relatively small area of commercial land in the centre of the site. High voltage electricity pylons run through the centre of the site across its full length. A substantial tree belt, comprising an element of ancient woodland, screens the northwestern corner of the site, with another patch of woodland located on the southeastern boundary with the A3. A small brook also runs through the eastern portion of the site.

2.3 An extensive range of technical work and ongoing engagement with Guildford Borough Council has informed an emerging development strategy for the site, which is presented in the enclosed Vision Document. This document considers the key opportunities and technical considerations relevant to the site and the valuable contribution that development of the land at Garlick’s Arch can make towards meeting Guildford’s identified development needs.

2.4 Following previous representations and ongoing engagement with the Council, we welcome the proposed allocation of this site in the draft Local Plan for residential-led development. We set out below our support for the broad strategy and specific elements of the draft Local Plan. Where considered necessary, we also suggest alterations to the latest version of the proposed policies and supporting text to ensure the Plan is sound.

Policy S2: Borough Wide Strategy

Overall Housing Requirement

3.1 We note that following the publication of the 2017 Addendum to the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), the proposed housing requirement has decreased by 1,434 dwellings, from 13,860 in the June 2016 version of the Plan to 12,426 net additional dwellings within the June 2017 version, as a result of altering the previous 20 year plan period from 2013-2033 to a 19 year period of 2015-2034. This in turn reduces the annual requirement from 693 dwellings per annum to 654 dwellings per annum. However, consistent with the conclusions drawn at the Examination in Public (EiP) of the Waverley Local Plan, the base date for the Housing Market Area should be consistent. Accordingly, Guildford Borough Council should ensure that the actual target housing number set within the Local Plan Accounts for any housing provision that has not been delivered to date.

3.2 Notwithstanding, the proposed 12,426 dwelling requirement for the Plan Period matches the Objectively Assessed Housing Need figure identified within the 2017 Addendum to the West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment, and on this basis we welcome the fact that the latest version of the Plan still seeks to meet Objectively Assessed Needs in accordance with the requirements of paragraph 14 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF).
3.3 However, we encourage the Council to consider the inclusion of a buffer within the overall housing requirement for the plan period, in order to ensure the identified Objectively Assessed Need of 12,426 dwellings is met. We understand from the commentary within the June 2017 Sustainability Appraisal Update that the latest version of the Plan allocates some 13,600 dwellings, which provides a 9% buffer above the proposed minimum requirement of 12,426 dwellings for the plan period. However, in order to ensure Objectively Assessed Needs will be met, and to deliver the significant boost to the supply of housing advocated by paragraph 47 of the NPPF, in our view it would be beneficial to incorporate a buffer to the 12,426 dwelling Objectively Assessed Need within the minimum requirement figure itself, in order to ensure the Plan is robust and will fully deliver the Borough’s housing needs. We therefore encourage the Council to increase the minimum requirement figure set out at Policy S2 to ensure it exceeds the identified Objectively Assessed Housing Need.

3.4 Furthermore, we note that the identified housing requirement within Policy S2 does not seek to meet any unmet need arising from elsewhere in the West Surrey Housing Market Area. In particular, whilst Guildford and Waverley are apparently seeking to identify a housing requirement within their respective draft Local Plans which matches their Objectively Assessed Housing Needs, Woking Borough Council’s adopted 2012 Core Strategy includes a housing requirement of just 292 dwellings per annum, which is some 225 dwellings per annum lower than the Borough’s full Objectively Assessed Need as identified within the 2015 West Surrey Housing Market Assessment. We are unaware of any intention for Woking to seek to update its housing requirement in the near future. It would therefore be reasonable to conclude that there is an unmet need of 225 dwellings per annum within the West Surrey Housing Market Area. Having regard to the Duty to Cooperate and the emphasis within the NPPF of seeking to meet Objectively Assessed Needs within the housing market area, and the significant negative socio-economic consequences of failing to do so. As proven by recent Examinations e.g. Waverley and Mid-Sussex it is a requirement to meet a significant element of any un-met housing need carried from neighbouring boroughs in accordance with the duty to cooperate advocated within the NPPF. The Inspector examining the Waverley Borough Local Plan has indicated that he expects Waverley Borough Council to explore meeting up to 50% of this unmet need and thus to ensure soundness of the Plan, Guildford, by implication should explore meeting the balance of this unmet need.

3.5 We note that in similar circumstances, the Inspector examining the Mid Sussex District Plan recently concluded that it would be unsound for Mid Sussex to fail to accommodate a significant portion of unmet housing need arising from its neighbours within the same housing market area in its emerging District Plan, and thus concluded that the proposed housing requirement within the draft Plan should be increased accordingly.[1]

3.6 Consequently there is a clear imperative for Guildford to explore all reasonable options to facilitate the adoption of a housing requirement that includes the appropriate portion of this unmet need. Whilst the 2017 Sustainability Appraisal Update considers the potential for the quantum of unmet need to change taking account of latest projections and forecasts, we note that the National Planning Practice Guidance[2] indicates that housing assessments are not automatically rendered out of date every time new projections are released, and thus the 2015 SHMA may still be considered a reasonable indication of housing needs across the West Surrey Housing Market Area. Meanwhile, whilst the 2017 Sustainability Appraisal Update considers the possibility that Woking’s emerging Site Allocations Plan could allocate sufficient land to exceed the adopted Core Strategy housing requirement, there is no evidence that this is a reasonable likelihood, and indeed the most recent consultation document published by Woking Borough Council indicates that the preferred strategy is to only meet the Core Strategy requirement. It is therefore highly likely that this need will remain unmet unless it can be accommodated by Guildford and/or Waverley.

3.7 In our view, to date, Guildford Borough Council has provided insufficient justification as to why it cannot accommodate at least a portion of this unmet need arising from Woking within the Borough over the forthcoming plan period, as required by paragraphs 47 and 182 of the NPPF. A failure to meet this unmet need would be likely to result in worsening affordability across the West Surrey Housing Market Area and may result in internal migration from Woking to other nearby authority areas such as Guildford Borough, thereby creating additional pressures on neighbouring areas. We therefore encourage the Council to increase the identified housing requirement in Policy S2 to ensure the unmet need within the wider Housing Market Area is met in full. This would likely only require a modest increase in Guildford’s minimum requirement and thus would not necessitate a fundamental adjustment to the proposed spatial strategy, but importantly would ensure the needs of the wider Housing Market Area are met in full.

Gypsies & Travellers and Travelling Showpeople
3.8 We note that the latest amendments to the draft Plan as set out in the June 2017 consultation document seek to reduce the total number of Gypsy & Traveller pitches being planned for over the plan period from 73 as identified in the June 2016 consultation document to 58 pitches in the current document. Meanwhile the total number of plots for Travelling Showpeople being planned for within the Plan remains at 8 permanent plots, albeit the proposed phasing of these plots between 2012-2017 and 2017-27 has been deleted from the latest version of the Plan, presumably due to a lack of delivery to date.

3.9 These requirements would appear to be broadly consistent with the need identified within the 2017 Guildford Borough Traveller Accommodation Assessment. Whilst the need identified specifically for those meeting the planning definitions for ‘Gypsies & Travellers’ and ‘Travelling Showpeople’[3] is significantly lower than is currently being planned for within the draft Local Plan, and notwithstanding the requirements of Policy B of the Planning Policy for Traveller Sites, we note that those who do not meet the planning definition still have a specialist housing need that will need to be accommodated, and which has not been specifically accounted for within the Council’s Objective Assessment of Housing Need. As such, the proposed requirements for Gypsy & Traveller and Travelling Showpeople provision within the latest version of the Local Plan would appear to be broadly in line with the need identified within the Council’s evidence base, albeit the Gypsy & Traveller requirement in Policy S2 would appear to be some 5 pitches higher than the identified need over the plan period.

3.10 We set out further comments regarding the overall strategy and spatial distribution of Gypsy & Traveller pitches and Travelling Showpeople plots below in relation to Policies H1 and A43.

Annual Housing Target

3.11 The proposed amendments to the June 2016 draft of the Local Plan, as set out in the current consultation document, include an updated annual housing requirement table within Policy S2. This takes account of the updated housing requirement of 12,426 net additional dwellings for the plan period and amends the previously proposed annual requirements. In summary, a phased annual housing requirement is proposed, starting at 450 dwellings per annum in the first two years following adoption (2019/20 to 2020/21), and gradually increasing to 850 dwellings per annum in the final three years of the Plan (2031/32 to 2033/34).

3.12 Irrespective of our earlier comments in respect of the overall housing target being increased to account for a consistent base date and the duty to cooperate, the total requirement for the period 2019/20-2033/34, based on the sum of the annual requirements set out in the Annual Housing Target table at Policy S2, is 9,810 dwellings. This results in a residual requirement for the remainder of the plan period (2015/16-2018/19, prior to adoption) of 2,616 dwellings (equivalent to an annual average requirement of 654 dwellings per annum). This is equal to the annual average requirement based on a consistent rate of delivery of the 12,426 dwellings over the 19 years of the Plan. The latest housing supply figures set out in the Council’s June 2017 Housing Delivery Topic Paper indicate that against this 654 dwellings per annum average requirement, in 2015/16-2016/17 just 678 (381+297) net additional dwellings were completed over the first two years of the Plan, resulting in a residual 1,938 dwellings and an adjusted annual average requirement for the remaining pre-adoption period (2017/18-2018/19) of 969 dwellings per annum. Clearly, this would require a significant increase in delivery rates in the remaining years up to 2019/20, and a significantly higher annual completion rate than that set out for the initial years of the Plan following adoption. Indeed, the level of completions required to ensure there will not be a housing supply shortfall on adoption of the Local Plan in 2019 (at 969 dwellings per annum, taking account of the dwellings delivered in 2015/16-2016/17) is higher than the level of delivery anticipated at any point within the remainder of the plan period, based on the Annual Housing Target table at Policy S2. Consequently, in our view it will be necessary to significantly increase the annual housing requirements in the years following adoption of the Plan in 2019 in order to address the likely shortfall in the first 4 years of the Plan.

3.13 With regard to the specific annual requirement figures set out within the latest table at Policy S2, we are concerned that delivery within the early years of the Plan is expected to be very low, with an initial requirement of 450 dwellings per annum in the first two years following adoption, followed by a requirement of 500 dwellings per annum in the subsequent three years. The annual requirements identified within the table do not exceed the annual average requirement of 654 dwellings per annum until 2026/27, some 12 years following the start date of the Plan. By this point the cumulative requirement based on the phased (artificially constrained) annual requirements suggested would be 6,866 dwellings for the first 12 years of the Plan, some 982 dwellings (equivalent to 1.5 years) below the cumulative requirement based on an annual average requirement of 654 dwellings per annum, notwithstanding any unmet need to date. We note that paragraph 4.1.9b explicitly states that this phased approach has been suggested “in order to ensure that the Council is able to demonstrate a rolling five-year supply of housing from the date of adoption”. We consider this approach to be unsound, as the Council is artificially constraining the requirement figure to a level which it considers to be achievable based on its preferred development strategy, in order to demonstrate a 5 year supply of housing as required by paragraph 47 of the NPPF. If Local Planning Authorities were permitted to take this approach, the requirements of paragraph 47 and associated sanctions contained within paragraph 49 of the NPPF would be rendered meaningless, as they would be able to simply adjust their annual requirements to suit the predicted housing trajectory, provided the overall housing requirement for the plan period was met by the end date of the plan, thereby ensuring there was never a shortfall in the 5 year supply.

3.14 In our view, the proposed approach of setting constrained variable annual housing requirements, as opposed to relying on the annual average requirement derived from the overall requirement of 12,426 dwellings for the plan period, is unsound, as it would fail to ensure Objectively Assessed Needs were met within the early years of the plan period, contrary to the requirements of paragraph 47 of the NPPF. In the context of national guidance in the NPPG that Plans should generally be updated every 5 years[4], it is highly likely that the Local Plan will be reviewed before the higher delivery rates anticipated in the later years of the Plan are achieved. Consequently, when the Local Plan is reviewed, the artificially constrained housing requirements are highly likely to result in a situation where there is a significant deficit against the Borough’s identified housing needs. In this regard, we consider that the approach would be contrary to national planning policy and thus unsound, as it would patently have failed to meet the full, objectively assessed needs for market and affordable housing in the housing market area as required by paragraph 47 of the NPPF.

3.15 Meanwhile, the phased requirement figures set out in the latest version of the table at Policy S2 represent only a relatively modest uplift in current delivery rates and would actually be a decrease from the 654 dwellings per annum requirement identified for the first 4 years of the plan period prior to adoption.

3.16 Based on the trajectory set out within the Council’s 2017 addendum to the Land Availability Assessment, even when assessed against the significantly constrained annual requirements proposed in the table at Policy S2, the cumulative deficit against the minimum requirements would not be eliminated until 2025/26. Consequently the Council would still be unable to identify a sufficient supply in the early years of the plan period, even with the artificially constrained annual requirements, and this cumulative shortfall would persist beyond the likely date of a review of the Local Plan. Clearly, any increase in the overall minimum requirement as discussed above would further exacerbate this issue.

3.17 The above points highlight the significant need to identify a sufficient supply of housing within the early years of the Plan. Clearly, the artificial constraint of the housing requirement in the first 8 years of the Plan following adoption will have significant implications in terms of affordability and other negative socio-economic impacts as the Objectively Assessed Housing Need will not be met in this part of the Plan. The 2017 Sustainability Appraisal Update highlights the potential risk to delivery in the early years of the Plan given the reliance on a number of large, strategic sites. Consequently we consider that this would not achieve a significant boost to the supply of housing as required by paragraph 47 of the NPPF and would thus be contrary to national planning policy. It is therefore imperative that sufficient small and medium scale sites are allocated that can be delivered in the early years of the Plan to address these issues. In this regard, the land at Garlick’s Arch (as identified at Policy A43) will make a significant contribution towards the supply of housing in the early years of the Plan, and can deliver at least 400 dwellings (a significant portion of the 5 year requirement) within the first five years following adoption due to its relatively unconstrained nature and availability for development. The capacity of such sites should be maximised in order to ensure a sufficient short term supply of housing, and the land at Garlick’s Arch could potentially deliver additional housing than the 400 dwellings identified in this regard.

I OBJECT to Policy A35 Former Wisley Airfield as being totally inappropriate and unsustainable development of 2000 homes in the Green Belt

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I OBJECT to the inclusion of strategic site Policy(A43 Garlick's Arch and its late substitution in the Local Plan with no prior consultation with the local community. This site should be protected as it is agricultural land that is previously undeveloped and within the Green Belt. There is no sound reasoning as to why the Garlick's Arch site was substituted at the last minute on 24th May 2016 in preference to the original site A43 Land at Burnt Common Warehouse which is an existing brownfield site with industrial space, provision for at least a further 7000sqm of industrial employment space and an additional 100 homes which is more in keeping with the acceptable growth in housing numbers for the residents of Send, Burnt Common, Send Marsh and Ripley. The development of 400 homes at the Garlick's Arch site will cause coalescence with Send, Send Marsh, Burnt Common and Ripley thus losing forever the independent identity of each village and hamlet.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to the proposed development at Garlick’s Arch. Garlick’s Arch is in the Green Belt. It is designated as Priority Habitat and Ancient Woodland.

This is an irreplaceable asset and should be protected. The Green belt in Guildford does not “belong” to the people of Guildford alone. Across the county, indeed across the whole of England there are many people who love the Guildford countryside. Countryside like the Hogs Back, for example, “belongs” to us all; our green and pleasant land, the natural landscape and it’s rich biodiversity is part of our common heritage.

Green belt land is a finite resource, once developed it is gone forever.

I OBJECT to Policy A43a, the proposed on/off ramps to the A3 at Burnt Common as this will inevitably cause traffic chaos on the local road network throughout Ripley, Burnt Common, Send and West Clandon, with absolutely no possibility of mitigation due to the nature of our rural roads and lanes.

<td>This policy disregards the natural environment, a key asset of the Guildford countryside which is valued by walkers, riders, cyclists and others from across Surrey. Tourism and visitors do not depend on new visitor attractions and facilities. It is outrageous for Guildford to propose greater use of the River Wey as a “leisure and recreational resource.” The River Wey is critical for water supply and biodiversity; it is a shared resource which is neither owned by nor the responsibility of Guildford alone. This policy is at odds with (i) Policy I4 Green &amp; Blue Infrastructure which states that “waterways will be protected and enhanced”. (ii) Policy P4 Flooding, flood risk and groundwater source production.</td>

The need for Affordable Housing is undeniable, but this is not satisfied by a 10% reduction on the market rate. Families have to split up because the offspring cannot afford to live locally. However the developers who will build on these large ‘new towns’ are not interested in providing ‘affordable housing’. Their sole motivation is profit, and once they get planning permission, they will build the houses that maximise profit, sold to investors and not ordinary families. There are many examples in the locality where developers have wriggled out of the promises they made (for a quota of affordable housing) when contracts were first struck.

The question I ask is, why are these houses deemed necessary?

Pyrford Green Belt Action Group objects to developments which will increase the volume of traffic

2.1 We object to developments causing increased traffic on motorways and arterial roads in Surrey. The M25 and A3 are already highly congested. Proposed developments, particularly at Wisley, would aggravate the position.

2.2 We object to developments which will increase the volume of traffic on minor roads and lanes. Pyrford, Send and Ripley already suffer from serious congestion on village roads. Developments proposed by Guildford Council will increase traffic across Newark Bridge in Ripley into Pyrford up the steep, narrow Church Hill and along Pyrford Common Road. This will increase noise and air pollution damage to Pyrford Common Site of Nature Conservation Importance, and the Wey Valley Biodiversity Opportunity Area. An increased number of commuters from proposed developments in Guildford will be attracted by the proximity of West
Byfleet main line railway station, onto roads already forecast by Woking Council to be at the lowest flow capacity: Category F i.e “forced or breakdown of flow” (effectively nose to tail).
Road traffic is a major cause of air and noise pollution and this damages people and wildlife inside and outside of Guildford Borough, including Pyrford.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The local infrastructure is insufficient as it stands, due to increases in the local population. I have personal experience of waiting 5 hours in A&E for treatment. Children have to be driven to schools at a distance from their homes due to lack of local places. Roads are regularly at a standstill with ‘normal’ commuter traffic and gridlocked when there is an accident or some road works. Air pollution is responsible for many deaths each year. It would take many years of investment to bring infrastructure up to an acceptable level for the current population. Levies on developers will not remedy this.

The Pyrford Green Belt Action Group objects to the Guildford Borough Council Local Plan. The massive development proposals in the Guildford Borough Council Plan do not just affect Guildford they affect the whole of Surrey, including Pyrford, and can not be viewed from Guildford Borough’s perspective alone.

Pyrford Green Belt Action Group objects to development on the Green Belt.

1.1 We object to the insetting of 14 villages from the Green Belt in Guildford, and the proposal that infilling is acceptable within a further 12 villages within the Green Belt. We are concerned that “infilling” is also proposed outside the settlement boundaries of 11 further villages.

1.2 We object to the proposals to inset Pyrford’s neighbouring Guildford villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon from the Green Belt. The Green Belt land surrounding these villages fulfils clear green belt purposes as laid down by the National Planning Policy Framework. Development in Send and Ripley would have a direct and detrimental effect on the open spaces and waterways of Pyrford, causing pollution and damage to natural habitats.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to all development in the Green Belt. The Green Belt has a vital role to play in providing clean air, fresh water and local food - and in the mitigation of climate change. The Green Belt is not just for humans, it is also home to wildlife. There is a responsibility to maintain and enhance ecosystem assets for future generations. Once the Green Belt is built over, it is gone for forever. Guildford does not “own” the Green Belt, it merely has responsibility for it’s care.

"Sustainable development"? is an oxymoron. No definition of the term is supplied. OBJECT. To the concept of insetting villages – see P3 above. 40% of new homes will be ‘affordable’ is not realistic as the plan proposes on green field sites and should be concentrated in urban areas local to places of work.

Insetting East and West Horsley flies in the face of reality. 385 homes is an increase of 35%, greater than anywhere else (16% Ash & Tongham and 11% in Guildford Town) and will face legal challenge.

The planned development will swamp the Horsleys with extra cars and people using the schools, shops, station, sports, medical centre, etc., they are dramatically unbalanced, unsustainable and the Plan does not address the provision, or even consider the need for expanding local services.

OBJECT. The number of homes – 13860 – has not been properly evaluated by councillors despite numerous requests. Major structural change cannot be justified without substantiated numbers.

Independent consultants have provided detailed criticism. Housing need thus demonstrated, proves no need to build on Green Belt

Guildford appears unfairly to be accepting Woking’s designated ‘need’

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Appendix H: Maps - West Horsley North

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I strongly object to insetting West Horsley and am most concerned with the housing numbers allocated to our small rural village of West Horsley to be built on Green Belt land.

I am particularly concerned about the west side of West Horsley Village, the land behind Silkmore Lane and Ripley Road overlooking rolling acres of quintessential English countryside, farmland and Hatchlands House parkland. The West Horsley Neighbourhood plan states the value it places on preserving the village boundary as it is.

I strongly object to the proposal of straightening the village settlement boundary behind the houses on Silkmore Lane looking down over the fields towards Ripley Lane – thus opening up the land to development. Image right features one of the paddocks which will be brought within the boundary with listed Oak trees.

There are no “exceptional circumstances”. It is important for future generations to protect this open countryside and the unspoilt character of the village on this west side. The West Side of West Horsley should be included within the conservation are of the village and to be considered as part of the area of outstanding natural beauty.

Please refer to images (right) taken from bottom of footpath leading up to the back of the houses on Silkmore Lane. You will note the absolute monstrosity of a house which was allowed to be built in place of a small pretty Victorian cottage – more in keeping with Weybridge than a country village. It is a complete eyesore and should never have been allowed to be built. No amount of fencing and trees will ever hide this architectural nightmare. All other houses in the lane are unobtrusive and nestle into the village boundary and landscape. There are 14 listed buildings in this particular area and their setting should be preserved for the benefit of future generations.

I ask you to reconsider extending the village boundary which will only be to the benefit of a property developer who will exploit the land for his own monetary benefit and have long term detrimental effect on the village and affect the enjoyment and pleasure this open countryside offers to village residents and visitors from the towns and cities alike.

Contrary to national trends, too much potential development land within the town centre is being allocated for retail or commercial development rather than housing.

High added value businesses are welcome in the borough, but much of the employment land is designated for retail or low added value employment floorspace, which only exacerbates current issues such as lack of low cost housing and heavy traffic.

Sites such as the Burnt Common Triangle, currently in the Green Belt, are inappropriate for heavy industry.

The paragraphs relating to density in Policy H1 have been deleted. To ensure developments make optimal use of space there must be a policy to cover minimum and maximum densities. Without a policy to cover density, there is a risk that developers will use land inefficiently, putting additional pressure on the countryside and un-developed land. This deletion is inappropriate.

The policy relating to AONB weakens the protections offered, and (unlike previously) does not have restrictions on non-major development. This is a move in the wrong direction. Previously all proposals were considered against the 5 key tests – now development in the AONB seems to be more acceptable. This is weaker, not stronger, and is contrary to huge responses from the public in previous consultations and the weight of protection given to AONB in the NPPF.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Exceptional circumstances must be demonstrated in order to develop Greenbelt yet despite the weight of public opinion against weakening of this policy, 70% of new housing development will be in the countryside, of which, 58% will be in Greenbelt. By definition, this is not an exception and no attempt is made to demonstrate exceptional circumstances, in line with the requirements of the NPPF. Insetting villages is of concern since restrictions within the settlement boundary raises concerns over loss of character. The Rural Economic Strategy covered in 4.51a, promoting affordable homes everywhere in the countryside including the AONB as a main aim, is a mechanism for promoting overdevelopment in our countryside. It has not been subject to full public consultation and is based on data, which is not up-to-date.

Three major strategic sites – Blackwell Farm, Wisley Airfield and Gosden Hill Farm – are in the Green Belt. Previous consultations show that, in line with the NPPF, the public would prefer to use brownfield land in the urban area first.

The housing target proposed, of 12,426 is based on assumptions that have not been made public and includes flaws that have not been corrected in the modified SHMA (verified by professional analyst Neil MacDonald of NMSS who concluded that an annual housing figure of 400 per year would meet Guildford's overall need). The phased approach (more homes built towards the end of the plan period) is appropriate in order to permit necessary infrastructure but open-ended targets where an unknown figure is held back until after the plan period is not a reduction but a postponement and does not allow for optimal planning or transparency.

Specifically in relation to the former Wisley airfield/Three Farms Meadows (FWA/TFM), OPC OBJECTS to the inclusion of that site in the Local Plan. These objections have been made consistently by OPC and others in relation to, inter alia, the GBC’s 2013 draft Local Plan and Planning Applications for development or use of FWA/TFM, documented in, inter alia, OPC’s letters to GBC dated 25 November 2013 (Local Plan), 4 June 2014 (Local Plan), 22 September 2014 (Planning Application), 29 March 2015 (Planning Application), 29 January 2016 (Planning Application), and 19 April 2016 (Local Plan). By way of example, copies of OPC’s letters of 22 September 2014, 29 March 2015 and 29 January 2016 are attached.

OPC’s objections include, in summary:

1. FWA/TFM was included in the draft 2013 GBC Local Plan and was widely objected to. That draft Plan was eventually withdrawn after many months of consultation and deliberation.

2. The Wisley Property Investments Ltd (WPIL) planning application of January 2015 (Reference: 15/P/00012), as subsequently amended, for a phased development of over 2000 dwellings at FWA/TFM was after 14 months decisively and unanimously rejected by GBC on 8 April 2016 following the recommendation of the GBC Planning Officers.

The reasons for the refusal of the application were many but included that the proposed development:
• was an inappropriate development within the Green Belt;
• would have a clear and substantial detrimental impact on the openness of the Green Belt and conflict with the purposes of its designation;
• failed to demonstrate that the benefits amounted to very special circumstances such as to clearly outweigh the harm to the Green Belt;
• failed to comply with the objectives of policy RE2 of the Guildford Borough Local Plan 2003 (as saved by CLG Direction dated 24/09/2007) and chapter 9 of the National Planning Policy Framework;
• was within the 0 -400m and the 400m to 5km zones of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area, etc.
• would have a severe adverse impact on the safe and efficient operation of the strategic road network, and a severe impact on local road networks;
• failed to deliver the required transport sustainability measures;
• was detrimental to the viability and vitality of the existing district and local centres in the vicinity of the site;
• would result in loss of the safeguarded waste site;
• presented a dense and urban form of development owing to its quantum and scale;
• had an adverse impact on the setting and significance of a designated heritage asset;
• had an unacceptable air quality impact;
• impacted on education infrastructure;
• impacted on policing infrastructure;
• impacted on health infrastructure;
• impacted on library provision.

1. Both similar and other objections and concerns had been raised by OPC, neighbouring borough and parish councils, Surrey County Council, University of Surrey, Thames Water, NATS, the Environment Agency, Police Authorities, Highways Authorities, residents’ associations and many individuals - both in the context of the planning application and in relation to the current and earlier GBC draft Local Plans.
2. The value of the Green Belt and most importantly the value of FWA/TFM as a critical core at the heart of the Green Belt. The retention of the site from the Green Belt or its development. To the contrary there are overwhelming reasons for retaining the site as Green Belt not just for Ockham but also the wider community.
3. The value of FWA/TFM from an environmental and ecological standpoint, not least in relation to the Thames Basin Heath Special Protection Area.
4. The value of FWA/TFM as a community asset and as a vital “lung”, not least because of the dangers and possible illegality of increasing pollution and decreasing air quality as well as acid deposition on the SPA impacting human health and animal, plant and soil viability in the site and immediately surrounding areas.
5. The critical location and current nature of FWA/TFM in relation to the historic and current viability of the Ockham hamlets and surrounding villages.
6. The total unacceptability and disproportionality of the threat posed to Ockham, an historic rural village with around 160 existing Conservation Areas and many listed properties – which would be completely subsumed by a 2000+ dwelling development, higher than most London boroughs. Ockham’s existing population of just over 400 would be increased over 15 times.
7. A Local Plan and potential development which do not meet, and indeed which are completely contrary to, the needs and desires of Ockham’s population, as evidenced in the existing Ockham Parish Plan and the emerging Lovelace Neighbourhood Plan.
8. The detrimental and unsustainable impact of development at FWA/TFM on transport, the A3 and M25, local roads and road safety, with increased vehicle movements (an estimated 4000 additional cars plus increased bus and HGV movements during construction and afterwards), on rail stations and car parking which are already at capacity, and on local services and infrastructure.
9. “The value of FWA/TFM for agriculture, comprising as it does over 75% of agricultural land including 63ha of Grade 2, 3a and 3b agricultural land – Grade 2 and Grade 3a).”
10. The fallacious nature of claims made that FWA/TFM should be regarded as “brownfield” or previously developed. It should be noted that the runway are within the 0-400m exclusion zone of the SPA, and the remainder of the old runway is (of course) flat where any development would have a major impact on the openness of the area. Much evidence exists that the adverse consequences of development of the site, including damage to the ecology of, e.g., the Bagshot Heath SSSI, can be demonstrated by the fact that the 0 -400m exclusion zone of the SPA was recently by the inability of the current landowner/ developer and its many experts and advisers to come up with a sustainable development plan.
11. The impossibility in practical terms of creating a sustainable development on FWA/TFM which is further demonstrated by the fact that even the current landowner/ developer and its many experts and advisers have consistently argued.
12. The cumulative adverse consequences of other actual or potential developments in the area particularly in Ripley, Send and at Wisley.

CONCLUSION

The above objections graphically demonstrate why FWA/TFM was and should remain in and be part of the Green Belt, and why the location far from places of employment, and existing overstretched and inadequate public transport, roads, services and facilities make the site totally unsuitable for any kind of significant development – as OPC and others have consistently argued.
The fact that the Local Plan still includes FWA/TFM (as well as neighbouring land not owned by WPIL) as a potential site for development, and amounts to disregard for widespread local and further afield opinion.

The repeated attempts in numerous guises over the last 3 years to take FWA/TFM out of the Green Belt and to press for both major and ancillary development of the site have, as OPC has previously pointed out, stretched the patience and goodwill of local communities, not least Ockham Parish, have imposed heavy and unwarranted costs and burdens on those local communities, have caused a blight on the area, distress to local residents and farming businesses, and have adversely prejudiced peoples’ lives and livelihoods.

OPC therefore strongly OBJECTS to this further and unwarranted attempt to exclude FWA/TFM and other parts of Ockham Parish from the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Against this background, OPC OBJECTS to the Local Plan overall on the following grounds:

1. The Local Plan proposes major, unjustified and unacceptable erosion of, and removal of villages or major parts thereof from, the Green Belt.
2. Over 70% of new housing is proposed to be built within the existing Green Belt notwithstanding that there is more than enough genuinely brownfield land and non-Green Belt land available.
3. The housing number of 693 houses per year from the Strategic Market Housing Assessment is based on flawed analysis, is far too high and is challenged by neutral experts in the field. The direct and indirect impacts of Brexit are likely further to reduce housing demand in London, the Southeast and not least Surrey.

4. New houses, schools and services should be developed in or adjacent to areas of actual demand and not in relatively remote areas which inevitably and unnecessarily result in major increases in travel requirements from home to work, work to home, home to school, etc.

5. The proposed allocation of housing in the north east of the Borough particularly Ockham, Ripley, Send and the Horsleys is a prime example of locating supply impractically far from the areas of demand, and is totally disproportionate to allocations elsewhere in the Borough.

6. The continued inclusion in the Local Plan of the former Wisley airfield (which is located in Ockham and which is known locally as Three Farms Meadows) is perverse and illogical, and is unsound for reasons of sustainability, deliverability and need.

2. The Local Plan places growth above: the ongoing viability, character and “liveability” of Guildford town centre and neighbouring villages; protection and maintenance of the countryside, the Green Belt, and protected wildlife areas such as the Thames Basin Heath SPA; the adequacy of existing and planned infrastructure; and remedying the chronic traffic congestion in and around Guildford, along the A3, and local rural roads.

1. Despite GBC’s claims to the contrary, the Local Plan has failed in a number of key areas to take into account or to answer many valid comments and criticisms submitted by thousands of residents and organisations in respect of e.g. the 2013 Draft Local Plan. This is unacceptable, and raises questions of governance and vested interests.

5. The purpose of the Local Plan should be to enhance the quality of life of the Borough’s resident population, not to increase those aspects which cause the most dissatisfaction: traffic congestion and pollution are not eased by increasing the amount of traffic; inadequate infrastructure, whether schools, services, or sewerage, is made worse not better by increasing demand; and building houses, schools or other facilities in places furthest from existing areas where people live or work merely increases problems of inconvenience, travel, and development sprawl.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

2.46 We strongly support the proposed allocation of land at Gosden Hill Farm, Merrow Lane for a residential mixed use development. It is considered the site represents an appropriate location for such an allocation and that the proposed mix of uses will create a vibrant, mixed community. The sustainability of the site will be further enhanced by the range of infrastructure requirements proposed to support the allocation including the proposed park and ride facility, improved junction with the A3 and contributions towards delivering Guildford East (Merrow) railway station. These credentials were recognised through the assessment of the site in the Sustainability Appraisal (June 2016) and are not detrimentally altered by the proposed amendments to the policies as confirmed in the 2017 Sustainability Appraisal.
2.47 Our client’s control the northern most parcels of land that form part of the proposed allocation site. These parcels can deliver part of the proposed residential development or other supporting uses as part of the wider draft allocation site. Bloor Homes will work with the promoters of the wider allocation to ensure the delivery of the proposed allocation. There are no known technical constraints which would prevent development of this part of the site coming forward subject to appropriate design and mitigation as could be secured through any future grant of planning permission.

2.48 In addition to the land parcels contained within the proposed allocation, Bloor Homes also control wider land to the east of these parcels currently comprised of Nutbourne Farm. It is considered that these parcels would form a logical extension to the proposed allocation which would assist in increasing the capacity of the proposed allocation site. This is of particular importance in light of the concerns identified above in respect of the Council’s proposed housing requirement and supply. These matters are discussed in detail in Section Three. However allocating additional land to the north of the Gosden Farm would assist in meeting the needs of the Housing Market Area in a sensible and logical way. Whilst it is acknowledged that the additional land is currently Green Belt, its release will have no greater impact on the landscape than the draft allocation at Gosden Farm. The additional parcels being referred to are currently used for car boot sales as well as agricultural purposes and therefore already support a ‘use’ as opposed to being truly green field. Indeed the site could be argued as being brownfield which weighs in favour of its release from the Green Belt.

3. Nutbourne Farm – Land to the east of Gosden Hill Farm

3.1 As discussed in Section Two, in addition to the land parcels contained within the proposed allocation, Bloor Homes also control wider land to the east of these parcels currently comprised of Nutbourne Farm (see plan at Appendix One). It is considered that these parcels would form a logical extension to the proposed allocation which would assist in increasing the capacity of the proposed allocation site. This is of particular importance in light of the concerns identified in Section Two in respect of the Council’s proposed housing requirement and supply, including the need to help meet the needs of adjoining authorities.

3.2 The suitability of land to the east of Guildford as a location for strategic growth has been recognised by the Council through the allocation of the Gosden Hill Farm site and is supported by the Council’s detailed evidence base.

3.3 It is considered that the land controlled by Bloor Homes, at Nutbourne Farm would have the capacity to deliver circa 300-400 homes with an associated extension to the SANG currently proposed to support the Gosden Hill Farm allocation. This development would represent an entirely logical extension to the current draft allocation and would assist the Council in meeting their housing needs.

3.4 The additional parcels being referred to are currently used for car boot sales as well as agricultural purposes and therefore already support a ‘use’ as opposed to being truly green field. Indeed the site could be argued as being brownfield which weighs in favour of its release from the Green Belt.

3.5 The Council has previously assessed the site against the Green Belt purposes as part of parcel C3, as shown on the plan below. [See page 1 of Appendices for plan]

3.6 The table below sets out the Council’s assessment of the wider parcel against the Green Belt purposes and our commentary on these in respect of the site itself. [See page 2 of Appendices for table]

3.7 The site is located within Flood Zone One and as such is an appropriate location for residential development subject to appropriate drainage design. There are no known drainage or flooding issues and a planning application would be supported by a detailed Flood Risk Assessment.

3.8 An area of ancient woodland is located on the site’s eastern boundary. This would be retained and protected as appropriate as part of the development of any proposals for the site.

3.9 EDP, on behalf of Bloor Homes, has undertaken a Preliminary Ecological Appraisal of the site. This has concluded that the designated sites, habitats and species potentially present within and around the site do not pose an ‘in principle’ constraint to development of the site. There are no statutorily or non-statutorily protected nature conservation interests within the proposed development site or off-site that would be materially affected by the proposals, subject to the appropriate provision of SANG either on or off-site.
3.10 The habitats present on site are generally of low (site level) intrinsic ecological value, such that development of the site would have a minimal effect on local biodiversity. Some habitats considered of local level value are present, as well as higher value offsite semi-natural ancient woodland, but subject to appropriate masterplan design, in accordance with the design principles outlined above, adverse effects upon these habitats can be readily avoided, mitigated or compensated for a net gain to biodiversity achieved.

3.11 A Preliminary Landscape Appraisal has also been prepared by EDP in respect of the proposed development of the wider Bloor Homes landholding. The Appraisal concludes that overall this is a landscape denuded of much of its historic landscape fabric. Topographically, and in terms of its landscape fabric, there are few material constraints to either site layout or capacity. The findings of EDP’s test of the site against the main purposes of Green Belt has shown that, whilst the site does contribute to the openness of the Green Belt in part, it is not considered to be a highly functioning part of the Green Belt as it is a partially enclosed site detached from the wider landscape character, with some urbanising elements, which is only seen by few receptors in relatively close proximity to it. In this regard, even in the absence of the Gosden Hill Farm allocation, the site could be released from the Green Belt without adversely affecting the Green Belt’s function in the wider context.

3.12 From a landscape perspective, it is EDP’s opinion that there are no ‘in principle’ constraints with regard to future built development of the site. However, in the interests of good masterplanning, attention should be given to the higher ground within the site which can be seen in views from elevated locations with the local context. In addition, the key landscape features (hedgerows and trees) should be retained and enhanced to reduce the site’s geometric structure and mitigate landscape and visual effects, helping to integrate the site into its context.

3.13 CgMS has undertaken an Archaeological Desk Based Assessment which confirms that there are no World Heritage Sites, Registered Historic Parks and Gardens, Historic Battlefield or Wreck sites within a 1km radius of the site. The site is not located in an ‘Area of High Archaeological Potential’ as defined by Guildford Borough Council or a ‘County Site of Archaeological Importance’ as defined by Surrey County Council. Overall the Assessment concludes that if further archaeological assessment is required by the Local Planning Authority, this could be undertaken after the grant of planning consent, secured by an appropriately worded condition. As such there are no archaeological or heritage based constraints associated with the allocation of this land.

3.14 A report has been undertaken by Phil Jones Associates in respect of potential access arrangements and the overall sustainability of the site. A copy of the report is attached at Appendix Two. In summary, the site could be served by its own independent access off the A3 and link to the draft allocation at Gosden Farm in the interests of creating a sustainable and legible form of development.

3.15 The Report also outlines the existing and proposed public transport and highway improvements that could be undertaken to support the draft and extended allocation, as set out in the draft policy. However, it is noteworthy that the draft policy outlines an aspiration to deliver a new link road between the A3/A3100 Burpham junction and the B2215. It is questionable whether this link road is indeed necessary to facilitate the proposed allocation at Gosden Farm, however any land physically required to deliver any improvement should be safeguarded to facilitate its delivery. On this basis my client’s additional land interests should form part of the wider allocation to ensure that the site can be delivered in accordance with the requirements of the NPPF.

3.16 Any planning application would be supported by a Travel Assessment and Travel Plan which would provide further information in this context. There are no overriding highway constraints to the delivery of the site in a logical and sustainable manner.

3.17 In conclusion it is considered that there are no in principle constraints to development of the site. The wider landholdings of Bloor Homes represent a logical opportunity to extend the existing Gosden Hill Farm site for an additional 300 - 400 dwellings and associated SANG. It is considered that the conclusions of the Sustainability Appraisal in respect of the Gosden Hill Farm allocation would equally be applicable to the Nutbourne Farm extension land and would enhance the credentials of the overall allocation. The increased quantum of development would help in addressing the concerns raised regarding the Council’s proposed housing target and the means of delivering this.

4. Conclusion
4.1 These representations have been prepared by Turley on behalf of Bloor Homes Southern in respect of the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2017). The consultation is targeted to the proposed changes to the Plan since the 2016 consultation and the revised evidence base documents.

4.2 Our client has important land interests in the Local Plan area, in particular at Nutbourne Farm – land to the east of Gosden Hill Farm, Guildford. As such this response focuses on issues which particularly affect the site.

4.3 Each of our responses relates to a particular policy or paragraph and this report is structured accordingly. In summary our submissions are:

- Policy A25 – We strongly support the proposed allocation of the site Gosden Hill Farm site and the recognition of its sustainability to accommodate a large scale extension to the existing settlement.

- Nutbourne Farm – we consider the site presents an opportunity to extend the proposed allocation at Gosden Hill Farm and further enhance its sustainability credentials and meet the needs of the Borough, and the needs of adjoining authorities.

2.40 The Government has adopted a clear stance of moving away from locally set standards in respect of renewable energy for housing schemes, with such matters instead addressed through the Building Regulations. The NPPG makes clear that additional requirements on technical standards can only be applied with regard to water, accessibility and nationally described space standards. As such we are concerned that the policy is unsound in that it is not consistent with national policy. In addition we have concerns regarding the practicality of implementing certain of the detailed criteria currently proposed as discussed below.

Sustainable Development

2.41 Criterion 1b requires the sustainability statement to set out how the development will deliver “the lowest level of carbon emissions (direct and embodied).” Similarly, criterion 1c requires “the highest levels of energy and water efficiency.” As currently it is considered that the proposed policy wording is ineffective.

2.42 No clarity is provided as to what constitutes the lowest or highest levels. For instance, should a new form of emerging technology be able to deliver a lower level of carbon emissions but this is not currently widely available this would seemingly fail the currently proposed policy test. Similarly if there is a form of technology available but this would be prohibitively expensive and would render the development unviable, this would again fail the proposed policy test. Further clarity and flexibility must therefore be introduced to the proposed policy wording.

Renewable, low carbon and decentralised energy

2.43 The policy requires all new developments to “connect to (C)CHP distribution networks where they exist, or incorporate the necessary infrastructure for connection to future networks, unless it can be clearly demonstrated that doing so is not feasible or that utilising a different energy supply would be more sustainable.”

2.44 Clearly (C)CHP is unlikely to be delivered in all locations. The proposed policy wording does provide some flexibility in respect of demonstrating if it is feasible, however this test needs to be applied to the site itself and the wider context. Whilst it may be feasible for the development to provide the necessary infrastructure for connection to future networks, if it can be robustly demonstrated that the location in general is not feasible for a future network to be delivered then this should equally apply. The proposed policy text should be updated to clarify this approach.

Carbon reduction

2.45 The policy also seeks to require new buildings to achieve a reduction in carbon emissions of at least 20%. If the principle of this requirement is accepted, we continue to have concerns regarding the potential implications for the viability of developments. Whilst the implications of the proposed increase to 20% have been assessed in the Assessment of the Viability of Carbon Emission Targets for New Builds (April 2017) prepared by Evora Edge, this has not been considered in combination with the other proposed revised policy requirements through an updated viability assessment. The current requirement is therefore considered to be unsound in that it is neither justified nor effective.

Policy D2 – Further clarity is required to ensure the proposed policy wording is effective. Flexibility should also be introduced into the proposed policy wording.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Accessible Homes

2.23 The revised policy wording seeks to include the following requirement:

“On residential development sites of 25 homes or more 10% of new homes will be required to meet Building Regulations M4 (2) category 2 standard ‘accessible and adaptable dwellings’ and 5% of new homes will be required to meet Building Regulations M4 (3)(b) category 3 wheelchair user accessible dwellings standard or any subsequent legislation on making homes accessible and adaptable.”
2.24 The NPPG makes clear that it is for LPAs to demonstrate the need for these requirements. It is considered that insufficient evidence has been provided by the Council to justify these requirements. The only justification provided by the Council relates to generic comments from the SHMA and Addendum SHMA regarding the ageing population in the Borough. Based on the currently available evidence it is considered the requirement is unsound.

2.25 Furthermore, whilst the supporting text at paragraph 4.2.10 indicates that there will be a degree of flexibility as to how the requirements are applied, this is not reflected in the policy wording. Whilst the principle of the flexibility is supported, concern is also raised regarding the proposed wording which currently states that the requirement will only be relaxed “where substantial evidence is provided to justify an exception.” Clearly this requirement is inappropriate and is not the correct test to be applied. Flexibility should be allowed where proportionate evidence is provided which clearly justifies an exception. This justification could relate to viability grounds as well as whether a need for the provision to be made on the site can be identified or not.

Self-build and custom housebuilding

2.26 The Policy seeks to require the provision of plots for self-build and custom housebuilding by introducing the following requirement:

"Self-build and custom housebuilding will be supported if the proposed development has no adverse effect on the local character. On development sites of 100 homes or more 5% of the total homes shall be available for sale as self-build and custom housebuilding plots whilst there is an identified need. For phased development, self-build plots must be delivered and serviced at the earliest stage possible. Self-build and custom housebuilding plots are encouraged on smaller residential development sites."

2.27 As currently drafted it is unclear whether the requirement to have no adverse effect on the local character relates to the self/custom build element itself or the wider proposals. In any event it is considered that this wording is inappropriate as it seeks to apply a definitive test which does not allow for application of the planning balance. Whilst proposals should seek to have no adverse effect on the local character any harm should be weighed against the benefits of the proposals. Furthermore given the nature of self/custom build, the potential effects on the local character will not be able to be assessed definitively at the point of determination of an application for the wider development site. As currently drafted, concern is raised that the necessary lack of certainty of the effects of these plots may prevent the approval of applications for the wider site if this policy wording is to be rigidly applied.

2.28 The PPG makes clear that the Local Planning Authority must assess the local demand for self-build housing. The PPG advises:

“Plan makers should, therefore, consider surveying local residents, possibly as part of any wider surveys, to assess local housing need for this type of housing, and compile a local list or register of people who want to build their own homes” (ID 2a-020-20140306).

2.29 Whilst the Council’s website provides details of how to apply to be on the register, including details of a recent consultation on revised eligibility criteria, there are no details as to the number of people currently on this register. As such it considered that there is insufficient information to justify the requirement currently proposed.

2.30 Furthermore, whilst we agree that custom and self-build may be appropriate for some schemes, we do not consider that large strategic sites are an appropriate location and are unlikely to be taken up. The policy wording does specify that plots are only required to be made available and marketed for a period of 18 months, before, we assume as this is not explicitly stated in the policy wording, reverting to the developer. It is however considered that this will delay the delivery of the scheme, create uncertainties in the build programme for developers and potentially add additional costs as a result of abortive work.

2.31 Whether or not the percentage requirement of custom/self-build housing is amended, should the Council be minded to retain a requirement for all housing developments of 100 or more dwellings, we consider that the words “subject to viability” should be added to the policy to provide suitable flexibility. It is considered that the requirement for delivery of self and custom build plots at an early stage will add to the potential viability implications given the early delivery of units is generally required in order to fund necessary supporting infrastructure works. Furthermore, as raised above, if these plots do then revert to the developer due to lack of interest, this would likely lead to additional costs due to changes to the build programme etc.

2.32 It is noted that the supporting text to the policy states that:

"Higher density residential sites for flatted developments are unsuitable for self-build and custom housebuilding plots; they are therefore exempt from the requirement to provide plots."

2.33 The wording of the supporting text is not reflected in the Policy wording itself as currently drafted. Furthermore there is no clarity on the Council’s definition of higher density and how this would be applied to developments which contain a mix of houses and flats.

2.34 As currently drafted this requirement is considered to be unsound in that it is not justified, effective or consistent with national policy.

Policy H1 – Insufficient evidence has been provided to justify the Council’s proposed requirement in respect of accessible homes.

Concern is raised as to whether the requirements for self-build and custom housebuilding are justified and effective.

2.35 The Policy seeks sites of 5 or more homes, or 0.17ha or more, to provide at least 40% affordable housing. There is a significant need for affordable housing in the Borough and this is supported by the Council’s evidence base. A Local Plan and CIL Viability Study (October 2016) has been prepared by Peter Brett Associates on behalf of the Council. The Study concludes that:

"Based on the assessment of the policy requirements within the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2016) review, it is considered that the current Plan would not unduly burden the delivery of residential and non-residential development in Guildford borough."

2.36 No updated assessment has been undertaken to support the current Local Plan consultation and the revised policy requirements. This is considered to be a significant flaw particularly in light of the proposed additional requirements in respect of accessible homes and custom and self-build housing. An updated Study should be commissioned to ensure the proposed policy is justified and effective in light of the revisions proposed to the Local Plan under the current consultation.

2.37 In addition, it is considered that flexibility should be introduced to the proposed policy wording to allow for site specific circumstances where the proposals may be rendered unviable by the level of affordable housing sought. This is particularly likely to be the case where there are non-standard infrastructure requirements to support the development or potential contamination on site. The policy wording should therefore be updated to require provision of at least 40% affordable housing, subject to viability. It is noted that such a mechanism is advocated in paragraph 4.2.40 of the supporting text but not reflected in the policy wording itself.

Policy H2 – The proposed affordable housing requirement is not underpinned by a robust and up to date viability assessment and as such is considered to be unjustified.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Introduction

1.1 These representations have been prepared by Turley on behalf of Bloor Homes Southern in respect of the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan (June 2017). The consultation is targeted to the proposed changes to the Plan since the 2016 consultation and the revised evidence base documents.

1.2 Our client has important land interests in the Local Plan area, in particular at Nutbourne Farm. This lies to the east of Gosden Hill Farm, Guildford and falls partly within draft Policy A25 within the submission Local Plan for c. 2000 homes, employment, retail and a school. A Site Location Plan identifying the site is provided at Appendix One. As such this response focuses on issues which particularly affect the site.

1.3 Each of our responses relates to a particular policy or paragraph and this report is structured accordingly.

Policy S2: Planning for the borough – our spatial development strategy

Housing Requirement

2.1 The current consultation version of the Local Plan proposes a new plan period of 2015 to 2034 and a reduced housing requirement of 12,426 (654 dwellings per annum). This represents a reduction of 1,434 dwellings compared to the previous consultation version of the Local Plan.

2.2 The West Surrey Strategic Housing Market Assessment was published in September 2015 and covered the authorities of Guildford, Waverley and Woking. This identified an annual requirement of 693 dwellings in Guildford, with 519 and 517 dwellings per annum for Waverley and Woking respectively. Clearly therefore the Council’s now proposed housing requirement falls short of the OAN for the Borough as established in the 2015 SHMA.
2.3 The Council have subsequently commissioned an Addendum Report to the SHMA (March 2017) in relation to Guildford Borough in isolation. The Addendum Report identifies an OAN for the Borough of 654 dwellings per annum and it is on the basis of this figure that the Local Plan has been prepared.

2.4 It is notable that West Oxfordshire District Council has recently sought to take a similar approach in its Local Plan Examination. The District Council independently prepared an update to the Oxfordshire SHMA on its OAN in isolation and sought to proceed on the basis of the reduced figure contained therein. This approach was not accepted by the Inspector as being sound and resulted in a lengthy suspension to the Examination to allow the Council sufficient time to undertake the necessary work to address meeting the higher OAN figure advocated in the County wide SHMA. Although the Examination has now resumed, this has resulted in over a twelve month delay in the process.

2.5 As such, given the recent experience of West Oxfordshire, it is considered that the Council’s current approach represents a significant risk to the soundness of the Plan.

2.6 The 2017 addendum to the SHMA indicates that due to changing economic circumstances the Borough’s housing need should be reduced from 693 dpa to 654 dpa. Whilst economic factors are an important consideration it is important that these are considered at a wider scale than an individual local authority level, as had been done under the previous SHMA but is not the case in the recent addendum. In addition it is noted that the demographic baseline and affordability issues suggest an increase in OAN. As such it is considered the 2017 addendum to the SHMA is an inappropriate basis on which to plan.

2.7 Paragraph 2.4 of the SHMA addendum notes that there are significant affordability issues in the HMA. In this regard we note that the evidence indicates that these affordability issues are worsening (the 2017 addendum indicates that the affordable housing need has risen from 517 dpa to 552 dpa). We understand that the Council has retained the approach to applying an affordability uplift in the 2017 addendum that was used in the 2015 SHMA. Furthermore, we understand that this limits the uplift to one related to an adjustment to the household formation rates of younger households. We understand that this results in a 9% upward adjustment to the ‘starting point’ household projection. Given the existing and worsening affordability issues in the Borough, we consider that it is unreasonable to limit this uplift to 9%. In fact, we note that in the adjoining borough of Waverley, the Local Plan Part 1 Inspector has applied an uplift of 25%.

2.8 At this stage, given the Council is failing to meet its own full OAN as calculated in the 2015 SHMA, the Council is also making no provision to meet the unmet needs of any adjoining authorities. In particular Woking’s Core Strategy (2012) sets out its housing requirement as 292 dpa, some 225 dpa below the OAN as established in the 2015 West Surrey SHMA.

2.9 Notably this issue has been specifically considered by the Inspector at the recent Waverley Local Plan EIP hearing sessions. During these hearings, the Inspector clearly indicated that he considered it appropriate for Waverley and Guildford to accommodate the unmet need from Woking. From our involvement in the Waverley Local Plan sessions it is expected that Waverley will be required to accommodate at least 50% of the unmet need from Woking, which amounts to 83 dpa.

2.10 Looking more widely it is also important to recognise the relationship the Borough has with London and the unmet needs associated with it. The Inspector’s Report for the Local Plan found that the Greater London Authorities could not meet its objectively assessed need of 52,000 dpa, nor its target of 49,000 dpa, as it has an identified capacity of 42,000 dpa only.

2.11 If the reduced OAN for Guildford itself can be justified through the SHMA addendum (although as discussed we have concerns regarding the soundness of this approach) then consideration should have been given in any event to the ability of the Borough to meet the unmet needs of adjoining authorities, in particular Woking. It is apparent that this approach has not been followed.

2.12 Paragraph 4.1.9a of the Local Plan states:

“The figures set out in the Annual Housing Target table sum to a total of 12,426 homes. This is lower than the total supply of homes identified in the Land Availability Assessment as having potential to be delivered over the plan period. This buffer builds flexibility into the plan and demonstrates that our strategy is capable of delivering the target.”
2.13 Clearly therefore there is no justification to restrict the housing requirement on the basis of housing supply. As such it is considered the Plan should make provision for its full OAN and explore its ability to accommodate the needs of adjoining authorities. Additional allocations should be made to meet this requirement. At the current time the plan is considered to be unsound in that it is not justified, effective, positively prepared or consistent with national policy.

The phasing of development as set out in the Annual Housing Target table

2.14 We note from the Annual Housing Target table contained within Policy S2 of the Guildford Borough Proposed Submission Local Plan that the housing requirement is to vary annually from 450 dwellings per annum upon adoption, rising to 850 homes per annum at the end of the Plan period. Paragraph 4.1.9a of the Proposed Submission Local Plan seeks to justify this approach on the basis of the likely rate of delivery, particularly on the strategic greenfield sites. In addition paragraph 4.1.9b of the Proposed Submission Local Plan explains that this “phased approach is necessary in order to ensure that the Council is able to demonstrate a rolling five-year supply of housing from the date of adoption, as required by national policy.” Notwithstanding our specific concerns about this table (set out below), the Council’s approach to phasing raises a number of concerns.

2.15 The effect of the Council’s approach in this regard results in a situation where there is likely to be a shortfall in delivery of 204 dwellings per annum in the period from 2019 when compared to the objectively assessed need highlighted in the SHMA. This will lead to a situation whereby those in need of housing, in particular affordable housing, may not be able to access accommodation in the Borough until later in the Plan period. Indeed, given the undersupply which has already taken place, this situation has already been occurring and would be further exacerbated by the proposed approach taken in the Local Plan. In such circumstance a proportion of the population may therefore be forced to find accommodation elsewhere and this approach could result in a situation which undermines aspirations for job and economic growth within the Borough as a result of a lack of available workforce for example. We are also concerned that the Council’s phased approach seeks higher delivery rates later in the plan period. Given that the emerging Local Plan is predicated on a number of large sites, there is a significant risk that if these do not come forward at the rate envisaged then there will be less time available to remedy any shortfalls.

2.16 The Housing Topic Paper (which accompanies the emerging Local Plan) acknowledges that housing delivery is a major issue for the Borough. However, paragraph 47 of the NPPF requires Local Planning Authorities to ‘boost significantly the supply of housing’ and the National Planning Practice Guidance states that they must ‘deal with undersupply within the first five years of the plan period where possible’. Guildford Borough Council has deemed this to not be possible within the Borough. The Council identifies that there will be an overall unmet need of 3,150 homes in the period (2013/2014 – 2-236/2027). Far from dealing with an undersupply in the first five years of the Plan period, the Council’s approach seeks to delay the delivery of a significant proportion of the housing requirement. Consequentially this raises concerns over whether any accrued shortfalls can be resolved.

2.17 If the Council considers that housing delivery is a major issue within the Borough, then a greater range, scale and type of sites should be identified in order to aid delivery rates.

2.18 Furthermore the paper identifies housing delivery within the first five years of the emerging Local Plan period as another major issue. The paper states that a significant shortfall in sustainable sites remains, when taking account of the deficit accrued since 2015 and the 20% buffer; the buffer applied as a result of the persistent under delivery of housing in line with Paragraph 47 of the NPPF. The Council states that this will be resolved in the later periods of the Local Plan, in line with expected infrastructure delivery and through the development of strategic sites.

2.19 The Land Availability Assessment June 2017 Addendum details the Council’s most up to date housing land supply position. The five year housing land supply position for 2016/2017 (which covers the monitoring period 1st April to 31st March 2018) is said to be 2.36 years based on the Council’s evidence, demonstrating a significant and severe deficit in housing supply. We consider that this position demonstrates the clear need to ensure that all available opportunities to identify sites to help meet the housing requirements in the Borough (including unmet needs arising within the wider Housing Market Area if necessary) are considered. The approach (explained in the previous paragraph) which arbitrarily restricts the availability of sites is fundamentally flawed.

2.20 Paragraph 4.1.9a of the Proposed Submission Local Plan states that the figures in the Annual Housing Target table (contained in Policy S2) “sum to a total of 12,426 dwellings.” We calculate that the figures sum to a total of 9,810... dwellings. It appears as though if the figure of 12,426 is achieved then the period covered by the Annual Housing Target table should be expanded to cover the four years from 2015/16 to 2019/20. It is not clear why that part of the Plan period has been excluded from the table.

2.21 We note that paragraph 4.1.9a of the Proposed Submission Local Plan states:

“This [the figure of 12,426] is lower than the total supply of homes identified in the Land Availability Assessment as having potential to be delivered over the plan period. This buffer builds flexibility into the plan and demonstrates that our strategy is capable of delivering the target.”

2.22 We consider that the Proposed Submission Local Plan does not include this flexibility despite the claim at paragraph 4.1.9a.

Policy S2 – The Council should endeavour to meet its full OAN and seek to assist in meeting the needs of adjoining authorities, in particular Waverley Borough Council, where possible. Further allocations should be made to provide flexibility in the delivery of the Plan and to meet the required increased housing requirement.

We advise the LPA to take into account the relevant Management Plan for the area and should seek the views of the AONB Partnership. Development proposals brought forward through the plan should avoid significant impacts on protected landscapes, including those outside the plan’s area and early consideration should be given to the major development tests set out in paragraph 116 of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF).

These sites are adjacent to ancient woodland. The policies should ensure that any direct or indirect impacts on these sites are avoided or mitigated.

Policy P5: Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area

We advise that under point (3) a separate point should be included to state that the amount of SANG land needed can also depend on the size, scale and proximity of the development to the SPA as well as the number of expected occupants. The 8ha per 1,000 people standard is only the minimum that could be required.

Natural England disagrees with paragraph 4.3.51 which should be revised. Natural England advise that there is potential for developments under the use class C2 to have a significant impact upon the SPA even if they are not for staff. The main consideration for applications, particularly those including care facilities (in either use class C2 or C3), is the mobility of the residents and therefore the risk that the residents could recreate on the SPA, causing a likely significant effect on the integrity of the site. C1 accommodation could also have a significant effect on the SPA depending on the length of time that people could stay at the facility and whether it could be a person’s fixed address e.g. ‘apart-hotels’. C1 and C2 applications should be assessed on a case by case basis in consultation with Natural England.

The end of paragraph 4.3.54 should include that these developments will be assessed on a case by case basis and agreed with Natural England.

Paragraph 4.3.62 should be revised to state that SAMM contributions are held by Hampshire County Council and that Natural England only act as a host to the project.

Habitats Regulations Assessment
Having read through the updated document to take into account chapter 12, Natural England supports the overall conclusions of the assessment and can advise that the evidence used, particularly relating to Air Pollution is entirely appropriate.

We have however had a conversation with Guildford Borough Council during this consultation period to discuss the readability of certain sections within the document. Natural England expects Guildford Borough Council to amend these sections before submission to the inspector which we would be happy to provide further comments on. Despite this, it is important to note that this will not alter the overall conclusions of the assessment which as stated above we are supportive of.

Please see attached Annex A for our advice.

I wish to raise 2 points that I feel most strongly about to the amended Guildford local Plan Consultation 2017

Although a revised number of new homes have now been identified for Guildford, numbers are based on assumptions and calculations have not made publicly available. These numbers have not been obtained through any kind of independent report and so are inherently inaccurate.

With regard specifically to the proposed development (A 25) at Gosden Hill Fam, Guildford, using existing roadways and traffic junctions is unsustainable. The nearby roads are often congested and at a standstill on a very regular basis.

In the Guildford Borough Transport Strategy 2017 document, several references are made as to ‘Aspirations to the A3 Guildford Tunnel’. Unfortunately this document is not included in the Guildford Local Plan. Surely the Guildford Borough Transport Strategy and Local Plan should be considered concurrently? The tunnel proposal should be thoroughly investigated, planned and included in the Local Plan as this would save a great deal of money in the long term. Otherwise Guildford will find itself either unable to build this tunnel and Guildford could become a ‘no go’ area for many due to the congestion getting into, out of, or through Guildford. Alternatively Guildford will find itself in a similar situation to Sheffield and the HS2 train route where people living in newly constructed properties face having their homes demolished to make way for infrastructure.

I also support Burpham Community Associations representation to you.

We approve of the changes to the wording for SANG8 Land Adjacent to Long Reach, West Horsley. This SANG should be retained in the PSLP. SANG8 is a strategic SANG proposal which is supported by Natural England and it will deliver significant net benefits towards habitat creation and biodiversity. The HRA supporting the PSLP makes it clear that the proposed housing strategy can only be delivered if the identified SANGs are brought forward in those locations proposed in the PSLP.

Given three forecasts as cited in Guildford Borough Land Availability Assessment(LAA) Feb 2016 of the new local plan, has sufficient focus been given to their overall impact on its efficacy? eg Patterns of Retail, Leisure Spend a) p101, 9.7 That capacity forecasts beyond 5 years should be treated with caution(and growth in the internet is one factor given)b) p102, 9.11 Notwithstanding Guildford’s positive performance as noted increased competition from other major centres(eg Kingston) as well as, again, online shopping competition is cause for concern c) p105, 9.27 The impact of large retail development, eg North Street circa 47,500m squared on footfall and trade patterns across the town centre is another troubling factor.(And I cite here TunsGate development in the High Street)

In Appendix B, Realistic Candidates for development of the LAA(February 2016), 178, Guildford Park Car Park(160 houses) is up for development but according to the June 2017 Addendum, this has now been deleted.

In p6, Policy E7 Guildford Town Centre of the summary of key changes to the proposed submission Local Plan: Strategy & Sites(2017) it is stated ‘Deletion of the Vision which came from the Town Centre Masterplan.’ Does this mean the River Wey as a whole is no longer to be developed? If not, it is not clear what are the plans(if any) for this large area.

Comment ID: pslp172/5209  Respondent: 17111233 / Tony Wales  Agent:
Having seen the proposed changes to the Proposed Submission Local Plan, I am seriously concerned about the proposals around Burnt Common (plan 43).

From a transport viewpoint, the proposal to install a new exit ramp from the A3 at Burnt Common seems to be ill-thought out and counter-productive. I appreciate the need to relieve the volume of traffic through Ripley, but by adding a new exit from the A3 at Burnt Common, it will merely transfer the problem to the A247 and the villages of West Clandon, Send and surrounding areas. In particular, this will encourage traffic to use a ‘rat run’ through these villages to the southern areas of Guildford.

Please note the following important points:

1. The A247 is not a wide road and becomes exceptionally narrow as it passes through the West Clandon Conservation Area, where two large vehicles (lorries, buses) cannot easily pass each other.
2. There is no prospect of widening the A247 at this point as there are conservation properties close to the road boundary on both sides.
3. There is already limited access for pedestrians with a single, narrow pavement and any increased volume of traffic is likely to increase the risks for pedestrians.
4. West Clandon is a ‘ribbon village’ which is laid out along the path of the A247 as it becomes The Street. There is no village square or centre. Any increase in traffic along The Street would have a seriously detrimental impact on the life of the village, which would become dissected by an increasingly busy, major road.
5. There would be no benefit to the local residents of this area, as it merely gives greater access to through traffic at a serious cost to the detriment of the local area.

From a housing viewpoint, the Burnt Common proposals to create 1,700 new dwellings seem similarly ill-thought out. There is no infrastructure to support such a large development. Please note the following points:

1. There is an extremely limited bus service and the nearest rail station (Clandon) would be a 30 minutes’ walk. This would mean that the new residents would be forced to rely on car transport, thereby adding a severe load to the local roads which are already becoming congested.
2. There are no local shops and limited availability of schools in the area.
3. The proposals would merely create an isolated housing estate.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The evidence base for this consultation is vastly complicated. One has to assume that it is all relevant and legal although this is far from clear. However, I cannot see how air quality and road traffic movement can improve with these huge changes to the green belt in this area.

For example, paragraph 1.1.5 excludes car access to facilities or the impact on public transport. Although this is included in the overall transport strategy, little assessment seems to have been made of the massive traffic delays on the A3 in recent years due entirely to weight of traffic. Access to the A3 and motorway network by the owners of another 400+ houses, assorted travellers and industrial traffic can hardly improve this. The Topic paper on transport speaks fine words about effective and safe travel, but seems more of an attempt to justify a huge increase in traffic and noise and air pollution which simply would not happen without these incursions into the green belt.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

I am objecting to changes in the plan as follows:

The site A43 Garlicks Arch would constitute a massive incursion on greenbelt land, made even worse by the increase to 400+ houses and would be extremely harmful or indeed destroy the nature of the rural villages of Ripley, Ockham and Send, causing them to coalesce into a conurbation.

The inclusion of 6 industrial sites/plots for storage of heavy machinery associated with travelling show people is entirely inappropriate. There is no indication of a need within the local plan or a need historically in the local area. Moreover, the scale of such a site would be indicated by a development of up to 1999 homes, which this plan does not propose.

The development of an industrial area gives no indication of the industries referred to (on the site A58 at Burnt Common). This is clearly a speculative plan to change the greenbelt into an industrial area and little detail is given for the justification for this, meaning it cannot be considered to be covered by a full consultation.

In addition, a Waste Management site is partially concealed within the A58 Burnt Common site in policy 4.4.23a and no proper consultation is indicated here either.

There is an increase of house numbers from 45 to 60 in an already unwelcome development at Tannery Lane, which will inevitably cause even more congestion in a sensitive and congested transport network around Ripley.

Overall, this Local Plan as suggested for Ripley and surrounds constitutes a grandiose and unwelcome development which impacts severely on a rural area, and these changes make it worse.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

- I object to the increase in housing numbers from 45 to 60 at Site A42 in Tannery Lane, Send which will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around and within Ripley. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states “Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

- I object to the fact that this is even a consideration. Has anybody from the Council driven through these areas, specifically in rush hour time?
What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Attached documents:

I object to the fact that you are going to ruin beautiful parts of Surrey with your plans. These areas are beautiful spots in Surrey away from the noise and bustle of the nearby towns. Common sense must prevail here, surely?

-I object to any development on Site A43 at Garlicks Arch as this would be on Green Belt Land - there is nothing identified or exception in the Local Plan documentation.

-I object to including 6 Travelling Showpeople plots with associated storage facilities is entirely inappropriate in a rural environment within the Green Belt and there is no identified need within the Local Plan.

-I object further to the allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. The Plan itself has huge discrepancies and is therefore not properly constituted.

-I object to the potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlicks Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages. The plan states that “if the [Traveller sites] remains unsold, the future use of the land should have regard to an up to date Traveller Accommodation Assessment (TAA) and Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), with specific consideration of the use of the land for affordable housing”. So the creation of even more travellers pitches and houses, which you are yet to justify.

-I object to Section 4.2.22 of the Plan which states that “Sufficient sites are identified within the Local Plan [for] 8 plots for Travelling Showpeople” So why on earth would you put 75% of them in Ripley? This is ridiculously unbalanced.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I wish to object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

• Development or further expansion at this location detracts from the openness of the green belt, and this is highly inappropriate
• Tannery Lane in both directions has severely restricted vehicular access

I wish object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:

• There is an increase from 45 homes to 60 homes which is more than a 33% increase in plan
• There are currently access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction and this plan will only exacerbate all the issues
• River Wey Navigation open countryside views will be impacted
• Obviously there will be further erosion of the Green Belt, and that will make it worse for the village
• Current water surface flooding is already bad and this plan will make it worse
• You have blatantly ignored the previous objections made by local peoples which run into hundreds.

I wish to object to the Policy A43 change Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh because:

- There is no proven demand for any travelling showpeople slots in this location
- It will generate excessive traffic further blocking the local roads of Send and Ripley
- Again this area is subject to frequent flooding, being in a flood zone 2 allocation
- It seems once again to ignore the thousands of previous objections made by local residents
- This area has been contaminated by over 50 years of lead shot accumulation
- It is an obvious overdevelopment of the village and in addition the number of homes (400) is excessive
- This is a permanent Green Belt area and no ‘exceptional circumstances’ exist for this beautiful area
- This is an area of ancient woodland which existed in the time of Elizabeth 1, and it is exceptional
- This will cause a ‘joining up’ of Send and Ripley, which defeats the purpose of the Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because;

- Slyfield Green and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units, therefore there is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the green belt
- This was deleted from the 2014 draft due to all the objections made previously.
- The surrounding roads will become swiftly gridlocked as an immediate impact on the smaller roads
- Again the effect of joining up existing roads defeats the purpose of the Green Belt
- The wording has been changed from the previous ‘maximum’ to the word ‘minimum’ in the 2016 plan, however since 2016 there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
- The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to just 3.9 hectares for industrial lane for the whole borough, not a massive over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in a dedicated Green Belt area.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

A26 should be removed. This is not compliant with the intentions set out in P1-5;

The accurate SHMA assessment, recently identified and presented by GRA should be applied which will greatly reduce housing figures;

The Council has not convincingly responded to or reacted to vast public objections.

The strategy for the development of the University of Surrey is based on the assumption that it must develop all of its facilities in Guildford rather than share across Surrey.

The site A26 is in the proximity of the Surrey Hills, the significance of which is not being addressed.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

Review of all sites threatened with development in view of the corrected SHMA figure presented by the GRA, SANG 8 Land at Long Reach is absolutely vital to release land and deliver housing in the Horsley and Send. It should be allocated in the Local Plan.

SANG1 Effingham Common should be allocated in the Local Plan but is not deliverable as strategic SANG being limited to 400 metres of mitigation. SANG8 is therefore vital to the deliverability of the Local Plan and is supported by the Habitats Regulations Assessment (HRA).

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

None. SANG8 Land at Long Reach should be allocated in the new Local Plan.

The draft list of housing sites is too heavily weighted towards major strategic housing sites which will not be delivered in the front end of the Local Plan period. Such an approach will exacerbate the acute need for housing in the borough which is already failing to keep pace with need and failing to deliver a 5 year housing land supply. Indeed, not only is the council moving into the Examination with a 3.2 year housing land supply (this represents a serious housing land deficit) but the Council is also proposing a further accumulated shortfall of 1000 units against its annualised housing target until the draft allocated major housing sites come on stream from 2026.

Despite this context, smaller sites which could deliver housing are either being omitted from the draft Local Plan or are being removed from previous draft iterations of the Local Plan. For example brownfield sites such as Tyrrell site adjacent Long Reach, West Horsley have been identified in the Council's housing evidence base as being suitable to deliver new housing. Tyrrell is a former factory site which is now inefficient and its buildings are in need of major repair and investment. Its rural location also means that attracting investment would lead to greater numbers of HGVs and service vehicles and more noise and disturbance. Planning officers have previously acknowledged that the site is suitable to accommodate new housing development (there is already a residential house on-site in addition to the old factory and storage units and the consented additional B8 building which has already been commenced as in therefore 'live').

However, the Council's housing strategy has omitted this brownfield site when it could help the Council's housing strategy and (with other sites) alleviate pressure on the need for greenfield and undeveloped Green Belt sites.

Such an approach would also be entirely compatible with the Council's 'brownfield first' approach to housing land delivery.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

The draft list of housing sites identified under 'Previously Developed Land in the Green Belt' should include the Tyrrell site, Long Reach, West Horsley as being appropriate for redevelopment subject to design and other planning policy considerations.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Question 4: Duty to cooperate

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

We consider that there has been insufficient cooperation and consultation with neighbouring authorities in relation to the housing strategy, the OAN, and land supply factors.

In particular, we cannot see sufficient evidence to conclude that the Borough Council has taken on unmet need from Waverley or Woking. Furthermore, in respect of the Housing Addendum carried out in 2017 this data appears to relate only the Guildford borough rather than the West Surrey SHMA area. Further explanation on this main matter is provided in the attached representations.
We have already set out our concerns regarding the Council’s duty to cooperate in our representation to Proposed Submission Policy S2: Borough Wide Strategy and specifically GBC’s approach to re-assessing housing need in isolation from neighbouring borough and districts. In addition, we are mindful that GBC’s duty to cooperate was questioned as part submissions made to the Waverley Borough Local Plan Examination in July 2017. During the Waverley examination, the appointed Inspector (Mr Jonathan Bore) questioned GBC’s representatives who were in attendance at the Examination. The Waverley Local Plan Examination Inspector was very keen to understand why Guildford Borough Council does not appear to have identified land or taken on unmet housing need from neighbouring boroughs in its emerging Local Plan. GBC’s response at the Waverley Local Plan Examination was, in effect, to say that Guildford borough was highly constrained and the ability therefore to take unmet housing need from neighbouring authorities was not possible. This approach, should it be carried forward into the Guildford Local Plan Examination, is simple not adequate.

Firstly, all local authorities forming part of the West Surrey SHMA (and several authorities beyond this area) have constraints whether those constraints include metropolitan Green Belt, AONB, AGLV, Thames Basin Heaths SPA etc. The fact remains that GBC has not only failed to take account of neighbouring unmet need, it has actively and significantly:

- Reduced its Objectively Assessed Need (OAN) against the current of acute housing need.
- Reduced its proposed housing land supply despite historic and current under-performance of housing delivery, and;
- Discounted smaller housing sites which are well placed to meet the needs of neighbouring authorities and communities, despite weighting the reduced housing delivery to the back end of the Plan period.

We strongly maintain that the settlement of Farncombe (with its shared boundary with GBC) represents a suitable, sustainable and accessible opportunity to help accommodate the unmet housing needs of both authorities in just the way that the duty to cooperate is designed to facilitate. Land South of New Pond Road (site No. 80) is ideally placed to assist Guildford Borough Council meet its housing land supply target whilst also helping to meet the acute needs of communities that share a border with Waverley borough in a geographic area which is well served by a range of existing services and amenities including a railway station which links Farncombe to Guildford (just 6 minutes travel time) and which is served by established bus routes.

- It defeats the key purpose of Green Belt by joining Ripley and Send.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:

Slyfield and Guildford have empty sites and industrial units therefore there is no need to build industrial or warehouses development in our Green Belt.

The word minimum is a change from the previous word maximum in the 2016 plan and since then there has been less demand for industrial land.

It is shown in the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

It defeats the key purpose of Green Belt by joining Ripley and Send.

The additional traffic created will block up our local roads.

Due to all the previous objections it was deleted form the 2014 draft.

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn, Tannery Lane Send because :-

- The 33% INCREASE from 45 to 60 homes is not acceptable because there is insufficient space in the site unless the Council is happy to build slums of the future!
- All previous objections regaring this development have been ignored
- The infrastructure, particularly the width of Tannery Lane, cannot accommodate the increased traffic generated by this scheme and Send Business Park. Hence there is a risk of traffic accidents within Tannary Lane and it junction with the A247 which has poor sight lines.
- The increase in effluent requiring treatment at Ripley Sewerage works, together with other proposed schemes could result in difficulties in confirming with the Water Framework Directive in relation to the discharge of treated effluent into the river Wey/Wey Navigation canal.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to the Policy change at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43 because:

- It ignores the many previous objections to this scheme made by local residents. There is no demand in the hinterland of Send village for accommodation for "Travelling Showpeople"
- The site includes ancient woodland which acts as an environmental buffer between the A3 Ripley Bye-pass and the local properties. What research/desk studies have been completed to identify the flora and fauna which is present and would be irrevocably lost by approving this development.
- Ripley & Send would join into a ribbon development which is against the principles of the Green Belt
- The increase in effluent requiring treatment would result in difficulties in conforming with the Water Framework Directive with regard to discharge of treated effluent into the nearby River Wey/Wey Navigation canal.
- This site is liable to flooding, being classified as flood zone 2.
- There is a risk that the site includes contaminated land. Has a Desk Study, supported by intrusive investigation been completed to identify the scope of remedial works necessary to make the site suitable for development?
- The development will result in a significant increase in traffic which the local road infrastructure cannot sustain. Currently, there is a vehicle queue of at least 100 yds every morning at peak traffic flow in Send Marsh Road B368, trying to access the Portsmouth Road B2215. This situation will be exacerbated by the proposed development with a resultant increase in the risk of accidents.

I OBJECT to the proposal to inset Send Business park from the Green Belt because it will be situated in an area of outstanding beauty within the countryside adjacent to the Wey Navigation and there is highly restricted access along Tannery Lane in both directions. Children regularly use Tannery Lane as a cycle route away from the main roads in order to get to Send Park, and this will increase the risk to other road users, especially on bicycles. Further development of this area directly ignores the openness of the greenbelt and the value to which it provides within our community.
I request that my comments and objections are shown to the Planning Inspector and also request a confirmation to that you have received this objection.

I OBJECT to Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because the increase by 33% of homes to be developed, from 45 to 60, is too many for such a small area. It ignores all my previous objections to this proposal and, in fact, has made it worse than before even though I, and many others, objected strongly to this proposal. It worsens traffic issues in Tannery Lane, which is already a small single lane in places, and erodes the green belt. There is increased risk of flooding due to surface run off and it will affect the natural topology and countryside around the area which has already been designated as Green Belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because the site floods regularly (designated as flood zone 2) and is covered by ancient woodland, up to 500 years old, which is home to a variety of wildlife. The currently existing brownfield sites within Guildford and its surrounding areas should be fully utilised before any housing is agreed within Green Field sites. There is no proven demand for traveller sites in the location and the addition of 400 houses in a small area defies all previous objections to this proposal and is a total over-development of the village. It will essentially create a "super-village" by which Ripley and Send are amalgamated in to one and the increase in volume of traffic within the small roads and lanes around the villages will not be able to cope. There are no proposals around the increase in additional services, such as schools, doctors, shops or road improvements for the local village.

<td>I OBJECT to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because it ignores all previous objections made about industrial land in this location and has been added once again to the proposal after being previously removed due to public objection. The plan has changed the requirements from Maximum to Minimum of 700sq m of industrial land and there is no evidence to support this area being desirable, or necessary, for industrial expansion especially when Slyfield and Guildford still have industrial sites which are not fully utilised. The impact of industrial usage like this on small surrounding roads will be highly significant and will, once again, join Send as a Super Village to the surrounding villages whilst having a damaging impact on the surrounding green belt areas.</td>

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I wish to object very strongly to Policy A43, land at Garlicks Arch. It is unacceptable that you have ignored the thousands of previous objections to this proposal. There is already far too much traffic in the Ripley/Send area and this will create so much more and will effectively join the 2 towns together, defeating one of the purposes of the Green Belt.

Also I do not believe that there has been any demand for Travellers sites, so why are they being created?

I wish to object very strongly to Policy A58, land at Burnt Common. This has previously been removed from the Local Plan because of the numerous objections, and to re-submit it with a minimum rather than a maximum amount of industrial place is ridiculous, especially given that the demand for such space has dropped and nearby established sites such as Slyfield have empty units.

• The increase in housing numbers from 45 to 60 at Site A42 in Tannery Lane, Send will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around and within Ripley. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states “Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

• Any development at Site A43 Garlicks Arch would be on Green Belt land, and there is no identified or exceptional need within the Local Plan documentation
• The inclusion of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots with associated storage facilities is entirely inappropriate in a rural environment within the Green Belt and there is no identified need within the Local Plan
• The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. The Plan is self-inconsistent and therefore not properly constituted.
• The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlicks Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages. The plan states that “if the [Traveller sites] remains unsold, the future use of the land should have regard to an up to date Traveller Accommodation Assessment (TAA) and Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), with specific consideration of the use of the land for affordable housing”. So even more travellers pitches and houses, which is unjustified.
• Section 4.2.22 of the Plan states that “Sufficient sites are identified within the Local Plan [for] 8 plots for Travelling Showpeople” So why do 75% of them have to be in Ripley? This is unbalanced and unfair.
• The removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) has left the Plan even further unbalanced against the North East of the Borough with over 40% of the development proposed in this small area of Green Belt

- The potential for a substantial increase in industrial floorspace from 7000 sq m to an unspecified amount at the site A58 Burnt Common does not provide local residents with enough information for a full and proper consultation given the ambiguity and lack of detail within the document.
- The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a and does not allow for full and proper consultation.

Policy A42 – I object to Policy A42 as the infrastructure of Send cannot manage such an increase in housing. Traffic is already unmanageable in the village and at peak times can take between 15-20 minutes to get out of Send; significantly impacting journey times to schools and work. This is also against previous objections made by local residents and will impact the surrounding countryside / greenbelt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
Policy A43 – I object to Policy A43. This massive increase in housing plus travelling show-people plots is an over-development that would destroy the Green Belt and woodland, join up Ripley and Send plus yet again put additional stress on the fragile traffic system in and around Send, Ripley and the A3. This is also against previous objections and is frustrating to see on the plan.

Policy A58 – I object to Policy A58 as I don’t see a need for industrial development and/or warehousing. Slyfield and Guildford have many units and areas available so unclear on where the demand for this proposal comes from. There would again be further impact on local roads and again join up villages unnecessarily.

I OBJECT TO THE POLICIES

- A42 CHANGE AT CLOCKBURN IN TANNERY LANE
- A43 CHANGE AT GARLICK’S ARCH, SEND MARSH
- A58 CHANGE AT LAND AT BURNT COMMON, LONDON ROAD
- 2 AT PARAGRAPH 4.3.15 regarding the removal of SEND BUSINESS PARK FROM THE GREEN BELT

BECAUSE:
- these developments are in opposition to local requirements, infrastructure and against the desire of local residents
- this is a careless, callous destruction of the green belt, and it will negatively affect us and future generations

There is no evidence supporting the approach and requirements GBC are promoting, and GBC are acting without the support of the community - in fact, GBC are acting in complete contradiction to the community and are disregarding the objections raised by the community.

I call for full financial and relationship interest disclosure of every member and their immediate families/significant others of GBC. This is a common practice where individuals and companies are regulated in financial commercial practice, and I believe it is in the interest of the community to have this visibility.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Appendix H: Maps - East Horsley

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

Sites A36-41 (East and West Horsley)

This submission focuses on changes made to the 2016 draft Local Plan. In the case of Sites A36-41, the changes are minimal. This ignores the high volume of serious objections submitted to this part of the plan.

The number of potential development sites has been reduced by two (A36 and A41, representing a total of 138 dwellings). This leaves four sites (A27-40) which still represent a total of 395 new dwellings.

The new draft remains objectionable for three main reasons:

1. Based on Guildford Borough Council’s own figures, marginal changes such as these would still leave 7% of all new development in the borough built on Green Belt sites. No “exceptional circumstances” or any other justification is advanced for this strange imbalance.
2. The deletion of two Horsley sites fails to correct the issue of relative overdevelopment in East and West Horsley, which is both excessive in absolute terms and disproportionate in relation to the rest of the borough.
3. No attempt is made to assess the cumulative impact on the Horsleys – either of the four sites now proposed, or of Site A35 (Three Farms Meadow, alias “Wisley Airfield”), with over 2,000 new homes only 2 miles away. This piecemeal approach leaves the future of the Horsleys at the mercy of ad hoc planning applications, which is the opposite of what a Local Plan should intend. It would not be difficult (e.g. with the help of the draft West Horsley Neighbourhood Plan) to set out a proper, more integrated vision for this part of the borough. Without this, the plan is not a plan for the Horsleys in any practical sense.

The Inspector will also want to have regard to the feeling among Horsley residents that this limited approach is deliberate – driven by a concealed wish to turn their community into a new dormitory town. Plausible claims have been made of political bias by a Council leadership representing the western end of the borough, which is less threatened by London urban sprawl.
The new plan Policies put greater emphasis on the need for adequate facilities and infrastructure to underpin development. But this is not reflected in any new wording on the Horsley sites, thus leaving most local objections unaddressed. Again, this defect curtails the plan’s usefulness as a practical planning tool at a site level and undermines its credibility among residents. The plan fails to mention most of the known sustainability issues and infrastructure constraints affecting the Horsley sites, including public transport, traffic, road safety, parking, schooling, medical facilities, sewage, flooding/surface drainage and shops. These were fully set out in responses to last year’s public consultation.

The density of new housing on the four Horsley sites too is inappropriate, being greater than anywhere in the locality at present.

Sites situated on the periphery of existing development in the Horsleys encroach on surrounding open fields and require the extension of settlement boundaries. The plan presents no arguments for this which, contrary to NPPF paragraph 79, will contribute to creeping urbanisation by attenuating the Green Belt corridors separating the Horsleys from neighbouring settlements.

Collectively, the four Horsley sites breach NPPF paragraph 81’s encouragement of access to the Green Belt and its amenity and recreation value. This has been an outstanding success story in the Horsleys, as detailed in response to the last consultation. Assets include a dense public footpath network, parish parks, sports fields, a campsite of international standard, Britain’s newest rural opera theatre and the popular Olympic cycle route. These examples of positive planning depend on a Local Plan that protects the Green Belt, maintains its openness and beauty and avoids urbanisation and traffic congestion. Sites A35-41 are hostile to this.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Policy E1, E2: employment land

I OBJECT that too much land in the urban centre in the revised Plan is allocated for retail or commercial use. Too much of that, in turn, is designated for land-hungry retail of low-value-added commercial floorspace such as warehousing. This will:

- Discourage the building of much-needed housing (especially low-cost homes) in convenient locations (especially urban brownfield sites) in accordance with national trends and Government policy;
- Deter the promotion of high-value-added businesses more in keeping with the declared aims of the local authorities and Enterprise Partnership;
- Aggravate town-centre traffic problems and the current decay of independent high-street businesses that reflects a pronounced, national shift away from town-centre shopping towards online trade; and
- Encroach needlessly on the Green Belt at inappropriate sites such as Burnt Common.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the deletion of provision in Policy H1 relating to housing density, which is a normal planning requirement for the control of development. This deletion opens the way for a free-for-all in which developers decide maximum and minimum densities on purely self-interested grounds. It conflicts with Government policy on the rational and cost-effective use of land.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

1. Policy H1: land use

I object to the deletion of provision in Policy H1 relating to housing density, which is a normal planning requirement for the control of development. This deletion opens the way for a free-for-all in which developers decide maximum and minimum densities on purely self-interested grounds. It conflicts with Government policy on the rational and cost-effective use of land.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

1. Policy D1: infrastructure

I object to the mismatch between the latest Plan’s ambitious development targets and that lack of any realistic plans for adequate infrastructure, as already highlighted in previous public consultations.

The Council have lately acknowledged that infrastructure is a constraint, and no-one expects all infrastructure to be pre-positioned before any development can take place. But the lack of any explanation as to how infrastructure improvements will, even roughly, be on the right scale is a giant hole in the Plan that invalidates most of its housing and other aspirations.

Policy D1’s assumption that the “infrastructure provider” will maintain infrastructure in most cases, and that developers will offer contributions via Community Infrastructure Levy, is inadequate. Deliberately setting out excessive development... targets you know can never be met (and which create public alarm) is a planning failure that the Inspector should challenge.

I OBJECT to the deletion of restrictions on non-major development in the AONB, which appears to dispense with the previous five key tests. This runs contrary to Government policy enshrined in the NPPF, public opinion as voiced in previous consultations and Guildford Council leader’s increasing assurances that the AONB will be afforded the highest level of protection.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Policy P2, P3, E5 and Sites: Green Belt

I OBJECT to those features of the latest draft Plan which, taken together, amount to a pre-determined attack on the Green Belt that conflicts with the Government’s policy commitment to sustainable development. These include:

- The proposal to locate 70% of new housing in the countryside and 58% in the Green Belt. This fails the test of common sense and proportionality, whereby any reasonable person might expect development to be concentrated in areas with existing infrastructure and facilities, and for each local community to bear a fair burden of disruptive development roughly according to its size.
- The location of three major strategic sites in the Green Belt: Blackwell Farm, Three Farms Meadow (so-called Wisley airfield) and Gosden Hill Farm. The failure to explain why this is necessary is unsound.
- The glaring absence of any “exceptional circumstance” justification, as required by the NPPF.
The “insetting” of most of the borough’s rural villages from the Green Belt, threatening an irreversible loss of character amounting to a suburbanisation of much of the borough. Guildford would merge with Woking and an almost unbroken corridor of development would be created from Cobham to Guildford. Policy P2 misleadingly suggests that 14 villages “are now inset from the Green Belt”, creating an air of fait accompli. The draft Plan contains no reasoned arguments why this insetting has to be so extensive.

Radical and arbitrary “infilling” and extensions of settlement boundaries (e.g. in rural West Horsley) prejudicing future planning decisions in favour of development.

The absence of any systematic attempt in the draft Plan to mitigate damage to the Green Belt by auditing, cataloguing and prioritising the development of urban brownfield sites, many of which the Council already own. This is contrary to national policy and the Council’s own declared policy.

The abuse of the “affordable” homes mechanism in the Rural Economic Strategy (para. 4.51a) to promote disproportionate development in the countryside, including the AONB. This has been sneaked in without proper public consultation and is based on out-of-date data.

The failure to acknowledge the key part Metropolitan Green Belt development restrictions have historically played in incentivising urban regeneration (most spectacularly in central London) and its potential make-or-break role in the modernisation and revival of Guildford town centre.

The lack of any concession to the sheer weight of tens of thousands of previous public objections to Green Belt over development.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. Policy S2: housing number

OBJECT to the revised target of 12,426 homes, since:

- This remains based on a formula that has not been made public and therefore cannot be verified and has never been scrutinised either by Councillors or the public, despite many strenuous, well-documented efforts to get it revealed;

- The draft Plan advances no justification for identifying the unconstrained OAN with the housing target and is unsound in this respect;

- Fundamental flaws in the SHMA’s OAN calculations have, in any case, been exposed in extremely detailed studies, e.g. by Cllr David Reeve and by Neil MacDonald of NMSS. These suggest not only that the numbers are excessive but that the target for the whole plan period is a moving one, subject to phased building and progress on infrastructure;

- A more realistic target with relevant constraints applied would potentially remove the need to build on green fields and, at a stroke, answer many other objections to the Plan.
Separately, I OBJECT that S2 fails to amount to a policy. Whether or not one agrees with the housing numbers or with a phased approach, it does not set out clear and transparent planning goals that can be understood and monitored. Using this draft, it would never be possible for the Government or public to say whether Guildford is on target or not.

Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Policy A42

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:

- It ignores all the hundred of previous objections made by local people
- The plans have increased from 45 homes to 60 homes which is 33% and this is too much
- It will increase problems with the traffic in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction
- It will cause erosion of the Green Belt in our village
- It will increase surface water flooding, which is already a problem and is increasing with further development
- It will impact on the open countryside views from the River Wey Navigation

Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because:

- It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
- The is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location
- It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no ‘exception circumstances’ exist
- It will cause overdevelopment of our village and the number of homes is excessive
- It is exquisite ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth I
- It will join p Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
- It is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation
- It is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over 50 years
- It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads of Send and Ripley

Land at Burn Common, London Road, Policy A58

I object to Policy A58 at Burn Common because:

- It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
- The word ‘minimum’ is a change from the previous ‘maximum’ in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in the demand for industrial land
- There is no need to build industrial or warehouse developments in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
- The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt
- The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
- It will join up the existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Appendix H: Maps - East Horsley

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The below refers to changes made to the 2016 draft Local Plan. In the case of Sites A36-41, the changes are minimal. This ignores the high volume of serious objections submitted to this part of the plan.

The number of potential development sites has been reduced by two (A36 and A41, representing a total of 138 dwellings). This leaves four sites (A27-40) which still represent a total of 395 new dwellings.

The new draft remains objectionable for three main reasons:

1. Based on Guildford Borough Council’s own figures, marginal changes such as these would still leave 56.7% of all new development in the borough built on Green Belt sites. No “exceptional circumstances” or any other justification has been demonstrated to justify this.

2. The removal of two Horsley sites fails to correct the issue of overdevelopment in East and West Horsley, which is both excessive in absolute terms and disproportionate in relation to the rest of the borough.

3. No attempt is made to assess the cumulative impact on the Horsleys – either of the four sites now proposed, or of Site A35 (Three Farms Meadow, alias “Wisley Airfield”), with over 2,000 new homes only 2 miles away. This piecemeal approach leaves the future of the Horsleys at the mercy of ad hoc planning applications, which is the opposite of what a Local Plan should intend. It would not be difficult (e.g. with the help of the draft West Horsley Neighbourhood Plan) to set out a proper, more integrated vision for this part of the borough. Without this, the plan is not a plan for the Horsleys in any practical sense.
The new plan Policies put greater emphasis on the need for adequate facilities and infrastructure to underpin development. But this is not reflected in any new wording on the Horsley sites, thus leaving most local objections unaddressed. The plan fails to mention most of the known sustainability issues and infrastructure constraints affecting the Horsley sites, including public transport, traffic, road safety, parking, schooling, medical facilities, sewage, flooding/surface drainage and shops. These were fully set out in responses to last year’s public consultation.

The density of new housing on the four Horsley sites too is inappropriate, being greater than anywhere in the locality at present.

Sites situated on the periphery of existing development in the Horsleys encroach on surrounding open fields and require the extension of settlement boundaries. The plan presents no arguments for this which, contrary to NPPF paragraph 79, will contribute to creeping urbanisation by attenuating the Green Belt corridors separating the Horsleys from neighbouring settlements.

The remaining four Horsley sites breach NPPF paragraph 81’s encouragement of access to the Green Belt and its amenity and recreation value. Sites A35-41 are contrary to this.

Green Belt, Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15 I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation. There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions. Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to this on the basis that there is limited road access already along Tannery Lane and this has already been objected to. This alteration adds 15 more homes accessing a busy main road that is already difficult to cross. With the on street parking around here, this junction will become increasingly dangerous. This is on Green Belt land that should be saved to allow for surface drainage. Send is a village and this level of unsympathetic development will ruin the village.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Land at Garlicks Arch is green belt land and will result in the lack of definition between Send and Ripley. It is unique in its nature and has survived for generations without having this significant development placed here. Given the size of the community, this is massive over development of the area. Again, the traffic build up with this new development would clog up the local area, not to mention the showman’s traffic.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

I see no demand for industrial units in this area as units are still unoccupied in the immediate vicinity and economic trends will keep it this way for the foreseeable future. Why is Slyfield not being considered as part of this plan? This is green belt land and should not be used for any purpose, least of all commercial use when there is no proven need.

The traffic would lead to a significant increase in road movements in the area and will effectively join up local communities and the area will lose it’s identity.

I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from Green Belt because I believe that further expansion or development at this location totally detracts from the openness of the green belt and it is inappropriate. Tannery lane is a country lane with restricted access in both directions.

I moved from West Byfleet to Send because of the proposed development of West Byfleet. I do not want to live in a built up, polluted, noisy and traffic ridden environment. Our green spaces and areas of natural beauty must be protected from over development.

object to Policy A42 change - Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because this increase is too much. It will worsen access and traffic problems already in Tannery Lane and at the junction of the A247. Tannery Lane is a picturesque country lane that forms part of the Village of Send and we wish to protect the views, wildlife and green open spaces.

I object to Policy A43 change - Land at Garlick’s Arch, Send Marsh because it ignores thousands of previous objections made by local people. There is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location. It will cause overdevelopment of our village generating excessive traffic and ruin for ever the green open space that should be protected for future generations to enjoy.

I object to Policy A58 – Land at Burnt Common because it has previously been deleted due to all of the objections previously made. There is no need to build an industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt as there are still empty sites in other locations for this use. The impact on traffic will create issues in our village and it will lose its village feel!

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

- Any development at Site A43 Garlicks Arch would be on Green Belt land, and there is no identified or exceptional need within the Local Plan documentation
- The inclusion of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots with associated storage facilities is entirely inappropriate in a rural environment within the Green Belt and there is no identified need within the Local Plan
- The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. The Plan is self-inconsistent and therefore not properly constituted.
- The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlicks Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages. The plan states that "if the [Traveller sites] remains unsold, the future use of the land should have regard to an up to date Traveller Accommodation Assessment (TAA) and Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA), with specific consideration of the use of the land for affordable housing”. So even more travellers pitches and houses, which is unjustified.

- Section 4.2.22 of the Plan states “Sufficient sites are identified within the Local Plan [for] 8 plots for Travelling Showpeople” So why do 75% of them have to be in Ripley? This is unbalanced and unfair.
- The removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) has left the Plan even further unbalanced against the North East of the Borough with over 40% of the development proposed in this small area of Green Belt
- The potential for a substantial increase in industrial floorspace from 7000 sq m to an unspecified amount at the site A58 Burnt Common does not provide local residents with enough information for a full and proper consultation given the ambiguity and lack of detail within the document
- The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a and does not allow for full consultation
- The increase in housing numbers from 45 to 60 at Site A42 in Tannery Lane, Send will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around and within Ripley. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states “Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays.” And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

In regard to the local plan 2017;

I object to the policy A42 at Clockbarn in tannery lane because of the traffic primarily. This area has become a rat run from Old Woking and Woking to the M25 some evening it is hopeless to even try driving. Now 60 homes in place of 45 homes is unacceptable increase, which will certainly create a huge burden on traffic.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I object to the policy A43 land at Garlicks Arch at Send Marsh on two accounts: one there is no proven need for travelling show people in this area. This number of homes (400) will join Ripley and Send into one huge conabation. Traffic on the Portsmouth road in over crowded and dangerous now and with cars that 400 homes will produce will make the morning and evening commute into one long and miserable traffic jam.

I object to the proposal to inset Send business park from the Green Belt ( Policy 2 at paragraph 4.B.15) because it would completely distory the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate. That area floods regularly and development would increase the problem of traffic and pollution.

Thank you for allowing my objections to the 2017 plan.

Policy A26 (Blackwell Farm)

As a resident of Compton I strongly object to the proposal to build 1,800 homes on the Blackwell Farm site as it will have a very negative on the environment in the surrounding area.

MORE TRAFFIC. The site is dependent on a new access road from the A31 Hog's Back to the hospital roundabout at Egerton Road, with a new signalised junction on the A31 at the entrance to Down Place, at the top of Down Lane. An independent traffic study commissioned by Compton Parish Council has shown that this new junction would result in more queuing on the I-log's Back and on the A3 during the morning peak-hour. In fact, the queue builds up all through the day, not just during rush hour. As a result, Compton will see a surge in traffic as Guildford-bound drivers seek out the fastest route and drive along the B3000 or Down Lane. The recent chaos caused by the closure of the A31 westbound because the surface melted in the heat demonstrated what could happen and the probability of vastly increased numbers of vehicles using the roads will multiply the problem a thousandfold.

MORE POLLUTION. Levels of Nitrogen Dioxide (NO2) that are consistently well above the EU legal limit have been recorded at the A3 end of 'The Street in Compton over the last two years. The Parish Council is expecting that this section of the 133000 will he made an Air Quality Management Area soon. Any increase in traffic levels through Compton, such as the proposed access road to Blackwell Farm, will make this situation worse.
LOSS OF NATIONALLY IMPORTANT COUNTRYSIDE. The new access road would cut through the Surrey hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB), uprooting centuries old trees and scarring the north face of the I-log's Back. It would also pass through an Area of Great Landscape Value and through, or next to, a belt of ancient woodland. The development site includes high-grade farmland and forms 20% of Compton's green belt.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

• disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
• directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
• ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
• adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A42 because:

The plan has ignored previous objection by residents of Send.

There is an increase, over the previous plan, of 15 homes.

Tannery Lane, and especially its junction with the A247, is unsuitable for more traffic.

The area is subject to surface water flooding.

I object to Policy A43 because:
This is Green Belt, and no exceptional circumstances exist.
It is a site of ancient woodland.
The site is subject to frequent flooding.
The additional traffic generated will cause traffic jams in Send.
There is no shown demand for Travelling Showpeople plots.

I object to Policy A58 because:
It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of previous objections.
The ‘maximum’ in the 2016 draft has now become a ‘minimum’.
The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment indicates a demand for a total of 3.9 hectares for industrial land in Guildford Borough. Why allocate 10 hectares in Send Green Belt?
There are empty sites and industrial units in Slyfield.
The increase in traffic cannot be managed without gridlock.

I write to raise further objections to plans for the Send area. Please find a summary of my objections as follows:

Clockbarn Nursery, Tannery Lane, Policy A42
I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:
• The increase to 60 homes in place of 45 homes is 33% more and is already too much
• It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people that live in Send
• It will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction
• It will make erosion of the Green Belt in our village worse
• It will make surface water flooding, which is already bad, even worse
• It will impact open countryside views from the River Wey Navigation
• The local school and doctor’s surgery are already at capacity.

Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43
I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because:
• It ignores all the thousands of previous objections made by local people
• There is no proven demand for Travelling Showpeople plots in this location and is not wanted
• It is beautiful permanent Green Belt and no "exceptional circumstances" exist
• It will cause over-development of our village and the number of homes is hugely excessive
• It is exquisite ancient woodland that existed at the time of Elizabeth 1
• It will join up Ripley and Send and defeat the key purpose of Green Belt
• It is subject to frequent flooding and is currently a flood zone 2 allocation
• It is contaminated by lead shot accumulated over fifty years
• It will generate excessive traffic that will block up the local roads even more than already does of Send and Ripley

Land at Burnt Common, London Road, Policy A58.
I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because:
• It was deleted from the 2014 draft because of all the objections made previously
• The word "minimum" is a change from the previous "maximum" in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land
• There is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units
• The 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough not a huge over allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt
• The impact on small surrounding roads will create traffic gridlock
• It will join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt

Green Belt, Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15
I object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:
• It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation
• There is highly restricted vehicular access along Tannery Lane in both directions
• Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate

We wish to object to the above mentioned plans policy numbers A27 A28 &A29 and to the map on page 301(offices).

This Area is already overcrowded and any further buildings will exacerbate the present situation.

Has any thought been given to the loss of countryside, extra traffic causing yet more congestion & pollution - I doubt it.

It is high time that other areas around Guildford are targeted with extra houses etc and NOT Ash as appears to be the first choice of the Council!!

Housing at Garlicks Arch would be on greenbelt, harmful to the Land and existing villages.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to the Policy A42 change at Tannery Lane because increasing the number of homes from 45 to 60 will worsen access and traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction, it is an erosion of the Green Belt and will impact open countryside views.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because it ignores the thousands of previous objections, the provision of 8 Travelling Showpeople plots is out of proportion, the number of houses is excessive and will cause the loss of ancient woodland, might exacerbate flooding in the area and will generate excessive traffic on roads and villages which cannot cope with the present volume of traffic at peak times. We are retired so don't travel to work during rush hour but if we have a doctor's appointment the volume of traffic has a significant impact.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
We object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common, London Road because it was deleted from the 2014 draft because of the amount of objections, the word "minimum" is a change from the previous "maximum" in the 2016 plan and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land, there is no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the Green Belt when Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units, the proposal is a huge over allocation of 10 hectares although the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough, even more traffic would be using small surrounding roads which can't cope with present traffic volumes. Besides causing gridlock all this overdevelopment will obviously contribute to a worsening of air pollution.

In response to the proposed plan targeting Ash and Tongham areas, I strongly disagree with the construction of 1750 new homes being built. I object to policy numbers A27, A28, A29 and to the map on page 301 (offices) because of the loss of countryside and amenity, along with the roads in this area not being able to cope with all the extra traffic that would because by this. There will be an increased numbers of parked cars which will increase congestion levels around this area.

I am writing to you to object to parts of the local plan in Guildford.

Firstly, I live on [Response has been redacted due to statement containing personal data which cannot be disclosed due to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998] and I have noted that the SRN6 "Beechcroft Drive safety scheme" has been removed from the local plan.

Having spoken to the highways agency they have requested this be removed, as they will "not be able to fulfil the request in time of the local plan".

The local plan is something like 10 years, so I don’t understand why this has been removed, especially as a recent study carried out by the highways agent recommended that the Beechcroft drive access be closed and a suitable and safe alternative be found.

We have older residents living on the road who cannot leave via car now, and we think that the A3 has become so busy now it is only a matter of time before a fatal accident.

If Beechcroft Drive is not made safe, there is no way the A3 can be widened as we will not be able to cross safely into our road, and if the A3 is not widened then how will Guildford cope with the extra traffic of a huge housing development? The university promised in 2003 to make the land of Blackwell farm publicly accessible as a communal area, they have gone back on their word and are putting profits in front of the needs of local people and wildlife.

I am also objecting to the Blackwell Farm development due to:

- The plan disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- It directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- It ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
• It adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits.

I am whole hearted opposed to the building of any sort on Black Well Farm or any part of the Hogs Back. There is no need for this green belt land to be built on when there are other sites that have already been given for this purpose. Shame on you Guildford Borough Council AND University of Surrey!

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

• disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I write to lodge my objections to the changes to the local plan. It is inconceivable that consultation is still ongoing about this. The local and wider public made their views totally clear the first time round and were largely ignored. This is absurd in that councillors are elected by and for the people and their views were that there is too much building and on greenbelt.

My primary objections this time:

- Housing at Garlicks Arch would be on greenbelt, harmful to the Land and existing villages.
- Travelling plots are inappropriate, ill-designated and unnecessary.
- There is not the space or proper consideration given to Burnt Common proposals.
- The site at Tannery Lane cannot support such numbers.

Please consider this and the other thousands of objections.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I object to the Guildford Local Plan 2017 as shown below: I object to the Policy A 42 change at Clockbam in Tannery Lane because: The increase in the number of houses to 60 from 45 is too much. Previous objections from local people have been ignored. Traffic access problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction would worsen. Green Belt would be eroded.

I object to the Policy A 43 change at Garlick's Arch because: Previous objections from local people have been ignored. No 'exceptional circumstances' exist to damage the Green Belt permanently. No reason for Travelling Showpeople plots has been proven. There would be excessive homes, and our village would be over-developed. The area is subject to frequent flooding, which would be made worse. Local traffic issues would worsen.

I object to Policy A 58 at Burnt Common because: The policy had been previously deleted from the 2014 draft because of objections. There are empty sites at Slyfield, making the development at Burnt Common unnecessary. Adjacent villages would be joined, sacrificing Green Belt. Local roads would become gridlocked by increased traffic.

Clockbam Nursery, Tannery Lane, Policy A42

I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because:

- The large number of previous objections made by the local people has been ignored.
- The increase from 45 homes to 60 homes is too high.
- It will make worse the traffic problems in Tannery Lane and at the A247 junction.
- There is already surface water flooding and this will make it worse.
- The open countryside views from the River Way will be ruined.
- The Green Belt in our area has already been eroded and this will worsen the situation.

Land at Garlick's Arch, Send Marsh, Policy A43

I object strongly to the Policy A43 change at Garlick’s Arch because:

The proposed number of 400 homes is excessive. We do not have the schools and medical services large enough to cope with this influx of at least another 800 people.

There is no proven demand for Travelling Show people plots in this location.

Ripley and Send will be joined up.

Thousands of previous objections have been blatently ignored

It is ancient woodland and needs to be protected at all costs.

It is currently a flood zone 2 allocation and subject to frequent flooding.

Fifty years of shooting has resulted in contamination by lead shot.

The traffic in the area is already excessive, with long delays occurring in Send Marsh Road and Send Road at peak times. The proposed increase in housing will only exacerbate the situation.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:

• There is absolutely no need to build industrial or warehouse development in the middle of the Green Belt. There are empty sites remaining at Slyfield and Guildford.

• Because of all the objections made previously, this was deleted from the 2014 draft

• The 2016 plan has changed the word "minimum" to "maximum" and since that time there has been a decline in demand for industrial land. In fact, the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 9 hectares for industrial land for the whole borough, NOT a huge over-allocation of 10 hectares at Send in the Green Belt.

• The traffic, which is already too heavy, will be vastly increased.

• The existing villages will be joined up and the Green Belt lost.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
Green Belt, Policy 2 at Paragraph 4.3.15

I strongly object to the proposal to inset Send Business Park from the Green Belt because:

- Further expansion or development at this location detracts from the openness of the Green Belt and is inappropriate.
- The vehicular access along Tannery Lane (in both directions) is extremely restricted.
- It is effectively an old non-conforming user in an area of outstanding countryside adjacent to the beautiful Wey Navigation.

I sincerely hope that my objections will be sympathetically considered and that common sense prevails. Once the Green Belt has been lost and our beautiful villages spoil there is no turning back.

The infrastructure of our villages is not able to support a substantial increase in population and traffic. The houses will not be affordable because in this area nothing is affordable. This can be seen by the 5 bedroom executive homes that are built on any bit of land that does become available. The only people who will benefit from these plans are those who will be involved in the building, thereby increasing their bank balances.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object to the Policy A42 change at Clockbarn in Tannery Lane because the junction of Tannery Lane and the A247 is bad for access and the increase from 45 to 60 homes will make it even worse. It will also be worse along the narrow Tannery Lane. it further erodes the Green Belt around Send village.

I object to the Policy A43 change at Garlick's Arch because: it ignores the thousands of objections already made by local people.it is permanent Green Belt and there are no 'Exceptional Circumstances'.the number of proposed homes is excessive, causing over-development, and will join Ripley and Send, thus destroying the Green Belt purpose.it will cause excessive traffic, choking the local roads of Ripley and Send.provision of plots for Travelling Showpeople has not been proved to be required here, and the provision is only valid policy for sites of more than 500 dwellings. The plan is self-inconsistent.

I object to Policy A58 at Burnt Common because:Slyfield and Guildford still have empty sites and industrial units, so there is no need to build industrial or warehouse space in the Green Belt.the allocation of 10 hectares of industrial land in Send Green Belt is unnecessary and totally disproportionate for the local area when the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand for industrial land for the whole borough to 3.9 hectares.there has been a decline in demand for industrial land since the 2016 plan, but the word 'maximum' has been changed to 'minimum' regarding the area. This ambiguity and lack of detail does not provide local residents with enough information for proper consultation.the potential for a Waste Management Facility at A58 Burnt Common is mentioned obscurely in 4.423a and does not allow for proper consultation.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Objections

Why has the “up to” 7000 sq m of employment floorspace, which appears to have moved from Garlick’s Arch, been changed to “minimum of 7000 sq m with a potential for further industrial floorspace to meet borough needs”? I understand the 2017 Employment Land Need Assessment shows a reduction in demand to 3.9 hectares for Industrial land for the whole borough, not a huge over allocation of over 9 hectares potential development at Send in the Green Belt. The impact of substantial development on the surrounding roads, environment and life of the Residents would be serious and would virtually join up existing villages and defeat the purpose of the Green Belt.

I object to the amendment to A43, in that it not only fails to reduce the number of homes still proposed (remaining at the disproportionately high number of 400), but it also adds the provision of sites for 'Travelling Show People'.

I object in the strongest possible terms to the impact these recommendations will have on local roads (volume of traffic and addition to the already high level of general and noise pollution), the destruction of greenbelt and the undeniable ruining of the village of Send by placing a disproportionately high burden on Send (why are these housing needs not being more evenly distributed across the borough?) There are also other nearby developments in the Horsley and Clandon areas that means a huge volume of this change will impact a small patch of the borough and the proposed infrastructure changes will not be sufficient - even if they are carried through in every instance, which seems extremely unlikely given the current and future chronic pressures on public funding.

Are residents to be compensated for the destruction of greenbelt, impact on their local services and very likely negative impact on house prices?

The plan should be amended to more evenly share the burden across the borough. The plan should also remove provision of sites for 'Travelling show people' under A43. There is already increasingly heavy traffic traveling through Send accessing the A3 road and Old Woking/Woking. These changes will further impact these roads and negatively impact residents wellbeing (pollution and the stress of additional traffic and noise pollution).

I am extremely concerned about the impact these changes will have on the local community and its way of life. Whilst I fully realise that the need for housing is a major concern, I would argue that to construct the volume that is suggested would not only destroy the status quo for local residents but also would have little advantage for the proposed population increase. The area would become a vast conurbation and appendage to Guildford, with unsustainable pressures on the local infrastructure. I list my objection to the proposed changes below:

Site A43 Garlicks Arch.

- Original proposal altered to accommodate a minimum of 400 possibly 650 houses if the proposal to remove the industrial site to Burnt Common goes ahead. This would be extremely harmful to the rural nature of Ripley, Send Marsh and Send causing coalescence of these three villages.

Site A58 Burnt Common

- This is a new inclusion of a 9-hectare site for a minimum of light industrial, general industrial, storage and distribution. This is ambiguous and lacks detail
- 6 Travelling show people plots with associated mixed use yards and large storage facilities for equipment which, arguably, would involve storage for fairground rides, with associated articulated lorries, transportation vehicles and permanent residential plots which is the designated formula for 1500-1999 This would be out of scale with the proposed development
- Potential for Waste Management facility briefly mentioned in Policy 4.23a with no proper consultation. The impact on local infrastructure would be immense

- Directs more office space to an extended Business Park (Policy E4), which will increase peak-time congestion, particularly around the Hospital and A&E, and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas. The area is already under tremendous pressure both residentially and by businesses to gain access off the A3 into the research park; it is currently not coping with the traffic; to increase this by another 1800 homes will create collapse.

- Disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England's forthcoming boundary review. (Para 4.3.8.). A proposed exit off A31 through this area disregards the research that traffic volumes will add to the existing queues and not be beneficial.

- Adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide (A26, Key considerations (7)).
The traffic at the Egerton Road (Tesco) roundabout, the Royal Surrey County Hospital and Surrey Research Park is already gridlocked at peak hours, and adding thousands more cars to everyone’s rush-hour journey will be detrimental to businesses in the area and the staff who work there.

I am writing to raise my serious concerns over the proposed development site at Blackwell Farm. As a long term tenant of the Surrey Research Park and local employer I have seen a steady and continuous increase in traffic onto and off the Research Park resulting in a serious bottleneck on and off the A3 and significant delays for my staff.

I recognise that the council will be under significant pressure to build more housing however and whilst I support such development I do have concerns if it is going to cause significant further congestion without the necessary access infrastructure spending. My understanding is that independent traffic studies echo these concerns and therefore urge an immediate re-think on providing sufficient access to not only address traffic requirements to this new development but the current requirements of both the hospital and research park.

Further congestion and delays with access is likely to result in Futura's relocation from the Research Park and subsequent loss of jobs in the vicinity of Guildford.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
We would like to raise our concerns over the increased amount of traffic that would be added to the already horrendous traffic situation in the area. We already have all the traffic for Tesco’s, The Royal Surrey, The University, The Surrey Sports Park, Park N Ride and the Surrey Research Park. It has taken me personally an hour to travel just 0.4 miles on several occasions in the past couple of years purely down to the volume of traffic that already exists on Gill Avenue and Egerton Road and the surrounding areas at peak hours and adding thousands more cars to everyone’s rush-hour journey will be detrimental to businesses in the area and the staff who work there. I can honestly say I would strongly advise anyone looking for Office space on the Surrey Research Park to think again, purely down to the already horrendous traffic situation.

Dear Sir/Madam,

As an employee on the Surrey Research Park, I write to voice my objections regards Guildford Borough Councils changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site (policy A26 and para 4.1.9.) which:

- Creates more office space on an extended Business Park (Policy E4), which will increase peak-time congestion, particularly around the Hospital and A&E (public safety must be of paramount concern), and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas. Traffic is already incredibly congested in this area and often causes knock on effects backing up onto the A3.

- Disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England's forthcoming boundary review. (Para 4.3.8.). I strongly believe as someone who works on the business park that a major attraction of being here is the stunning surroundings which would inevitably be eroded by this additional development.

- Ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development. The road network is not setup to cope with this additional traffic and the plans in place seem wholly inadequate (2.14a).

- Adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide (A26, Key considerations (7)).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I wish to object strongly to the change in the above policy, an increase to 60 homes in place of the original 45.

Whilst I was aware of the above plan for 45 homes, I had not experienced the effect of traffic in Tannery and Papercourt Lanes. These roads are already totally unsuitable for all but the most minimal traffic. They are almost completely single track with no formal passing places other than at the Tannery Industrial units.

The hard standing in front of my bungalow is an 'unofficial' passing place. This morning there was a complete blockage outside with 2 vehicles encroaching on my property in an effort to clear the blockage. The speed limit is regularly exceeded. Recently there was a serious accident at the sharp bend just up from my property. Please note this email may be provided in evidence in any related accident investigation.

It is clear these Lanes are already 'rat' runs for those seeking another route to Woking or the M25.

The increase of homes in the above plan to 60 will increase the possibility of extra cars using these Lanes from 90 to 120, assuming the majority of households have at least 2 cars. This will cause complete chaos.

In addition to not proceeding with this increase in homes, the council should take other traffic reduction/calming measures such a 'access only' stretches.

Policy A42 objection

I am writing to object to the recently revised policy for Clockbarn Nursery on Tannery Lane. The newly proposed development of now 60 homes rather than the previously proposed 45 is too much. It is an uplift of 33% more and ignores all of the previous hundreds of objections raised. Tannery Lane is a very tight lane and the main road onto which it leads is already high with traffic from the neighbouring villages using as a through road to access the A3. The area simply cannot handle the additional traffic such a development would bring with it.

This also leads to my objection of policy A43 and the proposals for the land at Garlicks Arch. Not only does it ignore the thousands of previous objections made, there is no proven demand for traveller plots in this location or for a development of this size in this area. It will cause significant over development of our village and increase the already excessive levels of traffic that already cause huge builds of traffic within both Send and Ripley.

Such proposals simply cannot go ahead. It is damaging the green belt and will cause severe unrest for those residence living in the

I object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site (policy A26 and para 4.1.9.), which:

- Directs more office space to an extended Business Park (Policy E4), which will increase peak-time congestion, particularly around the Hospital and A&E, and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas.

- Disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England's forthcoming boundary review. (Para 4.3.8.).

- Ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development. (2.14a).

- Adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide (A26, Key considerations (7)).

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I continue to object to the inclusion of policy A35, Three Farms Meadows in the draft Local Plan for many reasons including:

1. It is further from railway stations than any other identified strategic site.
2. It is adjacent to the most congested stretch of strategic road network in the county and close to one the most congested junction in the country (J10).
3. Local roads are at capacity particularly when the SRN is not free-flowing (accidents, diversions, roadworks etc).
4. Any public transport provision such as bus services to/from Guildford will have to negotiate the over-crowded SRN and will therefore be unreliable and subject to frequent delays.
5. Any public transport (bus services) provision to Horsley will impact the safety of the local road network as the lanes are not wide enough to accommodate PSVs, particularly as sustainable methods of travel such as cycling and walking are being promoted at the same time. This is totally unrealistic and unsafe.
6. It is adjacent to the most popular visitor attraction in the south-east, the RHS at Wisley where visitor numbers will increase by 500,000/annum.
   - The associated traffic increase from the RHS has not been taken into account.
   - The regular events at the RHS which attract 1000’s more visitors several times a year and the resultant traffic has not been taken into account.
7. There is insufficient employment available onsite so that almost all residents will have to travel to work. It is unrealistic and unsafe to assume people will walk/cycle on narrow unlit local roads on a regular basis.
8. The identified mitigation to address the impact of increased traffic will not address the commuters travelling to Woking rail station.
9. I object to the increased area of the site as this now abuts another heritage asset, Upton Farm negatively impacting the setting of this building.
10. I object to the change in green belt boundary to the eastern end of the site as this now encloses an area of high archaeological impact.

11. I object to para 21 which “limits” development in flood zone 2 and 3. Development should be excluded in flood zone 2 and 3.

12. I object to para 22 as this does not reflect the impact of the buildings on the surrounding area.

13. I object to the fact that the council has failed to remove this site from the local plan despite receiving 1000’s of objection from local residents and statutory consultees.

14. I object to the fact that there has been no clear explanation why the council think it is appropriate to have a regulation 19 consultation when the changes are major.

15. I object to the fact that there is no clear justification for the removal of one strategic site over site A35.

16. I object to the inclusion of A35 as it will not contribute to the 5-year housing projection due to constraints notably in the provision of sewerage capacity.

17. I object to the extension of the plan period by 1 year as it has not been identified as a major change.

18. I object to the fact that the Council have not explained why the Plan is unsound within the original time frame.

19. I object to the Council wasting tax payers and residents’ time and money not following due process and indeed ignoring previous representations.

20. I object to the inclusion of a 10% buffer in the housing number over the plan period. This is unnecessary.

21. I object to the evidence base especially the West Surrey SHMA and the Guildford addendum 2017 which is not transparent and has been challenged by other experts including NMSS.

22. I object to the transport evidence base including the SHAR 2016 Highways assessment report which has been criticised by Mouchel for using out of date modelling software and is therefore unreliable.

23. I object to the fact that the Council appear to have directed the transport assessment to use prescribed vehicle movements from this site with no justification.

I consider for the reasons listed above and numerous other reasons that this plan is unsound and not fit for purpose.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I am writing to strongly object to the proposed development at the Garlick's Arch site. I object for the following reasons:
- the proposed houses would be on Greenbelt Land
- the potential increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlicks Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause these villages to merge.
- the inclusion of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots with associated storage facilities is entirely inappropriate in a rural environment within the Greenbelt. There is no identified need within the Local Plan documentation. The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan and so is out of scale with the proposed development.
- the potential for a substantial increase in industrial floorspace from 7000 sq m to an unspecified amount at the site A58 Burnt Common does not provide local residents with enough information for a full and proper consultation given the ambiguity and lack of detail within the document.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Policy A26
An independent traffic study by Traffic Consultant RGP, commissioned by Compton Parish Council, has shown that the proposed new access road from the A31 is economically unviable and will not cope with the volume of traffic using it. In particular, it indicates that a new signalised junction on the Hog’s Back will add to existing morning peak-hour queues along the A31.

The Council’s response to this study has been to try to restrict the volume of traffic using the new route by controlling a section of it, and it has suggested using automatic number plate recognition (ANPR) technology to do this. However, it is unlikely that the local highway authority would allow the use of this technology on any road it adopted. The outcome would be, therefore, that this “controlled” section of the new route would remain a private road, and its funding, upkeep and policing would remain in private hands – a far from reliable solution. It is wholly impractical to control access to an 1800-home development (which includes two schools) in this way, and there is a real risk that this ill-conceived scheme will be abandoned downstream, resulting in traffic chaos at both ends of the new link road.

Any suggestions that tweaking the Egerton Road roundabout or introducing a rail halt at Park Barn would mitigate against the levels of traffic using this new rat run into Guildford are unfounded. The station would only serve those commuting from the Reading direction who are prepared to change their mode of transportation. Furthermore, Highways England’s response to Guildford’s 2016 Local Plan (now withdrawn) calls into question the whole traffic modelling underpinning the Plan. It states:

“The traffic impacts of these proposals could potentially lead to significant detrimental impacts on the A3. Whilst Highways England has a number of significant concerns with the Strategic Highway Assessment modelling evidence base underpinning the Local Plan it does suggest that Scenario 3, which includes the new Blackwell Farm access onto the A31, leads to a worsening of traffic impacts on the SAN.”

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

IN GENERAL, I OBJECT TO DEVELOPMENTS AROUND SEND, TOGETHER: policies A42, A43, A58

I object to changes to these Policies in the Plan on the grounds:

1) Since 2014, GBC has repeatedly changed its mind on what is appropriate for Send, showing lack of co-ordinated strategy. Again now, it is relentlessly and unfairly targeting the area with developments, regardless of previous objections to these excessive plans.

2) The local “village” services, roads, transport, doctors, etc, barely cope as it is. But, under the Plan the population of Send will increase so much that I think that local services will be “unsustainable”; and that is against the fundamental principles of “proper” planning.
3) The Burnt Common area will become “traffic chaos” in peak hours, having 3 major new developments nearby: a huge new housing estate, industrial park, and new A3 slip-road.

IN PARTICULAR, POLICY A58 – Land at Burnt Common
I object to changes in this particular policy, because:
1) The strongly held view locally is that this development is unnecessary, there being no actual need more warehousing and factory space sited here. But, in particular, I object to its extent being randomly changed from a maximum of 7,000 sq m, to a minimum of 7,000 sq m, that is effectively making it limitless in term of what can be crammed on to it.
2) The development will add to already severe peak-time traffic congestion.
3) If proposed developments to Burpham are also approved, there will be only a narrow strip (about 500m) of Green Belt separating Guildford/Burpham and Send/Ripley contiguous built-up areas. This will be an unacceptable erosion of Green Belt.

IN PARTICULAR, POLICY A43 – Land at Garlick’s Arch
I object to the changes in this policy, because:
1) This development is far too large for the local area to cope with. It will effectively join villages of Send, Send Marsh, and Ripley, to form one contiguous built-up area; forming, within a short time, a new town effectively.
2) I object to space being allotted to accommodate Gypsies and/or Travelling Showpeople in this area. Around here, these are [Response has been redacted due to statements being considered defamatory, derogatory, inflammatory or offensive in nature]

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

I object to the above Policies A42, A43, A58 and Green Belt Policy 2 at paragraph 4.3.15 since I consider any encroachment on Green Belt areas is morally and environmentally wrong - given the Brown Field Sites available in the area (including, for example, most of the vast Wisley Airfield site).

Local Plan 2017 is a clear failure of the proper planning process which was the basis of all the tens of thousands of objections to it in its previous guise of Local Plan 2016. However, local Plan 2017 has ignored all those earlier objections and proceeded with even worse schemes, bearing in mind the clearly inadequate surrounding social infrastructure and road links.

Please desist from wasting tax payers' money on such pointless anti-social planning exercise and listen to the wishes of those tax payers in the future.

As residents of Burnt Common our area has been threatened with irreversible and excessive development on all sides completely destroying what is left of our rural landscape. I object to policy a42 change at clock barn in Tannery Lane because; there has been a 33% increase in planned new homes from 45 to 60 ignoring hundreds of previous objections and adding to traffic congestion at the a247 junction. Contributing to increased surfaced water flooding which already exists. It will impact on the countryside surrounding the river wey navigation and it is greenbelt land which should not be built on.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?

We wish to object to the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site.

The area merits AONB status according to the independent landscape study you are aware of.

Traffic is already a massive problem on the A3 around the hospital especially but not only at peak times. The development will add to this congestion unnecessarily, and spread it to nearby residential areas. This ignores independent expert traffic studies of which you are also aware. Air pollution in nearby areas already exceeds EU safe limits with implications you well know for the health of children especially.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I wish to object to the development of 1800 homes at Blackwell Farm, on land which is an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. Also part of the land is in the Green Belt which must be preserved for future generations. A recent land evaluation has assessed Blackwell Farm as being outstandingly beautiful that merited its inclusion in the AONB and as such it should remain undeveloped.

The existing road network between the Research Park and the A3 is already heavily congested and cannot take the increase in traffic volume which would be caused by this development.

The existing road infrastructure which already serves the Research Park, the Hospital, the Sports Park, the University, Tesco and Park Barn would need to be increased in capacity, which would appear to be a physical impossibility.

If the vehicular access via Down Place is to be used, then additional traffic will cause chaos on the A31 which is already heavily congested. Until Highways England have issued their proposals for improvements to the A3, A31 and road junctions which serve Guildford then no further consideration should be given to the development at Blackwell Farm. The housing developments in Ash will mean that more traffic will use the A31 and A323, so this will cause, cumulatively, severe transport problems on roads to the west of Guildford.

We object to Guildford Borough Councils changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site (policy A26 and para 4.1.9.), which:

- Directs more office space to an extended Business Park (Policy E4), which will increase peak-time congestion, particularly around the Hospital and A&E, and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas.
- Disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England's forthcoming boundary review. (Para 4.3.8.).
- Ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development. (2.14a).
- Adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceeds safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide (A26, Key considerations (7)).

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

As a resident in Ripley, I object to the new local plan put forward by Guildford Council, which are: Site A43 Garlicks Arch, Site A58 Burt Common and Site A42 Tannery Lane. I strongly believe that the plans put forward will be difficult to complete as they are unrealistic and inconsiderate.

First of all, the increase in housing numbers from 45 to 60 at Site people in Tannery Lane will have use Polesdon Lane to get to Ripley high street, as well as Woking, and the A3. Using these roads every single day, I can clearly state that Ripley and its little lanes are already majorly crowded, unable to take two-way traffic, which is dangerous as cars are already driving on pavements, putting pedestrians in danger. Also, this means that children walking and playing are endangered.

Secondly, the creation of an industrial zone and waste management within a small village seems extremely inconceivable given that this can only lead to further increased traffic, likely to be trucks, in a small residential village. This goes back to my previous comment about the safety of residents.

Finally, the inclusion of 6 x Travelling Showpeople plots with associated storage facilities is entirely inappropriate in a rural environment within the Greenbelt. The allocation of these plots [Response has been reacted due to statements being considered defamatory, derogatory, inflammatory or offensive in nature] would affect the current residents who, some, have been here for years.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

---
We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the proposed Infrastructure Schedule (Appendix C)

The Infrastructure Schedule sets out the key infrastructure requirements on which the delivery of the plan depends. For each of the Key Allocated Sites in the borough it identifies infrastructure projects that are required, except for Garlick’s Arch (A43) which is not mentioned. It is clear that the Plan takes no account of the infrastructure required for this site and is therefore not fit for purpose.

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()
I OBJECT to the Strategic Housing Market Assessment SHMA figure of 693 houses per annum in the borough being too high (Appendix D)

The Plan’s proposed growth is based on the SHMA report. This concludes that 693 homes a year are required by the borough, it is over double the previous figure of 322 used in previous plans. The SHMA report methodology is I believe inaccurate; it inflates the needs of the borough by distorted student numbers. However, it is based on commercially confidential modelling assumptions that cannot be checked or reviewed. There is no transparency to this evidence base and it is therefore impossible to assess its accuracy. This is not democratic and is not appropriate for consultation of the Plan.

The National Planning Policy Framework allows the overall housing target to be reduced to take account of protected wildlife areas (e.g. Thames Basin Heath SPA), landscape areas (Surrey Hills AONB), Green Belt, flood risk and significant infrastructure constraints, all of which apply to Guildford. This local plan and the SHMA number have completely ignored these factors.

I OBJECT to Gosden Hill development being in the Local Plan The land in Gosden Hill does exactly what the Greenbelt was designed to achieve. It provides a green buffer between the Guildford Urban Area and West Clandon, gives Burpham a defined green boundary and breathing space and it hides Guildford town from visitors until they pass the off-slip to Burpham.

No exceptional circumstances have been demonstrated for building on this site and therefore it does not comply with paragraphs 87-89 of the NPPF. It stops the sprawl of Guildford town, assists in safeguarding the countryside from encroachment and assists in urban regeneration by encouraging the recycling of derelict and other urban land. All requirements of the NPPF.

The scale of Gosden Hill is out of proportion to West Clandon. It would have four times the amount of housing plus shops, offices/factories, GP surgery, schools. Development on this scale would blight a historic village with a history going back to the doomsday book and beyond.

Gosden Hill is the most obvious location for the north end of an A3 tunnel. It has rising ground and is situated just before the urban area. If it is built on, it will be very difficult to construct a tunnel.

The development will generate in the region of 6,000 vehicles which will pour on to the A3 which is stationary every day during rush hours. The linking of the A3100, B2215 and A247 would channel thousands of cars through the narrow, winding road through West Clandon, a road where large lorries mount the pavement virtually every day and through Send and Ripley which are also severely constrained.

The volume of traffic will greatly increase air pollution which is particularly critical given the proposal to build two schools.
Currently, a two way junction at the site would require vehicles wanting to go north on the A3 to go through Burpham which is grid-locked every day.

Burpham’s sewers are at capacity. Sewage would have to be pumped to Slyfield for processing, a project of enormous cost.

There is inadequate fresh water in Guildford and current supplies could not meet the needs of a development of this size.

Electricity supply is also inadequate and would require a big infrastructure development.

The railway station was rejected by Guildford Borough Council in 1984 because it feared Gosden Hill would become a dormitory estate for London.

The wording of the Local Plan with regard to Gosden Hill is so loose that the developer could virtually do whatever it wants.

The remaining agricultural land between Gosden Hill and West Clandon is so small that it is highly likely to be uneconomic and therefore a prime candidate for further development which would roll the Guildford Urban Area over West Clandon towards East Clandon and Wisley.

If the Strategic Sites are developed, the north of Guildford will deliver 36%, 5,036 houses towards the total of around 14,000. The infrastructures of the existing villages and the A3 will be overwhelmed by the scale of development.

A new on-slip at Burpham would only be 1.8km from the on-slip at Burnt Common which is against Highway England’s requirement of 2km.

Development of the A3 at best will not start until after 2020 and the building of a tunnel, which is only an “aspiration” in the Local Plan is likely to be many years after. In the meantime given that developers build houses to provide cash-flow for infrastructure, Gosden Hill will have a crippling effect on villages like West Clandon and the A3.

Gosden Hill already has surface water problems. Merrow Stream crosses the site. No hydrological survey has been carried out to assess the implications. Electricity pylons run through the centre of Gosden Hill which have health and safety issues.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the location for new employment floorspace at Garlick’s Arch – Site A43 (Policy E2)

Proposals for new industrial, warehousing and storage (use Class B1c, B2 and B8) floorspace will be directed to the Industrial Strategic Employment Sites.

There is no need for the new employment floorspace to be located at Garlick’s Arch, when just to the south of the site at Burnt Common there is an existing industrial development, with ample surplus land that could accommodate a further development of 7,000 sq m.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

I OBJECT to the loss of rural employment (Policy E5)

Policy E5 supports the retention and development of local services and community facilities in our inset and identified villages. Yet the development at Garlick’s Arch (A43) would result in the loss of four existing successful rural businesses, which have been in existence for over 30 years and another two businesses for over 9 years. These businesses employ dozens of people; none of them want to leave their premises. The Plan does not promote rural employment; rather it will result in the loss of existing local rural businesses.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I OBJECT (POLICY H1 – Homes for all) Numbers aside, all the policy in the blue box says is that the Council will encourage building over the plan period. It fails to set rules on important issues such as constraints and density, and is not specific enough to provide a practical framework for planning decisions.

The housing mix is based on out-of-date, pre-Brexit projections and on assumptions set out in a flawed SHMA that has not been scrutinised or evaluated.

I support higher density development in the urban area, without resorting to dehumanising, high-rise buildings that developers commonly claim are necessary for financial viability. Much of Guildford town could usefully be regenerated with 4-5 storey blocks with landscaping and underground parking, as often seen on the Continent and, recently, in London.

Student accommodation should provided for 100% of new students and more than 60% of existing students, which would free up ideal family accommodation in the urban area. Other university cities (e.g. Oxford) insist on higher percentages than those proposed in the plan. In my view, the Council’s timidity is a case of “regulatory capture” by Surrey University, which has failed to use its existing planning permissions (dating from 2004) to accommodate 3,000 students or to improve the efficient development of its campus (e.g. by building on its extensive and under-used surface car parks). If all students were accommodated in this way, 2,000 homes would be freed up in town and there would be no need to build on the Hog’s Back.

Guildford borough has already a higher proportion of traveller sites than most comparable boroughs. Over-provision is inappropriate given other constraints.

I OBJECT, due to the congestion that development will cause to the local village roads and the lack of road infrastructure (Policy I1)

Our villages are already suffering from severe congestion for much of the day, for example the Newark Road & Rose Lane junction in the centre of Ripley. The proposed development under the plan will cause greater congestion in and around our villages. The Plan does not provide an achievable strategy for improving capacity on these local roads.

Furthermore, many of the country lanes around the villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon are narrow and wide enough for only one vehicle at a time. In addition, the road surfaces are in a poor condition.

I OBJECT to the development proposed in the local plan, which will result in more traffic using these narrow roads and a further deterioration in the road surfaces.

Many of the affected villages, such as West Clandon, already suffer from traffic congestion. Further development around these villages will only result in more traffic and more parking problems.

With some 5000 houses being proposed close to the village of Ripley, the roads serving the village will become even more congested. Cycling has become an ever popular past time, particularly at weekends hundreds of cyclists past through the villages on the way to the Surrey Hills. With no proper cycle lanes on the narrow local roads surrounding the village and with greater vehicle traffic being generated from these developments there is a real danger that there will be an increase in road accidents involving cyclists as a result of the development proposed under the local plan.

The narrow rural roads do not have proper pedestrian footpaths. The proposed significant levels of development will result in the road becoming ever more dangerous for pedestrians.

The council has a statutory obligation to protect the public and the additional traffic flows will bring added pollution and risk to injury of the public. In the case of West Clandon the Street often only has a narrow footpath on one side of the road making it very dangerous, especially when vehicles mount the pavements.

1. I OBJECT to the lack of proper infrastructure planning for sites (Policy I1)

Policy I1 requires the delivery of improvements to infrastructure in conjunction with development. I have grave concerns over the planning of the infrastructure requirements and that the projects identified will be implemented when required, if at all.

Despite the Garlick’s Arch site (A43) being a significant site for development, no infrastructure projects have been identified in the Infrastructure Schedule. Without improvements to the infrastructure prior to development, the existing residents’ in the locality will see their quality of life significantly deteriorate in many ways.

Many of the utilities in the Ripley and Send area are at, or very close to capacity, such as the electrical network and sewers. No plans to improve these services should mean no development of the Garlick’s Arch site.

Without proper planning and a commitment to fund new healthcare facilities, existing services such as the Villages Medical Centre, Send will have their services stretched and overwhelmed. Many of these services are already at capacity and suffering from funding cuts or freezes. Any further development without funding will place further stress upon existing health services.

Police services are seeing funding reduced. The development of the proposed 13,860 homes during the plan period will stretch the police services further and is unsustainable.

There is no provision of the increased capacity of Guildford hospital, where is this assessed and remedied?.

I OBJECT to poor air quality concerns (Policy I3)

Paragraph 4.6.27 of the Plan states that “Development must also mitigate its traffic impacts, including its environmental impacts and impacts on amenity and health.” The significant level of development being proposed, particularly in the north east of the borough will lead to considerable further congestion, despite any attempts to mitigate this through travel plans. This will be particularly acute in built up residential areas and will only lead to greater levels of air pollution, which will have a detrimental effect on local residents and their health and can result in early death.

I OBJECT to development in areas which are at risk of flooding (Policy P4)

National Planning Policy states that Local Plans should take account of climate change over the longer term, including factors such as flood risk. It goes on to say that new development should be planned to avoid increased vulnerability to the range of impacts arising from climate change.

The Plan states that in accordance with national planning practice guidance, the Level 1 SFRA has been used to guide development towards areas at the lowest risk of flooding and identify areas unsuitable for development. However, the document concludes that land outside of the area of flood risk is not capable of accommodating all of the borough’s identified development needs. A Level 2 SFRA has therefore also been produced and will help the Council apply the exceptions test (as described in the NPPG) as necessary to development proposals in areas at risk of flooding.

The site at Garlick’s Arch (A43) is identified on the Environment Agency’s flood map as being in a flood Zone 3 from a river. This means that it has a 1 in 100 or greater chance of flooding each year, the highest risk category. Despite this flood risk, the site has been assessed as part of the Council’s SFRA as in Flood Zone 2 - having between a 1% and 0.1% annual probability of river flooding. I believe this site often floods during the winter months and the flooding is made worse by the soil being heavy clay. Clearly the SFRA is not fit for purpose and it needs to be re-commissioned to accurately reflect the actual flooding risks of each site.

In view of flawed new evidence, Guildford's plan to build 12,426 new homes is excessive and will result in the loss of green belt and green spaces, and also increased congestion. Guildford needs homes in the centre which would not add to congestion on already very busy roads. Guildford doesn't need more shops but flats and houses instead.

I object to removal of Brownfield site (A34) from the Plan

Site A44 in Broadford Business Park has also been removed. This is another brownfield site that has already been developed. The Council’s claims to "have adopted a ‘brownfield first’ approach" (page 5) but this is clearly not the case, and is contrary to national guidelines.

I object to removal of Brownfield sites (A4) from the Plan

Site A4 in Guildford has been removed. This is a perfectly good housing site, within the town centre and therefore with sustainable infrastructure, and would make use of a brownfield site that is in need of redevelopment. The Plan has removed housing from this site, in favour of commercial retail – thereby effectively substituting Green Belt land for retail development, which is totally unacceptable.

I object to the increase in housing proposed in Tannery Lane (site A42)

This has been increased by a third since the 2016 version of the Plan. This will have a significant impact on the already highly congested local rural road network around Send. This is in contradiction to section 2.14a of the Plan which states "Whilst most local roads are single carriageway, with a lane in each direction, it is at their junctions that the free flow of traffic is most often impeded during peak periods, in some cases resulting in significant delays." And yet there is no proposals to improve the local roads, only to add more junctions with the A3, thereby increasing congestion on the Trunk and Local road network.

I object to the extended development in the Green Belt (Policy P2, Site A43)

I object to Garlick’s Arch (A43) being extended and the resulting urban sprawl. There are no exceptional circumstances for this site being removed from the Green Belt, as required by the National Planning Policy.

I object to the allocation of 6 Traveling Showpeople sites in A34 Garlick’s Arch

The allocation of 6 Travelling Showpeople plots is the designated formula for 1500-1999 homes on the same site according to the 2017 Local Plan. There should be no inclusion of any Travelling Showpeople plots in A43 Garlick’s Arch as this development site is for 400 homes and so is not compliant with the minimum of 500 in as stated in section 4.2.24 of the Plan.

I object to the potential and ill-defined increase in housing allocation at A43 Garlick’s Arch

The potential of an increase from 400 houses at site A43 Garlick’s Arch will be extremely harmful to the rural nature of the surrounding villages of Ripley, Send and Clandon and will cause coalescence of these villages.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the hiding of development by “deferment” (A24, A25, A26, A43)

   This version of the Plan has concealed some development planned to take place by “deferring” it beyond the period covered by the Local Plan. This is designed to have 2 effects:
   i) to hide the number of housed actually being built (A24, A25, A26 – total of 1100 deferred, but still being built!), and
   ii) give an excuse for building houses on another site (A43 – 400/650 houses proposed) when they are not needed.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. The inclusion of site A58 Burt Common, removes the need for A43 Garlick’s Arch

GBC’s own reasons for including Garlick’s Arch A43 in the 2016 version were

1. The site [A43] location affords greater separation between Send Marsh/Burnt Common and the proposed site allocation at Gosden Hill Farm, ... (site allocation A25) [ than the Burnt Common site did ]”
2. The site [A43] provides the employment floorspace needed in the plan to help meet identified needs”

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) the separation issue is clearly being ignored as BOTH sites (which are almost contiguous) are in the plan; therefore GBC are not following their own guidelines and objectives.

Since A58 Burnt Common is now in the Plan (2017) more than the “required” industrial space is available there, so there is no reason for Garlick’s Arch to be included.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

1. I object to the unfair imbalance of the Plan across the borough.

With the removal of site A46 from the Plan (with its proposed 1100 houses) and reductions of housing planned in this version of the Plan in other parts of the borough the Plan has become even more biased against the North East of the borough. Guildford Borough is over 100 square miles. Of the11350 homes proposed in the Plan, 40.6% (4613) are within 3 miles of Send Marsh, most of them on Green Belt. This is grossly unfair on an already overcrowded part of the borough.

The Plan is self-inconsistent in respect of traveller sites.
A50 Whittles Drive, Normandy, shows on the Site details: “Allocation: The site is allocated for approximately 14 Travelling Showpeople plots ...” Clearly A50 more than covers the total "need" of 8, (page 40, 4.2.22.) and so no “need” exists for this in site A43. This and other inconsistencies in the Plan mean no decision can be made on the basis of this document.

I object to the proposal for a Waste Management Facility in Green Belt (A58)
The potential for a Waste Management Facility at site A58 Burnt Common is briefly mentioned, obscurely in policy 4.423a, and does not allow for full and proper consultation. These facilities are always highly contentious and the Council has a duty of transparency in this regard which it is, at best, neglecting.

What changes (2016)/further amendments (2017) do you suggest should be made to the document?
I object the change in policy on affordable homes (Policy 4.2.23)

The previous version of the plan stated that “Developers will be expected to provide land for affordable homes at nil value”.

The 2017 version says: Off-site provision or payment in lieu is expected to enable the same amount of additional affordable housing as would have been delivered on site.”

So the developer doesn’t even have to provide any ‘affordable’ homes, just to make anegotiated payment to the Council. This is very unlikely to result in the construction of these ‘affordable’ homes.

Furthermore, the 2016 Plan used to state (section 4.2.40) “In general, a need to make profit over and above the standard developer’s profit in order to fund other community benefits will not be accepted as an abnormal cost [i.e. a reason for not delivering affordable houses]. That has now been removed, thereby accepting that needing to make greater than normal profit is to be an acceptable reason not to deliver affordable homes. This is a shocking sop to the developers.

I object removing Send Business Park from the Green Belt (4.3.15).

Send Business park is a very small collection of local businesses in a very rural area in the Green Belt. There can be no justification for it’s insetting (removal) from the Green Belt, and indeed GBC have not even attempted one. Therefore no “exceptional circumstances”, as required by the NPPF can be claimed.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

• disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the sites merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
• directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
• ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
• adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.

The policy associated with the allocation of the site for 2,000 houses has not significantly changed (beyond minor grammatical issues). However, the Wisley allocation refers to a bespoke SANG to mitigate rather than avoid adverse effects on the SPA, this wording is inconsistence when comparing the general policy within the Plan (P5) and this specific policy. Policy A35 is not setting out the correct tests, and is inconsistent with Policy P5’s approach which seeks to adequately to avoid impacts on the SPA via a properly located and designed SANG. From our understanding of the proposals that have currently been brought forward, we do not consider that the SANG is adequately designed to avoid adverse impacts on the SPA, in particular because the extant rights of way on the site are likely to funnel residents from the housing and into the SPA. The RSPB therefore still remains concerned that policy P5 has not been properly implemented in relation to this specific allocation, a concern detailed in our response to the ‘Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites’ consultation.

The RSPB note with concern that all 8 of the “reasonable spatial strategy alternatives” considered by the Plan’s Sustainability Appraisal contain a proposal for 2000 houses at Wisley (page 36). The RSPB does not consider that this represents an appropriate consideration of alternative strategies insofar as this policy is concerned. This approach makes it impossible to consider the comparative sustainability of the site against other possible strategies. This has an important bearing on the overall soundness of the Plan. Paragraph 182 of the National Planning Policy Framework requires that for a plan to be justified it “should be the most appropriate strategy, when considered against the reasonable alternatives, based on proportionate evidence”. We consider that the failure to consider any plan scenario which does not contain Allocation A35 fails to satisfy the requirements of this test: there are clearly alternative sites and approaches that could have been adopted (highlighted by the number of sites that the Council has considered throughout the production of the Plan) but the Council has ultimately declined to demonstrate a clear need for the Wisley airfield site. If the Council had presented scenarios here with and without the Wisley airfield site it would have been possible to consider the comparative merits of the alternative sites and approaches, but instead the Council has considered no alternatives for such a substantial proportion (16.1%) of the Council’s housing allocations, and one that will have an array of significant implications arising from its inclusion in the Plan. The RSPB consider that in order to make the Plan sound it is essential that it assesses alternative scenarios which do not include the Wisley airfield site.
A further important consideration is that if technical problems prevent the delivery of the Wisley airfield site the Council does not have an alternative solution to help it meet its housing requirements, raising questions about whether the plan is effective over its period.

The RSPB considers that there are inherent inconsistencies between the stated aims of the Plan and the inclusion of the former Wisley airfield which are central to the overall soundness of the Plan. The Foreword to the Plan states that:

“It also outlines how we will conserve and enhance the unique qualities of our natural and built environment, especially in the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area. This Development Plan Document sets out how we propose to meet these conflicting demands” (p5).5

The Foreword continues:

“Whilst we will conserve and enhance our special landscapes, the Local Plan aims to balance protecting the borough’s unique environment with meeting our social and economic needs.”

The RSPB submits that this statement gives a clear expectation that protection will be accorded a higher priority than development in circumstances where there are conflicts between the need to provide housing and the need to protect nature conservation interests. A key factor is that existing protected areas must be conserved in situ, whereas there is greater flexibility to decide where future housing allocations will go.

The RSPB notes Strategic Objective 6 of the Plan: “To protect those areas designated as Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area, Special Areas of Conservation, Sites of Special Scientific Interest and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty for their biodiversity and landscape characteristics.” In addition we note Strategic Objective 7: “To ensure that new development is designed and located to minimise its impact on the environment and that it mitigates and is adapted for, climate change.” All of Strategic Objective 6, and the first part of Strategic Objective 7, are pertinent to the proposed allocation of the former Wisley airfield. The RSPB consider that the inclusion of the former Wisley airfield represents a clear failure by the Council to meet its requirement to conserve its internationally designated areas and has placed development demands first, and is a failure to meet the strategic objectives it has set itself. These clear internal inconsistencies demonstrate that the Plan is not the most appropriate when considered against reasonable alternatives and that the Plan consequently fails the “justified” test of Soundness.

The RSPB notes that policy S1, Presumption in favour of sustainable development, states:

“We will work proactively with applicants jointly to find solutions that mean that proposals can be approved wherever possible, and to secure development that improves the economic, social and environmental considerations in the area.”

However, this does not mean that it will be possible to find appropriate solutions to allow the development to go ahead.

We note that the supporting Policy P2, Green Belt, states that “If major previously developed sites are of sufficient scale and do not possess an open character, it is not considered necessary for them to remain within the Green Belt.” (para 4.3.14). However, a visit to the former Wisley airfield clearly indicates that, aside from a runway and adjoining apron that the site is clearly open in character, a fact borne out that the first reason given by the Planning Officer’s report into the Wisley application recommended refusal for the “clear and substantial detrimental impact on the openness of the Green Belt” (Officers’ Report, para 2.1).

The RSPB’s concerns with the site

We highlight here the key concerns which we raised on the rejected planning application for the former Wisley airfield, that we consider are central to the inclusion of the site as an allocation in the Local Plan. We focus on concerns we raised about the general suitability of the site, as we consider that these are so fundamental to the site that they cannot be resolved by the promotion of an alternative development scheme on the site.

6 The RSPB highlighted that “the location of the SANG between the development and the SPA will actually draw people towards the SPA and would end up simply providing new residents with a route to the SPA. Clearly, this defeats the object of providing a SANG.” (RSPB objection letter, 25 March 2015)

We further stated:
“Whilst we understand the developer’s desire to locate the SANG in the 400m zone as built development is highly unlikely to be permitted we consider that the constraints this has on its design is likely to introduce pinch-points and compromise the SANG’s effectiveness.” (RSPB objection letter, 25 March 2015)

Finally the RSPB stated:

“The RSPB’s view is that the existing PROW [Public Rights of Way] fundamentally and unavoidably compromise the functionality of the SANG as an avoidance measure.” (RSPB objection letter, 12 February 2016)

It is important to note that as a result of the multiple rights of way run right across the whole development site and into the SPA, providing ready access to the SPA to residents of any housing scheme that is constructed on this site, it is our view that no housing allocation is appropriate in this location.

As set out above in relation to our concerns about the rejected scheme, we do not consider it likely that a project level assessment will be able to adequately exclude the risk of harm to the Special Protection Area, as we do not believe a SANG at this development site can be effective in drawing residents away from the SPA as a result of the Public rights of way network on the site. As this information is already known and was available to the authors of the HRA we consider it inappropriate to rely upon such an approach here – the issues of concern are ones which are not capable of being resolved at the application level. Part of the role of the HRA of the Plan should be to evaluate the likelihood that a project-level assessment can be passed – helping to give a clear understanding of the likely deliverability of key sites: the former Wisley airfield is expected to deliver 16.1% of the Borough’s overall housing until 2034 – so it is essential that any risks to such a site coming forward should be clearly evaluated.

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): ()

The RSPB notes the removal of Policy A46 for a significant allocation of 1,100 houses. We note that this site lies approximately 750m away from the SPA, with the southern end of the site lying approximately 2000m from the SPA. The RSPB has been unable to identify the reasons why this site has been removed and the allocation of Wisley airfield has been retained. Without this information we consider, when linked to our concerns about the approach to assessing alternatives highlighted in relation to allocation A35, that the plan is not sound, as it is not justified – there is no evidence to demonstrate that the strategy that the Council has adopted is the most appropriate one when considered against reasonable alternatives.

Sustainable transport for new developments
Paragraph 4.6.20: The RSPB support the inclusion of the requirement that developments that generate significant movement should be located where the need to travel will be minimised and the use of sustainable transport modes can be maximised. However, the RSPB is concerned that the proposed development at the Wisley airfield is not consistent with this policy due to its relatively remote location, away from established employment and service opportunities and lack of adequate public transport connections.

It is important that the impact of the proposed improvements to the M25/A3 Junction should be considered in combination with likely impacts of the Wisley Airfield scheme. These improvements are anticipated to have an adverse effect on the SPA and it is essential that the impacts of the Wisley Airfield scheme are considered in combination with this road scheme.

Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Areas

The RSPB welcomes the addition of the references to “avoidance” within Policy P5. We consider that the Policy is sound. 4.3.50a – The RSPB welcomes the new text proposed here.

4.3.51 and 4.3.54: The RSPB notes that these paragraphs contain some uncertainty about whether student accommodation is required to provide SANG and SAMM. This uncertainty appears to be down to the last two sentences of paragraph 5.3.54. We recommend revising that the text is amended to read “The need for student accommodation and other permanent accommodation, and other types of permanent accommodation not listed in paragraph 4.3.51, to provide SANG will be assessed on a case by case basis: it will be the responsibility of the scheme promoter to provide information through a Habitats Regulations Assessment that demonstrates that SANG are not required for that particular development because its residents will not cause a net increase in recreational pressure upon the SPA.”

5.3.54 should be amended to read “The need for student accommodation and other permanent accommodation, and other types of permanent accommodation not listed in paragraph 4.3.51, to provide SANG will be assessed on a case by case basis: it will be the responsibility of the scheme promoter to provide information through a Habitats Regulations Assessment that demonstrates that SANG are not required for that particular development because its residents will not cause a net increase in recreational pressure upon the SPA.”
Presumption in favour of sustainable development 4.1.4 – The RSPB agrees with the proposed amendments and consider that these helpful clarifications help make the Plan sound.

Legal Compliance
The RSPB does not consider that the document is legally compliant. The plan can only be adopted if the Council is able, on the basis of all the evidence available, to conclude that the Plan will avoid an adverse effect on the integrity of the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (or any other Special Protection Area (SPA) or Special Area of Conservation(SAC)), as required by The Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended).

The RSPB has already highlighted, in its objection to the recent planning application for the redevelopment of the Wisley Airfield, that it is profoundly concerned about the potential impacts of residential development at this location upon the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area (TBHSPA). We highlighted that we did not consider that it would be possible for the proposed mitigation measures to overcome the impacts upon the TBHSPA. The key point is that the plan cannot be considered legally compliant if it includes a potentially harmful allocation.

In order to make the plan legally compliant we consider that the inclusion of the Wisley Airfield site must be dropped – it is only if this is done that it will be possible for an assessment under the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended) to conclude that the delivery of the plan will avoid harm to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area.

Document: Proposed Submission Local Plan: strategy and sites 2017 / Question 3: Soundness

Do you consider this section of the document; complies with the Duty to Cooperate? ( ), is Sound? ( ), is Legally Compliant? ( )

Answer (if comment is on questions 1-7 of the questionnaire): (No)

Soundness

The RSPB considers that the proposed submission local plan is not sound. We consider that there are problems with 3 of the tests of soundness. We do not consider that the plan is justified, in particular we do not consider that the inclusion of Wisley Airfield as a new settlement represents the most appropriate strategy when considered against reasonable alternatives.

We do not consider that the Wisley Airfield aspect of the plan is deliverable, particularly as a scheme very similar to that proposed in the Plan has recently been refused by the Council on a number of grounds which are unlikely to resolvable, and that consequently the plan is not effective: in particular, the reliance upon this particular site to provide 16.1% of the Borough’s 2034 housing figure places the delivery of the overall housing target at risk.

We also note that national policy (in particular paragraphs 117 to 119 of the National Planning Policy Framework) highlight the importance of ensuring effective protection of internationally important wildlife sites through the local plan process but consider that the inclusion of the Wisley Airfield proposal runs counter to that policy direction, meaning that the plan is not consistent with national policy.

In order to make the plan sound the proposed Wisley Airfield site allocation (and its associated references) needs to be removed from the plan.

This will make the plan consistent with national policy by respecting the policy and legislative safeguards accorded to the Thames Basin Heaths Special Protection Area, remove uncertainties about the delivery of a large proportion of the housing, and remove an inappropriate settlement proposal from the plan.

We object to Guildford Borough Council’s changes to the draft Local Plan and the inclusion of Blackwell Farm as a development site [Policy A26 & para. 4.1.9], which:

- disregards an independent expert landscape study, which demonstrates that part of the site merits Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty status following Natural England’s forthcoming boundary review [para. 4.3.8]
- directs more office space to an extended business park [Policy E4], which will increase peak time congestion – particularly around the hospital and A&E – and will also encourage rat-running through residential areas
- ignores independent expert traffic studies, which show the impact of development at Blackwell Farm on the local network and question the viability of the development [2.14a]
- adds to air pollution in neighbouring areas, which already exceed safe EU limits for Nitrous Oxide.
